BSO To Support Yearbook Policy

Members of the Board of Student Organizations voted Thursday to support the decision of Ted Harrison, La Ventana editor, to use group pictures of campus organizations in the 1954 La Ventana. Social fraternities will use individual photographs.

Harrison told BSO members that there is a general trend in college annuals toward group pictures because more variation in page make-up is offered.

The group elected an executive committee whose purpose will be to prepare the agenda for the monthly meetings. Members are: Glenn Rainer, chairman; Iris Brunson, secretary; Barbara Lu Currie; Dick McCollum; Jerry Cooper; Max Preston; J. C. Chambers; and Paul Griffith.

PRESENTATION SET

Wing, group, squadron and band sweethearts for Air Force ROTC will be formally presented in a 15-minute TV show over KCBT channel 11 at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

The program will consist of music by the Air Force ROTC band and a formal presentation ceremony. Cadet 1st Lt. Tim Magness will serve as m.c. for the program and cadet Chuck Wilson will direct the band.

Home Economics Workshop Will Open Tomorrow

Four Goals Named For 1953 Meeting; Students From 30 Colleges To Attend

The Texas Home Economics College Clubs' Workshop, which will bring students from 30 colleges to the campus tomorrow, has four goals set for this year's meeting.

They are: 1. To explore possibilities of careers in home economics; 2. To exchange ideas on how to meet club problems; 3. To establish friendships with other college club members; and 4. To exemplify democratic group procedures and individual responsibility.

Motto for this year's meeting is "Lasso a star-studded career." Ruth Smalley, Lubbock senior, is local arrangements chairman.

Thursday's activities center in the Home Economics Building. Registration will begin at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. A committee leaders' dinner will be held at 6 p.m. in the dining room, and a mixer party is scheduled for 7:30 in room 105.

Mrs. Cecil R. Matthews, director of the Methodist Student Center, will be the main speaker for the Friday morning session in the ballroom of the Student Union Building. Her subject will be "Leadership as a Campus Career." At the meeting Dr. E. N. Jones, Tech president, and Dr. Willa Vaughn Tinsley, dean of home economics, will welcome delegates. Carol Jean Sandlin, president of the Tech H.E. Club, will preside. Guests will be introduced by Pat Lemley of Texas A&I, president of T.H.E.C.C.

A general meeting in the Union ballroom will be held at 1:45 p.m. Mrs. R. Powell, Tech senior, vice president of H.E.C.C., will preside. A "Galaxy of Careers" will be presented with guest speakers telling about the careers they have chosen. Appearing on the program will be Mrs. Vera Maxey of Hemphill-Wells Co., clothing; Miss Dorothy McDaniel, district supervisor for the school lunch program, dietetics; Miss Esther Sorensen, district supervisor of home and family life, teaching; Miss Martye Poindexter, Lubbock businesswoman, interior designing; and Miss Anna Bines, with the Texas Electric Co., home economics in business. Mrs. Albertine Berry, who works with the Mrs. Tucker Food Co., will be the chairman for the panel discussion. "The Little Dipper" tea will be held in the dining room of the H.E. Building at 3:30 p.m. Tech's Omega chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics club, will be hostess.

The closing session Saturday morning will feature a speech by Mrs. E. N. Jones on "Success Characteristics." Reports from the Executive Council and of various committees will be given. A luncheon for new and old officers at the Plainsman Hotel will conclude the workshop at 12 o'clock Saturday.

The Executive Committee for T.H.E.C.C. is composed of Pat Lemley of Texas A&I, Kingsville, president; Mona Powell of Tech, vice president; Pat McDaniel of Southwest Texas State Teachers College, San Marcos, secretary; Ruth Howell of East Texas State Teachers College, Commerce, treasurer; Bonnie Wright, Lamar Tech, Beaumont, reporter; Elaine Hanson, Our Lady of the Lake, San Antonio, historian; and Miss Orpa Dennis, East Texas State Teachers College, advisor.

Baptists Schedule Twirp Weekend

"Twirp Weekend" will begin full swing Thursday through Sunday at Tech Baptist Student Center.

Since Twirp indicates "the woman is required to pay," it will not be unusual to see girls in robes of men's dorms having their dates buzzed. Or you might see a girl paying for the show tickets. Better yet, you might see a boy escorted to and helped into the car, and then the girl sliding in to perform the duty of a chauffeur. All masculine traditions will be in reverse.

