Wade Believes | Head Of International League Began Career As A Sand Lotter

MONTREAL, Nov. 5 (UP) — With the appointment of Frank Shaughnessy, as president of the International Baseball League, Montreal now, has the honor of housing two presidents of great international sports bodies. The other is Frank Calder.

president of the National Hockey By a strange coincidence, both are red-haired, both can shoot a good game of golf in the 90s and both have pleasant personalities. But there the comparison ends. Calder never played hockey, but attained and retained his position through shrewd Scottish sagacity, the ability to see far ahead, and sound administration.

Like Horatio Alger's Hero Shaughnessy's rise, from the sand lots of Illinois to the leather upholstered swivel chair that represents the supreme command in the International baseball league, has a touch of the Hor-Alger to it. Just a few months ago "Shag" was displaced from the driver's seat of the Montreal Royal's basebull club because the team was laboring heavily and couldn't make the play-off grade. A year ago "Shag" had piloted Royals to their first International League pennant in 40 years. "Shag's" unanimous appointment to the presidency of the International League has been well received here. Baseball officials and fans alike believe that it was fitting that the Irishman with Scottish sagacity, with the shamblin bow-legs, should have was his shrewd, practical brain and convincing personality which saved the league from a pauper's

It was "Shag" who virtually forced the International League to adopt its present play-off sysem which has back-fired a great many dollars into the tressuries of the clubs and the league.

Promoted Pro-War League Shaughnessy's one promotorial venture, founding a Canadian baseball league, ended when his supply of red ink was exhausted war was declared. After the war, in which he served as a captain of Canadian field artillery, he was manager of the Hamilton, Ont., team in the Michigan-Ontario League. Later he moved onward and upward to the International League as manager of Reading and Syracuse in urn. He then coached the Detroit Tigers for two seasons.

His one lapse was his entry into the brokerage business. He soon reformed, however, and returned to sports as manager and later as business manager of the Montreal Royals. "Shag" started his baseball career on the sand lots of Illinois, later moving up to the faster college game with Notre Dame, on to the major league and then to the minors as a player. He takes over the presidential

Caused by Tired Kidneys Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking arcess neids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work wall, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backsches, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up night, swel-torms of decades. That was the real surprise of the cans. lection. President Roosevelt's vicory was plainly written to the eye of most political observers weeks before the balloting day. What startled onlookers were the propor-tions of his sweep, the fact that it almost obliterated sectional lines and voter group cleavages, and may even have carried across major party confines to an extent not yet o be estimated.

The congressional outcome was different. No hints from the voter masses foreshadowed increased emocratic strength in both houses Substantial republican gains in the house at least were widely expect-ed. Inner democratic councils expected them. If Mr. Roosevelt be-fore his re-election mapped the ourse of his future policy in any detail, he must have done so in the expectation that the legislation he might seek must be forged out on an anvil of strengthened minority pposition.

Whether the actual size of his cictory and its accompanying congressional party increases would cause a revision of presidential plans in the light of enlarged party power in congress remained a matter of guesswork. Presumably, if new deal legislative actions of next session are to be tried out in the fire of opposition criticism, much of that opposition to be effective must be furnished by the president's own party ranks.

The First Christian church here joining in the purpose of the Preaching Mission with a one-week series of meetings starting Sunday. The pastor, Rev. G. C. Schurman, will conduct the meetings, assisted by Rev. A. L. Haley of Colorado.

Interested Crowd

An interested audience Wednes-day night heard Evangelist John R. Denning, conducting revival services at the Fundamentalist tabernacle, discuss the subject, "What Transpires Between Death and the Resurrection." The vangelist asserted that, according to interpretation of the scripture death is not the end, but an endless beginning, for both the saved and the unsaved. Their souls are never in a state of oblivion, he said, but are wholly conscious of their surroundings from the moment of and Lazarus.
