Members of the judging teams were given a state lunch in the stock judging pavilion as guests of the Tech Aggies. The awards were announced following the meal by Mr. R. C. Mowery who also made the presentations accompanying each with a short account of the work necessary to win the award and on what basis the award was given.

Twenty-Three Engineers To Graduate At Arkansas U. FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—Twenty-three students in the college of engineering, University of Arkansas, are candidates for degrees in June, according to Fred L. Kerr, registrar, and W. N. Gladson, dean of the college. The different degrees are civil, electrical, chemical and mechanical.

Co-eds To Wear Cotton Dresses

At the request of President P. W. Horn the Women's Forum has agreed to sponsor the Gampco Cotton Dress Movement suggested by the University of Texas chapter of Mortar Board. Presidents of women's clubs on the Tech campus will be asked to discuss the adoption of cotton dresses for school wear with the members of their organizations, and it is hoped that our co-eds will respond as enthusiastically as have those of other southern colleges.

State-wide campaigns of this nature should help in a small way at least to absorb the present over-production of cotton and minimize the effects of the prevailing economic depression in Texas.

Senior Edition Of Toreador Planned

Plans are in the forming to put out a special senior edition of the Toreador as announced by Floyd Woodridge, class president, in conjunction with Toreador officials. At the time the paper went to press no definite announcement was made as to the editors and his assistants. It was decided by those concerned, that the sheet be printed on senior day.

Senior day, an age old Tech tradition, is usually devoted to planting trees on the campus, senior convocation, and having a good time. It is believed that this senior edition of the paper is the first ever to be published by a senior class on their holiday.

Easter Music To Be Heard

Townpeople As Well As Students And Faculty Members Are Invited To Attend The Meeting

Music from the east tower of the administration building will be the principal feature of the annual Easter morning service which will be held April 5, from 7:00 to 7:45 in the west arcade of the administration building.

No other service is scheduled for this time and townpeople as well as students and faculty members are especially invited to attend the service.

The music from the east tower will last from 8:30 to 8:55 and it will be followed by a trumpet call to worship. The program will include an address on the meaning of Easter, chorus music, "Hallelujah Chorus" and "Christ the Lord is Risen Today," hymns, a reading, and a violin solo by Miss Josephine Winlow.

At the conclusion of the service the audience will be given an opportunity to make an offering which will go to the World Student Christian Federation.

Tennis Is Popular Sport For Women

A questionnaire was sent out to the women students in physical education asking them to name the sport they were interested in.

Tennis was selected by 34, skating by 30, riding was popular with the 33; golf caused 60 to sign on the dotted line; 44 long-winded girls favored baseball; 60 asked for basketball; 21 claimed to be bowlers; 44 liked to hike; 31 voted for the Outing Club and 21 wanted to go Dan Cupid one better to archery.

Misses Gilkerson and Riegel, instructors, announce the following program for the spring term. Volley ball and tennis workouts will be Tuesday afternoons from 5 to 8. After mid-term baseball will take the place of these sports. Golf will be on Wednesday from 2 to 5 and 4 to 6. Riding will be Monday and Friday afternoons. Skating comes Tuesday nights from 7:30 to 9:30. Tennis will be divided into three divisions until mid-term with a round robin of matches being played. Players are to be divided into beginners, advanced, and others.

"Minutare Golf" Is Theme At Methodist Church Fete

"Minutare Golf," a unique motif, was the outstanding feature in a banquet attended by Methodist students Tuesday night at the Hilton hotel. It was the annual young people's banquet and principal speakers were: Dr. Richard Spang, pastor of the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church of Abilene, Rev. J. O. Haynes, pastor of the First Methodist church of this city, and Dr. P. W. Horn, Robert Martin, senior student, was master of ceremonies.

The banquet was for students of Lubbock but a greater number of those attending were Tech students.

Freshmen Suspected Of Being Bad Bank Bandits

Three "Slimy" freshmen have experienced thrills galore that is found only in fiction. The bad bank bandits are shadowed, shikared and captured.

A bank was robbed in Breckenridge. Wires flashed the story to nearby towns warning sheriffs, bulls, and plainclothesmen that desperadoes were headed their way. Machine guns, howitzers, ten-pipers, and airguns were rushed into the arms of all brave, bold men available throughout the dangerous territory.

Andrew Freeman, Russell Rylander, and "Squarehead" Collins, independently but daringly, were rushing back to Lubbock where they had intentions of registering for the spring term. As they approached the watched region near Breckenridge they were immediately halted, told to reach for the sky and not make a move. The sheriff was a suspicious character, and being afraid of a fake move, kept his gun

First Annual Tech Relays Are Carded

Five Relays And Five Special Events Will Appear On Program Of Initial One Day Affair Here

The first annual Texas Tech Relays for high schools will be held here April 11. Entries must be in by April 8.

Five relays and five special events will appear on the program. Quarter mile, half mile, mile, medley, and special relays will be run off during the meet. A special javelin throw, high jump, fifty yard dash, 100 yard dash, and 220 yard low hurdle race have been booked for the individual performers.

The team entry scoring the highest number of points will be presented the 26-inch trophy donated by the Avalanche-Journal. Winners in the relay and special events will be awarded 10-inch silver statuettes while loving cups go to the second place entries.

All high schools in this part of the southwest are invited to participate in the meet.

Debate Students Act As Officials

Students in the Tech debate class acted as judges in debate Tuesday when teams from Hookley county came here for a tournament. The students acted as judges, chairman and timekeeper during the debates.

