

Minimum admission scores under administrative study

By WAYNE ROPER
UD Reporter

A study on establishing a minimum admission score on college entrance examinations is being conducted by the Tech administration, as the result of a request from the Board of Regents.

The possibility of establishing a minimum score on such tests are the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) and the American College Test (ACT) was brought up by Regent Charles Scruggs, at the board's Feb. 6 meeting.

"In our drive for a quality institution we should consider adopting a minimum requirement for entrance exams such as the SAT and ACT (American College Test)," Scruggs said.

Scruggs said he felt a minimum SAT score was a proposition worth consideration.

"MANY UNIVERSITIES require such, and certainly most universities have some policy concerning SAT and ACT scores," Scruggs said. "The possibility of improving Texas Tech's academic reputation as well as lowering the failure or dropout rate has to be a concern to anyone in the university."

"At the same time," Scruggs said, "SAT and ACT scores aren't, perhaps, a good indicator of what to go by."

Scruggs said that while the test scores may not be indicative of actual ability, most universities with academic reputations do have some requirement.

"I DON'T HAVE any strong feelings one way or another, but there seems to be a lot of interest in this matter," Scruggs said. "I think it is a legitimate inquiry."

Dr. William Johnson, vice president for academic affairs, said Tech's study is in the initial planning stages.

"We want to make it as broad as we can. That is what the board (Regents) wants," Johnson said.

IN SOME initial meetings the committee outlined some basic goals for the study, Johnson said.

"We will be examining our own student body with regard to the scores, what other institutions are doing, and what would be the impact of the establishment of a higher entrance requirement on Texas Tech,"

Johnson said.

The efficiency of ACT and SAT scores as a predictor of success is another area the study will examine, Johnson said.

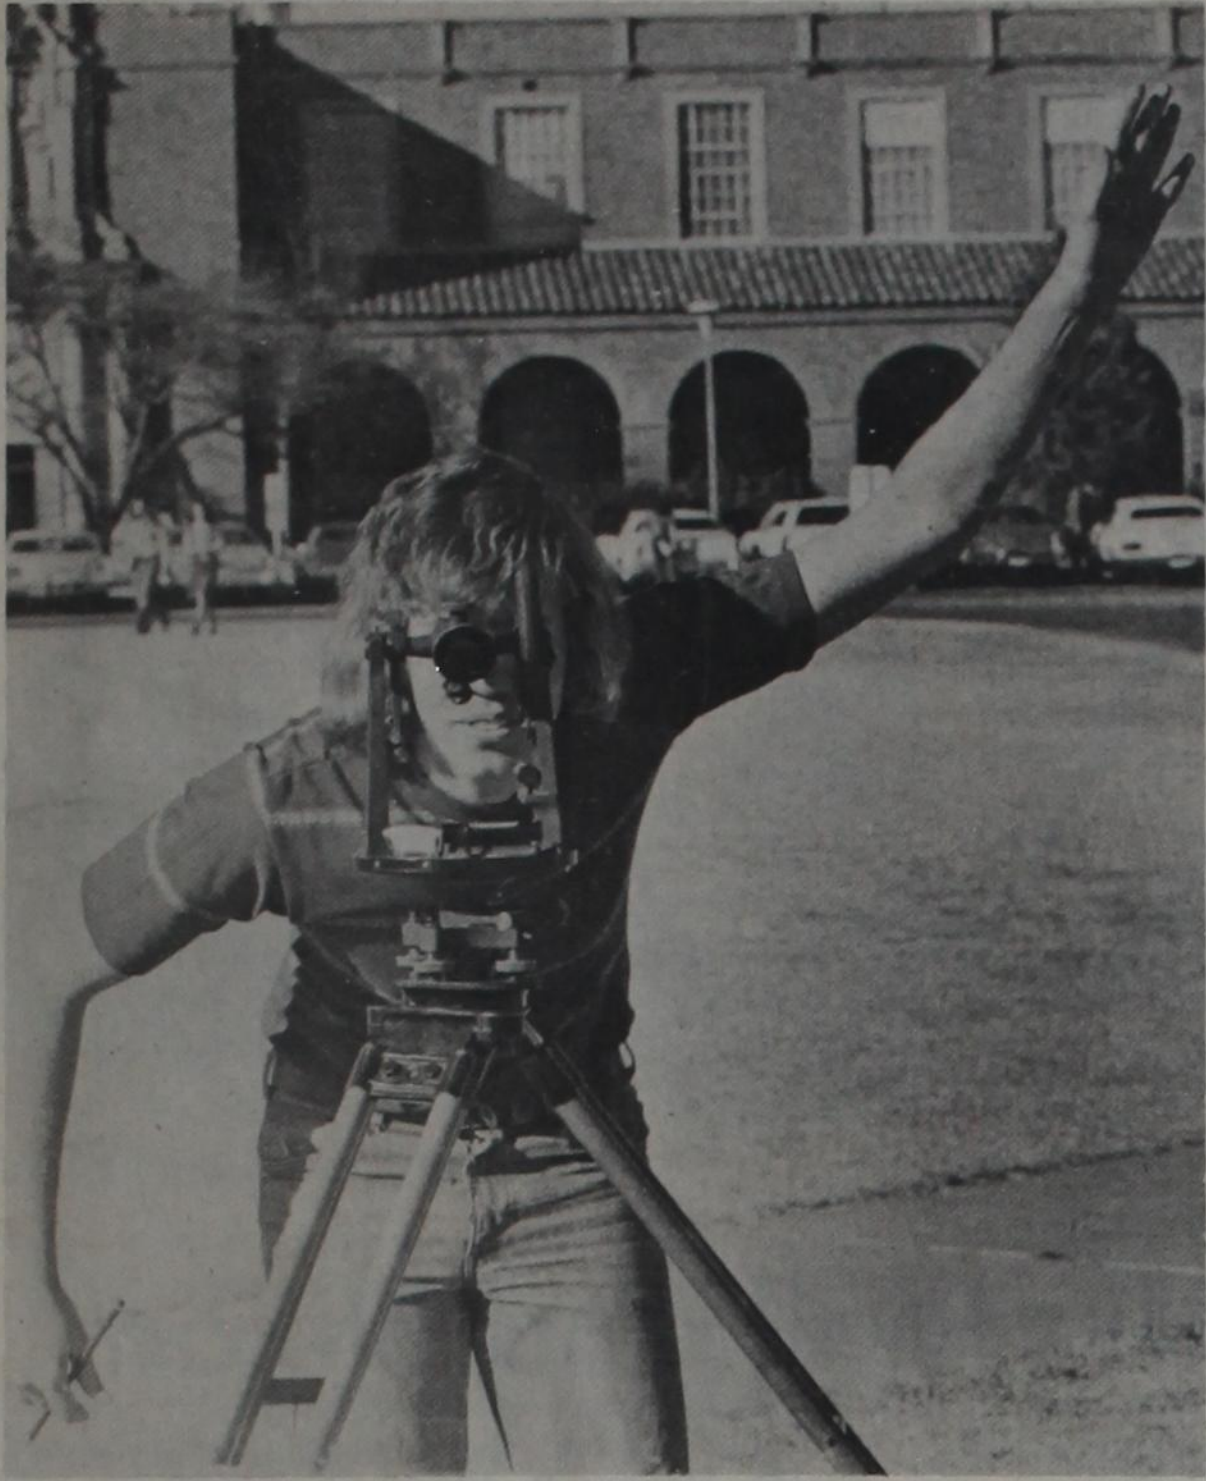

"NO ONE has suggested the SAT and ACT tests alone should be considered," Johnson said.

