Duce Will Discuss Peace If He Wins Territory Grants

Accepts 'In Principle' Proposal To End African War, But Will Demand Guarantee Of Rights In Ethiopia

(Copyright, 1936, The Associated Press)

ROME, March 7.—Premier Mussolini accepted "in principle" the appeal for East African peace today conditional, one authority said, on far-reaching grants of Ethiopian territory.

The fascist premier based his acceptance on two principles, the second of which would guarantee Italy predominant rights in present Italian-occupied territory in addition to sections around Lake Tana, west, south and southeast of Addis Ababa.

Wants Lake Territory

The Italian condition includes the zone of influence which would have been granted the fascist nation under the old peace proposal formulated by Sir Samuel Hoare, former British foreign minister, and Pierre Laval, former French premier.

It would go further, an excellent authority declared, to include land around Lake Tana, location of British power interests and headquarters of the Nile.

An official communique announcing the premier's acceptance of the plea for peace said:

"I, Duce, communicated to the cabinet terms in reply to the appeal of the committee of 13 in a sense accepting it on general principles."

Two Principles

The terms of the Italian reply, an excellent authority said, are based on two principles—one, "stato di fatto" or state facts, and the second, "stato di diritto" or state law.

Under the "state facts," the Italian premier placed the military occupation of Ethiopian territory which now must be considered Italian land and cannot enter into the discussion.

Under the "state law," are the legal engagements entered into between Italy and Ethiopia, among Great Britain, France and Italy, and between Great Britain and Italy.

These legal engagements guarantee Italy predominant rights in certain other sections of Ethiopia, particularly around the Lake Tana region, west, south, and southwest of Addis Ababa.

These sections would include the zone of influence granted Italy by the Hoare-Laval peace proposals but would go further by including Lake Tana and other territory west of Addis Ababa.

The Texas concerns claimed the PWA and the WPA exceeded their authority in making allocations for what they claimed actually were hydro-electric projects. They held the money was intended to destroy their business and that state agencies organized to receive federal aid were unlawfully delegating authority to the PWA and the WPA.

Accept FDR's Tax Proposal

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7 (AP)—House tax leaders discarded treasury alternatives for increased individual taxes today and returned to President Roosevelt's corporate tax proposal for raising $1,137,000,000 to balance the ordinary budget.

The house ways and means subcommittee studying tax proposals preparatory to writing a tentative bill was reported to have virtually eliminated treasury suggestions for higher income taxes, new nuisance levies and a general manufacturer's excise tax.

The committee was ready to write a tax bill to produce $750,000,000 to $790,000,000 annually for three years and $620,000,000 a year thereafter. It would embody the main points of Mr. Roosevelt's proposal for a stiff tax on corporation surpluses.

State Official Tells Advantages Of Junior College Education Available To More At Lower Cost, Nelson Says

Some arguments in favor of the establishment of junior colleges were presented by W. A. Nelson, college examiner for the state department of education, in an address at the First Baptist church here Friday evening. Nelson's talk was a feature on the evening program of the curriculum conference held here Friday and Saturday, and he had been requested to speak on the junior college program in view of the move pending toward creation of a junior college district in Howard county.

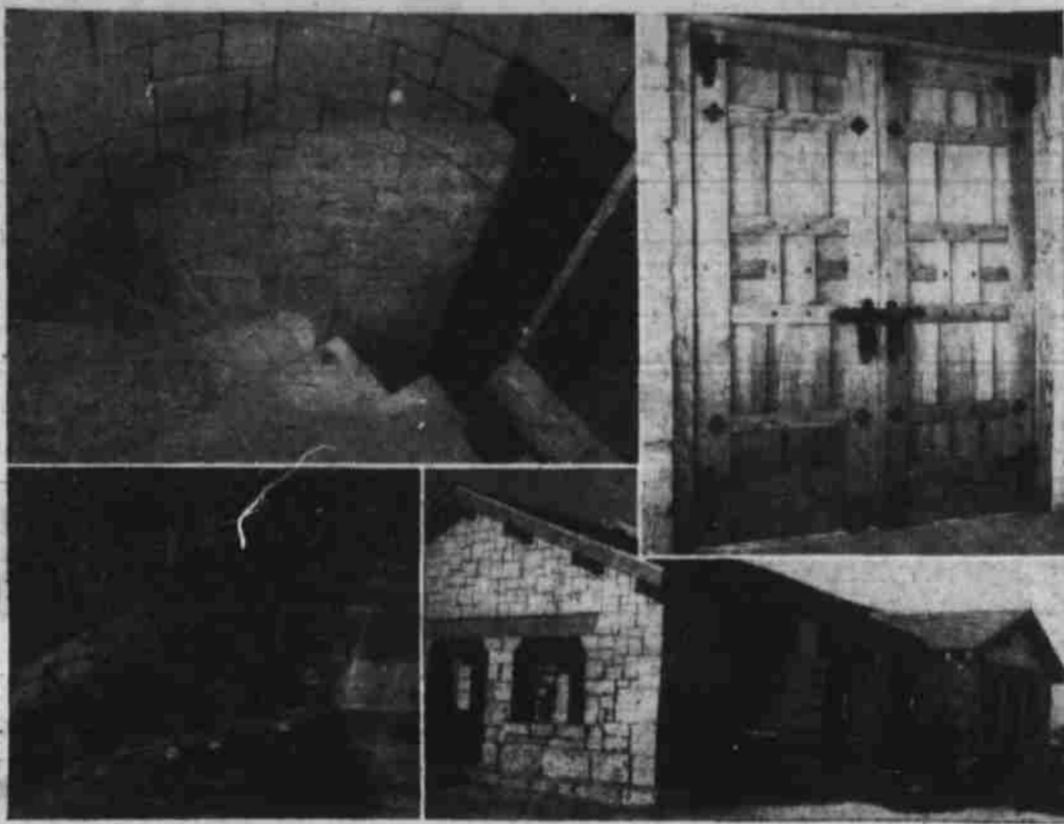

The junior college has a definite place in the educational system, the state official said, pointing out that such an institution provides for the student—at home—either two years of preparatory training for advanced college work, or two years of specialization work.

He emphasized that the junior college should be maintained as such, a separate unit from high school. It must not be considered a post-graduate unit to high schools, but must offer two years of work equivalent to the first two years in senior college. "The district proposing to pigeon-hole a junior college into its high-school system is not ready for one," he asserted. Nelson also pointed out that a district is not ready for a junior college that cannot provide adequate housing and other facilities.

He stressed, however, the financial advantages accruing from junior colleges. The junior institutions are less expensive, he said, total cost per student in some cases being one-fourth that of senior colleges. He pointed out also, that money spent by junior college students and patrons is money spent at home, retained in the local district.

Nelson described the junior college as a major cultural asset to a community. "There are 38 junior colleges in the state," he said, "and they are doing a fine job of preparing students for the professions and for the business world."

CONCESSIONS BUILDING AT PARK OPEN TODAY

Court Order Halts Texas River Work

Status Of Buchanan Dam Activity In Doubt After Utility Co. Move

AUSTIN, Mar. 7 (AP)—Officials of the Lower California River authority today checked with Washington agencies to determine whether a restraining order obtained in a suit by seven utilities companies would stop work on the Buchanan dam.

Three hundred men are employed on that $4,500,000 project, a part of the twenty-million dollar river project.

The District of Columbia supreme court yesterday called a temporary halt to construction of two Texas flood control-irrigation projects, Judge Oscar Lohring granting a request of the utilities concerns for a ten-day restraining order preventing government officials from pursuing the lower Colorado and Brazos development programs.

The Texas concerns claimed the PWA and the WPA exceeded their authority in making allocations for what they claimed actually were hydro-electric projects. They held the money was intended to destroy their business and that state agencies organized to receive federal aid were unlawfully delegating authority to the PWA and the WPA.

Answer the knock on your door or the ring of your door bell this week for it will mean money for your schools.

Monday the enumeration of the scholastic census will be started in Big Spring and in most of the rural school districts during the week.

Because both Anne Martin, county superintendent, and W. C. Blankenship, city superintendent, anticipate the largest census total in the history of county and city schools, it will be a difficult job to make an accurate and complete canvass.

Under the present maximum, the schools of Howard county and Big Spring receive $17.50 for each scholastic listed on the approved census roll. Last year with 5,276 scholastics listed in the entire county, the apportionment will have been worth more than $92,000 to the schools.

If the census shows the anticipated increase the county benefit may swell to past the $100,000 mark for the first time.

Teachers will take the census in Big Spring as in former years. Trustees and other duly appointed agents will take the census in the rural section.

The census must be complete by April 1. To accomplish this and have a complete report it will be necessary to have the full cooperation of all parents in seeing that their children are listed on the census roll, said Miss Martin and Blankenship.

Children who are or will be six years old on or before Sept. 1 and who have not or will not have reached their 12th birthday on or before Sept. 1 are to be listed on the census.

TWO WORKERS SLAIN IN STRIKE FIGHTING

SEASIDE, Ore., Mar. 7 (AP)—Two men were killed and another injured when workers of a logging company were repulsed in stone hurling. The pair fatally shot were club-wielding pickets.

Marking the completion of the third structure since work on the Scenic Mountain state park was resumed here Dec. 30, the concessions building (above) will be opened for public inspection today. Constructed of native limestone, the building is fashioned along rustic lines and lends the impression of sturdiness, durability and rugged beauty as shown in the lower right view. One of the most attractive portions of the structure is the circular staircase also made of native stone as pictured in the upper left view. The upper right and lower left pictures show how the rustic motif is carried out in detail even to the paneled doors, hand made cast iron hinges and hand wrought lamp fixtures.

Wednesday the building will be the scene of a celebration commemorating the completion of all authorized projects for the park. Meals will be served there to guests invited to the occasion. The concessions building is the largest edifice in the park.

