ONCE GREAT STAR LOSES TO PHILLIES

By BILL BONI Associated Press Sports Writer

From a shining light to a feeble flicker in two short seasons—that's the strange, sad story of Hal Schumacher.

In 1933, his first full season with the New York Giants, Schumacher won 19 games. The following year he chalked up 23. Two years ago it was 19 again and each time Schumacher kept his percentage above the 400 level.

Today he is in a nose dive. Sixteen times he has been sent into action as Bill Terry's starting pitcher. On all but three occasions—the last on June 1, when he hurled a ten-bitter to whip the Dodgers—he has failed to finish.

He failed again yesterday against the Phillies, a club the Giants had beaten in six out of nine games. Schumacher, pulled out of a bad hole by a 3rd out-inning triple play in the first inning, dropped out of sight in the seventh.

When he bowed out, he had put on base five of the six runs the Phillies scored in that inning to win the game, 6 to 3.

The defeat cost the Giants a chance to draw up virtually on even terms with the rained-out Chicago Cubs. In addition, it may have sealed Schumacher's fate for the balance of the season.

It was, they say, his last chance to prove his claim as a starting pitcher. There even is talk of converting the 180-pound, 6-footer into an outfielder.

A happier figure than Schumacher is the irrepressible Joe Medwick. That gas-house gangster, who leads the league in everything but triples, stolen bases and, of course, pitching, pounded out three more hits and drove in three more runs as the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Pirates, 6 to 5.

The Cubs' night game in Cincinnati was rained out, as were the Bees-Dodger date in Brooklyn and the only American league game scheduled, between the Indians and White Sox at Chicago.

CONFIDENCE MAY AID FELLER

CHICAGO, July 13 (AP)—Bob Feller, the 18-year-old Cleveland Indians' hurler who blazed a strike-out trail across baseball horizon in 1936 and then injured his arm this season, is convinced he is just as good as ever, notwithstanding his current record of three defeats and no victories.

"I'll get the breaks soon," he smiled, "and I'm far from discouraged over losing those games. I could go and pitch like I did against Detroit Sunday. I'd win 25 games a season." He allowed Detroit only two hits although he lost the game.

"I've been relying mainly on my fast ball, and my arm feels just as good as ever. My curve is getting better—when I'm sure that I'll start winning soon."

The Feller case has been baseball's most intriguing mystery of recent years. When he injured his arm pitching against St. Louis April 24, some said he was through for good. Others that he wouldn't pitch again until 1938. Starting against Detroit at Cleveland, he allowed one hit in four innings, but the Tigers got three unearned runs off him and won a seven inning game, 3 to 2.

At Detroit Sunday he walked six and made one wild pitch.

WATKINS RETURNS TO LOCAL RING SAILOR TO WRANGLE IN SPECIAL GO

By BILL BONI Associated Press Sports Writer

They are known everywhere from the Howery, where mothers frighten their children into sealing their eyelids with tales of this specter, to Barbary Coast and in every water track stand in existence. Yet he's been everywhere and scowled at everybody and tonight he works that fact into a leer once again when he returns for the season's incoherence in the special event of tonight's card at Herman Fuhrer's athletic club.

The subject at hand is, of course, Watkins, one time patriotic student of our national defenses who, upon being discharged from the service, decided that the world in general had not seen enough of him and set about to do something about it. He undertook the first appealing job that came along and it so happened that someone threw a sponge in his face. One thing led to another and he finally got a sniff of resin so you guessed it—he became a wrestler.

He shows how good he is tonight against a Swede, whose name, like all other Scandinavians, is Olie. He is Olie Eriksson, as he is reputed to be tough, all of which should be to the sailor's likings.

"They go on in the special event in support of a main goal that has Shiek Ben-Ali-Mar-Allah and Johnny Nemanic as the stars.

Ben Ali showed last week in a marathon wait with Jackie Hagen and put on a real scrap after the timekeeper had given him the go-go. He moved up this time when Hagen moved on.

On the semi-final spot are Victor Webber and Jack Terry. Webber returns after taking a mineral shower or two while Terry has worked here several times during the current summer semester.

The Watkins-Eriksson brawl has been lined up for 8:30 p.m.

Inner Northern Defense Strong

HOUSTON, July 13 (AP)—Infielders selected to the northern division team for the Texas league's all-star game here Saturday night are outstanding their southern brethren, offensively and defensively, latest league statistics show.

