Voting For Eight Annual Beauties Will Be Ended Today; New Method Used

Twenty-Six Pictures Are On Exhibit In Bookstore

Voting for the selection of eight beauties for La Ventana will be concluded today, according to Robert Huff, editor of the year book. Twenty-six pictures have been on display at the Tech bookstore for the past three days. Each voter is required to select eight beauties and number them in the order of their selection. Any one voting for less than eight beauties will lose his entire vote. The method used this year for the beauty selection is new to Texas Tech. Here-to-fore, some celebrity chosen by the annual staff has picked the members for Las Bonitas. SHPDLU ETDLN class on the part of the students, this year's staff decided to have the election carried on at the campus. It seems to have met with more approval. Out of six prominent students interviewed, only one seemed to be against this method of election.

Think It Fair
Basel Hill, president of the "T" association, says, "I think this makes it fair for everyone."

Jack Durham, president of the senior class and captain of 1930 and 1931 football team, said, "By this method, all beauties can be given a fair and impartial trial."

Don Maddox, president of the Student Body, said, "It eliminates the idea that the election might be crooked, and popularity is not involved."

Miss Vonelle Gikerson, of the Las Chaparrillas club, said, "I think it is a very good way to hold the election."

Miss Virginia Murray, president of Las Chaparrillas, said, "I don't see any improvement."

Vernon Jones, vice-president of the D. K. Club, said, "I think it is the fairest means we have ever had."

The election is being sponsored by the senior class and is under the direct supervision of Jack Durham, president of the class.

Plans Made For Y Conference

Expenses To Be $26 For Ten Days; Is One Of Nine Held In U. S.; Christian Ideals To Be Stressed

Plans for the 1932 Hollister conference, to be held at Hollister, Missouri, June 3-13, have been made and submitted by the planning committee, which met in Dallas, November 15 and 16. The conference is one of nine held in the United States each summer by the Young Men's Christian association and the Young Women's Christian association; the Hollister conference is the one for the district consisting of Arkansas, Missouri, Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

The theme for the coming meet will be "Toward a social order based on the religion of Jesus." Expenses for the ten days will be $16 for board and room, $8 for registration, and fare there and back. This is about $10 from Lubbock, according to Jack Boyd, director of the Tech YMCA.

The purpose of the conference is to enrich and enlarge the Christian experience of Y members, and to challenge indifferent and perplexed students to a reasonable and effective Christian life. It is also held to inspire and equip prophetic personalities to work for brotherly human relationships and to train the Association leaders to plan and carry out effective programs on their campuses.

To Plan Services
The services will be planned by a committee of adults and students and led by various members of the conference. A series of morning addresses throughout the conference will be devoted to the problem of social and political institutions in our world. The evening series will deal with the problem of how, and under what conditions, Christian personality comes into being in individuals. Each topic discussed will be subject to a special study group at the same time throughout the conference. A student can choose the one he wishes to follow.

Another period, which, according to Harry Bone, has proven very popular in past years, is the informal appreciation hour. During this hour each day some person will lead students into deeper appreciation of music, poetry, and the life and ideals of other races and nations.

Plans For Young Peoples' Revival Are Made By BSU
A Young Peoples' revival for which plans were made in the E. U. council, has been announced for the week April 2 to 9. Dr. John Caylor, Baptist student secretary of Dallas, is to lead these meetings, which will be held at the First Baptist church.

Tech Regent Joins Textile Fraternity

Mr. John W. Carpenter, member of the Board of Directors of Texas Tech, was taken into Phi Psi, textile engineering fraternity yesterday afternoon. He is the first honorary member to be admitted to this chapter. Charlie Woodruff and Jack Maddox, former members of the textile engineering department were also initiated.

"Mr. Carpenter is the daddy of the textile engineering school," said Mr. M. E. Heard, professor in the department.

There is a $350 scholarship given each year by Mr. Carpenter to the textile engineering sophomore having the highest average.

A dinner was held following the initiation honoring the new members. A large Matador banquet was presented to Mr. Carpenter, which was made by members of the Phi Psi fraternity.

Several projects are under way in the department now. Some of the students are working on rayon bridge sets while others are making some animal covers to be used on Tech stock when it is taken to the Stock Show in Fort Worth this spring.

A. W. S. Starts Point System For Officials

Office Holding Is Limited; No Girl Can Get More Than 100 Points; Major Offices Are Worth 25 Points

The point system, recently inaugurated by the A. W. S., has as its purpose the limitation of duties of leaders in the girls' social clubs on the campus," according to Hazel Gruver, president of the A. W. S.

Upon investigation, it was discovered that there were only a few girls who carried the responsibility of all the clubs. "These girls have so much to do that they can not do justice to their respective offices and the majority of the members have nothing to do," stated Miss Gruver. "This is unfair to both sides."

"To avoid this overworking of a few girls," Miss Gruver continued, "The A. W. S. has assessed certain points to certain offices, 100 points being the most any girl can have."

