College Union Conference Concludes Campus Sessions

The Region Nine Assn. of College Unions conference draws to a close on the Texas Tech campus today, concluding a three-day session of workshops, discussions, luncheons and entertainment.

More than 200 students from four states are attending the three-day meet, hosted by Tech Union.

HOWARD HEAD of Richardson, delegate from Texas A&M University, was elected Friday as the new chairman of the region, which will be split next year. Schools in Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana will be in Region 12 in the future.

New first vice chairman is Margaret Saetre of Hattiesburg, Miss., delegate from Tulane University.

Highlighting the round of events Friday was a talk by Porter Butts of the University of Wisconsin pinpointing the role the student union should play on the modern college campus.

In the keynote address, Butts described the student union as a college center for a variety of purposes, including providing services as a living room, as a dining room and as a part of the educational program of the college.

HE TOLD THE group, "If I had to choose one purpose for a college union, it would be to associate the union firmly with the purposes of education."

Butts, editor of publications for the national ACU, outlined the beginning and early history of the college union, first organized at Cambridge University in 1850.

He added that the union today is as normal and necessary a part of the college equipment as a gymnasium, dormitory or library, serving as a unifying force and place where faculty and students can meet on a common ground, in an informal atmosphere.

Butts stressed the function of the union as a place where easy exposure to the arts helps change the pattern of students from trivial to serious cultural pursuits.

"GOOD CITIZENS are made by the experience of citizenship," he added. "The union strength laboratory for citizenship for the students who volunteer and give their time for union work.

"You, the union leaders are the key to the outcome," he concluded. "It is not an easy task, but it is a crucial one."

A banquet in Tech Union Ballroom at 7:30 p.m. Friday began a round of festivities for the guests.

A GROUP OF Tech students, under the supervision of Mrs. Vera Simpson, graduate speech instructor, gave three choral readings on the subject of Christmas to highlight the dinner. Royal Furgeson, president of the Texas Tech Student Assn., gave the welcome address, and Charles Richards, managing editor of THE DAILY TOREADOR, gave the invocation.

The "Ones Three plus One" singing group, Dow Patterson and Tony Ulrich, and The Gentymen all performed at a "Hootenanny" in the Faculty Club lounge from 8:30 p.m. until 10 p.m.

Simultaneously, guests were also offered "Cranta" crafty, and "The Knockout," with Charlie

20 Honored On Who's Who

Twenty students representing the Techsan ideal in scholarship, leadership, character and service have been selected to the 1963-64 Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges yearbook.

The selections are made by a student and faculty committee composed of two representatives from each of Tech's five undergraduate schools. James G. Allen, Dean of Student Life, serves as non-voting chairman.

This year's list includes leaders in all areas of students activities: Tech Union, athletics, President's Hostesses, the residence councils, honorary and social fraternities and sororities, language clubs . . . the list is endless.

THE DAILY TOREADOR salutes the 1963-64 selections for this high honor.

Christmas Gala Set In Union

Saddl and hay will be under the tree for the annual Cowboys' Christmas Ball sponsored by the Tech Rodeo Assn. tonight.

Tickets are on sale in Tech Union at $.50 for stags and $2 for couples. Proceeds will go to the Lubbock Children's Home.

