Rocky withdraws

NEW YORK — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller withdrew Thursday from contention for the Republican nomination for president, thus virtually assuring it for Richard M. Nixon.

"I have decided today to reiterate unequivocally that I am not a candidate campaigning, directly or indirectly, for the presidency of the United States," Rockefeller said in a prepared statement at a news conference. He left the door open, however, for a draft. He said: "I have said that I stood ready to answer to any true and meaningful call from the Republican party to serve it and the nation. I still so stand, I would be derelict or uncandid were I to say otherwise.

"I expect no such call. And I shall do nothing in the future, by word or deed, to encourage such a call."

He said he has taken his name off the ballot for the Oregon presidential primary, May 28, filing with the Oregon secretary of state an affidavit that he is not a candidate.

Israeli troops attack

TEL AVIV — Israeli troops, 15,000 strong by Arab estimate, reported wiping out four El Fatah terrorist bases in an invasion of Jordan Thursday, then fought back homeward under unexpectedly heavy fire.

Jordanian resistance slowed the withdrawal, but the Israeli chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Haim Bar-Lev, said late Thursday night that all Israeli forces had returned to the west bank of the Jordan River, the cease-fire line between the two nations. The west bank was seized from Jordan in the Arab-Israeli war of last June 5-10.

Fierce engagements were reported around the Damiya and Allenby bridges between Arab riflemen and Israeli rearguards, haggard after 14 hours of fighting. Amman radio said, "The enemy has lost most of the vehicles used in his attack and his forces tried to abandon them."

Jordan claimed 200 Israeli soldiers were killed, compared with 20 Jordanians. Israel said 30 of its men were killed.

Bobby invades South

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy brought his presidential campaign into the South on Thursday and urged Southerners to put behind them the racial controversies in which he was involved as attorney general.

"These quarrels are behind us now," the New York contender for the Democratic presidential nomination said in an address to a University of Alabama audience. The quarrels of old now are "dwarfed by the more serious issues facing us as Americans," he said.

"Some may seek political gains by pointing to the vain quarrels of the past—but I prefer to look ahead, to see what the real dilemmas are that confront this nation at home and around the world, and to find new ways of meeting these problems," he added.

Calling for national reconciliation, Kennedy laid special emphasis on the Vietnam war, a keystone of his campaign against President Johnson.

Students boo Freeman

MADISON, Wis. — Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, campaigning in behalf of President Johnson, cut short a speech to University of Wisconsin students Thursday when hissing and booing made it impossible for him to be heard.

Freeman ended his talk midway through his prepared speech, explaining it was "too much of a burden" to speak above the din.

Freeman repeatedly appealed to the students for the right to be heard, but was met with jeering from many of the more than 600 young persons in an auditorium of the Agriculture Building.

Many of the students wanted Freeman to talk on the Vietnam war and not on farm problems. They frequently shouted the word "napalm" and referred to "atrocities."

When Freeman was introduced by Agriculture School Dean Glenn S. Pound as a former Marine, many of the young persons booed.

Thieu to follow pledge

SAIGON — President Nguyen Van Thieu will try to follow up his pledge Thursday to crack down on corruption by clipping the wings of the nation's four warlord corps commanders, informed sources said.

They reported that some time before April 15 Thieu will set up six national administrative groups with a civilian at the head of each.

In a major policy speech, Thieu said he would serve as chairman of two new administrative groups—the National Planning Council and the Committee for Administrative Reforms.

The planning council will develop national programs of all types and see that they are put into operation.

TV glide bomb pushed

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon has accelerated production of a television-guided glide bomb to help minimize aircraft losses as the United States prepares for intensified bombing of North Vietnam.

Defense sources said Thursday production money for the glide bomb—called Walleye—was hiked by several million dollars for the Air Force and Navy in advance of the improved weather.

With Walleye, a pilot can release his bombardment without flying into the face of what is often fierce air defense around target areas.

Walleye has what amounts to a small television transmitter in its nose which sends an image of the target to a screen in the plane cockpit.

Flooding continues

NEW YORK — Major flooding continued Thursday in southeastern New England where damage already has reached the $50 million mark, and spring floods developed in a half dozen states from Texas to southern Indiana.

The flood-swollen Mill River broke through a 70-year-old wooden dam upstream from Taunton, Mass., and threatened another dam protecting the town of about 40,000, some 30 miles south of Boston.

Hundreds of residents were evacuated from their homes several hours before the Whittenton Mill Dam collapsed.

The Charles River overflowed into lowland interior sections in the Boston area, causing damage to homes along the banks.

