Bargain Rate—$1.75

Recognizing there should be no cause for urging any citizen to pay his poll tax, The Herald nevertheless issues this reminder that there's only the remainder of January left to put the $1.75 on the line and get a proper receipt.

You may or may not be against the principle of taxing the privilege of casting a ballot. The fact remains that $1.75 is still required in Texas, and if you want to have your say in the various elections this year, you'll have to pay.

We think it's worth $1.75, too, and particularly this year, to be able to have a voice in the operation of our democratic form of government.

It's not only a privilege, but a duty, under the governmental system we have chosen for ourselves. If the people are the government, then the people have the obligation to exercise their franchise, each person doing this in response to his own conscience and conviction.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Here is some melancholy comedy for those who place importance on the pronunciation of film critics.

The other day the Manhattan film reviewers gathered to vote on the "best" film of the year. The purpose of this is to recognize real merit.

There were some 13 critics gathered to debate this selection. Presumably they all had their minds made up before the voting began.

In the end, most of the critics, who are supposed to have some courage with their convictions, surrendered their opinions and ran in "Wuthering Heights" as a dark horse.

It seems to me that the New York film critics will pay any attention to anything they have to say?

This little ditty is entitled "Going down Mt. Hovenberg at 80 miles an hour, or how to have fun in an abandoned railroad station at 3:30 o'clock in the morning."

It also explains those stiff joints Kay Kyser is totting around town these days. It seems that Kay and Ginny Simms were taken up to Lake Placid and crowned King and Queen of Winter.

It was about 12 below zero. The King was slightly frost-bitten, and the Queen was breathing pluses of frost. As they waited for the train the station master came out and announced that the little matter of a wreck, up above on the line somewhere, would delay matters a bit.

"For some strange reason," murmured the King next day, "I feel a little stiff."

How To Torture Your Wife

One Is Beloved BY LOUISE PLATT HAUCK

Chapter 30 PLANS "I'll take you away," Eric had said eagerly, over the telephone. "It has to be—no, Eric, I can't. Not possibly."

Local races, state races, national races—there's a vast amount of political policy to be determined at the polls this year. Here in Big Spring we'll have a city and school district election, in addition to party primaries and the general election in November.

And I'm the one who has to live here, Allen. If I prefer it to a stuffy apartment, I suppose it's my privilege."

He laughed and put a brotherly arm about her. "Don't fly off the handle, little Sue! You may live over a grocery store for all I care—if it pleases you!"

The final and longest struggle had been, oddly enough, about the position Pats had mentioned. In a town where almost every second house boasted lovely old furniture brought long ago from Virginia, from Kentucky, along with a complement of slaves, the antique business flourished mightily.

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—A former counsellor of the German embassy in Washington, now seeming in poor standing with the Nazi regime, can give you a few fresh slants on the European.

In a three-column letter to the New York Times, the former counsellor, Ernest Wilhelm Meyer, cautions against thinking that Germany will collapse easily, and suggests that the Allies may have to revise their propaganda if they expect to undermine Hitler.

Of the off-expressed view that Goering is a conservative with whom the Allies could negotiate a peace if Hitler were removed, Meyer says: "To regard Goering as a conservative is tantamount to calling Gandhi a warmonger or Trotsky a capitalist."

Of the Russian alliance, he says: "The final attitude of Russia is undetermined; the chances of ever closer cooperation with Hitler's bolshevized Germany are many times greater than the opposite chances."

Hitler's constant propaganda that Germany wants not one inch of French or English soil is bound to have effect, says Meyer, especially when British naval losses begin to increase, as they may do with a sustained air attack.

However, Meyer voices a view held widely here that a victory for Hitler "would be both a defeat for Germany and a defeat for Europe."

"It would be a defeat for Germany, for no transitory increase of military and political power could out-balance the definite destruction of all the better qualities of the German nation as a result of the national socialist destruction of law and justice; of political freedom, replaced by political insincerity and hypocrisy; of freedom of science, education, art and press; of free labor and free enterprise, of free worship, and of all Christian, ethical principles."

So far Meyer has found no bitterness against the German masses, either here or abroad, but wonders whether the bombing of the big cities, so often predicted, would not generate a spirit for another punishing Versailles. That, he said, would be in Germany a desperate fear of an Allied victory.

"No help can come from telling the German masses that the war is conducted not against Germany but only against Hitler. Although this might be entirely true, nevertheless they are tragically reminded of 1914-1918, when they were told that the war was conducted only against the Kaiser. Yet after the Kaiser, they got Versailles and Germany was dismembered."

