Medical Discussion Set On TV Tonight

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
 AP Science Reporter
DENVER (AP)—It seems to be becoming public meeting time—new-fangled and old-fashioned—for doctors to talk to people about their health.
 Two events tonight at the American Medical Association clinical session are pretty unusual, if not the start of a new trend of doctors' meeting the public.
 One is another television show, over 68 stations of a TV network (NBC, 10-10:30 p.m., EST) with doctors telling of new advances against three of the greatest disease enemies—heart disease, cancer and mental illness.
 That's the new-fangled way. The old-fashioned way is an invitation to the public here in Denver to hear six top heart experts talk at a sort of town meeting, free of charge, sponsored by the Colorado Heart Association, through courtesy of the AMA.
 It's highly unusual, if not unique, for the public to be invited to this kind of scientific panel dis-ussion. Authorities from Cleveland, New York, Los Angeles and Rochester, Minn., will report what's new in rheumatic fever, hardening of arteries, high blood pressure, heart surgery, job opportunities for heart patients, and what heart exams can do.

 The telecast said to be the largest single network telecast in history, will take viewers into the ward of Colorado Psychopathic Hospital. It will show doctors helping patients with mental illness return to normal life.
 A pickup from Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore will show a movie of a cancer cell, pulsing with wayward life, and a minister and an auctioneer who won victory over cancer.
 Scenes from Los Angeles County Hospital will report advances against heart disease including demonstration of how a tube is inserted into a vein in the arm, then pushed up to the heart to aid in diagnosing heart conditions.

Resignation Of Director Won't Affect Hospital

Operation of the Big Spring State Hospital will probably not be affected by the resignation of Dr. George W. Jackson, medical director of the state hospital system.
 This was the opinion of Dr. Sam Hoerster Jr., acting superintendent of the local hospital.
 "I don't suppose Dr. Jackson's resignation will affect us in any way," Dr. Hoerster said. "Actually, however, I'm not in any position to know what bearing it will have here."
 Dr. Jackson submitted a note of resignation to the State Hospital Board Nov. 18 saying he felt it was impossible to make progress under the present state hospital system.
 News of Dr. Jackson's resignation leaked out Wednesday, and was published by the various wire services.
 Dr. Hoerster was quick to point out that Dr. Jackson will remain state medical director through Jan. 20. Outside of the resignation date, he did not know too much about it. "I'm just like everybody else," Dr. Hoerster said. "I didn't know Dr. Jackson had resigned until I read it in the newspapers."

 There have been rumors for some time that Dr. Jackson and Larry O. Cox, state hospital board's executive director, were not getting along. The state board will consider Dr. Jackson's resignation Monday, Dec. 8.

Farm Price Worries Due To Face Benson

By OVID A. MARTIN
 WASHINGTON (U) — Ezra Taft Benson will find a new crop of farm price problems facing him when he comes to Washington next week for a pre-inaugural view of his job as secretary of agriculture in the new Eisenhower administration.

Benson, a former agricultural leader and now an apostle of the Mormon Church, has notified outgoing Secretary Charles F. Brannan that he expects to come to Washington next week for a briefing on his Cabinet duties.

The current farm picture is such that officials believe it will lead him to speedily set up new programs designed to broaden markets for agricultural products at home and abroad.

The secretary-designate will find that prices being received by farmers have dipped below the parity goal of federal farm programs for the first time since June, 1950.

Furthermore, Benson will find that the government's investment in farm products under price support programs is growing steadily. This investment has reached a record of about $4,300,000,000 before start of the war in Korea.

But demands growing out of defense spending permitted the department to unload all but about 1 1/2 billion dollars worth of this by July of this year. Since then, however, the investment has been going up again. It now is above the two billion dollar mark.

Benson will also find that the department is running into trouble making good on its commitment to support corn, wheat, and peanuts at 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products.

Corn, for example, has been selling for an average of $1.45 a bushel, or 20 cents below the support level.

Furthermore, the department is being called upon for the first time in nearly 18 months to buy butter to carry out a price guarantee to dairymen, and wool is moving into price support stocks in a large volume for the first time since 1950.

While there are no support programs for beef cattle, hogs, sheep and lambs, Benson will find much producer dissatisfaction with present prices. Beef cattle are down about 23 per cent from a year ago, sheep and lambs about 25 per cent and hogs about 15 per cent.

Benson will discover also that net farm income—income left after paying production costs—is going down and probably will continue to decline next year.

Defense Dept. Is Eliminating Casualty Totals

WASHINGTON (U)—Because people apparently think a casualty is a fatality, the Defense Department says it no longer is listing all men killed, wounded or missing in Korea as "casualties."

The Pentagon announcement yesterday said its weekly battle report will continue to show totals for dead, wounded and missing but will not total them up and list them as casualties.

Most reporters, however, continued to use the old form in tabulating latest Korean losses, announced yesterday.

Through last Friday, next of kin have been notified of 127,383 American casualties in Korea, an increase of 386 in a week. This total includes 20,004 killed, 94,367 wounded and 13,012 missing.

The Defense Department statement said the new policy is designed, not to minimize the number of casualties, but rather to "provide accurate and complete information."

Defense officials reportedly grew concerned about the word "casualty" during the recent presidential campaign, when Republicans began using the Korean War and the mounting casualty list as an issue.

Kansas Publisher, F. N. Seaton, Dies

MANHATTAN, Kan. (U) — Fay N. Seaton, Manhattan publisher who built up a group of newspapers and radio stations in four states, died last night. He was 70 and had been in poor health for the past year.

Seaton, editor and publisher of the Manhattan Mercury-Chronicle, was the father of Fred M. Seaton, former U. S. senator from Nebraska. The former Republican senator is publisher of the Hastings, Neb. Tribune. Another son, Richard M. Seaton, is publisher of the Coffeyville, Kan. Journal.

The elder Seaton entered newspaper work here in 1915. Eventually his newspaper and radio interests extended into Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming.

In addition to the sons, survivors also include his widow.

Taft Blast May Foreshadow End Of Honeymoon With Eisenhower

For a man given to saying exactly what he thinks — one of the traits of character that had as much to do with his failure to get a presidential nomination — Robert A. Taft had held himself in with admirable self-possession for months. He conceded his disappointment at missing the nomination again, took the stump and campaigned vigorously for his convention rival.

Child Needs Moral Training As Well As Academic In Schools

The debate over our schools which is rising in volume as well as scope, is wholesome, particularly as parents are joining in the criticism and defense of the methods employed in the education of their children. No matter what any educators feel professionally, the child under the trusteeship of the parent in this country, not of the state. It is the parent who must decide what is best for the child, the state only appearing when a parent fails to do his duty, and then that is a matter for the courts.

a special purpose, namely, that they add to ordinary schooling moral teaching. President James B. Conant, President of Harvard, does not like the independent or parochial school, although there is no evidence of any intention on his part to turn Harvard into a state university. Harvard stands at the head of privately-endowed schools in America. His view was stated in "The Saturday Review," in which he said, among many other things: "What is the basic objection to a dual system of education, you may ask? Or put it the other way around: What are the advantages of free schools for all? To ask these questions is almost to give the answers. If one accepts the ideal of a democratic, fluid society with a minimum of class distinction, the maximum of fluidity, the maximum of understanding between different vocational groups, then the ideal secondary school is a comprehensive public high school...."

The novelty of functional and behaviorist education may interest the pedagogue, but parents wish to see results, and the reason for the present debate is that many parents are dissatisfied and that therefore the number of independent and parochial schools are on the increase. By an independent school is meant one that is not supported by taxes; by a parochial school is meant one that is supported and managed by a church, Catholic, Protestant or Jewish. Both categories are gaining in popularity, not because of swank but because of separation of church and state is too often meant a separation between education and religion, and such a separation leaves the child without moral guidance during important working hours.

