HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

Our comments of yesterday relative to need for voting on a county road bond issue has been followed by the suggestion that the city of Big Spring is very much in need of more street paving.

Reminding us of the comment heard recently from a resident who declared that, although he drove his automobile 1,500 miles on a vacation trip this past summer, the roughest riding he encountered was the stretch between the Big Spring business district and his home when he returned from his long tour.

That is not repeated for the intention of "running down" our town but because we are quite sure the fellow was right. It is not even an argument that we do need much street paving.

The city officials, it appears, are following a logical course in developing municipal services and improvements. Paving has to be torn up too often at least to make way for various utility lines, underground. But when sewer, gas, and water main are built ahead of the paving in every instance possible this waste and inconvenience is largely eliminated.

As we all know, the city light now is in the midst of a sewer and water system expansion program. When this has been finished it appears to us the citizenship itself ought to set its wants known with reference to street paving. For the property owners must pay the bill.

There is, however, no good reason why representative citizens of the county should not get together and discuss plans for paving the state highways in Howard county, as well as a program for systematic development of important county roads.

Delay is wasteful in this matter. It costs less to drive over paved roads than over rough dirt roads. Proper development of any county today is dependent largely upon railroads and highways. We are all doing our part toward making the T. & P. N. construction possible. We all ought to do our part toward making highway construction in the county possible.

PIPE LINES TAKE MORE CRUDE

11,250 Added To Daily Take This Month

Cosden Increases Volume To 12,000 Barrels; Col-Tex Adds More

The lid, drawn so tightly for so many months over the Howard and Glasscock county oil pools, was lifted for October enough to allow 11,250 barrels more of crude to be run each day during the month, according to the monthly proration sheet issued by E. E. Andrews, proration engineer.

The total daily take nominated by the seven pipe line companies is 33,450 barrels. Cosden increased its daily take from 4,000 to 12,000 barrels. Col-Tex will take 5,500 barrels daily, an increase of 1,000 barrels and the Big Spring and Great West will receive 500 barrels more each day. Humble reduced its take of shallow oils 250 barrels and Magnolia increased its daily take 500 barrels.

Cosden, Shell and Humble Give Up Shallow Oil To Col-Tex With Exception of Their Own Production While Col-Tex Will Run Shallow Oil Only Except in Individual Production.

First Night Of Settles Opening Program Draws Hundreds; Tonight Is Last

The first half of the formal opening program of the Settles, Big Spring's new, 15-story hotel, was the magnet for more than 300 diners and dancers Wednesday evening in the main ballroom.

With Michael Cools and his splendid orchestra from Fort Worth playing throughout the dinner and dance, the inspection of the hotel that had been under way throughout the entire day came to a brilliant climax in the evening.

Garland A. Woodward, local attorney, was master of ceremonies at the dinner last night. Edwin A. Kelley, utilities company manager, will fill that post this evening, the second and final of the opening program.

The dance was punctuated by specialty numbers by a group of talented young women, Misses Eugenia Booth, Martha Seizer, the Kubala sisters, Miss Cleo Meadows and little Miss Betty Rhea Crow.

Mrs. M. N. Miener sang a solo during the dinner. Mr. Woodward's joyful talk was warmly received. During his remarks the audience paid unmistakably sincere tribute to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Settles, owners of the hotel and to F. W. Crow, the manager.

Many Visitors

While a goodly portion of local people inspected the hotel itself many hundreds visited the Cunningham & Phillips No. 4 drug store, opened Wednesday in the hotel building, at Third and Runnels streets.

Flowers of all descriptions made the lobbies and mezzanine as well as the drug store gay. They were from friends of the management and owners.

Many were here from out of town. None was more enthusiastic for the success of the hotel than J. S. (Jack) Nu Delman, Dallas, who handled all furnishings for the entire hotel.

Congestion In Schools Shown In Late Report

The congested condition of Big Spring schools is reflected in a report of W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, of enrollment.

The report shows a total of 2,469 scholars enrolled, 1,233 of these being boys and 1,236 girls.

Of this total 600 are in the first grade, 258 in the second, 271 in the third, 240 in the fourth, 244 in the fifth, 229 in the sixth, 159 in the seventh, and 568 in the high school, including the eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh grades.

Enrollment by wards shows the following division: South ward, 371; North ward, 97; Central ward, 437; Junior High, 662; Mexican school, 144; high school, 568; and colored school 41.

The condition will be somewhat relieved when three new ward schools, now under construction, are opened later in the winter.

Railroads Hurt By U. S. Policy Says Sargent

C. & N. President Heard By American Bankers

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 2 (AP)—Fred W. Sargent, president of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company, told members of the American Bankers Association at their closing business session today that the government's transportation policy threatens the future welfare of the railroads.

He said profits of the railroads have been constantly nibbled away by rate reductions, beginning with the year 1921 and culminating in reductions in rates of grain.

At the same time, he said, considerable quantities of freight have been lost by the railroads in the diversion of traffic from them to inland waterways and highways. The competitors of the railroads have, he added, been subsidized by taxpayers money.

"While these processes of rate reductions and the diversion of traffic by subsidized transportation have been taking place, the carriers' expenses have been increased largely through agencies operating under government law," Sargent said, "until today the rates of compensation are greater than the highest point of war wages, and our taxes are at the highest level in the history of the American railroad administration and are increasing by leaps and bounds each year."

Sargent said railroads are one of our largest contributors toward prosperity. The public is their creditor to the extent of between twelve and thirteen billions of dollars, in bonds he added.

The subject of government compensation of the railroads through these practices, he said, demands "the honest, fair and clear thinking of the business men of America."

Mellinger's Store Opening Here Friday

Victor Mellinger, known and liked by practically all the people of Howard and adjoining counties will open his new store at Main and Third streets in the Masonic building Friday.

Mellinger, formerly known as the Grand Leader and located in the 200 block on Main, has been a favorite shopping place here since 1917 when Mr. Mellinger came here and established a store somewhat smaller than his new one, but characterized then as now by sound merchandise and genuine values.

In the new store, built and designed throughout especially for Mr. Mellinger, an unusually complete stock of new merchandise is offered. Dry goods, ready-to-wear, booties, shoes, luggage and kindred lines are carried.

Associated with Mr. Mellinger, as owner will be A. B. Gagner, manager; Pete Spang, Miss Alma Ricker, Miss Elizabeth Crain and Miss Lucille Vawter, clerks.

