Jack House, president of Credit Consultants, Inc. of Lubbock, announced Tuesday his candidacy for place two on the Lubbock City Council.

House is opposed by Jose Valdez.

Expressing his desire to continue the "high standards of the present City Council," House said, "the council has done an exceedingly fine, fine job, but naturally, the main thing we're going to be faced with is the budget."

Because of the good work of the present council, he said, there are few controversial issues to confront, but added "a new tax will have to be coming about."

House said he would prefer to confer—if elected—with other members of the City Council before stating a specific tax plan. "This is a situation in which one person cannot change the entire council," he said. "We're speaking of representing the masses...we're going to have to...take a look at what is available and what would be the fairest and most equitable type of taxation."

"The current budget has been whittled as close as it can," he said. "I think we've had an excellent council that has been very cost conscious. They've tried—without degrading the services of the city—to keep costs down," he said.

Asked if he approved of the concept of a non-voting student representative to the City Council, House said, "I would be willing to support a situation where there would be a direct line of communication on those matters that pertain to the campus and the student body."

"I'm a versatile individual," he said. "I can work with people. I'm not hard and fast on any one situation. Therefore, I feel like I can represent all of the people."

House said good lines of communication are important in establishing good relations between minorities and City Hall.

One problem, he said, is persons who interfere with attempts to establish communication. The Human Relations Commission was "a giant step in the right direction," he said.

House cited his business experience as one qualification for City Council. "I think we need a businessman that is cognizant of what is going on and can plan ahead so that we don't catch ourselves needing additional funds and not having them available," he said.

Asked if he would prefer the ward system of representation over the present system, House said, "I can see where there is merit in both systems. However, the ward system might be costly to implement and difficult to arrange equitably."

Under the present system of representation, four councilmen are elected at large. A councilman would be elected—in the ward system—according to the part of the city in which he lives. One compromise system calls for the election of four councilmen at large and three by wards.

House said he considered the garbage charge, passed by the present City Council, a fair and equitable charge at the time it was approved. He said, however, he has reconsidered the issue since petitions opposing the charge have been circulating. "I'm not quite as in favor of it as I was a month ago," he said.

House, a Tech graduate, said he is active in the Red Raider Club and participates in recruiting football players for Tech. He said he served on the Freshman Council at Tech and was author of its constitution.

To take command of Nixon's campaign

Mitchell resigns attorney general post

WASHINGTON (AP)—John N. Mitchell resigned as attorney general Tuesday to take command of President Nixon's reelection campaign.

Nixon quickly tapped Richard G. Kleindienst, Mitchell's deputy and personal choice for the cabinet post.

Senate liberals promised close questioning of Kleindienst, an Arizona conservative, but early indications were that his nomination as the President's top legal adviser would gain Senate confirmation.

Mitchell, one of Nixon's closest personal and political advisers, managed his 1968 campaign.

His resignation to direct the 1972 effort had been expected for months, but apparently was delayed by debate within the administration about his successor.

The pipe-smoking, taciturn Mitchell was reported to have insisted that Kleindienst get the job, while other administration officials feared his nomination would touch off a Senate donnybrook.

But the Senate liberals who planned close questioning of Kleindienst at his confirmation hearings, scheduled to begin Tuesday, said Senate approval is likely.

Mitchell is the sixth member of Nixon's original cabinet to resign.

Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans recently quit to become the chief fund raiser for the Committee for the Re-election of the President—the same organization Mitchell will head beginning March 1.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., a conservative who heads the Judiciary Committee which will examine the nomination, said Kleindienst has been a great deputy attorney general and will be a worthy successor to Mitchell.

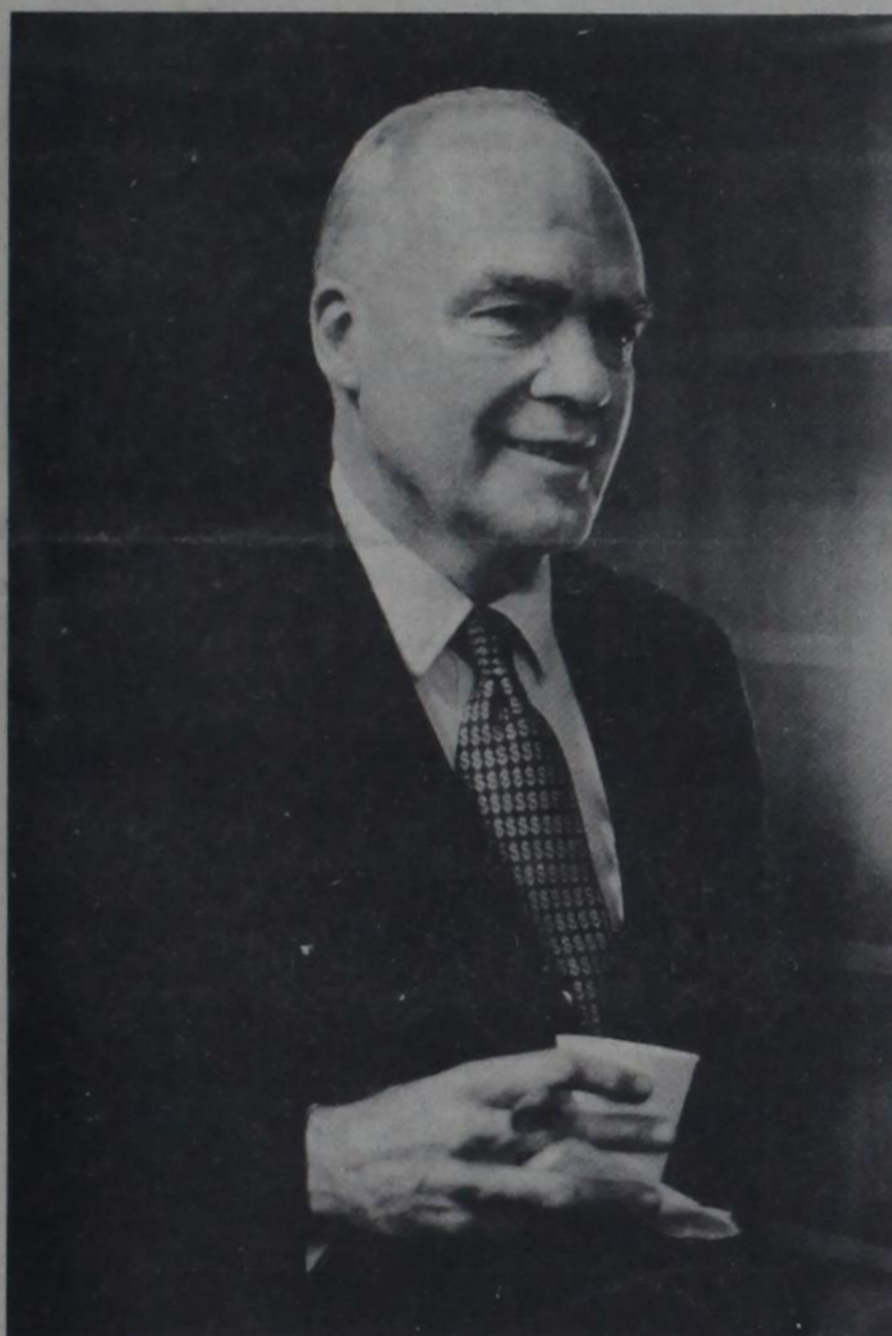

Perhaps more significantly, Sen. Phillip A. Hart, D-Mich., one of the more liberal members of the committee, said "if the President says he needs him, the Senate should go along with it unless the nominee has a moral defect. And I know of no moral defects in Richard Kleindienst."

