

Court To Consider Protest Saturday

The Tech Supreme Court has moved the hearing of the Student Council election protest to 1 p.m. Saturday in the Union Anniversary Room.

The protest was submitted by Bobby Whitson and W. J. Hill. They are appealing an earlier ruling of the Council Election Committee which set aside their original protest. The protest arose from the election of Frank Barnhart as the Aggie representative to the Student Council.

Bill Welbourne, counsel for the opposition, submitted a list of names to be subpoenaed for Saturday's hearing. The list included Bill Barkley, Bill King, Richard Eudaly, Judy Price and a statement from Fannie Hannsz.

Frankie Claunts and Harry Meisser, counsel for the defense, also submitted a list of names including Ann Faith, James Cole and Al Trevisan.

Four letters concerning the protest will be read at the up-coming hearing. The letters were written by Fannie Hannsz, Ann Faith, Larry Carter and Carol Bray.

"I believe the letters to be impartial to both sides," Claunts said.

Moving Company To Provide Techsans With Cheap Storage

A plan to provide Techsans with summer storage space at low costs was announced Thursday by Hub City Movers Inc. of Lubbock.

H. M. Bourgeois, manager of the firm, said plans have been worked out with Tech officials to offer students storage at a rate of $5.75 per 200 pounds maximum, compared to the normal estimated cost of storage for 90 days at $32.00 per 100 pounds.

"WE ARE offering this storage for the students strictly as a service," Bourgeois said. "This is the first program of this kind for the college. If successful, it will become an annual thing."

The plans call for a pickup of items for storage in the lobbies of dormitories May 24 and 28. All items will be returned to each student's dormitory Sept. 19.

IN ORDER to offer the storage at a low rate, Bourgeois said the plans will require close co-operation from students and attentiveness to the regulations established by the company and the Tech administration.

Students desiring to use the service must make arrangements with the Hub City Movers' sales office at 1905 Avenue H or with a company representative who will be on campus May 8 from 9-12 a.m. and from 1-5 p.m.

in the Journalism Bldg., room 205.

OFF-CAMPUS students interested in the plan must bring their items for storage to the sales office on May 24 and 28 only. These students would have to pick up the items next fall from the sales office.

The regulations for the service are as follows:

- Students will place items to be stored at each dormitory.

- Students in the dormitories will place items to be stored in the main lobby for pickup on May 24 and 28. The time scheduled for pickups will be announced later in THE DAILY TREADOR.

There will be pickups only in lobbies.

- Each student must be present at the prescribed time of pickup, or the warehouse will not be responsible for what is picked up or returned.

- Vans will pick up on the selected dates only and return the items Sept. 19. Students also must be present at time of delivery.

- No access to stored items for the summer period will be given for the rate. Also there will be no partial or early deliveries.

- The rate will be $5.75 per 200 pounds maximum. Portions in excess of 200 pounds will be charged at the rate of 40 cents per month. Charges cover pickup, storage and delivery.

- Delivery will be made to the original pickup site or dormitory indicated on tags. Students must remove items from that location. Tags will be furnished.

- The warehouse will pack, crate and ship COD to any student not returning for fall semester, if notified prior to delivery on campus Sept. 19.

- All items except furniture must be boxed and sealed.

- Each item must be tagged or identified with name and address and name of hall from which picked up. The name of the hall to which the items are to be returned must be indicated. (If return address is not given, items will be returned to the location they were picked up.)

- Furniture, small chest, tables, phonographs, TV sets, etc. must be tagged but not boxed. No loose items will be stored such as lamps, breakables, clothes, etc. which are not boxed.

- Conditions and terms of storage are on a standard contract a g r e e m e n t. Warehouseman's liability is 30 cents per pound per article.

- The warehouse will definitely not pick up any item for which arrangements have not been made prior to pickup date.

Bourgeois urged students to make arrangements with the company representative Wednesday for pickup of items on May 24 to avoid the last-minute rush.

Students with special problems with large items should make special arrangements. For further information, students may call the company at SH7-2949.

Outstanding team of the evening was Delta Tau Delta. Bledsoe Hall received the honor of having the best participation, while Mike Cunstadt was named outstanding participant.

Individual winners of the various sports events will be announced in Saturday's edition of THE DAILY TREADOR.

'Little 500' To Roll Saturday

Texas Tech's version of the European bicycle road race will get underway at 1 p.m. Saturday with the annual running of the "Little 500."

At that time, the girls' teams will begin 16 laps around Memorial Circle. At 2 p.m., the boys take over and begin a 40-lap race around Soapsuds Pavilion and Memorial Circle. New Group Studies International Trade Problems of world trade will get close looks from one of Tech's newest organizations, the International Trade Society.

Chartered with the 12 international trade majors enrolled here, the club, organized this spring, is sponsored by Dr. John Hildebrand, already counselor for the trade majors.

Dr. Hildebrand had worked in South America and has firsthand knowledge in the field of international trade.

Officers for the infant organization are C. A. Roussen, president; Hiroshi Ogino, vice president; Glynn Baker, treasurer, and Mike Farley, secretary.

