

Muleshoe's 4th jam-packed with fun and activities

By Marianne Toombs

Despite the hot, humid weather, adults and youngsters still gathered at the Muleshoe City Park July 4, to participate in the many activities put on by the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce.

Fourth in the Park activities included tractor pulls, turtle races and relay races for the kids. Adults, as well as youth, participated in the mule shoe pitching contest, sponsored by the Rotary Club. Alpha Zeta Phi sorority sponsored a dunking booth and Leadership Muleshoe sponsored a zip-line/water balloon toss. There were also booths set up at the park from which vendors sold both food and crafts.

The Chamber sold neon necklaces, T-shirts, party poppers and loaded water guns.

Results from the park activities:

2-5 Turtle Race — 1. Tanner

Bealls, 2. Kelby, 3. Sarah Killough.

6-7 Turtle Race — 1. Chelsi, 2. Jamie, 3. Cade.

8-10 Turtle Race — 1. Terrance, 2. Chad Bealls, 3. Corey Atwood.

5-7 Tractor Pull — 1. Brady Black, 28' 10".

8-9 Tractor Pull — 1. Amy Burris, 29' 8".

10-12 Tractor Pull — 1. Brandon Burris, 36' 2".

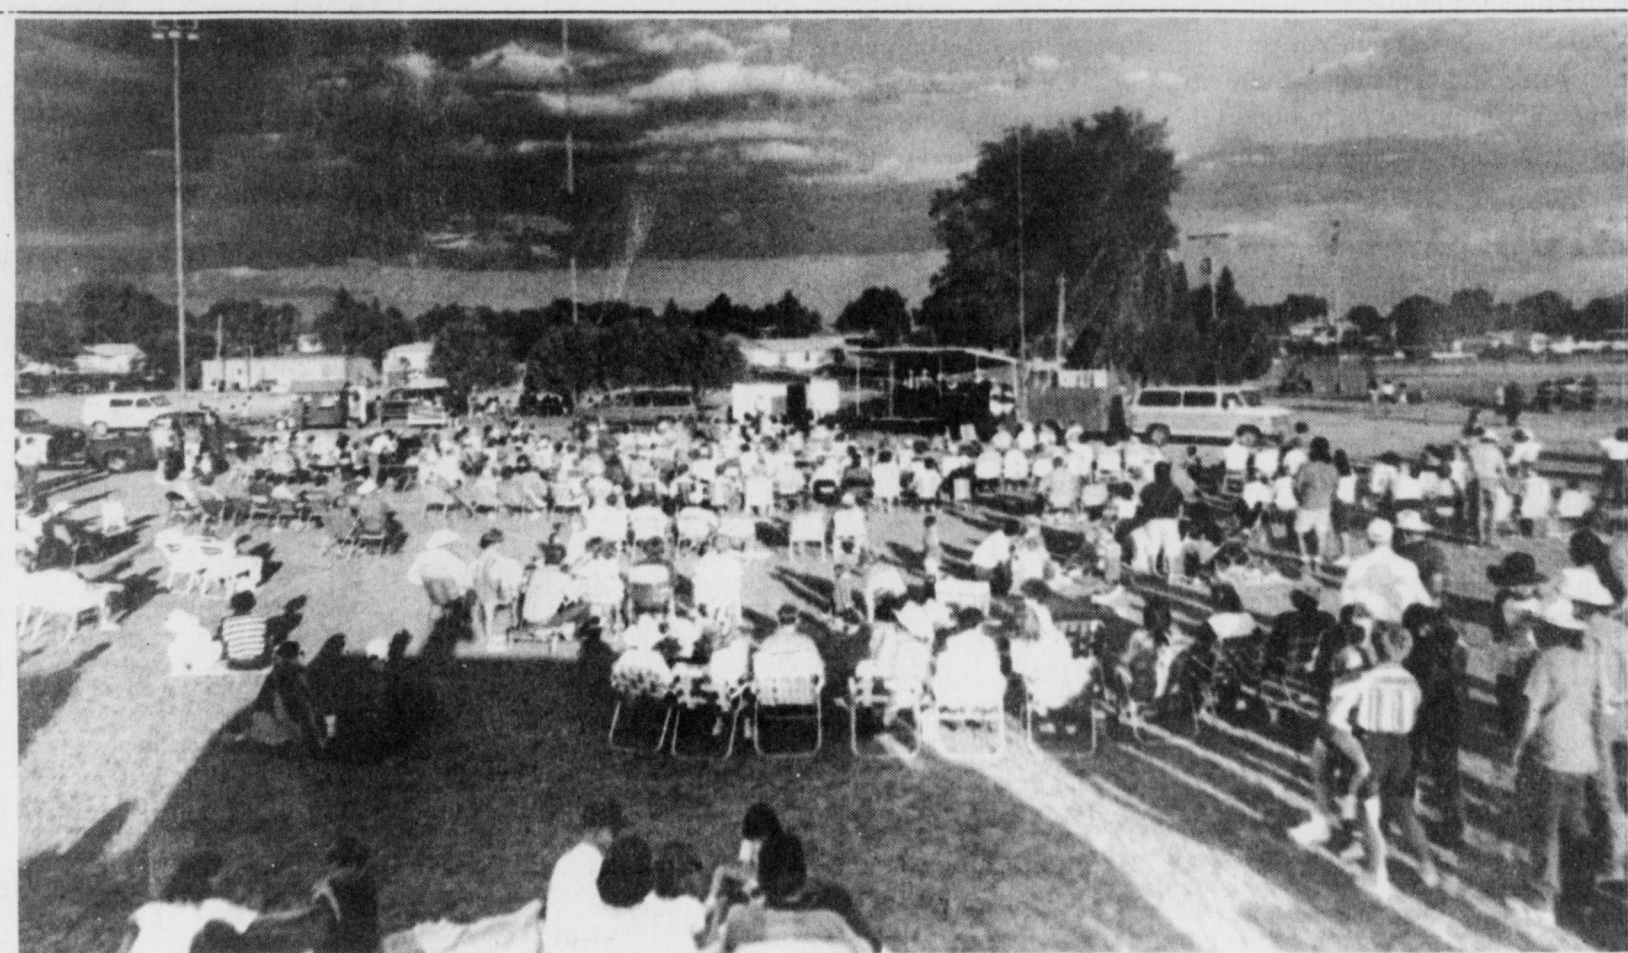

1st place relay races — Whitney Keuller, Cody Atwood, Corey Ann Black, Colt Ellis, Brady Black, Cory Wallace, Trey Magby, Micheal Garcia.

2nd place relay race — Cody Black, Jackson Meyers, Craig Black, Colt Ellis, Corey Ann Black, Ty Magby, Kala Spradling, Mindy Locker, Tatum Heathington.

Adult mule shoe pitching — 1. Jama Mays, 2. James Turnbow.

Junior mule shoe pitching — 1. Blake Magby.

Muleshoe Pizza Hut gave gift certificates for the turtle race winners. Relay race winners received Chamber of Commerce T-shirts, and second place winners received Muleshoe cups and straws.

