Large Ransom Demanded For Oklahoman

Abductors Tortured Farmer-Merchant Who Refused To Sign Check

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Kidnaped for a $50,000 ransom, H. D. Snell, wealthy Cordell, Oklahoma, merchant-farmer, accidentally escaped his two abductors Friday when he tumbled out of an automobile lurching along an unpaved road north of San Antonio.

He stumbled into Alamo Heights, told a policeman he was kidnaped Thursday morning in Cordell by two masked men. The kidnapers commandeered Snell's automobile.

They drove to near Wichita Falls where the kidnapers met two confederates in another car. Snell said the four tortured him by choking, stepping on his neck, jabbing pistols in his side, trying to force him to sign a check for $50,000. Snell refused.

The department of justice is investigating.

Robbers Kidnap And Assault Cafe Man

SAN ANTONIO, (UP)—Two robbers abducted R. J. Townsend, night manager of a cafe, early Friday after robbing the place of $33 and attempted to drown him in the San Antonio river.

They threw him in the river and gagged, but he managed to free himself and reach shore alive.

'Human Adding Machine' Out Of Pen Soon

PITTSBURGH, (UP)—The man who once raced an adding machine and won" will be freed on parole from the Western Penitentiary soon.

Eugene H. Kuhn, the "human adding machine," was sentenced 35 to 40 years in 1919 for killing his estranged wife's parents.

Recently Governor Gifford Pinchot granted clemency and Kuhn will soon be freed.

His mathematical ability has repeatedly amazed officials at the penitentiary. He can add two columns of figures simultaneously and can divide, multiply and subtract large sums entirely "in his head."

He can easily do the work of three clerks. Penitentiary officials said he has never taken any educational courses in mathematics.

Five out of six pedestrians injured in motor car accidents, are struck before they reach the middle of the street they are crossing.

Crew Of Hayun Maru Flees For Home Port After Assault

MANILA, (UP)—Two United States revenue cutters Friday pursued the Japanese fishing boat, Hayun Maru, after the boat's crew was reported to have attacked and wounded three Philippine peace officers.

The Japanese boat was believed to be fleeing toward her home port, Takao, Formosa. Cutters Bahshaw and Arayat were pursuing.

Hitch Hiker Says One Of Every 300 Drivers Will Stop

Walter Scott, 69, out to thumb his way over 25,000 miles before January, speaks from experience when he says that one out of every 300 passing motorists will give a hitch hiker a ride.

He left Indianapolis, Ind., little more than a year ago after waging a friend he could cover the distance around to that around the globe before January of 1935.

If he wins his wager, he said here Friday he will receive $100 and a suit of clothes.

Scott makes his expenses by selling pencils. In April of this year he had made enough to send $27.40 back to Indianapolis to be credited to his account.

His greatest stroke of luck came when he caught a ride from St. Louis to Walla Walla, Washington.

Exporters Wallop San Antonio 6 To 5

SAN ANTONIO, (UP)—The Beaumont Exporters defeated San Antonio 6-5 Thursday night in the second game of the Texas league Shaughnessy pennant play-off. The third game of the series will be played tomorrow afternoon at Beaumont.

J. W. Bowers, manager of the Hollywood theatre in Fort Worth and booker for the band, said it seemed improbable that the publicized orchestra would appear in West Texas.

The band had been engaged for Saturday evening at the Settles.

Tex. Christian University Lifts Its Ban On Dancing

The school has permitted "promenades" for many years, but Texas Christian promenades were promenades in the strictest definition of the word—a walk.

Young men were permitted to walk to and fro with their partners under the scrutiny of stern chaperones. There was no dancing. And the only promenade each year, the Freshman Prom, was held on the greenward in front of the library, not in a dance hall.

Spain Seized 215,500 Acres Of Royal Land

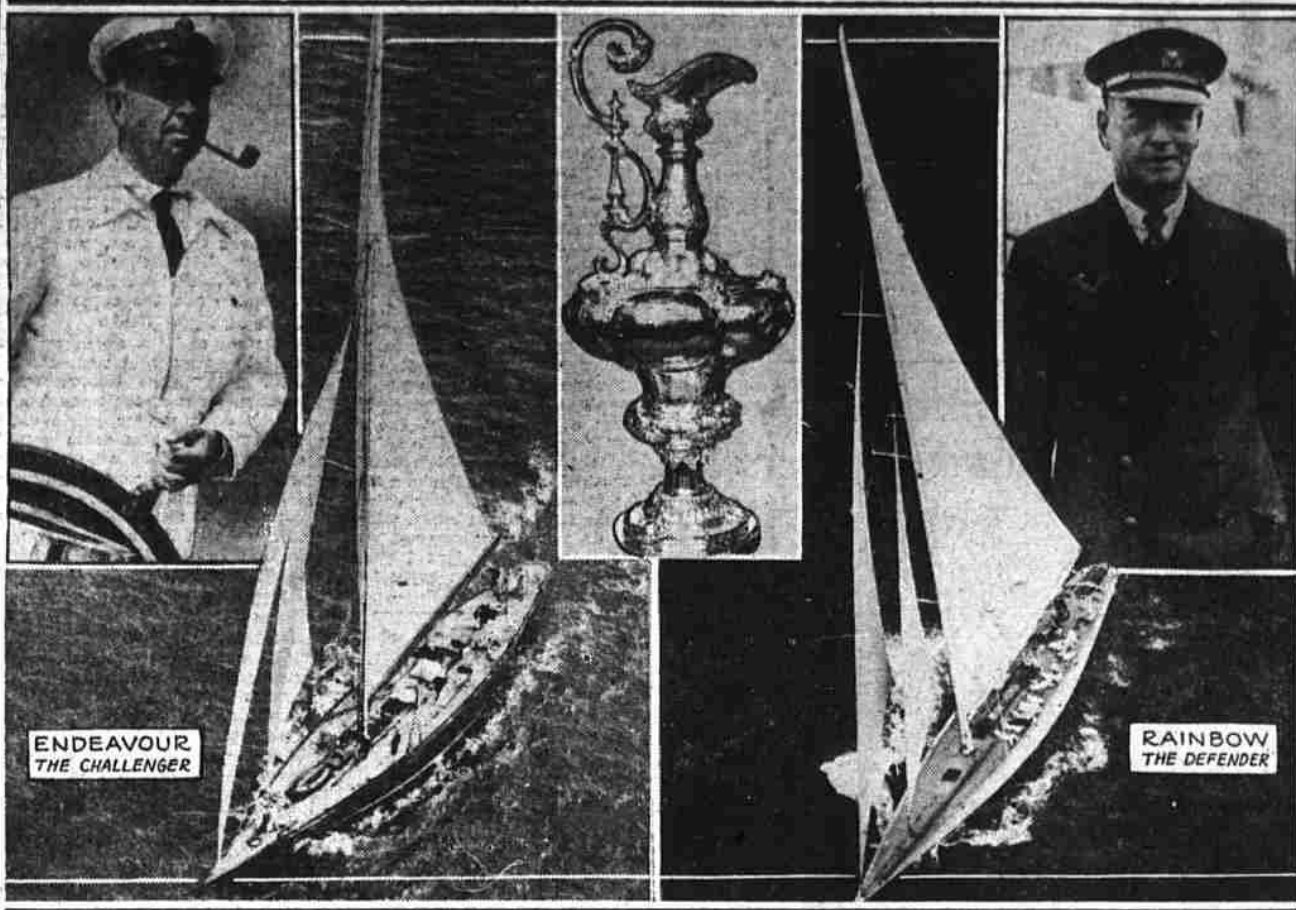

MADRID, (UP)—More than 215,500 acres of property owned by former grandees have been seized by the government since the establishment of the Republic.

The official bulletin of the Agrarian Reform Institute, which is in charge of the expropriation and breaking up of the huge estates of former noblemen, added that 8916 peasants have been placed on the land. The amount of money advanced by the government to the peasants so that they could begin sowing and acquiring farm implements, was not disclosed, but it is believed that it runs into millions.

INVENTOR'S DEVICE WILL AID ONE-ARMED MEN YORK VILLAGE, Me. (UP)—Charles Young, aged York resident, has invented a device which he figures should prove a boon to the one-armed man.

It's a gadget with a foot pedal which, when shoved down, causes a mechanical fork to descend and hold a steak firmly while the one-armed consumer assembly eats it with a knife.

RIVAL YACHTS AND SKIPPERS IN AMERICA'S CUP SERIES

In a four-out-of-seven race series off Newport, R. I., starting September 15, T. O. M. Sopwith (inset, left) with his trim Endeavour will attempt to capture the America's cup, a feat 14 previous British challengers have failed to accomplish. The defense of the famous old mug which for 83 years has represented the supremacy of American over British yachtsmen rests with Harold S. Vanderbilt (inset, right) and his sleek yacht, Rainbow. Mrs. Prichard Appointed To Clerk's Post

Wife Of Veteran Official Choice Of Court To Fill Unexpired Term

Mrs. J. I. Prichard, widow of the late J. I. Prichard who was for 32 years county clerk of Howard county, will fill the unexpired term of her husband's office.