Approximately 25 students are in the debate class which is under the direction of Miss Anna J. Pennington, acting head of the speech department.

Book Written By Doctor Granbery Off This Spring

Material for a publication, "Students' Progressions of Philosophy" which has been prepared by Dr. John C. Granbery, head of the Tech philosophy department, is now in the hands of the publisher at Ann Arbor, Michigan, according to a recent announcement. The publication, which will be used in an introductory course in philosophy, will contain 140 pages.

Handled by the college bookstore the book will be ready for use this term.

GRADES NEXT WEEK

Due to the fact that all of the grades have not as yet been turned in to the registrar's office by the various instructors, the winter term grades will not be given out until the early part of April according to Registrar E. L. Dohoney.

Politicians To Meet In April

The Southwestern Political and Social Science association will hold its twelfth annual meeting April 3 and 4 in Oklahoma City.

Dr. W. A. Jackson, head of the Tech government department, and program chairman for the government section, has arranged for discussions along political and social problems confronting the World Today.

Dr. John C. Granbery, head of the history department will read a formal paper on "A Social Interpretation of History," and M. E. Oendon, government professor, will give a discussion on the "Nicaragua Canal Route."

Dr. C. J. Pender, J. W. Jackson, both of the government department, and O. C. Corry, economics department, will attend the meeting.

Summer Bulletin Will Appear Soon

According to Dean J. M. Gordon, the summer school bulletin will be ready to be given out by April 12. Dean Gordon states that the proofs of the catalog have been received by his office and are being corrected and will be returned to the printers shortly. The bulletin will contain full information relative to the work to be offered during the summer session and will be ready for distribution by April 15.

Cooperative Dormitory Plan To Be Used At McMurtry Soon

ABILENE, Texas.—A cooperative plan for the operation of the boys' and girls dormitories of McMurtry college to be effective for the 1932 term has been worked out where by the minimum expense will be only $319 per year. Under the cooperative plan the board and room of the students staying in the dormitories will be $18 per month. These plans were adopted by the board of trustees in a special meeting March 17.

Brahms Quartette Loves Texas But California Is 'Heaven' They Believe

"We love Texas," said Nadine Cox, "next to California." And we think California is heaven," Lari Banks hastened to add when these two charming young sopranos of the Brahms Quartette were interviewed at their hotel room before their Friday evening performance at the Tech gym.

Miss Banks is a brunette with a Bostonian brogue while Miss Cox is a decided blonde and speaks more like a southerner.

Both are New Yorkers and have been with the Quartette six years, as has one of the contraltos, Lydia Summers, while Elinor Markey has sung the other contralto part for twelve years. Howard Leslie Joffe accompanies the ensemble at the piano. For stage purposes he is known as Howard Leslie.

It was early in the year 1916 that the idea of the Brahms Quartette originated. Four young women, singing together then for the first time, chose to name their quartette after the composer Johannes Brahms, who was especially noted for the songs he wrote for women's voices. And then to carry out the spirit of the historic purpose, the Quartette chose to wear in concert the costumes of 1855, the time Brahms was especially active in his writing of compositions for women.

On Fifth Tour The states already visited by the ensemble on this tour are Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, California and Texas. It is the first time any of them have been further west than Colorado Springs.

"We wish we could see Lubbock in the daylight," said Miss Cox as she put the final touches on her beautiful costume, "and we are certainly going to try to stay longer if we come here next year."

Although there have been changes in the personnel of the Quartette since its foundation, but the ensemble's library of music is the one which was begun with the preparation of the first program. For fourteen years the quartette has been collecting, arranging, and adding the works of the old masters.

When asked what numbers they are going to sing until a few minutes before the concert.

Compositions Brought Many unusual German, Italian, and Latin compositions have been brought from abroad for the Quartette. Folk music of Italy, France, England, Scotland, and America has been arranged especially for the Quartette by contemporary composers.

New Teachers To Be At Tech For Sessions

Seven Leading Teachers Will Be Here For Two Summer Sessions; Sixty-Six Regular Faculty Members Remain

Seven visiting teachers, all of them leaders in their profession will be members of the summer faculty of Texas Technological college here for the annual 12 weeks summer session which begins June 8.

Dean James M. Gordon of the school of liberal arts, said in announcing the two six-week terms.

Sixty-six regular members of the faculty will be present during the summer session and in addition, there will be seven teachers and special lecturers.

There will be a total of 250 courses offered in the summer session. A full course of study, including tentative engineering will be offered to prospective students. A course unique in the annals of the college, will be offered in the school of home economics under the direction of Miss Margaret Weeks, dean of the school, is the nursing school which will be taught by a special teacher yet to be announced.

The faculty of the school of home economics will be composed of seven regular members and one special teacher from the Merrill-Palmer school of Detroit. Members of the staff for the summer session will include: Clothing department, Mabel D. Erwin and Mrs. Edna Boster; Food department, Johnnie McCrory and Mayme Twyford; Home economics, Dean Margaret Weeks and Vivian Johnson; Applied arts, Jean Dorrel. The special teacher from the Merrill-Palmer school will be in charge of the nursing school.

Special teachers in the school of education are: M. H. Duncan, superintendent of the Lubbock school system; W. A. McIntosh, Amarillo schools; Lee Clark, superintendent at Ft. Worth, who goes to Quanah next fall; M. S. Holland, superintendent at Breckenridge; Mae Pendergrass, Wichita Falls Junior College, who will teach penmanship and art; C. M. Rogers, supervisor of high school teachers at Amarillo; S. M. Belton, superintendent of schools at Quero.

