Gamblers Know License Plates Of Probe Cars

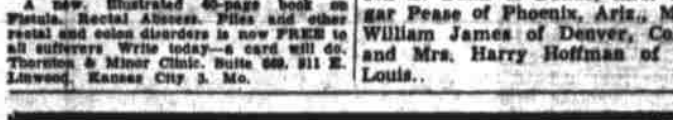

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—The Brooklyn gambling probe will cost more money because the underworld knows the license plate numbers of the investigators' automobiles, says Brooklyn District Attorney Miles F. McDonald.

McDonald appealed Friday to the City Board of Estimate for an additional $30,000 to continue his investigations for another six months. The board originally appropriated $50,250 for the probe. The prosecutor told the board the estimated operating expenses have jumped because the underworld somehow obtained a list of license plate numbers on the investigators' cars. Now the vehicles cannot be used and other cars must be pressed into service.

Consequently, he said, "the savings which we had contemplated by using these cars could not be made." McDonald also said he is on the trail of "a large policy bank" which may have made payoffs to policemen. A letter from the Kings County (Brooklyn) grand jury backed the prosecutor's request for more funds. Mayor William O'Dwyer said the board would consider the request next Thursday.

Wife Of Sen. Vandenberg Dies, Was Active In Many Affairs

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP)—Hazel Whitaker Vandenberg, wife of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, died early Saturday. Mrs. Vandenberg, 67, had had spells of serious illness since she underwent two major operations in 1947. Despite this and her many duties as a senator's wife, she continued active until recently in a varied career of her own. She served for a time as national chairman of the University of Michigan Alumnae Association and led in a drive for a $1 million woman's league building at the University. In World War II, she held a full-time job in the Red Cross, as director of camps and hospital services. She had served six years as national vice president of Delta Gamma sorority, was active in the YWCA and was a member of the National Campfire Girls board. But first of all, her friends said, she was a companion and good right arm to her husband, the Republicans' chief foreign policy spokesman in the Senate.

She accompanied him to many of the international conferences at which he played important roles after the war, flying with him to Rio De Janeiro, Paris, London, San Francisco and other cities. "Pops needs me to look after him," she explained before one of these trips. "He won't stop working long enough to eat unless I make him." Mrs. Vandenberg always took her typewriter along on these trips. A one-time Chicago newspaperwoman, she helped her husband with his speeches and occasionally gave a hand to reporters covering them. Mrs. Vandenberg was the senator's second wife. They were married June 14, 1918, a few years after the death of his first wife.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Most Of The 1,153 Displaced Persons In Texas Doing Well

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP)—So far as is known here, most of the 1,153 displaced persons settling in Texas are doing all right. That number of European homeless has been assigned to Texas since admittance of displaced persons to this country started two years ago. All told, 350,000 have been given haven in this country to date, with eastern states absorbing a majority of them. Actually, there is no way to determine the exact status of each of the 1,153 who headed for Texas upon landing on American shores. The Displaced Persons Commission, which supervises the program, says that, once here, the DP's are considered in the same category as regular immigrants. They are required to report to the Immigration Service changes in their residence within five days of moving to a new address. The Displaced Persons Commission requires that each six months, for their first two years of residence in this country, they make a report telling where they are living and giving some information as to their situation. Neither of these agencies keeps a breakdown by states as to the movement of the newcomers. Their files are kept only by names of the individuals.

Farmers Warned To Watch For Hopper Growth

Grasshoppers concentrations are reaching alarming proportions in parts of the county, Durward Lewter, county agent, said Saturday. Infestation as usual, is heaviest around Vincent and Luther. Time is ripe for prompt efforts to control the creatures, said Lewter. He urged the spraying or dusting of chlorodane or toxaphene along pasture edges next to fields. By the middle of the week there is to be another hatching of the creatures. That would be an especially effective time to poison, for the percentage of kill generally is much higher among the young. Farmers were advised to be on a constant watch for there will be other hatchings soon. There will be no government bait program this year. Held in reserve from last year, when the Farm Bureau assumed responsibility of distribution, is a poison supply sufficient for 15 tons. Agriculture department officials have suggested this be kept back for use in any critical areas that might develop. So far the grasshoppers have stayed in the grass at field edges, eating as crops are not up in many places. Too, the grass with considerable rain still is succulent.

Murder Charge Filed Against 2 Chicago Men

HOUSTON, June 10. (AP)—Charges of murder were filed against two Chicago men Saturday in an April 16 trailer camp slaying at Hockley, 26 miles northwest of here. Charges were filed with Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan against Raymond Shaw, 36, and Arthur Jung, 20. Waddell L. Rhodes, 58, pipeline construction worker, was found bloody and unconscious on the morning of April 16 in the yard at the home of a sister, Mrs. Arthur Gray, near the Hockley trailer camp where he resided. He died eight hours later. Bloodstains on the ground showed he had crawled from the trailer to ward his sister's home. Shaw was arrested in Chicago, Jung in Indianapolis, Ind.

FIREWORKS MAY BREAK OUT Hush-Hush Is The Word When State Demos Meet On Monday

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—Hush-hush is the word for one of the two Democratic party leader meetings here starting Monday. Fireworks could develop in both the state executive committee session Monday or form the "school" of instruction for Democratic big wheels Tuesday. Any shooting at the second will be muffled by closed doors. Mrs. India Edwards, vice-chairman of the national committee; Undersecretary of Labor Ralph Wright; Rep. Wright Patman of Texas; Other speakers include Paul C. Sparks, executive secretary of the State Federation of Labor and B. F. Vance of the Production Marketing Administration. At the executive committee meeting Monday, such tough subjects as party loyalty pledges are almost bound to come up. Two Democratic factions, hold-the-line Trumante and buck-the-line fightwingers are arming for a 1953 showdown. The Trumante definitely were in the saddle at the executive committee's last session in McAllen. The executive committee session is to make up the official ballot for the Democratic primary July 22. The committee will select the site for the next committee meetings and for the September convention. San Antonio, Abilene and Min-

Threat Of Another Filibuster By Sen. Cain Faces Democrats

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP)—A threat of another filibuster faced weary Senate Democratic leaders Saturday, but they claimed enough votes to pass an extension of federal rent controls. A hectic session of nearly 17 hours ended at 2:43 a.m. (EST) Saturday after Senator Cain (R-Wash) foe of controls, won his demand that the first test vote be on a motion to send the rent control extension back to committee. That test will come at 12 noon Monday. Majority Leader Lucas (D-III) told a reporter he is confident "we have more than enough votes to defeat the effort to send the bill back to committee." He added that he finally agreed to the test on recommitment "because I hope the Senate will be able to consider all motions and amendments and pass the bill before the day is over." Cain, who talked for a few minutes more than 12 hours Friday and Saturday with only three brief breaks, agreed that Lucas may be right about the recommitment vote. Apparently in good form after his marathon performance, Cain confided that he was ready "to take off again, if necessary, after the vote Monday." At issue is an extension of the federal rent controls due to expire at the end of this month. They now apply to an estimated 8,000,000 rental units through the country. (The "cas legislature abolished controls, there some time ago).

Troy Fort of Lovington, present title-holder, was timed at 16 seconds flat. Toots Mansfield of Big Spring, Tex., had a time of 14.9. Mansfield was the Rodeo Cowboys Association calf roping champ five times.

eral Wells are bidding for the September convention. At the party leaders conference Tuesday, Wright and Sparks will talk labor and Vance, the Truman farm plan.

Cost Of Living Is Creeping Higher Again

NEW YORK, June 10.—The cost of living creeps higher again. Food price indexes are the highest in 17 months. Little relief from increasing meat prices is held out before fall.

Prices of basic commodities—the raw materials out of which the cost of living is fabricated—are in general up again to the level they held in January, 1949. Their average is pushed upwards chiefly by the spurring costs of metals, rubber and wool. Easing prices in a few commodities get lost in that shuffle.

At the retail level, you will be paying more for tires, work clothes, carpets, top cuts of meat. It will ease you more to build a home. There's talk of further hikes in the price of gasoline.

Opinions differ as to what's in store for the fall. One school holds that prices are more likely than not to continue going up. But they think the advance will be slow because higher prices will draw more goods from America's expanding industrial plant, and the resulting competition will curb any runaway in prices.

The other school believes that the price climb is topping out now—that the spurt in metals, spectacular as it is, may prove to be the last stage in the present creeping inflation. They argue that in the past, metals frequently have spurred just as other commodities were ripe for a drop.

Meantime, the pinch is on the pocketbook. The Associated Press index of wholesale commodity prices hit 171.73 Thursday, highest since January, 1949. It has been climbing almost steadily since March 30, when it touched this year's low of 158.30.

The food component of that index is also at the highest peak of the year, and highest since last December.

Farm prices, the Agriculture Department reports today, are at their highest since last September—but still 19 per cent below the record set in January, 1948. The department says farm prices jumped two per cent in May and it predicts that prices of most classes of meat animals will go even higher this summer. Bad growing weather had bolstered grain quotations.

What's sending prices up? In a few cases, it's a matter of tight supplies. That was the reason given for the run-up in the price of coffee, cocoa, lamb, and wool.

In other cases, the demand is high—frequently much higher than expected only a few months ago. That's the reason given for the jump in the price of rubber, steel scrap, copper, zinc and gasoline. And in most all cases, there's that other element in inflation at work—more people have more money and want more of the best grades of most grades of wool fabrics. They'll pay more to get what they want.

Wide distribution of moderately high incomes across the nation has given the impetus for the boom in home building, the record sale of automobiles and of home appliances that sent manufacturers scurrying into the market to bid up raw materials.

This high demand and temporarily tight supply spreads through the price structure, sending the cost of living up for every one, no matter how small his income, nor how stagnant his pay check.

AB Club Votes To Support Sale Of Football Tickets

Members of the American Business club voted to support the sale of season football tickets for the 1950 series Friday noon at a regular luncheon meeting held in the Settles hotel.

Other business included some discussion concerning the possibility of chartering a bus to the national club convention to be held in North Carolina in July.

Earl C. Evans, a new member, invited the club to an open house program to be held here in connection with the state rural mail carriers convention this month.

An announcement was also made concerning a flag day program to be sponsored by the Elks on June 14. A letter was read acknowledging receipt of a recent contribution by the club to the spastic fund.

J. A. Jolly was the program speaker. He discussed a new type of car air conditioner which has been invented by George McAllister of Big Spring.

Jimmy Greene, chamber of commerce manager, was also a guest.

Other survivors include the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hale and S. E. Patton, Big Spring great-grandmother, Mrs. S. H. Patton, and Mrs. M. E. Patton, Big Spring.

Funeral services were held Friday by George Tolle, Harold Gray, Clyde Flowers, Alton Barbo, and Mrs. J. E. Patton.

PULSE BEATS—Here are two items which represent the pulse beat of Colorado City these days. Above is a view of Lake Colorado City, now half full in volume, and two-thirds in depth. It is property of Texas Electric Service. Below is TESCO's 40,000 watt steam generating unit rising on its banks. Water and industry thus quicken the Colorado City economic pulse.

RECORD BRISK PACE

Colorado Hustling In City Growth

COLORADO CITY, June 10.—Although preliminary census figures threw a dash of cold water on some enthusiasts, this pioneer queen city of the West is hustling and bustling right along.

Preliminary and unofficial census figures pegged population at 6,858. Those who had watched development for the last decade were confident it would be higher—but then guessing over the population total seems to have been a general malady. The gain is substantially over the 5,213 for 1940. Mitchell county's 14,457 against 12,477 a decade ago shows most of the growth has been in Colorado City.

Building activity continues at its brisk pace. Besides more homes, added to the several hundred during the past 10 years, there are now two new motels under way. Six trailer courts flourish where none existed a short time ago. New cafes and stores have come up. Even now the city is getting its voice as KVMC goes on the air.

Once without adequate water, Colorado City now has access to a generous supply in Lake Colorado City, a Texas Electric Service property. Construction is being rushed on the TESCO 40,000 watt steam generating plant there.

Over on Oak street, ancient homes fell to make way for a modern super-market. City schools became so crowded the old Coleman building was utilized. Now contracts have been let for more elementary classrooms.

The city has provided its share of funds for 100 blocks of paving. Already it was one of the better paved cities of West Texas.

Boxes gathering dust at the post-office have been in such demand a hundred more could be used right now. Receipts passed $50,000 for the first time last year and

Last Of 'Scottsboro Boys' Out Of Prison, Heads For New York

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 10.—The last of the "Scottsboro boys" to leave prison took his wife and child and headed away from the South today.

Mild-mannered Andy Wright was one of nine Negroes accused of raping two white women on a freight train in 1931. Their trial at Scottsboro was a sensation of the '30s.

The tall, 38-year-old Negro left prison yesterday with $13.45 "no frills" money in his pocket and for his wife and child. He said he was going to Albany, N. Y., to take a job as a hospital porter. "I've got no hard feelings toward anyone," he told newspapermen who gave him a ride to the railroad station.

"I'm not mad because the white

Pittsburgh Hit By Strike Of Milkmen Union

PITTSBURGH, June 10.—Hospitals, orphanages and homes for the aged are about the only places where milk was being delivered Saturday in Pittsburgh and nearby communities.

A strike of 3,250 milk and dairy workers has cut off other deliveries to some 2,500,000 western Pennsylvanians.

After the walk-out at midnight Thursday the Allegheny County Medical Association made a special arrangement with the striking AFL Milk and Ice Cream Driver Salesmen and Dairy Employees, Local 203, to provide milk on an emergency basis for babies, formula, invalids and others.

Main issues in the strike are wages, commissions and vacation improvement, an industry spokesman said.

Although exact contract demands have not been disclosed, the union says it wants a 40-hour week instead of the present 48-hour week with no reduction in pay.

The drivers, now guaranteed $60 a week, also want to be reimbursed for Christmas cuts.

Negotiations continued all day Friday but without bringing an agreement. The union's contract expired May 1.

RESEARCH MAKES A STORY

'Monahans Flea' Intrigues Former Staffer, So Here Are Her Findings

(The story of the "Monahans flea" intrigued Leatrice Ross, former Herald staffer who has been studying toward her Journalism degree at the University of Texas. She did a bit of research and this is her story... Ed)

By LEATRICE ROSS

About two years ago the manager of the chamber of commerce in a little West Texas town was sorting his morning mail.

"Well," he chuckled, looking up from the pile of circulars on his desk. "Here's some writer who wants to get a lot of information about the huge sand fleas living out here."

He handed the letter to his secretary. "Somebody's idea of a good joke. I suppose, I should write them back a lengthy description of our 'super flea'."

And that was the first time Monahans had ever heard the "super intelligent flea" story that has grown to tall-texas-tale proportions. Six months later another inquiry turned up in the office. Several months after that, a third person asked for details on the Monahans flea "that flea circus trainers came for miles to catch."

The chamber of commerce two-man force got busy. They thumbed through newspaper files, sought out old-times, and hiked over sand hills in hopes of snaring a specimen. But they found no record of anybody ever coming to West Texas to catch fleas, and no longtime resident had ever seen a giant flea with uncanny intelligence.

From the trek in fields they found fleas, all right—but the simple little creatures were an ordinary variety, found in many sand hills.

Then not many weeks ago a metropolitan paper ran a six-inch story on the fabulous Monahans flea. The Associated Press picked up the story, and a brief item appeared in a great many Texas newspapers.

Not letters, but people, began to show up demanding attention. The chamber of commerce, two strong, went to work again. This time the Monahans News took an interest, calling the tale to residents' attention with a reprint in its columns of an item in another Texas daily. It claimed:

"Monahans country raises a flea that is exceptionally large and intelligent. A Monahans flea learns

Alabama Man Found Dead In Houston

HOUSTON, June 10.—The body of a man found beaten to death here has been identified by three persons as that of Robert Justice, of Mobile, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Standley and J. G. Pruitt, Jr., Friday identified the body and said the man had lived at their rooming house for several days. They said he told them he came here from Mobile about two weeks ago.

The man was found dead, with a fractured skull Thursday in a hobo jungle.

Desmond Powell Now Stationed In Japan

OTSU, Japan.—Private First Class Desmond W. Powell, son of Desmond W. Powell of 1108 East 6th Street, Big Spring, is now on duty with the 35th Infantry Regiment.

The 35th Infantry Regiment is stationed at Otsu, Japan and is part of the Pacific based 25th Infantry (Tropic Lightning) Division which is commanded by Major General William B. Keen.

Cpl. B. J. Childress Re-Enlists In Army

Cpl. Billy J. Childress, 22, of Big Spring has re-enlisted in the U.S. Army for a career service in the grade of corporal and is now with Hq. Co. 3rd Bn. 22nd Inf. of the Fourth Infantry Division at Fort Ord, Calif., pending further assignment.

Cpl. Childress is a veteran of 4 years service with the Army. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Childress of Big Spring.

tricks in half the time of an ordinary flea."

Monahans folks began to collect clippings of the accounts carried in various papers. Writers grabbed buses and went to West Texas. But nobody could put the bite on the flea.

One paper's excuse for its story: it was a news report of a speech to the Dallas Rotary Club by State Land Commissioner Bascom Giles. Mr. Giles was living up his talk with a fact from "Texas—A Guide to the Lone Star State" published by the Texas State Highway Commission. It wasn't his idea.

That book lists the Monahans flea as "of great size and possessing exceptional intelligence—capable of being trained."

The "Guide" is a reliable source. There must be a flea somewhere in Monahans that's large and apt. Or there surely is a man somewhere who has trained such a flea. Furthermore several persons in Austin, including Curtis Bishop, an employee in Commissioner Giles' office, say they've heard about the flea for years. One person swears the flea magazine ran full-color pictures of its antics. The little West Texas town itself doesn't say.

Bill Lee, who spends part of his times at the chamber of commerce office and part at the News office, admits he turned out a story on the flea for a nearby paper. But he used information compiled from several previous stories.