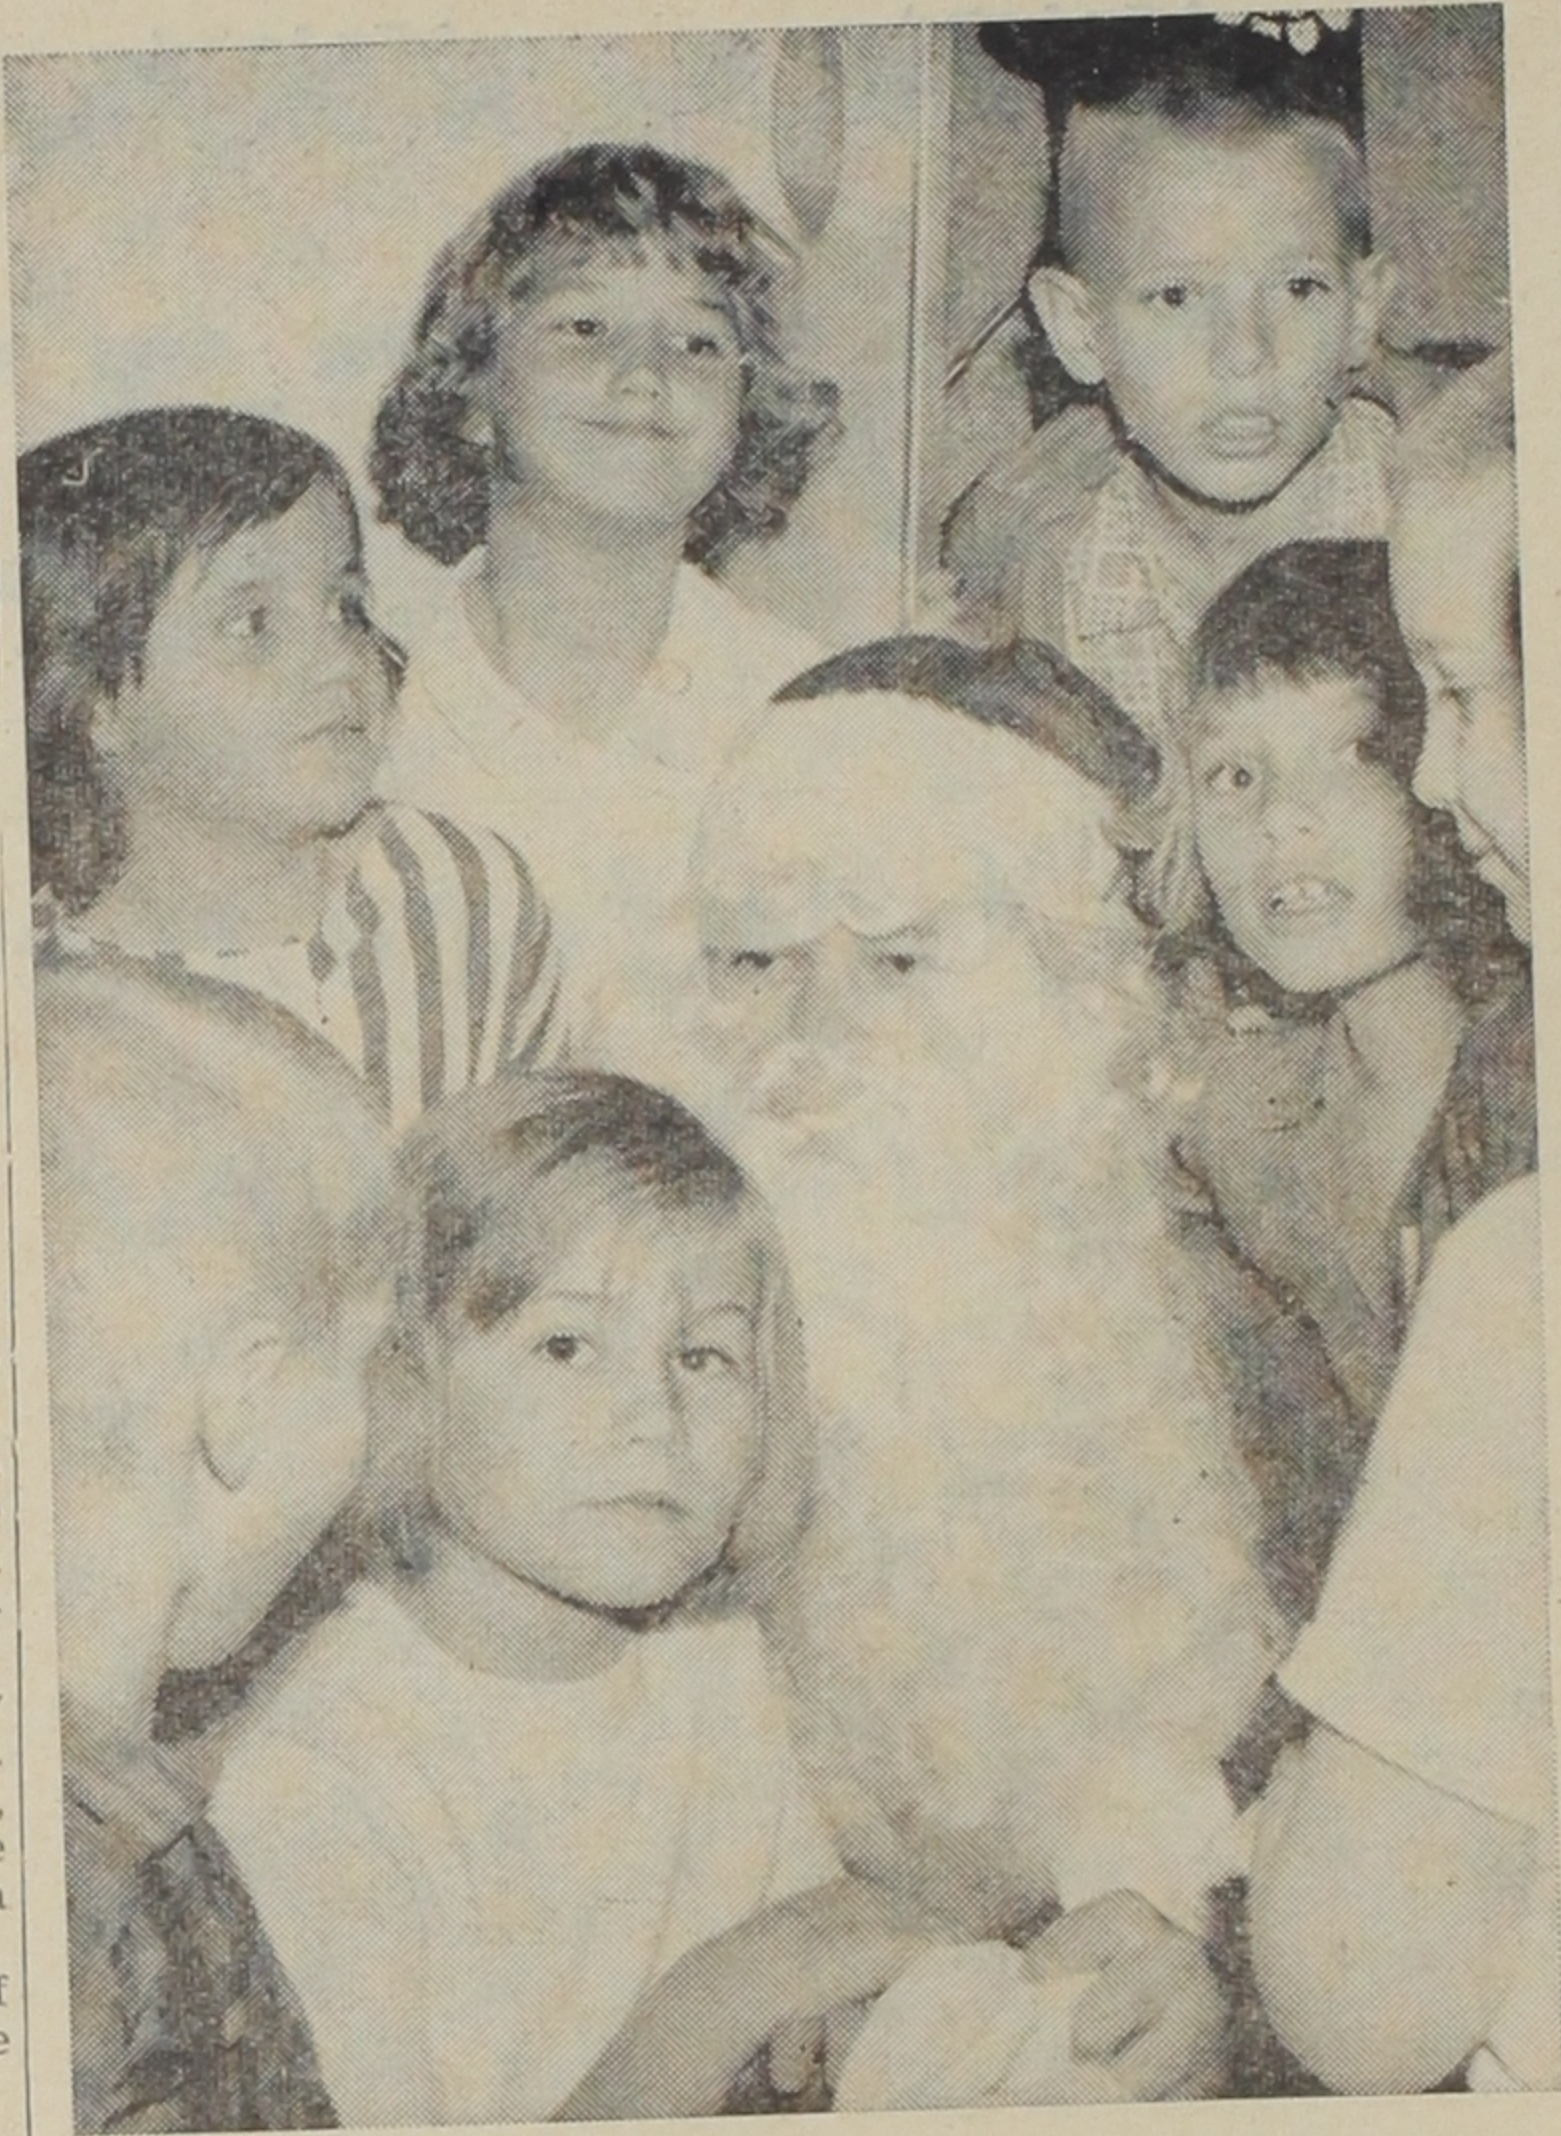

"THE PURPOSE of the dance is to raise money for the Home to buy whatever is most needed for the children," said Mary Adele Wilson, publicity chairman.

The Rodeo Assn. will also sponsor a Christmas party for the children this week. The tree used for the dance will be donated to the Home.

JIMMY MACKEY'S western band will play for the all-college dance at 8:30 p.m. in the Union Ballroom. The bandstand will feature a pair of silver boots.

Techsans will step out in "city duds" for the semi-formal affair. Hay, mistletoe, and tumbleweeds, blended in colors of silver, blue and green will set the scene for a western-style Christmas.

Sherry Beadle is in charge of decorations and advertising for the dance.

Coeds Still Critical

Two Tech coeds remain in critical condition at a Waco hospital since they were injured during the accident during the party. Cheryl Terry and Gail Ernestine are both still in comas, according to Jan George, a friend of the girls. reported improving but doctors say it will be six months before they will know the extent of brain damage.

She also said the parents of the girls were asking for blood donations. The girls have received 19 pints of blood and the costs will be excessive for the parents unless blood is donated in the name of the girls, she said.

