'Pay-As-You-Go' Proposal Evokes Some Controversy

With republicans predicting "substantial" gains and democrats conceding them some but not enough to control, America's adult millions will pause briefly in their drive to win the war to vote tomorrow in the "off-year" elections which will determine the make-up of the 78th congress and state administrations.

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—With interest centering chiefly on one of five proposed amendments to the state constitution, Texas voters go to the polls tomorrow in a general election at which they are expected to ratify as usual the democratic nominees for state offices.

A dispatch from Cairo quoted him as saying that although his men were getting "plenty of opportunities" they still "scrap like hell for assignments."

Allied Fighters Use Bayonets In Swift Forward Push

CAIRO, Nov. 2. WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—The sinking of seven enemy ships and the damaging of three others, including a converted aircraft carrier set afire, by American submarines during recent operations in the Pacific were announced today by the navy.

In the first wartime election since 1918, when the republicans gained control from a democratic congress under Woodrow Wilson and held it for 12 years, upwards of 30,000,000 voters—light compared with former years—are expected to choose from more than 1,600 candidates, 33 senators, 432 House members, 32 governors, and a host of other state officers.

State officials who keep up with election trends did not believe the vote would exceed 500,000, as compared to the general election turnout of more than a million two years ago.

The support of State Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe was added today to the so-called pay-as-you-go constitutional amendment, over which there has been considerable controversy. Answering opponents of the amendment which would require that on funds for paying it be apportioned, he said in a statement today:

"I endorse all the proposed amendments, but believe that the budget-balancing amendment and the state office building proposal especially deserve favorable consideration of the voters because of their far-reaching possibilities in saving the state's money in a sound and sensible way."

Turkey's President Warns Of Attack

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
LONDON, Nov. 2.—The grave declaration by President Ismet Inonu of Turkey that his country is nearer war than at any time since the world conflict started—because he does not specify—may be taken as a warning to his people of the danger of an axis attack and a notification to Hitler that the Turks are not asleep.

Downtown Stroller

The bombardier school chapel had its official opening Sunday with two marriages being held Sunday afternoon. Following the wedding of DOBOTHY JEAN PHILLIPS of Rockford, Ill., and Sgt. WILLIAM J. MCENTAGUE, some 25 guests were entertained with a reception dinner and dance at the Settles. It was quite a lovely affair according to all who attended.

Cought a ride with Mr. and Mrs. ALDEN THOMAS and toured down to Brownwood to visit our little brother at Camp Bowie. Thought we had a lot of soldiers here, but after looking around Brownwood, we take it all back. We don't know "nothing."

Visited at one of the USO centers there and saw the good that the organization accomplishes from a different angle. Next time the USO needs money, we'll be out in front giving donations. We never did doubt the USO before but the visit to the Brownwood center was a real convincer.

Incidentally, most of the cars we saw were traveling under 40 all right on the highway. Whenever one would pass going above speed, everybody would crane necks and wonder who that was who was such a daredevil about his tires.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. WILSON, JR. returned Sunday night from a two week visit in Seattle and Bremerton, Wash., where they visited their son, BILL, who is with the U. S. Navy. They took the Shasta route and have stopovers in Portland and Klamath Falls, Ore., and in Los Angeles and Hollywood, Calif. They found son, BILL, in the best of health and doing fine with the navy.

Miss Younger, Sgt. Bradford Marry Here

Elizabeth Arlene Younger of Lubbock and Sgt. Leo G. Bradford were married Sunday morning in the parsonage of the East 4th St. Baptist church with the pastor, the Rev. R. E. Dunham, reading the single ring ceremony.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. W. H. Younger of Lubbock, wore a sapphire blue dress and had a gardenia corsage.

She was educated at Lubbock high school. Sgt. Bradford, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bradford of Bryson, Tex., was graduated from Bryson high school. He is stationed at the Big Spring bombardier school.

It's not taboo today to discuss plain facts. Thousands of women praise CARDU's 2-way help. Taken as a tonic, it usually pops up appetite, stimulates flow of gastric juices, thus aiding digestion and helping resistance. Started 3 days before the time, and taken as directed, it should help relieve much purely functional periodic pain. A 63-year record says it may help.

Must Open Home For Jews, Says Wendell Willkie

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie says Palestine will have to be opened to the homeless Jews of Central and Eastern Europe who survive the war and "the extent of that emigration must be measured by the needs of the Jewish people."

In a telegram to a mass meeting observing the 25th anniversary of the Balfour declaration by Eng-land, Willkie said yesterday that the "case" of the Jews for a national home "has always rested upon historic rights and international law."

"Hitler's program of extermination of the Jewish people," the message continued, "has made it a case for the conscience of mankind."

That silent hush around the squadron is not due to a rough first sergeant who demands peace and quiet, but it is pay day night, and no one is to be seen. Jimmy Pyle, who is so thin that if a good Texas wind would come up, off he'd go, and there would be no more Jimmy Pyle. . . . First Sgt. Noel Miller, departed for O.C.S. and S/Sgt. E. H. Park, is now the top kick. All the boys wish Miller the best of luck, and smooth sailing.