Hugh Cooper, another Monahans News man, says there's nothing in the paper's old files concerning any colony of fleas. But he won't deny there may be one. And they might be intelligent, too, he says.

Several Monahans residents recall picnicking about two miles northeast of town. Fleas came out to eat like ants. Residents near the area have difficulty keeping domestic animals and poultry uninfected. J. W. Holmes, county agent, however, says they are just run of the mill sand fleas.

But the tall Texas tale grows taller. Apparently no one started it, but everyone's telling it. Monahans offers no proof—or denial.

East Germans Face Potato Shortage, Conclude Pact To Buy 50,000 Tons

FRANKFURT, Germany, June 10.—East Germany was caught holding the bag today—and the bag was filled with American potatoes.

Two weeks ago East German Communist authorities complained in loud and aggrieved tones that the United States was scattering potato bugs from airplanes to destroy the East German potato crop. American officials just shook their heads in amazement.

Today it came out that East Germany has concluded a secret deal for the purchase of 50,000 tons of surplus American potatoes for $10,000. That's a good price: A penny a hundred pounds. Housewives in New York pay between five and six cents a pound.

This seemed to back up an American theory propounded after the potato bug story started—that East Germany is facing a severe crop shortage in what once was Germany's lush farm country and is trying to cover up.

The potato purchase appeared to be a delicate matter with the East German trade ministry in Berlin. They would not deny that the deal had been made, but there was no one around there who would say he knew anything about it. But Arthur Sisk, trade expert in the American high commission's Berlin office, announced that it had been made and that delivery already has begun.

State Department officials said in addition to the 50,000 tons deal there had been a smaller follow-up sale of about 18,000 tons, approved for shipment to Frankfurt.

In both cases, it was learned, State Department officials were suspicious that the potatoes might be destined for East Germany. They still have no official information on that point but have sent an inquiry to occupation authorities.

The suspicion arose over the fact that the potato crop in eastern Germany has been poor this year—about 30 per cent below normal.

The State Department informant said the potatoes now reported to have reached eastern Germany were sold by the Agriculture Department to a man named David Zealand, a broker operating a corporation under his own name in New York.

J. H. Jones, one of two persons tried in county court Saturday, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of theft and was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in jail by Judge John L. Dibrell, Jr.

Jones was accused of stealing a radio. He claimed he was intoxicated when the alleged theft occurred.

James Preston Dennoh, charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicants, was fined $100 and costs.

LOCAL HEALTH REPORT

Corrective Action Taken In Schools

Among the fruits of the health program in Big Spring schools last year have been corrective measures for various defects.

This is disclosed in the report by Mrs. Louise Horton, B. N., school nurse, to the school board. She pointed out that the program not only included a check for vision, hearing and dental defects, tuberculosis tests and immunizations in one quarter. They also include the beginning of a cumulative health record on each child.

During the year 2,844 children were screened in vision. The 497 notices sent to parents resulted in 193 children being fitted with glasses. Six children had defects which couldn't be corrected by glasses. The Lions club sponsored 24 examinations and Kiwanians 13.

Hearing tests were given 2,198 children, resulting in 263 notices to parents. Of this number, 98 were checked by doctors, and 49 were found to have defective hearing which treatment could correct or help. After 29 had wax impactions removed, they heard normally. Three had defects which couldn't be corrected.

There were 2,408 children given dental inspections. The 1,046 notices to parents resulted in 118 children completing dental work. Numbers had teeth filled, and many more are planning on work this summer. Names of 115 children who can't afford dental services were given the Rotary club as sponsor. The club, incidentally, had given 144 toothbrushes to youngsters who had none.

Tuberculin tests were given on a voluntary basis to 2,238 children with positive reaction from 90. Cards issued for a free chest x-ray resulted in 20 children and one teacher proceeding with diagnosis. Only four children showed questionable active childhood tuberculosis and one was recommended for sanatorium treatment.

The nurse taught a first aid course experimentally during the year. Success of the class led to a determination to continue and expand this service. Considerable health literature was distributed during the year.

As a result of the clinic at the Kate Morrison school, in cooperation with Dr. Nell Sanders, vaccinations totalled 95, diphtheria-pertussis 55, diphtheria toxoid 10, booster diphtheria-pertussis 55.

Dr. O'Brien will introduce pastors of all Howard county churches as well as Dr. McKenzie. A 15-minute "sing-song" will precede the principal address.

Special emphasis will be placed on youth of the county during the temperance meeting. Dr. O'Brien said. Front center section of the auditorium will be reserved for young people.

Dr. McKenzie, who is to "give an intelligent, sane discussion of why liquor should not be sold legally", is a former Baptist pastor, having served a number of Texas churches. His last pastorate was at the University Baptist Church, Austin.

Singing for the meeting will be led by Billy Rudd, educational director of the East Fourth Baptist Church. Accompanist will be Mrs. H. M. Jarratt. The meeting is sponsored by the Howard county organization of United Texas Drys.

More Wolfcamp Signs Sighted In O'Daniel

More signs of the possible discovery of oil and gas production from the Wolfcamp section of the lower Permian have been developed at Shell Oil Company No. 1 O'Daniel, Northeast Howard County wildcat, seven miles northeast of Coahoma.

The latest show came in a two hour drillstem test at 6,205-40 feet. There was a weak blow of air for a part of the period.

No gas or fluid came to the surface while the tool was open. Recovery was 170 feet of heavily acid drilling mud and 650 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud.

There was a trace of drilling water of low salt content in the 850 feet of oil and gas cut mud. However the salt content was about the same as the mud in the pits—and that causes interested observers to the thought that the water is not from the formation.

The prospect is drilling deeper. It is located 1,977 feet from west and 656 feet from south lines of section 2, block 30, TP survey, F-1-N.

The first show of oil and gas in the Wolfcamp in No. 1 O'Daniel, was in a 90-minute drillstem test at 6,170-6,205 feet. Recovery was 600 feet of oil, 90 feet of oil cut mud, and 270 feet of drilling mud, with a slightly salty taste.

Some of the recovered fluid was unloaded while the drill pipe was being pulled.

This venture is contracted to 9,000 feet to test the Ellenburger unless it makes an oil well before reaching that formation.

In northwestern Mitchell county, testing was due to be undertaken in the J. W. Murchison No. 1 Womack, which had a false alarm

Strawn Producer In Kent To Final

Sun Oil Company is preparing to complete its No. 1 D. G. Sampson, Central Kent County exploration, as the second producer from the Strawn line in the Clearmont-Pennsylvanian field.

This well flowed 24 hours through a 13-64ths inch tubing choke, and produced 201.62 barrels of 32.3 gravity oil and no water.

Flowing tubing pressure was 500 pounds. Casing pressure was 585 pounds. Shalokent was two-tenths of one per cent sediment and one per cent drilling mud.

The production is natural from open hole in the top of the Strawn at 6,746-61 feet.

This new producer is 600 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block 99, H&TC survey, and one location east of the General Crude Oil Company No. 1-A Percy Jones. The discovery well of the Clearmont-Pennsylvanian field.

Operator is moving off the drilling rig and will take potential and complete No. 1 Sampson.

Water Group To Make Special Study Of Rights

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—The Texas Water Code Committee Saturday authorized three subcommittees to make special studies and report back by mid-September.

Committee No. 1 will study the basic law of water rights of people holding land adjacent to or near streams, appropriate rights, and the problems of pollution. Appropriate amendments of the law on these subjects will be recommended. Senator Rogers Kelly of Edinburg, chairman of the main committee, reported.

Committee No. 2 will study and make recommendations for revision of the administration law pertaining to water.

Committee No. 3 will study proposed amendments to the law and the constitution to make it easier to provide additional stored water and to protect as far as possible the rights of Texas citizens to their water streams.

"Baby" Tornado Hits Pecos Area

PECOS, June 10. (SC)—A "baby" tornado hit here Friday night at 7 o'clock breaking down power lines and scattering a few roofs over the area.

Rayman Pouncey, owner of Pouncey Motors, hasn't estimated damage caused to his building when the roof of adjoining building was hurled by the wind into his display room windows.

The tornado dipped down again a mile to the north and demolished the chicken house on the property of Toots Farnum.

No persons were reported injured in the tornado.

Pecos received 9 inches of rain with a trace of hail following the storm.

Nuevo Laredo Reports 59,247 Population

MEXICO CITY, June 10. (AP)—Nuevo Laredo has a population of 59,247 this year, the Census Department reported Saturday.

Sabinas Hidalgo, south of Nuevo Laredo on the road to Monterrey, has 12,337.

in the Ellenburger. On an 80-minute test in the Ellenburger from the top at 8,274-8,238 with 1,500-foot water blanket, the blanket and 822.2 barrels of sulphur returned. There were no shows of oil or gas. Initially the test was reported to have kicked out at 8,338. Plug back will be at 7,960 for testing from 7,885-7,760 in Pennsylvanian lime. Electric log indicated some fluid, but probably not much. Location is 660 from east and 2,184 feet from north lines of section 651, block 97, H&TC survey, and 15 miles northwest of Snyder.

Lion Oil Company No. 2 Zelms will be drilled on the northwest edge of the Diamond M-Canyon pool, 14 miles southwest of Snyder. Location is 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south line of section 147, block 25, H&TC survey.

Two projects are scheduled for the Kelley-Snyder field, Ohio Oil Company No. 3 M. A. Carden is stated 467 feet from north and west lines of southwest quarter of section 293, block 97, H&TC survey, five miles northwest of Snyder.

L. M. Lockhart No. 9, H. H. Rosch has been staked five miles north of Snyder and 2,522 feet from north and 885 feet from west lines of section 178, block 3, H&GN survey.

All four explorations will be drilled with rotaries to an approximate depth of 7,000 feet.

Operations Slowed In Reinecke Area By Heavy Weekend Rains

Weather slowed operation in the Reinecke area of southeastern Borden at the end of the week. Heavy weekend rains sent Wildhorse and Morgan creeks up and mired roads.

Livermore No. 1 Holley, in the northeast corner of section 52-25, H&TC, was to acidize from pay ton at 6,885 to 6,928 and complete. It had flowed an estimated 25 barrels per hour. Another test due for completion was Rutherford No. 1 Holley, two locations west of Corden No. 1-A Holley, the diagonal southwest offset to the discovery. The zone from pay top at 6,887-6,941 was to have been tested on a potential run Saturday.

Corden took a two-hour flow as basis for its potential and got a rating of 2,574 barrels per day natural through 3-4-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 1.261:1; tubing pressure 1,300 pounds and casing pressure 1,300 pounds. Gravelly was 88, top of pay 6,705 and bottom of hole 6,813. This well is highest to date in the pool with a datum minus of 4,358. Location is 660 from the north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 52-25, H&TC.

Corden No. 2-A Holley, west offset to the No. 1-A, was at 2,340 feet with pipe set. Other tests on the Holley section showed: Pan American No. 1 Holley, top pay 6,795, losing circulation 6,842; Magnolia No. 1 Holley, 1,800 in redbeds; Chapman & McFarlin No. 1 Holley below 5,006 feet.

Other tests underway in the area included Corden No. 1 McNeil, two locations east of the discovery and in section 53, below 4,887; Livermore No. 3 Whitaker, east offset to the No. 1, moving in; Pan American No. 1 McNeil (Boyd) 330 from the south and west lines of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 53-25, H&TC, location directly west of abandoned Sweet No. 1 McNeil. Castleman & O'Neil No. 3-A Griffin in section 51-25, H&TC, drilled past 6,505. Rutherford No. 2-B Griffin, section 58-25, got below 6,028. A mile south of production, Wheelock Weinschel No. 1 Schilling, C NW SE section 44-25, H&TC, was below 5,600.

During the week Standard of Texas staked its No. 1-I Griffin, 467 from the south and east lines of section 60-25, H&TC, a west offset to the Rutherford No. 1-B Griffin and a north offset to the Castleman & O'Neil No. 1-A Griffin, mile and a quarter west extender for the Reinecke area.

Double Strawn Pay Developed

Sunray Oil Corporation No. 1 L. S. Sentell, one of the first producers in the North Snyder Strawn field of Central Scurry County, is now dually producing from two pay zones in the Strawn.

The B Zone, also productive in two Standard Oil Company of Texas wells slightly north, has been perforated and is now producing through the casing.

Perforations are at 7,390-7,408 feet. From this zone the No. 1 Sentell potentiated naturally for 305 barrels of 38.1-gravity oil daily through a one-half inch choke.

Previously the No. 1 Sentell has been producing from open hole at 7,494-7,508 feet. When it was completed in October, it was not permitted to dually complete.

The lower zone is being produced through the tubing and upper, or B Zone, is flowing through the casing.

The No. 1 Sentell is 467 feet from north and west lines of the lease in section 27, block 1, J. P. Smith survey, and five miles northeast of Snyder.

Midland Prospector Nears Ellenburger; Higher Pay Shown

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 Parks, Central-West Midland County wildcat, 11 1-4 miles southwest of the city of Midland, and 600 feet from north and 2,180 feet from west lines of section 10, M. Daugherty survey is on a total depth of 12,900 feet in Simpson lime and shale.

This prospector is expected to find the Ellenburger in the next 100 feet—possibly higher.

It has already shown for flowing production from the Pennsylvanian lime and has also indicated possibilities from the Fuselman.

It is high to the Texas Company No. 1 Scharbauer, discovery for a small production from the Ellenburger to open the Warfield field, four miles north and a little west, and many interested operators expect it to produce from the Ellenburger.

Two Shallow Tests Staked In Sterling

Two shallow tests in the Durham pool 2 1/2 miles south of Sterling have been spotted.

Norflit Petroleum Corp. No. 4 D. C. Durham will be located 330 from the south and west lines of section 18-12, SPRR. It will be a cable tool operation to maximum depth of 2,600.

M&M Production Co. No. 3 D. D. Durham will be 1,650 from the west and 330 from the north lines of section 19-12, SPRR, also a 2,000-foot cable tool test. This pool produces in the 1,400-1,500-foot zone.

Upper Ellenburger To Be Tested In Northwestern Martin Wildcat

A retainer has been set at 13,333 feet on the Texas Company No. 1-X State, wildcat in Northwest Martin County, and it is presumed operators are plugging back to test production possibilities in the upper portion of the Ellenburger.

Extended testing and acidizing from 13,333 feet and total depth of 13,450 feet have proved that section void of production.

Operators possibly will perforate and test a section from 13,110-331 feet, from which 4,094 feet of clean oil was recovered on a drillstem test.

The No. 1-X State is 660 feet from north and 1,360 feet from east lines of section 17, block 7, University survey, and 11 miles north of the Mabee pool.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E-B George W. Glass, Southwest Marlin County wildcat to 13,300 feet to explore the Ellenburger, had reached 8,915 feet in sand and shale, and was making more hole.

It had some slight shows of oil and gas in the Spraberry sand of the Permian, but tests on those shows failed to develop any possibilities of production.

It is 12 miles north of Midland, 18 miles west of Stanton and 1,860 feet from north and east lines of section 13, block 39, TP survey, T-1-N.

Spartan Drilling, et al No. 1 Mrs. Ida Wolcott, 13 miles north-west of Leonora, progressed to 10,607 feet in Permian lime and shale. This test, located 5,864 from the west and 1,473 from the north lines of league 251, Ward CSI, had some returns of gas and oil and gas-cut mud from 9,214-9,329.

Dawson Deep Pool Gets 2 Locations

A brace of locations have been announced for southeastern Dawson's Spraberry area. Two tests waited on rig to complete.

Seaboard No. 9-D Spraberry will be 1,850 from the east and 660 from the south lines of section 38-34-5n, T&P. It is a rotary operation projected to 7,000 feet and already drilled to 2,960.

Seaboard spotted its No. 9-D W. J. Standfield 660 from the south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 37-34-5n, T&P. It also will begin immediately.

During the week Fred Manning No. 1 D. Huddle, 1,980 from the north and west lines of section 11-36-5n, T&P, spudded. It is a Spraberry test 1 1/2 miles southwest of Lamesa.

In the Spraberry pool 15 1/4 miles southeast of Lamesa, Seaboard No. 1-D-A Jeter was bottomed at 6,700 feet in side tracked hole and was running tubing. It is in the southeast quarter of section 36-34-5n, T&P.

Seaboard No. 5-D Shafter, in the northwest quarter of section 40-34-5n, T&P, was below 5,384 feet, east quarter of section 37-34-5n, T&P drilled at 6,613 feet.

Seaboard No. 1-D Woodward, northeast quarter section 47-34-5n, T&P, and Seaboard No. 2-D Spraberry, southeast quarter section 37-34-5n, T&P, waited on rig.

Location Staked In Vealmoor Area

One new location was staked in the Vealmoor pool last week.

It will be the Seaboard No. 13 H. N. Zant, 660 from the south and west lines of section 28-32-5n, T&P, projected to 8,000 feet. This is an inside location but on the central east side of the pool.

One location to the north, Seaboard No. 12 Zant drilled past 7,565 feet. Seaboard No. 2 Clanton, 660 from the north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 33-32-5n, T&P, was below 6,700. This is on the south edge of production.

Goldston Oil No. 1 Akin Simpson moved in for its east offset to Seaboard's No. 1 Simpson, which jumped a mile and a half south of Vealmoor production. It is 600 from the north and west lines of section 46-32-5n, T&P. There were reports that Seaboard would spot another test in the vicinity.

Livermore, et al No. 1 Dr. W. B. Harty, which had been watched rather closely, passed the point where most had anticipated a reef possibly. It was at 8,212 feet in shale. It is 12 miles north of Big Spring and in the southeast quarter of section 33-31-2n, T&P.

Hutto Is Averaging Barrel Oil Per Hour

Stanford No. 1 Hutto, eastern Howard prospector in the Wolfcamp, continues to pump at the rate of about one barrel per hour.

On the last report, this venture pumped 25 barrels of oil in 24 hours, 14 per cent basic sediment and water. The zone is 7,370-7,430 through perforations where 3,000 gallons of acid were injected. Location is in the southeast corner of section 4-31-1s, T&P.

