By The Associated Press. MUNICH, June 15.—U. S. military police were pulled back to regular duty and the Army began a cat and mouse game today in the search for Homer Cook, three-eyed ex-soldier wanted on 16 charges.

They think that sooner or later humer may force the 27-year-old six-footer out of hiding.

Military policemen were put back on routine patrol, but were ordered to remain on a standby basis.

Second French Airliner Downed In Persian Gulf

39 Persons Feared Dead; 12 Rescued As Planes Search

BAHREIN ISLAND, Persian Gulf, June 15. (AP)—A big Air France plane crashed in the Persian Gulf last night, and 39 of the 51 persons it carried are feared dead.

Officials said 12 persons had been rescued by early afternoon, including four of the crew of eight.

This plane and the sister C-54 sky-master which crashed two days ago were en route from Indo-China to Paris.

American and British Air Force planes based in the Gulf area joined the search, but a low ceiling hampered their efforts.

The survivors all were reported to be French citizens.

The spokesman said from information in Paris, bad weather seemed to have been the probable cause of the crash.

Tidelands Bill Is Now Up To Rules Committee

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—The fate of legislation to give states title to land under marginal seas is up to the House Rules Committee—and there is no indication of when the committee may act.

After a two-day hearing that at times was bitter, the committee yesterday wound up without action after hearing arguments for and against the bill to turn over to the states the so-called oil rich tidelands.

It met again today, but possibilities apparently were slight that the bill would be considered.

The committee must approve the bill to get it onto the House floor promptly for debate.

Yesterday's hearing wound up in a clash between supporters and opponents of the bill. The committee finally adjourned because too few members remained to provide a quorum.

The House Judiciary Committee, which conducted original hearings, approved the bill, 15 to 10.

Just before the rules committee concluded its session yesterday, Rep. Lyle (D-Tex) tried unsuccessfully to get the issue brought to a vote. But he failed.

Bushman, The Gorilla, Now Feeling Better After A Small Snack At Zoo

CHICAGO, June 15. (AP)—Bushman, that gorgeous blond of gorillas, is steadily improving.

The report on the ailing, 500-pound, 27-year-old pride of Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo came today from Bushman's keeper for more than 20 years, Eddie Robinson.

Bushman fell sick June 8 of heart disease, arthritis, and advanced age.

Robinson said today "Bushman keeps moving around a lot more now. He has a favorite runway up in the rear of his cage. He's been going up there today for catnaps."

Well Still Blazes Out Of Control

Roaring defiance after five days, the flaming Pan-American No. 1 Holley remained out of control today.

Efforts to project the column of fire upwards from the base of the well had not been successful so far.

Enough of the oil was being deflected downward by a rotor table at top of casing to slash a fiery inferno in a wide circle around the well.

There were unconfirmed reports that a bazooka might be employed to shoot the casing into. Apparently, an early possibility of looping cable around the pipe and sawing had been passed up.

Mud pits have been set up to the west in event fighters, led by M. M. Kinley, Houston, can get close enough to attempt to snuff out the blazing cauldron.

Apparently the wild well was making more oil. On the windward side, small drops of oil occasionally precipitated out of the billowing mass of smoke. The flame, possibly not as high as when the gas content was higher, has taken a flaming copper color. Roadblocks have been tightened. Only those with business at the well or going to adjacent rigs, can get in.

Firefighters indicated no attempt could be made to control the well until obstructions at the top can be freed and permit the force of the gas and oil spray to erupt its full force directly upward. This would permit workers to move much nearer the base and to have a view of what they were trying to do with long, water-cooled grappling hooks.

Meanwhile, Paul Adair, who came here with Kinley after the fire broke out, had flown to Reno, Pa. New York Central National Gas company officials had called Kinley here Monday evening after a gas well at Renovo had flamed out of control. Adair planned to fire a charge of nitrogen over the gasser to snuff it.

Local USDA Office Authorized To Set 1950 Wheat Quotas

The local USDA Production and Marketing office has been authorized to begin setting wheat allotments for 1951, Supervisor J. G. Hammock announced today.

Allotments will be made for all farms which had wheat in 1948-49-50. Growers planning to place part of their land in wheat for the first time in four years can get the allotments by making a request through the local Production and Marketing office. Third and Security streets, prior to June 30.

Cotton allotments will be reduced in cases where farmers also ask for wheat allotments, Hammock stated.

Only One Firm Provides Break

PITTSBURGH, June 15. (AP)—An agreement reached with one small firm today provided the only break thus far in the week-old strike of 3,200 dairy workers in Pittsburgh and six western Pennsylvania counties.

There were no signs of an industry-wide peace as consumers continued either to drive to farms to buy their milk or go without.

Grand Jury Denies Any Shortcomings

NEW YORK, June 15. (AP)—A special federal grand jury today cleared government officials and agencies of any wrongdoing in the Amerasia stolen documents case.

At the same time, however, the jury called upon the department of justice to issue a detailed report on the case.

The panel has been investigating subversive activities for the past 18 months. During its sessions, it returned a perjury indictment against William W. Remington, former commerce department economist, and espionage indictments against Judith Coplon and Valentin Gubitchev.

The action was taken in a presentment—grand jury notice of an offense or unlawful state of affairs.

The presentment charged that precautions against the theft of government paper had been "entirely inadequate." But it said that the jury had found no evidence that the Department of Justice was remiss in its execution of the Amerasia case.

Praising the FBI for the role it played in the case, the jury said it felt that had espionage laws been different, "the prosecution procedure would have been entirely different."

"Other telling factors involved certain legal procedures which, if followed, might have revealed to the enemy information that it was essential should be held" the presentment continued.

Critics have charged the Justice Department with laxity in its handling of the six persons arrested after the papers were seized in the magazine's office.

Amerasia's editor, Philip Jacobson, pleaded guilty to possessing secret government documents and was fined $2,500. Emanuel S. Loraen, specialist in the China division of the State Department, was fined $500. The case against the four others was dropped.

INDUSTRY SPOKESMAN Disagree On Oil Producing Days

AUSTIN, June 15. (AP)—Oil industry spokesmen disagreed today on how many producing days the Texas Railroad Commission should order for July.

Commission Chairman William J. Thompson indicated that they were thinking about a statewide two-day increase except in the East Texas field, which has shared a 19-day producing schedule with the rest of the state this month.

"Twenty-one statewide and nine-day for East Texas would give a 91,190 increase in the allowable," Thompson reported. He had said last week he thought Texas could safely stand a 100,000 barrel daily increase in July over June.

J. A. Neath of Humble Oil and Refining Co. urged caution. He suggested a one-day boost.

"I don't think we have a scarcity of oil in Texas. We haven't had many people knocking at our door for more oil," he told the commission.

Noting that national stocks of crude total 238,772,000 barrels, Thompson recalled that top oil officials last month testified minimum stocks should be 240 million barrels.

"If we should be short come winter, it would be a gross error on the part of this regulatory body," he declared.

Lodge Is Winner Of Connecticut GOP Nomination

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 15. (AP)—U. S. Rep. John Davis Lodge, son of an old political family, today won the Republican nomination for governor on the first ballot at the state GOP convention.

The 46-year-old brother of U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. (R-Mass) and a grandson of the late senator Henry Cabot Lodge, won the top post as the state ticket from four rivals.

Lodge, whose prospective opponent in the November elections is Gov. Chester Bowles, received 258 votes. Needed for nomination was 210 votes.

