Wednesday, July 28, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny St. Clair was the setting for the 25th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pat Wagnon. The reception was hosted by their daughters and sons-in-law, Tyree and Blake Stevens of Corpus Christi and Deborah and Johnny St. Clair of Muleshoe. Presiding at the registration table was the couple's granddaughter, six and one half year old Amanda Marie St. Clair. Attending the door and assisting in welcoming guests was Damon Jolvin St. Clair, the four and a half year old grandson of the Wagnons.

The serving table was covered with a net and sat in bordered wedding cloth decorated with love birds, flowers and bows of seeded pearls and satin over a silver sateen underskirt.

Centering the table was a lead crystal vase of white gladioli, pastel carnations and agapantha. A white tiered anniversary cake, with traditional silver twenty-five and decorated with white roses and silver leaves, was served by Mrs. Sheryl Borden of Portales, N.M.

Mrs. Jeanine Gunstream presided over the silver punch bowl. Cocktail sandwiches, frosted grapes, melon balls, fresh pineapple and strawberries were served from silver and crystal trays. A silver toasting cup completed the silver appointments.

Amid a patio setting of flowers and greenery, the guests were served champagne.

The fear of competition explains much that happens in business, politics and life in general.

Heat Reaction Can Be Dangerous

Many Texas residents work under hot, humid conditions. Extreme heat is a particular hazard to agricultural producers and others who must work long hours under the sun.

High temperatures and high humidity not only cause discomfort but could be potentially dangerous to the health and safety of individuals, says a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Humans must maintain a fairly constant internal body temperature regardless of external conditions," says Dr. Gary Nelson. "A human body is like a furnace which burns fuel (food) that manufactures heat. To safely limit internal temperatures, the body must shed excess heat. It does so by varying the amount of blood circulating near the skin surface and the evaporation of moisture through the skin and sweat glands."

Nelson explains that as the brain senses an increase in blood temperature the heart beats faster, expanding blood vessels and sending more blood to small capillaries near the skin's outer layers. This blood, circulating close to the skin surface, can then transfer excess heat to the surrounding cooler atmosphere.

If this is not enough to cool the body, then the brain senses continued overheating and signals the sweat glands to shed large quantities of fluid to the skin surface. Sweat cools the body as it evaporates from the skin.

"However, as outside temperatures approach normal skin temperature (high 90s), body cooling becomes increasingly difficult," says Nelson. "If air temperature is as warm or warmer than the surface cannot shed its heat. Under these conditions, the heart continued to pump blood to the surface, but perspiring becomes the only effective means of maintaining a constant body temperature."

The body also has difficulty giving off excess heat when humidity is high. Sweating does not cool the body unless the moisture evaporates, and high humidity slows evaporation, explains the engineer. Since humid air contains a high percentage of moisture, it cannot easily absorb more. Wiping sweat from the skin also prevents cooling from evaporation.

In high heat, hard work becomes harder. The heart pumps a torrent of blood through enlarged circulatory vessels, sweat glands pour liquids and essential dissolved chemical compounds such as salt onto the skin, and below the skin's surface, the production of metabolic heat continues. Since so much blood goes to the skin, less goes to active muscles. As a result, strength declines and fatigue comes sooner.

"Working in a hot environment may also have psychological effects," notes Nelson. "Workers who must perform delicate or detailed work or operate complex machinery may find their accuracy or performance suffering. Those who must think and process information may have lower comprehension and retention."

Certain safety problems are common in hot environment. These include slippery, sweaty hands; dizziness; and fogging glasses. Hot objects and surfaces also present possible burns from accidental contact.

Accidents are more frequent in the heat due to lower physical performance and mental alertness, says Nelson. Increased body

Japanese Cook With Cotton

A drive to increase the use of cooking oil produced from U.S.-grown cottonseed is now underway in Japan.

The initial activities include seminars for restaurant chefs and trade magazine ads stressing benefits of cottonseed oil in cooking.

In the first three of nine scheduled seminars, 357 chefs representing 157 restaurants attended. The initial advertising push included five full color pages in trade publications.

