Raiders Face 'Horns To Open SWC Race

Texas Tech's Red Raiders meet the University of Texas Longhorns today at 7:30 p.m. in Austin for the 1965 debut of the Southwest Conference football season.

Thundershowers predicted in the Austin area were expected to dissipate early Saturday, and temperatures in the high 60's were predicted by game time.

Some 60,000 to 65,000 fans are expected to jam into Memorial Stadium for the important clash. Mrs. Mildred Wright, director of ticket sales at Tech, said 4,700 tickets have been sold, and no remaining tickets were left for tonight's game.

That "Goin' Band from Raiderland" will make its marching debut. Rain halted the halftime performance in last week's Tech-Kansas game.

The band will open with "This Could Be the Start of Something Big" and will progress with different marching variations to "Elmer's Tune," "Downtown" and Jubilation T Cornpone."

Feature twirlers Vicky Keene and Claudean Cunningham will perform to the tune of "Down Town." Terry Stephens, national baton twirling champion, will also perform.

Majorettes Chris Adrean, Juanita Jo Moore, Judy Stewart, Judy Banner, Dyanne Curry, Diane King, Sandi Parmer, and Donna Snyder will twirl to the band's presentation of "The Alley Cat Song."

The band's finale will be "More" in which the band will spell T-E-C-H, and for the first time will reverse the letters in a precision march.

Cheerleaders Ziggy Nicholson, Jan Fauske, Butch Moses, Connie Curry, Dick Ostott and Patty Perkins, along with the Saddle Tramps, will boost the spirit of some 5,000 Tech enthusiasts.

Tech's Red Raider, Doug "Dink" Wilson, will ride Charcoal Cody at Memorial Stadium when the Raiders take the field.

Men's 9 To Change Hands

Texas Tech has already started making plans for allotting additional on-campus residence space to women students for the 1966-67 session, announced Guy J. Moore, director of residence halls.

Men's Residence Hall No. 9, opened as a residence hall for 527 men at the beginning of the fall semester last year, will be reassigned to women students of Texas Tech at the opening of fall semester in 1966.

In keeping with the policy of the Tech Board of Directors, the College will strive to house as many single women on campus as possible, and to encourage private housing developers to build residence halls for men students, Moore said.

Since there is no construction underway at present for completion by 1966, the conversion of Hall No. 9 will help to absorb some of the increasing enrollment of women students at Tech. Enrollment of women students for the current semester is approximately 6,150, compared to 5,097 women students for the previous fall session.

The hall is fully air-conditioned with all rooms housing two students each. Rooms are equipped with built-in beds, fitted with innerspring mattresses, desks with overhead study light and adequate storage space for clothing.

At the present time, three firms have indicated an interest in construction of men's residence halls, Moore said. They are: University Housing Construction, Ltd. of Omaha, Neb. and Glenview, Ill. (with space for 850 students), University Dormitory Development, Inc. of Chicago, Ill. (700-plus spaces) and Bob Robinson of Lubbock (850 spaces).

AWS Position Now Available

The AWS Judiciary Council announced an opening for the office of judiciary chairman.

Applicants should be juniors or seniors and must have served on the AWS Judiciary Council, the Panhellenic Judiciary Council or the Hall Advisory Council for one year.

The chairman will preside over AWS Judiciary Council meetings and will act as a link between the judiciary council and AWS.

AWS representatives may be notified by the applicant by Tuesday. Nominations will be made at the Wednesday general meeting.

Parade Meeting Set For Monday

The first meeting for the 1965 Homecoming parade is set for Monday at 5 p.m. in the Coronado Lounge of Tech Union. Any organization planning an entry of any type in this year's parade should have a representative at the meeting.

The parade theme is "Texas Tech, 1925-1965, Forty Years Forward." For further information about the parade or the meeting, organizational representatives may contact Bill Owens, SW2-2210.

Child Development Center Aids Community, Campus

"One facility, serving Texas Tech and the community" is one way of describing Tech's Child Development Laboratory.

The lab, a part of the home and family life department of the School of Home Economics, runs one of the most popular child care centers in Lubbock, and at the same time provides experience for the girls who work in the nurseries and kindergartens.