Republican keynoter lambasts Johnson

By NANCY FIREBAUGH
Staff Writer

An Oklahoma congressman dealt a verbal lashing to the Johnson administration here Thursday night, ticking off a list of grievances he said Americans could lodge against LBJ.

Rep. James V. Smith, R-Okla., said that "in not one area of general public concern—foreign or domestic—has the United States made gains in the past seven years of liberal Democratic control, and we have lost the respect America once had throughout the world."

Smith was the keynote speaker in the two-day Mock Republican Convention which began Thursday night in the Tech Union. Sponsored by the Tech Forensics Union, the event will resume at 1 p.m. today in the Union Ballroom with action on a party platform.

Tech fraternities, sororities, dormitories and independent groups sent 672 delegates to the convention as mock representatives of the 50 states.

Students interrupted often with cheers during Smith's speech in which he said, "We are at war in Vietnam. Serious trouble brews in the Middle East. Violent disorders ravage our cities. Communists steal our ships."

Leaving his text, he asked, "Mr. President, when are you going to bring the ship and those 82 men that are left back home?"

"America is in a mess," Smith told the delegation. "We approach runaway inflation."

"Let's win this war or get out of it—one of the two." Students cheered wildly when he said that in recent months Israeli Defense Minister Dayan has proved "He can get more done on a hospital bed than Lyndon Johnson can standing on his feet."

"The Administration has failed those boys in South Vietnam," Smith said.

He compared Johnson with a teabag. "He does his best work when he's in hot water, but does that mean we have to use the same old teabag for nine years?"

The address began after roll call of the delegations and approval of the credentials committee report.

The Alabama delegation was contested by SOUL (Student Organization for Unity and Leadership). However, the credentials committee ruled the Carpenter Hall group representing Alabama was the authorized delegation.

SOUL delegates were asked to leave the convention floor. Asked why the delegation was contested, a SOUL member said, "No comment."

The Oklahoma congressman has introduced a bill in the House which would allow tax credit to parents for certain expenses of college education.

Smith said, "I believe to encourage college education is as important as many of the activities which now receive favorable tax treatment."

He said that mock conventions are not considered simply student exercises in playing politics anymore. "Actually, senior Republicans have observed that in recent years the Young Republicans have been electing slates that prove to be pretty accurate predictions of things to come."

Tonight delegates will nominate "the next President of the United States" and a vice president, hear acceptance speeches and receive awards for best delegate demonstrations.

Ligon would conduct food investigation

(Editor's note: Each candidate for president of the Tech Student Association will have two campaign speeches of his choice reported in The University Daily. Following is the first of the candidate's speeches. Others will appear in later editions.)

Mike Ligon, candidate for Student Association president said Thursday he would conduct a full scale investigation of the Food Service Department and make the results of his investigation public.

Speaking before a group of 100 students at Weymouth Hall, Ligon said dormitory residents are tired of bad food. He said he would try with his investigation to get the administration to take immediate action to see that food, "better than powdered eggs" is served in the residence halls.

LIGON ALSO made the following proposals on which he did not elaborate:

- A student co-op to save money for students on items normally purchased at a bookstore.

- That representatives of the Freshman Council be given membership in the Senate.

- Bulletin boards in all academic buildings and residence halls to keep students informed on actions of the Student Association.

- A referendum to decide whether the Student Association would join the National Student Association.

- A calendar year in which fall final exams would be over before Christmas.

- A system under which a student could take electives on a pass or fail grading system.

- Revamp the campus parking situation, especially around the dormitories.

- Texas State University as a new name for Tech.

- He promised to publish a bi-weekly report in the University Daily.

CONVENTION DELEGATES — Alabama delegates voice their views at the Republican Mock Political Convention which got underway Thursday night in the Tech Union Ballroom. Sponsored by Tech Forensics Union, the event represents a combined effort of about 700 persons, including staff and faculty

Cheer candidates to meet Saturday

Candidates for cheerleader should report to the cheerleader screening board in front of the Intramural Gym at 2 p.m. Saturday.

The executive rally will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Union Ballroom. Nominating speeches will be limited to two minutes, and candidates' speeches will be limited to seven minutes.

CSO approves three groups on campus

The Committee on Student Organizations granted one-year provisional recognition to three campus groups Thursday and held one application for further study.

The Student Action Organization, the Channing Club and the Double T Citizen Band Club were given "standard provisional recognition," according to Dr. Mary L. Brewer, chairman of the committee.

The Red Raider Flying Club representative will be required to submit more information on other university flying clubs before the committee will make a decision on that application.