She was appointed by a unanimous vote Thursday afternoon by the county commissioners court to the office of county clerk. With a motion that Mrs. Prichard succeed her husband placed before the court by one of its members, the three other commissioners furnished seconds.

Three and a half months remain in Mr. Prichard's 16th term. The county Democratic executive committee has the authority to appoint a nominee to succeed Mr. Prichard as party nominee in the general election in November.

Crover Cunningham, chairman of the committee, said Friday that the committee would meet sometime next week to fill vacancies in the committee.

At that time, said Cunningham, the committee will decide upon the method of procedure to be followed in selecting Mr. Prichard's successor as nominee.

The law giving the county executive committee the right to appoint a nominee is directory, not compulsory, said Cunningham. Hence the committee may or may not choose to exercise that right.

Tear Gas Attack Moves Pickets, Watchman Killed

North Carolina guardsmen used tear gas and bayonets Friday to disperse pickets near Holt Weave Mills and to keep the mills operating.

Several persons were cut with bayonets. Rhode Island was quiet. Governor Green said there was no occasion for asking the federal government for troops.

President Roosevelt will confer Saturday with Secretary of War Derr and General Fox Connor, commander of the first corps area, on the outcome of the conference will depend whether the president will board a destroyer for Providence to take direct command of the situation.

GAFFNEY, South Carolina, (UP)—George McCraw, night watchman at the Limestone and Hamrock mills here was shot to death in the Limestone company's store Friday by Dock J. Parris, dance hall operator, during a quarrel purportedly arising out of ill feeling over the textile strike.

The personal quarrel resulted from a remark McCraw was reported to have made recently about Parris and the "flying squadron" activities in connection with the strike.

Philippe The Braves Wine Ordinance Is Invoked

DIJON, Cote d'Or, France, (UP)—Philippe the Brave, Duke of Burgundy, issued an ordinance in 1395 which now is being invoked by the wine growers of this region who demand protection against the smoke and fumes resulting from the industrial activities of their neighbors.

Last year road-workers at Fleurie-en-Beaufort put a heavy coat of tar on the highways bordering vineyards. As a result, a few hundred quarts of the wine in the region, tasted, in the words of the vintners, more like cough medicine. Not a drop of the wine was put on the market.

A lawsuit was brought against the public works service, the vintners recalling that Philippe the Brave forbid exposing the vines "to any harmful influence which might impair the high reputation of Burgundy wines."

T. M. McGregor Introduces Strong Resolution In State House Friday

AUSTIN (AP)—Immediate initiation of proceedings by the United States attorney general to invalidate the Bankhead cotton production control bill was demanded in a resolution offered in the Texas house of representatives Friday by Representative T. H. McGregor, Austin.

The resolution strongly condemned provisions of the law and termed it "oppressive and un-American," and "unconstitutional and discriminatory" against the tenant farmer and small farmer owner in favor of the large land owners.

Debate on the resolution was set for Monday.

WASHINGTON BY GEORGE BURNO

It was more than a coincidence that White House Press Secretary Steve Early reached Hyde Park the same day as General Johnson.

Early relieved Secretary Marvin McIntyre, who came back to Washington to see his dentist, at precisely the right time to be on deck to handle the publicity concerning reorganization of NRA.

President Roosevelt knows a delicate situation when he sees one. The strap between General Johnson on one side and Madame Secretary Perkins and Donald Riechberg on the other over the Blue Eagle's future was just that. FDR wanted his boss publicity man around to make things look as peaceful as possible.

Meanwhile, here in Washington, loyal Johnsonites in NRA have been berating newspaper men for "picking on" Miss Francis Robinson, the General's most trusted assistant who is better known as "Robby."

"Why don't you birds lay off a poor, defenseless girl?" is the way one deputy put it.

The reporters are not picking on "Robby." They hold that they merely have been reporting facts about the young lady who appears to have been pretty close to the storm center of the NRA row.

When a person has been an outstanding member of a committee of five left in charge of the destinies of American business, the news man feels the fact that person happens to be a 23-year-old girl enters into the picture if only as an interesting sidelight.

"Robby" who has followed the General around closer than a hip pocket for fifteen months, is given credit in informed circles for creating, consciously or otherwise, the rift between Johnson and Miss Perkins and Riechberg. Those who should know say the girl hasn't understood on page 9

HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE AS FIRE DESTROYS STEAMER

Heavy loss of life resulted when the Ward Line steamship, Morro Castle, pictured above, caught fire about eight miles off the Atlantic coast near Ashbury Park, N. J., while en route from Havana to New York City. Scores of the more than 500 passengers and crew were listed as dead or missing after relief ships had brought survivors ashore. SAFETYGRAMS

Driving In The Rain
"April showers bring May flowers"—they also bring wet pavements, clouded and misty windshields, and "traffic ostriches"—pedestrians who bury their heads under umbrellas, forgetting traffic dangers. April showers bring children into the streets to play in the gutter puddles—another reason for careful April driving.

Bartenders Buy Diamonds Now

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UP)—Bartenders are the ones buying diamonds these days, according to William J. Smith, who has sold "assets" here for 38 years. Bandits are the cause of it all, he explains. "Actors and the average persons used to be my best customers," he said. "But since bandits became so bold, stars of the footlights and screen don't go for public display of diamonds. The same goes for the average male, who ordinarily would wear a fair stone." Smith pines for the good old days when nationally known actors were in the habit of stopping in Salt Lake City to visit his establishment. Before the decline of the road show he sold stones to Harry Richman, Julian Eltinge, Will Oakland, Marjorie Rambeau, Fanny Brice, and Anna Bryant. "But that's all over now," he says, rather wistfully, "and I guess only the bartenders keep buying—and wearing—diamonds, because they're not afraid of the average bandit."

Police Radio Warned Motorist Of Danger

ATTLEBORO, Mass., (UP)—Add unusual police broadcasts—A warning to a motorist that a mechanic who greased the front axle of his automobile neglected to replace the cotter pins. The motorist was intercepted at North Smithfield, R. I.—before the front wheels dropped off.

Revision Needed

The Texas legislature is unwittingly doing more to kill tax paying than any force which is working within the borders of the State today. While it must be admitted that a measure remitting penalty and interest on delinquent taxes would be of immeasurable benefit to many deserving people, it must also be admitted that it would be a breach of faith with those who paid their taxes on time to avoid penalty and interest. Moreover, there is strong evidence that the power behind the

What The Railroad Mean To You

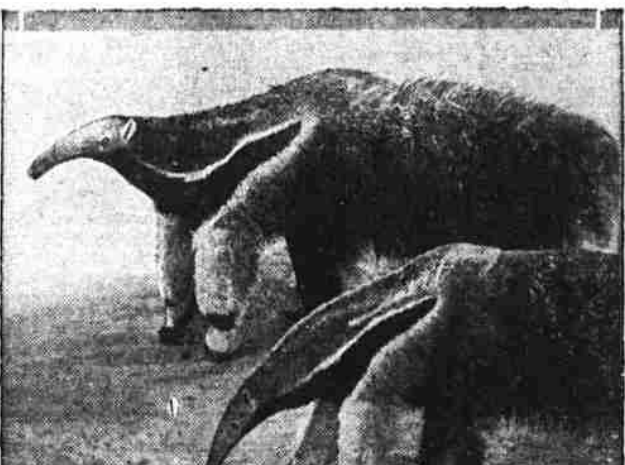

What the railroads mean to the American people was well expressed in a recent statement by A. J. County of the Pennsylvania system. The financial condition of the lines affects the financial status of about 50 per cent of the population, who either own railroad securities themselves or own them indirectly thru insurance, banking, educational and similar institutions which are heavy investors in railroad stocks and bonds. The railroads give employment to about 1,000,000 persons, whose jobs are imperiled when the lines operate at a loss. Millions of other workers, in mines, factories and all types of industry are dependent on railroad purchases for their livelihood. In normal times, railroads are the greatest single purchaser of supplies in the nation. Government itself—local, county, state and national—is dependent on the lines for much of its tax revenue. Railroad money paves roads, builds public buildings, carries on all kinds of government activities, and educates thousands of our children. Every person benefits when railroads prosper—every person feels the ill effects when they are depressed. It is an excellent sign that thousands of industrialists, representing all lines of business, are behind the movement to give the rails a fair deal.

