HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

Value of a gymnasium and auditorium for the local high school is being demonstrated daily.

Running a modern high school these days without a gym and assembly hall is like trying to keep a family happy in a house that has no "sitting room"; or rearing a gang of lousy kiddies where there's no room for them to play except in the street.

Serious and vital are problems confronting local school authorities. It is the first duty of democratic governments to provide education for all children. The more efficient the educational system the greater the benefit to the community.

Problems confronting the local schools are created not by negligence or desultory methods in handling the schools in the past but by phenomenal growth of the community's population—the same old story.

You can't teach 2,500 children in quarters designed for 1,500 or 1,750.

Therefore, if the duty of providing adequate school facilities is performed rightly something has got to be done pretty quickly. Just what means should be employed in providing the needed expansions remains to be determined by persons entrusted with that specific work. When they issue recommendations the entire community should interest itself in the matter and do everything possible to aid in solving it.

That valuable organization, The Business Men's Luncheon Club, now has called to its presidency the genial grocer, J. B. Pickle, whose sincere interest in things of value to the city is well known. We predict for the club renewed usefulness under his leadership.

The Southern Air Transport's reduction of fares to 5-12 cents per mile is a step in the right direction. After all is said and done, the modern business man congested with necessity of getting somewhere as quickly as possible will forget a lot of what fear he may have of flying provided the fares are continually being lowered without damaging efficiency of the service. Getting fares down to a basis comparable with those charged by railroads is the big thing for the commercial aviation. And, even then, the railroads are going to carry their share of the passengers.

Charity Problem Is Discussed Here

A committee of Big Spring people interested in charity work in this city assembled in the Chamber of Commerce office Friday afternoon to consider the best policy of conducting charitable work in Big Spring.

One committee represented the Chamber of Commerce, but representatives from other organizations and from the citizenship at large were invited to attend and express their views on the question.

The group assembling was composed of Nell Hatch, C. T. Watson, R. L. Owen, Shippey, Mrs. T. C. Thomas and Fox Striplin.

Stanton School Enrollment 500

STANTON, Jan. 23.—The enrollment of the Stanton schools has increased about 25 percent over last year, according to Supt. C. L. Sone. The present enrollment is approximately 500 students and even the new $45,000 building completed at the beginning of the present term of the school is crowded. An extra teacher was added after the holidays to help care for the overflow classes.

COUNTY TO TAKE BIDS ON PROJECT

Joint Construction Is Plan For T. & P. Crossing

Contract for the Benton street viaduct over the Texas and Pacific railroad company's tracks will be awarded Monday, Feb. 24, according to announcement of H. R. Debenport, county judge.

Bids for the right to construct a reinforced concrete and steel highway viaduct with piers and retaining walls of steel and reinforced concrete will be received by Howard county, opened and read publicly in the county courtroom here, Judge Debenport stated.

Plans and specifications for the structure, the second of its kind to be constructed within the city limits of Big Spring within a year, can be obtained from the Texas & Pacific Railroad Company at Dallas. Contractors entering bids will be required to include the usual "good faith" check for five per cent of the figure submitted.

Three agencies are cooperating in constructing the second highway viaduct. The Texas & Pacific Railroad Company has agreed to pay 50 per cent of the total cost, Howard county is to pay 35 per cent of the total cost and the city of Big Spring is to pay the additional 15 per cent. Builders have roughly estimated the viaduct will cost in the neighborhood of $110,000. The first viaduct constructed over the railroad tracks on Gregg street cost approximately $165,000, but unforeseen difficulties in finding secure foundation for footings was experienced on the first job.

Much Work On Program For Local Actors

The entire cast of "Aunt Lucia," the three-act laugh manufacturer to be staged at high school next Thursday and Friday under auspices of the Parent-Teacher Associations of the city, will meet at 6:45 p. m. today for rehearsal in the high school auditorium.

After working while the "gang" will recess practice to attend the Big Spring-Cisco basketball, and afterward will resume rehearsal. Miss Alice Kennedy, the coach, announced.

Strenuous work each evening is on the docket for those having parts in the production.

Wilburn Barcus, who appeared to great advantage in the recent Kiwanis minstrel show has assumed the role of Jerry, who is mistaken for "Aunt Lucia." His first rehearsal in this role brought joy to the hearts of those sponsoring the play.

Another hit of the show, it appears, will be scored by E. E. Fabrenkamp, as Prof. Gaddis. His histrionic capabilities are already well-known here.

Albert M. Fisher Leaves For Market

Albert M. Fisher, manager of one of Big Spring's leading department stores, left the city Friday morning for New York where he will spend several weeks supervising spring buying for the Albert M. Fisher and Company store.

The company maintains a buying office in New York throughout the year, but during certain seasons a representative of the store personally supervises purchases for the class-of-trade the Big Spring store serves.

Goes To Prison

After a trial at Camden, N. J., charged with the murder of her two little wards, whose skeletons were found in the woods, Gladys May Parks, 38, former cabaret dancer, was given 20 years by a jury of men. She was indicted for killing Dorothy Rogers, 4, and Timothy Rogers, 2.

SEEKS TAX AID IN PLAY

Author Explains His Purpose In Asking Law

BY RAYMOND BROOKS (Austin Correspondent)

AUSTIN, Jan. 24.—Occupation taxes ranging up to $54 per year on chain stores, in groups of 25 or more, and graduated down to $3 for a single store, are levied in a bill which Representative Polk Hornaday of Cameron county has prepared for introduction at this session of the legislature.

The tax would apply to all retail stores and chains.

The scale of tax is fixed in the following brackets: Single stores, $3.

Two to eight stores in group, $12 for each store above the first.

Nine to sixteen stores in a chain, $18 for each except the first.

Seventeen to 24 stores in chain, $30 for each after the first.

Twenty-five stores or more, $54 each except the first.

Penalties up to $100 per day are provided for operating without the required state license.

The chain store bill recites that "It is hereby declared to be the public policy of this state to place, put and effect the collection of taxes upon firms, persons and corporations engaged in the sale of goods, wares, and merchandise in this state, so that each so engaged shall contribute to the state payment of taxes in such manner and form and amount as to contribute to the economic welfare of the state in proportion to the benefits derived by such person or firm."

Mr. Hornaday said the bill has been drawn to overcome all the objections that have developed in chain-store tax bills in other states.

In a letter to the Texas Wholesale Grocery Association, Mr. Hornaday asserted "the chain store is reaping an enormous profit from the people of this state and contributes little and almost nothing in the form of taxes to guarantee the permanency and endurance of the state's economic structure."

"My first consideration is the economic welfare of the state. My next consideration is to protect the home-town merchant as far as possible, and lastly, my desire is to 'hamstring' chain stores."

"We believe," he added, "that Gov. Dan Moody will submit the subject of our proposed legislation at this session."

REFUSE TARIFF WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP).—The senate today rejected the Odie proposal to increase the tariff on hides above the 10 per cent ad valorem rate carried in the Hawley-Smoot bill. Hides are now on the free list. The vote was 59 to 21.

LOCAL MEN TALK ROADS IN ANDREWS

Joint Session Held By Officials Of Counties

A committee representing the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce left early Friday morning for Andrews, county seat of Andrews county, for a joint conference with the commissioners' courts of Martin and Andrews counties.

The joint meeting was arranged to further discuss the projected highway from Big Spring through Stanton in Martin county to Andrews, and on west to Hobbs and Carlsbad, N. Mex.

The group leaving Big Spring early Friday in which was vested authority to speak for the Big Spring chamber of commerce was composed of E. L. Cook, Joye Fisher, G. C. Porter, M. H. Morrison and Buck Richardson.

LIONS WILL AID IN PLAY

Business Only Slated For Next Week's Meeting

The next regular meeting of the Lions club to be held Friday noon, Jan. 31, will be devoted entirely to business and Frank Boyle, president of the organization, suggested that members refrain from inviting guests for that particular day that club problems may be more freely discussed.

The announcement was made at the Friday noon luncheon held in the basement of the First Christian Church at which discussions ranged from committee reports to the question of a united charity organization or Salvation Army program in Big Spring.

C. S. Holmes, originator of the Boy Scout movement in Big Spring, attended his first meeting since his election as an honorary member of the organization and offered numerous bits of advice in relation to charity work.

For six months last year, Mr. Holmes was chairman of the charity board in Big Spring that was disbanded for the lack of sufficient financing and because the limited time allowed to investigate cases often resulted in unwise expenditure of money.

H. L. Bohannon was elected a director of the Lions Club to fill the vacancy left by resignation of W. R. Douglass. C. A. Cowan of Menard, who has accepted management of an insurance company in Big Spring and who was a member of the Menard Lions Club, was introduced and he said he expects to transfer his membership to the local organization.

Ten members of the Lions club volunteered to serve in a chorus in the P-T. A. play, "Aunt Lucia," which will be presented in the high school auditorium next Thursday and Friday nights.

After the charity program had been discussed at considerable length, Mr. Boyle, president, appointed C. S. Holmes, Cecil Collins and Stanley Norman on a committee to represent the Lions Club in any charity activity that may be evolved from inter-service club discussion or from general committee meetings. L. D. Smith of Big Spring was introduced as a visitor.

The Weather

West Texas: Generally fair to light and Saturday.

East Texas: Generally fair in north. Increasing cloudiness in south portion tonight and Saturday, probably becoming unsettled near west coast; not so cold tonight, but frost probable to east coast Saturday morning. Light variable winds on the coast, mostly north to east.

KEPT ON FREE LIST WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP).—After declining twice to approve tariffs on hides above the 10 per cent ad valorem duty carried in the Hawley-Smoot bill, the senate today voted to keep hides, leather and shoes on the free list.

KIWANIANS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Special Program Given At Evening Meeting Here

Celebrating the 15th anniversary of Kiwanis International the Big Spring club met in a special evening session Thursday in the Methodist church. A program devoted to Kiwanis education was presented by a group of speakers from within the organization.

