Cagers Whip Buffs; Take Border Crown

By KENNETH BENNETT
Treador Sports Editor

For the first time in 18 years, Texas Tech's name will be written in the record books as basketball champion of the Border Conference. Polk Robison's cagers captured the undisputed title in true Raider fashion Tuesday night by downing the West Texas State College Buffaloes, 84-71, before some 2,000 fans in Tech Gym.

The victory gives Tech an honor unequalled in Border Conference history, that of winning both the football and basketball crowns in the same year, and provides an NCAA appearance against Santa Clara.

For the Techsians, it was the best season in the college's history. The Raiders posted a 20-4 record, and an 11-1 mark in conference play.

Tuesday night's first quarter threatened to be disastrous for the crown-seeking Raiders, but after shaking off the tenseness, they began to roll, and never slowed down.

Crowd Damages Tech Gymnasium

Between 1,500 and 2,000 persons, most believed to be students who failed to get seats, damaged doors and slightly injured two small children in an attempt to storm the Tech Gym for the Border Conference championship basketball game Tuesday night.

An extra detail of police rushed to the Gym and turned back a large number of students after they had broken through a rear door and damaged another door at the front of the building. The children were only skinned and bruised.

Some of the crowd outside the doors were students with activity tickets who had arrived late. They had been told they must arrive early in order to get seats.

Line breakers were the main trouble, said Jimmy Wilson, business manager of athletics. Wilson went on to say that when the doors were opened, everyone made a dash for them. Approximately 600 people were present at that time.

Police said they had difficulties curbing the crowd which surrounded the gym, opening windows and crawling through them.

Expert To Assist At Ruidoso Meet

Dr. Robert Blake, a specialist in student group operations, has been obtained through the Hogg Foundation of Austin to serve as the resource expert for the Board of Student Organizations Leadership Conference in Ruidoso, N.M., March 26.

The purpose of this first campus-wide leadership conference is to increase organization effectiveness of operation through recognizing techniques by which groups work together at highest efficiency.

A Team Victory

Jim Reed, Tech forward, topped the scoring column with 27 points. He led his team on rebounds with 11 and played an outstanding floor game. Carl Ince, speedy Tech guard, sank 17, and was backed by contributions from Esten Blackmon and Eugene Carpenter with 13 and 10 respectively. Other players pitched in vital points to the Raider cause, and once again it was a team victory.

Carpenter opened the scoring after only 30 seconds of play, but Bill Clifton tied it up and Troy

Texas Tech's cagers will meet the Santa Clara five in the first round of the NCAA play-offs Tuesday night at 7:30 in Corvallis, Ore. The winner of the game will meet Colorado A&M in the second round on Friday night. Seattle and Idaho State are also in the play-offs. The winner will meet winners of other sections of the country in the NCAA Tournament in Kansas City.

Burrus put the Buffs in the lead with a charity toss. Durward Bolding, playing his last home game here, put the Raiders back in front with a one-hand set shot, but Troy Burrus, WTS's 6 feet-7 inch center, drove in for a Buffalo lead.

Bufs Led 12-7

Midway in the first quarter, the Buffs looked as though they might break the game wide open. Jim Scott, high scorer for the visitors with 21 points, hit a jump shot to give the West Texas cagers an 8-7 margin. Tommy Raspberry and Scott topped it to 12-7 before Blackmon dropped in a free throw.

Scott scored three more rapid points to give the Buffs a 15-8 lead, but then Tech began to roll. Reed tipped in a basket, Ince hit a short jump shot, and Bolding dumped home a free throw to cut

Senior Carnival Set for Saturday

Approximately 14 clubs and organizations will have booths in Tech's annual senior Carnival at 7:30 Saturday night in the Administration building, says Jerry Russell, arrangements chairman.

This year's carnival will again feature a raffle offering almost 60 prizes to those with lucky tickets. There will also be several musical and variety shows, games of skill and chance, and a "taxi-dance." Hot dogs and coffee will be sold by Alpha Phi Omega.

Proceeds from the carnival will be used to purchase some useful gift for the college.

Clubs and organizations entering booths include: Pi Beta Phi, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Phi Omega, Pi Kappa Alpha, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Zeta Tau Alpha, Kemas, Kappa Sigma, Tech Veterans Club, Phi Kappa Psi, Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Delta Delta, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Applications Due From The President For Publications

Applicants for the post of editor and business manager of The Treador, and La Ventana must turn in their requests by March 25, according to Prof. A. B. Strehli, faculty chairman of the Publications Committee. Mr. Strehli will receive the applications at his office in Ad336.

Editors of both publications must have made passing grades in at least 90 semester hours by the end of the semester in which they are elected. The Treador editor also must have had nine semester hours in journalism including at least one semester's experience on The Treador, according to the constitution of the Student Association.

The editors are chosen by the Publications Committee, made up of one student from each division, the student chairman, the faculty chairman, and the faculty sponsor of the publication concerned. The faculty chairman votes only in case of a tie.

The present Treador editor and faculty sponsor each submit names of three candidates whom they consider best qualified. The La Ventana editor and faculty sponsor follow the same routine with respect to candidates for La Ventana editor.

Business managers of both The Treador and La Ventana are elected in the same manner as the editor. They must have successfully completed 60 semester hours.

Special Engineering Election For Council Office on March 10

The special engineers' election for the vacant spot in the Student Council will be held March 10 in the East Engineering Building.

Students running for the office are: Pat Boles, Midland sophomore; Dayle Clark, Lubbock junior; and Phil McGee, Fort Worth senior.

Deadline for petitions was 5 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 24. Each candidate was required to have 100 signatures.

The regular spring campus election will be held the second Wednesday in April.

From The President

TO THE STUDENTS OF TECH:

A very important announcement concerning traffic and parking rules is contained below. It should be read by every student who drives a car on the campus for it is an official announcement of college policy.

