

Freed Americans receive tribute

WASHINGTON (AP) — In celebration of freedom, 52 hostages delivered from Iranian bondage took the salute of their countrymen Tuesday — and President Reagan coupled his homecoming tribute with a vow of "swift and effective retribution" should terrorists ever again seize American captives.

From a platform draped with an American flag for each of the former hostages, Reagan said the world must understand that "there are limits to our patience."

Rejoicing in the return of the hostages, freed just as he took office a week ago, Reagan said there were no words better than the simplest of words to speak the feelings of the nation:

"Welcome home."

"Our flight to freedom is now complete," replied Bruce Laingen, deputy chief of mission in Tehran when the hostages were taken.

"Mr. President, I give you ... 53 Americans who will always have a love affair with this country and who join you in a prayer of thanksgiving for the way in which this crisis has strengthened the spirit and resilience and strength that is the mark of a truly free country."

The 52 were freed last Tuesday. The 53rd, Richard Queen, was released more than six months ago because of ill health.

Reagan sounded his stern message in an address to the former hostages and a crowd of about 6,000 gathered on the South Lawn of the White House.

He said his warning was meant to safeguard all those who serve America abroad.

"I'll not be so foolish as to say forget what you've been through," the president told the freed captives. "You never will."

"But turn the page and look ahead, and do so knowing that for all who serve their country, whether in the foreign service, the military or as private citizens, freedom is indivisible."

"Your freedom and your individual dignity are much cherished," Reagan said. "In the representation of this nation, you will be accorded every means of protection America can muster."

"Let terrorists be aware that when the rules of international behavior are violated, our policy will be one of swift and effective retribution," he said.

"We hear it said that we live in an era of limits to our power. Well, let it also be understood, there are limits to our patience."

The leaders of American government were assembled on the misty lawn, with delegations from the State Department, the Department of Defense, and the International Communications Agency, colleagues of the former hostages. So, too, were the families of the eight Americans who died in a failed attempt to rescue the hostages.

The names of the former hostages were read in alphabetical order before Reagan led them to their place of honor for the White House welcome. He stood, applauding, as they took their places on the platform.

Thousands upon thousands of people lined the route into the city and along Pennsylvania Avenue to the White House, in cheering, flag-waving tribute to a their motorcade of commuter buses.

The sidewalks were seas of yellow ribbons. A huge American flag hung over the avenue in an archway formed by the ladders of two firetrucks.

Yellow ribbons decked the buses, too, as the freed hostages and their families returned wave for wave. One held out a placard: "Buy Iraqi war bonds." Confetti and streamers rained down on the 16-block route that was the path of Reagan's inaugural parade a Tuesday ago.

Reagan, elected during their captivity and inaugurated as they were released, said they had come home "to a people who, for 444 days, suffered the pain of your imprisonment, prayed for your safety and, most importantly, shared your determination that the spirit of free men and women is not a fit subject for barter."

"You have represented, under great stress, the highest traditions of public service," he said.

Reagan said that while it was not the time to review "every abhorrent detail of your cruel confinement, believe me, we know what happened."

Laingen, charge d'affairs at the embassy captured by Iranian militants on Nov. 4, 1979, spoke for the former hostages, to the president and "all you beautiful people out there."

Tech Ex-Students President acquaints himself with job

By JOEL BRANDENBERGER
UD Staff Writer

"There is a difference between just being a university and being a super-university. I think, with a lot of work, Tech could be a super-university—someday," James Gulley said.

Gulley, president of the Tech Ex-

Students Association and candidate for a position on the Board of Regents, was on campus Tuesday to get acquainted with his ex-students job.

Gulley graduated from Tech in 1949 and is an independent oil man in Tyler.

"The secret to making Tech a super-university is to start getting the money.

We need to start getting the endowed chairs," Gulley said.

Better coordination within the development department is one key to fund-raising, Gulley said.

"I think we need a solid department of development to get the funds we normally wouldn't," he said. "And, I think (Tech President Lauro) Cavazos is trying to get us one."

"We often had people over there who just didn't know what they were doing, who couldn't coordinate things and get the endowed chairs for the school," Gulley said.

Gulley said Tech receives a lot of money from loyal people, but the school doesn't try to get money from new sources.

"We need to go out there and talk to the area cotton farmer who has tended his business well but doesn't have people to leave all of his money to," Gulley said.

"If we could talk him into donating some to us, it would help. People are mistaken if they think they're going to take the money with them. You can't send a check ahead and expect to pick it up on arrival."

Gulley said his visit to Tech was strictly related to his job with the ex-students and had nothing to do with a possible regents appointment.

"I really wish I could help clear up some of these rumors about the regents stuff, but I truly don't know anything," Gulley said.

"I'm honored to be considered, to be sure," he said. "I know my resume has been sent in. But, beyond that, I just don't know much about the appointment."

Gulley, along with Rex Fuller of Lubbock, Jean Mayher of Fort Worth and Ann Phillips of Frisco, is a candidate for one of three regents positions that will be vacated Saturday.

Gulley said he had not talked with Gov. Bill Clements about the appointment, but guessed the appointments would be made no later than the end of this week.

"I was in Washington with Clements and some of those people for the inauguration, but I didn't ask them about the regent post," he said.

Fuller and Phillips were also in Washington for President Ronald Reagan's inauguration, but Gulley said he only saw Fuller.

Gulley said he was interested to hear that Phillips was also a candidate for a regent position.

"I've never met her, but I've known B.F. (Phillips, her husband) for years, and I'm doing some drilling for her, but I've never met her personally," Gulley said.

"I don't know much about her qualifications," Gulley said. "However, I think Tech needs both good men and women who are willing to spend some of their time on the board."

No, this man has not been run over. Senior David Herbert of Lubbock works under his '65 mustang but needs one more tool to complete the task. (Photo by Mark Rogers)

Student majority feel Reagan will reduce nation's problems

By DOUG SIMPSON
UD Staff Writer

The majority of students responding Tuesday to a University Center Programs poll said they expect President Reagan to be successful in reducing inflation and unemployment and in having a positive impact on the American presidency.

A total of 154 persons were polled from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the UC.