Schools Will Start Census

Cooperation Of Public Is Sought In Annual Enumeration

Expressing no such concern over the plan as over the passage of the amendment, Rogers said teachers and school officials faced a tremendous task in educating the public on the purpose of the plan.

Tentative drafts provide for a cooperative plan by which the state, district and teacher provide aid to the unemployed teacher of 65 years of age or more. The teacher is permitted to put in as much as five per cent of his salary provided his maximum pay is $3,000.

The district and state cooperate in the move.

Rogers said the plan was not comparable to the old age assistance program in that the individual largely built up his own reserve, thus saving the state much tax expense. In it he saw benefit to the school, to the individual and community if teachers could be retired at 65 years.

Substituting for B. B. Cobb, secretary of the Texas State Teachers association, Rogers explained the purpose of the state organization.

STANTON MAN WILL ENTER OLD NOTE IN CENTENNIAL EVENT

STANTON, Mar. 7 (Sp.)—A $200 note drawn on the Texas Republic and dated May 3, 1836 is to be entered in a centennial contest by A. M. Lammer, superintendent of the Stanton schools.

The rare instrument was signed by James Webb, acting secretary of treasury. It was countersigned by Mirabeau Lamar, president of the republic.

Workers affected in this area number 5,000. Leaders ordered workers in the weak Manhattan hotels to leave their jobs.

Curriculum Meet Draws 500 Teachers

'Texas Type' Program Of Revision Studied At Conference Here

An estimated 500 teachers and school officials from Snyder and Colorado to Pecos and Big 'A' closed their two-day curriculum conference for district No. 13 here Saturday morning.

The teachers, part of whom attended either Friday afternoon or Saturday morning, made new observations of the "Texas type" program of curriculum revisions being formulated by the teachers themselves.

V. Z. Rogers, superintendent of the Lamesa schools, Saturday spoke in support of the teacher retirement plan which will come up for approval in a constitutional amendment in the general elections of November.

Task of Educating

Expressing no such concern over the plan as over the passage of the amendment, Rogers said teachers and school officials faced a tremendous task in educating the public on the purpose of the plan.

Tentative drafts provide for a cooperative plan by which the state, district and teacher provide aid to the unemployed teacher of 65 years of age or more. The teacher is permitted to put in as much as five per cent of his salary provided his maximum pay is $3,000.

France Views Nazi Move As 'Hostile Act'

Makes Strong Protest On Denunciation Of Locarno Pact

PARIS, Mar. 7 (AP)—Pierre Etienne Flandin, French foreign minister, told ambassadors of three nations which signed the Locarno pact that Germany committed "a hostile act" today by sending troops into the Rhineland.

The foreign minister called the ministers of Great Britain, Belgium and Italy to his office and delivered a strong protest against the German denunciation of the Locarno treaty.

Flandin also called for a conference with the Soviet ambassador. Army Leaves Canceled

He based his statement on the treaty of Versailles and declared that Nazi repudiation of the demilitarized zone kills the military and naval clauses of the peace treaty.

Prior to the session of ambassadors, the French government called all army leaves today as German troops moved into the Rhineland.

The military decision resulted from a conference of high officials which also started drafting a formal protest to the league of nations against Germany's denunciation of the Locarno treaty.

The note was being supervised by Flandin, foreign minister, at the same time that Premier Albert Sarraut called the French "war council" into session.

Cabinet Meeting

French officials declared the decision to proceed before the league council was particularly appropriate because Germany, under the Locarno treaty, is barred from the Rhine, and so on.

Simultaneously, French officials disclosed that General Bertrand Puyo had been placed in command of the French aerial defense of the Rhineland with orders to perfect his organization by March 15.

Announcement of the German decision precipitated an immediate conference. Premier Sarraut also conferred privately with President Albert Lebrun and called a full cabinet meeting for tomorrow at the Elysee Palace.

Conferences Called By Officials In England

LONDON, Mar. 7 (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden summoned the French and Italian ambassadors and the Belgian charge d'affaires to a conference today after Germany's action in violating the Locarno pact.

The meeting was summoned suddenly after Adolf Hitler's bombshell, in announcing military occupation of the Rhineland in violation of the Locarno and Versailles treaties, startled the foreign office into a swift pace of conferences.

The French and Italian ambassadors were called to London today.

Officer Dies From Wounds

Search On For Negro Who Fired Shots During Tahoka Break

LUBBOCK, Mar. 7 (AP)—Deputy Sheriff F. E. Redwine of Lynn county died here at 3:05 o'clock this morning from nine wounds inflicted by five bullets when he was shot down by a negro who engineered a jailbreak at Tahoka last night.

Poses of south plains peace officers, heavily armed, renewed efforts to apprehend the negro, Elmo Banks, 42, who had grabbed Redwine's gun from its scabbard and started shooting.

District Attorney Trust Smith of Tahoka last night declared that if the negro were rearrested, he would not be placed in Lynn county jail. No threat of violence had been heard, however, until Redwine, in a statement made to Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney of Lubbock, last night recounted events of his shooting.

He had transferred two white prisoners from the runaround and placed them in their cells and was about to lock the negro in another when, without a word of warning, the negro attacked him from behind.

Redwine fell to the floor when the first bullet took effect and begged, "don't shoot," repeating the plea several times. As he pleaded the negro continued firing, discharging the gun five times, after which it snapped.

The negro took the gun and the keys, leaving the keys in a lock before fleeing from the courthouse.

Declares Germany Now Is On Equal Terms With Others

All Europe Stirred By Final Defiance Of Allies; Fuehrer Bids For Re-Entry To League, Non-Aggression Pacts

BERLIN—Hitler repudiated the Locarno pact, offers non-aggression pacts, new zones and German return to league of nations if "equality" granted; calls plebiscite on plebiscite.

COLOGNE—Two thousand troops goosestep into city, located in remilitarized territory.

GENEVA—League circles see Hitler action as precipitating grave crisis.

LONDON—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden hastily confers with colleagues on Hitler proposals.

BRUSSELS—Cabinet meeting called for Monday to discuss Locarno violation.

BERLIN, March 7. (UP)—Adolf Hitler sent troops into the demilitarized Rhineland zone today and thereby tore to shreds the last repressive clauses of the Versailles treaty.

Coincidentally he announced that the Locarno treaty which guaranteed the frontiers of Germany, France and Belgium—and the Rhineland zone—had ceased to exist because of France's new military alliance with Russia.

But in this final defiance of the World War allies, Hitler offered all Germany's neighbors a program he said would bring lasting peace and friendship to nations.

Then he called an election for a new reichstag to be held March 29, so that he might get a vote of approval from his countrymen.

Injustices To Germany

Hitler made his momentous declarations, which must mark the opening of a new chapter in Europe's post-war history, in a memorandum to foreign envoys, and a speech at a special reichstag meeting, called to hear him.

His voice fell in appeal, rose in determination, flashed in anger at injustices he alleged had been piled upon Germany.

He reviewed Germany's hardships, spoke of its rights and its powers, and at the end read to the deputies the memorandum handed to foreign envoys, embracing his momentous pronouncements.

These were:

1. Germany at noon today, when the reichstag met, sent into the Rhineland zone a symbolic force of troops, a few battalions only, in token of the decision that Locarno is dead and that Germany has the right to militarize it despite the specific ban of the Versailles treaty.

Would Enter League

2. Now that Germany is on full equal terms with all other great nations, rearmend and free, she is ready to re-enter the league of nations from which she resigned October 14, 1933, because she believed she was not being treated as an equal at the world disarmament conference.

3. Germany is ready to conclude a 25-year non-aggression pact with France and Belgium, whose frontier the Locarno treaty protected.

4. Germany is ready to negotiate a non-aggression pact or pacts with all her neighbors, east and west, including Lithuania.

5. Germany is ready to establish with France and Belgium mutual non-aggression pacts.

Carl Bismarck, as reported on the sick list Saturday, being confined to his home in Washington Place.

Will Europe War Guns Boom Again? Hitler Move Is One Of Gravest Import

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7 (AP)—Will Europe war guns boom again on the western front?

This question absorbed the capital today, as officials tensely watched Hitler's re-militarization of the German Rhineland.

In the absence of immediate official reaction, few would essay an answer. But most observers agreed that the German move, throwing off the final shackles of post-war military restrictions, was fraught with potentialities of the gravest import.

A fundamental principle of foreign policy of every French government since the allied victory over Germany in 1918 has been to keep the German western frontier, marked by the Rhine, demilitarized to remove what the French regarded as an ever present menace to the security of France and Belgium.

The German action in sending troops into that area for the first time since the Versailles treaty became effective through a direct challenge to France, responsible circles here said, and an indication of what the latter country might do in consequence was awaited with the greatest interest.

News that France intended to submit the matter to the League of Nations gave rise to hope in some quarters that diplomacy might avert the threatening breach. Privately, however, some officials expressed belief that Germany's participation in the league was essential to the preservation of European peace and that its terms for rejoining to membership in that body probably would not be looked upon favorably.

Predictions also were made that Hitler's offer to sign a long term non-aggression pact on condition that France and Belgium demilitarize their eastern frontiers would not be acceptable to France. For years, that nation has been spending great sums constructing a chain of underground forts along its western border designed to provide a buffer of steel and concrete between it and Germany.

Reviewing The BIG SPRING WEEK

by Joe Pickle

Business must be better. Big Spring concerns contributed a full measure of support last week in virtually satisfying this city's quota of $500 to the West Texas chamber of commerce. Perhaps there has not been as good a reason in recent years for support as the one this year. The WTCC is to sponsor a permanent exhibit at Fort Worth, advertising the possibilities of this section of the nation. The district of which Big Spring is the center is to have the privilege of planning an exhibit depicting the history and development of the cattle industry. Everywhere cattle and West Texas are considered synonymous. Naturally everyone who views the display will look first at the cattle exhibit.