Verna Lee Hildebrand, director

All-School Picnic Dance Scheduled

A western band hired by the Men's Residence Council will play for a street dance today in conjunction with an all-school picnic.

The dance will be from 5-7 p.m. in the Carpenter Hall parking lot. The picnic will be served instead of the evening meal, on the Intramural field west of Carpenter Hall from 5:15 to 6:30.

of the lab, says the center tries to provide a "wide range" of experience for the children, and especially tries to develop a positive attitude toward school."

She said most of the children are anxious to start school when they finish their pre-school sessions at the center. The nursery schools take children ages three to five. The kindergarten takes only five-year-olds.

The staff includes Mrs. Hildebrand, Karen Houston and La-Nelle Ethridge, senior home and family life majors, and girls enrolled in various courses for which the center provides labs. The girls are elementary education majors, home management majors, and also come from many other departments. Approximately 100 girls are now involved in the program.

They help the children and the staff doing everything from putting together puzzles to preparing snacks.

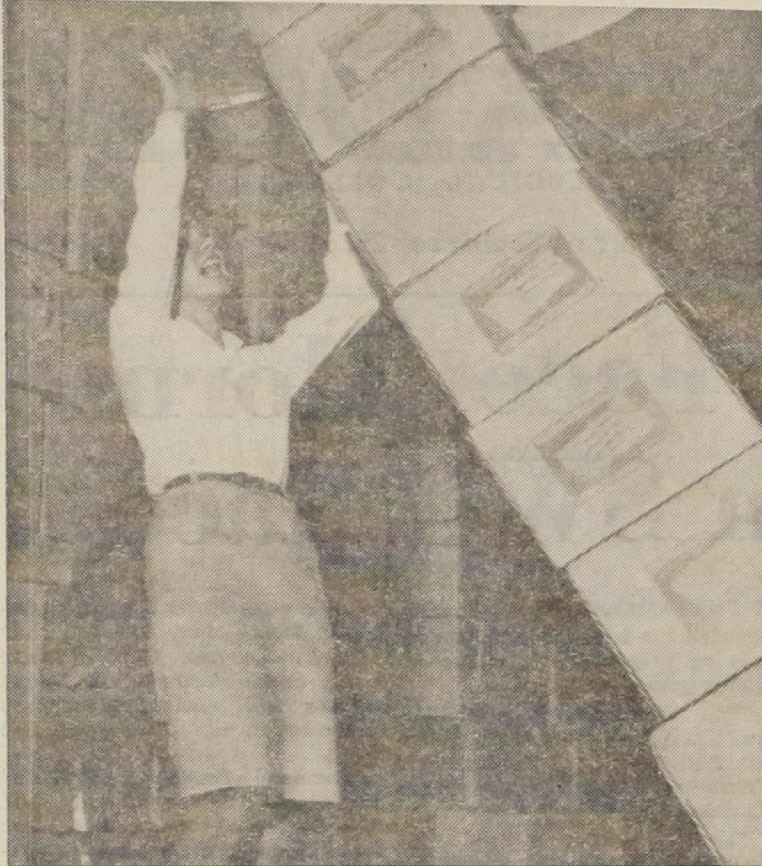

The children's natural curiosities are encouraged. Song and book sessions are held, and slides, swings and other outdoor equipment are provided.

Consultation services are available for parents. The center serves as a research center for child development.

Miss Ethridge, who serves as a lab assistant, hopes to go into home service in business. She calls her experience in the center "very valuable."

"Anyone seeing children progress this way can have a better understanding of themselves," she said.

Only 14 children at a time are kept in the center; profit is no motive in the operation. The original purpose was to provide a laboratory for studying the development of children. The center operates partly on a regular school budget and all money taken in goes back into the same fund.

LANDSLIDE OF LEFTOVERS—La Ventana Co-Editor Diane Weddige fends off an avalanche of empty yearbook cartons. Distribution of the books is 70 per cent completed and the boxes are stacked in the Journalism Bldg. basement. The yearbooks are still available from 1-5 p.m. daily.

Russia Condemns U.S.

