

Picture Deadline Extended Indefinitely

Emergency Group Named Wednesday

the Foreador

Vol. XXVI Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Friday, November 9, 1951 No. 15

Deadlines for having class pictures made for 1952 La Ventana have been extended indefinitely, according to Dick Brooks, editor. Brooks submitted a report at a session of the publications committee Wednesday, emphasizing the "grave situation" of the yearbook due to photography, according to Brian Boyett, student committee member. An emergency sub-committee composed of Brooks, Dr. Reginald Rushing, head of the accounting and finance department, and Charles Joplin, student committee member, was appointed by Dr. A. B. Strehli, faculty chairman, to take any action necessary to facilitate picture production.

Pictures Received
Brooks stated that approximately 500 pictures had been received from the photographer, Palace Studio. Approximately 3,252 picture sales were made during registration, not including sales at the studio.

Contract Awarded
Contract for this year's class pictures was awarded to Palace Studio by the publications committee of last spring prior to Brooks' election as editor. The "form" contract is the same as agreements used in previous years.

Student members of the committee are appointed by the president of the Student council. Faculty members are named by college officials.

RE Speakers Declare Christ Answer For 'Silent Generation'

"The personal solution in Christ is the answer to the uncertainties of the present age," Dr. Harry M. Moffett, pastor of the University Presbyterian church of Austin, said in the closing Religious Emphasis week address yesterday morning before 750 students and faculty members.

His address closed a week of thinking on the subject "God's Certainty in an Uncertain Age," Monday Rev. Paul Wassenich, the Christian church Bible chair, Austin, set the pace for the week by posing the problems of the "silent generation," the present college group.

On Tuesday Dr. James D. Bales, Church of Christ Bible chair at Harding college, Searcy, Ark., dealt with the personal responsibility of the individual in this age and on Wednesday Dr. Doyle Ragle, Director of Religious Life, McMurry college in Abilene, spoke of the responsibility of man to his fellows in this age.

Jesus Is Mirror

Dr. Moffett's address summed up the thinking of the week. Said he: "Jesus is the mirror by which man can judge his inner life."

"Many people today present a well-groomed, manicured outward appearance, but on the inside are filthy," he added.

All the speakers contrasted the certainties of God with the uncertainties of the present age. Dr. Bales presented the Christian certainty of the resurrection of Christ and of man's accountability to God. Dr. Ragle pointed out man's divine nature, saying that because "all men are the sons of God, all men are brothers."

Afternoon Seminars

Three afternoon seminars were held on Tuesday and Wednesday and bull sessions were held in the dormitories in the evenings.

Dr. W. F. Howard, head of the Baptist department of Student work, Dallas, leading a bull session in Sneed hall Tuesday night, told the men that one of man's greatest troubles in prayer is the use of periods. Man should "pray without ceasing," he said. He pointed out that scripture which asks man to pray without ceasing is often misunderstood.

Call On Divine

Man ought to feel that he could call up on the divine at any time "without tuning in," Dr. Howard said.

Howard also helped in conducting campus seminars. Charles S. Carter, a Lubbock oilman and layman in St. Paul's Episcopal church, participated in personal counseling, the panel discussion Monday and in afternoon seminars.

President Wiggins Slated To Address City Dad Group

President D. M. Wiggins is speaking tonight at a meeting of the City Dads of Dallas, according to Roy J. Wells, assistant to the president.

This organization is composed of the fathers of the school-age children of Dallas.

Open Letter To The Students

As you are all aware, we are having some difficulty with class photography for 1952 La Ventana. The situation, as it stands now, places us in a precarious position. Only through the cooperation of each student on the campus will we be able to publish this year's annual.

We realize certain inconveniences exist both in making of the photographs and in selection of proofs. Steps are being taken by the publications committee to correct these. Maynard Woolard, proprietor of Palace studios, has assured the committee he is doing everything in his power to alleviate unsatisfactory conditions.

In view of this situation we are extending the deadlines for all classes indefinitely. We urge you, if you have not had your picture made, to do so at once.

If you have any complaints about the service being rendered, contact any member of the publications committee, but in any case, please try to cooperate with us by having your picture made now, if you have not done so already.