Incidentally, there is a story behind the removal of the exhibit from the central centennial exposition at Dallas to Pioneer Village at Fort Worth. The central exposition management issued an edict to the effect that West Texas would be permitted only to display its agricultural wares. That was a body blow. West Texas, with its multi-lateral productions and attractions, picked up its bed and walked over to Fort Worth where it could exhibit any and everything. Moreover, it will have a permanent exhibit after the centennial is a dead issue.

In a swing of the electoral pendulum to the left, Howard county voted wet last Saturday for the first time in three decades. Less than a week later 17 persons had applied for permits to operate hard liquor package stores in the county, all but four of them in Big Spring. Several others applied for beer and wine licenses. Some of the dealers are doomed to disappointment. Big Spring and surrounding towns can't possibly support 17 package stores which must pay rent, taxes, permit fees. More wine and beer dealers will merely add to the congestion of an already over crowded field. One kick-back note generally anticipated is the phenomenal hike of rents in the better portions of the business district. Established businesses which have been here for years and which will probably be here

NEW PRODUCING AREA OPENED IN NORTHERN WINKLER COUNTY

Line Section Logged In Gaines Co. Wildcat; 14 Wells Completed In Five Counties

RAW ANGELO, Mar. 7.—Opening of a new producing area in northern Winkler county by Cherry & Keyes No. 1 Central State Bank of Abilene, two miles south of the Sayre field, and logging of a broken line section beginning at 4,300 feet in W. T. Walsh and Harry Adams Corp. No. 1 Averitt, Gaines county wildcat three miles northwest of Seminole, shared the greatest interest in West Texas oil operations this week.

Honolulu Oil company and Cascade Petroleum Corp. No. 1 L. P. Bennett, south central Younkum county wildcat, was expected to plug back from 5,112 feet to shut off bottom hole salt and sulphur water and acidize oil bearing lime that was entered at 5,064 feet.

W. H. Dunning, Jr., No. 1 Schaubauer, gasser one and one-half miles northwest of Gulf's discovery producer in the Goldsmith pool in southwestern Ector county, prepared to test at 4,175 feet after showing oil from 4,975-77 feet and drilling a soft spot in the lime from 4,153.64 feet. It is in the southeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 33, block 44, township 1 north, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey.

14 Completions
Total daily potential production of 10,167 barrels was registered by 14 wells completed in five counties and 16 tests in eight counties struck oil in amounts promising production. Locations dropped to 16 in six counties after averaging in excess of 30 weeks for the last three weeks.

Cherry & Keyes No. 1 Central State Bank of Abilene in northern Winkler county showed the first oil from 2,720-28 feet, drilled the main pay between 2,821 and 2,870 feet and tested twelve and one-half barrels of oil hourly, bottomed at 2,878 feet in lime and sand. It was scheduled to shoot. Location is 230 feet from the north line and 2,310 feet from the east line of section 25, block 26, public school land, northwest of Kermit and between that town and the Sayre pool.

The Honolulu-Cascade wildcat in Younkum county showed water when 2,900 feet of fluid had been swabbed down to 1,500 feet. This followed deepening 18 feet from 3,088, where the depth was corrected from 3,096 by steel line measurement. Making of the new hole brought no increase in oil or gas. On February 27 No. 1 Bennett had headed an estimated 75 barrels of oil when a swab was run 300 feet into almost a hole full of oil that had accumulated during a shut down since late September. The oil was struck September 28 from 5,094-96 feet (corrected from 5,086-90) and operations were suspended almost five months during which litigation was settled. The wildcat is in the center of the northwest quarter of section 678, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

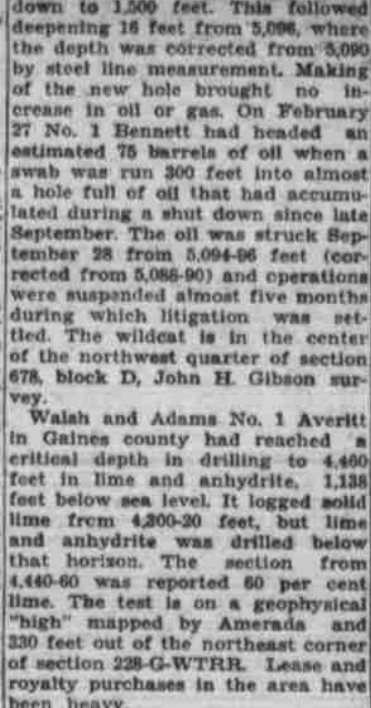

Walsh and Adams No. 1 Averitt in Gaines county had reached a critical depth in drilling to 4,400 feet in lime and anhydrite, 1,138 feet below sea level. It logged solid lime from 4,200-30 feet, but lime and anhydrite was drilled below that horizon. The section from 4,440-60 was reported 60 per cent lime. The test is on a geophysical "high" mapped by Amerada and 330 feet out of the northeast corner of section 228-G-WTRR. Lease and royalty purchases in the area have been heavy.

Wahlermaier and York & Harper in Gaines county, 17 miles northwest of Seminole, was unchanged in drilling to 5,175 feet in lime, 1,647 feet below sea level. It is in the southwest corner of section 414-G-CCSD&RGNG.

Winkler county led in new production this week with seven wells rating 6,000 barrels daily. The largest was Mid-Continent No. 7-B Howe in the Sayre pool, in the southwest quarter of section 12-26-pal. It flowed 1,645 barrels in 24 hours after a 170-quart shot from 2,700 to 2,980 feet, the total depth. Sayre No. 7-A Howe, also in the southwest quarter of section 12-26-pal, flowed 1,527 barrels daily for completion at 2,980 feet after shooting. Sayre No. 4 Daugherty, in the southeast quarter of section 2-26-pal, was completed at 2,013, a plugged back depth of 2,990 feet, flowing 582 barrels daily. It shot pay topped at 2,779.

Sinclair-Prairie completed three wells in the Dodge-Denman pool in eastern Howard county for total daily initial yield of 1,554 barrels. No. 4-B Denman, in the northeast corner of section 10-30-1a-T&P, flowed 741 barrels daily at 2,820 feet. No. 29 Dodge pumped 525 barrels daily at 2,825 feet and No. 20 Dodge pumped 245 barrels of oil in 10 hours at 2,835 feet. Both wells are in section 3-30-1a-T&P.

Over Million Collected By Atty. General

Department Shows 860 Pct. Profit; Operation Cost $136,000

AUSTIN, Mar. 7.—Attorney General William McCraw wrote a collection total of $1,206,740.75 in the state's bank book during his first year in office, a departmental summary disclosed Saturday.

To get that financial credit, the people of Texas invested $136,000 in their chief law officer—the cost of operating the entire department—and earned a dividend of $1,170,000, the survey, covering 1935 collections, showed.

"That amounts to a profit of slightly more than 860 per cent during the calendar year," it stated.

Only collections actually made were included in the accounting. It noted accurate figures were unavailable on properties containing valuable natural resources to which Attorney General McCraw and his assistants acquired titles in litigation carried all the way, in some cases, from state district courts through the United States supreme court. The review added:

Waste Stopped
"These properties represent many potential millions of dollars. Exactly how much, it is almost impossible to say. Most of them lie in the world's greatest oil field. Likewise, it would be only estimating to measure in dollars and cents the wealth accruing to the people from stopping the waste of a billion cubic feet of natural gas daily in the Panhandle field. The same thing can be said of the great curtailment of the production of illegal crude petroleum oil in the East Texas field."

The summary pointed out that the department had approved around $23,000,000 bond issues—a record amount—which were voted for general improvement programs by the various political subdivisions.

The operation expenditures took in the three branches of the department, two of which are located in Austin—the main offices in the capitol building and the oil and gas division in the labor temple. The third branch is at Longview, where:

Charlie L. Haught, Ford sedan.
Merle J. Stewart, Oldsmobile sedan.
Mrs. Dave Duncan, Chrysler sedan.
J. K. Barfield, Buick sedan.

Completions Recorded In Abilene Area

Three New Tests Spudded In Hawley Sector And One Near Lueders

ABILENE, Mar. 7.—Completion of the second largest Hawley well in that area, spudding of the first rotary test at Lueders, and completion of two of the largest Bluff Creek wells in western Shackelford featured the week's activity in this area.

Ungren & Frazier No. 2-C Dorsey, on the southeast edge of the Hawley field gauged 865 barrels on a 24-hour railroad commission potential test this week to register the highest flowing well since the Humphrey No. 3 Dorsey, 1,355-barrel producer. The new well is located as a south offset to the Martin No. 1-B Dorsey, 112-barrel completion from upper sand. The flow was from 11 feet of Cool sand at 2,056-67 feet. It is in the northeast corner of section 6, S. W. King subdivision of Manuel Bueno survey No. 197.

Tests Spudded
N. H. Martin & Son of Wichita Falls No. 1 Mrs. G. B. Triplett, testing for a three-quarter mile southeast extension to the field, was spudded this week. It is located 200 feet from the east and 270 feet from the south line of the south 20-acre tract of Gabriel Martinez survey No. 185.

Martin No. 1-C Dorsey was spudded late this week on the east edge of the field, on location 200 feet from the south and east lines of the east half of section 5, Manuel Bueno survey No. 197, north offset to the Martin 1-B.

Ungren & Frazier No. 4-C Dorsey, south offset to the 2-C which is drilling at 1,500 feet, was spudded on location 1,000 feet from the north and 200 feet from the east lines of section 6, King subdivision, Bueno survey No. 197.

Other activity in the Hawley field included the apparent success of the Danciger and Fortex No. 1 Dorsey on the northeast of the field in plugging back from a potential depth of 2,434 feet to its first oil showing. Although incomplete, the test had shut off water and was back to 1,971 feet, in lower Tannehill sand. Location is 175 feet from the south and 700 feet from the west line of the north half of section 20, Bueno survey No. 196.