He is apparently not thinking of the child but of that nebulous entity called society. The child is to be submerged in the group. The American theory heretofore has been that each of us is not a segment of a group, but an individual, standing alone to form the pattern of his life through freedom of choice. President Conant recognized that many Americans will not agree with him; so he says: "If one has doubts about the ability of secular schools to promote the growth of moral and spiritual values, then these doubts must be weighed against the democratic objectives I have just listed...." But it is precisely that many Americans no longer have any doubts that the schools are, often by law, precluded from engaging in religious training of any kind, even so generalized that all faiths ought to be able to accept not only the ideas but the terminology.

Beavers Try To Dam Mississippi

DAVENPORT, Ia. (AP)—Some bold beavers seem to have bitten off more than they can chew in setting out to dam the Mississippi River at Credit Island Park here, naturalists say. Beavers usually cut small saplings with tender bark for food. And they usually fell big trees only for dams. Since the only thing to dam at Credit Island is the broad Mississippi, naturalists say that must be what the beavers have in mind.

You Feel Cheated Nowadays When You Go Out For That Daily Cup Of Coffee

NEW YORK (AP)—In most American business offices there comes a pause in the day's occupation that is known as "the coffee hour." In fact there usually are two pauses—one in the morning, the other in the afternoon. It has grown so insidiously that it is now a generally accepted fact of office life and is taken as a normal working condition. Most employees now put up with it. They have come to realize that grown-ups, like children, have to have a periodic recess to let off their pent-up nervous energy.

vaguely cheated and don't know why. The reason is simple. You haven't pulled one over the boss's eyes at all. He has pulled one on you. Far from letting you escape from your job, the boss has got more real action from you in 15 minutes at the coffee counter than he could in three hours upstairs.

Credit Expansion Curbs Could Boost Dollar Value

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP)—Resistor part of the value of the dollar you earn—or at the very least, hating the shrinkage in the value of the dollar you save—will be one of the big tasks to be tackled by the financial wizards in the coming year. The laborer now buys scarcely more than he had in goods and services as it did before World War II. People now past their working years find their past savings shrunk sometimes to the point of poverty.

Death came on this day in 1844 to the Reverend Daniel Parker, a red-hot "anti-mission" Baptist preacher, who had moved a whole congregation to Texas in 1833. On a visit to the Lone Star domain in 1832, Parker found his dismay that the Mexican province was going Catholic in a big way, mainly because the Mexican government required all settlers to embrace the Catholic faith. A close study of the law, however, showed Parker the loop-hole; it did not interfere with any religious group already established in the province.

goods and services which formerly were considered luxuries by the working man. The index, usually disheartening as a cold figure to the average citizen, is one of the guides in a semi-controlled economy, such as ours. It warns of inflation, recession, or maybe something else which, if unchecked, might spin into another one of those "boom and bust" deals that preceded the New Deal.

It Would Be Interesting To See Who Gave What In Campaigns

By THOMAS L. STOKES (for Marquis Childs)

WASHINGTON.—The current inquiry by the special House Campaign Investigating Committee in 1952 campaign expenditures—which, if it is accepted, will be a peak for all time—is directed specifically at recommending revision in existing inadequate and ineffective laws. Current regulations contain loopholes that render them almost farcical.

It concluded that might be on the conservative side. The Times' total broke down into $18,769,848 for Republicans and $6,847,728 for Democrats. The difficulty of arriving at a complete figure is caused by the contributions to, and expenditures by, numerous special committees of one sort and another which are not required, except in the case of a few states, to report. Also, not counted were donations and expenditures within a state by private individuals to pay for some campaign venture.

Five-Year Plans Are Seen In Red China

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Red China's ruling Government Council has tightened supervision of local governments, abolished two provinces outright, and set up four new national agencies, Peiping radio disclosed.

The Red broadcast, heard in San Francisco, also disclosed that members of the all-powerful Government Council, headed by Chairman Mao Tse-tung, were picked to head three of the four new agencies.

Most important of these was a state planning committee, with Kao Kang as chairman. Kao is the boss of Manchuria and head of the Sino-Soviet Friendship Association, as well as one of the six vice chairmen who serve with Mao on the Government Council.

There was no elaboration on the planning committee, but presumably it would be the one to set up Soviet-style five-year development plans. From Kao's previous work in Manchuria and his close liaison with Russian officials, it appeared likely that increased Soviet technical help would be enlisted.

Another new government commission, for physical culture and athletics, was established with Gen. Ho Lung as boss.

The other two new agencies are the Ministry of Higher Education, headed by council member Ma Hsu Lun and the Commission to Eliminate Illiteracy with Chu Tu Nan as director.

Tightening of the grip on local governments was accomplished through administrative committees which will represent Peiping directly. Their job will be to "direct and supervise the work of the local governments" in their areas, the council ruled.

The Reds also abolished their newly created province of Ping Yuan and returned 29 counties to Shantung, and 27 counties, two towns and an industrial and mining area to Honan.

In another change, ancient Chahar Province was abolished and its territory along Inner Mongolia split between Shanxi and Hopei Provinces.

Top WOW Officials Due Here For Meet

Farrar Newberry, of Omaha, Neb., president, and other officials of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society will be in Big Spring this evening for a meeting of the Big Spring district Logrollers Association.

Also expected are approximately 250 other out-of-town guests from all sections of the state, said George Hine, Abilene, Northwest Texas manager for the WOW organization.

The "logrolling," at which a number of new Woodmen will be initiated, will get underway with a barbecue at 6 p.m. in the WOW Hall, 112 E. 2nd. The business meeting will follow at about 7:30 p.m.

Newberry and R. N. Dossman, San Antonio, a national director, will be principal speakers. Guests are expected from Beaumont, Abilene, Mineral Wells, Fort Worth, Lubbock, San Angelo, Littlefield, Houston, Cleburne and possibly other cities, said Hine.

Gene Thomas, member of an entertainment committee set up by the local WOW Camp, also said arrangements are being made to accommodate 250 visitors. Leon Cain, local council commander, and Hine will preside.

Newberry, a native of Arkansas, holds a masters degree from Vanderbilt University. A former lawyer, he has been associated with Woodmen for more than 25 years. He has been national president of the organization since 1943. He also is a Mason and member of several other fraternal organizations, and has authored three books, chiefly biographical.

Dossman, national WOW sentry as well as a director, is from Louisiana. He has been associated with the insurance society since 1927 and has served as head counsel of Texas.

Other state WOW officials due for the meeting are Ted Bowers, Beaumont; present state consul; Roy Martin, Houston, Southeast Texas manager; Ray Wiseman, Cleburne, state clerk; Roy Mahanay, Fort Worth, past state consul; Bob Kirk, Littlefield, national service commissioner; Charles Sinclair, San Angelo, district manager and president of the youth section of the Texas Fraternal Congress; Sam Townsend, San Angelo, chairman of district board of auditors; and W. D. Chapman, Littlefield, national delegate.

COUNCIL SUGGESTS President Primaries On Same Day Urged

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY CHICAGO (AP) — The Council of State Governments today suggested that presidential primaries in the states be held on the same date.

Such primaries now are stretched out, state by state, from March through June.

The council passed along this idea to state lawmakers: "It would be highly desirable for the states to fix identical dates for presidential primaries, preferably a date within about a month of the national conventions."

"This would avoid the present unduly long period of the pre-convention campaign and would encourage all leading candidates to enter the primaries of all states instead of a few."

The council said only 19 states now give their citizens a chance to take a direct hand in selecting the presidential nominees of the major parties.

There are two methods of doing this. Under one, the citizens can express their preference for the nominee by voting in a preferential primary. Under the other the citizens vote for delegates to the national convention of their parties.

