Pentagon Just As Anxious To Know Ike Plans

New Pact Leader Needed; Ridgway Name Emphasized

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is almost as anxious as the politicians over Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's plans.

Washington talk today puts heavy emphasis on the possibility of Gen. Matthew Ridgway, United Nations commander in the Far East, succeeding to any vacancy that may develop in the top European command.

But by no means ruled out are several other American generals, including Eisenhower's chief deputy, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther.

Ridgway's prominent position among those speculated on as an Eisenhower successor appears based on two primary factors: a brilliant record in World War II as a field commander plus the experience gained since he became commander last summer of the U.N. forces fighting the Communists in Korea.

His Far Eastern service also has provided him, say his advocates, with the seasoning needed in the political part of a dual military-political assignment like the European post.

Gruenther, a close personal friend of Eisenhower, has a reputation as a far-sighted planner and strategist. He has been called the "brains of the Army."

Settlement Of Korean War May Sideline Truman

Struggle Is Said Paramount Factor In Any Decision

KEY WEST, Fla., March 19 (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Frank E. McKinney said today he thinks possibility of President Truman's running for re-election will be "lessened" if there is a satisfactory settlement of the Korean War.

McKinney, who has just had a two days of talks with Truman, told a news conference the Korea situation is a "paramount" factor in the President's consideration.

McKinney said his own target date for public word from the President is May 15 when the Democratic Executive Committee meets in Chicago to pick a keynoter and other convention officers.

There are some indications Truman has taken personal charge of future political strategy for himself and the party.

McKinney, acting on Truman's orders, directed party officials in California to withdraw the President's name from the state's primary election June 3.

CRMWD Signs Contracts With Oil Operators

The Colorado River Municipal Water District today had an eight-million gallon daily customer for surplus water from its prospectus in Southwest Seury County.

Agreements with oil operators in the Kelly-Snyder and the North Snyder pools for use of water in repressurizing oil formations were executed.

Under terms of the agreement, operators will pay to the district $160,800, which is the difference the district incurred in supplying a 27-inch line instead of a 24-inch line and routing it through the oil fields.

Directors authorized the negotiation of a contract for a pump station in Martin County and one in Midland County. They did not, however, let contracts for construction of two residences for pumps.

Another contract approved called for Texas Electric Service Co. to furnish power for pipeline pumping purposes at a rate of 5.5 mills per kilowatt hour.

Directors attending were E. T. Piner, president; R. L. Cook and George Sims of Big Spring; R. A. Schoelling, James Rosser and Lyle Deffenbach of Snyder; J. L. Rhoades and W. E. Bruce of Odessa. Also present were E. V. Spence, manager of the CRMWD; and S. W. Freese, Fort Worth, district engineer.

Nears Stassen As Write-Ins Pile Up

MINNEAPOLIS, March 19 (AP) — With nearly two-thirds of the precincts reporting, Write-In Candidate Gen. Eisenhower had won an amazing 39 per cent of the Republican total in Minnesota's presidential primary election yesterday.

"Favorite Son" Harold E. Stassen, whose name was printed on the ballot, got about 42 per cent.

The drive for the write-in vote had been started by Minnesotans-for-Eisenhower Friday.

Voters took the trouble to run up an unprecedented write-in total for Eisenhower.

The election will not automatically mean any national convention delegates for Eisenhower. No delegate provision for write-in candidates is contained in the primary law.

It appeared only court action or national or state convention maneuvering could get any Minnesota votes for Eisenhower.

In the Democratic write-in voting, Sen. Kefauver had a heavy margin over President Truman. However, observers felt much of the Truman vote had gone to Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), whose name was the only one printed on the Democratic ballot.

With 2,412 of 3,769 precincts reporting, Eisenhower had 94,459 votes, compared with 103,311 for Stassen. Edward C. Slettedahl, a political unknown whose name was also printed on the GOP ballot, got 18,295 votes.

Other Republican write-in totals were 20,133 for Sen. Taft, 4,474 for Gov. Earl Warren, California, and 1,280 for Gen. MacArthur.

Humphrey — only Democratic ballot candidate — polled 84,407 votes. Kefauver had 18,588 write-ins and Truman 3,000 write-ins.

Ike's Minnesota Vote Indicates He Is Top Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's amazing write-in vote in the Minnesota primary indicated today he may be on the way to supplanting Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio as the man to beat for the Republican presidential nomination.

In 2,412 of 3,769 precincts, Eisenhower had 94,459 votes to 103,311 registered for former Gov. Harold E. Stassen, the only well known name on the printed GOP ballot.

Taft had 20,133 write-in votes. An expected Stassen victory would give him his own state's GOP nominating ballots at the July Chicago convention — and little else.

Acting, Eisenhower appeared close to winning '50 of Minnesota's nine congressional districts. This was no assurance Eisenhower would win any convention votes since Minnesota law makes no provision for delegates for write-ins.

On the other hand, Eisenhower backers could go to court or maneuver at the state or national GOP convention for Eisenhower — pledged delegates. They could point to a demonstration of popular support seldom equaled at the polls.

The startling success of the last-minute write-in drive for Eisenhower in Minnesota may spark a similar effort in Wisconsin's April primary, if the law there permits it.

STUDENTS GET HOLIDAY

Scholastic Census Set For Thursday

Big Spring School pupils will get a holiday tomorrow but it will be a busy day for faculty members.

The entire faculty and administrative staff of the school system will be taking the annual scholastic census, which this year comes in a double-barrelled package.

In addition to the regular census, a special family census is being taken this year to provide material to support the school system's application for Federal aid, said Superintendent W. C. Blankenship.

The family census is designed to show the number of scholastics in the district whose parents are employed by the Federal Government.

when the census takers call. This will facilitate the work and enable the faculty members to complete their assigned tasks on schedule, he explained.

"If parents can arrange to be at home during Thursday and have this information ready, our teachers and administrative people can complete this work rapidly," Blankenship said in urging full cooperation from all citizens of the district.

The census, usually taken early in March, was delayed this year due to the transfer of senior high students to the new building on 11th Place. The census must be taken during the month of March, however.

MORRIS ASKS FOR DATA ON INCOME Politics Plays A Large Role As Probes Flood Washington

WASHINGTON — Political bomb bursts rolled up and down Pennsylvania Avenue today as corruption probes — within — probes veered off in unpredictable directions.

These developments stood out in the bitter election-year struggle between the Truman administration and its critics.

Newbold Morris, President Truman's specially appointed corruption sleuth, called on Atty. Gen. McGrath (his own immediate superior) and 395 other top Justice Department officials to submit detailed data on the financial status of themselves and their immediate kin.

The questions asked ranged from stock market speculation and gambling to how many fur coats are now in the family compared with five years ago.

A House Judiciary Subcommittee set up in the wake of congressional disclosures of tax collection scandals asked Truman for a look at the income tax returns of McGrath and 19 of his aides.

The same committee asked McGrath to appear for questioning March 26 in connection with the committee's own investigation of Justice Department affairs. Republican presidential possibility Harold E. Stassen has suggested an inquiry into reports that McGrath had become a millionaire in his 2 years in public office.

The Senate Judiciary Committee rejected Truman's request that Morris be given power to subpoena witnesses and require the production of records from non-governmental sources.

Instead, Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) said his group had approved "a new approach" to the government cleanup problem. This would involve presidential appointment of a chief investigator and five assistants who — unlike Morris — would be subject to Senate confirmation.

Further, in sharp contrast to the Morris plan of operations, Congress would have access to all information gathered by these investigators, through subpoena powers or otherwise.

McCarran and other members of the committee made it plain that they did not have Morris in mind for the proposed chief investigator's post.

The Nevada described Morris, former president of the New York City Council, as a man without "control of his own emotions." This was an obvious reference to Morris' outburst against the "diseased minds" of senators investigating his part in some surplus tanker deals.

Meanwhile, former Internal Revenue Commissioner Joseph D. Nunn Jr., spent six hours yesterday behind closed doors with a House committee pursuing tax collection irregularities. Chairman King (D-Calif) told newsmen he would be recalled "probably before the end of this month."

Nunan refused to comment on his long session other than to say it was "pretty exhausting." Nunan, income tax chief for 1944 to 1947, has been accused by Sen. Williams (R-De) of giving legal aid to tax-troubled clients too soon after leaving the government.

Morris appeared to be philosophical about the Senate committee's refusal to give him subpoena powers. He noted, at a news conference, that the resolution is "still before Congress," although apparently he was well aware that committee disapproval usually kills proposed legislation.

Morris said he would do the best he could without subpoena powers if that was the way it had to be, but observed that "it's like trying to ski with one hand behind your back — you have better balance with both hands."

The New Yorker called the news conference to release copies of the income questionnaire going first to the Justice Department and eventually intended to reach possibly 25,000 officials in other "sensitive" agencies.

The questions, going back over five years, cover the whole family's net worth then and now, all bank accounts and safe deposit boxes, outside employment, gifts over $250 or legacies over 1,000, associations with convicted felons, gambling that runs over $500 a year, and market speculations. A required inventory of assets ranges from real estate and automobiles to jewelry and furs.

Reich Socialists Endorse Portion Of Soviet Pact Proposal

Farmer Won't Pay PMA-Assessed Fine

CUERO, March 19 (AP)—A defiant DeWitt County tenant farmer, Johnnie Janssen, today said he was flatly refusing to pay a $1,207.76 penalty assessed by the Production Marketing Assn. for alleged overplanting of cotton in 1951.

He said it was a violation of his "constitutional" rights.

Janssen told the U. S. district attorney he would send a marshal to seize the cotton, now stored on Janssen's father's farm, if he wanted, but Janssen did not intend to pay the penalty.