In Lueders Field
Lesh & McCall of Nocona spudded their No. 1 J. W. Jennings for a northeast extension of the Lueders King sand pool in eastern Jones county this week. Located in the west half of the northwest quarter of section 1, I&GN survey, three miles northwest of Lueders, it is the first rotary to try for production in that area. It is less than a quarter-mile northeast of the Peckham-Danciger No. 1 City of Stamford which found new production from Hope sand at 1,937 feet.

Only one test was likely to strike King sand this week in that area. It is the Bridwell & Pikes No. 1-

Winkler County Led In New Production

Winkler county led in new production this week with seven wells rating 6,000 barrels daily. The largest was Mid-Continent No. 7-B Howe in the Sayre pool, in the southwest quarter of section 12-26-pal. It flowed 1,645 barrels in 24 hours after a 170-quart shot from 2,700 to 2,980 feet, the total depth. Sayre No. 7-A Howe, also in the southwest quarter of section 12-26-pal, flowed 1,527 barrels daily for completion at 2,980 feet after shooting. Sayre No. 4 Daugherty, in the southeast quarter of section 2-26-pal, was completed at 2,013, a plugged back depth of 2,990 feet, flowing 582 barrels daily. It shot pay topped at 2,779.

Sinclair-Prairie completed three wells in the Dodge-Denman pool in eastern Howard county for total daily initial yield of 1,554 barrels. No. 4-B Denman, in the northeast corner of section 10-30-1a-T&P, flowed 741 barrels daily at 2,820 feet. No. 29 Dodge pumped 525 barrels daily at 2,825 feet and No. 20 Dodge pumped 245 barrels of oil in 10 hours at 2,835 feet. Both wells are in section 3-30-1a-T&P.

Oil Conservation Laws

Biggest Income—approximating three-quarters of a million dollars—was derived from prosecution of violations of the oil conservation statutes. Filed during the same period, but still pending, were two oil penalty suits for an aggregate of $7,000,000 against East Texas operators for alleged infractions of the proration laws.

Other revenues resulting from the efforts of Attorney General McCraw and his staff were as follows: Collected for the permanent school fund, $392,583.76; collected in excess fees through the case State vs. Gibson Gayle, $52,500; collected in the form of excess fees recovered from court officials in miscellaneous cases, $50,880; from enforcement of the franchise tax, $24,240.31; gasoline tax, $16,382.53; intangible tax, $9,840; collected for the University of Texas permanent and available school funds, $9,350.26; for certificates, documents and records, $2,244.25; collected through a tax collector's default, $1,982.49; through enforcement of the import tax, $1,200.09; as result of a suit for an accounting, $500; for leases and rentals, $237.60; as refund to an appropriation, school fund, $292,583.76; collected in $96.95.

WORK FINISHED ON WORLD'S 3RD LONGEST SPAN

BULUWAYO (UP)—The longest single-span bridge in Africa, and the third longest in the world has been opened.

It crosses the Sabi river, in southern Rhodesia, and is 1,080 feet long. Its single arch rises to a height of 250 feet. Work began on it in April, 1934.

It is the gift of the trustees of the late Alfred Beit, and has been named "The Birchenough Bridge" in recognition of the services to the country of Sir Henry Birchenough, the chairman of the Beit Trusts and president of the British South Africa Company.

Fifteen hundred tons of steel have gone into the bridge. Its purpose is to give the people of the eastern districts access across the Sabi river to the central districts of southern Rhodesia. The bridge also will serve to open up to visitors from the Union of South Africa and elsewhere one of the most beautiful mountain districts in the territory.

Around And About

The Sports Circuit

By Tom Beasley

THERE HAS BEEN much talk among basketball fans about the advantage a team has in playing on its home court. However, according to the statistics of the 1935-36 season, the advantage is so small as to be of little importance.

IN THE 42 conference games this season, the home team won 21 times and likewise the home team lost 21 times. The average scoring per game for each team, at home and away from home, is shown in the following table:

Team	Ave. Home	Ave. Away	Mgn.
Arkansas	40.4	33.5	-6.9
Rice	35.9	36.2	-.3
Texas	36.6	32.3	-4.3
Baylor	27.7	30.8	-3.1
S. M. U.	31.4	28.7	-2.7
A. & M.	27.3	24.5	-2.8
T. C. U.	24.4	26	-1.6
Average 7 Teams	31.6	29.1	-2.5

SEASON'S HIGHLIGHTS
Leading scorer—Collins, c. Texas, 33 field goals, 51 free throws, total of 117 points. Average 9.7 each game.

Player making most field goals in season—Poole, c. Arkansas, 51.

Player making most free throws in season—Collins, c. Texas, 51.

Team making most points in one game—Arkansas, 47, against T. C. U. February 21 in Fayetteville.

Team making fewest points in one game—A. & M., 13, against Baylor January 25 in Waco.

Team making most field goals in season—Arkansas, 176.

Team making most free throws in season—Texas, 113.

Player making most field goals in one game—Lockard, f. Arkansas, 8 against Texas February 29 in Fayetteville.

Team making most field goals in one game—Rice, 20, against T. C. U. March 2 in Houston.

Player making most free throws in one game—Bellamy, g. S. M. U., 5, against Arkansas February 8 in Fayetteville.

Team making most free throws in one game—Arkansas, 16, against Texas February 28 in Fayetteville.

Greatest margin of victory—Arkansas, 32, against T. C. U. February 21 in Fayetteville. Score: Arkansas 47, T. C. U. 15.

One point victories—Texas, 24, Baylor 23, January 11 in Waco; Arkansas 38, Texas 37, February 28 in Fayetteville; A. & M., 28, T. C. U., 27, February 29 in College Station.

Two point victories—Rice 35, Baylor 33 (2 extra periods), January 17 in Waco; S. M. U., 33, Texas 31 (2 extra periods), January 15 in Austin; Baylor 30, S. M. U., 28, February 19 in Waco.

Individual game scores, more than 15—Collins, c. Texas, March 5 vs. A. & M. in College Station 18; Giv. f. Rice, February 29 vs. S. M. U. in Houston 17; T. Alford, f. Baylor, February 7 vs. A. & M. in College Station 16; Steele, f. Rice, February 25 vs. A. & M. in Houston 16; Poole, c. Arkansas, February 22 vs. T. C. U. in Fayetteville 16.

SAM DRAKE, sports writer for the Breckenridge daily, pecks out a few lines on the Buc's spring football training: "The chance for the Buc's winning the district 3 championship this year rest with one thing... if the best team that coach puts in the field is the heaviest, then the locals will have a chance to win over the eight other teams that are going to be battling for the diadem. Without actual computation it looks as if, right now, that a team averaging 175 pounds could take the field for the Buc's. Very few high school elevens average more than 175, and if the Buc's can weigh that much they

BREVITY WINS RICH FLORIDA DERBY

Cushing Beats El Paso For State High School Basketball Title

SETS NEW MARK FOR DISTANCE

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 7.—A great 3-year-old, Brevity, wearing the red and white of Joseph E. Widener, coasted easily to victory in world's record time in the ninth running of the $20,000 mile and one-furlong Florida Derby today.

Time for the distance was one minute, forty-eight and one-fifth seconds which equaled the world record Discovery set in 1935 and clipped one-fifth of a second off the Hialeah Park track record. Away to a ragged start in fourth place, the son of Chance Shot swept into the lead at the first turn and increased it rapidly. It was not Brevity's winning—so confidently was that expected his legion of backers got only $2.50 on a $2 mutual win ticket—but the manner of his winning that struck awe into supporters of other Kentucky Derby candidates.

Five lengths behind at the finish and running valiently was Mrs. F. E. Widener's Dnesper, which was coupled with Brevity in the wagering, while C. W. Whitney's Bright Plumage was a driving third.

Steers Show Fine Spirit

Gridders Look Good In Scrimmage; Harris Is Moved To Backfield

Steers have been showing an excellent spirit in spring football training. Coach George Brown reported after Friday's workout "Showing a willingness to get in there and hustle is the main thing," George said. The boys looked good in scrimmage Thursday but were a little slow in their Friday drills. Brown has been pleased with the performance of Knuch, a tackle candidate, and Harris, who has been taken from a tackle position to the backfield.

Browning Wins Match Friday

Eight members of the women's golf association took part in a novel "Ida Done" match at the country club Friday afternoon. Mrs. Browning won the event with a net score of 31. Mrs. Harry Stalcup was runner-up. The golfers discussed plans for an invitation tournament to be staged here in the near future, and decided to invite San Angelo, Colorado and Midland golfers to open house here the first Friday in April.

Taking part in the matches Friday: Misses Theron Hicks, Harry Stalcup, E. O. Ellington, Val Lattin, Ellis, M. E. Tatum, Browning and Carnett.

UNLESS SOME of you sports minded fellows kick in with a little dough the boys and girls who win places in the county meet this year will have no awards. The county interscholastic league committee advises that there is no money available for trophies. If you feel like donating a little, let us know and we'll see that it gets to the proper authorities. There are forty events and it will take about $90 to buy trophies.

Longhorns, Hogs Will Meet In First Round At Houston

Softball Meeting Next Friday; Two Leagues To Be Organized

(By HANK HART)
First meeting of the Big Spring Softball association has been called for Friday, March 13, 8 p. m. in the offices of The Daily Herald.

Continued cold weather delayed plans for earlier meetings, but the circuit's schedule will probably begin about April 16. There is a strong possibility that two leagues will be formed, following the policy set in 1934 when the sport was introduced in Big Spring. That year there were 14 teams in the two circuits, eight in the major league and six in the minor. The winners of the leagues met for the city championship following the close of the schedule with the winner playing a team from Foran for the county championship.

