

Three Die In Cameron Gun Fight

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

The question of improving the strength of Big Spring high school football teams is discussed quite a lot at this time.

We are having a fairly successful season considering that this is only our second season in Conference A of the Interscholastic League.

There is a pretty good volume of material on hand. Many of our fans, desiring that this town of that hires players and so forth and that they believe Big Spring cannot hope ever to compete seriously for the district championship unless she goes and does like-wise.

We have followed Oil Belt district football pretty closely since long before there was an Oil Belt. Even before the league was organized. And it has always been our observation that a lot of this talk about hiring players is not supported by the facts.

In certain years there have been some notable exceptions, of course. In other years big, strong teams looked like they just had to be hired to get that many big boys in one high school. Apt as not those boys all were regular, resident students who grew up in the community.

As far as we're concerned if Big Spring has to hire players to win a championship we don't care even to win one.

But, that is not necessary. We've made progress this season over last. We'll make more progress another season with the material on hand.

However, when you go out into a rural district in Howard county and get some big, healthy, willing boys to come into Big Spring to attend high school and then go him to try for the football team, you're doing both a boy and the high school a favor.

That is the kind of recruiting we favor. And then only when the boy comes from a district that does not offer a full high school course, so that he would be obtaining instruction here he could not get in his former home district.

That is thin the rules.

You know, but of late years, especially in colleges, it seems everybody is a fair football player grows exceedingly pretty-stripped just as soon as he gets good. Then he has to have a gravy train through college if he's to favor some school with his griffin presence.

That's a detriment both to the boy and the college.

And, after all is said and done, no matter how much material you have or how good your coach is, you can't have a consistent winner unless the whole blasted town is in there actively supporting the team, win or lose.

The Steers have not had the support this year they deserve.

Fannin County Bank Robbed

WINDOM, Fannin County, Oct. 29. (AP)—The First National Bank vault and safe were entered last night by yegmen and about $3,000 in cash and $4,000 in negotiable bonds and securities were taken.

Sheriff Bud Hughes, who came here from Bonham, the county seat, shortly after the robbery was discovered, said he believed professionals were responsible for the job. A fingerprint expert from Gainesville was summoned.

Entrance to the bank was made through a rear window, which had been jammed.

A hole was cut in the rear of the vault, evidently with an electrolysis drill and entrance to the safe, inside the vault, was gained in a similar manner, officers said.

The robbery was discovered by the bank janitor when he went to sweep out early today.

W. E. Pooling, president of the bank, and Max Wheeler, cashier, said the loss was covered by insurance.

Government Has Funds To Light Airway, Los Angeles-Big Spring; Night Schedule Will Be Operated

FT. WORTH, Oct. 29. (AP)—A night airmail schedule across the continent from Atlanta to the Pacific coast is seen as an accomplishment of the near future by Col. Charles M. Young, assistant secretary of the department of commerce, here for the opening of the new route.

Young's statement followed inauguration of day mail flying over the new transcontinental route, the latest to be opened. The carrying of mail over the route will be accomplished in about 24 hours when night flying begins, he said.

"Surveys for lighting the airway into Fort Worth," Colonel Young said, "have virtually been completed. The department has money enough to install beacon lights and emergency landing fields from Los Angeles eastward to Big Spring, but we cannot go farther until we receive another appropriation.

"However, we expect to install enough lights over the remaining distance from Big Spring into Fort Worth to tide over the breach and permit safe night flying into Fort Worth."

The new route was opened by the Southern Air Fast Express, flying a group of tri-motored Fokker ships. Both mail and passengers will be carried.

Changes Stated In Location Of County Offices

A shift in locations of several of the offices in the courthouse will be made, by Nov. 1, according to plans of the commissioners' court.

The office now occupied by Miss Pauline Cantrell, county superintendent, will be used by Judge H. R. Debenport. It is on the ground floor. Judge Debenport has been using the commissioners' court room as his office. When he moves he will be located between the commissioners' room and the county court room.

The office of county superintendent will be moved to the second floor, in the space now occupied by the county agent. A small office in the district courtroom, used as headquarters for the Big Spring independent school district, will be used in the future for storage of school books. The school tax office, in all probability, will be moved to the petroleum building, or some office outside the court house.

J. V. Bush, county agent, will move his office across the hall, a partition being planned in the office now used by the county demographer, auditor and health nurse. Anderson, Bailey, tax assessor, whose office has been located on the second floor, will move to the ground floor where he will occupy a space just west of the county courtroom, used at the present for storing school books.

His office will be used by the district clerk, to be elected Nov. 3, giving the county clerk additional space on the ground floor.

County Agents Have Department In The Herald

The Howard county farm agent and home demonstration agent will, beginning in Sunday's edition of The Herald, conduct a department devoted entirely to their work among the boys and girls, men and women of the county. This method has been hit upon to further their work and improve interest in 4-H clubs by keeping all members regularly informed upon all details.

Britain Warns Soviet Russia

LONDON, Oct. 29. (AP)—The British government has made representations to Soviet Russia that the Moscow government has not been observing its pledge against propaganda exchanged between the two countries on the resumption of relations.

Foreign Secretary Henderson divulged in the house of commons today that this representation had been made as a result of inquiry into propaganda carried on by the Third International in Great Britain and other parts of the empire.

"I asked the ambassador to impress seriously on his government that continuation of this propaganda would be calculated to endanger relations between the two countries," Mr. Henderson said.

The ambassador said that the soviet government would continue to observe the pledge but could not control the activities of the Third International.

