

REDS SWEEP TO HUNGARY

Soviets Within 40 Miles Of Estonian Capital; German Resistance Faltering

MOSCOW, Sept. 22 (AP)—Russian armies brushed aside German resistance today in swift sweeps to within 40 miles of the Estonian capital of Tallinn and less than 15 from the Hungarian frontier at opposite ends of the long, undulating eastern front.

(Gen. Bor issued a communique from inside besieged Warsaw declaring the Russians had crossed the Vistula and established contact inside the Polish capital with his embattled Partisan force. He said Russian planes had successfully dropped more supplies. The Germans asserted that river crossings had been broken up and that "disengagement movements" in Estonia were proceeding according to plan.

(Moscow was silent on operations at Warsaw.) The key towns of Arad, on the immediate approach to Hungary, and Tapa, on the route to the Estonian capital were under attack.

In Latvia, the great seaport of Riga, was besieged. Red army troops were only six miles away. Still other Russian army groups hammered at the Carpathian mountain gates of Czechoslovakia after capturing the eastern end of Dukla pass.

At midnight, the Kremlin announced seizure of the rail town of Rakvere and 300 other settlements along the gulf of Finland and said the 30-mile isthmus between the gulf and Lake Peipus had been captured. Russians then were reported on the outskirts of Tapa on railroads fanning out to Leningrad, Tallinn and Riga.

(A Helsinki dispatch said fires set in Tallinn by the retreating Germans were visible from the north shore of the Finnish gulf, and violent explosions were heard incessantly.)

Far to the south on the eastern edge of the Hungarian plain other Russian force began a vast enveloping maneuver 138 miles from bomb-shattered Budapest designed at trapping from the rear all German and Hungarian forces pinned down in northern Transylvania.

Marshal Leonid A. Govorov's Estonian blitz was believed equalled and perhaps surpassed in strategic importance by Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's move in western Romania imperiling Hungary, last big satellite nation still in Hitler's diminishing camp.

Committee Has False Charges Says Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Declaring there probably will be a lot of such things before November 7, President Roosevelt said today that anybody who has undisclosed information about the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor had better communicate with committees now investigating it.

The subject came up at his press conference when a reporter asked Mr. Roosevelt if he intended to order court martial proceedings against military men in charge at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese struck.

Wouldn't it be just as well to hear from the committee now working on it? the president asked.

Shortly after Mr. Roosevelt's news conference, the state department made public a letter from Sir Owen Dixon, Australian minister to Washington, denying an assertion on the house floor yesterday by Rep. Church (R-Ill.) that he was the authority for the report that Australia had warned this country of an impending Japanese blow.

WLB Enjoined From Seizure Of Humble

DALLAS, Sept. 22 (AP)—The War Labor Board and the Petroleum Administration for War today stood enjoined from seizure of the Humble Oil and Refinery company's plant at Ingleside, near Corpus Christi.

In giving his decision, Federal Judge William H. Atwell yesterday said he found "all the equities" and "the public interest" to be with the company.

"The testimony drives the court to find as a fact, that unlawful and illegal sanctions were imposed, said Judge Atwell. "Such sanctions were being carried out. Threats were made to seize the plaintiff's property at Ingleside."

In arguments before the court, government attorneys contended so seizure was threatened and sought dismissal of the case. Atwell's ruling was made in a suit in which Humble sought to show that the War Labor Board, acting through the Petroleum Administration for War, was carrying out a plan to seize the plant or force obedience to a WLB order that the firm insert a maintenance of membership clause in its union contract.

Dewey Enroute To California For Fourth Talk

By JACK BELL ENROUTE TO LOS ANGELES WITH DEWEY, Sept. 22 (AP)—Pounding away on the theme that the nation needs regulation without repression, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey reprised a speech on social security problems as he traveled toward Los Angeles today for his fourth west coast campaign address tonight (10 p. m., central war time—NBC).

At San Francisco last night he gave the definite impression that he already has gone farther in this campaign toward accepting more of the New Deal innovations in government than any other GOP presidential candidate in recent years.

Previously he had endorsed the national labor relations act, unemployment insurance, old age pensions, price control during wartime and last night he told a huge audience at San Francisco's civic auditorium that the days of "dog-eat-dog" national economy "are never coming back again." This brought loud applause.

But he insisted, as he has time and again, that the New Deal has fumbled the ball, piled experiment on experiment and has reached out for unnecessary power.

That was expected to be the core of his plea for a broadened social security program in tonight's speech.

Counties Propose Cotton Ceilings

PADUCAH, Sept. 22 (AP)—A suggested ceiling price of $1.50 per hundred pounds for pulling cotton, delivered at the gin, has been voted by 21 counties, but Wicthita county delegates rejected the proposal.

At War Food Administration wage board hearing here yesterday, the group voted to retain Wicthita in the block of counties despite the delegates' motion for withdrawal.

A group of counties in the Lubbock area earlier in the week agreed upon the same ceiling which the Paducah meeting suggested.

The 22 counties were represented by 207 delegates and other farmers were being contacted for their votes. A 51 per cent vote would put the proposed ceiling up to federal authorities for approval.

Wallace Speech Is Liberal View Of Future World

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—Vice President Henry A. Wallace's first speech of the campaign today gave the nation a "liberal's" blueprint of the postwar future, predicted on the re-election of President Roosevelt as the man "who can better provide for permanent peace and full employment."

Speaking before 20,000 persons at Madison Square Garden last night, Wallace declared the campaign issue was not that of indispensability, but which of two men—Roosevelt or Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the republican presidential nominee—could.

"I. Better cooperate with Churchill, Stalin and the Generalissimo, in writing a lasting, liberal, democratic peace which will best preserve American interests without being unfair to any nation, big or small?"

"2. Best make sure that there are jobs for everybody and therefore good incomes for farmers, white collar workers, business and professional men?"

Asserting that Roosevelt has "the precious asset of long acquaintance" and "continuous, almost daily contact" with Churchill and Stalin, Wallace declared "even a reactionary will not lightly vote to throw such knowledge into the discard."

ALLIED FLANKING MOVE BLOCKED—Allied plans (shaded arrow) to flank Germany's Siegfried line (shaded area) were blocked, at least temporarily, Sept. 21 as Germans surrounded an airborne force in the vicinity of Arnhem. Second army forces drove across the Rhine to the north in an effort to open the trap. Another crossing of the German border was made at Scherpenzeel. American Carrier Planes Strike At Manila; Score Greatest Air Victory

By LEONARD MILLIMAN Associated Press War Editor Waves of American carrier planes swept over the Manila area today for the second successive day, Japanese broadcasts reported, after knocking out 205 Japanese planes and 37 ships in one of the greatest air victories of the Pacific war.