Ninety-two persons, or about 66 percent of the total number responding, said Reagan's economic policies will succeed in lowering inflation. Seventy-four respondents said the new administration will be able to reduce unemployment, and 113 persons, or about 81 percent, said they believe Reagan will have a "beneficial" impact on the U.S. presidency.

Seventy-four respondents said Reagan should follow through on the hostage agreement. A total of 112 persons believe the new president will enhance the nation's international prestige, and the same number of respondents said they agree with Reagan's commitment to increasing the defense budget.

Seventy-six persons said the president will be able to reduce governmental waste. Eighty percent said they agree with Reagan's recent freeze on the hiring of federal employees.

Only about 25 percent of the respondents said Reagan should actively work for a "Right to Life" (anti-abortion) amendment.

Ninety-four persons said the power of the president should remain the same, while 32 said power should be increased and 21 opted for a decrease in presidential power.

Decreasing the role of the federal government and balancing the budget were selected as the most important objectives for the new administration.

Some persons chose not to answer all the questions, said Tim

Walker of UC Programs' Ideas and Issues Committee.

"Reagan's decision on the hostage agreement should be based strictly on what is best for our country," said Tech student Blair Lecker. "Beefing up America's defenses and improving our world standing should be the administration's most important objective."

"Most people expect the president to be able to perform miracles," said David Lanning. "It is easy to see why there have been single-term presidents. Until the general attitude of Americans changes toward the benefit of the country instead of special interest groups, little change can be expected."

Steve Tanner said a cooperative congress will be the key to Reagan's ability to eliminate governmental waste.

"He will bring a classy image to the presidency," Tanner said. "The president must have class and try not to be the hometown boy. He is our nation's leader, not a senior class president."

Patricia Lancaster said Reagan's presidency will have a negative impact.

"If he helps get us into a war, like I think he will, his impact will be detrimental," she said.

"Americans already have more confidence in government since Reagan took office," Jonathan Humphries said. "He will add to our country's strength economically. His social abilities will give us more prestige. And at least he will be trying for some positive results."

Sally Davis said Reagan will be the greatest president in America's history.

"I'll support whatever he decides," she said. "He is dignified and responsible, and he commands respect. His power should be increased. Carter's power should have been decreased."

Power struggle pressing in Iran

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—A power struggle between Iran's clergy-dominated hardliners and President Abolhassan Bani Sadr's secular moderates escalated Tuesday, with the president charging opponents plotted twice in the past two months to assassinate him.

The hardliners rallying behind Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajai claimed Bani Sadr's supporters attacked and ransacked their Islamic Republican Party's headquarters in the northeastern city of Mashhad, chanting "close the nest of spies."

Islamic revolutionaries used "spy nest" to signify the U.S. Embassy in Tehran during the 444-day hostage ordeal that also became a focal point in Bani Sadr's struggle with the clergy.

Bani Sadr recently stepped up his criticism of the handling of the hostage crisis, claiming the agreement with the United States negotiated by Rajai and his hardline associates will return to Iran only $3 billion of the $11 billion in funds frozen after the hostages were seized Nov. 4, 1979.

The Iranian president also claims that Iran could have reached a more favorable agreement with the United States, that the agreement does not conform with conditions set down earlier for the hostages' release and that the hostage-taking is responsible for Iran's current difficulties, including its war with Iraq.

Rajai has defended the hostage agreement, saying the country's problems result from the upheaval of revolution, not from the holding of hostages.

Iran's internal bickering sharpened against the backdrop of its slow war of attrition with Iraq in Iran's southwestern oil province of Khuzistan and the western highlands. This is the 19th week of the war with Iraq.

Bani Sadr disclosed the alleged assassination plots in a daily war diary he writes in his Tehran newspaper, Enghelab Islami.

Assassins were to shoot the president during a speech at a mass rally in the Khuzistan capital of Ahwaz to mark the Shiite Moslem holy anniversary of Ashura, Nov. 19, Bani Sadr wrote. He said the plot was discovered in advance by paramilitary units in Ahwaz.

The president wrote that the army's secret service reported the second plot to him Jan. 14, saying his motorcade was to be attacked by rocket-propelled grenade during one of his trips along the war front.

Although Bani Sadr did not identify the alleged plotters by name, he left no doubt that he was referring to his domestic political rivals when he wrote that in both instances the plotters planned to declare national mourning after the assassination.

In the event of an Iranian president's death, only the prime minister or parliament has the power to proclaim national mourning.

Islamic leaders call for unity

TAIF, Saudi Arabia (AP) — The 37-nation Islamic summit displayed unity on the emotional issue of Jerusalem Tuesday and rallied behind new calls for a "jihad" or "holy war" to wrest the Holy City from Israeli control.

Both Morocco's moderate King Hassan and PLO guerrilla chief Yasser Arafat urged united action to regain Arab sovereignty over Jerusalem.

After the speeches, Arafat — dressed in a battle jacket and checked headress — walked arm and arm with the North African monarch from the glittering $300 million conference hall.

But as the summit neared its end on Wednesday, differences remained on how to handle such divisive issues as the Iran/Iraq war and a resolution to condemn Soviet intervention in Afghanistan.

Iran and Libya have boycotted the summit and Egypt and Afghanistan have been suspended from the 42-nation Islamic Conference.

In his speech, Hassan was careful to define "jihad" as a "moral and material struggle" rather than a military campaign against the Jewish state.

Passenger ship burns, sinks

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A burning Indonesian passenger ship sank Tuesday in the storm-tossed Java Sea and officials said 570 people were missing and feared drowned in what was believed to be the country's worst sea disaster.

Government spokesmen said 566 of the 1,136 people aboard the Tampomas 2 were rescued, but the fate of the others was unknown.

A flotilla of 11 Indonesian navy vessels searched for survivors, but rough seas kept all but one from coming close to the burning ship.

More than 60 rubber dinghies were air-dropped into the stormy waters, a shipping official said.

The 2,420-ton Tampomas 2 caught fire Sunday night while crossing the Java Sea from Jakarta to Ujung Pandang, 1,000 miles to the east. It was about 220 miles from its destination when the fire broke out, possibly in one of the 166 cars aboard.

