Important Airport Conference Scheduled For Tonight

FIVE PRISONERS ARE RECAPTURED

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

TONIGHT'S session at the Chamber of Commerce, when airport problems will be discussed, is of utmost importance. Every man who has been invited should make certain he attends.

Do parents fully appreciate the efforts of men and women who have their children in their care most of their lives until the middle 'teens? Yesterday was annual visitors' day in the local schools. Several hundred persons visited the various buildings and inspected the exhibits of work done by their children. Many of them showed real satisfaction and appreciation. Some made it a matter of form only.

Many hundreds did not even pay the teachers a visit. Too many of us are anxious to criticize a teacher's work, her efforts to maintain discipline. And, with some folks, there's no moral more choice than the faintest breath of gossip about what Miss So-and-So does after school hours.

COOPERATION with teachers very materially improves their efficiency. Personally, back there in those dear days when this writer labored with the initial dose of the Three R's the best way for him to get a switchin' at home was to get one during the day at school. Couldn't understand then why the folks always took the teacher's side. See through it now.

Steve Ford reports troubles apently with his task of taking the U. S. business census in Big Spring. This particular phase of the decennial census is highly important. Facts called for are for statistical purposes in the mass and will not be used commercially. There is a penalty, provided by the Federal statutes, for refusing to give the enumerator this information.

BIG SPRING representatives at the annual convention of the South Plains Bankers' Association did a neat piece of work in Plainview Monday when they got the convention to choose Big Spring.

Those bankers could have chosen one city in the entire territory whose banks are in more healthy condition than the three local institutions.

JUST took a look at the automatic printing telegraph machine here in the Herald office. The Associated Press reports Clint Small of Wellington, former district judge, now a state senator, has announced his candidacy for governor.

Watch Clint. He's a thorough-going, hard-working, straight-shooting West Texan.

Sweetwater Cashier Given Three Years

AHLENE, Tex., April 22 (AP)—Oscar Pate, 36, was assessed a three-year prison sentence today by Judge James C. Wilson in federal court here on a plea of guilty to charges of embezzling funds from the City National Bank of Sweetwater, of which he was cashier at the time shrunks were discovered last August.

Government accountant's figures showed: Total shortage, $49,444; restitution by turning over property, $19,790; $10,000 indemnity bond; net loss to bank, $19,654.

TWO TAKEN AFTER RACE NEAR HERE

Sheriff and Deputies Surprise Willis And Fleming

Five of the ten prisoners that escaped from the Howard county jail in a break made between two and three o'clock Monday morning were either back in cells here or held by officers in neighboring cities, according to information from members of the sheriff's department who spent most of Monday night searching for truant wards.

E. L. Willis and Bryant Fleming, alias Joe Pain, were captured at 11 o'clock Monday night approximately one mile east of Coahoma after, what officers termed, an exciting chase punctuated by gun fire. Both men are under two year penitentiary sentences for forgery.

Makes Break. A party of officers including Sheriff Jess Slaughter, deputies A. J. Merrick and D. D. Dunn and John Spence, special agent for the Texas and Pacific railroad, was returning from Westbrook and just east of Coahoma met the two escaped prisoners walking. Officers drove on to Coahoma, turned around and started back after the men to avoid possible failure should the men suspect the car contained officers. Driving up behind the two men, Deputy A. J. Merrick stepped to the running board and ordered hands up. Bryant Fleming, alias Joe Pain, recognized the command, but Willis, Fleming's companion, made a break for freedom. Deputy Dunn and Mr. Spence gave chase with guns leveled at the ground barking at frequent intervals and enhancing Fleming's leg work. After a chase of more than 200 yards, Spence pounced upon Fleming who had been thrown to the ground after running headlong into a five strand barb wire fence.

Held In Angelo. C. E. Keese, one of the escaped prisoners who has not been indicted is being held by San Angelo officers who captured him Monday evening in that city. Keese was injured in a fall from the second floor of the jail building when the improvised rope blanket strips broke early Monday morning. He was making slow progress on Highway No. 9 and was picked up by a motorist who reported to San Angelo officers. Arrest of the man followed.

Reuel F. Brown, who is under one year penitentiary sentence for liquor law violation was captured in southern Nolan county Monday. T. E. Goyme, the fifth prisoner recaptured, walked into the sheriff's office Tuesday morning and gave himself up. He said he had spent the night with his wife and baby and that he was ready to return to jail.

All Hope Lost For Life of Mrs. B. C. Rix

Hope for the recovery of Mrs. B. C. Rix, mother of Harvey L. Rix of Big Spring, was abandoned Tuesday morning, Mr. Rix was informed. He left immediately for the bedside. He had been with her Saturday and Sunday.

Two other sons, Jed and Wallace, and a daughter, Miss Ruth Rix, with Mr. B. C. Rix, reside in Lubbock and with her at the bedside. Mrs. Rix suffered a series of heart attacks last week and at her advanced age, it had been felt for several days her recovery was unlikely.

The Rix family settled in Big Spring in the '30s, coming here from Wisconsin. They have been prominently identified with the commercial, civic and religious life of the community.

Indicted For Deaths Of "Bank Robbers"

John Alsop, former policeman, who with one other man was indicted for murder Tuesday in connection with the killing of two negro men who were shot as they ran from a bank in Polytechnic, Fort Worth, suburb. The state charges Alsop and others "framed" the robbery, using the negroes as tools with which to collect the standing reward of $5,000 for dead bank robbers.

BANKERS CHARGED

Samuels and Baker Accused of Part In Failure

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 22 (AP)—Charges of misapplication of $1,297,363 in Texas National Bank funds and of false entry in an individual account were filed today in federal court against E. B. Samuels, president, and A. L. Baker, vice-president, of the defunct institution, by Norman A. Dodge, United States district attorney.