Manila and Tokyo radios said 200 U. S. planes came over in four waves this morning, striking for two and a half hours at air fields and harbor facilities around Manila Bay.

The first Manila carrier raid carried out in daylight yesterday ("Manila time") was a "superlatively successful attack which apparently caught the enemy completely by surprise," said Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

Martial law went into effect throughout the Philippines today as a result of the havoc they wrought in the first blow at the heart of the Philippines to avenge Bataan. Puppet President Jose P. Laurel said he ordered military rule "in view of the danger of invasion."

The raiders, "striking in great force," shot their way through a strong defensive screen of interceptors. They blasted 110 Japanese fighters out of the sky, Fifteen U. S. planes were lost. Another 95 Japanese aircraft were caught and destroyed on Clark and Nichols airfields where the Japanese knocked out most of the U. S. defensive air force Dec. 8, 1941 in the first attack of the Philippines.

The ships were caught at the American-built Cavite naval base. A destroyer leader, five tankers and freighters were definitely sunk. Listed as probably sunk were a destroyer, two tankers, a transport, 22 cargo ships and a floating drydock.

"Much damage was done to military objectives," Nimitz said, at Cavite and the two big air-dromes.

Tokyo radio said the Americans made 340 sorties, striking in waves in the morning and afternoon. The planes came from Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's powerful carrier force attached to Adm. William Halsey's Third fleet.

O'Daniel Partisans To Be Investigated

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Chairman Green (D-RD) announced today that the senate campaign expenditures committee had decided to investigate "the part played by Senator O'Daniel and his organization" in the present election campaign.

Green said O'Daniel twice had been requested to give the committee data on subscriptions but that no reply had been received. Green quoted from what he said was a circular letter sent out by O'Daniel in which the latter asserted more than $100,000 had been contributed to a fund to disseminate "truthful information" to the people of the nation. The senator has vigorously opposed a fourth term for President Roosevelt.

Green said the "W. Lee O'Daniel News" published by the senator would come within the investigation.

BLAZE REPORTED A small blaze was reported at 8:35 p. m. Wednesday night at the Hester Office Supply Co., 114 E. 3rd street. The fire was caused by a short in the electric sign and there was no damage.

Tommies Drive Toward Position Of Paratroopers

Eighth Sweeps Forward Through Rich Po Valley

Gothic Crumbling Before Yank Push

ROME, Sept. 22 (AP)—Eighth army troops swept well into the rich industrial Po valley today after capturing the stubbornly defended seaport of Rimini in a thundering climax to a four weeks offensive on the Adriatic sector of the Italian front.

Simultaneously American troops of the Fifth army captured Firenzuola, an important road junction in the heart of the Gothic line from which highways extend north and northeast into the Po valley.

The twin victories held the threat of imminent disaster for Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's troops, whose vaunted Gothic line was crumbling before the terrible might of Allied armored power, aerial assault and naval bombardment.

The desperately resisting enemy, entrenched in some of the strongest positions ever encountered in the entire Italian campaign, had waged prolonged and bitter battles both at Rimini and Firenzuola, the latter approximately 29 airline miles south of Bologna, a city of 269,687 population and one of the gateways into the Po valley.

The capture of Rimini turned the east side of the Gothic line and allowed Allied troops to spill into the Emilia and Lombard plains on which they can swiftly cut German communications to all the Gothic line—centered around mile high mountains which canalize traffic.

Greek troops entered Rimini Wednesday night and by Thursday morning had cleared the greater part of the town and reached the Marecchia river.

Near Italy's west coast, Brazilian troops have been beating steadily northward and keeping pace with U. S. forces farther inland. The important town of Pietrasanta was captured, 19 miles north-northwest of Pisa. The Brazilians were also reported well up on 4,000 foot Mt. Prano, six miles east of Pietrasanta.

Pietro Caruso Shot To Death As Nazi Puppet

ROME, Sept. 22 (AP)—Pietro Caruso, last Fascist police chief of Rome, was strapped in a chair and shot to death in the back today by a firing squad in explanation of German occupation.

"Viva L'Italia," the doomed man cried just before a squad of metropolitan police fired. No coup de grace was necessary.

Caruso was convicted by an Italian court of rounding up 50 Italian hostages for execution by the Germans in the Ardeatine cave near Rome. He also was accused of arresting Italian refugees in St. Paul's church, violating the Vatican's extra-territoriality. His young secretary, Roberto Occhetto, a co-defendant, got off with 30 years. The trial was delayed Monday when an angry Italian mob lynched the chief state witness.

Caruso died in the bright sunlight this afternoon in the century old Fort Bravetta near the hospital. The manner of his execution was the same meted to the Italians who were slaughtered in the cave, and was specified by the court. Prince Umberto, lieutenant general of the realm, denied clemency.

Superintendent's Home Rocked By Explosion

CHICAGO, Sept. 22 (AP)—A dynamite bomb exploded at the home of William H. Johnson, superintendent of Chicago public schools, last night, jarring the neighborhood in a radius of two blocks and shattering scores of windows in nearby houses.

Johnson suffered a slash on the right arm while his wife and their eight year old daughter, Patricia, who was asleep, escaped uninjured. The bombing, which was described by police as "no amateur job," climaxed a two-week city wide controversy over a ruling by which the school superintendent abolished the school transfer system, resulting in changing schools for thousands of pupils.

Airborne Troops Enter Arnhem As Nazis Pull Back

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP) British Tommies joined by American paratroopers hurled shells into the Arnhem area today and drove close to where airborne forces were reported holding open a bridge across the last branch of the Rhine.

(A London dispatch said the German radio reported that Allied airborne troops entered Arnhem at 2 p. m.)

LATE BULLETIN: The position of the airborne soldiers, who leaped into the middle of the German northern river defenses 20 miles ahead of Allied lines last Sunday, was officially described as critical at Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's supreme headquarters.

An Allied end run around the Siegfried line into the war works of the Ruhr valley was in prospect. Air reconnaissance reports that Arnhem was aflame and that the Germans were pulling back to the east suggested that the way was opening for an early link-up with the fiercely beset island of airborne forces who had held their isolated position since Sunday.

Officially, it was announced that the Allies had driven two miles north of Nijmegen after setting the long bridge across the main Rhine branch, the Waal, and were within six miles of Arnhem.

But dispatches from the Arnhem sector said British guns already were shooting into German positions from which the units of the 1st Allied airborne army had been attacked.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's troops had battered their way to within six miles of Metz, perhaps the greatest inland fortress city in western Europe, had cleared the Nazis from Lunenburg, 25 miles southeast of Nancy, and won high ground along the Meurthe, 10 miles farther southeast near Flin in a closing action on Baccarat, 40 miles from the Strasbourg crossing of the Rhine.

