Artists Course Presentation Is Unique Exhibition of Basque Life and Culture

By ANN RAE LEE
Treador Staff Writer

A unique exhibition of Basque music, dance, and pageantry was witnessed Monday night by those attending "Euzkadi," presented as a part of the Texas Tech Artists Course series.

The program opened with a series of choral numbers sung in Basque. The 14 members of the cast continued with an exhibition of Basque country life in song and dance. These ceremonial dances consisted of many high and difficult jumps to strong, unusual rhythms.

Juan Onatibia proved his abilities on the ancient three-holed flute with the difficult "Nightingale Song."

Choral and Pageantry Numbers
The third part of the program consisted of more choral numbers followed in the fourth part by more pageantry entitled "Fiesta in a Basque Village." In addition to vocal and instrumental solos, many beautiful but unusual dances were presented, including the flag, sword, stick, and arch dances.

The entire program was in the musical, but extremely difficult, Basque language.

The land of Basques consists of six provinces—four in Spain and two in France. The collective name used by the Basques to describe their homeland is "Euzkadi."

Ever wonder what you'll be like when the class of '54 holds its 10th reunion? If you started to work for one of the Bell System companies after graduation, here's a pretty good idea.

INTERESTING, RESPONSIBLE WORK: Perhaps a Commercial Manager, the company's representative and spokesman to as many as fifty thousand customers. Or a Transmission Engineer, helping to provide the telephone needs of an entire state. Or a Supervisor in the Traffic Department, responsible for the speed and quality of local and long distance service in several cities and for the personal relations of a large number of employees.

WE MAKE SURE THERE ARE PLACES TO GO: The number of college men hired is related to the number of administrative and technical positions expected to be available in the next 10 or 15 years. It is our policy to fill these positions from within our organization.

ARTS, SCIENCE, BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION AND ENGINEERING GRADUATES are among our particular needs. The specific degree is not as important as the total effect of your college training.

Northern Campus To Be Revamped

The northern end of the Tech campus will be revamped in the near future.

The parking problem will be nearer a solution when a new 2,000-car capacity parking area is completed. Construction of this lot will begin after the new auditorium-coliseum is started. The combined 2-million-dollar building-parking lot project should be completed by next summer and possibly earlier, according to E.

J. Urbanovsky, head of the department of horticulture and park management.

The parking area will be located east of the auditorium-coliseum and join Jones Stadium on the west. It will facilitate the parking problem that occurs during the football season and a proposed road project will provide more exits.

"People will have to get used to using the different roads as exits," Urbanovsky stated. "When they are familiar with their use, traffic will move more rapidly and it should be possible to empty this area in 15 minutes."

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

No guessing games with cigarettes
When Luckies are your brand—
A cleaner, fresher, smoother smoke,
A taste that's really grand!

Phil W. Elder
Oklahoma University

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason . . . enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better . . . always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

I've often been class president—
I'm called a real go-getter!
My brand is always Lucky Strike—
Why shucks, they just taste better!

Psychology Head To Bring Chimpanzees to Campus

Two chimpanzees are coming to Texas Tech this summer. Dr. Sylvan J. Kaplan, newly appointed head of the psychology department, will bring them to use as subjects of a research on the effects of X-rays.

Dr. Kaplan is at present technical director of the Primate Laboratory of the Balcones Research Center in Austin, where he heads a 100-man staff. He is 34 years old, married, and the father of two children. Dr. Sylvan received his B.A. and M.A. at the University of Stanford and his doctorate at Stanford in five other colleges and universities.

The two chimpanzees won't see much of Texas Tech and vice versa as they will be kept away from the public under controlled experimental conditions in a temporary structure adjacent to the Tech testing and Counseling Center.

Prof. Allan Nevins To Speak at Tech
The man who told Life magazine readers in a 1950 special issue what has happened in the last 50 years will speak before a Texas Tech audience next month.
Prof. Allan Nevins of Columbia University, noted American historian, will be guest lecturer at Tech on April 1 and 2, according to Dr. Carl Coke Rister, distinguished professor of history.
Dr. Nevins' lecture, "The American Industrial Revolution," to be given at 2 p.m. in the Museum Auditorium, is part of the series under the direction of the Institute of Americanism at Tech.
Dr. Nevins' work has been recognized both in America and in England and his listing in "Who's Who in America" is an extended one. He has written 20 volumes, two of which have won Pulitzer prizes in 1936-37, and others have won Scribner, Century and Bancroft prizes. He has had wide newspaper editorial experience, has taught since 1913 and has been professor of history at Columbia since 1931.
This will be the noted historian's first visit to West Texas. A banquet in his honor is planned for the night of April 2.