Student Gives Jewish Views

By LANE CROCKETT
Toreador Staff Writer

Perry Langenstein, Jewish student from Longview, gave the third lecture in the religious series on "The Religion of the Future."

The core of Langenstein's lecture revolved around the three factions of the Jewish religion — Orthodox Judaism, Reform Judaism and Conservative Judaism.

Orthodox Judaism is a naturalistic and humanistic theology, but is somewhat dwindling at this time. This form of Judaism is known as the "right wing." The Orthodox Jews go strictly by the Torah. This strictness is somewhat lessened in the United States, because of government laws.

The Reformed Jews are commonly called the "left wing." Reform Judaism is the religion of the future, according to Langenstein, and is attempting to bind religion and science. Reformists are not looking for a Messiah, but rather for an age of the Messiah. They believe in keeping the strict moral and ethnic codes, but try to adapt them to the American way of living. The Reform Jews are even planning a missionary program.

Conservatist Judaism is what may be called the American "wishy-washy." It, more or less, lies between the other two factions.

Also considered was the taboo of Jews eating pork. It was incorporated into the commandments, Langenstein said. Not eating pork is a health law of the Orthodox Jews.

All God's Sons

The Jewish people also believe that there could be no physical son of God. David, Moses and others are all God's sons, according to this view. Judaism is a monolithic religion, believing in one God; therefore, ruling out the Trinity.

The Jewish "heaven" is somewhat vague, and, as Langenstein said, "Its interpretation would depend on the rabbi to whom one speaks."

Due to an illness, Rabbi Alexander S. Kline, did not attend the lecture.

Carol Ann Norman Tech's Rodeo Queen Leads Exciting Life

By GRETCHEN POLLARD
Assistant Society Editor

Many facets frame a woman's life. For some it may be dates and dances. For others it may be scholarship and sororities. Or it may even be horses.

In any case, Carol Ann Norman, Tech's 1963 Rodeo Queen, has all these interests, plus many more. Miss Norman is a sophomore history major from Plainview. She said she chose Texas Tech "because it was close to home and my horse — and my Daddy."

AN AVID rider since she was 12, Miss Norman has led an exciting life as an equestrian ever since. She began jumping and appearing in horse shows when 14 in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Colorado.

"I showed jumpers and hunters — such as those Jackie Kennedy rides," she said.

Miss Norman has owned around 15 horses herself. One she labels "my main horse—The Hammer," was hers for five years.

"We bought him from a glue factory," she said. "He became state champion of New Mexico in 1961."

"In October of my freshman year here, I opened a New York magazine—a hunting and jumping magazine—and I read that The Hammer had been sold. Daddy didn't have the nerve to tell me. He was sold for more than 50 times what we paid."

IN THE SAME YEAR The Hammer was sold, Miss Norman tried out for the National Olympic trials in El Paso.

"It was not judged—you just received a score," she explained. "This other girl and I were high scorers."

She added that no one was chosen to be on the Olympic team from the Southwest "because it would cost too much money to enter."

Also in 1961, she qualified in the ride-offs for Madison Square Gardens by winning the American

ARREST NEGROES

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Police arrested more than 150 Negroes including a group of elementary school children as new demonstrations were launched in this Deep South city Thursday.

Horse Show Assn. medal class for West Texas. "That also cost too much to enter," she said.

LAST SUMMER Miss Norman worked at St. John's Military Academy in Delafield, Wisc., as a riding counselor.

"There I met a Mr. Janssen who owned a commercial riding stable. I fell in love with a white Anglo-Arabian horse named 'Mischief.' I am now buying Mischief on credit, as the owner practically gave him to me to get him out of competition in Wisconsin."

Then Thanksgiving of '62, Miss Norman appeared in Dallas on "Glory Bee," an ex-race horse which she bought last summer. Glory Bee and Miss Norman won the open dressage championship which she explains, in layman's terms, means "he has had precise and concise training, and the rider is in complete control—sort of like 'Trigger'."

A REGISTERED teacher for the American Quarter-horse Assn., Miss Norman teaches riding each afternoon after class approximately 20 hours per week. For four semesters she taught 15 students from ages 8-40 in English riding. She has now limited her teaching to five pupils in order to participate in campus activities.

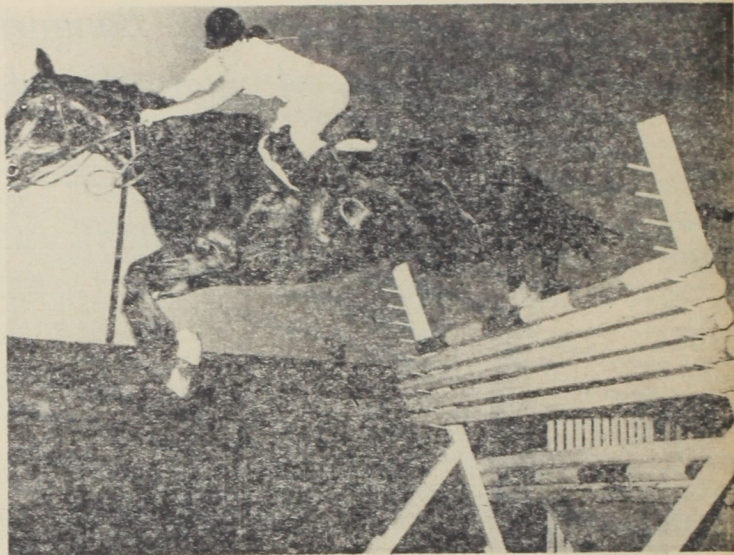

This summer she plans to be in charge of the riding program at Brush Ranch, N.M.