M'Collum Winds Up 20 Years With Lamesa Schools

LAMESA, Nov. 2—F. T. McCol-lum, who, had he enough years, might qualify as the "grand old man" of the Lamesa school system, has finished approximately 20 years work with the schools of this city.

Trustees earlier had approved his resignation, submitted because labor shortages had become so acute that he had to devote his full time to managing his personal affairs. They had named J. H. Norris, for four years Dawson county superintendent, as McCol-lum's successor.

Ted McColium served 18 years as principal of the Lamesa high school, and most of that time as athletic director and coach. His teams won an enviable record and packed a trophy case with cups. The football field bears his name.

It was he who developed subject matter for a course introduced in Lamesa high school known as "Contemporary Social and Economic Problems" and which later was approved by the state department of education and accepted for the list of affiliated subjects in many Texas schools.

During his tenure, the high school enrollment increased from 175 to around 600, the school became fully accredited with more than 40 affiliated subjects. In his years as principal, McColium signed something like 1,600 diplomas.

Aimed A Little Low

Farmer Debts Being Repaid At Fast Rate

HOUSTON, Nov. 2.—Although Texas farmers and stockmen are requiring increased amounts of operating money for war-time production, they are repaying at a faster rate than in several years and are strengthening their financial position, according to President T. P. Priddle of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston.

"Cutting debts to a safe margin during these times of higher interest and investing reserves in war bonds are in line with sound financing fundamentals," he said. "In handling more than a billion dollars in discounts during our 19-year history, the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, livestock loan companies, banks, production credit associations, other institutions doing business with the bank and the producers themselves, have learned a great deal about credit. Farmers and ranchers are not inclined at this time to increase debts and then hope to liquidate them later—perhaps in times of lower incomes."

During 1941-42 farmers and livestock men found themselves in a favorable position as to price and production; credit that permitted them to hold products until ready for market was a distinct benefit.

"The Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, established in 1923 under the Agricultural Credits Act with $5,000,000 in U.S. Government capital as one of the 12 banks of discount for agriculture, has demonstrated its place in rural credit," Priddle said. "It provides additional machinery for financing the agricultural and livestock industry by obtaining funds for such purposes from the investment money markets. It has kept its house in order, added nearly $4,000,000 through earnings to its capital account, and has an average loan account of approximately $45,000,000."

Pickers Leaving, Cotton Harvest Is On Decline

Despite efforts to reassure them that they will have plenty of gasoline to move from field to field and on which to return home, the exodus of cotton pickers was beginning to make itself felt on the harvest here Monday.

Ginners, without exception, said that the movement of cotton to gins was declining in the face of good picking weather. The only answer they could give was the loss of pickers.

Up to Monday five local gins, which now are handling only about 45 per cent of the county's total volume, reported 7,687 bales. This would mean around 16,800 bales ginned in the county.

However, only about 14,000 could be regarded as Howard county cotton, indicating that only between 55 and 60 per cent of the crop is in.

Class and grade were holding up well, with lint on picked cotton bringing around 18.50-70. Snapped cotton was off about a cent a pound from this figure.

Seed sagged back to $50 a ton last week and took another slice in scaling down to $49.50 Monday morning.

West Texas Shows Part In War Work

ABILENE, Nov. 2—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce makes the confident claim that the region's contribution to the war effort is the nation's highest.

The organization's claim was based on reports received in its Inter-Community War and Preservation contest in which 103 West Texas towns are entered. Chamber of commerce managers throughout the territory are now making reports to the WTCC on war activities, since Pearl Harbor, generally carried on under leadership of their chambers. Today the regional chamber released portions of questionnaire returns from the first ten towns reporting. They are mostly small towns, with only two having population of 5,000 or more.

From this summing up it was shown that war bond sales are being heavily oversubscribed. One town reported a 67 per cent oversubscription in September, while another passed its full October quota in the first 15 days of the month. In the paper scrap drive, one town of 3,500 population reported a pickup total through September of 80 pounds per capita. The scrap rubber collection has ranged from 26 to 52 pounds per person, or 3 1/2 to 6 1/2 times greater than the national average.

Highest results have been attained in the scrap metal collection. The War Production Board's last announced Texas quota was 100 pounds per person. Against this, in the ten West Texas towns had, through September, gathered and sold, or built up stockpiles, totaling 12,779,250 pounds. Their per capita average ranged from 135 to 750 pounds, the latter figure being for a town of 1,600 population.

The summary of the ten towns showed all have cooperated fully with federal agencies bidding for enlistees for the armed services; in the food-for-victory campaign; in reduction of car mileage for rubber conservation. Similarly, in putting screws on non-war spending, their municipal, county and school budgets have been sharply pared. They are also giving strong support to the WTCC's programs for state fiscal control, freight rate parity, elimination of oil price differentials against West Texas, and other territorial preservation activities.