NATURE ON A BING

Haze Still Hovers Over Pacific Today

HONOLULU, June 15. (AP)—A vast haze still hovered over the middle Pacific today, covering possibly two million square miles. Scientists say it isn't an atomic mist since Geiger counters showed no radioactivity. Just nature on a binge, they speculated. The finger of suspicion was pointed at massive Mauna Loa, still spouting fire and brimstone as it enters its third eruptive week. Mauna Loa, on the Island of Hawaii, southeast here, is putting on its greatest show of modern times. One river of red-hot rock still rolls into the sea; two others have cooled. The mysterious cloud stretches from Wake Island, 2,000 miles west of Hawaii, to an area 1,900 miles east of Honolulu. Plane reports fixed the eastern boundary about 3 miles east of Hawaii. But officers of the Freighter Hawaiian Fisherman said they ran into the haze last Friday 1,900 miles east south-east of Honolulu. Officers said the murk prevented any navigational sun or star sightings the last four days at sea. The ship docked Monday on a trip from the Panama Canal zone. Few ships and no planes travel that route. Plane reports said the haze belt is from 300 to 600 miles wide and rated as high as 16,000 feet. Wendell Morley, sugar and pineapple industry meteorologist, said tests showed a sulphate content. This points to volcanic origin, he said.

State Agency Okays HCJC Courses

All courses in elementary education at Howard County Junior College have been approved by the state educational agency. This was the information given by Frank Hubert of the agency's accrediting division in a telephone conversation with E. C. Dodd, HCJC president, today. Dodd called because a bulletin from the agency had omitted HCJC's name from a list of colleges whose courses in elementary education had been approved and accepted. It was, said Hubert, purely a clerical error. All courses offered and now being offered at HCJC in the elementary education field are accepted, he added.

FLYING TRUCK—Here's what happened when a dump truck laden with dirt ran away on an Ithaca, N. Y., hill and crashed into a stone wall. The cab of the truck dove over the wall, pulling the body into the air to land on an unoccupied parked sedan. Howard LaBarr, driver of the truck, jumped clear just before the vehicle hit the wall. He said his brakes failed and he aimed the heavy carrier into the wall to stop it. He escaped serious injury. (AP Wirephoto).

Truman Sees Marines Parade At Quantico

QUANTICO, Va., June 15. (AP)—President Truman came to this Marine Corps base today to watch the Marines show off their modern fighting power. A 21-gun salute greeted the President as he stepped ashore from the Presidential Yacht, Williamsburg which brought him down the Potomac River from Washington. The Marine band played the Star Spangled Banner. Then the President reviewed a blue-clad honor guard and left for the combat training ranges to witness picked units: 1. Assault a simulated enemy fortified position, demonstrating how the "devil dogs" reduce and capture a beach studded with concrete pillboxes, utilizing a large assortment of weapons from flame throwers to tanks and aircraft. 2. Demonstrate recently-developed helicopter technique. This included simulated carrier take-offs with men and equipment to be landed subsequently in "combat zones." It involved use of helicopters to put down the troops and move off again within 30 minutes. During the two demonstrations, Marine Corps combat aircraft were ordered to furnish close air support in the form of pinpoint dive bombing, rocket runs, strafing and fire bombing. The demonstrations drew not only the President and his party but members of Congress and high ranking defense officials headed by Deputy Secretary of Defense Earlly, Secretary of the Navy Matthews, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force chief, and Adm. Gorrest B. Sherman, chief of naval operations.

Small Crowd Views Flag Day Ceremonies Here

Before a disappointingly small crowd, Elks staged a colorful Flag Day ceremony Wednesday evening in the city park amphitheatre. Only about 250 turned out to hear patriotic music and addresses and to witness a presentation of various colors which have figured in the nation's history. Dan Conley, bringing the principal address of the evening, urged American citizens to "count your many blessings." He contrasted conditions of liberty and economics here with those under totalitarian domination. Preservation of liberty for which the flag stands, he said, is dependent upon judicious and vigilant exercise of those rights. As A. W. Dillon narrated, the nine flags, which have flown over the country since the first was planted on the shores of Labrador were presented by Boy Scouts. The Stars and Stripes were presented by the American Legion color guard against a backdrop of Cubes seated on the stage, each holding a United States flag. Response was by Carl Gross, exalted ruler of the Elks lodge, who recounted the background of the nation behind the flag and led in the pledge of allegiance. Jane Stripling was soloist, singing "Columbia, Gem of the Ocean." Invocation was by the Rev. Bill Boyd, organ music by Gene Nabors.

TO AVOID A VETO

Report Dems Agree On Tax Cut Bill

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Democratic tax law drafters were reported today, after a surprise secret huddle, to be in virtual agreement on a billion-dollar-plus excise tax cutting bill that could avoid a presidential veto. The huddle, understood to have been attended by House Ways and Means Democrats and Speaker Rayburn, changed the whole outlook for tax legislation — which had been dark for this session. They made no announcement, but there were indications their minds were about made up to: 1. Ram through a bill slashing excise taxes by $1,100,000,000 on jewelry, furs, luggage, toilet preparations, movie tickets, travel tickets, baby bottle warmers and scores of other items. 2. Put into the bill a hike in the income tax rate for large corporations, perhaps from the present 38 per cent to 41 per cent — to collect about $500 million additional from these corporations annually. 3. Meet a July 1 deadline for House passage of the measure, so that the Senate will have time to act before the present Congress adjourns.

Johnson And Bradley To Reach Manila

MANILA, June 15. (AP)—Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson and Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, will arrive here by plane tomorrow from Guam. The group is scheduled to leave for Tokyo a few hours later.

The secret meeting developed the first strong indication that the 25-member ways and means committee will approve a boost in corporation income taxes, to avoid President Truman's threat to veto the bill if it fails to offset the excise cut by larger taxes in other directions. The President proposed a four-point increase in the corporation tax rate, to pick-up $512,000,000 annually, but the committee Democrats are leaning toward a three-point jump.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Oh—My Aching Feet!
Other night just as I was settling down with a book and a mellow glass of beer, the wife calls down. "Joe—I almost forgot—you and I are going over to the High School and take dancing lessons!" Now, I can wait with the best of them, so I put up a quiet struggle against going but it was no use. Turns out it was the class in square dancing. And from the look on some of the other men I judged I wasn't the only one there who had been taken by surprise! Miss Williams and Curly Lawson taught us what to do with our feet, and before it was over, darn if I wasn't actually enjoying myself. Going back next week, too! From where I sit, we sometimes get an idea into our head for or against something and then hang onto it for dear life. Whether it's square dancing, or the right to enjoy temperate beer or ale now and then, we owe it to ourselves as Americans to take an open-minded attitude — that's even after we make up our minds about it!

State Court Grants McDonald Right To File Mandamus Suit

AUSTIN, June 15—J. E. McDonald today won the first round in his court battle to force printing of his name on the July 22 Democratic primary ballot. The State Supreme Court granted McDonald permission to file a mandamus suit against the State Democratic Executive Committee, which barred his name on charges of party disloyalty here Monday. This was the first step toward a full hearing of the controversy.