The 20-year-old brunette said proudly that she enters all horse shows as an entry from Texas Tech. She has participated in all types of horseback riding — from the high jump to Rodeo reining. She is hounded frequently by owners who want her to ride their horses in a show.

"I can't get away from them!" she exclaimed.

CAROL ANN Norman is truly a woman of many talents. She does not believe a woman should limit herself to one facet of life. She must practice what she preaches as she maintains a 3.4 overall; is a member of Pi Beta Phi, social sorority; Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary; and has had a poem ("My Hotel") published in the Harbinger.

"I used to think a boy was secondary to a horse," she grinned, glancing at her "pinmate's" Kappa Alpha pin. She added, "But now I know you can have both."

RECORD JUMP—Carol Ann Norman, Tech's 1963 Rodeo Queen, is shown jumping to the championship in a Roswell, N.M., horse show. She cleared six feet—a record jump for the show—and it has not been broken since.

Sigma Kappa Schedules Honors For Mrs. Allen

Sigma Kappa social sorority will honor Mrs. Louise C. Allen, associate journalism professor, with a tea at 3:30-5 p.m. today in the Sigma Kappa lodge.

Mrs. Allen, past president of the Lubbock alumnae chapter, is retiring from Tech at the end of the spring semester. An active member of Sigma Kappa at Southern Methodist University, she was instrumental in colonizing the Tech chapter and served as its first faculty sponsor.

The Tech chapter has voted to give an award in Mrs. Allen's name each year to the most outstanding member of Sigma Kappa, in recognition of her service to Tech and to the chapter. Name of each year's recipient will be engraved on a plaque kept in the lodge.

"This tea is to express our appreciation for Mrs. Allen's contribution not only to Sigma Kappa but also to her field of journalism and to Texas Tech. She is our example of a university woman who seeks to enrich her life and the lives of those around her," said Judy Price, Tech chapter president.

Tech Women Sign For Little Sisters

Association of Women Students is beginning the big sister-little sister matching for next fall.

Tech coeds may sign for little sisters during dorm wing meetings Monday and Tuesday. Coeds are encouraged by AWS to sign up for two or more little sisters. Additional sisters are needed due to the 1,300 freshman women expected.

Big sisters were originated to familiarize entering freshman women with the campus and Tech life.

Responsibility of big sisters begins when they receive notification from AWS during the summer of their little sisters' names and addresses.

In the past, Texas Tech has been known for the friendliness exhibited through these letters.

Big sisters write letters to their little sisters informing them about life on campus and suggestions about living in the dorm. In the fall, they meet their little sisters and help during registration. A big sister's final responsibility is taking her little sister to the Howdy Party where freshman women are introduced to AWS and other women's organization members.

Tech women living off campus interested in this program should contact Hazael Hale, Weeks Hall, room 226, ext. 3989.

Horns Blow—Comedy Opens

"Come Blow Your Horn," a sophisticated Broadway comedy, is being presented at 8:15 p.m. today and Saturday at the Lubbock Theatre Centre, 2508 Ave. P.

Two Tech instructors and a student are part of the production. James Robbins, speech instructor, plays the father in the family situation comedy. Myra Damron, sophomore from Blanket, plays a flighty girl friend of one of the boys in the six-member cast.

The play is directed by S. Walker James, part-time instructor of speech.

Tickets are $2.25 for adults and $1.15 for students.

Campus Shorts . . .

The first student section of a Texas Range Management chapter has been formed at Tech.

The group will attempt to bring outstanding speakers to the chapter and other agricultural groups to speak on subjects designed to promote better ranching techniques and conservation. The 53-member club plans several action projects to promote range management.

Several awards were presented to outstanding ARMY ROTC cadets and cadet units in ceremonies during Thursday's drill period.

Department of military science rifle marksmanship awards were awarded to John C. Newsom, sophomore, and Richard P. Montgomery, freshman.

ANOTHER BAUGH OFF THE OLD TREE

Sammy Baugh watched his son David, Texas Tech freshman halfback, score from 65 yards out in a Tech scrimmage before the officials brought it back because of a holding penalty.

"He'll have to watch," Sammy said, "and make those long ones when no one's holding."

NERVOUS HABIT?

Danny Roberts is big, friendly, Texas A&M's most consistent winner and Texas' biggest eater. Roberts is A&M's most famous cinder star, holding the Southwest Conference shot put record, as he does.

Because of his desire to help, he is now one of the nation's top weight men.

Because of his hunger, he is on every grocer's "who's who" list.

Because of his friendliness, he is one of A&M's most popular students.