The council said present primary laws have been criticized because of variations in dates and provisions. Results in some states are binding on convention delegates, for instance, but not in others.

But it also said: "There is little sentiment today for a nation-wide presidential primary whose results would be final, displacing the national conventions."

A more likely course, it added would be to:

1. Keep presidential primary laws on the books of the states which have them, and make efforts to correct defects and bring about uniformity.
2. Give the other states time to adopt some form of presidential primary or popular election of convention delegates.

It then suggested the vote on the same date feature to states which want to revise older laws or enact new ones.

The presidential primary suggestion was among the recommendations for state legislation drafted by the council and placed before representatives of the states today.

The occasion was the start of sessions of the 11th General Assembly of the States. This is a biennial meeting of governors and other state officials.

$160 Is Collected By Salvation Army

Approximately $160 had been collected through the Salvation Army Christmas kettles through Wednesday.

Most of the money came in small contributions, with several large checks included. Lt. Robert Hall, local commander, said he was satisfied with the way collections were coming in.

The money will be used to help needy families for Christmas, he said. Food baskets will be given to the poor which include toys for the children.

Kettles are located at Zale's, McCroy's and the Postoffice. Hall said that during the last week of collections a wishing well would be placed in front of the First National Bank.

A Salvation Army caroling cruise will be made about the city during the last two weeks before Christmas. Hall said loud speakers would be hooked up to a truck and that carols would be played in various neighborhoods while workers solicited donations.

'Good Will' Bought On N. Y. Waterfront

NEW YORK (AP) — Stevedoring firms have acknowledged making big "good will" payments to union leaders, dock bosses and steamship company officials to keep labor peace and to obtain business on New York's waterfront.

Opening of public hearings yesterday by the New York State Crime Commission lifted the lid on alleged crime and racketeering in the city's seven billion dollar a year shipping industry.

It has been estimated the industry's annual losses run to 850 million because of such things as pilfering, smuggling, and pay kick-backs by longshoremen to their union bosses.

An opening day's witness was white-haired Ruth M. Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the stevedoring firm of Daniels and Kennedy, Inc. Miss Kennedy testified that gratuities are "an established practice in the business."

The witness said her firm, in five years, paid $7,500 to Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association.

In 1948, Miss Kennedy testified, checks were drawn to fictitious persons and the money was turned over to dock union officials.

"In 1948," she said, "we had some labor trouble and we thought it would be easier for the people getting the money to hide their identity."

Miss Kennedy's nephew, James C. Kennedy, president of her firm, also testified the payments were "gratuities only."

He was asked: "Were they to influence union officials and to prevent quickie strikes and other troubles?"

"If they prevented strikes, that was all right," Kennedy replied. "You invested in good will?"

"Yes," said Kennedy.

Kennedy said his firm, for years, gave Ryan $500 each spring and $1,000 each Christmas. Smaller payments went to other ILA men, he said, and also to representatives of the AFL Teamsters Union and the AFL Warehousing and Paper Handlers Union.

From private testimony, the commission quoted Capt. Douglas Yates, a vice president of the Jarka Corp., the city's largest stevedoring firm, as saying the company could not be sure of enough help to service ships without the aid of five certain ILA men.

The commission further quoted Yates as saying: "We wanted these people at our beck and call."

McKay Sees 'Brickbats'

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Oregon's Gov. Douglas McKay, now at the peak of his popularity, says it won't be long before the brickbats will be flying.

He was asked to comment on what he thinks lies ahead for him as Elsenhower's secretary of the interior.

"I know that soon after I take my new job on Jan. 20, a lot of people in the West will begin calling me bad names. Because I'm a Westerner, they will think I'll give the West preferred treatment."

"But I'm not going to be secretary of the interior just for the West. I'm going to represent the whole United States. I won't show any partiality for any section of the country, for the same reason that in my five years as governor, I haven't shown any partiality to any county."

Federal Employees' Group Slates Meet

The local chapter of the National Federation of Federal Employees is to meet Friday evening at the VA Hospital, Marion Byler, president, announced today.

James E. Stegall, Lubbock, who represented this area at the national convention of NFFE in Detroit recently, will speak. He also is vice president of the Texas NFFE.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. in the patients dining room on the second floor of the hospital. Civilian employees of Webb Air Base are invited, said Byler.

Red Chinese Send Animals To Soviet

LONDON (AP)—Peiping radio announced today that Communist China has sent a first shipment of rare wild animals, reptiles and birds to the Soviet Union and other Iron Curtain countries.

Yangtze alligators, giant salamanders and other species of wild life found only in China have arrived in Russia, Hungary and Czechoslovakia, the broadcast said.

Lie Warns UN Workers To Talk About Activities

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie was reliably reported today to have informed nine U. S. members of the U. N. secretariat they must answer questions about alleged subversive activities by nightfall or lose their jobs.

The nine persons involved already are under suspension for refusing to tell the McCarran subcommittee whether they are now or ever have been members of the Communist Party.

Informed quarters said Lie's ultimatum went to the nine last Monday. They were told that the secretary-general's committee of international jurists recommended dismissal of American members of the secretariat who refused to answer questions about alleged subversive activities on the constitutional ground that such answers might tend to incriminate them.

There was no information as to whether any of the nine had decided to reply to the questions or how the replies would be handled if the suspended persons notified Lie they had changed their minds.

U. N. officials refused to comment on the reports, but they disclosed that Lie planned to issue a statement later in the day on the jurists' report. It was understood that Lie is circulating this report to 201 members of the secretariat as a warning that they face dismissal if they refuse to reply to questions about subversive activities.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Doesn't Like Santa Stunt

Dear Editor: I was under the impression that the show, depicting Santa, and sponsored by the City of Big Spring, was primarily for the benefit of the children in this area instead of a flashy publicity stunt.

What was the trouble with Santa? Was he afraid to ride his mount along the street where the masses of children, who had gathered along Main Street, could enjoy the legend, or was he too stuck-up to be seen in such close proximity with the masses. To have made a round trip, down one side of Main Street and back on the other would have gladdened many a young heart, but, as it is there are several thousand disappointed youngsters in this county who were unable to see what they had been looking forward with keen interest to seeing, were they denied the chance to see any part of it. It was a shame and disgrace to the City of Big Spring and the sponsors of the show, to permit these children to be cheated of this annual occasion. I have lived in Howard County for many years and this is the cheapest stunt it has been my privilege to observe. Walter Unger

State Narcotic Bureau Will Be Urged In '53

HOUSTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—The state's House Crime Investigating Committee probably will recommend establishment of a state narcotic bureau during the 1953 Legislature, a representative said last night.

The Committee, meanwhile, opened a two-day closed hearing here this morning.

Rep. Charles Murphy, a Houston attorney, said the committee will be interested in exploring reasons for the high murder rate in Houston but will also investigate juvenile delinquency, gambling, narcotics and vice in general.

Police records here show that 525 persons were murdered in Houston between Jan. 1, 1948 and last Nov. 30. Of the total, 118 were slain in the 11-month period ending Nov. 30.

Murphy, who will serve as temporary chairman of the criminal committee, said he expected about 17 witnesses to testify at the closed hearings. Reports will be given he said, around noon and about 5 p.m.

British Groups Hear Allied Policy Reports agreement," Stevenson said, "that the party interests must be subordinated to the interests of the country and the public welfare."

"We do not intend to try to influence Democrats in Congress to obstruct delay or in any way to imperil the national welfare and the new administration's program in so far as it is compatible with the views of our party.

The instrument of being constructive and a wholesome influence in our public life, will of course, be the Democratic leadership in Congress."