The court set hearing in the case for Tuesday, June 20 at 10 a. m. If the court had refused McDonald's motion for permission to bring the mandamus, the litigation would have been killed. The court's action came after a one-hour conference in chambers. His attorneys late yesterday sought to file a peremptory mandamus action against the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Excess revenue was $24,417.50. General fund receipts accounted for more than half the 1949 revenue, totalling $511,416.70. The airport fund returned $145,265.42, while the interest and sinking fund accounted for $102,742.09 of the revenue. A break-down of the general fund receipts showed taxes, current and delinquent, amounting to $204,970.57. Water service receipts were $225,895.37 — largest single source of revenue.

Other major items and the amount of revenue from each were sewer service, $25,524.16; garbage service, $38,889.23; fines and court costs, $29,172.50; gas franchise, $24,762.38; sale of effluent, $10,786.13; new taps, $7,376.58; electric franchise, $7,921.91; and occupation taxes, $5,300.69. Taxes made up sinking fund, while $19,034 transferred from the parking meter fund was the only other major source of its total. Receipts from meters for the year totalled $37,642.45. General fund expenditures included a total of $276,519.19 for salaries and wages. This included $44,607.51 for supervision, $17,241.43 for clerical work, with the balance going for labor involved in operation and maintenance. Supplies cost $28,076.68. Caterpillars Invade Pennsylvania Farm

BEDFORD, Pa., June 15. (AP)—Farmers in Pennsylvania's Bedford County tightened their ranks today to battle an invading army—an army of caterpillars. Thousands of the pests—identified by County Farm Agent L. R. Mollenauer as army worms—have been moving across a Bedford farm area leaving devastation in their wake. Mollenauer said yesterday that several different types of insect sprays were being tried in an effort to halt the crop destruction. Corn in some fields was cut off at ground level.

The committee Monday ordered the agriculture commissioner's name stricken from the ballot on grounds he has repeatedly supported Republicans for President. The court was expected to act quickly on McDonald's motion for permission to file the mandamus action. If granted, the court then would proceed to consider the petition for mandamus. In the mandamus petition, McDonald alleges the executive committee has attempted to "usurp powers, rights and prerogatives which by the laws of this state have been committed to the voters." McDonald, elected ten times as a Democrat and seeking an 11th term of office, declared in the petition that he is now and has at all times in the past been a member of the Democratic Party in good faith. He went further and said it is his "good faith purpose and intent to support at the general election in 1950 and in future years all nominees of the Democratic Party and stands ready and willing to subscribe in good faith to the test provided by law."

Filing the suit for McDonald were former Gov. Dan Moody and former state Sen. Clint Small, both of whom have been active in much Texas political litigation. In their brief, they cited the Love versus Wilcox case as their principal argument. It held that the past party affiliations of a candidate could not bar him from the primary ballot provided he would in good faith take a pledge to support current candidates. McDonald appeared before the state executive committee when it passed his name from the ballot. He admitted he had supported Republican candidates for President in 1940, 1944 and 1948, but said he had always voted for state Democratic candidates. McDonald said he had supported presidential candidates on the basis of his opinion of how good their farm programs were for the farmers. He warned the committee that Democratic voters have apparently favored his stand, and predicted he would be the next commissioner of agriculture. McDonald also warned the committee that he would sue, anticipated that he would win in court, and benefit from the publicity. The committee adopted another resolution, in case it lost in court, asking the legislature to tighten up the party loyalty statutes.

Heiress Leaves After Quitting Race For Senate

RENO, Nev., June 15. (AP)—Sterilized Heiress Ann Cooper Hewitt, quitting the Republican U. S. Senate race in Nevada, headed northwest in her jeep today for a rest. In Reno, her attorney poo-pooed rumors that the recent divorcee is off to wed a fifth time. Art Truman, a nightlife figure of the Nevada mining camps, was with her when she left Tonopah but her attorney said he merely was her bodyguard. He was hired "because many unpleasant things had been happening to her"—such as unknown persons driving nails in the tires of her jeep. Her most recent husband, Frank (Rodeo Roy) Nicholson, said at the start of her divorce that his wife sought the GOP Senate nomination "to fight communism and fix things up for the kids." He said his saloon business impaired her chances, hence the divorce. Her attorney, Ralph Morgall, in announcing her withdrawal, said "heavy mental strain" dictated it. Nevada Republican leaders said nothing. They had shown no enthusiasm.

Hurricane Season Will Open Today

MIAMI, Fla., June 15. (AP)—The hurricane season opens officially today. All that means at present is that a special teletype hookup will link 27 cities along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts to co-ordinate weather reports. Miami and 11 other Florida cities will be tied into the weather bureau's hurricane warning system. An Army-type radar to pinpoint hurricanes while they are as much as 200 miles away has been added to the hurricane charting equipment here. It will supplement hurricane hunting planes that go out to check on storms.

Savings Bonds Total Still Below Quota

DALLAS, June 15. (AP)—State Savings Bond Chairman Nathan Adams reports that the total sales of Series E bonds in the state, as of last Saturday, was 39.30 per cent of the Texas quota of $34,000,000. So far, $9,668,945 in bonds have been sold, Adams said last night. Counties already past their quota are: Andrews, 136 per cent; Bailey, 115; Dawson, 237; Edwards, 213; Hockley, 189; Jim Hogg, 119; Moore, 153; Sherman, 168; and Throckmorton, 126.

Barring McDonald From Ballot Presents An Interesting Issue

For years J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture, has been a thorn in the side of the Democratic Party of Texas. He denounced the national Democratic Party up one side and down the other, was a favored speaker at many Republican gatherings, and yet continued to run for commissioner of agriculture on the Democratic ticket. The fact that nobody could defeat him in the Democratic primaries was particularly galling to state and national party leaders.

Invariably, the national ticket got an overwhelming endorsement in Texas; just as invariably, one of its bitterest critics was re-elected time after time.

This week at Austin the State Democratic Executive Committee unanimously voted to bar the name of J. E. McDonald from the party's primary ballot. The object of this attention told Chairman John C. Calhoun:

"I'm not going to take that. The people of Texas are not going to take it. This is still a democracy."

Well, the issue is joined, so to speak.

In 1930 Thos. B. Love, won a Texas Supreme Court decision forcing the committee to place his name on the ballot, after it had refused. Love had supported Herbert Hoover—who carried the state—in 1928. The court held that what Love did in 1928 had no bearing on his Democratic affiliation in 1930.

Committee spokesmen say this does not apply to McDonald, who bolted the national ticket in 1940, 1944 and 1948. They might have added that whereas Tom Love was a one-time bolter who had a majority of Texas Democrats with him when he bolted, McDonald is a three-time bolter who had a majority of Texas Democrats against him on the national party issue every time.

The issue will be taken to the courts. If McDonald loses there, he probably will run in the general election as an independent or a Republican. In that case, the voters of Texas could decide whether they wanted any more of J. E. McDonald.

In any case, it promises to be a lively issue.

Excellent Record Achieved By City In Covered Garbage Cans

Encouraging word about the city's sanitation status has come from Dr. F. E. Sadler, director of the Midland-Ector-Howard health unit.

This city, he said, has a greater percentage of covered garbage cans than any other in West Texas. Ninety-two per cent of the cans have covers, one of the best records in the state. This is a far cry from the mere six per cent shown by a survey in 1945.

The city is due credit for this remarkable transformation. Although it caught "what-for" from a number of irate citizens for having carted off non-regulation oil drums in the spring clean-up, this simple maneuver may have contributed substantially to improving the covered can situation.

Last year, the city attacked this problem systematically with the result that hundreds of new and proper containers were secured by residents.