Thanks to the house committee, V. J. Higgins, Hilo Hatch and Hayden Griffith, the dining room was decorated tastefully in Kiwanis colors of blue and gold. There were cut flowers on the tables, which were lighted by candles. A large "birthday" cake was the centerpiece of decorations. Done in gold and blue, it bore the inscription "15th Anniversary."

The Kiwanis education committee, headed by George Gentry, with Joye Fisher and Garland Woodward had charge of the program, which was attended by 48 members.

A new member, James I. Prichard was introduced, and welcomed into the club by James Little.

E. E. Ribble was introduced as a guest.

Following the singing of "America" the invocation was offered by Rev. W. G. Bailey. Dr. Charles Deats, club president, led singing of several club songs.

Earl Ezzell discussed Kiwanis international history; L. W. Croft's topic was Building and Enriching Our Membership; Dr. James R. Dillard dealt with the sponsoring of new clubs; Secretary Steve D. Ford reviewed the relation of the local club to the district organization and George Gentry dealt with relations of the local club to the International organization.

Croft's talk was from the viewpoint of the classification committee. He urged members to submit names of new men in the city who would make good Kiwanis timber.

One of the major projects of the club for 1930 is sponsoring of new clubs in West Texas. There is no Kiwanis organization between El Paso and Abilene and San Angelo and Tahoka, with the exception of the local group.

Dr. Dillard asked members to communicate with their friends in other cities who might be interested in Kiwanis.

George Gentry led a sort of open forum in which individual members were asked questions concerning organization, aims and regulations of the organization. Among those who answered questions were Garland Woodward on how to become a Kiwanian, Joe Kuykendall on the proportion of a man's occupational time which he must devote to the profession or business in which he is classified as a member, and Nat Schick on the territorial limits of the club.

Steve Ford, who attended a recent convention in Dallas of the district trustees of the Texas-Oklahoma, district of 117 clubs, explained the district organization, listing the ten lieutenant governors. The international president is Horace W. McDavis of Decatur, Ill. The international secretary is Fred C. W. Parker of Chicago. The district governor is E. L. Mitchell of Clinton, Okla. The local club is within the district headed by Lieutenant Governor F. M. Bralley, Jr., of Amarillo. Other lieutenant governors are Frank Smith of Taylor, Curtis Clarke of Corpus Christi, Guy Blumby of Beaumont, R. G. Storey of Dallas, J. R. Johnson of Mineral Wells, J. J. Gaiser of Alva, Okla., E. C. Webb of Elk City, Okla., M. H. Sheppard of Chickasha, Okla., and Dexter Moss of Tulsa.

There are now sixty-three members of the Kiwanis club here.

Real Estate Men To Meet Tonight

His urgent appeal for all persons engaged in the real estate business to meet in the chamber of commerce offices at 7:30 p. m. Friday evening was repeated this morning by C. T. Watson, manager of the chamber of commerce. He said matters of mutual importance to the real estate men and to the city would be discussed.

24. He Prosecutes Judge As Slayer

MILK AND CREAM MARKET IS DISCUSSED BY AGRICULTURAL COMMITTEE AND COUNTY AGENT

The agricultural committee which met with J. V. Bush, county agent, Thursday afternoon, suggested points of work and assisted in arranging a general program for the year's work, but requested that Mr. Bush work out a detailed program from the general plan and submit his findings at a later meeting.

The committee composed of George White, J. B. Pickle, J. H. Rives, Tom Ashley and Earl Phillips recommended that the 4-H boys' club work continue with special emphasis placed on dairying, the calf club, row crops and pure seed. Fred Keating, chairman of the chamber of commerce agricultural committee, is out of the city and was unable to attend. C. T. Watson, manager of the commercial organization met with the other committee men and the county agent.

Considerable time was spent Thursday afternoon during the meeting discussing the milk and cream market conditions in Big Spring. There was no definite action taken, but the committee was unanimous in its opinion that milk and cream products needs attention in this particular territory if dairying is to become a profitable industry for the average farmer.

Members of the boys' maize club should be urged to feed their crop to baby beves, according to the findings of the committee and Mr. Bush was asked to include that work in his detailed program.

The committee endorsed the program of soil building and conservation which was started in the past year's program by agitation for crop rotation and for terracing, which gained rapid headway before the past year closed.

MARTIN COUNTY CHAMBER SETS DATES FOR MEMBERSHIP DRIVE; COUNTY FAIR BEING PLANNED

STANTON, Jan. 23.—The Martin County Chamber of Commerce will start the annual membership and finance drive Tuesday, Jan. 28 and it will continue until Thursday at 6 p. m. The drive will be made by 18 men who were appointed and the goal is set at 200 members. The budget will be about twice the amount collected last year.

The committee was called together for Friday night to receive final instructions for the drive by President Robert W. Hamilton and Charles Ebbert, finance and membership chairman.

Many of the new memberships will be secured from the farmers and later the chamber of commerce is planning to sponsor Community Chambers of Commerce and Secretary Claud Holley will act as their general secretary. At their meeting Thursday that he will deal in retail trade for a while and will sell coffee wholesale to local cafes.

The public is being treated to samples of the Big Spring Brand of Coffee and persons interested are being invited to call to sample it. The manager emphasized the fact that the new business house is a coffee roasting and blending company and not a coffee shop where coffee will be brewed for sale.

Railway Trainmen Sued For $900,000

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—A suit for $900,000, growing out of Florida real estate development in 1925, was filed against the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee, and George T. Webb, trustee of the brotherhood, in federal court Wednesday by E. N. Price Co., Sarasota, Fla., real estate operators.

The complaint alleges the brotherhood purchased 50,000 acres of land in the vicinity of Sarasota for $18,000,000, agreeing to pay the E. N. Price Co., as agents, 5 per cent of the purchase price. Huston, the suit sets forth, guaranteed the payment of the 5 per cent and made the obligation his own.

Webb, it is alleged, received $547,000 from the brotherhood to pay to the E. N. Price Co., but the amount was never paid.

Stephens Bonds Are Sold For Premium

BRECKENRIDGE, Jan. 23.—One hundred thousand dollars worth of special highway bonds were sold here Wednesday by the Stephens County Commissioners Court. The road bonds were purchased by Garret and Company of Dallas, and brought par, with 5 1/2 per cent interest and a $50 premium.

Part of the money derived from the sales of the bonds will be used in widening the north loop of the Bankhead Highway, as far east as the Palo Pinto County line and two miles west of here, to 100 feet. Other roads in the county will also be widened.

PROGRESS OF TRIAL IS FASTER

Second Venire Adds Three Jurors Quickly

COURT ROOM, AUSTIN, Jan. 24 (AP).—The end of the long preliminaries in the trial of John W. Brady, former appeals court justice, for murder, was close at hand at the noon recess of court today. Eleven jurors had been selected—three this morning—and upwards of 50 veniremen still were left from whom to choose the twelfth.

Three Chosen William Armstrong, Tom White and C. C. Miles—the three jurors picked today, came from 27 veniremen. Though most of the 24 were sent away for fixed opinions or objections to the death penalty, the defense used three of its peremptory challenges, leaving it only two to fill the limit of 12. The state exercised the right twice.

Armstrong, number nine in the box, was a teamster, 53 years old, who said he barely could read and write. Although he said he had heard some discussion of the case down there at the wagon yard," he explained he had no opinion as to Brady's guilt or innocence on the charge of stabbing Miss Lehlia Highsmith, 28-year-old capital stenographer said to have had Brady's help in getting the position she held at death.

White, a stout, bald 32-year-old butcher described his acquaintance with Brady by saying he had delivered meat to the "judge's" house.

Miles, 22, a slight, white-faced, and dapper hardware clerk, declared with some firmness he could try Brady, whose religion is Catholicism, in all fairness, though he himself was a Baptist.

Meanwhile, E. A. Berry of Houston, head of the Brady legal staff, said he could not say what his course would be if Dayton Moses, ill with influenza, did not recover sufficiently to come back to the courthouse and aid in the defense. Any announcement as to whether a continuance would be sought in such circumstances would be premature, he added, and they hoped Moses would be able to return by Monday.

COURT ROOM, AUSTIN, Jan. 24 (AP).—The effort to get four more jurors in the John W. Brady murder trial began today with Dayton Moses of the defense staff ill and E. A. Berry of Houston questioning the veniremen for the Brady side. Reports said Moses had a temperature of 102.

The first two veniremen had formed conclusions and were discharged quickly. A third was absent.

The courtroom was almost empty, the spectators apparently not having been advised court would open at 9 today instead of 10.

Venireman Amos Allen, insurance man, had objections to the death penalty. Another was excused because his name was spelled wrong.

Cattle Loss Is Small Over Ranges of Texas

FORT WORTH, Jan. 24 (AP).—Cattle loss in the range country will be comparatively small, according to reports received here.

With the close of the coldest weather over a good portion of the range country in Texas for more than a quarter of a century, rumors have been current that the loss would be unusually heavy, that it would run into several hundred head on some of the large ranches and that on some of the small ranches the loss would be appreciable.

In some sections, cattle went into the winter in thin condition, but even these seem to have pulled through without great loss.

THE NEW OAKLAND 8

$1045 AND UP

General Motors' Lowest-Priced Eight . . . the Car with Superior Performance

Today a new eight-cylinder motor car makes its appearance. It is the newest General Motors eight and by several hundreds of dollars the lowest in price. It is the New Oakland Eight with smart new bodies by Fisher.

Superior Performance
The New Oakland Eight develops 85 horsepower and is the first stock car of its size and weight to employ an engine of such high power. Since performance depends largely on the ratio between horsepower and weight, the New Oakland Eight is exceptionally fast and powerful because it produces one horsepower to 37 pounds of car weight.