Techsans may donate blood at the Lubbock Blood Bank and it will be sent to Waco in the name of the girls.

Miss George also reported that Gay Goodman, who was also injured in the same wreck, will return to classes after Christmas. She returned to Pecos, her home, Friday.

Santa Confronts 'Death' In Cummings Drama

Santa Claus may not be dead yet, but there is not much time to keep him alive.

This is one of numerous conclusions the reader can draw from "Santa Claus," a drama by E. E. Cummings. The drama and its implications were discussed by Houston Hodges, instructor of Biblical literature, and others at Friday's Noon Forum session.

"SANTA CLAUS" involves a meeting between the jolly fellow in red and the not-so-jolly character, Death. Both have something to give people.

Santa desires to give understanding. But Death believes he knows a gift which will be more eagerly accepted—knowledge without understanding.

To determine if Death is correct, Santa changes "masks" with him and goes forth to offer the people scientific knowledge and material possessions, made possible by science, with no understanding.

HE OFFERS stocks in a "wheel mine" which does not exist, and people eagerly purchase them to get the promised wealth.

After a riot breaks out and people want to kill the science that did not deliver what it offered, Death tells Santa not to worry since he only offered stock which did not exist to people who did not really exist, either.

But the drama ends on an optimistic note. A young girl proclaims she definitely believes in Santa Claus, and a woman beseeches Santa to keep love alive.

Forum attendees considered that Cummings' drama represents a protest play, anti-commercial and anti-mechanical in nature. Several theorized that the woman represents humanity in search of values in a scientific world, and Santa Claus is symbolic of love, the only thing that can offer mankind a "second chance" at living with understanding in its heart.

Tech Choral Reading Group Plans Concert

Choral reading students from the Tech speech dept. will present a concert entitled "What is Christmas?" at 4 p.m. Monday in the Library Croslin Room.

The program will include three selections: "The Night Before Christmas" by Clement Clarke Moore; "A Child's Christmas in Wales" by Dylan Thomas; and the Christmas story from the Bible.

KEEP IT HISTORICAL

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Education Department said Christmas plays, trees, carols and nativity scenes do not violate the U.S. Supreme Court's ban on religious observances in public schools if such activities are conducted as historical exercises.

Stock Show Opens On Tech Campus

Tech's annual Little International Livestock Show begins at 1 p.m. today with 63 contestants slated to compete in the Livestock Pavilion.