Warrants were issued for their arrest. Samuels was in St. Luke's Hospital in New York since about April 16. Service on him will be obtained by the United States marshal's office in New York.

Baker is in Fort Worth. "The complaint alleges that Samuels and Baker made and caused to be made a false entry in an individual ledger of the Tarrant county water control and improvement district No. 1 construction fund. The alleged false entry, claimed to have been in the amount of $1,274,593.98, was under date of January 31, 1930, the day on which the bank closed its doors, the government contends.

Misapplication of the amount of alleged false entries took place on or about that date, the complaint charges. Department of justice agents began a search for a package, believed to have contained $35,000 in currency, which they claimed was taken out of the vault of the bank after the institution had closed its doors.

Election To Replace Lee Will Be Called

AUSTIN, Tex., April 22 (AP)—Governor Moody will issue a proclamation within the next few days setting a date for the special election in the 17th congressional district to fill the vacancy left by the death of Congressman R. Q. Lee in the National House of Representatives, he announced yesterday.

He said the law directed the governor to call an election "immediately when a vacancy occurred" and he would carry out its provisions. He recalled that special elections were held in the 10th and 13th districts, following resignation of Albert Burleson to become Postmaster General of the United States and the accidental death of Lucian Parrish, J. P. Buchanan and Gwinn Williams, respectively, having been elected to the vacancies.

SOUTH PLAINS BANKERS ASSOCIATION CHOOSES BIG SPRING FOR NEXT YEAR

The South Plains Bankers' Association, at conclusion of its annual convention in Plainview Monday, chose Big Spring as the 1931 convention site.

Clay McCarroll (left), senior at Lincoln Memorial university, Harrogate, Tenn., against whom a temporary injunction was issued forbidding him from agitating a student strike, is seen standing in Virginia addressing a group of student strikers seated in Tennessee. The injunction was granted in Tennessee. The university is within ten miles of the intersection of the state lines of Tennessee, Virginia and Kentucky.

Honor Students of Big Spring Graduating Class Announced

Miss Reta Debenport is valedictorian of the Big Spring High School with an average grade for four years of 97. Not only that, but Miss Debenport holds the additional honor of being the highest ranking student in the high school for as far back as the records go. Ninety four is the lowest grade that Miss Debenport has ever made and once when she was a freshman she made a semester grade of 100 in Latin. This last is one of the most unusual of Miss Debenport's achievements. Miss Debenport won for two years the highest grade in the district Latin tournament in Abilene, and with Charlie Wegg is the holder of two cups for the winning Latin team.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Debenport, 655 Scurry street.

Miss Dora McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. McDonald, 606 Gregg, is salutatorian with an average of 90.91

Miss Margaret Bettie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bettie, 700 Nolan street, is honor student with an average of 90.73. James Rippe, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Rippe, is highest ranking boy with an average of 84.2.

These averages cover a four-year period, and no student is eligible for honors in the Big Spring High School unless he or she has been enrolled in the school for at least three years.

Three Promise Reduction, Two Limitation

LONDON, April 22 (AP)—Representatives of the five dominant naval powers of the world, America, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, this afternoon affixed their signatures to an epoch-making treaty, limiting and reducing the navies of three of them, and restricting the navies of the other two.

Colonel Henry L. Stimson, American secretary of state, and his colleagues on the American delegation, were the first to sign the historic document. M. Briand, French foreign minister, J. Ramsay MacDonald, British prime minister and Admiral Gaiseppe Siranni with their delegations followed.

Ketjuro Wakatsuki, former prime minister of Japan, and those of the Tokyo delegation who have worked with him through the three months and one day of long and difficult negotiations, were the last of the five power representatives to affix their signatures.

THE WEATHER. West Texas: Partly cloudy, probably showers in extreme west portion tonight and Wednesday.

500 ATTEND EXHIBITION

Representative Work Of Schools Viewed By Parents

It is estimated that about 500 parents visited the city schools yesterday to view representative specimens of students on display, according to George Gentry, principle of the high school.

Each department of the schools and the various rooms put out displays of the students' work. Good, medium and poor work was alike represented.

In the ancient history classes under Clara Poel a special project of "Dress through the Ages" was carried out. This project was illustrated with pictures of the various stages of dress and undress that man went through.

In the home economics department the clothing classes under the direction of Miss Helen Fay Bonner displayed their finished projects, including house dresses, ensembles, underclothing, and evening dresses. The cooking classes served punch to the visitors and had notebooks on display.

The language department displayed A. B. C. books and calendars in the different languages. An interesting display in the English department was a model stage depicting a scene in "Romeo and Juliet." Book reports, themes, and other papers were also on display.

Old clipper ships, log cabins set up with the surrounding details carefully worked out, and airplane models were other exhibits of the history department.

In the science department experiments were performed all day. These showed the process of blue-printing; a model electric light system, hook-up for a telegraph key, and model steam and gasoline engines. This department is under the direction of Frank Boyle. Unusual pencil sketches were shown in the sixth and seventh grade art departments, and tin-foil and glass pictures made by a special process were also on display.

PROBE PUTS ONE GUARD OFF FORCE

Convicts Die Like Flies In Ohio Prison Holocaust

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 22 (AP)—Thomas Watkinson, guard suspended last night by Warden P. E. Thomas on a charge of refusing to give up his keys or open the corridor door to the cell block where 317 convicts died, testified today before Governor Cooper's investigating committee that Captain John Hall of the penitentiary night guard had commanded him not to open the door.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 22 (AP)—A clash between county and state authorities in the investigation of the disastrous Ohio penitentiary fire here last night and the suspension of a prison guard who was charged with having refused to give up keys to cells in which 317 convicts perished, today marked the progress of the inquiry into the tragic blaze. One hundred thirty other prisoners were in the penitentiary hospital, and a score of these were in a critical condition.