Mitchell gave Nixon a hand-written letter of resignation Monday and the President responded Tuesday with a four-paragraph letter saying he accepted his departure from the cabinet "on a note of the utmost regret—but a regret compensated by a sense of personal and heartfelt gratitude on behalf of myself and all Americans."

Awaiting Mitchell at the reelection campaign headquarters a block from the White House is a staff of about 100 paid political workers and an organization which already extends to about half the states.

Kleindienst, who managed Sen. Barry Goldwater's 1964 bid for the White House and was active in Nixon's 1968 campaign, joined the Justice Department as deputy attorney general at Mitchell's request immediately after Nixon's inauguration.

The 48-year-old Harvard Law School graduate, Arizona state legislator and one-time candidate for governor of Arizona has been identified as a conservative on such issues as civil rights, civil liberties and wiretapping.

U.S. bombs drop on South Vietnam

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. B52 bombers, including some from Guam, resumed the pounding of South Vietnam Tuesday shortly after the end of a 24-hour allied cease-fire for the Tet lunar new year.

The intensive air campaign, which went into its seventh day, is designed to smash enemy buildups and prevent ground offensives that could endanger withdrawing American troops, the U.S. Command said.

Nevertheless, the aerial strikes also appear designed to ease the task of the South Vietnamese army.

It has neither the resources nor the manpower to search out enemy forces in the jungled areas of the nation's borders with Laos and Cambodia.

The U.S. Command refused to confirm or deny that B52 bombers recently ordered to Guam from the United States were flying missions over South Vietnam.

SA sponsors tax service

The Student Association (SA) is sponsoring a free income tax advisory service for Tech students.

SA Business Manager Curtis Brown said the service is designed to help students obtain their tax refunds.

He said the service will be offered between 3 and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday beginning today in Brown's office in the SA office in the University Center.

Students may also obtain assistance by telephoning 742-3246 or 742-3247 between 3 and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Beta Alpha Psi, national accounting honorary, will sponsor the service on weekends, Brown said.

Beta Alpha Psi members will be stationed between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays in four Lubbock locations: 2714 Erskine, 610 Ave. Q, 546 46th and 24th and Weber.

Neither Brown nor Beta Alpha Psi members will complete the income tax forms for students because of a lack of time. Students will be instructed so they can complete the forms, Brown said.

The service will continue until all interested students have been helped, he said.

Courts to enforce job discrimination rulings of 1964

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate reversed itself Tuesday and voted for enforcement through the courts of the 1964 Civil Rights Act's ban on racial and other discrimination in employment.

By a 45-39 vote, it adopted an amendment by Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., erasing from a hotly-contested bill authority for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) to issue cease-and-desist orders.

Under the amendment, the EEOC would have to bring enforcement suits in the federal courts rather than have the power to order employers or labor unions to halt alleged discrimination.

The adoption of Dominick's amendment, previously rejected by the Senate in slightly different form, seemed likely to break the impasse over the bill and clear the way for its early passage.

Dominick told the Senate that if his amendment were not adopted, he saw no chance of getting any bill.

But he indicated that if his amendment were accepted, he would join if necessary in a move to invoke the Senate's anti-filibuster rule and bring the debate to a halt.

Two debate cutoff moves have fallen short of the required two-thirds majority.

Dominick's latest amendment differed from his original primarily by providing for expedited handling of job-discrimination cases in the federal courts.

It provides that if the EEOC's general counsel certifies that a case is of general public importance, it shall be heard by a three-judge federal court with direct appeal to the Supreme Court.

Dominick's amendment is in line with what President Nixon has recommended. It also is the type of enforcement the House voted in passing its own bill last year.

Civil rights forces, however, have long urged that the EEOC be given cease-and-desist powers to enforce the ban on job discrimination based on race, religion, sex or national origin.

At present the commission is limited to trying to effect voluntary compliance through persuasion and conciliation.

Committee approves semester contracts

By BETSY JARMON
Special Reporter

The Tech Student Senate Student Life Committee will report five resolutions favorably to the Senate Thursday, including one that recommends semester dorm contracts for juniors and seniors.

The legislation was approved by the committee in a short meeting Tuesday night.

Business Administration Senator Bob Craig, who co-authored the Semester Contract Resolution with Agriculture Senator Joe Parker, explained that freshmen and sophomores will not be included in the semester contract plan.

He said there is a possibility sophomores could be included in the plan next year.

Presently, all dorm residents must sign a nine-month contract. The Board of Regents recently lowered from 96 to 64 hours the minimum hours a student must have to live off-campus.

Automatic refund of the $7 property deposit to students who leave school for any reason was the recommendation of another resolution approved by the committee.

Refunds are presently made only on request of the student. Student Life Chairman Doug Williams said deposits not requested by former students go automatically to the Ex-Students Association.

The committee also passed resolutions which

—Ask the administration to adopt a more efficient way to refund money lost in campus vending machines;

—Declare students should "come out of their cocoon of apathy" and the administration should "try to correct its ideas of student needs" in University Center expansion;

—Propose that members of the Lubbock community be issued Tech library cards.

On other campuses

University of Texas

University President Stephen Spurr has instructed department chairmen and deans to trim their budget requests to 97 per cent of the current operating schedule to establish a surplus for funding next year's top academic priorities.

The University of Texas became the second SWC school to employ a black assistant coach Tuesday when Green Bay Packer defensive back Alvin Matthews was added to the football staff by Athletic Director and head coach Darrell Royal. Matthews will continue with the Packers, but will work with Texas on recruiting and coaching receivers in the off season.

The Texas Union Board of Directors unanimously approved a proposal to ask University President for permission to apply for a license to sell beer and wine in the Union Building. Under the proposal, beer and wine would be sold in the cafeteria and snack bar.

