

Texas Demo Chiefs Snub Nat'l Party

MINERAL WELLS, Tex., Feb. 27 (AP)—Texas Democratic leaders today charted a future course for their party of independence both from the national Democratic leadership and the Republican Party. In final sessions of the reorganizing state Young Democrat convention, Gov. Allan Shivers and others spelled out the party position.

Delegates cheered and applauded Shivers as his speech climaxed what many regarded as a dress rehearsal of what will happen later this year in senior party affairs. Shivers declared that the fight on Communism should not be an issue between the two parties.

"We just ought to get together and catch all of them," Shivers said. "For me, you can hang them up by their toes."

Other significant developments today included:

1. An announcement by Wallace Savage of Dallas, state executive committee chairman, that cross-filing of candidates in party primaries will be regarded by the Democrats as illegal.

This has the effect of shutting the door on any suggestion of cooperation with the GOP such as the 1952 Shivers-led revolt in the presidential election campaign.

2. An admission by Tennessee Gov. Frank Clement, who remained loyal to the party in 1952, that there is room for disagreement within Democratic ranks.

Clement's address, delivered immediately prior to Shivers', was to the effect that although Shivers and his supporters might be wrong their right to disagree with national leadership should be respected.

3. A reorganization and reactivation of the Texas Young Democratic movement, dormant since the last state convention was held in 1949.

The new movement was launched after Shivers' "loyal" Democratic enemies stole a march last year by attempting to create a fresh junior party.

Shivers made it plain in his speech he regarded the ill-fated gesture as an attempt to embarrass him personally.

With that, he gave his open blessing to the delegates, who almost without exception came from clubs friendly to him.

The result was to deliver into conservative hands a potent instrument for helping that faction of the senior party hold control in precinct, county and state conventions to be held later this year.

Savage said he will reject the application of any Democratic candidate who allows himself to be cross filed, pending action of the committee.

The state leader said a meeting of the committee will be called prior to the May 3 deadline for candidates filing for election and after the March 15 special session of the Legislature ends.

He said the date probably will be between April 15 and April 20.

Refusal of the Democratic Party to allow primary cross filing would have the effect of ruling it out in the general election, since the Republicans are bound this year to name candidates by primary.

If they couldn't nominate Democrats in their primaries, they would have no opportunity to get their names on the general election ballot under the GOP ticket.

Cross filing was practiced for the first time in 1952, when Gov. Allan Shivers and other state officials won election as candidates both of the Republicans and Democratic parties.

On that occasion, however, cross filing was not attempted in the

'COLD' CASH NOW IS HOT

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Feb. 27 (AP)—Anthony Giordano, who kept his cold cash in the refrigerator along with the beer, is looking for a new hiding place today. Giordano, who operates Big's Tavern, told police that $217 in bills, that had been wedged between cans of beer in the refrigerator, had been stolen. "I figured the refrigerator was a safer place than the cash register," he said. "The cash register was robbed a month and a half ago."

Continental, Pioneer Both Okay Merger

DENVER, Feb. 27 (AP)—Stockholders of Continental Air Lines and Pioneer Air Lines have approved agreements providing for Continental to purchase the routes and certain assets of Pioneer.

The Pioneer meeting was held in Dallas today and the Continental said in a statement today.

The Pioneer meeting was held in Dallas today and the Continental said in a statement today.

Final consolidation of the routes and services of the airlines hinges upon approval of the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington.

If approved, the consolidated routes of the two lines would provide one-carrier service to 50 cities in six states in the Rocky Mountain and Southwestern regions.

The agreement which stockholders of the two airlines have approved calls for Continental to purchase the routes and assets of Pioneer for cash and 65,000 shares of Continental stock.

Continental would acquire the nine Martin 202's now owned by Pioneer and assume the liability of the bank debt incurred for the purchase of the 202's.

Robert F. Six, president of Continental, will head the combined airline as president. Robert J. Smith, president of Pioneer and William F. Long, chairman of the Pioneer board of directors, will become members of Continental's board of directors.

About 1,377 persons would be employed by the combined carrier and route mileage would approximate 3,176 miles.

Man Seriously Hurt In Shooting

Victor Yanez, 36-year-old resident of Morita who was shot in the Central Cafe here about 5 p.m. Saturday, was in serious condition at a local hospital shortly before midnight.

Police were holding a 20-year-old Latin-American in connection with the incident.

Yanez was taken to Cowper Hospital following the shooting, and he received immediate surgery.

The bullet entered his left abdominal region and the attending physician said it perforated his stomach, the duodenum and the liver.

The bullet came to rest in Yanez's back muscles. He lost considerable blood, the doctor said, and was in a condition of shock.

Yanez was shot while playing shuffleboard in the cafe. Police Officer Amos Johnson, who questioned people in the cafe, said the man who shot Yanez apparently just came to the door and fired.

There was no fight immediately preceding the shooting, Johnson said.

Police officers arrested the youthful Latin-American at his home shortly after Yanez was taken to the hospital. Officers said the man had a .22 pistol in his possession at the time of arrest.

Revolt Threat Brings Naguib Back In Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 27 (AP)—The threat of a revolt in army ranks forced Egypt's young military ruler tonight to restore popular Gen. Mohamed Naguib to the presidency.

An army spokesman said Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, who engineered Naguib's ouster on Thursday, would be Prime Minister. Before Thursday Naguib held both posts.

An official announcement broadcast to Egypt's millions said the decision was taken to "preserve the unity of the nation."

But even before the radio spread the word, thousands of cheering Egyptians gathered before Naguib's house in a Cairo suburb. There the smiling general, under house arrest since Thursday, slipped a brown bathrobe over his pajamas and waved to his people from the terrace.

In the streets of Cairo, where a few hours before armed police and soldiers stood guard to prevent possible rioting, scores of impromptu parades started, with the enthusiastic crowds shouting such slogans as "God save Naguib!" and "No revolution without Naguib."

Tears of joy ran down Naguib's cheeks as he told a reporter "we must all sacrifice ourselves for the sake of Egypt. This dissolution is a tempest in a teapot." Naguib, 53, wore his major general's uniform as he waited to be called before a meeting of the 11-member Revolutionary Council.

The communique broadcast to 20 million Egyptians said: "The Revolutionary Council announced that to preserve the unity of the nation the council decided to restore Gen. Naguib as President of Egypt and Gen. Naguib has accepted."

This council of young military leaders announced early Thursday that Naguib had been removed as president and premier because he wanted to assume the powers of a dictator.

The bitter split within the council leaked to the public this morning as 36-year-old Nasser moved up tanks and field guns to guard army headquarters.

For hours the 11 young officers argued, then finally decided to back down and restore Naguib as chief of state in the interest of Egyptian unity.

The grim showdown which occurred without the shooting that seemed possible earlier in the day ended with Naguib more firmly established than ever as the popular hero of Egypt.

The question remaining was whether Naguib would be content to remain a figurehead President, as he has been in the past, with Nasser exercising the real power as Premier.

Mrs. Roosevelt Sees Lone Star Problem

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) is dangerous to America "because he is creating fear throughout the country without any enlightenment."

Mrs. Roosevelt said at a news conference that there is increased interest in U. N. now in some areas where opposition to it or some of its branches has been strong. She mentioned Southern California and the Middle West.

"The tendency in the Midwest," she said, "is away from isolationism."

Texas is a special problem, she said, because certain wealthy groups seem to be afraid of principles for which the U. N. stands.

Stanton Population Is Back Near Peak

By WAYLAND YATES
STANTON (SC)—Mayor Woodford Sale and Chamber of Commerce Manager Hilla (Stormy) Weathers estimate Stanton's population is about back up to its 1951 peak of some 3,250 persons.

Re-opening of oil operations in the Spraberry Trend, construction of gasoline and liquefied petroleum gas storage and loading facilities near Stanton, and the start of construction on the Highway 80 "freeway" all have contributed to an influx of residents in recent months, the officials say.

Three More Candidates In Race For Posts On City Commission

The field of candidates for Big Spring city commission posts increased to four Saturday. Filing for places on the ballot independently were Jack Y. Smith, one of three incumbents, W. D. Berry and Alfred G. Goodson. A. G. Mitchell, the other candidate, had filed a week earlier.

Current terms of Frank Hardesty, Cecil McDonald and Smith expire this year. The posts will be filled at an election scheduled for April 6. March 6 is the deadline for candidates to file with the city secretary.