Eight-Cylinder Smoothness
The New Oakland Eight has all the smoothness which results from the overlapping power impulses inherent in eight-cylinder engine design. In addition, it enjoys exclusive mechanical advantages which make it even smoother and more delightful to drive.

Sound Basic Design
Several of the engineers who participated in creating General Motors' first eight back in 1914 were responsible for the development of the New Oakland Eight. To this latest task they brought a wide knowledge of eight-cylinder design. It is reasonable to expect that the Oakland is a finer eight because of this fact.

Moderate Price
We believe the New Oakland Eight will appeal to you all the more forcibly when you consider its very moderate price. And a demonstration will reveal how well it merits the description "the car with superior performance."

The New Oakland Eight, $1045 and up, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Lowboy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers, rear fender guards and spring covers extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

NEW SERIES PONTIAC BIG 6

$745 AND UP

A Famous Name—A Finer Car . . . Introducing Important Improvements

The announcement of the first Pontiac in 1926 brought to the low-price field a new order of beauty, performance and reliability. And each Pontiac announcement since that time has introduced a car which represented an improvement even over its own highly regarded predecessors.

Important Improvements
Now comes the New Series Pontiac Big Six—an even finer car with a famous name. It retains all the qualities responsible for Pontiac's success in the past. And in addition it introduces many improvements.

New bodies by Fisher make this latest Pontiac Big Six more beautiful than ever.

Greater Smoothness and Safety
The smoothness of Pontiac's 60-horsepower engine is further increased by the use of improved type rubber engine mountings. Pontiac's large non-squeak four-wheel brakes have been made even more efficient. A new sloping non-glare windshield also adds to its safety. Handling ease is increased through the use of a new type of steering mechanism. Improved Lowboy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers give increased riding comfort.

Time-Triest Performance
In speed, power and pick-up the New Series Pontiac Big Six continues to uphold the Pontiac reputation for spirited performance. Come now to our showroom and inspect this finer car with a famous name—the New Series Pontiac Big Six.

The New Series Pontiac Big Six, $745 and up, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Shock absorbers standard equipment. Bumpers and spring covers at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list (f. o. b.) price when comparing automobile values. . . Oakland Pontiac delivered prices include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

Worth More Than Worlds Of Money

AFTER TEN YEARS OF SUFFERING, CISCO MAN WAS IN DESPAIR—ORGATONE HELPS BRING TROUBLES

"I would rather see my father well and happy like he is since taking Orgatone than to have all the money in the world," declared Mrs. Joe Clements of 1000 Ave. D Claco, Texas. Mrs. Clements is the daughter of Mr. Edwin Fenley, well known retired farmer and genial gentleman of the old school who has a host of friends throughout this section of Texas.

"Before my father took Orgatone," continued Mrs. Clements, "he had a gaseous condition so bad that at times it affected his heart action and I was very much worried about him. His stomach was in such a bad condition that he could hardly stand it. He was extremely nervous—his breath was short and he could not sleep well.

"At the time he began taking Orgatone his joints were so stiff and sore that he could hardly get around and had not been able to do any kind of work for years. But he is now feeling like a different person and acts like he is 30 years younger. The rheumatic pains are leaving him and he can get about now without the least bit of trouble. He can eat meats, pickles, all kinds of vegetables and anything else he wants and never has a sign of indigestion. He is not the least nervous anymore, sleeps like a child at night. I can't find words to express my thankfulness for what Orgatone has done for him. It is nothing short of wonderful.

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Big Spring at the Cunningham & Phillips Drug Store.—adv.

A PRETTY AFTERNOON FROCK

6658. This effective style, features the new flare skirt, mounted on a fitted yoke, draped at the side of the front, and finished with a wide wash. The waist portions blouse slightly above the yoke portions. The triangular neck is a favorite and becoming finish. The sleeve is fitted, and is finished with a narrow shaped cuff. Printed silk was selected for this model, with crepe in a matched shade, for the cuffs. Moire, panne, or printed velvet are also suggested.

The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 34, 36, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. To make a 38-inch size will require 4-1/4 yards of 39 inch material. For cuffs of contrasting material 1-8 yard of 39 inches wide is required. To finish the neck edge with bias binding will require 1 yard 1 1/2 inch wide. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fullness extended is about 2 1/2 yards.

Man Charged Of Killing Agents

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 24 (AP)—George W. Moore was charged with murder today in connection with the slaying last Saturday of two federal prohibition agents in an attempted raid on the Moore residence.

A warrant was sworn to by Justice of the Peace Rickards after the verdict of a coroner's jury that Robert A. Moncure and F. R. Patterson, the agents, were killed by Moore "in an act of murder."

The jury's verdict came yesterday after a hearing in which counsel for Moore contended the agents attempted to search the residence at night with a daytime warrant.

W. M. McNulty and J. S. Kugler, surviving agents, testified daylight prevailed when they reached the Moore home.

OPEN-FACE SANDWICHES FAVORED FOR WINTER TEAS

From The Kansas City Star:

The cool afternoons between the winter holidays and the Lenten season offer splendid opportunities for afternoon teas and at homes. What could be more cheerful than a cup of tea beside a blazing hearth with congenial friends about?

The nicest thing about an afternoon tea is that everything but the tea can be prepared beforehand. There is no apparent bustle or hurry about an affair of this kind. The hostess can be far more calm and gracious when entertaining at tea than when entertaining at dinner, for she doesn't have to worry about the roast burning or the soufflé falling. Her table can be ready before guests arrive. Various sandwiches and cakes can be made in the morning and, with reserves in the icebox and plenty of hot water, the hostess entertaining at tea can meet her friends from 3 o'clock to 5 o'clock knowing that the afternoon will be successful.

Open-faced sandwiches are becoming more and more the vogue of the afternoon tea. Here the hostess can use her own ingenuity and imagination and achieve fine effects in the art of sandwich making. There should be at least five or six kinds made, with an eye to color combinations. Bread for these sandwiches should be cut about 1-4-inch thick, except rye bread, which may be kept thin. Crusts may be left on. Of course, one of the novel things about these sandwiches is their many different shapes—crests, stars, circles, fingers, half moons, diamonds, triangles and oblongs, or any other patterns.

Open-Faced Sardine Sandwiches
1/2 medium sardines
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon minced parsley
Dash of salt, pepper and cayenne
2 tablespoons butter
3 hard cooked egg yolks
Mayonnaise

Drain sardines, remove heads, tails and bones. Pound to a paste with the lemon juice. Cream butter and add parsley, sardine mixture and seasonings to taste. Spread on thin circles of rye bread. Mix the egg yolks to a stiff paste with a little mayonnaise. Make a border of the egg yolk around the edge of each sandwich. A slice of stuffed olive in the center would be an attractive touch.

Almond Sandwiches (About 20 sandwiches)
1-2 package creamed cheese
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1-8 pound salted almonds
Candied lemon peel
Mash cheese and mix thoroughly with lemon juice, adding enough to give the preferred consistency and flavor. Work in ground almonds. Spread on buttered diamond-cut slices of wholewheat bread. Put three small pieces of candied lemon peel down, center of each sandwich.

Pink-Face Sandwiches
1-2 cup cooked beets
1-2 cup cottage cheese
1-2 teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
3 hard boiled egg whites
Put beets through food chopper, add sugar, lemon juice and cheese. Mix well and spread on triangle shaped slices of white bread. Make a border of chopped egg whites. One or more sweet sandwiches should be included.

Date Sandwiches
1 cup grated date
1 tablespoon orange juice
1-8 teaspoon cinnamon
1-4 cup ground pecans
Mix together all ingredients well and spread on buttered slices of bread. Cut each slice into three or four fingers. Each may be decorated with a half pecan.

Tunneys Return To U. S.

Back came the Tunneys, rosy and tene, after their 14 months' honeymoon abroad. And here you see the retired heavyweight champion and his socially prominent and wealthy wife as they arrived in New York with broad smiles and "nothing to say, of course" about the $500,000 breach of promise suit brought against Tunney by Katherine King Fogarty, Texas divorcee. The suit is to be tried soon in Bridgeport, Conn.

Twenty-eight contestants, representing 732,000 4-H club members, competed.

Dainty cakes, cookies and wafers vie with the sandwiches on the tea table. Here is where icebox cookies come to the fore. They are far less trouble to make than rolled cookies.

Free delivery service

— in COLD WEATHER!!

We also appreciate it in any kind of weather. We mention cold weather because of the extremely low temperature of the past two weeks when, it might be said, Big Spring was "cold bound."

Your "Service Grocer" really gives you SERVICE. Whether it is cold, rainy, snowing, sleeting and the pavement is covered with ice, extremely hot, windy, or otherwise, he can always be depended upon to deliver you high-class groceries, meats, vegetables and any household necessity carried by a grocery store.

charge accounts

THEN, too, many housewives appreciate the convenience of a charge account, and your service grocer is glad to extend credit to good-paying accounts. When one stops to consider that orders from service stores MUST be first-class (as they are not personally selected) and that they are delivered in any kind of weather into your kitchen and on the table, it is not difficult to see why so many "particular people" prefer to patronize the Service Grocer.

Just remove the receiver of your phone and call one of the Service Grocers listed below and enjoy the service he can give you.

HOW TO COOK SAUSAGE TOLD BY LADIES

RECIPES FOR FIXING BEEF ARE SOUGHT

The Market Page Editor was told last week that there were no unusual ways of cooking sausage. Undaunted by such information the contest for today's issue was announced as for "Ways of Cooking Sausage" and the Big Spring housewives responded nobly.

Winners
Winners of the $1 prizes for recipes published today are: Mrs. Ward Remel, Box 1427, Big Spring, Miss Ethel Ward, Vealmore Route, Big Spring and Mrs. L. S. McDowell of 710 Scurry St. Mrs. McDowell even gave us a way of keeping sausage through the winter and spring months.