The Union Board chairman said the Board justified its action because 63 per cent of the UT population (including faculty and staff) is 21 years old or over, and are being deprived of their decision of whether or not they can drink on campus. The proposal challenges the Texas Regents' rule about a "specific occasion".

Southern Methodist University

"If you don't want to be a sex object, you have to make yourself unattractive. But I'm not going to walk around in Army boots and cut off my hair. There is no reason for us to make ourselves look like men," Gloria Steinem told students at SMU.

The women journalist in the women's movement told students that women are concerned with social justice rather than who pays when they go out on a date.

"Women cannot begin to pay for their half of the date yet because most of them do not even make half the salary men do," she said.

As a Women's Lib advocate, Ms. Steinem is for abortion reform, child care centers and job pay equalization.

North Texas State

Wes Spiegel, Student Government Association president was paid $1,000 in back-salary for the fall semester despite a semester-long suspension of student government.

Spiegel was elected under one constitution but another was approved by the students in a later vote. Critics claimed Spiegel could not legally serve because he was elected under a non-existing constitution. The NTSU vice president for academic affairs approved the back-payment last week, saying that Spiegel deserved the salary for the continuation of student programs.

State Sen. Mike McKool spoke to NTSU students in a noon luncheon last week. McKool, a long-advocate of the 18-year-old-vote said, "Students have been given the challenge of the right to vote and that is their responsibility, as good citizens, to exercise that right."

University of Florida

Freshmen women may have their open house privileges by March or April, Richard Poncepovich, president of Interhall (freshmen women's resident hall), said. A survey, conducted at Florida showed an overwhelmingly expression by parents in favor of dormitory visitation.

There's a movie you ought to see titled, "Everything You Always Wanted To Know About The Student Senate; But Were Afraid To Ask."—with Greek subtitles.

Letters to the editor

Need package store clause in petition

Mr. Welles in his guest viewpoint of Feb. 8, made several interesting points.

He states that the price of beer will probably drop to 25 cents per glass. That would be very nice, but each concern wishing to sell alcoholic beverages under the liquor by the drink plan will be required to obtain a license.

The first year's license will cost $2000. Each succeeding year the price will drop $500 a year until the license fee reaches $500. There it will stabilize. One of my questions is—who is going to pay for this license?

It is a well known fact that if a business is taxed, the tax is passed on to the customer. After all why should he, the businessman, absorb such a cost?

Another question is—why should they lower their prices? They are not bound by any contract to do so, only by promise. And of those I am skeptical. Mr. Welles states that with competition the price of beer will drop, but since these concerns are members of the same organization they could agree to keep the price higher than 25 cents. After all, if this does happen, where can the student go? Out to the strip? No, for that is the one place students try to avoid because of high prices and inconvenience.

Another question of mine is that about the price of mixed drinks. Will the price of mixed drinks drop comparably to the supposed drop of the price of beer? On this subject there has only been silence from CELL.

It has been stated that passing liquor by the drink will pave the way for package stores later. I ask, HOW? Who will the students turn to, to help pass such a referendum? Not the package stores; they are not paying any city tax now and they want to keep from doing so as long as possible. Not the restaurants and open clubs because they will have what they want—liquor by the drink.

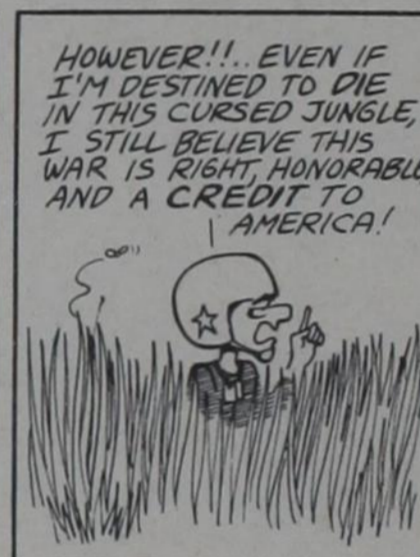

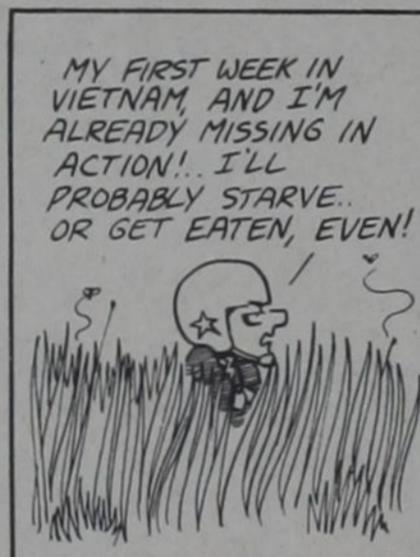

And of course, the majority of our good Christian churches will also be opposed to allowing such places of corruption enter our fair city. With all of this as opposition to the package store referendum any person can see the writing on the wall—NO PACKAGE STORES.

The question by Mr. Welles, concerning who wants a "wet" Lubbock can be answered positively by everyone who is sick and tired of having to drive all the way out to the strip. And that is a lot of people. After all even Mr. Welles would have to agree that it would be more convenient to pick up one's liquor at the neighborhood store.

It may seem that I am against liquor by the drink. I am not. I think that it is something Lubbock has needed for a long time. My point is why do something half-assed? If it is a good idea to pass a liquor by the drink referendum, then it is a much better idea to pass a liquor by the drink referendum with a package store clause.

Student opinion on referendum ignored

This year the Student Association has received considerable publicity. Unfortunately due to personality conflicts, vindictive attitudes, and just plain ignorance much of it has been bad.

The Student Senate supposedly possesses the maturity, the integrity, and the knowledge to legislate for the good of the many, that being the Student Association members.

Student opinion is voiced several times each year, through elections and referendums. However, recent opinion taken in last Wednesday's referendum appears to be unnoticed and not considered. Government Operations and Relations Committee felt it their responsibility to correct the students' decision.

The major point in this is that the power to do this is not vested in the Government Operations and Relations Committee or in any committee as will be illustrated through the following Student Association Constitutional and Election Code citations:

Article II, Sec. 6. sub. 1, "The Senate shall be empowered to supervise all campus elections,"—note the word "supervise"

Election Code Section A (Government Operations and Relations Committee) Sub-section 1a:

"Elections within the Jurisdiction of the Senate shall be those for Freshman Council, Homecoming Queen, Student Senators, and Executive Officers of the Student Association."—note that no mention is made of referendum

The strongest point is the final statement made in the Student Association Constitution under Article 5, Amendment, Section 2:

"Adoption: An Amendment may be adopted by a 2-3 vote of the voting members of the Student Association."