Please bear with us and the staff of La Ventana promises to do the best we can in maintaining the standards of quality in this year's annual which are customary at Tech.

Sincerely,
Dick Brooks, editor

Council Begins Plans For 1952

Following the closing of Religious Emphasis week yesterday morning, the Student Religious council last night began making plans for the 1952 week. This year, for the first time each religious group represented on the council selected its own speaker, Dean Christian, president of the council, said, "It is pleasing that there were no sectarian differences aroused by the speakers from several denominations."

A feeling of harmony was evident throughout the meeting, Christian added.

Next year the council plans to bring one nationally known speaker and have each denomination represented in seminars and bull sessions by a local religious leader.

L. J. Powers, professor of mechanical engineering, spoke to the Engineering society at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Engineering auditorium, William Leonard, club vice-president, said.

Program To Liven Juniors' Meeting

A new type of class meeting is being planned for the junior class Tuesday in the Museum auditorium at 7 p.m., according to Shirley Schmidt, secretary.

A musical program, presented by faculty members, will add a light spot to the meeting, which is called to discuss plans and appoint committees for the junior-senior prom.

Among faculty members appearing on the program are James G. Allen, dean of student life; Herbert Colvin, music instructor; Ira Schantz, voice instructor, and Gene Hemmler, head of the music department.

Talented Techsans To Submit Scripts

January 7 has been set as the deadline for Varsity show scripts, according to committee chairman Charlie Joplin.

Written, produced and directed entirely by students, the show is given annually in the spring. "Scripts in the past have ranged from outline form, just guiding action in the show, to detailed dialogue," said Joplin. "They have contained original songs and dances as well as popular and old favorite music." The show should be about two hours long.

Director for the show will be appointed before Christmas. Date for applications will be announced later.

Student Council To Meet Monday

Discussion of the eating situation in Men's Dorm Nshrdipu in Men's Dormitory IV will be featured at Tech's Student council meeting at 7:15 p.m. Monday in Ad170, according to Bob Schmidt, president.

Rodney Balke, engineering representative, heads the committee which has been investigating conditions. Men in West hall have been eating in Dorm IV, causing confusion and congestion, Schmidt said.

Other items on the agenda are a committee report on the Administration chimes, publications committee report, setting of a date for the election of the Sun Princess who will represent Tech at the Sun Bowl, report from the Varsity show committee, presenting of the petition circulated by Pat Edwards, Fort Worth journalism major, in regard to changing the school song and a tentative report from the committee planning a student traffic court.

"All students who are interested in attending the meeting are welcome," said Schmidt. "The meeting is not a closed one."

Theta Sigs Will Sponsor Clinic

A Publicity clinic sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, national society for women journalists, will be held at the meeting of the Board of Student organization Tuesday at 5 p.m. in the Aggie auditorium.

"Duties of a Club Reporter" will be the topic, and reporters from each campus organization have been urged to attend the Clinic. Margaret Turner, society editor of the Avalanche-Journal, and Choc Hutchins, news editor at radio station KCBQ, will discuss "The Club Reporter and the Society Desk" and "The Club Reporter and the News Desk," respectively.

Slave Girls

Era Of Sheiks, Harems Is Past Says Tech Student From Iran

Let's face it, girls—the era of the sheik is over and automobiles replaced camels in the "mystic" land of Iran, formerly Persia, many years ago, so says Hossein Karimi, Tech pre-med student from Teheran, Iran.

Furthermore, Iranian children play soccer, one of the favorite sports in Iran, rather than practicing to be future "desert hawks."

The worst disillusion for the American woman concerns romantic notions about the woman's status, according to Karimi. It seems several Tech girls have asked him the number of wives Iranian men have, thanks to Hollywood's "glamour" treatment. Slave girls and harems have been extinct for sometime now.

Church Of Christ Bible Instructor Takes Full-Time Houston Ministry

Carl Spain, instructor in Bible for the Churches of Christ, has resigned to take a full-time ministry in Houston, according to Aubrey Shouse, director of publicity.

Spain has been with the local Bible chair since 1947. He is expected to leave Lubbock in about two months.