The Third army battled across the Sella river somewhere in the Chateau-Salins-Moyenvic-Dieux area, 18 to 28 miles northwest of Nancy, but was thrown back. The Germans announced that American troops had broken into the fortress town of Remiremont, 50 miles southeast of Nancy and 28 miles northwest of Belfort, but were dislodged after a hard fight. This is in a sector linking the Third and Seventh armies.

Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh army also was forced back a mile or two from Verdmandans, 17 miles southwest of Belfort in the Pont-de-Ronde area, to Grand Bois.

But these were the only sectors where the Allies yielded a foot in the face of fanatical resistance. Other forces of the Seventh army pounded forward into stiff artillery fire east of Epinal, on the Moselle 35 miles south of Nancy, and reached Mabouhans and Palante, two villages three miles apart 13 miles east of Lure and the same distance west of Belfort.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' 1st army was blocked temporarily from exploiting its penetration of the Siegfried line, but was slowly widening its wedge in the German defense system north and south of Aachen.

Chester Lake Ends 86-Day Fast Period

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22 (AP)—Chester Lake broke today what he said was an 86-day fast in protest of "political domination" of the Rural Electrification Administration.

The 53-year-old former field representative of the REA who was dismissed from the agency last June 30, said he wanted to "save myself to fight further for the REA and the proposed Missouri Valley Authority and All Public Power."

His first "meal" since the fast, he said, was soup, toast and coffee. Several weeks ago he added fruit juices to his water diet and recently further added what he said was a powder substance prescribed by his physician. During the "fast," Lake said, he lost 26 pounds, now weighing 174.

Ex-Governor Jim Ferguson Dies; Rites To Be At State Cemetery

AUSTIN, Sept. 22 (AP)—Funeral rites will be held at 5 p. m. today for former Governor James E. Ferguson, 73-year-old veteran of Texas politics who died yesterday at his home where he and Mrs. Ferguson, also a former governor have lived in political retirement for several years.

Death came at 2:45 p. m., terminating a long illness which began with a stroke. Simple Episcopal rites will be said by the Rev. Richard S. Martin of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Burial will be in the state cemetery here.

The family asked that flowers be omitted. Instead, they suggested that growing flowers, shrubs or funds be sent to McCloskey General Hospital, Temple, to aid in beautifying the institution's grounds.

This was because Ferguson, a native of Bell county, on his last visit to Temple inspected the hospital. He found it one of the most remarkable institutions he had ever seen, except that the grounds appeared to him desolate for lack of plantings.

He expressed a desire to assist in beautifying the grounds so that the lives of hospitalized war veterans would be more pleasant. Then illness struck him. His death removed a man who perhaps wielded more political power longer than any other man in recent Texas history. Dressed in somber clothes, black hat and bow tie, he was a dominant figure for more than 25 years.

His desertion of black land farming for politics led to a career that saw him twice elected governor; impeached and removed from office in his second term; defeated as presidential nominee

Oil Administration Recommends Cut

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—The petroleum administration for war recommended today a national production rate of 5,010,800 barrels of all petroleum liquids during October, a decrease of 40,500 barrels daily from the rate certified for September.

The biggest decline for any state was 25,000 barrels daily for Texas. Deputy administrator Ralph K. Davies said a daily rate of 2,270,000 barrels in Texas during October was "in line with actual requirements based on available transportation and refining facilities."

The daily rate certified for district 3 during October, compared with September: Arkansas, 85,000 and 82,900; Louisiana, 385,000, unchanged; Mississippi, 46,000 and 45,000; New Mexico, 115,500, unchanged; Texas, 2,278,000 and 2,303,900.

Production Boards Insure Reconversion

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—The War Production Board has taken steps designed to insure that industries making goods most important to the civilian economy are among the first to reconvert after Germany's fall.

Hiland G. Batcheller, operations vice chairman, has asked the WPB industry divisions to present by Saturday lists of those plants which should be "cleared of war work as soon after X-day as possible."

Batcheller's memorandum was not made public, but WPB officials explained it is intended to see that such companies are not tied up with war contracts and thus prevented from taking advantage of the sweeping removal of controls planned to come immediately on the end of the European war.

Two more women were picked up Wednesday night and are being held for check ups.

Quebec Meeting Studied Italian Problem Closely

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed today that his Quebec conference with Prime Minister Churchill devoted a lot of study to plans for gradually restoring full authority to the people of Italy to handle their own rehabilitation problems.

The president expressed satisfaction with the progress of the Dumbarton Oaks security talks, saying the meetings have put together a darn good batting average in agreement in postwar problems.

Reminding his news conference that you don't go into a meeting to work out a world free from war at 11 a. m. and come out with a solution at 4 p. m., Mr. Roosevelt said that on the whole the progress at Dumbarton Oaks has been very, very good.

Discussing the Italian situation, the president said the Quebec conferees talked a good deal about two subjects: Gradually planning ways to place the responsibility for Italian reconversion on the Italian people so that they will have the authority and the responsibility.

Seeing to it that the Italian people do not starve this winter. Mr. Roosevelt said he may have something pretty soon concerning further steps to prevent starvation and want in Italy.

The conferees talked a great deal about Germany, too, he said, but added that he could not go into that now.

Mr. Roosevelt said the military situation in China is not at all satisfactory, but he would not discuss news dispatches about internal affairs in that country.

Colorado City Boy Wounded 2nd Time

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 22—

The parents of Pfc. William L. Neff have learned that he has been wounded a second time in action in France. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Neff of Colorado City, Pfc. Neff had recovered from slight wounds received early in the invasion of France and rejoined his company with the Second Division, infantry.

The second wound he has described to his parents and to his wife here as "shrapnel in the ankle and a severing of the nerves in my foot."

The Neffs have two sons in service. Their younger son, Jack, S 1-c, is a member of the crew of the USS O'Bannon, destroyer which has seen hard service in the South Pacific. The destroyer crew was recently cited by President Roosevelt for conspicuous bravery.

Hall Says Dorsey And Wife Beat Him

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21 (AP)—

Jon Hall has testified that band-leader Tommy Dorsey threatened his life and hit him with "a big black thing that came up and struck me between the eyes." And Dorsey's wife, the actor declared, slashed his nose clear through the nostril.

It happened during a bloody, screaming battle on a balcony in the Dorseys' apartment last Aug. 5, Hall told the county grand jury which indicted Dorsey, his wife, actress Pat Dale, and Allen Smiley, Hollywood figure, on charges of felonious assault.