Lord conservatives' cries greeted this statement, but the matter was allowed to drop.

Commission Bans Carnivals; Dance Halls Scrutinized

The city commission, in regular session Tuesday night, passed two ordinances, requested the city attorney to investigate another, and handled routine business.

The city solons passed an ordinance prohibiting carnivals from showing within the city limits.

They also adopted a new ordinance prohibiting persons from keeping hogs in the city limits.

Thomas J. Coffey, city attorney, was instructed to look into ordinances regarding the regulation of public dance halls in the city limits.

The traffic ordinance was amended to include Fourth and Scurry streets where there is new automatic traffic signal is being installed.

The commissioners agreed that carnivals are injurious to a city, invariably carrying away more money than they leave. It was the contention of all that gambling devices are operated by the majority.

Heretofore a city permit was compulsory before a carnival could show.

According to Miss Cantrell, the supervisor is making an inspection of rural schools to determine whether state aid should be given. The inspection covers buildings, equipment, and teacher certificates. The inspector, Frank Van Winkle, was in Colorado Tuesday and inspected Mitchell county schools. Miss Cantrell and Miss Ruby McGill, superintendent of Mitchell county, accompanied the state officials on his tour of some of the schools. Miss Cantrell visited schools at Westbrook, Cuthbert, Carr and Dorn.

Plans Adopted For Enlarging Airport Building

An addition to the administration building of the Big Spring airport, which will bring that portion of the field to an A-1-A rating, will be made immediately, it was announced today.

The announcement followed a meeting of directors of the Big Spring Airport Co. held Tuesday afternoon. Jerry Marshall, operations manager of the Southern Air Fast Express, met with the directors. He brought several sketches and plans of proposed additions to the building.

According to the announcement of the project, the addition will be on the west side of the building. It will consist of a mailing room, radio room, baggage room and ticket and operations room. The rooms now occupied by these compartments will be used as sleeping quarters for pilots and the airport forces. The waiting room now used will be used in the future.

Plans and specifications for the new addition are now being drawn up and will be ready for bidders by Friday. A contract for the work will be awarded and work is expected to start by a week from Saturday at the latest.

The addition will be tile and stucco, the same type as the building now used.

Marshall left this morning for El Paso on the westbound S. A. F. E. passenger and mail plane.

Other improvements at the field are contemplated. This includes installing night lighting equipment. Nothing definite has been announced regarding the work. It will be done by S. A. F. E. and not the airport company, however.

T. & P. Men Speak Here

L. C. Porter, general freight agent of the Texas & Pacific Railway, urged Big Spring residents to work steadily with the local committee in obtaining agricultural statistics to be presented the interstate commerce commission at the hearing for the proposed T. & P. N. railway.

Porter, with D. P. Watt, claims agent, were guests of the Business Men's Luncheon Club at the regular luncheon today. Both spoke. Porter declared no other section in the southwest has such "potential possibilities" as that between Big Spring, Amarillo and Lubbock. He urged residents to work with the local committee and committees of other towns along the proposed route in working out data to be given to the commission.

"This is very necessary," he declared. "A public necessity must be proved in order to warrant construction of this new line."

He expressed the opinion that permission would be given to our region along the project.

"I have visited these towns along the proposed route," he said, "and I have yet to find one intimation of jealousy or hatred in any of them. All of you are working for this line."

L. A. Hinach, manager of Montgomery Ward and Company, made a short talk on the present business conditions. He declared in his opinion there is no depression to a very great extent in Big Spring. As an example he pointed out radio dealers here had sold 20 percent more this year than last. He characterized the depression as "psychological feeling in which pessimism is the chief element."

L. G. Bell, who recently commuted here with the Robert & St. John Motor Company, also spoke. The program was in charge of E. L. Gibson, who recently moved here from Graham. He owns the S. & S. Printing Co.

Announcement was made of a luncheon for residents of towns along the proposed T. & P. N. railway, to be held at Amarillo Friday. An effort will be made to send a large delegation from here to the meeting.

170 Bales Handled By Co-Op Office

Satisfactory business is being received by the local branch office of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, which was opened here over a week ago, according to O. E. Reynolds, manager.

About 170 bales have been handled by the co-op since the office was opened. Only about four working days brought this amount to the association, Reynolds declared.

At the present time the body is able to make a 90 percent advance on cotton with the price per bale running almost parallel with the present street price, Reynolds declared.

He predicts a number of bales from Midland, Martin and Howard counties will be brought to the association within the next few weeks.

Deputy And Storekeeper Are Victims

Cause Obscure; Merchant Shoots Himself

CAMERON, Oct. 29. (AP)—Three men were killed and a fourth wounded today in a gun fight at a store here.

The dead: Ed Dunham, about 30, shot in the head.

Guy Pope, deputy sheriff.

R. B. Brady, 41, proprietor of the store, which is on the outskirts of town.

Sheriff L. L. Blaylock said he could give no motive for the shooting, nor could Deputy Sheriff Ray Robinson, who was wounded in the hand.

They said the officers—Dunham was a special officer of the Santa Fe Railroad—were investigating the burglary of some Santa Fe cars and a warehouse, which occurred Friday night. They stopped at the store, Blaylock added, to talk to Brady, who ran into the store and began firing with a shotgun.

Deputy Robinson, Sheriff Blaylock added, returned the fire with his pistol, shooting four times.

Grady, the sheriff declared, turned the gun on himself after opening fire on the officers.

"I haven't the slightest idea, said the sheriff, "why Grady began firing."