DAVID SANDERS presented the application for the Student Action Organization. He said the club will establish a free university system in which students will be able to take noncredit courses taught by volunteer faculty members on subjects of interest to both the student and instructor.

The group plans to set up approximately 15 to 20 courses for the fall of 1969.

Sanders said, "It's a group that plans to get something done."

THE CHANNING CLUB, affiliated with the Unitarian church, will sponsor lectures on "topics pertinent to liberal religion today, such as the 'God is

Circle K meeting to get under way

About 200 members of Circle K International from Texas and Oklahoma will gather in Lubbock today for the opening of the weekend district convention.

State Rep. Elmer Tarbox of Lubbock will be principal speaker at the Saturday night banquet, replacing Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

Smith informed district governor Marshall Grimes of Morton, who is serving as convention chairman, that last-minute gubernatorial campaign conflicts ruled out his appearance.

Circle K is a national college and university service organization sponsored by Kiwanis International.

Riddle wants review panel in academics

(Editor's note: Each candidate for president of the Tech Student Association will have two campaign speeches of his choice reported in The University Daily. Following is the first of the candidate's speeches. Others will appear in later editions.)

Mike Riddle, candidate for Student Association president, said Thursday he would ask the administration to form an academic appeals board to overturn decisions of department heads or academic deans on course overloads.

Speaking before a group of 100 students at Weymouth Hall, Riddle said several students have had to extend their college careers an extra semester because their advisers would not allow them to take more than the prescribed maximum number of hours in one semester.

Riddle's proposed committee would have the power to overturn decisions made by department heads or academic deans in upholding the adviser's decisions.

Riddle said he would urge the administration to abolish Saturday classes. He said classes on Saturday were inefficient, and course loads on Tuesday and Thursday could be increased.

RIDDLE SAID he would strive to have good public relations with all facets of the university community and with the general public. He promised to conduct open forums and frequent press conferences to allow any person interested in good student government to have an opportunity to express his ideas.

Riddle promised to write a weekly newspaper article to keep the student body informed on the issues involving the president and his staff.

Throughout his talk Riddle stressed that attendance at Tech is a right—not a privilege.

He said since the student is paying tuition, he should not have to give up rights which he would enjoy if he were not a student here.

Action delayed here against alleged killer

The examining trial for Benjamin Lach, Tech graduate student charged with the Dec. 4 murder of a Tech cleaning woman, has been postponed until 2 p.m. Monday.

The trial was rescheduled by Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy when it was learned that Bill Gillespie, Lach's court-appointed attorney, would be out of town today, the original trial date.

The trial will be held in County Court at Law No. 1 courtroom.

At a Wednesday press conference, Gillespie said he would soon file pleadings that might have "real significance" in the trial, however, "circumstances" prevented any action Wednesday. He did not say what the circumstances or the filings were.

PSYCHIATRIC examinations of Lach by Dr. Richard K. O'Loughlin will begin Wednesday, according to Gillespie.

Gillespie was out of town Thursday. Dist. Atty. Alton Griffin, however, said the defense attorney had not filed any motions at that time.

Mrs. Herman Lach, Lach's mother, arrived in Lubbock by plane about 1:30 p.m. Thursday. Friends of the family in Mattapan, Mass., reportedly financed the trip.

Gillespie said that in telephone conversations with Mrs. Lach he learned that the youth was born in the woods after Mr. and Mrs. Lach escaped from a Nazi concentration camp in Poland. The family lived in the woods for about a year after Lach's birth.

HIS ARREST came at the end of a 100 mile-an-hour chase through suburban Lubbock after he escaped a police stakeout in a Science Building office. Officers said Lach opened the office door with a master key.

A set of keys — including a master — was the only thing missing from the effects of Mrs. Morgan when co-workers found her body.

Runoffs scheduled in AWS election

Women students will vote again today in a runoff election for two AWS offices during noon and evening meals in dormitories and all day at the Tech Union.

In the runoff for secretary are Nena Huffaker and Carla Dunn, and for Judiciary chairman Judy Caldwell and Cathy Obriotti.

In Wednesday's voting, Janice McDuff was named president. Jackie Scott was chosen first vice president and Susan Morrissey second vice president. Pat Klous is the new third vice president, Kathy Griffin treasurer and Debbie Campbell law chairman.

President

Mike Ligon

There are two major goals I would like to accomplish if I am elected President of the Student Body. These are (1) to make the student government more aware of the desires of the entire student body; and (2) a stimulation of the student body's interest in the actions of their elected government. I feel that only by these means can real headway be made in increasing the accomplishments of our government in fulfilling the demands of the Student body.