Jack Y. Smith said Saturday that he is submitting his name as a candidate for reelection to the City Commission. Smith is one of three present Commission members whose term expires this year. The city election will be held April 6.

Smith is closing out three terms as a council member. He said Saturday: "I feel that this experience serves to make me more useful to my fellow citizens as one of their Commissioners. During my tenure, it has certainly been my one aim to act and vote solely in the best interests of the city. If the people see fit to retain me in office, 'I will continue to be my aim."

Smith recalled that a great many developments have occurred while he has served on the Commission. Among them, the reactivation of Webb Air Force Base, the paving expansion of the city's water supply through affiliation with the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

"Our city has made many great strides, but of course there is much work yet to be done. If I can serve in any small way in helping further the development of Big Spring, I want to do it. It is on this basis that I offer my candidacy."

Smith has resided in Big Spring for 20 years, coming here after finishing his schooling at Abilene. He has been with Coaden Petroleum Corporation all that time, serves as its personnel manager. He has been active in many civic affairs. He has been president and deputy district governor of the Lions Club, president of the YMCA, the Big Spring Country Club and Red Cross chairman.

W. D. Berry filed Saturday with the city secretary for a place on the ballot in the April 6 city election. Berry, a resident of Big Spring for the past 15 years, is president of the SCVAK telephone company, operating telephone properties in Howard, Martin and Dawson counties. He also has been an employee of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. for 28 years, is coordinator of the Big Spring-Howard County Civil Defense Disaster committee, a member of the Kiwanis Club, past chairman of the Boys and Girls work in Division No. 12 of Kiwanis International, a former squadron commander in the Civil Air Patrol and a member of the Communications Workers of America. He is a member of the First Baptist Church and past president of the Business Men's Bible Class.

Berry is a home owner, residing at 106 Canyon Drive. He is married and has two sons. In announcing Berry said his only purpose in being a candidate for the city commission was a duty to serve the citizens of Big Spring and that he had no personal interest to represent, since all of his personal business interests are outside the city.

"If elected, I hope to bring our city and county governments closer together whereby the citizens of Big Spring and Howard County will each receive more for their tax dollars," Berry said.

He said he hoped to see a fire station for the north side, more and better city parks, a recreation department for the City of Big Spring, better sanitation facilities for certain sections of the city "so that other sections will not suffer by these conditions that now exist."

Berry said he thought these factors were the city's responsibility and that they should be provided for "our American way of life and health for our citizens."

He promised close cooperation with all members of the commission and city employees, pledging himself to work toward one goal: "to make Big Spring a city we all can be proud of."

Items For Spring Featured Among Dollar Day Bargains

This spring feeling is in the air, and this means people are interested in seasonal items for the home and the yard, as well as for personal use and wear by all members of the family. Their interest can reap dividends in Big Spring's regular monthly Dollar Day, which comes Monday. More than ever before, merchants in the city, those downtown and those in suburban trading areas, have coordinated their sales offerings to make Big Spring a stand-out shopping center for this first Monday event. The city folks throughout the area will do well to "shop Big Spring" this Dollar Day. Many of the major value offerings are found in advertisements in today's Herald. Local women shoppers again may have free bus transportation by clipping and using the coupon below, as it specifies. This is through courtesy of The Herald and the City Bus Lines.

AUSTIN, Feb. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Allan Shivers, wife of the governor, underwent minor surgery at Seton Hospital today for an ear infection.

An aide of the governor said the illness was not considered serious but Mrs. Shivers would probably stay in the hospital for two or three days to speed up recovery.

Three Negroes Held In Dallas Rape Case

DALLAS, Feb. 27 (AP)—Three Negroes were arrested today for questioning about a 28-year-old white woman's story of being forced into a car last night by two Negroes who then raped her.

Detective Capt. Will Fritz said the three fit the description given by the woman of two men who curbed her car, chased her across a field, then forced her into their car.

Fritz said a car found abandoned here late last night was not the one used in the attack. The car, stolen earlier in the evening from a used car lot, has covers on the back seat and the victim was certain the car she was forced into had no covers, he explained.

Fritz said the woman, wife of a city fireman, would be asked to view the three men in police lineups as soon as she feels better. Her husband said today she was physically bruised on the legs, nose and cheek and was "in pretty bad shape."

Cattle continue to be steady to strong on our local market. Butcher stuff was up half a cent on the top side, and steers were slightly stronger on better grades. In view of the dust, we can't see what keeps them up. They say that successive generations of flies can produce one immune to DDT. May be we're breeding some cattle immune to grass.

First Soap Box Derby Entry

Big Spring youngsters started registering Saturday for the Soap Box Derby, and the first to appear was Avery Falkner Jr., 13, (right) shown signing the official blank as his father (left) and David Simms of Tidwell Chevrolet Co. look on. Boys between the ages of 11 and 15 are urged to register promptly at the Tidwell firm, for participation in the big event. Local races will be staged in July, under sponsorship of Chevrolet, The Herald, and the Lions Club, and the local winner will have an all-expense-paid trip to Akron, Ohio, to compete in the All-America race, where $15,000 in college scholarships will be awarded. A parent must accompany the boy when he registers. He gets a free book of rules giving full information on the Derby.

Views Of Business Outlook For Rest Of '54 Optimistic

What's the state of American business as the month of March approaches—the month President Eisenhower has said will tell the story of which way the economy is headed?

A nationwide Associated Press survey of trends during January and February gives this answer: business is off compared with the first two months of 1953, the greatest year in the American economy. This is the situation today: Gross national product—the total dollar volume of goods and services sold—in the first quarter of this year apparently will drop to an annual rate at least 3 1/2 billion dollars below that of 1953's last quarter.

The Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production is off about 8 per cent from a year ago. Department store sales are running about 1 per cent below a year ago, although many cities report that they're doing slightly better. New car sales are lower in nearly all sections and in many areas used cars are glutting the market.

Television set and home appliance sales present a mixed picture—up in some places and down in others. Furniture is moving slowly.

What about the outlook for March and the rest of the year? Most businessmen queried said they're betting that things will start to pick up next month or in April and some look for further improvement as the year progresses. Predictions ranged from pessimism to the statement of a Columbus department store official that this will be an "awfully good" year.

Administration officials stick to the view expressed in the President's economic report to Congress—the dip is essentially an inventory adjustment with recovery due this year.

The Associated Press survey shows some consumers are cautious, others act as if they have lots of money to spend. Thus, while department store sales are lagging in Seattle, San Francisco, Atlanta and Detroit, they're ahead of a year ago in New York, Chicago, Minneapolis, Boston and New Orleans. And while television set sales are down 9 per cent in Dallas and 7 per cent in Detroit, they are up 10 per cent in Philadelphia and "booming" in Portland, Me.

The statement that this will be a good year comes from Robert Lazarus, president of F. & R. Lazarus & Co. of Columbus. He predicts that retail prices will decline 2 to 3 per cent this year.

The weightiest problem for all parts of the country is unemployment. It's up all over, double last year in some areas, and in Indiana, Kentucky and Iowa it has passed the postwar highs recorded during the business dip of 1949.

"We're very apprehensive about the situation in Kentucky," said Sam Ezelle, secretary-treasurer of the Kentucky Federation of Labor.

Curialment in certain industries has hit some areas hard. Massachusetts reports unemployment compensation rolls up 32,000 since mid-December to 122,000 because of "substantial nonseasonal layoffs in manufacturing." Thousands are working less than 40 hours a week, especially in the textile industry.

Claims for unemployment benefits are more than double those of the same period a year ago in Illinois, Connecticut, North Carolina and Georgia.

In St. Louis, a labor official makes this comment: "The present labor market as I see it is simply a readjustment to normal conditions from the labor shortage conditions of 1952 and the first half of 1953."

As always, there's a difference of opinion among economists on what the future holds. Robert C. Goodwin, chief of the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security, says major employers foresee some recovery in March. He adds that a fairly broad pickup is "entirely possible" in the fall.

Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, says the decline has gone no deeper than he had anticipated.

On the other hand, Martin Gainsbrugh, economist of the National Industrial Conference Board, New York, says the decline warrants the label "recession." And Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, former chairman of the economic council, contends the dip is "much more fundamental than mere inventory trimming," and that there are no "adequate grounds" for counting on a recovery in the second or third quarter.

Steers owned by Davidson, Miss Robinson, Cauble, Darrell Robinson and Buchanan made up the champion group of five.

In addition to participating in the area shows, Howard County 4-H Club members are making preparations for their own county show which opens Mar. 9 for three days.