Techsans Consume About 260 Gallons Of Coffee Per Day

Tech students consume 4,160 cups of coffee daily on and around the campus. That's 260 gallons daily. Who was that complaining about the bad coffee they'd been getting? Looks as if we can take it, bad or not.

Had your twenty-one twenty-fifths of a cup today? That's the average per student.

Bob's Cafe Leads

Leading the parade of coffee sellers is Bob's Cafe, on Main X. Bob's sells 60 gallons on an average day. The Tech Drug comes next with 45 gallons, then College avenue Drug and Killion's with 30 gallons each, and Bayte Drug and Dolly's Snak-ateria with 20 gallons each.

The rec hall, open only part of the day, uses 12 gallons, while the dorms average 52 gallons daily. That's a lot of coffee, taking into consideration that many of the students live off the campus, and many of them don't drink coffee at all.

Main Complaint

It's doubtful whether the average coffee cup holds a full eight ounces, or whether we always get a full cup. That's a big complaint on the part of those who don't use sugar or cream, but either way it's good stuff, and who could do without its helpful stimulus for lessons?

Future Farmers Of America Plan Date Night For Thursday Meeting

Date night has been set for Thursday for the Future Farmers of America meeting, according to P. A. Carminati jr., reporter.

Every member is urged to bring a date to the meeting. A short business meeting will be followed by refreshments and entertainment by the Lubbock high school speech department.

Tech Librarian Schedules National Book Week Talks

The importance of books and libraries in secondary schools will be discussed by Ray C. Janeway, Tech head librarian, Tuesday, during an open house and library program at Seagraves high school.

Janeway's speech, which comes during National Education week and National Book week, will be followed by an address Nov. 15 before the Lubbock Womens club.

Ping Pong Tourney Incomplete

The Recreation hall ping-pong tournament has not been completed.

All entrants have been requested to complete their brackets so the contest can be completed and other competitions may be started.

Janeway's topic will be, "What Libraries Are Doing for West Texas."

Dance To Honor Fish, Girl Elevens

Girls' football teams, who will play their annual Washbowl game this afternoon, and freshman football boys will be honored at a dance from 8 to 11 p.m. tonight in the Green room.

Burl Hubbard's orchestra will play for the dance. Admission will be 50 cents, stag or drag.

Cup Presentation To Highlight Affair

Presenting of the first gold cup for the "best pledge program" will highlight the annual fall luncheon of Women's Inter-Club council at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow in the ballroom of the Hilton hotel, Pat Johnson, WICC vice-president, said.

Each pledge group of the five women's social clubs will present a 5 minute program which will be judged by Mrs. Marjorie M. Neely, dean of women, and her assistants Marion Thompson and Jean Ewing. The award will be given annually and have the winning club's name inscribe upon it.

Centering the head table will be the letters WICC surrounded by an arrangement of yellow mums and jade foliage. Seated at the table will be WICC officers, special guests Mrs. Neely and her assistants and Mrs. Richard Richards, WICC sponsor.

Jo Ann Applebay, president of WICC, will act as master of ceremonies and introduce club presidents who will in turn introduce their organization sponsors.

The program will conclude with representatives of each club singing their respective club song.

Centaur 'Lil Abners, Daisy Maes' Will Make 'Whoopee' Dogpatch Style

Tech's Daisy Maes will be on the chase Saturday night at the annual Centaur Lil Abner dance to be held from 9 to 12 p.m. in the ballroom of the Hotel Lubbock.

The masquerade is taken from the famous comic strip by Al Capp. Those attending will be dressed in finest Dogpatch style and a prize will be awarded the couple in the most typical attire.

Decorations will include a large boiling vat of kickapoo joy juice brewed by the finest of juice brewers. Burl Hubbard's orchestra will furnish music.

A Chance For Fame . . .

Offered: one rare opportunity for the fledgling dramatics of Tech to court their muse and enter the sacred precincts of such masters of musical comedy as Berlin, Porter, et al.

Any Techsan who has a desire to see his own creation produced on the living stage is eligible to submit a script for the 1952 Varsity show. Deadline for these will come fast on the heels of the Christmas holidays, giving little time for the pangs and labors which go with creating a play.