WHAT IF—Should fire break out in the main plant of the Texas prison, a catastrophe such as the one that befell Ohio would probably result. Governor Moody said today.

"It is appalling to contemplate the results of a fire in the Huntsville prison," Governor Moody said. "The prisoners would either perish or it would be necessary for us to open the gates and turn them loose."

"Conditions at the Columbus prison were virtually similar to those existing in Texas."

Clash. The clash came early in the day when, after Franklin county prosecutor John J. Chester, Jr., had recommended suspension of Warden Preston E. Thomas pending investigation and had ordered telephones removed from the warden's office, Governor Myers T. Cooper stepped in. The state's chief executive took the investigation out of the hands of Chester by naming his state director of welfare and attorney general to conduct the inquiry.

After the governor acted, Chester said Mr. Cooper had taken all power out of his hands and placed complete power with state officials. He took a part in the investigation hearing, however.

Senator C. C. Small Seeks Moody's Seat

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 22 (AP)—State Senator C. C. Small of Wellington announced here today he would be a candidate in the gubernatorial democratic primary, July 24. Small's campaign headquarters will be established in Fort Worth within a week, he said. He did not announce his platform, explaining his formal announcement will be made shortly. "I am in the race to stay, and I will make a militant campaign all over the state," he said.

SPORTS ON PARADE

By STANLEY NORMAN

LET'S SEND THEM

We care not how expensive money is obtained, but we do firmly believe Captain Buren Edwards, Henry Richbourg and Coach Bill Stevens should be sent to Austin next Saturday to the state interscholastic league track and field meet.

Edwards has slaved hard, has brought more recognition to Big Spring so far as track is concerned than any other athlete. He deserves an opportunity to show what he can do among best in the state. Edwards stepped out at Abilene Saturday and shaved sevenths of a second from the district hurdle record. Sevenths of a precious second over a distance of 130 yards sprinkled with high hurdles is quite an accomplishment.

RACE HORSE

Furthermore, Edwards' time of 10.2 in the century will at least place in the state meet. The time does not seem so sensational, but just the same it will place in the state relays. The high school boys that click 10 seconds consistently throughout dual and triangular meets all drop down to 10.1 or 10.2 in the larger events because of the strain running as many as four races in the same event during the day. Usually three races in the more popular events is all required, but few can go at a top speed throughout an entire day without showing down toward dusk.

PROBLEM

If finances are arranged and Coach Stevens takes his two men team to Austin, the coach will have a hard time selecting two events in which Edwards stands the best chance of winning or placing. He will probably pick the high hurdles and 100-yard dash, but his ability in the 200-yard low hurdle race must be considered of some value.

WHAT A CHANCE

We have at hand a circular letter from the Philadelphia Public Ledger syndicate offering a series of feature stories written by no less personage than Arthur (The Great) Shires. The letter states that Shires is writing his own copy and that no "ghost" will dilute the pungency of his native style. Of course on the tail end of the letter is attached the sale consideration.

The subject of Shires' advent into writing circles forces one to wonder if he will soon claim the title of the world's greatest journalist.

NIGHT HAWKS

Several baseball fans who have probably wondered how flood lights installed on a diamond can be adjusted to illuminate the playing field for grounders and the skies for high drives. It is still a mystery to us, but we are ready to take the word of Mike Lyons of the Independence Daily Reporter of Independence, Kan., that such is possible.

In a newspaper of last Friday handed us by a friend, we find a detailed account of a night baseball game played in Independence under the glow of projectors and flood lights. Outfielders played errorless baseball throughout and one club cracked out a total of 15 safeties. Testimonials from players participating in the game declare there is no difference between night baseball and that played under the warm glow of the sun.

However, it is necessary for outfielders to be speedy. They say it is hard to judge a fly ball until it starts falling. Apparently there were no line drives smacked during this particular game at Independence for players expressed different views on that type of hit. Some thought they will be hard to follow while others expressed the belief that the ferocious shoulder high drive will present no unusual difficulties.

Bobby Honored On Eve of Trip

ATLANTA, April 22 (AP)—Bobby Jones tucked a new good luck piece from Atlanta friends across his waistcoat today and gave his favorite golf clubs a final polish for the British trip that will inaugurate one of the most ambitious tournament programs of the emperor of the links has undertaken.

Some 200 admirers of the emperor of the links gathered at a farewell dinner last night. Eugene R. Block, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank, who was toastmaster, presented Bobby with a watch chain to which was attached a representation of a four leaf clover.

Bobby will leave Atlanta Thursday night and sail from New York April 30 to participate in the Walker cup matches, the British Open and the British Amateur Championships.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 22 (AP)—Stung by yesterday's shut out, the Rice Owls hoped to do a comeback in the second of their baseball series with Baylor University today. Baylor won yesterday 5 to 0.

COSDEN AND BARBERS TO PLAY FIRST

City League Season Opens Sunday, April 27

The Cosden Oilers and Barbers were selected Monday night at a city league baseball meeting to blast the lid from the 108 game schedule next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Bankers and Laundrymen will play Monday and T & P will tangle with Richco Tuesday afternoon to complete the first round of games.

Directors made an effort to select the two most formidable clubs to open the season. Whether or not the selection will bring together the two strongest teams is a problem, but practice bouts played during the training season indicate the two outfits are evenly matched and will entertain fans who turn out for the opener.

With first round of the schedule arranged, managers turned their attention to the final week of practice before the season starts. After Sunday's opening game with which will be presented all the details of a major league lid blasting, games will be played each afternoon possible, excepting Saturdays, for the next 18 weeks.

Volunteer workers will devote all time necessary during the present week to place the park in first class condition. Lumber will be provided to repair the fence and other appointments at the park will be made as convenient as possible with limited finances.