Four Reef Tests Due In Scurry

Four explorations have been scheduled for immediate drilling in the reef pools of Scurry County.

In the Cogdell field, almost on the Kent County line, The Texas Company will drill its No. 43, P. L. Fuller. Drillsite is 723 feet from east and 2,184 feet from north lines of section 651, block 97, H&TC survey, and 15 miles northwest of Snyder.

Lion Oil Company No. 2 Zelms will be drilled on the northwest edge of the Diamond M-Canyon pool, 14 miles southwest of Snyder. Location is 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south line of section 147, block 25, H&TC survey.

Two projects are scheduled for the Kelley-Snyder field, Ohio Oil Company No. 3 M. A. Carden is stated 467 feet from north and west lines of southwest quarter of section 293, block 97, H&TC survey, five miles northwest of Snyder.

L. M. Lockhart No. 9, H. H. Rosch has been staked five miles north of Snyder and 2,522 feet from north and 885 feet from west lines of section 178, block 3, H&GN survey.

All four explorations will be drilled with rotaries to an approximate depth of 7,000 feet.

Two Wells Verge On Completion

Two wells in the Good pool of southwest Borden county were on the verge of completion at the end of the week.

Seaboard & Pan-American No. 14 Good, 1,989 from the north and 1,989 from the east lines of section 37-33-4n, T&P, was hooking up flow lines. Bottom of hole is 8,189 feet. Top of pay was 7,920 (datum minus 5,330). Location is on the central-east side of the pool.

Seaboard & Pan-American No. 18 Good, on the northwest edge of production, was bottomed at 8,237 feet. Operators shut in and hooked up flow lines. It is located in the northeast corner of section 36-33-4n, T&P.

Comdor Petroleum No. 4-38 Good, in the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 38-33-4n, T&P, was at 8,106 feet. Top of pay was 8,148 (datum minus 5,550).

Seaboard & Pan-American No. 17 Good, 660 from the north and 1,994 from the west lines of section 48-33-4n, T&P, drilled at 8,240 feet. It was reported previously that the venture was to acidize. The reef had been topped at 8,062 (minus 5,488) which was high compared to an east offset. However, it has been lacking in porosity. Seaboard & Pan-American No. 19 Good, on the northeast corner of the pool and 1,988 from the east and 660 from the north lines of section 37-33-4n, T&P passed 5,193 feet.

Seven miles north and slightly east, Don Ameche No. 1 Johnson hooked up 9,343 feet in lime and chert. It is located 660 from the east and 678 from the west lines of the northwest quarter of section 45-32-5n, T&P.

Howard Explorations Are Making Progress

WEEK'S OIL REVIEW

Pipeline Shares With Oil Strikes

SAN ANGELO, June 10.—Completion of a Clear Fork discovery in Crane county, flow from a Palo Pinto discovery in Runnels and planned construction of an 80-mile trunk line hooking onto the gathering system of Scurry county by Pan American Pipe Line Co., dominated West Texas oil news the past week.

Two miles southeast of Winters in Runnels county, Vincent & Welch, Inc., of Midland No. 1 P. M. Davis, Palo Pinto discovery, flowed naturally 12 1/4 barrels of oil hourly for five hours. Flow was through perforations from 3,880-410 feet in the Palo Pinto, topped at 3,585 feet. Location is 1,330 from south, 330 feet from east line of H&TC survey 329.

Humble Pipeline Co. is asking bids next week for a six-inch pipeline, about 30 miles in length, from its Ballinger pump station to its Odum "C" lease in the south portion of the Fort Chadbourne field. Smaller lines will extend from the Odum "C" lease to wells in the field in Runnels and Coke counties.

Contract has been let to Brown and Root, Houston, by the Pan American Pipe Line Co., for an 80-mile long 10 3/4-inch trunk line connecting with its six-inch gathering system in Scurry. The line will extend south from Scurry through Mitchell, Sterling and Tom Green counties into Irion where crude oil will be delivered to Humble Pipeline Co. The oil will then be transported to the Gulf Coast. The same firm will build an 800-horsepower pump station north of Colorado City. Pan American now gathers about 10,000 barrels of oil daily in Scurry, making delivery to the Basin Pipe Line System at a point near Colorado City. The oil currently is being sent to the Chicago area.

A link test between the Diamond M and Kelley (Canyon) field in Scurry county is preparing to complete through casing perforations between top of the reef at 6,755 and total depth at 6,929 feet. Skelly No. 1 T. L. Woodson is 467 feet from the south and east lines of the east 120 acres of the north 240 acres of section 25-97-H&TC. Skelly spotted a north offset to the indicated link, No. 2 T. L. Woodson being 467 feet out of northeast corner of section 25-97-H&TC, seven miles northwest of Snyder.

N'west Borden Wildcat Staked

Gulf Oil Corporation has staked an Ellenburger wildcat in Central-Northwest Borden County, four miles east of the one-well Borden-Ellenburger pool.

Gulf No. 1 Clayton-Johnson will be 660 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 40, block 31, T-6-N, T&P survey.

Strated depth is 9,750 feet, which should test all formations down to and including the Ellenburger.

The proposed venture is to be drilled on a block of 8,320 acres. Drillsite is two and one-half miles east of a dry hole drilled by Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware to a total depth of 8,408 feet, in the Pennsylvanian.

Operations are to begin by June 12.

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—University of Texas baseballers will get together again Monday to begin workouts preparatory to defense of their national collegiate championship.

Education For Negro Erupts Into Billion Dollar Problem For South

By CHARLES BARRETT
 ATLANTA, June 10. (AP) — Equal education for Negroes is a volcano on which the South slept for half a century.

The volcano has erupted into a billion-dollar problem.

One billion dollars is the best available estimate of the total difference between educational facilities for whites and Negroes in 17 southern and border states today — from kindergarten through college.

The figure raises a cloud for the South in the wake of U. S. Supreme Court decisions this week.

The high court ruled unanimously and emphatically, in Texas and Oklahoma cases, that states must provide education for Negroes equal in every way to that for white persons.

If separate Negro facilities are not truly equal, said the court, then Negroes must be admitted to white institutions.

Actually, of course, that's no new idea. Southern states themselves enacted laws demanding equality back in reconstruction days.

The problem is that little was done about it for so long. In recent years some states have started big problems to meet the issue. But there's still far to go for the South as a whole.

Each time the Supreme Court flashes its red warning signals, enforcing equality, uneasiness spreads across the South. More than a dozen equality suits are pending in southern states.

What can the South do?

Senator Johnston (D-SC) said this week, "It's obvious that South Carolina cannot afford to provide separate and equal school facilities for both races."

It's also obvious that South Carolina isn't ready to integrate the races in schools and colleges.

Said editor Ralph McGill in the Atlanta Constitution: "We should have known that we could not solemnly pass laws and then cynically and cruelly ignore them and get away with it forever. Certainly there were vast discriminations. There still are. We are caught in the trap of our own laws."

Increasing the headaches, the South's white schools are superior to Negro schools, but below the average for the nation; the South is the region least able to pay for either.

Interviews with educators and other objective leaders this week indicated these are some of the answers that will develop:

First, some racial barriers will fall in college graduate education. More and more states will admit Negroes to white medical schools, and such.

The cost of providing duplicate graduate facilities for Negroes in each field in each state is all but prohibitive. And even if the money is raised, personnel simply isn't available to staff Negro schools in such fields.

Second, there will be little if any quick breakdown of segregation at the undergraduate college level — and absolutely none in public grade schools in the South.

But to preserve segregation, lagging states will speed sharply their equalization of Negro schools.

Many southerners think if real progress is shown toward equalization, Negroes will go easy on court demands for immediate, one-sweep equality.

One of the region's best qualified experts, who said he could not be quoted by name on such a controversial question, put it this way: "Segregation has a price tag. The South probably will buy all it can. But in the highest fields of education it just can't be bought."

Dr. George Mitchell, executive director of the Southern Regional Council, an inter-racial group promoting equality, saw two dangers if the South fights for segregation by raising huge sums to provide complete, separate college facilities for Negroes:

1. Courts could declare, as in the Texas case, the separate facility still is not truly equal. He viewed the chance of courts finding real equality in most cases "very slim."

2. Or the Supreme Court some day still could wipe out segregation itself as unequal and illegal, an issue the court did not answer this week.

In either case, he said, millions would have been spent in a fruitless effort.

County Less Than Half-Way To Bond Quota

With less than a month to go, Howard county is less than half-way toward achieving its E Bond quota for the Independence Drive.

Through June 2, the latest complete figures, the county total stood at 45,633.75, which is only 38.35 of the $119,000 quota assigned Howard county.

"A good start," said County Bond Chairman Ira L. Thurman, "but a long way from a success. I appeal to every person able to lay aside even a small amount — as well as larger amounts — to do his or her part in purchasing E bonds between now and July 4."

The Elks will have something to say about E bond purchases, too, in conjunction with their Flag Day program on Wednesday evening.

Here are the total E bond sales in the campaign thus far for several counties in this area, together with percentage of quota.

Borden, none and none; Coke, none and none; Dawson $18.75 and .12 of one per cent; Ector $842.50 and 8.8; Glasscock none and none; Martin $206.25 and 1.72; Mitchell $7,961.25 and 21.81; Midland $14,218.06 and 8.67; Nolan $9,367.50 and 74.21; Scurry $1,893.75 and 3.4; Sterling 1,667.50 and 22.12; Taylor $235,406 and 29.89; Tom Green $34,597.50 and 13.73.

Gas Range Prize Offered In Contest

Someone will earn a gas range for explaining why they like to live in Big Spring.

The makers of the Magic Chef gas ranges and General Mills, manufacturers of Gold Medal flour, are sponsoring the contest in conjunction with several local business firms.

Entrants start with the statement of "I like to live in Big Spring because—" and in 25 more words (or less) give their reasons. The superintendent of schools, president of the junior college and president of the chamber of commerce have been named as a committee to judge the contest.

The Magic Chef to be awarded will be on display at cooperating stores during life of the contest. The promotion is designed to encourage shopping in this area. Grocery stores have entry blanks.

Former Chaplain Named Head Of U. S. Presbyterians

MASSANETTA SPRINGS, Va., June 10. (AP) — A World War one field artillery chaplain and former Rhodes scholar is the new moderator of the Presbyterian church in the United States.

He is Dr. Benjamin Rice Lacy, Jr., president of Union Theological Seminary in Richmond.

Dr. Lacy was elected unanimously Thursday night at the opening of the southern church's 90th general assembly.

325,000,000

Half Of World Is Counted In Census

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP) — Half of the new world's population has been counted so far this year in the first hemisphere census in history. Dr. Calvert Dedrick of the U. S. Census Bureau said Saturday.

On the basis of returns to date, the human inventory of North, South and Central America is expected to show a total of about 325,000,000, slightly higher than first estimated.

Dr. Dedrick said that although no final figures have been released yet by any country, the United States, Mexico, Guatemala, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Nicaragua and Honduras have virtually finished their count.

Brazil will begin its census July 1, followed by Haiti and the Dominican Republic in August. Bolivia, Colombia, Panama, Paraguay and Peru in September and Ecuador and Venezuela in November.

Uruguay will take its census in 1951, and Cuba in 1952. Argentina, which conducted its last census in 1947, has decided to skip the 1950 count.

"According to current estimates, Latin America is the fastest growing population in the world," Dr. Dedrick told a reporter.

He estimated that when the 1960 census is taken, Latin America will be ahead of the United States. At present, they are about evenly divided in new world population, each with roughly 150,000,000.

"Latin America is increasing its population at the rate of about 3,000,000 a year, while the U. S. is growing about 2,000,000 annually," Dr. Dedrick, coordinator of international statistics for the Bureau of Census, U. S. Department of Agriculture, said.

The history-making census—first ever taken in Ecuador, first in over 40 years in Bolivia and Uruguay—will provide government and business heretofore unobtainable information about population, housing, agriculture, industry, business, resources and needs.

IT'S A HONEY OF AN IDEA

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 10. (AP) — City Finance Director Allen P. Fierston came up with a honey of a scheme today to help finance Knoxville's proposed $5,000,000 civic center.

A swarm of bees has made its home in a hollow tree in city hall park, Fierston said the tree-hive will be robbed of honey next fall and he will ask for bids on the honey.

"Revenue from the sale of the honey will be applied to liquidation of civic center bonds," he said.

How SMOOTH can a ride be?

THAT'S a question well worth answering before you settle on your next automobile.

For what fun is there—what thrill—in a car that is prisoner to the city streets, slowed down by roads a Buick is built to take in stride?

So we'd like to show you just how much smoothness your money can buy. How levelly you float over cobbles and car tracks—over rutty gravel and wavy black-top—in this stunning traveler.

The car will be any Buick you prefer—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER. You can name the place —pick a spot or a stretch you know so that you can measure Buick's smoothness against your own experience — and we'll promise you a new sensation in riding comfort.

The time can be any time you want to arrange with your Buick dealer—who is ready to show with actual figures that "if you can afford a new car you can afford a Buick."

See him, will you, and treat yourself to some real comfort?

SEVEN POINTS OF THE WONDERFUL BUICK RIDE

1. Buick's smoothness starts with this body-in-frame.
2. A stout torque-tube serves like the keel of a battleship to steady the whole car.
3. Quiet-tube coil springs, the softest type ever known, let each wheel "step over" bumps individually, but on only the front wheels do so most often.
4. Low-pressure tires, mounted on Buick's own Safety-Ride rims, give firm traction, soft cushioning, less "heel-over" on curves.
5. Quick-action shock absorbers curb after-bounce promptly when you hit a bad bump.
6. Even the special way the engine is mounted buffers the ride by preventing vibration build-up.
7. Dynaflow Drive* adds a cushioning touch of silky smoothness by eliminating the check and jerk of gear-shifting and by fitting the engine's thrust through a cushion of oil.

* Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

Life need not be a sorry pilgrimage. Make it a glorious triumph. "Lift up your heads O ye gates . . . and the King of Glory shall come in."—Ps. 24:9.

Here's A Kind Of Automobile To Accomodate Our Parallel Parkers

The British have developed a new kind of motor car which goes backward as fast as it goes forward, and can also move sideways. It can be driven over plowed ground as well as on paved surfaces, and it's called the "Crab."

Well, we have been wishing for something like this. That sideways motion, for instance, should simplify the parallel parking problem no little, and the ability to run backward at ninety miles an hour would get a fellow out of many tight places. But why on earth would anybody want to drive a car over plowed fields?

Our idea of a practicable automobile would be an articulated one, so you could bend you way in and out of tight traffic corners.

But mostly we need a car that will stand up under the punishing conditions of modern traffic. If anybody ever invents a car with fenders that won't crumple, tires that won't get punctured occasionally, and a gasoline tank that never runs dry, we'll buy it sight unseen.

What this country really needs, though, is not better cars but better drivers. The modern automobile is a fine piece of mechanism, but it seldom gets good and safe handling. Very few accidents are caused by mechanical failure, maybe not even one in a thousand. Accidents are caused by reckless or inattentive driving, by high speed, by chame-taking, by violation of traffic rules and the laws of commonsense, by drunken driving, by countless human failures and weaknesses.

In a sense, the few mechanical failures that result in wrecks are caused by neglect of repairs and replacements, or from careless work, or from abuse of a perfectly good piece of machinery.

How to make our streets and highways safer is, next to survival in a world of wars, our Number One national problem. The country needs, first of all, uniform traffic laws, and more effective and realistic driver tests for the privilege of operating a motor vehicle on our public highways. And it needs relentless law enforcement against reckless driving.

What It Means—Clarke Beach

Soviet Unification Talk Has Hollow Ring To Germans

By CLARKE BEACH
THE WESTERN ALLIES' POSITION IN Germany has been strengthened by the new boundary agreement between the Soviet-dominated governments of Poland and East Germany.

Politicians in western Germany have had one fairly solid club to wield in their tussles with the occupation authorities: The implied threat that if the allies do not treat them right their people might swing over to the Russian side.

But now that the Russian puppet governments have agreed to slice off from Germany the 40,000 square miles of territory east of the Oder-Neisse River line, the Germans will be permanently alienated from the Soviet sphere. It is about as unforgivable a blow as the highly Nationalist Germans could have been dealt. Any more Soviet talk about the unification of Germany under the new conditions will have a very hollow ring to German ears.

THE U. S. STATE DEPARTMENT Thursday took full advantage of the situation, denying the legality of the land transfer. The American position since the Potsdam Agreement of 1945 has been that the Poles should administer the territory temporarily, but that the permanent boundary between Poland and Germany should not be settled until a peace treaty has been negotiated.

Thus the appeal to the Nationalistic instincts of a nation threatened by communism becomes again one of the strongest arguments on the side of the western democracies in their fight against Communist imperialism.

The mystery about the new land deal is why Russia chose to antagonize the Germans at this time by settling the issue, which she has used to her advantage ever since the war by playing off the Poles against the East Germans.

THE REGION HAS BEEN IN GERMAN hands for centuries, although the Poles held some of it in the Middle Ages. The Poles were given administration of the area after the war, when Russia took a slice of territory from eastern Poland.

About 5 million Poles were removed from that territory and resettled in the new German section, called by the Poles "the recovered lands." Since then almost 6 million Germans have been expelled from their homes east of the Oder and Neisse and have been thrown on the charity of occupied Germany.

One good guess as to Russia's motives is that she has concluded she will never win the allegiance of the Germans and that now is the time to solidify her position in Poland.

POLAND, STRATEGICALLY SITUATED as a buffer between Russia and the West, is being built up as an industrial nation and as the chief producer of steel in eastern Europe.

Russia is sending her own scarce industrial equipment to build up industries in Poland. The index of industrial production in Poland rose from 100 in 1938 to 180 in 1949. Between 1938 and 1948 Poland made greater gains in the process of industrialization than any other country in eastern Europe.