In the north, Lee Stebbins, veteran Fort Worth first sacker, is batting .317 and fielding .990; McDowell, Fort Worth second baseman, is hitting .302 and fielding .967; Bilgere, Oklahoma City third baseman is doing .270 at the plate and .964 afield while Brower, Oklahoma City shortstop, is light with the stick at .260 but fielding .954.

Down south, Binder, Galveston utility man and first baseman, has compiled a .293 batting average and .965 fielding average; Bejma, San Antonio's second sacker, has .311 and .968; Scharein, San Antonio third baseman, .261 and .922 and Sig Gryski, shortstop, has led his batting average slide to .247 and is fielding .914.

However, the south, with three San Antonio infielders in the line-up, will have an almost complete unit that has played together all season.

Cosdenites Lose Practice Game, 8-12

The TP-Cosden game, scheduled Monday night, was postponed until next week by agreement of the managers.

Cotton Is Winner In Shute Duel

By BILL BONI Associated Press Sports Writer

WALTON HEATH, Eng., July 13 (AP)—Henry Cotton, British open golf champion, today defeated Lenny Shute, United States P.G.A. titleholder, 6 and 5, in their 72-hole match for a purse of $2,500 and "the unofficial world championship."

After making the last turn with a four-hole advantage, Cotton went dormie six by sinking 15-foot putt for birdie on the 65th and 66th holes. They halved the last hole with par four.

The victory, following his sensational triumph in the British open last week, gave Cotton $2,000 of the purse. The other $500 went to Shute, who never was in front after the half-way mark. They entered the final 36 holes today with Cotton leading by two holes.

Tennis Queen Moves To Reno

RENO, Nev., July 13 (AP)—Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, former tennis queen, was established at a Nevada resort today but was non-committal about reports she planned to divorce wealthy Frederick S. Moody, Jr., of San Francisco.

Attorney Robert M. Price of Reno, whom she visited yesterday, said: "Mrs. Moody is living in Nevada and expects to be here for some time. All that I can say now is that she was at my office and consulted with me and she may later on seek a divorce."

The former women's tennis champion of the world was less definite. She said she had established herself at Glenbrook, a Lake Tahoe resort, merely "to rest."

Moody, a socially prominent husband of the tennis player and fashion designer, was on a holiday somewhere in northern California. The couple was married in Berkeley, Calif., Dec. 23, 1929.

Spec Towns, Perrin Arrive In Dallas

DALLAS, July 13 (AP)—Twenty two nations had the cream of their track and field athletes centered in Dallas today, bustling through final workouts before start of the Pan-American games at the Texas Exposition Thursday night.

National, world and Olympic record holders of the United States' track were quartered at Southern Methodist University.

Latest of the American contingent scheduled for arrival included Elroy Robinson, who set up a new world's 800-meter record at New York Sunday; Ray Malott, national A. A. U. 200-meter champion; Perrin Walker, 100-meter king; Charles Fenske, who will run against Glenn Cunningham and Archie San Romani in the mile; Alan Tomlich, new hurdle sensation; Kermit King, A. A. U. broad jump titleholder, George Varoff, who set a world's pole vault mark. Exposition officials announced Forrest (Spec) Towns, great Georgia hurler, and Bill Sefton, University of Southern California pole vaulter, would be unable to compete. Sefton twisted an ankle in the New York meet.

The American soccer champions the highlanders of Trenton, N. J., arrived for a triangular tourney with Argentina's crack bunch and the Canadian champions.

DON ADDS THIRD GOLFING CROWN

LONGVIEW, July 13 (AP)—Trans-Mississippi champion Don Schumacher of Dallas had another golf title tacked to his record today on the strength of a crushing defeat he handed a fellowtownsman, chunky Reynolds Smith, Walker Cup player last year.

Schumacher and Reynolds have met seven times in tournament play and their battles have always been fairly close. In yesterday's 18-hole Pinecrest country club tourney, however, Schumacher finished ahead 12 to 10. It was the worst licking Smith ever took from his links foe.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIEZE

NEW YORK, July 13 (AP)—Blame it on the heat... A radio editor said: "Sailing enthusiasts will be interested in listening to the Vanderbilt cup race tomorrow... Haw! (He is still blushing). Another expert: 'DIMaggio has yet to prove he was not just a flash in the pan last year... Joe answered the next day by belting two homers, a triple, a double and a single. A Western scribe reported: 'Van Engle Mun go, Carl Hubbell and Dizzy Dean will work in three inning shifts for the senior league (in the all-star game) and that means the American Leaguers are in for a rough afternoon.' Did he say rough?... Are his ears burning?"