"Almost two years after the penalty was levied on me by the PMA of Cuero," Janssen said, "the United States district attorney in Houston has requested me by letter to meet the fine."

Palbearers will be her great nephews. They include Robert, Jim, Fred, Oliver, Burnie and Clyde Nichols and Cleo and James Jeffcoat.

"I was fined $1,207.76 for raising 25 bales of cotton on 70 acres of land," Janssen said acreage allotments were determined by committee members "supposedly elected by farmers of DeWitt County."

"Of approximately 3,000 farmers eligible to vote, only 296 participated in the election. This minority controlled the other 90 per cent," Janssen charged.

He said he was allotted 22 acres of cotton and two neighbors were allotted 70 acres.

"I planted 70 acres in defiance of the PMA upon the contention that the Constitution of the United States gives all men the inalienable rights of equality."

He said that the Constitution guarantees the right of trial by jury, the right to a judge and the right to hire a lawyer in suits at common law where the value in controversy exceeds $25.

"I was denied this right," he claimed, "when the order to pay the fine was signed by one of these PMA committeemen."

Claude Jennings, head of the Cuero PMA office, said the penalty was assessed purely on basis of the cotton allotment law, voted by the farmers themselves and the local office merely determined the excess acreage planted by Janssen.

Arguments on defense motions to strike testimony of the government's early witnesses will occupy today's court session.

The jury of eight women and four men has been instructed not to return until tomorrow, when the prosecution's fifth witness, as yet unnamed, will take the stand.

It has taken six full weeks to obtain the testimony of the first four witnesses in the case. Long readings by both sides, frequent objections by defense counsel, and illness and absences by several attorneys have combined to prolong the trial.

The government intends to present at least 35 more witnesses. The defense may counter with as many more, although it has not yet indicated its full strategy.

The 15 defendants are charged under the Smith Act of 1940 with conspiring to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government.

LOS ANGELES, March 19 — The Federal conspiracy trial of California's 15 top Communists goes into its 25th day today, with indications its length may rival the nine-month New York trial of the party's national leaders in 1949.

Giant Airlift Of Troops For Maneuvers On

TEMPLE, March 19 (AP)—Troop carrier planes began landing this morning with the first of about 8,750 combat-ready infantrymen being flown from South Carolina to take part in joint Army-Air Force maneuvers.

The thousand-mile flight from Shaw Air Force Base is the first air experience for many men in the 31st (Dixie) Infantry Division.

The armed forces say it is the first time for almost a complete combat infantry division to be airlifted to a maneuver area.

It will take five days to complete the giant airlift, which originally was scheduled to begin yesterday but was postponed because of weather. Last of the troops will be flown in Monday, just one day before Exercise Long Horn begins.

The Planes—C-124 Globemasters and C-46 carrier planes—began landing without incident. The C-124, a four-engine cargo and troop carrier, is the largest type transport in wide use by the Air Force.

Two hundred miles from this Central Texas city, the carrier planes were met and escorted in by Air Force fighter-bombers.

The soldiers brought much of their equipment with them, including trucks, trailers and guns.

The 31st will be part of the "U. S." force in the war games. The U. S. force will be attacked by a numerically-inferior "aggressor force" made up largely of the 82nd Airborne Division from Fort Bragg, N. C.

About 4,000 Dixie Division men made the trip by motor transport. Plans are for those who reached Texas by land to be flown out.

Army Tug Delivers Emergency Shipment Of Diapers At Sea

NEW YORK (AP)—An Army tug delivered an emergency shipment of disposable diapers at sea yesterday.

and then were unable to replace it. Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and Comptroller Gen. Lindsay C. Warren have told the committee such shortages were widespread across the nation, especially in Texas.

Chairman Ellender (D-La.) said the committee planned to devote two days to the examination of White and Solomon—both asked to be heard—"and we'll get underway in earnest early next week."

He said staff investigators still are looking into the scope of shortages in a number of states and the reasons they went undetected for long periods.

"Our men will be ready to go ahead with the presentation of the evidence, maybe Thursday," Ellender said.

Brannan has estimated the shortages total between five and seven million dollars. He predicted all but about a million dollars will be made good.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), active in pressing the inquiry, says he doubts the losses can be held that low.

The investigation is designed to show the extent of losses, what steps the Agriculture Department took to prevent and detect them, whether government employees profited or were otherwise involved, and whether new laws are needed.

The grain in which the shortages occurred had been acquired by the government under its price support program and deposited in privately owned storage places.

Attorney Hints Sutton May Not Talk At Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—While (The Actor) Sutton may make his current role, as defendant in a 1950 bank robbery trial, strictly one of silence. His attorney hints he may not testify.

Sutton and Thomas-Kling, 45, both notorious bank robbers and jail breakers, went on trial yesterday in a $64,000 holdup of a branch of the Manufacturers Trust Company in the borough of Queens.

George Washington Herz, one of Sutton's attorneys, asked the salesman if he would be "prejudiced against this defendant if he did not take the stand."

"You wouldn't say to yourself, 'If he's innocent, why doesn't he get up there and say so?'" Herz said.

The task of selecting a jury continues today. Yesterday three jurors were chosen—subject to a possible defense challenge.

STRIKE SET SUNDAY Session On Steel Prices Underway

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 18-member Wage Stabilization Board goes into a marathon session today to frame recommendations for settling the big steel labor dispute.

The union, headed by Walter P. Reuther, has offered to give the CIO United Steelworkers a 13.7-cent hourly raise in pay and other benefits, raised against time.

A walkout of 650,000 workers in the nation's basic steel industry is threatened for midnight Sunday. Many officials believed it would be headed off.

CIO President Philip Murray, head of the steelworkers union, was waiting to see the WSB's proposed solution before advising his 170-member policy committee at a meeting here tomorrow whether to postpone the walkout.

A steel strike would be "a first class national disaster," Defense Production Administrator Manly F. Nease said yesterday. In a statement to the New York Sales Executive Club, he said it would seriously impair the atomic energy and munitions programs.

The WSB has asked for a strike delay at least until April 8 to give the industry and union time to bargain on the basis of the board's findings.

A few firms, including U. S. Steel Corp. and Jones & Laughlin, said they might have to start closing down some complex operations tonight to prepare for a Sunday night strike. Generally, the industry apparently was gambling against an imminent walkout, delaying shutdowns until the last moment.

Even if the WSB's recommendations are sweet enough to persuade Murray to delay the strike, they may be too bitter for the industry to accept, thus forcing a strike later on.

In this connection, a high government official told reporters privately that President Truman opposes any "trick deal" to boost steel prices to offset higher wages, fearing it will break "the dikes against inflation."

The government appeared to be ready to allow a $2 increase in steel prices, now at about $110 a ton. But this would cover only costs to mid-1951 and steelmakers contend it would fail to compensate for new wage increases.

Chairman Nathan P. Feinstinger told reporters the WSB's members—six each representing the public, might get down to actual voting on the labor issues this afternoon. He said they would remain in session until a final decision is reached.

City Cleanup Set For Week Of April 21st

City-wide cleanup has been set for the week of April 21.

City commissioners fixed that date Tuesday, authorizing the city manager to proceed with a schedule for the customary city-truck pickup of trash. Customarily, trucks cover the city during the period of a week, to remove excess trash accumulations put out by property owners.

The Chamber of Commerce civic beautification committee will be asked to join in sponsorship of the campaign.

The Commission Tuesday spent some time on discussion of a future paving program, and conferred with Lockett Shelton of the First Southwest Company on a warrant procedure. Tentative plans are for the issuance of $100,000 in warrants, $60,000 of which would be for the city's share in a street surfacing program, and $40,000 for construction of a fire station in the Washington Place area.

The Commission has not yet determined method of forwarding a paving program, but will delve into engineering problems at an early date.

The Council Tuesday also heard from a delegation of plumbers wanting a clarification of the ordinance requiring licensing and inspection of appliance connections. The matter was deferred for study by the city attorney, but crux of it was that appliance representatives are making varied types of installations without coming under the precise terms of the plumbing ordinance.

The Commission approved a request from the American Business Club for use of one of the old CCC barracks building south of the city, by an ABC-sponsored Scout Troop. The buildings are not now in use.

Humphrey Seeking 'Fair Deal' Bloc

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman's withdrawal from the June 3 California primary today spurred a move by Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota to organize a Northern "Fair Deal" voting bloc for the Democratic National Convention.

An abrupt telegram from National Chairman Frank E. McKinney, visiting the President at his Key West, Fla., vacation spot, plunged a coalition of California Democrats into confusion last night.

McKinney wired them—obviously on direct orders of the President—to take Truman's name out of that primary. Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee now is the only Democrat entered there but Sen. Russell of Georgia told a reporter he is considering making it a contest.

Russell is the South's anti-Truman candidate for the party's nomination. Kefauver, who defeated the President in the New Hampshire primary, is strongly opposed by administration supporters and by many Russell backers.

Humphrey, who declared he is convinced the President won't seek another term, said he is helping weld a Northern state voting bloc to back some candidate at the July Chicago convention who will carry on the "Fair Deal" program. He disclaimed any personal presidential ambition.

The presidential order threw California administration Democrats into confusion.

This opened up the field in California to such candidates as Kefauver and Russell, who have said they are in the race to finish.

Kefauver already has said he would enter only if he could get away for some active campaigning.

For '52 Ford cuts Truck Running Costs Again!

Now...Three new HIGH compression LOW friction Engines in FORD TRUCKS for '52!

101-H.P. COST CLIPPER 500 New LOW-FRICTION design. 212 cu. in. Available Series F-1 Rev F-6.

142-H.P. CARGO KING V-8 New LOW-FRICTION design. 277 cu. in. Standard in Series F-7.