IN ORDER TO achieve these goals, I would hold regular open forums with the student body to allow a better flow of ideas between the student body and the President. In each of the academic buildings I would place Senate and Student Association bulletin boards to enable the student to be aware of the issues merely by glancing at these boards on their way to class. I would promote opinion polls in the dorms and other places across the campus to allow the Senate to have a clear picture of the desires of their constituents. Also, I would utilize an Appointments Advisory Board with representatives from groups all across the campus to aid me in finding qualified people to hold the positions that I must appoint.

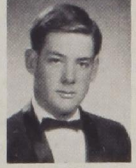

OTHER GOALS which I would like to accomplish are:

- Revamping of dormitory parking to allow low resident students ample parking space at their dorms.
- Adequate lighting of dorm parking lots to reduce loss due to theft which now occurs there.
- Completely investigate the food service, publish and distribute the results, then with the backing of the student body, take action on the needed improvements in this area.
- Establish at Texas Tech a Co-op to enable students to save money on the purchases they make.
- An investigation of the National Student Association, publish a report and hold a referendum, thus allowing the students to decide whether or not to join this organization.
- A change of the calendar year to allow students to take their finals before Christmas.
- Allowing the Freshman Council President an ex-officio position on the Student Senate to represent the views of the freshman.
- Allow students to take their free electives on a pass-fail basis. I introduced legislation to achieve this end, and I certainly would support something I introduced.

Another objective I would have would be to graduate from Texas State University, and it's not long until I graduate.

SPACE LIMITATIONS

Due to space limitations, qualifications of candidates have not been published. If space allows, they will be used at a future date.

Mike Riddle

The time has come for us as a student body, to seriously re-evaluate what student government is and what it should be on the campus. We must cause student government to become the voice for the student body as an equal part within the university community. This is not a university family wherein the administration serves as parents. Students should not have to relinquish their rights as citizens in order to gain an education. Student Government must take the lead in attaining equal rights and adequate voice for students within our university community.

WE MUST BEGIN steps to prevent the improper disclosure of student records. No records should be kept which reflect the political or religious beliefs of a student. The individual student should have the right to control access to all of his records.

The student body must gain student representation on the academic committees of the university. We, as students are receiving the education and should have some voice in its quality.

An Academic Appeals Board must be created, set up along the same lines as the Student Appeals Board which reviews discipline cases. The Academic Appeals Board would give students the opportunity to have reviewed a decision of a dean or department chairman which they believe to be unjust.

AS PRESIDENT of the Student Association I shall also work to:

1. Do everything within my power to persuade the administration that the present proposal to abolish Saturday classes should be accepted. This is an area that is now under serious consideration.
2. Continue the housing fight. I do not believe the university has the right to require a student to live in a dormitory. At the same time I believe that we must begin work to make the dormitory a place where students would want to live. This can be done by working to improve dormitory counselling systems (especially for freshmen), by improving the quality of dormitory food service and by making efforts to find solutions to existing dorm parking problems.

SEE THAT a complete Teacher Evaluation Program is not only carried out but that it is published and put in the hands of the student body.

Provide a method by which the freshman class may elect several freshman senators.

Many problems face our university, but few answers have been proposed. My candidacy is based not only upon an awareness of the problem, but also upon possible solutions. It is upon the awareness of these problems that I ask for your concern. It is upon the worth of these proposals that I ask for your support.

Elections '68

Election of 1968-69 Student Association officers is next Wednesday, with eight persons filing for the four positions.

For the first time in several years, a direct confrontation has occurred between opposing candidates. Business manager candidates John Hutt and Robert Mansker have opposite opinions as to whether the office should be elective or appointive. It is unfortunate that more candidates do not meet each other head-on over campus issues.

All too often, as this page shows, platforms are uncontroversial pitches for votes that will never get beyond this page. On the other hand, several ideas presented here can logically be carried out next year. We hope voters recognize the difference.

Vice president

Hank McCreight

For our university to grow and expand, we must continually adapt to and initiate changes. Student Government can and should take the leading role in initiating improvements the student body feels are necessary. If the Student Senate has the proper leadership, then we can continue to grow and reform old rules of the college that slow the progress of our university. If I am elected vice president, I will aim for the completion of these goals:

1. ELIMINATE dormitory evaluations written by wing advisers and legislators on every dorm resident. These annual personality and character evaluations are a definite invasion of privacy, but they have never been challenged. Many students do not even know they exist. However, they are extremely important because they are included in each student's permanent file, and are used to fill out job questionnaires and evaluation forms.