Dr. Sadler produced the report when questioned about the recent chamber of commerce resolution directed against sweeping of trash and rubbish into streets and leaving of some downtown trash containers uncovered. Neither of these deal primarily with sanitation. The director did not speak to the point perhaps for this reason.

But the report on garbage collection and maintenance of an extremely high ratio of covers is heartening. As a practical matter, this is getting close to the saturation point; as a matter of ideal, we ought to go after the remaining eight per cent to see that they play ball with the 92 per cent majority.

Britain Fears Schuman Plan Effect On Its Pocket-Book

SURPRISE AND SHOCKED CONCERN, to put it mildly, have been caused in western capitals by the action of Britain's ruling Labor (Socialist) party in calling for that country to eschew further plans for European political and economic union until continental nations have adopted socialism.

This would, of course, put an ideological damper on concerted rehabilitation projects like the sensational French Schuman plan for the pooling of western Europe's coal and steel. Indeed, this sweeping proposal for unprecedented co-operation, which has aroused so much hope and optimism among the western powers, seems to be the immediate objective of the Socialist declaration.

THE POINT IS THAT BRITAIN HAS refused to commit herself in advance to a scheme which would by which the United Kingdom may be able to associate itself with this valuable piece of plan. The prime minister held out hope that "the practical working out of the declared that his government wanted "to help and not to hinder" the Schuman plan of hearing exactly what the continental nations propose in connection with the Schuman plan. The reason for this may be explained in the Labor party statement regarding further programs for European political or economic union. This emphasized that European unity isn't an "overriding end in itself" and that national sovereignty and Britain's obligations to her commonwealth must come first.

The party admitted that "international planning of iron and steel is the key to economic unity" but said "such planning will be worse than useless if it is inspired, like the cartel of the past, exclusively by the desire for private profit." Hence the demand for socialism in all the countries concerned and for public ownership, that is, nationalization.

That's the story as unfolded thus far, but it leaves one with the feeling that there is much left unsaid. Britain is an active member of other co-operative organizations formed in western Europe since the war. She has been one of the leaders in formation of such outstanding combinations as the Atlantic pact and the western European union.

Melting Pot Theory Tested In A New York City School

NEW YORK, N.Y.—IS THE THEORY OF the American melting pot wrong? Dr. Rachel Davis-Dubois, a South Jersey Quaker who has pioneered in developing techniques for intercultural relations, believes it erred in one respect.

"The melting pot theory, as it was interpreted years ago," she said, "meant that people coming here would cut themselves off from their cultural pasts."

"There was a pressure to think alike, do alike, and be alike. That would make our American culture this indeed."

And what troubled Mrs. Dubois most was that children of minority groups grew up secretly or openly ashamed of their days and customs of their parents. This created tension at home and school.

preaching it to grownups. Dr. Dubois' solution was "the parranda."

"The parranda in Puerto Rico," she explained, "is a kind of progressive party in which people go from one house to another."

She worked out a program under which a dozen or more children of varying nationalities were released from school once a week from noon until 3 o'clock. During this time they had lunch at the home of one parent and went on the desert at the home of another. The first home might be Finnish or Puerto Rican. The second might be Irish or Jewish.

"IN EACH HOME," SHE SAID, "THE children sample the food, sing songs, engage in games and dances and learn about the customs of their host."

"A teacher goes along, but just as an another participant. The kids think of it as a real party. No sermons against prejudice are made. They experience brotherhood—so there is no need for talking about it."

Here is what a few students have written about the parrandas in their own school paper:

"We may do things differently but we do them for the same reasons."

"You thought at first you did not like them, but you found out differently after you met the people."

"We are more alike than different."

New Navy Guided Missile Is Guided Perfectly To Target By Radar Echo

WASHINGTON—The Navy is itching to rip the "top secret" label from the most revolutionary weapon since the atomic bombe—the guided missile. Reason for the Navy's itchy fingers is that it thinks guided missiles may make the big bomber as obsolete as the dodo.

Here are some of the facts which can be revealed without giving aid and comfort to the enemy.

1. The guided missile is guided unerringly to the target by radar echoes. If, for instance, a missile is fired five miles to one side of the target, it will automatically change its course while in the air and hit the target. The exact distance a homing missile will change its course remains a military secret; but the effect is that of a magnet drawing a bullet to the target. It cannot miss.

2. The joint chiefs of staff, including sober, cautious Gen. Omar Bradley, were so impressed by homing missiles they persuaded reluctant Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson to earmark millions for mass experimentation and production. Johnson has finally approved an order.

3. The Navy in its new construction program now before Congress proposes two cruisers and a number of small vessels and submarines to be converted into guided-missile carriers.

4. The Navy has developed anti-submarine and anti-ship missiles which will dive under water and speed toward a fast-moving ship. This may make the transportation of troops in wartime almost impossible.

5. It will also be fairly easy to shoot down invading airplanes. Comdr. L. P. Ramage of the Navy's guided-missile research reported to the Secretary of the Navy: "The highest priority goes to those missiles whose targets will be hostile aircraft. The pendulum swings one way and then the other. The guided missile shows promise of achieving a quantum jump in the effectiveness of weapons available to a task force against the bomber. Success is inevitable."

Bop And Belch Are Laughter Keystone

HOLLYWOOD—If Spike Jones is right, the average American wants to see the first fiddler fall into the bass drum. And the harpist bopped with a bat during her most serious moment. And the tenor the victim of a belch.

The sum of $25,000 a week, most weeks, is what Spike Jones is paid for entertaining Americans, so he probably is right.

The basis of the comedy in his musical degradation revue is, he says, "what you would like to see happen." The state of American humor then is that the bop and the belch are the keystones of laughter. Why try to be subtle when being otherwise pays so handsomely?

A very funny—or, at any rate, most laughable to those attending the Home Show here now—sequence in the Jones show is when a supposed queen for a day contestant comes to the microphone. Her nervousness causes her to laugh so hard that she giggles. Are the folks in the audience amused because her nervousness might be their nervousness? Or are they laughing because she obviously didn't wear her uplift and her hold-in?

"I don't know the answers, I'm just amazed that this could be funny."

Spike, who has made the washboard, the cowbell and the revolver instruments in his band, spends a great deal of his time wondering what will make people laugh. He wondered for weeks about the nervous contestant, having it in mind as a bulk-up for a musical number. When the gal sails into "Glow Worm" the stage and almost all the people on it fall apart. "Everytime you hear 'Glow Worm,'" says Spike, "you want something anything—to happen."

Salvation Army Workers Have Done A Fine Emergency Job

A lot of praise and admiration has been given to the fired, but still working, firefighters, who deserve all the praise people afford them.

But out at the scene of operations at the Pan American No. 1 Holly well are two other people. They aren't fighting the fire and they are not there because they HAVE to be.

But they are there to perform a much needed and valuable service of helping to make the smoky and tired fighters feel just a little bit better.

I'm talking about Captain James Harrison and his wife, two Salvation Army workers who are doing all that is humanly possible to be of service to the workers.

The husband and wife team began their extra-curricular activities last Sunday night. And they are still there, sleeping here when they can, eating when they can, and living right there at all times. The only occasion for leaving the area of the fire is to return to Big Spring for supplies—and this is a job in itself, for it means traveling over bumpy and dusty country roads many times a day as workers continually pour over to the Salvation Army truck for coffee, sweet rolls, doughnuts, cigarettes, water and even first aid.

"This job," Capt. Harrison said, "is not covered by our budget but we'll do all we can until the fire is put out."