CARDINAL SCOUT GETS BUFF TRAINING CALL

Barrett to Have Three Assistants As Drills Open

HOUSTON, Mar. 7. (UP)—Manager Ira Smith, Charlie Barrett, chief St. Louis Cardinal scout, and three other assistants will have charge of the Houston Buffaloes in spring training beginning Monday.

Assisting Smith and Barrett will be Ray Eshamper, former Dallas shortstop and new manager of the Jacksonville club of the West Dixie league; Don Curtis of Waco, Buff scout who signed Jerome and Paul Dean to their first professional contracts, and Jimmie Sanders, new manager of Martinsville in the Bi-State circuit and former buff. Barrett is the ace scout of the Cardinals. He has traveled more than 500,000 miles within the past 18 seasons throughout the United States, Mexico, Canada and Cuba in search of talent. He was the discoverer of Charlie Grimm of the Chicago Cubs, Jim Bottomley, Flint Rhem and "Pepper" Martin.

Notes From The Baseball Camps

(By United Press)
LAKELAND, Fla., Mar. 7. (UP)—All Detroit's rookie players were in camp today. Donald Ross, third baseman, and Hubert Bates, outfielder, arrived last night. Alvin Crowder, veteran pitcher who injured his arm in a practice game last Monday, is again in uniform but is unable to throw.

Primo, Isidoro Fight Probed

NEW YORK, March 7. (UP)—While Primo Carnera dreams of winning back the heavyweight title, the New York state athletic commission faced a stormy legal battle Saturday as an aftermath of Friday night's fight in which Carnera scored a 5-round technical knockout over Isidoro Gastanaga of Spain.

Gastanaga, fat and out of condition, was the mercy of the awkward Italian except for a few brief flurries. Carnera opened a gash over Gastanaga's right eye in the fourth round, and Referee Arthur Donovan stopped the bout after 46 seconds of the fifth round when the Spaniard indicated he was ready to quit. A crowd of 8,334 paid $18,200 to see the bout in Madison Square Garden. Carnera weighed 265 1/4, Gastanaga 208 1/4. The crowd boomed Carnera for rough tactics.

Efforts of Billy King to force the New York commission to call off the bout because of his charge that both fighters were managed by Louis Soreli, caused the boxing board to continue their investigation into the dealings Soreli had with Gastanaga. King claims that Djalma J. Rizzi, Gastanaga's manager of record, is only a front man for Soreli. King holds a contract on Gastanaga's services which runs until May, 1936, but can't get the commission to recognize it.

Brig. Gen. John J. Phelan said he was satisfied the bout was on the level, but the purses of both men would be held up until they

OWLS TAKE STEPHEN F. AUSTIN

HOUSTON, Mar. 7. (UP)—Texas university and Arkansas university will open the Southwest division of the Olympic try-outs here at 8 p. m. Tuesday, while Rice institute will meet Stephen F. ## Suicide Club Gets Together For Jolly Session Of Neck Risking

By HENRY McJEMORE
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 7. (UP)—The Suicide club, an organization composed of young men who regard the human neck as something to be broken, and a racing automobile as the most convenient and comfortable place to break it in, held a winter session here Sunday.

The society will hold its meeting over the 250-mile stretch of the nation's first beach-and-road course. Annual dues will be collected in advance, for the chances are that at the finish one or more of the members will have passed beyond the reach of the club treasurer.

Several of the society's ranking officers are here, including President "Wild Bill" Cummings, George "Doc" Mackenzie, Major Golden Gardner, and Bob Sall. All of those mentioned, as well as the 23 other brothers here for the session, have tested the meeting ground and all agree that it meets all of the club's exacting demands in regard to danger and footholdiness. Brother Sall, who smashed his car to bits, and missed death by an inch while testing it, was high in his praise.

"It's a damn cute three and a half miles," he enthusiastically reported as the doctor examined him for fractures. "We should have an interesting number of crack-ups."

ST. LOUIS SANDLOTTERS REACH MAJOR LEAGUES

ST. LOUIS, Mar. 7. (UP)—Seven St. Louis sandlot ballplayers wear major league uniforms today and the latest to join big time is Harold Suewe, rookie catcher with the Chicago Cubs.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 7. (UP)—Wally Berger, Boston Braves' outfielder, today was under contract, leaving Outfielder Hal Lee the only holdout. Unless Lee reports by Monday, Quinn threatens to fine him.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP)—The Pirates have hung out the welcome sign for the second contingent that left Pittsburgh Friday night. In the group were Honus Wagner, Pep Young, Bernie Cobb, rookie first sacker, Fred Schulte and John Dickshot.

SARASOTA, Fla. (UP)—Joe Cronin of the Red Sox predicts that Jack Wilson is the pitcher to watch this spring. "He is an important member of our squad right now," says Joe, "and if he comes through as a starting pitcher or relief man, as we hope, he may make our staff truly great. He has the stuff."

Confab Put Off Until Monday

Due to other attractions, the baseball meeting which was to have been held at the Crawford hotel 8 p. m. Friday was postponed until the same time Monday.

Amarillo Coach Goes To Altus

MARKS UP 33-29 WIN IN FINAL

AUSTIN, Mar. 7. (UP)—Cushing high school tonight won the basketball championship of University of Texas Intercollegiate league by defeating El Paso in a tense, thrilling game, 33 to 29.

The game was stubbornly contested all the way and the teams were virtually tied in a knot throughout. An estimated crowd of 3,000 cheered as one team and then another forged ahead. Neither quieted had more than a four-point advantage at any time and at most stages the score was tied. Cushing led 8 to 7 at the end of the first period and the score was tied 11-11 at the half. It was knotted again at 25 at the three-quarter mark.

2nd Division For Galveston

By BILL VAN FLEET
Sports Editor, The Galveston News

GALVESTON, Texas, March 7. (UP)—Galveston's Bucoaners, of late a power in the Texas League, appear to be ticketed for the second division for the first time since 1932.

At least, that is the prospect for the team at this stage of the game. With spring training near, the Buc's have too many weak spots in the lineup to be conceded anything better than a contender for fifth place.

The sale or trade of Catcher Bob Linton, Pitcher Max Butcher and Joe Gibbs, Infielders Buck Faurett and Charlie English and the voluntary retirement of Outfielder Joe Perrot and Pitcher Jim Moore, leave the Buc's with but a hollow shell of the team that held first place for a long while in 1935 and eventually finished third.

Jack Mealey, playing manager who turned in one of the loop's best catching jobs last season, will be back at the helm with a year of experience as manager under his belt.

Mealey would like to retire from active duty as a catcher, and if Bob Ashy, who hit .301 in the New York-Penn league last year, and Mank Keith, left-handed hitter, come through, he will be bench manager.

The pitching, the department that usually means the difference between a winner and a loser in the Texas league, may fool the fan. On paper it is not good enough, but Jack Jakucki, who won 15 and lost 14 last year; Eddie Cole (15-19) and Abe White (6-3), the only three with Texas league service behind them. Tom Davis is a fourth but he is ticketed for a trade or sale between now and opening of training season.

To replace them the Buc's will have Beryl Richmond, left-hander; M. Pitton, Jr., right-hander, all from the International league. Second base is wide open, with Danny McGee, also obtained from Albany, leading candidate. Jimmie McLeod, one of the sweetest fielding shortstops in the minors but a light hitter, will take care of the short field.

Third base is absolutely free to any youngster who can show the Buc officials had thought their outfield troubles over when Chuck Hostetler was obtained from Albany to play right field, for Tony Governor is a fixture in center, but now Hostetler likely will be shifted to left to replace Perrot. Fred Frink, a carry-over; Cliff Ograin, who played part of the year with Tulsa in 1935 and several rookies now will fight for the right field job.

Thus, the Buc's need at least one good outfielder, a second and third baseman, perhaps a catcher and probably more mound strength.

Rose Window Of Mission Play Theme

Centennial Operetta To Be Staged Here In April

Now that the Style show is over, there is nothing ahead but the Lenten season, which is ordinarily given over to revivals and is in no sense a social period. The town is, however, looking forward to a community operetta to be given on April 21 by the members of the Epistol Sigma Alpha literary society. This will be the only local observance of the Texas Centennial, so far as the public now knows. It will take its place in state festivals given all over Texas and is being advertised in other sections of the state.

Every Big Spring citizen who has been in San Antonio has seen the beautiful rose window of Mission San Jose--said to be the most beautiful piece of carving of its period in North America. Many legends have sprung up about the artist who would take such art and skill to a new world, where only crude Indians could appreciate his work. The operetta tells one of the many stories extant about this window.

The cast is small, composed of two men and three women, but the number of singers is legion. Most of the musical organizations of the city have volunteered their cooperation. The society is sponsoring the operetta but its aim is to make it a community affair in the widest sense of the word. For this reason there will be no admission fee and the public is being asked to assist in it as an observance of the Centennial.

Further announcements of "The Rose of San Jose" will be made later as the plans develop. Big Spring is now asked to keep April 21st in the mind, to invite guests from nearby towns and even from other states to be present, and assist in making this civic celebration worthy of the beautiful window that inspired the operetta.

Alcohol Education Classes Announced

A leadership training course in Alcohol education is being offered by the W.C.T.U. to those in Big Spring and vicinity who are interested in a solution of the problem.

This is not a course in temperance or prohibition, she continued, but on alcohol, what it is, its characteristic actions, and what it does. It is based on the findings of men of science who have studied alcohol for about one hundred years.

Carson Taylor who will conduct the class has studied these findings for four years and is recommended by such men as Hon. Sterling P. Strong, Dr. W. R. White, Dr. L. R. Scarborough and Bishop John M. Moore. The sessions of the school will be held at the county courthouse.

Taylor has concluded a speaking tour in California where he conducted such schools, also in Arizona. He has had a school in the First Baptist church, El Paso. In addition to the classes at night he will speak to various groups during the day.