Back in high school, Danny could not deny the request of a forlorn coach who needed a weight man desperately, and he switched from basketball and baseball to track.

Now he is one of the nation's best weight men.

His training program is rigorous, to say the least.

It includes a 12-month weight lifting schedule, 2½ hours of jogging around the track daily, enough food to feed an entire corps and up to 100 shot puts and discuss throws a day.

"Mental attitude means so much. If you want to win badly enough, you can. I want to be the first in Texas to make 60 feet. I believe I can," Roberts said.

When his wife, Pat, produces a meal for him, it's a full scale attack on the refrigerator.

Take for instance this meal (picked at random) eaten by Danny.

He ate six barbecued steaks, two large plates of rice, two large plates of vegetables, two big glasses of milk, one full stick of crackers, two Dr. Pepper floats (including, of course, generous servings of ice cream) and ten sand tart cookies.

"That gal can really cook," he says.

Now, is that a nervous habit?

RIBBIN' RIBICOFF

Connecticut Senator Abraham Ribicoff recently proposed an annual national olympics as the solution to America's slumping athletic prestige, resulting from Russian victories in the 1956 and 1960 Olympics.

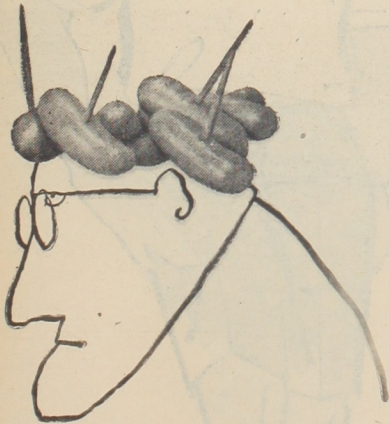

The former Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare and head of the President's Council on Youth Fitness now urges a program of more emphasis on the so-called "minor" sports, such as fencing and gymnastics. These sports are neglected in the United States, yet other nations excel in them, says Sen. Ribicoff.

He blames our recent and humiliating second-place finish to Russia on a concentration of victories in only a few of the 20 sports offered.

"It adds as many points to the team score to place first—or second or third or fourth—in a bicycle or canoe race, as in the 100-yard dash," Sen. Ribicoff said.

"What better way could there be to focus attention on the obscure sports than to attach the glamour of the Olympic label to them—not just once in four years, as at present, but every year?" he asked.

Ribicoff asserts that the major sports—basketball, swimming and track—should be left out of the competition at the national level. He said they tend to make the other sports obscure.

Poor Records Mar U Of A Spring Sports

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — Lack of depth seems to be the malady plaguing each of the University of Arkansas' spring sports as the program heads into its final week.

Porker golf fortunes are a perfect example. With National Public Links champion R. H. Sikes playing his finest competitive year, the Razorbacks still do not figure to finish in the first division of the Southwest Conference.

Often-times Razorback pitchers have turned in brilliant performances, only to lose because of lack of support, both at the plate and in defensive playing.

Porker tennis players still face a four-match schedule with prospects slim for much improvement. Since winning their opening match against Centenary, they have dropped five straight.

Does a man really take unfair advantage of women when he uses Mennen Skin Bracer?

All depends on why he uses it.

Most men simply think Menthol-Iced Skin Bracer is the best after-shave lotion around. Because it cools rather than burns. Because it helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Because it helps prevent blemishes.

So who can blame them if Bracer's crisp, long-lasting aroma just happens to affect women so remarkably?

Of course, some men may use Mennen Skin Bracer because of this effect.

How intelligent!

SWC Meet Promises Assault On Records

EDITOR'S NOTE—This story is the first of a series on the upcoming Southwest Conference track meet presented by the sports staff of THE DAILY TOREADOR. The articles are based on the latest information of each SWC school as provided by the sports information director.

The Southwest Conference track and field forces move to the Arkansas campus in 1963 — for the fourth time in the league's long history. The 48th annual track festival promises the finest overall quality ever offered SWC track fans. A good barometer of this steady improvement can be seen by comparing previous SWC meets at Razorback Stadium (1922, 1949 and 1956).

The most significant change comes in the field events — and it is in this general area that the Aggies of Texas A&M hope to push across the decisive points to edge the Baylor Bears. SWC track fans may be treated to a trio of magic performances in the field events—a 16-foot jump in the pole vault; a 60-foot effort in the shot put; and a 250-foot (plus) throw in the javelin. Marks of this type were out of the question in 1956. The pole vault was taken at a height of 13'6"; the shot put title went to a 53'8" effort; and the javelin champion won with a toss of 205'6".

Records Higher Now

Look back to 1949 in Razorback Stadium—and the pole vault was won at 13'0"; the shot put title was claimed at 47'3/8"; and the javelin throw was claimed at 195'0". Small wonder why the Southwest Conference, long known as the "league of sprinters," has more than taken its place nationally in the field event area.