The rules include: (1) Warning, (2) final warning, and (3) loss of car use. They are clear and they are definite—three 'strikes' and the car is out. This loss of privilege of driving the car on-campus will continue for at least the remainder of the semester.

The fall semester of this year provided a trial run of the new parking-on-an-assigned-lot plan. On the whole, it has worked quite well except for repeated violations by some two and six-tenths per cent of the student body.

This small group is not entitled to special privileges. Hence the more strict regulations. Those who have been complying will not be inconvenienced; in fact, they will be helped. Those who repeatedly violate traffic and/or parking rules deserve only a quick facing of the consequences. There are several reasons for this viewpoint:

1. We saw the results of no rules—confusion beyond reason. Something had to be done.
2. The new parking plan is the best that has been devised to date and is in use at some other institutions where they are fortunate enough to have space for parking lots.
3. While it is true that everyone cannot secure an assignment every time to the lot he most desires, still he should average out reasonably well over four years with new assignments each semester.
4. Even in the strictness of the handling of violations, there will be opportunity for one who has received a ticket to explain and all explanations of merit will be taken into account.

The smooth operation of traffic and orderly parking on the Tech campus is a problem for all of us to share. I am grateful to everyone who has been helpfully sharing by complying with the necessary rules and am looking forward to the day when the same gratitude can be expressed to all Tech students.

Most sincerely,
E. N. JONES
President

From The Traffic Committee

Although there are fewer students on campus this semester than last semester, there are actually more automobiles. Therefore, in order to deal effectively with the serious traffic and parking situation which exist on campus,

By The Way . . .

Col. Turner Attends Conference.
Col. Ollen Turner, professor of air science and tactics, will attend a four-day conference beginning Sunday at the AFROTC Headquarters in Montgomery, Ala.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, air force chief of staff, and Brig. Gen. Gonner Fellers, retired army officer, will be among the conference speakers.

Approximately 200 air force officers in positions similar to Col. Turner's will attend the conference.

Gen. Fellers is slated to make a Lubbock appearance later this spring.

Dr. Jones Speaks At H-Y Meet.
A small group of students can have an influence on the whole student body. Dr. E. N. Jones, president of Texas Tech, told faculty advisors of the West Texas H-Y clubs Saturday.

Dr. Jones, speaking at a breakfast meeting in the Plainsman Hotel, pointed out the importance of lay leadership and told about his introduction to the YMCA during his undergraduate days in college. He also urged the advisors to look at students as what they can be under Christian leadership and not as what they are.

Dr. Sterling H. Fuller, assistant professor of government, judged a speakers contest Saturday morning.

The two-day meeting closed at 12:30 p.m. Sunday following a dedication service at the First Christian Church.

ESU Sponsor Bible Schools.
Texas Tech students are sponsoring Bible schools each Friday night in Lubbock. At present there are 12 schools with about 53 students engaged in the work. The children are taught Bible stories, character stories, and songs and are tested in various types of games and handwork.

The schools are scattered throughout Lubbock but cover mainly the areas that have few or no churches. There are schools for Negro, Spanish, and white children. Last week there were 150 in attendance and 206 the week before.

The work is under the direction of the Baptist Student Union. Ardelle Hallock is student director.

Lecturer To Discuss Geology.
Dr. Grover E. Murry, noted lecturer and past professor at Louisiana State University, will speak on "Geology and Oil Accumulation of the Central Gulf Coastal Plain," at 2 p.m. today in Room 101 of the Chemistry Building.

Dr. Murry has written many articles, including an authoritative delineation of the geology in southern Louisiana. Interested students may attend the lecture.

To Help Judge Awards.
J. Everts Haley of the Institute of Americanism at Texas Tech will help judge the $1,000 Summerfield Griffith Roberts award in literature this year.

Mr. Haley is a former winner of this award, which is given for the manuscript or book judged to best portray the spirit of the men and women of the Republic of Texas.

The award is sponsored by the Sons of the Republic of Texas, and will be presented at the annual dinner of the Texas Institute of Arts and Letters in November.

Other judges are Dr. Eugene C. Barker of the University of Texas and Chris Emmett of San Antonio.

Architectural Exhibit Planned.
Texas Tech will see an exhibit of the architectural design class this spring. The exhibit will be the thesis projects of fifth-year students.

The models of these projects and approximately eight pages of scale drawings will be submitted at the end of a 16-week period. A 24-hour week is required for the course.

Most of the projects chosen by the students concern the Lubbock area. Some models to be displayed are of churches, a YMCA building, a TV and radio station for Tech and a restaurant.

The class is divided into five groups with a professor directing the work of each group and giving individual criticism. Heading these groups are Nolan E. Barwick, head of the department of architecture and allied arts; Robert L. Lockard; Florian A. Kleinschmidt; Richard Duran; and W. L. Bradshaw.

Band Gives Concert.
The 80-piece Texas Tech Concert Band, directed by Dr. D. O. Wiley, presented its first 1954 spring concert at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Lubbock High School auditorium.

Features of the concert included the Tech French Horn quartet and a clarinet solo by Keith McCarty, Tech music instructor.

Baptist Discuss Vocations.
A panel discussion attended by about 40 Tech students climaxed Vocational Emphasis Week at the Baptist Student Center last week.

The Rev. I. D. Walker, Mrs. Bill Mead and Tom Moorhead composed the panel with Hardy Clemons as moderator. They discussed "Choosing Your Vocation." Earlier in the day several students attended a song leaders clinic and a buffet supper.

Sociology Club To Meet.
Paul Pittman of the Lubbock Negro Boys Club will conduct a discussion on boys clubs in the monthly meeting of the Sociology Club at 7 p.m. March 9 in the Student Union Building.

SCOTCHMEN TO PLAY.
The Scotchmen will play for an all-school dance at 8 o'clock Friday night at the Student Union Ballroom. The affair is informal, and no admission will be charged.