Testimony of Hall and 11 other witnesses was disclosed yesterday when a transcript of the grand jury proceedings was filed with the clerk of the superior court.

Cisco's unbiblicized Lobos come to town tonight to furnish opposition for the Big Spring Steers second game of the current season with a well balanced team that promises to deal Coach John Dibrell's eleven a lot of competition before the final whistle blows. The kickoff is slated for 8:00 at Steer Stadium and the blow-off is expected to come immediately after as the District No. 9 AA boys open their attack from unknown formations with unknown power.

Browns Move Up As Detroit Drops Finale To Yanks

By JACK HAND
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 Don't give up on the St. Louis Browns.

Luke Sewell's "hungry" cast-offs, stumbling since mid-August and berated by friend and foe for blowing a comfortable lead, were only a half game behind the leading Detroit Tigers today on another comeback surge.

Thanks to the Yanks, the Browns had a chance to make a new challenge for their first flag and the cash that goes with it. Although four windup games with the same Yanks next weekend can make or break St. Louis' hopes, Vern Stephens, Nels Potter and Co. were letting the future take care of itself and concentrating on the opportunity at hand.

The locals will be changed somewhat in formation from last week's running attack which showed mainly from the single wing formation. Tonight the Steers will run a majority of their offense from the vaunted T-formation that could not seem to click in the season opener. However, Dibrell and Holmes, new assistant coach, have been bearing down heavily on the formation, now being practiced widely over the state in high schools and pronounced as "unstoppable" by leading college coaches, and quite a change in results is expected tonight.

Hugh Cochran, who has been nursing a swollen hand all week, is reported ready for action, despite the still-bruised condition of his forearm. Cochran and Pete Cook, who showed up as the outstanding backs against Colorado City, are expected to show even more power off the T than they did from the single wing.

Tickets for tonight's game will be on sale today at the Big Spring Hardware, the Chamber of Commerce, and in the school administrative offices. These duets will go off sale at 5 p. m. today. Reserve seat tickets are selling for 90 cents with general admission going for 60, with tax included.

The Lobos have sent no pre-game dope toward Big Spring, nor could much be discovered about their 1944 offerings. But from reports garnered here and there in this area, Dibrell has big doubts about the Cisco eleven being a pushover, and it might be easily reversed. However the weight card indicates that no such runner over will be at hand for either team as they are evenly matched, more so than last week's foes. The game predictions show a very close game, as well as a much cleaner one both defensively and offensively in the blocking and tackling departments, than was last week's battle. It will be the final Steer prep before meeting extra-tough competition against the powerful Lubbock Westerners here next week.

When the New Yorkers woke up to snap a five-game losing streak by dumping Detroit, 5-4, in a 10-inning series finale yesterday, their motive was strictly selfish. By taking their only game of the set from the Tigers, the defending champs stuck in the race three lengths back with hopes of shortening the gap in Cleveland while the hard-hitting Boston Red Sox visit Detroit.

Connie Mack was again in the spotlight as he led his A's into Sportsman's Park for a weekend series. The Philadelphia club belted New York out of first place last week on three straight defeats and Mr. Baseball never did play favorites.

The Browns figured to be more troublesome now they have shown they can get up off the floor to comeback. Many thought their heart-breaking loss to Washington Tuesday night when a bases-loaded single hit a runner and snuffed out a 10th inning rally was the death blow. The fierce inter-club feud between St. Louis and Washington reacted to the Browns advantage, raising them to a fighting pitch climaxed by the battle between Tom Turner of St. Louis and Roberto Ortiz of Washington before last night's game. Ortiz went to a hospital for hand X-rays but Turner was unhurt and the "inspired" Sewellmen slugged out 15 hits for a 9-4 edge.

Frank Crosetti's 10th inning double gave reliever Bill Zuber of the Yanks the nod over Hal Newhouse, doing a turn as a Tiger fireman. Cleveland trimmed Boston, 5-2, despite 11 Sox hits.

St. Louis clinched the National league flag by trimming Boston, 5-4 and 6-5 with both wins going to reliever Harry Breechen. Pittsburgh tightened its grip on second place by walloping Brooklyn twice, 10-4 and 14-6. Cincinnati kept pace by downing the Phils, 5-3 and 8-4 and Chicago blasted New York's fourth place aspirations with a double dose of trouble, 11-8 and 6-4.

Three tennis players won overwhelming victories in their opening rounds of the Big Spring Bombardier School Post tennis tournament yesterday, and it appeared that Lt. Hale H. Hendlin favored for the singles title, may be in for some serious competition before play is completed.

Lt. Blackburn Hughes defeated Lt. Charles L. Stout in straight sets by scores of 6-1, 6-0, indicating he intends to be a serious challenger. In other opening round matches Pvt. Jimmie Freeman defeated Pvt. S. A. Schwartz 6-2, 6-2; and S-Sgt. Jerome Pinkston, colored ace, who is an all-around athlete and the school's track star, won over Pvt. V. Starr by scores of 6-2, 6-1.

Two more opening round matches will be played at 5 p. m. this evening. Captain Roland F. Hatfield, an outstanding player faces Warrant Officer Joseph T. Ransome, and Sgt. Sol Firestone meets Pvt. Robert H. Ellis.

Lt. Hendlin, who has won numerous titles along the Atlantic Seaboard showed classy form in winning his first match Wednesday.

Kiddie Korps Are Favored As SWC Teams Open Play

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
 Associated Press Sports Editor

A Southwest conference football campaign hitting on four of its six cylinders opens tomorrow with half of the starters battling on intersectional fields while the other two stay at home to entertain Texas service outfits.

Rejuvenated Arkansas, hopeful of finishing somewhere besides the cellar for a change, takes on probably the strongest opposition of the four when the Razorbacks invade St. Louis for a crack at Missouri's Tigers.

Texas Christian goes to Kansas City to meet Kansas in the other intersectional game, of which conference teams will play 25 this season as compared to 10 last fall.

The stay-at-homes—Texas A. and M. and Rice Institute—engage Bryan Army Air Field and Galveston Air Field at College Station and Houston respectively. All are night games except the Aggie-Bryan tussle.

Texas and Southern Methodist, the other two conference members, open the season next week, the Longhorns playing Southwestern and S.M.U. engaging North Texas Agricultural college.

Here's how they look to a guy who should know better than to guess on any kind of game after that record of misses hung up last year:

Texas Christian vs. Kansas—a vote for T.C.U., say by a couple of touchdowns.