Major Offices Listed
The major offices, including the A. W. S. president, home economics club president, Forum president and the student council president, receives 25 points. The sub-minor offices, class presidents, social club presidents, Las Leales, president, members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, and other officers of the A. W. S. council, Forum, and Student council are assessed 20 points. The minor offices—members of the A. W. S. council, officers of social clubs, members of student council, other officers of Las Leales, and upper-class sponsors of freshman and sophomore commission are assessed 15 points. The sub-minor offices—members of the A. W. S. council, officers of social clubs, members of student council, other officers of Las Leales, and upper-class sponsors of freshman and sophomore commission are assessed 10 points. The minor membership in Las Leales, home economics club, W. A. A., home economics club, inter club council, department club, members of the student publications, and other class officers are assessed 5 points. The minor membership in departmental clubs, literary societies, honorary societies, members of freshman and sophomore commission and social clubs are assessed 2 points.

These announcements have been in the hands of the respective clubs for the past three weeks. These clubs and organizations are to make a report of their recommendations and suggestions to the A. W. S. council.

This is the first step taken in promoting the system, and information concerning it will be obtained at a later date.

Hazel Gruver is president of the A. W. S. and Vonelle Gikerson, appointed by that organization from the Forum, is chairman of the committee which drew up the recommendations for the point system.

Vocational Guidance Is Discussed By Ellsworth

Annual Hodge Podge Will Be Friday Night

Plans Are Completed And The Decorations Are Finished According To President Bill Stubbs

Fish Are Guests

Members of the freshman class will be the guests of the sophomores tomorrow night at the hodge podge at the Uptown Dance palace. "Plans are complete and the decorations are finished," said Bill Stubbs, president of the sophomore class. "We believe that this year's affair will be larger and more elaborate than any ever held before."

Stubs says that only date bids will be sold at the door, and bids must be obtained at the booth west of the Tech post office some time today or tomorrow. No fish bids will be given at the door. Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores are urged to get their bids early.

The dance will be strictly informal," continued Stubbs, the girls wearing either cotton or linen dresses and the boys wearing trousers and sweaters or jackets. The fish boys must wear green ties.

Plan Extra Feature
Sam Shumate and his Rhythm Kings will furnish the music for the dance. He will have several specialty numbers worked out for the program. The main feature of the evening will be at 9:30 o'clock. This is to be a surprise to all, according to Stubbs.

"The motif of the dance is novel and absolutely new," said Stubbs. "We have tried to get a theme that has never been used before and yet be appropriate for the occasion."

This dance is an annual affair which is given by the sophomore class honoring the freshman class. All freshmen are invited to attend and bring their dates.

Gates Is Given Ph. D. Degree

Work Is Done In 1930-31; The Dramatic Works And Translation Of Sir William Lower Is Thesis Subject

W. B. Gates, associate professor of English in Tech, was notified recently by the University of Pennsylvania that he has been awarded a doctor of philosophy degree for the work done there in 1930-31.

The Dramatic Works and Translations of Sir William Lower was the subject of Professor Gates' thesis. He received his bachelor of science degree in 1918 from Millsap College at Jackson Mississippi, and his master of arts degree from Vanderbilt university at Nashville and at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1923 and 1927, respectively.

Mrs. Gates, assistant professor of Spanish, will receive her Ph. D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania this spring. She did her work for this degree at Michigan in 1926-27 and at Pennsylvania in 1928-31.

Physics Club Holds Regular Meeting; Miller Is Speaker

The Physics club will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening in the chemistry building at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Kinsey Miller, a graduate student, will give the principal speech.

All members and interested students are urged to attend.

World gold production is 20,000,000 ounces annually.

Several Witnesses On The Stand For Defense

For her fiance, found shot on Friday night of January 27, Miss Dryden, broke down several times under the strain of the occasion, and was taken from the court room at various intervals, saying "My Garland." Later in the evening, however, she lapsed into a state of complete calm and utter unconcern.

It was brought out that the young woman was of the highest type of womanhood, and the evidence showed the charge against the accused a physical impossibility. Miss Dryden, freshman pre-law student of Rising Star, is staying at College Inn, and is the beneficiary of a $20,000 insurance policy left her by Mr. Smith.

First witness on the stand was Dorothy Vandagriff, of College Inn. Frank Harrell and John Chamberlain, both members of the cast on which the defendant and the victim were working, gave testimony of the events connected with the play practice on the night of the killing. Christine Settle read from a diary supposedly that of Garland Smith, Riley Mil-

More Than 700 Attend Annual Double 'T' Show

Proceeds Of Second Annual Presentation To Be Used To Decorate Trophy Room

Proceeds of the Double "T" Minstrel, given by the "T" club in the high school auditorium Friday night, amounted to 200, according to Basil Hill, president of the organization. More than 700 attended the annual affair, the second of its kind. The profits will be used for decorating the club's trophy room in the gymnasium.

The Las Chaparrillas social club won the $10 cash prize for selling the most tickets. The money was presented to Virginia Murray during the intermission by Hill. Miss Zella Peigel and Johnny Gilkerson, directors of the show, were also recipients of gifts from the athletes.

More than 100 students and faculty members took part in the two hour program. Prof. M. E. Heard, of the textile department was the interactor. There were 10 end men. Lewis Walker, local dancing teacher, gave a tap dance, and Mary Frances Gale and Dorothy Wilson clogged. Evelyn and Estelyn Jeffreys and Virginia Robertson sang "Now's The Time To Fall In Love," "River Stay Way From My Door," and "Jonah." A male quartet sang "I Don't Do Nothin' But Rain." The grand finale, with the entire company on the stage singing the "Matador Song" ended the show.

