"A sell-out crowd is expected for this long-awaited artist," stated Dr. Gene Hemmle, music department head.

Students will be admitted to the concert on presentation of activity books with adult seat tickets set at $3, $2.50 and $1.50.

Election Statutes Violations Claimed

By JOAN ABEL
Tuesday Issue Editor

Twelve candidates for Student Council representative positions were disqualified in committee action last night because they failed to turn in an expense account by 5 p.m. yesterday.

Six candidates running for the Arts and Sciences position were disqualified. They are Johanna Zournas, Caroline Wood, Judy Harris, Donna Abraham, Ann Graves and Kay Adkins.

Cheerleader candidates Monita Apple, Jay Johnson and Joe Naylor were disqualified.

In the race for Home Economics representative, Sammie Fowler failed to meet the election regulations.

Two engineering candidates to the Student Council, Tom Shamburger and Don Spencer, were also disqualified.

"Decision Not Easy"—Committee

"This decision was not an easy one to make, but a mimeographed sheet of election regulations was made available to each of the candidates, along with notification in the Toreador," stated a report made by the election committee. "We want it clearly understood that no personalities were involved in the decision."

"As I see it, no one is to blame for this situation but the candidates themselves," said Student Association President Wallace Wilson. "If they cannot take care of the responsibilities of a candidate, how then can they assume the responsibility of representing the student body's best interests on the Student Council?" he added.

"It is an unfortunate situation when for some unknown reasons these 12 candidates were disqualified but my question is 'how else can an organization function properly if its rules and regulations are not enforced?'" Wilson concluded.

The six-member committee disqualified the 12 candidates without knowing the names or number of violators.

Candidates Invited To Submit Excuses

Disqualified candidates have been invited to appear before the committee and submit any reasons they might have for not obeying the regulations.

These 12 students were violating the rule in the mimeographed regulation sheet which read: April 8—"An itemized expense account must be turned in to the Student Council office by 5 p.m. If the materials in your campaign were of no expense or were given to you, please estimate those costs. This does not include the cut of your picture."

Governor Appoints Three To Board

Gov. Price Daniel has named three new members to the Tech Board of Directors, subject to approval of the Texas Senate.

The trio, named to six year terms, are: C. I. (Stony) Wall, Amarillo; Harold Hinn, Plainview; Floyd Woodriddle, Dallas.

Daniel said each had been active in support of Tech's growth and expansion.

The new members succeed Charles C. Thompson, Colorado City; Tom F. Abbott, Fort Worth; George E. Benson, Lubbock. Thompson served on the board 19 years and asked not to be considered for reappointment. Daniel said. Thompson was chairman of the Board for 17 of the 19 years.

Wall, president of Pioneer Natural Gas Co., was a Lubbock resident from 1935 to 1956 when he moved to Amarillo to his present post.

He is a director of the First National Bank in Amarillo, a director of the Quanah, Acme and Pacific Railway Co., and a former president of the Red Raider Club.

Hinn is president and general manager of Harvest Queen Mill and Elevator Co. and a director of Citizen's National Bank in Lubbock. He has served on the board of directors of the Texas Tech Foundation.

Woodriddle is a 1931 graduate of Tech. He majored in business administration and was a quarterback on the first Matador football team. Woodriddle is secretary-treasurer of Elgin Corp. of Dallas. He formerly was with Schlumberger Well Surveying Corp. in Houston.

Woodriddle is the older brother of Charles Woodriddle, who was a member of the Board of Directors from 1948 to 1954.

With the appointment of Woodriddle, there are now four Tech graduates on the board. The others include: W. D. Watkins, Abilene; P. C. Callaway, Corpus Christi; Jim Lindsey, Midland.

Other members of the board are: Douglas Orme, Big Spring; J. Evetts Haley, Canyon; Tom Lineberry, Kermit.

HOUR OF DECISION...

Texas Tech students will go to the polls tomorrow to elect next year's Student Council and cheerleaders.