Literary Sorority Plans For Centennial Pageant

Members of the Epistol Sigma Alpha literary sorority dispensed with their program Friday evening and held only a short business meeting. The group met at Mrs. C. A. Bickley's.

The time was devoted chiefly to making plans for the Centennial pageant, "The Rose of San Jose" which the sorority will stage on San Jacinto day.

Committee heads are: Mrs. Gilbert Sawtelle, east; Mrs. J. M. Madry, costumes; Mrs. Thomas J. Coffey, publicity.

Present were: Mmes. Ruth Albert, who presided; Coffey, Fox Stripling, Madry; Misses Mary Burns, Lilliane Rogers.

Miss Mayme Lou Parr will entertain the club next.

Mrs. C. W. Cunningham Is Hostess To Club

Mrs. Tom Rosson Has Party For Priscillas

Mrs. C. W. Cunningham entertained members of the Friday contract club this week at her home. Beautiful jonquils brought by Mrs. Albert Fisher were room decorations. The score cards were Centennial in theme.

Mrs. Hanson was club high scorer and Mrs. A. E. Service, guest high. Guests were: Mmes. Service, R. V. Middleton, John Clarke and C. H. Wood.

A Mexican ball salad was served to those named and the following: Mmes. G. A. Woodward, J. D. Biles, Lee Hanson and Fisher.

Mrs. Fisher will entertain next.

Dr. & Mrs. Raleigh Davis Of San Antonio Here

Dr. and Mrs. Raleigh Davis and daughter, Angie Lee, of San Antonio arrived in Big Spring Friday, called here by the condition of A. T. Lloyd, Mrs. Davis' father. Mrs. Will Menger, a sister of Mrs. Lloyd, and mother of Mrs. Ira Thurman, came with them and is visiting the Thurmans.

Dr. and Mrs. Willis Joe Lloyd of Pflaview, who have been with their father this past week, have returned to their home.

Ladies Auxiliary To Locomotive Engineers Celebrate The 45th Anniversary Of Organization

Pay Tribute To Charter Organizers, One Of Whom Attended Meeting; Honor Birthdays Of Present Members

The forty-fifth anniversary of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers was celebrated Thursday by the members of Lone Star division number 9. The only living charter member who still belongs to the auxiliary--Mrs. L. T. Deats--was present.

The occasion was also a birthday party for other members of the organization who are active in its work.

When the auxiliary was organized its membership was composed of Mmes. L. D. Gentry (now Mrs. John Notestine), L. F. McKay, J. T. Sutton, James Costlow, A. B. Perkins, C. J. Hadlock, Joe Bird, D. C. Everly, L. T. Deats. Mrs. Notestine was first president of the organization, but she has not been a member for years.

Six members having birthdays in March were honored of the occasion. They were: Mmes. Lamar Smith, Schwarzenbach, Rogers, Davis, Redwine and Wade.

A program of music and readings was given. Marvin Louise Davis played a piano selection. Charles Moody and J. N. Cowan sang solos. Leola Fay Vines did a tap dance. A birthday cake made by Mrs. Smith held 45 candles and stood in the center of the dining table. The birthday honorees made their wishes and blew out the candles. Mrs. Charles Klobner toasted them.

Hostesses of the afternoon were: Mmes. Berry, Orr and Vines. They served cake and punch to the following: Mmes. L. T. Deats, Max Wilson, Alfred Moody, M. D. Davis, Lappar Smith, Koberg, R. Schwarzenbach, Walter Bird, Zack Mullins, Charles Vines, R. V. Jones, D. S. Orr; Misses Marvin Louise Davis, Leola Fay Vines; Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Coburn, Henry Jones and J. D. Berry and Jean, J. B. Cowan, and Charles Moody.

METHODIST CIRCLES The members of the First Methodist W. M. S. will meet in the homes of the members Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The meetings will be as follows: Circle one with Mrs. Clinegan; two with Mrs. McIntosh; three with Mrs. Hayes Stripling, and four with Mrs. W. K. Edwards.

Her hostess invited in two tables of bridge players in her honor Thursday afternoon. The party included Mmes. D. M. McKinney, Bill Donnelly, C. R. Worley, M. E. Tatum, R. F. Harris, Jr., and Miss Evelyn Merrill, in addition to Miss Gomez.

For tea Mrs. Pat Allen and Mrs. Constance McEntire were guests. The St. Patrick colors were used in the green harp tallies and in the marble. Mrs. McKinney presented with a lovely gift for high score and the honoree with a bouquet of red rosebuds.

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. William Gottlieb were hosts at dinner in Miss Gomez honor.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Golden, Miss Knid Avriett and Forrest McDuffy.

Dick Adams Seeks Constable's Post

J. A. (Dick) Adams, stockman, who has been a citizen of Big Spring for the past four years, residing at 1007 West Fifth street, Saturday announced his candidacy for constable Precinct No. 1, subject to action of the democratic primaries in July. In making his announcement, Adams said he had ten years' experience as deputy sheriff in Hidalgo, Bexar, Jones and Coleman counties, before entering the stock business here. Adams earnestly solicits the support of each voter, and if the people see fit to elect him to this office, he will do his utmost to fulfill the duties thereof, he said.

Wendy Barrie, Gene Raymond In Lyric Film

Appear Together In Light Comedy Romance, 'Love On A Bet'

Comedy, romance and adventure are combined to furnish gay amusement in the picture, "Love On A Bet," which is featured at the Lyric for three days beginning Sunday, with Gene Raymond and Wendy Barrie in the leading roles. It is a mostly rollicking comedy, and the transcontinental adventure of the two principals makes "Love On A Bet" unusual entertainment. Raymond, a young man about town, seeks $10,000 with which to produce a play with a seemingly impossible plot—one about a penniless young man who leaves New York City garbed only in underwear and arrives in Los Angeles ten days later with a new suit, a hundred dollars and a beautiful fiancée. Raymond's uncle agrees to sponsor his play if the young man can accomplish this feat of fiction. The ingenuity which he exhibits to snare the money, the clothes and attractive girl makes his cross-country jaunt one of excitement as well as hilarity. "Love On A Bet" moves at a swift pace, providing plenty of laughs. Its action is matched by sprightly dialogue. Miss Barrie, the English comedienne, is seen as the girl Raymond finds on his trip. Helen Broderick of stage fame, adds to the humor of the play. William Collier, Sr., Morgan Wallace, Eddie Gribbon, Walter Johnson, Addison Randall and William B. Davidson are others in the cast.

Nebraska Ranchers Buying Cattle In West Texas Section

On a cattle buying trip in West Texas, W. H. Kilpatrick of Redlands, Calif., and J. M. Kilpatrick of Beatrice, Neb., with the latter's wife, are guests here for several days of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Good. The two Kilpatricks, large scale ranch operators with headquarters at Beatrice, expect to purchase 4,000 head of cattle while in this section. They visited in Borden county Friday. The men have been doing business with Good for the past fourteen years. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kilpatrick drove down from Nebraska several days ago and were joined by W. H. Kilpatrick who came here from Redlands. The three will go to Redlands, probably Monday for an extended visit.

New Astaire-Rogers Song And Dance Hit Opens Engagement At Ritz Theatre Today

Irving Berlin Tunes Heard In 'Follow The Fleet'

The fifth screen feature teaming those two singing-dancing personalities, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, comes to the Ritz theatre Sunday and Monday, to present the couple in another series of colorful dance numbers and tuneful songs with navy life as the background. The picture is called "Follow the Fleet."

Astaire-Rogers fans want singing and dancing, and that's what they get in this film where the navy life in San Francisco is translated into melody as composed by Irving Berlin. The singing starts even before the dreadnaughts hit the Golden Gate, with Astaire serving up "We Saw the Sea" aboard a battleship. Romance and comedy swing into the theme when Astaire, as a gob, meets Ginger in a dime-a-dance sailor's rendezvous, and when Harriet Hilliard, in the role of Ginger's school-teacher sister, loses her heart to Randolph Scott, a "dozen girls-in-every-port" pal of Astaire. The meetings give rise to entertainment high spots and lead to plot situations that are spiced by seven Irving Berlin tunes.

Astaire and Rogers do three dance numbers together, one each individually. They perform a nifty ballroom routine to the tune "Let Yourself Go," then a humorous pantomime dance to "All My Eggs In One Basket"; and as a finale they give an interpretative number, "Let's Face the Music and Dance." Miss Rogers demonstrates her abilities as a soloist in the tap routine of "Let Yourself Go." Astaire's big number is "I'd Rather Lead a Band," in which he performs with his amazing skill to the accompaniment of a sailor chorus. Harriet Hilliard, known to radio listeners as a soloist with Ozzie Nelson's band, is a newcomer to the screen, and makes her debut with two songs, "Get These Behind Me, Betin'" and "Here Am I, But Where Are You?"

Light comedy situations and romance are served up in much the same manner as "Top Hat" and "The Gay Divorcee," the pictures that made the world Astaire-Rogers conscious. The picture was directed by Mark Sandrich, who was in charge of the two previous hits.

AMERICAN FLAG FLIES ON MORE PACIFIC ISLANDS

HONOLULU (UP)—Colonization of additional islands in the Pacific as American aviation bases is being carried steadily forward.

The group now being colonized and developed are the islands of Baker, Howland and Jarvis, all stepping stones for new aviation lines to New Zealand.

The coast guard cutter Itasca on its present trip to the islands took with it nine youths from the Kamehameha schools here as replacements for colonists establishing American occupation on the islands. The present cruise of the Itasca also will include Palmyre, more than 900 miles south of here. Another cruise for the same purpose is planned for March.

W. T. Miller, superintendent of airways for the U. S. Bureau of Commerce, said the first step will be the establishment of a permanent weather station at Baker. By March, the year's observation and occupation of the islands will be complete.

Mrs. Max Jacobs has as a guest her niece, Mrs. M. L. Swartzberg, and little daughter Rita Anne of Fort Worth.