This is the third year the Baptist students have had this weekend.

HEMMLER TRAVELS

Dr. Gene Hemmler, head of the music department, will leave Thursday to attend a New Mexico State Teachers' meeting in Albuquerque. He will speak on "General Music in the Junior High School" Friday.

LECTURE SCHEDULED

In a college-sponsored lecture at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Museum auditorium, Frau Rene von Bronneck, former Vienna actress, will speak. She will show slides of Austria. The foreign language department and Der Liederkranz, German club, will be hosts. The lecture in English is open to the public free of charge.

Dancers Slated For Twilight Hour

"Spanish Fiesta" will be presented by Dr. and Mrs. John C. Dowling on a Twilight Music Hour program at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Museum auditorium.

They will perform two dances, "La Muniera," Galicia; and "Las Sevillanas," Seville. Mrs. Dowling will be soloist dancer of "La Jota," Aragon; and "Las Alegrias," Flamenca. They also will illustrate typical dance steps and movements.

Dr. Dowling, head of the foreign language department, will narrate the background and history of each dance. Music will be from records they purchased in Spain.

"All these are authentic folk-dances, but like everything else they have many variations," commented Mrs. Dowling.

Mrs. Dowling, part-time Museum librarian and education supervisor, made the costumes they will wear. She studied in Madrid for five months under Senorita Maria Teresa Munoz.

The program will be open to the public free of charge.

Halloween Night Reveals Not Only Jack-O-Lanterns

Do you want to learn who is your true love? According to superstition, you can find out on Halloween—if you will follow instructions.

The Irish say that if on that night a man crawls under the trailing branches of the blackberry bush he will see the shadow of the one he is to marry. First, however, he must appeal to the evil one in words "Too diabolical to repeat."

The Scots say that if a maiden will take a willow branch in her right hand and, without being observed, will slip out of the house and run three times around it, saying, "He that is to be my gude man come and grip," during the third run the likeness of her future husband will appear and grab the other end of the stick.

Man or maiden, according to the Welsh, can learn what will betail the "next 12 months if they will go alone to the crossroad at 11 o'clock Halloween night, sit on a three-legged stool, and listen to the wind.

AF ROTC Girls March Thursday

Eight Air Force ROTC sweethearts—one wing, two group, four squadron and one band—will march with their units for the first time this year in Thursday's drill ceremonies.

The squadron and band sweethearts, elected Thursday by Air Force ROTC cadets, include Charlene Williamson, Ft. Worth freshman, Squadron A; Kathy Kerbow, Sweetheart freshman, Squadron B; Pat Boyd, Idalou sophomore, Squadron C; Shirley Thompson, Lubbock freshman, Squadron D; and Donnell Phillips, Plainview freshman, Band.

The wing sweethearts—Joyce Sharp—and the two group sponsors—Jo Ann Miller, Group 2 and Pat Tinney, Group 1—were elected Oct. 15 by group and wing cadet officers from a list of girls nominated by the Air Force ROTC cadets.

County Courthouse Is Design Problem

A county courthouse will be the problem for student competition sponsored by the Featherlite Corporation Nov. 4 through 6.

Five Texas engineering colleges will enter the five top designs from their departments. Other colleges competing are Texas University, A&M, Rice, and the University of Houston.

State prizes of $400 for the three winners will be awarded in Austin Nov. 6 at a dinner held for the designers. Local awards of $400 will also be given for five Tech designs selected from the 16 entries.

Announce Tryouts For Rifles Team

Tryouts for membership in the Sam Houston Rifles, crack voluntary ROTC drill unit, will be staged from 5 to 6 p.m. Friday on the West Engineering parking lot.

According to Maj. Richard E. Brown, professor of military science and tactics, the prospective new recruits will participate in an hour's drill. Members of the Sam Houston Rifles will invite ROTC cadets giving outstanding performances to join the organization.

Following the drill tryouts, a meeting will be held in X10 to elect officers.

Recital Presents Four Techsans

Four Techsans were presented in a student recital yesterday in the music building.