Nominal admission charges will be made at all city league games to defray operating expenses. It is not the intention of those interested in providing baseball for fans this summer to make money, but it is decidedly essential that no deficit be incurred. Therefore, directors of the league anticipate that fans will be glad to pay the nominal admission charges for the sake of entertaining baseball during the summer months.

National Loop Hitters Pound Out 9 Homers

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pitchers have been grabbing the headlines so often this baseball season that National League batters have found it necessary to take them down a peg or two.

Batters yesterday blasted out ninety safe hits, nine of them home runs.

The day's batting honors went to the New York Giants who smashed out 14 safeties including four for the circuit to beat the Phils, 8-6, and chalk up their fourth successive win without a defeat.

Wilson, Hartnett and Beck hit homers as the Chicago Cubs whipped Cincinnati, 9 to 1. All told the Cubs collected 14 safe hits off four Red pitchers.

Del Bissonette was the big noise in a 16-hit attack the Brooklyn Robins launched against the Braves to win, 15-8. Bissonette drove in seven runs with a homer, triple and single.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, made good use of their seven hits to beat St. Louis, 6-4. The Cards collected nine safeties but Brame was effective in the pinches.

Pitchers dominated the American League games. Irving Hadley of the Washington Senators was too much for the Philadelphia Athletics, and the A's went down to their first defeat of the season, 6-3.

Clint Brown, rookie pitcher, held Detroit to five hits and Cleveland won without trouble, 6-1.

Ted Lyons was the whole show as the Chicago White Sox nosed out St. Louis, 3-2, in ten innings. Lyons held the Browns to five hits and scored the winning run in the tenth when he tripled and came home on Ernie Smith's single.

The Yankees and Red Sox had an open date.

SAM HOUSTON WINS

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., April 22 (AP)—Sam Houston College swamped Southwestern University in a dual track meet here yesterday, taking nine out of fifteen first places, and a total of 76 1-2 points to 40 1-2 for Southwestern.

Stalling Offers Serious Threat To Popularity Of Hardwood Game

By LOWELL M. PUCKETT
International News Service
Sports Writer

Basketball, a comparatively new sport, owes its tremendous popularity, in the main, to two things—speed and action. Rob the game of these two attributes and you have little more than glorified medicine ball tossing. And medicine ball tossing, whether Cabinet members or schoolboys do the tossing, is a dreary thing to watch, indeed.

Thus it is perfectly natural that basketball lovers, including fans as well as coaches should be somewhat alarmed over the "stalling" methods being adopted by so many court teams. Stalling, let it be explained, is the business of doing nothing in a slow and leisurely manner. It used to be that basketball teams stalled only in the last few minutes of the game, and then to protect a slender lead. This was bad enough, but now, what with so many coaches adopting the delayed or "slow-breaking" offense, many games are played in which only infrequent flashes of fast play occur.

The height of stalling was reached recently in an Illinois high school game. The final score was 1 to 2. The winning team, having scored a free throw early in the first period retired to one end of the court and took it easy. They sat on the floor. They conversed with spectators. Refused to take the offense. Their opponents, unfortunately, had little initiative, so the game resulted in a most farcical exhibition.

There is no quarrel with the coach who adopts the slow breaking method of advancing the ball if the idea is really to take the ball down the floor. But the deliberate stalling is coming in for quite a bit of condemnation in the Middle West.

Craig Ruby, University of Illinois coach and president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches, has become so concerned over the stalling question that he has addressed a questionnaire to more than 800 coaches asking for statistics on total scoring, stalling, and other kindred subjects. The information gathered will be sent to the rules committee of the coaches' association and to the joint rules committee which formulates the national code.

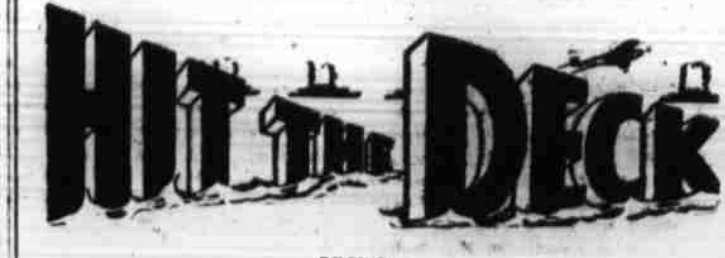

Ruby's questionnaire is as follows:

How many games, including tournaments, did your team play?
In how many games was the total scoring of both teams less than 57 10? 15? 20? 25?
In how many games was stalling begun in the first quarter? Second? Third? Fourth?
In how many games, when stalling began, did the defense come down immediately and force the game?
Would you favor some change in the rules which would make it impossible for a team to stall for any length of time? In other words, would you favor some rule which would force offensive basketball and make impossible the distasteful stalling games which have been frequent during the season?
In how many games was the "fast break" used all the time by one team or the other?
Do you want the jump center retained?
Has the "no catching" rule at the center jump and held ball been satisfactory?

LONGHORNS USE 16 FRAMES TO DEFEAT AGGIES 2 TO 1

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., April 22 (AP)—Taking ten innings to do it, the Longhorns from the University of Texas eked out a 2 to 1 baseball victory over the Aggies here yesterday in one of the sharpest ball games seen this year at College Station. Big Foot Lewis, Texas right fielder, stole home for the winning score.

The University of Chicago's new field house will seat only 9,000, although ticket demands sometimes reach twice that number. The sports department says it is not conducting athletics for profit.

EXPORTERS AGAIN TOP FLAG CHASE

Dallas Breaks Losing Streak With Dave Danforth Hurling

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

There is no telling what will befall the Beaumont Exporters when they invade the northern end of the loop two days hence, but it is fast becoming evident that the crew of sluggers gathered by owner Rube Stewart constitutes the most serious threat from the southern half of the Texas League.