(AP)—The Soviet Union today condemned the United States as an aggressor and demanded the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Viet Nam as a necessary step for peace. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko told the U.N. General Assembly in a far-ranging policy statement that U.S. bids for negotiations will mislead no one.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg listened intently as the veteran Soviet diplomat blasted U.S. Viet Nam policies. "The Soviet Union vigorously condemns the aggression of the United States in Viet Nam," Gromyko said.

He declared that the Soviet people are solidly behind the Communist Viet Cong and warned that continuation of the U.S. military intervention could have serious results.

Our View On: University Happenings

The Songs Of Battle...

FOR CENTURIES, MEN have gone into battle with thrilling strains of popular melodies in their minds and on their lips.

In Biblical times, trumpets announced the start of battle, and in more recent years, drummers, buglers and fifiers beat out staccato martial tunes for fighting men.

During the Civil War, men lived and died with "Dixie" sounding over the battleground and in their minds. In this century, "Over There" and "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition" inspired men away from their homes.

But this weekend—if any song ever inspired any men—that little ditty they're broadcasting in Austin should do the trick.

There's some popular rumor that the Texas Longhorns are all-powerful and invincible on Southwest Conference gridirons—that remains to be seen.

Tonight, that fighting bunch from Double T Land will challenge the 'Horns in their SWC opener. And, as if our boys weren't charged up enough before Friday, that insulting little song from the home of the 'Horns may add another spark to the conflagration.

We hope it does. Spirit-building songs are not bad, but that Dallas-originated "song" does not even belong in any kind of "spirit-building" category.

Besides being insulting and degrading, it is a personal slap in the face to meet a challenge. We have been challenged, Longhorns. Watch out.

Bible Chair Offers Chance For Spiritual Improvement

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following article is the second in a series outlining various programs offered to Tech students by churches and religious organizations in town.

By PAULINE EDWARDS
Editorial Assistant

Lubbock's Broadway Church of Christ has sponsored a Bible Chair for Techsians since 1946 in order to "teach Christianity in an academic atmosphere," according to Mr. James Thompson, associate director.

Activities offered by the Bible Chair range from evening devotionals to holiday retreats to college credit courses in Bible study. The Bible Chair is open to all Tech students daily from 8 a.m.-10:30 p.m. with the evening deadline being extended to midnight on Friday and Saturday.

Regular Activities

The Bible Chair also conducts regular scheduled activities for Techsians throughout the week. This schedule includes a 20-minute devotional every Monday through Friday at 6:40 p.m. Average nightly attendance at the devotionals is usually around 60, according to Thompson.

Although the Bible Chair has no regular planned activity for Saturday, the Bible Chair is open until midnight. Sunday morning the Bible Chair offers coffee and doughnuts at 9 a.m. for students who would like to stop by on their way to church.

Then on Sunday night the chair sponsors a free meal, courtesy of several Churches of Christ in Lubbock. The Sunday night supper is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. so it will not interfere with church services.

From time to time the Bible Chair offers various special programs. Included in this category would be retreats to such places as Buffalo Springs Lake and the mountain ranges in New Mexico. Usually, the Chair sponsors two such retreats each year with approximately 50 students attending.

A recent one to Buffalo Springs Lakes sponsored, jointly by the Bible Chair and LCC, lasted for five days. "Purpose of the Buffalo Retreat was the recommitment and preparation for Christian service on campus," Thompson said.

The Bible Chair is also planning a possible retreat to New Mexico during the Christmas holidays.

Credit Courses

In the way of instruction, the Bible Chair offers 8 hours of college credit as well as one non-credit course. Instructors for these courses are Thompson and L. D. McCoy. Thompson teaches "History of Christian Thought," a three hour course at 8 a.m. MWF and a non-credit course, "Beginning Greek" Friday from 7:15-9 p.m. McCoy teaches "Introduction to Old Testament," a three hour course 10 a.m. MWF and "Book of Hebrews," a two hour course Monday from 7:30-9:30 p.m. College credit courses are free but there is a $5 charge for the non-credit course.

"The Bible Chair is dedicated to the belief that those who grow academically should also grow spiritually," Thompson said. "Far too many college students have a somewhat kindergarten concept of God and religion. The purpose of the Bible Chair is to promote active relevant Christianity on the campus, to evangelize and to provide an area of life which is needed," he added.

at the dedication of the building 10 years ago.