182-H.P. CARGO KING V-8 New LOW-FRICTION design. 317 cu. in. Standard in Series F-8.

New, ultra-modern overhead-valve engines give you more horsepower per cubic inch displacement. Designed for modern Speed Hauling! Engineered to save up to 14% on gas!

Ford Truck engineering has always been step-ahead engineering!

Example: Ford pioneered V-8 power for trucks!

Example: Ford built longer life into Ford Trucks and proved it with registrations... "Ford Trucks Last Longer!"

Example: Ford demonstrated Power Pilot economy in 50-million-mile Ford Truck Economy Run... and made the results available in an exclusive Book for every operator's benefit!

NOW Ford offers 3 new Low-Friction truck engines—two new Cargo King V-8's and one new Cost-Clipper 500—that save up to 1 gallon of gas in every 7... deliver more power per cubic inch... time-saving power tuned to today's Speed-Hauling needs!

New Low-Friction design liberates "expansive" power!

Ordinarily, engine friction steals as much as 30% of the power your engine develops. Ford short stroke Low-Friction design cuts friction travel up to one-fifth, reduces friction drag and heat and wear.

Other friction-fighting features: New Super-fitted Auto-thermic Pistons; New Precision-molded Cast Alloy Crankshafts; New Full-Flow Oil Filters; New Cooling!

Ford's economy-proved, world-famed 289 cu. in. V-8 engine rating is increased to 105 h.p. And the 254 cu. in. Six Six is upped to 112 h.p.

Now see great truck engines... over 275 cubic power combinations... in the new 1952 line, there's a new Ford Truck that's right for your hauling job!

MR. AND MRS. G. E. FLEEMAN

Fleemans Celebrate Golden Wedding Day

In celebration of their golden wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Fleeman were honored when their daughters held open house Sunday in the Fleeman home.

Guests were greeted at the door by sons-in-law of the couple, Cole Shafer of Lamesa, Henry Martin of Ballinger and Wayne Parish of Big Spring.

In the receiving line with the Fleemans were their four daughters, Mrs. Effie Jewell Martin, Mrs. Winnie Faye Shafer, Mrs. Dorothy Oulda Parish and Mrs. Georgia Belle Landis of College Station.

The honorees' granddaughter, Mary Jean Martin, a senior at Texas State College for Women at Denton, registered the guests and Mrs. W. E. Carrick and Mrs. Sylvan Dalmont presided at the silver service.

Others in the house party were Mrs. Anna Vastine, Mrs. H. E. Meador, Mrs. Tom Helton, Mrs. B. P. Lovelace, Mrs. Albert Davis, Mrs. L. A. Griffith, Mrs. C. L. Richardson, Pearl Bradshaw, Dorothy Driver and Billy Cole Landis, 2-year-old grandson of the honorees.

Another grandchild, Carolyn Landis, and her father, Dr. Carl W. Landis of the Texas A&M physical education department, were unable to attend the celebration.

Arrangements of spring flowers decorated the party rooms. Elsie Willis played piano selections, and Mrs. Don Newsom sang, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Herbert Keaton.

The table was laid with a floor length cloth of white satin and centered with an arrangement of yellow roses and golden wedding bells lettered "50th." Colonial bouquets, lighted tapers and napkins further carried out the golden wedding theme.

Above the registration table was a picture of the honorees taken in 1902. They moved to Big Spring in 1905, although Mrs. Fleeman had lived here as early as 1901 with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gillen.

Mrs. Fleeman wore an original design floor length gown of orchid nylon over satin with a purple orchid corsage. She also wore a wedding band of diamonds set in yellow gold, a gift from her husband on the occasion of the anniversary. The daughters wore pastel gowns in pink, blue and green, with corsages of yellow roses.

Approximately 200 guests called during the afternoon.

Book Review Set Thursday

"A Man Called Peter" will be reviewed Thursday at 3 p.m. by Mrs. Ira Thurman in fellowship hall of the First Christian Church.

The Thursday Review Club, a project of the Junior Woman's Forum, is presenting Mrs. Thurman's review as one of the series of nine.

The book, written by Catherine Marshall, concerns the experiences of her husband, the Rev. Peter Marshall, beloved chaplain of the U. S. Senate for almost three years before he died. He was also pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Clubwomen Attending District Convention

The program theme will be "Education for International Freedom" when the eighth district of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs holds its annual convention in El Paso Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Harwood Keith of Big Spring, district president, will preside at the meetings and convention headquarters will be the El Paso Women's Club.

Others attending from here are:

Baptists Set Conference For Thursday

"The Art of Worship" will be the theme of the meeting Thursday of the monthly workers conference of the Big Spring Baptist Association at First Baptist Church.

The program will open at 10 a.m. with praise and worship, directed by Darrell A. Mock, followed by "The Use of Music in Worship" at 10:20 by Billy Rudd.

Paris A. Barton of Lenoah will discuss "The Place of Prayer in Worship" at 10:40, and "Personal Testimony, A Means of Worship" will be given at 11:10 by Roy O'Brien of Salem.

Following special music at 11:30, Leslie Kelley of Prairie View will speak on "The Place of Preaching in Worship."

Lunch will be served at 12:10, and beginning at 1:30 p.m., business meetings will be conducted during the afternoon.

Immediately after arriving in El Paso this afternoon, Mrs. Keith presided at an executive board meeting.

During the convention, a project for the entire district will be adopted by delegates of the various clubs. Tentative plans are for a project with the World Peace theme that will require the cooperation of women abroad.

Saturday morning clubs who have done an outstanding job in some field will be honored at an award breakfast.

Member clubs will also have their yearbooks and press books judged and prizes will be awarded during the meeting.

Kitten Transfers

What small boy or girl wouldn't like these big pussy-cat grey and red "knee-patches" on coveralls, play suits, denim overalls? Designs need no embroidery as the color is right in the transfer—just iron off onto 5 by 5-inch square patches which allows for turn-in seams. Stitch the patches to cover knees of garment and you and the youngsters will be delighted at the result. There are 4 heads; 12 smaller kittens (1 1/4 inches) for bibs, sun suits, pajamas, in the patterns.

B&PW Has Variety Program

The new service committee, under the direction of Edith Gay, had charge of the program for the B&PW dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Settle Hotel.

Miss Gay was assisted by Carole Murphy.

Jewel Kuykendall led the invocation and Gwynn McCollough presented a ballet solo.

Marilyn Constant and Sue Zollinger gave a novelty tap dance act and Sue Boykin sang a solo.

Ross and Burke Plant presented a group of novelty vocal numbers.

Gale Bonner accompanied the dancers and the vocalists were accompanied by Ann Houser.

The dining table was centered with an arrangement of yellow jonquils and miniature telephones were favors.

Attending were 25 members and one guest, Joyce Croft.

Woman Lawyer Speaks To Colorado Clubs

COLORADO CITY — Margaret Brand, Dallas lawyer and head of the Business and Professional Women's committee on legislation, spoke to Colorado City's B&PW chapter Tuesday night at Colorado City.

Miss Brand urged a political rally to be sponsored before the November elections, so that candidates might be put on record as to their stand on women's legislation.

"Clubwomen must take the attitude," she said, "of saying to candidates, 'You do represent me and you will have to answer to me'." Such interest, she said, would "lead to a better community, better state and better nation." She urged a fuller participation in politics and noted that Texas was far down the list in legislation pertaining to women.

Miss Brand arrived in Colorado City Tuesday and spoke to the Kiwanis at noon, the schools shortly afterward, and gave a radio address over KVMC at 6. She was to appear before the Jaycee-Ettes Wednesday at noon.

At the meeting Tuesday night, Mrs. Roy Dozier, club president, made the welcoming address, and introduced club presidents who were present, including Mrs. W. W. Rhode, president of the 1951 Study Club; Mrs. Arlie Martin, Hesperian president; Mrs. Ed Jones, president of the Mitchell County Federation; Mrs. L. B. Elliott, president of the American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Jack Smith, Shakespeare Club president; Mrs. Eva Bebout, VFW Auxiliary; Mrs. Curtis Lattimer, Zetaganian Club; Mrs. V. L. Moser, Mitchell County's HDA; Mrs. Jay Craddock, Jaycee-Ettes; Mrs. Royce Mahon, F-T-A; and Mrs. Charles Thompson, the county's only woman lawyer.

The introduction of the speaker was by Mrs. James E. Payne, chairman of the local B&PW legislative committee.

DESIGNING WOMAN

Window Wall May Present Problems In Decorating

By ELIZABETH HILLYER
The wall you meet most often in your home decorating career is the middle-size bedroom wall with a window in the center. How many ways can you decorate it? How many ways can you make it useful? This kind of wall can bring on a furniture arrangement problem because the window cuts up the wall space. Or — with designing ideas — it can be useful in every inch, and big decoration for the room at the same time. Here is one way to design it, to make the wall an office, a compact and well-organized headquarters for business at home or schoolwork in minimum floor space. It's a custom fit for the wall, but the only part that must be special made is the wall-wide top for the chests which provides desk area between them. The chests themselves may be from the ready-to-paint furniture section, and the wall cabinets that are made for kitchens. If the room is small, paint the wood the color of the walls.

Method: Beat eggs slightly in large mixing bowl and stir in sugar, salt, and vanilla. Scald milk and pour slowly into egg mixture, stirring constantly. Put 2 tablespoons cocoanut into bottom of each custard cup; strain custard mixture into cups. Set cups in baking pan and pour hot water into pan within 1/4 inch from top of custard. Bake in slow (325 F.) oven 40 to 50 minutes or until knife inserted halfway between outside edge and center comes out clean. Remove at once from hot water.

WMS Meets At Church

Members of the Hillcrest WMS met for the first time in the auditorium of the new church building Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Don Duke led the Bible study on the sixth chapter of "Women of Destiny" in the Old Testament.