Tech Club Offers Flight Instruction

Eleven men and one woman make up the membership of the Texas Tech Flying T Club which offers Tech students an opportunity to learn to fly at a much lower cost than usual. It is not under the supervision of the college, but is for Tech students. Others may join on special recommendation of a member.

The Tech flying club was organized last March. It now owns two planes which are debt free. One is a Piper J-3 and the other a Taylor-Craft.

The club meets on the first Thursday of each month in Ad269 at 8 p.m. Anyone interested in aviation matters may join the club. It is not necessary to want to fly.

The dues are $5 a month and a $75 admittance fee. The admittance fee will be refunded when the member leaves the club, minus $1 per hour of flight. These dues are used to buy the planes. Additional costs are $2 per hour of flight to cover the cost of gas and oil. An instructor may be hired for $3 per hour. Under this plan a student may obtain a license for under $200 whereas most flyers pay around $500 for the training and license.

Four members have obtained their licenses since the club was organized. These students have the privilege of taking a plane home for a week end.

Present members are Jimmy White, Jack Collins, Van Baucum, Fred Crouch, Maurice Cox, Harold Rucker, H. L. Simon, Everett Hall, Jim Porterfield, Clovis Vaughn, Chuck Currie and Sandra Mason, the only woman.

Students Collect Books for Africa

Texas Tech's share of the battle of the books has been won. The Westminister Presbyterian Student Fellowship has collected 1,500 books to be sent to Africa to combat Communistic propaganda filtering into that continent. This contribution exceeded the 1,000 book goal which the organization had set.

The library project was aimed to assist natives of the Gold Coast, where Red influence has been evident in attaining Christian and democratic knowledge. Student groups of the United States have set a total goal of 25,000 books. Texas Tech students, under direction of the Rev. W. F. Rogan, agreed to collect one-twenty-fifth of that number.

The plan was started by the Rev. James H. Robinson, Negro pastor of the Church of the Master in Harlem, N. Y., upon the suggestion of a group of 25 young Africans who explained the influence of Communistic propaganda in Africa. He put the plan into action when he explained the situation at the Presbyterian Student Conference at Mo-Ranch near Kerrville. The group from Tech made their pledge at that time.

Westminister's collection of books will be sent to New York from Dallas along with books from other Texas colleges and universities. They will be shipped from this central point of collection to the Gold Coast of Africa to join in the battle against Communism.

Round Table To Have Display Of Paintings in Rotunda Gallery

The display, to be in the Rotunda Gallery, is from the Museum of New Mexico. The entire 125-painting collection was originated by Susan B. Anderson, art supervisor of Santa Fe schools.

Miss Ruth Uhler, curator of education at the Museum of Fine Arts in Houston, will be guest speaker of the round table meeting at 8 p.m. Moderator for the panel will be Dr. Elizabeth Skidmore Sasser, associate professor of architecture and allied arts at Texas Tech. Panel members are Mr. and Mrs. John Harving, Mrs. Gerald Collingsworth, and Frank Latta.

Mrs. Uhler has had experience in fresco painting and design. Her mural work is displayed in the Houston Public Library and Houston City Hall and she has done ceiling decorations for the Nelson Art Gallery in Kansas City.

Tech's Opponent in Oregon Rejected

Experienced Santa Clara Tech's Red Raiders in the first round of the National playoffs Tuesday night in Corvallis, Ore.

The first quarter ended with teams nip-and-tuck, with Tech leading 17 points. The Raiders made a half-time adjustment ahead at 28-17, but the Bronchos' offense began paying off in the second quarter.

Late in the third stanza, Tech's offense put the Santa Clara Raiders in front 46-45. Tech's offense for the last time 4-0 and Santa Clara went on to a 59-48 margin at the end of the quarter.

With less than five minutes remaining in the game, the Raiders began using a full court press. Tech's offense broke to cut the lead to 59-52 lead considerably. Tech's defense was unable to contain the Bronchos' offense. Tech lost the help of M. J. Elrod, Santa Clara's star forward, who was injured in the second quarter. Elrod was hampered by the game. Eugene Carpenter was the game's personal foul leader with three minutes left.