Negro Holds Fort Worth Girl Captive

Companion Forced To Drive After Giving Girl Lift

FORT WORTH, Oct. 2 (AP)—A young woman about 22, kidnaped by a negro after he had bound and gagged her companion last night on the North Side, was being sought by police today. Fears were entertained for her safety.

T. H. Hudson, 25, the young woman's companion, told Chief of Detectives Jackson about her abduction.

Hudson said he was driving to work early last night when he saw the young woman on Paddock Street. He offered to give her a lift home and she got into his car, he explained.

Hudson said he did not get the woman's name, but that she was about 22 years old, was employed at a candy company.

When he neared a remote section on the North Side, Hudson slowed down and let the woman out of his car. He did so, a negro leaped from the running board of the car, he said.

"Drive like I tell you or I'll be too bad and don't make any noise," Hudson said the negro commanded him, as he jammed a pistol into Hudson's side and slid into the car next to the woman.

Hudson said the negro then made him drive until they reached the sparsely settled prairie section.

The negro commanded Hudson to get out of the car and the girl to remain in her seat. Hudson's pockets were rifled of 25 cents by the negro.

Hudson said the negro then tied his hands and feet with a wire and gagged him with a handkerchief. The violin was left lying in a ravine.

After warning Hudson not to attempt to escape to soon, the negro drove away with the woman Hudson declared.

By twisting his legs, Hudson managed to kick one shoe off and free both his legs. Still gagged and with his hands tied with the wire, Hudson with only one shoe made his way to town.

Neither the negro nor Hudson's car had been located this morning.

Enforcement Of Mexican Quota Law Attacked

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—Asserting the Hoover administration has little effort to enforce immigration laws in the Mexican border until his measure to put Mexican immigration on a quota basis passed the senate, Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia, today said he would renew efforts to secure final legislative action on the measure at the December session.

Harris said the state department recently announced a sharp decrease in immigration from Mexico, indicating a more active interest in enforcing the law. He added, however, he fears that if his measure of passage in the house the administration would "become lax in enforcement."

"There was no doubt, he said, that administration leaders in the house prevented placing the bill before the house for a vote at the last session. He said he was confident it would have been approved by that legislative branch although he doubted whether President Hoover would have signed it.

"We need to exclude the cheap Mexican labor," Harris said. He asserted Mexican labor in Texas was responsible for a 2,000,000 bale cotton surplus this year, which had made it impossible for the cotton farmers of the South to receive a suitable price for their product.

Scouts Club Lunch Guests

With Phillip Slusser, assistant scoutmaster of troop 2, Boy Scouts, which is sponsored by the Kiwanis club, as principal speaker, and members of the troop as special guests, the Kiwanians held an unusually interesting session at the Crawford Hotel Thursday.

Slusser told of the efforts being made to develop the troop, and the things the club needed to do to help the boys. More than a dozen scouts, in uniform, sat with the club members.

L. D. Davenport was program chairman.

Dr. J. E. Bristol, local oil man, who was the center of a stirring episode in western Mexico some months ago when bandits captured him and held him in the jungle for ransom for many days, told briefly of some of his experiences. He is a guest at the Crawford here much of the time.

Fireman Injured At Dallas Blaze

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 2 (AP)—One fireman was hurt and $25,000 property damage was done by fire that originated in a delicatessen at 4932 Ross Avenue and spread to several other businesses in the same building here today.

J. R. Higgins was badly cut on one of his hands while fighting the blaze.

West Texas Book Protest To Be Heard

Text Book Commission Grants Hearing Oct. 13

ABILENE, Texas, Oct. 2 (AP)—West Texas' complaint against textbook publishers will be considered Monday, Oct. 13, by the state board of education. The board will receive a committee from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, hearing a protest that descriptions of the West Texas territory, contained in the geographies studied in the public schools of the state, are "scandalously and damagingly untrue."

Geographies in use in Texas schools have been printed for this year, but the state board will be asked to demand "substantial revisions and corrections" in new editions.

The committee will be headed by Chas. E. Coombes, president of the West Texas chamber. The organization still has before it a recommendation of its publicity committee to bring damage suits for $1,000,000 against textbook publishing houses whose geographies identify West Texas as a "semi-arid land generally unsuited to agriculture." A referendum vote has been taken among the directors of the suit, and while a majority of those replying have voted affirmatively, a quorum has not been heard from.

Earnshaw Holds Cards To Six Hits; Cochrane And Watkins Hit Home Runs

Third Game In St. Louis Saturday, Mack's Wrecking Crew Knocks Rhem Out

SHIBE PARK, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2 (AP)—The world's champion Athletics steam rolled the Cardinals today with another heavy hitting attack, knocking Flint Rhem out of the box and capturing their second straight world's series victory by the score of 6 to 1.

George Earnshaw, big right hander, held the National Leaguers to six hits and struck out eight.

Before another capacity crowd of 32,295 fans, who contributed to a "gate" of $152,735, exactly duplicating the figures for the opening game. The Mackmen scored a convincing triumph and prepared to leave for St. Louis and the third game there on Saturday with a commanding margin of "two up and two to go."

Play-By-Play

SHIBE PARK, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2 (AP)—The following play-by-play report of the second world series game was by Brian Bell, Associated Press sports writer:

Cardinals—Douthett hit a high fly to Dykes, who caught it near the pitcher's mound. Adams flied to Simmons, who ran a few feet to make the catch. Frisch hit over Simmons' head for two bases. After swinging at two and sending a foul down the third base line Bottomley flied to Haas, who made a running catch in center.

Athletics—Bishop lined out to Douthett. Dykes rolled a fast one down to Adams, who made a fine play and threw him out to Bottomley. With the count two-two, Mickey Cochrane hit a home run over the right field wall, his second in two days and in two times at bat, as he hit for the circuit in his last time up Wednesday. Al Simmons singled to center. Foxx hit into center field for two bases and Simmons scored. Miller dribbled the ball down the first base line and was out to Bottomley, unassisted.

Two runs, three hits, no errors, one left on base.

