Rev. David Currie Emphasizes 'Faith' In Initial Lecture of Four-Day Series

By using numerous illustrations, the Rev. David Currie emphasized his talk on "Faith" in yesterday's opening convocation for Religious Emphasis week. He stressed the need of faith by everyone who wishes to accomplish anything, pointing out that "you can't see Pasteur or other great men, but their works are widely evidence."

The Rev. Mr. Currie spoke this morning on "Truth," will speak tomorrow on "Fellowship," and will conclude Thursday with "Vo-

CLUBS MUST RESERVE PAGES

Each club must reserve its page and turn a membership list in to La Ventana office, J205, by Monday, says Bert Goodyear, La Ventana editor.

RUN-OFF WEDNESDAY

Senior run-off election for vice president of the senior class will be held Wednesday in Ad219.

Emmett Adair, president of the Student Inter-Religious council, presided over the Monday session and introduced James Dent, chairman of RE week committee. Miss Ruth Emery, youth director of Northwest Texas conference of the Methodist church, and Prentice W. Chunn, Jr., associate director of the Baptist Student Union of Texas, were introduced to the student body.

Prayers by Students

Prayers at each convocation are offered by students. Jim McGraw, representative of the Student council, gave the invocation, and Jerry Bowling, representative of Student Inter-Religious council yesterday gave the benediction. Harold Brannan gave the invocation and Edward Ponder gave the benediction today.

Additional guest speakers are offering talks at the various student centers each morning from 7:30 to 7:50, seminars in the various dorms at 6:30 p.m., and "bull sessions" at 10 p.m. Dr. Currie will speak at the Presbyterian center tomorrow and will conduct convocation at 10 a.m. in the gym. Mr. Chunn will speak at the Baptist morning watch; at Horn hall he will hold a seminar; and at West hall a bull session.

Borger Minister On Program

Allen Bryan, associate pastor of Broadway Church of Christ, will speak at the Church of Christ devotional tomorrow. The Rev. Richard Clayborne, pastor of First Christian Church of Borger, will speak at the Methodist morning watch, and at a bull session in Doak hall.

Thursday, Dr. Currie will hold the Church of Christ devotional, and Mr. Chunn will conduct the Methodist morning devotional. Miss Emery will be at the Presbyterian morning watch, and the Rev. Mr. Clayborne will be at the Baptist Student center that morning.

Saddle Tramps To Collect Homecoming Bonfire Wood

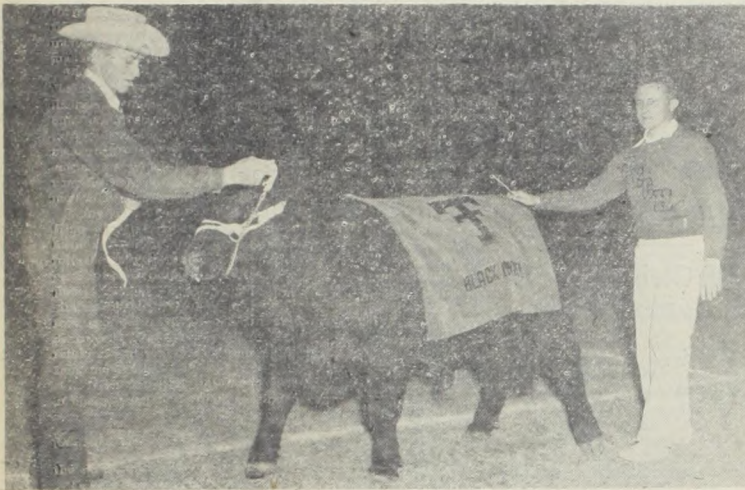

Scrap lumber and other kinds of wood for the Homecoming bonfire will be collected by Saddle Tramps, says Don Hancock.

Persons who have large amounts of such wood to donate may have it collected by calling Hancock at 2-7638. Collections will begin Monday.

Student Organizations Board To Have Meeting Friday

The first meeting this year of the Board of Student Organizations will be held Friday in the form of a 12 o'clock luncheon in the Green room of the Recreation hall, James G. Allen, dean of student life, announces.

Members of the executive council will be elected and other routine matters will be discussed. All club presidents are automatically members of the BSO, Dean Allen says.

Black Bull Proposed As College Mascot

Tech's proposed mascot is a native Techsant!

The 900-pound Aberdeen Angus bull was born and raised on the campus. In fact, Tuesday is his birthday. He will be 16 months old. And he has quite a name: Blackbirds Invader of Tech is his complete title. The "Black Invader" belongs to the animal husbandry department. He is carer for by George Keith, beef cattle herdsman.

The Black Invader is not yet the official mascot. Arrangements with Keith by cheerleaders and Saddle Tramps made possible his appearance Saturday night. Other spirited Techsants have expressed the opinion that the Raiders should have an official mascot. If enough students express approval of the Black Invader, perhaps the position can be made permanent.

Aggie Teams Back From Kansas City

A Tech wool judging team won third in a contest held at the American Royal Livestock show in Kansas City Saturday. Seven teams were entered. Techsant John Anderson placed third in individual ratings. The team won first place in one phase of the contest, the judging of breeding fleeces classes. Larry Tackitt was first in individual scores for this event. Other team members are Ross Brown, Kenneth Acker and Oris Reynolds, alternate. Team coach is Nathan J. Allen jr., instructor in animal husbandry.

Tech's livestock judging team placed fifteenth in the judging of beef cattle, quarter horses, swine and sheep. Twenty teams from schools over the nation were entered in the event. Top winners in the livestock contest were Kansas, first; Missouri, second; Minnesota, third; Oklahoma, fourth; Michigan, fifth.