Beautiful evening

A large crowd gathered in the park on July 4th to enjoy the Western Swing music of the Bob Wills' Texas Playboys, featuring Leon Rausch, guitarist Tommy Allsup and steel player Tom Morrell. Following the performance by the Playboys and fireworks, a street dance was held in the parking lot of KKYC/KMUL radio.

Mule shoe pitching contest adult winners received a cash prize, and the junior winner received a T-shirt.

Later that night, everyone enjoyed Bob Wiliis' the Texas Playboys while waiting for the fireworks display put on by the Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department. Muleshoe Jennyslippers bought the fireworks with donations from area residents.

A street dance followed the fireworks display. Even though there were a few light sprinkles, the crowd kept on dancing, enjoying the music provided by KKYC and KMUL.

Also, on the 4th was the annual parade. Different entries included riding groups, cars, floats and bicycles.

The theme for this year's parade was "Patriotism is Alive in '95." Judges for the parade were Richard Murphy, Alice Liles and Jim Henderson.

Best representing the theme in the float division was the

Students to retest TAAS this week, Meador says

Adrian Meador, Muleshoe Assistant Superintendent for instruction, has announced that M.I.S.D. will be administering the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills Test during the week of July 10.

Students in grades 10, 11 or 12 needing to retest in writing, reading or mathematics, will be involved in this test administration.

Testing will begin at Muleshoe High School in the cafeteria each morning at 8:30 a.m.