It is true, he said, that opposition to Hitler is developing within Germany into a solid front, but the masses, including the conscript army, will not turn against him without a solid conviction that his presence is Germany's worst liability.

"Nothing would better clarify the situation and promote peace by defeating Hitler," he said, "than the proclamation of all the following principles: (a) No change of frontiers except on the basis of self-determination for all, for Poles and Czechs, for Germans and Austro-Germans; (b) establishment of international law, enforceable for the first time in human history because of establishment of an international police, larger than all private armies; (c) consolidation of some major colonies into an international pool; (d) establishment of a European union—of the United States of Europe."

HOLLYWOOD—On my way back to New York from the South Sea, I dropped off in Hollywood for one day to see the studios. I never finished that tour because at the very first studio I ran into a number of people I'd known on Broadway. So I deserted my guide and before leaving the lot had agreed to return next day to write "Good Gracious, Annabelle," Jeanette MacDonald's first non-singing film. I still don't know what the inside of some of the studios look like.

Accidents like this, little quirks of fate, have marked the careers of almost everyone in Hollywood.

Two of our finest directors are Frank Lloyd and Robert Z. Leonard. Lloyd was leading man 20 years ago when Leonard arrived. Lloyd looked at Leonard, said "I can't compete with his looks" and quit to become a director.

Nine years ago Bing Crosby was singing "I Surrender, Dear" at the Coconut Grove, Lupe Velez was singing "Cielito Lindo" at the Music Box, and Jack Oakie was just singing on the corner of Hollywood and Vine. Brian Aherne got his first stage experience in the London company of my play "White Cargo" and the billboards shrieked "Garbo Talks."

It was eight years ago that Ginger Rogers was making mystery films, and both Myrna Loy and William Powell were playing "heavies." Lew Ayres was turned down as a guitarist because he couldn't double on the violin—the job went to Russ Columbo. Ayres got a job at the Montmartre, which was later managed by Jacques deBujac, now Bruce Cabot.

Only seven years ago Marlene Dietrich came here from Europe and Tom Mix was making "Destry Rides Again." Now Marlene has made "Destry Rides Again" and Tom Mix has just returned from Europe. All the stars were moving to Malibu.

Texas GOP's Not Lined Up On Candidate

AUSTIN, Jan. 11 (AP)—The Texas delegation to the republican national presidential nominating convention very possibly will be instructed to vote as a unit, but when it will bear instructions to vote for any specific candidate is an open question at this time.

That is the latest information from R. B. Creager of Brownsville, republican national committeeman for Texas and long a powerful leader in Texas republican circles.

Although the republican voting strength in Texas chronically is very weak—the great exception was 1928 when Texas went for Hoover—the matter of representation in the national convention is never of small importance.

National republican leaders in presidential years always have their eyes on the Texas delegation because of its size, in the last convention 25 votes. These votes were about the same as the number cast by Minnesota, Indiana, Wisconsin and Iowa, more than those of any other southern state and much more than those of some smaller rock-ribbed republican states.

Every aspirant to the republican presidential nomination would like to have Texas' convention votes definitely in his camp. They would be extremely welcome.

But, according to Creager, sentiment has not crystallized for any candidate to the extent action regarding instruction is predictable. Crystallization might develop later.

"I do not think sentiment is crystallizing in Texas in favor of any particular presidential nominee," Creager said in a mail interview. "Senator Robert Taft was in Texas, and made a very favorable impression. However, the sentiment, just as I find it to be through the United States among republican leaders, is to keep minds open for a number of months yet."

"It is impossible to say at this time whether or not Texas will send an instructed delegation to the next republican national convention. This will depend upon whether or not sentiment has sufficiently crystallized in favor of any particular candidate."

"Very possibly the delegation will go uninstructed, but under a unit rule so that the entire strength of the state will be thrown in favor of whatever candidate the majority of the delegates may favor."

City To Save $850 Under Gas Ruling

The ruling of an appellate court in Austin that municipalities are exempt from payment of state gasoline taxes may be the means of an annual saving of around $850 for the City of Big Spring.

This approximate amount the city will have paid into the state treasury over a 12 month period ending March 31. Should the supreme court uphold the ruling, then the city would be in for a substantial saving.

Over the past 10 months the city has used some 25,370 gallons of gasoline for its operations, including road maintainers, tractors, crushers, trucks, cars and fire trucks.

Some of this consumption has been entitled to refund all along on the ground that it is of a type that never concerns the use of roads. Thus tractor, crusher and other similar motored equipment is entitled to consume tax free gasoline.