No mention is made in the Student Association Constitution of any ratification requirement. Article 5, Sec. 2, by itself, states that upon a 2-3 affirmative vote the amendment is adopted.

It would seem that the Government Operations and Relations Committee has acted without even knowing the order that governs its functions, let alone having any respect for sense of responsibility toward their constituents.

Lady in waiting...and waiting...and waiting

Once upon a time on a far away campus—known throughout the land for its conservatism—a young maid was given a test of endurance. The whole test involved the bill for tuition and fees which had never been mailed to the maiden's father, and of course she had no way of knowing this.

Early one magical morning the fair damsel was aroused by a loud ringing which she knew not whence it came. Alas, alack. It was the ghost of the Old Museum! "You have not paid your tuition fees and you shall be banished from the kingdom in shame."

Many scrolls had to be filled out in order to obtain the privilege to even pay the fees, but of course we all know that scrolls were not kept in the same towers of the palace.

Heralds had to travel to all corners of the kingdom so the damsel in distress could obtain an official pardon from the monarchy. Before it was all over, the poor maid had worn her shapely legs to stumps; her face grew into a permanent scowl.

Now we see our once lovely lady in waiting...and waiting...and waiting...

CONTACT 28 created to answer viewer questions

In an attempt to provide a public service and to answer complaints and controversial subjects that the other media might leave unanswered, KSEL-TV, channel 28, has created its CONTACT 28 program, according to Joel Hurley, KSEL newsman.

Hurley hosts the program, which appears in a five-minute slot during the station's evening news program at 6:00 p.m. each week-night. The format for CONTACT consists of Hurley answering written questions mailed to KSEL from area viewers.

"We started the program for a number of reasons," said Hurley. "First, we have a station in the Austin area which initiated a similar program and it went over very well. Also, it hadn't been done in this area, at least not on television."

"We felt the viewers needed the service," he continued, "and of course we are constantly searching for new ways to pick up more viewers."

Response to the idea has been favorable, Hurley said, adding that now, after about one and one-half months on the air, a definite trend has developed. That trend concerns the type of questions asked, which Hurley says are trivial in nature but are very important to the people that ask them.

When asked if students are making use of CONTACT, Hurley replied, "If so, not many. Of course, addresses and ages are not often included in the letters. I would estimate that about ten per cent of my mail is from students. Most of the mail is from elderly, low-income people—people with few outlets for their complaints."

Concerning crack-pots,

Hurley admitted that some had written in, but only a few.

Hurley said that, in addition to the Austin station, he knew of a Dallas-Ft. Worth station that had a similar program. He felt that most of the larger communications markets in Texas provide such a service for their customers, but added, to the best of his knowledge, CONTACT is the only such program among the smaller markets of the state.

Professional photos displayed in UC

Mass Comm theme 'Journalism revolution'

Today has been designated as Journalism Day in observance of Mass Communications Week at Tech. "The Revolution in Journalism" is the theme for today's activities.

Activities of the day begin at 9 a.m. in the University Center and are hosted by the Tech chapters of Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, national professional journalism societies.

Maj. Gen. Winant Sidle, chief of U.S. Army public information, will address the participants and guests following a formal welcome at 9:30 a.m. The public is invited to attend and no admission will be charged.

Following his talk, a film, "Did You Hear What I Said?" produced by the Newspaper Fund, will be shown in the Coronado Room of the University Center. It will begin at 10:45 a.m. At 11:30 a.m. a tour of the Mass Communications Department will be conducted in the Journalism Building.

A luncheon, featuring Hugh Aynesworth, Houston Bureau chief of Newsweek Magazine, will begin in the University Center Ballroom at 12:15 p.m.

Tickets are $2 and must be purchased in advance in room 102 of the Journalism Building.

A World Advertising Seminar will be on Thursday sponsored by the J. Culver Hill chapter of ADS (National Advertising Society). Speakers for the day include: A.E. Nicholson, a Tech-ex; Roy L. Moskop, assistant vice president of public relations of Bell Telephone in St. Louis and Percell Johnson, vice president of advertising for Tuesday Magazine in Chicago.

The official hostess for Mass Communications Week is Miss Mass Communications, Esmeralda Santiago. She has been furnished a car for use this week by Pollard Ford and was given a gold charm by Paynes Jewellers in honor of her title.

Theater director requests relief from post demands

Professor Ronald Schulz of the department of speech and theatre arts has asked to be relieved of duties as director of theatre, so that he can devote full time to teaching and directing. In making his request, Schulz stated, "The demands of the position along with my teaching and directing responsibilities have reached such proportions that I no longer feel that I can satisfactorily fulfill the obligations it entails."

Schulz has served as director of theatre since 1952, and on numerous committees of state, regional, and national associations.

Under the direction of Schulz, the theatre has grown from a one-man department in an outmoded auditorium in the old Speech building to a nationally recognized producing and teaching operation.

With respect to teaching and directing, Schulz stated, "I look forward now to a period of greater satisfaction and productivity in teaching and directing—work for which I have always had a proclivity that I feel I have thus far only begun to satisfy."

About organizational activities

CORRECTIONS

The publicity committee for "Troilus and Cressida" erroneously reported that assistant fightmaster Britt Newton is a black belt in karate. Newton has his blue belt in karate.

The University Daily erroneously reported that the film, "LSD-The Spring Grove Experiment," would be shown Tuesday. The film will be shown today at 9:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. in Room 4 of the Psychology Building.

The film, "LSD-The Spring Grove Experiment," was produced at the Spring Grove State Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland by the State Health Department of Maryland.

Open to the public, the film involves the treatment of two patients. It also features the preparation for an LSD experience as well as the experience itself.

Produced in 1966, the film was made before the federal government established the fact that LSD can cause chromosomal damage.

Psychology professor Richard Carlson is sponsor of the film. The first showing of the film will be in his "Drugs and Behaviors Class", but anyone is invited to attend.

Candidate tells of crises

John A. Hall, Sr., 56-year-old businessman from Weatherford, entered Tuesday as a Republican candidate for the office of Governor of Texas in the May 6th primary election.

In an interview with the University Daily Tuesday, Hall explained what he believed to be the "most critical of our state issues, which are in crisis and which must have well directed attention to be solved."

Among these issues is the irrigation crisis in the Panhandle and West Texas regions.

"We cannot let these important regions just die," Hall said. "What it would take scores of years for the natural migration of water to replace, we can and must now replace within a few years by the underground injection of adequate new water supplies, through a vast network of water wells and through man made water sinks."

Another issue Hall discussed was the cost of educational loss by not fully utilizing all educational facilities available.

Intramural Notes

Intramural basketball play-offs resume tonight with four first round games on tap. These play-offs are leading up to the all-University championship game to be played Thursday, Feb. 24 at 7 p.m. on the west court of the Men's Gym.