Mrs. Virgil James presented as the devotional, "The Women Who Followed Jesus" and told the group how women of today could be disciples.

Mrs. J. T. Grantham led the invocation and the members sang a hymn accompanied by Mrs. James. Books were exchanged by members and Mrs. D. W. Overman offered the benediction.

Next Tuesday the group will hold a business meeting at the church.

HST Confuses His Top Demo Leaders

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—President Truman's sudden withdrawal from the California presidential primary left state Democratic leaders puzzling today over which way to turn.

Should they put up a favorite son candidate to protect California's 68 convention votes for the pro-Truman faction? Switch allegiance to Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee or some other name Democrat? Or not do anything—and in effect concede the big delegation to Kefauver?

The Truman campaign committee has been summoned here tomorrow to try to answer those questions. Meantime, members declined to even guess what will happen.

Kefauver supporters were elated. He is the only Democratic candidate in California's June 3 primary. The state's Democratic high command, almost solidly behind Truman, was left with a state of delegates and campaign forces organized—but no candidate. It had gone ahead without any word as to whether the President would seek re-election. Many Democrats doubted that Trumanites would hand California's 68 convention votes to Kefauver by default. One or two mentioned Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois as a possibility. Most leaned toward a favorite son candidate. James Roosevelt declared "under no circumstances" would he be willing to be the candidate.

In Los Angeles, Dave Foutz, Kefauver campaign manager, commented on the Truman withdrawal: "We believe that Mr. Truman must have realized that the rank and file of California Democratic voters feel a preference for Kefauver."

"We feel his action is an indication he will not seek re-election, thus paving the way for Kefauver's nomination at the Democratic National Convention."

McDonald May Never Be Tried For Lobbying

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Former Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald of Texas may never go to trial on a charge of violating the Lobbying Act of 1946.

The case has been pending several years, awaiting a decision in another suit in which a special federal court ruled yesterday that key sections of the act are unconstitutional.

The ruling appeared to pull the teeth of the law, which requires all lobbyists to register with Congress and fulfill other conditions under penalty of heavy fines or imprisonment.

The three-judge court threw out the section of the act providing criminal penalties for violations. It held the act's language did not describe adequately grounds for prosecution.

It also threw out the section requiring all persons whose principal purpose is to influence legislation in Congress, and who use contributions for that work, to report the contributions to the clerk of the House.

The Lobbying Act was attacked several years ago by the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) in a civil suit. In addition to ruling on constitutionality, the court granted NAM's request for an injunction protecting it against government prosecution until the legality of the law is finally settled.

Georgia Agricultural Commissioner Tom Linder and others were accused along with McDonald of violating the act.

Steps Taken To Get Warren Out Of Wisc. Vote

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Legal steps were started yesterday to knock Gen. Earl Warren of California and his delegate slate off Wisconsin's April 1 presidential primary ballot.

Max Polcyn of Milwaukee, a retired railroad yard worker, filed a petition with Atty. Gen. Vernon Thomson in which he charged several Warren delegates candidates had filed defective declarations of acceptance as candidates.

In addition, Polcyn charged, "Many of them in truth and in fact are not affiliated with the Republican party" and therefore are not entitled to be on the GOP primary ballot.

Warren's delegate slate of 30 includes many former La Follette Progressives. Former Gov. Phillip F. La Follette, a leader of the Warren forces, has said that the delegates will switch to Gen. Dwight Eisenhower at the GOP convention if Warren loses out.

Thomson said last night he had notified Polcyn that his office would not intervene with the State Supreme Court as requested in the petition. Robert Rieser of Madison, an attorney for Polcyn, said he would take the petition directly to the high court today.

TEXANS NOT SURE IN POLITICS

'Don't Know' And 'Won't Say' Frequent Answer In Survey

EDITOR'S NOTE: Associated Press Capital Correspondent David Chappas has just finished another extensive political tour of a big section of Texas. Here is another story on his findings.

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN, March 19 (AP)—The voter who says he "don't know" appears to be a big fellow in Texas this year.

This correspondent, trying to find out how early spring political winds are blowing, got the "don't know" or "won't say" answer often in asking folks how they would vote if the election were tomorrow.

That was true on a February tour of 32 Central, West and Northwest Texas counties. The proportion of such answers was about the same in a mid-March swing through 17 South Central, East and Southeast counties.

I asked 71 qualified voters what they would do if the election were tomorrow and the presidential candidates were President Truman and Sen. Taft. This was the score:

Truman — 32
Taft — 36
Don't know or won't say — 23

and Gen. Eisenhower:

Truman — 26
Eisenhower — 22
Don't know or won't say — 23

If the candidates were Sen. Russell and Taft:

Russell — 47
Taft — 12
Don't know or won't say — 12

If the runners are Russell and Eisenhower:

Russell — 40
Eisenhower — 17
Don't know or won't say — 14

Now, for the U. S. Senate race between Price Daniel and Tom Connally:

Connally — 20
Daniel — 36
Don't know or won't say — 15

Those figures are offered for exactly what they show on their face: They represent what 71 assorted voters think in the middle of March.

It represents the current views of 71 citizens, mostly long-time Democrats, qualified voters, from a wide variety of cultures and economic levels. Some were local political leaders but other persons this correspondent knew to have special interests. The majority were selected at random from rural areas, small towns, small cities and large cities.

These figures would seem to bear out the impression that most of the voters in a section of Texas from Austin south to the Gulf, east to the Sabine and as far north as Nacogdoches would like to stay with the Democratic party; many of them would reluctantly take Truman, but they would rather have some other Democrat as a candidate.

It also shows there are a great many who are waiting for somebody to help them make up their minds, both in presidential and senatorial races.

"50,000 Miles No Wear" Service!

We Conoco Mileage Merchants are now trained and ready to give your car exactly the same service that helped keep test engines new in the spectacular "50,000 Miles—No Wear" road test!

In that famous test, six brand-new cars were each driven 50,000 killing miles, to prove the wear-fighting ability of Conoco Super Motor Oil.

Thanks to Conoco's 3-point "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service, those engines showed no wear of any consequence, in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000!

Now you can get Conoco's great "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service to help your engine last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil!

1 Here's My Famous "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service!

I'll Drain Out Grit and Sludge While the Engine is Hot! "Hot-oil" drains every 1,000 miles flush out dirt, acid and contamination before they can do harm. Have the working parts of the engine sparkling clean!

A Bible Thought For Today—

Cataclysmic changes have overwhelmed the earth in past geological ages. We need fear no tragical repetition now that God's children have pushed to the ends of the earth. Floods and glacial ages served a purpose to prepare for man. "Waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh."— Gen. 9:15.

Personal Discomforts Are Small Beside Harm Being Done To Land

If there is any satisfaction in a sandstorm, those who endured through Monday's blow may have some measure of compensation in saying that they were in one of the worst if not the very worst of the lot.

There is no way of knowing which is the worst among these soil moving abominations. When they get up to a certain point—like on Feb. 23 and the Monday—they are kind of like death. The absolute is not given in degrees, but if there is any variation, the nod would go to Monday's super-blow. The Weather Bureau recorded that Feb. 23 spectacle as having reduced visibility to 1-16 of a mile at times. Monday, in broad daylight, the bureau put the zero tag on the storm.

If there is an easy way to avoid the discomforts of one of these storms, we should like to know about it. And if anyone says they don't mind them, please don't tell us for it would cause us only to doubt their veracity.

Fortunately, we can still make a few jokes about them. Were it not for this, our minds might blow away with the next puff of dust. A sense of humor is about all we have to hold on to until something changes.

No joking matter, however, is the fact that untold thousands of dollars damage is being inflicted upon our fields and ranges. Our personal discomforts pale into utter insignificance along side the implications of a sorely wounded soil. Give us calm weather and moisture and all of us will feel better immediately. Recovery won't be so easy for our land. The best care we can give it for years may not be enough to overcome the mischief now being done.

Gems From Lighter Side Of News May Take Our Mind Off Troubles

Not all the news is controversial, gloomy pessimistic and saddening. A few items of lighter tone do show up if you look for them.

Item One: At Baraboo, Wis., Governor Earl Warren of California was braced by a ten-year-old boy who requested his autograph. Pointing to a Stassen button on the boy's lapel the presidential candidate asked: "What's that?" The boy turned this aside by replying, "I've got another one" and pointed to a Taft button on his other lapel. He said he'd found the buttons but hadn't been able to find one of Warren's. "I'll send you one," said the governor. "What's your name?" "Tom MacArthur," was the reply.

The New York Times News Service asserts that an official recently told National Production Authority meeting that: "We are peaking our program philosophically but it is naive to assume the allotment program is an equity program unless the allotments are so abysmally low that they permit the agency to relax and allow the market determination as a percentage of base period sidetracking military return with adjustments. This is based on use levels proportionately and is in the market test sense. We now have a quantitative framework with marginal qualitative allocations to formalize the procedure for further refining and implementing of our objective." All we know for sure is that the unidentified expert in verbal camouflage wasn't ex-Congressman Maury Maverick of Texas. He coined the word "gobbledegook."

On the less flippant side our eye caught a new and very apt expression in a weather story in our paper the other day: forecast for the day, "gritty." That's a realistic description of a condition that in less literal days might have been hidden behind some sort of euphemism, like "slightly hazy." Nowadays the weather bureau and the press are more given to calling a spade a spade. "Warrior" has become "hot." Incidentally, speaking of gritty weather, we note in the Milwaukee Journal that they've had 82.2 inches of snow up there so far this winter. If a little bit of dust annoys you, think of having to shovel that much snow.