Meanwhile plans have been made to show him as mascot in other home games this season. Paul Wiley, Whiteface animal husbandry major, will handle the hefty youngster at these appearances.

Black Invader has been around despite his tender age. He was shown at the Hockley County Fair in Levelland, the Tri-state Fair in Amarillo, Panhandle-South Plains Fair, Lubbock, and the State Fair of Texas in Dallas.

Women Students Becoming Scarce

By HUBERT WADDILL
Toreador Staff Writer

One woman equals 248 men on the Tech campus. That's the enrollment percentage for the fall semester. The registrar's office sets the total number of students at 5,160, with 3,679 of them men.

Men outnumber women in every classification and division except one, Home Economics. Here the percentage is slightly one-sided at 126½ women to one man.

By divisions, the enrollment is: Agriculture, 689 men and 8 women; Arts and Sciences, 831 men and 601 women; Business Administration, 755 men and 296 women; Engineering, 1,048 men and 38 women; and Home Economics, 2 men and 253 women. Graduate Studies in all divisions show 354 men and 285 women enrolled.

Freshmen men show strength in numbers with 1,133 over 461 first-year women. Sophomores have 770 men and 283 women; juniors, 695 men and 222 women; seniors, 727 men and 230 women.

There is no extra charge for splitting the students into the above percentages.

Student Council to Interview Candidates For Sun Princess at Monday Meeting

A total of seven candidates will vie for Tech's Sun Princess title next Monday night, says Wanda Ramsey, Student association secretary.

Candidates will be interviewed at the next regular student association meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday night in Ad219.

Winner of Tech's Sun Princess title will be guest of the El Paso Sun carnival association at the annual Sun bowl football game Jan. 1, 1953. She will be housed in one of El Paso's leading hotels while there. The Tech Princess will furnish her own wardrobe. She must also pay her expenses to and from the carnival.

The Sun Princess must attend all carnival events and functions. Escorts for the princess will be furnished by the carnival association. El Paso merchants will provide separate floats for each princess.

FOR ONCE 'MISS TEXAS' IS BEHIND THE JUDGES—Connie Hopping, official La Ventana hostess, poses with the judges of Sunday's beauty elimination. Left to right are Duncan Ellison, Miss Hopping, Lucian Thomas and Floyd Koen. Names of thirty girls who survived the first judging will appear in Friday's TOREADOR. Finals will be held next Sunday, according to Editor Bert Goodyear.

J. Evetts Haley, Head of Americanism Institute, Noted Authority on Southwest

J. Evetts Haley, director of Tech's new Institute of Americanism, is well fitted for the job. Mr. Haley has long been a student of Americana, doing research on the government and its branches. He is especially interested in the Southwestern phase of United States history, being one of the foremost authorities on this region.

The institute will, in his words, "sponsor study and appreciation and defense of Americans, freedom, property rights and other human liberties."

Beginning with the spring semester, the institute hopes to offer courses in Americanism, with credit probably to be given in either history or government.

Childhood Spent on Ranches

Mr. Haley was born July 5, 1901 near Belton in Bell county. Shortly after his birth, his family moved to a ranch in Sterling county, where his father was employed. Later the Haleys moved to Midland, where the children were reared.

Young Evetts had a yen for history and government, so he enrolled in Midland Christian college, later transferring to West Texas State college in Canyon, and thence to the University of Texas. Among his friends at Texas university were J. Frank Dobie, Texas writer and historian, and E. C. Barker, nationally famous educator and historian.

Following his graduation from the university, Mr. Haley became field secretary for the Panhandle-Plains Historical society. The University of Texas then offered him a position as collector in historical research, where he collected material for the university's historical archives.

J. Evetts Haley

Followed Father's Footsteps
Later, following in his father's footsteps, young Haley became a cattleman. He ran the Z-Bar ranch in Apache county, Arizona, and also the Atarqui ranch in that state. In 1936, Mr. Haley became manager of the J. M. West ranch, at that time the largest independent ranch on the Canadian river in the Panhandle. He still owns the ranch and he also has a home in Canyon.

Mr. Haley, who is past-president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society, has a very extensive collection of books and manuscripts about the Southwest. Mr. Haley has written eight books, his latest one being "Fort Concho and the Texas Frontier."

Mr. Haley is very optimistic for the future of the Institute of Americanism.

NEW KTTC PROGRAM

Comments on The Toreador, Student council, and Sun princes featured the first presentation of a new KTTC program last night. The program, "A Techsian Views the News," is part of the station's department of news and special events.

It is designed to help the student body air its opinions about campus, local, state or national affairs.

Tech Geologists Will Take Trip

A field trip will be taken by the Tech Geology club next Sunday, says Don Lokke, chairman of the field trip committee.

Everyone interested in the trip should meet at 7:30 a.m. in front of the Science building.

The group will make stops to study strata of Triassic, lower Cretaceous, Pliocene, Pleistocene and Recent age formations south and southeast of Lubbock.

Leaders and speakers of the trip are Dr. Raymond Sidwell, head of geology; Dr. Lewis M. Cline, distinguished professor of geology; Mr. John P. Brand, associate professor of geology; Mr. Ralph H. Bond, associate professor of geology; Mr. G. Frederick Warn, assistant professor of geology; Mr. Earl Green, instructor of geology; Mr. Richard Holt and Mr. Walter Paul Kessinger, jr., teaching fellows in geology.

Club sponsors are Warn and Brand.

HE Club Chooses Roundup Planners

Committees for the Home Economics—Aggie Roundup were named at a recent meeting of the Home Ec club. The roundup is set for 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Green Room of the Recreation hall.