Arkansas vs. Missouri at St. Louis—picking Arkansas by a whisker, not having read what Missouri professes to have in the way of footballers.

Texas A. and M. vs. Bryan Air Field—the Kiddie Korps rides again; a lusty vote for the Aggies.

Giants Take To Air In Pre-Game Practice

AMARILLO, Sept. 22 (AP)—Necessity being the mother that she is—of invention—the Amarillo Field Sky Giants employed the element of surprise, even to themselves, to take to the air and came up with what appears to be a pretty acceptable pass offense.

Their ground power has been publicized and emphasized to the extent that at their opener last week and the University of New Mexico Lobos threw their defensive might into the line and the Sky Giants bumped into a wall something akin to the Siegfried.

This week Caches Dan 4 Ibeid and Steve Sebo and their Big squad are pointing for the South Plains Army Air Field eleven whom they meet in Lubbock next Sunday afternoon.

Yesterday and Today

Memories of wild outbursts which marked the 1918 armistice have caused believers and citizens in many communities to desire that the end of the European phase of the war, which seems to be dawning, shall be observed in a manner which is not an affront to the sacrifices of the men who have died in action or a slander to the grace and an insult to the mercy of God. In most cities merchants and business men of all sorts have agreed to close saloons, taverns, theaters, and commercial establishments of all kinds. Believing that the citizens of the greater Big Spring area will welcome the opportunity penitently to remember before God the dead who will not return, the brave soldiers who have been crippled or maimed or blinded or crazed in defense of our liberties, the boys and girls in Europe and Asia whose bodies have been deformed, whose minds have been dwarfed, and whose souls have been warped by the ruthless cruelties of modern war, and bereaved relatives who long for the touch of a hand that has vanished and the sound of a voice that has been forever silenced, the ministers of the Big Spring Pastors' Association have arranged a program of thanksgiving, penitence, intercession, and dedication in their respective churches. The ministers of Big Spring earnestly desire that the day of victory in Europe be observed as a day of Thanksgiving in the United States. To this end, most churches plan to have for their members and friends a special service of thanksgiving twenty minutes after the conclusion of the public celebration that will be conducted in the city auditorium at a time with which the public is being familiarized by radio announcements and press releases. All sanctuaries will remain open all day V-Day for private prayer and meditations.

When hostilities cease in the European theater of war, our task will remain unfinished. We need to pause in reverence and thank God for past victories and seek his guidance and power for future necessary engagements. We need to be guided by General Douglas MacArthur's practice which he reveals when he tells us that however fatigued he may be, he never goes to bed at night without reading the inspired scriptures and communing with God in prayer. General Dwight D. Eisenhower penned these words: "While the utterances of God as recorded in the Bible are ever the need of mankind, it is in war, and particularly in the present war with its issues of humanity and morality, that their essential presence is felt. I am happy to report, this thought is foremost among our men... And with the help of God in this fight for right, which help our men are ever and devotedly seeking, this victory is assured."

Let us make the day of victory in the European theater of war a day of Thanksgiving in Big Spring. Let us claim God's promise: "If my people, which are called by name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land... I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people."

Conditions Need Attention

Current reports tell of a wave of dysentery among youngsters in the Latin-American quarter of the city. While this is to be regretted, certainly it can't be classed as surprising.

It is to the credit of our Latin-American citizens that they have managed to make this sort of thing so infrequent. Only they and the Lord know why it is, with the sub-standard housing and sub-standard sanitary facilities they have, that epidemic after epidemic of one character or another does not seize the section and spread to the city.

Previously we mentioned the need of including housing plans for our Latin-American and Negro population in our post-war plans. We reiterate this. We believe also that more support should be given to making it possible for families to install sanitary toilets and connect with city sewers in that section. We think that it would not be amiss to devise some more effective system of garbage collection from that quarter.

To the end that these people not be left out of our community development, and thus the community as well as they be the loser, we suggest that it might be well to counsel with some of the section's leaders from time to time on what can be done now and later to help improve conditions in that section.

Your Support Is Urged

Enthusiasm of the opening game drew a fine crowd to Steer stadium last week. Unfortunately, fans witnessed the locals win on paper but not in score.

It would be a fine gesture of support for fans to turn out tonight and for as many succeeding games as possible. This is not to say the team is due to be any great shakes in the district this year, but the youngsters are trying and they are going to improve as the season goes along. Today's game should be fairly wide open if the T formation is used as liberally as planned and action ought to be plentiful.

Of course ticket money helps maintain football in our schools—and right now a sound program of developing future material is underway. But more than this, the cheers of fans from well filled stands helps a youngster put out that extra something because he knows the folks are watching and pulling for him.

Aw, Come On, Coke

After years of Thanksgiving confusion, the president finally backed off and admitted that custom was stronger than business convenience.

And now, that one of those rare years with five Thursdays has come along, some of the confusion is arising again. Because it was generally agreed that the fourth Thursday (which, except for once in about every seven years or so happens to be the last Thursday) would serve as the Thanksgiving this year. Even district S-A-A schoolmen admitted it in ditching some traditional football games to Nov. 23.

Washington

Silence Surrounds Peace Council

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON—In spite of the great silence pouring out of Dumbarton Oaks, where blueprints for world peace are being sketched, two main issues which our Senate is going to debate when the plan finally comes to it for consideration are becoming clear:

(1) What will be the relationship of the big and little nations in setting up the world's major problems? (2) Who will give the word when our Army or Navy or Air Force is called upon to settle some dispute or put down some dictator? With no specific plan to go on, it's impossible now to probe all the ramifications which arise out of these two questions or even predict what the political alignment will be.

However, there's no doubt here that these will be the two principal bones of contention. Republican Nominee Thomas E. Dewey, tossed down the glove when he came out against "big power" world politics and demanded that the little nations be given equal rights in the postwar setup. Secretary of State Hull threw the glove right back when he declared the foreign policy of the United States and of President Roosevelt had always been recognition of the rights of the little nations.

There doesn't seem to be much party division of opinion there, but it's in the making. That debate that broke out in the Senate the other day when Foreign Relations Committee Chairman Sen. Tom Connally said flatly that France, having made "a sorry spectacle of herself," should serve an apprenticeship before she is admitted to equal status with "the Big Four" in any postwar council, is an indication of what's to come. Where is the line to be drawn? How will the British Commonwealth rate in this new League

The War Today

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR. (Substituting For Dewitt Mackenzie)

By J. M. ROBERTS (Substituting For Dewitt Mackenzie)

Developments of the next few days may give us a pretty good idea of when V-Day will come in Europe.

Unofficial reports, from Quebec and the front itself, say that the Allied drive is still ahead of schedule. The last official word said five days. The latest report is a month, which can be considered from two angles.