Navy Considers Its Censorship More Important Than Jet Planes

WASHINGTON. — The final decision regarding a steel strike will depend primarily on four men. These men belong neither to the union nor to a steel company. They are the government officials who must decide whether they can permit a boost in wages to be compensated for by a boost in the price of steel.

The four men are: Ex-Governor Ellis Arnall of Georgia, now on the immediate price fixing line as director of the Office of Price Stabilization; 2. Roger Putnam, Springfield, Mass., manufacturer, now head of economic stabilization; 3. Charles E. Wilson, former head of General Electric, now head of defense mobilization; and, finally, President Truman.

All four, at the moment, are agreed that the steel-industry profits are soaring, that they have never been so high before, and that they are ample to take care of the wage boost being proposed by the wage board. They also agree that to grant an increase in steel prices—beyond the modest boost which comes automatically under the Caphart Amendment—would start more inflation.

Furthermore, OPS Director Arnall feels so strongly about this that he would resign before upping the price of steel. Arnall doesn't believe in fireworks or fancy resignations. But he has told close friends that he'll politely pick up his hat and go back to Georgia if he is ordered to grant an increase in steel prices.

Significantly, President Truman feels exactly the same way. He has told advisers that he won't give the steel industry a penny of price increase.

So, if the men at the top and bottom stick together, the steel industry may be in for a rough time.

In which it was pointed out that the Allison jet job cost only $31,000, while the Pratt-Whitney jet job cost $50,046. Yet the Navy ordered 2,435 of the more expensive Pratt-Whitney engines and only 200 of the Allison, though Naval pilots, as of February, still found the Pratt-Whitney performance "unacceptable."

Immediately following publication of this column, one Naval technician, Vernon Haynes, mentioned as favoring the Allison engine, was sent a peremptory letter by the Navy, demanding an explanation as to why he had "talked to Pearson."

Subsequently, Haynes was summoned to the office of the secretary of the Navy and asked to explain why his name had appeared in Pearson's column as favoring the Allison engine.

Simultaneously, the same secretary of the Navy wrote an official letter inquiring why Pearson had not discussed jet engines with Navy press relations.

In other words, the Navy appeared more concerned with smoking out my news sources than cracking down on officers responsible for the jet-engine blunder. "Talking to Pearson," it seemed, was a greater crime than having no jet planes capable of meeting the enemy in Korea.

NOTE — Naval pilots who are among the best in the world, but who have been kept out of the Korean jet fighting by poor naval engine design, point to some interesting comparisons between the Pratt-Whitney J48 engine and the Allison J33. The turbine blades on the Pratt-Whitney, they point out, cost $99 each, on the Allison only $12. Likewise, the Pratt-Whitney tail pipe costs $800 while the Allison tail pipe costs $200.

The real test of whether Senator Kefauver can buck the United weight of Truman forces and city bosses will come within the next 60 days in four key primaries. They are Wisconsin and Nebraska, both on April 1, New Jersey on April 15, and Florida May 27.

Of these the most interesting battles will be in Nebraska and Florida.

The Nebraska primary is against Sen. Bob Kerr, genial Oklahoma oil millionaire who has the backing of Truman's former counsel, Clark Clifford. This results from the interesting fact that Clifford is Washington lobbyist for Phillips Petroleum, and that Senator Kerr participates in various Phillips oil and gas leases in the Southwest.

The Florida primary, however, will be even more significant. Here Kefauver will back overwhelming odds, as follows:

A. The popularity of Senator Russell of Georgia.

B. The big money of the big gamblers. C. The political machine of Florida's Gov. Fuller Warren.

Florida will be the first test between Senators Russell and Kefauver. Generally speaking, Southern senators are jealous of their Tennessee colleague, feel he is too young, has served too briefly in the Senate. Seniority counts heavily in Congress, and men like George of Georgia, now over 70, and McKellar of Tennessee, now over 80, bitterly resent Kefauver's youth, energy, and popularity.

That's one reason they goaded Senator Russell into becoming a candidate.

"What Are The Odds—Er, Prospects—On Nebraska?"

Newbold Morris Today Looks Like A Pigeon With One Wing Clipped Off

WASHINGTON. — Newbold Morris, the New York lawyer who came down here at the President's request to look for corruption in the government, is like a pigeon with a wing clipped off.

He can still hop around but from now on he's a bird with a handicap. He made some angry noises at senators. They clipped him. They refused to approve subpoena powers for him. But he's had two strikes on him from the start.

As soon as it was announced early in February that Truman had persuaded this big balding socialist to dig around here there were hoots from the Capitol, where a Senate committee was investigating a ship-buying deal in which Morris's New York law firm was interested.

While he was still scurrying around, trying to pull an investigating staff together, he was called before the committee to testify. Some of the senators mused his hair. He mused theirs in one of the most sensational talking-back performances seen here in years. Among other things he said they had "disseminated."

Whatever chance he had to get subpoena power from Congress went out the window right there. While senators sometimes criticize one another, and often rake a witness, they have little enthusiasm for a witness who does the same to them.

Ah, the emotional type, said some of the senators after Morris had had his say. Evidently not the kind of a man to be entrusted with subpoena power, they said.

No one, except a grand jury or congressional committee, can compel anyone, inside or outside the government, to testify by subpoena, or even the President can do that.

Lacking such authority himself, the President can't give it to anyone else. Only Congress could give Morris subpoena power. So Truman asked Congress to do that.

Yesterday Morris got his comeuppance. The Senate Judiciary Committee voted no.

If he had the subpoena power Morris could force any government official to appear before him and testify and produce records. And if an outsider was involved in some suspected shady deal with the official, he'd have to appear, too.

In that way Morris could make an investigation, first hand. Lacking subpoena power himself, any time he has evidence of wrongdoing he'll have to get a U. S. district attorney to take the case to a grand jury, which then could decide by itself to subpoena witnesses.

Morris himself told a news conference yesterday how he feels without the subpoena power: like a man trying to ski with one hand behind his back. He can still ski, Morris said, but it puts him off balance.

This Lady Is Taller, For She Owns A Bit Of Land

NEW YORK, March 19. — She stood, a small lady among many taller men, and in her heart she laughed because she knew she was taller than they were.

She was taller because she had more land. And in her heart she felt that was power, because she trusted acres more than people.

Sophistication and recognition were pretty new to Susan Haugland, 64, when she came here on a visit from Montana.

I am a local yokel and I sure did wailay this country girl on her first sustained visit to the Big City. She was fun to squire around, and this was her story:

She was one of 16 children born in Ireland, and naturally she settled here in a small cozy place like Montana. It reminded her of home—it was so much bigger. You have to know the people from the old country to understand her land hunger.

She and her man—Dan—started with 40 acres where that was an apology and a possibility.

There also were five sons and five daughters. Of course it is hard to pick among children. But I don't think Susan will ever forget her sixth child, now known also as Susan and no more her favorite than some of the others today.

Dan knew, of course, he couldn't get to a doctor—they are a long way off in Montana. Susan spread a rug on the cold floor when the pains came upon her and had a normal birth and a fine daughter all alone. Her other children waited in another room. She cut the cord of birth and blew warm breath upon the cold frame of her newborn babe.

The neighbor woman Dan brought said with the exultation of all women:

"I knew you would do it. I knew you would."

In 1931, Dan gave up his long struggle against the weather, and the land and died. The left Susan a widow with 10 children and about $20,000 in debts.

"Nobody sent me a single bill," she recalls. "And, of course, they didn't really have to."

How about today? Well, the banker is ready to talk to Susan anytime. She's got the ball money ready for her herd when they come into town after six months or so in the hills.

Oh, maybe there's 1,800 cattle or so now, and say 2,300 ewes and 1,400 lambs. But how about that spreading patch of Montana she controls?

"Well, of course now they are looking for oil that way out there," said Susan cautiously. "You know, I just have no respect for people who fill, I don't respect them at all. I suppose maybe we own or lease about 80,000 to 100,000 acres or more. And some beyond that."

"But it was Dan first and then the children who are responsible for—" said Susan, earnestly.

"Of course, the land here is more valuable," she said politely, looking around with no air of real conviction at the nearest skyscraper and added absent-mindedly:

"You know, I once saw a cow wrap her legs around her calf to keep it from freezing. I believe in nature. Take our sheep. I feel if we take care of our sheep they will take care of us."

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

Texas morning newspapers of this day in 1938 announced an international development of great concern to the petroleum industry.

And any important step in that industry causes excitement in Texas.

In a not-expected gesture, the government of Mexico expropriated all foreign oil industries within its borders and announced that it would produce and distribute petroleum and gasoline as a national agency.

The protests were vehement and immediate. The Secretary of State promptly issued a statement that the American government would push the claims of U.S. investors for repayment, and that this action by Mexico could lead to very strained relations. On November 16, 1938 the Mexican government announced that it would pay for all investments expropriated.

The first inkling that Mexico might not respect foreign property rights came during Woodrow Wilson's first administration, and conflicts between government and outside entrepreneurs continued for over a score of years. Even preceding the oilmen in their difficulties with the government were gold and silver prospectors. Many developments of mining properties in northern Mexico were halted by fear of government interference. Ly-

Row Over Housing Forces A Special Election In Borger

BORGER, March 19. — A petition for a special election to decide on ousting Borger's city commission was on file today as result of a row over federal housing.

The election must be held in 20 to 40 days.

L. B. Nichols Jr., a businessman who circulated the petition, said it bore more than 500 names. At least 467 were needed under city charter provisions.

Nichols started collecting signatures earlier this month after the city-appointed Borger Housing Authority purchased land on which to build low-cost rental housing. The units will be federally financed.

Regular election procedures will be used for the special vote. Incumbents and new candidates are required to file for office individually.