Now for next week we want to know the very best ways of cooking beef. Mrs. — may have this unusual and appetizing way while Mrs. — in another part of the city may have a very different way. There are many ways of preparing beef and we want to tell all the readers of the Market Page of your way. Remember — if your way is published you receive $1 from the Herald. Send your entry now and read the Market Page next Friday.

"How To Cook Sausage"
Submitted by Mrs. L. S. McDowell, 710 Scurry St.

Make fresh sausage into small cakes like biscuits; press firmly together with the hands and fry brown on both sides until well done. Arrange in a stone jar and pour the hot grease over them until jar is three-fourths full. When cold melt fresh lard or Crisco, pour over the cooked sausage until entirely covered two or three inches or more. Sausage cooked and put up in this way will keep fresh until summer.

Sausage Timbals
1-2 cups spaghetti
1-4 teaspoon salt
Dash of cayenne pepper
2 cups sausage meat
1-2 teaspoons cornstarch
1-3 cups milk
1 egg

Hot Tomato Sauce
Hot tomato sauce
Cook spaghetti in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain and pour cold water through it. Add 1-2 teaspoon salt, and the pepper. Line buttered timbale moulds or custard cups with this mixture and fill with small pieces of cooked sausage. Cover the top with spaghetti and pour in as much of the following mixture as the mould will take up:

Mix cornstarch with 1-3 cup milk; add egg yolks beaten slightly; then add rest of milk, half teaspoon salt and cayenne pepper. Fold this in stiffly beaten egg whites. Set moulds in pan of hot water and bake at 250 degrees Fahrenheit for thirty minutes. Invert and serve with tomato sauce.

MEAT LOAF
Submitted by Miss Ethel Ward, Vealmore Route
3 lbs. beef sausage
1 lb. pork sausage
5 raw eggs
3 large onions
4 pods garlic
6 green peppers
1-3 loaf of bread (finely crumbed) (biscuit or crackers may be used).

Salt, pepper and red pepper to suit taste.
2 cans tomatoes.
Cut onions, garlic and peppers finely and mix with crumbed bread. Mix sausage thoroughly. Add eggs and mix thoroughly. Put tomatoes on top and bake in oven until done (about one hour).
We just can't help but publish one more that we found in another newspaper. It sounds mighty good and we know the Big Spring housewives will want to try it. Here it is:

Sausage Omelette
In a coarse food chopper grind 3 or 4 shoulder chops. Brown in a buttered frying pan until done, season with a pinch of sage, salt or pepper. Take 1-2 cups sweet milk, put in a double boiler.
When hot, thicken to consistency of gravy, put the sausage in this and let it stay on the stove to keep hot.
Take 6 eggs, beat separately, add 3 tablespoons sweet milk and season with salt and pepper. Let the eggs cook slowly in a buttered frying pan until brown on the underside. Then set under the direct toaster blaze for a few minutes.
Take out, fold, put on a platter and surround with the creamed sausage.

MENUS FOR THE DAY

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE SAU'É 1930 RESOLUTIONS

To learn food values so as to be able to serve well balanced, tempting meals to the family.
To put the youngsters to bed when cold symptoms develop in order to stop the disease as quickly as possible and not endanger the health of other children.
To plan food ordering lists carefully. To keep a pad in a convenient place in the kitchen for jotting down the needed staples to avoid confusion and inefficiency.
To market personally whenever possible in order to purchase the freshest foods.
To watch sales for staples and keep the pantry stocked with some canned goods for emergency.
To plan certain duties to be done daily, taking care not to plan so much that it cannot be accomplished.
To equip the kitchen with as many labor saving devices as possible and to investigate the merits of each carefully before buying.
To try to get the viewpoints of the younger members of the family in order to be an understanding companion.
To not be a drudge to housework, as little of pleasure to anyone is accomplished.
To watch the clothing for spots and rips and to give frequent airings and general brushings, thereby lengthening the life of the clothing and reducing the cleaning costs.
To keep in repair the household equipment.
"A house is built of gold and a home of love—the simplest cottage can be a home while a castle merely a house." Be a homemaker not housekeeper.
After turkey has been picked from the bones, place bones, skin and any leftover dressing and turkey in a pan, cover with cold water and add some seasonings, as onion and celery. Cook very slowly in a covered pan for 1 hour. Strain, and a delicious turkey broth will result.
Salted nuts quickly lose their freshness. When they are served they should be heated for a few minutes in a moderate oven.

Housewife Finds Variety in Lamb
The leg of lamb and the rib chops are the most familiar of the cuts from the lamb. Equally delicious, and much lower in price are the dishes that can be served from the shoulder and breast cuts. As a change from the leg and chops, housewives will find it desirable to try the shoulder steaks or neck steaks according to Miss Inez S. Wilton, home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board. The latter cuts are best when braised, or baked in casserole. To prepare, remove the bone carefully with a small knife, roll the meat into a round or oval shape and hold in place with a small steel skewer or with tooth picks. Roll in beaten egg diluted with a little water, then in fine bread crumbs, sear on both sides in hot meat drippings, place in casserole, add 1-2 cup stock or water, cover and bake in a moderate oven (300 degrees F.) 1-2 to 2 hours. Uncover during last 30 minutes of cooking. Serve with a mint sauce, or a lamb gravy.
For mince pies, stews, lamb hash, croquettes, and other dishes of this type, the breast and neck are the cuts to choose. Cook the meat slowly until tender and then combine into any one of these according to favorite recipes. For broth there are the shanks.

Lamb Salad
After removing all the bone and gristle, cut left-over lamb or mutton into one inch cubes. Marinate meat 2 or 3 hours with a dressing made of 2 tablespoons oil, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1-4 teaspoon pepper and 1-2 teaspoon salt.
Shortly before serving, combine with 1 or 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped, 1 cup diced celery, 1 teaspoon minced onion, and a dozen capers. Moisten with boiled or mayonnaise dressing. Serve as main dish for lunch or supper with asparagus or other vegetable, such as new carrots.
Kidneys, heart, fries, and brains are part of lamb too often neglected. Broiled kidneys on toast, braised heart, breaded fries, and scrambled brains are some methods of preparation. These unusual dishes will come as treats to the family.

The rules which must be followed in planning meals from the nutrition angle are few and simple. If the housekeeper will make them the "rule of thumb" she will find that almost automatically she provides for the family health needs as far as food goes.
First—A quart of milk for each child, and a pint for each adult each day. (Part of this may be used in the cooking. It is a good plan to include at least one milk dish a day for children and adults alike.)
Second—Plenty of fruits and vegetables each day; fresh or canned fruit always including orange juice or tomato juice each day or a leafy vegetable, such as lettuce, cabbage or spinach, as well as at least two other vegetables or fruits, fresh or canned.
Third—A whole cereal used in the form of breakfast food or bread at least once each day.
Fifth—Meat, fish, eggs or cheese, once a day.
With these few simple rules followed, the rest of the food will take care of itself. The "extra food value or calories" will be furnished by the bread and butter and the sugar, which preferably should be used for flavoring for the desserts rather than in the form of candy between meals.

The rules which must be followed in planning meals from the nutrition angle are few and simple. If the housekeeper will make them the "rule of thumb" she will find that almost automatically she provides for the family health needs as far as food goes.
First—A quart of milk for each child, and a pint for each adult each day. (Part of this may be used in the cooking. It is a good plan to include at least one milk dish a day for children and adults alike.)
Second—Plenty of fruits and vegetables each day; fresh or canned fruit always including orange juice or tomato juice each day or a leafy vegetable, such as lettuce, cabbage or spinach, as well as at least two other vegetables or fruits, fresh or canned.
Third—A whole cereal used in the form of breakfast food or bread at least once each day.
Fifth—Meat, fish, eggs or cheese, once a day.
With these few simple rules followed, the rest of the food will take care of itself. The "extra food value or calories" will be furnished by the bread and butter and the sugar, which preferably should be used for flavoring for the desserts rather than in the form of candy between meals.

A SIMPLE STEP TOWARDS HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a Daily Essential and Millions Know Its Effectiveness in Relief of Constipation

Perhaps the one simple thing you are not doing to guarantee permanent health is having sufficient roughage in your food. Absence of this roughage is the direct cause of constipation which results in so many other ills—headaches, listlessness, general depression, indigestion and, sometimes, serious disease.
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. It is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded. Two table-spoons daily (in serious cases, with each meal) is the proper amount.
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also helps you to health in other ways. It is rich in iron, practically all of which goes into the blood, bringing red, healthy color to the complexion. It helps prevent anemia. Be sure to include it in reducing diets.
Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN as a delicious addition to cereals, fruits and soups. In cooked foods, such as bran muffins, it is just as effective in the relief of constipation. Recommended by doctors. Ask your grocer for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

It happens in the best families

SUNSHINE poured in through the window. A fat sparrow twittered on the sill. It was a beautiful morning. Norma hummed happily.
Suddenly her husband barked.
"Why in the world can't you make good coffee?"
Then he followed it up with the comparison that every bride dreads.
"My mother never made miserable stuff like this!"
Norma tried to fight back her tears, but failed.
"I make it just the way your mother taught me," she sobbed. "She showed me how to make all your favorite dishes. We never told you."
Gene was sorry. He put both arms about her and kissed away her tears.
"You haven't made any changes at all?" he questioned, puzzled.
"No," Norma told him. "Not one... that is, yes; one little one. I've been using a different brand. One of the neighbors said..."
"You go back to White Swan Coffee," her husband exclaimed with mock severity. "Darling, there is no better."
So, Norma went back to White Swan and now everything is serene again.