The writing TAAS will be administered on Tuesday, July 11; the mathematics TAAS on Wednesday, July 12; and the reading TAAS on Thursday, July 13.

Students who are absent on these days are not allowed, because of Texas Education Agency regulations, to make-up any missed tests, Meador said.

Anyone who has questions or concerns about the TAAS can contact Meador at the M.I.S.D. Administration Building, (806) 272-3325.

Cases of this Ford pickup, owned by Irrigation Pumps & Power, Inc., narrowly escaped injury when a train struck the vehicle's rear bumper, causing only minor damage. The driver, Kenneth Turney, and his son Matt were attempting to cross the railroad track Thursday afternoon near Progress when the accident occurred. Turney said the pickup spun several times, but remained in the intersection, just past the track, staying clear of Highway 84, a few yards away.

Texas producers urged to watch for VS virus symptoms

Texas livestock and horse owners are being urged to be on the lookout for animals with excessive salivation, loss of appetite, blisters or lesions around their mouths, tongues, hooves or teats, a sign that their livestock has been affected by the virus, Vesicular Stomatitis.

Vesicular Stomatitis, which is usually not fatal, has been confirmed in horses in New Mexico in three regions: in a 15-mile area around Las Cruces, and in 30-mile areas around Albuquerque and Silver City.

A task force from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Veterinary Services has been dispatched to the state to assist state personnel with diagnosis and quarantining of infected animals.

In Texas, the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC) is urging producers to be alert to signs of the infection, so that immediate action may be taken to halt the spread of disease, which has an incubation period of two to eight days.

If compatible symptoms are noticed in any animals in a herd, veterinarians or owners should call their TAHC area office, or the headquarters in Austin at 512-719-0700, or the USDA at 512-482-555.

An animal health inspector or veterinarian will be sent to the premise to assist in making a diagnosis. Affected and exposed animals will be quaran-ted for 30 days after the last lesions heal.

Vesicular Stomatitis is usually not fatal and has occurred with varying frequency in North and South America.

Typically, the infection affects cattle, horses or swine, but sheep and goats, deer,

Hernandez attends Texas Lions Club Camp

KERRVILLE — Celeste Hernandez, 9, the daughter of Oscar and Libert Hernandez of Muleshoe, recently attended the Texas Lions Camp in Kerrville.

Sponsored by the Muleshoe Lions Club, Celeste participated in summer camp activities including horseback riding, swimming, field sports and a challenge course program.

Established in 1949, the Texas Lions Camp has given more than 40,000 children with physical disabilities the opportunity to experience the joys of summer camp.

Visually impaired, hearing impaired, and physically handicapped children between the ages of 7-16 attend at no cost to their parents.

A special diabetes education camp is also offered for insulin dependent children between the ages of 7 and 17.

The camping program is specially adapted to accommodate each child's individual needs. A well-trained staff supervises each camp activity with a ratio of one counselor to two campers.

The Texas Lions Camp is a nonprofit organization funded by Lions and private donations.

Formally dedicated to the perpetual use and perpetual enjoyment of the handicapped children of Texas, the camp was first known as the Melvin bobcats, and raccoons can also become infected. Initially, an outbreak may be caused by insect vectors, but then the virus can move from animal to animal by contact with the fluid from ruptured lesions, or saliva.

Persons who handle potentially infected animals should wear rubber or latex gloves, as they can contract the virus and develop symptoms including fever, muscle aches, and headache.

Infected animals develop painful blisters that swell and break, leaving raw tissue that causes them to refuse water or food. The blisters also may appear around the top of hooves, resulting in temporary lameness. Severe weight loss accompanies the infection, and in dairy cattle, a dramatic drop in milk production occurs.

"Affected animals will usually recover in about two weeks from Vesicular Stomatitis," said Dr. Max Coats, state epidemiologist for the TAHC. "There is no specific treatment or cure, except preventing a secondary infection where the blisters have broken."

"A major concern about Vesicular Stomatitis is that the signs in cattle, sheep and swine are similar to the dangerous foreign animal infection, foot-and-mouth disease.

Only laboratory tests can determine which virus has infected an animal. We are always on guard against foreign animal diseases, and that's why it is very important to know which disease has affected a heard," said Dr. Coats.