SECOND INNING

Cardinals—Haefly lifted a fly to Bishop in short center. Watkins with the count two-two, drove the ball over the right field wall for a home run and the first circuit smash for the National Leaguers. Mancuso beat out a hit to Shortstop Foley, who got the ball with one hand but had no chance to get him. Gelbert singled to center. Mancuso taking third. The ball bounced over Bishop's head. Rhem struck out. Douthett popped to Bishop, taking the ball on the handle of his Mickey Cochrane and George Watkins. Watkins' home run being the only score of the day for the Red Birds.

Two runs, three hits, no errors, one left on base.

Athletics—Haas struck out. Mancuso dropped the third strike but threw to Bottomley at first. Foley popped out to Frisch. Earnshaw, liberally applauded as he came to bat, lifted a fly to Haefly in left center.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left on base.

THIRD INNING

Cardinals—Adams lifted a fly to Miller in short right. Frisch hit a hard smash to Foley, who fumbled it and was charged with the first error of the series. Bottomley fouled one into the stands. Earnshaw threw to first but Frisch was awake. Bottomley hit a foul back of first base. Bishop got under the ball but dropped it. No error charged. Bottomley struck out, swinging at a curve ball. Haefly looked the first one over, a ball. Frisch stole second and went to third when Cochrane's throw bounded to center field. Cochrane was charged with an error. Haefly hit a foul near third, but Dykes fell down as he was about to get under it and couldn't get his hands on it. Haefly struck out on a called third strike, a curve ball spitting the plate.

No runs, no hits, two errors, one left on base.

Athletics—Bishop rolled to Bottomley and was out, unassisted. Dykes whiffed, going after a quick breaking curve for the third one. Cochrane up. Ball one, inside. Rhem dusted him off. Cochrane hit a bouncer to Frisch who fumbled it. It was an error. Simmons up. Cochrane scored on Simmons' double against the right field wall, on which Watkins tried to make a shoe string catch. Foxx walked. The first three were balls, then a strike. Rhem tried to make him hit at a bad ball and threw the fourth wide. Miller singled, scoring Simmons. He hit to left and he threw out on any. From Mancuso, Foxx went to third and Miller to second. The error was charged to Rhem. Haas lined out to Douthett.

Two runs, two hits, two errors, two left on base.

FOURTH INNING

Cardinals—Watkins lifted a fly to Simmons in short left, who caught it but fumbled. Mancuso struck out swinging. Gelbert was called out on strikes. Once he threw his bat nearly to third base.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left on base.

It was discovered today that someone had removed the glass top to the marble tomb in the new courthouse lobby where the once widely discussed relic had been kept and removed all that was mortal of Texas' prize toad.

Pres. Hoover In Cleveland For Address

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2 (AP)—President Hoover comes here today to receive the plaudits of Cleveland and bring the 56th annual convention of the American Bankers Association to a climactic close.

Arriving from Philadelphia, where he attended the opening game of the world's series yesterday, the President will speak at the concluding session of the bankers' convention tonight in the first of a series of three addresses in Cleveland, Boston and South Carolina.

Although Mr. Hoover came primarily to address the bankers and assume the lion's share of their program, a rousing public greeting was arranged. He was due to arrive at the Euclid and East 55th Street station shortly before noon and be escorted down Euclid Avenue, the city's main thoroughfare, by police and mounted military units.

The banker's coming session was moved up so that they would finish in time to witness the President's arrival, and thousands of Clevelanders were expected to crowd the gaily decorated avenue to watch the cavalcade. Mr. Hoover was to be taken to the Hotel Cleveland for a luncheon attended by 250 prominent bankers and citizens. He was given the afternoon to rest and prepare for his address in the evening. His dinner will be private.

Mrs. Hoover came here last night from Indianapolis, where she attended the national convention of the Girl Scouts of America, and planned to join Mr. Hoover aboard his special train at Bedford, a short distance east of Cleveland. Her program was to share the public reception for the President, be the luncheon guest of the Women's City Club and spend the afternoon motoring, rejoining Mr. Hoover in the evening.

The occasion was Cleveland's first opportunity to greet a president since Woodrow Wilson came here on a raw, wintry day 14 years ago to defend his policy of neutrality in the World War, but the route for Mr. Hoover's escort was the same that Abraham Lincoln traversed in 1861 en route to Washington for his inaugural ceremony.

Mr. Hoover's address tonight was awaited with unusual interest, particularly because the banker's convention has dealt at length with business depression. His remarks, although non-political, also come at the outset of the congressional campaign.

His speech will be delivered at 8:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, and will be broadcast over national hookups of the Columbia and National Broadcasting companies. Close to 15,000 persons, mostly delegates to the banker's convention, are expected in his immediate audience in the public hall.

August Fires Inflict Losses Topping Million

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 2 (AP)—Five fires in Texas during August totaled $1,200,000, according to a report of J. W. DeWesse, state fire insurance commissioner. DeWesse stated this was an unusually heavy loss and that a great number of the fires occurred from incendiary origin in vacant buildings and dwellings.

There were 37 fires of incendiary origin reported and 106 fires of "unknown" origin reported during the month. The incendiary fires caused a loss of $121,468 while fires from unknown causes resulted in losses of $556,909.

A total of 512 fires was reported for the month. Following are the number of fires from each cause and the loss: electricity, 59, 105; 61 vacant houses, 219; 11, cotton gins, $20,447; 43, matches, and smoking, $22,214; 28, stoves, furnaces and boilers, $22,569; 15, defective chimneys and flues, $8,795; 5, gas, $5,378; 9, rubbish and litter, $3,603; 16, open lights and open fires, $4,390; 9, petroleum and its products, $12,960; 5, explosions, $1,600; 61, exposures, $83,123; 4, grass fires, $140; 4, ignition of hot grease on a dbar, $1,733; 6, lightning, $122,305; 10, spontaneous combustion, $3,333; 2, picture show films, $3,450; 22, miscellaneous known causes, $21,566.

Parking Near Schools Would Be Prohibited

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 2 (AP)—Automobiles might take the lives of fewer children if parking about public schools were prohibited, Dr. E. E. Oberholzer, president of the city school system, believes. "Small children," said the superintendent, "are apt to jump into the street and cross it frequently in the path of an onrushing automobile. Automobiles parked along the streets cut off their vision."

College President Urges Communities To Help Young Folk

CANYON, Tex., Oct. 2 (AP)—J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas State Teachers College, believes that the civic clubs of every town should make some effort to help their deserving young people who are trying to obtain a college education. "If the people could extend enough help to their worthiest high school graduates to enable them to start to college, the energetic and ambitious ones would in many cases find places to work so that they could, after a few months, attend school with a minimum amount of help," Hill said.