The storekeeper had no quarrel so far as he knew, Blaylock added, with the officers, who merely had stopped to "chat" with him "on their rounds."

Gene Smith, city marshal, said when he reached the scene of the shooting, Grady covered him with his gun and said:

"Gene I do not want to kill you, but I did not want to be taken by them."

Smith said Grady then placed the muzzle of a single-barrel shot gun to his own head and killed himself. Smith said he believed Grady opened fire from a window of his store. Officers Dunham and Pope opened fire from a window of his store. Brady was said to have reloaded his gun after firing once, killing Dunham with the second load.

Grady's head was partly blown away by the shot.

The bodies of Dunham and Pope were found within 15 feet of each other.

Pope was shot in the stomach and lived a few minutes, dying in an ambulance en route to a hospital.

Mrs. Brady was shopping in town when the shooting took place. As she returned to her home she saw the crowd gathered and rushed up to the outer fringe and exclaimed:

"Where is the fire?"

When she saw her husband's body she collapsed.

The officers had not fired their pistols. Dunham's was found on the ground, fully loaded. Pope's was in his holster. Robinson said Dunham had reloaded his pistol and dropped it as a bullet from Brady's rifle hit him in his jaw.

There were 18 bullet holes in the automobile that Robinson used for shelter as he exchanged shots with Brady.

Thirty San Angelo musicians will make the tour as guests of the Board of City Development, including members of a band, a drum corps and an orchestra.

Partners May Have Formed Suicide Pact; Insurance Pays Debts
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—Possibility of a suicide pact between Sidney F. Brock and George K. Kelly, member of the brokerage firm of Kelly, Brock & Co., who ended their lives with pistols within three days of each other was under investigation by police today.

Kelly shot and killed himself on his estate at Gladwyne, a suburb Thursday, and Brock took his life by the same method in a central city apartment house yesterday. Forty-eight hours before his death Brock assigned the assets of the brokerage firm to officials of the Pennsylvania Company for insurance on lives and granting annuities so that liquidation for the benefit of creditors might be facilitated.

Kelly and Brock each left $700,000 worth of uncontestable life insurance for the benefit of the firm. They had policies aggregating

$1,000,000 each. Sigourney Mellon, head of an insurance brokerage concern, said today that some of the policies contained a suicide clause that made them uncollectible. The insurance was taken out in 1912, 1914, 1916 and 1929.

John W. Brock, Jr., a brother of Sidney, expressed belief today that the partners had committed suicide in order to satisfy their creditors.

Mrs. Smith received a telephone message Monday from Dallas, saying her brother, Joe Platt, was not expected to live. Mr. Platt was formerly in the restaurant business at Ackerly and has many friends here who regret very much to hear of his serious condition.

T. A. convention, which meets in San Angelo in November. The Ackerly P. T. A. will meet again Friday night, Nov. 7th, and have a reception for the school faculty. Patrons are urged to be present at this meeting and get acquainted with the teachers. We are looking forward for a successful school term this year.

Family May Pay Ransom For Banker

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—A special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune from Galva today said that the family of Earl L. Yocum, missing banker, had agreed to pay ransom, reported to be $50,000, to a gang of men who abducted him.

GALVA, Ill., Oct. 29.—The fate of Earl Yocum, kidnaped banker, rested today in the hands of his wife.

The banker's wife announced that she had called off all outside help in the search for her husband, who disappeared Saturday and that she was "handling the matter herself." She termed speculation that her husband was held in Chicago for $50,000 as "all guess work" and added that no one, except herself, had any knowledge of the supposed ransom demand.

Meanwhile, county authorities abandoned their hunt for the missing man when Mrs. Yocum declined to take them into her confidence. Two special delivery letters have been received by Mrs. Yocum, one from Kewanee, Ill., and the other from Chicago. Both are reported to have dealt with the ransom question.

The apparent anxiety of the Yocum family to drop the investigation was viewed with apprehension by officers of the Illinois Bankers' Association. They expressed belief that if an extortion gang obtained "easy money" from Yocum that other small town bankers would become the constant prey of kidnapers.

"With no co-operation from Mrs. Yocum we can do little now," A. P. Sherwood, of Chicago, secretary of the bankers' association was quoted as saying, adding that "just as soon as Yocum is released we are going into action."

The criminal department of the association revealed at the same time that it has been conducting a quiet investigation of the recent kidnappings of William Urban and Frank Daugherty, both of Peoria, and of a Des Moines, Iowa, cigar store owner.

Many Novel Methods of Preparing Celery Shown; Foods Rich In Iron Should Be Considered Every Meal

CELERY IS ONE of the most popular autumn vegetables. All through the fall and winter months this vegetable remains crisp and appetizing. As an uncooked vegetable it makes an inviting relish that adds zest to any meal.

But what becomes of the coarse outer stalks of a head of celery? Do you consign them to the garbage can as worthless? Too often that happens and their possibilities as an excellent cooked vegetable are completely overlooked.

Cream of celery soup is flavory and suitable for luncheon or dinner. Celery sticks are a fritter-like concoction that appeal when the meat course is light. Creamed celery or toast, with crisp broiled bacon or grilled tomatoes, is acceptable for breakfast or luncheon. The English make a scalloped dish of celery, a little onion, macaroni, and white sauce that is piquant, and unusual. There is a celery loaf made with nuts and bread crumbs that is novel and delicious.

In order not to break the rules of meal planning and repeat flavors, do not serve a cooked celery dish in the same meal in which celery is used as a relish or in the salad.

