Bulbs Will Brighten Campus

FOR MUN SESSION

General Topics Listed

General topics and committees for the Model United Nations have been announced by the Steering Committee.

The committees and topics upon which they will prepare resolutions are:

- Political Committee—the India-Pakistan dispute and a permanent peace keeping force:
- Economic and Social Commit-. tee—human rights in Africa and land reform; and
- Special Political Committeerepresentation of Red China in the U.N. and the non-proliferation of nuclear weapons. Applications for the chairmanships of these committees are being accepted in the Program Office in the Union. The chairmen will conduct the committee meetings and should be adequately informed in parliamentary procedure.

Letters advising delegations of their nation assignments were mailed Monday. There will be 89 delegations representing 102 countries

1.000 Gator Bowl Tickets Sold; Sparse Tech Crowd Expected

Approximately 1,000 of the 4,500 Gator Powl tickets allotted to Texas Tech have been sold, Mrs. Mildred Wright, athletic ticket manager, said Monday.

The athletic office expects to sell only 2,000 of the tickets, she said

Tickets will remain on sale until Dec. 17. The tickets are for reserved seats in a section from the goal to the 30 yard line. They sell for $6 each.

The Raiders will play Georgia Tech's Yellowjackets in the Jacksonville, Fla., classic on Dec. 31.

The sixth annual Carol of Lights will once again transform the Texas Tech campus into a red, yellow, and white wonderland today at 6:45 p.m.

More than 17,000 lights will outline ten campus buildings and the KTXT radio tower. The outlined buildings will be Electrical Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Textile Engineering, Social Science, Journalism, Science, Chemistry, Administration, Home Economics and the West Texas Museum.

This is the first year the museum and the KTXT tower will be outlined. O. R. Downing, director of building maintenance, is in charge of putting the lights on buildings.

APO, WSO Help

Alpha Phi Omega and Women's Service Organization will line campus streets with luminarios helped make the large and wreath which has been placed around the Science Building main entrance.

"Peace on Earth-Good Will to Men" is the theme of the 1965 Carol of Lights. A brass choir will start playing at 6:45 p.m. in the Science Quadrangle. After a presentation of college officials, the Tech Choir and nine dormitory choirs will sing,

The Town Girls will participate in the Carol of Lights this year for the first time. Members wrote a letter to Mrs. Dorothy Garner, sponsor of Women's Residence Council, asking that they be allowed to sing. WRC members voted unanimously to allow Town Girls to participate.

Choirs Listed

Doak Hall and Town Girls will sing "Little Drummer Boy" Gates Hall and Men's No. 9, "Silver Bells"; Weeks Hall and Bled-soe Hall, "Little Donkey"; Drane Hall and Men's No. 10, "Carol of Bells"

Wall Hall and Carpenter Hall, "What Child is This"; West Hall and Gordon Hall, "Christmas Song"; Knapp Hall and Wells Hall, "O Holy Night"; Horn Hall and Sneed Hall, "White Christmas"; and Clement Hall and Hulen Hall, "Noel."

After the program, at approximately 7:40 p.m., all lights on campus will go out and the Christmas lights will be turned on.

Open House

Immediately following the lighting ceremony, Tech Union will have an open house featuring the Madrigal Singers. The public is invited and free refreshments will be served.

Joy Cox, president of WRC, will be the Mistress of Ceremonies for the program. Mary Margaret Davis is general chairman for Carol of Lights.

Under Miss Davis' direction are Shirley Allen, publicity chair-man; Susan Childs, decorations chairman; Jackie Pardue, program chairman; and Linda Urbanczyk, dinner and coffee chairman.

Hot Potato The Old

FOT POTATO, musical chairs and twenty questions-all of these used to be popular kids' games that were quite amusing at times.

However, when adults start playing these games with human lives at stake, the play loses some of its humor.

Early this October, the Texas Tech Board of Directors tossed the campus Traffic Commission a hot potato, charging them to come up with recommendations to solve the local traffic problems.

The Commission has fielded the potato and is ready to slip it back to the Board this weekend, along with the recommendation that a consultant firm of traffic specialists be brought in to study the situation.

Whether the Board will catch the potato and toss it back to the Commission for more concrete proposals, or will flip it off campus to the specialists, will be revealed Saturday.

Maybe we need the specialists. Maybe the problem is too deep for the minds on this campus. Maybe the specialists can pull an idea out of the hat that will be IT.

However, what will be happening while the specialists make their study and check their figures? Answer: The game of hot potato will continue until someone finally fumbles the potato.

The campus community has been lucky-and only lucky-that the game has gone on this long without any serious injury. Who gets the potato next?

questioned even after the Bryant incident? If you watched the Tech-Arkansas game, and I do hope you did, you perhaps noticed that if the Tech players were playing to lose, they were doing a bad job of it the first half. You might also read the comments of praise handed our players by Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles after the game, if you are so sure we wanted to lose. And the reports of pep rallies, signs, etc. indicating the spirit not only the students but the PLAYERS of Texas Tech had in going to the game. You must think it an awfully great honor for a team to play Georgia Tech; this is the only reason I can see for your questionable tactics in running down the team that, I sincerely hope will beat them in the Gator Bowl.

And if you feel the need to write anything preceding that game, I do hope you will take a little more time in preparing your copy, and your mind.

Sincerely yours, Barbra Worley

Monday, Miss Worley received the following answer to her letter: Dear Miss Worley:

I'm afraid that you missed the point of the column, and I'm surprised, for I am certain that you are an intelligent person. It was in a facetious vein, and I am my own editor. You would have discovered this had you read the other two segments of the column that followed.

I really don't need any lectures on the spirit of Texas Tech, as your publicity director, Bill Holmes will attest to. I was there for the Texas Tech-Arkansas game. Have you not read those columns? I flew to Fayetteville for the game, and will be in Jacksonville for the Gator Bowl, and just yesterday, on my television show, picked Texas Tech to beat Georgia Tech, with or without a parade.

Now, back to you (sic) home economics.

Yours truly, Furman Bisher

Jumping, weaving Reuther used jump shots and hook effectively for 29 points to lead scorers on both benches. Russ Wilkinson, who netted several clutch points in the flurrying finish, scored 11 points.

Arizona, in taking its first defeat of the season against two wins, almost put the Raiders under with an amazing 51 per cent from the field in the second half. Chief sharpshooters for the Wildcats were Bob Spahn, who wound up with 17 points, and Ted Pickett, who canned 13.

'Cats Use Zone

Arizona came out in a zone defense early in the second half, which bufuddled the Raiders momentarily.

The second half started out with a flurry of scoring with each club exchanging buckets. The Wildcats then began to narrow the first half gap and pulled even at 8:50.

They moved to a 69-63 lead with 3:49 left, but from that point the home crew caught fire again and went back into the lead to stay with 2:11 remaining. Arizona began fouling and the Raiders moved out to its final five point advantage

The Raiders averaged out 47.5 per cent from the field with consistent efforts of 47 per cent in