For a four months period the refund of state gasoline taxes to the city amounted to $180.61. It was estimated that for the next six months the amount would be that much, if not more. A minimum guess at the annual refund is $900.

The amount of gasoline tax, less this exemption, going to the state, would be better than $700 for the 10-month period, or around $850 for a year.

With the city planning an extensive paving program, which will entail the use of trucks and consequent consumption of gasoline, the amount of saving if upheld in the supreme court, would be substantially higher.

Four cents a gallon runs into money when consumption gets into the thousands of gallons. The City of Big Spring is naturally interested in final settlement of the

GENE SINGS IN BIG SPRING

Last October, when Cowboy Star Gene Autry visited Big Spring, he was accommodating enough to borrow a guitar and croon some western melodies for a local group entertained with him at the local Riding Academy. This picture was made atop South Mountain, where a ranch supper was served. Today, Friday and Saturday, Gene returns to Big Spring in the films, playing at the Ritz in a photoplay called "South Of The Border." The title was taken from 1939's most popular song, one written especially for Autry by two Englishmen during Autry's visit to England last summer. In the film, which brings the No. 1 screen cowboy and the No. 1 tune together, Gene sings "South Of The Border" as well as other melodies.

SEE REDUCTION IN SOIL CONSERVATION WORK IN TEXAS

PORT WORTH, Jan. 11 (AP)—Louis P. Merrill, head of the soil conservation service of the western gulf region, predicts that if proposed reductions in federal funds are approved it will mean a cut of 15 per cent in soil conservation work in Texas.

Merrill said the proposed decrease from $23,720,000 to $20,195,000 for soil conservation and from $6,131,000 to $4,985,000 for land utilization would be a "severe blow."

He added that in addition to the 15 per cent slash in work, at least six of 27 CCC camps would be lost, ten land utilization projects closed and that West Texas would sustain a possible loss of ten of 13 facilities units.

Merrill said the service now was assisting 6,733 farmers on more than 2,468,000 acres.

ON GOODWILL VISIT TO MEXICO CITY

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 11 (AP)—A group of businessmen from Laredo, Texas, were in Mexico City today on a "good will" visit to study methods of increasing commerce between local enterprises and those of the Texas city.

H. Brownie, prominent businessman of Laredo, headed the excursion, which arrived here in motor cars yesterday and will remain several days, conferring with Mexican officials and industrial leaders.

AN ANALYSIS OF THE WAR DEVELOPMENTS

By DEWEET MACKENZIE

The idea that Europe may get peace by spring keeps cropping up with such persistence both at home and abroad that one can't afford not to examine it, though none of its reincarnations thus far has disclosed the basis of the belief.

Anyway, basis or no basis, it's a grand thought and one can at least say of it what the stage magician says of his act: "It's a good trick if I do it—and it's a good trick if I don't."

Certainly if everybody thinks in terms of peace, war's end will be hastened. Moreover, it seems to me personally that while an early peace isn't probable as conditions are, yet it is possible.

I think we can go this far with wishful thinkers: Peace is not impossible for the spring, but please don't say I predicted peace by spring.

A reminder of peace hopes came out of Washington day before yesterday. Mr. Roosevelt conferred with leaders of various churches and after one of them said the churchmen got the impression the president cherished some peace hopes that "might find some practical encouragement by spring."

Subsequently the chief executive told newspapermen that he wouldn't put it quite that way. He had merely set forth ideals which should not be reduced to factual language at present.

Undoubtedly a good deal of such peace optimism as exists is just plain hope. Some of it is based on rumors which sound good but which never have been substantiated.

To give one instance, we heard in Europe that British agents actually are dickering with Nazi leaders to push Herr Hitler to one side and make peace. So far as I know there is no substantiation of this tale.

But I do know that allied agents have been at work in Germany for a long time, trying to upset Hitler's throne. On that basis it would be a safe bet that an effort has been made to reach some of the big men of Nazism.

I think what inspires many of the European rumors is the general knowledge the war is unwanted in any country, that privation and other hardships already are bearing down.

Supposing morales are having a hard grilling in the spring. Supposing that then, when the winter has raised its barriers to fighting, terrific offensives develop, with great bloodshed and widespread destruction by such bombing as never has been seen before. Development of just such sanguinary warfare is predicted by military experts and statesmen alike.

The breaking of such a storm might indeed be the blow which would finally shatter the morale of one, or even more, of the peoples involved. Then would come the collapse—peace by spring.