Tournament play opened last Monday as the Murdough "C" team, behind the 21 point outburst of Greg Hargrove, defeated the Kappa Alpha "C" five by a 66-58 score. Jim Smith led the losers with 22 points.

WEYMOUTH "C" upended the 69'ers in another opening round game. The final score was 77-67. John Howard led Weymouth with 22 tallies while Tom Malone poured in 26 for the 69'ers. Weymouth will meet Murdough in the second round on Thursday night.

Besides the four play-off games tonight, the final regular season game in the Residence Hall II league, matching two undefeated teams, will unfold. Bledsoe "A" and Thompson "A" play for the title. Both teams will advance to the play-offs, but the league championship is on the line.

Three of tonight's games begin at 5 p.m. in both the Men's Gym and the Intramural Gym. The Scorpions, winners of the Independent I division, and the Thumb's Down five, the second place team in the Independent II league, clash in the Men's Gym. The Scorpions finished with a perfect 6-0 mark while Thumb's Down was 5-1.

ANOTHER GAME MATCHES the Number one ranked Moonrakers against the Nads. The 'Rakers took the Independent II league with a 6-0 record while the NADS ended their season with a 3-2 mark and a tie for second place in the Independent I group. The Nads advanced to the play-offs as a result of the intramural play-off system which gave them the chance over Snutzi and the Scabs.

The third game involves the Delt "C" team and the SAE "C" team. SAE was the winner of the Frat V league and the Delts were the second place team in the Frat VI division. These teams play in the Intramural Gym.

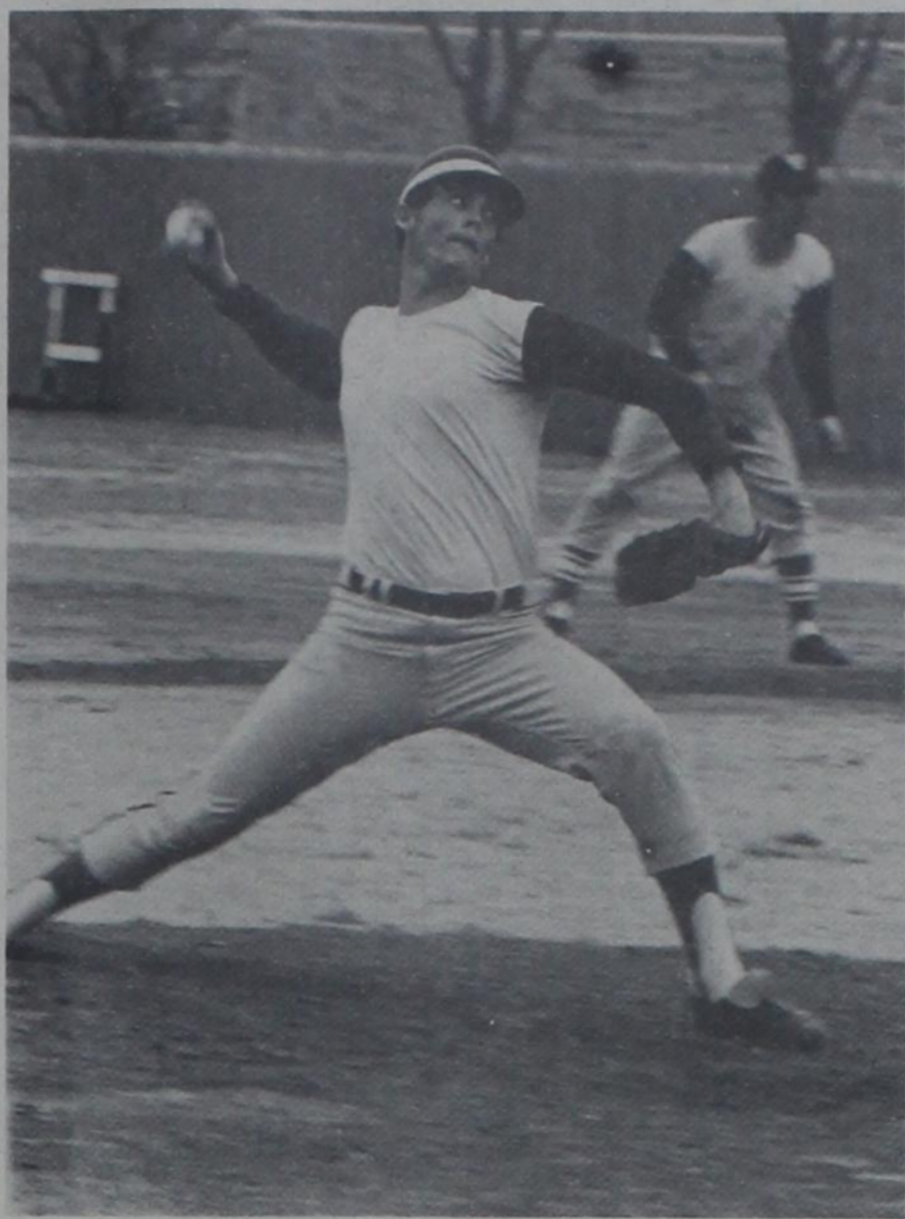

At 8:45 p.m., the Phi Delt "C" team will take on the Pike "C" team in the Intramural Gym. The Phi Delts were the first place team in the Frat VI league while the Pikes came in second in the Frat V division.

SIX FIRST ROUND GAMES are scheduled for Thursday night. At 6:15 p.m. on the east court of the Men's Gym, Coleman "B", the Residence Hall I first place team, will play the loser of the Bledsoe-Thompson championship game. At the same time on the west court, Weymouth "A", the Residence Hall I second, will play the winner of the Bledsoe-Thompson game.

One game is on tap for 7:30 p.m. in the Intramural Gym. ASCE, winners of the Club I league, will take on ASAE, the second place finishers in the Club III division.