Practically every business house and private family in Canyon is aiding students from out of town to attend school here. This throws a tremendous burden upon the college town. This it is willing to assume so far as it is possible, but even then many students have to return home because there is not assistance enough to go around. One business man in Canyon is enabling six students to attend school. More than fifty percent of the students attending West Texas State Teachers College are paying all or part of their expenses.

University Professor Studies Ranger History

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 2 (AP)—There is nothing drab in the life of W. P. Webb, associated professor of history at the University of Texas. Because Webb does something besides delving into historical dates and data and is now making an extensive research into the history of the Texas Rangers.

Recently Webb returned from a tour of the sites of a number of Ranger combats in which he interviewed several of the old members of the Ranger force, including George Durham of Raymondville, one of the two surviving Rangers who took part in the battle of Las Cuevas and Judge J. A. Brodka, former Ranger and now judge of Brooks County, named for him.

Webb's trip took him to Corpus Christi, the King ranch, Falfurrias, Las Cuevas ranch and Laredo, in search of material concerning the early operations of that famed band of Texas law enforcers. The professor is planning to publish an account of the early Rangers and their activities.

CROP ESTIMATES
CHICAGO, Oct. 2 (AP)—Official monthly crop estimates issued today indicated a decidedly larger yield of corn than of late has been looked for. The prospective yield of spring wheat was slightly enlarged as compared with a month ago, and was in line with general expectations. Nevertheless, all grain prices averages higher early today, in opposition to sharp downturns in wheat quotations at Liverpool. Big estimates of the use of wheat as feed, together with assertions that 7 per cent more ear corn that normal is necessary to obtain a 55 bushel, were factors tending to lift prices. Opening at 3-8 cent to 10 higher, Chicago wheat sagged somewhat but then scored gains all around. Corn started at 2-5 decline to 1-3 advance and then showed general gains.

The dog's jaw was broken when he was run down by a motor bus. A veterinary surgeon, a dental surgeon and a medical surgeon were called in and between them mended his jaw and provided him with false teeth. "Charlie," until he becomes accustomed to his new molars, has to wear a special collar to prevent him prying out his teeth with his paws.

Barrymore To Stay On Stage

Ethel Barrymore has no thought of retirement, now that her daughter has joined her on the stage. Miss Barrymore is shown as the queen in "Clair de Lune" (1931) and in sketch as artist seeshel in "Scarlet Sister Mary."

BY MARK BARRON (Associated Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that Ethel Barrymore Colt has come to carry the royal family of the theater through a ninth generation, what of her mother?

The answer is that Ethel Barrymore will continue to reign as she has since she made her own debut at the age of 13.

She will continue to act, accompanied by her daughter, in plays that she will select and direct, to be presented in her own playhouse.

Her own career will go on, and she will be there to watch over Ethel Colt's daughter, who will follow her uncles, John and Lionel Barrymore, into talking pictures.

Perhaps, now, Ethel Barrymore might want to retire as an actress, confine herself in the future to directing and producing. "No, I won't do that," she told us. "I will always be an actress as long as I am able to walk on the stage."

"As for directing, I have been directing my plays for a long time, but I never said anything about it before because I wouldn't have a chance with the critics."

"You think the critics would be unfair to you?" we inquired. "Very likely. They are usually only fair with their favorites."

Mrs. McAlister Has Kilkare Club

House Decorated With Chrysanthemums And Dahlias

Mrs. O. H. McAlister was hostess to the members of the Kilkare Bridge Club at her home yesterday afternoon. She decorated with autumn flowers, chrysanthemums and dahlias.

Mrs. Bob Lang won high score for club members and Mrs. Charles Koberg won low. Mrs. J. M. McClure won guest high score.

Mrs. Clint Rutherford assisted Mrs. McAlister in serving luncheon to the following guests: Mesdames J. M. McClure, John McTier, H. W. Egan, Louis Bibber, G. A. Baird, E. E. Eddy, J. S. Nunnally, W. C. Kohnenour, Charles Koberg, W. B. Gilmer and Bert Wilkinson.

she answered. "However, poor fellows, I suppose one shouldn't blame them. Their jobs must get awfully tiresome."

Following "Scarlet Sister Mary," in which she and her daughter are now playing, Miss Barrymore plans to do several other productions this season. She would like to have a repertoire of six or seven plays in her theater.

"One of the dramas she may have on this season's program is a revival of "Sunday," the play which gave her that famous line: "That's all there is, there isn't any more."

Miss Barrymore was when in the title role of "Sunday" in 1907. In discussing her plans for a repertoire, Miss Barrymore was asked if she had in mind a subscription group.

"No, I'm not interested in the commercial theater," she answered. "I do not drive people in to see my plays by using subscription groups."

"Would you rather play on the road or in New York?" "If you mean by 'the road' cities like Washington and Boston and Philadelphia," she replied, "I do like it. I also like to play in New York."

"Of course, I always take my plays out of town a week or so to get an audience reaction. It would be feasible to expose a

MRS. DILLARD IN EL PASO

Friends of Mrs. J. R. Dillard, member of the central ward school faculty, are sorry to learn that she has been found necessary for her to remain in El Paso for two months' rest. She is not in danger and her many friends are expecting her to return in a few weeks feeling completely recuperated.

And so we left the queen of the royal family of the theater, a regal, outspoken woman who's determined that her daughter, now that she has chosen it for a career, will carry on the tradition of the "Dresses and Barrymores."

She left these impressions with us: She has her own ideas about theater and commands that they be carried out. She is passionately fond of hard work, she believes fully that her daughter is a great actress.

She heartily disapproves of most dramatic critics and does not hesitate to say as much. She has little love for the newspaper profession.

She believes that "truth is the only thing that ever matters." She is very fond of England.

She cannot understand why newspapers print front page stories when something unusual happens to a member of the Barrymore clan.

LARINSHAW, RHEM MAY TWIRL TODAY

Grimes Snarls "Ready For Today"

Johnny C. Moore, the big gas-gren man of Richardson, Tex., and himself will migrate to Stanton Friday afternoon to view the Midland-Stanton affair. Moore will go to officiate and we will go to view the 1930 crop of football players in the hopes of catching some of them for the 1931 edition. The game bids fair to be a hot one, which still pleases us as much as a few hot tussles have passed before our eyes so far this season. It should prove a pleasure to Moore also, inasmuch as life is spent around a gasoline jug isn't our idea of enjoying the sweet breeze.