Such a point of view, such concern for their fellowman makes the captain and his wife people you've always wanted to know.

Extremely amiable and always ready with a smile, the captain and his wife nonetheless show the effects of their vigil.

Tired and dusty eyes show the strain of their day-and-night-long job. But they won't stop until the last man goes home. It's hard to imagine, to me and I'm sure to you, that we could or would want to spend our spare time along with working hours at such a place. True, the Salvation Army has a job of comforting people in need, but such emergency work is usually the job of the American Red Cross.

Here, however, we have two people who voluntarily offered their time and energy. Unfortunately we also have two people here who are using their general funds from Community Chest drives to serve in an emergency. Such funds, naturally, will not now be available to Captain Harrison for his routine work.

It might be a nice gesture, though, if people should help Captain Harrison by offering to assist him when it comes time to pay for the thousands of gallons of coffee and other food that his funds are now paying for.

And, when you go to bed tonight—a comfortable one, at that—think of Capt. Harrison and his wife who are sleeping under the stars in shifts, ready and willing to serve the men at the oil well fire. . . .

Basing Point Bill Must Be Signed Or Vetted By Friday

WASHINGTON, W.—FRIDAY IS THE deadline for President Truman to sign into law—or veto—the so-called "Basing Point Bill" which Congress passed a couple of weeks ago.

If he does nothing, it becomes law anyway.

Some big business outfits want it to become law. A number of small business organizations want Mr. Truman to veto it; Tuesday 11 members of Congress called on him to do just that.

They said it would create monopolies, help choke business competition, favor national chain stores choke out small businesses, and bring higher prices.

men uncertain on how they could do business now. For two years Congress has been arguing what to do.

The so-called basing point was passed. If signed into law by Mr. Truman, it will do a couple of things:

1. Permit businessmen to absorb freight costs if there's no collusion, or deal, among them to fix prices by absorbing the freight.

2. Let a firm meet the equally low price of a competitor—such as the St. Louis mill meeting the Pittsburgh mill's price—if there was no conspiracy to fix prices by doing so and no attempt at monopoly.

Foes of the bill say this means a full green light for the basing point system. Senator Douglas Illinois Democrat, argues that firms could fix prices without agreeing to it around a table. How? Douglas says that, independently, each can use the same freight rate formula and wind up with the same price, thus avoiding cut-throat competition.

FRIENDS OF THE BILL, AND THEY were in the majority in Congress, and they otherwise. They say it would help business by clearing up for businessmen some questions about government regulations and taboos.

The problem, far too complex to be told in a story like this will be given here in a very simplified outline. But remember: The government has laws controlling business to protect the public and save individual firms from unfair competition.

For example, there's a law forbidding firms to get together to fix prices. Price-fixing hurts the public since then it loses the benefit it would get from lower prices when there was business competition.

The present problem goes back to a set-up in the steel industry called the "multiple basing point" system. Independent mills as well as those in big corporations took part.

It worked in such a way that they didn't cut each other's throat by cutting prices to win customers. It went like this:

FRIENDS OF THE BILL SAY IT means no such thing, that it would prevent price-fixing and attempts at monopoly.

So much for the basing point part of the bill. There's another part dealing with price discrimination. The present law forbids price discrimination when its net effect is substantially to reduce or injure competition. More plainly, when it's done to ruin competition.

For example: Firm AAA, selling to firms BBB and CCC, can't sell to B at a lower price in order to help BBB wipe out CCC.

But the bill jumbles the language around in such a way that there's dispute about this: Friends of the bill say this legal language shifting around in the bill will make such price discrimination a lot tougher for any firm to try.

Foes of the bill say it makes such discrimination easier. Only a judge can ever give an answer. But some small business organizations protest it will help big chains crush small independent stores.

THE MILLS IN SEVERAL CITIES — say Pittsburgh, Chicago, and Birmingham—were considered basing points. Then, no matter where you bought steel, you paid the price charged at the nearest basing point. And—

You also paid the cost of the freight from that nearest basing point to you, whether or not any freight was involved at all. For example:

Say you lived in St. Louis and there was a steel mill there. You bought steel from that mill. You paid, though, whatever the price was in Chicago, which was the basing point for St. Louis and—

In addition, you had to pay the St. Louis firm the cost of shipping the steel to you from Chicago although actually the steel came from the St. Louis mill and wasn't shipped from Chicago at all.

Take another example. Say you lived in New York and Pittsburgh was your nearest basing point. But for some reason you decided to buy from that firm in St. Louis.

Gifts To Berliners
BERLIN—Gift packages from the United States continue to pour into this city, an American official says.

John H. Gayer, communications advisor to the U. S. authorities here, said that more than 45,000 such packages, valued at $750,000 were received by Berlin families during the first four months of this year.

Sale Is Total Loss
JOHANNESBURG—It's they're used to gold rushes in South Africa - but that's nothing to what happened at a church jumble sale here. When the doors were opened there was such a rush of customers that the attendees were pushed aside and knocked over. By the time they had recovered, the customers had departed with the entire stock - without paying.

ALTHOUGH CHICAGO WAS THE basing point for St. Louis, you paid the Pittsburgh price, since Pittsburgh was the basing point for New York. And what about freight costs?

Although the steel had to be shipped to you from St. Louis, much further away, you paid only the cost of shipping from Pittsburgh. On that deal the St. Louis firm absorbed the loss on the freight.

But that evened out for the St. Louis firm since it had charged the St. Louis customer freight rate from Chicago for steel which he bought in St. Louis, steel which wasn't shipped from Chicago at all.

So, the St. Louis firm didn't undercut the Pittsburgh firm in any way. But a couple of things were involved here: Freight absorption and, under the basing point system, meeting the equal price of a competitor.

The cement makers had a similar set-up. In 1948 the Supreme Court dealt a blow at the cement makers. The cement makers stopped the practice. So did the steel mills.

SOME SENATORS AND HOUSE MEMBERS argued the Supreme Court decision wasn't clear, that it left business-

Big Spring Rainbow Girls Return Home After Mineral Wells Meeting

Some 2,000 Texas girls, members of the Grand Assembly of Texas, Order of Rainbow for Girls, and their sponsors, are returning home today from Mineral Wells, after attending their state convention for the past four days. Big Spring delegates included Yvonne Apple, who was appointed and installed as Grand Drill Leader during the assembly. Miss Apple was a Grand Representative from Arkansas to Texas in 1949.

Arriving Sunday in time for evening church services, the Big Spring girls attended the First Methodist church and heard the Rev. Finis Crutchfield, father of Mrs. Alsie H. Carleton of this city.

The first general assembly meeting was Monday night at the convention hall with Charles Pond, Dallas, Grand Worthy Advisor, presiding. Music on the program was provided by the Grand Choir and a sextette from the Big Spring Rainbow Order. Kitty Roberts, Susan Houser, Ann Crocker, Wanda Petty, Barbara Greer and Jan Masters are members of the sextette.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

Yesterday as we walked home from work, we happened to run into one of the reasons that churches are welfare agencies and all organizations and workers with the unfortunate in our land, often get the name of being hard and unsympathetic.