Lubbock Area FHA Office Head Is Named WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Federal Housing Administration announced today appointment of Berry Vaughan as director of its office at Lubbock, Tex., succeeding J. F. Matchett, resigned. Vaughan has been vice president of the Lubbock National Bank since 1940.

The FHA's Lubbock office is responsible for the agency's programs in 65 West Texas counties.

Lamesa Is Set For Clean-Up Campaign

LAMESA (SC) — Lamesa's year-round Clean-up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up campaign is scheduled to really get under way Monday morning, but it will not get its official start until Tuesday morning with a kick-off breakfast at the Green Hut Cafe.

Some 75 committee members and others of the General Steering Committee, representing 21 civic and fraternal groups in the city, are expected to attend the 7 a.m. breakfast.

Ebbie Lee is breakfast chairman and Malcolm Harp is chairman of the clean-up drive.

At the breakfast, individual tables will seat the various committees according to the work they will be doing. Harp will preside, and Luther Standefer, vice chairman, will announce the block chairmen and explain their duties. These block chairmen, Standefer explains, will be responsible for spreading interest in local areas. It is anticipated that the city will be divided for the campaign into blocks, areas and zones with a chairman for each.

Lee will be assisted with the breakfast by Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Roberts, and Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Nance.

Harp has announced that a committee representing the G. I. Forums of Lamesa has been chosen, and that Tomas Gomez and Ignacio Moreno will be the chairmen.

Various organizations have announced that the following committees will represent them in the campaign to clean up and beautify the city:

Jaycees: Miles Caudle, chairman; John Sampley, Alvin Sanders and Gene Pearson.

Kiwanis Club: Rupert Austin, chairman; Don Mason, Rex Dunn, and O. H. Gage.

Rotary Club: Stansell Clement, chairman; Virgil Williams and Sam Richardson.

Business and Professional Women's Club: Mrs. Rupert Austin, chairman; Mrs. Reid Bethel and Mrs. Wes Johnson.

Junior Woman's Study Club: Mrs. Hugh Shady, chairman; Mrs. Carroll Brough and Mrs. C. B. Bucey.

Senior Woman's Study Club: Mrs. C. W. Tarter, chairman; Mrs. W. K. Crawley and Mrs. V. Z. Rogers.

Announcements of the committees representing other organizations are expected to be made before or at the Tuesday breakfast conference.

The various committee chairmen, in addition to Harp and Standefer, are: publicity, Rupert Austin; finance, H. H. Derstine; photograph and movies, R. B. Snell; speakers, J. D. McPhaul; health, G. R. Crawley; streets and alleys, Jim O. Cook; vacant lots, Rachel Barfoot; fire prevention, Guy Weekes; parks and recreation, Guy Orr; safety, Ray York; city entrances, Henry Norris; commercial-industrial, Jim Moody; school and P.T.A., Mrs. Buster Reed; neighborhood improvement, Clyde Brannon; stunts, Mrs. W. A. Stephens; material dealers, E. D. David; residential improvement, Green Thumb Garden Club; Hollis-Carver committee, Lee McAllister, Jack Douglas and Merts Hawkins; plan-a-top committee, Dawson County Garden Club; parade, Howard Maddox; theatres, R. B. Snell, and awards, Louvenia Estes.

Participating organizations include the Business and Professional Women's Club; Beta Sigma Phi; Junior Women's Study Club; Woman's Study Club; Home Demonstration Clubs; Jaycees; Delphian Club; '48 Delphian Club; Rotary Club; Lions Club; Kiwanis Club; Lamesa Girl Scouts; Lamesa Boy Scouts Lamesa, FFA Boys Lamesa FFA Girls; the Dawson County Garden Club, and the Green Thumb Garden Club.

It is planned that the program will be continued throughout the year, Harp said, and that during the first two weeks of March the drive will be a concentrated one to focus the attention of every citizen toward a realization of the goal of clean streets, alleys, yards, lots, fronts, more newly-painted buildings, rebuilt fences, and all else necessary to make Lamesa a cleaner, prettier and healthier city.

The three largest auto makers in the United States turned out 87 per cent of all passenger cars and 80 per cent of all trucks manufactured in the country.

AF Finds Hurt Live In Jungle

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 27 (AP)—An Air Force team spent five days in a mountainous jungle in Panama to see whether they could have stayed alive supposing they were battle casualties and their hospital plane had crashed.

They decided survival is possible but tough as all get-out. The team met freezing temperatures, torrential rain, violent winds, biting insects and poisonous snakes—among other things.

Maj. Frederick A. Rodewald headed the expedition from the School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Air Force Base here. The major, now retired and living in Brownsville, Tex., was 60 when he organized his jungle expedition about two years ago to a spot on the side of Volcan Chiriqui, an 11,000-foot peak in Panama, 200 air miles west of the Canal Zone.

The team concluded that all passengers and crew members of a hospital aircraft downed in the forest would have to stay with the wreckage until they were found, no matter how long it took. The rescue would most likely have to be made by helicopter.

But Rodewald said the best rule of all is: Don't fly patients over the jungle if there's any way around it.

Drys Against Teacher Pay Off Beer Tax

AUSTIN, Feb. 27 (AP)—A spokesman for United Texas Drys, Inc., said today his organization is opposed to a proposed increase in the beer tax to finance a teacher pay raise.

Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas said earlier this week he will introduce a bill at the special legislative session beginning March 15 to raise the beer tax from $1.37 to $10 per barrel. He said that would provide more than enough money for a proposed $402 boost in teachers' minimum annual pay scale.

"It would not be fair to levy a tax on this type of industry in order that the teachers might have a raise," O. F. Dingler, the United Drys' personal field activities director, said today.

"Virtually, it would obligate as many teachers to the industry," Dingler said the organization's executive secretary, Dr. Albert F. Tucker of Dallas, would join him in saying the United Drys would favor additional taxation of beer if the revenue were applied on the penitentiary, state reform schools, or perhaps the state hospitals and Department of Public Safety. Application of beer tax funds at those points, said Dingler, "would come nearer letting the industry support its own product."

United Texas Drys Inc., is a statewide organization made up of 18 different religious affiliations whose purpose is temperance education, said Dingler.

King-size cigarettes contain about 15 per cent more tobacco than the standard size.

JESS SLAUGHTER

Slaughter Asks Re-Election To Sheriff's Post

Jess Slaughter has announced his candidacy for the office of sheriff of Howard County.

In seeking the Democratic nomination for the post, Slaughter said that a number of his friends had asked that he not delay longer his announcement.

"I have therefore decided to ask the people to consider me for this job," said Sheriff Slaughter.

"In so doing I can offer 18 years of experience as a peace officer, 12 of them at one time as sheriff of Howard County and then my present term in that office."

He also served two years as a juvenile officer and worked with the provost marshal's office when the Big Spring Bombardier Base was operating here during World War II.

"When I offered for the office before, I pledged to secure qualified deputies, and I believe I have done that. In addition, I promised the people that I would try to provide 24-hour service and this has been done, also we have had a county car in service to 4 a.m. daily. I said I would cooperate with other law enforcement agencies, and through joint patrol and other means we have done that."

"With the experience gained and the knowledge of the situation I think I can continue to make Howard County an efficient peace officer with the cooperation of the people. I welcome suggestions and inquiries because the office belongs to the people. I would appreciate your vote and influence for a second term as sheriff. My past record speaks for itself."

Slaughter has been a Howard County resident for most of his 54 years. He is an overseas veteran of World War II, maintains membership in both the VFW and the American Legion, and is a member of the First Baptist Church.

Appeal For Blood Gets Response

Four pints of blood were shipped from Big Spring to the John Sealy Hospital in Galveston Saturday for use by a local resident who is to undergo surgery at the Galveston hospital.

The blood was donated by Big Springers following an appeal by Mary Cantrell, of the Howard County Welfare Department.

The patient's family has exhausted its own finances for medical treatment and he now is receiving county assistance.

WEEK IN WASHINGTON

Stevens-McCarthy Row Is Presidential Challenge

By ROGER D. GREENE
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The great political storm over the now famous McCarthy-Stevens "surrender" episode poised a new, direct challenge to President Eisenhower today in his administration's attitude toward Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

It was not the first time the Wisconsin senator has clashed with high administration officials. Starting almost at the outset of the Eisenhower administration, McCarthy has raised major challenges on issues ranging from trade with Red China and "perfumed notes" diplomacy to the past week's red-hot joust with Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens.