The first Double "T" Minstrel was given last spring, and after its successful reception the athletic club decided to sponsor it annually. The third event will come next February.

Early Texas Life Is To Be Reviewed At Plains Museum Society Meet Here Tomorrow

Archeological Workshop Will Be Opened For First Time During Gathering; Monument Will Be Unveiled

Several outstanding men interested in frontier history and archeology will attend the annual meeting of the Plains Museum society here tomorrow, which will present the background for a great deal of early Texas life.

Featured among other high lights of the day, the archeological workshop in the attic of the chemistry building will be opened for the first time to the public. The collection which had been under supervision of Dr. W. C. Holden for the past three years, is made up of material sent in from various parts of the state, and reconstructions made in that department. Exhibitions there may be viewed between 5 and 6 o'clock Friday.

The placing of the monument marking the site of the "Old Singer store" will be another outstanding feature. Mr. R. C. Burns, of Lubbock, will officiate at the ceremony preceding the unveiling of the stone, to mark the location of the first early trading post for pioneers in this section.

A short history of Lubbock will be given at the scene of the dedication, about three miles northwest of town.

Chamberly To Talk
Dr. J. C. Chamberly will open the afternoon division of the day's activities at 4 o'clock in the engineering auditorium, explaining "The Value and Place of a Museum," and Professor F. A. Kleinschmidt, head of the department of architectural engineering will follow with a speech on "Local Art Possibilities." Dr. M. A. Stainbrook is to read from the diary of a freighter who came to Texas with one of the early wagon trains in 1832, and Dr. Holden will relate the history of the Singer store, preceding the trip to the scene of the monument ceremonies.

At 6:15 o'clock refreshments will be served in the tea room of the engineering building, and the evening program will begin in the chemistry building at 7:30 o'clock, with the supervisor of the convention giving the first address. R. C. Burns will describe "An Excursion in the Panhandle in 1873" and the evening will be concluded with a talk on "The Frontier Social Life on the South Plains" by Professor H. B. Carroll.

To Sponsor Exhibit
In connection with the meeting, Professor Kleinschmidt will sponsor a local art exhibit in the engineering auditorium. Charcoals,

Washington Is Remembered At Tech Assembly

Dupree Is Principal Speaker At Special Convocation; Is 200 Anniversary; Principles Of Washington Set Forth

Ideals Named

"If today we had the principles of Washington, of ideal citizenship, what a power we could be," stated the Hon. George W. Dupree in his address in the college gymnasium Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Judge Dupree was the principal speaker at the special convocation, celebrating the 200th anniversary of the nation's first president. His topic was "Principles of Washington as Applied Today." He named unselfishness, honor, and self-sacrifice as the outstanding characteristics of the great man.

"Washington," Judge Dupree said "was a man of destiny, born in 1732 to solve the problems of the American colonies. He came when their industrial life was at a low ebb."

People Sought Freedom
Before the American Revolution, the speaker continued, certain ideals were work in the eastern hemisphere. People were striving for the downfall of the "divine rights" of kings. They were seeking freedom of worship, true representation of the masses, and a recognized equality of men. To realize these ideals they came to the West.

"He measured up to the social needs of his country; he met the challenge of his day with an ambition to succeed. He was an exponent of advanced agriculture, of education, and of a high moral code. Those who then were came to meet the challenge again and led his men with honesty of purpose and integrity of self."

Judge Dupree told how Washington emerged from private life after the war to answer the calls of his countrymen. "At the constitutional convention, he plied the ideals developed across the Atlantic in that immortal document, the constitution, as a safeguard of liberty and equality."

Poses As Universal Citizen
"He rose once more as a universal citizen when the demand came for a leader to put the new document into execution. As the first president of the United States, he began to perpetuate a framework that is our heritage today."

With a concluding reference to the nation's present internal strife and possibility of war, Judge Dupree urged that Americans should revive for a reconsecrated citizenship the ideals of Washington.

"One," he said, "who is written into the annals of American history, never to be forgotten or wiped out."

First Debate Is Wednesday

Upholding the negative of the question, "Resolved, That the several states should adopt some form of compulsory unemployment insurance," a Tech team composed of Heber Elisworth and Clyde James will meet a team from the University of New Mexico here next Wednesday evening.

Wednesday's debate will be the first engagement for this year for Tech, and is of interest also because it is with a school which is in the "border" conference of which Tech recently became a member.

Several Tech debaters have been working out for the squad according to Miss Anna H. Pendleton, debate director.

The New Mexico team is composed of one senior with three years debating experience and a junior with two years experience. Place of the debate is to be announced later. There will be no admission price.

His subject was "The X-ray and Its Use in Diagnosis and Therapeutics." At the conclusion of his speech Dr. Smith invited the club to visit him at the sanitarium and see how the X-ray is used.

The club will meet at the East clinic entrance at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon and will be taken to the X-ray rooms for a demonstration and explanation of the work.

This is the second of the three main events staged by the engineers each year. A ball is given in the fall term, the banquet in the winter, and an outdoor picnic in the spring term. The traditions are all sponsored by the Engineering societies, members of the engineering faculty.

Julia Davis Is Military Queen

Miss Julia Davis, daughter of Col. Charles A. Davis, commander of the military organizations on the campus, was queen at the first military ball held Monday night in the armory on the corner of College Avenue and Tenth street.