Among the special lecturers are: James Fugh, humorist, who will be on the recreational program about June 12 and the Stanley Deacon singers. The Cuffer-Miller Players have been tentatively listed in addition to D. Gordon Jennings Laing, of the University of Chicago who will give a series of lectures.

The summer session will begin on June 8 and will continue for twelve weeks, the session being divided into two six weeks periods. The summer bulletin will be issued early in April and will contain a full outline of courses offered in the summer school, together with the names of the instructors in the various departments. The catalog may be had by addressing the registrar of the college.

Air School Open To Tech Students

Dr. W. B. George, head of physics department has, with the help of Mr. S. T. Shoff, director of Air School at Lubbock Airport, recently completed a course in aeronautical ground school study at the school which will be attended by many Tech students. Mr. S. T. Shoff, who is a transport pilot under government license, announces that the courses offered in flying and ground school work at the Lubbock airport, have every modern facility for learning this fast growing means of rapid transportation. He also states that the minimum of prices will be charged for instruction in flying.

The school has courses for private, commercial, and transport pilot licenses with strict adherence to the rules set down by the Federal Government. Every student interested in flying or mechanics of an airplane will find the necessary equipment at this airport.

Many Thrillers Booked On Fun Night Program

One dozen thrillers have been booked by athletic department for the third College Fun Night for men the evening of March 31, in the gymnasium.

Featured on the program will be Simmons and Langford for the 200 pound intra-mural boxing championship. Both men are in tip-top shape and ready to knock his opponent out of the ring. Scarface Al Simmons will be remembered as the man who stopped Iron Man Frizel before he could lift a glove at the last Fun Night.

Dr. Patton's class will give a fencing exhibition. This is the first appearance of the class at a public show and it promises to be good.

Garner meets Cunningham in the 175 pound intra-mural boxing championship. Both men are known for their ability to swing a mean glove.

Dr. Harbough will put his tumbling class through their paces. This is the first appearance of the class in several sessions.

Hodges and Tadlock will take free throws in a contest for the charity shot championship. Advance dope indicates that What-A-Man Hodges will outscore the Amarillo entry.

Cosch Goughly will award to the highest free goal thrower of the session just ended a gold award. Name of the player was withheld until Tuesday night.

The Army will put on a big ball-throwing act under the direction of Professor Condray. Other events combined promise to make this the biggest night of the season.

Freshmen Meeting Is Called Tonight

Suppressing all former announcements that the freshman class was to meet last night, the president has now definitely heralded a statement that the gathering will be held tonight in the Chemistry auditorium at 7:30.

The class will elect a secretary-treasurer and discuss plans for the coming freshman dance. Fish Seymour class president, will make announcements concerning the "dinner" in their attending the sophomore hedge-podge to be given tomorrow night.

Only a small percent of the freshman have been present at previous meetings, states the president, which shows a decided lack of spirit among the class. Plans for the class during the rest of the term, he continued, can not be made successful without support from the entire group.

Play Contest Begins Friday

Miss Beville Will Act As Judge Of The Contest; The Winners Will Compete At Abilene Soon

The annual high school one act play contest will begin here next Friday at 7:30 in the Chemistry auditorium. According to Miss Anna Jo Beville, manager of the contest, there will be a small admission price of 25 or 30 cents which price will cover the admission for all eleven of the plays that will be given Friday night.

Miss Beville, who will judge the plays will select the 3 best plays on Friday night, and on Saturday night, these three will be given again and the best one will next go to Abilene to compete in the regional contest. From Abilene the best play will be sent to Austin to participate in the finals for state honors.

Below is a list of the schools that are entering the contest and the plays they will give.

Post, The Rights of the Soul; Whitlarr, In a Blue Moon; Lubbock, The Fleest; Shallowater, The Wo-Cum-Boy; Levelland, Fishing; Lorenzo, Dust of the Road; Meadow, Squaring it with the Boss; Matador, Firtwood, and Lamesa have not yet submitted the names of their plays.

The intercollegiate debate between Tech and West Texas State Teachers college will be the feature of the last session of the day. Carrying out the topic for discussion, "International Trade Barriers," the question for the debate is Resolved: "That the Nations Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade."

Other speakers on the last day's program are, Professor H. C. Pender, A. Melendez, Miss Ruth Horn, Miss Maude Wolforth, Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, and Professor B. F. Condray.

At each of the sessions, except the first and last, motion pictures of the countries being discussed will be shown. Students are especially invited to attend these sessions as their chief purpose is to enlighten students on the problems of the world.

Officers of this conference are Dr. Paul W. Horn, Dr. W. A. Jackson, Professor M. E. Ogden, Solon Clements, Jr., and Alvin Ellis.

One Of Six This conference is one of the six to be held this spring in the United States. Others are at Princeton, Southern Methodist University, Carleton College, Illinois College, and Butler University.

Silver Tea Is To Be Given In Honor Of Miss Gandine

The International Relations Group of the American Association of University Women is presenting Miss Dorothy Gandine, exchange teacher from England, at a silver tea at the Hotel Lubbock Saturday evening.

"Impressions of American Life," will be the subject of Miss Gandine's address on a program centering about the international theme.

Most of the women faculty members of the college are members of the organization and Mrs. William Dingus, head of the Latin department, is president.

Miles of smiles in the next Toreador.