The field of authorship is not restricted to students taking any one course of study. Last year's script, "Rec Hall Echoes," was written by a hopeful chemical engineer. Earlier Varsity shows have been the work of students of almost every division and department of the college.

None of the forces which combine to produce the annual all-student musical can begin to operate until the scripts have been submitted, read, and one of them picked as the basis for the show. Try-outs will select a corps of dancers, singers and actors to perform to the author's requirements. At that point, though, the author's only function will be to rage and bellow when changes in his script are suggested.

So here's to the man (or woman) who writes the show which gives us a memorable opening night next spring.

Here Comes "Stage Door" . . .

Casting is to begin soon for the speech department's new play, "Stage Door." According to officials in the department, any student at Tech has the right to try out for a part.

Most Techsans probably feel that they are not "dramatically inclined." However, though the department is always on the lookout for undiscovered talent, they don't expect to find a John Barrymore every day. If you think you would like to take part in the production, whether experienced or not, be on hand for the reading of the script. The date will be announced soon.

In the past years at Tech the speech department has turned out some excellent actors as well as debate and extemporaneous speech experts.

On the other hand, many students who never claimed to be "above the average" in dramatic talent have taken part in productions just for the fun of it.

There's something about an opening night performance that most actors feel is reward enough for the long hours of practice. Ask any player in the cast of the recently produced drama, "My Heart's In The Highlands." He'll tell you that one opening night was "pay enough for his efforts."

Pat's Patter

Blood, Love Are Today's Items For Columnist's Lamentations

At the risk of mouthing trite sayings, we would like to urge Techsans to join in helping a worthy cause Nov. 21.

On that date the Red Cross bloodmobiles from the North Texas Defense center in Fort Worth will be set up in Tech's Naval Reserve armory.

The service will also be a service to students because donors receive free a thorough physical check-up before they are allowed to give blood to the organization.

Students 18 to 21 years-of-age must pick up permission slips from Student Life Dean James G. Allen's office in order to participate in the blood giving. Persons over 21 may donate by just signing up when the local call comes.

At least 300 persons are needed from Tech. From a campus population of 4,865, we should have more than that amount for an honor roll of life savers.

One college professor is going to spend $12,000 for the US government to learn all about love.

Robert F. Winch of Northwestern university's sociology department thinks he can come up with the answer to the age-old problem of "what is love?"

project are being provided by the National Institute of Mental Health.

Upon learning of the government-sponsored research, US President Harry Truman was somewhat aghast. He hadn't heard anything about it and besides, "Love has been going on since Adam and Eve," he added.

We were happy to hear such a profound statement issued from the office of the nation's highest executive.

Student Council SPEAKS

The publications committee was created to supervise all publications at Tech. This committee is composed of both student and faculty members. The faculty members are appointed by administrative officials, and the student members are appointed from the Student Council by the president of the Student association.

Early in the fall the editors of the Toreador and La Ventana submit names of proposed staff members to the committee for approval. Also, the business man-

'Tough Job' To Await Judge Of '52 Beauties

By JOHN NORCROSS

Toreador Editor

We hear La Ventana beauties may be judged this year by Harry Conover, nationally prominent head of the Conover modeling agency.

All we can say is, he'll have a tough job. All the beauties this year are especially "photogenic" according to campus photographers. Looks as though it will be a close race.

Beauty judges in past years have included Lucia Albanese, singer who once appeared on the Tech Artists Course and Al Capp, creator of the Lil' Abner comic strip. Conover should be better qualified than any of the past judges as far as "knowing his stuff."

Once again the campus directories are late, through tie-ups in getting the printing done. The Tech Bookstore, which has the books compiled and published as a service to students, will place the directories on sale as soon as they arrive from the printer. This year the work is being printed by an Austin firm.

Price of the directory was 75 cents per copy last semester. However, due to big advances in printing costs, price of this year's book is still uncertain. It may range slightly higher.

Seventy-five cents may seem high to most students — that is, until you figure the work that goes into the book. Before being sent to a printer, several persons are employed by the bookstore to compile the necessary information from records in the registrar's office. Then figures have to be rechecked for accuracy.