Indonesian officials said the fire caused "almost uncontrolled panic" among the 1054 passengers and 82 crew members aboard.

A government official said 149 panicked passengers who jumped into the sea Sunday night to get away from the fire were rescued by another Indonesian passenger boat, the K.M. Sanghi.

Horse Thieves hit Garland

GARLAND, Texas (AP) — Thirteen horses have been stolen from area stables in the past two weeks, a rash of thefts that has horse owners carrying guns and threatening to band together to protect their property, despite police warnings of the possible consequences.

"It's a powder keg," said Bill Taylor of the Lazy J stables here. "Two women were out checking their horses and they almost shot each other the other night."

Seven thefts were made from two stables inside the city limits of this Dallas suburb, four of them at the Diamond Eight Stable on Monday, and "one of them was a $10,000 cutting horse," said Garland police officer John Hamilton.

The stable padlock was cut and the four horses, valued at a total of $18,000, were stolen sometime before dawn. They included a mare and a Shetland pony that belonged to a 5-year-old boy, Chase Deadman.

Budget emergency declared

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements cleared the way Tuesday for House committees to begin work on appropriations by submitting the $26 billion two-year state budget bill as an emergency matter.

House failure to suspend a legislative schedule prescribed by the Texas Constitution prevents committee hearings before Feb. 12 except on bills declared emergencies by the governor.

Clements' message said he was submitting the budget bill for emergency consideration "so the House of Representatives may begin hearings."

Court rules against Indians

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The claim of three Indian tribes that an 1817 treaty entitles them to free education at the University of Michigan was rejected Tuesday by the state Court of Appeal.

The court upheld a February 1979 ruling by Washtenaw County Circuit Judge Edward Deake dismissing a class-action suit filed against the university by members of the Chippewa, Ottawa and Potawatomy tribes and their descendants.

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market posted a sharp gain today, halting a six-day decline.

The market broke out of its recent slump amid statements by Reagan administration officials on the president's economic plans, including word that Reagan would make a televised economic address to the nation next week.

This morning, Treasury Secretary Donald Regan said Reagan will shortly propose a "bold, innovative economic recovery plan."

Reagan also urged that Congress approve tax cuts to take effect as soon as possible, and predicted that the administration could balance the federal budget within two years.

The market's rally sputtered in the late going after the government reported that December durable goods orders rose a seasonally adjusted 1.9 percent, providing evidence of a resilient economy.

Weather

A high near the 70's is expected today while the low will edge near the 30's. It will be partly cloudy with southerly winds of 15 to 20 mph.

College of Engineering receives mini-grant for undergraduate study from Western Electric

By REAGAN WHITE
UD Staff Writer

Western Electric Co. has made a mini-grant of $1,500 to Tech's College of Engineering and also has given the college microfiche of the classic Hawthorne industrial engineering study, one of the first to investigate the effects of improved worker environment.

The grant for undergraduate education and the microfiche were presented to engineering Dean John R. Bradford by W. J. Russel, the chief of engineering at the Mesquite branch of the Western Electric Co.

The grant was one of 104 given for science and engineering education in the United States. Tech has been a recipient of the Western Electric academic grants each year since they were begun six years ago.

Bradford said the grant was earmarked for no specific purpose other than to help develop quality in various programs within the college.

Most grants are for use by specific departments within the college, but three or four grants are of the same variety as the Western Electric grant, which is unrestricted as to its use in the college, he said.

The money is used for many different purposes, such as sending faculty to meetings and conferences when state funds are not available, or for sending students to similar conferences, since students are never able to use state funds for such purposes, Bradford said.

The money also is used to match monies given from other sources for equipment purchases and occasionally to bring in speakers, he said.

"This grant is primarily used to add to and develop programs in areas where state money is insufficient, or where the law prohibits the use of state money," Bradford said.

Western Electric Co.'s other gift, the microfiche of the Hawthorne Industrial Engineering study, has been housed in the library of the Department of Industrial Engineering, he said.

The Hawthorne study, one of the first to analyze employee work environments, was made in the 1920's. Various conditions, such as arrangement of tables and seating, brightness of lighting and locations of the assembly lines were periodically changed, with all conditions eventually being returned to exactly the way they were prior to the study.

During the study, production was up at the plant, even after all conditions were returned to their original state.

Boy wins national sewing contest

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Robert Hyatt, the only boy entered in a national sewing contest, loughed by the swimming pool at a San Antonio hotel and savored his victory.

Hyatt, 16, of Ridgefield, Wash., pausing to wave across the pool to a girl, said he enjoyed surprising boys and girls alike with his ability to sew. He defeated 52 female competitors from 27 states to win the contest.

Hyatt modeled a zippered fleece-lined jacket and gray slacks that he created to win the junior division for youths aged 14 to 16, of the 36th Annual Make It Yourself With Wool national finals Monday night.

Hyatt said he does not expect any ribbing from his male friends because of his sewing prowess.

"As a matter of fact, it's kinda neat being the only guy here," said Hyatt, whose Copenhagen blue wool jacket with raglan sleeves was lined with acrylic fur. He used elastic casing for the sleeves and waist of his jacket and three gray wool stripes accented the sleeves and matched his Western-style wool slacks.

Hyatt said his sewing has not detracted from his other activities, pointing out he was co-captain of his school's football team and also is on the basketball, baseball, wrestling and track and field teams at View Ridge Middle School in Vancouver, Wash.

"Mom is a sewing teacher, and I began to notice how much fun the three of them (mother and two sisters) seemed to have sewing together...and well, I guess I wanted to get in on it," Hyatt said in explaining his interest in sewing.

"I don't have much time to sew, but it's fun occasionally to sew something and surprise people who think guys can only throw footballs," said Hyatt.

Custom autos shipped to Royal Saudi family

BONN, West Germany (AP) — A local firm has shipped two $50,000 custom-made falconing cars, equipped with padded thrones, to the Saudi Arabian royal family, it was reported Tuesday.

Built by the Miesen Company, the vehicles are equipped with special seats "tailored to the posterior proportions of the King (Khalid)," a company spokesman was quoted as saying by the General Anzeiger newspaper of Bonn.