In New Mexico, state and federal personnel are investigating 37 reports of affected animals. The team is advising livestock owners to avoid congregating animals, to prevent the spread of infection. A number of horse shows, rodeos and livestock exhibitions in southern New Mexico have been canceled.

"Animals with any Vesicular Stomatitis symptoms should not be moved from the premises, as this could spread disease to other farms and ranches. The owners or Veterinarians should call the TAHC or USDA immediately for diagnostic assistance," said Dr. Coats.

"To aid in preventing infection, flies should be controlled, and persons should remember to use rubber gloves if they handle any animals that appear to have been infected."

Letter to the Editor

July 4, 1995

Dear Editor:

A friend and I just returned from the parade in Muleshoe. We were very dismayed and disturbed to see the first car in the parade.

It was a Muleshoe Police vehicle with a Mexican flag displayed in front of the American flag.

Why was the Mexican flag on that patrol car? Do they not know the correct procedure to display the American flag?

A Texas flag would have been much more appropriate to be flying with the American flag on this day to honor our nation and to join the celebration of its 219th birthday.

After all, Muleshoe is in Texas in the United States of America. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Jonelle Bandy and
Ila Ruth Gilresth

WE'VE GOT A HEALTHY, HOMETOWN ATTITUDE.

Certified handgun instructor training begins July 17

AUSTIN — DPS began the application process for the certified handgun instructor courses at 8 a.m., June 22. The course is required under the new concealed handgun law for those who want to teach the DPS - authorized handgun proficiency course to the general public.

Those interested in becoming certified instructors may call the DPS at (512) 706-7293 or (512) 706-7294 after 8 a.m. Callers should be prepared to provide preliminary information, and application will be mailed to those who qualify.

The first class for certified handgun instructors is scheduled to begin July 17 at the DPS Training Academy in Austin. The DPS plans to train about 60 students per class.

"The Department will continue the certified handgun instructor course on a weekly basis until all interested applicants are trained," DPS Director Col. James R. Wilson announced.

The registration cost for the instructor course will be $100. The fee will not be refundable to those who don't complete the course. All applicants will be responsible for their own lodging and meals.

Individuals not currently certified to teach other types of handgun courses will undergo 40 hours of instruction. A 28 hour course will be required for those who are defined by law as "currently certified instructors." The DPS will determine whether applicants qualify for the abbreviated training based on current certification and the ability to pass a firing range test.

Applications will be grouped into six geographical regions. The population percentage of each region will determine how many students from that region will be taught in each class.

Therefore, applicants will be accepted for training in a first come basis, taking their geographical locations into consideration. "Instructors will not be authorized to instruct the general public in the proficiency certification course until Sept. 1," Wilson stressed.

Applications will not be accepted from the general public for licenses to carry concealed handguns until Sept. 1. Those application forms will be available in late August at locations to be announced.

While the application periods for concealed handgun licenses begins Sept. 1, no licenses will be valid before Jan. 1, 1996, when the law becomes fully effective.

PUSH America travels with Kids on the Block puppet shoes. Their innovative performance is composed of three skits featuring disabled and non-disabled "kids."

These lifelike puppets talk to their audience about what it's like to grow up with a disability. They give the audience a chance to ask questions.

"We plan to have the puppets at the city swimming pool at 8 p.m. Monday. They will be about town Monday afternoon," Kidd said. "If you see them, make them welcome to Muleshoe."

Jennyslippers will serve a noon meal, an evening meal and, with the help of the Men's Fellowship of the First Baptist Church, will serve breakfast Tuesday, July 11.

Kidd said the public is invited to visit with the PUSH America representatives

Monday night at the First Baptist Church.

The PUSH America team will leave Muleshoe about 7:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The Journey of Hope is a project of PUSH America, the national outreach project of Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity.

Through the work of 145 Pi Kappa Phi chapters at colleges and universities, PUSH America serves the disabled by donating and building adaptive equipment, through educational programs and by promoting volunteerism on college campuses.

The Journey of Hope will reach 20 states in 62 days. Half the cyclists are trekking a northern route to Washington, D.C.; the other is taking the southern path.

The Journey of Hope has raised more than $300,000 to help fund the projects of PUSH America.