MUST BE BETWEEN DANCES

Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, in the roles of sailor and dance hall hostess, appear here in a scene from "Follow the Fleet," the new Astaire-Rogers song and dance opus which is offered Sunday and Monday at the Ritz. Fred and Ginger do their new numbers to Irving Berlin tunes.

A WAGER BRINGS ROMANCE

Wendy Barrie and Gene Raymond in a scene from the comedy romance, "Love On A Bet," which plays at the Lyric for three days beginning Sunday. Raymond wins a wager and happiness in finding the girl.

G-Man Film Is Presented At Queen Today

Richard Arlen, Bruce Cabot, Virginia Bruce in "Let 'Em Have It"

One of the recent series of pictures glorifying the federal operatives in their war on organized crime, "Let 'Em Have It," is the principal attraction on the Queen theatre's program for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Richard Arlen, Virginia Bruce, Bruce Cabot, Alice Brady, Harvey Stephens, Eric Linden and Gordon James head the cast which also includes J. Farrell McDonald, Dorothy Appleby, Barbara Pepper and others. Arlen, Stephens and Jones are seen as three federal sleuths who pit the science of the department of justice against the machine guns of a kidnap gang. Cabot plays the part of Joe Keefe, a chauffeur who starts his career of crime by engineering the attempted kidnap of his society girl employer, Miss Bruce. Paroled, he grows more and more daring, finally becoming "public enemy No. 1." The relentless pursuit and final spectacular capture of Keefe by the three G-men provides a stirring story of adventure. While the picture is concerned chiefly with this plot development, there are moments of romance and humor, Miss Bruce and Arlen appearing as the lovers and Alice Brady providing the comic relief. Interesting are the sequences of the picture in which the training of federal operatives by the depart-

Byrd Revives Plan For New Bureau Setup

Simplification Of Government Structure May Have Wide Effect

By BYRON PRICE (Chief of AP Bureau, Washington) Without any of the customary cantation and ballyhoo, a senate committee is undertaking modestly an investigation which, unlike most senate inquiries may have a profound effect on the future operation of the federal government. The committee is charged with making a "full and complete study" of the vast tangle of departments, bureaus, boards, commissions and other agencies embraced in the governmental structure. A report is to be presented a year hence.

The interest which thoughtful officials find in this effort does not arise from anything novel about the idea itself, for it is a very old idea indeed. The new thing about it is the widespread belief that something really may be done about government reorganization, after a long record of failures involving both political parties.

In large part this expectation of results is traceable to the fact that the guiding spirit of the present effort is Senator Byrd of Virginia, whose earnestness of purpose is evident and whose background of experience makes him an authority. For years public men have professed to agree almost unanimously that the governmental machine at Washington should be simplified and coordinated. Yet the issue has been tossed about endlessly in a whirlpool of wordy promises, fragmentary effort, and final non-performance.

On Feb. 13, 1923, President Harding even went so far as to submit to congress a detailed plan. It proposed among other things, consolidation of the war and navy departments, and the grouping of a multitude of loose administrative ends under a new department of education and welfare. It got nowhere. President Hoover's repeated espousal of reorganization is well known. He also made recom-ment of justice is demonstrated. The prospective agents are schooled in athletics, marksmanship and in all the science and art of detection. "Let 'Em Have It" is generally described as one of the best of the G-man pictures.

mendation, and he likewise created so many new commissions that the opposition party complained bitterly. President Roosevelt stands for reorganization, but the multiplication of governmental agencies under his administration has been constant and progressive. The Byrd resolution was introduced Jan. 3. Outwardly the immediate response was most encouraging. It was assumed that Byrd, as author of the proposal, would be (as he is now) chairman of the committee, and everyone seemed to think that especially fitting.

When, ten years ago, Byrd became governor of Virginia, there were more than 100 state departments, boards, and bureaus. When he retired four years later, there were 12. About 30 had been abolished, the others consolidated. A deficit of $2,500,000 had been changed to a surplus of $5,000,000. Nevertheless, something happened to the Byrd resolution. For six weeks the proposal hung fire in committee, for reasons still unexplained. A less tenacious senator probably would have given up. One thing debated was how much money should be given the investigators. Byrd asked for an expense fund of $50,000, from a senate which had spent three quarters of a million on investigations since 1933, and had voted billions for other purposes without turning a hair.

"Wouldn't $10,000 be enough?" Byrd said it would not. Finally he succeeded in getting $20,000. It may never be possible to fathom the true inwardness of this situation—to establish whether the delay and hesitation had any relation to Senator Byrd's frequent disagreement with administration policy or to the fact that curtailment of governmental bureaus might mean loss of senate patronage.

At any rate, it serves as a warning of possible difficulties with ahead. But Senator Byrd is a man of purpose and determination, keenly interested in results in this one special direction. If anyone can, at last, succeed in doing something about reorganization, perhaps he is the man who can.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW FEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Henry Wallace and Harold Ickes, though the best of friends, have been locked in a vigorous behind-the-scenes battle over the all-important question of reducing farm acreage. Wallace seeks to reduce it, while Ickes seeks to increase it by a vast reclamation project.

Project in question is the Yuma-Gila, involving the irrigation of 150,000 acres of Arizona desert, which will increase by 37 per cent the total irrigated land in that state.

The project began with a dream by Ickes' bureau of reclamation, which was to use the power from Boulder dam to lift water 400 feet a record for irrigation—and make the arid deserts of Arizona blossom like a garden. Reclamation engineers envisaged a new frontier, with settlers homesteading virgin acres no plow had ever turned.

All went well until the secretary of agriculture heard of the dream. Immediately he moved to puncture it. The beautiful crops of Arizona's virgin acres, he claimed, would blossom at a time when he was trying to restrain the yields of countless other acres throughout the land.

California citrus growers added their complaint to Wallace's. They saw, in the Yuma-Gila project, an area of dangerous competition.

Finally, Wallace pointed out that the chief crops would be grown on the new farm lands were winter vegetables and citrus fruits, that it would be practically impossible to retire that much land from acreage now devoted to these crops. Increased production would smash their entire price scale.

White House Intervention
Wallace won the first round of the battle last December. Just as Ickes' reclamation engineers were on the point of opening bids, he went to the White House and persuaded the president to issue a stop order.

The proposal then went before a board of engineers appointed to referee the battle. Their report, just submitted, was favorable. Wallace withdrew his objections. So did the White House. Bids on the project were formally opened last week.

NOTE: Wallace's advisers say their only consolation is that three years must elapse before the Yuma-Gila project is completed. By this time, the United States will have to increase its consumption of orange juice enough to absorb the product of the new homesteaders.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Press
One-timers at Mrs. Roosevelt's press conferences step lightly over the threshold of the White House front door, remove their galoshes and proceed gingerly into the Green Room to await the gong. Regular correspondents march in, galoshes and all, and what is more, get away with it.

Rose and Hattie
Hattie Caraway has found a friend.

For four years the lady senator from Arkansas has wandered about the corridors of the capitol, a black-gowned, lonely figure, slipping in and out of the senate chambers almost unnoticed, speaking only when spoken to, she made seating a serious and solemn business.

But now she has Rose Long as a companion. Instead of sitting down to lunch alone, instead of reflecting alone on a pending senate bill, instead of mingling alone among male legislators, she is the company of the junior senator from Louisiana.

Senator Long's assigned desk is between Senators Holt and Chavez. But she has taken advantage of Senator Bankhead's absence to slip into his seat beside Mrs. Caraway.

These two dark-gowned figures have become inseparable. They do not appear on the floor for the first roll call at twelve, but come over from their offices to the capitol at about 12:30, lunch in the private dining room for senators only.

Usually they eat alone. Sometimes they are joined by Senator Long's daughter Rose and Senator Overton's daughter Katharine. Then they go on to the floor.

It is a partnership of mutual advantage. Hattie has found a friend, and Rose has found a guide.

Mrs. Long's first job was getting acquainted. She had ninety-three names to learn. Out of the ninety-six senators the only ones she knew were Mrs. Caraway, Senator Overton, and herself. Now, when a senator rises to speak, she nudges Hattie, and Hattie, knowing what the nudge means, whispers, "That's Senator Couzens," or "That's Senator Neely."

The senate ladies have not yet got to the point of first-naming.

"I wouldn't think of calling her 'Rose,'" says Hattie, "any more than I would call any other senator by his first name—of course I do call Senator Robinson 'Joe.'"

She also explains that she is no mentor.

"Mrs. Long has a mind of her own, and don't you forget it. I wouldn't presume to advise her. But of course, I'm glad to answer any questions."

No Society
Their friendship does not extend to social activities, partly because neither of them goes out at night. Both Hattie and Rose like a game of bridge now and then, but they haven't time for it.

When Mrs. Caraway gets home, there is the house to take care of. She has a colored maid, but does all her own marketing. And when Mrs. Long gets home, she has her housekeeping apartment at the Broadmore hotel to manage, not to mention leading a band to Palmer Long, eighth-grader, with his homework.

When asked by a senate colleague when she was going to make a speech from the floor, Mrs. Long smiled and said, "Oh, sometimes soon."

If she does, it will be no rough and tumble debate, but a carefully prepared statement that will receive the critical scrutiny of Senate

NEW YORK—When Sinclair Lewis wrote that extraordinary book, "It Can't Happen Here," he didn't realize the upheaval it would cause when Sidney Howard dramatized it for the screen. Or maybe he did know; Lewis always leaves flurries of confusion behind him.

As the matter stands, the picture has been banned and Hitler and Mussolini are being quoted as vastly appreciative of the steps America has taken in censoring a tome so manifestly unjust.

The book, if you recall, is about dictators and the ease with which a Fascist regime could be established in America.

So, when amiable, jocular Sidney Howard got back from Hollywood the other morning I went down to Grand Central to meet him. Lewis wasn't there because he had already sailed for Bermuda.