Gabby Hartnett, big good-natured catcher of the Cubs, said a mouthful: "Joe Medwick's only bating weakness is a base on balls." The White Sox collected $29,689 for renting their park for the Braddock-Louis brawl... Don Budge's performance abroad indicates he ought to take two Davis Cup singles matches and help Gene Mako win the doubles.

Ho hum, they are trying to get Jimmy Johnston out of the Garden, again. Must be tough on Mickey Cochran, sitting out there on his front porch and not being allowed near Navin Field... The Cubs seem to have just the type of ball team the fans go for. It was 12 years ago today that Dazzy Vance of the Dodgers hung up his National League strike-out record by whiffing 17 St. Louis Cardinals in a 10-inning game.

People all over recognize real class in that AP picture of Dick Bartell, hustling, scrappy Giant shortstop, receiving a loving cup from admirers, was printed in papers all over the country... Oklahoma City Blasts San Antonio, Ft. Worth Cops

By The Associated Press The upper crust of the Texas League found things pretty much to its liking last night.

The three leaders blasted the opposition without a great deal of effort and thus maintained the status quo in their race for top honors.

Oklahoma City's league leaders had a rollicking time in plastering San Antonio, 8 to 2. Except for four Mission double plays, the score would have been more lopsided. Jim Moore, meanwhile, was letting the Padres down with seven well spaced hits.

Fort Worth's Cats, fighting to keep second position, were even more brusque with Galveston, Jackie Reid had plenty of support in winning his sixteenth game of the year, 12 to 3. In the first inning the Cats rushed across 10 runs.

The third-place Beaumonters had to fight for their win against Tulsa, finally squeezing ahead, 3 to 2. It was the Shippers' eighth straight victory and put them within halting distance of Fort Worth.

In a battle to decide who should be relegated to the cellar, Houston blanked Dallas 3 to 0. John Grodzicki of Houston was the hero with a fine two-hit performance.

NEW YORK, July 13 (AP)—In 1930 the line, "Kid Chocolate fights tonight" meant a lot more than it does today. It doesn't mean much now except to the Kid. He is making a comeback and every step he takes along the way means a lot more to him than the ham and egg money he pulls down in the fight clubs that run the big town.

Chocolate fights Young Chappie tonight at the Caesar's stadium in his 23rd fight of his comeback campaign. He has won 21 fights and he may take his place in ring history as the man who successfully disputed the ancient maxim of the prize ring, they never come back.

Kid Chocolate was somebody in 1929 and 1930. He hit America in 1928 after more than 100 fights in Cuba and went to work in the featherweight and lightweight divisions. He beat fellows like Bushy Graham, Tommy Ryan and Al Ridgeway. He lost only one American fight until Kid Berg, an English lightweight with a good left hand, beat him at the Polo Grounds in August, 1930.

He won the slightly phoney junior lightweight title from Benny Bass in 1931. Then he fought Tony Canzoneri, who was the lightweight champion, and Tony beat the kid in 15 scrueling rounds and the kid's luck started to run out.

In Cuba at 28, broke, sick and friendless, he started his comeback, last year, now he is at least on the steps of the rings he once started in.

A British inventor is reported to have developed a single-cylinder motorcycle which has attained speeds of 100 miles an hour.

WASHINGTON—Quietly circulating within the ranks of labor leaders and others interested is a plan for amending the Wagner labor relations act that arises almost from within the ranks of labor itself.

The demand for such a rewriting has grown increasingly insistent for several reasons—one is that strikes have continued in spite of it, another that it leaves optional with labor whether the act shall be brought into play.

For instance, during the first stages of the disturbances at Republic Steel, the Steel Workers Organizing committee, a CIO affiliate, refrained from calling in the labor board to conduct an election. It claimed to have a majority membership among the workers, yet declined to attempt exercising the right of bargaining, which a true majority would have given it. Republic, however, could not appeal to the board.

With all due respect to the credibility of labor officials, the generally accepted opinion of newsmen and many others closely following strike developments was that the steel workers committee did not have a majority, but called the strike as a means of recruiting one. The new plan now quietly discussed still does not give the employer the right to ask an election. That would give him an opportunity to call an election when he felt the labor organization was at its lowest ebb.

But the new plan gives the employer a stronger position. First, it would let him require a newly reorganized majority to undergo a six months' trial period. In that time the union would have to prove its ability to retain the majority in good order.