In none of these encounters has McCarthy yielded an inch. Nor has the President openly and directly lowered the boom on the controversial Wisconsin lawmaker. He has stuck to his policy of avoiding personalities.

At the height of the week's uproar McCarthy also served notice that he is going to fire up the burners again under the case that reportedly led Secretary Stevens to the verge of resignation after accusing McCarthy of humiliating an Army general and hurting Army morale.

Japanese Premier Thinks Land Still Needs Protection Of U. S.

EDITH'S NOTE—Selma Mark conducted a series of interviews with Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida of Japan, Korea and Okinawa by interviewing him in his office in Tokyo. This first "on the record" interview granted by the pro-American Premier in two years comes at a time when he is facing his political life. The issue, shipbuilding scandals, is dominating but any overture in the government could have a bearing on the international scene.

By RELMAN MORIN
TOKYO, Feb. 27 (AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida said today that Japan will need protection of U. S. troops for several more years and that it is impossible for Japan to be neutral in the struggle against the Communist world.

He spoke of "the constant threat" from communism. "Although the situation appears to have somewhat eased for the moment, the danger has by no means passed," he said.

The 76-year-old Premier, in power for more than five years, discussed a wide range of foreign and domestic problems in an interview with this correspondent at his official residence.

Yoshida expressed a desire to go to the United States for conferences with President Eisenhower "if the domestic situation permits."

This was his only allusion to a political upheaval that has been rocking Japan for several weeks.

There have been charges of graft and corruption in the government, based on loans to shipbuilders. A member of Parliament and a government official have been indicted.

(Last night in Washington, the White House announced that Yoshida had accepted an invitation to visit the United States. Today, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Yoshida has not yet indicated whether he will accept and that last night's announcement was a "misunderstanding."

Yoshida accused the opposition of exaggerating the scandals, said he was confident none of his Cabinet was involved and neither he nor his ministers would resign "rashly."

His government is strongly pro-American, but there is no guarantee that a successor would pursue the same line of policy.

Then what are the possibilities of some form of agreement with China? A section of Japanese public opinion advocates recognition of the Peking government, or at least a trade agreement.

The Prime Minister said he does not go along with the idea. "It is my government's policy to trade with that country (China) only so far as is consistent with our pledge to adhere to the spirit and purpose of the United Nations. I see no need for any agreement."

You frequently hear expression of "neutralist" sentiment in Japan today, something approximating the position taken by India's Prime Minister Nehru. Yoshida brushed that aside, too.

"The world situation makes it impossible as well as unwise for Japan to take a neutral position," he said. He described the cold war as "a struggle for survival against the constant threat of Communist ambition and aggression."

He does not believe Japan's relations with the Communist countries would improve if she were less closely aligned with the United States.

His policy is to rebuild Japan's own military strength but "it will take time."

Turning to questions of domestic policy, he said he intends to push through his program of "austerity, even at the price of a temporary recession. But I do not think there will be a real depression, especially if the United States maintains a high economic level."

Resolution Closes Coahoma Streets

A resolution closing portions of certain streets in Coahoma "to prevent the working of hardships on anyone" recently was passed by the Coahoma Board of Aldermen.

A copy of the resolution was filed with the Howard County clerk Saturday.

The portions of streets closed were those areas on which encroachments have been made from abutting property. Aldermen pointed out in the resolution that there still is sufficient passage space in the streets on which portions were closed.

The plaintiff was an employee of Eddins-Walcher Oil Company at the time. The petition pegs his average weekly earnings at $100 and asks that he be compensated at the rate of 60 per cent of the average for a period of 401 weeks.

Toastmasters Slate Contest

An area champion in speech-making will be determined in a contest to be held in Big Spring and sponsored by the Toastmaster's Clubs of the area.

Representatives from five West Texas units will compete here at a special dinner session at the Settles Hotel at 7 p.m. March 8.

The local clubs—Big Spring, San Angelo, Odessa and two in Midland—already have selected their own champions to compete for the regional title. Each speaker will give a prepared talk of from five to seven minutes duration; then will draw lots for a subject upon which he will talk extemporaneously for two to three minutes.

Judges panel will be made up from representatives of each of the clubs. The local Toastmasters will be hosts for the occasion.

Four Are Charged

Four persons were charged in Justice Court Friday with vagrancy. Three pleaded guilty and were fined $14 each. The fourth pleaded not guilty and Justice of the Peace Cecil Nabors set his bond at $100.

$24,000 Suit For Compensation Filed

A suit for $24,000 in compensation has been filed in 118th District Court by W. E. Fuqua against the Maryland Casualty Company.

Fuqua asks the compensation for injuries to his back he alleges resulted from an accident on Aug. 4, 1953. His petition says he was engaged in heavy lifting at the time, and that he is totally disabled.

The plaintiff was an employee of Eddins-Walcher Oil Company at the time. The petition pegs his average weekly earnings at $100 and asks that he be compensated at the rate of 60 per cent of the average for a period of 401 weeks.

C. R. McCLENNY
... Signature in Greater Demand

Secretary Witnesses A Decade Of Rapid Development By City

By CLIFTON LAWHORNE
C. R. McClenny, who celebrated his 10th anniversary as Big Spring City Secretary this month, has signed pay checks more often than most people have changed clothes. He estimates that his signature has gone out on upwards of 50,000 city checks since he became secretary on Feb. 17, 1944.

Actual records show that he has issued 23,329 payroll checks with his signature since June, 1948. (That was the month a check writing machine was purchased by the city.) In the four-year period before that he easily signed 10,000 other pay checks.

Added to this are the 17,153 general checks which records show he has signed. The figure does not include miscellaneous instruments issued for city purchases which probably run into the thousands.

McClenny has to affix his signature to every check which the City of Big Spring issues. And more important, it is his job to keep up with all the money passing through various city funds.

This latter job has become a "corker" during recent years. McClenny points out that during the first 12-month fiscal period after his arrival only $241,238.00 passed through the general fund and water-sewer revenue fund.

During the first 10 months of the present fiscal period, upwards of $868,000 has already passed through the general and water-sewer funds. The complete 12-month period will show a business volume four times greater than the 1944 period.

The number of monthly water bills sent to customers has more than doubled during the time McClenny has been in the office. Last month some 6,311 bills were sent out by the city. During the first month McClenny worked for the city, only 2,987 such bills were made.

"When I started here there were just two girls and myself in this office. And we made the cards, filled them in by hand and mailed them," McClenny said. "Now there are eight girls in the department, and the cards are printed by machine."

A billing machine is used to print the amount the customer owes on the card and on the master ledger at the same time, he pointed out.

"One time only have I seen a day go by without anyone paying a waterbill," McClenny pointed out. "Usually people are here in droves every day to pay their bills."

In addition to handling the billing and collecting of water bills, McClenny's office is also the depository for all permit payments (gas, electric, building permits, etc.).

McClenny himself keeps all the books for the city, and he also keeps the records of the city commission meetings. He is official recorder of the city court, too.

"I don't really do anything so far as court is concerned," he said. "The only time I actually keep any minutes is when the commissioners meet."

McClenny says the commission minutes are no more lengthy than they were when he first started keeping them 10 years ago. However, meetings during the past two years have taken more record space because commissioners started meeting once every week instead of every two weeks as called for by charter.

Other changes noted in the 10-year period included the number of city employees, which rose from about 100 to around 160, and the installation of parking meters here.

Pope's Lenten Message Made From Sick Bed

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 27 (UP)—Pope Pius XII in a sick-bed Lenten message today called upon men in high places everywhere to "build the world anew in the spirit of Christ."

Even as his words were read, Roman Catholics knelt in the city's 500 churches in the first of three days of prayer for the Pope's recovery from a gastric ailment which has left him dangerously weak.

A slight improvement was reported in his condition by the Vatican today.

But grave fears for the 77-year-old pontiff, and a constant watch was kept over him by anxious physicians and Vatican attendants.

Usually for his Lenten message the Pope receives the priests and Lenten preachers of Rome. He is their bishop. Today he expressed heartfelt regret that he could not see them. Then, in written words addressed to them but intended for the whole world, Pope Pius said:

"There is no other solution for humanity but to build the world anew in the spirit of Christ. He alone in truth is the savior of the individual, the family, society as a whole."

"Let men in high places come to realize the absolute necessity of this; because by ignoring God or denying him, they will build even more precariously than at present."