The project is supported by funds from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the National Cottonseed Producers Association, and the Japan Cottonseed Crushers Association.

temperature and physical discomfort promote irritability, anger and other emotional states which could cause workers to act rashly or carelessly or distract them from hazardous tasks.

UPS Hearing Will Begin September 21

Hearings on the application of United Parcel Service for authority to transport packages from point to point within Texas are to begin September 21, according to an order issued today by the Railroad Commission's Transportation Division.

UPS presentations will be given on the following dates: Sept. 21-24, Sept. 28-Oct. 1, Oct. 26-29, Nov. 2-5, Nov. 9-12, Nov. 30-Dec. 3, Dec. 7-10 and Dec. 14-17. The first two weeks of testimony will be given in Austin by UPS personnel, and public witnesses who live in the area. The hearings will then move to Dallas, resuming October 26, where the remaining testimony on behalf of the UPS application will be heard.

Truck and bus companies who oppose the UPS application will present their evidence following UPS.

The Commission's Transportation Division had originally planned to begin the hearings May 11. They were postponed after parties in the case asked to present oral arguments on procedural matters to the Railroad Commissioners. Those arguments were heard May 3.

Livestock Producers Show Interest In Brucellosis Free Herds

Texas livestock producers are continuing to show increasing interest in establishing certified brucellosis free herds, Dr. John W. Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, reports.

By the end of this month it is expected there will be more than 450 certified brucellosis free herds in Texas. By the end of the year, the figure could jump to more than 800. "As of the end of July, 1981, there were only 150 certified free herds in Texas," Dr. Holcombe said.

"The reasons for this are many; a cattleman's best assurance for as much free movement of his cattle as possible within Texas or out-of-state is a certified brucellosis free herd," Dr. Holcombe explained.

The Texas Animal Health Commission had planned to publish a directory of certified free herds. "We are getting so many additions every week and month that a directory would be out of date. However, we will be happy to supply any one with the names of certified free herds by contacting this office or any of the 15 area TAHC offices in the state," Dr. Holcombe said.

Currently there are 26 different breeds in Texas with certified-free herds. These include Brangus, Angus, Maine Anjou, Holstein, Beefmaster, Brahman, Charolais, Santa Gertrudis, Red Angus, Polled Hereford, Hereford, Pinzgauer, Simmental, Jersey, Limousin, Red Brangus, Longhorn, Beefalo, Polled Brahman, Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Aberdeen Angus, Tarentaise, Braford, Chianina.

A certified brucellosis free herd is available for beef cattle producers, both registered and commercial as well as dairymen.

"The interest in establishing a certified free herd is statewide, and we are finding commercial as well as purebred breeders are getting their herds certified brucellosis free," Dr. Holcombe said.

Complete details on getting a herd certified may be obtained from any area TAHC office, county extension agents, or from veterinarians.

RELAXING IN THE SUNSHINE--Youngsters in Muleshoe are busy enjoying the last days left for the Muleshoe City Pool to be open for a refreshing dunk in the water. The pool is scheduled to close at 7:30 on August 19.

Education—Our Money's Worth?

In my travels over Texas, it has become clear that Texans rate crime, the economy, and the education of their children among their principal concerns.

This week I would like to discuss education. As the father of six children, this has long been one of my principal concerns also.

We currently spend over half our tax revenue on education, and many people raise the question to me: "Are we getting our money's worth?" The questions put to me indicate some think we are spending too much; others, not enough.

I too am concerned about the amount of money we spend on education, but I am more concerned about the quality of that education. I believe the quality of education our children receive can be improved by making some fundamental changes in the way we pay and treat our teachers.

I believe in merit pay for teachers. Frankly, I think good teachers ought to be paid more than poor teachers. A good, conscientious teacher cannot help but become discouraged and disillusioned when he or she ends the month with the same pay as one whom they know to be indifferent. The result is apt to be that they leave the teaching profession altogether.

I also think we ought to enter a system of competency testing not only for new teachers, but for those who are currently teaching. We test our kids, why not also test those who teach them?