Compiling a directory is a big job and it is not always easy to find a publisher willing to accept the printing contract. Last semester, for instance, one printer cancelled his contract at the last minute, which caused several weeks delay in distribution of the books.

Now nearly every patient leaves the infirmary with a supply of cold pills. Does that sound familiar?

Freshman at Georgia Tech who break the Freshman Code, 13 rules such as attending pep rallies and learning school songs, are hauled in before a "Rat" court to be tried. Some uninspired freshmen find themselves sporting a big, hairy T, completely surrounded by bare scalp, on top of their heads.

The speech department at West Texas State college is attempting to remedy their "prop problem" by sponsoring a campaign requesting donations of clothes and discarded household items. It is their theory that many articles are thrown away that could be used in plays and speech department productions.

"...WELL, SON, I SUPPOSE YOU'RE WONDERING WHY WE BROUGHT YOU HERE"

Lt. and Mrs. John Lindsay are living in Los Angeles, Calif., where he is stationed with the navy. Lindsay was a former math teacher at Tech and his wife attended Tech prior to her marriage.

Pvt. Harold Trent Collins visited in Lubbock during the past week. He is to report to Fort Hood in Temple on Nov. 11.

Collins was a chemistry major before his enlistment last January.

Newell Baldwin, former Tech student and horticulture major, is now serving in the navy on the USS Bairoko. He is a radar technician aboard the troop carrier.

Pfc. James Norcross, former Tech freshman who was majoring in animal industry, is visiting his parents in Lubbock on a 25-day leave. Norcross is with a marine floating bridge company at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Pfc. Billy Hamilton, who was a Tech junior during the fall '51 semester, is now serving in North Korea with the marine corps. Hamilton's parents reside in Lubbock.

Pfc. J. Q. Warnick, former junior pre-med student from Lubbock is now stationed at Sheppard Air Force base, Wichita Falls. He is attached to the medical corps and is serving as laboratory technician in the base blood bank.

Warnick's parents reside at 2107 30th street in Lubbock.

Bill McClatchy, a 1950 Tech graduate and band major, is now serving in Korea with the navy. McClatchy holds the rank of ensign.

The main purpose of the roast is to introduce the 1951-52 judging teams.

Doolittle Interviews Tech ROTC Men About Regular Air Force Commissions

Lt. Col Doolittle, professor of air science and tactics at Southern Methodist university, and his executive officers, Maj. Millan and Maj. Schaffer, visited the Tech campus Wednesday.

Doolittle and staff came to Tech for the primary purpose of interviewing distinguished military students who have applied for commissions in the regular air force.

Doolittle reported he was greatly impressed with the high caliber

Phi Eta Sigma Elects Officers, Gives Membership Requirements

Donald Smiley was elected senior advisor and James Dent vice-president, Tuesday, in a meeting of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honor society according to George Knowles, president.

Sophomore or second-semester freshman men who believe they are eligible for initiation into the organization should see Dean James A. Allen to make sure their names are on the list of those eligible.

Requirements for membership for a freshman entering this past spring semester, providing he was taking a full load, or a 2.5 grade point average for the spring semester combined with the following summer session. For freshmen entering in the fall, the requirement a 2.5 point grade average for the fall and previous spring semester.

Considerable talk is now being heard on Tech's possibilities of receiving a bowl bid at the end of the season.

One bid, to the Sun Bowl, is reasonably certain. It has been the policy of the Sun Bowl committee to invite the Border conference champion to be host in the Jan. 1 game there.

However, Tech has never felt bound to accept that offer, just as another conference member has felt free in rejecting the bid.

Tech has yet to beat Hardin-Simmons university to assure it the Border conference crown. Tech is favored over the Cowboys, however.

Considering the Raider showing this year, a bid from some other bowl is highly possible. Tech's defeat of TCU, and TCU's successes in the Southwest conference will be of great assistance interesting bowl committees in Tech as a guest.

A Tulsa sports newscaster has predicted that Tech will meet Cincinnati in the Sun Bowl.