Here's A Chance To Invest In A Cause To Make People Happy

What would you do if you had some honest-to-goodness troubles—something like losing your eyesight?

I'll tell you what a group of folks, who have had to drink this very cup, have done. They formed a club—the Cheerio Club—that is just about the happiest and most interesting organization you can imagine.

These good people honored us with an invitation to their latest meeting. It would do your soul good to sit with them and to break bread with them and to listen to their enthusiasm.

They seem to sense just where everyone is seated and direct their conversation directly to the right person whether he is across the table or across the room.

If they mis-calculate about where someone is or about what is taking place, there is a chorus of volunteer information from the floor. They just laugh about it and go right on.

Mrs. Ina Monteith, the president, was in charge of the meeting. She told me how the churches of Big Spring had stepped forward to serve as hosts for the monthly meeting. The First Baptist was host in November and then Mrs. J. D. Jenkins and Zales' Jewelry teamed on the Christmas party (the store gave special blind watches to the totally blind and Mrs. W. D. Willbanks says "I wouldn't be without mine"). The First Methodist entertained in January, the St. Thomas Catholic in February and the West Side Baptist this week.

Membership not only embraces those in Big Spring, but it reaches out to Colorado, City and to Lorraine. Besides the churches, many organizations have taken an interest in the club. The Lions, for instance, have given 18 white canes and have a dozen more on order.

Programs naturally assume a strong religious theme. Members delight in singing gospel hymns and do a lot better than most people who can read books and watch the director. And when they pray, as Mrs. W. R. Patterson did, it is as if the individual was compensated for lack of natural sight by a heavenly one.

Why? Save that for yourself and your playmate troubles. You won't find it in the Cheerio meetings.

Here's what you will find—a bold project to do something for someone else. For instance:

One of the newest members of the club is Lowell Holland, a young man who gave his eyesight on the field of battle in Korea. The government gave him training in woodwork and some hand tools. But Lowell knows how to use power tools and the Cheerio Club has stepped forward to make sure that he gets them.

With nothing but faith and a few dollars, they made a down payment on a wood lathe, electric motor, electric saw and drill with motor. Stanley Hardware sold it at cost and assumed all transportation charges, and will display the tools when they arrive next week.

When the material does get here, the Cheerio Club will owe about $200. Where is it coming from? I don't know, but I do know that there are probably enough big hearted people in Big Spring and Howard County who will be challenged by the courage and unselfishness of these people to see that every penny of it is provided. You could mail your checks to Mrs. J. Tom Rogers, 808 W. 15th, who devoted considerable time to serving as secretary-treasurer and who is the only sighted member of the group. Or, if it is more convenient, I'll receive and pass on your investment in this cause. A dollar here will cause a lot of rejoicing at the next meeting of the Cheerio Club.

Gallup Poll

Shelving Of UMT Legislation Is Not In Line With Survey Results

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—In light of the Congressional decision to shelve U.M.T., it is interesting to note that in every Institute poll on the subject during the past ten years, including the latest one completed early this month, a majority was never found to be against universal military training.

Approximately 40,000 persons, constituting a representative cross-section of the nation's voters, have been interviewed on the subject during the ten-year period. The majority in favor of universal training has never fallen below 60 per cent and has ranged as high as 78 per cent.

Just before the House of Representatives acted on the measure Mar. 4, interviewers for the Institute found 60 per cent of voters throughout the country in favor of adopting it.

Labor union members interviewed, and persons of all religious groups, expressed approval of the U.M.T. plan, despite opposition to the bill from certain unions and religious leaders.

The national vote in the latest survey: "Would you favor or oppose requiring every able-bodied young man in this country, when he reaches age 18, to spend 6 months in military training and then join the reserves?"

Favor	60%
Oppose	33
No opinion	7

Those who voted in favor were asked, "Do you think such a military training program should be put into effect this year, or not?"

Eight out of every 10 voted in the affirmative.

ice was first being debated, the flood of mail and telegrams to Congress came almost entirely from persons opposed to the draft. The ratio was 9-to-1 against, according to an analysis of Congressional mail which was made at the time.

Yet a scientifically conducted public opinion survey during the same period showed a majority of 2-to-1 in favor of the draft, which was adopted.

Attitudes by Groups

When the attitudes of various major population groups were analyzed in today's survey, it was found that:

Both men and women voters were in favor of the bill, the men by a ratio of 62 per cent to 34 per cent; the women by 58 per cent to 33 per cent.

Among labor union members the division of opinion was 67 per cent in favor, 28 per cent opposed.

The rank and file of both Catholics and Protestants voted in favor, the Catholic vote being 65 per cent in favor, 27 per cent opposed; and the vote of Protestants 58 per cent for U.M.T., 36 per cent against.

The following table charts the trend of popular sentiment in surveys since 1943 on the basic principle of requiring every able-bodied young man to spend a certain amount of time in military training:

	Adopt U. M. T. J
	Favor	Oppose	No Opin.
Dec., 1942	66%	27%	7%
Nov., 1943	63	29	8
Dec., 1944	70	25	5
Nov., 1945	75	21	4
Jan., 1947	75	18	7
Jan., 1948	65	24	11
Aug., 1950	78	17	5
Dec., 1950	72	20	8
Jan., 1952	61	27	12
TODAY	60	33	7

Undoubtedly one explanation of Congress' action is that persons opposed to U.M.T. were more articulate and vociferous, and probably better organized, than the majority expressing approval.

Congressional mail undoubtedly was showing opposition to the plan, if past experience is any criterion.

In 1940, when the idea of Selective Serv-

Sawfish Has An Overgrown Jaw

Among the fierce fish of the ocean, the sawfish ranks high. It is armed with a double-edged saw, and the saw has teeth which can do great harm.

Sawfish live in warmer parts of the ocean. Many of them are found around the coasts of the Gulf of Mexico, and they are fairly common in some other parts of tropical seas. Few of them wander northward, but they have been observed off the coast of New Jersey.

What is this saw armed with from 30 to 50 sharp, deadly teeth? It is the upper jaw of the fish. This jaw has grown out of all proportion. The lower jaw is a small affair, under the head.

The saw makes up about one third of the length of a sawfish. A 10-foot fish is likely to have a saw about three feet long. A 15-foot member of the tribe may boast a five-foot saw. On a 20-foot monster, we are likely to find a saw six and a half feet in length. Such a saw is from 12 to 14 inches wide at the base.

To some extent, the sawfish finds its food on the bottom of the sea. The saw is useful in digging into the sand or mud and turning up shellfish. This fish is fond of king crabs.

At other times, a sawfish goes into a school of fish and strikes right and left. After the attack, it eats as many as possible of the fish which have been slain.

Sawfish sometimes attack whales. They usually strike the middle or rear of a whale, and eat pieces of flesh while the big fellow still lives. The attacker must be careful to dodge the powerful blows which a whale can deliver with its tail.

A few sawfish swim into the mouths of rivers, and go upstream several miles with the tide. One river which they ascend for a short distance is the Mississippi.

Except for its long saw, a sawfish has much the same shape as a shark. It is, in fact, a close relative of the shark.

Sawfish seldom harm people, but their saws are dangerous. Any swimmer would be sorry if he felt the end of the teeth. Some of the teeth are an inch and a half in length.

Indonesian Tin Won't Be Much Help To Firm

GALVESTON, March 19 (AP)—A U. S. agreement to purchase 18,000 to 20,000 tons of tin from Indonesia each year for the next three years won't be of much help to the Tin

Alex Ter Braake, president and general manager, said last night his plant will get 8,000 tons or more each year.

However, Ter Braake said the Indonesian shipments will not prevent a shut-down in May because of low ore supplies. Indonesia supplies only a small part of the plant's requirements, he said.

Ter Braake was optimistic over possibility of an agreement being reached with Bolivia, the plant's big supplier.

This would prevent a shut-down, he said.

Negotiations are under way in Washington between Bolivia and the U. S.

The price the U. S. will pay Indonesia for the first two years will be $1.15 per pound for ports of shipment. The price for the third year will be negotiated.

The agreement was announced late yesterday in Washington.

The price is the same as under a previous agreement with Britain under which the U. S. will purchase 20,000 tons of tin from Malaya.

The Indonesian agreement, announced by the RFC, calls for U. S. purchases of a minimum of 18,000 tons and a maximum of 20,000 tons.

The RFC—which handles all foreign tin purchases for the U. S.—announced it has offered $1.18 a pound to Belgium for tin in the Belgian Congo.

Oklahoma Firm Low

FORT WORTH, March 19 (AP)—An Oklahoma City firm was apparent low bidder on construction of three mess and administration buildings at Wolters Air Force Base, Col. D. B. Freeman, U. S. Corps of Engineers, announced yesterday.

The bid by John B. Martin company was for $841,155.

Hearing Continues Into Milk Prices In N. Texas

DALLAS, March 19 (AP)—A hearing on milk prices in the North Texas milkshed continued today by the U. S. Production & Marketing Administration.

Yesterday, dairymen testified raw milk prices in the area, which includes 16 North Texas counties, were too high and some farmers sold dairy cattle because they were more valuable as beef.

PMA is holding the hearing because of dairy farmers' requests for higher prices. A federal milk marketing order holds the price to $6.55 per hundred pounds. The North Texas Producers Association wants to return to the pre-1952 price of $6.81.

Youthful Talent

Bobby Leatherwood, flanked by his sister, Kay, on the left, and Pat Johnson, at right, are three talented youngsters who are to participate in the "Talent Test" Friday night at the City Auditorium. The show based on local acts, will also feature Slim Willett and his band, now featured on the Big State Jamboree radio show from Abilene. Tickets for the show can be bought from Jaycees or at the door. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

AGAINST MARTIN COUNTY

Court Decision Is Due Friday Or Saturday In Water Case

AUSTIN, March 19 (AP)—Whether or not Texas' 1949 underground water conservation law will stand or fall on a court decision Friday or Saturday was in question today. The dispute arose in the final arguments yesterday in the suit brought by the Colorado River Municipal Water District challenging validity of the Martin County Water Conservation District.