Rotan Native Asks Office Of President

Running On 'Hoss Sense' Platform, Starts Warming Up

George G. Maben, a native of Fisher county and a brother to Mrs. John C. Horn of this city, has announced himself as a candidate for president of the United States on a "hoss sense" platform. Here Thursday for a brief stay before resuming his journey to Rotan, where his parents reside, Maben explained his "hoss sense" platform to a "call from God to preach God and life." Maben, starting his "campaign" in "hoss sense," said he was fully aware that this is not the presidential election year but that he is getting "in training to cover the 48 states in the next 26 months." He says he is the "founder of the Hoss Sense club and non-existing but to become famous Hoss Sense ticket." The self announced candidate said he has "all the faith in the world and I'll be the next president of these United States." He adds that his "hoss sense" is a story "of the salvation of a great nation." Maben declared he liked "The New Deal, but it indicates to most everybody a card game and I think it would be a lot more interesting to most of us if we were given a hand in the game." The call to run for president came to Maben, he says, while he was confined to bed with a serious back injury received on a ditching project in New Mexico. He has yet to make his first political speech but says he will make plenty in the future in "warming up for the campaign."

TEXAS TOPICS

By Raymond Brooks

It will be one of the last acts of this legislative session, but a tax penalty and interest remission law seems certain of enactment. The law will be under the calamity clause of the constitution. Few will argue that the state has not been visited with a calamity in the conjunction of the depression and the drought. The law will waive interest and penalties on delinquent taxes, and set into effect a new graduated scale of charges to be made after specified periods. Rep. W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi, author of the initial bill, would create a remission period of a little more than two years.

When James V. Allred is inaugurated governor next Jan. 15, he will gain the title of "Centennial Governor." During his term, the state will celebrate the 100th birthday of autonomous Texas. This will be an added distinction upon the governor and other state officials who guide the commonwealth past the 100-year mark. Upon the report of the Texas Centennial commission, announcing its selection of the Centennial city for 1936, steps will be taken in the legislature to ratify that selection; but opinion prevailed the most likely the formal act by the legislature of designating the Centennial city will be left to the regular session of the legislature, when bills for appropriation of funds to the exposition will be pending. That would mean sending the designation to the new membership, fresh from the people, with a mandate of the voters' wishes fresh upon them. One thing not thought about much is that even if one session voted a particular designation, and the next session did not agree with the choice, the new legislature would have the power to vote a change, or to repeal the act of the special session. The legislature already has written a bill purporting to ratify in advance any action of the Centennial commission; but it generally is believed that the legislature cannot delegate the function placed upon it by the Centennial constitutional amendment, or any other legislative function.

CEMETERY IS BATTLEGROUND FOR TEXTILE STRIKERS

Moshassuck cemetery in Central Falls, R. I., became a virtual battleground as tombstones were used by both troopers and textile strike sympathizers during wild rioting which injured 70 persons in that area. Troopers are shown among tombstones during the rioting fight. (Associated Press Photo)

Employer's Treasure Tale Brought Police Interview

BOSTON, (UP)—To impress an employer who arrived at work late, Joseph Balkan, proprietor of an upholstery shop here, told him he had found $20,000 in a divan undergoing repairs. If the assistant had arrived on time and found the money, Balkan reportedly told him, the money would have been divided between them. Joseph Karchmer, the assistant, promptly notified police, who questioned Balkan. Balkan explained it was merely a story to teach the employe the value of promptness—then fired Karchmer.

Rancher's Son Recalls Mule Sold 31 Years Ago

BURNS, Ore. (UP)—A mule sold by Jim Mahon, one-time famous Harney county mule breeder, in 1903 was recently recognized by the rancher's son, Ira Mahon, now of San Francisco, while driving along a California road, he informed friends here. He recognized the mule, sold 31 years ago, by the familiar brand "55". For 15 years, he said, his father sold about 300 mules a year in Stockton and he was willing to wager many other "plenty tough" mules still were living and working.

Naval Radio Stations Save U.S. Three Million

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Naval radio stations saved the government more than $3,300,000 in the last year. More than half the saving, according to the Navy Department, was on communications handled for departments other than the Navy. Thirty-six shore radio stations and 43 radio direction finding stations are maintained by the Navy at a total cost of $75,681,34. It was said that during the past fiscal year naval communications have been operated at less cost and with fewer men than ever before.

Oregon Miners Found Bones Of Elephant

JACKSONVILLE, Ore. (UP)—Digging for gold, miners uncovered remains of a pre-historic elephant here which have lain for an estimated 500,000 years under 10 feet of blue clay. Leg bones and huge teeth were the best preserved. When exposed, most of the skeleton crumbled to dust. The remains were said to be of an animal belonging to the elephas columb species. The 1935 session of the Texas senate will lack a woman member for the first time in eight years.

Hunt For Oldest Alumnus Disappointing To Missouri

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UP)—University of Missouri alumni officials ran into a bitter pill of disappointment while searching for the school's oldest graduate. They discovered he was Allen Mandeville Elston, a minister living at Berkeley, Calif., who received his degree here in 1867. The catch comes in the fact that the Reverend Elston later attended the University of Kansas, and Kansas is Missouri's bitterest athletic rival.

Socialists See Sinclair's Nomination As Setback

ST. LOUIS, (UP)—Nomination of Upton Sinclair by California Democrats as their candidate for governor is a "temporary setback to the radical movement," according to headquarters of the Socialist Party of Missouri. "Sinclair's nomination," the Socialist party said, "was primarily a mass protest against exploitation."

SONORA, Cal. (UP)—A large watch dog encountered more than he could handle when he snapped at a three-foot gopher snake. The reptile wound itself around the dog's neck, choking the animal unconscious. It was some time before the dog could be revived.

Moon Over Cow Shed Caused False Alarm

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (UP)—A big and bright September moon caused a false fire alarm here, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seeds, farmers, looked out their bedroom window and saw a glare in their barn. Thinking the building was ablaze, they called the fire department. When the firemen arrived, they discovered it was only the moon "coming up over the cow shed."

Five Little Pigs Bought Him Shave

CASSVILLE, Mo. (UP)—"Five pigs for a shave," offered Charles Jackson, Barry county farmer. "You're next," answered the barber. When he was shaved Jackson went to his car, brought in a burlap sack and dumped five squealing pigs on the barber shop floor.

33 Pigeons Auctioned Off NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (UP)—

To satisfy a court judgment, Constable Ernest H. Boucher auctioned off 33 pigeons owned by René Dupont.

"ALL-BRAN WILL ALWAYS BE A PART OF MY DIET"

Delicious Cereal Corrected His Constipation
If you suffer from constipation, read this fine letter:
"I have been troubled for years with constipation. During this time, I have tried almost every known remedy. Then some one recommended eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and the proper results followed immediately.
"Since eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN each morning, there has been a general improvement in my health without the ill effects that I formerly experienced when taking laxatives. Hereafter, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will always be a part of my diet."—Mr. E. G. Himes, 1201 E. 7th St., Los Angeles, Calif.
Research shows Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.
"The 'bulk' in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this 'cereal way' safer than risking patent medicines?
Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient to relieve ordinary constipation. With each meal, in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.
Be sure to ask for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It contains much more 'bulk' than part-bran products. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Set Was "All Wet"
SANDUSKY, O. (UP)—Ace Anderson, Akron, O., a visiting Legionnaire at the Ohio department convention here, jumped into Sandusky Bay on Lake Erie from the deck of the Steamer G. A. Boecking, coming from the resort, Cedar Point, to win a $5 bet that he could swim ashore. Coast guards, in a speed boat, picked him up.
Probe License Plate Cashes
COGHOCOTON, O. (UP)—A cache of dismantled automobiles and fake Illinois license plates, discovered in a Coughocoton County cemetery, was investigated by Ohio and Illinois authorities. Daniel D. Fryer, Cleveland, found the cache while hunting. More than 20 pairs of counterfeit plates in the 711-000 series were hidden under one of the dismantled autos.

Not like any other cigarette—

Chesterfields are like Chesterfields

WHEN a trade-mark is registered, it means that no one else can use the same name and the same package for the same kind of product.
To us the Chesterfield trade-mark means that every Chesterfield is manufactured by the same formula, and in every way absolutely the same in each and every package you buy.
That means that every Chesterfield is like every other Chesterfield—not like any other cigarette...
—the cigarette that's milder
—the cigarette that tastes better
—the cigarette that satisfies

Menus Of The Day

Nothing gives a meal so much zest as a well flavored salad. It seems to give point and enjoyment to a menu that might otherwise be dull and uninteresting.

Red and White Slaw
Shave 1 red and 1 white cabbage very thin. Take the center out of the red cabbage for the shavings and save the hollowed out shell for the "salad bowl." Mix the cabbage with a boiled salad dressing in which you have sprinkled a few celery seeds.

Delicious Mixed Vegetable Salad
Cut into shreds 1 head of lettuce, 6 stalks of endive and 1 head of romaine. Cut 1 cup of cooked string beans into 1 inch lengths and chop into small pieces 5 or 6 stalks of celery, 1 green pepper and 1 bunch of water cress. Mince finely 1 teaspoon of parsley. Peel a medium size cucumber and slice cross-wise. Peel an avocado and slice that thin lengthwise. Slice crosswise 6 red radishes and 1 cooked carrot. Cut 4 or 5 tomatoes into eighths. Heap all these vegetables lightly in the salad bowl with a French dressing made by soaking 1 crushed clove of garlic in a proportion of 2-3 oil to 1-3 vinegar half hour. Just before serving remove the garlic and add 1 teaspoon of Imperial sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon dry mustard and pepper to taste. Beat well and pour into the salad bowl just before putting in the vegetables. Toss lightly until every bit of salad is coated with a thin film of dressing.