The possession of the so-called "recovered lands," which are largely industrialized, contributed to this progress.

Poland thus is becoming extremely valuable to the Soviet Union. This fact, and the new boundary development, throws an interesting light on a statement made April 17 by a high source at the Vatican in Rome.

He predicted that Russia is planning eventually to "unify" Poland with the Soviet Union, giving Poland the status of a Soviet republic.

South Must Consider Decision Before Building Negro Schools

WASHINGTON, (AP)—WHAT IS EQUAL? Finding the answer to that may not be easy for the southern states.

Still, they'll have to find the answer in order to give Negroes higher education opportunities equal to those of whites in their states.

The U. S. Supreme Court last week made it unmistakably clear that Negroes must get such equality.

If the southern states produce what they say is the answer, the Supreme Court is always in the position of having final say on whether it is or not. Negroes can always appeal to the court for decision.

A Texas Negro wanted to get into the University of Texas law school which was for whites only. He was turned down because he was a Negro.

HE FOUGHT THIS IN THE COURTS. Finally Texas set up a law school for Negroes. But this particular Negro said "no." He still wanted in at the U. of Texas law school for whites. Why?

Because, he said, the Negro school was inferior to the white one and therefore he was being deprived of an education equal to that which the white students were getting.

The Supreme Court — which repeatedly has ruled in the field of education and other things that Negroes must get equal treatment with whites — agreed with the Negro in this case.

First, the Supreme Court said the Texas Negro law school lacked the same size faculty, big library, variety of courses and other advantages of the white school.

tests for equality between white and Negro schools: The facilities, and the traditions and prestige.

Only time and a great many distinguished people can give any school traditions and prestige. A new school, naturally, doesn't have either when it's starting out.

If the court is going to consider any new Negro school unequal to its white counterpart because it lacks the latter's "traditions and prestige," then how can a new Negro school ever be considered equal to an old-established white school of high standing?

THAT'S A QUESTION FOR THE South to consider before it starts spending money on new schools for Negroes, since getting up separate schools for Negroes in higher education is a costly project.

In recent years southerners have been moving toward the idea of setting up large regional schools for Negroes to give them what white southerners consider equal education.

But there's a possibility the Supreme Court would not accept that idea, if a Negro tried to test it by bringing suit to the high court. This is why:

In 1938 the University of Missouri law school refused to let in a Negro, because he was a Negro, but offered to pay his tuition in a school in some other state.

THE COURT RULED OUT THAT IDEA this way: A state doesn't have to supply any of its residents with legal education but, if it does for the whites, as Missouri was doing, it must do the same for its Negro citizens.

And the court added: If a state gives privileges — but separately to whites and Negroes — those privileges must be equal. And, the court said, telling a Negro to go to another state is denying him equal rights in his own state.

Court Decisions Bring Angry Cries As Texas Still Seeks The Tidelands

With no advance warning, the United States Supreme Court took a deep breath, huffed and puffed, blew down from their high pedestals three decisions which rocked Texans, and the nation, for a loop.

First, and perhaps most important, the court gave the federal government clear title to the offshore oil-rich Tidelands in the Gulf of Mexico. These lands are adjacent to both Texas and Louisiana. The 4-3 decision against the state was a blow and Texas officials appealed to Congress to pass the bill now before the House Judiciary Committee giving the state title to the submerged lands from the shore to a distance of 10 miles out. Texas claims this right because of conditions under which it entered the union.

One Texan even went so far as to ask the state to unite and then divide into five states of "Texas" as stated in the conditions of the state's entry into the union. Then, he reasoned, with five states' senators and congressmen, maybe we can win back the Tidelands.

In another equally unexpected decision, the court ordered the University of Texas to admit Herman Marion Sweatt to its law school. The judges, in an 8-0 verdict, said no equal facilities exist for Negroes to attend law school, refused their request that it strike down a 54-year-old legal doctrine that segregation is permissible under the Constitution if Negroes are provided "separate but equal facilities."

Chief Justice Vinson said it was not necessary to rule in this

CHIEF JUSTICE VINSON

Justice request to decide the cases. The result is that an 1898 Supreme Court decision on which the separate-but-equal doctrine is based, still stands.

But despite the narrowness, then, of these decisions, there can be no doubt that the racial barrier has been lowered more than in any previous period. And the prospect appears for more future lowering of these barriers.

The high court decisions may have been our top news, but other events, such as probes still went along relentlessly — and in one case appeared to involve a man who can no longer defend himself.

Former Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal, was brought into the Amerasia probe case. Now dead, the late Forrestal's name was injected into the probe when Senate investigators reported they received secret testimony that advised delaying arrests in the case in 1945.

Sen. Knowland (Rep.-Calif.) asked that Forrestal's diary be investigated. The Senator wants to know why a delay was advised. Reportedly, such a delay was requested since the UN conference was going on at that time in San Francisco, and Forrestal did not want to cause any friction with Russia.

In another probe, Senate investigators were looking at a report of a powerful underworld ring which is supposed to be reaping riches from the misery of at least 50,000 drug addicts.

Another probe, only this time non-political, was going into the crash of a C-46 plane off the coast of Florida in which 28 persons lost their lives. Navy and Coast Guard units saved 27 other persons.

Topping the international front was a story from Tokyo that General MacArthur appeared headed for a showdown fight with Japanese Reds after purging 41 from public life. His primary target was the expulsion of 17 policy makers of the bombastic party newspaper Aka-ha.

A West German proposal that a federal police force be set up in the Western zone received a chilly reception from high Allied officials.

fers from Gen. Bradley's testimony before a congressional committee urging such a rearmament move.

On the home front, primaries took over the political spotlight, especially in California where Governor Earl Warren won an overwhelming vote for a Republican renomination. However, Warren, a former vice-presidential candidate, did not capture the Democratic nomination as he did a few years ago in the state's peculiar cross-filing setup.

Other primary results included the upset of Sen. Chan Gurney of South Dakota who was seeking the renomination from fellow Republican, Rep. Francis Case. In New Mexico, Rep. John F. Miles took the Democratic nomination from Judge David Chavez, brother of Sen. Dennis Chavez. Iowa voters again backed Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper for the GOP nomination.

That nomination, the Democratic, went to a Roosevelt — James — who some Democrats believe can upset the veteran Warren in November. Though the GOP candidate rolled up an impressive margin in the overall vote, the opposition pointed to a growing tide of Democratic votes for Roosevelt.

President Truman this week traveled to his home state of Missouri where he spoke at the commentaries exercises of the University of Missouri. Truman received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree and was initiated into Phi Beta Kappa, scholastic honorary.

The Senate received a committee-drafted version of the draft bill. The proposed measure would allow the President to induct men if he deems it necessary.

On the local front, two Big Spring men were killed and another seriously injured when their car collided with a meat van near Sweetwater.

Mrs. Barbara Reagan, long-time civic and religious leader, died Tuesday. She was 78.

Two wildcat wells northeast of here showed in oil tests. They were the Shell No. 1 E. T. O'Daniel and the J. W. Murchison No. 1 Womack wells.

As Tools Get More Efficient, Employment Gets Better, Too

If you will join me today in a little discourse on the fundamentals of economics, I am going to use the scissors and cut out a piece from "How We Live," written by Fred G. Clark and Richard S. Rimanoczy and published by D. Van Nostrand Co., Inc. The American Economic Foundation has authorized reprints.

The selection is called "Tools Multiply Man's Energy," and reads as follows: Man works (that is, produces goods and services) by applying his energy (muscular and mental) to natural resources with the aid of tools.

The quantity and quality of the goods and services produced depends upon the quantity and quality of man's energy and the effectiveness of his tools.

In the human hand man possessed the key to all tools. He produced pounding tools such as clubs and hammers. He produced cutting tools such as axes and knives. He produced throwing tools such as slings and bows. He produced lifting tools such as levers and hoists. He produced carrying tools involving the wheel and sail.

Thousands of years later, he discovered that the energy of vapor from boiling water could replace muscular energy in driving these tools.

Every one of these developments had but one purpose—to change the form, condition or place of natural resources with less expenditure of time and human energy.

The usefulness of each tool is measured by the amount of time and energy it saves; but the increase in the quantity and/or the quality of the goods and services that can be produced through its use.

Without tools, human life is possible, but without them the improvement of man's material welfare would have been impossible.

Thus, man's material progress started with the progress of his tools. It progressed only as the quantity and quality of his tools progressed.

—End quote.
And if you subscribe to this basic philosophy of what makes production tick, you will not be able to agree with one local citizen who offered the viewpoint that a change-over to dial telephone systems in Big Spring would be uneconomical from a community standpoint because a number of operators would be thrown out of work.

Well, nobody wants to throw good workers out of their jobs, but I believe economic history will show that material progress goes on as tools are improved, just like the book says.

My Dad — a pioneer printer — recalls that when the automatic type-setting machine, popularly known as the Linotype, came into being that all the people in the trade were vastly alarmed that no more printers would be needed.

There are more printers needed today than there ever were, and the process is getting more "automatic" all the time. I wonder what would have happened to the gasoline business if everybody had clung to the horse and buggy and refused to adopt the automobile, on the theory that some livery stable people would lose jobs.

I don't have any figures at hand, but of course the telephone system has continuously employed more and more people, and will continue to. Technological progress has always meant better employment and more productive employment. The telephone case, in event it ever does come up for relevant discussions, ought to be pitched on a very different issue than this one. —BOB WHIPKEY.

World Divided Into Those Who Fish And Those Who Listen

NEW YORK, (AP)—THE WORLD TODAY is divided into two great classes—those who fish, and those who have to listen to those who fish.

I belong to the second class, and don't mind it at all. I'll give a big listen anytime to a brokenhearted fisherman's woes, and believe me this is the season of the big listen.

Fishing is hailed by its followers as the most democratic sport known. The country lad who drops a worm-baited bent pin into the water in search of a catfish is supposed to be linked in mystical fraternity with the tycoon who pays $100 a day to go to sea after the elusive tuna.

ACTUALLY, FISHING IS RIDDEN BY a caste system as complicated as that in India. I gave it up in 1937.

A friend and I were vacationing in Colorado. My thought was to drop a string into the brook that flowed by our bungalow.

"Why, tourists fish there," he said, as if that were a form of pollution.

So we hiked over a 10,000-foot mountain. We found a roaring brook apparently never visited before except by grizzly bears, forest rangers and a hungry colony of 2,785,816 mosquitos.

We dropped our lines and immediately I pulled out a long red-bellied trout.

"I'm quitting," I said, walking away. "This is too easy for a grown man."

"What fly did you use—a Back Dose or a Dusty Miller?" the friend asked. "I didn't use a fly. I used a piece of bacon."

"Bacon!" he screamed. "Bacon!" AND WHILE I READ COMFORTABLY in the tent until the sun went down my friend kept whipping the water until he had a dozen fine trout, none of which, unfortunately was large as my single . . . et . . . piscatorial prize.

We cooked and ate our supper in unbroken silence.

The next day there was no word between us as we went back up the mountain and down the other side. When we reached our bungalow my friend finally said:

"Why did you use bacon?" "To catch the fish."

"Don't you know no one used bacon to catch trout—no one? It isn't sporting."

"Does the trout know the difference?" I asked innocently.

The rest of our vacation he went fishing by himself, and I rode horseback with a young stenographer from Chicago.

Despite HST Tour Efforts, November Vote Up To States

WASHINGTON, (AP)—No clear national trend emerges from the week's primaries. The indications still are that despite President Truman's educational efforts this will be a normal off-year election decided on a state-by-state basis.

Most candidates can now be expected to follow even more faithfully their usual save-himself-who-can tactic. No real change can indeed be expected in this pattern until an administration nationalizes primaries by intervening decisively to secure the nominees of its choice.

Republicans can be encouraged by the Iowa returns. Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper dropped everything here for a hard campaign at home—and it paid off. His "incredible mismanagement" flop against David Lilienthal didn't hurt him; neither did his backstopping of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Whether they helped him is a question. Iowa sources suggest that the farmers there are swinging back to their traditional Republicanism—that this was the determining factor. The pro-Brannan Plan vote for the Democratic Senatorial nominee, Albert Loveland, is described as disappointing. It is said that the Republican primary left no scars but the Democratic primary did.

The California story is different. Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas made her candidacy a straight out test of the Fair Deal and damned McCarthyism in every speech she made during the concluding weeks of her campaign. She even defended the administration position that the federal government owns Tidelands all in the oil center of Long Beach. Long Branch then voted for her two to one.

Like Sen. Frank Graham in North Carolina, Mrs. Douglas never mentioned personalities but kept on talking about what she was for, not what she was against. She did not retreat from her record, she embraced it.

As with the McCarthy issue, she grasped firmly all the settlers. She brought up Florida and said it had no bearing on the California situation. Or her opponent, publisher Manchester Boddy, she said only that she was not discussing him—he would not be in the picture. She dwelt upon her differences with Rep. Richard M. Nixon of the House Un-American Activities Committee, who will be her Republican rival.

She was greatly cheered toward the end of her arduous barnstorming when a farmer in whose meadow she had parked her helicopter said to her: "Now Mrs. Douglas, don't knock yourself out. We'll be for you because you tell us what you're for, most politicians tell us they're against us."

The former actress is wholly unke in temperament the Yankee businesswoman, Margaret Chase Smith, whom Malie Republicans sent to the Senate. But their campaigning approach tallies exactly. Mrs. Smith too campaigned on her record and talked of it with candor and common sense.

The fact is that both Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. Smith are shrewd politicians as well as sincere and well-intentioned women. Both have principles based on knowledge and understanding of their own which include a very sound grasp of politics.

Hapless Cayuses Beaten In Twin Bill At Vernon

VERNON, June 10.—The Big Spring Broncos, skidded out of third place in Longhorn League standings by dropping a double header to the Vernon Dusters here Saturday night, 127 and 4-3.

HOT-ROD ACTION—Excitement such as the collision pictured here happens often in the hot-rod races, which take place every Sunday afternoon on the junk-car track two miles east of the city cemetery.

The spirited Cayuses jumped into a 3-0 lead in the second but, as usual, they couldn't stand prosperity. The Dusters had caught up as early as the third inning and went on to score what proved to be the winning run in the sixth on a squeeze play.

The loss was the eighth in nine starts for the Broncos, who go home today to face the surging Midland Indians at 3 p. m.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The usually mild-mannered Pat Stacy was more than a little sore over the treatment umpire Baird Hutchins gave Carlos (Potato) Pascual in Roswell last weekend. . . Pascual got the boot from the official for asking for a second ball, while pitching. . . None of the horse-hides referred to Pascual by the rookie arbiter were good, Potato lamented, and the second one Hutchins dug out of his pocket was worse than the first. . . Hutchins reasoned his dignity had been injured, however, so ordered Pascual into exile. . . For the life of us, we can't see the point in a batter doing a toe dance in the box once he gets a head of the pitcher and seeks to work him for a walk.

Baseball Attendance Slumps Here

Baseball attendance continues bad here, so bad that the Big Spring may some time in the not too distant future wake up and find itself without a professional club. . . True, the club hasn't been playing good ball but its record merits better support. . . The assertions of those who insisted that Big Spring would support only a winner are bearing out. . . That spiking injury suffered by Jorge Lopez in Roswell last week would have been prevented had Clyde Bell, the guilty party, slid into second, rather than try to come in standing up. . . Lopez is the second Big Spring player Bell has spiked. . . Observers say all Jesus Ully, the Bronc hurler, needs to become a great pitcher is more speed, which may come if he gains more weight. . . He's got a tricky curve ball. . . The Army football team will start playing all its home games at West Point, rather than in New York City, in the next few years.

Bellucose Coach Challenges Pancho

North Texas State Teachers college's gridders will open their 1950 season with Kentucky in Lexington on Sept. 16, quite an assignment for any team. . . The Eagles will also meet Arkansas at Fayetteville Sept. 30 and Fresno State at Fresno, Calif., Nov. 24. . . NTS-TC, by the way, is planning a football stadium seating 20,000 but no funds are in sight for it. . . The Denton school's golf team, now that we're on the subject, hasn't suffered defeat in a dual meet in three years. . . Bobby Maxwell of Big Spring is a member of the crack Eagle squad, which holds intersectional wins over Notre Dame, Army, Ohio State, Michigan and Arkansas. . . Twenty of Citation's victories were in races for purses totaling $10,000 or more. . . The City of San Francisco has reduced rental on its Kezar stadium to ten percent of the take. . . It was 15 percent. . . The municipality stands to make more money this fall, however, because the San Francisco 49ers are playing a more attractive home schedule. . . Pancho Perez, the ex-Big Spring, almost started a fight in an East Texas league game the other night only because he sought to be friendly. . . Pancho covered first base on a play and, on his way back to the hill, gave Coach Charlie Deal a friendly pat on the back. . . Deal wheeled belligerently and wanted to fight but was restrained by his teammates. . . The state junior golf tournament starts Tuesday, June 27, but probably no one will enter from here because it is to be held in Houston.

Y Books Full Softball Card

Minor changes have been made in the schedules for both the Y Church and Industrial softball leagues for the coming week. . . The three games Monday night in Church league activity sends Wesley Methodist against Northside Baptist, First Presbyterian against East Fourth Baptist and First Baptist against First Methodist in that order. . . On Tuesday night, Roundtop tangles with Texas and Pacific and McDonald Motor opposes Coahoma in Industrial league games. . . The Industrial loop holds the spotlight again Wednesday, at which time McDonald and Roundtop clash and Cosden squares away with Coahoma. . . Three games are booked in Church league play on Thursday, First Presbyterian faces First Methodist in the initial go, followed by a contest between Wesley Methodist and East Fourth Baptist, First Baptist and Northside Baptist tangle in the final engagement.