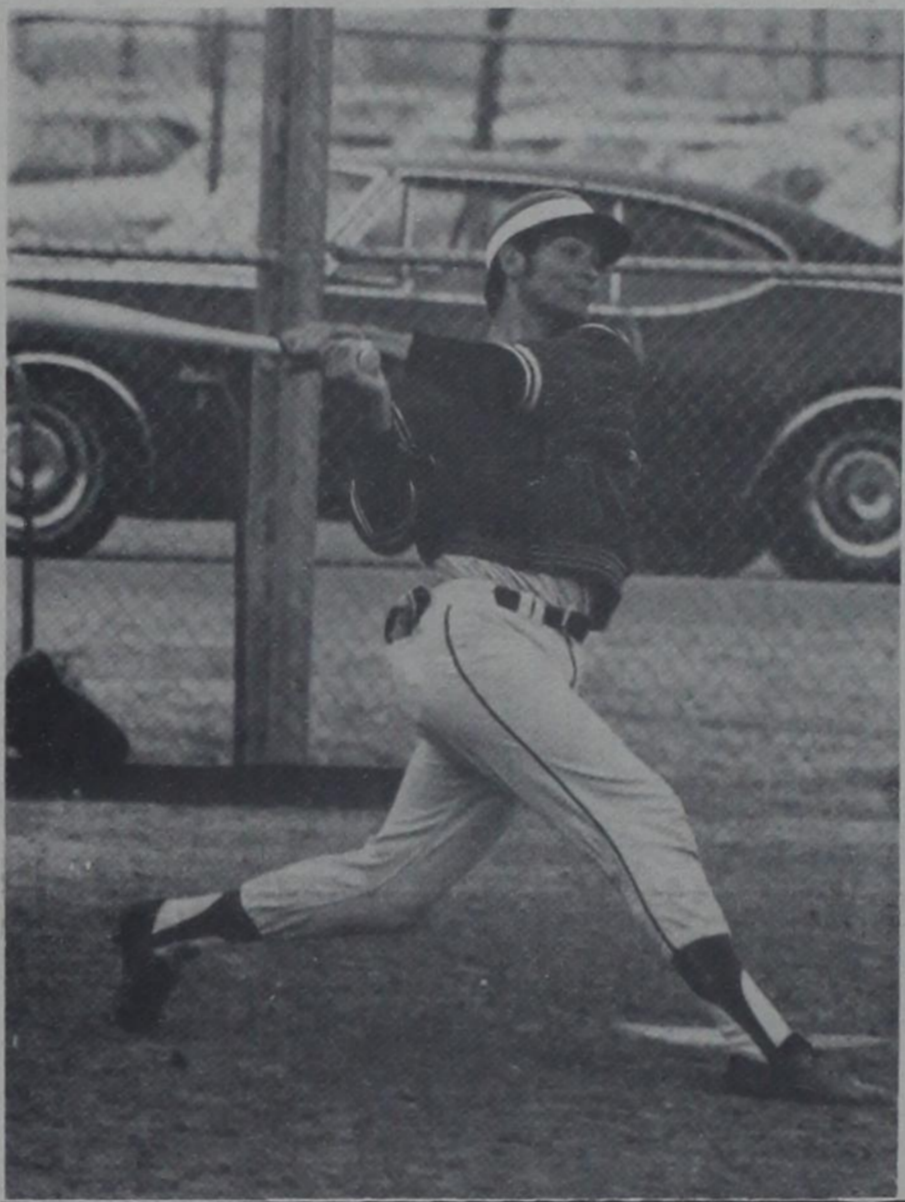

Three games will be played at 8:45 on the three courts. On the east court, AF ROTC will play the PEK "A" team. AF ROTC won the Club III title while PEK took the Club I second. On the west court, the Fiji's "B", winners of the Frat III group, will play the ATO "B" team, second place finishers in Frat IV. Sigma Chi "B" and Delt "B" meet in the Intramural Gym. Sigma Chi came in second in the Frat III league and the Delts won the Frat IV division.

Other first round games to be played Sunday include BSU vs. Double T "B", Gaston "D" vs. SOBU, Phi Delt "A" vs. Pikes "A" and Delt "A" vs. Sigma Chi "A".

Forming the starting battery in Tech's first baseball scrimmage of the season was pitcher Larry Knight (above) and catcher David Hazzard (below). Both Knight and Hazzard are Ranger Junior College products.

Raider baseball looking bright

By LES MOORHEAD
Ass't Sports Editor

With each passing day Tech's baseball picture for the 1972 season gets brighter. Although the regular season does not get underway until Saturday, Feb. 26, when Tech takes on Hardin-Simmons in Abilene, the Raiders have been preparing

Rice coach lauds Owls

"That is the best basketball we have played all year long," Rice coach Don Knodel said following the 80-76 loss to Tech Tuesday night.

"We got an effort from every boy that played and I am very proud the way they performed. (Richard) Little hit two jumpers and four freethrows there and it just killed us," he said.

Knodel's appraisal of Little was matched by his admiration for Tech's Greg Lowery, who Knodel said "is just too much to handle."

Lowery, playing with a groin pull, scored 30 points in the victory to keep his standing atop the conference standings.

Knodel was disappointed in his team's fouling. "Man, we did everything well. We shot good at times. We rebounded well. But, we fouled, or at least 'they' said we fouled."

Rice had 37 fouls charged to them while Tech had 22 personal.

"I told Gerald I'd do anything I could to help him out," Knodel said.

diligently for the up coming schedule.

Despite the pre-season billing the Texas Longhorns are getting, Tech finds itself in the running with probably as good a chance as Texas to take it all. The 'Horns are lacking pitching but have the best overall hitting in the league returning.

The Raiders' strength lies in its defense and the pitching staff. Bobby Martindale and Barry Hoffpauir return to their respective positions of second base and shortstop where in 1971 they teamed to establish a double-play combo that looks even more impressive so far in the early spring.

Coach Kal Segrist's Raiders have been working since the third week in January and have not let up since that time. First baseman Doug Ault and catcher Dave Hazzard, who missed the fall semester training, are back in uniform. Ault hit .369 and Hazzard, .270 last year.

The Raiders went through an informal scrimmage Tuesday with the Lubbock Christian College Chaps. Segrist used pitchers Larry Knight and Mike Griffin in the scrimmage that was tied 10-10 in the 8th inning.

Tech took a 5-0 lead in the first inning of play when Ault slammed a three-run home run to left field, bringing Steve Morris and Cecil Norris across. Hazzard, then singled to knock in Bobby Lewis, who had walked, and Martindale, who had singled.

Knight pitched five innings of the 9-inning affair. Knight has been ill the last six days of practice and Segrist wanted to get him back into shape.

Segrist said, "Condition-wise we are coming along pretty well. We are working on the physical parts of the game now. We've had some real nice days recently. In fact, we had only two that were bad ones.

"Last weekend we got some good work in. We went 14 innings Saturday and Sunday to get a look at everybody," Segrist said.

Tech will hit the road again March 3 when they travel to El Paso to test the University of Texas at El Paso and then it's on to Tucson, Ariz. where the Raiders will play Arizona six games. Then, the Raiders return to UTEP for two doubleheaders, March 10 and 11 before returning to Lubbock, March 17 with New Mexico Highlands.

Segrist said, "We've got 10 players that we are pretty well settled on, but we have two or three others that we need to look at. We'll find out a lot about them on the trip."