Gene was sorry. He put both arms about her and kissed away her tears.

ity. Some of the artful processes are as old as the happy custom of serving coffee; others are as new as science can devise them; all are employed with the skill acquired by more than a half century of roasting and blending a coffee of unrivaled goodness.
Freshness is one of the most vital of the many factors which insure the White Swan flavor. It always comes to you fresh from the roaster. Your dealer is within easy shipping distance of one of the 22 Waples Platter Houses strategically located to insure prompt distribution. In addition, a fleet of motor trucks operates over established routes, making regular deliveries to the 10,000 White Swan dealers.
By going to the very source for its product, by controlling every step of its preparation and distribution, this sixty-year-old institution of the Southwest makes sure that no finer coffee can be brought into your home for the price you are asked to pay.
To guarantee this, the Waples Platter Company has become importer, roaster and packer, as well as distributor of the inimitable White Swan Coffee... available at your grocer's in one and three pound cans.

The Double Fry Pan

This Double Fry Pan will cook or fry two different kinds of food at one time over one flame or burner. It is ideal for such dishes as ham and eggs, steak and onions, meat loaf, and all sorts of warmovers. It is also an omelet pan, and it is splendid for baking a cake or biscuits on top of the stove.

Recipe for Jelly Omelet

Beat the yolks and whites of four eggs separately. Then beat together and season with salt and pepper. Heat and butter both sides of pan. Four half of eggs in each side and cook over low flame until set. Spread jelly on top of one half, turn the other half on top and serve.

Taylor Link Well Pinched

Arkansas Fuel Oil Company's No. 1 University, three-quarter mile extension to the Taylor-Link pool of Pecos county, has been pinched to an average production of 33 barrels per hour, according to information received from San Angelo Friday morning.

No. 1 University topped pay at 1,525 feet which was continuous for ten feet, to a reported depth of 1,535 feet. Operators continued drilling to a total depth of 1,555 feet and had a substantial gas increase just below 1,545 feet.

The well is located 1,650 feet from the south and west lines of section 32, block 16. The new producer is three-quarters of a mile due east of Skelly Oil Company's No. 1 Bowers University in the southwest corner of a 40-acre tract of section 32, block 16. Shell has 40 acres due west, the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 32, and Amerada 80 acres due south, the south half of the southwest quarter of section 32.

William's Birthday To Be Quiet Affair

DOORN, Holland, Jan. 24 (AP).—The seventy-first birthday anniversary of William II, former German emperor, on Monday, promises to be a quiet one compared with that of a year ago. Then on the occasion there gathered at Doorn the largest aggregation of Hohenzollerns seen together in one place since the fall of the German monarchy.

Few of the more distant relatives are expected this year. As usual, former Crown Prince Frederick William has arranged to come. He probably will be accompanied by former Crown Princess Cecilie, as the former kaiser's second wife, Hermine, and Cecilie have patched up differences.

Of the other children of the former ruler, his only daughter, Princess Victoria Louise, is certain to come with her husband, Duke Ernest August of Brunswick and Lüneburg. It is not yet certain whether all of the other sons of William II, Eitel Friedrich, Adalbert, August Wilhelm, and Oscar, can come, but Baron Ulrich von Sell, personal aide to his majesty, said one or two of them surely would be there.

Fund For Memory Of Anti-Saloon Leader Started In Dallas

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 24 (AP).—Rev. Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Texas Anti-Saloon League, has announced an educational campaign among Texas young people and a drive for funds to help build a fund to the memory of the late Dr. Wayne B. Wheeler, Rev. Webb returned from the national convention of the Anti-Saloon League at Detroit yesterday.

"The campaign among young people of the state is for youthful temperance and law observance," he said. "The fund to the memory of Dr. Wheeler is a part of the national fund of $1,500,000 to his memory, one third of which already has been pledged."

Another Creager Move Quashed by U.S. Court

HOUSTON, Texas, Jan. 24 (AP).—For the second time a citation by R. B. Creager, republican national committeeman from Texas, against F. C. Spaulding in Creager's $1,000,000 damage suit against the publishers and distributors of Colliers Weekly has been quashed.

The suit was the outgrowth of articles in the magazine, Federal Judge W. L. Estes declared the service on the distributing corporation, or agent, as represented by Spaulding, did not constitute service on the publishers.

Negro Woman First Female To Die In Alabama's Chair

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 24 (AP)—Silena Gilmore, negro, first woman to be electrocuted in Alabama, was put to death in the electric chair at Kilby prison today.

The woman was convicted in Jefferson county for the murder of Horace Johnson, Birmingham restaurant operator, last June. She shot him when he requested her to leave his restaurant.

Small Group Of Old Friends To Attend Mrs. Bryan's Funeral

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24 (AP)—A small group of relatives and invited friends prepared to assemble at the Little Church of the Flowers in Glendale, Calif., today for the last rites of Mrs. Mary Baird Bryan before her ashes are sent to Washington, D. C., to rest beside the body of her husband, William Jennings Bryan, in Arlington National Cemetery. No public funeral service will be conducted.

NEGRO ELECTROCUTED

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 24 (AP)—Ben Evers, 22-year-old negro, died in the electric chair today for the slaying last spring of Perry Miller, city marshal of Dewitt.

Among the persons who witnessed the electrocution were the slain city officer's widow, daughter and brother.

The shooting occurred when the negro resisted arrest.

Heiress Plunges To Death From Window

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 24 (AP)—Miss Bessie Greve, 45, heir to one third of the $444,000 estate of her father, Henry Greve, commission merchant, plunged to her death today from a window of the sixth floor room at a hotel. The body was found on the snow-covered ground at the rear of the hotel. She had been in ill health.

CISCO SENDS WARNING OF POWER

BAYLOR HAS CHANCE AT PENNANT

BEARS MUST DELIVER OR ARKANSAS AND TEXAS WILL BE UNCONTESTED

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR.

DALLAS, Jan. 24 (AP)—A third team will be added to the list of contenders for the Southwest Conference basketball title this weekend, or the race will settle into a duel between Texas University and Arkansas.

The Baylor Bears, as a result of their decisive victory over Southern Methodist Tuesday night, appear likely to make a determined bid for the flag. Their engagement with Texas-Saturday night at Austin will tell definitely whether they are to be a factor. They gave the Longhorns a terrific scrap in their first meeting, losing only after two extra periods. They are accorded an even chance of winning tomorrow.

Arkansas Razorbacks take it easy this week while their arch rivals, the Longhorns, fight off the Baylor threat. If Baylor makes good on its promise to plaster the Steers, Arkansas will go into the lead. Next week, however, it will be different. The Razorbacks invade Waco for a two-gamer with the Bears.

Two other bouts complete the week-end card. Texas Christian, after a disastrous start against Arkansas, will try to improve its standing in an invasion of the south. Tonight the Frogs meet the Aggies at College Station. Tomorrow night they tackle the Rice Owls at Houston. Neither game is likely to influence the title race. All three teams appear to be pretty definitely out of it.

Rice, after dropping four against the Aggies Tuesday night, against the Aggies Tuesday night, winning 23 to 17. Now that the jinx is broken, chances are the Owls will be hard to beat. If they wallop the Frogs, they will be able to remove the luxurious whiskers accumulated since they took the pledge two weeks ago. The Owls, incidentally, are the only team in the conference using the man-for-man defense this year. Texas won a championship with it in 1924.

The standing:

| Team | Won | Lost | Pct. |
|----------|-----|------|------|
| Texas | 3 | 1 | .750 |
| Arkansas | 3 | 1 | .750 |
| S. M. U. | 2 | 2 | .500 |
| Baylor | 1 | 1 | .500 |
| Aggies | 1 | 1 | .500 |
| T. C. U. | 2 | 3 | .333 |
| Rice | 1 | 4 | .200 |

Novotny Heads Midwest Drive On Dixie Meet

BILOXI, Miss., Jan. 24 (AP)—The Midwest's gunners, who have sniped their way to two straight titles in the premier winter golf event of the Mississippi gulf coast, are training their sights on Biloxi again.

The middle west will send a mighty array to retain its strangle hold on the Pan-American amateur championship in the 'third annual tournament at Edgewater Golf January 28 to February 1.

Gus Novotny of Chicago, 1929 champ, will find the going rough in a field of stars headed by a contingent of middle westerners that includes Jack Westland, another Chicagoan, who captured the French amateur title last summer.

From the Chicago section the pack will include Johnny Lehman, fifth low qualifier in the national amateur at Pebble Beach; Art Sweet, semi-finalist in last summer's western amateur; George Thomas, Chicago city title holder, and Don Armstrong of Aurora, Ill., Pan-American champion in 1928. The veteran Chick Evans also has sent notice of a tentative entry.

From Missouri will come Elliott Whitbread of St. Louis, champion of his state, and Oklahoma will be represented by its title holder, Jim Kennedy. Another Oklahoma menace will be Logan VanZandt, one of the best in the southwest.

Louisiana stars will do the bidding for the south. Fred Lamproch of New Orleans, former national intercollegiate champ, and Ross McDade of Shreveport, last year's medalist, will carry the hopes of Dixie.

NEW YORK—Charlie Chaplin, who has never acted in the talkies, is getting interested. While he proposes to keep the role of the Engaged Tramp in silence, he has obtained a script of the play "Josef Suss" with a view to possible sound film production.

Meet Tonight

Big Boy Peterson, top, giant Mississippi mauler, battles Primo Carnera, Italy's scrapping skyscraper, in New York, in a sort of test to see if the great Carnera's European victories were pugilistic or publicity.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Wasson left Friday for a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Rex Reagan, and Mr. Fisher in Seagraves.

GENE SARAZEN SETS COURSE RECORD AT AGUA CALIENTE TO WIN $10,000 GOLF PURSE

Horton Smith Is Runner-Up To New Yorker, Who Broke Into Elite Of Golfdom By Winning National Open When 21 Years Old

AGUA CALIENTE, Lower California, Jan. 24 (AP)—Gene Sarazen, New York professional, today ushered the Scottish pastime into the big money class of the sporting world.