Our story really begins last Monday morning in one of the larger churches in a near by city. While we were in the business manager's office, a woman came in with a request for help. She said that she was looking for work and that she needed money to buy some food. As in most cities, requests for emergency aid are usually referred by organizations of this city to the Salvation Army, so the business manager suggested that the woman visit the Salvation Army, stating that he felt sure that the captain would provide food and work. He offered to call the captain and tell him that the woman was coming over, but she quickly said, "Oh no, I know where it is. I'll go over. But I don't want to have to go to work until I've had something to eat." She was assured again that she would be fed. She walked out of the church.

Walking home yesterday afternoon, we saw the same woman walking out of a local church. We wanted to stop and tell her that the Big Spring Salvation Army would assist her in finding work and food just as another Salvation Army would have done. But we were a little afraid we might get a sock in the jaw and anyway, we couldn't prove that the woman was not worthy of assistance. But we couldn't help but wonder just what city she may be in tomorrow.

We watched her for a few minutes as she walked up the street ringing door bells and finding no one at home. We saw her later in the evening as she waited for a bus at a city bus stop.

It's wonderful to help those who need help. But there are those whose actions make it difficult to choose between the worthy and the unworthy.

Mrs. E. A. Riden and son, Edward have returned from Dimmit where they visited in the N. L. Wesson and Bob McClain home. They accompanied Mrs. Wesson to Ada, Okla. where they visited Mrs. Riden's mother, Mrs. J. W. Hattox.

Altrusa Club Now Being Organized In Big Spring; Meeting Set July 7

Big Spring will soon have an Altrusa club. Mrs. Grace Wallace, outgoing president of the Midland club, was in Big Spring Wednesday laying the ground work for an organizational meeting which is tentatively set for July 7. Mrs. Wallace will attempt to secure the necessary 15 charter members today. She met with the first five charter members Wednesday night at the Settles hotel. The Midland club has just completed organization of a club in Odessa.

Altrusa is the oldest of the women's classified service clubs preceding woman suffrage by two years. Taking its name from the word "altruism," the first Altrusa club was organized in Nashville, Tennessee on April 11, 1917. On August 21, 1917, Altrusa incorporated, and became the first national organization of executive and professional women, either classified or unclassified. Altrusa became International in 1935 and in June, 1937, the first international convention was held in Cuernavaca, Mexico.

Membership in Altrusa is exclusively for the outstanding representative of each particular business or profession within the territory of an Altrusa club and is by invitation only. In the international organization today are more than 8,500 distinguished executive and professional women, in some 280 Altrusa clubs throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Central America, England, and Asia who work together to carry out Altrusa's program of service: to foster community, state, national and international betterment. The talents and abilities of trained executive and professional women are coordinated in a program of service that has as its cornerstones six main objectives. They are:

MIDLAND, June 15.—An aroused Big Spring baseball club, scrapping to return to the first division in Longhorn league standings, hopped on two Midland pitchers for a 10-2 triumph here Wednesday night.

The victory clinched this particular series for the Broncs and placed them one game ahead of the Tribe in fifth place, one game in arrears of San Angelo.

Luis Gonzales chalked up his sixth pitching success of the season, coasting in behind the lusty hitting of his mates. The Hosas crashed out 17 hits off Harold Wearne, the loser, and Ralph Blair, including a triple and two singles by Gonzales himself.

Manager Pat Stacey inserted Gabe Castinada into the lineup and the rookie handled seven field chances flawlessly. He started two double plays.

The Steeds picked up a run in the initial round, then broke the game wide open with a six-run outburst in the third panel. Every man in the Big Spring lineup hit safely at least once, with the exception of Julio Delatorre.

Stan Hughes and Tex Stephenson accounted for the Midland tallies.

The two teams wind up their set in Midland tonight. The Broncs return home on Friday for two nights, at which time they clash with the Ballinger Cats.

Wilton Davis To Quit Game

ARLINGTON, June 15. (U. S. —) Wilton (Hook) Davis, Hardin-Simmons' three-time All-Border Conference halfback said today "My football playing days are over."

Davis had another year of eligibility in the Border Conference. He elected to finish college this spring and received his diploma May 28.

A lot of football players and coaches in the Southwest are just as happy Davis ceased them plenty of trouble for too many years.

A knee injury, sustained in the 1948 campaign, was not completely corrected by surgery. His slow recovery kept Davis on the bench a lot of the time during the 1949 season.

Since his graduation, the Hook has been employed as an automobile salesman. He reports he is perfectly happy with his job now.

"I don't ever intend to play any more football. If I had not reached that decision I would have remained to complete my eligibility at Hardin-Simmons."

Louis said he would definitely not be interested in any sort of "professional" offer, even if one should be made to him.

But he's not out of the game completely. "I would like to get into the coaching profession, and would jump at a chance for a coaching job with a future."

Davis led the nation's wall carriers in total yardage from scrimmage in 1947. He was one of the leaders in 1948 and was named one of the ten top halfbacks in the nation the same year. Among his honors is a selection of the 1948 All-Southwestern eleven by the All-America staff of Collier's magazine.

As a freshman in 1947, Davis returned the first kickoff he ever received in college competition for 90 yards and a touchdown. He didn't slow down until his injury. In a game against Temple State of Arizona, he picked up 110 yards in less than a quarter and retired to the bench.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

LUBBOCK EX-Bill McDonald, onetime pitcher for the Lubbock Hubbers of the WT-NM league, is now hurling for the Pittsburgh Pirates. At 18 years of age in 1947, Bill won 12 and lost 7 for the Hubbers. He blanked the Phillies in his big league start, giving up only three hits.

Who is the most valuable member of the Big Spring baseball mercenaries?

This will probably get quite an argument but right now, in our opinion, Manny Junco is contributing the most to the club. Bert Beas would be a close second choice.

Junco has shown a willingness to play any position in which Manager Pat Stacey puts him. Some of the time, he takes over right field. Other times, he's in left.

Last weekend, Potato Pascual went out of the lineup with an injured leg and Junco was dispatched to third base. Manny was no George Kell his first time out, but he did look to advantage around the hot corner.

Junco, who came here as a catcher and would still be the No. 1 backstop if Stacey hadn't needed him elsewhere, has good reflexes. In last Sunday's game with Midland, a double play ball headed down third base way but took a bad hop at the last instant and threatened to go over Manny's head. Junco retreated to flag the ball and then started the twin killing.

Junco is improving at the dish. He builds his batting average by making good use of his dazzling speed afoot. He ranks with the two or three speediest men in the entire league. If he's not the fastest catcher in all baseball, it would surprise us.

A LATER START COULD SOLVE PROBLEM The Broncs have had six games rained out to date, a factor that keeps the front office worried. However, the club has been lucky, at that.

Consider the fortunes of the Hazelton North Atlantic league outfit. In its first 30 games, the team had 15 contests weathered out, 14 of which were at home.

Club owners of the Longhorn league could eliminate a lot of the postponements by starting the season later in the year. Weather in this section doesn't warm up until the middle of May but stays warm during most of October. The nights are always cold hereabouts for the first six weeks of the campaign.

The Cincinnati Red of the National league used to be called the Porkopolitans.

They're still paying fabulous bonuses to youngsters considered good baseball prospects.

A report from Kentucky says one lad who was playing in the state's all-star baseball game was promised, if he attended a Big Ten school, a $25,000 cash bonus upon graduation or $5,000 placed in escrow for him and $300 a month if he remained in school.

Parents of young athletes in this section had best hope the Texas interscholastic league doesn't drop baseball, for it won't be long before the prep schools in the Southwest are producing those kind of ball players.