If Tech should accept a Sun Bowl offer, should it receive one, Cincinnati would offer the Raiders some worthwhile competition.

However, we would prefer to see Tech play in some other bowl, and we believe that she will.

Incidentally, this afternoon Tech students have an opportunity to view a "bowl" game. The women's teams from Dorms III and IV are playing their annual match.

Since the Raiders are not playing (See BALL-POINTED Page 7)

Baptists Grab Independent Top Spot

Baptist Student Union Bums took the favored role in the Independent intramural football league Wednesday afternoon by marching over the Wesleyan Wildcats 15 to 0.

It handed the Wildcats their first defeat of the year and left the Bums with an undefeated record. Both teams have two games to play in league competition.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil
Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

POOR PAUL was egg-sperated because every chick on campus gave him the bird. They told him: "We're all cooped up!" Then one day his roommate said: "The hens avoid you beak-cause your hair's messy, you dumb cluck! I don't know feather you've heard of Wildroot Cream-Oil or not, but you better fry it—er, try it! Contains soothing Lanolin. Relieves dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test." Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil—and now the gals think he's a good egg! Better lay down a few poultry cents on the nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. And ask for it on your hair at your favorite barber shop. Then the gals'll take off their hatch to you!

BSU meets the Unknowns and the Tech Band. The Wildcats yet have to play the Westminster Student Fellowship and the Dairy Manufacturing club.

After the Wildcats had stopped a sustained 55-yard drive by the Bums on their own 10-yard line, they set back the Bums and took over on the 15.

Soon thereafter, the Bum Line rushed in to swamp the passer and score a safety.

The Baptist scored the other 13 points on the sharp passing of Bob Webster. The first one came after Powell Hinson had snagged an almost impossible pass for thirty yard gain to the two-yard line. From there Webster passed to George Worrell for the counter. Late in the second period Webster made four passes good for seven points. The first, good for five yards to Tom Brown. The second for a ten yard gain to Ray Vanderpool, and the touchdown and extra point flings to Pinson.

Wranglers, CC Victorious Sunday

In Sunday afternoon MCGC league games Wranglers defeated Kemas 14 to 6 while Adelphi was taking a 13 to 0 rapping from College Club.

Joe Wofford's passes accounted for the two Wrangler touchdowns. Hankins and Moorehouse were receivers of the scoring aerials. M. D. Stevens scored the extra point after each td.

For the Kemas F. L. Ballard ran across the counter.

Charlie Orren and Glen Terry were standouts for the College Club in its victory. Orren passed twice to end Terry for counters, and ran across the only successful conversion try.

Jeff Morris, Jack McAbe and Jim Richards played outstanding ball for the losing Adelphi. Outstanding linemen for the College Club were John Womack, Bill Bales, Neal Chastain and Bill Bumpass.

Tech Idle; Tulsa Faces Kansas State

Tech's Red Raiders have gone through light drills this week before hitting the pace again Wednesday with heavy drills for the Tulsa game next week.

While the Raiders are idle this weekend, Tulsa will meet Kansas

State in Tulsa. In next week's game the Raiders will be seeking revenge for the 39 to 7 Homecoming loss to the Golden Hurricanes last year.

Doak, Sneed East Win In Dorm Loop

Doak hall and Sneed East wing were victorious over West hall 6 to 0 an dDorm IV 12 to 0, respectively, this past week.

Doak hall won over West hall 6 to 0 in an overtime game last Friday in the Dorm league.

Sunny Stanford passed to Red Verden for the tally after the Doakers took over on the 50-yard line in the overtime period.

Standouts for Doak hall were Forrest Williams and Jerrell Myers. Carl Williams, Buddy Pickens and Johnny McBroom starred for the losers.

Passes for 35 yards and 15 yards netted in a 12 to 0 victory for Sneed East wing over Dorm IV Tuesday.

Both tosses were from Bill "Red" Jackson to Bill Killough. Larry Knight and Thurman Weathered also sparked the winning team.

Outstanding players for Dorm IV were Clyde Grappe, Burk Roberts, Albert Wilson and Neil Atchson.