It is hardly likely that we have gained any on the actual ground-taking schedule in the last few weeks of increasing German resistance. We could be in better position for the final battle, both as to organization of supplies and reserves, than was expected a month ago.

The conservative appraisal is that France was reconquered somewhat earlier and at smaller cost than expected, so that now we enter the battle of Germany in better shape generally. From here on out there are many impponderables.

A breakthrough at Arnhem in the next few days, which is not too much to expect, could result in the crumbling of the whole German line. Allied officers express doubt as to the value of German defenses along the Dutch border, believing the Nazis rely strongly on the flooded Dutch lowlands. But it is too much to hope that the Germans are entirely dependent on water defenses which proved no real barrier to them in 1940. They undoubtedly have done everything possible to prepare defenses in depth deep into Germany.

So the big factor is the German army—whether it is now offering, with its last strength, a tough but thin crust backed with little filling, or whether the Allies must penetrate miles and miles of defenses as strongly defended as we have found the outposts.

Bad weather already has come to the channel across which reserves and supplies must move. Patton's tanks have run into heavy ruts.

Another fortnight will see increasingly bad weather as a regular thing. October would be the month in which to win the war. Nov. 15 would be the outside limit unless the Allies were willing to risk some very serious delays.

All of which gives the idea that the fall of Arnhem will see Eisenhower turn loose his Sunday punch.

Now Governor Coke Stevenson has announced he will proclaim Nov. 30 as Thanksgiving day in Texas. Coincidentally, the Texas A.&M.-Texas university game in Austin falls on that date. Aw, come on, Coke.

Ernie Pyle: Incorrect Impressions Formed In US During North African Conquest

By ERNIE PYLE ORAN, Algeria, January, 1943

Men who bring our convoy from America, some of whom have just recently arrived, tell me the people at home don't have a correct impression of things over here.

Merchant Marine officers who have been here a couple of days are astonished by the difference between what they thought the situation was and what it actually is. They say people at home think the North African campaign is a walkaway and will be over quickly; that our losses have been practically nil; that the French here love us to death, and that all German influence has been cleaned out.

If you think that, it is because we newspapersmen here have failed at getting the finer points over to you.

Because this campaign at first was as much diplomatic as military, the powers that be didn't permit our itchy typewriter fingers to delve into things internationally, which were ticklish enough without that. I believe misconceptions at home must have grown out of some missing part of the picture.

It would be very bad for another wave of extreme optimism to sweep over the United States. So maybe I can explain a little bit about why things over here, though all right for the long run, are not all strawberries and cream right now.

In Tunisia, for instance, we seem to be stalemated for the moment. The reasons are two. Our Army is a green army, and most of our Tunisian troops are in actual battle for the first time against seasoned troops and commanders. It will take six months of fighting to gain the experience our enemies start with.

In the second place, nobody knew exactly how much resistance the French would put up here, so we had to be set for full resistance. That meant, when the French capitulated in three days, we had to move eastward at once, or leave the Germans unhampered to build a big force in Tunisia.

So we moved several hundred miles and, with the British, began fighting. But we simply didn't have enough stuff on hand to knock the Germans out instantly. Nobody is to blame for this. I think our army is doing wonderfully—both in fighting what we have and in getting more here—but we're fighting an army as tough in spirit as ours, vastly more experienced, and more easily supplied.

While you must expect to wait a while before Tunisia is cleared and Rommel jumps into the sea. Our losses in men so far are not appalling, by any means, but we are losing men. The other day an American ship brought the first newspaper from home I had seen since the occupation, and it said only 12 men were lost in taking Oran.

Most of our convalescent wounded have been sent to England. Some newly arrived Americans feel that, if more of the wounded were sent home, it would put new grim vigor into the American people. We aren't the sort of people from whom wounded men have to be concealed.

The biggest puzzle to us who are on the scene is our policy of dealing with Axis agents and sympathizers in North Africa. We have taken into custody only the most out-and-out Axis agents, such as the German armistice missions and a few others. That done, we have turned the authority to arrest back to the French.

The procedure is that we investigate, and they arrest. As it winds up, we investigate period. Our policy is still appraisement. It stems from what might be called the national "hodgepodge" of French emotions. Frenchmen today think and feel in lots of different directions. We moved softly at first, in order to capture as many French hearts as French square miles. Now that phase is over. We are here in full swing. We occupy countries and pretend

Redistricting Bill Would Bracket Howard With Mitchell, Glasscock

By WILLIAM E. KEYS Associate Press Staff

The big city counties, the Gulf Coast area, South Texas and West Texas will win the representation they believe due them in the state house of representatives if the next legislature passes a redistricting bill which is awaiting introduction soon after the 49th legislature convenes Jan. 9.

Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio has prepared a redistricting bill in line with his ideas of equal representation based on the 1940 census.

Although the legislature is required by the constitution to reapportion house and senate representation after each decennial census, it has turned thumbs down on all proposals since 1921 when the 1920 census was the basis of redistricting and, consequently, the basis of current representation despite 23-year shifts in population.

Bell's proposal, if passed, would not become effective until 1946. This might allay some of the logging that usually kills attempts to spall legislative districts. No member likes to vote to kill his own job nor does he like to vote a fellow-member out.

Insistent demands, particularly from South Texas, might force action at the next session on redistricting. Governor Coke R. Stevenson will recommend it as he did two years ago but this time he will give the subject emergency status which permits immediate consideration by the legislature.

If the Bell bill or a similar one passes someone is going to get lost in the shuffle, if representation is anywhere near equalized. There are 150 house members and this number cannot be raised. Therefore the solution is a re-assignment of districts. Equal representation would mean, except for the big city counties, one house member for each 42,500 population, says Bell.

Noting some of the inequities under the present, or 1920 population representation, Bell points to 19 districts which have one member for each 24,000 population and 16 others which have one member for each 75,000 population.

Districts in the first category are 48, 81, 110, 47, 57, 7, 11, 100, 34, 46, 48, 24, 23, 63, 85, 87, 113 and 104. The second comprises these districts: 71, 119, 73, 19, 88, 72, 18, 50, 123, 120, 16, 32, 78, 91, 89 and 70.

Great population changes have occurred in Texas since 1921, leaving virtually every county with more or less population than it had. The change is more acute in some than in others, however.

Bell proposes that Harris, Dallas and Bexar counties each be given seven house members, the maximum permitted until county population exceeds 700,000. No Texas county has reached that population level. Each of these three counties, each of which is a separate district, now has five members.