Title Races Are Being Clarified

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—With virtually all the conference pictures more clearly defined after last week's slam-bang program, the nation's football teams moved into the final month of the campaign today, many of them with stiff assignments dead ahead.

Although the coming week-end can't hope to produce anything as exciting as the past one, when such teams as Ohio State, Alabama, Army, Syracuse, Texas Christian and Detroit were bounced out of the undefeated ranks, there still will be enough action to go around.

In the Western conference, Wisconsin stands alone at the front of the title chase after dumping Ohio State, 17-7, and the Badgers can protect that lead by taking their next three games, the first of them with Iowa next Saturday. Iowa's 19-6 triumph over Purdue was its second in three conference starts.

Ohio State, dropped to second place, has a non-conference date with Pitt this week and Purdue also steps out of the loop to play the Great Lakes Sailors, who blanked Missouri, 17-0.

After handing Illinois its first conference setback, 25-14, Michigan takes on Harvard in an inter-sectional duel. Illinois tangles with Northwestern and Minnesota, 19-7 conqueror of Northwestern, meets Indiana in conference play.

Army's 19-0 loss to Pennsylvania took a little of the edge off this week's tussle between the Cadets and Notre Dame at New York's Yankee Stadium, but the Irish prepared for the classic by sinking Navy, 9-0. Penn and Navy get together at Philadelphia at the same time.

Boston College, which remained unbeaten and untied by swamping Georgetown, 47-0, catches Temple, while other eastern headlines send Yale against Cornell, Princeton against Dartmouth and Penn State against Syracuse. Fordham has an inter-sectional date with Louisiana State.

Georgia, which looms as the best in the south if not in the entire country after stopping previously unbeaten Alabama, 21-10, meets another but weaker Southwestern conference opponent, Florida.

Alabama tangles with South Carolina and Maryland, 18-0 winner over Florida, meets Duke in a Southern loop headline. Georgia Tech, still unbeaten and untied after stopping Duke, 26-7, takes on Wake Forest with visions of another Southeastern conference triumph.

Tulane finally won two games in a row by tripping Vanderbilt, 28-21, and will try to make it three against Mississippi State, a South-eastern foe. Mississippi plays Vanderbilt and Auburn tackles the Georgia pre-flight club.

With Texas Christian out of the way, Baylor and Texas collide head-on with the Southwest conference lead and perhaps the title at stake. Baylor knocked T. C. U. out of the unbeaten ranks, 16-7, while Texas handed Southern Methodist, 21-7.

S. M. U. meets Texas A. & M., which crushed Arkansas, 41-0, and Arkansas tangles with Rice, 19-7, victor over Texas Tech, in other conference frays. T. C. U. and Texas Tech have a non-conference date.

In the Pacific Coast conference, first-place U. C. L. A. meets Oregon in quest of league victory number four. U. C. L. A. trounced Stanford, 20-7, Saturday while Oregon lost to California, 20-0. California plays Southern California, which rested Saturday.

Stanford moves in against Washington, 13-0 conqueror of Oregon State, which meets Montana. Washington State plays Michigan State in an inter-sectional duel.

Nebraska and Missouri, still unbeaten in Big Six play, will go a long way toward deciding the conference title when they collide Saturday. Oklahoma plays Kansas State in another loop tilt.

Tulsa, unbeaten, untied and unscored on, meets Oklahoma A. & M. with the Missouri Valley championship at stake.

Teacher Colleges Clash This Week In Lone Star

SAN MARCOS, Nov. 2 (AP)—Action in the Lone Star conference football race moves here Friday when the Southwest Texas State Bobcats tackle East Texas State, which took undisputed lead last week.

The Lions topped the loop when North Texas State edged out the Bobcats 10-6 while East Texas was crushing San Houston State 23-0.

Duck Plentiful As Season Opens

By The Associated Press
That wasn't a bomb going off in your ear this morning. It was your neighbor—or maybe a huntman from your own family—who had taken down his trusty gun, oiled it up and gone out to greet the sunrise and the 1942-43 wildfowl season with a bang.

With the promise of one of the best seasons of wildfowl in perhaps ten years, hunters were faced with warnings from hardware and sporting goods merchants to conserve ammunition. And it didn't help them any to realize they had from now until Jan. 10 in which to hunt, as compared to the 60 days allowed in 1941.

Despite the imminence of gasoline rationing to say nothing of the value of rubber tires, cities throughout the state reported a brisk pre-season sale of equipment and licenses.

With respect to conserving shells, it was pointed out that manufacturers were ordered to stop making ammunition for private use last June. Merchants' supplies of shotgun shells may be the last for the duration.

Some dealers blamed current ammunition shortages to hoarding and many stores were rationing ammunition one and two boxes per customer.

In addition to the lengthened season, the new daily curfew for hunting has been extended this season from sunrise to sundown, instead of being from sunrise to 4 p. m. as was the case last year.

A prize fighter in his younger days, McGovern fractured a knuckle in 1910. That ended his boxing career but launched him on another enterprise which brought him more fame than he ever enjoyed in the ring.