The patriotic theme was used in the decoration of the dance floor. Red, white and blue streamers formed a simple canopy and the spectator's platform at one side represented the gallery of a Southern mansion.

Jack Castel's orchestra furnished the music. In addition to regular dancing, there were specialties during the evening.

Although the armory has been open since October, the reception and military ball were the first formal functions that have ever been held there.

Adams Speaks To Aggie Club

Discusses Phases Of Work From Engineer's Viewpoint; Stock Judges Get Medals; April 29 Set For Aggie Dance

O. V. Adams, dean of the school of engineering, was the principal speaker at a recent meeting of the Tech Aggie club.

Dean Adams spoke on "Irrigation and Drainage as Applied to the situation from the Engineer's Viewpoint." In his talk, Dean Adams said: "The agriculturist and the engineer are each debtor to the other." In discussing the history of irrigation, Dean Adams stated that man has known about irrigation as far back as there are written records and that nowadays, any irrigator may use the water so long as he returns it, undiminished and unpolluted to the stream in order to protect the riparian owner.

With progress in irrigation has come the necessity for regulation and one now has to go through legal procedure in order to transfer water from one place to another. "The use of water is regulated with a view to requirements of the land," he continued "and careless usage by the consumer is punished." Colorado was one of the first states to regulate irrigation by law.

Consider Three Things
Engineers consider three things in the irrigation problem: first, the amount of available water, second, how much land can be irrigated; third, type and quantity of crops which can be grown. Then he asks himself the question "Will it pay?" In order to decide whether or not it will pay, he calculates the cost of the irrigation works in regard to legal expenses, surveys, construction, maintenance, and operation, cost of growing the crops in which is included the

STUDENT WORKERS

Student employees of local boarding houses continue to work too many hours for their board, according to information obtained last week by Toreador investigators.

Much criticism was directed towards local boarding house proprietors last fall by students and faculty members. Following an editorial in The Toreador, some of the house operators revised working schedules, but most of them having drifted back to their old schedules.

Duck Inn employees, although still working too many hours for only their board, work about an hour less per day than they did last fall. Employees of Gregory's boarding house continue to work from six to eight hours daily. Employees of Lovell hall work at least six hours each day, while the situation at the Yellowhouse Tearoom is slightly improved.

Wise employers of the twentieth century long ago realized that better results are obtained by working employees fewer hours per day or week than formerly. Seemingly, however, local boarding house proprietors have not advanced with the modern trend of thought.

As it is, students can do little about it; those working must find other employment or withdraw from school. Because of this, a few boarding house proprietors seem to delight in taking advantage of the situation, getting considerable work each day almost free of cost.

Working students cannot afford to complain about the matter for fear of losing their jobs, but students patronizing such eating places certainly are not in sympathy with these boarding house policies.

The sweet psalmist of old once sang about the habits of an eastern potentate in sending a servant ahead of him when he was about to make a long journey, warning his subjects to see that the "hills are made low." This was done in order that his royal majesty might have an easier passage along the way for his chariot.

EVERY DAY "HOWDY DAY"

The Toreador commends the Association of Women Students for sponsoring tag day, during which time all students were supposed to speak to each other.

The Toreador suggests, now that the designated tag day is over, the practice of speaking to everyone be continued, and that every day at Texas Tech be "Howdy day."

We further suggest that the old custom of who is to speak first, the boy or girl, be forgotten and that students speak without waiting for the other to do so first.

GOOD SPIRIT SHOWN

Toreador and freshman class officials are well pleased with the large number of votes cast last week in the fish queen election. It is believed that the largest percentage of ballots by any first year class were cast on last Thursday and Friday.

It is the hope of The Toreador that members of the 1935 class will always be interested in campus affairs and do their part in bettering the campus spirit. The Toreador thanks all first year students who helped during the election.

The winner will be crowned at the annual ball, March 5. The freshman class is bestowing upon her great honor. And whoever she may be, may she always be a queen.

Fifty Schools Are Expected For Meet

Fifty high schools are expected to send representatives to the vocational agriculture contest to be held here in the spring, according to Dean A. H. Leidigh, Prof. R. C. Mowery, who will be in charge of the meet. It is sending invitations to schools in north, east, and central Texas.

The winning schools will be presented with two loving cups. The Kansas City board of trade is giving one to the team who does the best work in judging and the other to the winners in cotton classing. These cups will be conferred through the agronomy department, and are to become permanent property of the school that wins them three years in succession.

This contest is conducted on the campus every spring. Last year schools as far away as Mesquite and Dublin sent competitors.

Perhaps the next is the amazing circumstance of a federal district court presuming to have original jurisdiction over the actions of a sovereign state by granting a permanent injunction against martial law in East Texas. Important also to Texans is the fact that Speaker of the House Jack Garner's presidential boom gained considerable momentum.

William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of treasury under Woodrow Wilson (and it is usually added, unfortunately, Wilson's son-in-law) came out for Garner. McAdoo, one time prominently mentioned for the Democratic nomination himself, can do any man with presidential aspirations considerable good or harm if he wishes. A big rally was staged in San Antonio for Garner last Monday and simultaneously important support in Georgia hastened to get onto the Garner bandwagon.