Job Interviews Today, Tomorrow

Three companies have scheduled job interviews for today and tomorrow, according to Mrs. Jean Jenkins, Placement Service director.

Lane-Wells Co. will interview electrical, industrial, mechanical and petroleum engineers today. Initial employment is as field engineer trainees.

The Freeport Sulphur Co. will interview today 1954 graduates majoring in chemistry and chemical and mechanical engineering. The primary operation of this company is mining sulphur.

Tomorrow, the Sinclair Refining Co. will talk with majors in chemical engineering. They have openings at the Houston refinery for men who are interested in refinery operations.

Additional information on the above job opportunities or other jobs may be obtained in Ad150.

MANAGEMENT CLUB ELECTS

Erle Crush is the new president of Sigma Iota Epsilon, honorary and professional fraternity for management majors. Other officers recently elected are Neil Stovall, vice president, and Jack Kastman, personnel manager.

The fraternity is planning a banquet and initiation for Saturday, March 20.

Mrs. J. O. Denton, Jr., is president of the Lubbock alumnae group.

SAE Names Best Member, Pledge

Help Week for fall pledges of Sigma Alpha Epsilon ended Sunday with a breakfast, church service and formal initiation.

The traditional Big Brother-Little Brother Breakfast was held in the Caprock Hotel. J.N. Marks was announced the winner of the pledge class. James G. Allen, dean of student life, spoke to the group on fraternity ideals and on SAE's coming celebration of Founders Day. Following the breakfast, the group attended the first Baptist Church.

Initiation ceremonies were held in the Lubbock National Bank Building. New members are: Marks, Idalou; Ronald Hillier, Amarillo; Ronald Harlan, Littlefield; Cooper Blount, Lubbock; Mack Price, Follett; Ed Sampson, Monahans; Ken Kummer, Detroit, Mich.; and Bill Eastland, Stamford.

"Wings on Her Petticoat" was given for Book Reviewers Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Raymond Marshall.

Greek Song Fest Planned For May

The first Fraternity-Sorority Sing on the Texas Tech campus will be held May 11 under the sponsorship of the Department of Music Student Executive Council, Dick McCollum, council chairman, announced last week.

Location of the Sing has not been selected. Out-of-town judges will be named and announced later.

All social fraternities and sororities at Tech are eligible to compete in the Sing. Each group must have a minimum of 16 persons, unless the organization has fewer than 20 members, in which case a minimum of 12 persons has been designated.

To Sing Two Numbers

Each fraternity or sorority will sing two numbers: one, a fraternity song, the other, one of their own choice. The organization may be accompanied by one piano, although a capella numbers are preferred.

The singing groups must also be student-directed, although professional help may be used at two rehearsals. Costumes are optional.

Two Trophies Provided

Two rotating trophies will be presented the winning men's and women's organizations by T. W. Bridges, a member of the English faculty.

An orientation meeting tonight for club representatives will clarify the rules and the methods of judging the Sing.

The sponsoring council was organized last fall as a coordinating body for all music students. In addition to its major project of the Fraternity-Sorority Sing, the council also plans to distribute a booklet for entering freshmen music students.

Maj. Eugene J. Robinson, former Tech student, is stationed in Korea as a pilot with 1st Marine Aircraft Wing's Group 12. He has been in the Marine Corps since 1941.

Forty UT Women To Direct Services

Alpha Chi Omega installation and initiation service this week-end will bring the seventh national sorority to the Texas Tech campus. The Gamma Rho Chapter was colonized Oct. 29, 1953 and Miss Paula Fix served as graduate counselor.

Mrs. Arthur C. Cope, Belmont, Mass., national secretary, and Mrs. Kennard Jones, Spokane, Wash., national collegiate vice president, will be in Lubbock for the rites. Forty women from the University of Texas Chapter of Alpha Chi Omega will be here to conduct the services.

Activities for the week-end will begin Friday at 7 p.m. with a pledge initiation in the home of Mrs. M. J. Healey, 3607 27th St.

Formal initiation will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Lubbock Hotel. The hotel will also be the site for the formal banquet at 7 p.m. The sorority will attend the First Baptist Church as a group Sunday morning. A reception honoring the newly installed chapter will be held in the Student Union Ballroom Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

The installation of officers and a model chapter meeting Monday will bring the activities to a close.

Initiates are: Erma B. Folley, Lubbock; Nina Flanagan, Albuquerque, New Mexico; Earlene Blackmore, Canadian; Mary Lee Blackmore, Canadian; Connie Haynes, Lubbock; Isobel Knight, Del Rio; Barbara Blume, Turkey; Shirley Panker, Rotan; Jamie Lou Kellar, Kilgore; Jennelle Williamson, Kermit; Bernadine Weatherford, Odessa; Dorothy Clements, Lubbock; Annita Powers, Lubbock; Joan Myrick, Lubbock; Patricia Senter, Lubbock; Patsy Howard, Lubbock; and Jimmie Faye Maxwell, El Paso.

Pledges to be initiated are: Beverly Thomas, Floydada; Connie O'Con, Odessa; Norene Trueblood, Canadian; Charlotte Pace, Lubbock; Shirley Griffin, Haskell; and Connie Scudday, Rankin.

Delta Sig Will Sponsor 'Town Hall'

Current national business trends and problems will be discussed from 10 a. m. to noon Wednesday in Aggie Auditorium at the "Campus Town Hall," an annual activity sponsored by Delta Sigma Pi, business administration fraternity.

Panels for the discussion will be composed of representatives from the Texas Manufacturers' Association. They include: Lloyd Turner, special assistant to the division manager of Consolidated-Vultee Corp.; J. N. Beasley, Humble Oil and Refining Co.; Louis Ball, southwest manager of Rheem Manufacturing Co.; and W. S. Miller, utilities manager of Diamond Alkali Co. Moderator will be Leonard Petillo, public relations director of TMA.

