

UF Reaches 39 Per Cent Of Objective

Big Spring and Howard County citizens were urged Tuesday evening to answer "roll call of good citizenship," the United Fund.

The appeal came from Ben H. Wooten, president of the First National Bank in Dallas and a leading civic worker in his city and state. The occasion was the kick-off for the General Gifts division and a report session for the Advance, Special and Employees' divisions.

Adolph Swartz revealed that $34,051.36 has been reported through these three divisions to date, or 39.89 per cent of the $87,555 objective for the campaign. The Advance Gifts group under Roy Reeder and Champ Rainwater had another $6,841 to bring its total to $24,953.12, or 54.18 per cent of its goal. Special Gifts, under Dr. W. A. Hunt, had $1,131.70 for an aggregate of $2,728.20, or 32.44 per cent of its objective. Employees Gifts, under Vic Alexander and Horace Garrett, had $6,368.06 in its first report, or 22.65 per cent of its total.

Wooten told the group that Big Spring and Howard County ought to reflect "eye-popping" development in quickly subscribing the $87,555 goal.

"Don't get tired quickly," he urged. "We're going to have to raise this fund; let's do it promptly. There is no easy way to raise money; but this is the right way."

The United Fund, he contended, is next "to our churches in importance and it ought to be so easy to sell. . . . The results of this campaign will be a reflection of the degree of devotion and enthusiasm with which you lay this vital program on the hearts of all the people."

Touching on the Servicemen's Center, as he did other agencies supported by the United Fund, Wooten declared that "if our young men can give two years out of their lives, we can give our time, talent and energies to help provide them with a home away from home."

SECURITY STATE Charter Is Granted To New Local Bank

Charter for a new bank in Big Spring—Security State—was granted today in Austin by the Texas Banking Commission.

Word of the action was received here shortly after noon by Larson Lloyd, who will be executive officer of the new institution.

The bank will be capitalized at $125,000 with capital stock of $125,000 and unwithdrawn profits of $50,000. Application has been made for Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation coverage of deposits in the new institution.

C. T. McLaughlin, prominent Scurry County oilman, rancher and businessman, is listed as chairman of the board; George W. Dabney, Big Spring, as president; and Larson Lloyd as executive vice president.

These and Ted Groebel, R. L. Tollett, V. A. Whittington and K. H. McElhannon are listed as incorporators.

Lloyd said Tuesday that the new bank possesses options on lots but no decision has been reached on the location. A new building will be constructed, however. Original plans were to establish it away from the downtown area so that it might be more readily accessible to the public.

Articles of association and other details will have to be worked out when the papers are sent here from Austin within the next few days. Lloyd said that a meeting of the board would be called as soon as practical to consider the many details attendant with the opening of a new bank.

PARIS (AP)—Twice victor in National Assembly votes on his North African policies, Premier Edgar Faure appeared able today to look forward to a month's respite from parliamentary attack.

Probe Is Pressed In Ghastly Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)—State, county and city police today pressed their widest investigation of its kind in a quarter century as they sought to solve the ghastly slaying of three young boys whose naked, mutilated bodies were found piled in a forest ditch.

Authorities blamed the crime on either a madman or a gang of older youths.

The boys—Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother Anton Jr., 12—were strangled and beaten, apparently Sunday night, a few hours after they set out from their homes for a downtown movie.

Their bodies, with legs intermingled, were discovered yesterday in Robinson Woods, just outside Chicago's northwest limits.

A hundred law officers scoured the woods today for clues.

Other police were tracing movements of the youngsters from the time they left their middle-class neighborhood on the Northwest Side to see the Walt Disney movie "The African Lion" in the Loop Sunday afternoon.

An autopsy last night indicated the boys had been dead 36 to 40 hours when their bodies were discovered but that they had not been molested sexually as first believed.

However, Dr. Harry R. Hoffman, an associate of the Cook County Behavior Clinic, said: "The person who could commit such an act as this one is one to whom the act itself is a gratification of the sex urge."

Coroner Walter E. McCarron called it "the work of a madman" or a gang of older boys. He theorized from marks and dirt on the bodies that the boys were held captive in "some filthy place," bound and gagged with strips of adhesive tape and then dumped in the forest preserve.

Victor Livingston, a liquor salesman, saw the bodies when he parked his car in the forest preserve to eat his lunch.

The oldest boy, Robert Peterson, had been slashed across the head 14 times, probably with an ax or a hunting knife, police said.

Shivers Seems Well On Way To Keeping Promise

By CLAYTON HICKERSON

Associated Press Staff

Gov. Allan Shivers, who last spring in Dallas made a vow to "stay in the mainstream of events . . . within the party of our fathers," appeared Wednesday well on the way to fulfillment of the promise.

That Shivers, who supported Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower for President in 1952, might have a large voice in the 1956 Democratic National Convention seemed highly probable, close observers believed.

The New York Times said Tuesday that Democratic professionals were trying to gain for the South and conservatives generally a possible decisive influence on the convention.

The Times said what many Texas as observers already believed: "The unofficial and unlabeled headquarters for this effort is the LBJ Ranch on the Pedernales River in South Texas." That's Senator Lyndon B. Johnson's ranch home.

The Times' Washington correspondent, William S. White, could have added that a counterpart of the LBJ headquarters on the Pedernales was in Fannin County, just west of Donham, where Squire Sam Rayburn, otherwise Speaker of the House and eminent Democratic Party leader, holds sway.

Senator Johnson, said the Times, "is speaking to form a powerful centrist coalition within the party even while he recuperates from a heart attack. Before he returns to Washington in November, Sen. Johnson will have talked to representatives of every major faction of the party."

The aim, the Times continued—and this is where Shivers enters the picture—is to force an open convention and avoid anything resembling an automatic nomination for Adlai Stevenson. Shivers, time and again, has said he would bolt the party again if Stevenson is nominated. Just as often he has said he preferred to remain within the Democratic Party.

Johnson and Rayburn also seek a party platform similar in political tone to the moderate record through which they steered last session's Democratic Congress, the Times said. Then they want to exploit whatever opportunities may come in a convention thrown wide open, the newspaper added.

Mrs. McMurry Dies At C-City; Rites Thursday

COLORADO CITY — Mrs. Fannie McMurry, 83, pioneer Mitchell County resident, died in a hospital here last night of injuries received in a traffic crash 10 days earlier.

Services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Charles Brinkley, Kermit, the Rev. John F. Elliott, Fort Worth, and the Rev. Early M. Clary, pastor of the church, officiating. The remains will be taken in a Kiker funeral coach to El Paso for interment at 10 a.m. Friday.

Mrs. McMurry was injured Oct. 8 when she was thrown from a car driven by Nellie Riordan. The car was in collision with a pickup driven by Eldon Ruffin of Colorado city. Miss Riordan, also thrown from the car, was not seriously injured.

Mrs. McMurry was born in Coryell County on July 22, 1872. The former Fanny Miller, she moved to Colorado City in 1881 with her parents. She graduated from Colorado City High School in 1892.

She was a charter member of the El Paso Presbytery, which was formed 50 years ago next month, and a long-time member of the First Presbyterian Church here. She was the widow of the late Y. D. McMurry, also a pioneer Mitchell County resident and early-day Colorado City merchant. They were married June 7, 1911.

Survivors include two sons, Bill McMurry, president of the First National Bank at Seagraves, and Dr. Y. D. McMurry, Midland; one daughter, Mrs. J. H. McGregor, Beaumont; a brother, Dr. Felix Miller, El Paso; a sister, Mrs. W. H. Brennan, Fort Davis, and three grandchildren.

Mrs. McMurry was a sister of the late Mrs. Verd Van Gieson of Big Spring. She lived in Big Spring from 1950 through 1952.

Two Gunmen Take $145,000

OMAHA (AP)—"They really cleaned me out," said Mrs. Margaret Kellogg today, mooting to a big bedroom safe from which two masked gunmen had taken $125,000 in jewels and $20,000 in cash.

The robbers smashed their way into the big brick home on Omaha's fashionable West Side last night while Mrs. Kellogg, 58-year-old banker's widow, and three women friends watched television upstairs.