The Pope urged that in this season of penance special efforts be made to spread the word of God. Lent begins this year on March 3, the day following the Pope's 78th birthday and the 15th anniversary of his election to the pontificate.

The enfeebled Pope's message was printed in the Vatican's L'Osservatore Romano.

The Pope urged priests to enlist the aid of lay workers to save souls. He said there is particular need for people who can speak in public "in order to enlighten so many minds and to defend the church."

The Pope said his message was primarily "a word of paternal thanks for all that you are doing in order that our Rome may shine forth ever more brightly as a beacon of Christian Light."

Sooners Building Grain Elevators

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 27 (UP)—Pounding hammers and whirring concrete mixers echo throughout Oklahoma's wheat belt these days.

There's an unheralded 50-million-dollar building boom underway in new grain elevators. Oklahoma grainmen are fighting time to boost the state's storage capacity by one-third to relieve an almost certain glut of wheat which may be the worst in history.

A survey today revealed independent and cooperative grain dealers expect to have new storage capacity of 30 million bushels available by the time Oklahoma's first wheat is cut in late May.

Ed Humphrey, secretary of the Oklahoma Grain and Feed Dealers Assn., Enid, said the new elevator projects will boost Oklahoma's storage capacity from about 98 million bushels to 128 million bushels.

The parking meters meant more work for McClenny, keeping up with the additional revenue which they brought in.

In his official capacity, McClenny also keeps up with the city and firemen's retirement benefits. He submits reports monthly to the Texas Municipal Retirement System and yearly to the Firemen's Relief Retirement Fund.

Employees of the city this year elected McClenny chairman of the supervisors committee of their Federal Credit Union.

McClenny, who originally hails from a farm about eight miles southwest of Breckenridge, graduated from the Breckenridge High School in 1916 with a class of 12. He later attended business colleges in Abilene and Fort Worth.

He lived at Breckenridge until 1927, moving to Lorraine. He and his wife, Janis Lera, moved to Big Spring in October, 1934. Since that time he alternately worked for the Magnolia Petroleum warehouse, a Texaco station, Snow White Creameries, and then the city.

Mr. and Mrs. McClenny, who were married Oct. 1, 1922, live at 1011 Scurry. Their daughter, Mrs. Gordon G. Corliss, and two grandsons live in Wellington, California.

Youth Arrested Here Transferred

A Lubbock youth who was arrested after he allegedly attempted to burglarize Everybody's Drive-In here has been transferred to the custody of Lubbock probation officers, A. E. Long, Howard County juvenile officer, said Saturday.

Long said the youth, aged 15, is to go before the probation board in Lubbock Tuesday for a hearing. The boy recently was released from the State School for Boys at Gatesville.

Deputy Sheriff C. H. Forgas arrested the boy when he was found inside the drive-in Thursday night. The cafe was closed at the time.

Medical Society To Meet Here Monday

The Permian Basin Medical Society will meet in the Settles Hotel ballroom Monday at 7:30 p.m., it was announced by Dr. C. B. Marcum, president.

Dr. John Howard, associate professor of surgery at Baylor School of Medicine in Houston, will be the guest speaker for the evening. His lecture subject will be "Pancreatitis."

All doctors of the Big Spring area as well as those of Snyder, Odessa and Midland have been invited to attend. A dinner meeting will precede the scientific discussion.

Wives of the doctors will hold an auxiliary meeting at the same time.

Low Pressure Areas Are What Cause Southwest Dust Storms

By The Associated Press
Dust so thick it blacks out the noon-day sky . . . dust banked like snow along fence rows . . . dust in your hair and your eyes and your nose . . .

It was like that in the Great Plains 10 days ago—for the first time since the middle '30s—and it raised the question: will there be another dust bowl?

The answer depends on three things:

1. The amount of rain received during the next few months in the parched, drought-ridden sections of West Texas and adjoining states.
2. The number and intensity of low pressure areas that form over the southern Great Plains.
3. Whether the land has been given enough crop cover to resist a combination of sucking wind and dry weather.

Good, soaking rains over the region could end what the Soil Conservation Service last year called the United States' longest, most intense drought in history. Rain like this would just about eliminate dust storms. Even the strongest wind can't pick up mud.

Not all winds can cause choking dust storms that turn day into night. A straight, hard wind can cause local soil blowing, but it usually doesn't carry dust very far. Winds flowing out of a high pressure area don't kick up a real dust storm because their air currents are usually descending.

The cause of a real duster is the extreme low pressure area. Such a low over Oklahoma caused the big duster of Feb. 19. There have been less severe dusters since then.

Winds flowing into a low pressure area are usually ascending. They are the winds that pick up the top soil, carrying it to elevations of 13,000 to 15,000 feet, keep the skies boiling with dust and carry it from the Great Plains into Eastern states.

Low pressure areas usually form on the eastern slope of the Continental Divide and move eastward across the United States. They occur throughout the year, but they are usually more intense during the spring.

If during the next few months a series of intense low pressure areas parades across the Midwest, dust storms reminiscent of the 1930's can be expected. But if the lows are less frequent and weak there will be relatively few and mild dust storms.

Soil Conservation Service officials say considerable wind erosion can be inflicted this spring on

Severe Drought Still Is Problem

DALLAS, Feb. 27 (UP)—Severe drought continues in extreme Southwest Texas and southern New Mexico, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas reported today.

In its monthly review of the district economy, the bank said: "Ranges and pastures in the eastern half of the district are providing abundant grazing, while green feed is generally lacking in most other areas."

"Severe drought continues to prevail in extreme Southwest Texas and southern New Mexico. There has been virtually no cured range for feed in these sections during the winter, and surface moisture is badly needed to stimulate the growth of spring grasses."

"Supplemental feeding continues in these areas, and livestock numbers have been reduced substantially."

The bank said cattle and calves are reported in fair to good condition in most of the district except drought areas.

Farmers in most sections made good progress with field work in February, the report said, but "surface moisture is needed in most western and southwestern counties to retard blowing of soil and stimulate growth of small grains and grasses."

However, over-all moisture conditions in the district are improved over a year ago, the bank added.

Texas farm and pastures if the winds continue. But they do not believe that damage will approach that of the dust bowl days. Their reason is that there is far less land without protective cover than there was 20 years ago. Farmers and ranchers today have more technical know-how in preventing erosion than they did in the mid-30s.

There is a note of hope for the entire area in the statement of A. J. Knarr, meteorologist in charge of the U. S. Weather Bureau at Fort Worth. He does not expect to see the dust bowl return.

Knarr says the entire Southwest has had sub-normal rainfall long enough and he expects the pendulum to start swinging back. The 30-day forecast for the Southwest indicates above-normal rain over much of the region.

If the rain comes, it will take care of both the drought and the dust storms.

Robbery Suspects Found In Odessa

Sheriff Jess Slaughter said Saturday that two men arrested in Odessa have been identified as the pair who robbed Jack's Drive-In Grocery, 510 Lamesa Highway, of $250 Jan. 30.

One of the men was brought to Big Spring from Odessa Saturday. The other is being held in Odessa on charges of robbing an establishment there, Slaughter said.

Elvira Nunez, clerk at the drive-in grocery here, has identified the two men as the ones who robbed her of the $250 on the evening of Jan. 30, according to the sheriff. He said charges probably will be filed against the pair Monday.

Waives Extradition

J. Bryant Todd waived extradition to Kentucky before District Judge Charlie Sullivan Saturday. Todd was among 25 persons recently taken off a freight train by local police. Officers said he is wanted in LaGrange, Ky., for parole violation. He is being held in county jail for Kentucky authorities.

DO IT YOURSELF Lazy Susan Table Will Blend With Any Decor

By BILL BAKER
In designing my Lazy Susan coffee table, the purpose was to create a piece of furniture that would blend with any kind of decor, yet achieve distinction by performing a special function.

The main table top is stationary, of course, but the raised Lazy Susan ring and crowning small table top rotate conveniently as a unit.

While the Lazy Susan coffee table looks like a $200 item, it can be built at home for just a few dollars and a few hours of hobby-shop work. If you want to have a jumbonyard do the cutting it will add a few extra dollars to the basic cost.

I made the table for my own home in clear white pine, giving it a lacquer finish, but alder wood, gumwood and plywood are other excellent choices. The cost of using an expensive hardwood is somewhat offset by a saving of about $5.00 on varnish and lacquer, since the choicer woods require only a wax finish.

For informal entertaining in small quarters, the Lazy Susan coffee table is a handy and attractive space saver. Its generous dimensions make it equally suitable for spacious rooms.