Sue Duggan and La Nell Enochs are general chairmen for the party. Other committees are: publicity, Jackie Severns, chairman, Adrienne Bridges, co-chairman, Lois Foster; preparatory, Mary Gidney, chairman, La Nell Irwin, Pat Watson; food Jaunell Thompson, chairman, Mary Kilgore, Iretta Mace La Nell Enochs; tickets, Lena Schmidt and Patti Pipkin, co-chairmen; program, Barbara Hext, chairman; recreation, Wanda James, chairman, Ruth Smalley, Carol Jean Sandlin.

HERE IT COMES

Freshman progress reports will be ready for mailing to parents later this week, according to Miss Evelyn Clewell, assistant to the registrar. Reports from instructors were due in the registrar's office at 5 p.m. Monday.

ROTC Instructors Are Well-Traveled; Major Brown Awarded Cuban Citation

The Marines can no longer claim exclusive priority to the "from the halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli" line. Tech Army ROTC cadets broke into the act this year.

Tech cadets will receive the full benefit of battle-seasoned instructors who have served at stations stretching from Cuba, South America, and Germany to Korea, Japan and Trieste.

Wins Cuban Award

Heading the roster of veteran instructors is Maj. Richard E. Brown, senior engineer instructor from Plymouth, N. H. The major, who has spent 17 years active and reserve time in the service, recently returned from Cuba, where he participated in a joint mapping program. For his work in this project, Maj. Brown was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal by the Republic of Cuba. Official acceptance will not be made until the award passes Washington approval.

In World War II Maj. Brown was assigned to the European theater of operations, where he took part in the Rhineland campaign in West Germany.

Korean Vet

Senior infantry instructor, Maj. Dayton F. Caple, will also be able to give cadets pointers on overseas duty. The energetic young officer from West Moline, Ill., spent a year in Korean combat. He was assigned to the First Cavalry division, which distinguished itself in early Korean fighting. Previous to this time the major was stationed in Japan.

To round out the world situation, Trieste is represented by SFC Judge Hooper of Lubbock, who spent over five years there. Sergeant Hooper served first as an engineer in the armed forces radio services, and later as sergeant major in an army hospital.

While in Trieste the veteran of seven years army duty met and married his wife, Erta.

Retreat

If Tech cadets should desire orientation in advance-to-the-rear tactics, the ROTC staff can furnish that, too. SPC Richard J. Mackie, of Stroudsburg, Penn., served 11 months in Korea, sixteen days of which were spent taking part in the evacuation of Hungnam. He was with units of the Third Infantry division when it was trapped at Hungnam. The infantrymen and the First Marines were under constant fire for 16 days before shooting their way out of the encirclement.

The experience seemed to dampen Sgt. Mackie's ardor for army life but little. He recently re-enlisted for three years.

Sergeant Mackie participated in maneuvers in South America before being sent to Korea.

Do you wish men to speak well of you? Then never speak well of yourself.

ASCE Members To Go to Meeting

Four Techsians will leave Wednesday for Fort Worth where they will attend the Texas section meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Those making the trip will be Bobby Cooke, president of the Tech chapter and secretary-treasurer of the Texas conference; James White, member of the executive board of Texas conference; Russell Cabe, vice-president of the Tech chapter; John Shoemaker, official delegate from the Tech chapter.

The three-day meeting will end Saturday with an inspection trip to Greater Fort Worth International airport.

Tech's Sam Houston Rifles unit will leave Thursday for a drill demonstration at West Texas State college, where they will perform for the Canyon ROTC unit.

These meetings will be held until Nov. 8 and are of the informal group discussion type, says Dean of Women Marjorie Neely.

After Nov. 15, requests to petition a national sorority may be initiated by any local group. These petitions must be submitted to the dean of women for approval.

Two Tech Students Selected for Choir

Two Tech students have been selected to sing in an 80-voice youth choir for the annual Texas Baptist Student Convention Oct. 31 to Nov. 2 in Dallas.

The Techsians are Beverly Noble and Ann Edwards both of Lubbock. They will perform with students from 27 Texas universities and colleges.

The choir was organized by Wayne Philipott of Beaumont, a Baylor university student who is state music chairman for the Texas Baptist Student union. He will direct the group at the convention and hopes that it can be developed into a traveling unit to sing in churches all over the state.

Gordon Hall Association To Have Dance Saturday

Members of the Gordon hall dormitory association will hold a dance at 8 p.m. Saturday, says Fred Willis, association president.

Residents of Gordon hall who have not joined the association must pay dues of $1.00 to Treasurer Tommy Morris to attend the dance, which will be held in the dormitory dining hall. Recorded music will be played.

NOTICE TO CLUBS

Clubs holding elections of officers are requested to turn in results of the elections to THE TOREADOR office as soon as possible.

Reporters should be elected where possible. Deadlines for the paper are 5 p.m. Monday and Thursday before the paper comes out Tuesday and Friday.

If clubs cannot send this information to the paper, they may call it in.

From the President . . .

The following letter is reprinted for the benefit of those students who have not read it in the program printed for Religious Emphasis Week.

President Jones explains Tech's observance of the week in the clearest, shortest manner:

"Religious Emphasis Week explains itself in its very name. If religion is to be emphasized by college students and faculties there must be justifiable reasons for so doing.

These are many but preeminent among them is the frequently overlooked fact that man's spiritual side needs development along with his mental and physical being.

I am happy to endorse the basic purpose of Religious Emphasis Week and to wish every active participant and listener the maximum of benefit from it."

E. N. JONES

Independent Beauty . . .

The vast majority of the candidates in Sunday's La Ventana beauty contest had one thing in common: They belong to social clubs.

Beauty is not necessarily presented along with a pledge pin, but only the soon-to-be-Greek organizations send their women out to battle in high-heels and whalebone.