One of the SDS members said the group decided to picket the plane in protest of all military budgets, airplanes, ROTC programs and anything else designed "for the purpose of destroying human flesh."

Also at the Austin school, the most famous student in the United States—Lynda Bird Johnson—came back to the University.

The Daily Texan had an elaborate report of her first day back on the campus, including such information that she wore a "green and white checked sleeveless shift, brown T-strapped stacked heels and her Zeta Tau Alpha pin. She carried a brown leather purse and a textbook called The American President."

Her courses this semester include two government classes, history, Latin and an English literature course. She will attend classes Monday through Friday.

Lynda lacks 27 hours before getting her degree; she is a history-government major.

She will be living at the Zeta sorority house with her roommates Warrie Lynn Smith and Diana Reilly.

Down at College Station, the Aggies of A&M are still fighting against female integration.

In the recent back-to-school edition of the Battalion, a resolution filled with whereases and wherefores tries to show how females have totally disrupted the equilibrium of Aggieland.

They point out how the admission of coeds in 1963 and the changing of the Cadet Corps from compulsory to voluntary has caused dissention among students, former students, parents and "interested citizens."

Also, they bring out the statistics that the undergraduate male enrollment has been dropping since the admission of female students.

Maybe the Aggies just don't know how to react in the presence of women?

Upperclasswomen at the University of Oklahoma are able to spend more time "away from home" this year, says the Oklahoma Daily.

Under changes approved by the Association of Women Students, the Dean of Women and the Board of Regents, closing hours in all women's housing was moved up to 11 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

The old closing time of 10:30 p.m. did not give students enough time to get back to their dorms from the library and other study areas. According to the Dean of Women, the change will allow upperclasswomen to make better use of the library.

Other changes instituted allow sophomore girls with a 3.0 average the previous semester the bonus of one midnight privilege a week. Coeds with a 3.5 average are given two midnight privileges.

Large "Keep off the Grass" signs and steel barricades were erected this summer on the Texas Christian University campus.

The effort is being made by the Grounds Maintenance Department to prevent students from eroding smooth trails through the campus lawns.

The fact that dubious results may be expected is evident by the number of students seen stepping over the strategically placed signs, says the Skiff.

However, at least the campus will have more new trails—worn around the signs.

Occidental Planning 'Cluster' Coed Dorm

Los Angeles, Calif. (I.P.)—The new master plan for Occidental College, designed by Pereira and Associates, includes a co-ed dorm scheduled for occupancy by the fall of 1966. The campus site will be occupied by "cluster residences" rather than the traditional dorm.

The cluster residence will house units of 16 students, in eight rooms around a lounge and bath. The master plan utilizes the conception of academic centers as the logical fulfillment of the liberal arts college.

The "cluster residence" is, in effect, a revival of the Oxford tradition with each cluster of students having similar and compatible interests. Conceivably, units could be made up of advanced language students, and the intimacy would provide a more consistent atmosphere for the informal exchange of ideas which is the basic concept of residence living.

The resident system has been started at the University of California at Irvine, and Pereira and Associates are presently preparing final plans for the Occidental dorm.

Designed for 150 students, the dorm will be about 60 per cent men and 40 per cent women. The cluster units will be connected to a central lounge serving both men and women. In fall 1966, when it will be opened for residence, the dorm will probably be limited to upperclass students with major interests in language.

Although dorms are presently unfilled, the Men's Residence Council is re-evaluating the present requirements for off-campus living. The result will probably be a return to the policy stated in the catalogue of total residence of all freshmen and sophomore men. In the past few years, the Deans have been forced to make exceptions because of the overflow student residency.

The new dorm will be the prototype for the future academic centers to be built on College Hill, presently undeveloped. In addition to the living quarters, the new units will contain seminar rooms.

VC ATTACK REPELLED

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Artillery and planes repelled a Viet Cong attack staged by 1,000 to 1,500 men about 300 miles north of Saigon on Friday, a U.S. military spokesman reported. He said the Viet Cong suffered heavy losses in the attack, the first big Communist thrust in weeks.

Vietnamese army sources claimed 600 Viet Cong were killed in the fighting, which raged around the district town of Bong Son. Vietnamese losses were described as "moderate."