Oilers Oppose League Leaders

FORSAN, June 10.—The Forsan Oilers renew their drive to take over the Concho-Basin baseball league lead in a game here this afternoon with Robert Lee. . . The Oilers, backing Lefty Shelton's pitching to the hill, humbled Robert Lee several weeks ago on the latter team's home diamond. If Shelton is right today, they may do it again. . . Robert Lee shares the lead at the present time with Miles but Forsan has beaten both teams. The Oilers are one game off the pace.

KILGORE, June 10. (AP)—Defending Champion W. H. Womach was high aggregate scorer today in the sixth annual East Texas small bore rifle tournament. He had 1,590-98 for four matches. . . T. J. Patterson of Waco was second, 1,589-101.

Detroiters Regain Lead By Whaling Boston Sox

BOSTON, June 10. (U.S.)—The Detroit Tigers took over the slugging at Fenway Park today with 21 hits for 31 bases to crush the Boston Red Sox, 18-8, and capture the American League's top rung from the losing New York Yankees by a single percentage point.

The Tigers whaled Starter Ellis Kinder for seven runs in the fourth inning and clinched matters against him in the seventh when Vic Wertz and Hoot Evers banged homers.

The final Detroit blast was an eight-run explosion against Walt Masterson in the ninth on five hits, including a Johnny Groth triple with the bases loaded, three passes and an error.

Dizzy Trout started for the Tigers and gave way to Art Houtteman in the seventh. The first Boston counter was Ted Williams' 18th homer in the first inning.

It also was Williams' fifth four-bagger in four games and the club's 18th in their last five starts, one less than the major league record.

Groth also banged out four singles on his previous five trips to the plate and Gerry Priddy connected safely on four of his five tries.

Broncs Lose In Extra Inning Go To Vernon Contingent, 5 To 4

VERNON, June 10.—The Big Spring Broncs pulled their record on an extra inning game here Friday night, losing to the Vernon Dusters, 5-4, for the third time in four games.

The Hooses counted two runs in the eighth frame, but the Dusters came right back to tally three runs and walk away the decision.

Felix Gomez was the goat of the game, booting a ball to send in the winning tally after Larry Roach had tied the count with a single to center field.

The contest was to have been for seven innings but Big Spring plated a run in the seventh to send the engagement into overtime. A second game was called off due to rain.

Potato Pascual was charged with the loss after relieving Angelo Gonzales in the seventh.

The Steeds were limited to seven hits, two of which were off the bat of Manny Junco.

Middleground Shows A Return To Form

By JOHN CHANDLER
AP Staff

NEW YORK, June 10. — Texas, the largest state in the union, had the biggest horse today in the $91,000 Belmont Stakes as King Ranch's Middleground rambled to a brilliant victory over nine rivals including Hill Prince—the odds-on favorite.

It was a stunner for the crowd of 20,152 sweating customers who backed Hill Prince down to 17 to 20 favoritism then watched him finish seventh after setting the pace most of the way.

Middleground, the winner of the Kentucky Derby five weeks ago, was second choice this time. He came roaring down the stretch in a thrilling drive under 18-year-old Bill Boland to beat out George D. Widener's Lights Up by a length. C. V. (Sonny) Whitney's Mr. Trouble was third, losing second place by half a length in a photo finish, which showed Brandywine Stable's Greek Song fourth by a head.

Just as in the Derby, it was an all-Texas combination that carried away the top prize of $61,350 in this 82nd running of the Belmont—final event of the triple crown for three-year-olds.

Boland, Owner Robert J. Kleberg, Trainer Max Hirsch and Middleground II came from the Lone Star State, and the combination put the flashy Chestnut son of Bold Venture-Varguena smack back in the scramble for 1950 three-year-old championship honors.

Middleground, well rated by Boland through the first mile where he was fourth, didn't pull away until the final sixteenth in the grueling mile and one-half run. But you could see he was going to make it as the leaders hooped through the dust around the final turn and into the straight run for the wire.

The winner, clocked in a 2:28 3-5, brought his backers $7.40, $3.60 and $3.30.

Lights Up returned $7.50 and $5.50, while Mr. Trouble paid $4.70.

Clifford Moores' Hawley was fifth, Brookmeade Stable's Greek Ship was sixth, then Hill Prince, Hal Price Headley's Lotowhite, and Brookmeade's other entry, Sun

Glow bringing up the rear.

At the head of the stretch, peacocking Hill Prince tired and fell back. Lights Up took a brief lead near the eighth pole but Middleground came sailing on the outside past Mr. Trouble and about a sixteenth of a mile from the wire it was all Texas.

This was the eighth start, and only the second victory for Middleground this year. He was second to Hill Prince in the Preakness three weeks ago, and in the Wood Memorial in April before the Derby. He has been second six times this season.

Hawks Host Welch Nine In Tri-County Loop Bout

Tri-County baseball league assignments this afternoon will bring Welch to Big Spring to play Howard County Junior college and send Ackerly to Knapp. Coahoma draws the bye.

Welch trounced the HCJC gang last time out but the Jayhawks' lineup has been strengthened since then and the contest looms as a tossup.

A. J. Cain or Floyd Martin is due to hurl for the Big Springers in the absence of Howard Jones, who is vacationing in Kentucky.

Knapp is favored over the Ackerly gang but the Eagles could surprise. They played a very good game against HCJC recently.

Harold Davis, HCJC mentor, recently lost two good catchers in Joe Horton and Nino Lujan but his lineup has been strengthened at other positions.

Today's engagement here will get underway at 3:30 o'clock.

Currice Named Utah Mentor

SALT LAKE CITY, June 10. (U.S.) The University of Utah today named Jack C. Currice, coach at Texas Western College, El Paso, as its head coach and athletic director.

He replaces Ike Armstrong, who resigned after 25 years at Utah to accept the athletic directorship at the University of Minnesota.

Currice is an exponent of fast T-formation football. His Texas Western Miners were first in the nation in ground gaining last year, fourth in the total offense and 14th in defense.

He is expected to assume his duties about July 1.

Terms of Currice's contract were announced as three years and $10,000 a year. It was understood the coaching assistants at Utah will remain.

Prior to coaching at Texas Western, Currice, was at West Texas State, where he was named outstanding Border Conference coach in 1941.

Homers Give Reds Win Over Brooks

CINCINNATI, June 10. (U.S.)—Ted Klusowski homered in the ninth today to give Cincinnati a 4-3 triumph over Brooklyn. Grady Hatton the former University of Texas star, and Danny Litwhiler also homered for the Reds. Duke Salder hit one for the Dodgers.

Legion Diamond Corps Trains

American Legion Junior baseball workouts are continuing each afternoon on the College Heights school diamond.

Conn Isaacs, coach of the Legionnaires, said a meeting would be called the coming week for the purpose of arranging a district schedule. Big Spring will field two teams in the league along with Coahoma, Stanton, Odesa, Midland and Lameta.

Veterans back with the A squad this year include Floyd Martin, pitcher; Jackie Jennings, second baseman; and Aubrey Armistead, outfielder.

Howard Washburn, crack shortstop who has had his ankle in a cast, is another holdover due to report for drills in the near future.

Others trying out with the A team include Frank Long, catcher; Jack Sparks, pitcher; Bobby Maine, first base; Johnny Berry, shortstop; Jerry Choate, second base; and Jimmy Stewart, Gene Gross, Bill Long, Charles Rose, Sonny Hurst and Raymond Gilstrap, outfielders.

Presbyterians Ask No Vatican Representative

MASSANETTA SPRINGS, Va., June 10. (AP)—The Presbyterian Church, U.S. General Assembly, agreed Saturday to ask President Truman to forego the reappointment of a representative to the Vatican.

An overture came to the assembly from Norfolk presbytery in the Virginia synod urging that the request be made.

The assembly's standing committee on bills and overtures favorably reported the overture Saturday and recommended that the moderator, Dr. Benjamin Rice Lacy Jr., president of Union Theological Seminary at Richmond, appoint a representative to convey the assembly's request to the President.

Report of the committee, adopted as a whole, also included other proposals, dealing mainly with revisions of the church's book of common worship, the book of church order and the directory of worship, under church law, these are to be sent down to the presbyteries for their approval.

GILES

to the last ditch in both the court and the Congress, without compromise.

"The Supreme Court decision... is not final and in my opinion should not be so treated with respect to money due the Texas public school fund from lease royalties, or as final for any other purpose at this time," Daniel advised Giles.

He said he was "frankly disturbed by the adverse effect" which some of Giles' newspaper statements might have on the tidelands case and congressional action.

The Attorney General said Gov. Allan Shivers, the third member of the school and land board, was in favor of the two-front strategy. He expressed hope that "all three of us who compose the school land board can continue a united front in both court and Congress until final victory."

"The Texas tidelands decision was by one-vote margin and any decision that close, taking land from a state which has held it for over 100 years, should not be treated as final until the state has exhausted every legal right it has to show the court the errors of fact, history and law contained in the four to three majority opinion," Daniel said.

"The Supreme Court's decision will not be final unless the court overrules our petition for rehearing and enters a decree authorizing federal officials to take possession without congressional authority.

"Presentation of the decree is not even due until Sept. 15, 1950. In the meantime, at least one member of the majority may acknowledge and correct the error which we think the court has made, or Congress may act in favor of the state."

Houston Has A Postman Who Is More Famous Than Anyone On Mail Route

HOUSTON, June 10. (AP)—Houston has a postman who probably is more famous than any resident on his mail route.

He is Herman Marion Sweatt who believes the age of 40 is not too old to receive a law degree.

The 37-year-old Negro postman plans to quit carrying the mails in about three months and enroll in a three-year course at the University of Texas School of Law.

He will do this primarily through the courtesy of the United States Supreme Court, which last Monday said the university must permit him to enroll.

He won't be the first Negro to enroll in the university but Herman Sweatt will be remembered as the man who cracked the barrier.

It took him over four years to win his case.

Sweatt may not even be the first Negro to get a law degree at Austin.

It was the Sweatt case which prompted the legislature to create the Texas State University for Negroes in Houston. Several law students on the Houston campus have indicated they now will transfer to Austin.

Since he first broke into the news on February 28, 1946, with his application to enter school at Austin, Sweatt has gathered nearly a bushel basket of clippings just from the major Texas newspapers and the large national magazines.

The white people on his route gradually have become aware their postman is the man the controversy was over. Sweatt says he has met no animosity and a number of them have congratulated him since the court's decision.

The Texas press, he says, has handled his case fair and impartially all the way through.

He received a bachelor's degree in biological science from Wiley College, Marshall, Tex. That was in 1934, after graduation he worked a while as a Houston department store porter because the job paid more than teaching school.

Then he taught school a year in Cleburne and in 1937 went to the University of Michigan for a year of study in public health education and bacteriology.

He became interested in law through the national alliance of postal employees, which he identifies as a predominantly Negro group seeking to advance Negroes in spite of their race.

As secretary and negotiator for the Houston branch of the alliance he had to do quite a bit of research into post office and civil service regulations. This whetted his interest in law.

When he first went to work for the post office, no Negro ever had been clerk in the Houston office. About 60 have made it since and recently a Negro was made supervisor in charge of route adjustment.

He hopes eventually to practice law here.

Movie Writers Off To Prison

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Movie John Howard Lawson and Dalton Trumbo, who have been called Communists, were ordered yesterday to start serving one-year sentences for contempt of Congress.

They also must pay $1,000 fines for refusing to tell the House un-American Activities Committee whether they ever were Reds.

There is a possibility their sentences can be reduced within the next two months.

Lawson, who was described to the committee as "in direct charge of Communist activity" in Hollywood, was ordered committed by Federal Judge Edward M. Curran. Judge David A. Pine handed the Trumbo case.

"We charge that we are imprisoned as part of the plan of big business and its political henchmen in Washington to start a third war," Lawson told reporters.

Both men reiterated their views that their conviction violates the bill of rights of the Constitution. They also asserted that "the Supreme Court erred in not considering the fact that Lawson and Trumbo, along with big name movie stars and producers, they were witnesses when the un-American Activities Committee ran off a spectacular hunt here for Communism in the screen capital in October, 1947.

It was then they refused to say whether they ever were Reds.

Torch Slayer Is Transferred To Leavenworth Jail

FORT WORTH, June 10. (AP)—Herbert Alvin Stanley, convicted in a torch murder here, has been transferred from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., to Huntsville state prison.

Also transferred Friday was Charles Lewis, alias Jack and J. C. Britton, under state and federal bank robbery convictions.

Transfer of the pair was ordered by James V. Bennett of Washington, director of the Bureau of Prisons.

Stanley will serve concurrently his federal sentence for armed robbery, and his 90-year sentence given in the Fort Worth killing.

The two were accomplices in the holdup of the Friona State Bank near Amarillo in 1937. For that, they drew federal sentences of 25 years each.

Stanley was one of several defendants convicted here in the 1931 slaying of Roy Hawthorne. Hawthorne's mutilated and partially burned body was found near Inspiration Point at Lake Worth.

Bennett's order said Lewis and Stanley would be eligible for conditional release from Leavenworth Nov. 2, 1953. The order directed the two men serve the remainder of their federal, and accumulated state sentences concurrently. It also directed that Lewis and Stanley would be returned to Leavenworth if released from Huntsville before their conditional release date at Leavenworth.

Methodist Group Hears Plea For Salary Increases

LONDON, June 10. (AP)—Ingrid Bergman's attorney denied today that the film star and Roberto Rossellini intend to come to England to be married.

Earlier this week Attorney E. Gordon Lawrence said he had been asked to determine whether the marriage could be performed under British law. He said today that their recent proxy marriage in Juarez, Mexico, is valid in Italy.

The couple is vacationing at present on the Isle of Capri.

FORT WORTH, June 10. (AP)—A plea to "keep on increasing the salaries of your ministers," came from Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas at the Central Texas Methodist Conference Saturday.

Bishop Martin pointed out that a $2,400 salary today means $1,200 in pre-war prices.

The conference voted to hold its 1950-51 annual session in Waco.

Commissioners of the Methodist home at Waco named were Rev. C. C. Sessions and Paul Whitton, Brownwood District; Rev. Cecil Ellis, and Jack Anderson, Cisco; Rev. L. Stanley Williams, and T. Wesley Hook, Cleburne; Dr. E. F. Bohmfalk and Mrs. George L. Peyton, Corsicana; Rev. A. A. Peacock and Ned Lydick, Fort Worth; Rev. J. W. Sprinkle and Charles Patterson, Georgetown; Dr. D. L. McCree and D. T. Hicks, Waco; Rev. L. W. Seymour and C. T. James, Waxahatchie; and Rev. E. H. Boyd and Jo Witherspoon, Weatherford.

6 Women Injured As Negro Blazes Away With Gun

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—An armed Negro blazed away three times at pursuers with a gun, creating a "madhouse" among 1,000 shoppers Saturday in a crowded lower Manhattan store.

Six women shoppers were injured.

Two women were taken to a hospital for shock treatment, and the others were attended for minor injuries at the scene.

The man, identified by police as Lester B. Trice, wounded himself with one shot in the buttocks during the chase.

Trice was cornered by three store officials and turned over to police.

The block-long F. W. Woolworth store in which the shooting occurred is on East 14th Street in one of New York City's busiest shopping sections.

Death Destroys Wedding Plans

HOUSTON, June 10. (AP)—Death destroyed the wedding plans of a 25-year-old Baytown tugboat crewman last night.

K. W. Barry drowned while attempting to swim from the tug boat to a stranded barge in Galveston Bay off Seabrook.

Barry's mother, Mrs. E. M. Barry, Baytown, said Miss Lucy Lou Fishery, Boston, Mass., was to have arrived Monday to marry the young seaman.

Snake Gives Birth To 45

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—A six-foot poisonous snake mothered 45 babies today at Bronx zoo. Zoo obstetricians said there would be no more.

The mother, a 30-ounce, spotted copperhead, gave birth last month. The "twelve" for this kind of snake is 40, officials said.

day at the amphitheatre. It will be a colorful affair and one involving a considerable investment in time and several hundred dollars in money by the sponsors. The public, of course, is urged to participate.

Members of the state board for hospitals and special schools last week gave approval to plans for improvements and enlargements at Big Spring state hospital. They will cost about $950,000. Because plans may not be complete before end of the year, contracts may not be let before early in 1951.

Big Spring ropers did right well in the Midland rodeo last week.

Herschel Romaine led the ropers for the three go-rounds. Toots Mansfield copped third and Jess Slaughter, Jr. fourth.

Brightest oil news of the week came from shows in the Wolfcamp on the No. 1 District in northeast Howard. This may not yet be a discovery.

The city's crackdown on traffic cases appears to show greater strength in the degree of fines rather than in the number of cases. Through Saturday last week there were 19 cases other than for over-time parking. Fines amounted to $172, or about $9 on the average. Two speeding cases accounted for $65, one improper licence plate and one lack of drivers license $15 each, one reckless driving $25. The remaining 14 cases involved parking in the alley, double parking, failing to stop at stop signs.

An important election has been called for July 1. With the annexation of Hartwell's common school district to the Big Spring Independent School district, it becomes necessary for the enlarged district to assume the total outstanding indebtedness and to ratify the tax rate. It's a technically—but an important one.

YMCA swimming classes drew about 90 enrollees last week although the period had to be cut short. Another course—with more time—will open June 26. Recreation programs at North Ward and Central Ward grounds for young boys are attracting around 100 to 150 per day. Youth activity this week picks up with opening of the district Baptist boys camp at the park. Around 400 or more will attend.

Women Fliers To Stop Here Wednesday

ODESSA, June 10. (AP)—Contestants in the Odessa sponsored all-woman transcontinental air race will start here Monday and will be entertained by the city before resuming the race Tuesday morning.

The race will start at Lindbergh Field, San Diego, at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. It will end at Greenville, S. C.

Odessa, sole sponsor of the race, has offered $1,500 in prize money. This includes a first prize of $750, second prize of $500, and third prize of $250.

Those of the 32 entries who complete the first legs of the flight to Odessa will eat Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang barbecue. The barbecue will be served at the city's new, ultra-modern Sand and Sage Motel, at which motel the contestants will spend the night.