Ackerly A's Entered in Midland Diamond Tourney Slated June 24

MIDLAND, June 15.—Eight of the top semi-professional baseball teams in West Texas have entered a National Baseball Congress District Semi-Pro Tournament to be held here June 24-25 and July 1-2. The tournament will be held in Indian Park, home of the professional Midland Indians, with both afternoon and night doubleheaders scheduled the first week.

The Hobbs Oilers of Hobbs, N. M. top the list of teams entered. The Oilers are strong all the way through and boast good hurling in Leroy Clemens and Ray Williams. The team is undefeated in six starts this season.

The Odessa Stars, another tough nine, are ready for the title battle. The Stars have an enviable record in semi-pro circles.

Ackerly's A's of the Tri-County League will come into the tournament with a fine record. The A's, managed by Nelson Rogers, hold third place in the Tri-County circuit.

Four Midland teams are entered and all are loaded with former college and professional players. The teams will battle for the district championship here and the winner will go to the state tournament at Sinton next month.

Several professional scouts have indicated they will be on hand to look over prospects.

The first twin-bill will get underway at 1 p. m. June 24 and night games will open at 8:15 p. m. that night. A doubleheader, starting at 1 p. m. Sunday, will complete the first round.

The same schedule will be followed July 1-2 with the championship tilt slated Sunday afternoon, July 2.

Gehrmann Seeking To Better Record MINNEAPOLIS, June 15. (U. S. —) A young man from Wisconsin has a double-barreled ambition he would like to fulfill before he ends his collegiate career with graduation this month.

He is Don Gehrmann, 22-year-old senior at the University of Wisconsin. Gehrmann is the first man ever to win the noted Banker's Mile three years in a row, and he would like to add his third National Collegiate Athletic Association crown before hanging up his spikes in college running.

The other part of his ambition is to better the mark of 4:06.3 set by Lou Zamperini of Southern California in 1938. From the looks of things, Gehrmann stands a better chance of realizing his three-years-in-a-row dream than the record-breaking hope. The best time he ever has made in the event is 4:06.3.

The 1950 U. S. Open golf championship is the 50th such event since 1895—there were no tournaments during war years.

Joe Page's Failure Has American Loop Buzzing

By JACK HANF AP Sports Writer

What ever happened to Fireman Joe Page of 1949 — the greatest relief pitcher ever?

Recent work of the New York Yankees' bullpen artist reminds fans of the Page of 1949 — an in-and-out-er who flopped after a glorious pennant year in 1947.

Highest priced of all Yankee pitchers with a $30,000-plus wage, Page failed the world champs yesterday for the second day in a row. Now they've lost the first two.

Bothered by a sinus infection during the long home stand, Page saw little action. He had a week's rest before Stengel tried him in Chicago Tuesday night. Joe didn't have it.

Allie Reynolds was one out away from victory yesterday when the White Sox caught up with him. With two gone in the ninth and New York leading, 2-1, a single and walk by pinch hitter Floyd Baker and Luke Appling and a single by Chico Carrasquel tied the score.

Stengel took the ball from Allie and waved in Page. Joe's third pitch to Dave Philley sailed into the lower left field seats for a three-run homer and the ball game, 5-2.

Last season Page strode from the bullpen 80 times. The Yanks won 42 out of 117 and tied one of those games. So far in 19 appearances by Page, New York has won 11 and lost eight.

Especially alarming to Stengel is Page's new habit of throwing the home run ball. Five batters hit homers off him so far. Only seven did the trick all last season.

Page's failure cost the Yanks a chance to gain on Detroit. Instead the Tigers clung to their half game lead despite an 8-2 defeat by Philadelphia.

Lou Cristie, whose only previous win came May 27 when he stopped a New York nine-game win streak, turned in a neat six-hit job against the league leaders.

The Athletics handed Dixie Trout his first loss, with Elmer Valo and Eddie Joost hitting home runs. Slender consolation or the Tigers was the feat of Hoot Evers extending his consecutive game hitting streak to 19.

Five homers featured the night game between Cleveland and Boston, won by the Indians, 7-3. Larry Doby, Al Rosen and Lou Boudreau were the long distance clouters or Cleveland, Vern Stephens and Ted Williams or the Red Sox. Williams collected No. 19 off Mike Garcia in the third with one on.

Ellis Kinder continued to throw that gopher ball up to the plate, yielding all three Cleveland homers. Boudreau's was his first of the season.

Conrad Marrero held St. Louis to four hits as Washington thrust the Browns into the cellar with a 4-1 victory. The Senators had lost seven straight to St. Louis.

National League activity consisted of one night game. Rahn washed out the rest of the schedule.

The crushing St. Louis Cardinals racked up their seventh straight win behind Max Lanier. The chunky southpaw let down the Phillies with six hits, 4-2, as St. Louis stretched its lead to 3 1/2 games over idle Brooklyn.

Two runs in the eighth broke a 2-2 tie, handing Ken Heintzelman his fifth loss. Enos Slaughter singled but was forced at second. Marty Marion tripled to break the tie and Del Rice drove him home as Lanier, unbeaten since May 17, won his fourth straight.

Acheson Poses With Two Stewardesses

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD Associated Press Staff Secretary of State Dean Acheson, the picture of a diplomat from head to toe was amiable and approachable during his visit to Texas. He responded easily to the warm hospitality of the Lone Star state and apparently had a good time. Acheson was first off the plane that brought his party from Washington to Dallas. A patter of applause ran through the crowd of 150 that waited at the airport as he emerged from the ship, smiled, and waved. First to greet him was Bill Kittrell, who long has been a potent operator in the Democratic party in Texas. The Secretary of State shook hands all around and then posed cheerfully for pictures with a number of Texas dignitaries. Then a press agent for Braniff Airways came up, taking a camera, and wanted to know if Acheson would pose with a couple of Braniff stewardesses. Acheson had not come to Texas in a Braniff plane but he HAD used a Braniff ramp in leaving the plane. He posed for two pictures with the stewardesses. Mrs. Acheson immediately left the airport for the home of a cousin, Mrs. Wayland Sanford or Dallas, and Acheson remarked: "The first thing I do when I come to Texas is to lose my wife. Wayland Sanford is a staunch Republican."

Smart Birds, These Harvard Pigeons; They Perform For Promise Of Reward

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 15. (AP) - Smart birds these Harvard-educated pigeons. They're able to play a tune on a piano, play table tennis, tell time, push pushbuttons and understand changing colors—like traffic lights. The piano players can rattle off such simple tunes as "Over The Fence Is Out, Boys" and "Take Me Out To The Ball Game." And all the brains are not in the heads of the fancy homing varieties. The common park pigeon is just as smart. Dr. Skinner, professor of psychology at Harvard, has drawn these conclusions after a series of experiments. The tests are designed to determine whether a child can be trained more effectively by encouraging good behavior or punishing bad actions. How do you do it with pigeons? The professor explains that pigeons are ideal subjects because they have a reaction time comparable to humans. They are paid off with food if their responses to various tests bring the desired results. Dr. Skinner gets the piano players to drum up a tune by rewarding them if they peck the keys on a seven key board in certain sequences. The modified table tennis—without nets—is played on a two-foot square table.