Grapefruit and Pear Salad
Separate the sections of a large grapefruit, skin each section and remove seeds. Sprinkle lightly with French dressing which has been seasoned with paprika, salt and pepper. Use halves of fresh pears or canned pears. Dress lightly with the French dressing after cutting each half into three lengthwise sections. Arrange the grapefruit and pear sections in the salad bowl or on individual nests of crisp lettuce leaves, garnish with rings of green pepper and chopped green mint cherries. Dot with mayonnaise.

Molded Olive and Nut Salad
Dissolve 1 package of lemon gelatin in 2 cups boiling water. Cool and add 1-2 cup chopped nuts and 1-2 cup stuffed olives, sliced. Place in an oblong pan or an individual mold to stiffen. Serve in nests of crisp lettuce and garnish with tart mayonnaise.

Bacon and Potato Salad
4 large or 6 medium boiled potatoes, 1-2 Bermuda onion, 1-2 pound bacon cut in small pieces and fried, 2 hard cooked eggs, 1-2 cup cooked peas, 3 tbsps. mayonnaise, 1 tsp. vinegar, salt and paprika, 1 head of lettuce.

Wash the lettuce, shred fine and chill. Place in a large salad bowl. Cut the potatoes in 1-2 inch cubes. Add the onion, finely chopped, then the bacon, vinegar and mayonnaise. Season with the salt. Add to the lettuce and garnish with the egg slices, peas and paprika. The eggs chopped finely and the cooked peas may be added to the salad if you prefer.

Savory Green Bean Salad
Cook green beans until tender. Prepare enough to make 2 cups; add 2 tablespoons chopped green pickle, 1 onion minced fine, 1 canned pimiento, minced, 1-2 cup mayonnaise which has been blended with 1-3 cup chili sauce. Mix, chill and serve on lettuce leaves.

Orange Prune Salad
4 or 5 oranges peeled and sliced. 20 prunes, cooked, 1 package cream

cheese, 1-3 cup celery finely cut, 1-3 cup sweet pickle relish, few drops tabasco sauce, 20 California walnut kernels.

Arrange 5 orange circles on each lettuce lined plate. Center every circle with a prune, cooked until tender, cooled, pitted and stuffed with the cream cheese to which the celery, pickle relish and tabasco sauce have been added. Place a California Walnut on each cheese-stuffed prune. Serve with French dressing, mayonnaise or a sweetened fruit salad dressing.

Fruit Salad
Take 1 pint of shredded cabbage, 1 can of white cherries, 1 can of sliced pineapple, 1 pound of blanched almonds, 1-2 pound of fresh marshmallows and 1 pint of whipped cream. Cut the cherries into halves, shred the almonds, quarter the marshmallows and mix all together with the whipped cream and a few tablespoons of mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce beds.

Vegetable Salad
1-2 cup cooked green beans, 1-2 cup cooked asparagus, 1-2 cup diced celery, 1-2 cup sliced cucumbers, 1-8 tsp. salt, 2 tbsps. chopped green peppers, 1 tbsp. chopped onion, 1-4 cup French dressing. Mix and chill ingredients and serve on lettuce leaves.

A 6,000-foot tower is planned at Paris for the fair to be held there in 1937.

Governors Reflect Extreme Swings Of Opinion In Texas

AUSTIN—Through all the uncertainties of political campaigns, the selection of Texas governors, over the years, has reflected rather accurately the swing of public opinion first to one extreme and then the other.

From Jim Ferguson to W. P. Hobby, the tendency toward a decade's dry sentiment was expressed in the governor's office. That swing went on to its zenith in the selection of Pat Neff. Counterforces sent Mrs. Ferguson to the office; but quickly the voters moved back in the same direction and really as part of a general, continuing movement, to name Dan Moody and Ross Sterling to the highest office.

So-called liberalism—race track betting, legalization of some forms of liquor, and non-enforcement as to others, were dominant in the reaction of the past two years, and that reaction sent the Ferguson back to the governor's office.

Now another turn has come, in the demand for repeal of race track betting, with the nomination of a dry leader for governor—both United States senators are dry, one of them approved at the primary polls this year.

Thus over 20 years, Texas abandoned a policy of license, and went to restrictive extremes, foreshadowed, then expressed its rebellion in a return to even broader license; and now starts the swing down through the middle of the arc away from those things and influences that grated upon the better instincts and fell short of the ideals of an essentially moral people. As in other times, the trend of sentiment found leadership in harmony with the view of the majority who embody that sentiment.

Oysters Have Better Flavor

BIVALVE, N. J. (UP)—Here's good news for those who like oysters. They will have a better flavor this year than they have had for the past few years.

That is the opinion of oyster planters here and at Port Norris, headquarters for the early dredging season. Activity from these two ports is in full swing and a profitable season is forecast for all concerned.

The oyster men now are dredging private beds which extend from Egg Island Point to Cape May, comprising, approximately 50,000 acres.

The industry here and at Port Norris has sent business forward, more than 2,000 persons being employed in the industry at the two ports.

Meanwhile, activity in Delaware waters also is reported. Boats in that section are working out of Bowers Beach and Lewes. The industry employs 50,000 in Delaware Bay, Chesapeake Bay, the Gulf of Mexico and the Virginia Capes region.

More than 2,000 power boats and 31,000 small craft are utilized in the industry, according to oyster planters.

2 Charged With Cotton Thefts, Two More Held

Charges of theft were filed Friday against Gordon West and M. M. West in connection with cotton stealing Wednesday night.

Two more men were being held in the county jail as a speedy investigation was launched Friday to clear up the outbreak of cotton thefts in Howard county Wednesday night.

The two charged were alleged to have taken 740 pounds of picked cotton from the farm of W. L. Harrell in the Moore community Wednesday night.

Bond had not been set Friday afternoon but it was indicated it would be low. Total value of the cotton is under $50, making the offense a misdemeanor.

The sheriff's department expressed the opinion charges would probably be filed against the pair held for investigation.

Warning to farmers to guard against cotton thieves was issued Thursday after at least two thefts of Wednesday night. Deputy Sheriff Andy Meyrick asked that farmers cooperate with the law in curbing cotton stealing by not leaving picked cotton in the fields at night. He also urged them to report any clues which might lead to the apprehension of cotton thieves.

Heat Melted Honey In Hive
CERES, Va. (UP)—Gord Kitts, local man, says the heat was so intense recently that it melted the honey in his bee hive so that it ran out of the gums. Now the bees are doing their work all over again.

Dead Of Baseball Injury
JEFFERSON, O. (UP)—Struck in the head last May while playing ball, nine-year-old James Bertram died here three months later of a brain injury. He had appeared perfectly normal in the meantime.

Accessories Glorify The Meat Course And (Ssh!) Make It Go Farther Too!

Get next to garnishes—for the familiarity to the right ones! Out with the dank parsley which nobody ever eats; away with the wilted lettuce and discouraged mint leaves. Garnishes nowadays are something to be eaten, not left languishing on the plate.

Toothsome garnishes glorify the meat course, add an "extra" to that hated word "ordinary" and are something very tasty in their own right. In addition, they said the budget-juggler with her balancing act because they make the meat go farther and turn small portions into sizable mouthfuls.

One of the most popular garnishes for meat is the golden banana. Bananas, for some reason longly explained by the scientists, have a new and different taste when cooked. Their creamy pulp gives a contrast to the chewy meat and their blonde complexions conceal five vitamins. Try these five clever ways of adding them to the meat course, to learn how sincerely "accessory" can mean "help!"

Spiced Logs
(For the Steak or Cold Cuts)
3-4 cup vinegar, 2-3 cup Imperial sugar, 24 whole cloves, 1 small stick cinnamon, 3 bananas.

Boil the vinegar, sugar, cloves and cinnamon until the sugar is dissolved and the bubbles begin to look thick. Peel the bananas, drop them into the hot syrup and boil hard for two minutes. Then remove from fire and cool. Bananas may be cut into smaller pieces if desired. Serve with broiled steak

Tropical Garnish
(With Meat or Vegetables)
Broiled bananas make an excellent garnish for chops or may be an ingredient of the popular mixed grill composed of either meat or vegetables. To broil bananas, peel, brush lightly with butter and arrange on rack of broiler or in pan. Broil 5 to 6 minutes.

Red-Headed Nominee
Gets In Training
At Special Session

AUSTIN—H. E. Davison of Rotan, nominee to the legislature from the Sweetwater district, visited the house and put himself in training for the January regular session. He was presented to the house and made a brief response.