This will be the fourth year the race has been held. It is listed as an official Ninety-Nines Club event for the first time. The Ninety-Nines Club is an international organization of licensed women pilots.

It was founded in 1929 by Amelia Earhart.

The women pilots fly light planes of 300 horsepower or less during daylight hours only. The race is an elapsed time event.

Texas will be represented by Ruth Deerman and Lois B. Hally, both of El Paso.

Contestants will land at Ketch Airport, situated four miles from downtown Odessa.

Stops will include Tucson, Ariz.; Columbus, N. M.; El Paso, Wink, Odessa, Big Spring, Abilene, Dallas, Tyler, Shreveport, La.; Monroe, La.; Jackson and Meridian, Miss.; Montgomery, Ala.; and Charleston and Greenville, S. C.

Most people have a natural inclination to go along as though nothing bad can ever happen. Accidents, they seem to think, always happen to the other fellow. This boy has nothing to worry about.

Actually there is nothing so rare as a really lucky guy—and it's not safe to figure you're one of them.

For instance, you may need money some day. Need it badly. For an emergency, for illness, for the children, for a home, for school—how many occasions can you think of when you'd want to call up the reserves?

One safe, sure, easy way to make certain that you have money on hand when you need it is the Payroll Savings Plan of U. S. Savings Bonds.

Be sensible—think of 1960 today. Sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan down at the office. Or, if you're not on a payroll, get in the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank.

Remember—for every $3 you put in now, you get $4 in 10 years—when you may need it more.

SUBJECT OF ARTICLE
Four Texas Sheriffs Discuss Law Enforcement By Airplane

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, June 10. - Four Texas sheriffs are the subject of an article in the June issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin.
The article is entitled "Texas Takes to Air in Law Enforcement."
The four Texas peace officers are T. W. (Buckshot) Lane of Wharton, William F. Crawford of Victoria, Charley H. Meyer of Beaumont and Leonard M. Fisher of Port Lavaca.
Their experience has yielded some unique and interesting incidents and has resulted in the conclusion that the airplane is a most effective addition to the weapons used in combating crime," the story begins.
It then points out how the flying sheriffs effectively use planes for numerous tasks, including tracking down cattle rustlers.
"Sherrif Crawford advises that he has used his airplane to good advantage in investigating cattle theft cases by being able to survey even remote sections of the country from the air," the story continues.
"By means of his landing lights he has been able to note the description of the truck and in some instances the license number. He is able to check by police radio to determine the car owner and thus whether the truck is on legitimate business or whether it is actually being used in the stealing of cattle."
Both Lane and Crawford reported travel expenses of their office, including transporting prisoners, is considerably cheaper by plane because of saving in time, involving meals and salaries. They say gas and oil for the plane runs between five and six cents a mile.
Sheriff Meyer's office is credited with being the first in Texas to maintain a plane, having purchased one in 1947. It usually is piloted by Deputy Glenn Leighton, a Navy veteran. Deputy T. O. Grant acts as communications officer.
Deputy Sheriff Max Council of Port Arthur teams up with Leighton for parachuting jobs, such as the time one of them leaped with food and medicine for a hunter who was lost for two days in a marsh.

Calhoun County has 300 to 400 miles of coast line with numerous off-shore islands. Sheriff Fisher reports he can patrol the whole county in 2 1/2 hours by plane, whereas it takes two weeks by land.
Walter G. Bayer of Dimo Box, Tex., wonders what he can get for Henrich Himmler's autographed stamp collection.
Now on the U. S. Capitol police force, Bayer noticed dispatches from Germany to the effect that gold and jewels of Hitler's dead Gestapo chief have been uncovered. The accounts said American tourists were swarming over the area buying all kinds of souvenirs at fancy prices.
"I was with the American Military Government when we first went into Hof Bayern, Himmler's headquarters town in Bavaria," Bayer relates.
"A captain and I were the first to enter the castle which Himmler had abandoned during an aerial bombardment. On his desk I found this collection of 200 stamps, and Himmler's name is penned across the front of the book."
Bayer said he turned down a $50 offer for the stamps made to him by a professional collector who did not know they once belonged to Himmler.

Court Rules 2-1 For Employer Who Fired Bearded Man
KANSAS CITY, June 10. (AP)—A man who lost his job because he grew a beard is not entitled to reinstatement.
So ruled an arbitration panel Friday in a 2-1 decision.
Howard Hatfield, 30, grew a beard to help celebrate Kansas City's centennial. His employer, a delivery firm, said the beard violated a company rule—either the beard or Hatfield must go.
That was last February when the mayor was appealing to every male citizen to let his beard sprout.
Hatfield, a driver for the firm and active in the centennial organization, said he couldn't ask others to grow a beard unless he had one. So he refused to shave.
Yesterday's nine-page opinion pointed out that the company wouldn't "lose face by restoring Hatfield to his job" but chided Hatfield for his "wilful, almost childish, desire to grow a beard and be a hero."
But the beard will remain until July 4, end of the celebration, said Hatfield after the arbitration ruling. He's got a new job and his new employer admires his beard.

HE'S A SMOOTH MAN

Acheson Looks Part Of World Diplomat-Lean And Suave

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP)—Tall, dignified Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who delivers a major policy speech here in Dallas Tuesday night, is the part of a world diplomatic figure. He is lean and suave. His mustache is trim, his hair graying and his dress immaculate. He speaks with a broad accent that misleads one to think he may have been long abroad in British circles. It's his new England background. The son of a New England man who served as Episcopal Bishop for The State of Connecticut, the cabinet member was born in that state at Middletown, April 11, 1893.

He obtained his Bachelor of Arts Degree at Yale in 1915 and his law degree at Harvard in 1918. After service as an ensign in the Navy in World War One, he became private secretary to the late Chief Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes before entering law practice in 1921. Although his name is associated with government service in the minds of most Americans, Acheson once had a reputation as one of the ablest court room lawyers to practice in New York. He reportedly earned $50,000 a year. His first official position here came with his appointment by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt as Undersecretary of the Treasury in 1933. He soon differed with Roosevelt over financial policies and returned to law practice. His departure was in good grace, however, and in 1941 Roosevelt asked him to return as Assistant Secretary of State. In that position he got well acquainted with members of Congress, and they with him, during his appearance before committees handling foreign affairs. His perfect flow of language and well chosen words made him an effective witness.

Acheson was promoted to Undersecretary of State in 1945. He left the department in 1947 when Gen. George Marshall became Secretary of State, then returned to take over the helm of the department on Jan. 19, 1949, after Marshall resigned. In addition to his service in the department, Acheson also has represented the United States at various conferences, including the Bretton Woods world financial discussions. He collaborated with Bernard Baruch in writing the Atomic Energy Report setting a pattern for establishment of the Atomic Energy Commission. He also served on the Hoover Commission which studied government reorganization proposals and made recommendations. When he became Secretary of State he immediately put into effect the recommendations which the Hoover Commission had made for that agency. Creation of additional assistant secretariats suggested by the Hoover group has permitted Acheson to devote more time to study of international policies and to discuss them with public groups such as the meeting in Dallas.

Washington, June 10. (AP)—Tishmingo, Okla., June 10. — Eighty years of rugged living through Oklahoma's tempestuous political history have left their marks on former governor W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray. His sight is all but gone, he can barely hear and his steps falter as he shuffles about this southern Oklahoma agricultural community. But the sage of Tishmingo still is as colorful as the day he led a group of Oklahomans to South America to found an agrarian colony. His gravel-voiced remarks come a little slower, but they are just as biting, just as pointed and just as earthy as his boisterous years as governor from 1921 to 1925 during the depression. Murray only recently was able to witness an event few men live to see and hear when a 18-ton granite monument was unveiled in his honor at Murray Agricultural College here. He was eulogized as few men are to their faces. Murray has divorced himself from politics, but every once in a while he airs his views—usually scoring the National Democratic Administration. However, another Murray has come into Oklahoma's political corral in the race for the Democratic nomination for governor. He is Murray's son, Johnston. The sage of Tishmingo gave his son his political blessing only after a long father and son discussion. After the meeting the elder Murray announced he felt his son was politically mature enough to run. Murray lives by himself in a small hotel here. He has refused repeated invitations from his children to live with them. Although life becomes more difficult for him each day, he insists on the same fiery independence that guided Oklahoma's constitutional convention to a successful climax, that rocketed him into office as governor on a "cheese and crackers" campaign, and that kept him all powerful in office by the use of the National Guard more than 30 times. To help Murray financially, the squirrel rifle brigade was organized last year in Oklahoma to repay Murray for his aid in sustaining the constitutional convention in 1906. That convention lagged on long after it was expected to close, and funds ran out. To keep the delegates at the convention and pay for other expenses, Murray mortgaged his Johnston County farm. He gave freely without any repayment. Last year, insurance salesman Irvin Hurst decided the state should repay the gray-haired statesman. Commissions were sold. Anyone could become a member of the brigade for $1. More than $1,000 has been raised so far to pay Murray. He will accept no charity, but will readily sell anyone his set of books, "Memoirs of Governor Murray and True History of Oklahoma."

Rugged Living For 80 Years Leave Mark On 'Alfalfa Bill'

Goodyear Gets Service Store In Big Spring

Acquisition of the Lloyd Wooten Goodyear service store by the Goodyear Rubber company was made here Saturday. Carl S. Rotary Sets Sights On 100 Per Cent At Meet This Week

An attendance goal of 100 per cent has been set for the Big Spring Rotary club this week, Chester O'Brien, secretary, announced Saturday. Rotarians had perfect attendance last week, first time since a record was made in more than a year, O'Brien said. The 1950 attendance record was set following an appeal Tuesday by the secretary that "all members of the club be in attendance in honor of Walton Morrison, president, who is to retire in July." This week's perfect attendance is being asked for Elmo Wasson, a past president of the local club and an ex-district governor, O'Brien stated. The club meets each Tuesday.

Ceremonies To Mark Flag Day

Colorful ceremonies will mark the observance of Flag Day here Wednesday evening. This year's program will be under the direction of the Elks lodge, an order that makes Flag Day services obligatory. Noting that "the strength of America lies in the devotion of our citizens to democratic principles," Mayor G. W. Dabney has proclaimed Wednesday as Flag Day in Big Spring. He called on "all groups and all citizens to cooperate with enthusiasm in making the event an inspiring reaffirmation of our firm faith in and our unshakable devotion to our priceless heritage of freedom and opportunity."

Times for the ceremonies have been pegged at 8:30 p.m., said Carl Gross, exalted ruler of the local BPOE unit. This time was set to avoid conflict with as many mid-week church services as possible. The place will be the city park amphitheatre. Highlights of the program will include the presentation of all the flags in this ceremony. The North America and what is now the United States, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Cubs will carry the flags in this ceremony. The Stars and Stripes will be presented by the American Legion color guard.

An especially impressive moment is to be the altar service around a 36-inch facsimile of the Liberty Bell in flowers. Gene Nabors will be at the electric organ console to accompany for the "Star Spangled Banner" and to play background music. Gross will preside and invocation will be asked by the Rev. Bill Boyd, St. Mary's Episcopal rector. Jane Stripling is to sing "Columbia, Gem of the Ocean." History of the flags will be related by W. Dillon, as flags are presented. Gross gives the response and after the altar service, Elks and the audience will sing "Auld Lang Syne." Recitations will be given by Joanna Curmas and Carl H. Gross, Jr., followed by a brief patriotic address by Dan Conley and the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Gross said there would be a rehearsal Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the amphitheatre.

Adults In School

All college students this summer are not the boys and girls who received their high school diplomas a few weeks ago. Many are adults making additional preparations for their chosen fields. In this group are a number of teachers. At the local Howard County Junior college, even some members of the faculty are taking courses. Most of them, however, are qualifying themselves to meet the new elementary school requirements for teachers.

Another interesting feature of this year's summer session at HCJC is the addition of new equipment for the machine classes.

Chance Meeting Culminates In Marriage Friday

A chance meeting on a railroad diner culminated in marriage Friday for two municipal employees—one from New York and one from Big Spring.

The Rev. James Middleton, pastor of the First Baptist church in Atlanta, Ga., solemnized the rites which united F. W. Bettle, Big Spring building inspector, and Mrs. Pearl Hotte, member of the welfare department staff in New York City.

Vows were exchanged in the pastor's study at 4:30 p.m. Friday. After a brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bettle met two years ago as he was returning from a state meeting at Austin and she from a visit with a brother in San Antonio. There was only one seat left on the dining car—and that opposite a woman who was dining alone. Mrs. Bettle is a native of Georgia, having lived in New York for approximately the past three decades. Mr. Bettle is a long-time resident of Big Spring and has been with the city for five years.

An Unsung Heroine: Impractical Nurse

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeature Writer

Nurses of the cool hands and starched white uniforms and caps have received a lot of public acclaim. But my idea of a real heroine is any woman when she's stuck with the job of tending someone who isn't sick enough to need a nurse.

As a matter of fact, very little attention, pro or con, has been paid to this form of refined torture. But if I had my way I'd reward any little woman who remains cheerful through a 16-hour day looking after Lester, home from the office with a nasty head cold, or who has kept little Willetta strapped between sheets in the convalescent days of measles.

They've gone after the housewife and mother in just about every area of her activity. They say she's a failure as a wife and mother, she's an incompetent housekeeper and cook. But I notice no one has railed at women about the way they minister to the semi-sick. I guess they don't dare, because they've have a full-flavored revolt on their hands. In my opinion, there's nothing more productive of a half-trigger temper than this type of servitude. What the patient wants, anyway, is a slave, not a nurse, and who likes that?

Of course, considerable work has been done in the way of printed advice on home medical care. I haven't even studied the subject, but I've picked up enough information to permit me to cope with sunstroke, should it hit the family. If anyone gets a mouthful of rat poison, I know what to do until the doctor comes. I can administer artificial respiration, and I know enough not to haul people around if it looks like bones have been broken.

As a matter of fact, I think I'd be quite a handy person to have around in the event of a dramatic, serious illness. But for the ordinary, dull complaints like stomach ache, poison ivy, wrenched back and the rheums, the greatest sufferer is the unfortunate who has to lug the trays, find the mislaid glasses, invent games to keep little minds occupied and prepare meals, snacks, collations and cooling drinks. Funny, but the semi-sick are enormous eaters and busy.

There have been occasions printed pieces of advice on tending the ailing child, but I think there is a crying need for advice on how to care for the uncomfortable, irritable and not-very-sick adult.

Once given instructions to go to bed and stay there, the bored, sick adult shows remarkable ingenuity in thinking up necessities for his well-being. Whatever the item is, it involves at least one pair of stairs for the amateur or impractical nurse. The bedridden can't seem to keep anything on the bed, either, and a good portion of the litter—books, cleaning tissues, newspapers, file program schedules, and even pillows—lands on the floor and somehow makes its way to an unreachable position under the bed.

The semi-sick develop fantastic curiosity, too, and require a word-for-word account of any callers at the door or on the telephone. They want between-meal snacks at the very moment when the nurse figures she can take an hour off and catch a little nap. Also they run out of water for pill-taking or whistle-wetting at the most inconvenient times.

They always shout when the water is running downstairs and become very hurt and annoyed when they don't receive split-second responses to their requests, be it a wretched rubdown or just a simple question like, "Do you remember that blonde divorcee we met at Lake Okechobee?"

My idea is that a fitting reward for any impractical nurse would be an automatic vacation of two days upon termination of the illness. This time the ex-nurse could spend in bed, catching up on sleep and strength.

HI-TALK

By Kitty Roberts

It seems that summer is finally here and the heat is really on. The teen-agers say that the best place to seek relief from the sun is the swimming pool. A few of those sun-burned victims seen at the swimming pool Wednesday afternoon were: Jan Masters, Jackie Barron, Sue Craig, Daryl Hohertz, Curtsteen McCauley, Sam Thurman, Barbara Greer, Jerry Houser, Joann Miller, Margie McDougal, Diane Laughman, Joyce Gound, Frances McClain, Helen Phillips, Barbara Hill, Luan Lamb, Mary Lue Lepard, Chester Cluck, Jane Stripling, Charlie Wright, and many more.

Seen Sunday evening in church: Peggy Carter, Donnie Reeves; Mona Lue Walker, Bobby Fox; Shirlene Walker, Vancil Scott.

A car laden with girls literally hanging out the windows entered the drive-in theatre Monday night. Inside were: Ann Crocker, Marilyn Miller, Sue Craig, Susan Houser, Barbara Greer. At least, these were all that could be seen.

Hoyle Nix is just as popular with the teen-agers in the summer as he is in the winter. Seen at the American Legion Hut dancing to the music of Hoyle and his boys were: Mary Gerald Robbins, Billy Satterwhite; Nancy Lovelace, Kelley Lawrence; Wanda Petty, Jack Ewing.

The YMCA is carrying out its annual summer program. Swimming classes started at the Municipal pool last Wednesday morning. Beginners, intermediate, advanced, and diving lessons are taught by teen-age instructors. Those acting as instructors are: Johann Coffee, Beverly Stalling, Ann Crocker, Barbara Greer, Sandra Swartz, Chop Chop Van Pelt, Kitty Roberts, Susan Houser, and Bobo Hardy.

The Y also sponsors softball. One is the Industrial League, and includes representations of any of the Big Spring's business firms desiring to sponsor a team. The other is the church league, and deals mostly with teenage boys. The night the Baptists played the Presbyterians quite a number of spectators were present. Some of them were: Daina Farquhar, Moe Madison; Curtsteen McCauley, Sam Thurman; June Cook, Culin Grigsby; Luan Creighton, Sousa Stallings. Incidentally, the Baptists won 10-3.

The YMCA is extending their women's program for the summer. They are including modern dance, badminton, and tumbling for the teen-age girls. Bonnie Dempsey is in charge and will teach these to any girls wishing to take lessons.