After that, however, the employer would be obligated to negotiate with the union and sign any agreement reached. That matter of signing an agreement has been a source of dispute.

At this point, the new amendments proposed would appear to give labor and industry about a 50-50 break.

But the next phase of the proposal is that an employer would be permitted to withdraw recognition for one year of a majority union if the labor board determines it has breached a contract by striking or other means.

That still leaves the labor board with the whip hand, and to date it has been decidedly pro-labor. But it would impose substantial pressure upon the board to act in such a case as that presented by the automobile workers union, groups of which have struck repeatedly in the general Motors plant in open violation of a peace agreement reached six months ago.

The plan hasn't hit the surface yet, but is a subject of much under-cover discussion.

FLAME TRAIL

Chapter 17
SETH MAKES A SLIP
 Kay felt all her first suspicions about the ranch fire revive, but she remembered Dan Steele's warning and held her peace. While this Tom Runyon seemed all right, and a kindly and genial enough person, she didn't really know anything about him, so it would pay to go slow.

If he wanted to go ahead investigating on his own initiative, he might unearth something that would give some foundation for her suspicion of Josh Hastings. But while she must be very careful not to voice the direction in which her suspicions lay, there was one point on which she must set him straight right away.

"I am absolutely certain that Seth and our outfit are above suspicion," she stated positively. "If you're looking for foul play, you can count them out from the start."

"Maybe." He nodded his approval of her loyalty. "But when you're starting out to look for clues you can't be handicapped by any foregone conclusions. You just leave the investigating to me. All I want you to do is answer a few questions."

"Gladly—but let's wait until after supper." Kay leaned against the side of the cabin for a second, overcome by a sudden weary faintness.

Tom Runyon sprang to put a steadying hand on her arm. "What's the matter?" he inquired anxiously. "You look all in!"

"Nothing," Kay straightened up and smiled at him. "I'm just a little tired, I guess. I'll be all right as soon as I get something to eat. You go on up to the bunk house and I'll join you in a minute. I'm eating with the boys, until I can get my own housekeeping arrangements figured up. You'll stay for supper, of course," she added, as he hesitated a moment.

"That's mighty good of you. I'd be glad to. Only, look here! Who was that you were riding in with?"

Kay paused at the cabin door her eyebrows raised in surprise. A slight flush came into her cheeks as she answered his question. After all, there was no point in making a mystery about being with Ted.

"That was Ted Gaynor, the man I was with up on the ridge." To her annoyance, she flushed still more as she caught Tom Runyon's keen speculative look at her heightened color.

"Oh, yes. Well, he's just the one I wanted to ask you about. But we'll wait until after supper."

Before Kay could answer, he turned and made for the bunk house.

As she washed her face and hands, she tried to reason herself out of the queer, panicky feeling that suddenly took possession of her. The dark premonition that she had had when she said good-bye to Ted swept over her again.

"Don't be a fool!" she scolded her image in the mirror as she ruthlessly tugged a comb through her tangled curls. "You're just letting your nerves run away with you! What could possibly happen to him? Especially if you keep your head, and don't let Tom Runyon's first suspicions start up again!"

Supper Conversation
 Braced by the thought that it was up to her to protect Ted, Kay walked slowly up to the bunk house, planning what she would say.

BELGIAN PREMIER'S RESIGNATION NOT ACCEPTED BY KING

BRUSSELS, July 13 (AP)—Premier Paul Van Zeeland submitted his resignation today to King Leopold but the Belgian monarch refused to accept it.

Leopold did accept the resignation of Minister of Justice De La Veleye, bringing to a head a months' old cabinet crisis. Solution had been postponed to facilitate Van Zeeland's recent visit to the United States.

Liberals had repudiated De La Veleye, contending the minister of justice was a traitor to the party by entering the Van Zeeland cabinet without consulting other liberals.

TURNER VANCE TO BE TOASTMASTER AT STANTON AFFAIR

STANTON, July 13—A returned home-town boy, Turner Vance of Refugio, Texas, will be toastmaster at the Old Settlers' Reunion to be held on the courthouse lawn here Tuesday evening.

Vance was reared at Stanton, son of Dr. Vance, pioneer physician and banker of this area, now retired.

Piano music has been discarded for the occasion and fiddlers and accordion will furnish music along with vocal selections.

Speakers look forward to a gathering of several hundred old-timers and their descendants at their eighth annual get-together which is under the auspices of the Old Settlers' Association.