An informal survey of admissions policies around the state revealed Texas A&M, the University of Texas and the University of Houston have a sliding scale of minimum SAT scores based on the applicants high school rank, while North Texas State University has a single minimum score of 675.

All the schools surveyed had some type of provisional program for those students who did not make the minimum cut-off score.

OFFICIALS AT University of Texas and Texas A&M said students not achieving the minimum score could enroll in the summer program. If the student maintains a "C" average in the 10 to 12 hours he enrolled, he is accepted in the fall.

Rivals criticize Carter; Reagan goes to Florida

BOSTON (AP) — Frontrunner Jimmy Carter took a day off from campaigning on Thursday while two of his rivals in next week's Democratic presidential primary in Massachusetts attacked his positions.

Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana accused the former Georgia governor of "peddling Republican principles," and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington devoted a news conference to attacking Carter's stand on the income tax deduction on home mortgages.

Carter, who won 30 per cent of the Democratic vote in Tuesday's New Hampshire primary, was at home in Plains, Ga., and was scheduled to make his last Massachusetts campaign appearance Friday. The state's primary is next Tuesday.

MEANWHILE, GOP contender Ronald Reagan told a crowd of about 10,000 in St. Petersburg, Fla., that he was "greatly satisfied with what happened" in New Hampshire.

"It indicates that victory can be ours," Reagan said at a rally in the same St. Petersburg park where President Ford drew an estimated 10,000 - 15,000 persons less than two weeks ago.

The former California governor finished 2 percentage points behind Ford in New Hampshire.

Reagan said he thought the New Hampshire primary had "answered the question" about whether his campaign was built on a narrow base that appealed to only a limited number of people.

Potential Tech students visit campus today

Parking lots will be filled to capacity today as Tech's College Day gets under way.

Approximately 900 high school juniors and seniors and junior college students will be visiting the campus today to get acquainted with Tech's academic structure and other aspects of university living.

The day's activities have been developed by a committee established by the Office of Admissions and Records and the Student Association. The program will include both structured activities and time for individuals to look around the campus and meet Tech students.

THE UC WILL be the center of all planned functions for College Day, according to Susan Tom, executive director of the Student Association Academic Affairs committee. The program will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the UC Ballroom with opening remarks by Executive Vice President Glenn Barnett and leaders from the Student Association.

Each of Tech's six colleges, many student-oriented service offices and student organizations will have booths set up in the ballroom. Information will be available about Tech's programs.

College Day was established as an aid to academic recruiting.

Stories written by freshman University Daily reporters and aimed at the high school and junior college students on campus today are on pages 1b, 2b and 3b of this issue.

BAYH, WHO finished third on the Democratic side in New Hampshire, attacked Carter at a news conference for saying he would not fight to repeal right-to-work laws, for favoring limited deregulation of natural gas, for opposing public services jobs and revenue sharing for states.

Jackson contended Carter is "threatening the destruction of the working and middle class American family" with a proposal to eliminate the income tax deduction on home mortgages.

However, Carter campaign aides said the proposal was "one part of an overall tax proposal that is under consideration."

"Under this proposal, the elimination of tax incentives would be irrevocably tied to a drastic slash in the overall tax rate," the aide said in a statement.

REP. MORRIS K. Udall, the second place finisher in New Hampshire, told Boston's State House press corps Thursday he also disagreed with Carter's tax proposal, predicting a "taxpayers' revolution" if it were implemented.

Other Democrats campaigned across Massachusetts on Thursday.

Former Oklahoma Sen. Fred Harris, who took fourth place in New Hampshire, campaigned in Boston and in Springfield while Sargent Shriver, the 1972 Democratic vice presidential nominee, campaigned in New Bedford.

In other political developments Thursday:

—PRESIDENT FORD said former President Richard M. Nixon's trip to China "probably was harmful" to Ford's campaign in New Hampshire. He said returns from Tuesday's primary have not been fully analyzed, but when they are "I presume there will be evidence that it probably hurt."

—Several public interest groups asked the U.S. Supreme Court for a one-month extension of its deadline for restructuring the Federal Election Commission so it could continue processing applications of presidential candidates for matching funds.

—The Republican Rules Committee tentatively struck down several proposed rules changes backed by the reform wing and aimed at broadening party participation. Included in the action was a vote to delete a provision which would have granted party auxiliary and minority groups membership on the Republican National Committee.

—FORD, MEETING with the Inland Daily Press Association, again predicted his rival in November would be Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

—L. E. "Tommy" Thomas, former GOP chairman in Florida and now Reagan's campaign boss in the state, appeared to scale down his earlier estimate that Reagan would beat Ford by a 2-1 margin in the March 9 primary.

Thomas told reporters that telephone canvassing throughout the state of "probably 400,000 people" had shown the 2-1 margin for Reagan but that this was "not solid ... Fifty - five per cent would be a landslide and I think we'll have a landslide," Thomas said.

—Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, has qualified for federal matching funds even though he is not expected to announce his candidacy officially for a few weeks.

Council to evaluate Rape Crisis Center

By BETSY HUMPHREY
UD Reporter

Lubbock City Council Thursday adopted a resolution to evaluate the first-year operation of the Rape Crisis Center.

The evaluation will fulfill conditions of federal grant to fund the center for the second year. Mrs. Betty Wheeler, chairman of the Rape Crisis Advisory Board, said funding will cease after the second year and private funding from the community will be anticipated.

Installation of two additional rent-a-car operators at the airport will be reconsidered six months after the new airport opens, after the council decided they did not have enough information to make a decision.

The council heard arguments from airport rental agents asking the council to not allow additional competitors so as not to divide up the revenues.