In short, I think we ought to beat down on the basics, relieve our teachers of burdensome paper work now placed upon them, and recognize and reward our better teachers with better pay, for the sake of our children, and our future.

If you have thoughts on this subject, I would welcome them. Just write to me at 1213 W. 34th in Austin, 78705.

Public Comment Called For On Grain Program

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block has called for public comment by August 26 on provisions of the 1983 feed grain program, the details of which must be announced by November 15. Block said he plans to announce the 1983 program well in advance of the November 15 statutory deadline.

Grain Sorghum Producers Association, the national organization of sorghum farmers, has recommended the following provisions:

I. A minimum of 20 percent reduction composed of A. 10% set-aside, B. 10% paid diversion with payment levels high enough to get 80% participation.

II. Loan levels at 90% of the estimated national at average cost of production, including land costs.

III. Immediate entry into farmer-held reserve program with reserve loans set the national average cost of production (including land costs) with release levels no less than 115% of the cost of production.

Grain Sorghum Producers Association (GSPA) believes the 1983 feed grain program should be aimed at stabilizing grain prices so a farmer can again have the potential to earn a profit on his crop.

The current program will permit a profit only in the event of a worldwide crop failure.

Any time there is an estimated two month carry-in supply of grain, prices will be at, or below, the established CCC loan plus carrying charges. History of the past twenty years show that, in the absence of a loan level at the cost of production, the market price exceeded the national average cost of production only when the supply dropped to a one month's supply carryover.

("Carry - in Supply" and "carryover stocks" refer to stocks left over at the end of the marketing year. A "month's supply" is the total amount expected to be consumed in one month.)

The U.S. had a three and one-half month's supply carryover of corn and sorghum at the beginning of this marketing year (October 1, 1981) and prospects are that the amount will increase with the 1982 harvest. Prices are well below the loan and even further below the cost of production.

GSPA states that it will be necessary to reduce the total combined carryover of grain sorghum and corn to less than 700 million bushels (one month's supply) before farmers can expect any profit from market prices. This can be achieved only by a program designed to take land out of production, and it must be attractive enough to assure participation. Diversion payments and higher loan levels are necessary.

It is a known fact that government costs will be less with an adequate diversion program and higher loans. The Congressional Budget Office studies have shown that it cost the government less to pay diversion payments than to pay storage and interest on grain in the loan and reserve.

GSPA believes it is in the national interest to have a strong and healthy agricultural economy. A farmer's economic situation is healthy only when he can make a profit. The current feed grain program assures surplus production, prices below the cost of production, bankrupt farmers and a poor national economy. It needs drastic changes and those changes need to be announced soon.

Firefighters In Action

Wednesday night, August 4 was regular business meeting for the Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department.

An update report of Wayland Harris' condition was given. Wayland was admitted to St. Joseph Hospital in Bryan last week while attending fire school. If everything goes well, he will be dismissed Friday to come home. The fire department voted to pay for his wife's room and board during her stay there. Fire Chief Sharp of Lubbock was a great help locating her a room to stay in. The department voted to reimburse Chief Sharp for any expenses he may have incurred.

Wayne Wauson reported the CPR practice mannequin should arrive anytime. We hope to serve our community by making it available for classes in Life Support education.

J. O. Parker, Owen Jones, Alton Parker and O. H. Lorange reported on the 1982 state fire school at Texas A&M. They were all impressed with their instructor and classes. Public relations were brought out in every class as was new techniques in fire fighting, arson detection and public education in fire dangers.

We want to thank the City of Muleshoe for making this training available for the volunteer firemen.

September will have five Wednesdays and this will mean social nite. It was voted on and agreed to have a watermelon eat off providing we have the melons.

The Old Dead Fire Mule says "Never use glass containers for flammable liquids."

We are happy to report that the number of fire calls are still down from earlier in the year. Eight calls were responded to totaling some 60 man hours of work. A total of 225 miles were run up on four fire units. In most cases, damage was small, even though five people were sent to hospitals as a result of one residence fire. One man was transferred to Galveston.