Stevenson said he, President Truman, and other Democrats outside of Congress will be free to express their views on public issues, but remarked that he could not consider playing an active role in discussing these issues at least until the party deficit is paid off.

He said he was grateful "as I can be" for those who have suggested raising funds in order to finance appearances for him on television to speak out on the issues. But, he added:

"I can't give any encouragement to that sort of thing, as long as the Democratic party has a substantial deficit. I don't want to encourage anybody to raise money for that purpose until the deficit is paid off."

The defeated Democratic candidate was in high good humor as he chatted with newsmen. He had spent the night at the White House where he had slept in the Lincoln Room.

Newsmen asked Stevenson, who frequently quoted Abraham Lincoln during the campaign, how he had enjoyed the "Lincoln bed."

"It was adequate," he said with a smile. "It was long enough and wide enough, and what's more, it has a new mattress. I've never slept better."

President Truman will hold a news conference this afternoon. A crowd of some 200, mostly women and children, met Stevenson at Washington's National Airport last night and shouted and waved one reply to that last question.

Some chanted "We want Adlai!" and others "Stevenson in '52." There were banners that read "Retrieve with Steve."

MARKETS

WALL STREET NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP)—The stock market was mixed today at the opening. There was if anything a slight downward tendency.

Price changes were entirely fractional at the start with the minus sign a little more numerous.

United Corp. opened on a block of 10,000 shares unchanged at 5, and among other blocks were Republic Steel, 1,500 up 1/8 at 52; General Motors 1,800 up 1/8 at 46 1/2; U. S. Steel 1,500 unchanged at 41 1/2.

Stocks being group included Anacostia Copper, Chrysler, Goodyear, Republic Steel, Sears Roebuck, and Union Carbide. Higher were American Telephone, Youngstown Sheet, Tube, Jones-McClellan, and Radio Corp.

Yesterday the market took a breather and declined moderately with volume at 1,610,000 shares.

Trio Admit Escape From Army Prison

Three young Army men who said they escaped recently from a military stockade at Wichita, Kan., were apprehended by local police this morning as they entered Big Spring on the Sterling City Highway.

Arrest was made at the request of a Texas Ranger in Sterling City. He said the three acted suspiciously while attempting to trade Army clothing for gasoline at a Sterling City service station.

They were traveling in a Ford automobile, of about 1940 vintage, police said. One of the three readily admitted the escape from the Kansas stockade. Questioning of the trio was being continued and military authorities were to be notified of the apprehension.

Taft May Have Hurt Senate Post Chances

By JOHN CHADWICK
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Senate Republicans were in disagreement today on whether Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio ruined his chances for GOP Senate floor leader by his attack on president-elect Eisenhower's choice for secretary of labor.

One Republican lawmaker, a staunch Taft backer who asked not to be quoted by name, foresaw as a result the "draft" of Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, the present floor leader, for another term.

But another Taft supporter, also requesting anonymity, said an organized effort would be made to elect Taft to the post. He would not predict the outcome, but said the drive would be stopped only if Taft removed himself from consideration.

Bridges spread word soon after the Nov. 4 election that he wanted to pass the leadership job to other hands and take over the less burdensome duties of the temporary president of the Senate.

In case of a dispute over his successor, however, Bridges has been regarded as available for another term as floor leader.

The New York Herald Tribune reported today that "Sen. Bridges has now changed his mind and is now known to be willing to continue in this post to promote party harmony."

Taft has declared he is available for the post. His only avowed rival is Sen. William Knowland of California, who has said he is in the race against anybody except Bridges.

Too few senators were here—and too chary of commenting—to give a clear picture of the likely upshot of Taft's denunciation of Eisenhower's selection of Martin P. Durkin of Chicago the labor post in the new Cabinet.

Taft himself, in a telephone interview yesterday, said the effects of his action on the Republican party as a whole are "matters that haven't arisen yet."

He said he has been in touch with some GOP senators but declined to say whether they indicated support for his position. He said he is getting reaction from all over the country but parried questions about whether it was favorable or critical reaction.

Taft also said he has been in contact with Eisenhower's headquarters since his Tuesday statement, but did not say with whom he spoke or what was said.

He made one thing clear: His criticism was no sudden outburst. He said he "took great care" in writing his statement and believes "it speaks for itself."

Taft, disclosing he first heard of Durkin's appointment in a news broadcast, said his own recommendations for the post had been Clarence E. Manion, dean of the Law School of Notre Dame University, and John A. Danaher, former senator from Connecticut.

Durkin, president of the AFL Plumbers Union, is a Democrat who once advocated repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and who supported Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate in the election.

Martin Co. Hospital Receives Iron Lung

STANTON, (SC)—An iron lung, purchased by the Stanton Lions Club, has been delivered to the Martin County Memorial Hospital here.

The Lions raised the funds for the purchase through contributions they solicited or made themselves.

This "lung" technically known as a respirator, is of the portable type and will accommodate two patients at the same time. Patients may be transported a considerable distance in it, a representative of the manufacturer said.

The Lions have also purchased two hot pack machines from the same fund and delivery of these within 30 days has been promised, according to Ed Robnett, club president.

Nomadic Truck

Colorado City authorities are still puzzled how this truck, which rolled across busy U. S. 80 across a used car lot and into a service station wash rack, missed doing more damage or hurting someone.

Parked near the Legion Hut in Colorado City, the machine lumbered off by itself when brakes apparently failed. It came across the Whitten used car lot, missed a utility pole and guy wire, hopped the curb and came across the highway. Then it jumped a driveway, about 18 inches below ground level and rammed into a wash room door of Hart Service Station. Cecil C. Barnfield, driver, had parked the machine and was a short distance away. After 15 minutes, the truck started to roll.

Local Students To Take Part In Activities Meet

Five high school students will journey to Abilene Saturday to attend the Student Activities Conference at Abilene Christian College.

They will be accompanied by Dell McComb, speech teacher at Big Spring High School. McComb is chairman of the conference drama section.

Students from here who will attend are John Lawrence, Pat Crossland, Don Anderson, Francis Walker and Jodie Smith. They are all debaters.

Approximately 400 high school journalism and speech students from all over West Texas are expected to attend the conference, McComb said. Invitations have been sent to 184 schools in the area.

Walter R. Humphrey, editor of the Fort Worth Press, and Don Williams, University of Texas debate director, will be the main speakers. The speech and journalism sections will be held simultaneously, beginning at 9:45 a. m. Saturday.

McComb stated that the same students would attend an Intercollegiate League workshop conference in Odessa on Saturday, Dec. 13. The Big Spring group will enter a debate tournament there.

All schools from the area will be present, and Big Spring students will debate the negative side of the topic, "Resolved: That Atlantic Pact Nations Should Form A Federal Union."

Exemption Is Denied

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—Brantiff Airways has been denied an exemption from its certificate which would have permitted the company to provide direct service between Dallas and Tulsa.

The Civil Aeronautics Board in announcing the denial yesterday said the question may more appropriately be considered in a certificate amendment proceeding.

ROADS DISCUSSED

City Fathers Talk About Construction

Construction, of one kind or another, was the principal topic for consideration of city commissioners at their delayed meeting Wednesday.

Elimination of dips on Third Street at Main and Runnels were discussed in connection with the State Highway Department's plans for resurfacing the thoroughfare. City Engineer Clifton N. Bellamy showed engineering plans for lowering center of the intersections to form a broad drainage area rather than the narrow, steep dips which cross Third at the curb-lines of the intersecting streets.

He estimated the improvements will cost $3,000 or $5,000, a matter Third and Second in the 100 block which commissioners should be taking up with the highway department. Bids are being asked by the department prior to Dec. 15 for resurfacing of the highway through town, and commissioners have agreed elimination of the abrupt dips should be a part of the program.