The Eastland Mavericks are set for the fray with Big Spring Saturday at 1:30 p. m. We believe it is to be the second encounter of the Class A season for the Gibson collection, while it will mark the third fray for the Longhorns of the school on top of the incline. Both of the teams have had their aspirations, hopes and otherwise dealt a severe jolt by the elephants of the big quartet. Clisco, Eastland and Abilene didn't stop at taking Big Spring. The Eagles gobbled the herd and stomped the rest.

The first game of the world's series has come and gone. Its arrival didn't hurt us nearly as bad as its departure. Having selected the Cards to march through the first encounter, we were in no frame of mind late yesterday afternoon for playing bridge. As matters now stand, we'll be compelled to pay for our own haircuts, purchase our own food, shine our own shoes and possibly iron the creases in our own pantaloons. Needless to say a member of the back end force of this newspaper grabbed the ironing pot and went south on some other direction with it. It had to be Lefty Grove. We've never seen a wrong hander yet that couldn't give up more hits than the opposing twirler, and yet walk home with the bacon for the off-springs.

The Big Spring-Clisco game may be played at Clisco instead of Big Spring, on account of Clisco having the right equipment. It wouldn't be a bad idea. More coin could be tossed out of the mint and the Steer fund needs coin if it needs anything at the present quotations.

The first really big clash of the District Two season is scheduled for Oct. 24. On that date the Clisco Lobos will go up against the Breckenridge Buckroos at Buncanville. On that date it will be decided whether the Chapman products can surpass the Shotwell combination. Trying to get something out of Chapman in regard to the coming conflict was just like trying to remove tartar from a snake's fang. He just wrinkled his brow, flicked his tongue and refused to be waded in. The game on tape. Of course only fools would dare to approach Mr. Silent Shotwell on the subject of any game. Everytime he says something to a scribe it is a news story. Shotwell is one of those individuals that labor under the impression newspaper men were not constructed for such as he. He is quite right in the assumption.

Incidentally, on the same date the Steers will sail down the Concho to the San Angelo port to take on the game little Bobcats. Although we've never seen the two teams in action, we understand that is the battle the Longhorns always expect to win. They rise to great heights to knock the Felmers off if possible. The Angelo scribe, for once, agrees with us along that line. That is he did agree with us Monday, but he changes his mind more often than his shirt and as a result it is well to discount anything he says about 100 percent, and then not repeat it to anyone. Like eating onions, it is better not to breathe it to a soul.

Boyer House predicts the Abilene Eagles will be as tough as of old. He bases his prediction on the fact that Abilene is an old school, has a most commendable spirit, fights to the last ditch, has a good pep squad and band, and a bunch of football players. Should Abilene take on Ranger in the same manner they did the Steers, the Bulldogs can get ready to burn up another bunch of boxes on the vacant lot especially dedicated for bonfires of victory. The Eagles are not a 33 point better team than the Steers, not by a long shot. It would surprise us none if Sweetwater doesn't hold the fully down to a lower margin than that, although the Mustangs got away to a head start in the initial with the Bobkittens.

We take great pleasure in warning all scribes that prior to attending games in Abilene they have fingerprints registered, Bertillon measurements made, signature on file, and photograph in hand. Getting into an Abilene football game is just like getting the first olive out of a jar.

The dopsters have about figured out a way for Lubbock to win the District One title yet. Although Pampa beat Lubbock, Amartillo may beat Pampa, and Amartillo may lose to Lubbock. In that way a tie would probably result and Lubbock would win the playoff. Now if Pete Cowthorpe can just figure out a way to beat Wayland out of that 6 to 0 victory over the Mustangs everything will be moving rapidly in the vicinity of the Cap-Rock.

Lion Hearted Chunker Loses As Athletics Win First

BY BRIAN BELL. Associated Press Sports Writer. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2. (AP)—Following an old American League custom, the Philadelphia Athletics today were a game up on their National League rivals, the St. Louis Cardinals, butmen, but the Athletics' lion hearted chunker lost as Athletics won their first game and was their 13th victory in the last 14 games.

The St. Louis safeties were more numerous than those of the Philadelphia batsmen, but the Athletics' lion hearted chunker lost as Athletics won their first game and was their 13th victory in the last 14 games. The Cardinals scored nine, seven singles and two doubles.

No game just like the opener has been run off in the 25 years of play for the world's title. Five hits for five runs and not a single among them is a record, or should be. The Athletics had only two men left on bases, both in the same inning.

Manager Mack, whose pitching selections cause much mental anguish among the dopsters in advance of the games, again confused the experts by doing the obvious and sending his ace, Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove to the mound. Grove was not as good as he has been in American League games this season but he had enough to turn the invaders back every inning but one—the third—when the two St. Louis runs were counted.

Behind the left handed pitching of the string bean, Grove, the world's champion played as a team inspired. His support rallied to his aid when danger threatened in two innings, the seventh and eighth.

Burleigh Grimes, pugnacious, lion-hearted pitcher for the Cardinals, who pitched a world's series shutout for Brooklyn ten years ago, called on all the cunning, acquired through nearly 20 years of baseball, but it was not enough. The biting, scratching, snarling Grimes was defeated but he went down yelling defiance at his conquerors, and said after the game that he was ready to pitch again today or "any other day."

Manager Street, however, was not inclined to accept Burleigh's generous offer, announcing a determination to adhere to his original plan of calling on Flint Rhem, the South Carolina sandpaper, to display his pitching wares in the second game, with Sylvester Johnson, Jess Haines and others in reserve.

The "Sergeant" placed Grimes' application on file and made him pitch again Sunday after "Wild Bill" Hallahan had his fling at St. Louis Saturday.

Unless Manager Mack has some deep, dark strategy cooking, the Athletics' pitching mantle for the second game seemed to be ready to fall on the giant George Earnshaw, who started in two successive games of the 1929 series in some quarters there was a conviction that the Philadelphia pitching staff was made up of Grove, Grove, Grove and Grove.

President Hoover saw his second world's series game in succession as the battle for the all inclusive baseball title moved off. The president was a spectator at the closing game of the 1929 series.