Should the majority of the pretty faces in the annual's beauty section be chosen from the groups which contain a minority of the student body?

For Your Scrapbook . . .

Clip and save this for later when you're tempted to cuss class officers.

895 students voted in the general class election. This, out of a student body of 5,104, is about 18% of the possible student votes.

307, or about 6%, bothered to vote in the run-off.

TECHnicalities

by Ralph Shelton, Toreador Associate Editor

To Jan Bulls, Knapp hall

Dear Jan:
Got your letter of Oct. 17, the second such correspondence with which we have been blessed.

We'd like to point out one of the Journalistic Facts of Life to you. The most important mission of a columnist or editorial writer is to produce material that will be read.

No writer of that sort is insulted by evidence that one of the citizenry has been reading his output — not even if the reader finds it "abnoxious." (That, by the way, is your spelling of the word; perhaps your English instructor—and we've checked to make sure you have one—could give you a little outside help on the subject.)

So, Jan, if you're determined to hurt our feelings, you will have to try another method. Allow us to suggest that you burn us in effigy or stick pins in a waxen image of us, which you may model from the above picture.

Last of all, Jan, our editor informs us that publishing any more letters from you would be classed as giving free publicity—which she frowns upon.

Sincerely, though, we understand how you feel. The desire to get one's name before the public is present in all of us. Have you thought of social life or suicide as a means of attaining fame?

To the Student Body of Baylor University:

Please consider this a sincere "Get Well" wish for your president, Dr. W. R. White, who we understand is a patient in a Dallas hospital.

Enjoyed having so many of you around the campus for Saturday's Tech-Baylor game. Come again sometime and we'll let you hear the victory bells in our tower.

Hires a "broad" subject: the La Ventana beauty eliminations which were held Sunday in the Green room.

The taste in clothes of Tech coeds, as observed at the contest, is remarkably good—with a few, raunchy exceptions.

We think the feminine element will be interested in a theory advanced by some of the males who sat in on the judging, using their eyes and their imaginations:

The more ornate the girl's costume, the smaller their hometown.

The idea was that the entrants who hail from the big-city fashion worlds tend to dress more simply and conservatively, as opposed to their more rural sisters, who seem to prefer ribbons and flourishes and technicolor fabrics.

Unless the ladies of the campus have suddenly become apathetic toward male criticism, we ought to get a few screaming retorts to this story.

An unsigned letter was recently sent to the staff, suggesting that The Toreador conduct a poll among Techsians to determine their preferences in the presidential race.

Editorial policy prevents running anonymous letters, even when their content is worthy—as in this case.

May we say this to the writer: a poll of the student body would probably be indicative of exactly nothing. Inquiring reporters and ballot boxes hold a traditional terror for Techsians.

The best way to feel the political

"Nevertheless, you have to give him credit for never being late!"

Under the Breezeway

by shirley johnson, toreador editor

Doubtless there will be many details about the La Ventana beauty contest which will be changed in the future, but there has been one addition made which we hope will last throughout the coming years.

The idea of having a beauty hostess present, to give the girls an idea of what they are to do and to aid in making them more at ease, is one which we feel deserves long life. Connie Hopper, senior home economics student, helped the girls feel more natural and less tense by talking to them as they stood upon the stage, awaiting the judge's signal to leave.

A smile obtained under circumstances actually worth smiling about gives the judges a more valid opinion of the girl, and makes her feel as though she were being given a fair chance. Therefore, we wish to take this opportunity to vote the beauty hostess idea long life.

Wonder just how this bit of news is going to affect the campaigns of Eisenhower and Stevenson. While digging through material to fill up this column, we ran across the news that the newspaper at Columbia university has endorsed Stevenson for the presidency. Eir-pulse of the campus is to note the little things: how many "Ike" or "Stevensons" buttons are pinned on local torsos; how many campaign stickers appear on car windows; how the Rec hall analysis argue it over the coffee-cups.

We think you will be impressed by the mature thought evident in most of the students.

Then stop and wonder: how many Americans whose age permits them to cast a ballot know as much or care as much about the state of the union as the under-age collegiates?

Green is leaving the campus. Not only is that chlorophyll color deserting the cherished grass (the fertilizer is still present however), freshman heads are visible

senhower is president of Columbia and is now on leave of absence. However, on the other side of the fence, we find that the paper at Stevenson's alma mater has come out in favor of Eisenhower. Both these facts can be twisted to use by the parties; we just found the news interesting.

Also in line with bits of interesting information: Richard Nixon was elected treasurer of the Young Democratic club at North Carolina recently. He is a distant cousin of the Dick Nixon everyone is familiar with; i.e., the Republican vice-presidential candidate.

Warning to the Recreation hall: A college up north is having quite a bit of trouble with gambling in the card-playing room of the student union. The administration has threatened to cut out all card-playing privileges if the gambling continues.

This should prove interesting, if the movement advances to Tech. Can hear the little voices now, "But they told me it was bridge. I didn't know you could lose so much money at bridge."

One sports-writer used this quotation for consolation when his football predictions came out much less than amazing. We merely use it for all occasions. "Doctors bury their mistakes; journalists publish theirs . . ." William Allen White.

Organizations Asked to Get Nov. 1 Plans to Toreador

Clubs planning activities for Homecoming are asked to send complete information to THE TOREADOR office, Journalism building, for the Homecoming edition of the paper.

This information should include the nature of the activity, place and time of the party, and for whom it is given. The story must be in by 5 p.m. Oct. 27 if it is to be used in the Homecoming paper.

Something new has been devised for Texas A&I students to do in their spare time. They may become part of a duck-watching detail that checks time, path, size, and flight characteristics of the fowls at night.