The double-decker Lazy Susan unit is readily detachable in a few minutes. You can make this Lazy Susan coffee table in your own workshop in a few hours with the aid of BILL BAKER'S EXTRA-SIMPLE PATTERN NUMBER 101. Every section of the table is given you in its exact size, on heavy-duty paper which can be pasted, taped or thumbtacked right on the wood for simple tracing and cutting out.

You'll also receive shop-tested, easy-to-follow directions in simple, understandable language, as well as a complete list of materials needed. And with Bill Baker's patterns you don't need power tools

Local Men Have Program Part At Rotary Meet

Three Big Spring men will have parts on the program of the 133rd District Convention of Rotary International in Childress this week.

About 20 Big Springers will attend the convention as representatives of the local Rotary Club. The convention will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

To take part in the district program are Adolph Swartz, president of the Big Spring club; Elmo Wasson, past local president and past district governor, and W. C. Blankenship.

Swartz is to lead a group discussion on community services; Wasson is chairman of a similar panel on vocational services. Blankenship will deliver an address on the subject, "What Is Success?" dealing with the principles of Rotary.

Blankenship's talk will be made at the third plenary session on Saturday morning. Wasson and Swartz will lead their discussions at Friday afternoon meetings.

All main sessions of the convention will be held in the First Baptist Church of Childress. An all-conference barbecue is set for noon Friday in the Childress City Park, and an all-conference luncheon will be held at noon Saturday in the municipal auditorium. Registration will be at the Hotel Childress, starting at 2 p.m. Thursday.

The governor's banquet is to be held in the city auditorium at 7 p.m. Friday, and the governor's reception and ball is slated for the Childress Country Club following the banquet.

Conference leaders are to be J. Herschel Coffee, Canyon, district governor, and Benny H. Hughes, Beaumont, representative of the other Big Springers expected to attend the district conference are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cornelison, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Krause, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crook, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fryar, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. McEwen, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Dillon, Mrs. Swartz, Mrs. Wasson and Mrs. Blankenship.

Crook is president-elect of the local club, and Krause has been elected vice president for the next year. Porter was re-elected secretary of the Big Spring club.

Status Of Chief Legislation In Congress Shown

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The status of major legislation at the end of this week:

APPROPRIATIONS—The House passed and sent to the Senate a $3,333,000,000 bill financing the Treasury and Post Office Departments for the fiscal year starting July 1. It acts next week on a bill appropriating $1,146,000,000 for the State, Justice and Commerce Departments.

TAXES—The House Ways and Means Committee has drafted a general tax revision bill for House consideration early in March.

LABOR—The House Labor Committee is drafting amendments to the Taft-Hartley law. The Senate Labor Committee has held hearings on the proposed changes.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS—The Senate killed by a single vote the last surviving proposal to amend the Constitution and curb the President's treaty-making powers. Final vote of 60-31 came on a substitute by Sen. George (D-Ga) for the original amendment by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio). Two-thirds of those present and voting was required for adoption of a constitutional amendment.

A Senate Judiciary subcommittee has approved an amendment to lower the voting age in federal elections to 18 years; there has been no House action on either subject.

SOCIAL SECURITY—The House Ways and Means Committee has scheduled hearings for March on bills to extend social security coverage and increase benefits.

POSTAL RATES—The House Post Office Committee has recommended an increase of one cent—from three to four cents—in first class postage.

PAY RAISES—Bills to raise the pay of members of Congress, federal judges, postal workers and federal employees generally are pending in the House Post Office and Judiciary Committees.

DEFENSE—Bills financing the military department and the foreign aid program are being prepared by the House Appropriations Committee and the House Foreign Affairs Committee. A bill establishing a cadet academy for the Air Force has passed the House and is pending in the Senate Armed Services Committee.

AGRICULTURE—Committees of both branches are considering the President's proposal for revisions in the price support program.

President Plays Golf At Washington Club

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower today went to Burning Tree Country Club for lunch and a round of golf. It was his first visit to his home club in several months.

The President will attend services at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the National Presbyterian Church.

Phillip Engle Is Promoted In Corps

NORMAN, Okla. (SpI) — Phillip D. Engle of Big Spring has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in the Cadet Corps at the University of Oklahoma.

Engle's appointment was announced by Major Neal Harris. Such advancements are made on the basis of grades in military science and qualities of leadership and command.

Engle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Engle, 2121 N. E. 17th.

WHY PAY MORE THAN $1.69 FOR A REDUCER?

Read what Mrs. R. A. Mills, 1212 South Hazelwood, Sherman, Texas, has to say:

"I have lost 20 pounds taking Barconatrate with very little effort on my part. I feel lots better. I am glad to say the Barconatrate way of reducing is pleasant and easy."

We receive letters like Mrs. Mills' every day from grateful users. Just ask your druggist for four ounces of liquid Barconatrate. Mix with grapefruit juice as directed on bottle. Then take according to directions.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the sensible way to take off ugly fat, without starvation diet, calorie counting or back-breaking exercises, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Riding The

GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

Up around Lenora late Friday morning the dust was pretty thick. Driving just west of there the Grub Line Rider saw, through a thick haze, one of those big semi-trailer trucks headed straight for him. The big brute was rolling right down the middle of the highway and coming with the wind.

At first he thought the truck had gotten out of control. Then he concluded the driver was DWI, so he cut his Ford off the pavement, nearly turning it over, and out into the sand on the shoulder, to let the big truck roar by.

It wasn't a truck at all but a pet tumble weed that W. N. Orson had been cultivating out in the Tarzan community with irrigation. The pet plant had broken away from its moorings and had taken off. After tearing down a couple of miles of fence it finally came to rest against a sand dune. When last seen some of the folks in that community were chopping it up with axes for firewood.

Edgar Standefer was telling about a fine old gentleman who used to live near Coahoma.

It seems he was quite a trader and would buy or sell anything. One Coahoma trade day he bought an old jack. That afternoon he started home walking and leading the jack. It was about a three-mile trip, and the jack was reluctant to leave town. The old gentleman was having a hard time dragging him along.

Finally he met a stranger. "Will you sell that jack?" the stranger asked.

"Yeah, I'll sell him."

"How much?"

"Ninety dollars."

"I'll give you twenty."

"I'll take it. I ain't no man to let seventy dollars stand between me and a trade."

Heard in a Stanton case: "A woman is the only person who can skin a wolf and get a mink."

Heard on a Stanton street: "Some of those Big Spring fellers have been so busy learning the tricks of their trades that they haven't had time to learn their trades."

"....." We exclaimed when we walked into J. T. Davis' cabinet shop in Stanton and saw all the sand that covered the floor. "It sure has been blowing sand in here!"

"I hauled that in," Davis explained. "I hauled in enough to cover the floor eighteen inches deep. Not all that sand has blown in here."

So that dust storms over that way haven't been as bad as first impressions (when unexplained) might lead some folks to believe.

But they've been bad enough. There's dust up in the West Texas air that probably hasn't touched the earth for three weeks.

Oklahomans visiting or working in Texas and operating their automobiles with 1953 license plates shouldn't overlook the fact that if after Wednesday, March 3, they return to Oklahoma with the 1953 tags still on their cars, then the cars will be subject to seizure and sale by the state.

Word has gone out from Oklahoma City to all agents to seize all cars being operated on a public highway after that day without 1954 tags. If the car isn't actually sold after being picked up by the agents, the seizure fee is an amount equal to the license fees and costs due. On top of this there is a fine of from $10 to $100 per day for every day the car is operated beyond March 3 with 1953 plates if it is found in operation on a public highway.

There's a little compulsion in the Oklahoma laws requiring new license plates on time.

Bids are being received for the lease of the 405-acre State Hospital farm just north of Big Spring for the period April 1, 1954 through March 31, 1955.

Particulars on the terms of the lease may be obtained from the office of L. K. Miller, business manager of the hospital, and the bids must be received by the Board of Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools office, Box 8, Capitol Station, Austin, Tex., on or before 11 a. m., March 8, and in an envelope appropriately marked to show contents. With the bid must go a cashier's check for 10 per cent of the amount of the bid.

The state reserves the right to stipulate that a particular 165-acre area of the farm must be planted to cotton.

The farm is currently under lease to C. M. Weaver.

Beginning today the Big Spring

$750 Bond Is Set In Martin Court

STANTON (SC) — George E. Anderson of Odessa has posted $750 cash bond pending his trial on a DWI charge before County Judge James McMorris.