Gary Paxton, vice president of Dollar Rent-a-Car, said in cities where more than three facilities were available, more revenue has been brought in.

He said the old revenue pie theory is just a myth and more competition does not necessarily mean less service and revenue.

Opposing opinions came from Hertz and Avis representatives, who said that "two or more companies will dilute the market and possibly contribute to the dilution of services."

THE CITY is guaranteed a minimum of 10 per cent of gross revenue or $15,000 depending which is greater.

The Airport Board made a recommendation to the council that Budget Rent-a-Car and Dollar Rent-a-Car be let in if they follow specified conditions.

Councilman Alan Henry said, "We've heard the arguments and we are pretty much where we were last year. I would not want to make a decision at this time until we get a few months experience under the belt."

COUNCILWOMAN Carolyn Jordan said, "a recommendation has been made by the Airport Board. I think we are saying, we do not have enough information to make a decision."

In other council action, Thursday, the council:

—Authorized development of a new community center to be located at 19th Street and Vicksburg Avenue at Higginbotham Park. Councilwoman Carolyn Jordan asked that citizen input be sought in developing the center.

Brainwashing of Patty possible, says professor

By SUSIE PEARCE
UD Staff

Could the Symbionese Liberation Army have controlled Patricia Hearst to an extent to cause her to commit acts contrary to her will? According to Dr. Theodore Andreychuck, professor of psychology at Tech, the technique is possible.

"The defense (in the case) is trying to demonstrate that she was brainwashed, that she was somehow, through some coercive means, led to reject her established set of values and adopt those of the SLA group," Andreychuck said.

Andreychuck, who concentrates his studies on hypnosis, says that hypnosis and brainwashing are very similar — both can cause a person to commit acts, under controlled influence, that are against their will when in a waking state.

THE PROCESS of brainwashing involves isolating the subject in a condition of sensory deprivation, according to the psychologist.

"If a person is placed in a chamber where he's completely in the dark, can't hear a thing and there is no sensory stimulation of any kind. If he stays in that condition for several hours, he becomes disoriented. His usual frames of reference are gone. In this state of disorientation, he becomes much more susceptible to suggestion," Andreychuck said.

Sensory deprivation results in flight of ideas, impairment of reasoning, childish emotional response and auditory and visual hallucinations, according to Benjamin Kleinmuntz in Essential of Abnormal Psychology.

"NORMAL FUNCTIONING depends on the continuing arousal reaction generated in portions of the brain, which in turn depend on constant sensory input," he said.

Andreychuck suggested that, being locked in the closet, Patty could have experienced similar sensory deprivation which made her more susceptible to SLA influences.

"She was in the dark, had no one to relate to from her previous environment, and was under constant threat of being killed or tortured," he explained.

Car polishing

The second step in brainwashing, immersion in propaganda, occurs after the subject is disoriented from sensory deprivation.

"I THINK they (SLA) were always bombarding her with powerful suggestions, pointing out the weaknesses of our society. Perhaps they told her that her parents didn't give a damn about her, or they'd comply to her requests to feed the poor."

The readiness to accept new ideas makes brainwashing easier, he said.

"It is clear that some people are subjected to these procedures and don't change one bit. They maintain their values...The question then becomes whether there was a readiness to respond in this direction to begin with."

Andreychuck suggests that preventive measures to brainwashing are to rear children with ideas of social interest, social cooperation and respect.

"When these kinds of values are inculcated fairly strongly in individuals, they are not as likely to be swayed by extraneous arguments," he said.

New direction needed, says Mahon's challenger

By BETSY HUMPHREY
UD Reporter

Americans need some new direction and influence in the country, Jim Reese, GOP challenger to incumbent Rep. George Mahon said to the Republican's Womens' Club at a luncheon Thursday.

The former Odessa mayor predicted that in two years, the national debt will be $400 billion, $1 billion more than the 1975 debt.

Bucy named TI president

J. Fred Bucy, member of the Tech Board of Regents, has been named president of Texas Instruments.

Bucy will succeed Mark Shepherd Jr., who was named chairman of the board of TI. The appointments will become effective April 22 upon the retirement of Patrick E. Haggerty, present board chairman.

Bucy received his B.S. in Engineering Physics from Tech in 1951 and an M.S. from The University of Texas in 1952.

WHEN HE joined TI in 1953, Bucy was a research engineer. In 1963 he became corporate vice president of TI. He was named chief operating officer of TI in 1975.

Bucy was appointed to the Tech Board of Regents in March, 1973, and was confirmed in May, 1973.

Bucy has served as director or chairman of the board of several subsidiaries of TI. He is a senior member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

"I'M NOT RUNNING against George Mahon," Reese said. "I'm running for the 19th Congressional seat."

Referring to his opponent, Reese said it was too much to expect a person who lived in Washington for 42 years to still think like a West Texan.

According to Reese, the present congressman has pressures he has to go along with. The Liberal Democratic Caucus pressured Mahon to override President Ford's veto on the $45 billion appropriations bill, Reese said.

REESE SAID he was concerned about the attitude that people have about the government solving all their problems.

"Government is the problem," the candidate said. "We need to move Washington closer to home. We need to move the decision-making process back here and cut down on the size and budget of government."

In closing, Reese said we need to force some new direction in this country and care enough to "let liberty grow old in the hands of our children."

By JOHNNY HOLMES Fine Arts Staff

Every week a few new top-notch movies filter into the Hub, and this week is certainly no exception. Again, the only real trend for this week's Wrapup seems to be the showing of last year's favorites to attract Oscar nominations.

Backstage I: "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes Smarter Brother," starring Gene Wilder, Madeline Kahn and Marty Feldman, is a spoof in the Mel Brooks tradition. Although not as good as some of Brooks' work, the movie is funny.

Backstage II: Andy Warhol's "Frankenstein" and "Dracula." A coupling of two of the absolute worst movies ever to disgrace the silver screen.

Cinema West: "Chino," starring Charles Bronson and Jill Ireland, is a typical Bronson movie about the troubles of a lone gunfighter.

Fox I: "The Man Who Would Be King," starring Michael Caine, Sean Connery and Christopher Plummer, is a magnificent tale of two starstruck ex-soldiers in search of their fortune in the mystical land of Kafiristan. This is the best movie in town.

Fox II: "Gone With The Wind." You want it — you got it. Rhett and Scarlett are here for one week, so if you want to see a true classic of cinema, this is your chance.

Fox III: "Jack and the Beanstalk" is an animated story by Columbia Pictures.

True family viewing.

Fox IV: "Barry Lyndon," starring Ryan O'Neal and Marisa Berenson, is Stanley Kubrick's latest masterpiece about the rise to fame and fortune of an Irish rogue in the late 1800's.