After a brief tumble down the ladder, the Shippers were back at the helm again today propelled there by the power of their attack. By swamping Waco, 12 to 4, in their opener at Katy Park, Del Baker's clouters broke their three-cornered tie with Wichita Falls and Shreveport. As they have two more bouts with the Cubs and fine prospects of winning both of them, the Exporters might invade the north country with a sizable lead over the field.

In dumping Wichita Falls off the top with a 5 to 3 triumph Dallas broke a losing streak that had reached five straight. The Herd's makeshift line-up belted Earl Caldwell for 11 hits, including a homer by Willingham. Dave Danforth turned in a fine game. Nine hits were made off his delivery, but he was poison in the pinches, whiffing six.

Shreveport accompanied the Spuds in their drop to second place by losing their opener to the Cats at Fort Worth, 4 to 2, incidentally breaking a winning streak that had begun to assume fancy proportions. Dick Whitworth allowed the slugger Sports just four hits to chalk up his second straight victory.

The Houston Buffs greeted San Antonio with an 8 to 3 pasting in a free-hitting match, maintaining their hold on fourth place. The Buffs slammed 12 hits off three Buff chumpers, one more than the win-

Women Golfers Off For Isles

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—Their eyes fixed on a few of Europe's prize trophies, nearly a score of American women athletes sail aboard the Berengaria tonight for England.

Carnera Barred From California Fight Stadiums

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22 (AP)—By a drastic ruling of the California Athletic Commission, Primo Carnera, gigantic Italian boxer, today stood barred from rings of the state, the result of the unsatisfactory ending of his recent bout with Leon Chevalier, San Francisco negro.

The commission also revoked the boxing license of Carnera, together with that of his manager, Leon See.

Carnera collected off the same number of enemy moundsmen, but had less luck in bunting them. Five San Antonio errors figured in the scoring.

CONOCO IS NOT THE ONLY OIL THAT IS DE-WAXED, BUT IT IS THE ONE AND ONLY LUBRICANT THAT CAN BE GERM-PROCESSED!

SIX months ago Conoco announced that it was ready with a new motor oil. On that day, the entire facilities of Conoco were placed behind this product. Every advantage known to other oils was incorporated in this new lubricant. Paraffin base . . . de-waxed . . . zero fluidity . . . high flash and fire . . . full-body . . . and then to cap it all, the Germ Process, possessed by no other oil! The exclusive Germ Process, by adding an oily-essence lacking in all other oils, gives to this oil an entirely new characteristic — "Penetrative Lubricity"—the faculty of penetrating and combining with metal surfaces.

Every hope for performance and protection in motor oil . . . everything you have known that an oil should be . . . is definitely present in this fastest-selling oil in oil history. Anything else we could say would be anticlimax. We do ask that you verify our pledge, accept our challenge, at the next Conoco Red Triangle you see. Will you?

"NO MEDICINE IN ALL THE WORLD LIKE KONJOLA"

TULSA LADY ENTHUSIASTIC. "NEVER DREAMED THERE WAS SUCH A MEDICINE," SHE SAYS

MRS. LULA PUGH

"There is no medicine in all the world like Konjola," said Mrs. Lula Pugh, 910 East Fifth street, Tulsa. "Some months ago, after an attack of the 'flu,' I found myself badly run down. My digestion was poor, I could not sleep and was rapidly losing weight and vitality. I bloated after meals and suffered severe pains in my stomach and lower abdomen. I tried many medicines and treatments but nothing seemed to do me any good. "The best decision I ever made was to give Konjola a trial. In three weeks this great compound had made a new person of me. I had a fine appetite and my digestion was better than it had been in many years. I am going on with the treatment for I am steadily gaining in weight, strength and vitality. I never dreamed so many virtues could be assigned to one medicine. I know now why Konjola has become known as the medicine with a million friends." Konjola works with the important functionary organs of the body. It drives the poisons from the body, regulates the organs, of elimination and digestion, and prepares the way for glorious and abundant health. It is recommended that Konjola be taken from six to eight weeks in order to secure the best and most lasting results. Konjola is sold in Big Spring at Collins Drug store, and by all the best druggists in the country throughout this entire section, adv.

SAYS IT WAS A BIG SURPRISE

YOUNG BUSINESS WOMAN IN CHARGE COFFEE SHOP, NAYLOR HOTEL, SAN ANGELO PRAISES ORGATONE

"I have gained wonderfully in health on three bottles of Argotane and feel like my old self again," said Miss Billie Preston, in charge of the coffee shop, Naylor Hotel. "I was in a very much run down condition," she explained, "from stomach disturbances, and most everything I would eat gave me trouble. My food would sour on my stomach and form gas that made me miserable for hours. My nerves were all on edge so I got little rest at night and when morning came I was most as tired as I was when I went to bed. I had headaches most all the time and felt so wretched and no-account I hardly had any life or energy left to do anything. "I heard so many people telling about the good that Argotane had done them that I decided to try it. The way it took hold of my trouble was one grand surprise and I hardly know how to begin telling of all the benefit I have derived from using it. I can say, though, came from the warden. He said guards, intent upon rescuing the trapped men, had been refused entrance to the burning ranges by guards Thomas Watkinson, and that they were forced to take a key from him before they could open any of the cell doors. The heat drove them back before they finished the task and 317 convicts died in the inferno of barred cells.

Watkinson's excuse for refusing to give up the key, the warden said he was told, was that he had no order to do so.

Reasons

Under questioning by assistant attorney general Godwin, Warden Thomas said Guards Little and Baldwin were preparing to go on duty on the ill fated blocks when the fire started. Guard Watkinson, suspended pending investigation, had the keys to the cages leading to the ranges, he said. Asked who locked in the men he replied the 12 day guards before they went off duty. He explained they turned in their keys in the guard room.