The Odessa man was arrested Thursday by Patrolman Walter Graves of the Stanton Police Department.

During the week the trials of two other persons charged with DWI resulted in hung juries. A jury was unable to agree in one of these cases at a previous trial.

Both these cases have been continued for retrial at the next term court, according to Sheriff Dan Saunders.

The National Geographic Society estimates that 215 million dollars in gold has been taken from the Klondike Valley.

Soil Enrichment, Good Grazing

On his farm, about two miles east of Lamesa, Toady Morris has 80 acres of rye, and such vetch as is pictured, on which 55 head of cattle have been grazed since Nov. 13, with the top growth still standing about six inches. An inspection of the pasture reveals that the cattle have greatly favored the vetch. This particular plant was out of a cotton middle planted last September. It came up on a November rain and has had only one-quarter inch rain since then. The roots are covered with nodules full of nitrogen fixing bacteria. Some of these roots (broken off here) go down more than two feet.

Herald is going directly and immediately after rolling off the press to the Stanton Post Office for distribution, according to present plans.

This means that each afternoon the Herald will be delivered to the Stanton Post Office in time for subscribers who get their mail in post office boxes to get their paper that afternoon. It also means that the possibility of the Herald's not getting to Stanton in time to go out on the RFDs the next morning is eliminated.

And if there's anybody in Stanton who doesn't believe he can take a gun and a 90 check and back the Grub Line Rider up against a wall and not get a year's subscription just let him try it the first time he catches this character over that way.

Claude J. Russell, who lives on FM 87 west of Big Spring in the old Hartwell Community, has been receiving the help of his son, Ray Russell, and his grandson, Mike, in burning Russian Thistles, sometimes known as tumble weeds.

Russell says he doesn't believe he has ever seen them as bad. He explains they slip up on the farmers because they can hold out until October rains to get planting moisture and then put in a busy winter growing and prospering, just at a time when the farmer is likely to overlook them.

Russell also calls attention to the fact that goat's head is also taking the country. To that might be added not only the country, but the towns too.

Old-fashioned black powder may burn just a little faster than a pile of thistles but it won't generate much more heat or create more smoke.

Texas Women For Ike Show Minds Of Own

FORT WORTH, Feb. 27 (AP)—The women, with minds of their own, have surveyed Eisenhower's first year in office and found they still have minds of their own.

General comments in the survey conducted by the Tarrant County Republican Women's Club among 300 Texas women who campaigned for Ike included:

"I like Ike. However, he'd better be careful if he wants to stay where he is."

"I do not think enough praise can be given our President for what he has done in such a short time."

"I know he can't do everything at once. I'm still with him, but I'm waiting."

Answers in the survey came from 39 Texas towns and from several Womanpower members who had moved out of the state.

The results, tabulated today, showed:

1. Should 18-year-olds be given the right to vote? If so, should it be given by constitutional amendment or left, as it is now, to the discretion of the states?

47.62 per cent were against giving the vote to 18-year-olds; 38.09 per cent said yes; 3.4 per cent said give it only to those in military service. The others had no opinion.

On the second part of the question 61.35 per cent said by constitutional amendment.

2. Is the Bricker amendment necessary?

67.12 per cent said yes; 24.82 per cent said no; 6.04 per cent were willing to accept a compromise; 2.02 per cent had no opinion.

3. What economy measures, if any, would you recommend to reduce taxes?

79.99 per cent had suggestions; 12.83 per cent had no comment; 8.18 per cent thought the administration was doing all that can be done at this time. Among the suggestions, 41.46 per cent said cut foreign aid, 26.12 per cent said cut government employees still more, 13.88 per cent said cut subsidies and 7.64 per cent said reduce military expenses further.

4. Should the federal government enter the health insurance field as proposed by the government?

67.52 per cent said no; 18.88 per cent said yes; 1.41 per cent qualified no, and 8.39 per cent qualified yes.

Judgment Is Asked

Big Spring Finance Company has petitioned the 118th District Court for a judgment of $770.98, plus 10 per cent interest, against D. Bennett. The company's petition alleges that Bennett executed a note for that amount on June 6, 1953, and that none of the note has been paid off. As a result of the failure to make payments, all of the note is due and payable, the finance company contends.

Two Countries Make Debut

Texas Business Decline Shown During January

AUSTIN, Feb. 27 (AP)—Texas business activity declined at an accelerated rate in January, the index of activity falling to its lowest point since August, 1952. A "severe drop in retail trade" was probably the most significant change registered in Texas business barometers, the University of Texas Business Research Bureau said today.

January retail sales were 15 per cent below last year, when sales for that month were the highest on record. Last month's retail trade index was the lowest since March, 1952.

The sharply accelerated rate of decline evident in the January figures brings the picture in Texas rather closely in line with the situation for the rest of the country. John R. Stockton, bureau director, analyzing the situation in an article for the Texas Business Review.

Stockton said any pronounced reduction in consumer demand involves the serious danger that it will bring on a greatly accelerated downward slide in new orders for manufactured goods.

"It is in this manner that a sharp recession in business activity is generated, tending to become cumulatively more severe," the review said.

However, Stockton did not feel that danger had developed in Texas. He anticipated the state's growing population and increasing standard of living would continue to require the expansion of many kinds of facilities such as schools, churches, hospitals, roads, and other public works.

A separate, more detailed analysis of the retail trade situation reported early February sales topping 1953.

However, trade continued sluggish in television and major appliances. Sales promotions in general have appeared more necessary to draw patronage than in late January last year, wrote A. Hamilton Chute, University of Texas professor of retailing.

Reports of 298 department and apparel stores in 35 Texas cities showed an average decline of 55 per cent from December and 11 per cent below January a year ago.

Cub Pack No. 14 Holds Banquet

Presentation of awards and special entertainment featured the annual Blue and Gold Banquet for Cub Scout Pack 14 in the Senior High cafeteria Friday night. Regular Cub awards were presented to several members of the pack, and Webelos awards went to those graduating into Scouting. Guests were Leslie Bain, Jack Alexander, W. T. McRee, Jack Irons, M. B. Turner, and Mrs. A. C. Klove, president of the East Ward P-TA which sponsors the pack. Harvey Strauss put on an exhibition of magician's tricks, and talks were made by Alexander and McRee.

James N. Bowen, Cubmaster, expressed appreciation to several local firms which contributed items for the banquet. Approximately 125 Cubs, parents and guests attended.

Dallas Crackdown On Speeders Has Results

DALLAS, Feb. 27 (AP)—Six weeks old crackdown on speeders here has noticeably reduced traffic accidents and speeding, Deputy Police Chief Charles Batchelor said today. Fines up to $400 and jail sentences have been assessed in the concentrated campaign against speeding. There were 22 per cent fewer accidents in the first three weeks of February than in the same period of January, and 17.7 per cent fewer than in the first weeks of February, 1953, Batchelor said.

Two More Countries Are Represented At Webb AFB

Two more countries were added to the Webb Air Force Base "International League" this weekend when class 54-N reported for jet fighter-pilot training.

The arrival of 54-N marked the debut of students from Turkey and Colombia in Webb's flight training program.

Large Crowd Pleased By Larry Evans

Upwards of 1,000 people attended the Coeden Concert at municipal auditorium Friday night to hear the piano mastery of Larry Evans.

The 19-year-old North Texas State College student was well received. Applause brought him back for two encore numbers following his last programmed number, "Rhapsody In Blue."

He was accompanied in the famous Gershwin melody by a classmate, Jack Guerry, and the two pianists were in perfect unison, showing deftness in the execution of difficult passages.

One of Evans' encore selections was another Gershwin composition, "Prelude." Outside of these two selections, however, other numbers presented were strictly highbrow. Showing off Evans' artistry to the utmost were the difficult passages of Moussorgsky's "Pictures At An Exhibition." The young Big Spring pianist made the 88 keys "to everything but talk with the various tempos of the 10 "pictures."

Evans is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Evans, 2410 Johnson. He is a student of Silvio Sceloni, nationally known piano teacher at North Texas. —C. L.

Justifiable Homicide Ruled At Brownwood

BROWNWOOD, Feb. 27 (AP)—A verdict of justifiable homicide was returned today in the shooting Thursday of John D. Bartlett, 65.

He was killed by his 12-year-old son, a seventh grade youth, who told Justice of the Peace T. H. Hart the berserk father was trying to kill him and his 14-year-old sister. The estranged wife and both children attended funeral services today for Bartlett. The wife and daughter cried, but the boy remained calm and serious.