A ten-cent bag of pop corn is the latest come-on being used to get Students to attend the campus theater at Eastern New Mexico university.

Some student activity books were taken up recently at Arizona State college at Tempe. Reason for confiscation was the use of activity books by students other than the owner.

Baylor University biology students were ordered to stop throwing parts of dissected cats out the window of a lab. It seems that the ultimatum was finally delivered after a professor had a close escape from a stray feline liver.

South Dakota State students violating "Hobo Day" regulations were issued "justice" in large doses recently. Penalties ranged from table-waiting and janitorial work, to distributing toilet tissue in a campus eating place.

From the Carleton College paper:

Why women are like newspapers:

- (1) They have forms.
- (2) They have a large circulation.
- (3) A back issue is not in demand.
- (4) They come in all types.
- (5) They stack up well.
- (6) Some can be picked up on street corners.
- (7) You can't believe half what they say.
- (8) They aren't worth much.
- (9) You should have one of your own and not borrow your neighbor's.

Interviews Are Scheduled For Scholarship Applicants

Foreign and Latin American students applying for scholarships will be interviewed for the study grants at 4 p.m. Thursday in Ad 167, says James G. Allen, dean of student life.

Three foreign students and seven Latin American students have written applications and winners will be selected after the interviews.

Tech President, To Attend Alabama

President E. N. Jones and Col. Turner, professor of science and tactics, leave for a conference in Alabama on the new Air ROTC curriculum and other major program improvements.

Dr. Jones and the head of the science department will meet with presidents and science heads from nine other colleges and universities from Oklahoma, New Mexico and Oklahoma State, New Mexico and Oklahoma State, leaving Fort Worth at 3:30 p.m. They will proceed to Montgomery, Ala., where they will attend the meeting of representatives of 35 schools in the United States.

The purpose of the conference is three-fold:

Animal Feeder Short Course To Have Saturday Session

Tech's annual 4-H Feeder course will be held here Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Members of 4-H clubs in District 2, which is the South Plains, will attend a series of lectures, demonstrations and discussions on the feeding and management of beef and dairy cattle, swine and sheep.

A certificate will be awarded each person completing the course. W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture, N. C. Fine, assistant dean of agriculture, and J. Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department, are supervising the affair.

Tech President, PAS&T Leave Today To Attend Alabama Curriculum Meeting

President E. N. Jones and Col. Allen Turner, professor of air science and tactics, leave today in a Reese Air Force base plane for Montgomery, Ala., where they will attend a conference pertaining to the new Air ROTC curriculum and other major program improvements.

Dr. Jones and the head of the air science department will fly to Fort Worth this morning, where they will meet presidents and air science heads from nine other colleges and universities from parts of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma. Leaving Fort Worth at 3:30 this afternoon, they will proceed in a military C54 to Montgomery. There they will attend the meeting with representatives of 95 schools over the United States.

- (1). To acquaint representatives of institutions, most of whom will be presidents, and heads of air science departments with changes which may be expected in the future operation and administration of the Air ROTC program.
- (2). To review carefully the new AFROTC curriculum and other major program improvements.
- (3). To emphasize to all educators and professors of air science and tactics the desire of the AFROTC headquarters to conduct a carefully developed program which will be mutually beneficial to the supporting institutions and to the Air Force.

The purpose of the conference is three-fold:

Animal Feeder Short Course To Have Saturday Session

Tech's annual 4-H Feeder Short course will be held here Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Members of 4-H clubs in District 2, which is the South Plains area, will attend a series of lectures, demonstrations and discussions on the feeding and management of beef and dairy cattle, swine and sheep.

A certificate will be awarded to each person completing the short courses. W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture, N. C. Fine, assistant dean of agriculture, and R. C. Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department, are supervising the affair.

Debate Teams In Practice Session

Six debate teams from Baylor University and Texas Tech participated in a four-round practice debate tournament here Saturday on the subject of fair employment practices. No decisions on the outcome of the debates were released, according to Dr. P. Merville Larson, head of the Tech speech department.

"This tournament was strictly to increase knowledge of and ex-

High Schools To Meet Here Nov. 8

Speech and journalism students from South Plains and Panhandle high schools will gather on Tech campus Saturday, Nov. 8, for the annual High School Activities Workshop conference.

Each school may bring one-act plays, declaimers, extemporaneous speakers and debaters for evaluation and suggestions. Journalism students will discuss problems in photography, printed newspapers, mimeograph newspapers and year-books.

Eugene Mann, director of public information, Eastern New Mexico university, will talk on "School Publications Are Important Public Relations" on the journalism program. Rollin Herald, Tech instructor in photography, will speak on "Better Photographs for School Publications".

Speech activities will be evaluated and suggestions for improvement will be given to participants by people who will be judges of next spring's regional meet of the Texas Interscholastic League on the campus. Open forum discussions will follow each activity.

FTA Memberships Open, Announces Reporter Slagle

Membership in Future Teachers of America is still open to all students interested in joining, says Helen Rae Slagle, FTA reporter.

Saturday is the last day to pay membership dues. The FTA office, Ad257, will be open every day until about 3 p.m. and will close Saturday at noon.

A movie will be shown at the next FTA meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday in L11.

Debating for Baylor University were Jim Brown, Fletcher Slatton, Larry Hargrove, John Bagley, Lester Robines and Brad Corrigan.

The Baylor teams are under the direction of Carroll Field, professor of speech.

Prior to the debate rounds, the Baylor and Tech students participated in three informal rounds of discussion on the subject "How can we most effectively combat the threat of Communism?"

Two teams from Panhandle A&M in Goodwell, Okla. were also scheduled to participate in the tournament, but were unable to make the trip.