Little and Baldwin told him, the warden said, that they took the G and H tier cell keys and went on a run toward the fire. They asked Watkinson to open the corridor door, but he refused, they said, saying he had no order to do so. They said they took the key from him, opened the corridors and then started to open the cells.

Was Crowded

The penitentiary housed 4,300 convicts, some 2,500 above the capacity for which it was intended, when the fire, believed of incendiary origin, and fanned by a stiff wind, swept through the upper tiers of the four blocks, spreading death and suffering in its wake.

The flames were discovered shortly before 5:30 p. m. Within several hours the fire had been brought under control, but the suffocating smoke continued to take its toll among the convicts. In the adjoining cell blocks men screamed to be released. And when the prison officials capitulated to their demands the wide penitentiary yard became a streaming mass of gray clothed men.

Before two hours had passed this mass of men, picking their way among the countless bodies spread over the yard, became a threatening menace. Some of them cut the fire hose which continued to play upon flames that spread to the prison cotton and woolen mills. Others hurled stones and slugged the guards that were trying to maintain order. In the dining hall dishes and tables were upset.

Guarded

Every available policeman in Columbus was summoned for duty both within the prison and on the outside. A sub-machine gun in the guard room protected the entrance to the prison yard.

Two companies of regular army troops and 1,500 Ohio national guardsmen were stationed at strategic places about the penitentiary. Every guard on both day and night shifts was on duty.

When the thousands of milling prisoners in the yard were ordered to assemble in the dining room many refused. Later they were ordered into the remaining cell blocks and dormitories, but they insisted upon staying in the yard, crowding about the bodies arranged in long rows five and six deep.

Scenes of confusion and terror accompanied the outburst of the flames. They started in the northwest corner of a new building of cell blocks, part of which still was under construction, not more than half an hour after prisoners working on the job returned to their

In Several Places

Apparently the flames broke out in several places simultaneously, officials said. Everything pointed to incendiaryism, they indicated.

Linton G. Schooley, Cleveland councilman serving a term for participation in a playground fraud, was at work in the deputy warden's office on the opposite side of the prison yard. He saw smoke rising from the cell blocks.

About the same time Charley Sholley, prisoner quartered in the damaged building, sounded an alarm on range two of section H. Sholley, a practical joker, was not taken seriously by his fellow convicts until they saw the red reflection in the windows of a manufacturing plant near the penitentiary.

Then a great scream emanated from sections G and H. In each there were six ranges of seventeen cells, housing four prisoners to the cell. The flames and the smoke were eating toward them rapidly.

William C. Baldwin and Tom Little, guard captains, dashed to the flaming building with keys to the cells.

Issues Keys

At the same time other guards ran to the deputies' office where Schooley, in the absence of officers, began handing out orders and issued all the keys he had.

Guards Baldwin and Little rushed into the smoke filled building, took the keys to the ranges from the day guards and started unlocking cells as quickly as they could. Meanwhile, fire companies, answering four alarms, spread every foot of hose available.

As the guards released convicts from one range, they climbed to the next. Men were choking and gasping for breath. Many joined in the rescue work.

After he had unlocked the last cell on the fourth range Little collapsed. Four inmates carried him out. Baldwin struggled on to the fifth tier; then, he too collapsed and was carried to safety.

Ghastly Sight

On the fourth and fifth ranges death took its toll rapidly. The lungs of the trapped men were filled with smoke. Ghastly sighted men lay on the floor clutching with pale, white fingers at the bars that held them.

Others were stretched across and under their bunks. Some had tried to bury their heads in the lavatories in the cells, and still others had grabbed their blankets and tore their shirts from their backs to drench them with water and place them over their heads.

Streams of water swished through the mesh and the iron bars and formed rivulets in which the faces of fallen men were buried.

Hundreds had been carried from the structure and above the heads of the rescuers in the sixth and last range were more than a hundred others who could not possibly be saved. Bed mattresses and the coats were masses of flames.

Locks Battered

Locks on the cells were battered away with sledge hammers. The mesh walls of the ranges were cut away with wire cutters. Hose lines, winding a path up the flights of stairs got in the road of stumbling men.

Outside the smoke filled building the scene resembled a field of battle strewn with corpses.

At first, the prisoners who had escaped emerged in pairs carrying a comrade by the arm and feet. They hurried across a small clearing covered with new lumber and dropped the victims into the grass.

Then they knelt beside the choked men, turned them on their stomachs and applied methods of resuscitation. For a while this revived the victims, but soon they came so fast that the band of convicts found themselves stumbling over each other, dropping the men they had carried out and hurrying back for others.

Groans and feeble cries, from the lips of the victims and words of encouragement and shrieks of terror from the men who were working over them rose from the ground. Seared and blackened faces bespoke the futility of pondering over men who already were dead.

Out of the guard room door poured doctors, internes, nurses, priests, and ministers. Dying men cried for the last rites of the church. Medical men, some without hats or coats and others in uniforms of white tramped over the ground, which became soggy under the burden of many feet.

Two hours after the fire started daylight had faded away and weary, troubled men worked on under the rays of the arc lights that gave the prison yard a dismal appearance.

Disturbance

It was about this time that muttering prisoners, chilled to the bone in the night air because they would not obey orders to go inside, started disturbances that caused much alarm.

Idle prisoners assembled in small groups in the prison yard. The guards could do nothing with them. Stones flew through the air occasionally, and once a band of men rushed a gasoline supply truck that had been brought into the yard and tried to set it afire. Several prisoners intervened, were pelted with tin cups and dashed away.

But the men apparently convinced themselves there was little to be gained by adding to the appalling situation created by the fire. The groups thinned out to mere handfuls. They took to their bunks.