He opened a gymnasium which prospered, but it wasn't until 1925 that his big break came. That was the year that Babe Ruth suffered his most disastrous season in baseball.

The Babe had been stricken with a stomach ailment in the spring. He didn't appear in a major league game until June and finally was fined $5,000 after a dispute with Manager Miller Huggins.

In the fall, Ruth's friend and advisor, Christy Walsh, suggested that he put himself in McGovern's hands. After a winter in the McGovern gymnasium, the Babe returned to the game 40 pounds lighter and proceeded to slam 47 home runs in the 1926 season.

All other teams of the conference play outside opponents. North Texas meeting Austin college at Denton Friday and San Houston engaging Ellington field at Huntsville Saturday.

Job Placements About On A Par With Last Year

Farm and private placements for October ran about on a par with those for the same month last year, O. R. Rodden, district manager for the United States Employment Service, reported.

Private placements totaled 144, which was down slightly from 181 for October of 1941. Agricultural placements (which include Martin and Dawson as well as Howard county) stood at 13,317, virtually the same as a year ago. The picker total was added to 5,450 of this type of labor for September.

Since early in August when the campaign was started, the USES office here had interviewed around 800 men and certified most of them as possible army technicians. Around 240 of this number came during October and 150 the past week, according to Rodden.

Employment opportunities abound for men and women of almost all ages, said Rodden. He urged men and women, young and old, to contact the office, stating their qualifications for "we have a job of almost any type awaiting those who have any particular

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—This is one day when baseball players may be worrying about the draft, but aren't afraid of it. . . . Anybody whose name comes out of the hat at Chicago will get a chance in the majors—and he'll have plenty good prospects of sticking if he is classified 3-A or 4-F in the other draft. . . . The major leaguers apparently were looking for unusual developments when they decided to hold the draft meeting today instead of just before the world series, and it looks as if the real surprising development is that more players are eligible than ever before. . . . A new rule is that a minor league club can name as many players as it wants on an "unrestricted draft list" instead of having a half called automatically when one man is taken from a team. . . . And we hear that the Portland Coast league outfit, for one, put its whole squad on the list.

This unrestricted draft business, as we get it, grew out of one of Judge Landis' anti-farm rulings. . . . The old system was for a team with a lot of farms to switch all the good prospects to one club, then as soon as one was drafted the rest were safe. . . . But the rule now reads that one club can't keep control of a player more than three years unless he is subject to the draft, so all the three-year men have to go into that unrestricted group or go out of the chain anyway. . . . What a business—and we once thought baseball was a game!

Border Title Between H-SU And Tech

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 2 (AP)—Unless West Texas State Teachers pull a surprise out of the hat and upset Hardin-Simmons this weekend it looks as if the Border conference championship will be decided November 21, when the unbeaten Cowboys meet the Texas Tech Red Raiders, who are unscored upon in conference play.

The loop-leading Cowboys go to Canyon to meet the Teachers, who already have knocked off four conference victories with only one defeat. Their latest victims were the cellar-dwelling New Mexico Aggies, who went down 28 to 0 Saturday, while Hardin-Simmons picked up its second conference win with a 24-26 victory over Arizona university.

The Raiders, who stepped out of the sagebrush circuit for a 19-7 shellacking at the hands of Rice Institute, leave the loop again this weekend, when they play host to Texas Christian at Lubbock.

In the two other conference tilts this week, Arizona's Wildcats tangle with the New Mexico university Lobos at Tucson, while Arizona Teachers of Tempe meet Texas Mines at El Paso.

At the bottom of the heap, the New Mexico Aggies, who have yet to score against a conference opponent, try their luck against the Albuquerque air base eleven, and Arizona State of Flagstaff, which has lost all three of its loop contests, enjoys an open date after its 30-0 whipping by Texas Mines.

James Secret of Rochester, another big punt and pass man playing for a relatively small school, hopped into third place among sectional leaders with four touchdowns against Allegheny. That brought his aggregate to 78. A week ago he tallied five touchdowns with Hamilton as the victim.

Indiana Player Takes Top Rank In Grid Scoring

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Eddie McGovern, 20-year-old Rose Poly halfback, garnered five touchdowns and five extra points Saturday as Rose rubbed Franklin, also of Indiana, and liked his point collection for four games to 106—the best collegiate mark in the nation.

Mighty Battle In Prospect As Texas And Baylor Clash

By RICHARD WEST
Associated Press Staff
As the University of Texas publicity office appropriately warns: "Please pass the aspirin, Willie, Texas and Baylor are getting ready to play."

Before it's over, a little codeine may have to be added, for this battle between bitter rivals will decide temporarily the Southwest conference leader and should go far in determining its eventual champion.

Both teams have three conference wins and no losses: Texas has beaten Arkansas, Rice and Southern Methodist; Baylor holds decisions over Arkansas, Texas A. & M. and Texas Christian.