The Rice Owls, darkhorse candidate in this 1963 meet, can take credit for the phenomenal improvement in the pole vault. Defending champion Fred Hansen (15'5 last year for a new record) returns with two impressive leaps of over 16-feet to his credit this year. His best effort, 16'1, came at the Texas Tech Relays four weeks ago. Just a few years ago (1955), Stephen James of Rice held the record at 13'11 1/2; and before that the mark was held by Owl's Steve Weichert (1936) at 13'10 1/8. Hansen's toughest competition will come from his own teammate—Warren Brattlof, who has a 15'6 1/2 jump at the Texas Relays.

A&M Vs. Baylor

The Texas A&M-Baylor battle for honors will be staged in several events — but few draw more attention than the shot put. Defending champion Danny Roberts (he had a record toss of 57'1 1/2 last year) came up with a tremendous 59'3/4 effort at the Texas Relays, and he now hopes to become the first in the SWC to reach the coveted 60-foot level. Baylor hopefuls Jim Lancaster and Frank Mazza most certainly expect to pull down the silver and bronze medals — but they still have gold medal ambitions.

Owls Claim Javelin

The Rice Owls move back into the scene in the javelin with one of the nation's best. Another defending champion returns in Ed Red, and this time he is expected to easily top the record held by Bruce Parker of Texas (226'1 1/2). Two weeks ago at the SW Louisiana Relays, the veteran Rice star got off the finest javelin throw ever recorded by any Texas collegian—260'7 1/2.

Red just doesn't have any competition in the full sense of the word. Charles Giesey of Texas has the second-best effort of 209'1.

'Speedy' Sprinters Prove Less Swift Than Reported

Wednesday's edition of THE DAILY TOREADOR reported that four Texas Tech footballers had run the 100-yard dash in under 10.0.

A quick look at the specific results of the intramural track meet shows that it was a mistake on our part.

Danny Anderson, David Parks, Bill Weiss and Roger Gill were all said to have run the century in record-breaking time.

Actually, Parks did not place in the 100, nor did Gill, as they did not even run in it.

Anderson, however, ran it in 10.3 and placed second to Elkins, who ran the century in 10.2.

Weise placed fourth with a time of 10.5.

None of them have run the hundred in under 10.0.

Outstanding Performances Highlight Speech Dramas

In Keller Story Dark Versus Light

By NANCY MILLER

Toreador Amusements Editor
The world, to a child, is a jungle of sounds and colors that take form and shape as he grows older and begins to understand them. Using his eyes and ears, he absorbs impressions and puts them together in the pattern that eventually forms the fabric of his life.

But what if the child is blind and deaf? What if he has no means of gathering these impressions? The world, to this child, is a haze of grey, with no means of communication and no motivation, save the basic instincts.

Union Directs Interesting Poll

A recent poll conducted by the Tech Union Public Relations Council asked the question, "Would you be interested in a program for married students?"

Since most of the students polled were single, the response was mainly negative. However, a few showed interest and suggested functions and services such a program should offer.

One married couple interviewed, Mr and Mrs. Leroy Cebik, had some definite ideas on the subject. Leroy, a junior philosophy major from Stratford, Connecticut, thinks that the Union should first publicize its present events in a way which would appeal to both married and single students. In this way married students would not feel cut off from the rest of the student body by a "special program."

"A nebulous committee, perhaps made up of one person from each present Union committee, should be created to investigate before any program aimed specifically at married students is attempted," Cebik said.

His wife, Mary Helen, a junior home economics major from Big Spring, pointed out that time and money are a problem for married students. She suggested that if the Union does offer a program aimed specifically at married students, it should be offered on a monthly basis and at reasonable cost.

Mary Helen added that she would like to hear speakers on budgeting and other such subjects of interest to married students.

Exhibits on home decoration, films and reasonably priced babysitting were some of Leroy's suggestions. He believes that married students would participate in such a program; however, he pointed out that there would be considerable difficulty in planning the program effectively.

LA VENTANAS DUE SEPTEMBER 1

The 1963 La Ventanas are expected to arrive on campus September 1, 1963, and will be distributed to students beginning the first day of registration for the fall semester.

Those students who will graduate this spring and summer and those students who simply will not return next semester, and who purchased a 1963 La Ventana, are to go by Room 102 of the Journalism Building to make arrangements for mailing of the book to you.

There is a $1 charge for mailing and handling of the La Ventana, and it should be given along with your new address. Don't be left out when it comes time to receive your new La Ventana.

with a cruelty born of despair, talked of putting her in an asylum for the insane. She was alternately slapped and loved, and she responded by striking out and crying meaninglessly.

And then another person came into her life. Her parents, as a last resort, hired a teacher. That teacher was Anne Sullivan.

The story of Helen Keller's emergence from her dark world is told beautifully in "The Miracle Worker." Ann Bancroft, as Anne Sullivan, is iron-willed and determined and convinced that her pupil is more than an animal. And Patty Duke, as Helen Keller, is superb.

The movie is amazingly free of the usual Hollywood trappings, filmed in stark black and white, and containing not one unneeded line of gesture.

It is hard to say which scene is the best, since the Academy Award winning actresses Bancroft and Duke play all of them as though acting were a craft instead of a profession. One of the most memorable is the struggle in the lining room, when Anne Sullivan teaches Helen to fold her napkin.