The commission okayed sale of rock from the old quarry on city park property just west of the Boy Scout grounds on Highway 87 South. The rock is available at 10 cents per cubic yard, they said.

W. D. Caldwell has inquired about possibility of securing the material for use in runway construction at Webb Air Force Base, said City Manager H. W. Whitney.

City Attorney was authorized to proceed with the securing of right-of-way for a sewer line to serve the Banks Addition in northwest Big Spring. Condemnation proceedings may be necessary on a part of the line's route, he said.

W. E. Moren, Western Auto Stores, appeared at the meeting to inquire about necessity of closing north end of the alley between of Scurry. Morrison said construction of the six-story office building at Second and Scurry necessitates closing of the alley until basement excavation can be completed. Danger of a cave-in prohibits traffic along the alley at the north end, he explained.

Commissioners, however, suggested that contractor be contacted in an attempt to provide other access to delivery platforms of stores on the alley. Morrison and City Manager Whitney said they believe such arrangement can be made.

Commissioners also received deed forms for securing 10 feet of additional right-of-way for Fourth Street in the west part of town. The forms were prepared by the highway department which needs the space for improvement of the street. The commission said it will take no action toward securing the land until planning is completed or extension of the east end of Fourth.

Handrails were ordered for the sidewalk steps leading down to the alley at the rear of the First National Bank. Commissioners said they fear someone will be injured in a fall on the steps unless rails are provided.

The city manager was authorized to secure public liability and property damage insurance to cover Hamilton Field, the city's present airport. The manager said he believes adequate insurance can be secured for about $125 per year.

Also authorized was acceptance of bids for furnishing the city with up to 200 new parking meters.

Charges Dismissed In Case For Assault

Charges of aggravated assault were dismissed today against Roberto E. Lopez, airman from Webb Air Force Base. He was arrested following the beating of M. Flores sometime Monday night.

Flores was dismissed from Cowper Hospital Wednesday after receiving treatment. Flores' jaw is still in bad shape, authorities said, but he cannot identify his assailant.

Love Rode Out Into A Snow Storm

SHERIFF TOM LOVE GOT HIM

Outlaw Bill Cook Should Not Have Entered Borden County

By FRANKLIN REYNOLDS

GAIL—It was a long, long settling in the saddle, but finally Tom Love, early-day Borden County sheriff, caught up with Bill Cook, outlaw from the Indian Nations, now Oklahoma, and arrested him, without a shot being fired.

Bill Cook was a member of the Dalton train-robbing and bank-robbing outfit. The Daltons were related by blood or marriage, and in some instances by both, to other families well known in the annals of the old outlaw trails, such as the James family that produced Jesse and Frank, and the Youngers, who like the James boys got their start with Quantrell's guerrillas during the Civil War. Whether or not Bill Cook was kinfolk, the record doesn't reveal, but his associates are something of an index to his character. Bill Cook was a bad man, a very bad one in many ways.

One of the old West's best known cattlemen and lawmen, W. C. Moore, sometimes known as W. S. (Bill) Moore and a one-time Borden County deputy sheriff told a newspaper reporter in Kansas City several years ago that he regarded Bill Cook as third on the old West's list of outlaws, or public enemies as they are now known. Moore had Sam Bass at the top of his roster, with John Wesley (Forty Notches) Hardin, coming next on the roll. After Hardin he placed Bill Cook.

Now a word about Moore will indicate whatever value a man might care to give his opinion. Bill Moore ramrodded cattle outfits all over the West from Mexico to Canada. He left the Texas Panhandle when things got too hot for him up there. He was chairman of the Albuquerque meeting at which the New Mexico Cattle Growers' Association was formed for the purpose of hanging rustlers and horse thieves. He was well known in Montana and Wyoming and the Dakotas. He was a one-time boss with the Aztec Land and Cattle Company in Arizona, the Hashknife outfit, that played such an important part in the notorious Tonto Basin sheep and cattle war. Bill Moore had been around. He had the right to know the real quill when he met one, and Bill Moore says Bill Cook was a bad man.

But if Bill Cook had been as smart as Bill Moore says he was, he wouldn't have crossed Borden County when he left The Nations.

The year was 1894. Borden County had just been organized three years before, and Garza County which had been created from Bexar in 1876, but which was not organized until 1907, was then attached to Borden for law enforcement purposes.

Borden County Sheriff Love had arrested a man in Garza and was taking him to the jail at Colorado City, when they stopped to spend the night at the Square and Compass Ranch in south Garza. This ranch was then owned by the Nave-McCord Cattle Company of St. Joseph, Missouri, and was managed by Jim Mitchell. Its range, generally, extended down into Borden County to the range of the Magnolia Land and Cattle Company, the old MK outfit, whose range ran still farther south to that of the Slaughter Cattle Company, which held domain in most of the Howard County area north of Big Spring.

It so happened that Sheriff Love and his prisoner were not the only guests at the Square and Compass headquarters that night. There were two other strangers and one of them, a man slightly below the average size, weighing about 140 pounds and quick and sure in all his movements, but with an immediately apparent and lively sense of humor, seemed to grow a little tense when he learned Love was a sheriff. It so happened, too, that Love noticed this, and even before that something about the man had aroused his suspicion.

"Who is he?" Love asked the ranch manager.

"I don't know," Mitchell answered. "He rode in and we put him up. He's a pretty good hand with cattle, and a fast man with a rope."

"Looks like he might also be a fast with a gun," the sheriff commented.

The next morning Love resumed his journey to Colorado City with his prisoner but he couldn't get the cowboy at the Square and Compass out of his mind.

When he returned to Gail he learned that the Rangers had been out from Amarillo looking for an saloon this morning. Perry assured him. "Come on."

They went out and asked questions and looked. Cook had ridden out to the west, they were told. The two officers added up and rode for three days until, late one night, they came to a small ranch in the old Billy the Kid country of Lincoln County, New Mexico, where Cook was staying. The outlaw had both a saddle horse and a pack horse. The officers located these in a stable and then concealed themselves in good advantage points and waited for daylight. When Cook came out to feed his horses, Love leveled down with a Winchester and Perry with a sixshooter. Bill Cook raised his hands and quit.

Cook was taken from where he was captured, near Capitan, in the Capitan Mountains, to Santa Fe, the Territorial Capital, and from there to Fort Smith, Arkansas, where he was tried and convicted. On this journey great crowds gathered at the railroad stations all along the way to see the notorious outlaw.

There had been a $500 reward offered for Cook but neither Perry nor Love ever got a cent of it. Those who had offered it craved it when Cook was finally captured and Love had to pay his own expenses all the way through.

But those who knew Tom Love said that didn't make any difference with him. Rewards weren't his goal. His object and aim was to enforce the law and to track down the outlaws no matter how far he might have to ride.

'LITE-A-BUMPER' SAFETY PROGRAM SET SATURDAY

Final plans are being readied by local Jaycees for Saturday's "Lite-A-Bumper" safety campaign in front of the First Baptist Church at Sixth and Main.

At that time, Jaycees will place red reflecting tape on rear bumpers of cars as an aid to night driving and to protect parked cars on the alongside streets.

The price is $1. This will cover the cost of tape across the rear bumper. Jaycees will wash bumpers before placing tape. The Scotch-lite tape should last for at least two years and its effectiveness will not diminish.

Tape has been placed on some police cars along with Jaycee-owned automobiles. Jaycee officials report considerable interest in the tape and the safety program.

Wolves Become Poland Worry

WARSAW (AP)—Wolves are becoming an increasing menace in Poland's forest areas, where villagers and isolated peasants live in fear for their livestock and even their lives from these wild marauders.

Since the end of the war the wolves have increased in number and boldness in the vast forests of the Carpathian Mountains in the Southeast and the Masuria district of lakes and forest in Northeast Poland near the border with the Soviet Union.