Davison, six-foot-four red-headed ex-farm youth, graduate of Simmons university, is studying law and will take the bar examinations soon. He is 25 years old and was married in June of this year.

This is the first public office he has sought or held. He will take the place now held by Rep. Will H. Scott of Sweetwater, representing Fisher, Nolan and Mitchell counties.

SMALLEST MOTOR INVENTOR SEEKS TO OUTDO SELF

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—William L. Brown, Jr., 23, who invented the world's smallest gasoline engine, isn't satisfied. He is now developing a still smaller motor.

The motor which brought him fame and which is now used in model airplanes weighs only six and a half ounces. Equipped with the attachments to keep it running at 6,000 R.P.M., it develops 1-4 horsepower and brings its weight up to 17 1-2 ounces.

Brown, whose father turned the invention into a commercial success because the youth didn't want the marketing of the small motors to interfere with his school work, has started work on an engine that will weigh only three ounces and develop 1-80 horsepower.

FINED IN HORSE'S DEATH

PORT CLINTON, O. (UP)—Estelle Lowery, colored, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail for the death of a horse which her automobile struck. She was charged with having failed to stop her car when it hit a horse owned by John Fick while Fick was hauling a load of tomatoes from his farm to Port Clinton.

RIVAL YACHTS AND SKIPPERS IN AMERICA'S CUP SERIES

In a four-out-of-seven race series off Newport, R. I., starting September 15, T. O. M. Sopwith (inset, left) with his trim Endeavour will attempt to capture the America's cup, a feat 14 previous British challengers have failed to accomplish. The defense of the famous old mug which for 83 years has represented the supremacy of American over British yachtsmen rests with Harold S. Vanderbilt (inset, right) and his sleek yacht Rainbow. The Centennial will not Cost . . . IT WILL PAY

The Texas Centennial Commission has said that it contemplates a self-liquidating celebration. It has given positive assurance to the people of Texas that it will not involve any increased taxation. The Centennial is the biggest job proposed for Texans since wresting its liberty from foreign despotism. Texans in all the past have liked big jobs. The Commission is relying upon that old Texas spirit as enunciated by Col. Travis, "Victory or Death," to make sentiment unanimous for celebration of its historic birthday in 1936. Every Texan now is challenged. For a century of trial and triumph every Texan has stood in solid phalanx. Every challenge has been accepted. No greater work was ever presented a Texan, native-born or adopted, than that presented by the plan for the Texas Centennial.

US Eighty League Play - Off To Start Sunday

Forfeit Gives Coahoma Lead

Coden To Battle Last Half Winner In Two Out Of Three

By Hank Hart
In order to make the season's playoff shorter, the Coahoma Oilers have forfeited to the Stanton Buffaloes thereby giving the Coahoma Sinclairs leadership in the second half race of the U.S. Eighty League.

The forfeit will necessitate a playoff between the Oilers, titlists of the first half, and Coahoma, victor in the race for the second half honors.

Managers Henninger and Cramer have agreed to meet in a series of the best two out of three games, all of which will be played on the Coahoma diamond, which is in better shape than the field here.

First Game Sunday
The first game will be played Sunday, with the next arranged for Wednesday, and the third, if necessary, will be played on the following Sunday.

A small charge will be taken at the gate in order to aid players who were injured in last week's game.

The Oilers will have two pitchers in readiness for the Sunday game, each accredited with a victory in last Sunday's twin bill. Pap Payne will probably start while Lefty Baber will be held in readiness in case Payne falters.

Injuries
With the injured "Mileaway" Baker on the sidelines, Pap Patton will probably take over the milt-man duties. Patton pulled a sparkling play in last week's game when he snapped the ball to Martin at third base to catch Berl Cramer at third who was attempting to steal after Remus Jones had struck out. Martin whirled to tag Cramer for the final out, ending the game.

The Coahoma infield will probably be made up of Harris, first base; Morton, second base; Morgan, short stop; and Martin, third base.

Dutch Moxley, Skeets West, and Ina, Salt, also, tends to prevent muscle cramps.

A letter comes from the Dallas Professional Football Association: "Football fans of the southwest will be interested to know that Texas will be represented this year and in the future by the Dallas Professional Football Association, which is now organized and a member of the American Professional Football league—Tulsa, Okla., Charlotte, N. C.; Louisville, Ky., and Dallas, Texas. At a recent league meeting in Memphis, schedules were drawn; Dallas securing contracts for a total of ten official games on a home and home basis. Present plans call for the winner of the American league to play the champions of the National league a football "world series."

"Vic Sautley, coach of the Dallas team, and a former star of the S. M. U. Mustangs and the Memphis pro team, has been most successful in drawing together a potential array of football talent composed of outstanding stars of the south and middle west, and declares that by October 7th (the date of the opening game) he will have a powerful and smooth working machine. It is the intention of the Dallas club to have a pennant contending team from the start of the season and contracts are generous enough to secure the best array of talent.

"Admission to the games will be at popular prices, and a very attractive feature of the schedule is that all home games will be played on Sunday afternoons, affording an opportunity to those who heretofore have been unable to attend due to week day business, to see big time football."

Baber Takes Batting Title

Bats Out 31 Hits In 77 Appearances For Percentage Of .403

Lefty Baber will take their positions in the outfield, Moxley and West are the speediest players in the Coahoma lineup, and gave the opposing twirlers plenty of trouble in last week's bargain bill. Baber has been declared the leading batter of the Coahomites, with the excellent mark of .403.

Horned Frogs In Hot Water

Mentors Strive Desperately To Find Ends For Snagging Passes

FORT WORTH, (Sp.)—With two passers de luxe in the backfield, Coaches Dutch Meyer and Bear Wolf of the T. C. U. Horned Frogs strove desperately in the first week of practice to find some material for ends that will be adequate for the "receiving end of passes."

Dan Harston, senior letterman and sub-captain of the 1934 Frogs, is a southpaw passer and left-footed kicker who did most valuable work last season. Sam Baugh, former Sweetwater high flash, is a sophomore who is just about the sweetest pass-tossing that has been on the Frog lot for many a moon.

These two are finding the smaller ball right up their alley, and are all set to take full advantage of the new "no-penalty" rule on passing. But it takes a receiver as well as a passer to gain ground via the air, and the Frogs have but one experienced end.

Melvin Diggs, 190 pound junior from Weslaco, is looking good at wing position. But relief for him and a couple of good men for the other end will have to be developed. The needs for ends has led to several shifts during the first week's workouts. Jim Simpson, junior from San Angelo, has been transferred from center, where Darrell Lester seems to have everything sewed up anyway, to end, and Donkey Roberts, sophomore, star fullback on the 1932 Masonic Home eleven and last year's Pollywogs, is also being given a try at the wing position.

Then there are four sophomores who were wingmen as Freshmen—Tom Adams, Fort Worth; L. D. Meyer, Waco; Walter Roach, Ft. Worth and Will Walls, Hot Springs, Ark.

Almost the same problem exists at the guard position. There is one letterman—Tracy Kellow, Lufkin. To meet situation Wilbert Harrison, Temple, formerly a back, has been shifted to guard. Harrison is fast, weighs 190 pounds, and is expected to start with Kellow. At least two other guards will have to be developed from sophomore material.

These two problems have occupied most of the time of the Horned Frog coaching staff during the first week. Head Coach Meyer has been holding two practice sessions daily, with blackboard drill in between, just after lunch.

The Frogs play their first game Friday night, Sept. 21, with the Daniel Baker Hillbillies in Brownwood.

TIGER ISLAND

By Gouverneur Morris

Chapter 15 DARK PLOT

Bowers is incorrigible. He says: "Suppose you liked me a million times more than you do?"

"I wonder what would happen." "Nothing, I assure you. You'd better count sheep."

Then Bowers in a complaining voice: "I'm not doing any harm. I'm just lying here thinking. I wish I could see you for a second."

"Why?" "I always thought you were pretty; but today when you were talking to the big tiger you were so kind and understanding. I got to thinking that maybe you were beautiful. So if I got to see you for a second I could be sure, couldn't I?"

Ivy is not in the least interested in the conversation. She wants to go to sleep, and she remarks with petulance: "This makes five nights in a row that you haven't stopped chattering."

Flint, if he had been eavesdropping, would have been confronted. It was obvious that Bowers' suit, if it were a suit, was not making any progress.

Curiously enough, Flint, about to be a partner in an act of barter, did not consider himself an ineligible visitor. An insurance company was a cold impersonal machine. Stealing from an insurance company wasn't like stealing from a person.

The insurance company itself was probably a great thief. Men had shipped goods on the Boldero and these goods would perish, but what of it? The goods were insured. The shippers would not suffer.

The barter once committed would be a man of independent means. He might not be as rich as Bowers, but he would have plenty. He would be distinctly eligible. He would be a great catch for a girl like Ivy.