MAN IS HELD IN FATAL SHOOTING

ITALY, July 13 (AP)—Lloyd L. Jennings, 40, of Clearwater, Fla., was held in connection with shooting last night fatal to L. B. Ward, 30, of Dallas, and in which Oscar Wiles, about 30, was wounded critically.

Wiles, also of Dallas and a brother-in-law of Ward, was given an even chance to recover from four bullet wounds.

Jennings surrendered to Sheriff Joe Roy of Ellis county and discussed freely his version of the fight. He said he and Mrs. Jennings encountered Ward and Wiles on a highway as they were returning from Dallas to the home of Mrs. Jennings' parents in Italy.

Mrs. Jennings formerly was Wiles' wife.

Jennings said he feared trouble and sped toward Italy but was overtaken by the two men. An argument ensued, he said, in which Ward and Wiles were hit but in which he escaped harm. Ward died shortly afterward.

CO. OFFICIALS FACE CONTEMPT CHARGE IN SALARY MATTER

NACOGDOCHES, July 13 (AP)—The Nacogdoches county commissioners' court was under instructions today to appear before District Judge C. E. Brazil of Lufkin to explain why they should not be held in contempt of court.

The district judge issued the order after a hearing involving the alleged failure of the county court to increase certain salaries to amounts previously ordered by the court.

The salaries of County Clerk Forrest Winder, District Clerk J. Farris Jenkins and County Attorney Vernis Fulmer were set by the court at amounts those officers received in 1935. The county court, according to arguments of attorneys for the three officials, set the salaries at lower figures.

The commissioners' court included County Judge Jack Varner, and Commissioners Jake Russell, J. G. Williamson, Guy Harst and G. B. Whitaker.

RESTRICTING ALIENS

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins is reported slightly peeved because of an insertion in a law covering collective bargaining between maritime workers and their employers. It was a provision that any bargainer must be a native born or a naturalized citizen.

It seems odd that the head of one of the departments of this government should be displeased because a foreigner was barred from engaging in a discussion and agreement affecting the peace and welfare of a large number of the citizens. Rather it would appear that she should have been the leader in demanding that such things should be done only by citizens.

Aliens are numerous in this country when there should be not one. Every man or woman who comes to United States from another country with the expectation of making this country a home should be required to become a bona fide citizen. They expect, and generally receive, the benefit of our laws and institutions. They should be placed in the same footing as those with whom they associate.

Time was when United States had an open door for any and all who chose to come here. When it was finally realized that this was giving us many undesirable and sometimes criminal people a limit was placed on those who might enter and provision made for deporting those coming illegally. The latter provision has been largely ignored by the government and the result is that there are in this country thousands of aliens, some of them on relief rolls, being supported by native born or naturalized citizens.

It is condition that ought not exist and the secretary of labor should change her attitude in this matter or change her office.

+ Man About Manhattan +

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It was just the other day that Frank Capra, greeting ship news reporters on his return from Italy, stepped forward and seized a news photographer by the arm.

"Hello, Charles," he cried, "how is Panchan Lama?"

The news photographer was Charles de Saria, and Panchan Lama is that black and white Tibetan terrier you saw with Ronald Colman in "Lost Horizons."

"You still don't want to sell him?" Capra went on for the hundredth time. After de Saria again declined, they talked a while and then Capra left for Hollywood and de Saria went on about his business.

Capra, who directed the picture, is one of dozens who have tried to purchase the terrier, the only one of its kind in America. Ronald Colman did his best to persuade de Saria to part with it, but that is one pup that can't be bought.

There is quite a history behind his entry into the movies—Panchan Lama, that is. De Saria got him in China when he was touring the Orient with a news reel outfit. His mama and papa were brought into China from Tibet and de Saria got one of the original litter.

These dogs, so the Chinese claim, were first introduced into China hundreds of years ago to be bred with the Chinese sleeve dog, and the result was the Pekinese.

Panchan gets one pound of hamburger a day, plus three small puppy biscuits. He is now just one year and six months old, and, being a cold weather dog, he must suffer through another year and a half before his coat can be clipped. The Tibetans grow into their full coat only after passing their second birthday, and to cut it prematurely is bad business.

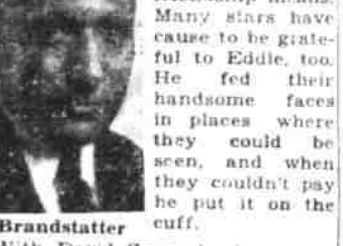

At that, it was Harrison Forman, technical director of "Lost Horizons," who was directly responsible for bagging Panchan Lama for the picture. He had known de Saria in China and when he began assembling props his first move was to seek out de Saria and obtain his consent.