In the Masuria district wolves attack watchdogs a few yards from home and raid livestock in farmyards. Farmers who have wandered too far into the forests unarmed have been killed.

Shepherds have been forced to bring their flocks of sheep closer to human habitation.

Authorities are organizing shoot-out parties and paying cash prizes for all wolves killed in an effort to combat the wild menace.

U.S. Making Money Collecting On Price Control Violations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that price control violations are netting the Treasury millions of dollars in settlements and fines.

The Office of Price Stabilization said settlements, compromises, fines, and damages collected between the time the agency began operating early in 1951 up to last Nov. 1 amount to nearly $4 million dollars.

Oil Man Divorced By His Third Wife

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3 (AP)—A multimillionaire Texas oil man was divorced Tuesday by his third wife who testified that he once knocked her down and grabbed her hair, "pulling some out."

Mrs. Clearine D. Lockhart, 29, told the court her husband, Leslie M. Lockhart, 54, often beat her while drunk. She charged cruelty.

Mrs. Lockhart originally asked $10,000 monthly alimony and a half interest in the couple's 29-room Los Angeles mansion.

She asked nothing yesterday. Her attorney, Jerry Giesler, told the court all property matters have been settled out of court.

It Won't Be Long Now

... Thinks Mrs. Thomas Bunch as she packs a dress, in the final stages of preparing to leave for Japan. Young son, Tommy, who is slated over the idea of having a visit from Santa Claus on the boat in mid-Pacific, looks on. They will join their husband and father, M-Sgt. Bunch, in Tokyo.

Mid-Ocean Christmas In Store For Bunches

Christmas in mid-Pacific, that's what's in store for Mrs. Thomas H. Bunch and young son, Tommy, 8. By Dec. 25, the pair will be en route to Tokyo, Japan, to join their husband and father, M-Sgt. Bunch, a former Army recruiting officer who was stationed here four years.

And with the Sergeant awaiting them at the other end of the line, it will be Yuletide again in January when they arrive. The dark-haired, blue-eyed Mrs. Bunch, who has taught at Kate Morrison School since coming to Big Spring 4½ years ago, and Tommy will leave Friday on the first leg of their journey. They will visit her family in Eagle Pass before driving to Seattle, their port of embarkation. They will take their car, which must be specially prepared, their clothes and a few of Tommy's toys with them. The family furniture will be stored at the Army furnished all rental units in Japan.

You Can Enjoy Old-Time Ribbon Cane Syrup Again

There is something new under the sun! And like so many new things, it recaptures the best of the past. Can you remember old-fashioned ribbon cane syrup? It was made from the best cane, grown in the bottom lands, very carefully prepared by the growers according to methods passed down from generation to generation. This wonderful syrup had all but disappeared from this area.

Menu Of The Week

- WHITE FRUIT CAKE
 ¼ pound butter
 8 cups sugar
 4 cups flour
 1 cup milk
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 White of 6 eggs-well beaten
 1 medium coconut (grated)
 ½ pound candied pineapple
 1 pound citron
 1 pound candied cherries
 1 pound pecans
 ¼ pound almonds.
- Leave cherries and pecans whole. The almonds may be chopped or left whole. Cut candied fruit into inch cubes. Grate fresh coconut. Combine fruit and nuts and sprinkle with flour. Cream butter; add sugar gradually and beat until well blended and light. Sift flour, measure and combine with baking powder. Add flour and milk alternately to the mixture, starting and ending with flour. Add fruits and nuts. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Grease pan; line with waxed paper or heavy brown paper. Grease paper. This helps prevent the crust from becoming too brown, thick, and dry during baking. Bake in a slow oven 250 degrees F. The baking time depends on the size and shape of the loaf. Use this table as a guide for cooking:

Try Hawaiian Sauce As A Livener For Pork Chops

In this recipe you can use either center cut or end-cut pork chops. The sauce for braising the chops is a delectable mixture of crushed pineapple and catsup intriguingly seasoned with soy sauce. It's especially good for topping cooked rice to serve with the chops.

HAWAIIAN PORK CHOPS
 4 pork chops
 ¼ cup vinegar
 ¼ cup catsup
 1 9-oz. can crushed pineapple
 1 tablespoon soy sauce
 3 tablespoons brown sugar
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 2 cups cooked rice
 Trim a little fat from edge of pork chops and fry out in a heavy skillet. Remove pieces. Flour chops and brown in the hot fat. Combine remaining ingredients. Spoon fat from skillet and pour catsup mixture over and around chops. Cover and cook over low heat 1½ hours or until very tender. Spoon sauce over chops once or twice during cooking and add a little water as needed. Serve chops and sauce with cooked rice, 4 servings.

When a recipe for cake or cookies directs that you "cream" the shortening, it means that the shortening should be worked against the sides of the mixing bowl with the back of the mixing spoon for several minutes.

Entertain Friends With Coffee, Dessert

Winter is not the best of times to give parties, but there's an almost effortless trick to repaying obligations, and most women are bound to find it attractive.

The new twist to an old idea is to invite friends to drop by after dinner for coffee and dessert—and to let this take the place, at least through the summer, of more formal entertainment.

No meal, no favors, no special preparations, nothing but a tasty dessert and coffee. The advantages to this kind of hospitality extend beyond the fact that dirty dishes will be kept to a minimum.

First, it automatically places the time of the gathering in the coolest part of the day: on the terrace, if you're lucky enough to have a terrace; on the porch, if you have a porch; or in the case of apartment-bound "cliff dwellers," near the windows that offer the best breeze.

Second, it's a relaxing, quiet time, when the frantic routine of daily chores can be forgotten. The coffee will help here, with its long-known ability to relieve bodily tensions and stimulate conversation.

Third, the very nature of the invitation suggests a reasonable hour of departure. Guests who are asked to drop by for coffee and dessert are not apt to linger past midnight, as those who come for a full-fledged party.

Fourth, most of your friends will welcome this kind of visit as gathering can be as tiring on the guests as they are on the hosts.

Nylon Fishnet

New curtains are available in a fishnet fabric of nylon which gives lasting shape retention to the window decorations.

When you're poaching eggs see that the skillet has at least an inch of boiling salted water in it. After you've dropped the eggs into the pan reduce the heat to simmer temperature and cook the eggs until the white is set. Use a perforated spoon with which to lift the eggs out of the water so they will be well-drained before they are laid on toast.

Try Barbecuing Potatoes For A Different Approach

For a distinctly different way to prepare potatoes, try barbecuing them. Just add chili-seasoned barbecue sauce right out of the can to your regular hashed brown potatoes, heat thoroughly and serve.

If a prepared Mexican style barbecue sauce isn't available, here is a special recipe, developed in historic San Antonio, America's chili capital.

- CHILI BARBECUE SAUCE
 ¼ c. butter
 1 small onion, minced
 1 clove of garlic, minced
 1½ t. mustard
 1½ t. salt
 2 t. Gebhardt chili powder
 2 c. tomato soup
 6 t. lemon juice or vinegar
 ¼ c. water
- Cook onion and garlic in butter until tender; add other ingredients; boil for 5 min. or until thick. Pour over broiling or roasting meat or use as sauce for the reheating of cold meat. Serve hot.
- Garlic-flavored croutons are delicious added to a green salad. To make the croutons heat a little salad oil with a cut clove of garlic in it, add the diced bread, and brown slowly.

Hamburger Soup Is A Taste Treat

A treat for the children's lunch is this nutritious hamburger-vegetable soup with milk. (Be sure to save Dad a bowlful for his dinner.)