Some of the girls have been helping with Bible School in their respective churches for the past week. They include Ann Crocker, Marilyn Carpenter, Rita Faye Wright, and Maxie Younger.

At the various shows Wednesday night were seen these couples: Peggy Carter, Donnie Reeves; Janice Anderson, Bobby Wilkes; Susan Houser, Grady Dorsey.

At the Ritz Thursday night: Jan Masters, Jess Pearce, Rose Nell Parks, Nancy Lovelace, Arless Davis, Autry Burke, Ronald Farquhar, Jackie Sparks, and Bob Kuykendall. At the Terrace the same night were: Sue Craig, Frank Phil-

Girl Scouts Are Becoming Citizens

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Education Writer

Childhood is the time when the most important decisions of our lives are made. There are people and events and conditions to guide us. From them we develop values and decide what things in the world really matter. These decisions give our lives a basic direction which through the years, helps us to become the persons we are now.

About a million and a half girls, aged seven through seventeen, are members of the Girl Scouts of the United States of America and the Camp Fire Girls, Inc. They are guided by their primary objectives — the development of good human relationships and the ability to develop aptitudes as well as attitudes that make such relationships possible. Both organizations also recognize the need for wholesome, leisure-time activities for girls.

These worthwhile organizations and activities are brought in focus by two booklets, "The Girl Scouts in 1950," and a "Handbook for Guardians of Camp Fire Girls." Each, in its way, is trying to help build a better world. Each seeks to perpetuate the spiritual ideals of the home and to aid in the formation of habits for health and character. And each is trying to project these attributes on the larger plane of community and nation.

From Blue Bird and Brownie Scouts, through Camp Fire Girls and Girl Scouts, through Horizon Club members and Senior Girl Scouts, both booklets trace the development of young girls to womanhood — adults who can respect the rights of others and work willingly with them; who are resourceful and self-reliant; who have imagination and courage; who try to live according to their belief in the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

Despite these fine objectives and accomplishments, say the Girl Scouts, only one girl in twelve of most age becomes a scout. "If you, who read this report," says Mrs. C. Vaughan Ferguson, their president, "believe that there can be a better world, will you help to extend Girl Scouting to some of the thousands of girls who want and need it?"

Girl's Best Friend: Good Basic Haircut

CHIC AND CASUAL... Favorite hairdo of movie stars. Easy to care for, says Jeanpierre de Paris, Fifth Avenue hairdresser.

SMOOTH DRAMA... The right haircut and a good soft permanent make home care of hair a cinch, says expert. Try it for summer.

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

"If you have a soft permanent and a good hair cut, there is no limit to styles that can be worn even though your hair is short," says New York's Jeanpierre de Paris. In his Savoy Plaza salon Mr. de Paris is hairdresser to some of Hollywood's most glamorous movie stars.

He has found that the magic formula to give a fresh, casual look without wasting time on endless hair fussing is a good basic haircut. He suggests that you have your hairdresser follow these directions, if you want a good workable haircut, easy to care for:

Remove the under bulk of hair in back, but leave the outer hair long enough to cover the curve of your head. Ends should have an over-all length of about an inch-and-a-half with only the last inch tapered. Select a lock of hair at the right-front and taper it to about a length of two inches from roots to ends.

The tapered right-front lock can be used for bangs or curls on your forehead or it can be brushed completely back to fall into a smooth line with your top and back hair. Or it can be handled, he says, with a series of casual ringlets to nestle with graduated height back of the hairline. The tapered ends all around, at the touch of your brush should soar upward in a brushed-up casualness that's newer and more practical by far than formal ringlets or curls.

WHY STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT?

When you use Barconate, you pay a price for a protein diet. Barconate is not a vitamin tablet to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment, while reducing with Barconate. It contains no harmful drugs, but does contain ingredients to make you feel better.

Barconate when mixed with grapefruit juice does this: First, cuts down your desire for sweets and fatty foods, but you do not have to FORCE yourself. Barconate takes care of your DESIRE. Second, dehydrates and eliminates, so that water is carried away—without the usual fat. At the same time you feel better, more peppy, more alert, less nervous, slimmer on hunger.

NO STARVATION DIET
"I have taken lots of medicine but none to compare with Barconate. It's tops. Have lost 15 pounds in 3 weeks and no starvation diet." Signed, Mrs. J. E. Blake, Route 1, Box 20, Cleveland, Texas.

LOST 24 POUNDS
"I am writing you just to say I think Barconate is a wonderful medicine. I have tried so many other things and all failed. I weighed 180 pounds when I started to take Barconate. I now weigh 156." Signed, Mand Marrow, Archer City, Texas.

Mrs. W. F. Pachall Elected Delegate To State Meeting

Mrs. W. F. Pachall was elected the St. Paul's Lutheran Concordia Ladies Aid delegate to the Texas District Lutheran Women's Missionary convention to be held in Houston on June 14.

Other business included the scheduling of a congregational picnic supper at the church at 6:30 p.m. on Sunday, June 18.

Mrs. M. W. Rupp was in charge of the program which was held at the church. Her topic was "The Christian Woman in Public Life." She told how the Christian woman's service is acceptable in everyday life. Reading from Judges, she cited Deborah as an example of how a Christian woman can serve in a vocation in addition to being a mother. She declared that the most important work for a Christian mother is the bringing of her children up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord rather than seeking outside activities first. She also cited women such as Mary and Martha, who were not mothers, but who served in other ways. Her scripture reference was 1 Corinthians 7:1. In closing, Mrs. Rupp said that any vocation is pleasing in the sight of the Lord which is honorable and which earns the worker a living.

The Rev. Ad H. Hoyer read the scripture and led in prayer. He read Ephesians 2:1-7. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ship and Mrs. Louie, are visiting with Capt. and Mrs. Herman Reugh in Mason, Ga. Mrs. Ship and Mrs. Reugh are sisters.

---Where to shop for what---
HELEN'S HINTS

WELL... THE PUBLISHER CALLED UP this week and wanted to know if anybody was reading my hints... and I replied in my most innocent little girl voice that I certainly hoped so. Seems the pub is anxious to know if HELEN'S HINTS are a help to you, if you enjoy the column, and above all if you shop the values I uncover. In the interest of chicken every Sunday at our house... a mortgage and a few other odds and ends, I hope you'll take the trouble to tell the shopkeepers what you think of it. O. K.?

GET HORSEY WITH DAD by galloping down to the Little Shop for his special gift on that special day coming up. There's a British tan leather wastebasket with gold stirrups on either side and matching book-ends and desk sets. Accessories to the group also include amber ash trays mounted in green, brown or red leather cases and cuff link cases ornamented with horses' heads. Oh yes, ask to see the Dunhill tinder lighter, an authentic gun reproduction, which becomes a cigarette lighter when you pull the trigger.

MOTHER COMFORTS FOR PAPA: BOY, OH BOY... the house slippers I found at the J & K will suit the man at your house to a T... and a comfy Father's Day he'll spend. You've seen them, I know—and you know they can't be topped for wear-ability. They're brown felt with a soft sole, roomy cushioned insoles and a practical price at $2.45. Dressier styles in burgundy or brown leather are available from $3.95 to $5.45.

HOME-MADE ICE CREAM... JUST LIKE THAT: Gee, when you can freeze cream in 16 to 18 minutes with a conventional freezer that's pretty fast... and that's just what's on display at Milburn's Appliance right now. White Mountain and Snow Ball models with triple motion are for sale with sizes ranging from two quarts to one and one-half gallons. For super-speed, you'll choose the Dolly Madison electric model in the four quart size which has an automatic cut-off.

SUNTIME IS FUNTIME and beautytime... are you ready for it? You're planning that trip right away and a few weeks in advance is just the time to get your hair in shape. A short-cut to a cooler hairdo is the answer, and the Settes Beauty Shop is the place. Operators are expertly trained in shaping your locks into a crisp tailored coiffure that just suits your personality and is especially easy to manage.

CUT THAT FIVE SPOT RIGHT IN TWO: I advise you to shop the racks at the Kid's shop for reduced prices that will make your peepers bug right out. I found a darling little $2.95 dress marked down to $1.95, and a corker of cotton cord buy in little boy's suits. Originally tagged at $5.50, this coat and pant combination in blue and white will be selling at $3.50. Tee shirts ($1.95) are 79 cents.

YOU'RE A LUCKY BRIDE-TO-BE if you'll take this tip from me. Zales Jewelry store has asked me to tell you that they would like to start your sterling with a free teaspoon. Any girl planning to be married in the near future can go by Zales and pick her pattern from their excellent selections in Gorham, Towle, International, Heirloom, Watson, Whiting or Countess... all masters in the silver trade. Discuss your choice with their bridal consultant, Mrs. Edith K. Murdoch, and the first of your choice is ON THE HOUSE.

HELL QUIT YELLING HIS HEAD off at food prices and love you eternally for your wisdom if you will invest in the new Philco home freezer at Hester's Supply company. It can pay for itself through savings. You'll have new opportunities to save by buying in quantity when foods are most plentiful and prices lowest. There's no waste since you can make leftovers a new treat weeks later. Hester's has your size as well as your price.

HONEYMIST NYLON all done up nice and pretty with fashion perfection is being shown by Zack's at Marjory in the lingerie department. In half or whole sizes, these Lucite Lovelies were recently awarded the Fashion Academy gold medal and here's exactly why... The filmy pleasing detail on the bosom and skirt are permanent; they're proportionally cut to accurate size measurements; the nylon niftie is shrunk-and-stretched controlled to safeguard a perfect fit in Cloudwhites or Honeymist; they come in sizes 32 through 36.

FAYE'S FLOWER SHOP got it's face lifted this past week, and the effect was wonderful. A summer clean-up campaign was underway at the shop which is being done over in three shades pink—starting with a rich rose and fading into a nice shade of shell pink. Show cases are being painted a matching hue and the shop in general has taken on a rosy glow you'll find most cheerful.

THE WELL-DRESSED HOME IS WEARING OUTSIDE BLINDS and more than likely they came from the Home Improvement Service on Gregg. I like these California redwood Slats-O-Wood because there's no rattles, no cleaning or replacements and they offer year round protection. If you'll notice they let the light peek in but they keep the heat out. Munson Compton, manager of the Home Improvement Service tells me that the fire-proof slats are available in either open or closed ends. Check their advantages and see the rainbow chart of colors.

GET ACQUAINTED WITH THE BUTCHERS at Furr's Food store. They're really anxious to assist you in selecting better cuts at prices you can afford and in coaching you as to which meat is better. Did you know that beef short ribs are the best flavored meat in a beef? Loyd Rumbaugh, manager, gave me this hint, and he also recommended loin steak as an economical, tender cut. For economy that doesn't short-change value, try a chuck roast and remember this: Furr's have three grades of beef hamburger with the fat content controlling the price. That's the only difference and the only two ingredients.

DINETTES FOR A DOZEN DINERS are now available at Elrod's Furniture store which recently has received a shipment of round Daystrom dinettes with 42 inch widths. (Ordinary chrome sets are from 30 to 32 inches you know.) The 17 inch leaf extension transforms the round table to an oblong dining table. Sloping twin chromium legs assure sturdiness to the larger size which comes in gray or green. Especially pretty are a combination with red, yellow and blue chairs. The new Daystroms are $129.50.

FESTIVE NEW DRESS for your lawn furniture is the order of the day and I'd suggest you shop Lucelle's Interior Decorators for colorful fabrics. Especially fetching are the plastic materials which won't fade, peel or crack, and are very perky with colorful plaid stripes and splashy floral designs. There's sun-proof sailcloth in a variety of colors you'll like for outdoor as well as in-door coverings for your furniture.

YIPPEE!!! MAYTAY'S GONE AUTOMATIC. Well, Pal, you can relax now without too much concern over the efficiency of automatic washers, because Maytag, the granddaddy of them all, has come out with a machine that makes wash day a pleasure. I saw this season's model at the Big Spring Hardware, and sure enough the agitator's still the business that does the dirty work. It has adjustable legs for leveling, includes a thorough spin-drying process, and features an easy safe-loading door on top. Available at $279.95.

POP WILL BE FLOATING ON A CLOUD if he's walking on California Casuals this summer. I must say these shoes I found at Memphis-Wells are the smartest of the season. In shag buck, they're desert tan with a darker leather faced vamp and a two eye tie. Blitched from the inside to the outside, the sole is styled into a graceful wedge which he's sure to like. You'll like the price at $11.95.

IT'S SURPRISING WHAT A NEW SHADE will do for your old lamp! I went shade shopping at McCrory's and was plenty pleased to learn that manufacturers are at last waking up and coming to the party with shades that give a modern look to your old lamp bases. Plastic is the newest thing because it is dustproof and durable, and you'll like the heavenly shades in chateaux, amber, burgundy and rust. If it's lamps... they're luscious too. McCrory's is the place and economy the pass-word.

A PERFECT WALLPAPER of the early Chippen-dale type is the pattern in the Waterhouse collection at Thorp's Paint store I would like to describe in this week. Of English design, it has bouquets in fresh clear colors. In 1890, Dr. Leonard of Sandwich hung it on the walls of his newly-built home. Half a century later, his house was bought by the Lloyd family, glassmakers at the Sandwich glass factory, who still reside there. They have filled it with fine examples of the glass that made doubly famous the oldest town on the Cape, second only to Plymouth in Massachusetts.

ONE OF THE NICETIES OF AMERICAN WOMANHOOD is that we still maintain little habits of personal charm which are most becoming. Among these are dainty handkerchiefs... never to be replaced with paper tissues. Notice that a lady always carry a handkerchief, and I've an idea she might get them at Mi-Lady's Accessories where I found a host of imported exquisite pieces where I found a host of imported exquisite pieces. Of the famous Plack Frerer brand, many are made in Switzerland and can be determined by the fine drawn threads, intricate patterns and rolled edges. Another group is from China with patterns extending three inches toward the center. They're priced from $1.35 to $3.95 at Mi-Lady's.

Road of Harmony

This road leads to a picnic. It extends through a beautiful countryside, where the trees, meadows, and streams all contribute to the contentment and pleasure of this happy family

But it leads further than the picnic site. It is the first few miles of a road that winds through the years of family harmony, love, and understanding. And it is over this road that children must travel if they are to grow into successful, happy adults.

For this is a picture of American youth in its proper setting—with loving parents, who have found enough time to enjoy their children and to devote their moments of leisure and recreation to them.

We need never worry about children such as these. They are taken to Church on Sundays, and are taught the principles of Christian living. They are cared for, loved, and respected.

Give your children the same opportunities to make the most of their lives. Start them on their way down the road to the fulfillment of a Christian life of service and security.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

If Doctors Aren't Sure Of Illness It Can Cause An Awful Lot Of Worry

NEW YORK, June 10—I have just had a harrowing experience. It happens to thousands of people, and is something that doctors face nearly every day.

Over the week end I drove to another state to see a daughter in a hospital. Doctors were not sure what was wrong. Consultants had disagreed. About one thing they were certain. The trouble was one of two diseases. One possibility was mononucleosis or glandular fever. The other was Hodgkins Disease, also a glandular trouble.

But between the two is all the difference in this world. Mono-nucleosis is not dangerous. Hodgkins Disease is one hundred per cent fatal.

The verdict would depend on blood and other tests which were under way in distant laboratories and they would not be ready until the middle of the week. So I drove home to wait, but before leaving I talked with the physician in charge.

He had insisted that the Hodgkins Disease suspicion had to be investigated to the limit, an attitude we all approved. But I found he was worried about something in x-ray pictures—a spot that could mean Hodgkins Disease. Perhaps I knew too much about x-rays, but that spot fixed itself in my mind, and would not be driven away. It just seemed to sit waiting.

I would hear the verdict by phone, at night, at home, that was the arrangement. The call would come either from another daughter or from my young son-in-law. It wasn't due until Wednesday night, but on Tuesday evening, after dinner, every time the phone rang, the bell seemed to be inside me.

At the first ring I jumped involuntarily. "Hodgkins Disease," I thought. "Two words death. Mononucleosis, one word, life and happiness."

Again the bell. It was only a call about a girl scout meeting. "Hodgkins," my thoughts continued, "called gland cancer though it really isn't cancer. Cause unknown. A virus suspected—what virus, why our old friend Virus X." "Not painful, thank God for that. But deaths, in a few weeks to two or three years, seldom longer. The lymph nodes swell. They are little oval things under the skin around neck and face, under armpits, in front of elbows, around groins, and elsewhere. They grow and grow, and you get weaker and weaker. "Brr—" was that the phone, or me? Me, I am too jumpy. Sometimes there are remissions. That means temporary apparent recovery. Do I have to pray for a remission? I will, because those kids have worked hard to get started and now for the first time they thought they had a chance for a

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

Ran into something the other day, that ought to make pretty good Sunday pipe smoking.

There's a stocky, mustached clergyman with a stentorian voice, who's proclaiming to anyone who will listen that "the church is not meant to be a mendicant organization begging for pennies and nickels from innocent children and insecure old women."

He's a 43-year-old Dr. J. Hoyt Boles of Denton, who once planned to be a lawyer but later decided to argue for God in the pulpit.

Dr. Boles is Texas field representative for the boards of national missions and Christian education of his denomination, which happens to be Presbyterian, but not of the same organization as the local Presbyterian church. At least, we don't think he is.

Anyhow, he says that "The church is a big business for God Almighty. It is not to be supported by bingo games and oyster suppers, but by God's own plan—a minimum of one seventh of one's time and one tenth of one's income."

Whatever you think of the man's philosophy, he seems to make a success in his "big business." During the six years that Dr. Boles has been in his present job, contributions to national work of the denomination from 280 Texas churches have increased phenomenally from $37,000 to about $212,000 this year. The $212,000 does not include about $80,000 donated by women's organizations. The denomination has about 40,000 members in Texas.

little trip. She's too sick even for one last trip, unless we can get a remission."

The phone again. This time the unmistakable touch of the long-distance operator. Can it be so soon, I asked myself?