The first number, "Grand Duo Concertant," Opus 48 by von Weber, was a clarinet solo by Larry Hardin, with Ned Hardin as accompanist. Glenn Finney played "Evening in the Mountains," by Grieg.

Rosemary Sprague, contralto accompanied by Martha Judah, sang "Was I Not a Blade of Grass upon the Plains?" by Tschalkovsky. Winnie Adams played an organ solo, "Prelude and Fugue in F Major," by Bach.

The students are from the classes of Keith McCarty, Mrs. Myrtle Dunn Short, and Mrs. Helen Taylor.

Suppose you woke up to find yourself in the darkest wilds of Africa, with lions and tigers closing in on you, and there you stand, helpless, for you have no gun, no knife, and no goodies! Many freshmen, I'll wager, suffered the same reaction to the grades on the progress reports.

Ray Bennett and Craig Morris were married this weekend in Abilene. That's how it goes, many a man in love with a dimple makes the mistake of marrying the whole girl. You can be sure that Craig made no mistake, though. Congratulations to two fine Techsians!

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

I put a desk at both ends of the classroom. It confuses heck out of those students who always sit on the back row.

Float Fever . . .

It's almost that time of year again.

Everywhere one can see little groups of students wildly waving their arms and whispering among themselves.

Late at night and under strict secrecy, deserted warehouses and old garages are again the scenes of busy activity.

No, revolution is not rearing its ugly head.

Homecoming is just around the corner and campus organizations are busy at the discussion and planning of floats for the Homecoming parade.

As the big day draws nearer the activity will reach a fever-stricken pace. Usually bright-eyed students, will come to class with red road-mapped eyes.

Why? Because everyone seems to think it is traditional to start building their float the night before the parade.

Of course there may be a few—mind you a few, maybe two, probably one club, whose members will be able to smirk and say, "We started ours last week."

—Clyde Walter

Off the Sick List . . .

It is with great pleasure that we announce the return of an ailing friend to the Tech campus.

Our friend became deathly ill following Homecoming last year and disappeared from the campus.

Since then he has recuperated rapidly, and at present is enjoying good health, and showing every indication of staying with us from now on.

In case you haven't guessed, our friend is commonly known as "school spirit."

The first in a series of shots in the arm for him came with the opening of Tech's new Student Union Building last fall. Students had something to brag about and to point out with pride.

The second booster shot came this fall in the form of a Red Raider football squad playing heads-up football, a squad showing for the first time in several years team spirit and a growing confidence in itself.

His third shot in the arm has been administered in the form of an enthusiastic freshman class. A freshman class which so far this school year has led the campus in exhibiting school spirit. The upperclassmen might well raise their weary heads and take note of the example which is being set for them.

And until they do, the permanent cure of our friend will not be assured.

IT JUST COMES NATURALLY

H.E. Student's Song To Be Published, Sale of 'Decorate the Christmas Tree' Set

No. 1 on the Hit Parade three months hence will be "Decorate the Christmas Tree." At least, Mrs. Mamie Lee Dodds hopes so.

Mrs. Dodds, senior home economics major from Sand Springs, a small community near Big Spring, has signed a contract with the Crown Publishing Company of Los Angeles, Calif., to publish a song she wrote. The contract calls for publication within the next three months. Mrs. Dodds will receive 50 per cent of all proceeds from television, radio, movies, records, and public appearances, and three cents a copy on each piece of sheet music sold.

Although she can't play the piano even well enough to write her own songs, she knows how she wants them to sound. But her piano playing is the hunt-and-peck-by-ear method, so she has someone play the tune for her until it sounds the way she wants it to. She says she probably doesn't know as much about music theory as the average grade-school student, but has been writing songs for years. She doesn't plan them; she just writes when the spirit moves her.

"It's like eating when you're hungry," she says. "A melody keeps running through my mind when I'm trying to sleep. I get up and write it down. It comes naturally."

Previously, she has written a novelty number called "There Ain't No Glamour in the Army" for a cadet show at the Big Spring air base during the war, and wrote the school song for Coahoma Junior High, where her two children attend school.

Mrs. Dodds has written hymns, children's songs, popular tunes,

Campus Parking System Success; Survey Reveals Vacancies in Lots

The new campus parking system seems to work.

A survey by reporters from The Toreador Tuesday morning showed that cars, limited under the new plan to parking in one lot, did not overflow any parking area.