Lindsey: "Dark Town Strutters," starring Trina Parks, is a black musical motorcycle movie with lots of action.

Showplace I: "From Beyond the Grave," starring Peter Cushing, is billed as the next horror classic, although there is supposed to be some humor interspersed throughout. Good luck.

Showplace II: "Rooster Cogburn and the Lady," starring John Wayne and Katharine Hepburn. How many of you pilgrims would ever forgive me if I cut down the Duke, but actually this is a decent movie. It's pleasant and fun, and you won't be embarrassed.

Showplace III: "Lucky Lady," starring Liza Minnelli, Gene Hackman and Burt Reynolds, is a romantic adventure about rumrunning during the Prohibition era. Liza Minnelli is up for best actress for this, and rightfully so. A five-star special.

Showplace IV: "The Hindenburg," starring George C. Scott and Anne Bancroft. One more time, almost a documentary about what possibly could have happened to the fabled airship. Interesting and intriguing, this picture is for those who like to think, and the end is great.

South Plains I: "The Sunshine Boys," starring George Burns and Walter Matthau, is the tale of two old vaudevillians who try to put it together one more time. Another five star special.

South Plains II: "The Weed," starring June Wilkinson and Houston Oiler quarterback Dan Pastorini, deals with drug trafficking and has plenty of action.

Winchester: "One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest," deals with insanity. If it's half as good as the book, it'll be great.

NEWS BRIEFS

Ford proposes energy measures

WASHINGTON (AP) — With energy issues partly resolved by a two-month-old law, President Ford on Thursday urged Congress to get on with the unfinished business of achieving national energy independence.

In a special message to Congress, Ford proposed two new measures:

— Legislation setting deadlines for federal processing of pipeline projects to bring natural gas from northern Alaska to the "lower 48 states" and allowing the President to select a pipeline route subject to congressional approval.

— A proposal to limit imports of liquefied natural gas to no more than one million cubic feet per year by 1985, a measure requiring no specific legislation. Little liquefied natural gas is now imported, but various projects have been approved or proposed.

Election agency extension sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several groups asked the Supreme Court today for a one month extension of its deadline for restructuring the Federal Election Commission so the agency can continue processing presidential candidates' applications for matching campaign funds.

The groups asked that the commission be allowed to remain in operation through March 31. Without an extension, the commission goes out of business on Monday.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said earlier in the day that he thought President Ford would go along with efforts to obtain a delay. Senate leaders said they were considering joining the request.

The request was filed with the court by the Center for Public Financing of Elections, Common Cause, and the League of Women Voters.

The court gave no indication when it will act. The justices meet Friday for one of their regular closed conferences and a decision could emerge from the sessions.

The extension petition said more than $3 million in requests for matching campaign funds are pending before the commission and that the agency is trying to process the applications by the court's deadline.

Chinese pick up Nixon's tab

KWEILIN, China (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon tried to pay for the 10-course banquet he gave his Chinese hosts but the Chinese insisted it wasn't necessary, John V. Brennan, a Nixon aide, said today.

Western sources familiar with Peking prices estimated the banquet, given Wednesday night at the Great Hall of the People for 300 guests, would have cost between $3,000 and $5,000.

A Chinese official, asked to comment on who paid for the dinner, said, "I don't know the answers to your questions. If I am a man's guest for dinner why should I find out who paid for it or how much it cost."

Big Brother, Sister Week begins Sunday

BY DEBBIE WHITNEY
UD Reporter

Lubbock Big Brother-Big Sister Week begins Sunday in conjunction with the national Big Brothers of America Week, according to Jim Douglass, executive director for the Lubbock organization.

The purpose of the week, according to a news release, is to remind Lubbock citizens of the work by volunteer Big Brothers and Big Sisters with children from one-parent families. Each volunteer is assigned on a one-to-one basis with a child in an attempt to provide a friend for the child. Douglass said about half the Big Brothers and Big Sisters are Tech students.

Lubbock citizens are involved in the Big Brother-Big Sister program.

Most of the children in the program are from broken homes, Douglass said. The children are usually living with one parent, but the program has also had a few children who have no parents, he said.

The goal of the Big Brother or Big Sister is to interject a positive influence on the children's lives, Douglass said.

DOUGLASS ADDED that the Lubbock organization is the first agency to adopt both Big Brothers and Big Sisters in the same entity. Other cities, for example require that a mother with sons and daughters take her sons to a Big Brother agency and take her daughters to a Big Sister agency.

"I think the organization has done a very good job of helping fatherless and motherless children," said Jim Markgraf, a Tech student who is a Big Brother.

Markgraf feels the volunteers give the children companionship and that the children look up to their Big Brothers or Sisters for help with their problems.

UC committee sponsors Casino Night

BY JIM MUNN
UD Staff

Gambling is not an impossibility on Tech's campus.

The recreation committee of the University Center is presenting Casino Night Saturday from 7:30-11:30 p.m. in the UC Ballroom, which does include "gambling", according to Mack Andrews, assistant activities adviser of UC programs.

The admission at the door will be $1. This buys $5,000 in play money issued for use on the gambling tables, Andrews said. Black jack, roulette, craps and five card stud will be played that night, Andrews said.

PROCEEDS FROM Casino Night will go to KTX, Tech radio station, to help purchase stereo broadcasting equipment.

Every 30 minutes during the course of the night an auction of gifts and coupons donated by local Lubbock merchants will begin, Andrews said.

Casino play money will be used to bargain for the gifts. Andrews said this year's Casino Night will be different because the atmosphere will be more relaxed. The lights will be low in the Ballroom with spotlights on the tables. This will be done to give the room a nightclub effect, Andrews said.

KTX will be broadcasting live from the UC Ballroom Saturday night with Steve Coggins, station manager of KTX-FM, as the disc jockey.

Key members of the recreation committee responsible for setting up Casino Night are Glen Johnson, chairperson; David Campbell, assistant chairperson; and Karen Connell, event chairperson on the committee.

Death penalty condemned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capital punishment was condemned as a "deadly game of blindman's bluff" Thursday by attorneys for six convicted murderers whose appeals the Supreme Court will hear next month.

Arguments in the cases, scheduled for March 30 and 31, will set the stage for the court's first ruling on the death penalty since it struck down capital punishment four years ago.

At that time, the court ruled that existing laws gave judges and juries too much leeway.

Red Raider baseballers face four-game series

By FRED HERBST
UD Sports Staff

Just one week away from the opening of the Southwest Conference season, Tech baseballers will travel to Seguin to take on Texas Lutheran Friday, and to San Antonio to face St. Mary's Saturday. Both series will be doubleheaders.