Segrist said right field and third base are still unsettled at this stage of the season. Steve Morris started in right Tuesday and was backed-up by Ralph Dunavant, a junior college transfer from Paris, Texas. Also in right are Ray Gwin and possibly Gary Barrick, who plays left field also.

"We're trying to get our pitchers up to nine innings right now. All of them have gone seven except Knight and he has been ill. We'll take eight pitchers with us on the road, six of those will be starters," Segrist said.

Segrist said, "I'm not a predictor. I have to go with the basic facts. If we stay healthy, there's no body we can't beat in the conference. We've got to play well all year, though, and have consistent pitching from the entire staff."

Frosh claim 102-74 win

Pics demolish WBC

By LES MOORHEAD
Ass't Sports Editor

Tech's Picadors put five players in double figures and reached the century mark for the first time this season in romping the Wayland Baptist Blazers, 102-74 here Tuesday night.

William "Toothpick" Johnson led all scorers with 21 points, 13 coming in the second period. Besides Johnson in double marks were forwards James Derkowski with 11, who broke the 100-point barrier with 53 seconds left, and Steve Trncak with 10.

Guard Phil Baily contributed 17 points while center Mark Davis scored 15 in his best effort of the season.

Kim McClintock tallied nine points, Bill Gray 7 and both Bryan Mauk and David Thetford had 6 to complete the scoring.

The freshmen record is now 8-3 on the season.

Coach George Davidson was pleased with his team's performance following the game, and especially in the play of Mark Davis.

Davis, a Lubbock High product, hit six of 11 from the field and had 11 rebounds in his finest overall effort.

Coach Davidson said, "I was real pleased with Davis' play tonight. He is moving a lot better and he is playing with a lot more confidence."

Johnson was high with 16 rebounds. Trncak and McClintock each had eight carems.

For the game, Tech out-rebounded the Blazers, 61-39 and shot 51.3 per cent from the field compared to the Blazers' 41.3.

"We have looked real good in our last two games," Davidson said of the wins over Abilene Christian and WBC.

Davidson said, "I'm pleased more than anything in our overall team play in the last two games where the kids have shown a good deal of improvement. The only thing I see that we need some work on is in our defense."

The frosh took a 58-43 command at halftime and never relinquished it. With 3:59 left in the game Johnson was open on a break to stretch a 93-71 lead.

At 2:16, Derkowski's layup made it 96-72 and the pressure began to mount up to the 100-point mark.

Reserve guard David Thetford came into the game and at 1:40 in the period hit a soft bank shot from five feet, making it 98-72.

Davidson, then called a timeout at 1:04 after Tech regained possession and drew a play that was designed to get Derkowski open on a "special" play that Davidson engineers. It worked and the outcome was a 10-foot jumper that Derk made with absolutely no sweat. Thetford climaxed the contest with an 18-foot corner jumper at the buzzer for the final count of 102-74.

Wayland's John Brown had 19 points in the loss. Joe Lombard and Ernie Kahn had 13.

Cotton Bowl originator dies

DALLAS (AP)—Funeral services will be held Wednesday for J. Curtis Sanford, the man who originated the Cotton Bowl football classic. He died of an apparent heart attack at Boca Raton, Fla., Sunday.

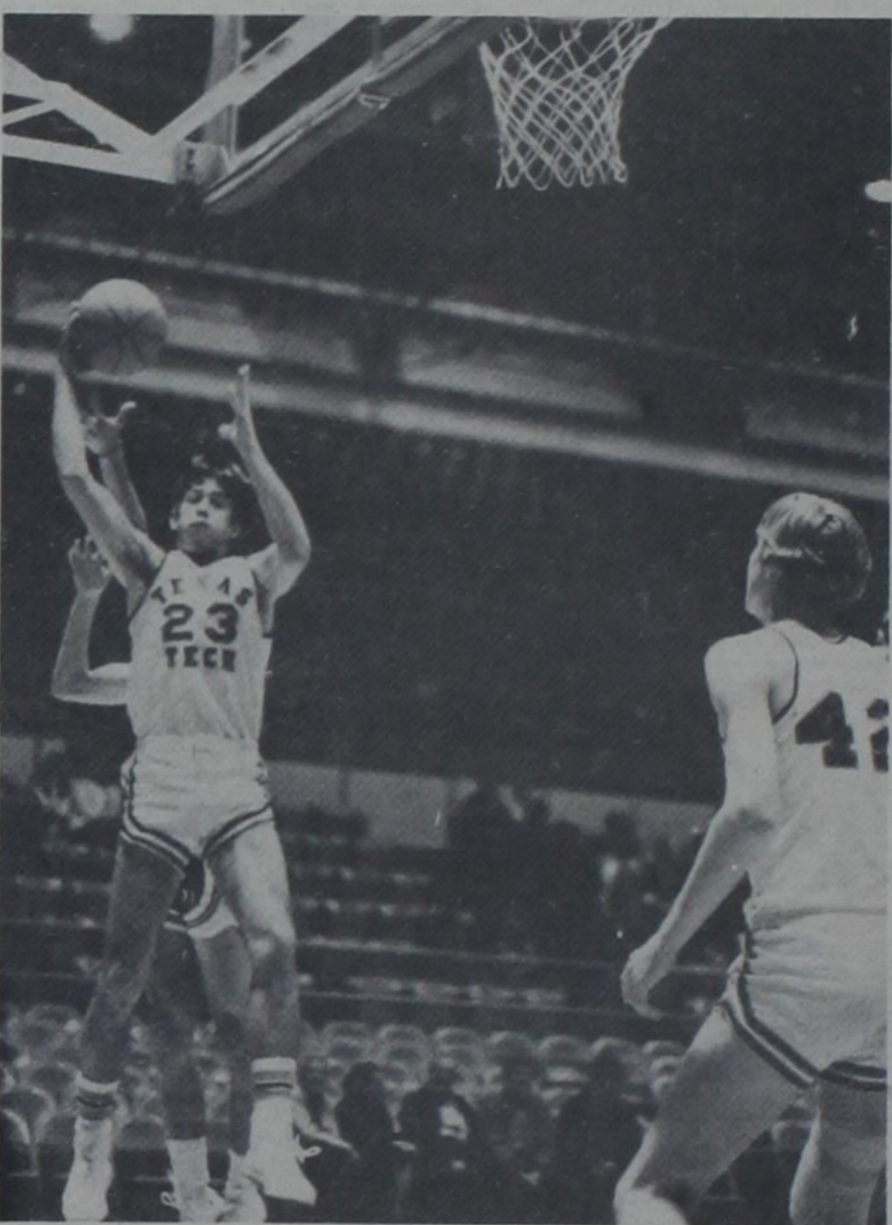

The rites will be at 2:30 p.m. at Sparkman-Hillcrest Northwest Highway Chapel with burial in Hillcrest Park.