Before voting we hope that Techsians will carefully examine the qualifications of the candidates, not only to secure good council members, but to prevent some unqualified candidates from getting elected strictly on their popularity, club affiliations and by "block voting."

This year there has been a general lack of interest in the election. Some students may think campus affairs are dominated by the college administrative and faculty interests, and adopt a "well, what can we do about it" attitude; others may lose interest because candidates are not personally known to them; or it may be that they care nothing at all about student government.

We believe there is not one student on the campus who has been satisfied with all conditions at Tech this year. Instead of complaining from day to day, which does little good at all, we suggest that they go to the polls tomorrow and elect qualified students to champion their interests and intercede for them in times of trouble.

If all students demand of their candidates the furtherance of their own ideas in student government there will be a more satisfactory relationship between students and the administration.

We hope that Techsians will show enough interest in tomorrow's election to go to the polls and elect only qualified students to represent them next year. Failure to take advantage of this opportunity will only increase student difficulties.

—Wayne James

CUSSING 'N DISCUSSING...

It is commonplace on the Tech campus to hear students cussing and discussing certain aspects of campus life which they think should be improved — for instance, the parking problem.

But this seems to be as far as it goes — cussing and discussing, mainly cussing! A prime example of the apathy which blights our campus was furnished last Tuesday evening at a panel discussion, "No Parking On Campus For Students," held in the Student Union to let students air their opinions and try to arrive at possible solutions to the parking situation.

Though well advertised by placards across campus and a story in the Toreador only 27 students attended the discussion. Consider the percentage: 27 people out of better than 6,000, of which number the vast majority contends with the problem daily!

With the second largest campus in America, Tech has one of the worst traffic and parking situations in the nation. And added to this is a $3.50 parking permit required of all students from the sophomore level up — a price which is $2.50 higher than the two other colleges in Texas, that have parking fees.

It doesn't take a genius to know that something is wrong with this, and that such a situation deserves attention, should be remedied.

Yet only 27 students will concern themselves enough to go to a meeting designed to make at least a start in solving the problem.

It seems to us that something is drastically wrong when thousands of students sit around complaining about a situation, yet will not muster the energy required to walk a few blocks, sit for an hour and listen to a discussion of the problem.

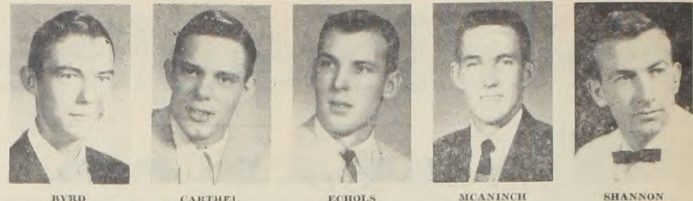

Apparently we aren't as concerned as we would like to have ourselves think. We just want to lean back and cuss something. We don't want to do anything about it. That would be too much trouble!

And this attitude doesn't concern just parking. This is only one example. The apathy is characteristic of all issues on campus. From dormitory issues to school spirit in athletic events, Tech is drifting along in a deliciously apathetic, let-someone-else-do-it dream world which can have but one result — gradual downfall of the school.

Coming up this week are student elections. The overwhelming odds are that the elections, as everything else, will be but another demonstration of our apathy. More than likely only a small per cent of students will vote, leaving a small minority electing student government leaders; and thus, in turn, causing a minority rule.

No institution — as no person — is any better than its spirit. John Q. Techsian, get up off it!

TECHSANS TALK BACK

Dear Editor,

In comment to the article in the Toreador by Wayne James, I would like to make a few statements. First of all, I would like to tell Wayne where probably six thousand of those missing six thousand and thirty-five students were Tuesday night. It is my unbiased opinion that they were somewhere studying as I was. When the study schedules were made out by the responsible parties, it was overlooked that meetings such as the one Tuesday would be held this year. I am sure that had they known, there would have been provisions made to allow maybe another 27 students to attend. I think that you can see what I am driving at. Therefore, I shall discontinue that particular subject and say a little about the parking conditions.