THE Japs, while preparing for a major offensive, served an ultimatum on the Chinese demanding evacuation of Shanghai and withdrawal 20 kilometers from the international settlement. The Chinese called the ultimatum "intolerable" and prepared to put up a stubborn defense. Saturday the Japs threw 14,000 soldiers in criminal aggression into the campaign against the Chinese. The battle raged on a scale comparable to battles of the World War, the Chinese repulsed the invaders and Monday were reported to be advancing rapidly along the whole front from Chapel to Woosung. Later in the day the Chinese suffered the loss of their airplanes in the bombing of their hangars as the Japs launched a new attack, hand to hand fighting was heavily engaged in. Terrific losses were sustained by both sides.

EARLY last week the house voted to abolish the "lame duck" session of congress. The proposed amendment would have congress meet January 4, following November elections. The states have seven years to ratify the amendment, if the senate concurs in its passage. It is the first basic change in the constitution since 1792. Change in transportation facilities make a long lapse of time between elections and convening no longer desirable or convenient.

GOVERNOR ALFALFA BILL MURRAY of Oklahoma continued his aggressive campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination. Friday Collinsville, Texas, staged a big homecoming celebration for the pictureque governor and several thousand people stood in a cold drizzling rain to hear him speak. Monday failure of an airmail letter to reach the Georgia Democratic central committee secretary in Savannah by the noon deadline was given as the reason for barring Murray's name from the preferential primary in that state. With characteristic rough and ready tactics, Murray served notice he would enter suit to force the entering o

Many Inquiries Received Here

"A great interest is seemingly being taken in the home economics school for the summer term," stated Dean Margaret W. Weeks Tuesday. "We have received a number of inquiries concerning it. According to Miss Weeks, former students have been writing for information with the intentions of returning for the short session. She has also heard from several who will enter Tech for the first time this year."

"Sure, they Taste Better"

LIKE TO HEAR A REALLY GOOD RADIO PROGRAM? Tonight . . . tune in on the Chesterfield broadcast at 10:30 Eastern Standard Time and listen to music by Nat Shilkret's Orchestra and Alex Gray, popular baritone. It's on the Columbia Network every night, except Sunday.

"I'm sort of restless . . . always on the lookout for something that hits the old taste spot . . . and clicks! But I've noticed that I never get tired of Chesterfields. They always taste better to me. "That can't be an accident. It stands to reason . . . a cigarette that always tastes better . . . has got to be made better. You know what I mean . . . purer materials . . . more up-to-date ways of working. I'm willing to bet that's why my last Chesterfield of the day is as mild and satisfying as the first!"

Championship Eliminations Are To Begin

Boxing And Wrestling Championships To Be Decided On 1st; All Are Grouped As To Weights; Awards Probable

Les Tribble, boxing and wrestling instructor, announces that he will start eliminations in the various weights for the championships of the different schools.

The champions of the different schools will first be decided then they will compete for the championship of the college. It is probable that the champions will be given some kind of awards.

Have Been Grouped
The wrestlers and boxers have been grouped in weights of every ten pounds. The outstanding men at present, in both boxing and wrestling are: In the 100 pound class—George Langford, Brigham Young, Carlton Luper, Elva Baker, July Owens, and Woodrow Wilson.

150 pounds—Les Tribble, Murphy, Pete Crawford, Foster, and Elmer Fortner; 170 pounds—Ross Ayres, Toby Greer, McElroy, Williams, Mat Hitchcock, Madden, Tribble, and Harris; 160 pound—Demp Cannon, Malcolm Marlin, Abbott, Williams, and Anding; 150 pounds—Bertram, Banta, Beau-champ, McLane, and Pace; 140 pounds—Jim Pool, Cy LaMaire, Davis, Cook, Riggins, Bean, O'Hair, and Mast; 130 pounds—Conner, Caborn, Castles, and Havis; and 115 pounds—Seal and Holt.

Tribble urges every candidate get in as much practice as possible before the eliminations begin.

Tech Cagers End Season

Matadors Drop Last Game To Canyon Teachers; Fisher Stars; Daniel Baker Games Are Cancelled

Tech's 1932 cage attempts were officially brought to a close last Friday night at Canyon. They lost 45 to 35, but showed the record of a team which has endured the indignation of having lost more games than it has won.

The Matadors showed plenty of fight from the beginning and never once let up. As a result the "wall team of Sam Borton" was strained to uphold its perfect home record as it has never been forced to do this season.

Fisher was the outstanding light in the Tech offense. He scored ten points to place second in scoring and received an even break on the tip-off with Perryberry, who is some six inches taller.

Daniel Baker cancelled his games with Tech, which were scheduled for last Monday and Tuesday nights.

Contest For Hog Calling Is Tonight

Tech students will now have a chance to participate in something besides beauty and popularity contests, and those who have a good, strong voice will have a chance to exercise it.

The Aggie club is sponsoring a hog-calling contest tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the agricultural building. It will be a part of its regular weekly program. What the winner will receive has not been announced, but all interested are urged to come.

Other numbers on the program are a short talk by Dr. J. O. Ellworth and some songs by Curtis Williams.

Tech Presbyterian Class To Go On "Honeymoon" Voyage
India, Japan, and Persia will be the countries visited by members of the First Presbyterian Tech class who attend the "honeymoon trip" given by that Sunday school group tonight.

Group 7, of which Christova Sawyer, is chairman, is in charge of the party. Students are asked to meet at the church at 8 o'clock and the trip will start from there. Games, fortune telling, and other entertainment appropriate to each land will be provided.