With his magic clubs, Sarazen yesterday transformed his 395 strokes for the 72-hole first annual Agua Caliente $25,000 open tournament into $10,000, the champion's share of the largest stake ever placed on the golfing mart.

A stirring comeback which recalled his advent into the list of the elite back in 1922 when he, as a 21-year-old youth, stepped out to win the national open title, marked Sarazen's play.

Fourteenth at the end of the first round, the former caddy finished his triumphant tour of the four-day event with a two-stroke edge over the pride of Missouri's Ozark region, Horton Smith, and the veteran Al Espinosa, Chicago professional, both of whom finished with 397.

Sarazen set a course record of 68 in his startling finish. It was one of only two scores which eclipsed the par figures of 71 during the tournament.

Wirt G. Bowman, president of the Agua Caliente Company, Inc., announced the affair would become a permanent fixture among the Pacific coast winter money events.

Fart Steeds Picked For Speed Handicap

AGUA CALIENTE, Baja, Cal., Mexico, Jan. 24 (AP)—Fifty-four of the ranking winter handicap horses have been named for Agua Caliente's first major stake—the speed handicap to be run Feb. 2. The race is for three-year olds and up at six furlongs with a purse of $6,000 added.

Among the nominees are Shasta Bullet and Alexander Pantages, winners of the event in 1928 and 1929, respectively. Other top-notchers listed are the Reichert Brothers' Brown Wisdom, and My Dandy; Three D's stock farm's Double Heart; the Wilshire stable's Jim Dandy; Mrs. R. Pollard's Uluulu; Baron Long's Ervart; the Nevada stock farm's Chiclelight; W. R. Coe's Vanity; Unna and Bartelstein's Golden Prince and W. S. King's Mint Ota.

Murphy's Side Show Flavors Big Clash

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 24 (AP)—Murphy vs Murphy—the battle of the "Stretchers!"

This will be one of college basketball's greatest attractions. It is billed for Jan. 30 when the high flying Loyola team of Chicago and the hard hammering Purdue Boilermakers, each led by a Charles "Stretch" Murphy, clash on the hardwoods of Memorial gymnasium.

Each Murphy plays center; each is the ace of his team and each is virtually an unstoppable scorer.

Purdue's Murphy, leading scorer of the Western conference last season, with an all-time record of 143 points in 12 games, has a three inch advantage over Loyola's Murphy.

The Purdue beanpole stands six feet six inches in his basketball shoes.

Murphy of Loyola, however, is a faster man, and is the spark plug defensively and offensively of his team, whose winning streak has extended through 20 games in three seasons.

Twelve Of 4 Horsemen Now Coach Football

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 24 (AP)—Noble Kizer, new head coach at Purdue, was the seventh of the 1923 Notre Dame football team to become a gridiron boss. Five others are assistant coaches.

Among the head coaches of that year's team are the "four horsemen": Harry Stuhldreher, at Villanova; Don Miller at Case Institute; Jim Crowley at Michigan State and Elmer Lyden at Duquesne. Chuck Collins, an end, is head coach at North Carolina and Gene Oberst, tackle, at Washington and Lee.

Five of the western conference basketball captains played against each other in Indiana high school basketball games. Murphy and Horseman of Purdue, Walter of Northwestern, McCracken of Indiana and Chapman of Michigan.

Reds Cash In On Columbus Recruit

One reason Cincy bought the Columbus club was to get a certain recruit. He failed but Columbus now has produced Chico Cuccinello. And Chico looks like a sure shot.

Carnera Ready For Peterson

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP)—Primo Carnera, Venice's fighting carpenter, will assemble his six feet eight and one-half inch superstructure in Madison Square Garden tonight with intent to amuse the populace and annihilate Big Boy Peterson of Minneapolis, himself no candidate for membership in the midgets' union.

Carnera, whose feet have been compared in size to one of his native city's gondolas, makes his American debut against Peterson in a bout which may go ten rounds provided the battlers and the ring stand up.

Between them the Italian and his American rival weigh in the neighborhood of 500 pounds. Carnera confesses to something like 270 pounds, and Peterson's 215 pounds are distributed over a frame six feet four inches high.

He Did a Ringo

CHICAGO, Jan. 24 (AP)—In a basketball game between two fraternity teams of Chicago the score was 5-2, the loser being saved a shut-out because a winning player coasted the ball into the wrong basket.

Oran Pape, the University of Iowa speed-boy, has admitted the truth of charges he played professional football while still on the under-graduate gridiron roster but this, as Dick Cullum remarks in the St. Paul Dispatch, won't eliminate the last-minute touch-downs by which Pape beat Minnesota two years in a row.

With a few notable exceptions such as Bob Zupke at Illinois, Alonso Stagg at Chicago and (until the last few years) Fielding Yost at Michigan, the Western Conference has been an abode of coaching untreat so far as the football mentors are concerned.

STEERS GET NEW SUITS TONIGHT

CAPTAIN BUREN EDWARDS BACK IN SHAPE TO LEAD MATES AGAINST LOBS

After sending a forewarning to Big Spring that his Big Dam Lobos are set to take the "cockiness" out of the Steers, Coach Weldon Chapman of Cisco herded his jungle beasts together and started for this city where two court games are scheduled to take place Friday and Saturday nights in the high school gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock.

Cisco has sent word its basketball club will repeat the dose handed Big Spring in football last fall. However, the Steers are capable of looking after their own interests in the indoor game. Considering the fact that both Cisco and Big Spring plan to finish their speeches with field goals the brace of games scheduled in this city tonight and Saturday should prove to be boisterous affairs.

Discard Drab

Steers will discard the drab black training uniforms tonight and appear for the first time this season in complete display raiment. Playing uniforms are black with gold trimmings and a long-horn Steer crest, characteristic animal of Texas, is neatly stitched on the front of playing shirts. The Steers are a snappy looking outfit in their new togs. The color display alone will be worth the price of admission.

Coach Chapman brings to Big Spring tonight a team that has been bumping early season opponents with machine like regularity. His clubs are always dangerous in the annual district tournaments and have been to Austin as representative of their district numerous times. The domestics faced some rather stiff opposition in the Clyde quintet last weekend, but Cisco is expected to give the locals more serious arguments than experienced so far this season.

Edwards In Shape

Captain Buren Edwards is gradually regaining his top form and will be used as long as possible against the invading Lobos. Pardus and Hutto, the two long forwards, are ready for action as is the defensive department of Smith and Flowers. Coach Stevens has a capable list of reserves that can be inserted without slowing down the Steer attack noticeably. Such an asset has proved important in even the few tussles played to date and will become an increasingly important factor as the season grows older.

As usual, the gymnasium will be heated for the comfort of spectators and additional chairs will be placed both downstairs and in the balcony to accommodate the crowd expected for the Cisco battles.

SETTLED?

Folsom Prison, in California, has hanged the fifth of the convicts who led a general uprising there two years ago. Yet it is a mistake to assume, thereby, that it has necessarily settled with that revolt.

It has hanged the ring leaders, to be sure; but what gain is that if it has not found out what the conditions were that caused the riot, and set them right? The five who were hanged will never lead another riot, but if the circumstances that made them riot remain unchanged some other convicts will do the same thing some day.

We don't know, of course what the Folsom authorities have done. It may be that they have set their house in order. But the case is typical just the same. It illustrates how ready we are to assume that we have settled a troublesome man.

A RISING TOLL

Automobile traffic accidents continue to go up. In 1929, 31,500 people were killed by traffic in the United States; an increase of something like 13 per cent over the year before.

The situation is growing worse at an appalling rate and nothing of any consequence is being done about it.

If some new disease appeared in the country and in a decade or two reached the point where it was killing 30,000 people a year, the whole country would be up in arms about it. The greatest scientists in the land would be studying it. State and national governments would be appropriating huge sums to fight it. But we take our automobile death list as a matter of course.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

HAS MISSED THE POINT

Sweetwater Reporter: The Howard County Health Unit has been discontinued after a brief trial because, according to the reasons given by county officials, the doctor furnished by the state department refused to give actual medical treatment, insisting he should give advice only. The Howard county official hold that they could spend their $2,500 to better advantage by paying some local physician to administer to charity cases.

While there may be some cause of action against the doctor who had been assigned to the work for his attitude, the officials of Howard county in their action have entirely missed the point of the health unit plan and the need for it.

Public health is now regarded as vitally essential to the community. The medical profession is turning its attention more and more to prevention. In fact, prevention of disease is so important that in some specific instances it has long been a matter of police power within a community. And that very power is one of the principal arguments in favor of a health unit.

It is a fact too well known to need argument, that disease which takes the form of quarantine in contagious diseases can scarcely be enforced until an epidemic of major proportions has developed. Under the old system of appointing some local physician at a small fee to be health officer little could be expected in the way of effective quarantine. He had to look to his living first, his living depended on his private practice, and he could not afford to jeopardize it by being too stringent.

Under the health unit plan, the directing physician is paid a salary that makes it unnecessary for him to engage in private practice. He need have no fear of public disfavor if he has to enforce the law. But more than that, he has time to devote to investigating all conditions, carrying on a preventative program that will teach people how to ward off sickness and correct physical defects. To think that it is cheaper to pay a physician to treat sickness than to pay him to prevent it is erroneous. The trouble is it is impossible to put your finger on the exact amount in dollars and cents that well people are worth to the community.

Howard county may be right in expecting its health unit official to treat some charity cases, but it has missed the point when, because of that friction, it decides health unit work is not worth while.

A MOVE TO LICENSE AUTOISTS

Wichita Daily Times: A bill to provide for the licensing of autoists has been prepared by the attorney general's department at Austin, and may be introduced at the approaching called session. The bill is described as having been modeled after similar measures enacted in other states, particularly California, Michigan, Wisconsin and New York.