Every one of 11 lots had vacant spots, and there was a total of 226 vacancies in the lots surveyed. The number of vacancies ran all the way from six in one lot to 57 in another.

The number of spaces open and available for parking might have been even more than 226 had not some cars been parked so as to take up two spaces. Toreador staff members reported.

The survey was conducted between 8 and 11:30 a. m., a time when permits are required if cars are to be left in college parking areas.

The number of vacancies in each lot was as follows: five in front of the Bookstore, 10 in the Knapp Hall parking lot, six in West's, 10 in Gordon's, 14 in Horn's, 22 behind the Journalism Building, 12 west of Doak Hall, 26 in the East Engineering parking lot, 25 between the Library and Chemistry Buildings, 35 behind the Speech Building, and 57 in the Ac Building parking lot.

Meanwhile, the Campus Traffic Committee requested through The Times a faculty publication that if members of the faculty and staff are planning to have visiting groups on the campus during the regular class hours, 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., they should notify the Traffic Committee in advance of the meeting. Every possible courtesy will be given these visiting groups. Notice should go to E. R. Heineman.

Journalism, Speech Activities To Bring High School Students To Tech Campus

Journalism and speech activities will bring approximately 250 high school students to Tech campus Saturday for the annual High School Activities Conference. Additional high school and college students will be on campus Friday and Saturday for the College Fall Forensics.

High school representatives of Region I of the Texas Interscholastic League attending the Activities Conference will be officially welcomed by President E. N. Jones at 9 a. m. Saturday in the Aggie Memorial Auditorium. Chief speaker for the opening session will be Dr. Darrell J. Mase of the University of Florida, former education director in New Jersey and debate coach at Kansas State College.

Journalism Events Set

Journalism events will be held in the Journalism Building with special emphasis on news writing and copyreading. Students will attend a press interview with J. R. Heitman, head of the journalism department, and write news stories following the interview. Actual work will be done in copyreading and the work will be read, evaluated and commented upon in the afternoon session by Mr. Heitman, Mrs. Louise Allen and Dode Vernon of the department of journalism.

Speech activities to be held in the Aggie Memorial Auditorium Speech Building—and Theatre Workshop include: A forum on "Presidential Election Reforms" under the leadership of Dr. J. William Davis, head of the government department; a round table discussion on "Selection of Plays for High School" under the direction of Ronald Schulz, professor of speech; and a series of workshop demonstrations and discussions of play rehearsals, stage make-up and costume construction.

Congressman To Speak

College Fall Forensic will play host to high school and college debaters Friday and Saturday in co-operation with the Activities Conference. Events will begin with a dinner meeting at Budd's Cafeteria Friday at which Congressman George Mahon of Lubbock will speak on "Practices and Procedures of Congressional Investigating Committees." An open forum on the subject will follow.

Four rounds of debates on the question, "Resolved, That the United States Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade," will be held in connection with the College Forensic. Dr. T. E. Wieser, head of economics, will speak and conduct a forum on free trade a noon luncheon at Rudd's on Saturday.

Sick List

PARADE ENTRIES

With 34 entries to date, dead line for float entries for the Homecoming parade will be held at 5 p. m. Friday, according to Max Preston, float chairman.

All organizations entering float must have a representative in the Student Council office at 5 p. m. Friday to draw for their positions in the parade.

TEAM PLACES SECOND

Tech wool judging team placed second in a field of seven competing teams in the American Royal Shows in Kansas City, Oct. 19. Dale Hoover was fifth, Cal Menzies was sixth, and Bill Jones was 11th in individual judging.

Law Scholarships Open To Seniors

Seniors who plan to study law may apply for a $6,000, three-year Root-Tilden Scholarship offered at the New York University School of Law.

Applications for the 20 scholarships, to be awarded next year, must be made by Feb. 15, 1954. Final selections will be announced late in April.

Seniors may apply to: Dean of the School of Law, New York University Law Center, New York 3, N. Y.

Scholarships are awarded annually on a competitive regional basis, with two scholarships made in each of the ten Federal Judicial Circuits.

OPEN STACKS HELP

"We are very pleased with the new open-stack policy," commented Miss Rosa Lee Langford, assistant circulation librarian, today.