- Hamburger-Vegetable Soup
 ½ pound hamburger
 2 tablespoons fat
 ½ cup chopped onions
 1 cup chopped green pepper
 1 cup tomato juice
 ½ cup diced potatoes
 1 cup diced carrots
 1 teaspoon salt

8 cups milk
 3 tablespoons flour
 In a two-quart saucepan, melt fat and in it cook onions and green pepper until tender. Add hamburger and cook until well seared. Add tomato juice, potatoes, carrots and salt. Cover and simmer until vegetables are tender, about 20 minutes. Mix a little milk with the flour to make a thin paste. Add to soup, then add remaining milk stirring over low heat until thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper. 4 servings.

A pie made in a nine or ten-inch pie plate will serve six or more people; to serve four or five use an 8-inch pie plate.

Make Pears, Cranberries Into Compote

Among the new varieties of fresh fruits on the market during the fall there'll be plenty of fresh cranberries. No need to wait for the holidays to serve cranberries to your family, either, because there are a number of cranberry recipes for almost every course throughout a meal to add variety to the daily menu. For an unusual yet light and refreshing dessert try cranberries baked with a combination of oranges and pears.

Baked Cranberry, Pear & Orange Compote
 (Makes about 6 servings)
 2 cups fresh cranberries
 2 oranges, peeled and sectioned
 4 pears, peeled, cored, halved
 9 whole cloves
 3 1-inch cinnamon sticks
 ¼ cups light corn syrup

Place all ingredients in a 1½-quart casserole. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until pears are tender. Baste occasionally with syrup.

Fritoque Is Delicious Chili Dish

For a delicious and wholesome dish using either homemade chili or chili con carne right out of a can, we heartily recommend Fritoque (pronounced FREETOKIE). Fritoque is a great favorite in the Alamo City, and almost every family has its own special recipe. We especially like this recipe. Because all the ingredients can be bought at the corner grocer's, and the dish requires very little time and effort to prepare.

1 can (1 2-3 cups) Chili con carne with beans
 1 cup grated cheese
 1 medium onion (chopped)
 1 cup crushed corn chips (measured after crushing)
 Pour a can of chili con carne with beans into a casserole. Add a layer of grated cheese, chopped onions, and corn chips. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Cranberries In Salads Add Gay Note

There's nothing so welcome during the unexpected hot spells in fall as a refreshing salad. It helps perk up tired appetites and adds color and appeal to jaded palates. A blending of cooling flavors such as lemon, cucumbers and fresh cranberries brings a breath of Spring to Fall meals.

Jellied Cranberry-Cucumber Salad
 (Makes 6 to 8 servings)
 2 packages lemon-flavored gelatin
 2 medium cucumbers, diced
 1 cup sour cream
 1½ tablespoons salt
 3 tablespoons vinegar
 2 tablespoons minced onion
 ¼ teaspoon pepper
 2 cups chopped fresh cranberries

Prepare gelatin according to package directions. Cool and chill until syrupy. Add remaining ingredients. Mix thoroughly. Place in 1½-quart mold or pan. Chill

Cowboy's Christmas Ball Slated At Anson

Santa May Be Awaiting You In Space Ship

NEW YORK — Maybe Santa Claus will be waiting for you in front of a space ship instead of a sleigh, when you visit him in your favorite toy department this Christmas.

Saint Nick—always a fellow to keep up with the times—has taken note of the youngsters' interest in rockets and trips to the Moon. This year his lieutenants in a number of stores throughout the country plan to have him receive his 1952 public, standing beside a rocket ship in a star-studded Milky Way. Some of the rocket ships have a moving floor and moving pictures of a star-strown universe sounding past the windows, so that the youngsters can have the illusion of a ride in a space ship.

You have all that on the word of George Messmore, head of Messmore and Damon, New York producers of many of the animated figures used by department stores.

"The astronomical idea is the newest trend for toy departments for Christmas," he says, "but a lot of the old favorites will be there too."

The workshops at the back of his plant are busy today turning out jolly nodding store-window Santa Clauses, reindeer to gallop over snow-capped roofs, Little Miss Muffet, The Three Bears, and the cow that jumped over the moon.

A visit to the Messmore studio is like a trip to fairyland. A flick of an electric switch and the place comes to life. Jumbo, the giant elephant, tosses his trunk in the air. A pair of reindeer covered with tiny mirrors prance in glittering light. Santa Claus nods from his place beside them. A clown band tootles with vim.

George Messmore has been working with animated figures ever since he was a stage-struck schoolboy in Detroit. His brother was property man in a local theatre, and by using family influence, George managed to make his unsalaried stage debut at seven as the hind quarters of a cow in Jack in the Beanstalk. At 17 he came to New York, worked in a shop which built properties and eventually started his own factory. His right hand man is his son Francis, a U. S. Army major in World War II.

Riding

THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

Yesterday morning the Grub Line Rider saw a young couple and their baby doing their mighty good deed for the day. Somebody had wired tags designed to be attached to automobile radiators indicating a filling of anti-freeze, to the four legs and tail of a friendly dog.

This young couple had paused to remove the tags. Before they had finished, two or three persons stopped to help and all were indignant at the mistreatment of the dog, a very friendly fellow who gave every indication of gratitude for the help. In time those wires could have so cut off circulation that gangrene would have set in and rotted the dog's feet and tail off. We would like to think it was the prank of some boy, but we're afraid it wasn't. The way those wires were twisted they had the appearance of having been done by a man's hand. Too bad the dog didn't take the hand with him in such a case. It isn't nice to think there are people in your community who will mistreat animals that way.

Such mistreatment of animals is a violation of the law. Probably some filling station attendant can furnish police with the name of the person or persons who got those tags and put them on the dog. The Grub Line Rider has a couple of the tags if anybody is interested in trying to identify them.

Leland Wallace is mighty proud of the two big silver platters he won as trophies for having both the reserve champion bull and the reserve champion female at the Sweetwater Area Hereford Association sale at Sweetwater on Tuesday.

Leland also points out that both the grand champion and reserve champion bulls at Abilene on Monday, and the grand and reserve bulls and grand and reserve females at Sweetwater on Tuesday were all six direct descendants of that wonderful old sire, WBR Proud Mixer 21st, the sire of HG Royal Proud Mixer, herd bull of Judge Tom Garrard of Tahoka.

A Shorthorn steer, a 18-months-old, 1,100-pound summer yearling, owned by Ohio State University was crowned grand champion of the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago.

The steer was shown by Herman Purdy, instructor in animal husbandry, who has served as judge of the Fort Worth show several times.

The champion of the junior division of the show was an Angus shown by a 4-H Club girl.

The reserve grand champion of the show was a Hereford shown by a commercial breeder-feeder.

Apparently Texas' only chance to win in the steer competition was with the calf owned by Sue White and shown by James Cauble, but this animal failed to make the grade.

Texas' ranch and farm population dropped almost 40 per cent between 1940 and 1950, according to latest figures.

1950 census takers counted only 1,303,803 Texans living on ranches or farms, while the total was 2,189,548 in 1940.

The total population of the state is set at 7,711,194 with 4,838,000 living in cities and towns. Another approximate 1,500,000 live in rural areas but not on ranches or farms.

Abundant irrigation water in the Muleshoe area is credited with bringing about the production of an estimated 27,000 tons of alfalfa there this year.

Approximately 7,000 tons of the crop passed through the plant of the National Alfalfa Dehydrating and Milling Co. at Muleshoe.

An average price of $35 was paid for the hay with truckers going as high as $50 in the field. It is estimated that about 50 per cent of the crop was hauled away and sold elsewhere.

When an 82-year-old Floydada man, R. L. Ardry, was declared missing last June, the family offered a $500 reward for information leading to his whereabouts.