"Both teams are good ball clubs and we will have to play as good or better than we did last week against Hardin-Simmons to beat them," Coach Kal Segrist said.

Tech will be facing St. Mary's just days after the Rattlers swept a doubleheader from the defending national champion Texas Longhorns.

Winning three out of four against Hardin-Simmons, the Raiders, while looking respectable on the mound, were very impressive at the plate hitting .344 as a team.

Seven players are hitting over .300 after four games.

Val Morin, Mike Williams and Kim Hunter picked up the three victories, with Williams, Hunter and Doug House all pitching complete games. The Raiders got just 14 complete games from the pitching staff all last year.

The Raiders next action will come when they open SWC play against the Texas Aggies in Bryan, March 5-6.

Women in zone tourney

The Tech women's basketball team will compete against six teams in Abilene this weekend for the West Zone Championship.

The first and second-place teams will qualify for the State Championship Tournament March 5-6 at Stephen F. Austin University. Two teams from each zone and two at-large teams with the best record will compete for the title.

Coach Suzie Lynch predicts Tech and Wayland to share the winner's spoils.

"I think we know the job at hand and we're prepared for it. There will be some stiff competition and it will be difficult, but we can do it," she said.

Starting lineup for the team will be Libby Keller, Jill Owens, Carol Dudensing, Teri Dixon, and Rhonda Askins.

Tech will play against Wayland Baptist College, Hardin Simmons University, Angelo State University, Abilene Christian College, McMurry, and West Texas State University this weekend.

The roundballers defeated each of these teams previously in league play except Wayland, who they will meet for the first time during the tourney.

and discus thrower Marc Taylor will make their debuts in the Houston meet. Norris has been throwing over 230 feet in practice.

Coach Corky Oglesby said Tech should place high once again in the relays. Tech will compete in the two-mile relay, the 440 relay and the shuttle hurdle relay.

Thirteen teams are entered in the University of Houston-sponsored event.

Cindermen travel

Tech's track team opens the outdoor season this Saturday, competing in the Houston Invitational Relays.

The Raiders are coming off a fourth-place finish in the third annual Southwest Conference Indoor Meet held in Fort Worth last Friday. Tech won the distance medley event and was third in the two-mile relay and fourth in the mile relay.

Tech grapplers seek title

The Tech Grapplers travel to San Marcos this weekend in hopes of returning with a state championship in wrestling.

According to Coach Terry Anders, Tech's toughest competition will be coming from LeTourneau College at Longview and Texas A&M. LeTourneau has a returning state champion in four weight divisions; heavyweight, 190, 177 and 167.

Although A&M doesn't have a returning state champion, Anders considers them strong in the 118, 125, 167 and 190-pound divisions.

Richland College, usually a strong contender, is lacking in the heavier weights this year and has only one returning state champion.

Another team to consider is University of Texas at El Paso. Although this is their first year to compete Anders said they are a strong team.

Tech boasts the number one seeds in the 142 and 158-pound divisions, David Hadden and Mark Faris.

Tech also has five place finishers from last years meet. David Hadden and Allen Atnip finished second; Tad Fowler, and Mark Faris finished third and Rock Robinson placed fourth. Freshman Joe Chappell was state champion in high school and Scott Rice finished third.

"I think we have a good chance to finish first over-all. It all depends on the seeding and our performance," Anders said.

Lacrosse club opens slate

BY FRED HERBST
UD Sports Writer

After preparing for months, the Tech Lacrosse team will open their season against an 'experienced' San Antonio Lacrosse Club this Saturday night at 7:30 on Intramural Field Three.

"Our strengths," assistant coach Tom Hunter said, "are muscle, speed and endurance."

"Most of them (San Antonio) are from the East Coast," team spokesman Robert Pirtle said, "and they are all experienced. There's no doubt about it, they're going to be tough."

"We only have five guys who have two or three years experience," Hunter said.

"We'll have to play more of a hustling and physical game, rather than one with finesse and skill."

Head Coach Ron Willis has put his Lacrosse troops through a rigorous training program that has emphasized the building of endurance.

The key to victory for the Raiders, will be to keep the ball on Tech's attack team's side (front line) of the field and to play a physical defense.

"We're going to try to play real aggressive," Hunter said, "and we'll just have to outlast them."

Swim meet slated

Tech women swimmers will host the State Swim Meet this weekend at the Tech pool.

Tech goes into the meet sporting a 3-1 dual record and carrying first-place honors from two invitational meets. Coach Millie Roberts predicts Tech will finish in the top three places.

"It will be a close match between the University of Texas, SMU, A&M, and Tech. These are the top four teams in the state and any one of them is capable."

one backstroke will compete after being out of action for two weeks with an injury.

Roberts said Reeve is "at full speed and ready to go." Qualifying times for nationals are already established and anyone who makes these times this weekend can qualify to go.

Roberts said Reeve has a good chance to qualify and the 200 medley relay team should have a good chance to qualify.

"It's been a good year and our kids have the confidence to win," Roberts said.

Bullock, Russell combine for Tech win

By KIRK DOOLEY
UD Sports Writer

The University of Houston was officially welcomed to the Southwest Conference Tech-style Thursday night as the Raiders trounced the Cougars 93-83 at the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Once again, it was the Rick Bullock - Mike Russell combination that led the Tech assault in a game that never was really in doubt. Bullock scored 20 points and grabbed 14 rebounds while Russell chipped in 19 points and hauled in 13 rebounds.

The Cougars weren't led by Otis Birdsong. The Cougar's offense IS Otis Birdsong. The conference leading scorer pumped in an impressive 32 points (15 to 23) but his individual efforts fell far short of the Raiders' offensive machine.

The first half started with Bullock and Birdsong trading scores, then Grant Dukes and Steve Dunn began assaulting the bucket from the 20 foot range and Tech quickly developed a lead.

With 3:43 remaining in the half, Keith Kitchens hit two free throws to give Tech a 40-31 lead. Russell then extended the lead to 11 and in the last two minutes of the half it was Kitchens, Russell, Russell, Russell, and the half ended 50-34 with Tech firmly in command.

The second half was simply a continuation of Tech's hot shooting as Kitchens popped a 20 footer followed by a couple of 25 foot swishes by Dukes and Dunn, then another Dukes bomb before Houston even saw the scoreboard. Tech led by 24 with only a minute and a half into the second half and the Cougars spent the rest of the night chipping away at the Raider lead.

The Cougars cut the lead to seven with fifty seconds left and the Raiders toyed with a stall to finish the game. Rudy Liggins hit five points in those last seconds as the Raiders won their 13th conference game of the season.