International Relations To Hold Meeting

First Meeting To Be Held On Next Sunday Afternoon in College Gymnasium. Dr. Horn To Speak

TECH'S FIRST COACHING SCHOOL

Taking steps that will no doubt lead to much publicity for Texas Tech, our coaching staff has obtained Jimmy Phelan and Wallace Wade, well known coaches, to conduct Tech's first coaching school to be held here next August. Pete Cawthon, head man in Athletics, has not only rendered Tech a valuable service but also as an advertisement for Lubbock, the school will attract coaches from Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, who in turn will form their opinions of our college and the city.

Therefore, unlimited support from both college officials and city officials, to make this affair both successful and an annual occurrence, will find the assistance given to be worthwhile, and profitable.

Letters have been received from many of the prominent coaches throughout Texas and neighboring states asking that a place be reserved for them at the school. A letter, also, was received from Knute Rockne wishing luck and good fortune to Cawthon in his sponsoring the school. With encouragement and ample support the school can be no other than successful and we commend the coaching staff of Texas Technological college for the interest that they are taking in the future welfare of our college. It will not only mean much to the athletic department but will be a valuable aid to the rest of the college.

GRADUATE ORGANIZATIONS

The Toreador accepts the organizations of our Alumni as beneficial to the growth of Texas Tech. The building of a strong Alumni will, in time, be advantageous for undergraduates who later on must follow the graduates in business life. Older schools in the state have through many years sent out their graduates into neighboring and remote places to advertise "Ye Ole Alma Mater." We now have more than four hundred Alumni. They are located in various parts of Texas and elsewhere; each speaking a good word in behalf of Tech.

The important factor in any Alumni body is the close contact that they keep with school affairs. Not that each individual can offer suggestions, because opinions differ greatly, but chances are that to some extent valuable assistance lies within the experiences of graduates, now taking the role as business and professional men. The information gained from these grads will be worthwhile and their cooperation with the school is highly desirable.

SUPPORT YOUR PAPER

Tech's annual April Fool Toreador comes out next week. Copies will be sold for five cents each. The regular editions of the Toreador are allowed you on your activity ticket, but the April fool edition is handled as a special edition. Students, we have not asked you to pay for your regular paper in the past, nor do we intend to do so in the future. Nevertheless, we must have your support for this issue. We guarantee that the April Fool Toreador will be worth many times the price paid for it. So bring your nickles on April 1!

Here And There
With The Office Boy

Well folks back again on the last lap with a few dropping out and others filling their places. Here goes nothing!

There are a few things we would like to see this term.—Tedo Hazelwood as Toreador newsboy—Jay Timmons go in for heavyweight boxing—Country Coker shave at least once a week—Jean Shelley Jennings do a little reporting for the paper—Rip Vinzast not trifling any—Elect another queen—elect a student prince—school officials furnish Austins to make classes in—Mr. Pender furnish pillows in his classes—Mr. Corry settle the world's depression—Percy Powers get gift from the seniors—or anything he can—Red Huff find the missing link—cuff link—Ed Young writing refined love poetry—Vincent Foster modeling for Hogan and Patton—and last but not least Mose Clark win the mumble peg championship.

Our affairs that will be helpful toward building Tech and also aiding nearby high schools are being conducted here this term. The high school judging contest which was held during the earlier part of the week was advertisement for the college. Coach "Dutch" Smith is sponsoring a Texas Tech high school relay to be held here in April. These contests have brought and will bring great numbers of high school students in contact with college life. Why shouldn't Tech be host to occasions of this nature? We are the largest college in West Texas. And what a vast piece of ground West Texas covers.

During the last twenty years the Western part of Texas has seen the largest percent in population growth. Therefore, with a decided decrease in expenses for secondary schools to complete in various counties, Texas Tech now offers the same as can be found in the eastern Texas schools within shorter radius for the many neighboring towns and communities. Accommodations rendered to participants of these affairs sponsored by the college are always welcome by the officials. At the next one be ready to give your services.

Rambling in and out of the buildings Monday I noticed many strange faces in the registration lines. But there were a good number that failed to make their appearance—the old students are the ones that I am referring to. Rogue Williams is one among the missing. He could not see it necessary that he serve another term during this school year.

Several have been appointed by the class president to receive the money for the senior gift. In the last edition of the Toreador there was an editorial urging seniors to pay this in as soon as possible and it is still the aim of the class officials to get all the money in and leave the gift before final exams are over this term. In order to do this all seniors must respond quickly.

School editions of the Toreador will start with the Aggie edition April 9. As in years before the different schools on the campus are permitted to put out one edition of the Toreador; appointing their own editor and his assistants. The Home Ec edition will be April 18, the Liberal Arts on the 23, and the Engineer's May 4. Work should begin at once on the special editions to

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Boggs Seeks Police Aid As Edition Time Nears

Editor Of April Fool Toreador Says Bomb-Shell Of Scandal Coming

Brides never blushed as much as Tech co-eds will blush when Don Boggs' home-made edition of the Toreador is put on street sale April first.

Boggs, already noted for his ability to unload scandal, guarantees that at least ten law-suits, six murders, and a divorce or two will result from the April Fool edition of the local sheet. In preparation for coming events the editorial staff have employed three Lubbock law firms and made arrangements with Gov. Sterling for calling out the Rangers.

Featured in the paper will appear the picture of the April Fool queen. This co-ed, already selected by men of greater renown than McClelland Barclay, who is helping Flop Marshall find something pretty on the campus, will be honored with a two column picture and a review of her sensational rise to fame. The beauty queen has already signed contracts with Boggs and his staff for a royalty split from the picture she will make in Hollywood as the result of her popularity.