The movie is undoubtedly one of the best to be released in the last few years. It is played with an intensity rare in today's productions. No part, no gesture, no line is neglected. From the first hysterical, "She's blind!" when Mrs. Keller looks closely at her child, to Anne Sullivan's triumphant "She knows!" when Helen spells out "water" over and over in a frenzy of discovery, the movie is a masterpiece. The viewer will leave feeling as though he too has emerged from a dark world to one of light.

"The American Dream" and "The Zoo Story" premiered Monday to a sparse opening-night crowd, but the cast played as though the theater were crammed with world-renowned notables.

Overcoming the difficulty of playwright Edward Albee's sometimes incomprehensible message, they presented his terse plays quite well, with performances of particular intensity by Judy Eaton and Fred March.

"The American Dream" dealt, rather vaguely, with the American Scene, its facts and fictions, joys and sorrows, in dialogue honed to a knife edge. Marilyn Marek, as Mommy, is a deadly caricature of Momism, from her continual browbeating of Daddy to her sugar-coated bowing to Mrs. Barkley, the volunteer worker. Daddy, the damp, cringing "yes man" is played by Bob Adams, whose portrayal will make every man in the audience who has ever said yes to a woman flinch.

Judy Eaton, as Grandma, has her part down pat from gestures to quavering speech. She emerges as a composite of all elderly people, and leaves the viewer with the impression that she is the only sane member of an insane world in a particularly perceptive performance.

Michele Roberts, as Mrs. Barkley, takes a swipe at the "professional women" of the world, who are bent on doing good but have no idea why. She is a competent, if confused, volunteer worker, but her interest in The Young Man makes one wonder just what goes on during her off hours.

Charles Benton, as the Young Man, is the American Dream, but one realizes that one day he may turn out as the American Nightmare. He runs, in his performance, from fair to good. But he still has traces of a West Texas accent that tend to mess-up such lines as, "I lived on the West Coast a long time."

If there is any fault with "The American Dream," it lies in the play itself and not in the acting. Albee's efforts are praiseworthy, but he leads the viewer from a normal world into a maze of confusion and doesn't quite lead him out again. The play possesses an original style, but style is not enough. There must be a clarity of thought in order to capture the imagination. And that is what is lacking in "The American Dream."

"The Zoo Story," however, is indeed another story. It does contain the all-important clarity of thought. Coupled with the above-average acting, it provides an hour of terrific intensity that is well worth seeing.

And it is cast well. Fred March, as Jerry, is an agony of loneliness that plucks and then tears at the heart. In possibly one of the best performances at Tech this year, March runs from the heights and the depths, taking the viewer with him. And all the while, he is desperately trying to "make contact" with Peter, the respectable middle-class individual to whom he is talking. There is no other word to describe March's performance than "superb."

Jim Slaughter, as Peter, the publishing man, is stuffily good as respectability wrenched from its element and thrown into a situation over which it has no control. He methodically beats away Jerry's plea, and makes him say "Thank you" in a crashing climax.

The plays are marked with performances of spectacular brilliance. They are more than worth seeing for the acting. In the speech department's latest offerings, the casting director should take honors along with the performers.

Raiders Blank Aggies As Allison Bows Out

Daryl Allison and the Tech netters whitewashed Texas A&M Monday, 6-0, to regain third place in the final Southwest Conference standings.

Allison, senior, disposed of the Aggies' Richard Barker, 6-4, 4-6 and 6-3. Both are No. 1 players on their respective teams.

Allison and Robert Peterson defeated Barker and Ricky Williams in the No. 1 doubles match. The Tech duo had to come from behind to win, 4-6, 8-6 and 10-8.

Despite the lopsided Tech victory, Coach Omar Smith's Aggie quartet put up a tremendous battle, driving the Tech netters to split sets in all but one match and forcing five others to deuce. Two of the sets were extended.

The Raiders were one point ahead of the Aggies before the match and needed only a 3-3 tie to clinch their place in the conference.

Others Have Trouble

Tech's No. 2 and No. 4 men, junior Greer Kothman and sophomore Robert Peterson, had difficulty in their matches.

Kothman dropped his first set to Carroll Kell 6-3, before rallying to win 6-2, 6-3. Peterson ground out a 6-4, 3-6 and 6-1 decision over Albert Aldrich.

Junior Beau Sutherland, playing No. 3, had to extend the match to one hour and 50 minutes to triumph over Williams. Sutherland won the first match, 6-1, fell back at the Aggie's rally, 4-6, and finally broke his service to win 6-3.

The No. 2 doubles match went the minimum of two sets, as it was the only match of the day not split. Kothman and Sutherland knifed through Aldrich and Dean Dyer, 6-1, 6-0.

Tech amassed 21 points over the season, while losing 15.

The Raiders meet Hardin-Simmons and ACC before they travel to Waco to compete in the Southwest Conference tennis tourney.

FROM THE BENCH by artie shaw

Daryl Allison helped the Texas Tech netters wipe out A&M's Aggies Monday and walked off the court, through with regular season SWC tennis competition.