The women said the gunmen were nervous and confused, but when they spied Mrs. Kellogg, who had come to the head of the stairs, one shouted, "She's the one we want," and dashed up.

Mrs. Kellogg retreated to her bedroom but the bandit slammed his shoulder through the door panel, jammed a pistol in Mrs. Kellogg's back and ordered her to open the big, old-fashioned safe.

Russians May Accept Ike Plan

POINT CLEAR, Ala. (AP)—Harold E. Stassen hinted broadly last night that Russia's leaders may accept President Eisenhower's arms inspection plan because Red scientists are telling them the truth about the terrible destruction that would go with an atomic war.

"Their scientists are telling the Communist leaders the same thing our scientists are telling us—that the alternative to peace is the threat of atomic destruction," he said.

When the Russians achieve a depth of understanding of the awful alternatives to peace, then "we can begin working out the hard issues," he said.

Koehig identified Rogers Hornsby as the player and the St. Louis Cardinals, Chicago Cubs and Boston Braves as the teams.

He got 424 as Hornsby's record average with the Cards, and .387 with the Braves. Stumped on the Cubs average, he said it was .387—383—or .389. The correct figure was .380.

Two other contestants made the grade on the $16,000 question.

Don E. Self Jr., 24-year-old physicist from El Paso, Tex., who is working on Long Island, did it in his mythology category.

The Rev. Alvin B. Kershaw, rector of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Oxford, Ohio, made the grade in his jazz category.

Self and the Rev. Mr. Kershaw will announce on the program next Tuesday night whether they will try then for the $32,000 question.

Georgia May Outlaw NAACP As 'Pro-Red'

'Subversion' By Negroes Is Charged

ATLANTA (AP)—Georgia Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook charged today that "subversion" is involved in the anti-segregation crusade of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. He implied that he would seek to have the organization outlawed in the state.

In a presentation of what he called "the ugly truth about the NAACP," Cook declared that the organization is "misnamed" and that its real design is "to force upon the South the Communist-inspired doctrine of racial integration and amalgamation."

He said his statements were based on long investigation by his staff and the staffs of Rep. Davis (D-Ga) and Sen. Eastland (D-Miss). He added that he would welcome a chance to prove them in a court of law.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Peace Officers Assn. of Georgia, he said he wanted to make clear that "the issue involved is one not of race but rather of subversion."

He charged that activities of the NAACP "and its local fronts pose a serious threat to the peace, tranquility, government and way of life of our state."

He proposes, he announced, to ask the Legislature in January to take "appropriate action" on "the subversive nature of these activities."

Scene Of Horror

Mrs. Woolfe, the pilot, Joel Thorne, and a two-month-old infant died in the flames. The picture above shows where the craft plunged through the roof at upper left and sent debris flying through windows at right. The front apartments caught fire and were burned out, but those in the rear were not badly damaged. (Story on Page 16).

SANTA FE Texas High Court Delays Rail Case

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Supreme Court today decided not to take action in the long-disputed Santa Fe union shop case until the U.S. Supreme Court disposes of a similar dispute from Nebraska.

"It is ordered that this cause be passed to await a decision by the U. S. Supreme Court in the Hanson case, and that the injunction granted by the trial court be maintained in full force and effect until further orders."

The 108th District Court's injunction restraining negotiations for a union shop working agreement was reversed by the 7th Court of Civil Appeals. That decision had been appealed to the State Supreme Court.

Union spokesmen had sought union shop agreements under terms of a 1951 revision of the Federal Railway Labor Act, in which Congress placed the act above other federal statutes and state laws banning such contracts.

New Basic Atom Particle Found

By RENNIE TAYLOR
 AP Science Reporter

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Atomic science took another big step forward today with the announcement of the discovery of a particle which annihilates the basic unit of all matter.

The discovery was made in experiments utilizing the University of California's biggest atom smashers, the bevatron. It was announced jointly last night by Prof. Ernest O. Lawrence, famed nuclear scientist, and the Atomic Energy Commission, which financed the $9½-million-dollar machine.

The new particle, sought for a generation by researchers, is the antiproton. Although it is a powerful annihilator of matter, it constitutes no threat as a super-weapon, no new hazard to the world.

Instead, it opens up the way for exciting new discoveries about the nature of matter. Conceivably some of these may lead to great new practical achievements of the future.

Its immediate value, said Prof. Lawrence, is that it clears up some of the uncertainties in the theory of nuclear structure. In this respect, he added, it is comparable to the filling in of a key word in a crossword puzzle—it permits the operator to go ahead.

In Washington, a nuclear physicist said discovery of the antiproton increases the prospects of releasing—in controlled fashion—a vastly greater energy from the atom than now is possible by the fission process.

The physicist, not associated with the Atomic Energy Commission, said the discovery improves the chances of tapping energy from the nuclear heart of the atom by an "annihilation process" rather than by fission or "atom splitting."

"What you would have to do," the scientist said, "would be to devise some means of getting a steady stream of antiproton particles and use them to bombard the atomic nuclei so they would strike protons. These would be annihilated and perhaps 99 per cent of the matter involved in the annihilation would be released as energy."

In the fission process only about one tenth of 1 per cent of the total mass is converted to energy, and yet that produces an A-bomb explosion.

The new particle is the antiproton or negatively charged proton. It is the counterpart of the proton, which carries a positive electrical charge and is the main building block of all the elements in nature.

A team which included Dr. Owen Chamberlain, Dr. Emilio Segre, Dr. Clyde Wiegand and Dr. Thomas Ypsilantis produced the new particle by bombarding a copper atom with ordinary protons of very high energy, 62 billion volts.

Out of this bombardment, they said, came a proton pair, one positively charged, the other negative. They shot out at a speed of better than 100,000 miles per second. They traveled only a few feet, then collided and vanished.

Just what happened in this disappearance is not yet known, Dr. Segre said, but they probably turned into mesons, which are short-lived breakdown products of atomic disintegration, then into X-rays, which are energy as distinguished from matter.

Howard, Martin Cotton Harvest Shows Big Gain

The 1955 cotton harvest had its best week of the current season for the seven-day period ending Tuesday noon.

Figures gathered by the Texas Employment Commission showed a total of 18,052 bales ginned in Howard and Martin County from the current crop. This was a gain of 7,154 bales for the week.

As of Tuesday, Howard County had ginned 8,297 bales, or 27.8 per cent of the estimated yield. Martin County had turned out 9,755 bales or about 19.5 per cent of its estimated output for the year.

Leon Kinney, TEC office manager, said that around 1,500 pickers were needed, possibly more than half of them in Howard County. The demand was for domestic pickers rather than braceros, because the native labor crews were more flexible for short haul contracts.

The TEC office also was listing an acute shortage of construction workers.

Martin Theft Trial Slated

COLORADO CITY, Tex. (AP)—Three former Martin County officials will be tried here Oct. 31 in 32nd District Court on charges of stealing county funds. Dist. Atty. Eldon Mahon says.

Joe Froman and Oliver Vaughn were serving as county commissioners at the time of the alleged theft, Mahon said yesterday. James McMorries, former county judge, now is serving a five-year prison term after being convicted on three similar charges.

Froman faces charges of stealing a total of $750 over a 1952-53 period. Vaughn is charged with theft of $167.80 in 1953. McMorries is charged jointly with Vaughn in the alleged theft of another $500.

County Audit Due Completion Soon

Auditors are to complete their check of Howard County financial records this week and probably will file a report on their study Nov. 14.

The firm of Jones, Freeze, Hay and Company of San Angelo is conducting the audit which covers all county departments for 1954 and the tax department for every year since 1949. The audit has been under way for several weeks.

4 Million-Pound Grain Pile Awaits Shipment At Ackerly

ACKERLY, (SC) — One of the biggest piles of grain in this area can be seen at the Coleman farm just outside of Ackerly.

V. J. and Dudley Coleman are in the grain buying business in a big way this year, and have so much coming in that trucks cannot haul it away fast enough. The pile had reached the proportions of 4,000,000 pounds this week.

The Colemans are hiring the grain hauled by independent trucks and much of it is being carried to California, Utah, Oregon, Colorado and Louisiana. At present they are shipping out around 20 truckloads a day.