Texans To See Illustration Of Growth Of Aviation As New Air Mail Route Opens

Announcement by the Postoffice Department that service on the new Southern transcontinental air mail route between Atlanta and Los Angeles is to start October 16, should bring home to Texans the amazing growth of commercial aviation, and their part in its growth, according to Victor F. Grima, general traffic manager of Southern Air Transport, Inc. S. A. T. is a subsidiary of Aviation Corporation, which, with Southwest Air Fast Express, was recently awarded the contract to carry mail on the route.

"Commercial aviation is making stupendous strides and Texas is not losing sight of its opportunities in this field," Grima said. "With the Postoffice Department taking the role of foster father and at the same time sitting in as high judge, the infant industry is now ready to shed its swaddling clothes and become what an important and tremendous factor it is, and how much greater it will be, in Uncle Sam's transportation network."

The provision for the carrying of passengers with mail in the McJary-Watrea bill will prove a great boon to the transport companies, who heretofore have been operating in the face of discouraging odds and at a profit. Grima pointed out the great mileage added to Texas air mail route by the designation of the new line, at the same time recalling the authorization for the first air mail flight in Texas. "Texas now has four air mail routes linking it directly with the East, the North, and the South. Three of these, the Dallas-Galveston, the Dallas-Brownsville and the Houston-New Orleans routes, are operated by Southern Air Transport. In addition, we operate a mail route from New Orleans to Atlanta via Birmingham. N. A. T. operates the mail route from Dallas to Chicago. When the FFA of a new line is put into operation Texas will boast air mail service in every direction, on direct routes, and at it with every major center in the United States.

"Texas' first air mail flight was authorized, according to the records of the postoffice at San Antonio, in 1915. And a woman, Miss Marjorie Stinson of the famous family of flying stinsons, was designated the pilot. But the flight in San Antonio to Seguin, never materialized. High winds prevented." Grima also called attention to the recent developments in aviation in South America, the most significant of which, he said, was the merger of Pan-American Airways with the New York, Rio and Buenos Aires lines. "This merger affected some 23,000 miles of international passenger and mail airways," Grima said. "With a fleet of more than 100 multi-engine planes in service, the new company bids fair to rival the government subsidized Lufthansa system of Germany, heretofore the largest air transport company in the world.

"Texas has one port of entry to South America, through Brownsville where Pan-American Airways picks up mail and passengers of Southern Air Transport and carries them to Mexico City and thence to Central and South America. The importance of this service can not be overestimated. And with the opening of the new Southern transcontinental mail route, mail and passengers that formerly entered South America through Miami will to a large degree be diverted via Brownsville. This new channel should result in a greatly increased volume of South American trade, which will flow through Texas."

HEART BROKEN MCCARTHY SAYS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2. (AP)—Whether or not Joe McCarthy deplored pilot of the Chicago Cubs, actually has come to terms with the New York Yankees for a two-year term as manager in 1931, according to Bob Shawkey, indications today pointed to completion of negotiations in short order.

After a day of conflicting reports it was understood McCarthy had rejected a flattering offer to take over the Boston Red Sox on a long-term contract in preference to accepting a tentative proposal for the management of the Yankees, with consequent greater opportunity to distinguish himself in a new field. McCarthy not only admitted he was in a receptive mood to a New York offer, having already had some preliminary conversation, but revealed that he planned to go to New York in a few days to talk definite terms with Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees.

Oliver and Bateman Guests At Lamesa

LAMESA, Oct. 2.—Fred N. Oliver, of Washington, D. C., attorney for the people in the proposed Texas Pacific and Northern Railway line, and G. O. Bateman, vice-president and attorney for the line, were guests at a luncheon of the local Chamber of Commerce, here today. These gentlemen are making a tour of the route, securing data and information, and cooperating with right-of-way committees. The local right-of-way committee, of which M. C. Lindsey is chairman, reports satisfactory progress in securing right-of-way.

Apologetic Bandit Forces Bank Prexy To Walk 15 Miles

CONWAY, Kas., Oct. 2. (AP)—Kidnaped and forced to walk 15 miles by a bandit who wounded his wife, then apologized for the trouble he had caused, R. C. Webb, president of the State Bank here, was home today.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Des Moines, Iowa.
Do you think that the present blind faith in science is just a passing mood, and one which will have to give way because science cannot satisfy our deepest desires?

Why cherish a blind faith in anything, science included? God does not ask so much of man. He desires him to use his reason and his conscience and to test even divine overtures by their aid.

I agree that science cannot answer the profoundest questions which life evokes. It has its own realm in which it is supreme and beyond that realm it is impotent. Most scientists are fully aware of this and refrain from trespassing on those spiritual dominions which are outside their jurisdiction.

But the past triumphs of science give a substantial basis for its predictions that a hundred years from now wireless telephony and television will be perfected and the world will enjoy unlimited supplies of cheap power, with the result that a twenty-hour working week will suffice to meet all needs.

What follows? According to the optimists, the abundant leisure at man's disposal will develop in him the desire for those amenities which flourish in a civilization from which noise, dirt and disease have been banished by the great magician science.

You may deem all this so much moonshine. Nevertheless it is not beyond the bounds of possibility. Of course the glittering vision can be destroyed by war. But a universal economic interdependence such as is being visualized may blot out that grim specter.

How can an adult person over thirty lose the confidence of children? I have to work constantly with them and find my inability in this direction a very real handicap.

How much do you remember of your own childhood? Doubt and fear, hopes and fears probably very little and less than usual of your childhood, was fortunate, untroubled and easygoing. But adults who experienced suffering as youngsters and have since overcome its crippling effects are more likely to feel actively sympathetic toward children whose pains and anxieties are as real to them as any suffered by grown-ups.

Charles Dickens would never have died for the children as he did had not the iron entered his soul when he was a child. It is difficult for many persons over thirty to regard juniors except as inferiors. Consequently, it is then a case as Miss Mary Chadwick, a well-known authority on child psychology, remarks of this for an old warrior where the child is concerned, "The specter of a careful father of boys betwixt lies in his ability to be a boy, to put himself in their level and to see things through their eyes."

If a boy approaches his elders respectfully, submits to their superior knowledge, never puzzles them with problems they cannot solve, never asks them to do what they cannot do, and if he exists in good order in heaven, Oldy people like him. I suppose the fact that while mischief-loving lads and in some are deficient in experience, they are proportionally wise about some things. Any teacher will tell you that he or her pupils are instinctively appreciative and are especially keen on their elders' fables, reminiscences or "fanciful" lies.