Similar discussion groups have been held at Southern Methodist University, Texas Christian University and Texas A.M.

Amarillo Honors Team

Texas Tech's livestock judging team was honored at a meeting of the Amarillo Club last Thursday.

The team, its coach, and wives and parents of members were guests of Chanslor Weymouth, vice president of the Tech Foundation.

Guests present included Mr. and Mrs. Louis Blau and his parents Mr. and Mrs. Max Blau Follett; Dale Hoover and his mother, Mrs. C. A. Hoover of Perryton; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Williams, Herrin; Billy Jones and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Jones of Mercury; Fred Willis and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Willis of Odessa; and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Menzies of Menard.

P. L. CLUB INITIATES

Texas Tech's Plant Industry Club initiated five new members Monday night, according to Dr. A. W. Young, head of the agronomy department.

Those initiated were Richard Motl, Anton junior; Graves Nelson, Brownfield junior; Billy Hipp, Bronco junior; Deward Lewis, Sweetwater senior and Edward Schlabs, Friona junior.

FLEMING SPEAKS

Lamar Fleming, Jr., chairman of the board of the Clayton-Anderson Co., was the third speaker in a series of talks sponsored by the Institute of Americanism in conjunction with the history department of Tech, in the Museum Feb. 24.

Fleming's talk concerned the history of cotton in the company's operation. Before his retirement last year, Fleming was president of the company.

Aim of the series is to bring people who have been successful and integrate their discussions with history courses currently being offered at Tech, according to the Institute. Seven more speakers are scheduled through May 12. Though the talks are for the benefit of history students, the public is invited to attend without admission charge.

TECHNICALITIES

RALPH SHELTON

Toreador Editor

Platforms for candidates in the coming spring elections were the topic for discussion in a recent bull-type session around a table in the Union Building. The question raised concerned the comparative values of vague and specific campaign promises.

Should the candidate promise to uphold God and Country, thereby telling the voters nothing about his true political policies, or should he promise to secure more telephones for the dorms, thereby putting himself out on a limb, so to speak?

From The Toreador's files we have exhumed an election issue several years back, assuming that none of the candidates of that day are still with us and that we can be objective about the campaigns carried on in that almost-forgotten time.

Taking the nominees for cheerleader first, we note that only one of the five candidates stated a specific aim: the use of flash-card stunts at football games. (The candidate was defeated at the polls and only in recent seasons have the stunts been carried out.) The others on the slate mostly advocated "increased school spirit."

In the race for representatives from the Division of Home Economics, the platform statements went something like: "I will back all issues that will benefit the campus," "I will represent the division to the best of my ability," "I will be conscientious." Only specific aim stated by the girls was a desire to institute a traffic court.

"I would like to create more interest among engineers in student government" was the platform of another candidate that spring. One of his opponents advocated more grass on campus. A BA candidate

CLUB SENDS DELEGATES

The Texas Tech Newman Club sent delegates to the convention of the South Central Province of Newman Clubs, in Denton Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Thirteen students and Chaplain Father Edward Lyons represented the Tech group.

Two Tech students were elected to province officers. Dan Ratliff was elected Texas vice chairman and Mary Alice Reidy was elected recording secretary. The South Central Province is composed of Newman clubs of Oklahoma and Northern Texas colleges.

The Texas Tech Newman Club will meet Sunday at 7:30 p.m. instead of on Monday.

promised to "improve relations between Council and student body." Opposition was offered her by a girl who felt that pencil sharpeners were essential for all rooms on the campus.

The listing of those platforms could go on and on. It is enough to say that there were then about as many vague platforms as there were specific ones; and a check of the records shows that the majority of the victors in the balloting came neither from the groups with generalized aims or from those with specific goals. The greatest number of candidates elected were those who released no statement of platform for publication.

But that was long ago. Interest in politics has increased in the past years and it would hardly be advisable for one of this spring's nominees to fail to make his political views known. Technicians, in short, are giving more serious consideration to the persons they elect.

The question still remains: Should the candidate's platform advocate an increase in school spirit or more pencil sharpeners in classrooms?

Neither extreme is the answer. The best platform this spring—meaning the one most informative and convincing to the voters—will contain both a general statement of the nominee's political beliefs and a list of the reforms or innovations that he will attempt to effect during his term of office.

FOUNDERS DAY OBSERVED

The local chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha celebrated the fraternity's 86th anniversary at a Founders Day breakfast Sunday at the Skyline dining room.

"The Ideals on which Pi Kappa Alpha Was Founded" was given by Bill Evans, alumnus of the EKA chapter at the University of Texas.

Forty members and alumni attended the breakfast.

'BEST PLEDGE'

Marilyn Sneath, Plainview sophomore, was announced as "best pledge" of Zeta Tau Alpha Sunday night at final initiation services. Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin K. Sneath of Plainview.

She was selected on basis of scholarship, leadership, and service to the fraternity, according to Anne Thomas, president. She will receive a diamond for her sorority pin.

the Buffs' first quarter lead to 15-13.

Tech Led in Half

Reed drove in for a crisp shot 32 seconds deep in the second stanza to tie it up and then poured through another to give the Raiders their first lead since early in the first quarter. The Buffs fought back to take an 18-17 lead, but that's when Ince potted a set shot that put the Raiders out in front for good. With the entire squad coming alive, the Lubbock cagers increased a well-needed lead to 27-18. In the final three minutes of the first half, Tech dropped in eight points and West Texas seven, to put the fans on their feet and give the Techsians a 35-25 lead.

After 15 minutes of rest, Tech forged farther ahead, posting a 64-41 margin at the close of the third quarter.

Reed's crisp 1:10 of the final canto gave Robison's cagers their biggest lead, 25 points, and left little question as to the outcome of the game. In the final minutes, play began getting rough and Robison pulled his starters to stave off injuries. WTS started rallying and out Tech's lead to eight points, but less than three minutes left, Reed, Ince, and Bolding came back into the game and the Raiders began to move away again.