While care should be taken that the pieces used for cooking are quite crisp, there is no objection to cooking the green unbleached stalks. These unbleached pieces are usually discarded, but they are richer in vitamins than the white bleached blades.

When celery is wanted for flavoring soups or sauces, the leaves are as satisfactory as the stalks. Carefully washed and coarsely chopped, they impart a strong celery flavor.

These suggested precautions are a worth while economy. A delicious wholesome vegetable develops from the usual waste included in a bunch of celery and the original purchase serves a two-fold purpose.

Celery sticks are so unusual and pleasing that the recipe follows: Twelve blades of celery, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 2 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-3 teaspoon pepper, 2 eggs, fine dried bread crumbs.

Cut celery in pieces three or four inches long. Let stand in cold water to which vinegar has been added for half an hour. Drain and par-boil in slightly salted boiling water for 15 minutes. Drain and chill. Bring to the boiling point and add salt, pepper and 1 egg well beaten. Set aside until cold. Dip each piece of celery in the sauce to complete.

Local Chapter Is Co-Hostess At Luncheon

Delegates Feted At Many Affairs; Big Spring Women Present

THE Eastern Star convention now going on in San Angelo with no less than a dozen Big Spring women in attendance, reaches a high point in its social entertainment today and tomorrow. Over 2,000 are expected to register by today.

The Big Spring chapter will be co-hostesses with Eldorado, Norton, Bronco, Sterling, Paint Rock and San Angelo, at a luncheon honoring the eight Elective Grand Officers, Most Worthy Grand Officers, and all out-of-state Grand Officers, past and present, at the St. Angelo hotel.

Entertainment has already been lavish, according to a San Angelo paper and to quote: "With several hundred Eastern Star visitors arriving in San Angelo Monday, there was a whirl of interesting activities in which well known officials of the state and national organization played a prominent part."

Official dinners and reception featured the opening of the convention, the interest centering at the St. Angelo hotel, headquarters of the convention, and at the Hilton, where other entertainments took place.

Luncheon The first entertainment was held at 12 o'clock Monday, when the annual Birdie J. Easterling luncheon was given in the Jacobian dining room of the Hilton hotel, in honor of Mrs. Easterling, who is junior past grand matron of Del Rio. The luncheon was sponsored by Mrs. H. E. Edens of Big Lake and was attended by prominent O.E.S. officers and deputies and their husbands.

The table was centered with a lovely floral piece of chrysanthemums, while the favors were carnations.

Seated at the luncheon were: Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Easterling of Del Rio; Mrs. Emma Chadwick of Seattle, Wash., most worthy grand matron; W. Gregory Hatcher of Austin, junior past grand patron; Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Bonnell; Mrs. Antonio; Mrs. Joiner; De Leon; Mrs. White, Fort Worth; Mrs. "Maud Ripley" Electra; Mrs. Freda Bernhart, Dallas; Mrs. Gladys W. Mrs. Robeloh Miles, Alhambra; Mrs. W. Weatherly, Big Lake; Mrs. William Berry, Big Lake; Mrs. John Kovich, Big Lake; and Mrs. H. E. Edens, Big Lake.

Dinner At 6 o'clock the local O.E.S. chapter entertained with a dinner on the Italian roof garden of the St. Angelo hotel, complimenting the worthy grand officers of 1929 by grand matrons, worthy patrons and pages, including the grand officers.

There were 18 grand officers, worthy patrons and patrons of the "Cocheco Valley" chapters present, at the dinner, and covers were laid for 20 guests.

Receiving the guests were officers of the local chapter who were Mrs. R. M. Wilzig, Mrs. J. Ben Hittner, Mrs. M. A. Ruppion, Mrs. Eva Nolte, Mrs. Kate Col-

County Health Nurse Attends Convention

Hears Discussion of Child Welfare Work At Session

CHILD welfare work held the center of the stage at the Tuesday afternoon session of the American Public Health Association in Fort Worth, which Mrs. M. H. Showalter, county health nurse, is now attending.

Much along the same lines as Mrs. Showalter's own work, the discussion of public health education, child hygiene, and public nursing was taken up.

Several hundred delegates, interested in this particular phase of public health work, attended this session, which was presided over by Dr. T. C. Pitzer, chairman of the child hygiene section, Department of Health, Toronto, Ontario.

Total registration exceeded the 1,200 mark yesterday at the convention, and it was estimated by officers of the association that there are more than 1,500 visitors to the convention now in Fort Worth. The other 200 are represented by commercial representatives and members of the families of registered delegates, it was explained.

Four sectional meetings were held Tuesday afternoon, including the joint session. The other sectional meetings were those of the industrial hygiene, food, drugs and nutrition, and public health engineering sections. In addition to these sectional meetings, a one-day institute was held by the American Social Hygiene Association at the First Christian Church, and a closed meeting of the International Society of Medical Health Officers was held at the Medical Arts Building.