Judge Jack Roberts said he would decide the suit Friday or Saturday.

That the state's 1949 water law is under test was the argument of Asst. Atty.-Gen. Burt Watson, representing the State Board of Water Engineers which designated the Martin County reservoir for creation of the district.

"If this designation fails, every other designation also fails," Watson contended.

Besides the Martin County District, similar districts have been created in Sherman County and in the Plainview-Lubbock area under authority of the same 1949 law.

Atty. Victor Boudin, representing the CRMWD, earlier said he could not agree validity of the law was being challenged. He argued instead the challenge applied only to action of the board in the specific creation of the Martin County District.

Watson also told the court the CRMWD had not been hurt by creation of the underground water subdivision, which CRMWD contends was created without sufficient evidence to define its boundaries.

"They have been hurt instead by the regulations," Watson said. "Yet they have come here asking you to throw out the subdivision — and with it two other subdivisions —when they should have resorted to administrative remedy and should not be permitted in this court until they have."

Atty. Roger B. Tyler Jr., representing the state board, told the court the board did all it could to ascertain the facts before designating the subdivision. He also argued CRMWD was present at a public hearing and was given ample opportunity to voice objections and submit additional evidence but it never did either until the district passed regulations to which it objected.

Big Spring Atty. George Thomas, representing Martin County, told the court the county had moved as it did to prevent CRMWD from draining dry the water field under its land in a short period.

Regulations adopted by the Martin County District shut off much of the water supply of the county's wells which CRMWD had intended to use to supply water needs at Odessa and Big Spring pending filling of a new Colorado River reservoir.

"Evidence shows that the city of Odessa is in desperate circumstances (for want of water)," Boudin argued. "The lives, health and welfare of 60,000 people stand in the balance with people who own 12 per cent of the land (overlying the water producing sands)."

Wristwatch Is Electric; Said Nearly Perfect

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
CHICAGO (AP)—An electric wristwatch, hailed as keeping almost perfect time, was announced today.

It has a little electric motor inside, yet is no bigger than a conventional wind-up watch. It has a barely audible tick, no mainspring, no winding mechanism.

A main secret is a tiny amazing battery, similar in volume to a penny. It runs the motor for more than a year. Cost of a new battery probably will be less than a quarter.

The battery delivers power at an absolutely constant rate. It takes only 1-100,000th of a watt to run the watch.

The wristwatch was demonstrated today at a press conference by Elgin National Watch Company. Only a laboratory model has been made, said J. G. Shennan, Elgin president.

Simultaneously in Paris, the L'Ep Watch Company of Besancon, France, announced an electric wristwatch. It differs in many mechanical and electrical respects, Shennan said. The two firms have exchanged information, but each did its own research separately.

Shennan said the electric watch keeps better time than wind-up ones.

The electric watch will cost more, for some years at least, Shennan said, but price was not estimated.

The battery, or energy capsule as Elgin named it, powers a synchronously controlled motor, replacing the usual mainspring and other parts.

The motor develops only 1-75,000,000th of a horsepower. The watch uses so little power that electricity to light a 100-watt bulb would operate 10 million of them.

Final Sessions Of TSCRA Underway

FORT WORTH, March 19 (AP)—Final sessions of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association's convention were held today with Judge Marvin Jones, chief of the U. S. Court of Claims, a morning speaker.

Yesterday the cattlemen were asked for support in three major efforts affecting the future of the industry.

They were urged to get behind:

1. A water conservation program for Texas.
2. A research program to find a control measure for foot-and-mouth disease.
3. The effort to halt the march of Communism.

Making pleas for the programs were Gov. Shivers, Oscar Flores, Mexican co-director of the Joint Hoof and Mouth Disease Commission; and Lt. Gen. Robert W. Harper, Scott Field, Ill.

125 Marooned In Nevada Following Giant Snow Slides

JUNE LAKE, Calif. (AP)—Efforts to clear a road into this Sierra Nevada resort where 125 persons are marooned by giant snow slides resumed today.

The 125, mostly Navy seabees

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Wed., March 19, 1952 7

testing snow removal equipment, have taken refuge in June Lodge. The lodge reported yesterday its fuel supply is dangerously low. Owner George Conn said, however, that there was enough food for a week.

Wind, falling snow and several new slides hampered snow plows which tried to forge up the narrow road to the lake yesterday. One slide caught an automobile with two seabees in it, shoving the car to the lake's edge, the lodge reported. The men were unharmed.

Millions enjoy its finer flavor!

You're off in a Swirl of Power!

WE'RE willing to wager that not one person in a hundred knows what really goes on inside an automobile engine—let's take this by easy stages.

The instant you nudge Buick's Fireball 8 Engine into action—a whole string of things starts to happen.

Eight sparks begin to crackle in well-timed sequence. Eight pistons start gliding up and down with rhythmic precision. Eight pairs of valves dance open and closed—to let fuel charges in, exhaust gases out of cylinder after cylinder.

All right, you say, what's so complex about that? Can't anyone build an engine that does this to perfection?

Well, we'd better add, these things happen at the rate of more than 10,000 times per mile—and that's 100 times per second at 35 miles an hour!

So—it's important to know that Buick uses a deep-breathing valve-in-head design that shoots a fuel charge in—cleans exhaust gases out—in a hurry.

It's important to know that all the power released by the fuel concentrates its driving force right on the head of each Buick piston. (Everyone who has recently built "new" high-compression engines copied this "Buick first.")

But most important of all—Buick adds one more twist which others still haven't copied.

Every charge of fuel rushing into a Buick engine becomes a twisting, swirling, high-compressed ball that flashes with sudden, consuming completeness the instant the spark sets it afire.

And to add this all up: clean, complete combustion—10,000 times per mile—is the secret of getting more power—more miles—from each gallon of gasoline.

So we're not simply using picture words when we tell you that Buick—and only Buick—has a FIREBALL ENGINE—or that you're off in a swirl of power with one of these high-powered performers under the hood.

1952 has brought a lot of sparkling new improvements which you'll want to see and admire when you come to our showrooms.

But the thrill of thrills is still what you and a Buick—and a Fireball 8 Engine—can do out on the road. When do you want to try a sample?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Sure is true for '52

Chicubs Counting Heavily On Brinkopf (Odessa Ex)

Rush Could Be Near Greatness

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — The Chicago Cubs, in the best spring condition in years, will be counting on the long ball-hitting potential of a rookie outfielder and a flock of sophomore slabs to pull them out of the National League cellar in 1952.

Leon Brinkopf, a 25-year-old third baseman who crashed 25 homers for Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League last season, is being converted into an outfielder.

Bob Rush, the elongated right-hander who was the winningest Cub pitcher in 1951 with 11 victories, is believed by Cub pitching coach Charlie Root to be on the verge of achieving greatness. He posted a 3.79 earned run average in 37 games last year.

Without very much new talent, Manager Phil Cavarretta's main hope of making a better showing is that he can instill more hustle into his shabby lineup of veterans and youngsters.

Jim Rivera May Be The Ty Cobb Of Modern Era

By GAYLE TALBOT
BURBANK (AP) — Speaking as one of the fairly modern generation who still uses the club, at his best and has never understood how it was possible for a tall player to run the bases the way they say Ty did, we are looking forward to the coming season with something more than normal curiosity.

The reason is that Rogers Hornsby says he has a man who is the closest thing to a throwback to Cobb he has seen, a fellow who will have Hornsby's permission to run almost as he pleases, and who will prove to a lot of skeptics brought up in the era of the rabbit ball that the oldtimers aren't just dreaming.

If you've followed the sports pages at all this spring you know the player—Jim Rivera, a 30-year-old outfielder coming up to the St. Louis Browns from Seattle, where he helped Hornsby win a Pacific Coast League flag last year with a .352 batting average and 33 stolen bases and just about every other honor that wasn't nailed down.

"He's the only player in the game today I'd pay my way into the park to see," Hornsby says seriously. "He's the only man since Cobb with the speed and the instinct to run a catcher and an infielder crazy. He's a little tight now. He's been reading them clip-clip about himself. But wait until he settles down. He'll show you base running like you never saw before."

San Francisco Club Breaks Scoring Record In Denver

By FRANK PITMAN
DENVER, March 19 (AP) — San Francisco's defending champion Stewart Chevrolet set a new scoring record last night in leading 16 teams into today's second round of the National Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) basketball tournament.

The Californians slaughter Santa Fe, N. Mex., 109-45. The previous high of 103 points was set by Phillips of Bartlesville, Okla., against Roanoke, Va., in the 1947 tourney. The Virginians scored 25 points.

Yearlings Plan Trip To Meet

Big Spring Junior High School probably will send a track and field team to the seventh annual San Angelo Junior Meet, which will be held here Saturday.

Texans Will Play Game At Corpus

DALLAS, March 19 (AP) — The Dallas Texans of the National Football League have arranged a fourth exhibition game, this one to be at Corpus Christi Aug. 23 against the star-studded Carwell Air Force Base team.

Netters Return To Winning Ways By Beating Forsan

The Secretettes of Big Spring High School returned to winning ways here last night, nudging Forsan in a volley ball exhibition, 45-11.

'Bat-Boy Contest' Ends On Thursday

The "bat-boy contest" being sponsored by the Big Spring baseball club closes at midnight Thursday. Entries postmarked before that hour will be considered.