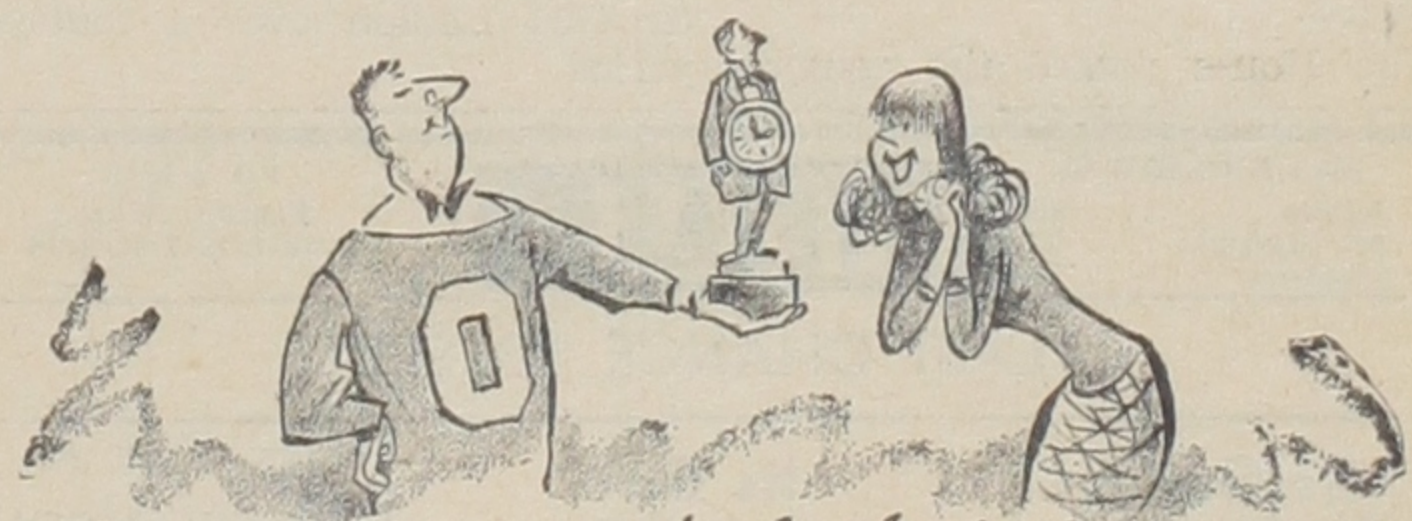

Little International is sponsored by the Block and Bridle Club to give agriculture students a chance to gain experience in fitting and showing livestock.

Five divisions of judging and showmanship will be highlighted at the event. These include beef cattle, dairy cattle, quarterhorse, swine and sheep. Special events in the show are the Milk Maid contest and the Mule Harnessing contest.

'TIS THE SEASON TO BE JOLLY

If you have been reading this column—and I hope you have; I mean I genuinely hope so; I mean it does not profit me one penny whether you read this column or not; I mean I am paid every week by the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes and my emolument is not affected in any way by the number of people who read or fail to read this column—an act of generosity perfectly characteristic of the makers of Marlboro, you would say if you knew them as I do; I mean here are tobacconists gray at the temples and full of honors who approach their art as eagerly, as dewy-eyed as the youngest of practitioners; I mean the purpose of the Marlboro makers is simply to put the best of all possible filters behind the best of all possible tobaccos and then go, heads high, into the market place with their wares, confident that the inborn sense of right and wrong, of good and bad, of worthy and unworthy, which is the natural instinct of every American, will result in a modest return to themselves for their long hours and dedicated labors—not, let me hasten to add, that money is of first importance to the makers of Marlboro; all these simple men require is plain, wholesome food, plenty of Marlboros, and the knowledge that they have scattered a bit of sunshine into the lives of smokers everywhere; if, I say, you have been reading this column, you may remember that last week we started to discuss Christmas gifts.

Do you know someone who is interested in American history?

We agreed, of course, to give cartons of Marlboro to all our friends and also to as many total strangers as possible. Today let us look into some other welcome gifts.

Do you know someone who is interested in American history? If so, he will surely appreciate a statuette of Millard Fillmore with a clock in the stomach. (Mr. Fillmore, incidentally, was the only American president with a clock in the stomach. James K. Polk had a stem-winder in his head, and William Henry Harrison chimed the quarter-hour, but only Mr. Fillmore, of all our chief executives, had a clock in the stomach. Franklin Pierce had a sweep second hand and Zachary Taylor had seventeen jewels, but, I repeat, Mr. Fillmore and Mr. Fillmore alone had a clock in the stomach. Some say that Mr. Fillmore was also the first president with power steering, but most historians assign this distinction to Chester A. Arthur. However, it has been established beyond doubt that Mr. Fillmore was the first president with a thermostat. Small wonder they called him Old Hickory!)