Both teams have deep-seated issues to avenge—too numerous to list all the gory details. The Bears proved they were no fly-by-night aggregation with a convincing 10-7 win over previously-unbeaten and untied T. C. U. Saturday—and again it was a tribute to the Bears' line.

Twice it stopped T. C. U. attacks within its two-yard line, just as it had repelled nine similar thrusts the week before by A. & M.

Skittering Kit Kittrell, twinkling tallback from McGarry, sank Frog hopes with great broken field running that brought the Bears' one touchdown and set up that winning field goal by Bert Edmison.

At Austin, Texas' great grid game continued to function as the Steers crushed S. M. U. 21-7, netting 21 first downs and 281 yards. The victory marked the return to form of Jackie Field, the Mission express, who made two touchdowns to become the conference's leading scorer.

The Texas Aggies showed unmistakable signs of reviving. Maroon backs rolled up 226 yards running and passing in their 41-0 defeat of Arkansas—the fourteenth consecutive conference loss by the latter.

This week the Aggies go to Dallas to meet S. M. U. and Arkansas is host to the Rice Owls in Fayetteville.

The Owls, led by Fullback Don Stephens, whose specialty is a quick dart through a hole in the line, whipped Texas Tech 13-7—the third conference team to best the Red Raiders. A. & M. and Baylor previously had turned the trick.

Texas Christian will have a chance to become the fourth winner over the Raiders when they go to Lubbock Saturday for a non-conference game.

Editorial - - Encouraging The People To Hoard

One can hardly find it in one's heart to criticize hoarders since Washington seems to be doing everything possible to aid and encourage such action. Everyone remembers the frantic rush to lay a supply of sugar during the several weeks that elapsed between the statement that rationing would be applied, and the effective date. It is true that when registration began a statement was required of each registrant: of how much sugar was on hand, but of course many pounds escaped declaration.

Now we have coffee rationing announced a month in advance, and with the statement that each person will probably be limited to one cup a day, some two-to-many cups per day people are following the example of the squirrel and laying in supplies. They will probably be required to declare what they have on hand when applying for ration books, but like sugar, there will be many forgotten cans and jars and packages.

What would we think if the War

Department, for instance, should issue a statement that on a certain date, several weeks or even days in the future, our troops would make a landing on the coast of an European country, with the purpose of establishing a second front? Would we expect to make that landing without opposition, or would we most likely be greeted with artillery and other offensive weapons, and, the landing either prove a failure or a costly affair in blood and equipment? That in some degree what is being done with respect to rationing, but the administrators go merrily ahead, telling us what is going to be done and giving folks who are so inclined ample time in which to do their part toward helping inflation and creating scarcity for folks unable or unwilling to do likewise.

On top of this statement by a prominent coffee merchant in New York, that the WPB had brought ships from South and Central America with empty cargo space that could have carried coffee. He thinks folks will criticize the rationing order, and he is correct.

Washington Daybook—

Lord Halifax Fills Bill As British Goodwill Man

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—There have been enough barbs tossed at Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, to puncture a dozen lesser men.

Periodically, the rumor runs all over the place that he is to be recalled, but a couple of days before Christmas he will celebrate the second anniversary of his appointment and that will be a pretty good tenure for the wartime representative of one great ally to another.

One of the Ambassador's and Lady Halifax's chief duties since they have been here has been to run all over America's acres, good-willing it at every turn, and I claim they have done it with a good deal of grace and no little humor.

The couple just returned from a tour of midwestern war production centers and the representative of The Associated Press of Great Britain who accompanied them on the tour has a list of incidents that brought the British equivalent of guffaws from Lord Halifax and his lady.

Perhaps the Viscount's favorite was the one about the union official in Pittsburgh who was to be one of the principal guests at a luncheon. The official called Oliver Smalley, the British consul accompanying the party, and asked with some awe: "What time can we expect the good lord?"

There was also the time another member of the party entered his hotel room to find two window washers, leaning far out on their straps and gesticulating at something that was taking place on the sidewalk. The fellow approached

MURDER on the Campus

Chapter 13
SUSAN MAKES A TRIP
Todd's picture made Page One along with Phil Humphrey's that afternoon when the papers started to elaborate on the story.

POLICE QUIZ GRID STAR
No clues had been uncovered as yet, nor had any apparent motive been established. Dr. Stephen Coulter, reached by reporters at home where he was confined with a cold, was shocked almost beyond expression. He announced that the loss was a personal one to him, as well as to the university and science in general.

Susan's father telephoned late that afternoon inquiring for details. Patiently she told him she knew nothing more than what he had been reading in the papers. She promised she would call him if anything developed. She hung up, recalling that her father once had expressed a liking for Phil.

He was early after dinner when Sergeant Lake of the homicide bureau came to the Delta Sigma house. Mrs. Holmes, the house mother, ushered him into her office and called Susan.

He questioned her about the night before. Did she meet Todd Malone on Main Street? Did he walk home with her? What time did he leave her? In what direction had he gone when he left her?

Personal Questions
She answered his questions perfunctorily, almost mechanically, but with a slight resentment. It seemed the questions were so sharply pointed with suspicion.