Miss Langford explained that students are catching on quickly to the new procedure and those who do not find a particular book usually are able to find a substitute while looking through the stacks.

"Our only problem," said Miss Langford, "is that students forget to turn the books down when reshelving them." Failing to do this does not give the librarians a chance to check the replaced book.

Kappa Ceremony Will Initiate Five

Kappa Kappa Gamma will initiate five new members into the sorority at 7 p. m. Friday in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Wilson, 2622 23rd St. New Members will be: Patsy Holley, Mary Jo Lehman, Kay Campbell, Betty Hancock, and Jo Morrow.

Preceding the initiation will be a formal pledge service for pledges taken through open rush. They are: Olene Pittman, Jane Hampton, Barbara Stice, Pat Hellums, Alice Ireland, and Huda Hassen. Formal initiation of members will be completed Saturday beginning at 1:45 p. m. at St. John's Methodist Chapel.

Rainer Tells Hub City Kiwanians Holland Wants Favorable Trade

Glenn Rainer, junior business administration student of Lubbock and member of Delta Sigma Pi business administration fraternity, spoke at the regular luncheon meeting of the Hub City Kiwanis Club yesterday.

Rainer, who lived with a Holland family this summer, spoke on "International Understanding as a Means of Promoting Good Will." He said that people in Holland expressed a desire that America give not gifts, but opportunities to them. They are interested in establishing favorable trade and commerce relations between Holland and America, Rainer said.

Tech ROTC Professor Had Korean Weather Job

"The winters were cold—real cold—and the summers were hot, dry and dusty." That's the way Maj. Homer E. Walker, new addition to Tech's ROTC staff, describes Korea.

Maj. Walker, holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with three clusters, served as a weather officer at advanced air bases at Pyongyang and Seoul in the early days of the Korean police action. In October, 1950, he was stationed at an air base in Pyongyang.

"It was our job to make weather forecasts concerning flying conditions in the next 24 hours," the major says. "That was easy. We had to work on a local basis, with limited information. To make accurate forecasts it is necessary to know the weather conditions existing over a wide area. But considering our limited facilities, we did a pretty good job in keeping the flight officers informed on the weather."

Moves to Seoul

When the Chinese hit in November, 1950, the allied lines recoiled and Maj. Walker's weather detachment was forced to move back to Seoul.

"I didn't see any of the Chinese," the present assistant professor of air science and tactics remarked, "but plenty of their mortar shells hit our field before we got out."

"I had sort of an unusual feeling when those shells started to hit. Being an old B29 combat pilot of World War II, I possessed sort of an objective attitude toward war. We flew at a high altitude over Japan, dropped our bombs and returned to our base—all without actually feeling that we were participating in a war. But when the mortar shells started hitting at Pyongyang, the war seemed real enough."

Received Wings in 1941

Maj. Walker, who has some 4,000 hours flying time to his credit, received his wings at Stockton Air Force Base in 1941. He was transferred to Saipan in 1944 where he served with the 497 Bomber Group, the first bomber group in the Marianas. He flew 35 B29 missions over the Japanese mainland, having two planes damaged so badly they were discarded. "Somehow I managed to nurse them back to the base," the major remarks with a grin.

He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for his "outstanding actions" in leading an important night bomber raid over the Japanese mainland in May, 1945.

He received his training as a weather officer at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss., and Chanute Field, Pantou, Ill. Since his return from Japan in February, 1952, he has served as a weather officer at Reese Air Force Base until his transfer to Tech Monday.

HALVORSON TO SPEAK

W. Ferron Halvorson, assistant professor of speech, will leave tomorrow to attend the annual convention of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters at Norman, Okla. As a conference speaker his subject will be "Current Opportunities, Activities and Problems of Educational Broadcasting Centers."

Tech Musicians On Hi-Y Program

Three Tech music groups appeared on the Hi-Y program Saturday in Aggie Auditorium.

Tech Girls' Quartet—Marjorie Scales, Marjorie Hendrick, Jan Doggett and Joyce Miller—sang.

Alice Ann Yates, Misses Scales, Miller and Hendrick, Tim Magness, Bill Cormack, Clarence Whiteside and John Haylor were in the Madrigal Singers.

HarmoKnights—Hardin, Magness, Whiteside and Cormack also appeared.