Mary Jo Craig, AWS Head, Plans Projects for Semester

If you plan to see Mary Jo Craig, you had better make an appointment well in advance or you may not find her. Because unless you are lucky, she'll be seeing about matters of the Association of Women Students or other responsibilities.

Mary Jo is a senior English major from Plainview. Besides being prexy of AWS, she is a member of Wesley Players, Future Teachers of America and treasurer of Sigma Tau Delta. Last year she was treasurer of AWS, secretary of the Border Student Council organization, a member of Women's Inter-Club council and was honored at the All College Recognition service.

Instead of talking about herself when interviewed, Mary Jo just had to "get a plug-in for AWS." She spoke readily of projects completed this semester. At the first of the semester, during Freshman week, AWS sponsored the annual Howdy party for the big sister-little sister program. Then 75 girls were furnished to help in the TB drive with Forum and Junior Council. Student directories were typed and sold. The most recent function was the football reception held Sunday.

As she spoke of future AWS projects, Mary Jo excitedly sped on to plans of being host for the AWS state meeting to be held here the first week of March. Southern Methodist is the only other college in Texas that has an AWS organization, although it flourishes in all of the other states. The Tech meeting will be held to promote the idea of AWS on other Texas campuses.

"The AWS is for all of the women on the campus—not just the council members. If anyone has gripes or suggestions, look up a council member and let her bring them to us. We'll welcome them—and you can quote me on that," is the way Mary Jo ended her interview.

Heitman To Speak On T-V At Chicago

J. R. Heitman, head of the journalism department, will speak on "T-V at the Conventions" in an open meeting at 5 p.m., Oct. 29 in J204. Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary journalism society, is sponsor of the meeting.

Mr. Heitman was one of a ten-man team of radio and television reporters for the National Broadcasting company during the national political convention in Chicago last summer. He was the only Texas representative on the team.

He will speak on television's role in the conventions. He will also make predictions of the part it will play in everyone's life from now on, he says.

Those interested in hearing the Heitman talk may attend the meeting, says Pat Edwards, president of Theta Sigma Phi.

Engineers Plan Writing Contest

An easy writing contest sponsored by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers is open to all student members of the ASME.

Titles for the papers will be announced soon. Three prizes will be given, two to undergraduates and one to a graduate student.

First prize for the undergraduates will be $150. A prize of $25 will go to the next paper. A $25 prize will also be given to the graduate student writing the best paper on an engineering subject.

All papers must be submitted to the vice-president of the region by June 1, 1953.

Groundnuts... Goobers... Nuts!

Our British cousins are sometimes prone to deride our use of the "Queen's English". But for an example of the British gobbledegook look at the textile engineering bulletin board. Recalling that peanuts are groundnuts to the English, the following is from a British board of Trade order.

"Nuts-In" the nuts (un-ground) (other than ground-nuts) order, the expression nuts shall have reference to such nuts other than groundnuts as would, but for this amending order, not qualify as nuts (un-ground) (other than ground-nuts) by reason of their being nuts (un-ground)."

Red Raider B's To Battle Indians

Although the Red Raiders are idle this week end, football fans won't be deprived of seeing a good football game. Tech's B team will meet the B team of McMurry college in Jones stadium at 8 p.m. Friday. All of the players will be playing their best brand of ball trying to earn a position on the varsity.

To See Action

Players expected to see action Friday are: Ends Charles Brooks of Pampa, R. D. Bradshaw of Childress, Van Pennington of Shamrock and Jim Wright of Jacksonville, Ark.; Tackles John Rowland of Hamlin, Charles Carter of Phillips and Minor Nelson of Winters; Guards J. J. Barlow of Earth, Bowden Cook of Dothan, Ala., Pete English of Midland, Hal Broadfoot of Clyde, Fletcher Elder of Cuero, Bill McPherson of Pampa, Gale Morris of Monument, N. M., Gene Hammill of Shamrock, Mack Terry of Shamrock, George Thacker of San Antonio and Jackie Gauding of Amarillo.

Other Players

Centers Dwayne West of Fort Worth and Robert Bluntzer of Cuero; Quarterbacks Carl Madison of Atmore, Ala., Jerry Millsaps of Lamesa, Tom Lucas of Anadarko, Okla., Pete Edwards of Vernon and John Moughon of Weatherford; Halves George Crews of Childress, Malcolm Young of Lubbock, Ronnie Herr of Muenster, Don Douglass of Corpus Christi, Norman James of Lubbock, Donald Harris of Fort Worth, Hugh Fawin of Burk Burnett and Gene Wheeler of Hobart, Okla.; Fullbacks Bill Burke of Hobbs, N. M., Everett Jones of Childress and Pete Rinaldi of Orange, N. J.

Admission for the tilt will be $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for Lubbock elementary and high school students. Tech students will be admitted on their activity books.

Dormitories To Decorate For Homecoming Festival

A survey of dormitory supervisors on the campus shows that all of the dorms plan to decorate their "campus homes" for Homecoming.

Bledsoe hall is holding a contest to select the design or motif to be used in the beautification of the Homecoming campus.

Other dorms have held or plan to hold meetings to decide on decorations. Scintillating scenes for ogling eyes should be the rule of Homecoming day.

A second half surge that brought the Baylor team from behind to a 21 to 10 victory over the Red Raiders in Jones stadium Saturday night. Tech made a gallant effort to tie the game in the first half, but the Bears' defense was too strong. Baylor's offense was in top form, and they were expected all year to be a comfortable 10 point lead.

Bears Overtake Tech In Second-Half Surge

A second half surge that netted 21 points brought the Baylor Bears from behind to a 21 to 10 defeat of the Red Raiders in Jones stadium Saturday night.