"You're wasting your time," she blurted.

"Todd didn't have a thing to do with it. Why do you have to do this to him? He's already suffered one great personal blow, and now this comes up."

"At a time like this we have to sidetrack personal feelings, Miss Drake," Lake said.

"Even at the risk of ruining a man's whole career — his very life?" she flashed.

"Even at that risk," he nodded.

"You seem very concerned. You're in love with him?" Lake suggested coolly.

"In love with—?" She started to echo the question; he had hit her so abruptly she was unable to give him an instant answer. The idea itself was strange but it struck a funny chord within her.

"I'm not evading your question," she said finally, "but does that have anything to do with the case?"

"We never know," Todd he cocked his head sideways at her. "Your father is a detective lieutenant upstate, isn't he?"

"Yes."

"Does he know you've been seeing Malone?"

She felt the hot flush that came over her face. "I think you're getting a little too personal, needless," she said.

"I'll be the judge," he told her curtly. "But skip it." He looked at his watch. "Keep us in mind if you hear anything. Never can tell what a detective's daughter might turn up," he grinned.

Disappeared!

Todd had skipped all his classes that day. He hadn't even returned to the fraternity house for lunch. He stopped at a drug store on the outer fringe of the campus and got a malted milk. Then he started walking.

By the time he heard the three o'clock chimes he had circled back to Main Street. For the first time, then, he remembered football practice.

On his way to the stadium he noticed several people snatch quick, almost embarrassed glances as he passed.

He didn't bother to identify familiar faces. He didn't want to say anything to anyone, not even hello. He passed the cluster of oak trees in the center of the campus and a squirrel at the base of one of them scurried up the branches as he approached.

In the distance, about a quarter of a mile away, Todd saw the stadium towers in the later afternoon sun. He stopped, looked at the squirrel and decided he wasn't going to practice. Not that day, nor tomorrow. And he didn't give a hang what happened when Vanderbilt came to town, Saturday, for that matter.

He was sick of the whole thing. Right up to his neck. And if he never saw a football again it would make little difference. He didn't owe anybody anything, he reflected bitterly; he'd certainly given more than he'd received around here.

Susan heard the report on the radio that night. Todd Malone hadn't shown up for practice. He had returned to his fraternity house that afternoon about three and had left shortly afterwards.

The next day, Thursday, Todd was still missing. The sports writers fanned it up big. No one had seen him in two days. A mystery like that two days before a big inter-sectional game made dripping copy.

Detective headquarters called

Susan and asked if she had any ideas of his whereabouts. She gave them a flat no. But in her economics class the next afternoon an idea came to her. It grew on her as she rushed home. Hurriedly she changed clothes and ran to Peggy Cannon's room.

"Give me your car keys, Peg," she said swiftly. "No questions, Peg...this is an emergency."

Peggy pointed to her dresser. "Sure..."

Susan grabbed the keys and dashed downstairs and around to the rear of the house where Peg kept her car.

An hour later Susan parked near the state penitentiary in Centerville. She walked into the administration offices and introduced herself. "I'm Susan Drake. Possibly you know my father, Lieutenant Leo Drake. I'd like very much to see one of the prisoners—Duke Malone—for just a couple of minutes, even though it may be irregular at this time of day."

A deputy warden looked at her keenly. "Yes, I know your father. Visiting hours are over, though. I don't think—"

"Just five minutes," she implored. "It's so important."

"You're a friend of his?"

"I've never met him before—but that doesn't matter."

He looked at her closely again, silently filled out a slip and pressed a buzzer.

the window and attracted the attention of one of them, who pointed down to where Lord and Lady Halifax were entering a car.

In St. Louis, the "royal family" was introduced to a brand of humor that is as American as ham-and-eggs and tossed it off as if it were Yorkshire pudding.

For three days, a breezy young lady of the press was attached to the party, covering all of their social activities.

On the second day, the miss remarked to Lady Halifax: "You have been seeing so much of me, I'll bet you would know me if I were a mustache."

Lady Halifax hardly thought so. The next day when she stepped out of the elevator, there was the reporter and on her hip, a healthy mustache.

"I do know you," cried Lady Halifax—and a few seconds later added that she wondered if her husband would.

Lord Halifax got the point and laughed—but only after he had recovered from his consternation and had had it explained to him.

P-40's Used As Dive Bombers

WITH AMERICAN AIR FORCES IN CHINA, Oct. 31 (Delayed) (AP)—American airmen flying shark-nosed P-40's, known hereabouts as "pea-shooters," introduced a new trick in their air warfare with dive-bombing assault on Hongkong last Wednesday.

One big merchant ship was left in flames by a direct hit, and near-misses were scored against two others in this third raid within a week upon the Japanese-occupied British crown colony.

(The Japanese radio reported seven bombers raided Hongkong Wednesday, but said that no damage was inflicted and that one raider was shot down.)

This dive-bombing assault was the first in this theater by the Curtiss P-40's, built originally as fighters but now become jacks of all trades in the hands of resourceful Americans. Out here at the end of the U. S. army's longest supply line they make the best of what equipment is at hand—and then some.

