Twenty-Nine Students To Be Recognized As 'Who's Who on Campus' in La Ventana

Honor Services To Be March 18

Tech's seventh annual All-Campus Recognition Service will be held March 18, in the Gymnasium, announces James G. Allen, dean of student life. President E. N. Jones will address the student body.

A student whose grades were in the upper 10 percent of his division during either the fall or spring semester of 1952, and whose grade point average for either semester is 2.25 or better, will be recognized for scholarship.

Students being honored for the first time will receive individual recognition; those for the second time, class recognition; for the third time, divisional recognition; and for the fourth time, college recognition.

Students who are recognized for the fourth time will receive a gold key from President Jones. Eight students have received the gold key since the recognition services were started at Tech six years ago.

Student organizations of which two-thirds of the membership has a 2.00 or better individual average will be recognized.

Twenty-nine students will be recognized in this year's Who's Who on the Campus, Bert Goodyear, La Ventana editor, revealed yesterday. The 23 seniors, 5 juniors, and 1 sophomore were chosen on the basis of how widely they are known around the campus and on their activities this year. Students must have maintained a one-point grade average to be eligible.

What does a C.V.A. Engineer...

Using the basic principles of engineering and science he designs, develops and tests jet aircraft or guided missiles for specific military missions. His tools are his college training, the company's 35 years of experience in fighter aircraft design, the knowledge available from basic and applied research in many fields, the excellent facilities for research and testing and the cooperative efforts of his fellow engineers. Under youthful leadership he perfects his technical skill and develops his ability to direct others in the design and production of jet aircraft and guided missiles.

Engineering the jet aircraft and guided missiles of tomorrow requires the application of knowledge from many fields. Technical assignments are available in such types of work as the design and analysis of specialized electronic components, structural and hydraulic testing, structural and mechanical design, applied aerodynamics, power plant analysis and testing, stress and vibration analysis and flight testing.

If you are receiving a degree in Aeronautical Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Mathematics or Physics, we invite you to discuss your future in the aviation industry with us. Contact your Placement Director for an appointment for your interview with the Chance Vought Aircraft representative.

C. E. WINGATE, Supervisor, Design Operations Services Group, Chance Vought Aircraft, will interview graduates of the class of '53 in the Placement Office, MARCH 2 and 3. Mr. Wingate is looking forward to the opportunity of discussing with you your future as a Chance Vought Engineer.

Two Losses Drop Raiders To Fourth

Arizona State of Tempe dumped the Raiders out of contention for the Border Conference basketball title last night, sneaking by the schans, 80-76.

The loss threw the Raiders into fourth place in the league standings, with almost no chance at all to even share the crown. The contest was close all the way with Tempe holding a 42-38 halftime lead and a 62-57 margin at the end of the third quarter.

The Raiders move on to Flagstaff tonight to complete their disastrous western swing of the conference circuit.

The University of Arizona blasted Tech 79-63 in a cage battle in Tucson last Monday night, re-igniting the Border conference lead on the Raiders.

The Raiders were off both offensively and defensively, they couldn't hit, and they couldn't stop the red-hot Wildcats. Tech's inability to recover rebounds was so a major factor in the defeat. Jim Reed, about the only Raider who played up to par, sank 16 points to lead Tech in scoring. Paul Jelen, who was held to 2 points until the opening of the third quarter, was next in line with 13. George Rountree led the Wildcats with 17.

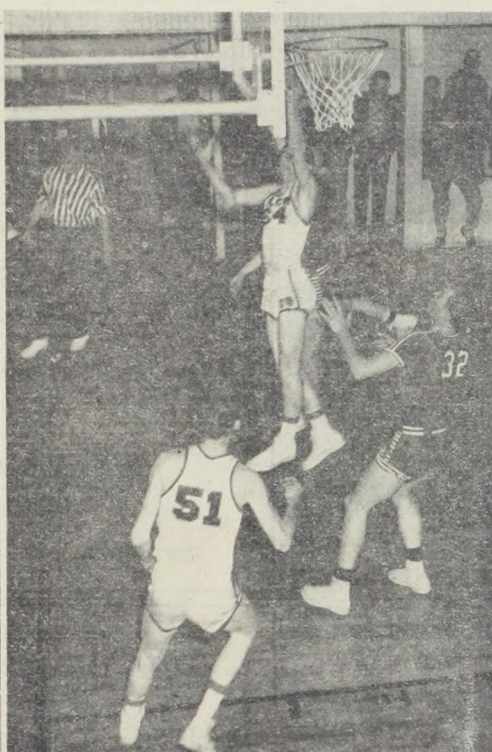

The Wildcats held a 45-30 margin at halftime, after leading by 4-13 at the first quarter.

The Raiders staged a rally in the third canto, outscoring the Wildcats 17-9 and cutting their lead to a 54-47 count. But the Wildcats threw water on the Raiders' fire and went on to further increase their lead in the final stanza.

RAIDERS CRUSH BUFFS

The Red Raiders of Texas Tech trounced by West Texas State, 79-3, in Tech Gym last Friday night on chalk-up their eighth conference win of the season.

INCE UP FOR TWO — Carl Ince (64), Raider guard, goes in for a rebound. Johnson (11) watches. The Raiders took the contest, 79-63.

Contains soothing Lanolin. Non-alcoholic. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Grooms the hair. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Now he's back on the ball, a flippant lover who flapper-gasts all the girls with his good looking hair. So waddle you waiting floe? Get in the swim with Wildroot Cream-Oil. Buy it at any toilet goods counter, and ask for it at your barber's. Remember, you mustache for Wildroot Cream-Oil. Then the girls will put their seal of approval on you.