But I digress. To get back to welcome and unusual Christmas gifts, here's one that's sure to please—a gift certificate from the American Chiropractic Society. Accompanying each certificate is this winsome little poem:

Merry Christmas, Happy New Year,
Joyous sacro-iliac!
May your spine forever shine,
Blessings on your aching back.
May your lumbar ne'er grow number,
May your backbone ne'er dislodge,
May your caudal never dangle,
Joyeux Noel! Heureux massage!

The makers of Marlboro, who take pleasure in bringing you this column throughout the school year, would like to join with Old Max in extending greetings of the season.

Tech Takes On Tide

The Crimson Tide from Alabama, sporting five starters averaging in the double figures, and a record as yet untarnished by a loss, roll into Municipal Coliseum tonight to face the road-weary Red Raiders.

In their first three games, Coach Hayden Riley's Alabama crew crushed Delta State 111-65, beat Howard College 99-78, and whipped Florida State 62-53.

Pace-setter for the Tide is Charlie Perry, 6-4 junior from Covington, who is averaging 16 points a game. Another junior starter, Bob Andrews, is averaging 13 points per game and scored 21 points against Tech last year. Andrews, 6-5 and from Bridgeport, Ill., is starting center for Alabama.

Other starters for Alabama are J. W. Berry, 6-4 senior from Fayette, Ala. (10.9 avg.), and Kenneth Moses, 6-0 sophomore from Morristown, Tenn. (13).

The Red Raiders are undoubtedly seeking another chance at the Tide, after Alabama squeezed by the Raiders 62-57, at Tuscaloosa last year.

The Raiders, winning only one of their first five games, and losing to two teams ranked in the top ten in the nation, will probably be ready to get back to their home court, as three of their four losses came on the road.

The other loss was a heartbreaker to the University of New Mexico, 76-75, in the first of the season here.

Starting at center for Coach Gene Gibson will probably be 6-8 Harold Denny from Amarillo. Denney leads the Raider team in two categories. He is averaging 18.6 per game and rebounding at the rate of 6.6 per game.

The other four starters will be picked from among Bill Murren, 6-1 senior, Atlantic City, N. J. (13 points per game); Glen Hallum, 6-5 junior, Brownwood (13); John (Dub); Malaise, 5-11 sophomore, Odessa (11.4); Norman Reuther, 6-6 sophomore, Fort Worth (16.4); and Tom Patty, 6-5 senior, Carlsbad, N. M. (9.0).

The varsity game will be preceded by the freshman contest at 6 p. m. in which Coach Charlie Lynch's Picadors take on San Angelo College. The Picadors have won their only start, downing Lubbock Christian College, 90-55.

Probably freshmen starters will be 6-4 Ronnie Rainey of Shamrock; 6-2 Trenton Bonner, Graham; 6-7 Bob Glover, Dallas; 5-10 Jimmy Fullerton, Lubbock; and 6-1 Danny Davis, Lubbock.

Swimmers Elect Captains

Coach Jim McNally's tankers elected team captains for this year, just prior to their first Southwest Conference meet of the year.

Two swimmers from Houston, Phil Simpkins, a junior, and Bob Smith, a senior, were selected to lead the team into the first meet.

Simpkins holds the Southwest Conference 50-yard, freestyle record and Smith possesses the Texas Tech 400-yard individual medley mark.

The Raiders journey to Austin this Saturday to participate in the Southwest Conference Relays.

Senate Approves Aid Bill

WASHINGTON AP—The Senate today sent to President Johnson a $1.56-billion bill authorizing a program geared to modern job opportunities.

In addition to increasing sharply federal funds for vocational training the bill extends for two years the impacted areas program of aid for federally affected school districts and boosts loan money for college students.

The House passed the compromise bill 300-65 Thursday after defeating 193-180 a Republican move to reduce some of the allotments.

It is the third major education bill passed by Congress this year, bringing a claim from Democratic leaders that the 1963 session long will be remembered for its work in this field.

Federal support for vocational education, now about $57 million a year would be increased by the bill to $731 million over a four-year period.