Jay Timmons, business manager, of the sheet, announces that copies will sell for five cents, one nickel, and can be purchased from all reputable news dealers. Originally it was planned to sell the paper at one dollar a head but Timmons, always thoughtful of the student's welfare recalled that a financial depression is now overlapping the country and so held out for a lower price.

Included in next week's explosion insure a perfect representation of the school.

We are all sorry to hear that Flop Marshall will not be with this term. Flop has gone to his home in Hillsboro, Texas, where he is to recuperate from his recent illness. As everyone knows Flop is editor of La Ventana and the party unfinished work is to be carried on by his able assistants.

Deans To Meet At Texas University

AUSTIN, Texas.—Representatives from the dean's offices of every institution of the first rank in Texas, with the exception of Rice Institute, will attend the fifth annual meeting of the Texas Association of Deans, to be held in Austin, March 23, with The University of Texas as host, according to the replies that have come to V. I. Moore, dean of student life, in response to invitations sent to these institutions. Dean Moore is president of the Association.

Speakers for the conference will be Dean J. Thomas Davis of John Tarleton Agricultural College of Stephenville, Dean W. S. Allen of Baylor University of Waco, President J. W. Hunt of McMurry College of Abilene, Dean L. E. King of Sam Houston State Teachers' College of Huntsville, and Dean H. U. Miles of Edinburg Junior College of Edinburg.

should be known. "Down with hypocrisy" has been the guiding star in developing news for the edition.

Sixteen Cage Teams Enter Tournament

Frosh And Soph Teams Clash In Liberal Arts League As Big Campus Program Begins In Tech Gym

The largest intramural athletic program ever attempted by Texas Tech got under way at 7 o'clock last night with the Fish and Soph teams of the Liberal Arts league opening the first round games in the Tech gymnasium.

The Junior and Senior teams of the Liberal Arts league played at 8 o'clock. Only two games per day are scheduled this week, though it is likely that three per day will be played next week due to congested traffic in the gymnasium, which also serves as dance hall and general assembly hall for Tech students.

W. L. "Crip" Goughly, varsity basketball coach, will supervise the intramural cage workings though sixteen coaches and as many managers will work under him.

During the next four days each of the leagues, Liberal Arts, Engineering, Aggies and Independents, will play within themselves. Freshmen and Sophomores in one game and Juniors and Seniors in the second, until each team in every league has played every other team once.

Ernest Dowell coaches the Fish of the L. A. League who meet the Sophs, coached by A. F. Darr, this evening. Dowell announces his starting lineup as follows: Holmes and Bryant, forwards; Key, center; Thomas and L. Bryant, guards. Darr's Sophs will appear in the following order: Robinson and Clauch, forwards; Bowman, center; Wise and Wardell, guards.

SHOW YOUR SPIRIT

Loyal Matadors will clip the Texas Tech High school relay meet entry blank and mail it to their high school coaches along with a personal letter inviting him to bring the boys up here April 11 to compete for the handsome trophies that are to be awarded. It is important that all students make it a personal errand to see that their high school knows about the relay meet. Sit down right now and fulfill this obligation to your college.

El Toro

By JAY TIMMONS

Have you noticed in the many sports columns the country over that the youths are showing up better in most instances than the older boys of the baseball world? We can all remember when a fellow wasn't given a chance to show his baseball aptitudes until he had reached the ripe old age of twenty-five. Now youngsters of nineteen and on up are doing their stuff in the professional field of baseball.

That's great, but on the other hand think of the young pitchers who have gone the pro route while still in their developmental stage of life and have tossed their arms away. Perhaps these fellows would have been even greater had they only waited for a little more maturity. Just the same it is a great spirit shown by these fellows of college age and it is proving to the world that the old belief of "sonny wait until you are as old as I am" is merely a fallacy.

It won't be long now until Captain Jack Durham, will call his trusty running mates to the spring training field for some snappy workouts to loosen up those tightened muscles of the fighting Matadors.

Several rumors have been going around that certain fellows of this dandy crew are contemplating the quitting route, but El Toro will wait until the first day of spring training before he says anything that might involve some of our Matadors. It is really peculiar about these rumors. A football player says something that calls us on his mind at the moment without thinking how it might sound to some of the world's best news carriers, goosies, and the first thing the player knows it is an accepted fact by everyone except him. Moral: Never believe a football player when he says he's tired of the game and thinks that he will quit.

Football players are like an old girl; they always come back. I might add, when least expected.

Why is it that football players continue the game through their entire college life? That's hard to answer, but I might say that it is the same something that calls us all back to school. We leave in the summer with no intentions of coming back, but then when the month of September gets around and our friends leave and we begin to think of our pals back in school we get what the song writers call yearning and soon the trunk begins to swell with clothes and we're off to school again. The same applies to a football player. He gets through with a few scratches and broken bones to say nothing of other bruises and swears he has played his last, but as the weather turns cooler and the pigskins go to flying, and the newspapers get the wind of the game, then the athletic spirit begins to surge in the blood of every true athlete and here he comes back for more bruises.

Well, two readers, that's all I have to say.

Two great things in life: Courting and the April fool Toreador.

Matadors To Start Spring Grid Training

All Men Interested Are To Meet In T Room Friday At 5:10; Track Workouts To Be Held First Week

Spring football training at Texas Tech will start next week and last through approximately seven weeks, with more than fifty men donning the moleskins. The initial meeting for men interested in spring practice will be at the T room Friday afternoon at 5:10, head coach Pete Cawthon has announced. Del Morgan, line coach, and Dutchy Smith, freshman mentor will assist Cawthon.