The Bell bill gives Tarrant county five members, an increase of one. Jefferson and Travis each receive three, an increase of one. El Paso would receive three. It now has two and it has part of a third.

Although it would be subject to amendment, here is Bell's proposed lineup of districts, each district to have one member except as noted:

1. Bowie; 2. Morris, Titus and Franklin; 3. Cass and Marion; 4. Upshur and Camp; 5. Harrison; 6. Gregg; 7. Panola and Shelby; 8. Rusk; 9. Nacogdoches; 10. Shelby and Sabine; 11. Angelina and Tyler; 12. Jasper, Newton and San Augustine; 13. Polk, Trinity and San Jacinto; 14. Jefferson (3); 15. Jefferson and Orange; 16. Hardin and Liberty; 17. Galveston; 18. Galveston and chambers; 19. Harris (7); 20. Fort Bend and Waller; 21. Matagorda and Brazoria; 22. Wharton; 23. Lavaca and Jackson; 24. Fayette; 25. Washington and Burleson; 26. Colorado and Austin; 27. Brazos; 28. Montgomery and Grimes; 29. Walker and Madison; 30. Houston; 31. Cherokee; 32. Smith; 33. Wood, Rains and Smith; 34. Hopkins and Delta; 35. Red River; 36. Lamar; 37. Hunt; 38. Fanning; 39. Grayson; 40. Grayson and Cooke; 41. Collin; 42. Denton; 43. Dallas (7); 44. Kaufman and Rockwall; 45. Van Zandt; 46. Henderson; 47. Anderson; 48. Hollywood— Benny Termed "Greatest Of Them All"

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — Pv. Woodrow Boone writes from the Pacific:

"Grabbed a chance to make one of Jack Benny's New Guinea appearances at the base hospital this afternoon. . . . We got there by 1:30 on a dusty truck. The hospital is a series of long sheds on a hilltop. There are very tall, slender trees on and beside the hill, reaching above the level of the outdoor theater. The walking and wheelchair cases were already there. . . . Jungle fighters, anxious for a two-hour furlough with folks from home. . . . A blue- and- gold streamlined bird flitted high in the branches and a white parrot flew by. . . . Our own brigade "swingphibian" orchestra marked time in prelude. Three poker games were under way. We made conversation, admired the nurses, and waited. . . . "Presently two Jeeps and a command car drove up behind the theater. The crowd rises, sees no one, settles back. From the right side front row, I see behind the stage a heavy-set, grey-haired, brown-faced civilian in gunmetal tweeds, polo shirt, and red-striped necktie, and I know there'll be a show. Jack disappears into the special service shed for a few minutes; the band continues; we wait.

"Jack wants to accompany Martha on his violin, but she won't let him. Larry Adler plays a dream of a Beethoven number on his harmonica. . . . More jokes, more songs. Jack begs to accompany Larry on his violin—no soap. . . . I see appendectomy cases in the audience holding their sides and trying hard not to laugh. Pretty, petite pianist Jane Bruner almost steals the show with an ad lib about Jack's violin. Jack and Larry drift into a duet. . . . "Then comes the finale. Five hard-working American artists together on the stage, bringing a touch of the good old U.S.A. to those of us who are far enough away to see what we're really fighting for—the right to laugh, the right to enjoy life!"

BREEDERS SEE SEVEN MORE HERDS IN CONCLUDING TOUR

Howard County Hereford Breeders association concluded its first tour of membership farms and ranches Thursday with a swing to the south, west and northwest with inspections of seven herds.

Almost as many participated as on the initial leg of the tour to the north and east Monday, and at noon the group was treated to an old fashioned spread prepared by Mrs. E. W. Lomax and Mrs. Loy Acuff at the Lomax home in Lomax community. Tuesday Mrs. Edward Simpson had prepared a copious lunch for visitors.

Members saw some good cattle of Diamond breeding at the Loy Acuff place, where Acuff displayed Double Diamond I and one of his sons as a herd bull. He also had animals of the Domino and Mischief Domino line.

W. L. Mead's herd bull, a grandson of old Supreme Diamond, drew attention as did his cows of Diamond breeding. T. B. and Rexie Cagle, who pioneered Hereford breeding in the county, showed the Cagle Farms herd, including Prince Advance, probably the top bull since the death of the great President Mischief three weeks ago; Young Mischief and Mischief Elect, sons of President Mischief; Domino Elect, a son of Supreme Domino; Diamond Mischief and Beau Diamond 34, sons of Beau Diamond 27; several females by Beau Diamond 10; 40 helpers by Prince Advance and several of President Mischief's daughters.

E. W. Lomax had President Mischief 22, sired by Cagle's great herd bull, and a herd of fine Diamond strain cows, including several by Double Diamond I. At the Lomax farm, members saw a choice young steer which will be fed out by his daughter, Mignonette Lomax, who will probably be the first Howard county girl to feed in 4-H competition.

Those on the tour lauded the O. H. McAllister herd, which featured the top bull, Superior Gynn 6th, and Diamond bred cows out of the widely known herd of J. W. Alexander, Albany.

It looked like show time at the Dr. G. T. Hall ranch where a son of Lamplighter out of a Lady Crump cow, Master Advance from a Donna Anna cow and Dean Prince Domino II were washed and oiled for showing. The latter was included in the herd class also along with Junior Prince Advance, Young Lamplighter III, and with cows from Dorana 43, Donna Anna Creamy, Lilac and Dorana families. Interest was manifest in males and females being pushed for the sale.

Enroute to the Maxin county pasture of Dr. Hall, the group inspected some cattle on the ranch of Eb Dickerson, one of the outstanding pioneer breeders of the area.

Cole W. Shaffer featured President Mischief 25 as his herd bull and had a number of outstanding females from Superior Diamond and of Timberline breeding. Mrs. Shaffer rewarded the cattlemen with refreshments to climax the tour.

Average Reader Is Foggy About

TODAY ON THE HOME FRONT
(Editor's Note: This is the first of two stories of the reconversion program set up by congress after months of wrangling and compromising.)

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP) — It's no wonder if the average reader is foggy about what congress has done about the reconversion program to get this country back on a firm peacetime footing.

The congressional tug-of-war over the points of the program has taken months. Congress finally has passed four principal measures:

1. The "G. I. Bill of Rights" to take care of soldiers and sailors after they are mustered out of the armed services; Pay, benefits, training, education and so on.
2. The war contract cancellation act. This is intended to provide fair and speedy settlement of billions of dollars worth of war contracts.
3. The surplus property act. This sets up controls on the disposal of billions of dollars worth of government property after the war.
4. And the act creating the office of war mobilization and reconversion. This office is supposed to coordinate — a fancy term which means to make the pieces fit together without conflict — all the government's efforts and agencies which have anything to do with getting the nation back to a peacetime basis.