Wing advisers and legislators are not trained or qualified to objectively evaluate a person's personality or character. I believe this is a disservice to students, and propose to eliminate them through extensive publicity and possibly invoking invasion of privacy laws.

2. Continue my work to eliminate closed sections during registration, a long-neglected problem which affects practically every student at Tech.

The program I have initiated, which passed unanimously in the Student Senate Tuesday, will determine the approximate demand for every course offered by the university next fall. This will be accomplished through distribution in classrooms of IBM cards which can be filled out in less than a minute. Results will be sent to department chairmen.

I propose that this program be continued and improved upon next year, with an eventual goal of a complete pre-registration process each semester. I am assured by members of the administration that this is not an unrealistic goal.

MC CREIGHT

Business manager

John Hutt

As a candidate for business manager of the Student Association, I am basing my campaign on three major issues—issues which are within the realm of the office.

THE OFFICE of business manager is and must continue to be an elective office. Making it an appointed position would give the president of the Student Association too much power for several reasons:

- (1) The business manager acts as chairman of the Allocations Committee of the Student Senate, which last year allocated $36,000 to 27 student organizations.

(2) The business manager is in charge of formulating the Student Senate budget—approximately $11,000 this year.

(3) The business manager is a member of the Student Services Fee Allocations Committee which distributes funds from the $22 per student fee paid each semester.

THUS, THE BUSINESS manager has a great amount of responsibility. The person holding the office must be responsible to the students—not to the president of the Student Association who would appoint him. I would always oppose any proposal giving students less voice in their student government. Depriving students of the opportunity to elect the business manager would create such a situation.

Secondly, I believe the Student Senate Allocations Committee must re-assess its process of allocating funds to various student organizations. Written guidelines on allocating money are needed so the committee will have a consistent policy from year to year. Such guidelines have never been formulated, and as a result organizations have never known what should be the basis for their requests. The situation has caused much dissatisfaction over the allocation of money to student organizations.

THIRDLY, I believe the university should bear half the cost of the campus bus system. If students vote to continue the system, a decision concerning the source of funds will be necessary. The cost this semester is approximately $34,000; half came from the $1 increase in the student services fee and half came from the university's traffic ticket fund.

Presently, the plan for next fall is to raise the student services fee another $1 if the bus system is continued. This would make students bear the entire $34,000 per semester. I believe campus transportation is a mutual university-student problem, not just entirely the student's.

The traffic ticket fund now contains $80,000 and certainly isn't getting any smaller. If elected, I will urge that one half the cost of the bus system be paid each semester from the traffic ticket fund until other sources can be located.

The only office I seek is that of business manager. I ask your support in that effort. We must not lose our influence and voice by giving up our right to elect the business manager. With your support Wednesday, that right will be protected to the best of my ability.

Robert Mansker

1. Establishment of the position of Business Manager as truly responsible to the study body by issuing weekly reports of all Student Association expenditures.

2. Revamping poster deposit procedures within the Student Government Office to prevent theft of cash and any misplacing of other deposits.

3. Institution of control measures on Student Association financial accounts to prevent unauthorized uses. Currently anyone may charge materials to the account of the Student Association.

4. PROPOSE TO the Senate, by the end of the Fall semester, the making of the Business Manager's position an appointive post. This change will prevent the position from being used as a temporary position of political strength while running for President or Vice-President of the Student Association.

5. Establishment of a Student Small Loan Fund through the use of the $4,000 Special Fund under the direction of the Business Manager. Loans up to $50 could be secured through the Allocations Committee, with proper guarantees, at a very nominal rate of interest to build up the fund. Projects such as Teacher Evaluation could also be financed through the use of this special fund, with receipts from the sales of the evaluation booklets replenishing the fund.

6. Place the Business Manager under bond. As this executive officer handles over $16,000 of the Student Association's money annually, safeguards should be attached to the position.

7. Change of salary structure: Business Manager should be changed to an hourly position, with work being paid for only "if" it's done.

8. Business Manager becoming active in the Student Association President's cabinet, thereby reducing conflicts that may arise through a lack of communication.

9. COOPERATE WITH local businessmen to establish a Co-op center for students where most of the profits will be returned to the Student Association in the form of cash rebates. Merchandise should include: books, camera equipment, clothing, records, supplies of classes, etc.

10. Investigation into university policies of (1) dormitory costs that vary so much with other Texas senior colleges, (2) mandatory services within dormitories, such as meals and telephones, and (3) parking fees.