In your work with children are they the 100 per cent who do the talking, instead of yourself showing in what they may be, say, you will find ever and anon a child spits out a word which sets you wondering. Show them that you really care for them and for what they feel, think, say, do, and they will respond with a sparkling charm and candor which no older people might cultivate to advantage.

Philadelphia. I insist that the British people handle the drink traffic in a better way than we do. Can you reply deny this and be consistent for a moment? I have not the time to answer this. I have not the time to answer this. I have not the time to answer this.

was no satisfactory evidence that alcohol increases or fortifies the body's natural resistance to disease and that it is a narcotic rather than a stimulant. The economists stated that if weekly wage earnings expended on drink were spent for the actual necessities of the family budget, there would be more and better food for children, additional clothing and other household supplies, more homes purchased through building societies and larger savings in the banks.

In view of these findings I am content to submit the issue to your further consideration.

Fly To New Hobbs To Buy Property

U. S. Mex. First Development Company to Transport Buyers By Airplane

After a tour of the Los-Mex Development Company of New Mexico, New Mexico, at the New Mexico State Capital, Santa Fe, N. M., is being organized for a number of years to travel to the new oil fields of southeastern New Mexico by airplane.

The development company is the first of the kind in the United States to use airplanes for carrying customers directly to the homes in the scenes of new development.

Development in rapid pace is carrying on right and left and values are showing property owners of New Mexico enormous profits. The plot is so fast and the distance of New Hobbs from other points so great that the Los-Mex found it expedient to use airplanes in this business.

Appointment for the trip may be made by calling Mr. Thos. J. The Settles Hotel, Big Spring. See picture of development in the lobby.

Texas League Pilots Leave Former Posts

Art Phelan and Jackie Throw Sponge in Ring

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 2 (AP)—Two Texas League pilots already have tossed in the sponge, and there will be more before next spring rolls around. It is doubtful more than two managers will retain their posts, and it is difficult to name the two.

Art Phelan got the jump when he announced he did not choose to run the Shreveports, Sports next season. His destination is in doubt, but run of the best minds think he will succeed Frank Snyder at Fort Worth, the latter, in turn, going to the International League.

Jake Aiz, whose Dallas Steers finished a strong last on full season standing, was the second to weaken. His departure was a foregone conclusion, and the appointment of Hal Morse, veteran Steer second sacker, as his successor awaits only the official announcement.

Carl Williams has indicated strongly he will turn the Wichita Falls Spudders over to the first applicant. He could have the job, as he is popular both with the fans and club officials, but he is deeply and unalterably opposed to night baseball.

There have been so many rumors concerning Dell Pratt that nobody seems to know what the Waco skipper will do with his evenings next year. It has been positively reported that he will manage both San Antonio and Beaumont, also Houston, Dallas and the Jimtown Mudcats. So far as anyone actually knows, however, he will be back at the old post.

Dell Baker is regarded as a fixture at Beaumont, at least for another year. Owner Rube Stuart is said to be well satisfied with the Exporters' showing, realistic, no doubt, that a manager should not be held responsible for a defunct pitching staff.

George Burns is said to have a great satisfaction after a year with the San Antonio Indians. An operative reports the old Giant outfielder failed to hit it off either with his playmate or Alamo City fans.

Gymnasiums At San Marcos Are Destroyed

SAN MARCOS, Tex., Oct. 2 (AP)—Officials of the Southwest Texas State Teachers' College today estimated the damage done by fire that swept through two gymnasiums at between $60,000 and $75,000. The buildings were adequately insured, they said.

The fire originated in the boys' gymnasium, one of the finest in the southwest, razing it and spreading to the girls' gymnasium before it was extinguished. All of the college athletic equipment was housed in the building.

It was the second mysterious fire on the college campus within a week, the college cafeteria having been damaged $1,000 several days ago.

The fire was discovered shortly after midnight and the San Marcos fire department worked six hours, it was built and is still substantial.

bringing all its available men and equipment into play.

The origin of the fires had not been determined and an investigation was to be made.

PART OF OLD COURTHOUSE IS USED BY FARMER

RALLS, Oct. 2 (AP)—L. C. Dyerly, who lives on a farm two miles east of Ralls, occupies what is probably the only remaining part of the first court house in Crosby county.

It was located at Estacado, a Quaker settlement established in the late 70's near what is now Lorenzo. Incidentally, the location of the court house was later found to be in Lubbock county, not Crosby, so the county seat was moved to another place known as Emma and now known as "Old Emma." The house consists of what was the upper part of the old court house.

It is made of hard pine, the most popular early day wood for this country. The house is just a fire department worked six hours, it was built and is still substantial.

Newspapers Blanket The Country for Nation-Wide Ward Week Sale

"It pays to advertise" is a well-worn business adage which grows better as it gets older. The faith of the great retail organizations in newspaper advertising has plenty of evidence, but none more convincing than Ward Week. Fully 85 per cent of Montgomery Ward & Co.'s advertising appropriation for the great Ward Week Sale is being devoted to newspaper advertising. The amount of this expenditure for newspaper space is approximately $404,000.

Other forms of advertising for Ward Week include a full page announcement in the current Saturday Evening Post, radio broadcasts, and—of course, the always attractive Ward window displays. Montgomery Ward & Co. depends most to impress upon their customers, the wonderful saving opportunity that they have in Ward Week.

Piles Go Quick

Piles are caused by bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of parts. Only an internal medicine can remove the cause. That's why external remedies and cutting fail. Dr. Leonard's HEM-ROID, succeeds because it relieves this congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Dr. Leonard's prescription has such a wonderful record for quick, safe and lasting relief even in chronic and stubborn cases, that Collins Bros. say try HEM-ROID at our expense. No wonder 20,679 physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating! Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray.

"The greatest triumphs of medicine will be in the direction of public education on the importance of preventive measures. Experiment On Highway Is Watched

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 2 (AP)—State highway engineers are watching with interest the experiment being made near Gonzales on Highway 3 in which cotton fabric was used for binding purposes. The experimental road is 465 feet long and was laid in October, 1929.

Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, said he was over the road recently and that it was holding up well and showing no signs of deterioration.