The right arm rest of each royal seat is a bit lower than the left, because the king is said to prefer leaning to his right. Each sand-colored "falcon wagon" also is equipped with a padded, jute-covered perch that will accommodate 14 hunting birds.

Milk Prices Drop for Tech Students 60¢ per Gallon At Flatlander Dairy
Thousands of Lubbock citizens are now driving out to Flatlander Dairy located on Quaker Avenue one mile north of the Clovis Road, and saving money.
This dairy fresh milk is sold at $1.75 per gallon, to Tech students, plus the initial 50¢ deposit for a gleaming crystal clear glass jug in which all Flatlander Milk is delivered. Flatlander Grade "A" whole raw milk is superior in quality as a natural food. It is not robbed of nutritional values by being subjected to the heating process used in pasteurization.
For thousands of Tech students Grade "A" Raw Whole Milk is going to be a thrilling discovery. Raw milk is a basic natural food and man has not found a way to improve upon the nutritional goodness of this remarkable health food.
Raw milk is high in many of the vitamins required to maintain a healthy, energetic body. It is high in Vitamin C, Vitamin E, Vitamin B<sup>2</sup>, and Riboflavin. When milk is subjected to the heating process of pasteurization, 95% of the enzymes in the milk that aid the body in utilizing protein, fats, sugar, and starches are destroyed.
Raw milk is a wonderful source of Calcium which is essential to good health. Most people do not get enough calcium. When raw milk is pasteurized, the calcium availability is affected unfavorably by the heating process.
If a person is under stress and has a very heavy work load, a glass of rich creamy Flatlander whole milk from your refrigerator will give a wonderful energy lift within a few minutes.
One thousand gallons of rich whole Grade "A" Flatlander milk has been rationed for the students of Texas Tech, but the allotment can be quickly increased as the demand grows.

Short shorts

Comedian Bob Newhart is "deceptively serious" in this scene from Warner Bros. "First Family," as he tells the nation about a trade agreement between the U.S. and Upper Gorm, tons of manure to grow giant vegetables in exchange for 1,000 middle-class whites. "First Family" deserved no better than a 1.8 in the Short Shorts GPA. In other words, no vote.

The rating system for Lifestyles' Short Shorts is the same as Tech's GPA grading system with 4.0 being excellent and 0.0 deserving no credit whatsoever. The movies are rated by members of the UD staff. Initials of the reviewer appear following the short. PB/Pat Barton; JH/John Hardwick; LM/Laurie Massagill; RM/Ronnie McKeown; CW/Clay Wright.

A CHANGE OF SEASONS (UA Cinema) For A Change of Seasons, only a change of cast could possibly save this film. Even then, the less-than-credible plot, shaky dialogue and disappointing performances would drag the picture down. Two proven actors, Anthony Hopkins and Shirley MacLaine, prove nothing with their substandard performances. Bo Derek is deplorable. She should be listed with the scenery rather than with the cast. She certainly can't act. Derek does manage to jiggle through the credits during a hot tub scene with Hopkins, so get there early if that's what you're going to this picture for. On second thought, even a change of cast might not help here. Plain and simple, A Change of Seasons is a lousy film. Lifestyles GPA: 1.5 LM.

CHEAPER TO KEEP HER (Showplace 6) Though this is singer Mac Davis' first true starring role in a movie, the "humble" entertainer appears as the only convincing actor in the film. Davis came across well as a divorcee out to get every woman he runs into. The film's only laughable moments are when Davis is on the screen. In short, the other characters—especially the Spanish-accented secretary, Teresa—prove to be tedious fillers in the plot. It's worth the price, however, to laugh at the man who finds it "so hard to be humble." Lifestyles GPA: 3.2 RM.

HANGAR 18 (Cinema West) Some movies are worth paying several dollars for; some aren't worth any money to go see. This film is one you should pay to get out of. Don't be misled by the advertisements—it is not a docu-drama of an actual event. It's simply an idiotic story about a UFO and two space shuttle pilots who try to expose the big "cover-up." Want to know the reason for the big "cover-up"? It so happens the presidential election is in two weeks, and obviously no one will vote for the president if it gets out that he actually believes in UFOs. The whole movie has a 12-year-old mentality; science fiction fans will be totally insulted. The dialogue is stilted and contrived, the special effects are pathetic (the UFO is lined with aluminum foil), and the entire plot is nauseatingly predictable. The only good thing about this piece of trash is the actors it presents—Darren McGavin, Robert Vaughn, Joseph Campanella, and others (they must have been really hungry). Unfortunately, the best actors in the universe couldn't pull this one out of the sewer. Lifestyles GPA: 0.1 SS.

THE FIRST FAMILY (Fox 4) The script for The First Family has a Saturday Night Live flavor to it...sometimes tasteless. I expected more from writer/director Buck Henry, a frequent guest on SNL. Though rarely is the film openly offensive, The First Family is an insult to the intelligence of the audience members and an embarrassment to a fine cast. The first half of the film flows fairly well with some really funny sketches, but is completely overshadowed by the ridiculous conclusion. While the cast, overall, gives excellent performances, even the impressive players can't overcome the stupid script. The First Family is not recommended for anyone who likes cast members Bob Newhart, Gilda Radner and Madeline Kahn. You'll be sorely disappointed. Lifestyles GPA: 1.8 LM.

THE IDOLMAKER (Mann 4) This film documenting the politics of the music industry is one of the better films in the city, but it's about to leave this theater after only one week. See it while you can. Ray Sharkey gives an excellent as the idolmaker, a singer-songwriter who feels he doesn't have the look it takes to be a star. But he does have the drive for success to make two young singers idols in his place. The music is of the '60s sound. The soundtrack should be a hit. Lifestyles GPA: 3.7 LM.