Under The Double "T"

BY LYLE HOLMES
Toreador Sports Editor

Last Friday and Saturday the gym was the scene of the inter-scholastic basketball tournament. Two former Tech students, coaches now sent their teams into the finals. The teams were Ropesville and Shallowater, and their coaches were Gordon Mills, and Clyde Cummings. Both of the coaches received their B. A. from Tech last year.

The Ropesville team defeated Shallowater in the final round. They play Amarillo for the bi-district, and it is our prediction, after watching them perform, that they will go from there to the state tournament.

It is brought to our attention that the only man who defeated Les Tribble in 32 wrestling matches last summer is a champion wrestler, his name is none other than Leslie Wolfe and he hails from the same neck of the woods that Tribble does. Wolfe wrestled Fischer, the light-heavyweight champion of the world, the other night and succeeded in giving him the first fall he has lost in over six years. The Topeka Tribune states that the match was Wolfe's all the way through, but for one unlucky break. The match that Tribble lost to Wolfe was an exhibition in Galveston.

Sherman is evidently making a serious effort to get the name of producing wrestlers. On the same program with Wolfe and Fischer, another Sherman man performed, his name was Dutch Hefner and he defeated Jack Marvin of Chicago. So don't be surprised to see Tribble's name mentioned as one of the outstanding wrestlers in the country in three or four years.

The mailing list for the coaching school has now reached the 5,000 mark and it is likely that it will climb higher, according to Coach Pete Cawthon. Last year Tech had the largest coaching school ever held in the United States with an attendance of 350. This year it is most probable that it will near the 1,000 mark, nearly tripling the previous record. Just pause and think for a moment if this will mean anything to Tech. If everything goes off according to plans it will be the best advertisement Tech could possibly get.

The spring intramural basketball is to be run off much smoother than it was in the fall, and this time the winner will be given silver basketballs and members of the all-star team will get a trophy. In the fall it was practically impossible for the coaches to run it as it should have been done because they were so busy with football, now it is their intention to put it across in the right style. Coach Morgan will direct the intramural basketball.

Amarillo Junior college has written us for two golf matches, one to be played here and one there. It is possible that the first match will be played here March 5 or 12, and the second will be played in Amarillo some time later.

It is to be regretted that Slek Close, star halfback for the Matadors, has withdrawn from school. Coach Cawthon will not find it very easy to fill his vacancy. Close withdrew to return home to stay with his mother, who is in falling health.

Less Tribble announces that the eliminations will begin for the different weights in wrestling and boxing. First the championship of the different schools will be decided, then the champions of the schools will compete for the championship of the college.

Frosh Quintet Win Two Games

Gilmore, Cannon, Flake Lead In Scoring; Fish Have Won Eighteen Straight Games; Lose First Tilt

Adding their fourth and fifth victories of the last week, the Tech freshmen defeated Shallowater and Texaco All-Stars of Hale Center in a brace of tilts Saturday afternoon, 40-27 and 51-40. Flake, Gilmore, and Cannon, were the big guns for the freshmen regulars. Flake tossed in eight field goals to take high scoring honors for the afternoon. He was followed by Gilmore with ten points.

In the Shallowater game the scoring changed with Gilmore leading, with 12 points. Cannon and Flake placed second with ten points each. The freshmen have to date won eighteen consecutive games. The only game lost was their initial start, which was dropped to the Wayland Jackrabbits. They closed the season last night when they played the Texaco All-Star team of Hale Center there.

British Government Is To Be Subject

Tomorrow night's meeting of the International Relations club will deal with the subject of the British government. Professor H. C. Pender, of the government department, is to be the principal speaker of the evening, explaining "Present Day British Foreign Policies".

Miller who is to speak on "English Disarmament Policy", will also lead the discussion that will follow.

This is the last of a series of seven programs on world disarmament. Those previously reviewed are: Japan, Russia, China, France, Italy, England, and the United States.

A model disarmament conference is to be held on March 4, with the same speakers taking part as those on the previous programs, representing the respective nations as in the former discussions. The conference is designed after the world program held in Geneva, Switzerland on February 2.

A film of the "League of Nations at Work" has arrived, which will be shown at the meet on March 4.

Double Key Names Winning Qualities

The qualities of scholarship and leadership upon which the winner of the Double Key loving cup will be judged were determined at a meeting of the honorary home economics society recently in the home economics building.

The trophy is to go to the sophomore home economics student who has an average of B or above on all work done here in the college and who shows herself to have the most ability as a leader. Personal appearance, good judgment, and efficiency will rank high with the judges, club members and sponsors, as will honesty, tolerance, and good sportmanship. The winning girl will also be expected to have the proper school spirit, a democratic and friendly attitude, and evidences of having made some personal improvement since her enrollment in Tech.

The announcement of this unusual co-ed will be made late in the spring, according to Irene Jackson, Double Key president. Dr. P. W. Horn will make the presentation at commencement.

International Relations Group Meets Tomorrow
The International Relations group of the Y. W. C. A. will meet in the home of Miss Mary DeBardleben, 2017 9th street tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock.

All those who are interested in the work which this group is doing are invited to attend this meeting and the other meetings which are scheduled every other Friday.