Dr. Mary Dabney Honored at Biloxi

Dr. Mary Dabney, professor of health and physical education at Tech, was elected secretary of the public relations section at the recent district meeting of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation for College Women in Biloxi, Miss.

The meeting consisted of two divisions. The first held Feb. 22-23 was the Southern Association for Physical Education of College Women. The second, Feb. 24-26, was the Southern Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Dr. Dabney presented a paper at the first general session of the Southern Association entitled "The Fundamentals Course in the Service Program."

At the American Association meeting, Dr. Dabney also acted as consultant for the student section, was a member of the proceedings committee, and was on the nominating committee for the recreation division. Theme of the convention was "A Forecast of Our Opportunities."

CHESS PLAY TO BEGIN

Sneed Hall's second annual chess tournament will start its first round of play tonight.

At press time only nine persons had signed up to compete for the trophies offered to city, campus and dormitory champions. None of last year's champions have signed to compete in the tournament this year.

Dr. R. S. Underwood was city champion, Glenn Rainer was campus champion and Gerald White was dormitory champion.

SHE DOESN'T FIGHT

Jacqueline Baker May be Tech's

Although Jacqueline Lamasa senior, has never a pro cape in front of a ball as have Conchita C. Patricia McCormick, Patricia McAdams, she knows more about bullfighting than any other student on campus.

Miss Baker, who became a member in bullfighting when she was in high school, recently was in Dr. Charles Qualia's year Spanish class about bullfighting.

"Bullfighting," declared Baker, when she was asked her feelings toward it, "is a sport, but a spectacle. The bulls are similar to a bullfight. Bulls are color blind."

"Few people realize that a bullfight is often strong to toss a car, according to Baker. 'Contrary to popular belief, bulls do not hate red color blind,' she added.

"The bullfight is divided into three parts, quite like a act play," stated Miss Baker, "and last only 15 to 20 minutes. The bullfights of today are not practically as dangerous as used to be."

Journalists Will Attend Congress

Several Texas Tech journalism students will attend the western Journalism Congress, Oklahoma A&M in Stillwater, Okla., March 18-20, according to Vernon, assistant professor of journalism, who will represent the group. Tech is representing the Congress each year.

Dr. Curtis MacDougall, director of journalism at North Texas University and author of the textbook currently at Tech, will be a chief Professional newspaperman Oklahoma. He will also appear in the program.

Registration will be Tuesday evening. Friday's program will include a discussion of problems connected with communications. Problems and publications will be discussed Saturday.

Members of the Congress are: Oklahoma State College for Women, Oklahoma A&M, Tulane, Simmons, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian, Texas Tech, Louisiana State and

Completion of Auditorium-Coliseum Predicted for Next Year by Matthews

"Possibly by the first of next year the auditorium-coliseum will be completed," Lubbock City Manager Steve Matthews announced today. "A year or less is about as close as anyone can estimate, depending on how fast it is built."

This is in the event bids are awarded immediately after the March 31 opening. "Tech anticipates the use of the auditorium-coliseum about 35 times a year," stated M. L. Pennington, vice president and controller at Tech. "It will be used in the college program as needed. The college will pay for its use as worked out in an agreement with the city."

Basketball games, convocations, and Artists Course programs are some of the scheduled events.

The City Commission will open bids on construction at 2 p.m. March 31 in the Caprock Hotel. A contract will probably be awarded if the bids do not exceed the $1,750,000 available bond fund. Plans will be distributed to contractors on March 10.

The buildings will be constructed in the Tech campus west of Jones Stadium. The auditorium will seat 3,022 people. It will be air conditioned and have a 50-by-100-foot stage. It will join the coliseum on the southeast.

The 392-by-270-foot coliseum will have 7,500 permanent seats and 10,000 with the use of chairs on the arena floor. A 106-by-95-foot ice floor will be one of the features of the coliseum. The approximately cost of the ice floor is $70,000.

Speech Workshop Here on March 6

Speech students will act as judges and chairmen of events when Tech sponsors its annual speech workshop March 6. A partial list of the students helping with the event includes Lavoy Berry, Sara Dickinson, Nancy McKissack, Harriet Henderson, Rita Elliott, Pat Mansell, Dean Morgan, Joannine Smith, Dwayne Carter, Joan Terry, Glenn Rainer, E.J. Tarbox, Jr., Barbara Smith, Jackie Bateman, Donnie Dean, Jack Gibson, Bob Ford and Jo Ann Miller.

The workshop is for high school students interested in Texas Interscholastic League competition. Dr. P. Merrill Larson, head of the speech department and director of Region I of the Interscholastic League, announced events planned for junior and senior declamation, debate, one-act plays, and extemporaneous speech for both boys and girls. Certificates will be given individuals placing first and second, and trophies to the schools winning first and second.

Tentative schedule of events is: Debates—9, 10:30, and 2:15; extemporaneous speaking—drawing of topics 10, speaking 10:30; declamations—1:30; and one-act plays—9 and 1.

SEED MEET TO BE HELD

Texas certified seed growers will meet on Tech campus for the 14th consecutive year Saturday, according to Dr. A. W. Young, head of the agronomy department and chairman of the State Seed and Plant Board.

More than 100 cotton and grain sorghum seed producers and distributors are expected to attend the one-day conference to hear speakers from Tech, Texas A&M, the experiment stations and the State Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Lyle E. Hessler, head of Tech's cotton research laboratory, and R. V. Thurmond, irrigation expert for the Texas Extension Service, will be the speakers from Tech.

TEAM TO BE HONORED

Members of Texas Tech's national and international crops judging team will be honored Friday at the Plant Industry Club's 17th annual banquet at the Caprock Hotel.