The barter was to be accomplished without any loss of life. He had gone into that many times with Wong Bo. There mustn't be any mistake about it, no slip-up anywhere, no accidents.

It was one thing to play a huge practical joke on an insurance company.

As you get out your Fall and Winter clothes have them cleaned by the modern pany it was quite another thing to have blood on your hands. When the time came, the Boldero would be cracked open in mild weather on a sunken reef. To guard against the possibility of her remaining afloat until help came and being salvaged, her sea-cocks would also have been opened.

While he himself broadcast the news of a ship in distress at such and such a crossing of latitude and longitude, the ship's boats would be got over-board and provisioned. There would be room for everybody.

Flint had arranged with Wong Bo that Ivy and Bowers should not be in the same boat, but Ivy and Flint would be in the same boat and if that boat did not come ashore upon a part of the Borneo coast far removed from the point at which the boat containing Bowers was ashore, it would not be Flint's fault.

If the present days were hard for him to bear, and especially the dreary nights, he looked forward to days and nights of heavenly promiscuity and high romance.

One afternoon Bowers brought all his guns and rifles on deck in their solid leather cases for a general clearing and overhauling. The gutter of handsome weapons drew first Flint's attention and later Wong Bo's. Ivy, who was making herself a dress, something decent to go ashore in, was also interested.

But her interest was resentful. These were the things that men killed with for pleasure. If Bowers had been a Turk and his weapons a harem of beautiful women he could not have loved them more dearly or with more solicitude. The great enemy of modern weapons is the power which makes them weapons.

More particularly is this the case with rifles. After firing your rifle, you may clean it until the inside of the barrel and the rifling shines like a mirror, but a day or two later when you look through the barrel there are symptoms of corrosion.

"Why do you like to kill things?" said Ivy.

"Would you like me better if I didn't?" he said.

"Lots better," said she.

"In that case," said Bowers, "I don't like to kill them as much as I did."

Ivy chuckled. A radiogram from Sino was Flint's excuse for joining them. The guns themselves were an excuse for any man's remaining ashore. The radiogram was from McLeod in answer to one Bowers had sent:

"DEAR, LIGHTED ANIMALS WELL CARRY ON."

There had already been a message from Van Renter to say that McLeod was out of danger.

The rifle was something lacking in the man who takes no interest in weapons, especially when they are works of art. Flint's eyes shone with a boyish enthusiasm. He sealed himself cross-legged on the deck and the two men talked guns and Ivy was forgotten.

Bowers had five rifles and three shotguns. He explained that the double-barreled elephant-rifle had been purchased to help a friend out of a financial hole. It had cost a fearful sum even secondhand, but Bowers had never fired it.

He had never killed an elephant and he was never going to, and furthermore if it should happen that his life depended on killing an elephant, that particular rifle was obsolete. It was too much like a cannon. An ordinary army rifle was plenty heavy enough.

It didn't matter so much how hard you hit an elephant, as where you hit him. Bowers did most of Warmus (left) shown with Chauncey Clark, attorney for the Ward line, at the opening of the federal inquiry into the fire on board the steamer Morro Castle, which claimed more than 100 lives. his killing with a double-express of about 30 caliber. He put it together and offered it to Flint, who handled it almost with adoration, feeling the balance, putting it to his snout and squinting along the sights.

"That's plenty big enough for tigers and elephants and small ones for antelope and deer. Nice balance, hasn't it?"

It was at this moment that Wong Bo, drawn by the gleam of metal, joined the group. He fanned himself and remarked that the rifle was "Heap nice."

"What does a gun like this chap coat" Flint asked.

"I think," said Bowers, "that it cost just one hundred and twenty guineas."

"How much you say?" asked Wong Bo.

"About six hundred dollars gold," said Bowers.

Wong Bo's eyes swept the heap of gun-cases.

"Other guns all same?" he asked.

"Well," said Bowers, "they don't give guns away, or if they do, I never heard of it."

It is possible that if Bowers had not exposed his weapons and made their value known, the course of events would have been different. But eight guns worth perhaps an average of five hundred dollars apiece represented a handsome sum of money.

It is possible that up to that moment, so far as Wong Bo's plans were concerned, Bowers' life was reasonably safe. But the value of the guns had altered the Chinaman's plans and he returned presently to ask a question and to go on his way again.

"How often you make clean?" he asked.

"Oh," Bowers said, "I'll look them over again in ten days or two weeks, maybe not until we get to Singapore. They are in perfect shape."

To Wong Bo this was an exceedingly satisfying statement, and that same night, with the help of the cabin boy and a pass-key, he stole the guns from their cases, wrapped the parts in greasy cloths and stowed them in his own quarters.

Bowers had said that he would not examine his weapons for another ten days, but it was possible that it for some reason or other he might have occasion to move the cases, and the lightness of the cases would reveal the fact that he had been robbed. Wong Bo did not want the trouble that shows its face in the open.

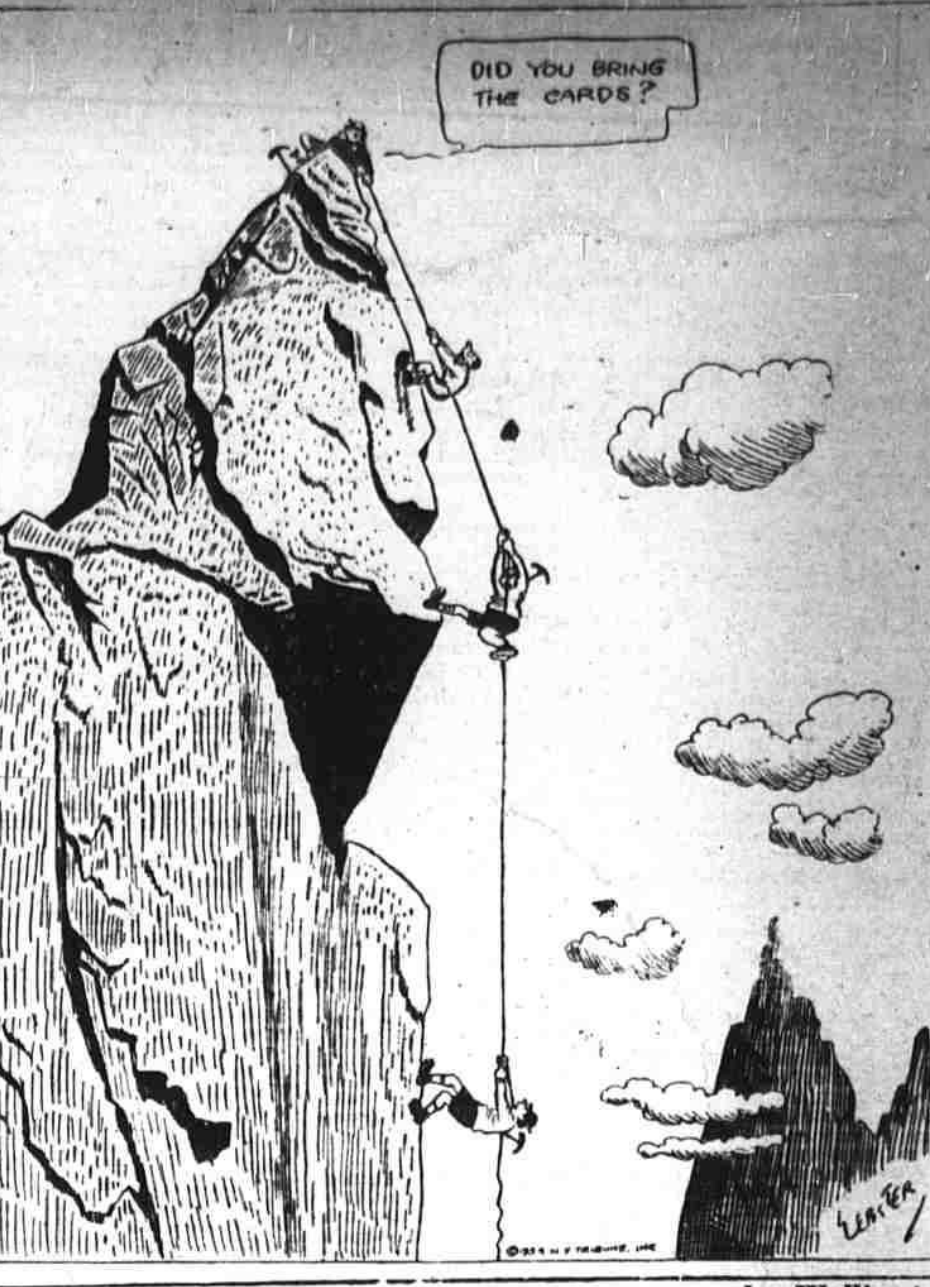

He and the cabin boy carried the cases to the Boldero's disorderly machine shop and weighted them with odds and ends of metal from broken tools, an old file or two, some short lengths of iron pipe, and a vast number of spools of copper wire.