"We are using them for about everything except submarines," Col. Robert L. Scott of Mason, Ga., a pursuit group commander, said of the "pea-shooters" which have filled the role of escorts for regular bombers, chasers, interceptors, level bombers and reconnaissance planes.

Thanks, Youngsters, Say Officials For Quietest Halloween In Years

City and county officers were full of praise today for the response of the youngsters to a plea to refrain from destroying property in the pursuit of Halloween fun.

"The quietest Halloween in years," was Police Chief J. B. Branton's comment, and City Manager Boyd McDaniel said he personally would like to thank children for their excellent conduct.

Branton added that his department made only three calls where pranks were involved, one of them at 701 Main, where a group of small boys had succeeded in rolling a large cement ball into the middle of the street. After its removal, following a heart-to-heart talk between officers and boys, the group apparently dispersed and no further trouble was reported.

Adults were not so well behaved, however, and city police made seven calls to localities where fights had been reported. Nine persons were arrested and charged with affray. Drunks also were a little more numerous than usual, but police figured the weekend was relatively quiet considering that Saturday was not only Halloween but payday for soldiers and most civilians. The county's only activity was a total of five cases of drunkenness.

Parley Called On Soldier Hospitality

All ministers of Big Spring are being convoked for a 10:30 a. m. meeting Wednesday in the chamber of commerce offices in an effort to polish plans for an all-out effort to have every available army man here in a local home on Nov. 15.

The meeting is being called by the chamber of commerce to make sure that all churches are represented in the parley. Each pastor will be asked to see that proper committees are named in all churches to ascertain how many men will be invited by the members.

Persons not affiliated with any local church are urged to join in the invitation. Eloise Haley said that the University Women would take the lead in handling participation on this direction.

So far as is known, the goal of having all available army men in local homes is the most pretentious ever undertaken by a city of this size.

Dairy Poultry Prices Lead In Farm Increases

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—Substantial increases in prices received for dairy and poultry products during the month ended Oct. 15 led a general gain in Texas farm returns, the United States Department of Agriculture announced today.

Price increases were noted for 18 of the 30 commodities reported upon, there was no change in five, and seven recorded declines from mid-September. Prices received for all these products with the exception of sheep, cottonseed and soybeans, were substantially higher than a year ago.

The trend in Texas matched the national picture. Prices received by farmers over the United States were by index six points higher on Oct. 15 than they were on Sept. 15.

In Texas important commodities showing price increases over mid-September were cottonseed, up $1.40 per ton; butter, up 2 cents per pound; butterfat, up 4 cents per pound; whole milk, up 10 cents per 100 pounds; turkeys, up 2 cents per pound; eggs, up 40 cents per dozen; and hogs, up 40 cents per 100 pounds. Important commodities showing substantial price decreases were rice, down 20 cents per bushel; grain sorghum, down 12 cents per bushel; cowpeas down 15 cents per bushel and sweet potatoes, down 25 cents per bushel.

Here 'n There

D. B. (Bland) Cross is preparing to move machinery in for the construction of 16 miles of terraces on his place in the Lomax area. Terracing equipment also is to be moved from the John Davis farm to the W. F. Armstrong farm where part of a quarter-section terracing program will be started.

Men at the Big Spring Army Air Force Bomber School are bond minded, too, as figures from the school's postoffice Saturday will show. The office there ran around $2,500 in bonds for the one day.

Mrs. P. W. Malone, who has been visiting her parents in Humboldt, Tenn., and those of Dr. Malone at Watertown, Tenn., returned home Monday. She was back at her place handling housing placements at the chamber of commerce. Mrs. Larson Lloyd has been serving in her place since she has been gone.

Betty Gay, accompanied by her grandmother, Mrs. R. E. Gay, left during the weekend to visit relatives in the Texarkana and DeKalb areas. They plan to be gone about two weeks.

Unless a few men were super-hot or else exceeded the bag limit, the duck crop was not materially harmed in the initial round of hunting as the season opened Monday morning. A check at the post-office showed only about 40 duck hunting stamps sold. Without these, no person over 16 years of age can legally hunt the birds.

Miss Sarah Ann Williamson of San Angelo has joined the staff of clerks at the United States Employment Service area office here, O. R. Rodden has announced. The office services eight counties in this area.

The local War Price and Ration Board announced today that it has on hand a supply of OPA forms R145, which are applications to establish inventory of Grade III passenger cars. Any tire dealers who need these forms may call at the ration board for them.

C. E. Talbot will be lay delegate to the Northwest Texas Methodist conference at Sweetwater, November 11th to 15th, and will be accompanied by Mrs. Talbot. In addition, several others are expected to attend the sessions from here.

Police are searching for a green Chevrolet automobile reported to have struck two small boys on a bicycle Saturday evening about 7:30 in front of the Holman Grocery, 200 N. Gregg street. Occupants of the automobile were said to be negroes, who failed to stop and render assistance. The youths were not injured.