ROBINSON, REED HONORED

A poll conducted by the Associated Press revealed the name of the best basketball player in the Border States and Coach Polk Robinson as the coach of the year.

Reed, a sophomore, maintained a 15.7 point scoring average. As Tech's championship basketball player, Reed was named the 20-year-old player of the year.

Robinson, who has coached Tech for 11 years, has been named the best coach since the 1941 season, replacing Bert H. Robinson.

Raiders Lose to Santa Clara in NCAA

Tech's Opponents Score 73 Points in Oregon Regional Playoff Tuesday

Experienced Santa Clara topped Texas Tech's Red Raiders in the first round of the NCAA regional playoffs Tuesday night 34-4 in Corvallis, Ore.

The first quarter ended with both teams nip-and-tuck, each having 17 points. The Raiders pushed ahead at half-time to lead 36-35, but the Broncho's experience began paying off in the third quarter.

Late in the third stanza, three free throws put the Santa Clara five out in front 46-45. Tech tied it up for the last time 46-46, and Santa Clara went on to post a 56-48 margin at the end of the quarter.

With less than five minutes remaining in the game, the Raiders began using a full court press and fast break to cut the Broncho's 69-52 lead considerably, but couldn't stave off the clock.

Tech lost the help of Durward Bolding after he and Mickey Mount, of Santa Clara, had a skirmish mid-way in the third quarter. Both were banished from the game. Eugene Carpenter went out of the game on personals for the Raiders three minutes deep in the fourth quarter.

Carpenter and Sears, Broncho forward, lead the scoring with 21 points apiece. Reed and Ince scored 13 points each for the Raiders.

The score was tied 11 times during the game, and Tech held the lead six times to Santa Clara's seven.

Tech finished the season with a 20-5 seasonal record, the Border Conference championship, and a good showing in the NCAA playoffs.

The Raiders will arrive back in Lubbock about 10 p.m. today.

RIFLE TEAM COMPETES

Texas Tech's ROTC rifle team will encounter the North Texas State College ROTC team in a shoulder-to-shoulder match tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The match will be held on the Tech rifle range.

Tech's team returned Sunday after competing in Texas Western's fifth annual Southwestern Invitational small bore rifle meet in El Paso. Tech finished 19th in a field of approximately 36 entered from the southwest and western states. The University of California at Berkeley took top honors.

The teams were quartered in the barracks at Ft. Bliss during the three-day meet. The teams attended a dance Friday night, and a tour of Juarez was held Saturday.

Tech's team consisted of Harold Simon, Ralph Willingham, Herbert Gatlin, Aubrey Martin, James McKenzie, Doyle Stamps, and Gail Hendricks.

Each participant in the matches received an orange felt patch. The patch was shaped like the state of Texas. Sgts. Robert S. Schultz and Clarence Peterson accompanied the local team.

CHAMPIONSHIP TONIGHT

The all-college intramural basketball championship will be at stake tonight when the Rangers encounter Kemas in Tech Gym.

The Rangers downed the Pied Pipers 39-37 in an overtime battle last night to earn a berth in the finals. Kemas won its crack at the title the easy way, a forfeit from Phi Delta.

Cavazos Will Play On Chicago Team

Bobby Cavazos, Tech's All-American halfback, will be feeling right at home next fall when football drills get underway, although he won't be pounding the line for the Raiders. He has recently been signed by the Chicago Cardinals.

Cavazos, who was chosen the most valuable back in the 1954 Gator Bowl game, will report to the Cards' training camp around the first of August.

After one year of professional football, he plans to return to Tech and finish school, and then comes the army. He is due to receive a commission through the Army ROTC after completing school.

"I think pro football will be good experience, and will show me what I can do. I only hope I get as good a chance with the Cards as I did with Tech," commented Cavazos.

After playing days are over, Cavazos wants to settle down to ranching.

In three seasons at Tech, he carried 359 times for a six-yard average. Last year, he averaged 7.8 yards per carry and scored 13 touchdowns.

Cavazos was the Cardinals' draft choice and was the first to sign.

TCU SAYS "YES"

The TCU student body wants Tech in the Southwest conference, a sample survey is indicative. One faculty member and three students were asked by The Skiff, campus paper, if they thought Tech should be admitted to the Southwest Conference, and all answered "yes." Several other students had no comment to the question, but none answered "no."