The team, which is coached by Cecil Ayers, associate professor of agronomy, holds all records in national and international crops judging. Ayers-coached teams have placed no lower than second in the past seven years.

The project was originally voted on Dec. 11, 1945. Estimated costs postponed its erection. It was reconsidered in 1952.

AWS TO ELECT

Suggested slate of Association of Women Students officers for next year will be presented to a convocation of women students at 5 p.m. Tuesday in the agricultural engineering auditorium. Nominations will be made by a committee of senior students. Elections are to be held March 16.

Tech AWS members to attend the AWS state convention at Southern Methodist University March 5, 6 and 7 are Lena Schmidt, who will speak at the opening banquet Friday night; Shirley Massey; Gwen Williams; Sue Duggan; and Miss Frances Freese, sponsor.

The new president and Miss Schmidt, outgoing president, will attend the Western Regional Convention at the University of Arizona in Tucson in April.

Deferment Tests to Be Given April 22

Men planning to take the college qualification test for military deferment April 22 must file their application by midnight Monday, according to Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey.

Applicants may obtain application blanks and instructions at the nearest local draft board.

To be eligible for the test, a student must: (1) Be a Selective Service registrant; (2) Be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course in undergraduate or graduate work leading to a degree; (3) Not have taken the test previously.

About 63 percent of the 502-575 students who have taken the test, given Nov. 19, 1953, was taken by 30,175 students. Approximately 64 percent made a passing grade.

Other deferments may be obtained by being in the upper half of the freshman class, upper two-thirds of the sophomore class, or upper three-fourths of the junior class.

Henry Scott To Present Union Program Of Classics, Swing, and Concert Humor

Henry L. Scott pioneer in concert humor and alternately described by music and drama critics as "The Will Rogers of the Piano" and "The World's Most Versatile Pianist," will give a recital of classics, swing, and concert humor in the Student Union Building ballroom at 7 o'clock tonight.

Mr. Scott originated his style of concert humor. He believes that blending the arts of drama, humor, and music on the concert stage will, in the long run, do the most to make America music conscious.

As one university president expressed it: "Henry L. Scott's concert is the greatest single contribution to the advancement of music and art humor in America today."

Mr. Scott is an authority on popular styles and rhythms as well as a brilliant interpreter of Chopin and Liszt.

After his first Carnegie Hall concert, critic Kyle Crichton in a feature article and review of the recital for Collier's magazine said:

"He literally reduces the patrons to hysteria with a new form of art."

Piano practice has often meant 12 to 16 hours of study a day, but I have never worked at anything so hard as in my constant efforts to originate and project the intangible something that makes people laugh."

Graduate students, having been admitted since July 1, 1951, must be in the upper half of their senior class or make a score of 75 on the qualification test.

TOREADOR BUDGET SET

A tentative Toreador budget for the coming year, totaling the same as last year, was adopted by the Publications Committee last Thursday. The committee also decided that in the future the photographic processing for La Ventana will be done by contract.

A call meeting is set for tonight to discuss additional business.

1954 Varsity Shows Has Clever Title

Tech Varsity Shows have many cleverly misleading titles in the past, but not this year. The title "Fardon, Madam, I appear" is clever, it will not offend the audience. Roy Smalley, has ingeniously reworked Shakespearean quotations, modified to suit college venue, in his play, which is an apology to Shakespeare.

Past Varsity Shows have had titles such as the 1953, "I Want My Mummy" Charles Hartwick and Thomas Sanders, and "Law West of 42nd Avenue" in 1947, written by Mary King and Sarah McPherson.

"Broadway, Tech and 25th" the name of the show in 1942. "Little Things" was produced. Dickley's "Summer Festival" was staged last spring.

Faculty sponsors of this show are: Dr. Doyle J. Whaley, professor of education; James Whaley, assistant dean; Dr. Dewey O. Hartwell, associate professor of education.

William A. Murphy to Present Twilight Music Hour on Sunday

William A. Murphy of widely traveled young men will present the Twilight Music Hour at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Museum Auditorium.

Highlighting Sunday afternoon will be a Bach and selections from Schubert, Debussy, Chopin, and Liszt. The program will be presented under the direction of Miss Marion Kitching Smith. It is free to the public.

Miss Snowden, former Lubbock and now of St. Louis, was one of Mr. Murphy's instructors. She will be presenting the program.

Mr. Murphy has given the Wigmore Hall London, Paris, Nancy, France; New York City and Long Island. He has been a guest artist with the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra on the summer artist concert. He now teaches piano at Lubbock studio.

Artists Course Series to Present Basque Performers Monday

By HUBERT WADDILL

The Tech Artists Course has scheduled something new and exciting for the audience at the Euzkadi program next Monday evening.

Euzkadi (pronounced "Youz-ka-Dee") is the festival company of Basque dancers and singers that first performed in America in the fall of 1951. During the past three years, the company has been received with interest and enthusiasm in this country.

Unique Folk Culture

Once a war-like race, the Basques are better known today as a peaceful people; as fishermen, miners, and small landholders. They have resisted assimilation by clinging to a unique folk culture, different entirely from all others and charged with an almost incredible vitality.

Euzkadi audiences see a performance of these colorful people in a production that is novel. No orthodox program format is followed. Unforgettable music, dances and costumes are combined into a pageant of varied aspects of Basque life.

Internationally Known Director

Much of Euzkadi's success can be credited to the talents of its director, Juan Onatibia, who has an international reputation as an authority on the folklore of the Basques, and has composed and arranged a large number of songs. The Artists Course's presentation of Euzkadi will begin at 8 p.m. Monday in the Lubbock Senior High School Auditorium. Adult tickets are $1.50; students $1, or free on an activity book.