Tech made a gallant effort to pull one of the top upsets of the year, as they pushed the Bears all over the field in the first half. Looking like the team that everyone had been expecting all year, the rugged Raiders rolled up what appeared to be a comfortable 10 point half-time lead.

The second half was just the opposite of the first with the battered Bruins taking command of the show.

The game was a thriller until the last few minutes of the fourth quarter with Baylor having to go all out to take the victory.

Cavazos Scores

The first quarter was scoreless with each team making a drive with success. The Tech passing attack, which hadn't been too potent in previous games, played an important part in the Raider touchdown drive. Beginning on their own 38, the upset-minded Techsans marched 72 yards on 8 plays for their six points. Jerry Johnson, who played an exceptionally good game, tossed 17 and 16 yard passes to Bobby Cavazos and Vic Spooner to start the drive. Cavazos carried the final 17 yards behind good blocking for the touchdown.

Just before the half with time running out, the fired-up Raiders tried their second field goal. Jimmy Williams booted the ball through the up-rights from the 17 yard line to give Tech a 10 to 0 half-time lead.

Bears Take Over

The powerful Bears came rolling back in the second half, looking like a different team. Towards the end of the third quarter, Dupre got loose on a 60 yard jaunt for Baylor's first score. The shifty back really put on a show in the final quarter as the Bruins sewed up the game. Davidson scored the second Bear tally with Dupre counting the final one with an 18 yard sprint.

The shifty running of Dupre and Allen Jones in the fourth quarter moved the big Bruins to victory.

The Raiders, perhaps, played their best game of the season, even if they did fail to win.

Sophisticated Stoppers, Pink Plungers To Meet in Season's First Bowl Game

It's bowl time again as the Sophisticated Stoppers of Horn hall and the Pink Plungers of Knapp hall get together for the third annual Washbowl game to be unreel'd in Jones stadium Friday at p.m.

This game has become an annual affair in which the gals play for keeps. This year's game will be especially important because the series is tied at one apiece and the winner will pull ahead. In 1950 the Stoppers took a 20 to 0 win over the Plungers while last year the game ended in a scoreless deadlock with the Pink Plungers winning on yardage.

Both teams have been working out long hours for the contest, and spirit is running high in both camps. The Stoppers are coached by Neil Chastain, Spur senior, while the Plungers have Denton Lambert, Snyder senior, as their mentor.

to raise money for the two women's dorms. A trophy, which is currently held by last year's winners, will be presented to the champs by Alschuler's Men's store.

The Plungers will be counting on such stars as Donnie Lawson, June Carpenter, Eva McCright (co-captain), Jill Rust, Carol Glahn, Laverne Gentry and Barbara McNeely. Clydene Whitaker is captain for the Knapp hall entry.

The Stoppers have Suzy Ely, Sue Burton, Pat Boles, Billie Sue Mullin, Helen King, Marvel Gibner, and Corrine Bowlin to thrust at the Plungers.

A big half-time show is in store for the spectators, as a sweetheart will be crowned. (It's still a secret who the sweetheart is) Bands from both dorms will furnish music for the contest.

A big pep rally has been planned for Thursday night at 10 between

SPORT TALK

By Bob Lovelace

The Red Raiders finally found themselves in their game with Baylor Saturday night. Even though they didn't win, they scared the big boys from the Southwest conference.

The determined Raiders gave the 20,000 or so fans their money's worth with their display of fine spirit and hustle. They played a good team with a couple of shifty backs that spelled the difference. . . . Jim Turner turned in an excellent punting average for the game. Punting 10 times, it's hard to make every one a good one, but he ended up with a 40 yard average. . . . Bill Athey turned in a great game for the Bears, especially in the second half. He's Baylor's candidate for All-American honors. . . . Dick Funk, Jerry Walker and Gary Boyer, all played outstanding games for Tech, as well as Johnson, Jimmy Williams, Cavazos and Turner.

This game brought Tech's record to one victory and 4 straight defeats. This week there is no game scheduled although the Raiders will be getting ready for another toughie, the University of Houston, who will furnish the opposition for Homecoming, November first. . . . Jack Kirkpatrick added his eleventh extra point out of twelve this season in the Baylor game. The extra points may come in handy one of these days. . . . Turning to other football results, the Southwest conference had another whacky day. Texas, who seems to be hot one week and cold the next, had one of those hot days as they blasted the University of Arkansas, 44 to 7. Rice has turned in a very disappointing season so far, and took another step in that direction as SMU walked off with a 21 to 14 victory. TCU and the Aggies had quite a battle at College Station, with the game ending in 7 to 7 tie.

Hardin-Simmons came out with a surprisingly strong 28 to 13 victory over North Texas in Denton. They may prove trouble for the Raiders. Tulsa bounced back from their defeat to Houston with a 26 to 7 triumph over Kansas State. North Carolina State took their weekly defeat, this time a 57 to 0 pasting by Duke. Arizona took a shocking 37 to 7 defeat at the hands of Marquette in Detroit. . . . Don't forget the female game Friday afternoon in Jones stadium. . . . Should be an interesting affair. . . .

THESE HANDS ARE PRICELESS!

They protect the American way of life . . . our homes, our freedoms, our future.

These Hands, sensitively trained to respond acutely to the commands of an alert mind and courageous heart, are the hands of a United States Air Force Pilot.

The skillful touch of these hands attunes the blasting speed of modern jet aircraft to effective missions in discouraging any enemy. These hands are supremely capable of flying and fighting these machines with devastating effect.

These Hands belong to young, spirited American men (not supermen) who desire to live unmolested in a free America . . . who want to enjoy the same rights and opportunities open to all real American people.