Both Grady Newton and Liggins had praise for new starter Grant Dukes' performance as the Levelland forward hit 7 of 11 from the field and scored 15 points.

The hot shooting guard for Tech was Dunn who canned 6 of 9 shots to end the night with 12 points. Kitchens hit 4 of 8 from the field and 2 for 2 at the line to also finish in double figures with his 10 points. He also had 4 assists.

Geoff Huston came from an area where every other street has an Otis Birdsong, and he knows the one-on-one style of Birdsong's.

"They set picks for him," said Huston, "and then, he's one-on-one, and that's when he's at his best..."

Kitchens continued, "You can't really stop him if he's hitting. He's big (6' 4") for a guard and he'll shoot when he wants to."

Mike Edwards sized up the Cougar offense: "Otis would come down the right side, shove you off of him, then shoot ... and usually hit."

Tomorrow night will be the final home appearance for Bullock, Newton and Liggins as the Raiders host the Rice Owls at 7:30 in the first round of the SWC post season tournament.

Liggins feels that the Raiders are playing good ball now and hopes that they close out at home on a good note.

Bullock says he hadn't really thought much of tomorrow being his last game but Newton spoke for all three seniors when he said, "It really will be strange - very strange - to walk out on the court and know it'll be the last time you play."

Mayor Roy Bass has proclaimed that tomorrow will be "Rick Bullock Day" in Lubbock and the Saddle Tramps plan to recognize Bullock, Liggins and Newton at the game.

SWC declares Aggie duo ineligible

HOUSTON (AP) — Southwest Conference faculty representatives, after hearing a parade of witnesses and meeting privately more than three hours, declared Texas A&M basketball players Karl Godine and Jarvis Williams ineligible for the rest of this season and next season.

The SWC representatives also publicly reprimanded the university following a day long court order hearing that underscored a ruling they had already made.

SWC president Dr. Kenneth Herrick of Texas Christian University said the sanctions against Godine and Williams were based on the conference's investigation.

Herrick said the investigation revealed that the players had accepted inducements of cash and the promise of more cash and of making available to them automobiles.

In addition to the public reprimand against the school, the conference also reduced the number of annual basketball scholarships A&M can offer, from 15 to 13, for the 1976-1978 seasons.

Herrick also said that A&M would not be forced to forfeit any games in which the two players participated. Herrick refused comment on whether the results of the SWC investigation would be forwarded to the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Herrick said the SWC also approved a resolution praising University of Texas basketball coach Leon Black whose letter to the SWC sparked the investigation.

The SWC announcement ended a 12-hour hearing which started Thursday morning.

The SWC representatives spent the first eight and a half hours hearing testimony from witnesses presented by Hugh M. Smith, attorney for the Godine and Williams.

Memories failing

My earliest memories are of our family's television set, where I watched Captain Kangaroo, soap opera serials and old movies.

Naturally, this constant exposure to TV left its mark. It probably had a lot to do with my expecting campus living to be a lot like an old Busby - Berkley "college musical."

Watching old favorites like Debbie Reynolds, Donald O'Connor and Ronald Reagan (of "Bonzo Goes to College" fame) did little to prepare me for dust storms, cross-campus hikes and all-night study sessions. These old movies created my long-standing illusion of the wise, old professor, slightly grey at the temples, wearing a brown tweed jacket while smoking a pipe. They did not prepare me for the T.A., dressed in jeans and desert boots.

The old movies also neglect the area of collegiate red tape. The typical "college musical" has our hero in high school one day, and enrolled in college the next. The director has failed to touch upon admissions exams, application forms, pre-registration or any of the countless other trivialities that can make life confusing, to say the least.

The 1960's "party" movies with Annette Funicello and Frankie Avalon led a whole generation of impressionable TV viewers to believe that most of the time in college is spent on a beach. Tech's geology department will be most interested in the individual who finds a beach in the Lubbock area.

Football games have probably been given the most warped coverage in the old movies. I have yet to see a film or TV show that explains standing in line for the ticket lottery, standing in line to get into the stadium or standing in line to get out of the stadium.

However, the films usually show hundreds of loyal fans, screaming wildly for the school football hero as he plunges across the goal line, narrowly escaping defeat by the rival team (dressed in black, of course). The only wildly screaming fans I have ever seen have had a quite a bit to drink, before and during the game.

I will admit that one movie, not dealing directly with college life, seems to fit the present situation. "Future Shock," which deals with man's inability to deal with a world that is changing too fast, is often too familiar for comfort.

But experience has taught me that most old movies are not reliable, even though fantasy often makes reality a little easier to take. Students do not dance on their way to final exams any more than they sing in history class.

That's not to say that I have given up my old ways, completely. I just say a movie called "The Graduate"...

Know-it-all gives answers to new folks

BY KANDIS GATEWOOD
UD Staff

"Where do I go to pay the parking ticket that somebody left on my windshield when I went into the library to ask the information desk 'how do you find the Wiggins Complex?'"

Questions such as this one and those following often beset the unassuming Tech freshman as he embarks on a new, more responsible way of life.

Q. Where do I cash a check?

A. The Tech Bookstore cashier will cash a check for a maximum of $25. The University Center will cash a check of $10 or less, except on the weekends when the limit is $5.

Q. What if my parents give me an out-of-town two-party check?

A. Go to the little store called Student Services across the campus on University Avenue and expect to pay five per cent of the amount to cash it. Very few people accept two-party checks in Lubbock.

Q. What is the SUB?

A. SUB is the old name for the UC, or University Center. The UC provides many services such as food, magazines, stamps, a ticket booth and games in the basement level.

Q. What if I get a parking ticket?

A. Pay it. The Traffic and Parking Office by the University Police Building will accept your money from 8 a.m. to noon or 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Q. What are the KK's?

A. The gentlemen who give out the tickets and keep campus crime to a minimum are the campus cops, or KK's.

Q. What if I want tickets to the football and basketball games?

A. Call the Athletic Office at Jones Stadium.

Q. What is the "lottery"?

A. The lottery is a means of getting a seat for the football games. Saddle Tramps spirit organization conducts the lottery and students bring coupons to the UC to draw seats. As many as six students can pool their coupons to sit together.

Q. What if I want to play tennis?

A. Call the Women's Intramural Office for reservations on courts near the Women's Gym or call the recreational office for any other court.

Q. What if I get in a course I cannot stand?

A. Check with your academic dean and consider add-drop options. Also, pass-fail options are open.

Q. What is pass-fail?

A. Pass-fail is the option to take courses without the usual A, B, C or D ratings and grade point credit that goes with it. The subject is either passed, or failed. The catalogue can once again be consulted for specifics on what courses can be taken in this manner.