"Who banned that picture?" I asked Howard.

"The Hays office," he grinned.

"But they deny it," I pointed out.

Howard is a good-natured and easy-going playwright but he can be extremely caustic when occasion demands. He said, with something of the tartness he sometimes puts in his dialog: "Yes, Hays denies it. Hays always was an awfully cautious boy."

The last I saw of him he was swinging through Grand Central with that loose gait of his, a bag in one hand and the arm of his beautiful wife in the other.

First-nighters who went up to 48th street the other evening saw a polite little comedy called "Mainly for Lovers," the one that brought Dorothy Gish, the madcap one, back to Broadway. This comedy, imported from London, was premiered just four nights before Lillian Gish opened in London in the American play, "The Old Maid."

Seeing either of those fragile, lovely sisters always leaves you in a Gish mood, and so I went over to the old Fort Lee Studios, just a couple of strides (if Carnera takes them) from the other side of George Washington Bridge.

This is where the movies were born, and it is where Mary Pickford's curls were first stamped on celluloid. Wandering through those dark, musty rooms one saw tons of costumes and countless, rickety sets of countless pictures and plays. The spiders had woven lace patterns everywhere, and the dust was so thick that footprints remained almost as vividly as Caruso's Man Friday's on that legendary waste of beach.

No soundproof striking a vein of ore ever whooped with more gusto than we did upon finding two old canvas-back chairs in a corner. They were the chairs reserved for the private use of stars while those old movies were being made. On the backs were stenciled the names of Lillian and Dorothy Gish.

Sean O'Casey, the Irish playwright, wears turtle-neck sweaters even to the most formal first nights. Helen Hayes wears a slave bracelet but no wedding ring. Nancy Noland, Tennessee lass who came to Broadway to dance and sing, is the daughter of a Methodist Bishop. Search for Dane Coolidge, the writer, and you'll never find him unless you go to Death Valley. He knew the place before the first automobile came and always spends a part of each year there.

By a process which he doesn't care to describe in detail, he "spun" the casein out into strands that look and feel like dental floss.

Whittier did it "just for fun." But the Italians are grimly serious. Threatened with embargoes, they were driven to find a substitute for wool. An army engineer named Antonio Perrett, working in a Milan plant, discovered that a wool substitute could be produced by "spinning" casein.

Next need is for more milk to skim, to make more casein. Italy finds herself needing about 400,000 more cows to make wool from. And U. S. congressmen from dairy states are wondering if they cannot supply Italy's needs—either in cows or in casein.

Although the problem of food control in the Mississippi valley has made real progress recently, one important phase has been completely neglected both by Washington and the states.

It is coordinated control of those water problems which cut across state lines.

The Mississippi valley committee holds that present laws are utterly inadequate to deal with this, and now one should be enacted. Yet the states, despite considerable ballyhoo two years ago, have done nothing. Nor has the administration.

But the last part was decidedly true.

102-YEAR-OLD NEGRO FILES APPLICATION FOR AGE BENEFITS

About the time General Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna was firming up his position as the autocratic "president" of the Mexican republic and the Alamo was a peaceful Spanish mission, Richard Collins, negro, was born in Tippa county, Mississippi.

Friday, on the 100th anniversary of the fall of the Alamo, he sent in his application to the district office of the Texas Old Age Assistance commission.

The 102-year-old negro, now living at Post with his son, Amos Collins, formerly resided here. Many local people remember him as the gray-haired, stoop-shouldered negro who, when stopped from his job of hauling teams, could quickly give the date of his birth as Dec. 24, 1833. He worked here from 1927 to October of 1935 when he went to Post.

Collins listed four living children, the eldest 50 years of age, in his application. Of the number he did not know when two were born and did not know where two of them lived.

Second Graders Take Train Trip To Coahoma to Learn About Railroading

When the West Ward 2nd grade students study trains, their teacher, Mrs. Gene Gardner, makes sure they know the object of their attention.

Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Doyle Robinson, she took thirteen of the pupils on the 12:10 p. m. train to Coahoma and returned with them on the train returning four hours later.

While there they inspected an engine on stidng, saw refrigerator cars, and were shown old express agents by R. L. Yochem, station agent.

Yochem has in his possession a seal of the Wells Fargo Express company, disbanded since 1917. He has had several attractive offers for his seal of the old Pacific Express company.

Only about five per cent of the class had ever ridden on a train before Saturday.

Mrs. Gardner said she planned to take the class on a tour through the railroad shops here while they are studying the railroad industry.

As a class project they have already modeled a locomotive.

Making the trip Saturday were Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Robinson, Veda LaNell Robinson, Maryl Wood, Richard Olson, Billy Joe Childress, Billy Jo Ayers, Gertrude Winn, Henry Donnelly, Bryan Carr, Walter Hildreth, Marilyn Keaton, Wilma Helen Gattin, Clon Thornton and Billy Charl's Coleman.

Program Will Depend Up On Amount Of Cash At End Of Month

AUSTIN, Mar. 7. (UP)—Possibility that direct relief to Texas unemployables might be continued after April 1 was seen here today.

Johnson said about 25,000 cases were receiving $12 monthly aid at present. That number represents about 10 per cent more than on ed on the Ad Neal ranch in Glasscock county. Best two registered Rambouillet bucks to be shown at the affair were raised by T. D. White, vocational agriculture teacher.

The show was judged by O. P. Griffin, county agent for Howard county. At noon the lambs, rams and the bull were loaded into a truck furnished by Ray Hightower and taken to the auction sale of the San Angelo livestock show which opened Saturday.

Accompanying the boys and their projects to San Angelo were John H. and S. L. Cox.

Winners in the Friday show were Lester Ratliff, first; Belton Cox, second, third and fourth; Robert Lee Cox, fifth; Belton Cox, sixth, seventh and eighth; Lester Ratliff, ninth; Dan Houston, 10th; Belton Cox, 11th; Alvis Ray Cox, 12th, 13th, and 14th; Lester Ratliff, 15th and 16th.

Fern Cox showed two fine registered Rambouillet buck lambs.

Douglas Fairbanks, Lady Ashley Wed Neither Understands French Ceremony

PARIS, Mar. 7. (UP)—The much-publicized, long-enduring romance of Douglas Fairbanks and Lady Ashley, British noblewoman, culminated in marriage today in the town hall of the eighth Paris district. American Ambassador Jesse I. Strauss was among the guests.

The ceremony was performed by District Mayor Gaston Drukker. He wore the tri-colored sash of his office and read the marriage clauses from the code in rapid French which neither understood.

The code specified that the husband must be faithful to the wife, that the wife owes obedience and must follow the husband everywhere.

Fairbanks' witness was United States Consul Robert Murphy. Lady Ashley's was Elizabeth Gauvet, London.

The marriage culminated a romance of years' standing that resulted in two divorces. Lord Ashley divorced his beautiful, former actress wife in London, naming Fairbanks as co-respondent. Mary Pickford divorced Fairbanks in Los Angeles for desertion.

For two days Fairbanks had argued with French officials to get the marriage performed without the usual period of continuous resi-denance and the posting of banners. These requirements were waived yesterday but the marriage had to be postponed until documentary proof of Lady Ashley's divorce could be brought by airplane from London.

Leland Martin, superintendent of the Forsan school, who has been ill at the Big Spring hospital is very much improved but does not know definitely when he will be back in Forsan.

Mr. and Mrs. Mewhartar of the Shell Pipeline camp have been transferred back to their home at Hamlin.

The Entre Nous club met with Miss Louella Kennedy on Friday afternoon. The St. Patrick motif was used in the decorations, tallies, refreshments and plate favors of shamrock. High score was made by Mrs. W. D. Smith who received a table mirror centerpiece; Mrs. C. B. Ramsey won a Bingo prize of a whinnit. Present were: Misses, W. K. Scuddry, U. R. Drake, H. H. Hillyard, C. B. Ramsey, D. R. Smith, Hood Williams. The only guest was Mrs. L. O. Kennedy. A new member is Mrs. C. V. Wash.

Allred Opens Angelo Show

Says He Has Made No Decision Yet On Special Session

SAN ANGELO, Mar. 7. (AP)—Before a crowd of 10,000 persons, Governor James V. Allred, riding a prancing white stocking dun horse, opened the fifth annual San Angelo fat stock show when he kicked the cowboy and pioneer parade through the business district shortly before noon today.

The governor arrived shortly before the parade from San Antonio by plane.

Allred said the calling of a special election to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Senator W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales was in conformance with his policy of seeing that all vacancies were filled immediately after notification. He said he saw no reason for postponing any special election.

The governor said he had made no decision regarding a special session of the legislature. He said the number of persons applying for old age pensions had exceeded the estimates but that the old age assistance commission had not been able to make any sort of estimate as to the number that would actually qualify.

Twenty-five hundred head of fat cattle and sheep were gathered today in the barns at the fair grounds here, making the competition between 4-H club boys and vocational agriculture students most spirited in the history of the show. Dry lot feeding, using West Texas feeds and economical West Texas feeding practices attracted the most attention among early visitors to the show.

U S SUES TO RECOVER TEAPOT DOME CLAIMS

LOS ANGELES, March 7. (UP)—Echoes of the Teapot Dome oil scandal were heard in federal court here as the government filed suit for recovery of $6,158,000 against the estate of the late Edward L. Doheny.

The government's suit was based on an alleged balance due in settlement of the Teapot Dome claims. The action reviewed the charges of conspiracy which jarred the late President Warren G. Harding's cabinet 15 years ago.

The complaint recited that on March 4, 1921, Doheny assertedly entered into a conspiracy with Albert B. Fall, then secretary of the interior, through "corrupting" him with gifts or loans into granting the oil leases on government reserves.

Mr. First received a suspended sentence after being admonished to live up to his name.