It is significant that both Britain and Germany have just started propaganda campaigns to keep public morale up to scratch in these dire days of waiting for something to happen in the way of heavy fighting.

Great Britain purchased approximately 800,000 tons of scrap iron and steel in the United States in 1939.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause sagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help sometimes as borax, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used occasionally by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SLAYING SUSPECT TAKEN IN CUSTODY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11 (AP)—Hunger jelled Raymond W. Muford, sought since Saturday for the slaying of his 67-year-old aunt and benefactor.

Muford asked a former employer, William Potter, for food and a chance to shave. While he shaved, Mrs. Potter telephoned police.

Hooked on the murder charge, he told police his aunt, Mrs. Louise Muford Brewer, "would have got me if I hadn't got her." She helped gain his release from an asylum at Ukiah two months ago.

SAYS SWEDEN'S AID FOR FINLAND IS HUMANITARIAN

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 11 (AP)—King Gustaf V, in a speech from the throne, said today the Swedish people's desire to help Finland was "manifested unmistakably in humanitarian aid, but he gave no suggestion of possible military assistance in the war against Soviet Russia.

Sweden is determined to defend her own independence under all circumstances, the king said, a sentiment voiced also by Prime Minister Per Albin Hansson, who spoke later.

As members of the riksdag met in the throne room to hear the king and prime minister, they learned that Sweden's record budget of 800,000,000 kroner (about $200,000,000) for military defense in the next fiscal year would cause a deficit for the first time in many years.

Woods Speaker At School Conference

AUSTIN, Jan. 11 (AP)—The need for a broader cultural development to insure a richer heritage for the citizens of tomorrow was emphasized today by L. A. Woods, state superintendent of education, who opened a two-day conference of public school administrators.

Theme of the meet which will be featured by discussions of educational policies is "developing a philosophy in education to meet the needs of a representative democracy."

Keynoting the conference, Woods said democracy must be taught in the schools and in society if it is to function in its full fruition.

"There are two ways of teaching: one by precept and the other by example," he said.

"Theory is worthless if unexecuted. Every school should be a living, active example of a representative democracy."

The public schools must, he added:

- Teach children how to live.
- Teach them how to make a living.
- Teach them how intelligently to support a representative democracy.

EASTERN STATES GET SUFFICIENT PRECIPITATION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—The area east of the Mississippi river, with the exception of the north-eastern states, was 1939's "chosen" region in the distribution of crop-producing rainfall.

Weather bureau records showed today that all states west of the Mississippi, except Arkansas, received less than normal precipitation.

Ben Franklin Not So Thrifty As He Preached

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11 (AP)—And now, after a century and a half, the truth is out about Benjamin Franklin—that great exponent of thrift and other cardinal principles.

He didn't always practice his own preachments.

In fact, Franklin, like some present-day folk, had quite a lot of trouble in keeping sufficient funds in the bank to cover what he wanted to draw out.

"The name 'Poor Richard' might easily have derived from his bank account rather than from his almanac," declared President William Fulton Kurtz, of the Pennsylvania company. "He was overdrawn at the bank at least three days out of every week."

President Kurtz spoke after a perusal of the early records of the Bank of North America, where Franklin and many of his illustrious compatriots of colonial days kept their money.

Complete records of the bank, first one established in the United States, were turned over last night to the Historical Society of Pennsylvania.

They covered the period from 1781, when the Second Continental Congress chartered the institution as a means of providing supplies and finances for promoting the Revolutionary war, down to 1928.

In that year, the venerable Bank of North America was absorbed by the Pennsylvania company.

Bits Of Good News For Oil Industry

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 11 (AP)—Scattered bits of good news featured the first days of the new year for the oil industry.

The good news ranged from price boosts in Pennsylvania to new pipe line construction in western Kansas.

With demand continuing good for lube oils, Pennsylvania grade crude was upped 25 cents a barrel.

Mid-Continent oil men continued hopeful the lube oil demand might result in higher prices in their territory. Demand for fuel oils was good with some advance in price reported.

Gasoline stocks continued to pile up and there were many reports of shadings in tank wagon prices.

Western Kansas operators were buoyed by announcement of Stan-blind Pipe Line company of plans to construct a 148-mile line from the Bemis pool to connect with its east-west trunk line.

Operators in that section said the line would give them a much needed outlet for their crude and probably would stimulate further development.

Sinclair also announced new pipe line construction calling for a 90-mile eight-inch line from its K.M.A. station north of Kandane, Tex., to the Hensley station near Jacksboro.