Mr. Ardry's body wasn't found for approximately five months. On November 11, Porter Myers, wagon boss for the 6066 Ranch found the remains approximately two and one-half miles east of Guthrie and about 350 yards south of Highway 82, in a pasture.

Now the cowboy has declined the reward. He told members of the Ardry family: "I was only happy to be of what help I could."

It was most unusual and unexpected but a 21-year-old girl student from Oklahoma A&M College beat out a field of 20 men to win high individual honors in collegiate judging at the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago. She was Minne Lou Ottinger of Hydro, Oklahoma, and she became the first woman to win this coveted award since the International was organized in 1900. Other girls have entered the contest in the past but none have ever come near winning it. Miss Ottinger is also the first woman to ever win a place on A&M's livestock judging team.

New Ideas In Books To Thrill Children

New ideas in children's books for 1952 Christmas giving feature play activities, among other things. "American Heroes," for example, has a variety of illustrative stamps to be pasted in appropriate parts of the text, encouraging careful reading as well as giving extra play value. Flags of the UN appear in another activity book with a variety of stamps for pasting.

Medieval Pie Bakers Believed In Quantity

Perhaps the largest Christmas pie ever to grace a Yule table was the one baked in medieval times, somewhere around the 15th Century, for an Englishman named Sir Henry Grey.

The pie was at least nine feet in circumference and weighed 165 pounds, and was served from a four-wheeled cart specially built for the purpose.

The delicacy contained some six pigeons and seven blackbirds, 20 pounds of butter, four geese, two rabbits, two woodcocks, four wild ducks, six snipes, four partridges, two curlews, two neat's tongues and two bushels of flour.

The volcano Vesuvius has furnished knowledge which enables volcanologists to predict eruptions of other volcanoes.

Model Cars Unusual

Small models of ancient autos are available in either kit or finished form. They make ideal gifts for men who remember the "good old days" of motoring, and for hobbyists. An average acre of sugar beets yields 3,500 pounds of granulated sugar.

Frivolity Underscored By Practicality In Purchasing

It's at Christmas that women get the luxurious and frivolous lingerie gifts they love so, the things they so rarely buy for themselves.

Frivolity, this year, is underscored by much practicality. Time was, when it came to lingerie, that you paid your money and had your choice of giving the practical or giving the luxurious. But you couldn't have both.

This year, you can. You will find filmy matched sets of gown and negligee or gown and peignoir in nylon that looks cowbeauty but washes like a handkerchief and has the strength of steel.

You'll find nylon gowns trimmed with frilly nylon lace and sprinkled with seed pearls or rhinestones or with touches of ermine or mink. You'll find, at budget prices, slips and half-slips and petticoats far lovelier than the most extravagant lingerie of a decade ago.

Black is a perennial favorite for Christmas lingerie. To most women, it spells glamor and beauty. This year, you'll find it's been cut into lace-trimmed, form-fitting gowns of nylon topped by floating nylon peignoirs that have been given pale pink linings to relieve the inky look of absolute black. Sleeves are huge, filmy circles worn pushed up.

The short robe, a fashion now firmly established, appears for Christmas this year in a beautiful wool basket weave that's imported. In pale blue, it's fitted and tied at the waist, has deep dolman sleeves and delicate trim of cotton eyelet lace.

It's worn over a companion short gown in blue nylon that's trimmed in nylon eyelet lace. There's a full-length version of this set in pale pink.

Soft nylon challis looks new for Christmas giving, particularly when it's cut into peignoirs and teamed with gowns in nylon ripple sheer or nylon georgette. Nylon challis is used for gowns, too, cut peignoir style.

Plats of all kind register heavily for lingerie and are particularly appealing in gifts.

Save Money By Buying A Gift Family Can Use

Christmas, that wholly delightful time of year, can present some mighty financial problems along with the festivity. You may have as close friends, for instance, a charming but large family of 12. This family will loom even larger around December 10th, finally becoming the ogres of your shopping list.

The solution, in face of the shrunken dollar, lies in finding one gift that the whole family can use and enjoy. Most likely, it will be something on the practical side.

Quick-and-easy daily rug care can be handled by practically any member of the family with one of the new carpet sweepers that comes now in a choice of decorator colors. This new sweeper glides easily, adjusts automatically to the thickness of pile, and whisks up all surface litter.

At a budget price, you can give your favorite family a set of six (or 12) after-dinner coffee spoons in fine silverplate. The spoons, which can double as muddlers, come gift-packaged in six different patterns. This means there's bound to be a pattern for every taste.

As a fond aunt or uncle, you may be faced with several small nieces and nephews in one family circle for whom gifts must be found. You want them to be similar but not exactly alike. You want them all in the same price range and you'd like them attractively packaged.

You'll find them this year in identical fork-and-spoon sets in a fine silverplate and in several patterns. For the little girl, there's a plastic figure of "Gretel" with the silver, and for her brother, a similar plastic figurine of "Hansel." Both are priced to fit the flattest wallet.

Another three-in-one combination at a similarly suitable price includes piggy bank and silver-plated fork and spoon.

POODLE CLOTH . . . 100% wool imported poodle cloth . . . in a black and blue combination color . . . a shade that will go with everything, go-anywhere. 54 inches wide. 8.50 yard.

FORSTMANN'S MILLATEEN . . . for light weight coats and suits . . . it's a clear finish worsted fabric of timeless character . . . a unique weave gabardine in beautiful colors of brown, grey, taupe, black and carmen red. 54 inches wide. 12.95 yard.

Service People Like Utility Value Items

Christmas gifts with a patriotic air—to meet the needs of your friends and relatives in service—are not as difficult to find as you might imagine. So many items considered commonplace in civilian life become treasured possessions to the young folks who are away from homes and families.

The young lady in uniform, be she a WAC or a WAVE, will appreciate presents that help to make life easier. You could, for instance, make up a package of completely utilitarian items.

It might include a latex braided-strand clothesline that eliminates the use of clothespins. The looped ends can be fastened over a water faucet, towel rack, door knob, or any other firm anchorage. The line weighs all of one ounce.

Then there is a small plastic washboard that slips over the back of your hand. It is one part of a laundry kit that includes a damp-clothes holder made of plastic cloth.

For washing nylon stockings send a flesh-colored fine nylon mesh bag with a drawstring. The bag eliminates possible snags or tears when washing nylons or any other filmy or precious item in the lingerie line. It should be washed, with the garments inside, in a bowlful of soapsuds.

Always helpful to the traveling servicewoman is a package containing compressed soft, scented, full-size face cloths in pellet form. When dropped into water they expand to full size within 30 seconds. Cloth can be used indefinitely.

Another ideal gift for feminine recruits is an electric hair dryer. The dryer makes shampoos and hair care easy. It can be held in one hand or placed on a stand or table, leaving both hands free. Furthermore, the dryer can be tilted to any convenient angle.

When you are considering gifts for the serviceman, or woman, think of a small, smart and lightweight camera that will be easy to operate and carry. One fine camera takes either 20 or 36-exposure black-and-whites and has magazines for color slides.

Since space is of the essence, every man who considers grooming the top order of the day will appreciate a slim-fitted leather case that holds a comb and nail file.

Utility is much more important when you are buying "service" gifts than eye-appeal. You will find a wide price range to choose from, and an unusually large selection of items that will more than meet the necessary specifications.

Clocks Your Hiking

Keeping track of the miles on those long hikes is usually a matter of guess and argument. The gift of a pedometer will stop the guessing, and do much to end the "how far did we walk" controversies.

Gifts In Popcorn

When sending packages of perishable goods through the mail, pack them with popcorn or peanuts in the shell. These are light in weight, will prevent rattling, and can also be eaten and enjoyed by the recipient.

Ideal Choice

An ideal Christmas beauty gift for a WAVE is an electric hair dryer that is easy and convenient to handle.