Sanford had retired a week earlier from his Dallas real estate business. He was 69.

The businessman and promoter often told that the inspiration for starting the Cotton Bowl came as he watched the Southern Methodist-Stanford Rose Bowl game in 1936.

He called Dallas sports figures together and staged the 1937 game between Texas Christian and Marquette. He lost money—only 17,000 attended.

Sanford continued the game each year until after the 1940 contest, when he turned the concept over to the Southwest Conference. It has been profitable for all concerned since the conference gave the game its official sponsorship.

Four teams trail Ponies by one game

TCU whips SMU to highlight SWC action

By MILLER BONNER
Sports Editor

TCU's 93-84 win over league leading SMU highlighted Tuesday night's round of Southwest Conference basketball action.

The defending conference champ Horned Frogs hit their first four shots from the field before a standing room crowd of over 7,000 in Fort Worth and were never behind. The Pony loss snapped a seven game win skien and left the Frogs with 14 consecutive victories on their home court.

The defeat dropped SMU's league record to 7-2. TCU, Tech, Texas and Texas A&M are now just a step behind the leading Ponies with 6-3 slates after all of the second place foursome claimed wins Tuesday night.

Tech defeated Rice 80-76 (see complete story on page six),

Texas rolled over Baylor 90-70 and the Aggies squeaked by Arkansas 86-85.

All of the four second place teams play among themselves Saturday night as Texas travels to Tech and A&M will visit TCU.

SIMPSON DEGRATE of TCU led the Froggies with 36 points and 21 rebounds. Jim Ferguson followed Degrade in the scoring column with 18 points while Evans Royal canned 11 and Ricky Hall 10. SMU was led by Larry Delzell's 26 points with Bobby Rollings contributing 14 and Ruben Triplett, who left the game briefly in the first half with an injury, accounted for 11.

Baylor responded with their lowest field goal percentage of the season (36) while Texas was having a dream game to hand the Bears a 20 point defeat, 90-70.

Scotter Lennox, Lynn Howden and Larry Robinson led the 'Horns with 25, 17 and 20 points, respectively. Pat Fees led Baylor with 20 points followed by Roy Thomas with 14.

THE AGGIES HAD a slightly harder time with Arkansas.

Patented shot

Raider guard Greg Lowery lofts one of his patented jump shots toward the basket in Tuesday night's Tech win over Rice. Defending is Owl Randy Youngling. Lowery finished with 30 points.

Raiders struggle past Rice Owls

It wasn't spectacular, or a display of exceptionally fine basketball but when all the chips had been counted the Red Raiders had topped the Rice Owls 80-76.

"It was a struggle all the way," said Raider basketball coach Gerald Myers, but we just ran into a hot Rice ballclub that really took it to us."

With the victory the Raiders remained in the runnerup spot one game behind the SMU Mustangs who took it on the chin from the TCU Horn Frogs, and broke a two game homecourt losing skein.

The Raiders were paced by an injured Greg Lowery with 30 points and Ralph Palomar with 22 points.

The game started off like bundle of mistakes with bad passes, missed shots, and mental errors highlighting the game.

The score stood 10-10 with nearly seven minutes gone in the contest before Lowery hit a jumper, Richard Little followed suit, and Lowery hit a free shot to put the Raiders up by five, 15-10. But as was typical the entire evening the Owls came back to knot the contest at 22-22 with 5:46 left in the half.

Tech closes to within one game of league lead

ANOTHER PRIME EXAMPLE of the Owls' stubbornness was displayed not only in their ability to come back from a 30-23 deficit, but the Birds took the lead at halftime with a Mark Wherle jump-shot just before the buzzer, 37-36.

At this stage of the game the scene probably got a little tiresome for the Raiders. But losing on the homeground was not in the cards.

The Raiders went to a zone defense with ten minutes left in the contest in hopes of slowing the Owls down but it was of little significance.

"WE WANTED TO go to our zone defense earlier but we don't like to play a zone when the score is tied or we are behind," explained Myers. Rice just kept hitting from the outside and forced us out of the zone."

The Raiders opened a five point lead with seven minutes left in the contest, 63-58, but here came the Owls again.

Jim Kabbes hit a 12 foot jump shot, Don Snyder followed suit, and once again it was a one point contest.

With 2:52 left to go in the contest and the Raiders nursing a one point lead, 71-70, the Raiders opened up a six point lead, as Lowery hit a lay in, followed with a free shot, and Ralph Palomar hit a short jumper.

The Owls, playing like they didn't know they were supposed to lose, came right back.

Behind the rebounding of Mark Wherle and the shooting of Scott Fisher the Owls pulled within two at 76-74. The birds then had to sit and watch as Richard Little hit a pair of free throws to put the Raiders up by two, 78-76, and Gene Kaberline sealed the issue with another pair of free shots with two seconds remaining in the contest.

For the contest the Raiders and Owls were equal in rebounds as the Owls pulled down 48 and the Raiders had 50.

The Owls shot 42 per cent from the field and the Raiders managed to shoot at a 44 per cent figure.

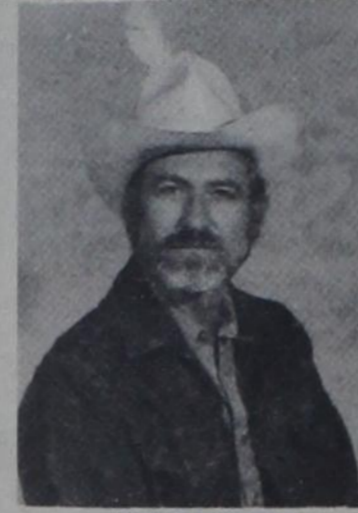

But the difference in the contest lay in the free throw department as the Owls hit on 12 of 22 for a 54 per cent and the Raiders countered with 26 of 37 for a 70 per cent.

SWC round-up

Texas A&M doused a late Razorback surge to preserve an 86-85 win and keep in the second place logjam.

All of the Aggies starters finished in double figures as Randy Knowles hit 23, Mario Brown 15, Bobby Threadgill and Brad Pauley 14 apiece while Jeff Overhouse accounted for 10.

The Ags trailed 42-39 at halftime but exploded with a second half scoring flurry to lead the Porkers by 11 points with 6:23 remaining in the game. Knowles and Pauley, both starting for the first time for the Aggies against an SWC foe led the cadets' second half surge.

All of Tuesday night's victories were enjoyed by the home team.

Saturday's schedule of SWC encounters include SMU at Arkansas, Rice at Baylor, Texas at Tech and A&M at TCU.