Sun Oil Co. will put out $14,000,000 during 1940 for construction of a refinery, a tank steamer, and development of production.

The Phillips Petroleum Co., announced its Kansas City, Kan., refinery would begin taking an additional 5,000 barrels daily.

The president of Argentina serves a six-year term.

SOUND SLEEPER

PHILIPSBURG, Pa., Jan. 11 (AP)—Bernard Shaw of West Decatur, Pa., told police he slept soundly while his car bounded off a concrete bridge, broke a tree, struck a concrete sidewalk, tore part of a porch from a house and finally stalled after reversing its direction.

He escaped injury, but damage to the car alone was $125.

Robber Ends His Career By Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11 (AP)—The notorious career of mall robber Roy Gardner, who boasted that he could escape from the law, was closed in suicide today because he could not escape from the stigma of "ex-convict" after nearly 20 years in prison.

Fashioning a lethal chamber in the bathroom of his hotel quarters here, Gardner, about 36, breathed deadly fumes which he created last night with chemicals, and died quickly, "old and tired," but bearing "no malice toward any human being."

Since his release from Leavenworth federal penitentiary in June, 1920, he had tried to rebuild his life in the world outside bars, trying the motion picture business, writing, and lecturing.

"All men who have to serve more than five years in prison are doomed," he said in a note, "but they don't realize it. They kid themselves into the belief that they can 'come back,' but they can't. There is a barrier between the ex-convict and society that cannot be leveled."

Gardner, whose final capture in Arizona came about because he refused to shoot at his captor — he never fired a shot in a long series of robberies—was solicitous to the last.

On the door of the bathroom, he posted a note which said "do not open this door. Poison gas. Call the police."

The ex-convict, whose criminal career began with an $80,000 mail robbery in San Diego in April, 1920, said he would have "checked out" then, "he knew what the future held 'and saved my loved ones the disgrace and shame that they have had to endure these many years."

He added that every convict on forbidding Alcatraz Island, where he served about five years, "would be better off if they would jump in the bay and start swimming for China."

126-Day Supply Of Crude Stocks

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—The bureau of mines today reported total stocks of all oils in the United States November 30 at 511,585,000 barrels, or a 126-day supply.

Stocks of motor fuel, it said, totaled 81,369,000 barrels, an increase of 2,910,000 over the 78,459,000 barrels at the end of October.

Aviation gasoline stocks increased 126,000 barrels in November, from 2,400,000 in October to 2,526,000.

This was the first time the bureau emphasized the supply of gasoline for aircraft and, authorities said, it reflected its growing importance in domestic and world commerce as a result of the European war.

The 511,585,000-barrel November total of all oils compared with 511,612,000 on October 31, or a 124-day supply. Oil stocks totaled 563,715,000 barrels, or a 148-day supply, a year ago.

SCOFFS AT CHARGES AGAINST GRANITE REFORMATORY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 11 (AP)—Charges that Granite Reformatory is the "hell hole of Oklahoma" where youthful prisoners are beaten and subjected to cruel mental strain were banded "a joke" today by Warden Fred Hunt.

The charges were made by Mrs. Mabel Bassett, state commissioner of charities and corrections, to Gov. Leon C. Phillips, who said he would investigate. She demanded dismissal of Hunt and 10 other employees.

Hunt, in Columbus, Ohio, for an extradition hearing, declared: "Governor Phillips is not one to

Sees Control Of Diseases By Heredity

URBANA, Ill., Jan. 11 (AP)—Dr. Maud Slye, noted research authority on the factor of inheritance in cancer, said today "all diseases, including cancer, can be controlled by scientific handling of environment and heredity."

Dr. Slye, associate professor of pathology at the University of Chicago, spoke on the Farm and Home Week program at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Dr. Slye holds that cancer can be bred out of a human family. She bases her conclusions on the study, begun in 1908, of the family trees of 140,000 mice under controlled conditions in a laboratory.

"The offspring of two individuals will be free from cancer if the families of both parents are entirely cancer-free," she said. If one parent has cancer and the other is entirely cancer-free, the immediate offspring are themselves free, she continued.

But these offspring can transmit susceptibility to cancer to some of their offspring, if mated with individuals who also carry cancer susceptibility, she said. If both parents are cancerous, the offspring inherit the tendency to be susceptible.

"By the genetic method cancer can be wholly eliminated from the entire family," Dr. Slye contended.

Post-Operation Anesthetic Is Discovered

CHICAGO, Jan. 11 (AP)—The discovery of an anesthetic which gives dramatic relief from the painful swelling frequently following operations, was reported today in the association.