Veteran directors, who saw the dog on the set, say his class was superb. Since he never had faced a camera before, they were prepared for almost anything. But the dog takes orders perfectly and never occasioned a single retake. Panchan Lama gets one bath a week, and three good cleanings.

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds By Robin Cobbs

HOLLYWOOD—If the history of Hollywood can be told in its restaurants, Eddie Brandstatter can be the historian.

Eddie's a filmhand figure, the intimate of stars and a fellow with a sense of what a star's friendship means. Many stars have cause to be grateful to Eddie, too. He fed their handsome faces in places where they could be seen, and when they couldn't pay he put it on the cuff.

With David Covey he is reopening the burned-out Sardia's soon. It's to be one of those ultra spots, even more ultra than before the fire. Eddie glows with anticipation, just as he glowed long years ago over his Sunset Inn. Sardia's is his third venture in "dramatizing" food for the benefit of movie stars and tourists.

Eddie's Sunset Inn lives in local legend as a Place. It was out in Santa Monica, and it was the scene of Parties in Hollywood's happier-go-lucky youth days when big money and lots of free time had the boys and girls giddy in the Sunset Inn flourish. Abe Lyman got his start as an orchestra leader there.

Every Wednesday "Not wild days," Eddie'll correct you. "Just fun, Sunset Inn was the play place. That time Bebe Daniels got a jail sentence for speeding in Santa Ana, for instance. All Hollywood went with me to serve her a special dinner—with photographers, of course—in her cell. And we rigged up a cell at the inn for her release, and had a grand party in celebration."

But Sunset Inn belonged to a less inhibited, more child-like and naive era of film life. Pictures grew bigger and bigger, and Eddie turned to Hollywood proper. He built his Montmartre.

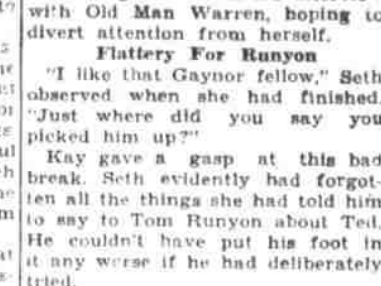

He still reminisces, in cafe-going circles, about those "Wednesday evenings" at the Mo-mart Special section roped off for stars, who came dressed to kill and fill the eyes of the tourists who could occupy the unwholesome but well-fed unreserved sections. Eddie, discreet host, could watch the budding, blooming and fading of myriad movie romances.

He carried 'Em But in its days of glory Eddie had built the groundwork for his current venture. Everybody who was anybody had to be seen there. If they couldn't afford the tariff, Eddie urged them to come any-

I SHOULD THINK YOU'D GUESS WHAT'S THE MATTER. YOUR COMMON SENSE OUGHT TO TELL YOU

MAYBE, BUT IT DOESN'T. WHAT IS IT?

YOU NEVER BRING ME A THING ANY MORE - THAT'S WHAT IT IS. I MIGHT AS WELL BE A PERFECT STRANGER. BEFORE WE WERE MARRIED -

PA'S SON-IN-LAW

YES, SINCE IT'S HERE IN CORRIDOR THAT YOUR UNCLE DISAPPEARED FROM AND WHERE YOU WERE SMASHED THROUGH WALL, IT SEEMS TO ME YOU'LL BE THE LIKELY PLACE TO FIND THE MARK LIKE THE FIRST OF THE ONES TATTOOED ON YOUR BACK! LET'S LOOK AROUND IN HERE FOR A CIRCLE WITH A CROSS IN IT ON THE WALLS OR FLOORS!

ER-UH - GEE! WHAT A CINH! HEY, MR. LEM! HERE'S A WHOLE ROW OF 'EM!

A - A WHOLE ROW OF 'EM?

YEP! AN' THEY'RE ALL JUST ALIKE! SEE?

NO, THEY'RE NOT ALL ALIKE, NEITHER! LOOK - HERE'S THE ONLY ONE OF 'EM ROW THAT'S GOT THE CROSS STRAIGHT UP AN' DOWN LIKE THE ONE ON YOUR BACK!

GEE, THAT WAS A DINNER BOYS - BEST YET -

RIGHT! - YOU FELLOWS SHOULD GO AWAY MORE OFTEN -

HOW LONG WILL YOU AND BLIMEY BE GONE, SCORCHY?