The Jennyslippers' float was entitled "Symbols of Freedom" for our nation and our state. Uncle Sam (Dusty Kidd) and Miss Liberty (Stephanie Kirk) stood proudly as Betsy Ross (Nelda Merriott) busily stitched the American flag.

In the float's center, the American flag was graced by children in costumes of many countries representing the many cultures which make up the rich heritage of America.

On the reverse side, the Texas flag flew proudly over little cowboys and cowgirls. The children on the float were mostly Girl Scouts joining with the Jennyslippers in paying tribute to our great nation and the freedoms we enjoy.

Best riding group was the Muleshoe Young Riders.

Larry Mueller of Clovis placed first in the best car division, with the Hispanic Creation from Clovis coming in second.

Winning in the bicycle division was Brittany Williams and Justin Kube, second place.

Minding Your Business

By Don Taylor

No, this is not a column about how our children are doing in school. Nor are we going to address mandatory achievement tests. The school year is already over.

I do want to share a little story I read recently that demonstrates effective business management. The story was an analogy that compared passing responsibility for work to shifting a monkey to someone else's back, that is "passing the monkey."

Recently, a small-business owner made this analogy become very clear to me. During a consulting session, this harried owner complained that he never had enough time to get things done. At the same time, he felt that his employees were spending a lot of time standing around waiting for work they could do.

This businessman's situation is pretty typical. He works hard to improve his business, and takes a very "hands-on" approach toward running it. He has difficulty letting employees make decisions even though he has a very competent crew. He finds it hard to let anyone else take care of any of his monkeys.

Intelligent, but under-motivated employees are quick to take advantage and give the monkey back to the boss. For example, imagine that the manager of a machine shop is walking through the shop when the lathe operator motions him over. "I'm going to need more bar stock soon," the lathe operator states. Then he passes the monkey to the manager saying, "Could you check on our order with the steel company?"

The manager agrees to check and walks off with the monkey.

On the way back to the office the drill press operator hollers at him. When the manager nears the press, the operator tells him the belts are slipping badly. The press operator asks if there are any new belts. The manager says he'll have to look and thereby accepts another monkey.

Arriving back at his office the manager finds more monkeys arriving. A customer brings a cage of monkeys and asks, "Can you look at these blueprint and give me a quote in the morning?"

"I'll do my best," the manager replies, accepting the monkeys. Then the phone rings

Hints offered for prevention of skin cancer

TEMPLE, TX - It's just a little spot on your face, ear or neck. You can't remember how long you've had it - maybe a few months or maybe a couple of years. Maybe it's nothing. Maybe it's cancer.

The bad news is that skin cancer is the most frequent cancer in young women under age 35, and its incidence is increasing rapidly. More than half a million Americans each year develop some form of skin cancer.

Innocent-looking bumps and blemishes shouldn't be ignored - because these people are vulnerable to skin cancers say the physicians at Scott & White Memorial Hospital and Clinic in Temple, Texas.

Scott & White Memorial Hospital and Clinic is one of the nation's largest medical centers, with nearly 440 physicians. Scott & White's mission is to deliver comprehensive, personalized, high-quality, health care enhanced by education and research. The institution consists of the main site in Temple, and 14 regional clinics situated throughout Central Texas.

The good news is that if skin cancer is caught early, the chances are high for a complete cure. "Ninety percent of skin cancers are small and can easily be treated. That's the best time to treat them," said Charles N. Verheyden, M.D., Ph.D., director of the Division of Plastic Surgery and professor with the Texas A&M University Health Science Center College of Medicine. "Unfortunately, when they have progressed, more extensive surgery is indicated."

Earlier detection means quicker, more economical treatment with little pain and scarring, Dr. Verheyden added. Otherwise, delays can be costly, may require extensive surgery under general anesthesia and additional time for recuperation and reconstructive surgery.

Protection from the sun is key

The sun hits hardest on children, who are the most vulnerable and who burn the easiest. However people don't immediately realize the long-term harm because cancers start to appear as they grow older.

"If you have had several bad sunburns as a child under age 18, you're more apt to develop skin cancer later in life," said Dr. Posey, M.D.

"Medical researchers formerly believed that skin cancer was caused by an accumulation of sun exposure after a long period of time.

Now we think that just one childhood severe sunburn with blisters will markedly increase your chance of melanoma and skin cancers by two-fold." In other words, one sunburn in a lifetime is one too many.