Variety Show Series Off To Good Start

Good public response and a program that clicked on every point successfully launched a new series of Sunday afternoon free community entertainment at the city auditorium Sunday.

Around 750 persons were on hand to hear and see a parade of local and soldier talent. All numbers drew vigorous applause and some were cheered back for more than scheduled selections.

The program, designed primarily to give soldiers something to occupy their time Sunday afternoon, struck a big civilian response, too.

Wanda Lou Petty and Billy Bob Bohannon scored a hit with a novelty number. Pvt. Joe Klary, tenor from Alabama, also drew down the house with his numbers, and other soldier performances, instrumental, were hits. Eloise Haley was roundly applauded for a reading, and so was a brass ensemble from the high school band.

Sgt. Marcus A. Williams directed an ensemble from the young bombardier school band. Members included Pvt. Hal Harris, Pvt. Eugene Narath, Cpl. Velt. N. Rice, Cpl. Vernon Barnes, Pfc. Harry T. Tosch, and Pvt. Samuel L. Harman.

Master of ceremonies was the Rev. Dick O'Brien, with Dan Conley assisting. Accompaniment was furnished by Mrs. J. H. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Anne Gibson Houser.

Second in the series will be heard Sunday from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m. in the city auditorium.

Youth Faces A Crucial Period, Says Rainey

DALLAS, Nov. 2. (AP)—Speaking at the closing session of the State Baptist Student Union convention yesterday, Dr. Homer P. Rainey of Austin declared the youth of this country are facing the most crucial responsibility and the most critical testing period any generation ever faced.

The University of Texas president pointed out that although the youth of the nation are defending their way of life "at the point of a gun, a more crucial period will come later when it will be their task to defend democracy after peace has been made."

Preceding Dr. Rainey were two speakers who urged banishing alcohol as a beverage. They were Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church here, and Bishop H. A. Boaz of Southern Methodist University.

Invited to attend the closing session were the Dallas County and United Texas Dry Forces. Convention delegates voted to work for the purchase of war bonds to be used in financing their anti-alcohol crusade and to educate and Christianize the post-war world.

Funds from the bonds would be used to form anti-alcohol education committees and student crusades in 66 Texas institutions of higher learning.

Cotton Damaged In Compress Fire

Fire at the Big Spring Compress company Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock caused an estimated one-third loss to 75 bales of cotton stacked on the compress lot.

Cause of the blaze was unknown, but the fact that the fire started in the northeast corner of the lot and the wind was out of the southwest prevented its spreading to several thousand other bales stacked on the lot, according to Fire Chief Ollie Cordill.

The 75 bales damaged were not considered a total loss since many were charred only on the outside.

The damage was covered by insurance.

Billy Muth Heard By Large Crowd In Organ Concert

More than 400 persons Sunday afternoon heard an hour's organ concert given at the First Baptist church by Billy Muth, Fort Worth, among the outstanding organists of the nation.

Muth was at the console of the new Hammond organ, given the church by one of its members and heard for the first time Sunday.

His selections, which showed exceptional choice considering the occasion and the audience, were played expertly and with feeling. At the conclusion of his regular series, which included some of the classics, semi-classics and popular melodies, he played two groups of three numbers each requested by the audience... and he got a surprising number of bids for bits from the masters from his listeners.

Ration Board Needs Use Of Typewriter

If you have a typewriter that is not in use, the War Price and Ration Board will be more than pleased if you'll offer it to them as they are down to one portable typewriter to carry on the mound of paper work in their office.

Typewriters that have been in use were borrowed too, and the owners came to claim them, leaving the officials to take turns on the one portable.

American Airlines Schedule Changed

Eastbound schedule for American Airlines has been changed again.

Effective Sunday, the time of departure was shoved up to 5:08 p. m.

This in turn necessitated a revision in the arrival closing time, said Postmaster Nat Shick. Henceforth, the eastbound arrival will close out at the postoffice at 4:45 p. m. Efforts are being made to have the bus, which carries the airmail star route from Monahan to here, deposit its mail at the airport in order to make connections with the plane on the new schedule. As it stands, the bus does not reach the station downtown until four minutes after the plane is scheduled to leave.

Tax Payments Falling Off

Although quite a few taxpayers were taking advantage of the extra day allowed for receiving 3 per cent discount on 1942 assessments to make payments over the counter, few payments were being received through the mails.

Tax offices reported a rush mail business Saturday, but practically all collections made today were brought to the office.

Requests Orders Now On Christmas Issue Of War Cry

Persons who anticipate giving additional copies of the Christmas issue of the War Cry and Navy Christmas greetings are urged to contact Maj. L. W. Channing this week.

"In order to get these extra copies," he said, "I must let the Atlanta office know by the end of this week."

In many places, he said, individuals and business bought a few or many extra copies of the Christmas issue of the War Cry and Navy Christmas cards. Maj. Channing hoped that response here would be such that he might have enough of these extra copies to give to every soldier stationed in Big Spring.