BIG SPRING FAVORED IN BROWNWOOD BATTLE

Could it be possible that it has come to pass that the Angelo scribe is now bearing with us in our statements made previous to the San Angelo-Big Spring game? We perceive with wonder, and our staunch little galley boy presses with wonder, the things the blond haired young father is saying about the Bobcats. When we insinuated (as he charged vociferously) before the game that such things would happen he quickly took up arms against us, and endeavored to humble us in the eyes of San Angelo and Big Spring as well. His sins have assumed a boomerang complexion. Pipe this to the San Angelo team was out-fought by an inferior eleven and was more or less fortunate that it got off with no worse than a tie score! That refers to the San Angelo-Big Spring game, but we don't understand the "inferior team" part of it. Getting hotter and waxing warmer, Mr. Cross continues, "It begins to appear Bill Bissett has a team that doesn't like it rough, or rather there are several members of that team who do not care to mix it when the sledging becomes ferocious!" And listen and learn: "It made no difference who was out there, the Big Spring team whipped them down." What's this? The current showing of several of the Bobcats has been keenly disappointing." And speaking of other San Angelo teams, "But in 1928 San Angelo had a fighting team!" And this, kind and otherwise customers, was the young man supposedly honest and upright young man who ripped off 47 teams of ridicule because we happened to be the spirits of the Bobcats were low. This was this young fellow, the "love of dogs and children, who had us 'plunging into his hands' and broadcast it to Big Spring officials! Scribbles, like other worms, do turn!

You will notice, perhaps, that the versatile typewriter mauler declared above that "San Angelo was more or less fortunate" to get a tie. That was his opinion Monday afternoon. Yet, Tuesday morning the athletic fellow, like Flannigan's off-again, on-again train, changed his mind of thinking "However," chirps the changeable scribe, "Big Spring was quite lucky; lucky to get a 6-4 tie, and lucky it didn't get beat at least 12 to 0!" It all goes to show that what looks like sweet milk Monday night has a perfect chance of becoming first class clabber Tuesday morning.

Of course he runs down Bill Flowers, endeavoring to inject praise at a fellow by the name of Rosson. We believe he plays football for San Angelo. There was not a man on the field Saturday that could keep pace with either Bill Flowers or Debert Rogers. Rogers has a great shot at all district ratings than any of the San Angelo players. However, as just a couple of brags above any Bill Bissett can trot out on the gridiron today. As a matter of fact, if the truth was to be found anywhere along the banks of that stormy Concho stream, both Flowers and Rogers have drawn the admiration of deponents in every game they have participated in. The efforts of the San Angelo scribe to attack their athletic achievements is accepted on the face of it. You see, they attend Big Spring high school rather than the one located in San Angelo.

Brownwood, whose football players come here Friday afternoon for a district battle, like Big Spring, has fallen victim to the onward rushing of the Big Spring "Coke" Big Spring, however, Brownwood also has been bowled over by members of the Little Six, so to speak. Since the curtain was jerked up in this Western of old Brownwood has gleaned 41 points, while opponents have stacked up a grand total of 198, or somewhere in that vicinity. However, an occupant of the cellar is always dangerous to a certain degree. Sometimes they do the unexpected. Last year a little place down east named Ranger learned about such things. Cocky, over confident, and without anything to be either about, Ranger went down to Brownwood last year and got ousted out of the district race in their initial contest. Brownwood should cop a fray before this season ends. But we can't see where it is going to be wedged in.

Big Spring, incidentally, has an excellent chance to finish in the first division. In all probability San Angelo and the local aggregation will be tied for first place honors among the trailers. Should Cisco manage to defeat Ranger, and Abilene cop from the Lobos, while each is losing to Breckenridge, the Bulldogs will finish down about third place, where we placed them at the beginning of this melee. Cisco is likely to defeat the Doggies, too; but we can't see them making so much headway against the Mayhewmen of "Athens." Big Spring should center through Brownwood and Sweetwater, and might stage the unexpected by getting rough with Ranger.

"Red" Coburn, the crimson tide of the Bobcats, played end against the Bobcats. He and Hopper are a couple of behemoths for the wing positions, with Coburn having the edge on experience. Phillips, however, regular wingman, is needed to do the booting—which he does well. Little Coots is one of the hardest fighting men Stevens can boast of. But he is handicapped by being small. The Coburn-Hopper combination might have disrupted things along the line this season. As a result of being a lineman all season, Coburn has been kept out of a num-

Cellar Owners Come Here Friday

Bovines Emerge From Angelo Tilt Minus Injuries

Sole owners and operators of the District Two cellar, the Brownwood Lions will be the guests Friday afternoon of the Big Spring Steers at the local gridiron. The game was originally scheduled for Brownwood, but was sent here willingly by officials of the school down in the heart of Brown County. The fray will start at 3:30 p. m. according to the last announcement. It will be the first time this year the Steers have encountered a Class A aggregation here on Friday afternoon. As a result of this, a larger crowd than has turned out heretofore is expected to drop their money in the coffers. Several complaints against having all of the tilts on Saturday have been made, school officials declared, because many who could attend Friday frays were unable to get off and away Saturday afternoon.

Records

The Steers will go into the tilt the overwhelming favorites to tip. When you place things down on a comparative basis proposition there is little to favor the Brown County crew. Cisco beat Brownwood 78 to 0. Cisco whammed the Steers 62 to 0, but a lot of second stringers were in the local lineup in the second half. Mineral Wells added insult to injury by bottling the Lions up in a 31 to 0 tally. Big Spring defeated Mineral Wells 12 to 6. Abilene took the Lions 38 to 0, and Big Spring, 33 to 0. Eastland won a game by slipping a 20 to 9 affair to the hosts of the forest. Big Spring upset a small amount of dope by defeating Eastland 6 to 0. Brownwood, however, held Ranger to 32 to 0 in the opening game of the season. The Steers have yet to clash with Eck Curtis maroon gang from the eastern division of Eastland County.

Coburn To End

It is possible that "Red" Coburn, hefty lineman, will assume one of the wing positions. He played against San Angelo, holding down one of the ends with his height and weight being a great advantage to the cense topped behemoth.