"We'll catch up one of these days," V. J. Coleman said. "Most of the combining will start slackening off in a week or so, and we can have a breathing spell."

Coleman said the biggest part of the maize and hegarl was coming in from a 15 to 20 mile radius of Ackerly. The maize is much better than expected in this area, with most farmers threshing from 1,000 to 1,500 pounds to the acre. The 7075 maize produced a little heavier than the Martin, but much of it fell down and could not be combined. He said the Martin variety was more popular and they were buying more of this than any other variety.

The present price is averaging $1.40 when bought outright and bringing $1.55 when put in the government loan.

"Most of the small producers are just selling it," Coleman said, "as they don't want to worry with the paper work and delay in getting their money. When a man has a large quantity, he usually puts it in the loan."

There is only a little discoloration of maize in this area and none of it has been docked because of this condition. Also, most of it has dried out enough so that no reduction is being made for moisture content.

"It's been a pretty good year for grain sorghums," he said. "There are a few late fields that may not make it, but most maize is too far along to be lost to an early freeze."

September Toll Is 16 Killed, 95 Hurt

Sixteen persons were killed during September in highway accidents in Texas Highway Patrol District No. 6, which includes Howard and neighboring counties.

The 18 patrolmen in the district investigated 111 accidents during the month. Non-fatal injuries resulting from the mishaps totaled 95. Property losses amounted to $80,942.

The officers arrested 830 persons for traffic violations and gave warnings to 1,114 others.

The 18 men worked 3,760 hours and drove patrol cars 390,000 miles during the month. They said the most common accident causes were speed, intoxication, driving on wrong side of road, improper passing, disregard of warning or stop-signs, and violation of right-of-way rules.

CLAIMS IN HIS MEMOIRS

Truman Foresaw Wallace's Becoming Tool Of Communists

WASHINGTON (AP)—"The important thing to remember," says Harry S. Truman, "is that the President is the only person in the executive branch who has final authority, and if he does not exercise it we may be in trouble."

And so out of his Cabinet in the aftermath of World War II went Secretary of State James F. Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace and Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes. They all, in Truman's opinion and his own phrase, got too big for their breeches.

The former President tells the story in the current installment of his memoirs, published in Life magazine. Most of it has been told before but there are some new insights—notably a feeling by Truman in 1946 that Wallace might well become a tool of the Communists.

Truman fired Wallace for making a speech critical of administration foreign policy. He tells of calling the then secretary of commerce to his office and listening to Wallace lecture on "the beauty of peace."

"I have never doubted Henry Wallace's sincerity or honesty of purpose," Truman says, "but after this conversation I was afraid that, knowingly or not, he would lend himself to the more sinister ends of the Reds and those who served them."

Wallace later, in 1948, was to run against Truman—on a third party ticket with Communist support.

"It must have been difficult for him in later years," Truman comments, "to acknowledge the aggressive character of the Communists, but he had the good grace to express his full support of my policy when, in 1950, I decided to support South Korea against the Red attack."

Truman says Byrnes, his own choice for secretary of state, tried to assume the responsibilities of the President—to make foreign policy and to keep Truman himself "completely in the dark" about developments at the Moscow conference of foreign ministers in 1945.

The former President has told before—and Byrnes has disputed his version—of scolding the secretary of state and telling him: "I'm tired of babying the Soviets."

In the memoirs, Truman says Byrnes accepted this dressing-down and didn't talk of quitting until some months later, when a stomach ailment developed. Truman mentions in passing that the invitation to Gen. George C. Marshall to succeed Byrnes was relayed by another general — Dwight D. Eisenhower.

As for Ickes, Truman says the late secretary of the interior struck him as "a trouble maker . . . a scold and a gossip," but "I was fond of him, in a sense, especially because he was not a special interests man."

Lack Of Storage Facilities Said Threat To Grain

AUSTIN (AP)—Lack of storage and transport facilities threatens ruin for two million dollars worth of grain sorghums in the High Plains area, Agriculture Commissioner John White said today.

He sent telegrams to railroad officials urging help at once in transporting the grain from country elevators to terminal centers of Lubbock, Plainview and Amarillo.

Nearly 1,000 boxcar loads of grain have been dumped on the ground in the Plains area in the last few days, he said.

"A repetition of recent rains in the High Plains could ruin two million dollars worth of grain today," he said. "The threat grows bigger every day as more grain is piled in the yards."

"Harvesting is only about 20 per cent complete and already the country elevators are full. Elevator owners started dumping grain on the ground about five days ago."

White said grain men have appealed to the regional office of the Texas Department of Agriculture at Lubbock for help in obtaining transportation facilities to move grain out of the Lubbock-Canyon-Clovis triangle.

"A near-record harvest in this irrigated dry-land section will make up a big part of the state's estimated 138,424,000 bushel crop, second only to the record 144,500,000 bushels in 1950.

White said the situation is acute at Muleshoe, Littlefield, Idalou, Bovina and Dimmit and other country points.

"Grain men say they have only one boxcar available for every 10 that could be loaded," White said.

"At Muleshoe, over 100 carsloads were on the ground late Monday with harvest merely underway. Grain is coming in at the rate of 25 cars a day. Only four cars were on hand to move grain out of Muleshoe all last week."

More than 250 carsloads were also reported exposed at Dimmit.

White sent telegrams to the Santa Fe, Rock Island and Fort Worth and Denver railroads.

"I urgently request you send every available empty boxcar in the southwest to Lubbock for routing into the country area. These cars are desperately needed," the wires said.

BOOKS • MUSIC • ART • DRAMA
CRITIQUE
By Glenn Coates

One of the biggest problems of getting symphony music, or any other cultural pursuit, accepted by the people who pay for the tickets, is to get them out to see or hear it. It seems that many persons just naturally shy away from this sort of thing without ever giving it a chance to prove itself.

Large audiences are necessary because of the expense involved. I'm told that even the smallest villages in Germany have an opera house. The reason is because the people like opera, they are familiar with it, and are willing to plunk down the price of a ticket.

It would possibly be that way here if audiences were given a chance to see more of it. One effort to bring about such a program has been tried, Arthur Edson, writing for the Associated Press, reports the event this way:

"This cryptic message, advertising coming attractions, hung on the big scoreboard in Griffith Stadium: 'Oct 18 Cleve National Symphony.'" Translated, it means that Sunday the Cleveland Browns, champions of pro football, were on display along with the Washington National Symphony Orchestra.

All of which is additional evidence that the so-called long-haired music has got itself a modern crewcut, and now moves easily and unashamedly in circles that would have astounded symphony lovers of another generation.

And right out front, moving both easily and energetically, is Dr. Howard Mitchell, 44-year-old director of the National Symphony and the man who first thought of taking his orchestra to a pro football game.

It was something over a year ago during a talk with George Preston

Marshall, the owner of the Washington Redskins, that he suggested—jokingly, as he recalls it now—that some brisk symphonic music would make ideal halftime entertainment.

"Lunch tomorrow," Mitchell said. And that led to the wedding of the muscular and musical arts. Not until Mitchell broke the news to his 19-year-old son did it occur to him that he might have been caught with his baton down far behind the line of scrimmage.

"He said to me, 'Pop, this is an all-time low.' He talked so much that he convinced my wife, too, that I had made a big mistake. After that, I had my fingers crossed."

He needn't have. He had the crowd with him from the opening strains of a snappy rendition of the team's marching song, "Hail to the Redskins." The applause at the end was considered the greatest ever given any halftime entertainment here.

Whether Mitchell succeeded in his real mission—getting more people interested in serious music—he can't say. But his conclusion is simple: "My orchestra leader would be a fool to pass up a chance to play before an audience of 30,000."

Since ticket sales last year were the best in history, "obviously it didn't hurt us any." If he can convince a few more football fans that symphony music is fun, too, he will be happy.

It is Mitchell's earnest conviction that the age of the big money angels, who gave generously to keep music alive, has passed. If good music is to live and thrive, ordinary salaried folks must succumb—that's his word—to it.

Incas Employed Vines For Some Bridges

By RAMON COFFMAN
If you made a trip to Peru, and visited parts away from the coast, you could find some of the bridges which were built by Incas in the far past. Many of these date back from 400 to 500 years, and a few are believed to be more than 1,000 years old!