The cost of laying the stretch was $374.29 which would make the per mile cost of a road built with the cotton fabric slightly more than $4,000.

The cotton in the highway, according to Gilchrist, performs the same duty as cotton in cord tires. It acts as a binder to hold the base to the surfacing material and is said to be instrumental in preventing creeping.

Although the highway department is interested primarily in the use of cotton in road construction, if the experiment proves successful and the practice becomes general throughout the country, it undoubtedly would go a long way toward reducing the cotton surplus.

The highway was constructed with a crushed flint clay and gravel base which was rolled and shaped. After the rolling and shaping operations, the road was opened to traffic for 30 days to pack the base after which all depressions were removed and the base carefully swept to remove all dust.

A prime course of light tar was then applied followed by a light coating of penetration asphalt. Seventeen hours after the asphalt application, the cotton fabric was laid, the asphalt and tar applications still being sticky. The cotton then was covered with penetration asphalt. The whole surface next was covered with from three-quarters to one-quarter of an inch crushed limestone and rolled and then opened to traffic.

The weight of the cotton used was three ounces to the square yard and it cost $385 per square yard.

Gilchrist stated that if the road near Gonzales, which has been subjected to fairly heavy traffic, holds up that more experiments along this line will be conducted by the highway department.

One Juror Needed For Death Trial

HOUSTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—One juror was needed to fill the box as the murder trial of J. Maple, 33-year-old painter and paperhanger, who confessed killing two police men here, was resumed today.

When the defense for the former army sharpshooter would be remained conjecturable as he had, from the start of the trial, declined to give his attorneys help, according to their declarations.

The state's plan of procedure, however, was clear. It expected to demand the death penalty and to show that Maple fired on motorcycle officers Edward Fitzgerald and W. B. Phares when they sought to arrest him for the robbery of the T. J. Furniture Company on September 21.

One of the policemen fatally wounded in the gun battle, for which Maple was on trial, was Bonner Phares, nephew of Mrs. G. F. Cotton of this spring, who with her daughter, Florence, reached Houston a few hours before young Phares died. He was buried Tuesday in Lufkin, his home town. Young Phares, who had but lately become a motorcycle patrolman in Houston, had died an eventful life and several times had been near death. He had been wounded by moonshiners and had been shot at with poison arrows in the West Indies while employed by an oil company. He leaves a wife and baby child.

Bodies Of Two Discovered At Whisky Still

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Oct. 2 (AP)—The bodies of Peter McGigue, Cuckoo gangster of St. Louis, and William Boody, former boss of the East St. Louis Plumbers Union, slain apparently by rivals at a whisky still near Valmeyer, Ill., this morning were brought to East St. Louis shortly before noon today.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2 (AP)—Saw Therna came to the city hospital here, seriously wounded by machine gun bullets, and told police Peter McGigue, a member of the Cuckoo gang here, and William E. Boody, also of this city, had been killed in an attack on a shack near Valmeyer, Ill., early today in which they were tending a still.

Therna, shot through the hips, drove up to the hospital, blew the horn and collapsed.

While on the operating table he told police that he, McGigue, Boody, James Doorman, also a Cuckoo gangster, and apparently a fifth man, had gone to the shack about 10 days ago to run off 500 gallons of mash to be made into whisky. The shack is across the Mississippi River from Crystal City, Mo.

About dawn today he said he was awakened by machine gun firing. Therna and McGigue had been sleeping while the others were tending the still. Therna said he jumped up and was wounded. He said he heard Boody gasp that he was dying and that McGigue already was dead. Doorman fled to the wood. Therna believed. He said he did not see the attackers but it is believed they were of a rival gang.

Therna said he got in Boody's car, a small sedan, and managed to get to the city hospital here. His condition is serious from loss of blood and shock, but his wounds were not expected to prove fatal.

McGigue and Doorman have been arrested many times in St. Louis on various charges and are identified by police as Cuckoo gangsters. Boody while not classed as a gang member, also has been arrested a number of times, while Therna has been previously arrested on liquor charges.

Bishop walked. Boley and Bishop scored on Dykes' hit to center field for two bases. This finished them and he was taken from the box. Lindsey went in to pitch. Cochrane lined to Gelbert and Dykes was doubled at second, unassisted.

Two runs, two hits, no errors, none left on base.

FIFTH INNING
Cardinals—Lindsey hit right center for one base. Douthitt up. Ball one, inside. Bill two, inside. Ball three, inside. Cochrane called for another ball. Strikes one and two were called. Douthitt lifted a fly to Cochrane between the plate and first base. Adams fled to Haas, who made a running catch in the infield. Frisch popped to Dykes.

Athletics—Simmons hit a high fly which Douthitt caught in center field. Fox rolled to Gelbert and was thrown out at first. Miller

Von Hindenburg Is 83 Years Old

BERLIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—President Paul von Hindenburg is 83 years old today. His and hearty, he attends to his numerous duties with military precision, leads regular life, and disposes of his time in a manner that enough leisure moments are left over for his family, relatives and friends.

Few people believed that the grand old man could live through five years of burdensome presidential term, and give every hope of completing the seven years prescribed by the constitution.

A few months at the executive palace will finish him, was a phrase heard on every side after his election in the spring of 1925.

But President von Hindenburg has fooled them all. He has proved a statesman of outstanding qualities. He has traveled more than

Five Killed In Collapse Of N. Y. Tenement

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—Five persons were killed, one or two reported missing and six others were injured today in the collapse of a four story tenement building at 15 Greenwich Avenue in Greenwich Village.

Police and fire department rescue squads removed the bodies of three victims and carried out the injured, three of whom were women. Then continued their search of the ruins for the other two persons known to have been in the house.

Mrs. Marie Fargouse, 70, who conducts a boarding house in the building was the only one of the 13 persons in the place who was awake. The others were trapped in their beds on the third and fourth floors and had no chance to escape.

How Old Are You? Today Said 43 She—I'm 43 Am I Fat?—Not Me

Yes! A year ago I had twenty-two more pounds of fat than I needed—I was fat—and very sensitive about it—but now I say it is foolish for anyone to be overweight. What did I do? Nothing very hard. I can assure you—I cut out 100—candy and all sweets—ate moderately and every morning before breakfast I took only half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water—Never missed a morning.

I lost fat—gained in energy—vigor—charm—and vivaciousness and have a shapely figure I am proud of—anyone can do the same.