People are exposed to two types of UV rays. UVA rays penetrate deeply into the skin, injuring blood vessels and destroying underlying cells, collagen and elastin. UVB radiation that tans your skin also causes sunburn and increases your risk of skin cancer.

"Tanning is your body's response to radiation injury, so today's golden tan may result in cancer 20 years later," Dr. Posey added. One of every six Americans will develop some form of skin cancer.

Safe summer sun for children

Parents should be especially careful to make sure their children are protected from the harmful effects of the sun.

"Eighty percent of the damage is done by the time you're 18," added Jeff Smith, M.D., pediatrician at the Scott & White Clinic, College Station, and assistant professor with the Texas A&M University Health Science Center College of Medicine.

Dr. Smith lists some guidelines for parents who want to assure that their children are protected from the sun:

- *The sun's harmful rays are at their peak during midday. Arrange your child's schedule so that outdoor playtime is before 10 a.m. and after 4 p.m.

- *Insist that your child wear plastic sunglasses and a wide-brimmed hat or baseball cap when outdoors.

- *Use a sun block at least SPF 15, preferably water screens are not appropriate for tiny babies.

- *Apply the sun screen every two hours, even if your child is only in the back yard. If the child is playing in water or sweating, apply the sun screen more frequently.

We want to express our thanks to the community during the recent loss of our loved one, Hershel Baker. Thank you for the prayers, concerns, cards, gifts, food, flowers, phone calls and visits.

Nursing Home News

By Joy Stancell

Sun-soaked and sweet-scented, mid-summer casts its drowsy spell. Meadowlark and black-eyed susans, growing grain, the rumbling of thunder before the rain, all speak to us of summer—the special busy-but-lazy time.

It is nearly impossible to absorb all the richness of the season. But we make our choices, and we try. Tomorrow, I will worry again about the national debt, but today is sunny, the sky is clear and there's corn to shuck . . .

We all had a safe and fun July 4th celebration. We trust you did, too.

Happy July birthday to Blanche Awbrey, 7/02/1906; Cordie Claunch, 7/12/1909 and Helen Tinskey, 7/23/1918.

Blanch Awbrey received cards, gifts, visits and good wishes on her birthday, Sunday, July 2.

I wish to thank all the volunteers who came and for all the wonderful services rendered during the two weeks while I was on vacation.

My appreciation to the Eastern Stars for the un-birthday party; to the Wildlife Refuge for their program, and to Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Shanks, the Rev. Darrell Sanderlin and the Assembly of God, and Jane Reeder for the homemade cookies.

Thanks to Glenda Jennings and Jonessa Brockman, who led the sing-alongs; to Buster and Wanda Kittrell for hosting coffee time; to Melvin and Wanda Griffin for the bingo party; and to Clara Lou Jones' Sunday School class for exercise, devotional time and group reading.

To the beauty shop ladies and to Clifton Finley, Thursie, Vicki and staff—Thank You.

Sunday afternoon the Calvary Baptist came for church services.

Jimmie Espinosa and Sharon Plott entertained for our Fourth of July hamburger cook-out. Conrad Cumpion, our favorite chef, cooked at least 100 hamburger patties for the event.

And to all the volunteers, families, M.A.H.C. employees and staff—thank you for all you did to make this a special celebration.

Our thanks to Mrs. Maddox for the donation of the nice yarn for our residents.

Mrs. Downing received visits from several of her grandchildren during the Fourth celebration.

We wish to express our deepest sympathy to the family and friends of Sylvia Vandiver. We shall miss her, too.

Lillie Wuerfleins' grandchildren and great-grandchildren (all of Frank and Betty's children) were here visiting last week.

Lora Dale and Rosa Sneed attended services at the First Assembly of God Sunday.

We wish to thank the Muleshoe A.A.R.P. for their donation.

Guy Kendall was visited by his granddaughter Tuesday. Betty Harlan of Bula and Ruth Corder of Redmond, OR, visited Nell Parkinson and Cordie Claunch recently.

Our thanks to Five Area Telephone for the use of their tables and chairs and for the deliver and pick-up service.

Santos, Terrell united in marriage in San Antonio

Shannon Lynette Santos and Scott Thomas Terrell were united in marriage June 10 at the St. Pius X Catholic Church in San Antonio, with the Monsignor William Martin officiating.