The only U.S. forces involved in the fighting were planes.

FRENCHMAN MISSING

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese police said today the French vice consul in Saigon has been missing for four days and is believed to have been kidnapped by the Viet Cong.

The diplomat, Bean Bion, 41, the consulate's No. 2 man, was abducted from a bus while traveling in the central highlands Tuesday night, informants said. The Viet Cong has abducted other persons of French nationality in recent months, but most have been released unharmed.

WEAPONS DISCUSSED

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Communist party leader, Leonid I. Brezhnev, called today for new efforts to reach an agreement barring the spread of nuclear weapons to non-nuclear powers.

He tied the proposal to a contention that West Germany sooner or later will gain access to nuclear weapons, either through the Atlantic alliance or on its own.

Brezhnev spoke before 6,000 persons in the Kremlin Palace of Congresses at a meeting with East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht.

B52 EFFECTIVE

In Saigon, U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, in an apparent reply to critics who contend the B52 strikes are not effective, said the attacks by the giant bombers "are having a very good effect" and "providing a saturation of Viet Cong strongpoints and redoubts which could not be reached in any other way." Lodge made his comments in a Mutual Broadcasting System radio interview.

FIGHTING IN KASHMIR

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Pakistan broadcast a report that Pakistani and India troops were battling again Friday night in the Lahore sector, the scene of the stiffest ground fighting in the war halted by a U.N. cease-fire.

The Lahore sector is in Pakistan near the southern tip of disputed Kashmir. Indian troops were reported eight miles across the line when the truce went into effect Thursday.

Radio Pakistan said the shooting broke out in the Hareekey Burki area and was still going on three hours later. There was no immediate explanation of the cause of the reported outbreak.

"Dareless Disloyal" Gives View In Radio Satire

KLBK radio station hopped into the battle of the air over tonight's game with a satire on Darrell Royal, Texas' head coach.

A sports reporter, Phil Puppybreath, opens his show by introducing "that ever-fluorescent coach of the Texas Longhorns, uh, Longhorns, Dareless Disloyal."

Phil asks, "How about the game with Tech?"

Not seeming to know about the game, Coach Disloyal says, "We are playing TWC. It is too early in the season for rough teams."

"Oh, you mean Texas Western?"

"NO," replies Disloyal, "I mean Texas Woman's College."

"Well, when will you play Tech?"

"Now how do you expect us to be number one in the nation if we play teams like the Red Raiders?"

"Thanks for your comments, Coach."

"You are welcome, superfluously speaking of course. I majored in English in college you know."

"Whatever you say, Dareless."

Churches Give Transportation

Six churches are offering free rides for Tech students to Sunday services.

• Broadway Church of Christ—paid cab fare for any student who attends their services.

• Christ The King Catholic Church—call the Newman Club to make arrangements.

• First Baptist Church—cabs available in front of all dorms between 9 and 9:15 a.m.

• First Methodist Church—cabs in front of all dorms between 9:10 and 9:30 a.m.

• First Presbyterian Church—transportation at the P. U. B. at 9:15 a.m.

• St. Christopher Episcopal Church—call SW9-8208 for arrangements.

ANGEL FLIGHT

Tech coeds can learn of the Angel Flight program in an orientation Monday at 5 p.m. in the Tech Union.

Active members will explain the purpose of Angel Flight, its activities and the requirements for entrance.

Prospects will have drill practice Tuesday and Wednesday.

Fellowships Available To Tech Graduates

Inquiries about Danforth Graduate Fellowships to be awarded in March 1966 are now being received by the Texas Tech liaison officer, Dr. W. G. Steglich, head of the department of sociology and anthropology.

The Fellowships, offered by the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Mo., are open to men and women who are seniors or recent graduates of accredited colleges in the U.S., who have serious interest in college teaching as a career, and who plan to study for a Ph. D. in a field common to the undergraduate college.

Danforth Graduate Fellows are eligible for four years of financial assistance with a maximum annual living stipend of $1800 for single and $2200 for married students.

Writer Picks Colts To Topple Packers

NEW YORK (AP)—The first thing any conscientious pro football selector learns is never make the same mistake twice.