THE MIRROR CRACK'D (Cinema West) Another case where the big boys brought in the big guns and used blanks. The Mirror Crack'd is chockfull of big names like Liz Taylor, Rock Hudson, Angela Lansbury, Geraldine Chaplin, Tony Curtis, Kim Novak and Edmund Fox. Unfortunately, performance-wise, most of the names don't live up to their reputations. Taylor, especially, is a disappointment. She plays an aged actress trying to make a comeback, much like her real-life situation. At this rate, she might not be too successful. Not to say that any of the actors gave bad performances, just nothing sterling. Lansbury did give one of the best performances as an amateur sleuth trying to solve the mystery of some unexplained murders on Taylor's movie set. As a murder mystery, The Mirror Crack'd is up to author Agatha Christie's high standards and thoroughly enjoyable as a heart-stopper, at times. Lovely locations in London and Kent, England. Lifestyles GPA: 2.8 LM.

9 TO 5 (Winchester) Kudos to everyone involved with this picture. 9 to 5 may not be the kind of Serious Dramatic Achievement that invariably pulls off all the Oscars, but look at the box office totals this year, and this film will be at the top of the heap. If you need a laugh, Dolly Parton, Lily Tomlin and Jane Fonda should be able to provide one in this comedy on office life. At first glance, Fonda seems out of her element (no controversy in the secretarial pool, certainly), but she manages to suit herself to the role and, in fact, give a strong statement against sexual discrimination. Parton is excellent in her first movie role. She is also responsible for the title cut "9 to 5," played ad nauseum on local radio stations, but that's certainly not her fault. Tomlin's sarcastic humor is also admirable. One of the better comedy offerings from the holiday avalanche of releases. Lifestyles GPA: 3.5 LM.

ORDINARY PEOPLE (Showplace 6) The script is strictly TV "Movie of the Week" material, but some excellent acting performances make Ordinary People a fine feature length movie. The mother, played by Mary Tyler Moore, is basically concerned with keeping the family's image intact in the community. She manages to get through the entire film without reminding us even once that she played cute and perky Mary Richards on television. Timothy Hutton is excellent as her confused son seeking to reorganize his life without the benefit of his mother's love and support. Lifestyles GPA: 3.3 PB.

PRIVATE BENJAMIN (Fox 4) This film, starring Goldie Hawn, is a pleasant surprise. Although the plot is fairly simplistic and has all of the obligatory "girl in the army" funny scenes, the movie has a touch of sincerity that is refreshing. Goldie Hawn is great as Judy Benjamin, a 29-year-old widow who joins the army after her husband dies on their honeymoon night. Veteran actress Eileen Brennan is hilarious as the sadistic Captain Lewis, and Armand Assante firmly establishes himself as a top leading man with his portrayal of the French doctor, Henri. The ending is a bit predictable, but otherwise, an enjoyable film. Lifestyles GPA: 3.2 JH.

STIR CRAZY (Winchester) Gene Wilder and Richard Pryor are back again, in good form. Wilder steals the show in this film as a gentle spirit who, along with Pryor, is accused of staging a bank heist. Writer Bruce Jay Friedman has some really clever dialogue here between the two characters, and the film seems to have more plot than previous Wilder-Pryor films, though, at times, the character development is sketchy. Credit should be given also to actor-turned-director, Sidney Poitier. Language might be offensive to some. Lifestyles GPA: 3.0 LM.

The Ballet Folclorico Nacional De Mexico fill appear in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Friday. The program is sponsored by UC programs and United Mexican American Students. For ticket information call 742-3610.

Everyone's high school fantasy is played out in "Rock 'n' Roll High School," a fantasy about clever, rebellious teens who battle their militaristic principal and literally blow their high school to pieces. PJ Soles (Carrie) is the leader of the rebellion who brings her favorite rock group,

The Ramones, to Vince Lombardi High School in Southern California. This rock 'n' roll epic will be shown at midnight Friday in the University Center Theatre. Tickets will be sold in advance for $1.50 and the same price one hour before the show.

'Idolmaker' charts teen idols' fame

By Laurie Masingill
UD Staff Writer

THE IDOLMAKER (United Artists) Stars Ray Sharkey, Tovah Feldshuh, Peter Gallagher, Paul Land.

If you've been keeping up with entertainment news in the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex through one of the Dallas papers, you've probably read plenty about The Idolmaker. You've probably been looking forward to its eventual release publicity people and the public. But folks, this film is worth a mint. It's one of the most engaging films "documenting" the music industry that's been released in quite a while.

Ray Sharkey is the idolmaker, Vince Vicarri...a singer - songwriter with an eye for talent, a head for business and a desire for success. This desire for success is what leads him

Roberts (Torah Feldshuh); his clients - until he realizes what he's done to his relationships and begins his life again, oriented in another direction.

The irony of Vicarri's situation is the crux of the film. As Sharkey proves with his performances as a singer, dancer and actor, the character Vicarri has the talent to be an idol, but doesn't have the look that he feels is necessary. He lives vicariously through the teen idols he's created, destroying both them and himself. But as Vicarri's father tells him in one scene, "success has no conscience."

Sharkey has everything to play this role and does so admirably. His energy, emotion, flexibility within his role should make him an idol for movie-going crowds. Sharkey is a master of attitudes. He can be the driven, manipulating manager at one end of the scale and a lost, forsaken child at the other, with seeming ease.

In casting the parts of Tommy Dee and Caesare, Penny Derby and Barbara King were looking for the look of the '50s teen idol, much like the Elvis look...dark, sexy, charismatic, energetic, appealing. This look, along with their talent in performing and singing, made both Land and Gallagher excellent choices as the two singers.

Don't be surprised to see both singers make it as cover pictures for some teen magazine. If Vicarri is able to make idols of Tommy Dee and Caesare in this film, then this film could make idols of Land and Gallagher.

The music and lyrics of Jeff Berry are the focal point of The Idolmaker. As an original soundtrack, The Idolmaker could easily become a hit with the '50s sound of Elvis and Buddy Holly influencing Berry's songs.

The dancing routines and stage performances were well-choreographed and gave a good feel to the film. Costumes by Rita Riggs were nice, too.

Don't pass up The Idolmaker. Make the effort to see the film before it leaves town. You'll be glad that you did.

Review: movie

here in the Hub. Well, if you didn't know, The Idolmaker is here. With little or no advance publicity, this film was sneaked in the back door last week and it's about to be sneaked out again tomorrow.