The program, divided into four parts, includes:

- Part I
- (a) Jeki-Jeki (patriotic song)
 - (b) Euzko Enasertia (Basque national anthem) ... Arr. Juan Onatibia
 - Loa (cerade song) ... Arr. S. Esnaola
 - Ni Ez Naiz Zomorrua (Madrigal) ... Arr. J. Guridi
 - Oi Bethlehem (Christmas song) ... Arr. P. Donosti
 - Boga-Boga (fishermen's song) ... Arr. Juan Onatibia
 - Kalez-Kale (festive song with flute and drum accomp.) ... Arr. P. Sorozabal

- Part II
Tableau: Basque Country Life
- Part III
Basque Choral Music
- Guernikako Abestia (The hymn to the tree of liberty) ... Arr. Juan Onatibia
 - Bibibi Bonbolo (two cradle songs) ... Arr. P. Donosti
 - Bi Euzko Abesti (children's game song) ... Arr. B. Sagastizaba
 - Aurtzoa Seaskan (cerade song) ... Arr. G. and J. Olasola
 - Ania Begira Zaitu (festive song) ... Arr. L. Zubizarreta
 - Maitasuan (love song) ... Arr. J. Guridi
 - Bigarren Kalez Kale (festive song with flute and drum accompaniment) ... Arr. P. Sorozabal
- Part IV
Tableau: Fiesta in a Basque Village

1859 Students Pay Activity Fees

Approximately 1859 students out of the 5020 enrolled paid the activity fee for this semester.

Each $8 fee is divided among athletics, artists courses, and the Student Council. Of the $8, $1 goes to athletics, $1.14 to artists courses, and $2.86 to the Student Council.

According to J. C. Chambers, president of the Student Council, each of these items would cost much more if they were bought separately.

Chambers said that those who paid the activity fee could take advantage of four artists courses, five basketball games and other athletic events such as track and baseball later on in the semester.

The $2.86 allotted to the Student Council is divided as follows: Student Council, .25; Toreador, .88; band, .60; Engineering Show, .20; Aggie judging teams, .31; Home Economics Club, .06; choral groups, .09; Forensic, .08; Chamber of Commerce, .025; Association of Women Students, .02; International Relations Club, .02; Student Religious Council, .02; KITT, .015; engineering organizations, .11; and dramatics, .08.

Fees may still be paid at the business office.

Freshman Cagers Whip WTS Calves

Texas Tech's freshman basketball team finished its season Tuesday afternoon by clipping the West Texas State College yearlings 72-66. It was the Picadors' second win over the Calves this year.

Harry Sealing led the winners with 26 points, followed closely by Walt Newton with 25. Phil Nichol, West Texas pivotman, took top scoring honors for the afternoon by dropping in 28.

Coach Bill Miller's cagers got off to an early start, but then watched the Tech lads cut it to 43-35 at the half.

The Techs pulled a semi-stall in the third quarter that brought the Canyonites out in the open and left the way open for numerous crisp shots by the winners.

Early in the fourth stanza, the Picadors' near stall began to backfire. The visiting yearlings cut the lead to six points, but that was as close as they could come. Newton and Sealing drove in for crisp shots that put the game on ice for the Techs.

1954 Varsity Show Has Clever Title

Tech Varsity Shows have had many cleverly misleading titles in the past, but not this year. Though the title "Pardon, Mister Shakespeare," is clever, it will not mislead the audience. Roy Smith, of Odessa, has ingeniously employed Shakespearean quotations, slightly modified to suit college vernacular, in his play, which explains his apology to Shakespeare.

Past Varsity Shows have carried titles such as the one in 1952, "I Want My Mummy," by Charles Hardwick and Thomas W. Sanders, and "Law West of College Avenue" in 1947, written by Mary King and Sarah McDonald. "Broadway, Tech and 25th" was the name of the show in 1950. In 1942, "Little Things Like This" was produced. Dick Shockley's "Summer Festival" was presented last spring.

Faculty sponsors of this year's show are: Dr. Doyle Jackson, professor of education; James B. Whitehead, assistant dean of student life; Dr. Dewey O. Wiley, band director; and Dr. Horace C. Hartsell, associate professor of education.

William A. Murphy To Present Twilight Music Hour on Sunday

William A. Murphy of Lubbock, widely traveled young pianist, will present the Twilight Music Hour at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Museum Auditorium.

Highlighting Sunday afternoon's program will be a Bach group, and selections from Schumann, Brahms, Debussy, Chopin and Bach-Hess. The program was prepared under the direction of Miss Marion Keighley Snowden. It is free to the public.

Miss Snowden, formerly of Lubbock and now of Suwanee, Tenn., was one of Mr. Murphy's instructors. She will be present at the program.

Mr. Murphy has given recitals in Wigmore Hall, London; Salle Pfordre, Nancy, France; New York City and Long Island. He has appeared as guest artist with the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra and on the summer artist course at Tech. He now teaches piano at his Lubbock studio.

MACHINERY MAN TO TALK

Wide Variety of Job Interviews Set Here By Industry, Government Next Week

Seven companies have announced interviews for next week, according to Mrs. Jean Jenkins, director of the Placement Service.

On Monday, the Hughes Tool Co. will talk with 1954 graduates in industrial and mechanical engineering.

Also Monday, the Holloman Air Development Center, Holloman A.F.B., N.M., will interview majors in electrical and mechanical engineering, physics and mathematics. The Air Research and Development Command comprises nine centers, located in various parts of the country.

On Monday and Tuesday, the Continental Oil Co. will interview majors in economics, finance, management and others in business administration who are interested. This company is interested in men for its production department trainee program.

Humble Oil and Refining Co. has announced a general meeting for Monday and interviews for Tuesday with majors in secretarial administration, business education, art, and other subjects with skills in shorthand and typing.

Thursday, the Radio Corporation of America will confer with majors in electrical, industrial, and mechanical engineering, chemistry and physics concerning opportunities in fundamental and applied research, design, development and manufacturing.