So being a conscientious pro football selector who picked against the Baltimore Colts and slid downhill to a 5-6 record last week, it'll have to be flip-flop this time.

The pick: The Colts to take Green Bay.

Here's the entire rundown on Sunday's program with the record for the season standing at 8-7:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Baltimore 28, Green Bay 21—The Colts, who whipped Minnesota last week, could hand their toughest competition in the West a 1-2 punch by beating the Packers. Here's a vote for Johnny Unitas over Bart Starr in the game at Milwaukee.

Cleveland 35, St. Louis 21—Jim Brown is due for a 100-yard day and a Cardinal defense that allowed Philadelphia 34 points last week could be just the right tonic. The Cardinals may be without fullback Joe Childress.

Minnesota 31, Detroit 17—The Lions pulled off the only shutout of the first week of action but the Vikings are considerably stronger than Los Angeles. Fran The Scrambler Tarkenton has big day.

Dallas 35, Washington 34—A wide-open passing battle looms but the Don Meredith-Bob Hayes combination, getting that little extra experience and timing, should help the Cowboys win it. Redskins' hard-running Charley Taylor is a doubtful starter.

Chicago 17, Los Angeles 14—Neither team showed much last week, but Gayle Sayers was impressive for the Bears. Rams haven't beaten Chicago in regular-season game since 1959.

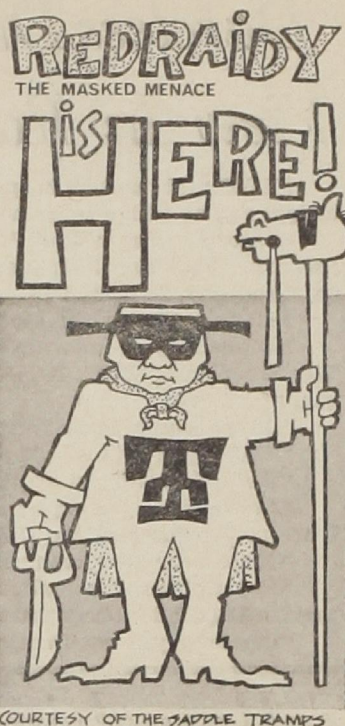

Philadelphia 35, New York 14—Tim Brown, always the other Brown, may be out to make a name for himself this year if his 179 yards gained rushing and passing last week are any indication.

San Francisco 28, Pittsburgh 10—John Brodie's passing should make it easy for the 49ers. The Steelers don't have much of an attack without John Henry Johnson.

Buffalo 42, New York 28—Bills may be without safety Gene Sykes but they have everything else. Jack Kemp continues to improve, and there's little talk about Daryle Lamonia now. The Jets may stick with Joe Namath as their No. 1 quarterback but he lacks experience.

Oakland 28, Houston 21—The Oilers take to the road for the first time and take their first defeat. Veteran George Blanda's so old he has to get tired every other game. Raiders may have quarterback Cotton Davidson back.

San Diego 35, Kansas City 14—Paul Lowe is showing 'em how to run and rookie Gene Foster is proving an able sub for Keith Lincoln. The Chiefs still unable to get a consistent attack going.

★ A 'What If' Case

Coaches play it, fans play it, even the most casual spectators play it. The name of the game is "What if."

Just for the sake of making an awesome spectacle, "what if" Texas Football Magazine's All-Southwest Conference team could be united for one game?

Needless to say, it probably wouldn't be too difficult to find someone willing to coach this team.

Add the immeasurable talents of these athletes to their good size and speed and the resultant "dream team" is phenomenal.

Based on pure statistics, the offensive squad would have an average weight of 210 pounds with the backfield weighing in at 191.

The lineup would run something like this:

Ends—Sonny Campbell of TCU; Harlan Lane of Baylor

Campbell, one of only three juniors on the team, stands 6-2 and weighs 194. Though not exceptionally fast, the former Haltom City star has great hands and moves well. Last year Campbell caught 35 passes, a total which placed him second only to Lawrence Elkins of Baylor in SWC competition.

Lane is 6 feet tall and tips the scales at 185. He has excellent speed and is noted for his ability to run with the ball after making a catch. Lane was fifth among Conference receivers last year.