Like a poor relation, The Idolmaker has been virtually ignored in Lubbock, both by through an odyssey of tours, contracts, wheeling - dealing, rehearsals and performances in making his two discoveries, Tommy Dee (Paul Land) and Caesare (Peter Gallagher), teen idols. His drive and ambition alienates everyone - his friends; his family; his lover, teen magazine editor Brenda

Simenon's Maigret lacks ambience in Arizona

(c) New York Times Service
MAIGRET AT THE CORONER'S. By Georges Simenon. Translated by Frances Keene. 173 pages. A Helen and Kurt Wolff Book. Harcourt Brace Jovanovich. $8.95.

Georges Simenon's Inspector Maigret should never leave France. Like French wines, the French personality does not travel well. A Frenchman needs his ambience; he begins to fade if he gets too far from it.

Ambience, not crime or suspense, is the great pleasure in Simenon's Maigret novels. Rain beating on the windows of the Quai des Orfèvres, sandwiches and beer from the bistro on the corner of the Place Dauphine, Maigret's ever-present cold and his heavy overcoat: this is what always wins me over.

In most cases, Maigret's exchanges with the suspect are ritual: laconic, spoken as Jean Gabin would speak them, in a French that has nothing to do with the nouvelle vague or the theater of the absurd. When I read one of Simenon's Maigret novels, I feel that the suspect will betray himself by some small error in his use of idiom. The guilty man is he who has contradicted the ambience.

But now, in Maigret at the Coroner's, Simenon has exiled his inspector to Arizona, on a training trip, no less. For almost the entire book, Maigret is stuck indoors at a coroner's inquest into the death of a young girl who may have been murdered by any of five American soldiers.

Maigret makes a poor bystander. He can find nothing better to do than wonder at the innocuousness of the coroner's questions. In his free time, he drinks with his host, a Federal Bureau of Investigation man, and indulges in wild generalizations about Americans.

According to him, the men all wear white shirts, khaki pants and new shoes. They drink all day and night, starting with beer and ending with whiskey. In the morning they are amazingly fresh, thanks to a fizzy remedy that comes in a blue bottle.

"What changes most across the borders," Simenon said, "is misery." In America, misery comes "without tatters"; it is "wretchedness with bathrooms, which seems even harsher, more implacable, more desperate." The French drink outdoors in cafes, but the Americans shut themselves in with their "shame."

A powerful element in our misery is our sexual behavior," according to Inspector Maigret.

In Maigret at the Coroner's, both the author and his inspector are obviously out of sorts. I hope they will take the next plane back to Paris and have a couple of quick margs on the Place Dauphine where the rain drips from the bare branches of the trees.

The Harlem Globetrotters will be in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum Friday. Tickets are $5, $6 and $7, with the $1 discount for all students.

Raiders try to regroup in Hills

By JON MARK BEILUE
UD Sports Editor

It's taken 10 years but Tech basketball mentor Gerald Myers set a career first with his Raiders in Monday night's loss to SMU. It's a milestone, however, that Myers had just as soon file away and forget.

The loss against the Ponies marked the first time a Myers-coached team has ever lost four games in a row. Count 'em — Rice, Baylor, North Texas State, and now SMU. And while the Raiders hope the little streak stops soon, it won't be easy. Not by a long shot.

The Raiders have the unenviable task of heading for the Hills — and it's won't be for a little rest and relaxation. Tech travels to Fayetteville, Ark., tonight for a regionally televised game with the Arkansas Razorbacks. Tipoff is scheduled for 7:10 p.m. with KCBT-TV (Channel 13) broadcasting the contest.

The Raiders are in the midst of a slump that has seen their Southwest Conference record drop from a 3-1 and a second place spot to a 3-4 slate and a three-way tie in the SWC race with TCU and Texas.

To make matters more difficult for Tech, the Raiders must play at Barnhill Arena, one of the toughest places for a visiting team to capture a win. The Raiders are 1-7 on the road this year. The only win came on a neutral court against Washington in the Pillsbury Classic played over the Christmas holidays.

Arkansas, however, hasn't exactly been running roughshod over its opponents either. A 57-52 win over Rice Monday gave the Hogs the third place spot in the SWC. Prior to that Arkansas (4-3, 13-6) had lost three of its last four. And this is the same team that earlier had beaten Missouri and LSU in the Great Alaskan Shootout.

"We're not playing very good either," Arkansas coach Eddie

Sutton told The University Daily. "Both team are in a slump. It should be a battle of the bads."

But Sutton said there are indications that the Hogs may be coming out of their slump. "We played better last night (against Rice). (6-10 center Scott) Hastings has had the flu and he lost 15 pounds at one point. But he's gained back eight, and he's looked stronger."

Hastings leads the Hogs in scoring with a 15.5 average. All-conference guard 6-2 U.S. Reed follows with a 13.8 mark and 6-4 guard Darrell Walker is also in double figures with a 12.9 average; 6-6 forward Keith Peterson (8.2) and 6-6 forward Tony Brown (4.1) compose the rest of the starters.

Tech will counter with a lineup of guards Jeff Taylor (13.8), Bubba Jennings (11.4), and Steve Smith (6.2) and postmen Clarence Swannegan (12.8; 7.6 rebounds) and Ben Hill (9.5). Ralph Brewster should have ample playing time spelling Swannegan, who sprained his knee in warmups against SMU.

Despite Tech's problems, Sutton is wary of his opponent. "Tech has had to play teams that are on the upbeat. I saw them play Rice and they should have won that. They had to play Baylor who had a lot of momentum after beating us. They've had some unfortunate things happen to them."

"We have to use smart shot selection because Tech always plays good tough defense. Gerald Myers always has a team playing aggressive defense."

Tech was ripped by Arkansas last year, 84-60 in Fayetteville and the Raiders haven't defeated the Hogs since 1976. But Sutton foresees a tight game.

"Gerald is the best coach in the conference. I really believe that. He does a great job with all of his teams so I expect this game to be close. We're both even and I have a feeling this game will go down to the wire."