Dairymen Walk Over Band, 20 To 0

The Band team met the Dairy Manufacturers Wednesday with only six men putting up a good fight against Dairymen who played with the regulation nine men.

The Band received the kickoff and made three straight first downs with a three man line and a three man backfield but they couldn't keep up the pace as the Dairymen scored three times to win the encounter 20 to 0.

Lindy Lawler, Thomas Windt and Royce Jackson carried passes over the double stripe to mark up the Dairy points.

Deaton Rigby, Corky Hunsuckle and Jack Phillips helped the Milk-ers' cause. Standouts for the Band were Tubal Cain, Joe Johnson and Ike Spears.

Ball-Pointed —
ing a game upon which to miss a prediction, we will choose the Pink Plungers of Women's Dorm IV to edge the Sophisticated Stoppers and capture the Wash bowl crown. The Pink Plungers have the advantage of experience over last year's champion.

Raider Hoopsters Open Drills For Early Season Road Trip

With little more than a month left before tackling their first foes, Texas Tech's hoopsters are settling down to rugged drills under the direction of head mentor Polk Robison.

The Raider five will meet North Carolina State at Raleigh, N.C. Dec. 13 in the curtain opener of an ambitious five-man road tour before starting conference play.

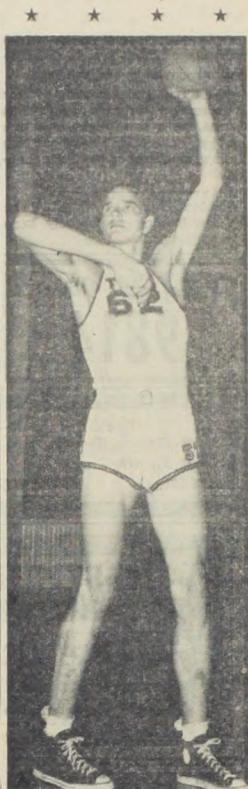

Polk Robison

Led by captain Jack Alderson, letterman guard, and alternate captain Jim Eddins, stellar defensive player, the Raiders will attempt to better their 500 record of last year when they won 14 and lost 14 while finishing in a tie for second place in the Border conference.

Seven lettermen bolster the Tech team this year including Alderson, Eddins, All-American prospect Paul Nolen, six-foot-ten center from Alvarado, forwards Lewis Martin and Verdell Turner, and centers Virgil Johnson and Irl Brown. Guard Rex Hitt and forward Jimmie Sexton who played freshman ball for the Raiders last year are expected to see a great deal of action. Additional support will be given by center Duane Durham, transfer from North Texas Agricultural college, a junior college, and forward Bob Bouldin, transfer from Oklahoma A&M, who is eligible this year after waiting the necessary year of ineligibility.

Incoming freshmen who will probably see some varsity action this season are Scotty Grundy of Memphis, Maurice Pair of Muleshoe, and John Pittman, Charlie Rand, Bobby Day and John Deitering, all of Lubbock.

After meeting North Carolina, the cagers will complete their five-game tour by meeting St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, Vander-

Lewallen, Fitzhugh Aerial Sneed West To Victory

Bob Lewallen and Sammy Fitzhugh teamed up four times to disappoint two dorm teams and mark up two intramural victories and win the Dorm league crown for their own Sneed West team.

The Westerners sailed through Dorm III 12 to 6 and then turned the trick again by downing West hall 12 to 0.

Last Friday, the Westerners tallied twice on Lewallen to Fitzhugh passes and Dorm III countered with a scoring pass from Oris Reynolds to Bob Terrill.

Gorman Oney played good ball for Dorm III while Ralph Carroll and Charles Roden stood out for Sneed West.

Tuesday, the Westerners tangled with West Hall and again Lewallen and Fitzhugh collaborated to win.

The first t.d. came on a 30-yard pass and the second tally came on a short six-yard flip.

Scotty Ponder passed 35 yards to Carl Williams and 30 yards to Wade Thompson but couldn't score.

Jimmy Cluck and Buddy Pickens led the West Hall line play while Tommy Crouch proved a capable defensive player for Sneed.

Sneed intercepted five West Hall passes to aid the cause.