HARD TO SAY, KAY - IT ALL DEPENDS -

DEPENDS ON WHAT?

- ON WHAT WE FIND IN WU'S LAND - OR WHAT WE DON'T FIND -

- FOR EXAMPLE, THE CAMOUFLAGED AIRPORT BLIMEY STUMBLED ON MIGHT BE OPERATED BY BANDITS WITHOUT WU KNOWING IT - IF SO, OUR JOB IS SIMPLE -

- BUT IF WU IS IN ON IT, AND PLANNING HOSTILITIES -

BLOW ME! - THIS AIN'T FIT TALK FER A LVEDY - WOT SAY WE INTRODUCE KAY TO THOSE TWO ANDSOME GENTS NOW?

Rains Break Heat Wave

Survey Shows 357 Deaths Attributed To Torrid Weather

By The Associated Press
Showers and clouded skies relieved a large part of the nation today from the scorching temperatures of a week-long heat wave. Meteorologist J. R. Lloyd at Chicago said more rain was expected today but that the plains states probably would be dry and warm tomorrow.
New York and New England states were cooler but temperatures soared again in south Atlantic states.
An Associated Press survey showed at least 357 persons in 25 states died from causes attributed to the prolonged heat wave. New York led with a total of 68. New Jersey had 49 and Connecticut 38.
In Chicago two heavy downpours yesterday sent temperatures down 15 degrees from the day's high of 93.
Heat deaths by states were: New York 68; New Jersey 49; Connecticut 38; Pennsylvania 37; Michigan 30; Illinois 21; Massachusetts 17; Ohio 15; Wisconsin 11; Rhode Island and Indiana 10 each; Maine 6; Minnesota, Kansas, Maryland and Virginia 5 each; West Virginia, District of Columbia, Tennessee and Kentucky 4 each; Iowa and Nebraska 3 each and Georgia, Missouri and South Carolina 1 each.

Illness Fatal To Resident

Miss Flossie Mae Van Open Succumbs At Family Home

Two years of illness ended in death here at 10 a.m. Tuesday for Flossie Mae Van Open, 32, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Van Open.
She succumbed at the family home, 709 Aylford street. Funeral arrangements call for services at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday at the St. Thomas Catholic church with Rev. Joseph Dwan officiating. Rev. Dwan will repeat the Rosary at the Eberly chapel at 8 p. m. Tuesday.
Miss Van Open was born in Clatsop on May 3, 1905 and had lived here most of her life with her parents.
Surviving are her parents, one sister, Katherine Van Open of Fort Worth, three step-brothers, Emil Pierson of Fort Worth, Albert Pierson of Toynah, and Francis Pierson of Big Spring, one step-sister, Mrs. M. C. Lawrence, and one half brother, Frank Leonard Van Open, Jr., San Angelo.
Burial will be in the Catholic cemetery here.
Pallbearers will be William Dehlinger, Harry, Charles and Frank Weez, Mr. Jays, Doyle Robinson, Herbert Stanley, Clarence Miller, Albert Long, Lawrence Deason, Ernest Odum, Harold Harvey, Joe Klitt and Jack Bell.

RAINS HELP TEXAS RANGE CONDITIONS

AUSTIN, July 13 (AP)—General rains in late May and early June aided cattle ranges which were 77 per cent of normal on July 1, the U. S. department of agriculture reported today.
The department said surface moisture was needed in all districts on July 1, and that sub-soil moisture was adequate except in south and southeast Texas. Sheep ranges were 79 per cent of normal. Both sheep and cattle were in good flesh. June shipments of cattle and sheep were expected to exceed those of last year.

Reagan

became superintendent of the Baptist Academy of Lagos. This institution, under her direction, became the largest day school in West Africa, and at present has an enrollment of more than 600. A teaching staff of 36, all of them male natives, served under Miss Reagan. With Miss Eva Sanders, an assistant, she supervised, taught, directed church work, held clinics and made trips to outposts, traveling on occasion as far as 75 miles on out-station work.
There are no male missionaries at Lagos, and in an executive capacity, Miss Reagan operated the Academy, planning buildings, letting contracts, handling finances, employing teachers, enlisting government support—all this in addition to her work in training natives scholastically and spiritually.
Devotion To Work
Miss Reagan's intense devotion to her work was of high degree. On furloughs to the states, she made special effort to learn arts and crafts so that she in turn could train the natives at her academy. She spent time also when in this country toward interesting groups of West Texas in furthering their support of mission activities. Miss Reagan was last at home in the fall of 1934, remaining for six months in the state. She visited her family here then, and made addresses before Baptist groups in several West Texas towns. Another furlough would have been due her this year.
She is credited with having exerted more influence than possibly any other one person in Texas to-