The Steers emerged from the San Angelo game without any noticeable injuries. The Bobcats, as a matter of fact, have been lucky all year in escaping without losing a man via the injury route. Although they have gone no further down the line in kicking them 21 to 0 at Commerce while North Texas reached the top by besting the Abilene Christian College Wildcats, 20 to 12.

West Texas having but four conference games carried this season, put itself in an embarrassing position Thursday night by battling scoreless tie with the Daniel Baker College Hillbillies. The tie puts Canyon in a precarious position so far as its chances to take the TIAA title are concerned.

Daniel Baker, previously not seriously considered in this 1930 TIAA chase, commanded more respect this week, and teams headed for Brownwood for conference clashes are expecting trouble. The Billies outplayed the Buffaloes and on more than one occasion were on the verge of scoring.

The North Texas Eagles and the Sam Houston Bearcats got an auspicious start from the wire. They played their first conference games last week-end after rounding out heavy non-conference schedules, and the tuning up these machines experienced in September and October seemed to get them set for the conference race.

Stephen F. Austin, earlier in the season rated as one of the conference's strongest grid outfits dropped its third game in as many starts at Abilene Saturday, the McMurry College Indians beating the Lumberjacks 24 to 18. Stephen F. Austin is definitely out of the 1930 race.

It falls San Angelo's lot to take the brunt of Cisco's wrath this week. Having been defeated twice the past week—once by the district committee, and then by Breckenridge—the Lobos are in an ill frame of mind. On the proverbial "celebrity gridiron" where the San Angelo crew won a moral victory over the Big Spring Steers last week by holding them to a 6-4 tie, the Lobos are expected to run wild. San Angelo, in years gone by, however, has been noticeably tough for the Chapman clan. They may be so this year. And then they may not.

Or Crimes Committed By Scribes

Flowers Not All-District

Wild Bill Flowers, the Big Spring back, has been somewhat of a disappointment. For weeks the Big Spring sports editor touted Flowers to the moon as an all-district athlete. We were keenly interested in seeing Flowers go. We watched him in one game and were not impressed, but figured possibly that was an off-afternoon for Wild Bill. Then we saw him go against San Angelo Saturday. As a ball-carrier Flowers showed slightly more than did any one member of the Bobcat secondary. As a passer, he showed no more than did Tuffy Colton, a San Angelo youngster just up from junior high. As a defensive back Flowers was not near the equal of Brown or Colton. As a blocking back, he could not compare to Reason or Colton. Flowers is a nice young back, but there are very much better backs in the district. Just a few of the better backs are Magnus of Breckenridge, McNary and Bird of Reno, Ed. Gullett and Foster of Abilene, Charles of Cisco, Clark of Eastland and BOBBY of SAN ANGELO. There is a suspicion that Flowers, being a better blocker, a better defender, a better ball-carrier has been considerably underrated. It is as scrappily interfering as Flowers' mates gave Flowers in the Spring a mean fourth-quarter. Brown Saturday.

Prospects For Business Aided By Recent Rains

DALLAS, Oct. 29. (AP)—The heavy soaking rains, which fell throughout this federal reserve district during the first week in October relieved the prolonged drought, and created a brighter outlook for agriculture and business, the monthly business review of the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas, issued today, stated.

"Farmers are now able to proceed with fall plowing and to complete the seeding of small grains," the review continued. "That portion of the district which has been greatly improved by the rains, has been greatly improved. Crops and weeds on the prairie have started and given a late season of considerable pasture should be available during the winter. The blocking back and a better defense has been considerably reduced, and it is as scrappily interfering as Flowers' mates gave Flowers in the Spring a mean fourth-quarter. Brown Saturday.

Keeping the Record Straight

The Big Spring reporter went back to the Howard county high school Saturday night and told the home folk that Big Spring had a better football team than has San Angelo and the Bobcats were lucky they didn't lose. The score was 6-4. The Bobcats were lucky not to lose in that when the game ended Big Spring was banking of the goal line and, given more time, MIGHT have gone across. However, Big Spring, was quite lucky to get a 6-4 tie and lucky it didn't get beat at least 12 to 0. Big Spring's tying touchdown was one of almost sheer luck. The score was made on a pass from Rogers to Flowers. By all odds, the ball should have been intercepted or halted down. The pass was somewhat short and low so far as Flowers, the ultimate receiver, was concerned. Decker of the San Angelo secondary checked up and speared at it. The ball was squarely into his hands and but for a quirk of fate he would have caught it. Instead, he deflected the ball upward and over the goal line into Flowers' arms. Yes, Big Spring, was quite lucky. Earlier, Smoky Brothers, one of the Oil Belt's surest pass-matching men, was in the Big Spring zone, wide open and unwatched. But Smoky dropped Colton's pass for what had looked like a pinch touchdown. There Old Lady Fate stepped in and smiled again for Big Spring. Brothers' average on muffing passes like that hardly is as high as one out of 20. So, after all, it is Big Spring that was the lucky team Saturday.

Spanish Students Riot In Protest Against Plan

SEVILLE, Spain, Oct. 29.—Nearly all of the 500 students at the University of Seville went on strike today and rioted in the various buildings, breaking classroom windows and doors.

The strike was a protest against the operation of Spanish universities under a plan devised by Senor Calles, who was minister of public instruction under the Primo de Rivera dictatorship.

Ramon Carnate, rector of the university, promised the students he would telegraph Madrid and request that the Calles plan be withdrawn.