Tech's Ralph Brewster, standing, and Jeff Taylor, lying on the ground, tangle up an unidentified SMU player as referee Koni Kaaloheld signals jump ball in action from Tech's 58-48 loss to the Mustangs

Monday night. The Raiders, who are currently mired in a four game losing streak, play the Arkansas Razorbacks tonight in Fayetteville. (Photo by Max Faulkner)

Tech should recount hostages

I had just finished my annual shopping mission at South Plains Mall, first into cozy Thom McAn, where the shoe sellers roam the mall area like vultures waiting for the nearest shopper to die. I had looked at some casual shoes, those brown suede kind with the wavy soles and had decided that seasickness was not in this year. I had then peeked into one of the many clothing stores, even slowing to see what color underwear was in stock. Then I spent the last two hours shuffling through the record store, which is where I usually end up. Once outside, I climbed into my car, a four-wheel job with the added extras: brakes, accelerator and a steering wheel. I flipped on my Philco and turned it to the Tech basketball game with those mighty SMU Mustangs. As I listened to the exciting strain of Jack Dale's voice, the Raiders had a seemingly nonchalant four point lead at the half.

I said to myself, "Self, the Raiders will probably blow SMWho away in the second half and since the last time I've seen the Raiders play really good basketball was before I got my Dallas Mavericks pennant over Christmas, well, I might just ought to catch the last few minutes."

Mike McAllister

So after rushing back to Tech, I ran to the Coliseum, ordered a hotdog (but they were out) and went inside to watch the Raiders. It was about that time that SMWho's Dave Piehler hit a 23-foot jumper over Jeff Taylor to put the Mustangs up by two, 43-41.

I said to myself, "Self, the Raiders will just make it exciting before they win. After all, Tech hasn't lost all season in the Coliseum and surely SMWho is no big threat now."

But then, I saw a real-life disaster up close. Taylor missed a makeable bank shot. Bubba Jennings missed one of his patented outside shots. One turnover. Another turnover. Foul. Foul. Foul again. And then SMWho stalled to close out upset. I had literally seen a team self-destruct. The Raiders blew up in the final minutes to lose to some team with guys named David Eicher, Gordon Welch, Kolin Page and Mark Langkamp. I searched my head for some kind of reasonable answer. I just didn't understand how a team with as much talent as the Raiders seemingly have could lose to a team that blew an 18-point lead to Rice just two days ago. There was only one logical answer. Imposters! The Raider basketball team was full of imposters. Surely that was not the real Jeff Taylor out there Monday. It was not the Taylor that several sportswriters (none from Lubbock) had told me, with my regrets to Terry Teagle, Rob Williams and Ricky Pierce, was the best one-on-one player in the conference. Surely that was not the real Bubba Jennings out there, Jennings, with his list of high school honors as long as the traffic at the Strip on a Friday afternoon. Jennings, with his soft shot anywhere from the court. Jennings, calm and collected on the court, so unlike his freshman status. Surely that was not the real Clarence Swannegan, who high-arching shots draw rain and two points. These guys were pressing, wild-eyed. They weren't the Raiders who had been so cool in a 50-49 last second win over Air Force. They weren't the Raiders who were picked to finish in the upper echelon of the Southwest Conference. No, I think that Iran didn't send all of the hostages back. Ayatollah-whoever has kept the Raider basketball team in 12 and sent back some imposters to play in the Coliseum. At least I hope that wasn't the real Tech team out there Monday night.

Tech ready for SWC tourney

The Tech women's basketball team will travel to Houston today to participate in the Southwest Conference Basketball Tournament. The four-day event will feature the top-seeded Texas Longhorns and solid contenders in Baylor and host Houston. Tech coach Donna Wick said that there is not a weak team in the nine that will be participating in the tournament. The nine teams will compete for top positions in the single-elimination play-offs. Honors include the All-Southwest Conference team selection and first, second and third place awards. "The Southwest Conference Tournament will be a large determining factor on how we get seeded for the state play-offs later on in the year. It's important that we do well. We've lost a couple of games to people in the state tourney. If we could come back and come out on top in this tournament or close to the top, I think it will change around where we'll be seeded," Wick said.

Tech will play its first game at 10:30 a.m. Thursday against the winner of today's game between Texas A&M-TCU. "If we play A&M, I am optimistic that we will do well against them. We recently beat them by a close score of 63-60," she said. The Raiders are working hard to overcome difficulties they have encountered this season. "Two of the things we'll stress is to cut down our fouls and the turnovers. Those are two things that are really hurting us right now," Wick said. Wick is relying on the talent of Carolyn Thompson and Gwen McCray to lead the Raiders. For the season Thompson is the Raider's leading scorer and rebounder, averaging 21.3 points per game and 12.4 rebounds per game. McCray is the team's second leading scorer contributing 12.4 points per outing. "Carolyn Thompson has been doing a super job. Right now, she is 11th in the nation in individual scoring and 9th in rebounds...which is just super for a freshman," Wick said. "Also, Gwen McCray has been doing a fine job. She's been hitting the boards just excellent. We do have a little trouble on the road with fouling and the last game brought her average down due to foul trouble, but Gwen has been a big spark to our team," Wick said. Tech will be trying to improve on its 2-4 record against conference foes. The Raiders have lost to Texas twice, Houston once and Baylor once. Tech has defeated Baylor and Texas A&M to account for its two victories.

Oilers hire coach

HOUSTON (AP) - Ray Callahan, former Washington Redskins assistant, was hired Tuesday as offensive line coach by Ed Biles, new head coach of the Houston Oilers. Callahan replaces Joe Bugel, the former Oiler assistant who was named Monday as offensive coordinator for the Redskins under their new head coach, Joe Gibbs. Biles moved up as head coach of the Oilers when Bum Phillips was fired abruptly Dec. 31 with owner K.S. "Bud" Adams Jr. attributing part of the action to Phillips' refusal to hire an offensive coordinator. Phillips was named head coach of the New Orleans Saints last Thursday. Callahan was a Washington assistant three years under Jack Pardee, who was fired two weeks ago. Callahan began his NFL coaching career at Baltimore in 1973, joined Pardee's Florida staff in the old World Football League in 1974, and then followed Pardee to the Chicago Bears and the Redskins. "Ray is a good technique coach," Biles said. "He's a firm believer in fundamentals. I know he'll do a very good job with our offensive line." Biles has indicated his top hiring priorities are for offensive and defensive coordinators and speculation has included Ted Marchibroda, former head coach at Baltimore, and Dick Nolan, who was fired in late season at New Orleans.