Also on Thursday, the Federal Telecommunication Laboratories will interview electrical engineering and physics majors for work in advanced projects in radio and electronic fields.

Shell Pipe Line Co. will talk with civil, chemical, electrical and mechanical engineers Thursday in a general meeting and hold interviews Friday. The company has openings for its operations in West Texas.

Time for interviews and other additional information on these or other job opportunities may be obtained in Ad150.

Tech's Splashers Shatter Records

Texas Tech's splashers broke three dual meet records Saturday in defeating the Odessa High School swim squad, 44-31.

Bob Shackelford broke the 100-yard breast stroke mark in 1:11.3. The old record was 1:22. Shackelford also broke his own record in the 120-yard individual medley event with 1:24.3, topping his last year's time of 1:28.8.

The other meet record broken by Dr. R. W. Kirellis' swimmers was the 180-yard medley relay. Bill LaShier, Larry Fuig, and Malcolm Daniell swam the distance in 1:59.7. The old record, set by Tech, was 2:09.6.

Tech won six events, lost two, and forfeited one—the 160-yard relay competition.

Barney Terrell of Dallas won two events—the 50 and 100-yard free style. Malcolm Daniell won the 200-yard free style. Rounding out Tech's squad was James Donnell, James Miller, Fred Jobe, and Ed Butterfield.

It was Tech's second win over the Odessans, and gives Tech a 2-2 standing during the current season. The Techsians lost to the powerful Universities of Oklahoma and Texas.

Tech will play host to the Texas A&M freshmen Saturday. The meet will be held in the Lubbock Boys' Club pool.

March 13 Set as Beginning Day For Intramural Softball Contests

One, two, three strikes you're out, at the old ball game!

Beginning at 5 p.m. Monday, March 15, bats will be swinging and balls will be flying. The intramural softball contests will be in full swing. Entries for the contest opened March 1, and will close March 13.

Four leagues are to compete: a dorm league, two independent leagues, and a fraternity league. Each league will select a manager who will secure an entry list from George Philbrick, director of intramural sports on the campus.

The contest will consist of round-robin play and winners of each league will have an all-college play-off for the championship. A trophy will be given the winner. Games will be played Monday through Friday at 5 p.m. until the championship is decided.

COW WINS MEDAL

Welcome Bilmack, a registered Jersey cow owned by Texas Tech, has been awarded the Silver Medal of the American Jersey Cattle Club. The cow has completed a production record of 9,072 pounds of milk and 538 pounds of butterfat in 303 days.

All tests on the record were supervised by Texas A&M and were verified by the Jersey Cattle Club.

Intramural Cage Tournery To Begin

The intramural basketball tournament, for teams winning first and second place honors in their league, will begin Monday. The tournament will be single elimination type.

The Steers won the Independent No. 1 League, and the Pied Pipers are in second place with but one game to play. The Pied Pipers meet the Wesley Wildcats Wednesday night.

In the Independent League No. 2, The Chowhounds took top honors. The Jack County All-Stars, Sandstroms, and Rangers are tied for second place.

The Fraternity League, which finishes its schedule Friday night, is being led by the Kemas basketballers, who sport a 5-0 standing. Phi Delta is in second place with a 5-1 record.

West Hall, Sneed Trotters, and Sneed Sneezers are in a three-way tie for top honors.

In case of ties in the league, the managers of the teams involved will draw to see who is allowed to represent the league in the tournament.

Fencing Teams Win at T.S.C.W.

Tech's fencing teams were victorious in matches held at Texas State College for Women in Denton Saturday.

The women's team defeated T.S.C.W. in the team foil matches 5-3. The team consisted of Iva Crowley, Virginia Still and Jo Nell West.

In the women's individual competition, Iva Crowley won second-place honors in the women's junior foil competition. Jo Nell West took second in the prep foil competition and fourth in the junior foil.

The men's team placed three in the finals of individual competition. In the open sabre, Jack Carnell took top honors, Ed Sims third, and Cecil Bradshaw fourth. Cecil Bradshaw also placed third in the junior foil.

The fencers will meet John Tarleton College Saturday in Tech Gym.

New Mexico Defeats Tech Rifle Team

Texas Tech's ROTC rifle team was edged by the University of New Mexico Naval ROTC team in a "shoulder-to-shoulder" dual match held in Albuquerque last Thursday. The score was 1820 to 1797.

Doyle Stamps, Childress sophomore, lead the team with a score of 363. Others and their scores were: Herbert Gatlin, Houston freshman, 362; James McKenzie, Fort Worth sophomore, 358; Don Renner, Lubbock senior, 357; and Aubrey Martin, Fort Worth freshman, 350.

The team left yesterday to compete in Texas Western's fifth annual Southwestern Invitational small bore rifle meet. Tech will be one of approximately 36 teams from the southwest and western states who will be firing for top honors in the "shoulder-to-shoulder" matches. Each school will be represented by a five-man team.

Tech's team, traveling at its own expense, includes Martin; Gatlin; McKenzie; Gail Hendricks, Tornillo sophomore; Ralph Willingham, Rotan junior; and Stamps. They will be accompanied by Sgt. Vernon A. Peterson and Sgt. R. S. Schultz.

PLEDGING ANNOUNCED

Claudia Martin will be pledged to Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism fraternity for women, Monday night in Mrs. James G. Allen's home.

The club project will be to help Forum write Tech Tips, a booklet sent to all incoming freshman.

Six papers have entered the club's annual newspaper contest. They are: Lamesa Daily Reporter, Avalanche-Journal, Tulia Herald, Post Dispatch, Brownfield News, and Farwell's State Line Tribune. Winners of this news writers contest will be announced at the club's banquet April 8.

Texas Tech Horn Quartet and two other music students presented a program for the Brownfield Women's Club 4 o'clock this afternoon in Brownfield. Tim Magness gave two vocal solos and Ned Hardin gave two piano solos.