Track workouts to get the men in shape will occupy the first week of practice. Then the men will settle down to learning fundamentals, team work and individual assignments.

Cawthon will return this week-end from South Bend, Indiana where he is talking football with Knute Rockne, Notre Dame's head coach.

Talking of the coming practice, Morgan said, "spring training is the time to learn football, a time when men do not have to play games and when they are free from any kind of pressure. It is the time for the coach to learn about his men, for he has time to watch individual attitude, development and, above all to pick out any man who might have a tendency to be a quitter or an alibi-maker. We will be able to see just what we have for next fall.

Only a few varsity letter-men will fall to return for practice. Six others played their last games under the Matador colors last fall and will receive degrees this spring. Most of the freshmen numeral-men will report next week. Some likely material is due to come from the intramural players.

Song of the Busters—"Pack up all my books and clothes, here I go, walking slow, by, by, Tech. No one here can love and understand me, Oh, what "F's" they all hand me. Light pipe, I'll arrive home late tonight, by, by, Tech.

We are just beginning to realize why Mr. Langston became so embarrassed on a certain misty night, when his fair companion remarked that there seemed to be a little dew on the car. Mr. Langston confessed that there were a few more payments in a somewhat embarrassed tone.

Dallas states that he never spends coin of the realm for movies any more. He merely burns a little gas and provides his own show.

Saturday Cy Leland made his Pacific Coast debut under the colors of the San Francisco olympic club against the University of California in a dual meet held at Berkeley. Next Saturday he will be pitted against Frank Wykoff, University of Southern California speed merchant and holder of the world's record for the 100 yard dash.

Baseball practice has opened at Texas Christian University with 50 men reporting to Coaches Meyer and Wolf for the varsity and freshman squads.

The Utah Utes won the Rocky Mountain football conference championship last fall. Now they have been crowned winner of the basketball title. Wyoming lost two out of a three-game stand to them.

The Texas Aggie swimming team, unbeaten since its organization seven years ago, opens the current season April 4 when they meet the Houston Y. M. C. A. aggregation in a dual meet at Houston.

East Texas racketeers have started workouts for this season. With a strong net squad they expect to make a showing in the Texas Conference race this year.

Six plaques, six statues, 683 medals, and nine watches, representing a value of fifteen hundred dollars will be awarded in the Texas relays. Individual entries now are above the 300 mark and indications are that about one thousand will participate in the games at Austin March 27.

Social Clubs Of The Campus Are Represented At Church

Social clubs of the campus were represented in their club groups last Sunday night at the First Methodist church. Special invitation was extended each club by Rev. J. O. Haymes and Robert Martin, student leader.

The Rev. Mr. Haymes delivered a special sermon for college students, "Running With The Gang." Remembrances were presented to Les Cigales, Centuars, and Silver Key clubs for having the largest percentage of their membership present.

Don Boggs is an "A" student but that doesn't mean he can't show up a few of the pros. Watch for the next Toreador.

Sinclair Lewis isn't on the April fool editorial staff but there are some of the staff members who'll challenge his position in the literary world.

The social committee through Miss Lillah Gaye Rodgers announces a "March Wind" sociable for young people's open house at First Methodist church, 5:45 Sunday evening.

The annual Passion Week revival services begin Sunday continuing through the week. The church orchestra and the Y. P. Choral Club will lead in the music at the First M. E. Church.

Miss Elizabeth Armstrong spent the time between terms visiting in Hale Center.

THE OLD CHISHOLM TRAIL

NOTE: The following ballad, "The Old Chisholm Trail" is the theme of the 1931 Tech annual, La Ventana.

Come along, boys, and listen to my tale. I'll tell you of my troubles on the old Chisholm trail.

Come to yi youpy, youpy ya, youpy ya. Come to yi youpy, youpy ya.

I started up the trail October twenty-third. I started up the trail with the 2-U herd.

Oh, a ten dollar boss and a forty dollar saddle— And I'm goin' to punching Texas cattle.

I woke up one morning on the old Chisholm trail. Rope in my hand a cow by the tail.

I'm up in the morning before daylight. And afore I sleep, the moon shines bright.

Old Ben Bolt was a blamed good boss. But he'd go to see the girls on a sore-backed hoss.

Old Ben Bolt was a fine old man. And you know there was whisky wherever he'd land.

My hoss throwed me off at the creek called Mud. My boss throwed me off round the 2-U herd.

Last time I saw him he was going around the level. A-kicking up his heels and a-running like the devil.

It's cloudy in the West, alooking like rain. And my damned old slicker is in the wagon again.

Crippled my hoss, I don't know how. Ropin' at the horn of a 2-U cow.

We hit Caldwell and we hit her on the fly. We bedded down the cattle on the hill close by.

No chaps, no slicker, and it's pouring down rain. And I swear by god, I'll never night herd again.

Feet in the stirrups and seat in the saddle. I hung and rattled with them long-horned cattle.

Last night I was on guard and the leader broke the ranks. I hit my horse down the shoulders and I scoured him in the flanks.

The wind commenced to blow, and the rain began to fall. Hit looked by grab, like we was goin' to lose 'em all.

I jumped in the saddle and grabbed both the horn. Best blamed cowpuncher never was born.

I popped my foot in the stirrup and gave a yell. The tall cattle broke, and the leader went to hell.