Persons under 15 years of age would not be licensed, those over 15 but under 17 would be required to show themselves capable of safe driving. Persons over 17 would not be required to demonstrate their ability to drive unless they had personal defects calculated to affect their ability. Licenses could be denied to persons indicated or, or convicted of, driving while intoxicated, failing to stop and render aid after accidents. Persons convicted for speeding would, after the third conviction, be denied licenses. The bill provides that licenses may be canceled for any of the causes for which issuance is denied, or for using a far in the furtherance of any crime. The license fee would be 50 cents per year.

The bill would go far towards making traffic conditions safer, if enforced. In some states where licensing of autoists is required, official indifference has defeated the purpose of the law. The public safety demands the passage of a licensing law in Texas, and strict enforcement of the same.

HOLLYWOOD.—The other day appeared in a local newspaper a portrait of Dorothy Lee solely for the reason that, allegedly, she had "imported from Paris" a new fad—black finger nails.

Dorothy Lee

The black, according to the accompanying story, was applied with paint which would wear off only with time, and the grotesque so-called fad was expected, it was asserted, to take among movie actresses as had the red nails of yesterday.

Such pictures, known as "gags" among the astute publicity men of the studios, perhaps are largely responsible for the rather widespread impression that movie actors all are a bit unbalanced mentally. Files of newspaper clippings in many public departments show that a good "gag" will hit with editors consistently.

For that reason the departments usually require each member to submit one "gag" a day. The pace is terrific and brain-racking. The tale is told of one young actress, always willing to pose for "gags" no matter how absurd, who rebelled at length. A publicity worker came to her with a new idea—another of those "latest from Paris" things. This time the actress flared.

"I have never refused before," she said. "I have been photographed with a supposed sweetie's face painted on my cheek, my forehead, my elbow, my shin, my handkerchief, or my back. I have carried powder puffs in my hair, behind my ears, inside by gold tooth, in my shoe buckles, suspended from my neck, my anklets or my garters. I have worn vanities on rings, bracelets, necklaces, ear-rings, t-ras, bathing suits, hats and umbrellas. I have worn all sorts of absurd jewelry and trinkets.

WASHINGTON.—It looks as if the word "obesity" will find its true pronunciation in the vocabulary of the American people as the result of philological studies undertaken yesterday by the National Broadcasting Company. Should "obesity" be pronounced with a short "e" as in "edible" or with a long "e" as in "eat"? Fifty leading educators and philologists were queried by telegraph on this subject as the result of a controversy which arose over the proper pronunciation of the word last Saturday in the Lucky Strike Radio Hour.

The announcer, Edward Thorgensen, in reading the script at an audition, pronounced the word "obesity" with a soft "e," whereupon the other members of the committee present pounced upon him for his wrong pronunciation. Immediately the matter was referred to the program division of the company and they undertook this survey.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by Dr. Lago Galatona, Academy of Medicine

Ad Infinitum "Great fleas have little fleas Upon their backs to bite 'em; And little fleas have lesser fleas, And so ad infinitum."

When germs were first discovered by the great Luewenhoeck, and subsequently by a host of others, science believed that it had reached the ultimate in infinitesimally small living things.

Recently, however, a scientist by the name of d'Herelle has demonstrated the existence of a still smaller living body, which he calls the bacteriophage.

This living body is too small to be seen with even our most powerful microscopes, but has, according to d'Herelle, the rare virtue of feeding upon, and hence destroying germs. It is from this faculty that its name, the bacteriophage, is derived. Freely translated it means a swallower of germs.

The bacteriophage has been employed by d'Herelle and other scientists in treating diseases. It is cultivated and fed to the sufferer—human or animal. Distributed through the body of the sufferer and feeding on the offending germs, it is supposed, multiplies and ultimately destroys them.

He claims that the bacteriophage is present in the gastro-intestinal tract of all human beings, waging constant warfare on germs. Studies of it still are very much in the experimental stage. Time and further tests will determine its value in man's warfare against disease.

Pronunciation Of "Obesity" Will Be Radio Topic

The word "obesity" will find its true pronunciation in the vocabulary of the American people as the result of philological studies undertaken yesterday by the National Broadcasting Company.

Should "obesity" be pronounced with a short "e" as in "edible" or with a long "e" as in "eat"? Immediately the matter was referred to the program division of the company and they undertook this survey.

This question will now be finally settled for the American people, unless other philologists in addition to those queried are heard from. This controversy will then take its place with the famous controversy started by ex-Governor Smith as to whether the pronunciation of the word "radio" was "radio" or "ray-dio."

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Writer WASHINGTON.—Such sincerity as there may be in Congress is about to be tested in its action on the administration's new prohibition enforcement program.

Up to the time this program was presented by the president, the National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement, the attorney general and the secretary of the treasury, everyone here appeared so rabid or panic-stricken on the subject that any such program presented seemed rather certain to be made into law as soon as Congress could jam it through.

The dry majorities in both houses are so enormous that it is a platitude in Washington that the drys can have anything they want.

Program May Fail

And yet, on Capitol Hill, one encounters a feeling of grave doubt as to whether more than one of the administration's major recommendations will be enacted during this long session of Congress. That one is the purely administrative matter of transferring control of enforcement from the Treasury to the Department of Justice. The proposal is an old one and there is no very good reason why it should not have been acted upon years ago.

But after all the recent orgy of ballyhoo one finds some of the staunchest and most important Anti-Saloon League men in Congress doubting seriously whether any other legislative action will be taken on prohibition in the near future.

The shouting and the tumult are dying down and it has to be proved whether all the noise meant very much. The government has spent 10 years proving that prohibition can be enforced as well as other laws only by extraordinary drastic measures. There are those who think that the recommendations before Congress are very far from sufficient. Bishop Cannon has suggested a $200,000,000 appropriation and Dr. Clarence True Wilson of the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals recently favored use of the army and the navy to enforce the law. But here you have Congress shying away even from a few changes in administrative detail and court procedure.

Broadway

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Archie Gunn, the artist, moogeyed up The Golden Stairs the other day and his passing didn't cause a ripple on the more or less placid surface of Broadway.

A long time ago—back in the days when Pop and Mom were riding bicycles and when "Mr. Potter of Texas" and "Mr. Barnes of New York" were the boss actors in fiction, Archie Gunn occupied the place that Neysa McMein, the magazine-cover lady, fills today. Archie never drew soap of cold cream ads. He took his work seriously and every "cozy corner" of the time held on the wall at least one framed pastel reproduction of some theatrical celebrity bearing the initials "A. G."

WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND

Speaking of Archie Gunn's passing, naturally brings to mind the loss we all sustained in the recent demise of Clare Briggs—one of the most delightful craftsmen of his generation. He interpreted life's common denominators, and as George Ade said: "His batting average was very high."

In the Brooklyn Eagle, a day after he'd gone, old Charley Macaulay, the cartoonist, presented in his best fashion an affecting picture. It roughly outlined a drawing board with a bottle of ink, pen and paper. On the sheet was the sketch of a boy in tears and a dog, looking gloomily out. The ink bottle was draped in crepe and the caption read: "When a Feller Needs a Friend."

And 400 newspapers throughout the country wrote in to the Brooklyn Eagle for permission to reprint the Macaulay drawing.

SO MANY, SO MANY!

There are so many "fellers" that need "friends" in this world—and it needs sometimes as if they might all be clustered in New York. Maybe it's because the town is such a big place. And often the "feller" isn't a youngster, but one of the Old 'Uns, who has lost his way in the maze of Milestones, out on the Big Road.

Take the case of Edward O'Neill, who at 65 years of age lost his $8-a-week job as "bus-boy" in a cheap little Ninth avenue Coffee Pot.

Although his age and his "fretting daws" had made him careless with dishes, he still could be trusted with money. So when the boss discharged him after 15 years as "bus boy" and sometimes cashier, he let him act as messenger, taking the cash to the bank each day, in return for which he received his breakfast—two rolls and a cup of coffee. Once he got two eggs.

During the 15-year tenure, out of his $5 a week he managed to save $175; but with his income cut off that soon dwindled. Then cracks began to tap in his shoes. A cold spell hit town just before Christmas. O'Neill had no overcoat and no room rent. The tide was at ebb.

One morning last December he was given $217 to deposit. Instead of going to the bank he de-camped to Hoboken, hired a comfortable, warm room, purchased a second hand suit of clothes and a pair of shoes that fit, and for almost three weeks ate what he wanted.

That's how the $217 evaporated. Except for a day at Coney Island once, the Hoboken fling was the first vacation he had ever had and it ended last week when he limped into a police station hungry, penniless and contrite.

The man from whom he embezzled, the money can't make up his mind whether or not to prosecute him.

A QUESTION of HONOR

by Ruth Cross

SYNOPSIS: Two proposals in one day and Anne Wilmot agrees to marry Leon Morse on the morrow, forgetting Scott Glenn's proposition to repay her aunt for the money spent upon her prompt decision. A sleepless night follows and from the portico of her bedroom she overhears Morse and Robert Douglas, his attorney, in conversation. She grasps his significance and goes to warn Glenn of the attempt to dynamite his dam. She catches Tony, a Mexican hired by Morse, with dynamite and Glenn temporarily quells a strike, ordering the men back to work to finish the tunnel under guard after they threatened to desert to work on Morse's railroad for double pay.

Chapter 23 BINDING TIES

Romance and the high heart may endure for a night but morning brings chill and stark reality. With the dawn Anne was troubled by tormented visions of her aunt, Leon and all the subtly entangled web which seemed still to enmesh her. Her sense of freedom that had come with her impulsive response to the dictates of her heart was destroyed. In its place was doubt.

She strove to justify her action in betraying Leon to the enemy by the thought that any law abiding citizen would have acted accordingly.

Would Glenn want her after she had thrust herself upon him? Perhaps after all he wouldn't—men as a rule she found, wanted only the unattainable.