Tackles—Glen Ray Hines of Arkansas; John Elliot of Texas

A 'What If' Case . . .

Hines, the largest man on the team, is 6-5, 235. The kickoff man for the Porkers, he is also a punishing blocker and has been tabbed as an All-American candidate.

Elliott, a junior, showed the coaches what he could do in his sophomore year and started for the Longhorns, but was hampered by a mid-season injury and then a broken leg. He's back this year in good health.

Guards—Randy Stewart of Arkansas; Frank Bedrick of Texas

Stewart checks in this season at 6-0 and 205. Quickness, mobility, and power make him a leader in the forward wall of the defending national champions.

Bedrick, a 5-10, 210 pound senior is an outstanding lineman in his own right. The news media just hasn't time to show him much favor with that "All-American boy" at the other guard spot on the Longhorn outfit.

Center—Craig Christopher of Rice

Though he had to play behind Malcolm Walker for two seasons, Christopher (6-2, 225) has good speed and has won the respect of SWC players, coaches, fans and writers.

Quarterback—Terry Southall of Baylor

A 5-11, 180 pound junior, is the field general of the fast moving Baylor offense.

Fullback—Phil Harris of Texas

Harris is a swift and powerful runner in the Royal offense. He is also a dangerous pass receiver.

Halfbacks—Jim Lindsey of Arkansas; Donny Anderson of Texas Tech

With 205 pounds on a 6-2 frame, Lindsey could hold down either the halfback or fullback spot. He's hard to stop when he gets up a full head of steam.

Anderson, a threat as a runner and a pass receiver, also had a 38.2 punting average last year. All-American as a junior, Anderson is almost a "shoo-in" for the coveted honor again this year.

... All this and a defense too!

Ends—Pete Lammons of Texas; Doug January of SMU

Lammons, a 6-1, 215 pound senior shines on both offense and defense while serving in the Texas line up.

January is strong and aggressive. One of the bright spots in last year's otherwise frantic season at SMU, January is 6-2, 208.

Tackles—Lloyd Phillips of Arkansas; Jim Williams of Arkansas

Phillips has size (6-3, 225), speed, and quick reactions.

Williams, a 6-3, 210 pound talent from Forest City was one of the key men in the brutal Razorback defense last year.

Guards—Diron Talbert of Texas; John LaGrone of SMU

The largest man in the defensive lineup, Talbert is only a junior and is another of the reasons why Texas is always the team to beat.

LaGrone, a 5-11, 220 pound junior, won all conference honors last year while providing plenty of "la-gron" for opponents.

Linebackers—Billy Bob Stewart of SMU; Tommy Nobis of Texas

Stewart was injured last year and suffered illness. He could develop into one of the most outstanding linebackers in the conference.

NOBIS, 6-2, 230 . . . further comment would only mean more repetition.

Halfbacks—David Ferguson of Rice; Jackie Brasuell of Arkansas

Ferguson intercepted four passes last year and was second in the nation in punt returns. 5-11, 171.

Brasuell, despite his lack of size (5-9, 175) won a starting berth in Arkansas' defensive secondary.

Safety—Frank Horak of TCU

A reliable tackler and pass defender, Horak (6-0, 185) also handles punt returns for the Frogs.

There is a song called "These are a Few of My Favorite Things." No doubt, the lucky coach would be singing it."

Scovell Tops Nominees

With sophomore quarterback John Scovell leading he way, five Red Raiders have been nominated for the SWC All-Academic team.