This morning the scene of death shifted to the fair-grounds where a small army of undertakers worked through the night preparing the bodies for burial. One hundred guardsmen were on duty there, patrolling the grounds to keep away the morbidly curious.

ONLY ONE ESCAPES

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 22 (AP)—Only one convict escaped Ohio penitentiary following last night's appalling fire, it was reported today. Michael Born, 32, sent up from Wood county in 1929 to serve one to 15 years for burglary, was recorded as missing from the hospital, where he was treated last night.

Officials expressed belief he had disguised himself and escaped out the main door.

AMERADA AND SKELLY HAVE ECTOR WELL

Production Is Boosted From Gulf Test To 1200 Bbls.

Another producer for the Penn pool of Ector county was indicated early this week when Skelly Oil Company and Amerada Petroleum Corporation's No. A-1 University topped the regular pay at 3,610 ft.

The well is 990 feet from the north line and 440 feet from the east line of section 1, block 33, and a quarter-mile north of Cadden No. A-1 University. If the well is completed for commercial production which now seems almost assured, it will mark a northern extension of the field. Skelly-Amerada's No. A-1 University has an elevation of 2,925 feet, topped anhydrite at 1,045 feet, topped the salt at 1,090 ft., had a showing of gas at 3,180 feet, topped brown lime at 3,190 feet and cemented 5-8 inch casing at 3,415 feet.

Immediately after topping pay at 3,160 feet, Skelly-Amerada's No. A-1 University was shut down temporarily while operators installed a control head and made connections to storage on the lease.

Gulf No. 1 University, 330 feet from the south line and 440 feet from the east line of section 1, block 35, produced 1,200 barrels of oil during 24 hours ending Sunday. In absence of further details, it is presumed the well had been shot as it flowed and swabbed only 115 barrels during 24 hours ending last Thursday evening. Later the well was deepened to 3,665 feet and it was announced that the well would be shot if no increase was encountered.

Baylor Graduate Admits Robber

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 22.—Charges of robbery with arms will be filed against E. J. Gillispie, 26, who claims to be a graduate of Baylor University medical school and admits having held up a filling station here Sunday night.

Gillispie told city detectives was his "first job" and related story of hard work to complete education and then fruitless search for a job. He was arrested in a room after a taxi driver had reported to detectives he thought was the man who had robbed filling station.

His father was a surgeon, mother was a nurse and his brothers soldiers in the Canadian army during the world war, he related. All were killed in France.

Forced to shift for himself, Gillispie said, he worked his way through Baylor University by teaching music. Last winter, he said, he received his A. B. degree from Baylor, but did not have money to continue his medical work.

After that, the man related, he taught music in the Waco public schools for a time, then went to Los Angeles. California proved no better than Texas, he said, and he worked his way back—hitch-hiking and doing odd jobs—through Salt Lake City and Kansas City.

Husband Shoots Ex-Convict Who Was Wife's Love

PAMPA, Tex., April 22.—(AP) Ralph Watkins, 28, who returned Saturday from serving a prison term in California to find Vera Cox, former comrade, married to the girl for whose affections they had once been rivals, was dead today. Cox was charged with murder after Watkins was shot to death yesterday in front of Cox's home.

He was arrested several hours later at Boise City, Oklahoma, and deputy sheriffs went to return him to Pampa.

Watkins was under a charge of pipe theft before going to California. His father, Bill Watkins, was killed last July fourth by John Bowman, Bowman, under life sentence in this case, escaped from the Amarillo jail while the case was on appeal and is now a fugitive.

COATED TONGUE

Often Sign of Biliousness That Indicates the Need of Black-Draught.

Austin, Texas.—"In the sixteen years of my own housekeeping, Theford's Black-Draught has been my best stand-by in the way of medicine," says Mrs. J. M. Rich, 1700 Holly Street, this city.

"I have found Black-Draught to be the best medicine I have ever used for the relief of colds. I have been using it in my home for years.

"My father used it also in his home and gave it to my children. Whenever we had the usual children's complaints, mother would make up a tea of Black-Draught and give us. We always felt better after taking it.

"I also give it to my children when they have colds or upset stomachs. Sometimes they get fever from biliousness. If they begin to get yellow, or their tongues coated, I make a tea of Black-Draught and give to them in small doses. They don't mind taking it at all.

In thousands of families, Theford's Black-Draught has a corner all its own on the medicine shelves. In use nearly 100 years, Theford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable medicine, free from harmful mineral drugs. (Costs only 1 cent a dose.)

Since 1926 - Thousands of Texas Motorists Have Relied on Flashlike Ethyl to STOP THAT KNOCK

With the coming of high-compression motors and the tendency of many motors to knock from carbon, the Humble Oil & Refining Company realized several years ago that an advanced fuel of superior anti-knock value was needed if motorists were to get the most out of their cars. The result was the introduction in 1926 of Ethyl Gasoline (now known as Flashlike Ethyl Gasoline)—a super-fuel made possible by scientific discoveries in the General Motors Research Laboratories and in those of the Humble Oil & Refining Company.

During the past four years, this new motor fuel has been adopted by thousands of Texas motorists. Today, in every part of the state, it is bringing to motorists a new type of car performance.

Flashlike Ethyl Gasoline is a combination of Flashlike Gasoline plus Ethyl Compound, the principal ingredient of which is tetra-ethyl lead. Since Flashlike Gasoline has an initial boiling point of 110° and end-point of 400°, it is in itself one of the finest fuels on the market. Combined with Ethyl Compound, it gives remarkable results. Flashlike Ethyl Gasoline absolutely eliminates "fuel knocks"—both in high-compression motors and in motors that knock from carbon. It affords smoother performance at all speeds, with less vibration and greatly increased power.