Dressing she explored the little room that served for a kitchen. It had been a long time since she had tried her hand at cooking. A quick footstep on the porch, a sharp imperative rap halted her explorations and she unbarred the door. Glenn stood outside, dust covered, mudspattered and unshaven. There were gray lines of weariness about his eyes but Anne's heart leaped into her throat—he was safe.

He put a hand on each of her shoulders and looked down at her searchingly. "You are here then?" he said. There was a curious tone in his voice which made Anne feel again not quite so secure of her welcome.

"Yes—why?" "I couldn't be sure—I didn't know but after all you might decide to go back—" He got a long breath and then added, "I wanted you to go back—if you wanted to. That was the chance I had to take."

"Perhaps you wanted me to go anyway?" Anne asked with her eyes averted.

He drew her slowly toward him, turned her face to meet his gaze. Finally he laughed. "So—that's the trouble, is it? I thought there was something. I'll wager you've been worrying yourself into a perfect fever over a million things that don't exist."

Anne gasped a little with the suddenness of her relief, then laughed too—not very steadily. "I shan't ever worry about anything again so long as I know that you are safe. But—you haven't told me yet about the dam," she added.

Glenn was getting out of his mackinaw. "Safe, thanks to you," he said, and related the happenings of the night.

"But we'll win," he added reassuringly. "We'll have the tunnel finished by 4 o'clock and the water turned into the reservoir. If Burkhalter and his crowd want to blow it up then—at Douglas' instigation—it will be at their own peril."

"You've been working in the tunnel yourself all night," Anne said with sudden conviction, taking in the significance of his dust and mud covered person.

He nodded and looked at his watch. "I have to be back in exactly 15 minutes. Meantime, I think we'd better scout around for a bit of breakfast. Sheb and the domine will be here in a few minutes with the license, and it would never do to be married on an empty stomach!"

Anne caught her breath sharply, turned and started hurriedly toward the kitchen. "Of course, you must have some breakfast," she said.

Twenty minutes later, they set out their table, "just inside the gates of paradise," as Glenn put it. The talk over the breakfast table sounded commonplace enough, but no doubt even the permanent dwellers in paradise have to get along with much the same humdrum, everyday mediocrity of expression as ordinary mortals.

All too soon, came Sheb, gloomy and glowering, lugging in tow an old circuit rider, as hank and almost as shabby as himself. Sheb humped down over in the corner by the fireplace, scowling black disapproval through the whole of the queer, short ceremony, and prepared immediately to tow the parson away again.

The moment the preacher had drawn his final "amen," Glenn stooped and kissed Anne in the quiet, matter of fact way which husbands so soon acquire, then he glanced quizzically across at his old friend and partner. "Well, Sheb, aren't you going to congratulate me?" he demanded.

Sheb transferred his tobacco cud to the other cheek and fixed his eyes glumly upon the floor. "You hain't no 'gratulating' comin' as I kin see," he opined sentimentally. "I done all I could to save you frum gittin' yoreself hitched up this way, an' I don't aim to hev' nothin' to do with it!"

Glenn laughed joyously, but Anne looked thoughtfully at the old man, wondering where the key to his loyal stubborn heart was to be found.

There were only 10 minutes more, and these had to be occupied with practical things. A note was dispatched by Sheb to Mrs. Wilmot at the Lodge; telegrams had to be sent to Sacramento and Truckee for new hands. The circuit rider, who lived near the only telegraph station in the vicinity, would take the latter messages.

The lines which she finally decided upon were the most difficult she had ever penned in her life. She wrote simply:

"Dear Aunt Emily: "I have married the man I love. Any words of regret as to your disappointment in me are, of course, futile, but I shall do everything in my power to repay—at least in part—the fortune I have squandered. As regards Mr. Morse, after what he has done—or tried to do—I do not feel that I owe him even an apology."

"Anne." Glenn stopped her as she was folding the letter. "Just a minute,

I want to add a postscript to that," he said. He wrote a hurried line or two and addressed it to Mrs. Emily Wilmot.

Sheb took the note and went out with the circuit rider. Glenn pulled the strap up taut on the lunch kit, put on his coat and picked up his hat. He put one hand under his wife's chin and lifted her face to his. "You're not feeling just a—bit wobbly over having done it?" he queried. She laughed. "Not while you are here anyway," she declared. "But when I'm gone?" he insisted.

"She looked away from him. "I'm afraid I'm going to have a very bad attack of conscience. But—that's my problem, I mustn't worry you about it."

"An attack of conscience about what?"

"Oh, my aunt—everything—" "Now, see here," he said earnestly. "don't let that bother you. I'm going to make everything right—that's what the postscript was about. I'll tell you all about it as soon as we have time to talk things over. Well good-bye, and just remember please—I'm to do all the worrying for this firm in the future!"

Anne, standing at the back window, waved him a final good-bye, as he disappeared into the "private subway."

Anne wheeled about from the window, threw up her shoulders resolutely. She would think no more about it. What was done was done—and she had Glenn! She stood looking eagerly about the big, none too orderly living-room. Her face brightened with joyous inspiration. She began to turn back her sleeves. She was going to clean house!

That what of impoverished Aunt Emily? She proved a hard loser in Monday's installment.

Elated Over Her Splendid Health

"I think Sargon is the grandest medicine ever made for nervous, rundown men and women. Four years suffering with stomach trouble had pulled me down until I was so weak and nervous I scarcely had enough strength for anything. The peculiar thing was that my stomach always troubled me worse just before meals—a dull, gnawing sensation, with terrible gas pains—and when the attacks came on at night, I couldn't get to sleep to save my life.

MRS. W. B. BROOM

"It seems almost too good to be true, but since I've been taking Sargon I haven't had the slightest sign of trouble of any kind with my stomach. It just seemed to set my whole system in order; I quit being nervous, began to enjoy sound, refreshing sleep, and I feel so much stronger and in better health generally that I'm like an entirely different person.—Mrs. W. B. Broom, 5215 Junius St., Dallas. Cunningham & Phillips, Agents.—Adv.

NEW YORK—Having fallen into January waters, June is living the life of Reilly. June slipped carting snow on Governor's Island, Army reservation, and it took three and one half hours to pull her out after a prisoner dived and cut her harness. June, a mule, is getting a rest, but is to be watched lest she make a habit of cold bathing.

NE WYORK—Athletic hysteria is headed in the same direction as the star of empire, said Herbert E. Hawkes, dean of the college at Columbia University, in an academic address. "Athletic hysteria is shifting from the eastern universities, where it survives now chiefly among the alumni," he said, "to the less sophisticated universities of the West and ultimately will drown in the Pacific Ocean."

CLAMMY HANDS

Kentucky Lady Was Weak And Felt Miserable. Dizzy Spells Quit After She Took Cardui.

Danville, Ky.—"For a long time, I suffered with severe headaches and pains in my sides and back," says Mrs. Lottie Smallwood, residing at 116 Fourth Street, this city.

"I was very weak, and just not able to go about or do my work. I just felt miserable."

"I was all out of heart. I would have spells when my head would hum, and my feet and hands were clammy and cold."

"I would be so dizzy, I would fall. I had read of Cardui and what it had done for others, and so I, too, began taking it. I had been aching and hurting awfully."

"After I took Cardui, I quit having the dizzy spells. I kept on taking Cardui, and saw then that I was being helped. I was not nearly so weak, and from that time I have felt better. I took six bottles in all."

Cardui is a purely vegetable remedy and contains nothing harmful or injurious. It may be safely taken by a delicate young girl as well as by a feeble old lady.

Cardui has been in use by women for over 50 years, and great numbers of women have reported that it helped them back to health. Get a bottle today.

"We Are Reliable"

H. R. Debenport Announces For Another Term

With a record extending back nearly seven years as judge of Howard county, H. R. Debenport announced he will again be a candidate for the office in the July primaries.

"I have seen Howard county grow from a sparsely settled West Texas frontier county to one of the principal agricultural and natural resource sections of the state. With the cooperation of the commissioners' court I have attempted to conduct business of the county on a sane basis, not blind to development and progress, but still attempting to keep my feet on the ground, so to speak."

"Howard county has much to do in the future, but the past record is one of steady progress. The road system in Howard county, improved this year by purchase of sufficient graders to condition every county road within 24-hours after a rain, is one of the best to be found in West Texas."

"The taxable valuation of Howard county has enjoyed an unprecedented growth in the past two or three years and is now stationed at the $17,500,000 mark. Part of the increase has been attributable to the oil industry, but unlike numerous other oil counties, no trouble has ever been experienced with producers over taxation matters."

"One guide of the county judge's office that I recall with pleasure during my administration is the fact that friends and others are accorded the same consideration when dealing in public questions," said Judge Debenport.

During Judge Debenport's terms in office new roads have been constructed, bids for seven concrete bridges in the county solicited and

Blue Bonnet Club Meets In Home of Mrs. Baker

Mrs. S. L. Baker was hostess to the Blue Bonnet Bridge club Wednesday afternoon in her home in Washington Place, with three tables of members and guests entertained.

The house was attractively decorated to carry out a wintry color theme. Bridge appointments and the menu of the one-course luncheon followed the color notes set.

The year's scores were compiled with gifts presented to Mrs. S. L. Baker, high score for the year; Mrs. J. O. Barker second high for the $165,000 viaduct completed. Contract for a second viaduct was signed by Judge Debenport last Saturday.

Judge Debenport has been a resident of Howard county 23 years, during most of which period he has been engaged either in public affairs or in the active practice of law. He and Mrs. Debenport have two children Retta and Veta, attending Big Spring high school.

"The most important matter now confronting Howard county is a continued same expenditure of tax money along lines that will best serve interests of the entire citizenship. Another thing we must safeguard is sufficient taxable values to conduct a conservative advancement and development building campaign in Howard county. If taxable values of Howard county continue to increase and the money derived therefrom is wisely distributed, there is no reason why Howard county can not take rank with the leaders for actual accomplishment," concluded Judge Debenport.