I don't give a dam if they never do stop. I'll ride as long as an eight-day clock.

Foot in the stirrup and hand on the horn. Best damned cowboy ever was born.

I herded and I hollered and I done every well. Till the boss said, "Boys, just let 'em go to hell."

Stray in the herd and the boss said kill it. So I shot him in the rump with handle of the skillet.

We rounded 'em up and put 'em in the cars. And that was the last of the old Two Bars.

Oh it's bacon and beans 'most every day. I'd as soon be a-eatin' prairie hay.

I'm on my best horse, and I'm goin' at a run. I'm the quickest shootin' cowboy that ever pulled a gun.

I went to a wagon to get my roll. To come back to Texas, dad-burn my soul.

I went to my boss to draw up my roll. He figgered it out I was nine dollars in the hole.

I'll sell my outfit as soon as I can. I won't punch cattle for no damned man.

Goin' back to town to draw my money. Goin' back home to see my honey.

With my knees in the saddle and my seat in the sky. I'll quit punching cattle in the sweet by and by.

Learning Early Tots To Attend College

Bring your baby to college! During the two summer sessions a course in nursing will be offered by the home economics department. This innovation means that tiny two year old tots will be exposed to the benefits of higher education. Of course—the catch in the story is this—parents must accompany their children to class and study with them.

GETTING OUR NAMES IN THE PAPER

Puff-puff-puff! Registration is over now for another three months. And what a job it turned out to be! Maybe we will live to make another bunch of C's and D's, though.

Talk about hard luck—this school had its share when Flop got sick and had to go home. We surely will miss him, and our annual will need him terribly.

Have you all been to see the new Wrangle House? Those boys really have things fixed up right now. Go calling on them sometime and look things over.

Yancy Price for some reason didn't want to make his 8:00 o'clock class Monday morning, but somebody made him. By the way, have you ever noticed what beautiful hair Yancy has?

After four years of loafing, Red Reeves, a famous ex-student, has at last gone to work. He's now shooting sparrows at one of the local gins.

It must be nice to rate like some people. Here's C. C. Daniels that got a surprise farewell dance given for him by a group of his friends at the Up-Town Dance Palace. Esch here we will leave school and see what we get—probably a bunch of posies with "You leaving—thank heavens!"

It seem that Marie Rutherford has been coming in for some notice. Some young married men were seen to leave the registration line to go talk to her.

Russel Rylander and Andy Freeman took a vacation this last weekend and went to Cameron. We haven't located that on the map yet, but from what the boys say it's a great city!

Easy Nettles says the only thing wrong about getting married just before registration is that he has to pay two fees—well, he added a "fee-mail" to his family, so why shouldn't he?

Bob Crenshaw went to Sweetwater to see his mamma. Seems like Bob is specializing in taking pictures and going home.

Well, Red Waller has finished with us this term. He spent several years in our midst, starting intermittently as a football player. Too bad we have to finish college isn't it?

Square Collins contemplated going home to stay—and he went, but he came back. We don't know how long he is going to stay, but if assistance has anything to do with it—he's going to stay.

We hope some Freshmen know what we think of them staying "horsy" over messy dates. They were broken on somebody else's account. There—take that and that!

Theresa Robinson wanted to make sure that no cows got in the background of a recent picture she had taken, so to make sure she climbed on the roof of the Ad building. Now nobody will have trouble in recognizing Theresa.

We are a little dubious about our column this week, because from what we have heard, we are going to get carried out in the April Fool Edition next week.

PLAN BANQUET Plans are being made for a Baptist students banquet to be given at the Hilton hotel, May 1. Further announcements will be made at a later date. This will be the fourth annual affair for this organization.

April fool—an you'll be fooled if you don't buy a Toreador next week.

Architecture 331, The History Of Renaissance And Modern Architecture.

On next Monday night, March 23, at 7:30, in Room 252, Tech Engineering Building, the extension class in the history of architecture will begin work under the direction of Dr. F. A. Kleinschmidt, Head of the Department of Architecture. The course will include the Renaissance styles of architecture in Italy, France, England, Spain, and Germany, and the modern styles of architecture, illustrated with many slides of temples, cathedrals, palaces and modern buildings, and is open to all students of the college. This course is an independent third, and may be taken for credit for certificate or degree purposes; or may be taken as a non-credit cultural course only. Students may enroll in advance at the office of the Extension Department, Room 306, Administration building, or at the class meeting. Fee $11.50.

Geology 143, General Geology On next Tuesday night, March 24, at 6:30, the class in Geology will begin work on the last third of GENERAL GEOLOGY, under the direction of Dr. Raymond Sidewell. Students who have had Geology 141 and 142, or the equivalent, or who desire to review the third term of freshman geology may enroll for this work. The class will meet at 6:30 in Room D, Chemistry building. The fee for the course, including the laboratory is $14.58. Students may enroll in advance at the office of the Extension department, Room 306, Administration building, or at the class meeting.

Chemistry 14, Elementary General Chemistry On Monday night, March 30, at 6:30, in Room F, Chemistry building, the class in Elementary General Chemistry will begin work on the last third of this course, under the direction of Mr. Charles M. Galbraith, of the Chemistry department. The fee for the course is $14.58. Students who have had Chemistry 141, or 142, or the equivalent, or wish to review the third term of freshman Chemistry may take this course. They may enroll in advance at the office of the Extension Department, Room 306, Administration building.