The first two were passed months ago and already are law. The last two were passed this week. They await the president's signature to become law.

You may have read about the efforts to have the government:

1. Pay unemployment compensation to workers, suddenly thrown out of jobs, at a rate far above the states control the compensation pay system. And the payments vary by states.
2. Pay transportation expenses — up to $200 — for war workers' families stranded in unemployment in areas where there are no jobs.
3. Give federal employees, thrown out of work at war's end, unemployment pay. Federal workers now are not protected by the states' unemployment systems and can draw no jobless pay.

All these were thrown out.

Capture Of Nazi Troops Called 'Screwball War'

By HAL BOYLE
ROMORANTIN, France, Sept. 17 (Delayed AP)—Those who saw it will long remember "the screwball war."

In battle all things are possible, but none of the 19 young American soldiers who "captured" the last 20,000 troops below the Loire river ever thought they would be hauling rations for an enemy still under arms, or politely giving road directions to a carful of lost Nazis.

It was an unique in military history, 30-mile German column through no-man's land to become willing prisoners of war in order to escape from French Maqui forces and the fearsome strafing from U. S. Ninth air force fighter bombers.

Maj. Gen. Erich Elser carried out to the letter his agreement to turn over his men, their supply trains and arms, once they reached the Loire river line, where there were enough American troops to handle such a problem and guarantee the Nazis' protection from French partisans.

Lt. Samuel W. Magill of Ash-tabula, Ohio, and his 18 patrol scouts delivered on their pact, too. They toted tons of food and hay to the hungry Nazis and their hungry horses.

But the French populace along the route just couldn't understand armed German columns being led along the road by American army jeeps. The people of this small town got so perturbed over the situation they hauled down all the American flags which a few days before they had dared to display.

Lt. Magill tactfully posted a notice explaining these mysterious military doings to the French civilians, and they hung out the Stars and Stripes again. Then they sent the 24-year-old Yankee officer gifts of melons and other fruits.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP) — There's no reason to attribute fistic greatness to Lee Oma, in view of the times "KO By" appears in his record, but the mere fact that he's going in as a last-minute substitute for Joe Baksi against Tami Mauriello at the Garden tonight elicits the old-timers to recall a number of fighters who started on the road to fame as substitutes.

Lou Nova, for instance, got his big chance when he flew east to sub for Bob Pastor, who inadvertently chopped his leg instead of a log while training to meet Gunnar Barlund... Lew Jenkins got his New York start as a sub, and Chalky Wright, who came east as Henry Armstrong's chauffeur, went on as a replacement and knocked out a bright prospect named Al Reid... Then there's the classic case of Willie Ritchie, who substituted for Freddy Welsh against Ad Wolgast in 1912 and won the lightweight title.

One-Minute Sports Page

The English Derby won't be run at Epsom Downs before 1946 at the earliest. Even if the war ends soon it will take that long to repair the damage by four years of bombings and five years of neglect... Sign of the times: Scribes who gathered for Columbia's first football luncheon yesterday spent more time talking about the numerous proposed pro football leagues than about the Lions' prospects... Eight of the eleven players who helped clinch the Cardinals' third straight National league pennant yesterday played for the Cards in the 1942 world series... A-C Rodney I. St. Digler is an expert at cracking a 12-foot bull whip. Now there's a guy Football Coach Jack Meagher probably could use.

Historical Item

This note was penned by an unidentified baseball expert in 1903: "American league critics are sprinkling ice water under Connie Mack. With his team hardly having a chance to finish in the first division, he'd better watch out that he doesn't slip."

Pump Already Set On Well Number 12

The pump has been set on well number 12, City Manager B. J. McDaniel announced Thursday morning.

Number 12 is the first gravel packed well to be completed and pumping will begin this afternoon or tomorrow.

One of the crews is continuing favorably on the laying of the pipeline, but the Howard county crew is temporarily out of pipe, McDaniels said.

Oilmen Renew Raise Request For Crude Price

AUSTIN, Sept. 21 (AP) — The Independent Producers' Association of America will renew a request for a 35-cent per barrel oil price increase.

Russell Brown, general counsel of the IPAA, testified yesterday before the house small business committee that the request, denied a year ago, would be revived because oil men considered it more necessary than ever.

The committee headed by Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex) scheduled hearings here for independent oil men and the testimony mostly centered on the what witnesses described as the need for a price boost.

Brown said he realized the 35-cent increase would not get the job done but its effect would be beneficial in view of increased operating costs which are hampering new development.

Witnesses who shared this view were D. Harold Byrd, Dallas independent operator; Sid W. Richardson, Fort Worth drilling contractor; Arch H. Rowan of Fort Worth, president of the American Association of Oil Well Drilling Contractors, and Olin Culberson, member of the Texas railroad commission.

Aid Of PAC Is Refused By GOP In Campaigning

FORT WORTH, Sept. 21 (AP)—Michael J. Soldern, member of the CIO Political Action Committee's speaker's bureau, says the CIO's plan of helping elect political candidates favorable to its program and to assist in defeating its enemies was offered to the republican party but rejected.

Soldern yesterday told the CIO Oil Workers International union that "the PAC is not a democratic group" at the union's closing convention sessions, after delegates had voted to seek blanket wage increases of ten cents an hour to offset the difference between rising living costs and wage hikes allowed under the Little Steel formula. The organization also voted to seek upward adjustment of wage scales when the work reverts to 40 hours.

"If the PAC were a democratic group," Soldern said, "Texas would have retained in congress its Martin Dies, Alabama its Joe Starnes and California its John M. Costello."

Carl A. McPeak of Dallas, regional PAC director, termed the aims of the organization "not a business program and not a labor program, but a people's program to win the war, win the peace and insure postwar security."

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The war sure has made a lot of changes in this old world of ours, hasn't it, Judge?"
"Plenty of them, John. One that few people realize is that the rubber producing center of the world is now right here in the United States."
"When the Japs conquered the big natural rubber producing centers of the world they thought they had us licked. But in two short years, thanks to American industry, we are now producing synthetic rubber enough to supply all our military and essential civilian needs."

"Our rubber experts knew how to make it but the problem was to get the huge amounts of industrial alcohol needed. Almost overnight the country's beverage distillers stopped making whiskey and converted 100% to the production of this vital ingredient. A high government official said recently this was "...an almost unparalleled example of the overnight conversion of an entire industry from peace to war."
"Come to think of it, Judge, it was a mighty fortunate thing the beverage distilling industry was in existence, wasn't it?"