Q. What if I get sick?

A. Go to the infirmary at 203 Thompson Hall. It is also called Student Health Services. Be sure to take the enrollment card to prove you paid the $9 health fee. You will be issued a health card on your first visit.

Q. If I go to Freshman Orientation and Registration program, do I have to come to the dorm the first day it opens?

A. No, not really. There are school-wide things planned and it may help to get settled in early to start making acquaintances so you can have someone to eat with, but it is not mandatory.

Q. What if the dryer eats my meal ticket?

A. Report to the Housing Office and get a duplicate for $2.

Q. How do I use the telephone?

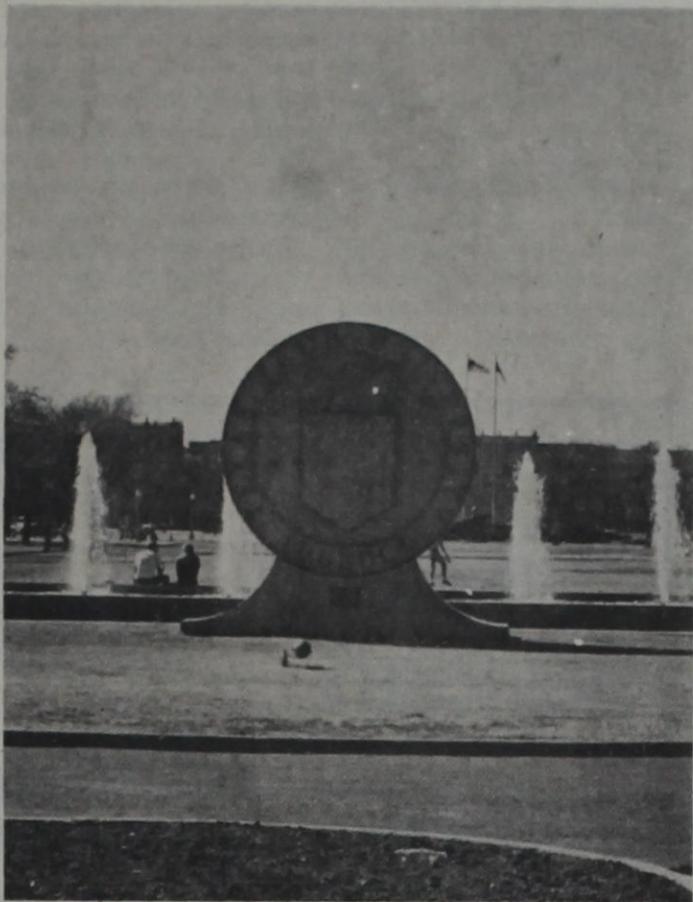

A. If you are on campus calling someone else on campus, simply dial 2 and the last four digits. If you want off campus, dial 9, wait for the dial tone and dial all seven numbers. If you want the Tech operator, dial 0. If you want the Lubbock operator, dial 9, wait, then dial 0.

Q. What if I hate my roommate and he or she thinks I stink?

A. Tell your dorm office and head resident so you can move as quickly as they let you, usually about two weeks.

Gabbing ailment becomes way of life

By KANDIS GATEWOOD
UD Staff

One common "social" ailment is the gift of gab. However, for the Tech media, it is a way of life.

Many students do not realize the wide array of media available to them as students.

The University Daily is one of the "talkies." Dr. Bill Dean, director of Student Publications, of which the UD is a part, said that about three fourths of the newspaper is funded by advertising and the rest comes from the student services fee.

La Ventana, the yearbook, is also under the direction of Student Publications. It is funded by the sale of annuals and the individual purchase of pages in the book.

Cost is $8.40 for the book, and pages, normally purchased by an organization, are $60 each, according to Dean.

Also, KTXT-FM, the media that supplies the campus with listening-gab, will move from the Speech Building to begin broadcasting from the Journalism Building sometime in the future, according to Steve Coggins, station manager.

He said, "We are awaiting word from the FCC to increase our power."

The station is expecting word from Washington in April and will probably be working at 5,000 watts stereo in the Journalism Building by December, according to Coggins.

Broadcast hours are 6 a.m. to 3 a.m. weekdays and 6 a.m. to 4 a.m. on weekends. KTXT-

FM is 92 on the dial. Information Services is another communication means at Tech. "We're the agency that provides campus news information to the media," said Margaret Mintkenbaugh, student assistant.

Mintkenbaugh is one of the many who writes news releases sent to area media for possible publication.

Twelve to 15 people are employed in this service. Their articles do not go directly to the student, but may be published in other media.

Students can come directly to the services, located temporarily in the basement of the Administration Building, to see about having a story written, according to Mintkenbaugh.

She said, "We can serve individual students if they're doing something newsworthy." However, they cannot promise that anything will get into print.

UC slows jumping costs

By KIM COBB
UD Staff

As the cost of living keeps jumping, the University Center remains one of the least expensive sources of entertainment available to Tech students.

The UC Films program offers major films for $1, occasionally showing a free movie. Cinematheque, which also operates out of the UC, features the old classics.

Speakers, musical performances and other programs are brought to the campus through the Cultural Events and Programs Offices.

Speakers during the past year have included Moshe Dayan, Tony Randall and Dr. Martin Luther King, Sr.

The UC Building houses two ballrooms, a snack bar, cafeteria, games area, faculty club, meeting rooms, several lounge areas and TV areas. Two newsstands and an automatic post office are also included in the services. Recreation equipment in the games area includes pocket billiards, snooker, shuffleboard, foosball, table tennis, playing cards, checkers, chess and dominoes.

Student check cashing is available at the newsstand.

The UC-Music Building addition is now under construction and is scheduled to be completed this year. It will nearly double the size of the present Center.

Financial aid available in many forms

Many prospective Tech students complain of money shortages without realizing that the university offers financial aid in many forms.

Scholarships, long and short term loans, grants and various work programs are available to students who can prove financial need and or academic achievement, depending on the program. A complete listing of financial aid, and how to get it, can be found in the 1976-77 Scholarships and Financial Aids Bulletin.

Scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic achievement, financial need, character and citizenship. Only full-time students, those carrying at least 12 hours, will be eligible to receive or continue to hold scholarships. The awards are determined by the Financial Aids Committee and the specific academic department.

Unless otherwise indicated, deadlines for applications submitted to the Committee are May 1 for all and summer awards and Oct. 15 for spring awards.

Also, long and short-term loans will be provided at low rates for students whose college careers may be damaged by economic hardships. These loans are to aid the student in financing himself as well as to give him experience in basic financial matters, according to the Scholarships and Financial Aids Bulletin.