Shelli Stegall, the groom's sister, of Muleshoe, Jennifer Dimando of San Antonio, Kristi Dryzmallo of Adkins, Elizabeth Brooks of Austin, and Jenny Covill of San Antonio were bridesmaids.

Groomsmen were the groom's father, Thomas Terrell of Albany, David Smith of Stanton, Brian Santos (the brides' brother) of Austin, Brian Holtzclaw of San Marcus and T.J. Davis (the groom's cousin).

Jennifer Trevino of Dallas served as the maid of honor, and Shane Terrell, the groom's brother, was best man. Cassie Stegall of Muleshoe, the groom's niece, Autumn and Aspen Moorhead of Stephenville, (the groom's cousins), and Lauren Dimando (the brides' cousin) of San Antonio, all served a flowergirls.

Shannon is the daughter of Richard Santos and Susan Pena of San Antonio. Scott is the son of Thomas W. and Doyleen Terrell of Albany, formerly of the Three Way Community.

Grandparents of the groom include D.V. Terrell of Maple and Margie Davis of Lubbock.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown with appliques of lace and pearls. It featured a scalloped portrait neckline and heavily beaded fitted bodice tapering to a vee in front and back.

Fabric roses adorned each side of the bodice, where beaded and lace inlay straight sleeves were attached. Tiny pearl buttons closed the fingertip lace sleeves.

The floor-length full skirt was embellished with beadwork, and fabric roses were featured in the back as the full flowing train fell from the waistline. The finished ivory tulle, bouffant veil was attached to a beaded headpiece.

Something new was her wedding dress, something old

was the groom's grandmother's engagement ring, something blue was her garter.

The groom wore a black double breasted tuxedo with ivory brocade vest and tie.

The bride's father hosted a reception at the Fort Sam Houston Officers Club following the wedding.

The bride is a graduate of the Texas Tech University Nursing School and is currently employed at Cook Children's Hospital in Fort Worth as a pediatric oncology nurse.

Meanwhile, the lathe operator runs out of bar stock and digs out a magazine to read while the boss checks on the order. The drill press operator plods along at 20 percent efficiency while the slipping-belt monkey hags forgotten around the manager's neck.

Smart managers soon learn to hand the monkeys back. In the previous illustration, the manager could instruct the lathe operator to call the steel company and check on the delivery. "Let me know where it stands," he instructs as he walks away without the monkey.

When the manager confronts the slipping belt problem, he first asks the operator to check the belt tension. If tightening the belts doesn't solve the problem, he directs the operator to get the belt number and give it to the office manager who will order a set right away.

Of course, there are some problems that will require the manager to take care of the monkeys. For example, he will gladly accept the customer's cage of monkeys. He'll enlist the help of others to have the quote finished and faxed by early the next morning.

Occasionally, monkey problems will reappear again and again. Despite good management, some problems come with a monkey-back guarantee.

Prayer and a Lesson Learned in the Garden

A time of trouble is a time to pray. James tells us plainly, "Is any of you in trouble? He should pray" (5:13). Have you tried it? What happened?

Maybe the answer to your prayer was a wonderful, reassuring, "Yes!" Remember the time you prayed for a dear

Focus On Faith
Curtis Shelburne

one in a life-threatening situation to live, and to the doctors' utter amazement, he did! Or remember the time you prayed for the troubled marriage of dear friends and watched in grateful awe as they got serious about making their marriage work? Maybe you prayed for an answer to what seemed like a "no-win" situation, and then God amazed you with just the right answer. Those are wonderful experiences for which we gratefully rejoice.

This column is not about those experiences. Those we can handle! Not nearly so wonderful are the times when we feel deep need, we pray, and the only answer is either an absolute refusal or, what may be worse, deep silence.

What about the time you prayed at your loved one's bed, and then he died? Or the time you prayed for your friends' marriage, but it only got worse? Or the time you prayed earnestly regarding a baffling problem, and it just remained baffling? What then?