It appeared that no one was injured in the demonstrations but great excitement prevailed. When the students burned text-books and newspapers in the patio, some called the fire department and the rush of fire trucks to the school increased the confusion.

The students said that they felt the Calles plan was inefficient from the standpoint of study and that it was too severe in depriving them of personal liberties.

PARKVILLE, Mo.—Park College does not engage in intercollegiate sports and its president, Dr. Frederick W. Hawley, has a suggestion for colleges that do, in substance: "It is no worse to capitalize your progress booting a football than throwing hash students who excel in studies are given scholarships. Why not scholarships for athletic ability in athletic factories?"

Mad Longhorns After Pony Eleven

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 29.—Goaded and maddened by the 6-0 defeat at the hands of the Rice Owls, and with the fans still ringing in their ears, the Texas Longhorns have presented Coach Littlefield with the problem of how to keep them from wrecking each other and Shorty Alderson's freshmen as they go through vicious practice sessions in preparation for the S. M. U. game Saturday. Thoroughly down to business at last, the Longhorns went through their first workout Monday, without so much as a smile to break the atmosphere of dead seriousness.

"The Longhorns are after the Ponies, and they are making no bones about the matter. A victory over Morrison's men would remove in their minds the stigma of the Rice defeat, and would leave them with a successful season, whether they beat Baylor and T. C. U. or not. Longhorn teams have been bitter in the past when they played the Mustangs, but before there has never been any feeling that can compare with the calm deadness that hovers over Memorial stadium.

"The Steers will be the under-dogs, and they know that they are not conceded an even chance against the Ponies. Also they know that should they be beaten by the Mustangs they will be submerged to where they would have no chance at the championship. Right now, you can't tell a single man on the grid that Texas is practically out of the running, without receiving a 'yo yo' and 'see-see' around, and that is good news for Littlefield.

The Texas team came out of the Rice game in good shape, with Rut Vining, veteran end, the only man who could show any sign of injury. Vining has a sore shoulder, which was not helped any in the game with Meagher's sophomores.

The Orange and White campus is a scene of violent activities this week as the students wait in nervous anticipation for the game with the Ponies. Giant rallys, parades, and torch light processions are on the calendar, with the Texas fans pleading for a Steer victory this year.

Special arrangements have been made between the Texas yell leaders and the athletic officials, whereby the most strenuous will sit in a closely packed body at the game, and be relieved of any constrictions that co-eds might put on their yelling powers.

Stocks at frequent intervals as the season progressed. Despite the fact that business is at a low ebb there are some indications of retreating optimism and a strengthening of the undertone of confidence.

A sharp upturn in the commercial loans of reserve city banks was reported by the most recent development in the financial situation, as the banks early in October reaching the highest point since the last days of February.

The daily average of net demand and time deposits rose from $820,000,000 in August to $820,125,000 in September, but the increase was considerably less than usual at this time of the year. The Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas reported that member banks reflected a gradual decline during September and remained approximately stable at around $100,000,000 during the first half of October. On Oct. 15, these loans amounted to $107,532,737, which represents a reduction of $4,257,497 from the six-week period, and was a substantial improvement over August. The department store sales in leading cities were particularly improved, 30 per cent over the previous month and but two per cent less than in September, 1929. Shipments and new orders for increase over the previous month in many lines was more than seasonal in character, the review recited. "This was due in part to the fact that merchants bought very sparingly early in the season and have found it necessary to replenish stock this year."

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Atlanta, Ga. — Why cannot our farmers find relief in cooperative marketing? The chief service which co-operation renders to any form of industrial or economic life is to place the relations of producers and consumers on an organized basis, and thus secure a stabilized market and an adequate return on the cost of production. The agricultural industry is of primary importance because it is irreplaceable and absolutely essential to the nation.

Few farmers seem to realize the extent to which the larger cooperative movements of consumers have helped the buyers of various commodities in foreign lands. British farmers are likewise slow to appreciate the benefits of co-operation. One English organization of this kind takes a third of Denmark's exports of butter, eggs and bacon. Yet this organization was founded for the purpose of buying British produce. Co-operative groups on an extensive scale may under certain conditions become a means of economic adjustment that which respects the rights of the producers, the buyers and the state. There is reason to believe that great advantages inhere in it as a system. Such an agency, I believe would greatly aid our farmers in this country, but until now the difficulty has been their reluctance to receive it.

I have just finished reading some of the writings of Madame Blavatsky and her teachings on theosophy. How is she regarded today? The verdict upon Madame Helena Petrovna Blavatsky is far from being unanimous. She was born in 1831 and died in 1891. The late Professor Henry Bigelow spoke of her mingled qualities, her subtle craft and reckless audacity, her intellectual vigor, her elastic vitality and genuine bonhomie. The Society for Psychological Research issued a report in 1885 in which they described her as "one of the most accomplished, ingenious and interesting impostors in history."

These estimates were fiercely resented by her disciples. Doctor Eugene Rollin Corson speaks of those who criticized her as mere hirelings of the Psychological Society, who "of her severest critics are deemed as 'an insufferable gag.'" But doubt there were inexcusable acts in her career, especially in her relations to spiritualism, which she first accepted and later repudiated. Nevertheless, she had numerous and enthusiastic followers, one of whom declares her to have been "one of the brightest pure spirits ever created in this dirty swamp called Earth. She seems to be incarnated kindness and gentleness, so sincere, so truthful, so ever ready to forgive and unwilling to believe in evil" with much more to the same effect. But three years later the same follower spoke in a very different tone.