Some Inca bridges were made of logs or of stone blocks. These usually crossed streams at low levels. Inca cables a foot thick or even more were made by weaving vines, twigs and strips of bark together. Cables of this type were employed in making bridges for some of the high mountain gorges.

Q. What kinds of homes did the Inca Indians have?

A. In war areas, the huts were made of wood and often had open sides with roofs of tached grass or matted reeds. In cold districts, stone walls were common. Adobe huts—made with blocks of sun-dried mud—also were used by these tribesmen. To this day, adobe homes serve the needs of many Indians in Latin America, also in Arizona and New Mexico.

Q. How tall were the Inca Indians?

A. They were short by modern standards. The average height of the men was hardly more than five feet and four inches. The women averaged about five feet and one inch.

Inca women weaving. (Picture made by an Indian Artist).

We speak of Inca Indians as people of the past, but let us remember that millions of their descendants live in western parts of South America—chiefly in Peru—to this day. In learning their average heights, we are guided by modern measurements, as well as by reports of the early Spanish explorers.

Q. What kind of things did the early Incas make from cloth?

A. The women wove shawls and loose robes for themselves, also belts and cloth bags. Inca weavers have been called "the most skillful in either North or South America."

Work baskets have been found in the graves of some Inca women. These contained copper needles, as well as balls of thread.

Those Car Dates

Dear Miss Brandon:
I am fourteen and want to have car dates like my friends. Daddy puts his foot down. He says no without even trying to understand my point of view. How can I convince him that no boy wants to date a girl who can't ride in his car with him? I don't want to be treated like a baby.

Jeaneane

One of the nicest things about being in your teens is that you have such zest for living and can hardly wait to advance from one privilege to another. There is no fear or hesitation; only eagerness.

Age is more conservative, and hence, wiser, though wisdom may seem staid and dull when you are filled with such limitless faith in everything and everyone.

Your father does not consider you a baby, I'm sure, nor does he think you are too young to ride in an automobile. It is the boy or boys you date that he does not consider sufficiently mature.

You are old enough to car date. Your father knows this. His doubt is whether your dates are old enough to car date. Most of the boys the right age for you to date could not possibly have had much driving experience. Night driving is more difficult, and to top it off, many boys add an abundant measure of adolescent scatterbrainedness to their driving.

The father who loves his daughter enough to be able to shatter her heart that her body may remain in one piece is no fuddy-duddy.

What "everybody does" is not always the wise thing. The boy's age, not yours, is the determining factor in car dating.

A special date might talk to your father explaining how long he has had his license and how adult his driving is, and if your father is impressed and convinced the boy is responsible he may relent.

Public transportation really isn't so bad. Most boys have trouble getting cars to drive and are relieved to find a girl who doesn't mind hooting it.

From time to time we seek new schedules which would offer a greater degree of convenience for potential passengers. While we have become adept at filing sound briefs in support of our position, we have neglected the little detail of patronage which justifies additional service.

WASHINGTON — "The object of the Fund is to advance understanding of civil liberties." With that innocent-sounding objective, set forth in the latest annual report, the Fund for the Republic has stirred an extraordinary volume of criticism charged with a high voltage of emotionalism.

NEW YORK — There are several gadgets on the market today that will enable a listener to tune out a television commercial. But they do little to help the veteran video viewer in his real predicament. MORE AND BIGGER BOLLS

Cotton-Guar Rotation Policy Profitable On Coahoma Farm

Comparisons in yields are building a case for rotating cotton with guar—a legume.

Such is the firm opinion of Marion E. Everhart, work unit leader for the Soil Conservation Service here. There are several fields in the county where boll counts have been substantially higher in fields of cotton planted where guar grew last year. The difference is most dramatically illustrated on the James Coates Farm four miles north and two miles west of Coahoma.

Coates has 120 acres, and last year there were approximately 15 acres of guar. Although the field has been in an extremely dry spot this year, missing out on practically all of the spring and summer rains, the boll count indicates that cotton planted following guar will make between a fourth and one-third bale per acre more than cotton planted following cotton.

The boll count in the area following guar was three times that of the cotton after cotton space. These counts were based not on the number of bolls per stalk, but on the number of bolls within a certain number of running feet.

Everhart thought the yield definitely was attributal to increased fertility and perhaps ability to absorb and hold moisture better. Guar has a long tap root and its root system is such that it might provide some capillary action for soils.

Two things which were puzzling but which he thought would require considerable study for a fair conclusion was the comparative stands of cotton in the two patches, and of the size and character of bolls.

For instance, in the Coates field, stands in the area previously planted to guar were far more consistent than in the cotton after cotton area. Moreover, the plants were at least a third larger and better fruited. In the cotton after cotton patch, bolls were smaller and only slightly cracked. On the other hand, bolls on plants after guar were larger and fluffed open widely to make for easier harvesting. Everhart simply raised a question of whether the rotation had any effect on these qualities.

Planting to guar has gained strength in the Coates' family. James Coates' father, Morgan Coates, has guar acreage on his 1,766 Borden County ranch. His brother, Dub Coates, has guar on his 160-acre farm a mile from James' farm.

Nag Ignored In Princess Rush

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Telegraph complained today that the British press had neglected Juliet Jones in its coverage of Princess Margaret's and Peter Townsend's weekend in the country.

Juliet, a 3-year-old filly owned by Miss Norah Wilnot, was ridden by Townsend during the visit he and the princess made to her cousin's country home.

Telegraph columnist "Peterborough" commented: "The events of the weekend seem to have resulted in press disclosures of the private lives of anyone remotely concerned with the two principal characters."

"I feel the picture should be completed with some personal information about Juliet Jones, the filly whose early morning gallops have been mentioned."

"She last ran at Windsor Sept. 14 and was fifth out of seven runners."

"Before that she ran successively at Leicester, Birmingham and Nottingham."

"On each occasion she ran last."

Lost 40 Pounds With Barcentrate

"I can't praise Barcentrate enough," writes Mrs. R. H. Curtis, 4833 Sandage Ave., Fort Worth, Texas. "When I commenced to take Barcentrate, I weighed 170 pounds. I now weigh 130 and feel much better. Besides the loss of weight, it is wonderful for relieving bloating. I now wear a size 14 dress, thanks to Barcentrate."

—and M. E. Free, 2910 Cornell St., Lubbock, Texas, states that he lost 12 pounds taking Barcentrate. Get Barcentrate at any Texas druggist. Costs little.

U. S., Canada Set Air Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Canada today announced simultaneously plans to join air defense exercises this winter.

The Department of Defense designated the operation as "Cracker Jack" and said it would involve the air defense systems in both Canada and the United States, presumably including the distant early warning radar line now under construction near the arctic circle. Purpose of the exercise is to provide radar tracking and intercept practice for defense forces during winter weather. The U. S. Strategic Air Command will be used to test the defenses.

No date for the beginning of the exercise has been announced.

Difference In Cotton

Soil Conservation Service technicians believe there is a definite difference in cotton planted where guar formerly grew and cotton planted after cotton. The photos above would tend to bear this out. Taken on the James Coates farm northwest of Coahoma, the top picture shows cotton after cotton in the foreground, and cotton after guar in the background. The difference is as plain as if a line had been drawn. Below is a close-up on the more frequent and far fluffier bolls. Estimates are that the yield will be two to three times greater.

New Sweep To Chrysler 1956 Line

The Chrysler New Yorker for 1956 offers new flight-swept rear fenders to emphasize the low, slim lines of the car. It features a new 280-horsepower V-8 engine, fully automatic push-button drive, new center-plane brakes and safety LifeGuard door latches. The new Chrysler models will be unveiled Friday, and are to be seen here at Lone Star Motor, 600 East Third.