Beaumont's Population Is Now 93,875

By The Associated Press A population shift — equal to a good-sized city — flowed into Jefferson County during the past 10 years. Census figures announced last night in Beaumont by District Census Supervisor U. G. Watson show the county with a present population of 194,136 compared to 145,529 in 1940 — a gain of 48,607. Watson earlier announced that Beaumont grew from 89,061 to 93,875 and Port Arthur from 46,140 to 57,374. Every incorporated town in the county showed a gain. Port Neches now has 5,447 residents, up from 2,487; Park Ridge 2,009, up from 1,198; Lakeview, 3,005, up from 852 and Griffin Park, 2,101, up from 1,344. Nederland which was not incorporated in 1940, now has 3,801. In West Texas some counties show gains and some losses. Last night District Supervisor Donald Pulver said that Taylor County grew from 44,147 to 53,977 in the 10 years. Eastland County dropped from 30,345 to 23,754, and Erath County from 30,700 to 18,576. Stephenville, a county seat of Erath, increased from 4,768 to 7,065. Figures for the 15 counties in the 13th Congressional District show a census gain of about four per cent — from 279,524 to 290,569. However, only three counties in the district — Wichita, Denton and Wilbarger — showed gains.

City Needs To Streamline Its Accounting

The City of Big Spring has outgrown its accounting system. In the opinion of Neil G. Hilliard, certified public accountant who completed the annual audit of records Tuesday. Hilliard made the observation in presenting the results of the audit to commissioners Tuesday evening. They approved the report. "The city's accounting system is fundamentally sound and theoretically correct, but it should be streamlined to eliminate duplications, voluminous detail work, and allow more time for internal auditing," he told commissioners. He cited the voucher system as an example, pointing out that twice as much work is done on it as is necessary. Works department records could be eliminated entirely, the accountant stated, referring to the city's system of cost accounting. This involves the accounting for activities of the street, water, sewer, and other service departments through the use of work orders. City Manager H. W. Whitner said, disagreeing with Hilliard as to the advisability of doing away with the system. Work orders issued in the various departments give an account of the amount of labor, equipment and material used on any particular job, the city manager said. "It's especially valuable in checking back to see what any job has cost," he declared. Hilliard praised the accounting department on several phases of its work, including thorough posting procedure and careful accounting for all money handled. He recommended that the city investigate the possibility of installing accounting machines to assist in the work. "There's no doubt in my mind but that the city secretary does the work of two men," he declared. The auditor referred to Secretary C. R. McClenny. He suggested that several of the funds be consolidated "if it does not conflict with legal requirements." Writing of insurance policies for a three to five-year term would mean a saving of $900 to $1,000 on their premium, he recommended. "Your internal auditing department is being neglected," Hilliard stated. "As an illustration, bond coupons redeemed had not been reconciled, tax department receivables were out of balance, entries had not been made setting up capital expenditures, and inventories had not been reconciled. "Also, accounts receivable are allowed to remain delinquent for a longer period than is consistent to sound business, golf records are not kept in such a manner as to properly account for the money, and the police department has become careless in showing docket dispositions," he explained. The CPA also advised city officials to watch more closely the amount of depository bonds at the two banks here. Though the total of depository bonds exceeded the amount on deposit in both banks. Deposits in one of the institutions exceeded its bond by about $40,000, he said. "In making criticisms, I realize that work of your accounting department is done by conscientious individuals who appear to be handling every effort toward doing the job right," Hilliard stated in presenting the annual audit.

State Department Promises To Study Suggestion To Fire Alien Employees

By The Associated Press WASHINGTON, June 15.—State department officials today promised careful study of a recommendation that the agency fire all the aliens it employs abroad and hire Americans instead for security reasons. The recommendation came from Senators Green (D-R) and Lodge (R-Mass.), who traveled to Europe last month to survey the department's security set-up overseas. They said last night in a report to the Senate: "Aliens are the most likely means of foreign penetration and the effort to penetrate our security abroad is constantly growing." The law pay the aliens in American employ receive "makes them a prey to bribery and pressure," the report added. Castleman & O'Neill No. 2-A Griffin, south offset to the west end of the Reinecke pool, was running pipe after topping the reef. Top of the lime was picked at 6,987 (minus 4,620). This would put it 122 feet low to the C&O No. 1-A Griffin, the extender, but 22 feet high to the C&O No. 1-B Griffin, one location to the south. Location is 467 from the south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 31-25, H&TC.

In the same area, Rutherford et al No. 2-B Griffin, 467 from the south and 600 from the east lines of the southwest quarter of section 31-25, H&TC, drilled ahead to 6,525. Rutherford No. 3-B Griffin, a north offset to this 1-B Griffin, which completed as a northeast diagonal to the C&O 1-A Griffin, was rigging up rosy. A mile south of production Waelock & Weinschel No. 1 Schilling was below 6,526. This venture will be watched closely to the end of the week for a possible top on the reef. It is located in the center of the NW SE section 44-25, H&TC.

Chapman & McFarlin No. 1 Holley, 652 from the west and 467 from the north lines of the southwest quarter of section 32-25, H&TC, drilled to 6,215. It is two locations east of Cosden's 2-A Holley.

Most Of Planes In Women's Air Race Are Landing

GREENVILLE, S. C., June 14. (AP)—Most of 23 planes remaining in a women's transcontinental air race were expected to reach the finish line here by tonight. Fifty-one pilots and co-pilots in 33 planes started from San Diego, Calif., Sunday. Night and instrument flying is forbidden in this fourth annual event sponsored by the 99s, an international organization of women pilots. Odessa, Texas, is the major sponsor of the race. Gusto; rainy weather prevented most of the field from arriving yesterday. Eleven planes and pilots remained overnight at Charleston, S. C.; three at Atlanta, five at Montgomery, Ala., one each at Meridian and Jackson, Miss., and two others were unreported. Five of the starters have dropped out. The fifth to leave the field was piloted by Monie Dye and Mary Klison of Santa Monica, Calif. Fuel line trouble forced them out 10 miles west of Montgomery, Ala. Race authorities said the winner would not be determined until all entries arrive. The winner will be calculated on the basis of elapsed flying time. The leaders will divide $5,000 in prize money.

Irwin Rites Set For 4 p.m. Friday

William Neal Irwin, 75, who died after an emergency appendectomy here Tuesday evening, will be buried following services to be held at the East Fourth Baptist church here at 4 p.m. Friday. Rev. Fred Smith of Knott will be in charge while Rev. P. D. O'Brien of Big Spring will assist. All members of the immediate family, with the exception of Mrs. Harold Thistle of Baltimore, Md., and Mac Neal Irwin of San Christobal, Venezuela, S. A., daughter and son, respectively, are here and those two are due in before last rites are said.

For a Sunday night buffet supper, choose "Fork food." Codfish balls with tomato sauce, cole slaw, and hot popovers go well together; or you might choose chicken liver and gravy on steamed rice, green peas, and chutney. A compote of fresh fruit and a plate of particularly delicious cookie-squares would go well with either of these menus for dessert.

Grain Service Makes Market

Limitations on cotton acreage—both through weather and congressional acts—means a record breaking amount of grain sorghum production here this year.

Marketing would have been the number one problem of farmers several years ago. Not today, however, for the Tucker McKinley Grain company has solved that problem.

By providing elevator space at the company headquarters for approximately 1,500 tons of grain the disposition and storage problem is largely solved for producers.

Besides this, Tucker McKinley have auxiliary space in sight for storage of approximately another 1,000 tons.

The company thus will be equipped to handle grain placed under the government loan. It will not be necessary to ship it to some market based on major market quotations every day of the week.

Tucker McKinley will be prepared to buy or handle government loans promptly.