It seems that the story of Madame Blavatsky's bigamous marriage to Bettway, her husband Blavatsky being then still living and unwedded, had become known to some of her acquaintances, who deeply resented her act. On the other hand Madame herself professed to treat the whole incident as a sort of practical joke she called "dramy" "mystification," but apparently realized that this second so-called marriage was responsible for the coolness which had grown up between her and some of her friends. That the second "marriage" actually took place at Philadelphia on April 3, 1878, appears to be beyond doubt. Not even her followers dispute that fact, and J. N. Farquhar, who had the marriage registers examined, reports that the bride gave her age as thirty-six when at that time she was really forty-three. The foregoing divergent views explain why the verdict on Madame Blavatsky is distinctly mixed.

I'm between the devil and the deep sea. The company for which I work formerly turned out goods I could honestly sell and I did well. Now they want me to sell stuff that is below grade. It looks all right but it is not. If I quit I shall have to face taking a position with another concern at less pay. If I stay I am practically forced to do it every day. What would you do in my place? Kindly omit address.

Quit — Why stultify yourself or take money as the reward of your dishonesty? Every customer you deceive through a misrepresentation, however reluctantly made on your part, may become your enemy, because he will rightly feel you have abused his trust in you. The fact is you cannot afford to stay where you are. It means not only the rights of honest customers who have been injured, but the loss of your self-respect and the forfeiture of the esteem of others. As things now stand, the misrepresentations of your firm become your personal responsibility. Shed your own conscience in the matter and begin to look around for another connection.

I fully appreciate that my suggestions are not easy to follow. Apart from the worry of a change, you will have to accept a temporary loss of income. Nevertheless, let no one rob you of your integrity. It is the first and last concern for you and yours.

New Source Of Newsprint Discovered

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor) ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 29. (AP)—A chemistry Alladin laid before an Atlanta chamber of commerce luncheon today white newsprint paper made from a new source—slash pine. He said it opens the prospect of a new and wholly American supply of newsprint and high grade book paper made from southern pine trees, probably of all sorts. The Alladin was Dr. Charles H. Herty of New York, former president of the American Chemical Society. He made his discovery public without reservations, and proposed that southern business men make use of the knowledge to enrich the south. Southern pine long has been used to make paper of a yellow variety, Dr. Herty said, but not to compete with the high grade sulfite process newsprint and white book paper made from spruce. His new paper was made of the one variety of southern pine supposed to be the least capable of producing regular newsprint. It was held to contain too much resin. Last year, Dr. Herty announced at a meeting here the discovery that resin in young slash pines is mostly myth, and today he quoted the International Paper company's research laboratory in confirmation. Furthermore, Dr. Herty said, today there is no more resin in any of the southern pines than in spruce. The resin forms in the heart wood of the southern pines after they are about 25 years old when, he said, they usually are too large for pulpwood. The new white paper sample was made at a paper mill in a metal basket suspended inside a "digestor" which was otherwise filled with spruce undergoing the regular sulfite process. Not only did the supposedly stubborn slash pine digest so easily as the spruce, said Dr. Herty, but it weakened with the same amount of bleach. Its fibers were as long and as strong as spruce. "This is the first year so far as I am aware," he said, "that slash pine has been made into this grade of white paper. Experiments now under way, but not yet completed, indicate that the same thing can be done with long leaf pine. "I obtained these results through experiments in paper mills performed through the courtesy of my friends. If the south is going to put 150,000,000 acres of cutover lands and abandoned farms to profitable reforestation, you have got to be able to answer the questions of the paper manufacturers as to what your trees will do. You have got to go into research and get the answers quickly."

GIRL FRUSTRATES BANK HOLDUP

Twelve-year-old Minnie Saronetti, who didn't know what it was all about when a bank robber waved a gun in her face, frustrated an attempt to hold up the Brooklyn, N. Y., branch of the National City Bank. She ran from the bank and notified firemen nearby. The robbers escaped without any loot.

Banker Returns Home; Mystery Still Unsolved

GALVA, Ill., Oct. 29. (AP)—Earl Youcum, wealthy Galva banker, returned unharmed to his home today after having been supposedly held for ransom, but left his three day absence as deep a mystery as ever. The banker refused to see callers to answer a telephone. His wife said he had been kidnaped, but she would not discuss the subject of ransom or how he got back to his home. Mrs. Youcum said she did not know where her husband had been held by the extortionists. "I'm not even sure that he knows himself," she added. The details were thus left as much a matter of conjecture as ever. The banker disappeared Saturday night after two men had asked him out to a certain house in town of his estate. A posse was immediately organized to search for his supposed abductors. The theory that he was held for ransom was strengthened when Mrs. Youcum received two special highway letters, apparently in her husband's handwriting. She refused, however, to disclose the contents of the letters or the negotiations she was supposed to have entered into with the kidnapers. County authorities then suspended their search and at her request left the entire case to Mrs. Youcum. TO GRABAM-PAIGE DETROIT, Oct. 29. (AP)—Announcement was made today that C. W. By PAUL BOLTON, Associated Press Staff Writer. AUSTIN, Oct. 28.—The University of Texas board of regents today passed a resolution which would allow the university to invest its funds in a wider variety of securities than it has been permitted to do in the past.

The amendment to the constitution would allow the regents to invest in any security which is legal and proper under the laws of the United States.

There are very few state bonds outstanding, this making necessary investment of the funds in government bonds.