Hardin played a selection of piano solos.

WORKSHOP SET

A two-week summer workshop for the education of brain-damaged children was approved for Tech at the annual meeting of the Texas Society for Crippled Children recently, according to Dr. Merville Larson, head professor of speech.

Speakers and consultants for the workshop will be furnished by the Texas Society, local affiliations and the college. Dr. Larson and Dr. John Manning, assistant professor of speech, were Tech representatives at the Brownwood meeting.

Company Representatives To Interview Engineers and Math Majors Next Week

Representatives from five commercial organizations will be on campus next week to interview 1954 graduates.

They are interested in students majoring in chemical, civil, electrical, industrial, mechanical and petroleum engineering, and in mathematics. A Texas Co. representative will be here Tuesday. He is interested in men for the entire producing department. This is the only interview which will be held by the company this year.

Wednesday, a Shell Oil company man will talk to prospects for the exploration division. This will include assistant seismograph operators and computers. Both men and women are eligible.

Texas Employers Insurance Association and Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation will have representatives here Thursday, Nov. 5. The insurance company would like their applicants to be engineering majors and at least 24 years old. The aircraft organization is seeking men for the Fort Worth division.

Pan American Refining Corporation at Texas City will interview mechanical engineering applicants Thursday and Friday, Nov. 5 and 6.

His lecture, "Symposium on Jazz," was the first of the lecture-program series sponsored by Mu Phi Epsilon, national professional sorority in music.

In discussing the various forms of what he termed "pulsative music," Crager included jazz, rag-time, swing, dixieland, boogie and be-bop.

Crager is the band and orchestra director at J. T. Hutchins Junior High School.

Date of the next lecture will be announced later, according to Miss Mary Jeanne van Appledorn, chapter sponsor.

Tech Prepares For Mississippi State

Raiders Whip Aggies, 71-0

BY DALE BASYE
Toreador Sports Writer

Following a 71-0 massacre of New Mexico A&M last Saturday night in muddy Jones Stadium, Tech's Red Raiders have been smoothing out some rough spots in their offense and defense this week in preparation for the clash with rugged Mississippi State at Jackson Saturday afternoon.

The Maroons, sporting an explosive Split T attack led by All-American candidate, Jackie Parker, are rated as one of the top teams in the nation and will be Tech's biggest challenge since Texas A&M. The encounter will be Tech's first against a South-eastern Conference opponent.

Six Thousand Watch Game
In the lopsided contest against the Aggies Saturday night, some 6,000 slightly damp fans watched in bewilderment as the Raiders chalked up touchdown after touchdown, scoring almost every time they got their hands on the ball. Tech rolled up 300 yards rushing and 149 passing, while holding the outclassed Aggie eleven to 88 yards on the ground and 20 through the air.

Seventy-five Tech players—six complete teams—took part in Tech's fifth victory of the season with nine Raiders crossing the pay-dirt stripe. Bobby Cavazos and Jerry Johnson scored twice; and other touchdowns were countered by Skeeter Lewis, Jim Sides, Paul Erwin, Ken Kummer, John Thompson, Elmer Wilson and Norman James.

Lewis Scores First
Lewis started the monotonous Raider touchdown parade three minutes deep in the first quarter on a 7-yard smash over left tackle. After that the TD's came thick and heavy with three more coming in the initial quarter, three in the second, three in the third and one in the final period.

Offensive standouts for the Raiders were Jack Kirkpatrick, Bobby Cavazos and Norman James, who turned in some tricky broken-field running. On defense it was Guard Bill Harrawood, Right End Harold Spraggins, End Lester Bruner and Guard Don Gray.

Weaver Praises Freshmen
Coach Weaver had high praise for the freshmen who participated in the A&M tilt. The sixth team, which saw action in the closing seconds, and put up a tenacious goal line stand which kept the Aggies from scoring on three plays from inside the 5-yard line. The Tech crew came through the Aggie contest without any serious injuries and should be at full strength for the impending battle with Mississippi State. Jack Kirkpatrick and Ken Kummer suffered charleyhorses but they worked out with the squad Monday and will be ready for the encounter with Mississippi State.

FOOTBALL SCORING

In six football games played this season the Raiders have amassed 213 points while holding their opponents to 67. This is an average of 35.5 points a game for Tech to the opponent's average of 11.1.