"I believe it would be to the best interest of TCU to have Tech in the conference," said Dr. Henry B. Hardt, TCU's representative to Southwest Conference athletic committee. Dr. Hardt is a chemistry professor at TCU.

Student reasons why Tech should be admitted to the conference varied from Tech's high scholastic standing to its sport status.

Fencers To Go To Fort Worth

Tech's fencing teams will participate in individual tournaments at Fort Worth Saturday. Both the men's and women's teams will enter.

The scheduled team match with Tarleton State College March 6 was forfeited by Tarleton, as they were unable to make the trip.

The same day, however, Tech defeated the Abilene fencing team in individual competition. In the prep epee, Wayne Latimer, and Gene Miles, Tech fencers, placed first and second respectively. Harrington placed third for Abilene.

In the open foil, Jack Carnell took top honors for the Techsians. Cecil Bradshaw placed second and Ed Sims third for the Raiders.

The next team match will be the Tech women's team vs. the Dallas women's team March 20 in Dallas.

The Tech billiards team was made up of Bill McGlaun, Snyder senior; Bill Elrod, Muleshoe junior; and C. R. (Skip) Martin, Lubbock sophomore. McGlaun was high scorer in the Tech playoffs, and Elrod was high scorer among Tech players in the tournament.

The tournament was held by mail, each college playing at home and using key shots.

The contest was held under the auspices of the Billiard Congress of America and the Association of College Unions.

Winner of the tournament was Wyoming University.

Warmup Jackets Stolen March 3 Still Missing

Eleven new warmup jackets, stolen from the equipment room in Tech Gym March 3, have not been recovered. The jackets are valued at about $175.

If the jackets are returned, according to Coach Polk Robison, here will be no questions asked.

The Raider squad was hoping the jackets would be returned before it left for Corvallis, Ore., to participate in the NCAA playoffs. The squad left Sunday morning.

The jackets have nine alternating black and white stripes running laterally at the waist, two white stripes and one black stripe at the end of each sleeve, 10 alternating black and white stripes in the collar, and a "V" of two white stripes and one black stripe across the chest. The body is a rich red and across the "V" on the chest is the word "Raiders."

ROBISON, REED HONORED

A poll conducted by the Arizona Daily Star revealed the name of Jim Reed as basketball's most altable player in the Border Conference and Coach Polk Robison as the coach of the year.

Reed, a sophomore, maintained 15.7-point scoring average per game. As Tech clinched the championship by beating West Texas State, the 20-year-old Reed made 27 points.

Westminster Student Fellowship To See New Mexico Missions During Easter

An extensive student tour of New Mexico Spanish-American missions operated by the Presbyterian Church will be made during the Easter holidays by Texas Tech members of the Westminster Student Fellowship.

The trip was planned by the Tech unit of the Fellowship Sunday afternoon at an annual missionary banquet. It will include visits to such places as Truchas, Chimayo, Dixon, Embudo, Las Vegas, Santa Fe and Albuquerque. Speakers at the banquet held in Westminster Presbyterian Church were the Rev. T. W. Wilbanks, Canyon and Roberta Simpson, Sheila Malone and Elaine Cundiff, students from West Texas State College. All of the speakers had made an extended visit through the Spanish-American area in 1952. Their talks gave information concerning their visit and help in planning the projected tour.

Following the banquet, much interest was expressed by those present in going on the tour, according to Bill Rogan, student director. Details are available at the Presbyterian Student Center, 2114 13th St.

The banquet program was opened with an invocation by Dean of Men Lewis N. Jones, and closed with a benediction by the Rev. David Zacharias, pastor of Westminster Church. Special music was a vocal solo by Alice Ann Yates, accompanied by Celia Pember. Approximately 50 persons attended the banquet.

Billy Jones To Enforce Law East, West of Pecos

Mind your manners, podner, or Sheriff Billy Jones, law East and west of the Pecos, will be on your trail.

Jones, senior from Mercury, has been named sheriff for Texas Tech's annual Western Days celebration. The rough-and-ready fete this year will be April 29-30 and May 1, according to an announcement from the sponsoring organizations, the Rodeo Association and Block and Bridle club.

Events this year will include: three night performances of the rodeo in Jones Stadium, a parade on the opening day (Thursday), Block and Bridle breakfast Friday, a dance following the Friday breakfast, contests for sororities and fraternities.

Exact times and places of the events are yet to be fixed. The Rodeo Association today asked, through The Toreador, for suggestions from students on suitable fraternity contests.