PUBLIC SHOWING FRIDAY

Engineering Advancements, New Lines For '56 Chrysler

A completely new 1956 Chrysler line, featuring such innovations as push-button shifting, high fidelity record player, LifeGuard door latches and instant-heat aircraft type heater, go on display Friday. The new cars will be shown here by Lone Star Motor, 600 East Third St. Chrysler has put a new "flight sweep" to its rear fender line to accentuate the Forward Look. There are also many engineering advancements, including 12-volt electrical system and new center-plane brakes. The New Yorker carries a 280-horsepower engine, and the Windsor has 225 horsepower.

higher-quality gasolines, Chrysler has increased the compression ratio of its Spitfire engine in the Chrysler Windsor line from 8.0 to 8.5 to one, increased its bore diameter to 3.81 inches, and increased its displacement to 331 cubic inches for 225-horsepower at 4,400 r.p.m. The FirePower engine in the Chrysler New Yorker line has a new compression ratio of 9.0 to one, a bore diameter of 3.94 inches, and an increased displacement of 354 cubic inches for a full 280-horsepower at 4,000 r.p.m. The stroke of both engines is 3.63 inches. Standard equipment for 1956 are revolutionary new floating-shoe center-plane brakes. This design gives up to 20,000 more miles of brake lining wear than conventional brakes, making possible up to five years of normal operation without re-lining. Pedal-effort required for the new brakes is 25 per cent less than for conventional brakes. For 1956 Chrysler introduces a revolutionary new push-button drive, another step toward the completely automatic automobile. Located conveniently to the left of the steering column, the push-button selector gives the driver true finger-tip control over his car at all times. The push-buttons are mounted on a panel projecting from the instrument panel. A light touch is all that is needed to change the driving range, and this can be accomplished without lifting the elbow from the arm rest. A hydraulic interlock prevents the driver from accidentally selecting reverse when he is traveling over ten miles per hour. The button in operation is dimly lighted at night, with the buttons not in operation brightly lighted for easy range selection. For 1956, Chrysler offers as standard equipment an important new advancement in passenger safety, the LifeGuard door latch. Extensive tests have proven that this new latch, with inter-locking pieces of heavy-gauge steel on both door and striker, virtually eliminates the possibility of car doors flying open on impact. It literally ties the doors and body together into a strong unit.

Imperial For '56 More Powerful, Has Longer Lines

A longer, more powerful Imperial for 1956, featuring commanding proportions and exquisite grace of line, is to be shown Friday. "To compliment and fulfill the dramatic styling of the 1956 Imperial and Crown Imperial, new engineering features have been incorporated to give the cars greater power, improved all-around electrical performance, and safer, surer brakes," said Clare E. Briggs, vice president in charge of sales, Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation. "As further evidence of the forward thinking of Chrysler Division, a new push-button drive selector, new high fidelity record player, revolutionary transistor radio, aircraft-type instant gas-line heater, new vacuum-operated center-plane power brakes, and passenger-protecting new LifeGuard door latches are offered." Featuring a new FirePower engine which delivers a full 280-horsepower, the 1956 Imperials are five and one-half inches longer than last year, with a wheelbase of 133 inches. The distinguished appearance of this fine car has been further enhanced by its daring new flight-swept rear fenders, which intensify the feeling of lowness and length.

Swede Denies Mitchum Tale

ROME (AP)—Film star Robert Mitchum to the contrary, a former Hollywood correspondent Bob Thomas that in Hollywood says nude bathing is commoner in the United States than in her homeland. Authority for that is blonde and shapely Anita Ekberg, film actress and pinup favorite now in Rome to film "War and Peace."

Mitchum, just returned from Europe, reported to AP Hollywood correspondent Bob Thomas that in Sweden "it doesn't pay to invest in a swimming suit." The outspoken actor said that while he was on location in that Scandinavian land one lunchtime "some of the people, including the wardrobe girl, took off their clothes and went swimming. . . . It seemed perfectly natural and wholesome. I was a guest of the country; I had to accept their customs." He said he didn't go in swimming with them, however.

Miss Ekberg rushed to the defense of her homeland's reputation in an interview. "I think there's more nude bathing in the States," she said. "Why, you even have nudist colonies people can join. "Nude bathing is not done as a habit in Sweden. I've done it, I must admit. But only when you undress behind a bush and go into the water in the dark. And only with very close friends. Like that, it's not worse than with a bathing suit." In fact, Miss Ekberg is getting fed up with talk about sin in Sweden. "I don't think morals are very different in Sweden and America," she said. "It's just that we are more honest in Sweden."

Eleanor Says She Supports Adlai Again

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who supported Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952, favors him again, the newspaper Newsday said today. In a copyrighted interview with Newsday, she said she believes Stevenson to be "the best trained, best qualified and best prepared."

Mrs. Roosevelt said she did not believe Stevenson's defeat by President Eisenhower would hurt his chances if he should be chosen to run again. And, she added, she believes the 1956 Democratic candidate has a "good chance to win if the party chooses a good candidate." She said she was prepared to work for the nomination and election of Stevenson. Stevenson, reached by the newspaper during a business trip to New York, commented only that "I am honored to have the respect of the world's most beloved woman."

Mrs. Roosevelt said she thought former President Harry S. Truman "went a little further than he intended" in statements to the press during his recent visit with Gov. Averell Harriman in Albany. She said she felt the statements indicated he favored Harriman for the nomination. She added, however, that she felt he corrected the situation and voiced his true feelings later when he said he would support the choice of the Democratic convention.

In New York news conferences Truman said he had not, and did not intend to express favor for any particular possible nominee. Dallas Postal Officials Refuse To Sign Statement By Probers

DALLAS (AP)—Two postal officials here say they refused to sign statements written by Senate Post Office Committee investigators but attributed to the local men. The Senate subcommittee, headed by Sen. Olin Johnston (D-SC), is scheduled to hold hearings in Texas soon on what its staff members, and Johnston, have described as job-selling by Republican Party leaders. Robert Carraway, No. 2 man in the regional post office here and top patronage appointee, said the investigators' versions of his answers to their questions were "not what I told them at all."

Carraway said he told the probers it was possible he received a letter requesting GOP donations from Republican National Committeeman Jack Porter of Houston. But, he added, he didn't remember it. Carraway said he has been in charge of liaison between the regional post office and Porter's GOP Houston headquarters. Hobbs said he supposed he was questioned because the civil service commission records on such appointments are handled in his office. However, jobs which Sen. Johnston has said were bought in Texas were all third, second or first class postmasterhips. Such appointments are handled in Washington, not by the regional offices. Carraway said letters requesting donations to the Republican Party which Porter sent to some postmasters were not sent to applicants for postmaster jobs. The Republican appointee said additional cases have come to the committee's attention since plans for the probe first were announced about 10 days ago. There are now, he said, 55 cases in Texas involving job sales and forced retirements.

New Indictment Aimed At Parr

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP)—A new indictment was returned yesterday against George B. Parr, South Texas political boss, to add to his already gaudy collection. The "legal proceedings" referred to other indictments returned against Parr last summer, Asst. Atty. Gen. Sidney Chandler said.

Continental Mark II To Be Shown

Here's Ford Motor Company's new prestige car, the Continental Mark II, manufactured in low volume with special attention to quality, styling and elegant detail. The Mark II will be unveiled Friday, with a showing here at Truman Jones Motor Co., 403 Runnels. The Mark II retains some of the distinctive styling of the former Continentals, including the spare tire mount at the rear. The "modern formal" design emphasizes the functional use of chrome, steel and glass areas. The hood is almost six feet long, and the car is more than 18 feet long. Four inches less than five feet high, it is believed to be the lowest car in production with both a front and rear seat.

UNVEILING FRIDAY

Continental Mark II, Designed For Prestige, To Be Shown

A new automotive production that has had more advance interest than any in many a year makes its bow to the public Friday. This would be the modern version of one of America's most admired cars, the Continental Mark II, designed exclusively for a "prestige" market, and produced by a completely new division of Ford Motor Company. The Continental will be shown locally at Truman Jones Motor Co., 403 Runnels. Designed with such quality that it is even shipped to dealers in a special wrapping, the Continental has been produced to meet strictest quality standards. Its styling is termed by Ford as "modern formal," with many of the main characteristics from the old Lincoln-Continental retained in modern form. These include the long hood, compact passenger compartment, a distinctive rear roof quarter, short rear deck and a unique spare tire mount. The fire rests inside the luggage compartment beneath a molding stamped into the rear deck lid. Use of the "Mark II" designation, a departure from the practice of identifying American-made cars by model year, is based on the assumption that the Lincoln-Continental produced between 1940 and 1948 constituted the Continental "Mark I" series. Believed to be the lowest of American production cars with both a front and a rear seat, the Continental Mark II is only 4 feet 8 inches high. This height has been achieved, without sacrificing headroom, by means of a modified ladder-type frame developed by Continental division engineers.