11. Through No. 10 and No. 9, establishing the Business Manager as a source of information and position of responsibility in external fields dealing with the Student Association as well as strictly internal matters.

Bill Turner

I have heard a lot of talking in four years at this college. People are always complaining about dorm food, athletic seating, the name change, housing—the ledger is as diverse as the people who foster the thoughts. But one thing I've seen little of is people doing something about what they believe. Anyone can recognize a problem and find a solution, if they really try. But so often where the action begins is where the analysis ends. It occurs to me, when the analysis ends action should begin. Action is the keystone of my platform, because I believe conformity breeds stagnation. Our "university" is on the brink of stagnation. Therefore, I would, as vice president, encourage the following policies:

—The formation of a "representative" party, consisting of all fraternal associations and independent organizations, for the purpose of slating in convention form a list of candidates for pending offices. This would encourage the participation of the independents in elections by offering equal opportunity for all.

—A PERMANENT and continual program of academic recruitment, separate from and independent from the Student Senate in order to increase the scholastic recognition and enhance this university prospective students.

—Lifting the "Free Speech Ban" in order for our university to truly attain an atmosphere of free thinking and communication, which is so vital for a well-rounded education. This would allow discerning opinions and individual choice.

—A study to be conducted with the help of other student governments on a uniform college calendar, which would coordinate semester breaks and exam times. By providing a uniform foundation on which all Texas schools would operate, a more adequate system of allotments and fund distribution would occur and allow more coordination of social functions such as Roundup.

—On campus recognition and status of such groups as the S.A.O., S.D.S., and the Forum, who, by their very nature, raise issues that are too often skirted by other groups. These groups can function as the third party system does on national issues, and are organized and based on certain ideas as are the Young Republicans and Young Democrats and because their ideas are different should be no reason to deny them the same recognition.

—Leaving women's rights to the people who probably know more about this matter than anyone else—the women. We should recognize the fact that organizations such as the A.W.S. and W.R.C. are established for this purpose and that student government can and should complement and aid their work.

—A CONTINUED strong and resolute stand on the on-campus housing situation and a joint committee of administration and student officials to conduct a formal study of this situation with the idea that the student voice in matters pertaining to his welfare should be considered in future plans at this institution. This could lead to a clear cut and well defined policy on such matters.

These are not all the issues at hand, but these are issues which I feel are important enough to warrant immediate consideration. I could not possibly say with any sincerity that I have all the answers to all the problems. But I do feel that student government is in the position now to do something about these problems. That is why my interests lie with the position of Vice President of the Student Association for he is the coordinator of these actions.

TURNER

Secretary

Vas Salvato Rita Williams

I seek the position of Student Association Secretary because of my desire to serve you, the students of Texas Tech. I feel very strongly about the responsibilities and importance of the secretary's position, because she is the only woman to be elected to the executive branch of our student government. In the past years I have been involved in various areas of student activity and have become aware of the problems effecting the individual student. As secretary I will be in a position to see that careful consideration is given to these student problems.

IT IS THE duty of the secretary to see that office and clerical work in student government is handled efficiently. She should aid in effective communications between the student government and the students. She should be aware of the need for all wishes of the students to be heard, especially the wishes of the women students. A platform for the office of Secretary should include issues which she can carry out and are within the realm of her authority.

Programs and policies which I shall work to direct as your secretary will include:

Women's Rules: I feel it should be the secretary's responsibility to be the mediator between the Association of Women Students and the Student Senate. She should attend AWS and WRC meetings and be informed on current legislation which might effect women students in order to keep the Senate better informed in the area of women's activities on campus.

ELECTIONS: In order to insure a larger voter turnout and a greater voting convenience, placement of election polls in dormitories as well as academic buildings,

Better Communications between Students and the Senate: This year the Senate has been concerned with the apparent lack of communications between students and senators. Many students do not know who their senators are. I would like to see improvements made in this important area. Names and phone numbers of the senators should be printed in the

I would first like to evaluate the office of Student Association secretary as I hope to make it next year. I feel that in the past the secretary has had to serve in two capacities—both legislative and executive (a distinction no other officer has had to contend with). This double duty has bogged the secretary down and made it difficult for her to function at the highest potential in this office.

Thanks to a constitutional amendment passed by the student body a few weeks ago, the secretary will no longer necessarily be chairman of the Senate Elections Committee. I feel that this is a step in the right direction and will give the secretary time to perform other functions in an executive capacity.