Is it (parking) a problem? Yes it is a problem, and that is the understatement of the year. I would imagine, I would like to know just what has been done with that $3.50 per auto? For six thousand automobiles registered, that would be a grand total of about $19,000.00. That money could have been spent for increasing the parking spaces.

Straying just a little from the subject, I would like to say a little about beauty. We have beautiful campus here, most students know, with the beautiful grass and trees. Now I ask every Tech student to think about a simple little question. Was this college provided as an ornament for West Texas, or was this institution founded to provide for an education? You know the answer as well as I do. Needless to say, some of this land which is covered with grass could be put to better use by plowing it up and paving it, providing more space in which to park. Now I am not an athlete and I am not lazy, but I cannot even visualize, much less enjoy, walking half the distance across the city of Lubbock just to get to class.

I have just one comment, it is about the closing of the 14th street entrance. That would be, in my opinion, as bad as starting classes at four a.m. Having several cars waiting for a "break" at College and Broadway would be similar to showing up at 10 p.m. for dinner in the dormitory. In short, someone is going to miss a meal at noon and I don't want it to be me. Also by closing the 14th street entrance, more traffic would be thrown in front of the dormitories endangering the lives of several hundred dorm residents.

Gerald Eugene Bradley 1504 Ave. X

Thanks for your letter on the petition form being signed by some 8,000 students at Texas Tech, in support of legislation to increase the salaries of teachers at that college.

I am pleased to know that we are in agreement as to the need for this legislation which I have requested and endorsed. You may be sure I shall continue to do all I can to secure its passage and enactment into law.

Sincerely yours, Price Daniel, Governor of Texas

Tech Cops Texas Relays; Favored Shorthorns Third

Texas Tech reached its highest peak in recent years in the track world this past weekend, taking first place in the 30th running of the Texas Relays. The Picadors amassed 35 points to earn top honors. Baylor was second with 26 points, and the Texas Shorthorns, pre-meet favorites, third with 20.

Hurdler Tommy Patterson won Tech's initial first place in Texas Relays competition, winning the high hurdle race in 14.8 seconds. In the same race, Charles Bode finished third, and James Harvey fifth, giving the Tech frosh 18 points in the one event, over half of its points.

W. L. Thornton, who had won his event outright in the previous two Picador meets, was forced to settle for a tie in his specialty, the high jump. He and Loyd Little of Southwest Texas each cleared the bar at 6 ft., 4 and 3/4 in., but neither could clear an inch higher. By dividing first and second-place points in this event, Thornton gave the Little Red Raiders nine valuable points.

In a Friday night final the mile relay team, composed of Owen Christian, Doyle Herring, Roger Crawford and Tommy Davis, finished third, although having their best time of the year, 3:19. Davis had an outstanding 47.1 anchor lap on the relay.

The sprint medley relay team, running far off its usual form, finished fifth. Members of this relay team were: Owen Christian, Doyle Herring, Roger Crawford and Tommy Davis.

Earlier Friday the Picadors had lost a chance for sure points in the 440-yard relay, when the sprint team was disqualified in the preliminaries for passing the baton out of the restraint zone. Tech's time in this event was 43 seconds flat, third among the preliminary marks.

Coach Delmer Brown, pleased at the rousing finish staged by his Picadors to take their third meet in as many tries, will enter his third-clads in a meet this weekend at Abilene against the Abilene Christian, Texas Christian frosh. Originally a four-way meet, it has been learned that the Baylor freshmen will not compete. The Picadors, on the basis of their most recent showing, should be overwhelming favorites in the triangular meet.

VIDEOT'S DELIGHT

The academic world has made its first tentative steps into television. A few lectures, a few seminars, but may I respectfully suggest that the academic world has not yet learned the full potential of television?

Why don't the colleges use television's vast capacity to dramatize, to amuse, to unshackle the imagination? Like, for example, this:

ANNOUNCER: Howdy, folks. Well, it's time again for that lovable, laughable pair, Emmett Twonkey Magruder, Ph.D., and Felicia May Crimscott, M.A., in that rollicking, roistering fun show, American History 101. . . . And here they are, the team that took the "hiss" out of "history"—Emmett Twonkey Magruder and Felicia May Crimscott!