Tests indicate that this design, characterized by tubular construction of crossmembers, affords exceptional torsional rigidity, which enhances the car's smooth ride. The Continental Mark II is a two-door "hardtop" coupe, available in 14 subdued exterior colors and five two-tone combinations. The only optional feature is air conditioning. Among standard features are the automatic transmission, power brakes and power steering, and power-operated vent, side and rear-quarter windows. Controls for the front seat and all windows are set into the arm rest at the left of the driver, while individual window controls are convenient to each passenger. Door handles are recessed but readily accessible, and grips built into both arm rests enable passengers to close the doors easily. The simply designed instrument panel consists of four clusters welded into the top of the front panel near the steering wheel and clearly visible to the driver. The dashboard and instrument panel are covered with imported leather to match the upholstery. Heater and recirculating air controls are combined in a throttle-type arrangement built into the top of the transmission housing, between the driver and the front seat passenger. While the horsepower of the Continental Mark II engine has not been announced, it ranks with the highest in the industry and is considered more than adequate for top performance. Such features as cast aluminum rocker arm covers and chrome fittings give the new overhead valve V-8 engine an appearance all its own. Each engine is tested as a unit on a dynamometer, then is tested a second time on the dynamometer with its torque converter transmission. All transmissions also are vehicle-tested before being shipped to the Continental plant. Following assembly, all components of the Continental Mark II are given a final check on a test track.

NORTH TEXAS

Sen. Daniel To Quiz 15 In His One-Man Narcotics Probe

DALLAS (AP)—Senator Price Daniel, Texas Democrat, moved his one-man investigation of narcotics to North Texas today and was expected to quiz about 15 Dallas witnesses.

Daniel, who says he will reveal any plans for running for Governor of Texas after Jan. 1, was the only member of the Senate Narcotics subcommittee conducting the hearings yesterday as he wound up two days of testimony in Houston. He is chairman of the Senate Judiciary subcommittee.

Senator James O. Eastland (D-Miss) wired the narcotics probe chairman yesterday that other Senate hearings prevented his coming to Texas.

Witnesses expected to be heard here ranged from Dallas underworld characters and addicts to enforcement officials. Purpose of the hearings, Daniel says, is to determine if federal narcotics laws should be changed to meet the situation.

The hearings were expected to follow the general pattern of sessions in Austin, San Antonio and Houston. The Dallas Times-Herald said hearings here were expected "to turn up information that narcotics laws, both federal and state, have been enforced strongly here."

Mrs. Helen Sautler, 27, told Daniel and committee investigator Lee Speer yesterday in Houston that one West Coast wholesaler received about a half million dollars in pure Chinese heroin in a two-year period. She said the dope, bought from Red Chinese agents, was for sale in the San Francisco-Oakland area.

Mrs. Sautler's testimony included a mysterious Chinese liaison man, code cable messages from San Francisco and Hong Kong, and a description of how the dope was sent by mail. Mail shipments, she said, were sent in books with inside pages hollowed out to form receptacles.

Bernard McLeish, Brownsville customs inspector-in-charge, testified that several Texans who jumped bond on narcotics charges now were police officers in Mexico. One became police chief in Ciudad

Police Arrest 393 During September

Police arrested 393 persons on 26 different charges during September, according to the monthly report. There was $4,322 collected for fines during the month and 1,207 tickets issued for all types of traffic violations.

Moving violations and drunkenness were the most numerous charges. There were 125 of the first and 128 of the second. Other offenses and number of arrests were theft under $5, 3; gaming, 18; vagrancy, 15; simple assault, 1; disturbance, 7; affray, 4; theft over $5, 1; contributing to the delinquency of a minor, 1; AWOL, 4; shoplifting, 2; run-aways, 5; carrying a deadly weapon, 3; burglary, 2; driving while license in suspended, 3; driving while intoxicated, 7; aggravated assault, 5; possession of liquor for resale, 1; parking violations, 11; mechanical violations, 7; and no driver's license, 29.

Victoria, McLeish said, another an assistant chief at Matamoros, and a third a police officer in Reynosa.

Four Galveston, Tex., officers testified that there was "very little" dope traffic in the island resort city during the past several years.

Galveston Police Chief W. J. Burns said the dope traffic decreased further with the closing of the island's bawdy house district. Asst. Chief Willie Whitburn and Detectives J. B. Kline and Larry McCown backed up Burns' testimony.

"The narcotics situation in Galveston is very good," said Burns. "We have rigid enforcement down there."

Whitburn testified that there was not enough restraint on druggists "in regard to barbiturates." There was also testimony that use of barbiturates was on the increase in Galveston.

Daniel's hearings were to be televised from 10 a.m. until 11 a.m. and from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. on each day of the two-day session here over WFAA-TV, Channel 8. The narcotics investigations were scheduled to move to Fort Worth on Friday.

MADISON, Va. (AP)—"Good Luck Service Station" near here is fresh out of good luck. Thieves broke into the place twice in the last four days and carted off seven shotguns and rifles, a pistol and ammunition owned by the proprietor, gun hobbyist Harry Gibbs. Also a can of pork and beans.

Oak Leaves Go To Harold Davis

Harold Davis, company commander of the local Marine Corps Reserve unit, has been promoted from captain to major. The upgrade in rank is retroactive to December, 1954.

Davis has been commander of the local unit since its beginning in April of this year. He will be replaced now, however, as the billet does not call for a major. Davis is the athletic director of Howard County Junior College. He has been in Big Spring nine years, with the exception of a year he spent in the service during the Korean War. His home is at Denton.

Gets Tankard For Guzzling Marathon

ALREWAS, England (AP)—Tom Hill, 76, was presented with a silver tankard last night for drinking 11,000 gallons of beer.

Tom began his marathon guzzle in 1935. He boasts he hasn't missed a night at the Crown Inn since—and has knocked back precisely four pints per night year in and year out.

It adds up to just under 88,000 pints. Steve Chadwick, the inn's present owner, awarded the tankard.

The local Marine Corps contingent is a satellite platoon of the 91st Special Infantry Company at San Angelo. A new commander will take over the group Nov. 1, Davis said. He will be assigned to Reserve District Headquarters in New Orleans.

The local unit meets each Monday at the college at 8 p.m. Davis said there was still a few billets open for ex-Marines or draft age men about to go into the service. Any time served in the Marine Reserve will be applied to the reserve time necessary for all young men, Davis said. Reservists can join any branch of the service while in the unit, he added.

Third Bond Forfeited For Failure To Appear In Court

County Judge R. H. Weaver ordered forfeiture of another $500 bond this morning as a third defendant failed to appear for jury trial.

The jury was dismissed for the week. Three defendants failed to appear for trials, two others changed their pleas to guilty and nine cases were continued, eliminating the possibility of any jury trials this week.

Carrying The Area Appeal
Two of the area chairmen working under Walker Bailey, center, area division leader, look over the United Fund banner which they and other community workers will figuratively carry throughout Howard County. They are Mrs. Doris Blissard and W. B. Puckett. Bailey's division is getting into action this week.

Royal Family Scatters, Ignores Interest In Margaret's Romance

LONDON (AP)—Britain's royal family dashed off in all directions today, going about its usual round of official duties just as if the nation wasn't in a furious tizzy over Princess Margaret's romance with Peter Townsend.

Townsend drove away in the rain from the Lowndes Square flat where he is visiting, carrying a suitcase and a pair of spurs. A keen horseman, he presumably was going riding.

Swink Second To Luppino

George Welsh's spectacular aerial display against Penn State has vaulted the Navy's poised passer from 14th to first place among the nation's major college football yardage leaders.

Despite the damp weather, the 164-pound Middle quarterback completed 15 of 20 passes for 285 yards and 2 touchdowns, and added 3 yards on the ground for a 288-yard total, top individual feat of the year, and the second best passing show in five years.