History Of Tech A.W.S. Is Given Tech Association Organized In '29

BY LORENE CHILDERS
Toreador Staff

The Association of Women Students on the Texas Technological college campus is a branch of a larger association known as the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students in co-educational institutions.

The purpose of a W. S. as indicated by the constitution is to help promote all worthy undertakings, organizations, and movements of the student body. By virtue of being a student on the campus a woman becomes automatically a member of the organization and has a right to attend all general meetings and to have a voice in all discussions that may arise. The general work of A. W. S. is carried on through a council composed of three officers of the association, the president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, two girls selected by each of the four classes, and one representative from the Forum, the Home Economics club, Las Lesias, W. A. A., and Y. W. C. A. Other women's organizations may ask for representation.

A. W. S. has been in existence three years. In 1929, Sylvia Wilson, represented Tech at the biennial convention which was held in the University of Oklahoma. Upon her return a convocation for women was called. The report of the national meeting was made and the women students of Tech voted to organize themselves and to accept membership in the larger body. During the past three years, Lizzie Belle Clements, Lillian Gaye Rodgers, and Hazel Gruver have been the presidents.

Sponsors Many Things
While the A. W. S. has been on the campus, it has undertaken to sponsor a big little sister movement, girls' camp, student mixer, "tag day", point system, and representative to the national convention.

Through A. W. S., every woman student may have an opportunity to express her opinion and to give her assistance in moulding campus opinion. The election of the president is by ballot and nominations are posted a week before the election takes place. Any woman student may submit names to the council for consideration by the nomination committee.

Home Economics Club Plants Two Cherry Trees On Tuesday
In commemoration of George Washington's birthday, the Home Economics club planted two cherry trees Tuesday afternoon back of the home economics building.

The tree planting followed a special program in which the first president was discussed. Mrs. Isabel Garrison, representative of the local D. A. R. chapter, was the principal speaker. Ruth Carter played a piano solo.

Ruth Thompson was program chairman.

Fourteen Team Enter League

Intramural Basketball Begins March 5; Teams May Enter By Having Manager Present At Meet In Gym February 29

According to basketball coach Dell Morgan, spring intramural basketball will begin March 5.

The following teams have entered: from the liberal arts school, the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior teams will be represented; from the engineering school there will be a junior-senior team and a team from each of the freshman and sophomore classes; The Aggies will have teams like the Engineers, with the Junior and Seniors being combined and the sophomore and freshman having separate teams, the Army Band, Bookstore, and Cheri Casa will also have teams.

Coach Morgan announces that any team may enter who will send a representative to the first meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock February 29 in the gym. He also wants the presidents of the various classes to send representatives to the meetings.

Silver basketballs will be awarded to the winners at the end of the season and trophies will be awarded to the individual stars. Everyone is eligible except lettermen.

Former Student Submits Article

"Fraternity Possibilities At Texas Technological College" is the title of an article in Banta's Greek Exchange for January, written by Claire Davenport, former Tech student and member of the Wranglers club.

In the article Davenport listed the 13 social organizations on the campus which were somewhat meeting the social needs of the campus. He told of the three honorary professional fraternities on the campus.

Some space was devoted in the article to the telling of the future of the school and of its rapid growth in six years.

The proceeds will first pay for the A. W. S. annual page, and the money left from that will repay a sum borrowed from the council funds last year. Las Lesias social club, the winners of the sales contest will be presented with a cash prize.

Martha Alice Penney, Ruth Thompson, and Melba Mae Tatum were appointed to the Tag Day committee.

Browning Is Winner Of Stock Judging Contest On Saturday

Buford Browning, junior from Ft. Worth, was high point man in the livestock judging contest held in the aggie pavilion Saturday. His score was 781 points out of a possible 850. Ben Jenkins and Curtis Williams tied for second, and N. K. Snodgrass placed third. Hazel, Potts, Howell, Baughn, Juser, and Easley, all juniors, followed in close order.

There were four teams of contestants, and the competition was almost the same as that of the Fat Stock show, to be held in Fort Worth next month. Work done in Saturday's contest will count 40 per cent in the selection of the team to go to the show. Class work will comprise the other 50 per cent.

Miss Johnnie McCrery, professor of foods, spent the week-end in Dallas. She visited her sister there.

Mysterious Mike Moses Around

Mike had the Perthia next week and couldn't nose around so he missed you all. I been out in the range and when I come to the bunk-house, I seen a lot smoke coming out of the door so I run to the well and got some water and put it out and when my personal scout MOSES investigated the thing, he found that CALVIN HAZELWOOD had put a lamp in his bed to keep him warm and it caught the bed a fire. I swear some people sure are dumb.

The CENTAURS won some kind or other of a medal at Sunday school and it was for 100 percent attendance. The SAN SOUCI gals won a prize too. I been a talking and they tell me that in a case of a tie, the president don't count. I reckon they was a tie and GORDON DICKINSON don't count. If I were SMITTY I would get peev'd cause they don't count me. MILTON MOFFETT has the mostest. OPHELIA PULSE is a going to have some advice to lovers in the next issue of the paper, so the Toreador bosses told me. I suggest that BILLY HOLMES and TENA REYNOLDS go to her afore she makes herself known public. PARKER O'LEARY'S feet is not unites. MIKE was in the minstrel—he was the feller on the back row what was blacked up. He had on a red necktie, and he loves to sing. BILL STUBBS is that "Dread his name" what all the iddy hiddy girls loves.