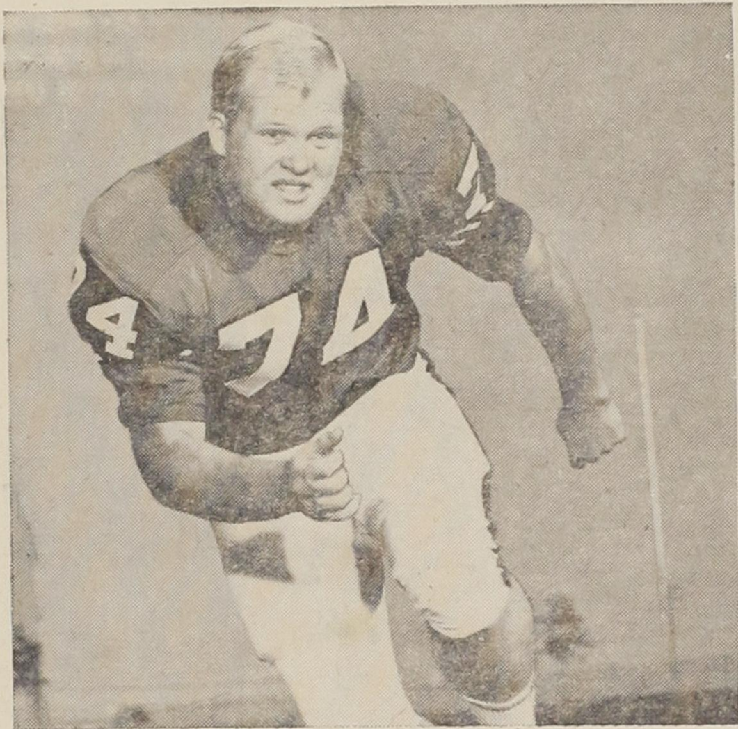

Scovel posted a 3.76 grade average making 11 A's and 4 B's as a freshman.

Other nominees included ends Terry McWhorter and Gilbert Coats, tackles Wayne Barginear and Roy Brown and linebacker James Haney.

SURGEON-GENERAL CHOSEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson announced today his selection of Dr. William H. Stewart, 44, who has been with the Public Health Service since 1951, to be U.S. surgeon-general.

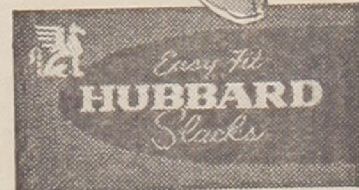

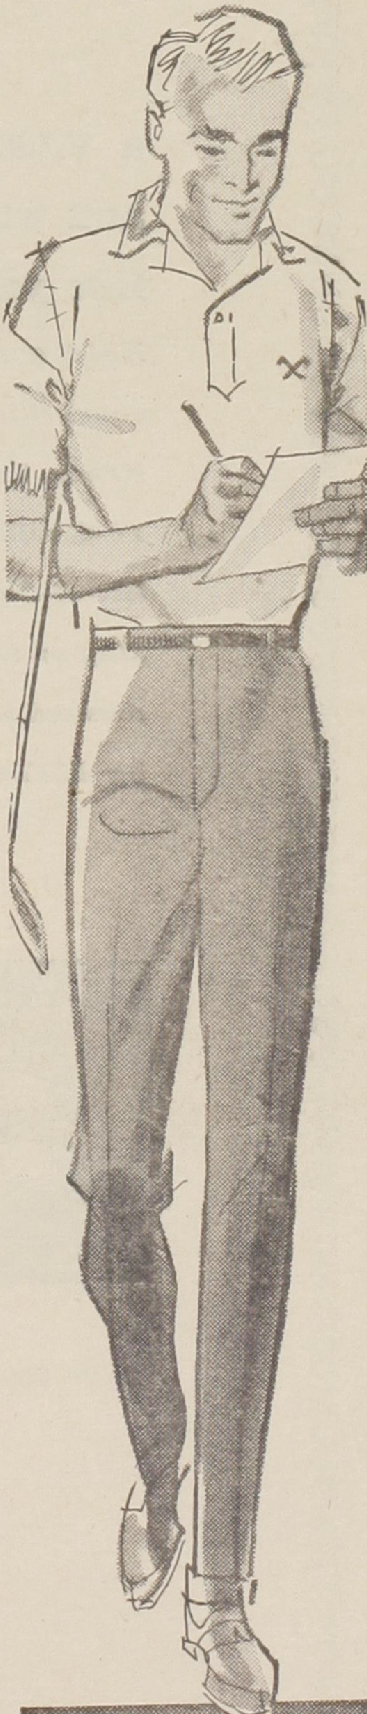

LEADING THE OFFENSIVE
charge against the University of Texas Longhorns in tonight's Austin game will be John Porter (74). Shown below, Porter is one of Texas Tech's co-captains. He stands 6-0 and tips the scales at 224 pounds.