Tech is an active participant in the College Work-Study Program. In this program, students work for not more than 15 hours per week in which they have classes scheduled. Funds for the program are provided by Tech and the federal government for on-campus employment and the participating public or nonprofit private organization for off-campus employment.

The Student Financial Aid Office administers a Student Part-Time Employment Service for the student who must or wishes to finance himself while in school. Employment opportunities both on and off-campus are listed in the Service. The calls for student employees come from grocery, drug and department stores; offices on campus; and others such as lawyers, insurance men and various real estate firms.

Service gives special aid

Personal counseling, academic counseling, financial aid and basic instruction are offered by Tech's Special Services Program.

The program also offers a tutoring service for interested students. After filling out an application, a student's eligibility is determined by physical handicaps, low income or poor English speaking ability.

Representatives in the service believe students often need help in their study habits, rather than in a specific academic area. The tutoring program puts a lot of emphasis on study skills.

There is no charge to those who qualify for Tech's tutoring program.

Tech expenses average

By KIM COBB
UD Staff
Living on a budget can be a trial, even under the most favorable conditions.

Tech's living expenses are average, compared to other state colleges and universities, but the "little extras" mount up.

ACCORDING TO the Tech catalogue, "It is possible to live simply and participate in the life of the college community on a modest budget." Tech offers many free programs and activities for its students, though many people fail to take advantage of them.

According to Max Tomlinson, director of accounting and finance, in-state tuition and fees for someone carrying a 15 hour schedule (an average load) will run around $265 for the fall semester. This figure includes tuition, lab fees, a student service fee, UC fee, general property deposit, books, student use fee and a health fee.

Out-of-state tuition is $40 per semester hour, raising the total tuition and fees for a 15 hour load to $805.

All Tech freshman are required to live on campus in one of the dormitories. The average cost for room and board is $493 per semester, at present, but according to Bill Haynes, manager of residence halls operations, dorm rates will probably go up next year, though rates will not be decided until the May Board of Regents meeting.

SINCE THE dormitories serve only 20 meals a week, it is necessary to go out for Sunday dinner. There are any number of inexpensive eating establishments around the campus, and it's possible to eat moderately for around $1.50 in hamburger shops, fast-food places and cafeterias. After eating out once a week, every week of the semester, the total bill would be around $24.

Laundry costs must also be taken into consideration. For the student washing and drying three loads of clothes a week, the semester's cost would probably run close to $17.

Combining all of these basic costs, the total bill for one semester would come to $799 for the in-state student. The out-of-state resident faces a bill of $1,339 for the semester's total expenses.

THESE FIGURES do not include such extras as entertainment, clothing and gas for those students with cars. Transportation costs to and from the university must also be taken into consideration.

Towed cars

With 16 possible on campus parking on-campus violations is $5 and can be paid, if violations, your car could be towed to the impounded car lot. The parking cost for all it's a campus ticket, at the Traffic and Parking Building.

Counseling Center aids confused freshmen

By KIM PALMER
UD Staff

"A place to sit down for awhile and feel like part of a group — a place to come for warmth and friendship. We wish more students would stop by and get acquainted," was the feeling of Mrs. Merle Patterson concerning the Freshman Center-Student Embassy (FCSE).

The FCSE, located in the Croslin Room of the Library, concentrates on answering questions which freshmen or any student may encounter at Tech.

THE PROGRAM, new to Tech this year, has been termed successful. Patterson felt the response has been good. "We have a lot of students using the center," she said. The program offers numerous information outlets available to the center.

Each college has appointed a freshman coordinator to work with the program. These coordinators will be working with deans and faculty to find answers or alternatives to questions about respective schools. Patterson added that the center also has "literature on any function on the Tech campus."

Common questions posed by students range from where to have pictures made, locations of buildings, the procedure to follow when adding or dropping a class, work - study programs, financial aid, the testing center and the Student Health Services.

"Some students just come by to sit around and visit for awhile," according to Patterson.

AS AN ADDED service, the center offers a WATS line for student use. "It doesn't have to be a dire emergency for a student to use the line," said Patterson. "The line is here for them to use and we wish they would utilize it more."

The FCSE is manned five days a week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. with many students holding volunteer positions. Patterson labels the volunteer system as "students helping students." Telephone numbers for the center are 742-7128, -7158, -7187.

THE FCSE will have representative Gloria Masso in the Main Ballroom of the University Center during College Day activities to answer any questions concerning the program.

Fee insures health care

By JACK BEAVERS
UD Staff

In most communities, $9 wouldn't even begin to pay for health care. But, in the 20,833-member student community at Tech, a $9 Student Health Service Fee insures the student of the availability of on-campus health care 24 hours a day.

"We're trying awfully hard to improve our image," said Dr. Reagan Gibbs, director of the Student Health Service.

"We bear the brunt of a lot of jokes and it makes a lot of students hesitant about coming in here," Gibbs said.

"I DON'T WANT anyone to be afraid about coming to Thompson Hall for treatment," Gibbs said.

"Currently, there are four physicians assigned to Student Health and I hope that, by practicing good - sound medicine, word will get around that we're not just passing out Red Raider Pills." The clinic facilities of Student Health Services, located on the second floor of Thompson Hall, are manned by a staff of four doctors.

Clinic hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays. During the night and on weekends, an after hours clinic remains open on the first floor.

A PHARMACY, also located on the first floor, is open from 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m. weekdays. A special student health rate is charged for pharmaceuticals obtained from the Thompson Hall Pharmacy. "Generally speaking," said Gibbs, "the student prices for medication is about 40 per cent less than what you would normally find at a commercial pharmacy." "This of course depends on the medication, but it generally holds true," said Gibbs.

VARIOUS LABORATORY services, X-ray diagnostic examinations, administration of allergy desensitization and other health-related services are available to the student free of charge.

GOD'S FIVE MINUTES

Attend the Church of Your Choice this Sunday . . .

HOW IS MY NEIGHBOR DOING?

Someone said, "God is still waiting to see what can be accomplished by a man or a nation that will take seriously His command 'Love thy neighbor as thyself.'"

In today's world, how is my neighbor doing?

Well, two billion of them eat only two meager meals a day. Two billion of them live off of a three acre piece of land on which they raise $300 in crops. Of this money, $100 goes to their landlord.

Two billion of them have total holdings amounting to $5.00. And, as a result of that hard, ignominious life, each of these two billion people will live 30 years less than you or I.

They have seen no magazines all their lives; no electric lights, ever; no running water. And their entire lifetime wardrobe of clothes comes to them second hand, and numbers only 12 pieces.

Now do two things before you lay this down—

1. Be grateful to God for abundance
2. Pray to learn to share more meaningfully