In 1950, John Ford of Hardin-Simmons completed 20 of 25 heaves for 293 yards against Arizona State. That was the only other time in five years any major college passer completed 75 per cent of 20 or more attempts for that kind of yardage.

JIM SWINK

Maxie Baer Signs To Become Actor

HOLLYWOOD —Former Max Baer has been signed by Columbia Pictures to portray a champ who ends the rise of a young giant. The picture is "The Harder They Fall," a Columbia spokesman said, and the role is reminiscent of the title fight in which Baer knocked out huge Primo Carnera to win the heavyweight championship in 1934.

Jim Sides May Play Saturday

LUBBOCK, (SC) — Texas Tech may have co-captain Jim Sides, all-conference fullback from Lubbock, in its lineup this Saturday, against University of Houston, for the first time since the season opener with University of Texas.

Sides, who cracked a wrist in the Red Raiders' victory over the Longhorns, ran through a dummy scrimmage last week while wearing a cast. This cast is due to be removed this week.

Due to Sides' layoff, the No. 1 fullback slot in the game at Houston will be filled by Lonnie (Lone Ranger) Graham of Broken Arrow, Oklahoma.

Only one Tech co-captain will be on the field, however, because guard Arlen Wesley of Littlefield is due to be out with an injured knee. Finally recovered from a cleat wound that kept him out of Tech's games with Texas Christian and Oklahoma A&M, Wesley suffered a disabling knee injury in the Texas Western contest.

LUBBOCK, (SC) — The Kilgore Rangesettes and band will appear at the Texas Tech-College of the Pacific football game here Nov. 15, DeWitt Weaver, Texas Tech athletic director and head coach, announced today.

Lamesa Ponders Semi-Pro Ball

LAMESA — Possibility of a semi-pro baseball operation here next season appeared good after a conference between Midland and Lamesa interests last night.

Bernard Selie, Midland, conferred with baseball supporters here on a plan which would bring a group of Midland semi-pro players into action under the Lamesa banner. Selie said he had ample talent but that the men had no opportunity to play in Midland because of pro ball there. Lamesa has been without pro ball for the past three years.

Selle said that at least two games per week could be arranged, and opposition would include among other such nationally known semi-pro outfits as the Alpine Cowboys, the Alpine Internationals, the Brooke Army Medical Center, Lubbock Black Hubbers, Sinto Oilers, etc.

He felt that the deal could be swung with a minimum cash outlay, possibly no more than $1,200 to $1,500 on the part of Lamesa supporters. A final decision is to be reached at a meeting set for here on Nov. 15.

Bud Smith Risks Title Tonight

CINCINNATI — Wallace (Bud) Smith, a young fellow who has yet to cash in financially on the fact he is lightweight boxing champion of the world, makes his first defense of the crown tonight against Jimmy Carter, a three-time holder of the title.

Smith, a Cincinnati, won the championship from Carter, a New Yorker, in a bout in Boston last June 29.

The two sharp-punching Negroes will go 15 rounds or less in the Cincinnati Garden.

The bout at 9 p.m. EST, will be televised nationally by ABC.

Carter was rated a slight betting favorite to become the first four-time champion in the division in history. He already is the first three-timer.

Smith hasn't had a fight since he won the championship.

Both men expressed confidence. Smith insisted yesterday that Carter couldn't hurt him seriously.

"I took his best shots the last time and continued to go right after him," he said.

Carter said he was overconfident in the last bout and added, "He's tough but not too tough in my book."

The Cincinnati Boxing Commission has waived its mandatory eight-count knockdown rule for the fight and also said tonight's scrap would not be stopped because of Carter suffered face cuts in the last fight that required 20 stitches to close.

The referee will have nothing to say about who wins the fight in the event it goes the route. Three judges are used in Cincinnati and the fight will be judged on a 10-point must basis. The winner of a round automatically gets 10 points and the loser any number under that.

Carter first won the championship from Ike Williams May 25, 1951. Since then he lost it to Lauro Salas and Paddy DeMarco but regained it from them in rematches.

Kiner Is Signed To Boss Padres

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Former National League slugger Ralph Kiner — his home run hitting days over — now must connect at the gate in his new job as general manager of the San Diego Pacific Coast League club.

Kiner, 32, yesterday signed a one-year contract as front-office boss of the Padres at a reported salary of $25,000.

He promptly hired his old Pittsburgh teammate Bob Elliott, 39, to be field manager for the second year. Elliott piloted the Padres to second place in the standings in 1955.

No. 1 Women's Netter Joins Moneyed Ranks

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — The ranks of United States amateur tennis were further thinned today with the announcement that Doris Hart, the nation's No. 1 woman player, had turned professional.

Miss Hart, an active amateur for 20 years and winner of all the world's major women's tennis titles, will become a teaching pro at the Flamingo Hotel here.

Just a week ago Tony Trabert, the men's amateur champion, turned professional at Los Angeles.

Miss Hart, who was considered sickly almost from birth, took up the game at Henderson Park in Miami at the age of 10, after an operation.

A hard-driving, fast-serving and net-forcing game carried her to the top.

"While I still love tennis, the strain of competing is getting to be a little too much," she told newsmen. "Besides, there are always the younger players coming up who have the fire you once had."

The 20-year-old Doris said she was tired of traveling and wanted to quit while she was "still at the top."

SPARTAN ACE IS NAMED AP'S 'BACK OF WEEK'

By TED MEIER
The Associated Press

Fullback Gerry Planutis of Michigan State, who plucked for the winning touchdown against Notre Dame last Saturday, was selected as The Associated Press Back of the Week today by a narrow margin over Navy's George Welsh whose forward passes crushed Penn State.

It was a contest between two leads from the anthracite region of eastern Pennsylvania with Hazleton's Planutis topping Coaldale's Welsh.

A national television audience saw Planutis overpower the Notre Dame line with savage line bucks as the Spartans moved to their winning TD in the third period. It was fitting for him to buck over the vital points because it wiped out the bitter memory of 1954 when he failed to convert twice and the Irish took a 20-19 victory.

Not only did Planutis go over for the winning touchdown, but he set the stage for MSU's final TD in the Spartans' 21-7 triumph by recovering an Irish fumble on the Notre Dame 16 in the last quarter. He converted all three points. After the game he was awarded the ball by his teammates for his tremendous work.

Where Planutis stayed on the ground, Welsh took to the air as he sparked Navy to a 34-14 triumph over Penn State. The 22-year-old Midshipman set the Nittany Lions crazy with his flips. Altogether he completed 15 of 20 passes for 285 yards, a Naval Academy record.

Coach Rip Engle of Penn State termed Welsh the most accomplished passer in college football today.

Planutis and Welsh were not the only backs to be nominated by sportswriters and broadcasters in the AP poll.

Fullback Joe Childress of Auburn was praised for his work in Auburn's 14-12 upset of Georgia Tech. Quarterback Sonny Jurgensen of Duke, who tallied the winning TD against Ohio State, was praised, too, as was Don Watson, who scored twice in Texas A&M's 19-18 upset over Texas Christian.

Others nominated included Tommy McDonald of Oklahoma; John Roach of SMU; Frank Sarno of Washington State; John (Drums) Majors of Tennessee and Jon Arnett of USC.

Bluebird II Moved To Nellis AFB

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — The Bluebird II, the sleek, jet hydroplane which sank last Sunday after an ill-fated speed attempt by England's Don Campbell, today was moved to Nellis Air Force Base.

Campbell promptly accepted an offer by Brig. Gen. James G. Roberts, base commander, to use repair facilities at the nearby air base. The 34-year-old Britisher said he expects the Bluebird II to be ready for another try on his own water record of 202.34 miles an hour within two weeks.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Don't think the hospitality showed the Levelland people by local people last weekend didn't make an impression with the people who trying their football team to town.

The lengths of friendliness to which (the Big Spring people) extended themselves reached down to touch a warm spot in the hearts of just about everybody in Levelland.

Rice has beaten Texas A&M ten straight times, a factor which should give the Aggies added incentive in their Nov. 12 battle.