Recreational Sports

All night tournaments, games head list of Rec Center plans

Recreational Sports is conducting the first All-Nighter this Friday from 9 p.m. until 6 a.m. Saturday in the Rec Center. Events ranging from Guts Frisbee to a Freeze Dried Food Tasting party are planned.

Any student eligible for admittance to the Rec Center is eligible to participate. Some of the following activities do require an advance sign-up though most of the events are scheduled for "drop-in" use.

MIDNIGHT TWO AND FOUR MILE FUN RUN

Runners will leave from the north entrance of the Rec Center and circle the Recreation Playfields either two or four times depending on the desired distance. The run will begin at midnight with no advance sign-up necessary.

FIVE ON FIVE BASKETBALL TOURNEY

An all-night basketball tournament is scheduled from 9 p.m. Friday through 3 a.m. Saturday. Entries are limited to 16 men's teams and eight women's teams. Teams must register by noon Friday in the Rec Sports Office.

CO-REC VOLLEYBALL TOURNAMENT

Teams composed of three men and three women will begin competition at 11:30 p.m. Friday and continue through 3 a.m. Saturday. Teams desiring to enter must turn in their entry form by noon Friday in the Rec Sports Office.

HANDICAP RACQUETBALL TOURNNEY

An all-night racquetball tournament is scheduled to begin Friday night. Each player will have a handicap rating so he/she can be on equal standing as far as playing abilities are concerned. Pre-registration is required and participants must sign-up by noon Friday in the Rec Sports Office.

ROLLER SKATING RACES

Entries will be taken at the Rec Center Saturday between 1:30 a.m. and 2 a.m. for the five different roller skating races scheduled. These races include men's and women's 740 yard, men's and women's 297 yard sprint, 573 yard four-person open relay, and 573 yard two-person tag team races. Skates are available for check-out though individual skates may be used if cleaned and checked at the equipment desk.

TABLE GAME TOURNAMENTS

Monopoly, darts, checkers, 42 dominos and backgammon tournaments are scheduled throughout the All-nighter. No advance sign-ups are necessary but interested players must show up at the Rec Center T.V. Lounge at the following times: monopoly, 9 p.m.; darts, 10 p.m.; checkers, 10 p.m.; 42 dominos, midnight; backgammon, 2 a.m.; spades, 2 a.m.

GUTS FRISBEE

A three-person team is required and entries must be submitted prior to noon Friday. The single elimination tournament is scheduled to begin at 3 a.m.

RAPPELING

The Outing Club will be giving a rappelling demonstration and allow some beginning rappelling from 9 p.m.-11 p.m. on the upper level of the Rec Center.

MOVIES

Roy Roger's "Star of Nevada," John Wayne's "Stagecoach," and two ski movies, "Helix" and "Denali," will be shown throughout the night in the upper level classroom and conference room. There is no charge.

SPORT MERCHANT DISPLAY

Swift Foot, Hutchinson's Cycles, Athletic Attic, and Cardinals will all be having a display of their sporting goods from 9 p.m. through midnight in the entry level wrestling room. Equipment from the latest skiing equipment to the latest running equipment will be on display.

Soccer helps in various aspects

BY VINCE PARSONS
Graduate Assistant
Recreational Sports

Soccer, alias fuetbol, voltbal, calico and boldspiel is the world's supersport. After watching the precision play of QHWJGH, as it smothered Cosmos West, it is difficult to argue that soccer is not the number one game.

It's readily apparent to even the most casual observer why soccer is the national pastime of so many countries. Every man and woman, boy and girl, can learn to play soccer with a minimum of effort. Size and strength are neither assets nor liabilities. This is in stark contrast to the bulk and girth that are often needed to compete successfully in big time football.

There are few injuries in this limited contact sport. Unlike ice hockey or football, participants do not have to dress up as if going to war. The object of the game is to play the ball, not the opponent. Another appealing aspect of soccer is the sport's physical conditioning value. Soccer is automatic physical exercise. The game is a natural for building endurance, speed, strength and coordination. A typical soccer player runs three or four miles a game.

The nature of the sport also allows all players to participate fully. Every player in the game can be a quarterback.

IM Briefs

Cycling team to meet tonight

A meeting of the Texas Tech Cycling Team will be held in the Rec Center Classroom at 8 p.m. today. Topics of discussion will be training schedules, racing schedules, and budget. All members and others interested are invited to attend.

Racquetball meeting scheduled

The Tech-Team Racquetball Club Meeting/Tournament will be at 8 tonight on the Rec Center courts one-four. The agenda includes team selection for the tournament and "All-Nighter" plans. All members need to be in attendance.

Polo film to be shown Friday

The polo training film "Charlie Chukker" will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Room 208 of the Rec Center. Admission is free. Beginners are encouraged to come out and will be given special coaching and instruction in basic techniques.

Students take tourney crowns

Anthony Canchola defeated Tony Skeen in the finals of Men's 'B' Saturday Morning "Live" Racquetball Tournament. It was Canchola's fifth match of the day as he outlasted 26 other participants in the one-day tournament.

Scott Cullins outlasted Cliff Helbert to claim title to the Men's "A" trophy while Debbie Pistone defeated Sue Clark to win the women's racquetball division. A total of 43 players participated.

Tournament entry forms due

Entry dates for table tennis doubles have been extended until Thursday. Enter in the Rec Sports office.

Racquetball and Handball Doubles entries are also due Thursday in the Rec Sports office. An A,B, and C tournament will be offered. Novices are encouraged to enter the C bracket. This tournament will run all semester long.

With the colder weather sending sports enthusiasts indoors, the weight training in the Rec Center has become a popular place for Tech students. The wide range of available equipment, including universal gyms and the large, open carpeted area encourage use of the facilities. Both men and women take advantage of weight training facilities.