Cavazos Leads Raider Scoring

Bobby Cavazos, Kingsville, has taken over scoring leadership among the Red Raiders, but he was given the opportunity by Jack Kirkpatrick, the man he passed.

Kirkpatrick played against New Mexico A&M for only four offensive downs. On two of those plays he gave the ball to Cavazos, who scored touchdowns on runs of 65 and 33 yards.

Cavazos now leads with 32 points, Don Lewis is second with 31, and Kirkpatrick third with 29. Remainder of Tech's points are divided among 15 players as nine men scored in the Aggie game.

Kirkpatrick is the leading punt returner with a 16.6-yard average. Jerry Johnson leads passers with eight completed out of 20 throws and a touchdown. Rick Spinks tops Tech punters with a 39-yard average.

Parker Leads Maroons

Coach Wade Walker, speaking at a Quarterback club meeting Monday night, said of Mississippi State, "The Maroons are not a spectacular team, but if you don't watch them, they'll pound you to death."

Coach Walker named Jackie Parker, 186-pound Maroon quarterback, as the man most likely to hurt the Raiders. Parker an All-American candidate and the Southeastern conference's most valuable player last year, scored 120 points in nine games last year. He kicked 24 extra points out of 29 attempts and ran 14 kickoff backs for an average of 22.1 yards a try.

Cavazos Sparks Tech
But lined against the Maroon flash is another All-American candidate — Tech's Bobby Cavazos who leads the Raiders in yards gained rushing with 304 in six games.

Mississippi State has four victories, one defeat and one tie this season. The Maroons have wins over Memphis State, University of Tennessee, North Texas State and Auburn. They were defeated by Kentucky and tied Alabama. Tech's record includes wins over West Texas State, Texas Western, Oklahoma A&M, College of the Pacific and New Mexico A&M. The Raiders' sole loss was to Texas A&M, 27-14.

Prof. Ira L. Williams and Charles T. Bourins, head and associate professor of agricultural engineering respectively, accompanied a group of senior agriculture majors to the State Fair in Dallas to inspect farm machinery and equipment exhibits.

Shutouts Featured In Touch Football; Badminton Starts

Rain forced postponement of several touch football games that were scheduled last week. The fraternity league, however, managed to get in four games Sunday.

Kappa Sigma defeated Phi Delta Theta, 19-0, as touchdowns were scored by Lowell Richardson, Deryl Bennett, and Jim Gaede. Outstanding players for the losers were Wayne Williams, and Sherill Manning. Lewis Martin, Malcolm Young, and Amon English were outstanding for Alpha Tau Omega as their team defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 6-0.

In an overtime game Sigma Nu edged Phi Kappa Psi, 1-0 Raymond Mires starred for the winners while Ronnie Clark and Charles Faulkner were outstanding for the losers.

Johnny Meyers stood out for Pi Kappa Alpha as they shut out Kemas, 15-0.

Intramural touch football schedule for the week is as follows:

Oct. 30, Wesley Foundation vs. Westminster Student Foundation.
Nov. 1, Sigma Nu vs. Phi Delta Theta; Kemas vs. Kappa Sigma; Alpha Tau Omega vs. Phi Kappa Psi; Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Nov. 2, Dairy Maids vs. Chow-hounds.
Nov. 3, Baptist Student Union vs. Wesley Student Foundation.

Nov. 4, Bledsoe 2 vs. Westminster Student Foundation; Sneed vs. Drane; Bledsoe vs. Doak.

Tech Undeclared In Border Play

Three Border Conference teams, Tech, Arizona and Hardin-Simmons—remain undefeated in conference play after Saturday's games.

Tech continued to set the pace with a victory over New Mexico A&M, their third conference win in as many outings.

While the Raiders were running rough shod over the Aggies, Hardin-Simmons was earning a 26-14 decision over West Texas State College at Canyon. It was the first conference start for the Cowboys.

Arizona had the easiest time keeping its conference slate clean. It was idle Saturday. In the iron conference engagement the Wildcats beat New Mexico A&M.

The conference broke even in inter-sectional contests. Texas Western's Miners knocked over favored North Texas State at El Paso 26-21, while Arizona State at Tempe fell 24-20 to Houston University at Houston.