These Hands belong to our sons—yours and mine. Youths who must decide today how they can share in defense of our nation and also better themselves. To insure greater chances of their success, today's college men should be encouraged to complete their education and then serve their country best by enlisting as Aviation Cadets in the U. S. Air Force.

Theirs is the choice of becoming either a Pilot or Aircraft Observer. After graduation as Second Lieutenants in the U. S. Air Force, they wear the silver wings of flying cadets and begin earning nearly $5300 a year.

These Hands represent a man ready to qualify for this tremendous task because he is between the ages of 19 and 26½ years, unmarried, and in excellent physical condition, especially eyes, ears, heart and teeth. He possesses at least two years of college and the inherent urge to fly.

These Hands shape the destiny of America. . . the difference between our survival and oblivion. The U. S. Air Force needs the hands, the minds and the hearts of young Americans who desire to make the American way a greater way of peace and happiness for all.

Folklore Plays Neglected Part In a Modern Child's Education

Folklore is a subject that has been largely neglected by the Texas educational system. However, Dr. Everett A. Gillis, associate professor of English, has published an article in the current issue of Texas Outlook showing the opportunity for developing many desirable concepts in the youngsters of Texas through folklore.

"Every child is a born folklorist, though neither he nor his teachers may realize it," Dr. Gillis writes. Folk customs, attitudes and facts are picked up by children from their family and friends, as well as from the phases that are already included in elementary and secondary school curricula.

Folk crafts and artifacts, folk dances and folk music are now included in public school education, but "other phases—equally interesting—such as legend and myth, proverbs, weather lore, chimney corner tales, nicknames and localisms for flora and fauna, have been neglected," says Dr. Gillis.

Many benefits can be gained from the introduction of more local as well as foreign folklore into the class room. Dr. Gillis suggests. For example, racial prejudices could be lessened by studies of Negro folk songs and folk people. Superstitions can be destroyed by studying them as folklore and separating superstition and truth.

A fresh approach to the study of history might be gained through

The game is of the touch-pass variety with both teams using only 9 players. Both squads are expected to have experienced cheerleaders to give support to the teams.

The Stoppers appear to have the edge in experience, but when these two get together, throw out the predictions and plan on a real struggle.

ACCOUNTING JOBS OPEN

January accounting majors will be interviewed by Stanley G. Hargy of the Division of Audits, Washington, D. C., when he visits the campus Thursday.

Mr. Hargy has positions for college graduates with a minimum of 20 semester hours of accounting. Students who are interested should schedule appointments with the Placement office.

folk institutions. Folklore definitely provides an interesting, colorful body of literature.

Judge Roy Dean, Pecos Bill and Paul Bunyan should fill a place in the education of young Texans, along with the three R's. As Dr. Gillis says, "American folklore represents one of the basic heritages from our frontier past."

Speech Programs Will Honor U.N.

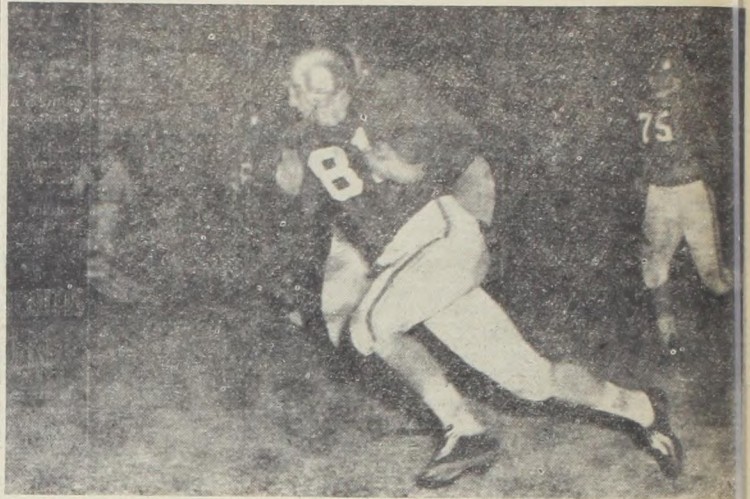

Several speech activities are being planned by the speech department in honor of the birthday of United Nations, says Dr. P. Meriville Larson, head of the department.

The first of these activities, a series of 5-minute radio talks on various phases of the United Nations, began last night and will continue throughout the week.

These talks are being given over KFYO each afternoon at 1:35. Persons scheduled to speak and their subjects include: William Godwin, Houston freshman, "The UN is Born"; Gail Littleton, Perryton sophomore, "How the UN Works"; Charles Akey, Fort Worth senior, "Developing World Resources Through the UN"; David Larson, Lubbock sophomore, "UNESCO"; Glenn Cary, Brownfield freshman, "Gazing into the UN's Crystal Ball."

Dr. S. M. Kennedy, professor of government and assistant dean of arts and sciences, will speak today at 5:45 p.m. over KCBT on the subject, "What are the major problems of the UN today?" Dr. Kennedy will then conduct a discussion period on the subject. Members of the discussion panel are: Don Hancock, Lubbock senior; Glenn Rainer, Lubbock sophomore; and Thelmae Hutchins, Ysleta senior. Gordon Downum, Lubbock senior, will be moderator.

The third activity planned in honor of United Nations Day is a play to be read for the Lubbock Women's Club tomorrow at 1 p.m. Those participating in the reading include Steve McHorse, Brownwood freshman; Bruce Bybee, Hereford freshman; Robert Larabee, San Antonio senior; Warren Forsythe, Lynwood, Calif., senior; Ted Simon, Lubbock sophomore; Kenneth King, Pittsburg freshman; Dwayne Carter, Lubbock