JOAN CRAWFORD IN GRIPPING ROLE

Joan Crawford presents two extremes in her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talkie, "Dance Fools, Dance," which opens at the Lindsey theatre Sunday.

In this graphic cross-section of Chicago's underworld, the glamorous star reaches both its heights and depths of the social plane, enacting the most dramatic and gripping role of her career. It is in every sense a fresh triumph for Miss Crawford and reveals her capabilities as a dramatic star more deeply than any other role she has essayed.

Harry Beaumont Directed

Harry Beaumont directed the new Crawford talkie from the story by Aurania Roverol that belies its title by being perhaps the most fascinating story of all the gangster plots yet to reach the public.

Lester Vail, a newcomer, plays opposite Joan with charm and a splendid acquittal of his role. William Bakewell is cast as Joan's brother for whom she makes a tragic sacrifice, and Clark Gable is the sinister gang chieftain. Cliff Edwards lays aside his ukulele to negotiate a difficult straight dramatic part. Others in the cast who offer splendid performances are William Holden, Earl Foxe, Farnell B. Pratt, Hild Hamilton, Natalie Moorhead, Joan Marsh and Russell Hopton.

The thoopee scenes that open the picture dazzle the audience and wind up with a daring midnight swimming orgy reminiscent of Joan's earlier dancing-daughter films.

Some Spirit! Facts About The College

Here's school spirit for you. Harvard refuses allowing the name "Yale" on the locks of the campus buildings. The boys and girls at S. M. U. have cut Rice from their diet while over at Auburn the question of "Steers" has been discussed. In all probability the "Owl" will never schedule the "Night-hawks." The whole collegiate world is upset about how far "loyalty" should be carried out.

Even the boys down in Austin have given their "Razors-back." All of this nonsense means little to the Matadors. They will still toss the bull with the best of the "Cow-boys," can get wilder than the wildest of the "Wildcats," and find it an easy job picking feathers from an "Indian's" scalp. The co-ed, too, can dig gold as good as the "Miner," and have not refused giving out the "Bear" facts.

Prizes Offered By Dry Goods Store

Minter Gamel Company, The Friendly Store, is continuing the offer of fifteen dollars worth of merchandise, to the lucky student whose name is drawn, until April 4th.

In order to have a try at this free offer just drop in the Minter Gamel store and register your name with no obligations whatsoever. On April 4th there will be held a drawing of five names, the first of which will receive five dollars worth of merchandise, the second names above and below will be given two dollars worth. It is not necessary to be in the store when the drawing is held. The winners will be notified.

This is an exceptionally generous offer and is open only to Tech students. Registration takes place daily and one may register his name as many times as he desires between now and April 4th.

Register now, you may be lucky.

Handbook Editors Name Assistants

Houston Hinson and Louise Lawson, editors of the new freshman handbook which is to be published by the 'Y' organizations, have announced assistants which will aid in work on the book.

Wiley Loughmiller of Fort Worth, and Bill Lore, Lubbock, will assist Hinson. Mary Leidigh and Margaret Lindsey, both of Lubbock, will aid Miss Lawson.

The book will contain material of interest to students entering Tech, rules of the college, the school song and information about traditions of the school. The book will be pocket size.

The editors state that they will welcome any suggestions and they urge all clubs to turn in information of some kind concerning their organization, which they wish to be placed in the book.

SPANISH CLUB TO MEET

Tech Spanish club will meet Thursday, April 9, according to an announcement from the Spanish department. No statement has been made as to the nature of the program at present but will be announced later.

COOPER LEADS IN BIGGEST OUTDOOR LOVE DRAMA YET

"Fighting Caravans," the thrilling and spectacular drama of the battling pioneers who beat new trails across the continent, is the tremendous attraction which the Lindsey theatre will show, starting Thursday. Gary Cooper and Lily Damita head an exceptionally large and forceful cast of well-known screen favorites in this epic picture of the forefathers of the American West.

"Fighting Caravans" has been filmed on the same gigantic scale which made "The Covered Wagon" a never-to-be-forgotten screen presentation. The lives, the equipment, the characters, even the dangers and privations of those forward-pushing days have been reconstructed, and brought to life on the screen, in a breath-taking production that will make moving picture history.

Into the intense atmosphere of the frontier-busting caravan is introduced a tender romance, between Gary Cooper, the swaggering, devil-may-care junior scout of the expedition, and Lily Damita, French girl immigrant whose father dies during the grueling march, leaving her alone, with a giant wagon and a valuable cargo, to carry on to the Land of Gold. Cooper, tempted to take advantage of the girl's helpless position, is quickly brought to his senses by her indomitable will. Their romance blossoms in danger and bursts into full bloom as the strug-

Y.M.C.A. Election Returns Given Out

Election returns on the Y. M. C. A. cabinet election which was held recently have been announced by Jack Boyd, Tech secretary, as follows: President, Don Welleman, Lubbock; Vice president, Wiley Millard, Fort Worth; Secretary, Wiley Loughmiller, Canton; Treasurer, Houston Hinson, Lubbock. All of the new officers are freshmen in the school of liberal arts with the exception of Don Welleman, who is a junior in the engineering school.

First meeting of the new cabinet members was held last Friday night. At this time plans for the following year were discussed by the group.

gling caravan struggles into Eldorado.

"Fighting Caravans" is Zane Grey's best-seller novel brought to the screen, made to live against the gorgeous natural backgrounds of the California High Sierras. In the cast are Ernest Torrence and Tully Marshall those two old scouts of "The Covered Wagon."