"A funny thing happened to me on the way to my doctorate."

DR. MAGRUDER: Howdy, folks. A funny thing happened to me on the way to my doctorate. A mendicant approached me and said, "Excuse me, sir, will you give me 25 cents for a sandwich?" I replied, "Perhaps I will, my good man. Let me see the sandwich."

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Oh, how droll, Dr. Magruder! How piquant! How je ne sais quoi! . . . But enough of badinage. Let us get on with our rollicking, roistering fun show, American History 101.

DR. MAGRUDER: Today we will dramatize the taut and tingling story of John Smith and Pocahontas. I will play Captain Smith and Miss Crimscott will play Pocahontas.

ANNOUNCER: But first a message from our sponsor. . . . Folks, have you tried a Philip Morris lately? Have you treated yourself to that good natural tobacco — zesty yet mild, hearty yet gentle, rich yet dulcet? Hmmm? Have you? . . . If not, light a Philip Morris soon. Light either end. . . . And now to our grim and gripping story. Picture, if you will, a still summer night. An Indian maid stands by a moonlit brook. Suddenly she hears a footstep behind her. She turns. . . .

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Oh! John Smith! You-um startle-um me-um!

DR. MAGRUDER: Hello, Pocahontas. What are you doing down by the brook?

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Just washing out a few scalps. But what-um you-um want-um?

DR. MAGRUDER: I came to see the Chief.

MISS CRIMSCOTT: You-um can't-um. Chief is leaving for Chicago.

DR. MAGRUDER: On what track?

ANNOUNCER: And speaking of tracks, stay on the right track with Philip Morris — the track that heads straight for smoking pleasure, for fun, for frolic, for sweet content. . . . And now back to those two cool cats, Emmett Twonkey Magruder and Felicia May Crimscott.

DR. MAGRUDER: Well, folks, that's all for today. See you next week, same time, same station.

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Stay tuned now for "William Cullen Bryant: Girl Intern."

ANNOUNCER: And remember, folks, each end of Philip Morris is ignitable. It's just good, rich, natural tobacco, any way you light it!

Any way you light it, it's great. Any way you like it — long size or regular — we've got it. Natural Philip Morris! Made by the people who bring you this column.

ACC Drops Tech; Kent Misses Tilt

The Red Raider tennis team met defeat for the second time this season Friday, losing to Abilene Christian College at Abilene, 4-2. Playing without their number two singles player, David Kent, the Raiders were apparently weakened.

Kent, who became ill before match time, was held out by Coach George Philbrick, in the light of an upcoming Southwest Conference tour. Kent, running a 102-degree fever, was replaced by Scott Cantine, usually the number five Raider netter, who also replaced Kent in number one doubles.

Tech hosts West Texas State in matches this afternoon, traveling to Hardin-Simmons tomorrow.

get a faster payout with a RETARDED ACID

Certain formations, notably fast-reacting fractured or vugular limestones, respond better to a retarded acid than to either regular acid or fracturing treatments.

Dowell offers two acids with a retarded action. Each is especially suited to treating certain variations of these limey formations.

First, there's Dowell Retarded Acid. It is a regular acid with a special Dowell-developed additive that slows down acid action after the formation is initially etched. It gives excellent results in some cases where no other treatments are profitable.

Second, there's Acid Petrofrac®. It employs an acid-oil emulsion that reacts slowly until the emulsion is broken. This emulsion has been extremely successful when used as a retarded acid.

Perhaps your producing zone is the other extreme—a slow-reacting dolomite that responds best to an intensified acid. In any case, you may be sure that your Dowell Engineer can tailor the right treatment for your well.

For more information or service, call any of the 165 Dowell offices in the United States and Canada; in Venezuela, contact United Oilwell Service, or write to Dowell Incorporated, Tulsa 1, Oklahoma.