Your car does things it could never do before. It starts more easily, warms up more quickly, gets away faster and runs more swiftly. You pull hills in high that you formerly had to take in second. And in traffic, the motor is more flexible. Since there is little need for choking, and Flashlike Ethyl burns clean, there is less dilution of your motor oil. Each quart of oil lasts longer and seals compression better, affording added power. Velvet-smooth operation and elimination of most carbon troubles add to the life of any motor. This, with the increased satisfaction and enjoyment you get out of your car, makes Flashlike Ethyl Gasoline an economic fuel to use—regardless of the three cents extra per gallon you are asked to pay for it.

Use Velvet Motor Oil with Flashlike Ethyl Gasoline. This heat and wear-resisting oil will assure safe lubrication of your motor at all speeds and all temperatures—and it adds to your motor's power through its dependable compression seal Sold wherever you see the Humble Sign.

Christian Volunteer Army Man Protest Treatment in City

Leo H. Down, state organizer for the Christian Volunteer Army, called at The Herald office Monday morning and lodged a protest against what he termed unfair treatment in Big Spring.

Mr. Down displayed what appeared to be bonafide credentials contained in both certificate and news clipping form. He said prejudice against his organization had been generated through a news story appearing in The Herald obtained through the Chamber of Commerce in which it was stated solicitation was not endorsed by the commercial body.

Mr. Down said he is working with a worthy organization, incorporated under laws in this country and is entitled to all constitutional rights.

City and School Boards to Open Bids this Evening

Two sets of bonds totalling $380,000 against property in and near Big Spring will be offered to the highest bidder Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the county courtroom, according to announcements from V. R. Smitham, city manager, and W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of Big Spring public schools.

Bids on municipal bonds of $265,000 will be opened and considered first, Mr. Smitham said, and then proposals for purchase of $125,000 in bonds against the Big Spring independent school district will be reviewed.

Citizens of Big Spring and those residing within limits of the independent school district were extended an invitation to attend the meeting Tuesday evening and listen to proceedings.

City bonds were offered for sale at previous meeting, but on motion of R. T. Piner, then commissioner, all bids were rejected and the sale date ordered reset. Some present at the session charged bond buyers had an understanding and voiced the opinion that bonds against a city of Big Spring's proportions should not be sold under par.

Money derived from the sale of city bonds will be used in making water works and sewer extensions and improvements and to pay the city's portion of 20 per cent on the Benton street viaduct.

"School bond money is to be used in construction of adequate buildings, improvements to the buildings now in use and for acquiring permanent school property."

R. Q. Lee Buried in Cisco CISCO, Tex., April 22 (AP)—Congressman R. Q. Lee was buried here yesterday while hundreds of West Texas friends and three colleagues in the United States Congress paid their last tributes.

Congressman Daniel E. Garrett, his close associate in the House, and Senators Sheppard and Connally eulogized the man who made a name in the business and farming world before starting on a political career. Services were held at the First Baptist Church.

"His life," said Senator Sheppard, "is a demonstration that the most powerful forces are the quiet ones."

These services are a part of a series held over the state within the past three months called "fellowship of prayer" services, stressing a call back to former spirituality in church life. The series are unique in that no honorarium has been paid the preachers holding any of the meetings. Most of them have been conducted by the pastors. The local church, together with the pastor, Rev. R. L. Owen, feel fortunate in securing the services of Dr. Caldwell for the series.

Using Genesis 12:3 for a text, Dr. Caldwell stressed the thought that everyone might be a blessing to all the families of the earth. The evangelist stated that the promise wrought changes in the life of Abraham, the first of which was fellowship in prayer. Abraham had nothing in material goods with which to bless the world but began a fellowship with God in prayer as he set up altars at every sojourn. He continued with the thought that only a return to the family altar can bring a revival of old-fashioned spirituality and fellowship with God.

Loan Fund Topic Of San Antonian At Rotary Club

Soundness and helpfulness of student loan funds of Rotary and other service clubs was the topic of an address before the local Rotarians at their weekly luncheon in the Episcopal Pariah House Tuesday noon. The speaker was William T. Elliott of San Antonio.

The San Antonio club has helped 211 boys and girls through college and its loan fund for that purpose now totals $40,000.

"From 1921 to this day we have not loaned funds to a single boy or girl from whom we have despaired of collecting," said Mr. Elliott. There are only three of these young people not now making payments on their loan and it appears they will pay out all right."

Other speakers included C. T. Watson, a member, whose topic was "Rotary Principles"; Dr. Caldwell of Waco, who is holding a meeting at the Presbyterian church.

The club discussed plans for securing the 41st district convention of Rotary International for one of the next three years. Delegates to the Temple convention of this week were instructed to do everything possible to land the convention as soon as possible.

Miss Ruth King, an accomplished young lady, gave an Italian dialect reading.

Rotarian guests were Dr. Caldwell, William F. Elliott of San Antonio, Max Stock of St. Joseph, Mo., Charles W. Laney of Fort Worth, E. A. Whitney of Sioux City Iowa, and Frank Wendt of Midland. Other guests were A. R. Church of Big Spring, Rev. R. L. Owen, Miss Ruth King and Mr. Jennings.

Former U. S. Marshal Endorses New Sargon

EMORY J. SLITER

"I was a straggler during the years of the gold fever in Alaska and spent 20 odd years in that country, serving as U. S. Marshal part of the time and also as chief of Police of Juneau. When I returned to Seattle in 1915, the previous years of exposure and rough living had taken their toll and I commenced to suffer with rheumatism, constipation and indigestion, that weakened and pulled me down so much that I was afraid I'd finally have to give up entirely.

"After all other medicines failed to help me I started Sargon, and that was the beginning of my present splendid health. It built me right back up, gave me a wonderful appetite without a return of indigestion, my rheumatic pains don't bother me like they did back in the good old days in Alaska. Sargon Pills have rid me of constipation for the first time in years."