Then we must learn the lesson of Gethsemane. Nothing was wrong with Jesus' faith when he prayed, "Father, if it be possible, remove this cup from me" But the cup of suffering was still pressed to his lips. You see, he had also prayed, "...not my will, but thine be done." Jesus' primary concern in his anguished prayer was not that he avoid a cross, though he wished he could; Jesus' main concern was to submit himself to God's will. Jesus' prayer did not change that will, but through it he found strength to walk even up Calvary's hill to the cross.

"Prayer changes things," the saying goes. Sometimes, in amazing ways, it does. But more often and in some ways maybe more amazing are the times God uses prayer to change the pray-er and grants the strength to walk in that will—even under the weight of a cross. In that answer, too, we see the hand of God. Curtis Shelburne is minister of the 15th & Avenue D Church of Christ in Muleshoe.

A VISIT TO THE FARM

Remember those wonderful carefree days when we visited the old farm. We awoke with the sun, scampering out of bed, not wanting to miss a single minute playing in the corn fields or even doing chores like feeding Grandpa's horses. And with a cane pole over our shoulder walking down the dusty lanes toward the cool shady stock tank and an hour's fishing before Grandmother called us in to a real farm style supper.

Can we forget those quiet Sunday mornings as we rode the wagon into town to the small church and bowed our heads and thanked God for the rich harvest we had reaped from His fertile earth.

The days of our childhood are but warm memories now; but the peace we knew as children in that small country church can still be found today. Renew your pledge to God and once again enjoy the rich bountiful harvest His church can bring into your life.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His command for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long survive, and the freedom which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because, as with the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

"TEXAS" the musical drama is celebrating its 30th season this summer in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Amarillo and Canyon, Texas.

Jennifer Baker is a newcomer to the hospitality staff of "TEXAS." She is a freshman at West Texas A & M University in Canyon where she is majoring in public relations.

Baker is actively involved in the WT Band, the Baptist Student Union, and the First Baptist Church of Canyon. She is the granddaughter of Chester and Elinor Yerby of 610 West Avenue J, and Thora Baker of

He performed in the Wayland Baptist University's production of "The Music Man", and he did makeup and set construction for "Fiddler on the Roof."

Ag loans available to 1st-time buyers

AUSTIN — The Texas Agricultural Finance Authority, administered through the Texas Department of Agriculture, is accepting applications for a new loan program that helps individuals purchase up to $150,000 worth of farm or ranch land, Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said.

"Our Farm and Ranch Finance Program is for producers who want to buy their first place or for those who want to expand their operations," Perry said. "Applicants must have at least three years of farming or ranching experience."

A Texas A&M University study conducted among producers and financial institutions in May 1994 found that a demand exists in Texas for almost $300 million in loans to help individuals, who are farming and ranching, buy land, Perry said.

"Many producers nowadays lease land and have been unable to save enough for a down payment," Perry said. "Our Farm and Ranch Program will allow those who don't have a large amount of cash on hand to buy a limited amount of acreage."

Applicants must be Texas residents and show that they have earned at least 25 percent of their gross income from farming and ranching over the last three years.

Applicants will be required to complete a business plan demonstrating that they intend to be full-time agricultural producers, and they must provide evidence that their net worth is less than $250,000.

Applicants also must prove that they have finances available for necessary farming and ranching equipment and operating costs.

Applications must be completed with a local lending institution. The maximum loan of $150,000 may not exceed 95 percent of the land's appraised value or 95 percent of the purchase price. Interest rates are based on market conditions and will be adjusted over the life of the loan. The rates must be approved by the lender and the Texas Agriculture Finance Authority. As of June 5, the interest rate was 9.75 percent.

In addition to the Farm and Ranch Finance Program, changes have been made in TAFAs Young Farmer Guarantee Program to encourage more applicants. The program was established to help those between 18 and 40 years of age start their first agricultural operation.

Loans guarantees may be used for purchases of feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock, poultry, farm or ranch equipment, farm or ranch buildings or to lease farm or ranch land.

Changes in the Young Farmer program are that maximum amount of agricultural income an applicant may earn to be eligible for the program has been increased from 25 to 50 percent; the down payment has been reduced from 20 to 5 percent; and the program's application form has been streamlined. Applicants will still be required to complete a five-year business plan.

To receive an application for any loan program administered by TAFAs, or for more information about these loan programs and others, call TDA in Austin at (512) 475-1619; fax (512) 475-1762 or write: the Texas Agricultural Finance Authority, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711-2847.