The call was from Boston, about an auto. "Saved by the bell," my random thoughts say. "Mononucleosis. That means glands infected. By what? Oh, by Virus X. Some low fever, a long rest, and you are well. Mononucleosis, lots of us have it, but many without recognizing the cause, because this trouble imitates a score of others."

"Including Hodgkins Disease. That disease hits young and middle-aged, and men two or three times oftener than women. Just by way of counting the straws, one in my favor is that this case is a daughter instead of a son."

Another ring. Wrong number! I think of the prominent men who have died of Hodgkins Disease. They cannot be identified because families conceal this disease the same as cancer. It's not as rare as you might think.

Now the phone calls are over for the evening, and I go to the kitchen for a drink. Again the bell, this time the long, insistent call that signifies long-distance. My wife whispers:

"For you—from Vermont." This is it. What word is coming—one, for life—or two, for death? I walked fifteen feet to the phone. I'll never forget that walk, because it seemed to take so long. It was like looking at myself on slow-motion film. Who would call, I thought, my daughter, sister of the sick girl, or my son-in-law? How to guess which one would be the bearer if it was two words?

Then came my daughter's voice—"Hello pop, how are you?" "Oh, fine, and how are you?"

Was ever a phone call started with any other words, I wondered.

Then my daughter spoke again—one word.

OFFICIAL TESTIFIES

Oil Imports Do Not Affect Coal Miners

WASHINGTON, June 10.—An oil industry official said yesterday that layoffs in the coal mines are primarily due to factors other than imports of foreign oil.

The official, Charles L. Harding, director of Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., gave his arguments to a Senate labor subcommittee.

The committee is looking into protests from the coal industry that it is being hurt by competition from foreign oil. Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) has estimated that nearly 18,000 soft coal miners have lost their jobs since 1949.

Oil spokesman Harding commented, in a statement prepared for the committee:

"There have been many reasons other than oil imports which have accounted for this trend. (Less use of coal).

"A substantial portion of the oil substituted for coal has consisted of products which are not imported.

The increased use of diesel engines by our railroads was directly responsible for a 33 million ton reduction in the consumption of bituminous coal.

"Anthracite coal, too, has failed to obtain its share of an expanded home-heating market, with many homeowners showing a preference for light heating oil, a product not imported.

"Among industrial users there has been an important replacement of coal by natural gas.

"Labor stoppages in the coal industry, the need for allocating dwindling coal supplies, mounting costs of operation, technological advances, the convenience and efficiency of oil, and a host of other considerations have been contributing factors."

HOW TO CUT LONG GREEN.

ENDICOTT, N. Y., June 10.—Williams Johnson doesn't mind cutting green stuff, as long as it's grass.

But yesterday, his wallet dropped unnoticed while he was operating a power mower in a park.

Patrolman Martin Dardis turned up at Johnson's home late with a handful of shredded bills, about $54. Dardis had discovered several persons scrambling for the pieces. He traced the money to Johnson through a sliced-up pay slip.

Colorado City Bank Announces Officials Change

COLORADO CITY, June 10 (Sp1)—The board of directors of the City National Bank of Colorado has announced the reorganization of its state officials. These changes became necessary after the recent death of George B. Slaton, executive vice president of the bank.

J. C. Pritchett, former vice president and cashier, was moved to the executive vice president slot. Pritchett began his employment with the bank in 1918 and has also been prominent in city affairs, having been city councilman for the past ten years and serving as mayor a part of that time.

Gus D. Chesney who began working for the bank 21 years ago, was promoted to vice president. Chesney is active in Jaycee and Legion affairs, and was a former finance officer of the American Legion. He owns ranching interests near Lake Colorado City.

H. E. Grantland, who went to work for the bank in 1906, was promoted to vice president. Kenn E. Eastin was promoted to cashier. He is a veteran of World War II and began his employment with the bank since that time. He is a Past Commander of the American Legion post in Colorado City and is active in Jaycee work.

Texas Route Carriers Ready For Meet Here

Plans are materializing rapidly for the annual convention of the Star Route Carriers of Texas at a week from today.

Earl C. Evans, president of the state association, said that he hoped the gathering would prove the largest in the history of the association.

In addition to a luncheon, at which several postmasters and others who have worked with the association will be guests, there will be a brief business session and then an open house program. J. Howard Payne, Dallas postmaster, will be the speaker.

Evans said he was hopeful that the townspeople would turn out to share in this affair at 3 p.m. in the city auditorium. Program details will be announced during the week.

Purposes of the association and of the annual gathering will be outlined in a series of quarter-hour programs provided over KEST at 11:45 a.m. each day this week. J. M. Greene, chamber of commerce manager and who introduced Evans to some key members in Washington two seasons ago, and Nat Shick, Big Spring postmaster, were due to be on the Monday program with the state association head.

Evans said also that he would use the radio programs as a means to boost interest in the carrier rallies which are being booked for Friday evening, between now and the first primary.

THE KETTLES — Majoria Main is her pugnacious self, Percy Kilbride is helpful-Henry-self, as they appear in another of the Kettle comedies. This new one is "Ma And Pa Kettle Go To Town," and is at the Ritz theatre the last three days of this week.

SQUARE DANCE GALS — Vera Vague is the cashier, Virginia Welles and Sheila Ryan the customers in this scene from "Square Dance Katy," which plays today and Monday at the State theatre. The story is about a hillbilly band leader's aspiration for the big time, and about the girl who helped him.

IN MUSICOMEDY — June Haver and Gordon McRae are the young romancers in the musical comedy at the Ritz theatre today and Monday. It's a Technicolor production called "The Daughter Of Rose O'Grady," is luth with song, dance and spectacle numbers.

JUNE HAVER, GORDON M'RAE Musical Comedy On Ritz Program

The tried and true formula for summertime entertainment—which includes pretty girls, luring music, fancy dancing, gay romance, against colorful background—is offered in the Ritz theatre's feature for today and Monday.

The piece is called "The Daughter of Rosie O'Grady," with June Haver and Gordon McRae as the young co-stars.

It's the story of young love set against a background of variety shows, suspenseful situations and carefree gaiety. The supporting cast includes James Barton, Cuddles Sakall and Gene Nelson, the latter a new dancing sensation.

Miss Haver is well enough known to have a following for her charms, which are not only pictorial, but also include talent for vocal and dancing ability. McRae is the vocalist of radio fame, who contributes several numbers in the picture. Nelson comes to the movies from stage engagements. He appears in the story as McRae's vaudeville partner and a rival for the affections of Miss Haver.

Actually, to bring some old-times-come-true into the story, McRae takes the part of Tony Pastor, theatre owner and entertainer.

The picture is in Technicolor. Musical numbers offered include "The Daughter of Rosie O'Grady," "As We Are Today," "My Own True Love And I," and "Winter Serenade."

Square Dance Story Coming This Week

The love of a blonde singer for a hill-billy band leader trying to hit the big time motivates the musical picture, "Square Dance Katy."

The film is at the State theatre today and Monday.

Vera Vague of radio fame is starred, and the cast also includes Phil Brito, Virginia Welles, Sheila Ryan and Warren Douglass. There are also specialty numbers done by Jimmie Davis and his Sunshine band.

In the story Miss Welles is in love with Brito, whose band is popular in their small town in the South. She steers Douglass and his companion, Miss Ryan, to the dance hall where Brito is playing, hoping that Douglass, searching for television talent, will select her boy friend.

Her plan for landing Brit on the Big Time backfires after Douglass hears her sing. It is she who gets the big chance in television, starting on the Bubble-O Soap Company TV show. Once in New York she is less concerned about her own success than in how she can best help Brito find a place for himself and band in the big city.

The opportunity she wants is found after she meets Miss Vague, operator of a Greenwich Village night club, and learns that a new type of entertainment is needed in the club. Brito and his band get the job.

But Brito's hopes, after he arrives in the big city, do not immediately materialize. Discouraged, he leaves town without a goodbye to Miss Welles. Miss Ryan, an slightly jealous of the blonde singer who considerably interests Douglass, learns where Brito has gone, and is not long in letting Miss Welles know where he may be found.

THEY 'GO TO TOWN'

Ma And Pa Kettle Are Back Again

If you go for the rustic characters popularized by Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride, who started it all in "The Egg and I," then you can see "Ma and Pa Kettle Go To Town," at the Ritz theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Marjorie gets the full "glamor treatment" in this newest comic picture. The actress who has become famous for her slattern characterizations in such films as "The Egg and I" and "Ma and Pa Kettle," two highly successful films in the studio's history, was as excited as a bride when she saw the finery designed for her by Rosemary Odell for her newest picture.

Kilbride also showed excitement as Marjorie strutted in her $400 black and white tie-silk shoes, $125 Rex hat and $40 Sak's shoes.

The Kettle troupe worked in New York for two weeks on location marking the first time Ma and Pa and the kids had worked away from the studio.

Lavish hotel scenes marked this third gathering of the Kettles before the cameras, and the clan also went to location sites in and near the Los Angeles area.

Meg Randall and Richard Long, the romantic pair of the series, worked as a married couple through "Ma and Pa Kettle Go To Town," their nuptials having taken place at the close of the previous film in the series.

'MRS. MIKE' — Evelyn Keyes has the title role in "Mrs. Mike," in which Dick Powell also is co-starred. It's a story of life in the great Northwest area, and shows that not all is adventure, even among the Royal Mounted. "Mrs. Mike" is at the Terrace drive-in tonight and Monday night.

Illegal Baby Traffic Exposed In Film Drama

One of the nation's cruelest rackets, the illegal baby adoption business, is dramatized in "Abandoned," showing at the Ritz theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. The picture stars Dennis O'Keefe, Gale Storm and Jeff Chandler.

Attention on a major social problem, as well as to carry on an entertainment value. This is dramatic entertainment, without being a "lecture."

A semi-documentary picture, filmed on authentic location, "Abandoned" tells the heart-breaking story of a girl's search for her sister, an unwed mother. The search is conducted by Miss Storm and a sympathetic newspaper reporter, played by O'Keefe.

The pair discover the sister, too late, in the morgue, the murder victim of a baby adoption syndicate. Joining forces with the Salvation Army and Chandler, as an aggressive district attorney, the baby is recovered and the gang brought to justice.

Stirring, thoroughly believable performances by the three principals, account in large measure for the picture's dramatic impact. Supporting them are Meg Randall, Raymond Burr and Marjorie Ransau.

Talcum Powder Blown On Heart Muscles To Create New Blood

PHILADELPHIA, June 10. (AP)—Talcum powder has been blown onto weakened heart muscles to create a stimulating irritation, says a New York surgeon.

Dr. Samuel Thompson, associate professor of surgery at the New York Medical College and professor of thoracic surgery at the Flower-Fifth Ave. Hospital, New York, described the technique yesterday at the annual meeting of the Jefferson Medical College Alumni Assn.

He said the new method was developed to rehabilitate persons stricken with coronary occlusions—the closing of a branch of the arteries supplying the heart.

Of 42 patients operated on by the staff, Dr. Thompson reported, "27 claim they are leading normal lives."

After slitting the pericardial sac enclosing the heart, Dr. Thompson explained, talcum powder is injected into the sac by blowing.

The talcum irritates the area and creates a new blood supply, he said.

In persons who suffer from coronary occlusion, there is an almost complete lack of blood supply to the heart muscle. This causes either instant death or cripples the victim to a point where he is barely able to move about without severe attacks of pain.

The placing of talcum powder in the heart sac and the creation of a new blood supply through irritation changes the condition from a lack of blood supply to one of abundance, Dr. Thompson said. The talcum powder, he said, remained in the sac for years without undergoing any change.

No One Injured In Collision Here

A 1950 Buick, belonging to Jack M. Bristow, Crawford hotel, was extensively damaged when it was in collision with a horse on the Gall road north of Big Spring Thursday night, police reported. No one was injured in the mishap which occurred about 11 p. m., police said.

Forty-nine countries now are actively engaged in soil conservation practices, government statistics indicate.

Meanwhile, in Dobbins' one and only restaurant...

YOU'RE NOT GOING TO BE HERE MUCH LONGER, BOBBY. SO I HAD TO BE WITH YOU TONIGHT.

YOU'RE SWEET, ALEC. I'M GOING TO MISS DOBBIN'S COSMOPOLITAN NIGHT LIFE.

REMEMBER WHEN WE FIRST CAME TO THIS RESTAURANT? YOU MADE ME ORDER INDIAN PUDDING. I THOUGHT IT WOULD BE HORRIBLE AND THEN I LIKED IT AFTER ALL.

AN EXCELLENT OLD NEW ENGLAND DISH—HEY, LOOK!

JED BREWSTER! HE FRIGHTENS ME, ALEC!

HOWDY, FOLKS.

HELLO, JED. WON'T YOU SIT DOWN?

LIKE TO, BUT CAN'T. I'M ON MY WAY OVER TO THE PALACE—GOT A GOOD MURDER PICTURE PLAYING THERE I DON'T WANT TO MISS. GOOD NIGHT.

RUSTY RILEY by FRANK GODWIN

MR. SANDECCI CAME AND GOT HIS BEAR THIS MORNING... HE'S ALL WELL AND HE LOOKS FINE.

HE AIN'T A BIT TOO SOON GETTIN' HIM... WE'LL HAVE TO USE THAT RUN FOR THE DOGS WHEN THE HUNT CLUB HAS ITS BIG SHINDIG HERE.

ARE THEY REALLY GOING TO HUNT A FOX, TEX?

OH, I RECKON THEY'LL GO THROUGH THE MOTIONS, BUT IT'S MOSTLY A PARTY.

HM-M... MAYBE THERE'S A WAY FOR YOU TO SQUARE THAT GRAND YOU OWE ME... JUST BY DOING ME A LITTLE FAVOR!

I DON'T GET THE CONNECTION... WHAT HAS THE HUNT CLUB PARTY GOT TO DO WITH WHAT I OWE YOU?

A HUNT CLUB PARTY MEANS A LOT OF HORSES... THE BEST EXCUSE IN THE WORLD FOR SPENDIN' A LOT OF TIME IN THE BARN - RIGHT?

MR. MILES OWNS "BIG BLAZE," THE FAVORITE IN THE SELBY CUP... IT WOULD BE WORTH A GRAND TO ME IF HE WAS WITHDRAWN AT THE LAST MINUTE, MAYBE BECAUSE HE WAS A LITTLE SICK... GET ME?

LOOK HERE! ARE YOU SUGGESTING THAT I DO SOME SORT OF HARM TO MY UNCLE'S HORSE? WAIT!... QUIET! HERE COMES GOLDY!

HELLO, GOLDY... YOU KNOW MR. MCCORKLE I BELIEVE.

WELL, I'LL BE ON MY WAY, 'TARFFY... I'LL BE LOOKIN' FOR RESULTS ON THAT BUSINESS PROPOSITION... OR ELSE!

COPIR. 1950 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

Synopsis: ONLY THE EAGLES KNEW WHEN HAP-ATLA LED HIS ARMIES OVER THE BITTER PASS AT ORM AND DOWN INTO THULE. THEY WERE AT THE CASTLE GATES ERE THE KING COULD CALL IN HIS MEN!

"KING HAP-ATLA IS BOASTFUL, SIRE, AND FLAUNTS HIS EXACT STRENGTH BEFORE US. SO YOU COMMAND THAT NOT A MAN SHOW HIMSELF, AND THEN HAP-ATLA MUST PLAN HIS STRATEGY BY GUESSWORK."

THE CAPTAINS GATHER IN THE COUNCIL CHAMBER TO FORM PLANS OF DEFENSE.

"WE MUST SEND SWIFT COURIERS OUT TO CALL IN THE WARRIORS TO HELP US BATTLE AGAINST THE ARMIES OF THE INNER LANDS," THEY DECIDE. BUT FROM A WINDOW CORNER A VOICE SAYS, "WE WILL DO NOTHING OF THE SORT!"

"THAT IS JUST WHAT OUR ENEMIES WOULD EXPECT AND NO DOUBT THEY HAVE ALREADY MADE PLANS TO COMBAT SUCH A MOVE."

"BUT GATHER THE FIGHTING MEN QUICKLY, SIRE, AND UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF YOUR ABLEST CAPTAIN MARCH THEM AROUND THE ENEMY INTO THE INNER LANDS TO LAY WASTE THEIR VILLAGES. AND THAT," SNAPS ALETA WITH FINALITY, "WILL CHANGE MISTER HAP-ATLA'S TUNE!"

THERE IS A SHOCKED SILENCE IN THE ROOM AS THE KING ARISES AND WALKS SLOWLY TOWARD HER. NEVER BEFORE HAS A WOMAN DARED RAISE HER VOICE IN A WAR COUNCIL OF MEN!

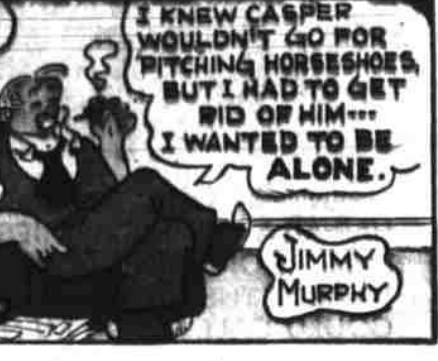

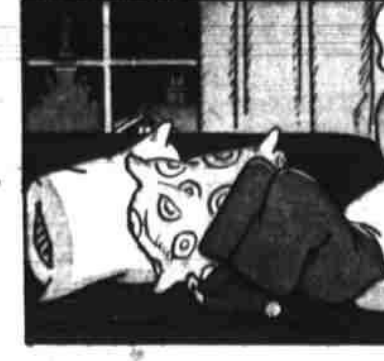

"REMAND ME TO PUNISH YOU FOR YOUR IMPUDENCE," SAYS THE KING AS HE KISSES THE SMALL, FIRM HAND. "BUT NOT UNTIL AFTER WE HAVE PUT YOUR PLAN INTO ACTION!"