Wong Bo makes his savage plans, Sunday.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Commissioners' Court of Howard County, Texas, acting on behalf of said County, will on the 8th day of October, A. D. 1934, at three o'clock P. M. at the County Judge's office in the Courthouse at Big Spring, Howard County, Texas, receive bids for the furnishing to Howard County, one tractor, of the crawler type, with Diesel engine, of not less than fifty horse-power, and one grade weighing not less than 3000 pounds.

It is proposed to issue time warrants at the rate of 6% per annum, with maturity date thereof not beyond May 1, 1935. The said Commissioners' Court reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and each bidder is required to give good and sufficient bond in the full amount of the price of the grade and tractor offered for purchase, for the faithful performance of such contract, said bond to be executed by some surety company authorized to do business in this State in accordance with the provisions of Article 5100, Revised Statutes of 1925, and amendments thereto.

Witness my hand, this 5th day of September, A. D. 1934. (SEAL) H. R. DEBENPORT, County Judge, Howard Co., Texas.

kina orders on several occasions, while Richberg resented her ever-presence and her method of relaying reports, etc.

Several of the big business men who served as Deputy Administrators in NRA's early days might be persuaded to admit privately that their resignations were prompted largely by irritation over "Robby's" officious manner.

Members of a code authority tell of the embarrassment of Arthur Whitehead, president of Dunn & Bradstreet, when he was serving the Blue Eagle. A wrangle was on over inclusion of a cost-plus-ten provision in the retail code.

Whitehead made an appointment for the code authority to see Johnson on a Monday. When they arrived at the General's outer office "Robby" turned them away and refused to let even Whitehead see the chief. The then Deputy Administrator swallowed his pride and persuaded the business representatives to stay over a day. On Tuesday, they couldn't even see "Robby," who sent them out a note.

Basic—Smart money is betting on more inflation before the turn of the year. Men with large interests in state and good pipelines into the New Deal think it will come after election and before congress convenes. They are taking indirect reassurances to the contrary with a big grain of salt.

The dopesters who claim to have inside information are predicting silver devaluation as the next step. In other words the administration will follow step for step, the course it pursued with gold.

Silver now theoretically brings

$1.20 an ounce. By showing it to "profit" as was done with gold, and approximately restore a 16 to 1 ratio between the two metals.

Further, this move would enable President Roosevelt to widen the metallic base of our money on a ratio of one part silver and three parts gold with an actual purchase of much less silver than is now necessary.

The treasury is estimated already to have purchased 100,000,000 ounces or more. Nationalization of silver is expected to bring in another 100,000,000 ounces. By inflating the value Uncle Sam would have to acquire far less than the billion ounces which silverites talked about during last session of congress to establish that 75-25 base.

Industrial economists have figured it out that FDR would have to hand us a 27-cent dollar to get back to 1926 price levels, etc. In terms of gold. He only has authority to bits less than a dime out of the gold dollar and even that would have a had psychological effect. These private calculators say he may be able to achieve the same end painlessly by manipulating silver. The man on the streets won't feel any more immediate effect than he did when gold was revalued.

Drive—When Jouett Shouse organized the American Liberty league he showed some of the other boys the way to promotion and pay.

America First! Inc., is the newest anti-New Deal organization to spring up in Washington. It is dedicated to exposing and combating "radicalism" within the New Deal. Vigilantes will be organized all over the country at $1 a head, larger contributions, of course, being welcomed. Next month, this organization promises to buy air time and start a radio campaign against the Roosevelt policies.

President James True has been running a confidential business letter that was so violently critical of NRA that General Johnson made the mistake of barring him from Blue Eagle press conferences. Vice President Robert B. Armstrong, St. is a Republican newspaper man who was one of a committee of three generally given credit for building up the "miracle man" legend about Herbert Hoover prior to 1928.

Notes—Demands for increased wages are again holding up several new federal buildings. Gene Vidal, Department of Commerce head of civil aviation, insists that a new fool-proof airplane fliwer is about to materialize. Japan's military attaches camps at the senate munitions committee door waiting for revelations concerning American airplane deals with China. NRA insiders say it's not in the cards for Gen. Johnson to have full swing again, however skillfully the new arrangement may be glossed over. Rising food prices double the job that lies before Henry Wallace in trying to perpetuate AAA. Drastic changes in his law are in sight.

NEW YORK By JAMES McMULLIN

Patent—The American Liberty league is about to start an extensive campaign for recruits and cash. The men of property who have made presidents in the past want their old job back. Captains of finance and industry fervently feel they are best qualified to run the country and that the times will be out of joint until they have regained the driver's seat. The league is their chosen instrument to that end.

In case you doubt their power it can be told—on unimpeachable authority—that the most cogent reason why Calvin Coolidge did not choose to run in '28 was because Herbert Hoover from the Department of Commerce, had lined up all the conservative political money.

The league's sponsors believe they can smoke out FDR—that he isn't the type to fight organized opposition. They figure on building such a potent organization—financially and politically—that he'll come to their way of thinking because he can't afford not to. In that case New Deal features objectionable to conservatives would be weeded and die of malnutrition—which is as good a way of getting rid of them as any.

But if he remains stubborn the program is simple—smash him! How? By wearing away the New Deal stone with an incessant flood of hostile publicity. The theory behind it will be that a democracy tends to string with those who talk loudest. The league will be prepared to make as much noise as a World War.

The league's official brochure expresses the hope that it will have the support of President Roosevelt. Inside comment runs that it privately hopes still more that it won't. It's much more fun to sock an enemy than to convert him—and the results are more likely to be permanent.

The league will not be do-or-die active in this fall's campaign. Its leaders are playing for long term stakes. They're quite ready to tighten their belts for two years in view of potential rewards in the next four if they win. There are times when it pays to be patient and one of these when over-sensuous haste invites damaging defeat.

Bait—The league starts public recruiting with a nest egg of more than $700,000. The supreme advisory council of fifty to sixty members will be composed of those who have kicked in with $25,000. Six places are reserved for Duponts.

Percy Rockefeller—backstage big shot of the National City Bank in the Mitchell days but no longer—is prepared to devote all his time to the Liberty league without compensation. That's how important he thinks it is—any many other financial corps commanders share his zeal.

Informed New Yorkers see the makings of a vital rivalry between the A. F. of L. and the A. L. L. The latter stands ready to throw its weight behind any congressman of either party who is willing to sign on the dotted line. Such an alluring bait can hardly fail to get results.

Financing—Neither the bankers nor the treasury are as happy about the terms of the government's latest financing as published reports make out. The result was a Mexican standoff between Washington and Wall Street. The New York banks—having solemnly and privately agreed to buy nothing which had a maturity beyond three years—will now subscribe to the four-year notes adequately if not with gusto. While the operation is in theory purely an exchange of one security for another these subscriptions will be needed to take care of holders of 4th 4 1-4's who want to be paid off in cash.

The treasury also yielded a year—coming down from five to four. In a way it was more of a concession than the banks made because it completely shatters the treasury's dream of converting top-heavy short-term debt into cheap long-term obligations. Mr. Morgenthau—or his successor—will have plenty to think about in the next four years. Consider the volume of notes that have to be paid off or refunded (to say nothing of new money that may be needed).

1935$1,717,000,000 1936 1,807,000,000 1937 1,745,000,000 1938 about 2,450,000,000 And on top of this there are over three billion dollars of 4th 4 1-4's still to be taken care of between now and 1938. Observers remark it's enough to give the Sphinx a headache. Over a billion dollars of the problem will have been transferred to 1939—which has light maturities of its own—if the treasury had been able to carry its five-year point. So the compromise had its painful aspects.

Choice—The option given to holders of called Liberty Bonds to exchange for either four-year notes or ten to twelve-year bonds sounds pretty but doesn't mean much. Experts say that the treasury will be lucky to get $100,000,000 (out of a total of $1,200,000,000) in applications for the long-term issues. The banks aren't even dimly interested but insurance companies and individuals may provide enough of a market to keep the alternative from being an absolute fizzle.

Disaster—New York shipping circles take the incendiary theory of the Morro Castle's officers seriously. In case you're skeptical they suggest you try to start a six-by-six fire on your parlor carpet with matches or cigarettes and without kerosene.

Insiders say the crew turnover on coastal ships—whether American or British—averages as high as 25 % per voyage. That's no great help to discipline and training. All lines have suffered from heavy cancellation of cruise bookings since the disaster.

Convention—At Smith's cabana at Atlantic Beach was badly damaged in the gale on the night of September 8th. Surveying the ruins the following morning Al remarked: "Hat I see Macy and Wadsworth have been holding a convention here." Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

MOTHER SPARROW FEEDS BABE IN PORCH CAGE

CHELSEA, Mass. (UP)—Mrs. Anna Smith found a fledgling English sparrow and put it in a cage on her piazza. The cage door was left open. Soon, the baby sparrow's mother visited it, bringing food. Regularly, since then, the mother bird has appeared on the Smith porch, caring for the little one.