Man's 'Internal Bleeding' Is Found To Be A Big Fake

PUEBLO, Colo. —State Hospital officials today reported they had cleared up a mysterious ailment which had fooled doctors and Warden James Thomas of the State Reformatory at Buena Vista. Dr. F. H. Zimmerman, superintendent of the hospital, announced that attendants had discovered how Richard Bowls, 21, had fooled numerous persons with his "internal bleeding." Bowls, a former clerical worker in Boston, was sentenced last November to an indeterminate term in the reformatory. He pleaded guilty to issuing short checks. In the county jail he first showed indications of his "ailment"—internal bleeding. Blood transfusions and various examinations failed to disclose the cause. There was a recurrence of the attacks at the reformatory. Bowls was taken to a hospital at Salida and later to the State Hospital here. In March he was returned to the reformatory along with a report that officials were "reasonably certain" the man was faking. But the internal bleeding perist and eventually he was returned to the State Hospital. Keeping a continuous watch, Dr. Zimmerman said, hospital attendants caught Bowls puncturing a throat vein with a needle, then swallowing the blood. The needle was hidden by taping it under the thumb, skin on the palm of his hand, the doctor reported.

New Cub Pack Is Registered
Leadership was registered along with 10 boys as a new Cub pack, to be sponsored by the East Ward Parent-Teachers Association was organized Tuesday evening. D. M. McKinney, Cubbing commissioner, and Hal McIntyre, member of the Cubbing committee, assisted in the organization. First pack meeting is set for April 4 and leaders predicted that there would be 30 or more boys registered by that time. Youngsters from 8-10 years of age, inclusive who joined Tuesday were Glenn Watkins, Benny Pitzer, Herman Hodges, Perry Thompson, Keith Campbell, Rex Appleton, Ronnie Leonard, John Hill, Geryl Bowerman and Perry Lee King.

Cubmaster for the pack is H. A. Rogers and institutional representative is M. R. Turner. Those on the pack committee are C. B. Herzing, Jr., H. F. Hodges, P. K. Pitzer, and A. F. Anderson. Den Mothers are Mrs. Eldon Appleton, Mrs. H. F. Hodges, Mrs. J. R. Bowerman, Mrs. K. M. King, with Mrs. H. A. Rogers and Mrs. Charles Herring as assistants.

VFW Post Elects Officers Tuesday
Officers of the Christenson-Tucker VFW Post No. 2013 were named at a business session of the organization here Tuesday night. Named Post Commander for the new term was J. B. McKinney, who succeeds R. E. McKinney in that capacity. Senior vice-commander will be Q. B. Lebkowsky, junior vice commander E. N. Hurst, chaplain U. G. Powell and quartermaster J. J. Tyler. Named as trustees were Allen (Buck) Hull, Cliff Dunagan and Bob Evans. The installation of new officers will take place April 1. The installation officer will be Glen D. Brown, a past post commander. Officers named will serve for one year.

DEADLINE IS REACHED Servicemen Scurry To Get Jap Brides

By STAN CARTER
TOKYO (U.P.)—Hundreds of American servicemen married Japanese girls today—just in time to beat the deadline for a law which enables them to take their Oriental brides to the U. S.

A few didn't make it. Chizuko Fukimoto, a nicely dressed plain looking woman, waited at the front door of the Tokyo consulate until 2:15 p. m. for her sweetheart to arrive from Korea. He never got there. Ninety-five soldiers, sailors and marines were married today at the Tokyo consulate. Similar numbers stood beside their fiancées at consular offices in Yokohama, Nagoya, Kobe, Fukuoka and Sapporo and said, "I do" to this question: "Do you solemnly swear that according to the laws of your state you are of legal marriageable age and there is no hindrance, legal or otherwise, to your uniting in marriage with this girl?"

Some of the couples planned religious ceremonies later, but most did not.

Most of the bridegrooms were based in Japan. Some were on leave from Korea. A few came on furloughs from the U. S. Air Force Cpl. John W. Amerson of Olympia, Wash., and Teruko Maeoka were the last couple married at the Tokyo consulate. Many of the couples brought children. Some were born out of wedlock but most were born with the benefit of a Japanese marriage ceremony. "I have to register my baby here," Air Force Sgt. George Miller of Cincinnati, told a State Department clerk after his marriage to a pretty Japanese. "He isn't even registered with the Japanese government, yet. He's three months old. He could just get lost and nobody would know it."

"While we were getting married down there at the other counter, I had to stop and change his pants."

GOP Delegates In Hot Session In N. Carolina

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (U.P.)—Conflicting claims over the division of North Carolina's 26 national convention votes enlivened a rousing state Republican convention here yesterday.

An Associated Press poll of the delegates' personal preferences showed Tar Heels leaning toward Sen. Robert A. Taft. The poll gave Taft 13, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower six, and seven uncommitted or not expressing a preference.

But Rep. Carroll Reece (R-Tenn.), Southern manager for the Taft forces, claimed 18 delegates had pledged their votes to the Ohio senator. And Eisenhower's North Carolina manager, Sim A. DeLapp, listed 10 delegates for Eisenhower, 10 for Taft and six uncommitted.

Organization of the Tar Heel delegation was completed by the selection of four at-large delegates to the national convention. The delegation, as a body, will go to Chicago in July unstructured.

Two definite pledges of the four at-large delegates named here yesterday went to Taft.

Judge Reams Is Candidate; Hits At George Parr

ALICE, March 19 (U.P.)—Judge Sam G. Reams of the 70th District Court yesterday announced his candidacy for re-election and coupled the announcement with an attack on County Judge George Parr of Duval County.

Reams said his political stand would be "unalterably opposed to George Parr's personal control of Duval County."

Duval County and Brooks, Jim Wells, and Starr Counties make up the 70th Judicial District.

The state by Reams recalled the 1950 election when Duval County gave an almost unanimous write-in vote to Rep. A. J. Vale of Rio Grande City against Reams.

Vale declined the office and the state election board refused to count the Duval County vote in the judgeship race.

Reams' statement yesterday continued: "I cannot believe that any man should be dictator over the lives, property and freedom of the people of a county."

"Good people everywhere have been shocked by the nationwide notoriety that has come to the good citizenship of the Duval County area because of the political manipulations of George Parr."

The Reams' statement referred to articles about the Parr administration of the county which have appeared in national magazines during the past several months.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) kept up his attack on the administration's foreign policy last night while Harold E. Stassen lashed out at the foreign policy stand of both the administration and Taft.

The Ohio senator told a crowd of 1,900 at a rally here "unless our foreign policy is conducted more competently than it has been in the past 10 years, our very survival is in doubt."

Stassen, who opposes Taft in Wisconsin's April 1 presidential primary, accused both President Truman and Taft of "mistakes" in foreign policy but added the "presidential mistakes in foreign policy can not be voted down by others."

Stassen spoke to 1,000 persons at La Crosse, some 80 miles away.

Shivers Urges More Interest In Voting

KILGORE, March 19 (U.P.)—Governor Shivers last night urged Texans to take more interest in public affairs during this election year.

The soil conservationists and food supply economists are worried. This blowing is bad and is likely to get much worse before it gets even a little better. There is but one thing that can hold this valuable plant-growing, life-sustaining top soil where it belongs, and that one thing is a cover crop. Before there can be a cover crop there must be moisture.

Farmers will do well to arrange for plenty of seed this year. They're apt to get a few plantings. Enough moisture to keep this soil from blowing will probably be too much moisture for cultivation. Therefore, only just enough rain is needed. West Texas farmers and ranchers have always gambled with the elements. 1952 is going to be one the biggest gambles they have ever made.

The situation is serious. The worst of it is that this sifting dust that is traveling so far to the East is the organic matter and the minute clay particles that grow crops. What drifts against the fences and fills the roads is mainly just sterile sand. The storms are the natural consequence of improper and unwise farming methods and the farmers had as well face this plain fact. If they don't learn a lesson from this experience there will be worse years. We are depleting our organic matter too fast. We are slowly but surely killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. Too much money in the bank and in new cars represents too much organic matter taken from the soil without provision for replacement.

Our pioneering, homesteading farmers found a beautiful supply of organic matter in West Texas soil. It had been accumulating, the scientists say, for 25,000 years. As long as West Texas was a vast ocean of grass, nature was able to maintain a balance between organic matter in the soil and the growing grass.

Then came the plow. In the last 50 years we have lost much of the organic matter that was accumulated over the preceding 25,000 years. Today's dust storms should be called "plow waste."

This isn't a plea to return all the land to grass. It is a reminder that unless this West Texas land is intelligently cultivated it will return itself to a desert waste. This year East Texas farmers are going to be cultivating too much Howard County top soil. It has settled down on their farms and is going to be growing cotton for them because we have let it get away from us. The storms are changing the color of East Texas farm lands.

The drought in Glascock must be worse than most folks know when an old-timer like Jim Will Cox is willing to turn the land back to the Comanches, buffalo and prairie rattlers.

But he and Mrs. Cox, a native of Garden City, are leaving They're pulling up stakes and going to Mississippi in a partnership with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard (Dan) Houston. They have shipped their stock to West Point, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox are the parents of four children other than Mrs. Houston. These are Miss Fern Cox, Miss Bonnetta Cox and Ben Cox of Garden City and Mrs. H. D. HaMark of Sierra Blanca. At the Glascock County Livestock Show in February the grand champion steer was one bred by Jim Will Cox and exhibited by Ben.

Ben also had the second place lamb in the heavy crossbred class, Bonnetta had the third place lamb, and Ben the fourth in this class.

The Grub Liner wishes them good luck but he predicts they'll be back. A fellow who has spent 45 years fighting West Texas droughts and sandstorms ain't going to be satisfied with Mississippi mosquitoes.