THE SECRETARY is not presently on the President's Cabinet, a factor that seriously cripples communications within the executive. I propose that the secretary be included on the Cabinet and be in charge of public relations not only within the school but with the community and other schools. I feel that my experience in journalism and various campus organizations will enable me to effectively perform this task.

I also have three programs that I will push as secretary. The first is to follow through on my bill to eliminate compulsory class attendance. The bill, which passed the Senate Tuesday with a vote of 36 to 4, asks for "the immediate passage of a resolution by the administrative officials of Texas Tech to eliminate mandatory class attendance as an administrative policy."

I BELIEVE COLLEGE students are mature enough to decide if they need to attend class; as long as they are able to make a satisfactory grade, grades should not be lowered for missing class. Since the policy is not equally enforced by all professors and it takes up a lot of unnecessary book work and class time, I will continue to try to get this policy adopted by the administration.

I would also begin investigating the feasibility of a continual registration pro-

University Daily on several occasions during the year so that students will know who can be contacted if they have a problem that needs to be heard. Widely publicized sessions should be held in each school at several times during the school year so that students from the respective schools can voice their opinions to their senators concerning particular problems.

Registration: There must be a careful study of registration difficulties and the need for adequate sections for the number of students needing certain courses. To do this we would provide a long-term study of courses which will be most needed by students and exactly how heavily these courses will be populated so that proper arrangements are made for an adequate number of sections for each course.

To these goals I will dedicate myself as your secretary. Texas Tech is a twentieth century university striving for higher ideals and is forever in competition with other universities. The answer to these ever-demanding advancements lies in the voices of the students and the rights which we must have.

cess for the future. From certain administrators I have learned that this process seems to be closer to reality than a completely computerized registration process. The students would register within their schools during the preceding semester for courses needed the next semester. This process would do away with closed sections.

Finally, another policy which I propose for Tech would allow students to take 5-7 electives on a pass-fail basis. Since most students take (or at least want to take) several courses outside their major which sometimes pull their overall GPA's down, this system would allow students to select a course for a pass-fail indication only (no letter grade). I have already done research in this system as it is operated at other "universities," and hope that I will be able to get it adopted here.

I hope that I will be able to serve you, the students, and next year as secretary and carry out these proposed programs. The future of our university is in the balance and I hope you will vote wisely for all executive candidates.

Harkness here tonight

The Harkness Ballet, noted for its fresh approach to dance techniques, choreography, musical composition and design, will perform at 8:15 p.m. Friday in Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

The program sponsored by Texas Tech, will be the sixth and final event in the university's current Artists Course Series.

Tickets, available at the Tech Union program office and at the door prior to the performance, are $2.50 for the general public, $1.50 for Tech staff and non-Tech students and free to Tech students with ID cards.

Raiders join SWC; Face 'Horns today

THE RAIDERS FLOODED HOME - The Texas Tech baseball team will go to dryer pastures today to open its first season of Southwest Conference com- petition. The Raiders game with the University of Texas has been moved from the flooded Tech diamond (above) to the Lowery Field park.

By DAVE AMMONS
Sports Staff

Southwest Conference competition opens today for the Tech nine as right-hander Phil Stephenson takes the mound against the University of Texas at 3 p.m. on Lowery Field.

Although in past years the Raiders have played against many SWC teams, this is the first year they have been a member of the conference's baseball league.

THE LONGHORNS, who hold a 6-6 won-lost season record while winning one and losing three in conference play, will meet the Techsans for the first time ever. Sophomore James Street is Texas' probable starter. The right-handed hurler owns a 2.33 earned run average and was credited with the Steers' lone SWC victory.

Earlier this week, UT dropped two games to the University of Minnesota, 8-5 and 8-1, but its conference losses have come by a much smaller margin. The Longhorns have fallen to Texas A&M, TCU and SMU by a total of three runs.

TEXAS' BACKSTOP DUTY has been divided between George Nauert, batting .429 in conference play, and Tommy Harmon, hitting .222, with Nauert also seeing action in right field. His outfield comrades include Pat Brown, Kelly Scott and Randy Paschel.

The stalwart at first base has been Bob Snoddy, batting .357 in the team's four conference outings. The Longhorn keystone combination is Lou Bagwell at second base and Pat Amos at shortstop. David Hall and Dennis Kasper have shared third base for the Steers.

SCHEDULED TO LEAD OFF for the Raiders is Jim Montgomery at shortstop, followed by second baseman Jerry Haggard. Batting in the middle of the order will be center fielder John McIntyre, first baseman Don Champion, right fielder Don McKee and catcher Max Martin. In the two-game series against the University of Texas at El Paso, Montgomery and Haggard scored four of the five Tech runs. McIntyre leads the starters in hitting with a .350 batting average.