As soon as the fledgling is able to fly, Mrs. Smith plans to release it.

Air Line Claims Record CHICAGO (UP)—By flying all but 2,900 miles out of a total of 1,300,000 mileage scheduled during the past 30 days, United Air Lines lays claim to a new international efficiency mark for long distance, large scale air line operation, its record being that of completing 99.8 per cent of well over a million and a quarter miles of flying, of which nearly one-half of it was at night, on its coast-to-coast service.

Caught Picked With Rake JAMESTOWN, N. D. (UP)—Although only five, Porter Eddy has proved himself an adept as well as ingenious fisherman. At his parents' cottage on Spiritwood Lake, Porter saw a fish lazily flapping its fins in the shade of the dock. He seized a rake and landed a five and one-half pound pickerel.

Whiskey Still Produced Coffee KIAMATH FALLS, Ore. (UP)—Transients in the federal camp here receive their daily coffee from a 20-gallon copper still. The sheriff's office turned the still over to the camp after it was captured in a raid.

DEAR HOONSKNEERS CAUSE DEMAND FOR OAK BARRELS

WINNEMAC, Mo. (UP)—Demand for barrels by manufacturers of illicit liquor in the Ozarks has resulted in a flourishing business for bootleggers of barrel stave timber. Owners of large tracts of white oak have complained to authorities that thousands of feet of timber are being cut. A few acres have been made, but as natives favor the practice of taking the timber, it is hard to catch offenders.

Hook "Hokey" Players ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O. (UP)—The Belmont County Board of Education is going after the "hokey" situation early to stop it in the bud this fall. The board has hired three extra insant officers in the hope of rounding up all youngsters during the first month of school.

Unusual Bean Grower ROLLINGSFORD, N. H. (UP)—An unusual bean that can be eaten boiled, baked or fried, and grown to a height of three feet, was raised on Orion Wentworth's farm here. Called the Tumbantian butter bean, it leaves resemble those of a squash and the blossoms open only at night.

Partners IN Purchasing

AS WE make our purchases for Fall—Clothes and fuel, furniture and food—we are a vast body of people, all responding alike to the urge of the oncoming season. But in still another way are we joined. We seek aid, advice and suggestion from today's advertising in this paper.

This habit of ours to look to the printed word for help has grown in quite a natural way. From experience over the years we have found that it pays. For only a worthy store and product can be advertised continuously. To pay the advertiser, advertising must be honest.

That is why advertising is a helpful partner of us all. It helps the manufacturer and store to sell. It helps you—the customer—to buy to the best advantage.

John Hatch Is Married In Dayton

Mother And Sisters Present For Wedding Ceremony

Dr. John Hatch, son of Mrs. R. C. Hatch of this city and brother of Mrs. Robert Piner and Mrs. John Hodges, was married Tuesday in Dayton (near Houston) to Miss Dee Jackson of that city. His mother and two sisters were present.

The wedding took place on the spacious lawn of the bride's home. Under an archway formed of ferns and tall baskets of white asters, the young people plighted their troth with the impressive ring ceremony. The minister was Rev. Mr. Cook of Brenham, a former pastor of the Dayton Baptist church of which the bride is a member.

Mrs. Sterling, a friend of the family, was the pianist and her son sang "O Premier Me," before the ceremony. The bride was accompanied by her sister, Miss Mae Jackson, and the groom by a friend of his college days, Dr. Griffin of Liberty.

The bride dressed in a square-necked frock of white satin cut simply on princess lines with a short train, came from the porch across the pathway of white, in the company of her father. She carried an arm bouquet of white asters.

The maid of honor was attired in a dress of pink lace and carried pink asters.

Reception immediately after the ceremony the friends of the family and the relatives adjourned to the house for a reception before the couple left on their wedding journey. A lovely three-tiered wedding cake iced in white and silver, carrying out the white motif which prevailed through the evening, awaited them in the dining room.

The table was spread with a white cutwork cloth and decorated with white tapers in silver candle holders. A base of silver leaves surrounded the wedding cake.

Dr. and Mrs. Hatch spent the few days allotted them for a trip to Houston and Waco. They are now making their home in Alto where Dr. Hatch went in July to practice medicine.

The groom is well-known in Big Spring. Here he has spent most of his summers during the eight years he has been attending college. He did his pre-medical work at Baylor university in Waco and obtained his M. D. in 1933 from Baylor in Dallas. In June he completed a year's internship at Providence Hospital in Waco.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Jackson of Dayton, a pioneer family of that section. She attended Baylor university also. There she and her husband became sweethearts. She spent the time teaching while waiting for him to finish school. Most of her teaching was done in Junction high school where she was in charge of the business department.

Mmes. Hatch, Hodges, and Piner left Big Spring Monday and motored to Waco. There they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hatch and Mrs. and Mrs. Gerald Hatch, who went with them to Dayton.

Chamber Committee On Advertising In Auspicious Beginning

Advertising and publicity committee for the Chamber of Commerce made its first meeting auspicious enough Friday at a breakfast session in the Crawford hotel.

The committee concluded that a large bill board should be placed near the city entrance on each of the four major highways, that $1,000 would be needed to carry out a program which the committee outlined.

Accordingly the committee will send a representative before the finance committee in its next meeting in an effort to have the finance committee raise a $1,000 budget for publicity and advertising purposes.

A 10x40 foot billboard donated by J. Y. Robb should be located near the airport with reading matter on both sides to attract air and highway tourists, the committee agreed.

Details of the program outlined were not divulged.

Ralph Linck was named chairman of the committee.

James Little was elected chairman of the Fire Prevention committee, the other committee to meet Friday.

Ely Culbertson's books on bridge have sold well over 1,000,000 copies, publishers say.

South Ward P.-T. A. Leads With First Meeting Of School Term; Mrs. Hayes Strippling Presides

Members Make Stringent Rules For Keeping Finances Within Bounds And For Not Going Over Allotted Hour Of Session

The South Ward Parent-Teachers' Association started off the school year Thursday, the first of the local P.-T.A.'s to meet. Mrs. Hayes Strippling, president, presided over the session.

Supt. W. C. Blankenship was present and made the chief address of the afternoon.

Mr. Blankenship dealt mostly with the large enrollment of the schools. He also suggested many ways in which mothers could be of greater help to children by being more understanding.

Mrs. Willard Read sang a solo "Beautiful Texas" in keeping with the approaching Texas Centennial.

During the business session, Mrs. Bill Satterwhite was elected third vice-president and Mrs. Mancill secretary. The members voted that whoever opened the cafeteria must show a health certificate.

A splendid report of the called meeting of the executive committee, held Sept. 11th, was made by Mrs. Nell. The committee recommended and the P.-T. A. voted to make its membership dues 25 cents; that no donations should be asked for and no funds solicited at regular meetings, and all finances be taken care of by the finance committee; that every effort be made to keep the meetings within the hour's allotted time; that a committee be appointed to investigate the opening of a cafeteria; that prizes given rooms having most mothers present never exceed $2.

The president announced the following committee chairman: Mrs. E. W. Potter, welfare; Mrs. Satterwhite, ways and means; Mrs. Alfred Moody, program; Mrs. J. S. Robbins, cafeteria; Mrs. Hubert Johnson, publicity.

All teachers were introduced to the mothers. Mrs. S. M. Smith's room had the most mothers.

The following attended: Mmes. R. E. Blount, Willard Read, Bill Satterwhite, W. J. Darby, Elton Taylor, Ed Lowe, E. W. Potter, C. E. Callway, L. L. Milstead, Charles K. Bivings, Cecil West, Viola James, Fred Stafford, Roy Case, A. S. Smith, J. E. Reagan, Jack M. Nall, Louis Thompson, Sam J. Atkins, M. H. Bennett, Shirley Robbins, R. B. Harris, M. M. Mancill, S. M. Smith, J. J. Green, L. S. Dahme, Alfred Moody, S. E. Earley, Dee Foster, Hayes Strippling, Hubert Johnson; Misses Grace Mann, Neal Cummings, and Letha Amerason.

Personally Speaking

Robert Newson of Coleman visited his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. B. Reagan Thursday.

Mrs. E. D. Merrill and Evelyn returned Thursday evening from a visit with friends and relatives in Clyde and Abilene.

Mrs. Eddie Burke spent Thursday in Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wheelon of Ranger have returned home after being here for funeral services for the late J. I. Prichard. Wheelon is the son of Mrs. Will Carnrike.

Mrs. Iala Davis and daughter, Pat, are here visiting with Neil Davis.

E. O. Prichard, brother of J. I. Prichard, of Stamford is here. With him are two daughters and a son. Mrs. Ed Prichard and son of Fort Worth are also here. All were called here on the death of J. I. Prichard.

Mrs. W. J. McAdams is spending the day in McCamey.

Margaret Bettle and Ima Deason have returned from Chicago where they visited A Century of Progress Exposition.