It was called the first improvement in 30 years in the treatment of thrombophlebitis, in which a blood clot forms in a vein, usually in the leg, causing inflammation and fever—and sometimes sudden death. The ailment has been on the increase.

The report, made by Dr. Alton Ochsner and Dr. Michael De Bakey, both of New Orleans, said that in a test of 15 patients the results of the injections were "quite dramatic" because there was "prompt and permanent relief of pain in all instances."

In half the cases, they said, temperature returned to normal within 48 hours and in the other half within a week. In more than half the cases the swelling completely subsided in eight days and in the others within 12 days.

The anesthetic's healing action was attributed to its interruption of nervous impulses causing constriction of blood vessels, thereby reestablishing the normal exchange of fluids inside and around the inflamed vein.

BACH—The Sublime!

From almost the time of Columbus to our own Civil War the Bach family was playing, teaching and creating music—a record unique in musical history. So closely was the name of Bach associated with the art that every town musician in one part of Germany was known as a Bach—whether he bore that name or not. From the cradle came newcomer to the family was taught to play and to write music—spent his growing years in an atmosphere of music—and with astonishingly few exceptions made his adult living from music.

Johann Sebastian Bach was the magnificent crystallization of the artistic prowess of two centuries of Bachs. More, he was the supreme embodiment of all that was glorious in music before him, and the glittering gateway to all musical achievement since. Nor are his power and influence ended. Modern audiences delight today in the golden flow of his melody as they did centuries ago; modern musicians study his masterworks as have all musicians in every generation since his time; and his unrivaled genius will stir hearers and kindle musical talent everywhere for untold generations to come.

His early achievements as an organist brought him the title "Bach the Great." Success in the material sense became his. Acclaimed everywhere as the foremost musical figure of his time, looked up to by all his contemporaries, Bach's life was well regulated, untroubled.

Bach is as modern as today, as old as time. Each year that passes brings him new converts, new enthusiasts. It is no exaggeration to say that the whole structure of modern music rests securely on the foundation of Bach... Bach—the sublime!

An Electric RECORD PLAYER

For readers who do not have in their homes a record-playing instrument we have included in this great plan an amazing, sturdy, efficient electric Record Player. This splendid instrument will play any size record—it comes to you in a beautiful bakelite cabinet ready to be attached to your radio—and can be yours for actually less than its cost of manufacture.

RULES and CONDITIONS

To obtain the 10 symphonies and symphonic masterpieces and the electric Record Player to be distributed in accordance with our Music Appreciation Plan proceed as follows:

First, fill in and mail the Reservation Form printed in the lower right corner of this page. The purpose of this form is not to obligate you in any way, but to enable us to estimate the quantity of records and Record Players to have on hand to meet the demand.

Each day during this music appreciation offer we will publish a reminder coupon setting forth the date on which each symphony will be ready. You can get your first symphony (Franz Schubert's No. 8 in B Minor) at once. A new symphony will be released every two weeks and will be available at any time thereafter. Watch the reminder coupon which will be published daily. It is not necessary for you to clip the coupons in order to get your records or Record Player.

You obtain each symphony, which consists of three or four double-faced 12-inch records, for a payment of $1.49. This payment is not for each record but for all THREE or FOUR records. Symphonies which consist of FIVE double-faced 12-inch records require a payment of $4.95 for the entire symphony of all FIVE records. The Cesar Franck Symphony in D Minor, on account of its great length, is divided into two units, each unit consisting of three double-faced 12-inch records, and the cost of each unit is $1.49, the same as for any other three-record group.

A quantity of de luxe records, known as Philharmonic Transcriptions, enclosed in beautiful record albums which have been designed individually for each particular symphony, are available at a slightly higher price.

After you have obtained all ten of the symphonies, you can secure the electric Record Player for a payment of only $3. If you want to get your Record Player earlier, you can do so—you can get it with your first group of records, your second, third, or any other group, merely by making a deposit of $5. After you have obtained all of the 10 symphonies, $2 will be returned to you. Thus, whether you get your Record Player before or after you have obtained all of the symphonies, the cost to you is only $3.

For those who want a more elaborate Record Player, a Symphonic De Luxe Model, enclosed in a walnut case, is available at a higher price. First, mail the Reservation Form to assist us in our distribution problems. Please check whether or not you want the Record Player reserved. We will acknowledge your reservation by mail. Filling in and mailing the reservation entitles no obligation whatever on your part.