Daryl Allison has won three varsity letters at Tech and deserves 20 more for his meritorious service to Tech and to Tech tennis.

Fierce determination and a burning desire are the mainstays of Daryl's character, according to his coach, George Philbrick.

"Daryl, being our number one player, always has to play the toughest players in a contest with another team. And most of the time these players have years of experience over Daryl, but this doesn't hamper him any. He stays in every match through determination and desire."

Next year Tech's varsity tennis squad will have to take the court without a great sportsman. So at this point I would like to join with Sigma Delta Chi, Polk Robison, George Philbrick and many others in saluting Daryl Allison — an attribute to Texas Tech.

EVERYBODY LOVES A GLOVER

Last year's freshman basketball team could easily go down in the annals of Tech sports history as the greatest that ever was. Dub Malaise, Bob Measles, Norman Reuther and company were a crew of frosh that turned every school for miles around green with envy.

But next year, a great new name will come into the limelight of freshman basketball. The name of Bob Glover of Dallas Jefferson.

During his senior year Glover was named to various All-Star teams, including All-Tournament in AAAA.

The reasons are obvious.

During his senior year the 6-5 Glover averaged 20 points per fracas and snatched almost as many rebounds.

Taking one particular game, he scored 30 markers and speared 27 rebounds in the regional battle with Denton.

The sharpest - shootin' Rebel of them all will be at Texas Tech next fall to play for the Raiders.

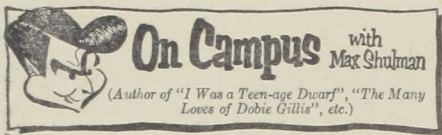

With prospects like this, whose basketball future could look more rosy?

THIS SOUNDS FAMILIAR

Over in Porkerland the annual intrasquad skirmish looks like another toss-up. There's no let down on anybody's part. The veterans consider this the toughest contest of the year.

The reasons for this type of behavior aren't too hard to fathom.

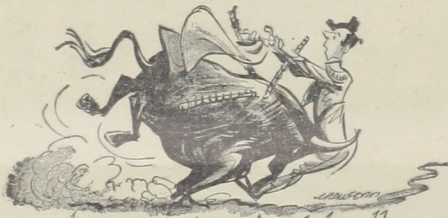

Take a squad of 60 to 70 sophomores—eager red shirts and seasoned squad men—tell them all they're fighting for 11 positions on next year's squad, and then stage the whole "shebang" in front of 15,000 squealing fans, and you've got to have a blowup somewhere!

HOW TO SEE EUROPE FOR ONLY $300 A DAY: NO. 3

When all of you go to Europe during your summer vacation, you will certainly want to visit Spain, where the tall corn grows,

The first thing you will notice upon entering Spain is the absence of sibilants. In Spain "s" is pronounced "th" and thereby hangs a tale. Until the reign of Philip IV—or Guy Fawkes, as he was sometimes called—Spaniards said "s" just like everybody else. Philip IV, however, lisped, and Spaniards, having an ingrained sense of propriety and not wishing to embarrass their monarch, decided that everybody should lisp. This did indeed put Philip IV very much at his ease, but in the end it turned out to be a very bad thing for Spain. It wrecked the sassifras industry—Spain's principal source of revenue—and reduced the nation to a second-class power.

to keep body and soul together

As a result, Spaniards were all forced to turn to bull fighting in order to keep body and soul together. Today, wherever you go in Spain—in Madrid, in Barcelona, in Toledo, in Cleveland—you will see bulls being fought. For many years the bulls have sought to arbitrate this long-standing dispute, but the Spaniards, a proud people who use nothing but Castile soap, have rejected all overtures.

It is therefore necessary for me to explain bull fighting to anyone who is going to Spain. It is also necessary for me to say a few words about Marlboro Cigarettes because they pay me for writing this column, and they are inclined to pout if I ignore their product. In truth, it is no chore for me to sing the praises of Marlboro Cigarettes, for I am one who fairly swoons with delight when I come upon a cigarette which gives you the full, rich taste of good tobaccos plus the pure white Selectra filter, and Marlboro is the only smoke I have found that fulfills both requirements. Oh, what a piece of work is Marlboro! The flavor reaches you without stint or diminution. You, even as I, will find these statements to be happily true when once you light a Marlboro. Marlbors come to you in soft pack or Flip-Top box, and are made only by the makers of Marlboro.

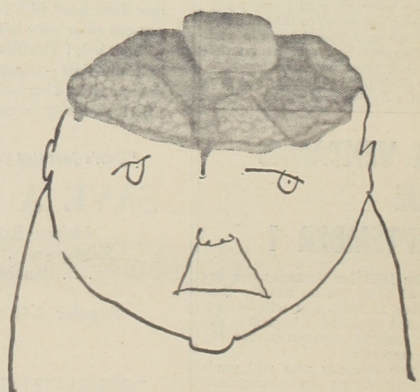

But I digress. Let us return to bull fighting. Bulls are by nature bellicose creatures who will keep fighting till the cows come home. Then they like to put on pipe and slippers and listen to the "Farm and Home Hour." However, the Spaniards will not allow the bulls any surcease. They keep attacking the bull and making veronias—a corn meal pancake filled with ground meat. Bulls, being vegetarians, reject the veronias and then, believe you me, the fur starts to fly!