Lee Watts in left field and John Owens at third base fill the seventh and eighth place spots, with Stephenson rounding out Tech's starting team.

Today's match will be a single game and, according to Sports Information Director Ralph Carpenter, the double-header that was scheduled for today will be played Saturday on a diamond undetermined as yet.

With win over 'Horns

Raiders could tie as SWC leaders

Texas Tech could grab a share of the Southwest Conference baseball lead today if the weather is permitting and the Raiders defeat the University of Texas.

The weather will be answered with only the passage of time as will the outcome of the game—the first in history for the Raiders in SWC competition.

SMU is currently atop the league standings with a perfect 3-0 record and a win by the Raiders would give them the only other perfect mark in the league standings.

A LOSS BY THE Raiders would give them sole possession of the cellar.

Texas Christian is currently locked in a three way tie for fell into the tie following a 4-1 loss to Texas A&M, which is also knotted for the position in the standings.

The Aggies see no conference action this week.

Rice, the third team tied for second place, is slated for single game meetings with Baylor today and Saturday. The Bears are sixth in the league standings with a 1-2 mark.

The conference standings are:

Team	W	L
SMU	3	0
Rice	2	2
TCU	2	2
Texas A&M	2	2
Baylor	1	2

45 wash outs dampen season

The intramural softball program is really weather-beaten. A total of 45 ballgames have been postponed because of this week's snow and the one a week and a half ago, the intramural department reports.

Weather kills Tech football scrimmage

Texas Tech's first football scrimmage of this year's spring drills has been officially postponed, Coach JT King said Thursday.

However, the baseball game between the Red Raiders and the Texas Longhorns is still on for today along with the Houston tennis meet and the state high school swimming championships.

"The football scrimmage originally planned for Saturday is definitely off," King said.

Concerning the status of Tech's spring football workouts he said Thursday that "they are questionable for this week depending upon the weather."

Coach George Philbrick's tennis team was able to leave Lubbock Wednesday evening to compete in the three day Rice Collegiate Invitational net tournament in Houston.

The tournament will conclude on Saturday with the winning team being awarded the Guernsey-Hess trophy, which is an annual feature of the 10-year old tournament.

The first official Texas Tech Southwest Conference baseball game will be played today at 3:00 p.m. on Lubbock's Lowery Field.

the Texas Interscholastic League High School State Swimming championships slated for tonight and Saturday afternoon in the Tech pool.

By eight points to UCLA

Houston tabbed underdog

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Houston's undefeated Cougars, voted the No. 1 team in the nation, paradoxically assume an underdog role Friday night against UCLA in college basketball's game-of-the-year.

Odds makers pegged the No. 2 rated Bruins a 7 1/2-point favorite in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's semifinal round at the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

Advantage of the local floor, although not the UCLA home court, and a healthy Lew Alcindor appeared the reasons betters in Las Vegas favor the Bruins.

NORTH CAROLINA and Ohio State open the semifinal round at 7 p.m. PST with the Tar Heels favored by 5 1/2 over their rivals from the Big Ten. Houston and UCLA tip off at 9 p.m. on national television via Sports Network Inc. A blackout extends for a 180-mile radius for that game.

No blackout will exist for Saturday night's finals starting at 7 p.m., following the 5 p.m. consolation battle.

THE COUGARS haven't been beaten since UCLA turned the trick in the semifinals a year ago. In 59 games this campaign the two teams have won 58 times. The only loss was by UCLA to Houston. The Bruins hold a 27-1 mark.

North Carolina is paced by 6-foot-4 All-American Larry Miller, a 215-pounder from Catawba, Pa., who averaged 22.7 during the season. The Tar Heels, 27-3, knocked St. Bonaventure out of the undefeated ranks 92-72 in the Eastern regionals and then beat Davidson 70-66.

OHIO STATE, 20-7, developed fast toward the end of the season, led by Bill Hosket and Denny Meadors, and upset Kentucky 82-81 to win the trip West.

New KC club named Royals

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Kansas City's new baseball club picked up a name Thursday—the Royals. The next step is to borrow some players.

"We want to start the season in April in Class A with players loaned from other organizations," said Cedric Tallis, executive vice president of the Royals. "We looking at the Midwest League and either a northern league or the 'Carolina League.'"

"We'll have to borrow the players at first because we can't sign say until the free agent draft in June," Tallis said.