ASK FOR RELIEF ON AD VALOREM TAX

SAN ANGELO, July 13 (AP)—The San Angelo property owners association of more than 100 members, headed by Henry Fannin, president, today sent a telegram to Governor Allred and members of the automatic tax board seeking ad valorem tax relief. The message said:
"Our association disappointed that school board in face of current generosity of Texas from other funds set apportionment at $22. Thereby defeating chance to afford taxpayers relief unless you and automatic board can do something. Property owners have no objection to supporting schools but we do feel that low revenues over period of years entitle us to consideration when opportunity exists to give us some relief by reducing ad valorem levies."

Mrs. J. L. Webb was called to Balmorhea Monday evening on learning of the death of her father who had been seriously ill for some time.
ward interesting young people of this state in the cause of foreign missions. That cause occupied her time even when she was at home, just as it did in Africa as she established herself as one of the most valuable of the church's envoys to the dark continent. She had been a member of the Baptist church since the age of 11.
Besides the parents, long-time residents of Big Spring and widely known throughout West Texas, she is survived by two brothers and two sisters. These are Horace Reagan and Mrs. Tracy Smith of Big Spring; Paul Reagan of Nevada and Mrs. Ona Parsons of Lockhart.

Last week Lamadrid, generally believed to have been sent here to investigate the mystery, was arrested by Fenner on a charge of carrying a pistol without a permit. He was charged in Brownsville.
Released on bond after being taken to Brownsville, Lamadrid was rearrested on a charge of impersonating an officer. His attorney, A. B. Crane, claiming he had been denied access to his client, obtained a writ of habeas corpus and instituted contempt proceedings.
Lamadrid testified he had a deputy constable's commission and denied he had impersonated a ranger.
The atmosphere was surcharged throughout the hearing which was attended by heavily-armed officers. In the confusion afterwards a newspaper photographer had his camera taken away from him.

Promises Probe Of Photograph Incident

AUSTIN, July 13 (AP)—Colonel H. E. Carmichael, in charge of the Texas Ranger force, today promised a thorough investigation of reported trouble at Raymondville yesterday between Ranger Power Fenner and a newspaper photographer.
"If newspaper reports of the incident are correct, I don't like it a bit," Carmichael said. "I don't approve of such tactics."
Reports from Raymondville were that the camera of John L. Martin, photographer for the Valley Morning Star at Harlingen, was jerked from his hands as he tried to take a picture of Fenner after the Ranger had been held in contempt of court. The camera was taken to the county judge's office where Fenner sought to expose the film. Martin said one officer pointed a pistol at him.
Governor Allred previously asserted his disapproval of the steps taken to thwart the photographer's efforts.

British government, which was believed to contain a suggestion of the desirability of international consultation concerning the Far Eastern situation.
He declined, however, to disclose the nature or text of the note, or what reply was made by the United States.
The secretary said the communication was received after he had talked yesterday with the Japanese ambassador and the counselor of the Chinese embassy.
He added that he believed action already taken here made any further move unnecessary.
(The state department announced yesterday that Secretary Hull had told the Japanese and Chinese envoys that "an armed conflict between Japan and China would be a great blow to the cause of peace and world progress.")

PAROLE BOARD

AUSTIN, July 13 (AP)—Appointment of a volunteer parole board for Borden county today brought to 199 the number of groups named by Governor James V. Allred. Members were D. Dorward of Gall, George L. Stephens of O'Donnell, J. D. Caldwell of Vealmoor, C. N. Von Reeder of Knapp and H. D. Sneed of Fluvanna.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Whitaker and children, Jean and Junior, accompanied by Wesley Deats, left Tuesday afternoon for their home in Amarillo. They have been visiting Mrs. S. O. Deats, injured in a fall last week.

Aroma

...different from all the rest

Just as the savory aroma of appetizing food is half the pleasure of eating, so the fragrance of fine tobaccos is half the pleasure of smoking.

That's the reason we go half way around the world for the costly aromatic Turkish tobaccos that help give Chesterfields their more pleasing aroma.

Blended with mild sun-ripened home-grown tobaccos they make Chesterfields milder and better-tasting
...different from all the rest