To be perfectly honest, many Spaniards have grown weary of this incessant struggle and have left their homeland. Columbus, for example, took off in three little ships—the Patti, the Maxene, and the Laverne—and discovered Ohio. Magellan later discovered Columbus. Balboa also sailed to the New World, but he was silent on a peak in Darien, so it is difficult to know what he discovered.

Well sir, I guess that's all you need to know about Spain. So now, as the setting sun casts its rosy fingers over El Greco, let us take our reluctant leave of Spain—or Perfidious Albion, as it is jocularly called. Aloha, Spain or Perfidious Albion, aloha!

Let us not, however, take our leave of smoking pleasure. Let us keep enjoying those fine Marlboro Cigarettes—rich, golden tobacco—pure white Selectra filter—soft pack or Flip-Top box—available in all fifty States of the Union.

Distance Runs Prove Aggie Malady

EDITOR'S NOTE—This story is the third in a series on the upcoming Southwest Conference track meet presented by the sports staff of THE DAILY TOREADOR. The articles are based on the latest information from each of the sports publicity directors of the SWC.

If the Southwest Conference eliminated the dashes (and relay events) for 1963 — the track and field title would turn into a five-team battle for honors.

Here's where the rest of the league joins Texas A&M and Baylor in a full-scale festival. The distance field is well-spread throughout the eight schools — with each having a candidate deserving of honors; and both A&M and Baylor will hardly gather a single point in the hurdle races.

Take the hurdles for example. Five teams figure in a scrap for high hurdle points — completely excluding the Aggies and Bears. Bobby May of Rice, Rex Wilson of Texas and Ronnie Biffle of Tech have each graced the 120-yard standards in 14.1. Still they don't have the market cornered. Arkansas has two men figured to be in the running, Ralph Brodie and Ed Renfrow; SMU's Bob Johnston has stayed with the leaders in earlier races; and even Rice and Texas have greater depth to claim other points. Verl Brown of Rice with a 14.2 is an example.

330 New Race

The league has shelved its long traditional 220-yard low hurdles for the new 330-yard intermediate race. It's designed to prepare SWC hurdlers for the longer 400-meter hurdles of Olympic competition. The fastest time of '63 will become a certain record. Thus far — SWC runners have had little opportunity to ready themselves for this "off-brand" event — but the top names remain much the same. May has a 37.7 in a triangular meet; and Wilson is a half-step behind with 37.8 at the Border Olympics. Gary Collins of Rice is third best at 38.1; and both Brodie of Arkansas and Wayne Jordan of Baylor have been clocked in 39.1. Rapid improvement is possible here with each new race.

Best Balance In 880

Moving into the distance field (880, mile and two mile runs) you'll find the best balance in the league. The half-mile should again see an exciting race between defending champ Brian Bolton of SMU (1:52.5) and Loy Gunter of Texas (1:53.3). No less than 12 men have run under 1:56.0 — representing six SWC schools. Jim Sebastian is A&M's best hope (1:53.7); Bill Sage of Rice has a 1:54.0; David DeBoer of Baylor is the top Bruin hopeful (1:55.4) and Arkansas has Haydn Hicks (1:55.9). Several of those schools can come up with strong second men.

Mile Run A Feature

The mile run should be a feature event of the Saturday finals. Mickey Wade of SMU has been clocked in 4:16.9; TCU's Marvin Silliman ran a 4:16.2 in the same meet (the Border Olympics); A&M has a trio of strong milers — Ilhan Bilgutay (4:18.5) Herbie Campbell (4:20.3), and E. L. Emer, 1962 two mile champion (4:23.6); Arkansas includes Deardorff (4:22.4); Tech has Jerry Brook (4:19.3); and the Baylor Bears boast two strong milers — DeBoer (4:19.0) and David Sergrest (4:23.8). Whether this crowded field can push the winner to a record performance (4:10.5) remains to be seen.

Moving to the afternoon's longest event, the two mile run, Emer will be a slight favorite. He has

H-SU Boots Head Coach

ABILENE (P) — Jack Thomas, Hardin-Simmons University athletic director and head football coach, was fired Tuesday for what a school official said was "failure to follow administrative directives."

The university was recently placed on football probation for two years after the NCAA found that 32 high school football players had taken part in a competitive gridiron workout for Hardin-Simmons athletic scholarships.

Thomas, a line coach at Texas A&M before coming to Hardin-Simmons in Jan., 1962, said he did not have any immediate plans.

His dismissal was announced by George L. Graham, executive vice president of the university.

a 9:19.4 this season — very close to the SWC record of 9:18.7. John Eschle of Texas is his top rival with a 9:19.9. The field falls off just a bit after that — including Bilgutay of A&M (9:26.0); Deardorff of Arkansas (9:30.5); Gary Chisholm of Texas (9:41.0); and Wayne Comer of Rice (9:48.8). Baylor lacks a two miler.

The closest thing to a genuine threat to any running event record comes in the two mile run.