MARY McMURRAY wants to know what "Check and double check" means. PETE CAWTHON has got some pretty white knickers. MIKE wants to know if 4 NINES beats a ACE HIGH HEART FLUSH?

A feller asked me what the SCORE WAS and I don't even know WHO IS PLAYING; how do they expect me to know? Did you know that MIKE was a star in his high-school DAZE. This is LEAP YEAR and February to boot and I ain't seen a single girl a proposing to nary a boy. ANTHONY BORHO is the latest addition to the Toreador bosses.

Well, I gotta hurry and take my medicine for perithia. I shore am glad to be back amongst you and I reckon I will kinda snoop around and get the low-down on the younger generation. Watch out BILLY COLLINS and HAROLD BUSBY.

Yours till Wichita Falls,
MICHAEL-ALIAS MIKE

Matador Song Tune Is Changed Again

Following a suggestion made by Basil Hill, president of the Double "T" association, the student council voted Tuesday night that the Matador Song be changed back to the original. The council decided that the tune was much too slow to represent the spirit of Texas Tech. This change was brought about because of the dislike which exists on the campus for the new song.

Members of the council were appointed to see Mr. Harry LeMaire, head of the band, and arrange with him to use the old tune when the school anthem is needed.

What They Tell The Editor

PLACES TO STUDY

Dear Editor, No one but our legislators question the fact that we need a new library. We need one, and we shall get it eventually; but until we do, I suggest that better use be made of the space we have.

As we students know, it is impossible to find a comfortable place to study between 8:30 and 12 o'clock daily. One may sit on the stairs, stand in the halls, or lie on the grass of the patio if the urge to study is pressing, but unless you come early, you can't get a seat in the building.

Since there is room in the third floor study hall for two or three times the number of tables that are to be found there, why can't some more boards be nailed together and made into tables and some of the several hundred extra chairs scattered about the building be brought up and put to use?—G. A.

WRITES ABOUT WAR

In view of the fact that the editor of the Toreador has solicited time and again for letters expressing student opinion and thought I feel that I am duly invited to express my personal opinion concerning a matter to which the eyes of the world are now turned—namely the delicate condition of affairs in the far East.

My stand concerning war and its attendant evils is already well known. Some would say that these things are extremely liberal, others would say that they are extremely radical but whether they are liberal or radical it appears to me that men in this highly vaunted civilization should be able to settle their differences without being forced to revert to meaty as unchristian and indefensible as cannibalism. Theoretically, it would be impossible if any other nations are drawn into it, the blame will have to be placed at the throne of economic imperialism.

At this critical juncture of world affairs it seems that a word of advice to the gullible public might be in good form. The public is easily moved to change its opinions and often these opinions bring about a wave of hatred which sometimes precipitate a national calamity. I take this liberty in quoting from an editorial which appeared in the Washington (D. C.) Daily News,

Museum Meet

(Continued from Page One) water colors, oils and pencil sketches have been entered by local artists and students, and the display will be open tomorrow and Sunday afternoon. Tech students who are to have pictures in the collection are: Gene Brock, John Foster, Everett Fairchild, Russell Bean, and Edna Houghton, graduate art assistant. The final feature of the display will be a silver tea on Sunday afternoon for the purpose of completing payment on a water-color painting, purchased by the architectural department, to begin a permanent art collection. The picture, "Eliza," by Mrs. Tonkin of Tulsa, Oklahoma, will hang in the free-hand drawing room.

Besides these exhibits, there will be an archeological display in the engineering department, and geology, chemistry, and biology collections in the chemistry building.

"Whatever further insanity the Japanese militarists may be guilty of, the United States should not go to war against them. We have no mandate to police the world. We cannot protect vast China by force of American arms. Nor can we preserve American interests by killing Japanese. Even if we were victors in a war, we would lose more than we would gain.

"Patience is required of us now, more than anything else. As the world's most powerful nation and as the world's credit control, the United States can wait. Sooner or later Japan must come to us. When she does come to us, there is bound to be an accounting under the American treaties which the Japanese militarists mistakenly think they have destroyed."

Adams Talks

Dean Adams stated further that "There are two main types of irrigation systems to be used: the gravity or natural flow of the stream, and powerdriven either from streams or wells. It is desirable to have certain storage reservoirs since the supply of the stream varies with the rainfall.

The engineer must study the topography of the land in order to determine whether or not to build a "drop system or a diversion dam" in building the laterals. There are two ways of measuring the water: the unit of flow in cubic inches per second and the unit of volume in acre feet.

Dangers Are Great The dangers of irrigation are great because of the fact that waste, careless use of water, and logging are very costly. The soil often becomes water soaked and it is necessary to build a drainage system. It is then that the farmers become discouraged and want to quit.

Special music was then played by Moody Hale who gave several banjo selections, closing with the Matador Song. Members of the stock judging team, James Dominy, Jason Gordon, Euel Limer, Bill McKinney, B. E. Snyder and Fred Nix received medals from Professor R. C. Mowery.

April 29, 1932 has been set for the annual Aggie club dance. Committee members appointed are: program, W. A. King, Joe Taylor, and Virginia Wester. R. C. Mowery, H. J. Bower, W. L. Stangel, club sponsors, were present for the program.