The Detroit Lions seem to be the sentimental favorite in professional football with most Texans, but most residents of this state have more reasons to root for the Green Bay Packers.

There wasn't an abundance of sympathy expressed here for Odessa following the Bronchos' 47-0 loss to Abilene last weekend.

Odessa gets hit extra hard by graduation, incidentally. The Hososes lose 24 boys off a squad that was favored by many to cop the 1-AAAAA bunting this year.

Abilene, from all indications, will again be the power in the conference in 1956 and could be for years to come.

Remember Jackie Hathorn, who guided Port Neches to victory over Big Spring in the AAA state finals in 1953?

Remember Jackie Hathorn, who guided Port Neches to victory over Big Spring in the AAA state finals in 1953? He's regarded as a corner at Texas A&M, which is supposed to have one of its best freshman teams in a long while.

Eliot Says His Boys Think They Can Beat Spartain 11

CHICAGO (AP) — The mere thought of meeting Michigan State Saturday is worrying Illinois Coach Ray Eliot but a victory would hoist the Illini into the Big Ten title picture.

Eliot, speaking to the Chicago football writers via telephone hook-up, said, "We're all getting ulcers listening to our scouts."

Reports relayed to Eliot, of course, carried the tale of Michigan State's 21-7 victory over Notre Dame, which lifted the Spartans among the nation's top 10.

Eliot said he only hopes Illinois can put up a good game at East Lansing but added, "Our boys think they can take 'em."

Michigan State and Illinois have identical 3-1 records and are 1-1 in the Big Ten. The similarity is not unusual. Two years ago they tied for the conference title.

Last year the two were picked co-favorites to repeat but both finished in the second division. Michigan State, however, is favored Saturday mainly off its convincing victories over Stanford and Notre Dame.

mitted he has been "pleasantly surprised" over Illinois' showing this year. "I didn't think they could do this well but the boys have a lot of spirit and have worked hard," he said.

Duffy Daugherty, Michigan State coach, was still bubbling over the Notre Dame triumph but took time out to express concern over Illinois.

AUSTIN (SC) — Two Southwest Conference gridiron rivals noted for playing 'em close meet for the 42nd time here Saturday before a crowd expected to exceed 45,000.

The football classic pits Rice Institute against the University of Texas in the renewal of a series that four times within the past decade has been decided by less than a touchdown.

Only four times has the victory margin exceeded eight points.

Bullpups Host CC Thursday

COAHOMA, (SC) — The Coahoma Bullpups will play the Colorado City Ragmets in their final home game of the season at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

Jimmy Ray Smith's Junior High team will be seeking its seventh straight victory.

Probable starters for the Pups are Jackie Gaines, right end; Randall Reid, right tackle; Doyle Warren, right guard; Jimmy Watts, center; David Burris, left guard; Max Kennemer, left tackle; Robert Cearley, left end; Marco Westmoreland, quarterback; Harold Aberreg, left half; Eddie Allen, fullback; and Tom Hodnett, right half.

Others who will see action for the Coahomans will be Robert Taylor, Royce Aberreg, Gorman Finley, Kenneth Tindol and Paul Ray Graves.

A highlight of half-time festivities will be the crowning of the Junior High School football sweetheart.

Casualties Occur Ahead Of Season

GARLAND (AP) — Garland thinks it has a world's record for casualties before the hunting season even opens.

The deer-hunting season is a month off but four Garland sportsmen were injured trying out newly attached telescopes on their high-powered rifles.

They were Elmer Newman, M. S. Hollenshead, J. V. Shipley and A. V. Morrison.

Each held his rifle too close to his eyes in getting a good perspective through the scope in firing practice rounds. The gun rebounded and the scope conked the man on the forehead, cutting gash above the bridge of the nose and between the eyes.

PORT WORTH 18—A car-switch engine collision claimed the life of a former city police officer last night. John Barry, 37, was thrown from his car which was wrapped around a heavy railroad warning sign.

'Stunting' Question Posed In Air Tragedy

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Was millionaire Joel W. Thorne stunting, or was he desperately trying to fly out of trouble just before his plane plunged into an apartment building, costing his own and three other lives? Civil Aeronautics Administration investigators probed deeper today for the answer.

A baby whose family was celebrating her christening, an 18-year-old bride and Thorne perished in the fiery crash and explosion which devastated with bomblike fury two apartments of a six-unit building Monday night.

The fourth victim, a 6-year-old boy, died of horrible burns in a hospital last night. He was one of the christening party.

Frightened residents reported the single-engine plane buzzed the residential area two or three times at what seemed like rooftop height just before the crash. Some thought the plane was in trouble as it roared back and forth in or just under a 700-foot ceiling.

The CAA investigators, Laurence Lightbody and Bernard T. Naught, took cognizance of these reports but hunted for a more scientific answer in the shattered fragments of Thorne's plane.

"Pieces of the aircraft along the flight path indicate it disintegrated in the air," Naught said.

Disintegration could result from excessive speed or violent handling of the plane, such as stunting or the terrific stress of a sudden pullup at high speed, he said.

"In my opinion, it would be inconceivable Thorne would be stunting in the prevailing weather, in drizzling, overcast conditions," Naught said.

"He was an experienced pilot and flying on instruments," Lightbody pointed out. "It seems unlikely he would be attempting barrel rolls or other stunts under those conditions."

The other dead: Sheryl Camille Preston, the 2-month old baby, who had been christened only hours before at St. Charles Catholic Church.

Mrs. Betty Wolf, newlywed violinist who was alone in her second floor apartment while her husband, Martin, was at a naval reserve meeting.

John Marchica, 6, who died last night.

Crash Victim Made Many Headlines With Escapades

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Wealthy Joel Thorne, killed Monday night in a plane crash, made many headlines with fast machines and fast living.

He attempted aircraft design in 1941, two years after he had driven his own car in the 1939 Indianapolis speedway classic. He finished seventh.

In 1943, his former secretary sued him for $60,000 claiming she was injured fighting off his advances. A motorcycle crash in 1946 almost took his life. That year a racer he built won the 500-mile Indianapolis race. It was driven by George Robson.

Thorne escaped unhurt in a 1949 crash but was injured in another in 1951. During his playful era, he suffered skull and jaw fractures during a Hollywood free-for-all. He contended he was merely trying to rescue a lady from another man.

His arrests included one for drunkenness when a lady complained he refused to leave her apartment and another for carrying a gun. The police traffic department often had to go out and bring him in on traffic warrants.

Although once rated a millionaire, fast living reportedly cut into his fortune. Doctors and lawyers sued him for back bills and in 1946, he got a jail sentence for failure to pay alimony. He has a son, Jonathan, 13, who lives with his divorced wife.

A long time friend, Richard Armstrong, who identified Thorne's body, asked on arriving at the mortuary, "Was he stunting?"

Told that police had stories from witnesses indicating he was, Armstrong commented:

"I knew it. I knew it. I kept telling him he was going to kill himself and someone else with all that crazy flying, but you just couldn't tell him anything."

"I liked Joel. You couldn't help liking him. But he just didn't seem to care about his own life or anyone else's."

City Tax Collections Increase In September

Vietnam Vets Hail Leader Following Ouster Report

RUNG SAT SWAMPS, South Vietnam (AP)—Battle-toughened "swamp rats" of the young Vietnamese army hung from the branches of mangrove trees today to cheer Premier Ngo Dinh Diem a few hours after they heard chief of state Bao Dai had defiantly fired him.

News of the absentee playboy's action in France reached the little nationalist leader at the end of an exhausting 22-hour trip into the Rung Sat marshes, 35 miles south of Saigon, where he acclaimed the army's final extermination of the Binh Xuyen rebels.

Splattered with mud and drenched by torrential rains, the Premier made no comment on Bao Dai's act but his immediate entourage dismissed the move as an ineffectual 11th-hour attempt to save the ex-Emporor from political oblivion.

South Viet Nam's voters are expected to reject Bao Dai overwhelmingly as chief of state in a referendum next Sunday and to name Diem to the job.

With the destruction of the Binh Xuyen, Diem's prestige both with the army and the Vietnamese population has climbed to its highest point since he took office in June 1954.