Texas Guard Board Due To Okay Armory

The Board of Control for the Texas National Guard is expected to approve Tuesday the construction of a National Guard armory in Big Spring.

This information was gained here this weekend by Chamber of Commerce Manager Jimmie Greene, who was in telephone conversation with General Carl L. Phinney, chairman of the guard board.

Gen. Phinney advised Greene that the way has already been cleared for plot planning and vicinity sketches of armory land. Site of the proposed armory is just east of Webb Air Force Base on the Scenic Mountain cutoff road.

"This development leads me to think that we are on our way to a rapid construction start on the armory," Greene stated.

Greene said that the proposal to construct the armory will be sent to Washington following approval in the Tuesday session. The Chamber manager said he had all but been assured that the state board would approve the armory. Gen. Phinney told Greene over the phone that on or shortly after Tuesday the Board of Control will advertise for bids on armory construction. Announcement of the architectural firm to be employed will be announced at the same time.

Greene said, however, that the Board of Control for the Texas National Guard must have a title guaranty policy on the land involved before bids can be advertised. Attorney Walton Morrison has been retained by the Chamber to obtain the policy.

Morrison said Saturday that he does not feel the policy can be in the board's hands by Tuesday. "We will do a lot of work on it Monday though," he said.

The city and State Parks Board deeded a five-acre tract to the National Guard for the armory. The tract is about 800 yards east of the east entrance to Webb Air Force Base.

It is understood that two local architect firms have been in contact with the National Guard concerning the armory job. They are

Forgery Charges Due To Be Filed

Charges of forgery probably will be filed Monday against two Odessans who were arrested Friday. District Attorney Elton Gilliland reported.

The two are accused of passing a forged check at the Newsom Food Market, 1910 Gregg. Two other Odessans were brought here Friday by sheriff's deputies for questioning in connection with the case.

The two to be charged, a man and woman, are being held in county jail.

East Texas Reports Forest Fire Uprage

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 27 (AP)—An upsurge in East Texas forest fires this month was reported today by the Texas Forest Service.

Through Friday 753 wild forest fires had been extinguished this month. In the same period last year only 59 fires occurred. The forest service said more than 27,000 acres had burned this year—about the same that burned in the entire year of 1953.

Weather reports were discouraging. Wood's inflammability will continue until there is a general rain, the forest service said, and none is in sight.

The service said incendiaries have taken advantage of the dry situation and have resorted to setting fires at night.

Wreck Gets Compounded

ATLANTA, Feb. 27 (AP)—Two cars hooked bumpers at a railroad crossing today and while the drivers waited for police to decide who was at fault, a train smashed into the two vehicles.

Richard C. Close, 34, and Clemmie Wade, 34, made a frantic attempt to separate the automobiles, and then leaped to safety at the last second.

Police charged both drivers with failing to grant right of way and having an accident.

Ruling Mexican Party Bans Its Opposition

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 27 (AP)—Leaders of the Federated Peoples party refused to comment today on last night's government action banning the opposition group on subversive charges. But party officials indicated they would continue to operate despite the ban.

Two Burglaries Reported Here

Two motor companies were burglarized here Friday night, windows were knocked out of a garage, and two men reported bill-folds missing.

Approximately $25 was reported taken from Lone Star Motor Company, 600 East 3rd. Officers said entry was made through a south window in the building. Money—in halves, quarters and dollars—was taken from the cash register.

Only the cold drink dispensing machine was damaged at Clark Motor Company. Police said that an undetermined amount of nickels was taken from the machine. It is believed a youth or small man entered the building, as entry was made through a small window panel after the glass was broken.

Richard L. Cauble's Garage, 1307 East 3rd, had all the window lights on the west side broken out sometime Friday night. Police Chief E. W. York said he did not believe the building was entered. Tracks on the outside indicated that some boys broke the windows.

Lonnie Tiedwell, who did not give his address, advised officers that someone took his billfold containing about $60. He talked to police in a local hotel.

Richard Thomas, Webb Air Force Base, also reported to police that his billfold was taken from his pocket. It was taken Saturday while he was in a local store, he said.

Aliens Questioned

Roger Bushner, investigator for the U. S. Immigration Service, was in Big Spring Saturday to question three Mexican aliens in connection with charges that one of them was smuggled into this country. The three were arrested by local Border Patrol officers who believe that the two who are in this country legally are implicated in the alleged smuggling operation. Bushner formerly was in charge of the Border Patrol unit here.

Forgery Charges Due To Be Filed

Charges of forgery probably will be filed Monday against two Odessans who were arrested Friday. District Attorney Elton Gilliland reported.

The two are accused of passing a forged check at the Newsom Food Market, 1910 Gregg. Two other Odessans were brought here Friday by sheriff's deputies for questioning in connection with the case.

Interplay fine china by IROQUOIS

Iroquois has done it again! The famous 50 year old kilns of Iroquois now produce a casually elegant true translucent china that sets a new fashion trend in dinnerware. The new fashion is a unique color-coordinated combination of patterns and solid colors. Some pieces come in solid colors. Others bear graceful decorations executed in the solid colors on white. Patterned piece combines with solid piece into just about the handsomest table settings you—or your guests—have ever seen.

Imported English clays and peak temperature firing result in great strength, tremendous resistance to chips and cracks. And, best of all, you can cook in Interplay... roast or bake... eliminate hours of scrubbing messy pots and pans. This is china you'll use every day... three times a day... and love for life!

President Thought Opposed To Lone-Wolf McCarthy Probes

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported on high authority today to have sent word to his Senate lieutenants that he wants investigations conducted by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) manned at all times by other Republicans as well.

A top administration official is known to have urged Sens. Mundt (R-SD), Dirksen (R-Ill) and Potter (R-Mich) to drop other duties and be on hand when McCarthy questions witnesses in his continuing, Communist-in-government inquiries. Along with McCarthy, those three are the GOP members of the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

The clear implication was that they should be on hand—as they often have not been in the past—to temper proceedings.

This proposed GOP check on the Wisconsin senator's activities is an offshoot of an unofficial four-point program said to have been outlined by White House aides—and approved by Eisenhower—to prevent a repetition of the clash growing out of charges by Secretary of the Army Stevens that McCarthy had "abused" an Army officer witness.

This program called for (1) an end to one-man subcommittee investigations such as McCarthy has conducted in the past, (2) limitations on the use of subpoenas, (3) establishment in practice as well as in theory of the right of witness to have legal counsel and (4) adequate notice of hearings.

How far it will get is a question. McCarthy isn't one to let anybody tell him how his hearings should be run. However, he said yesterday he would like to see both Republican and Democratic senators attend.

The Wisconsin senator said he intends to keep right on investigating McCarthy hearings. They forced gating, even if it embarrasses his own party. He contended that he hasn't mistreated witnesses and said that in the future they "will have the same consideration as in the past."

Eisenhower was described by close associates as enthusiastically endorsing a move by the Senate Republican Policy Committee to survey rules used by investigating committees and to try to work out some pattern governing activities of the committees.

The President's friends said they feel if some effective code is forthcoming it will allay the criticism heaped on Stevens by those who thought the executive department had capitulated to McCarthy's demands for further testimony from Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker.

The Senate Policy Committee's move toward finding new and enforceable rules won the approval of Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader.

Knowland said in an interview that he believes all investigating committees should have bipartisan membership, that subpoenas should be issued by the chairman only after consultation with at least one member of the opposing party and that subpoenas should not be signed in blank for future use by the staff.

Democratic members have indicated they intend to be present at Knowland said it might not be possible to obtain adoption of a uniform code of procedure for all investigations but that individual committees themselves might make equitable principles apply.

The senator made it clear, however, that he doesn't believe congressional inquiries can be so limited as to defeat their purpose. He said he sees no reason, for instance, why witnesses who are suspect shouldn't be asked if they were Communists and legitimate attempts made to gain their answers.

Knowland Doubts That Any New Treaty Curb Proposal Is Likely

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today he doubts any further move will be made in Congress this year for a constitutional amendment curbing the President's power to make international pacts.

Commenting on the Senate's vote Friday night which killed a substitute by Sen. George (D-Ga) for an already-dead proposal by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), Knowland said he knew of no move to reconsider the vote.

Bricker and George said, however, the issue would be revived in this fall's congressional campaign.

The Senate voted 60-31, one short of the necessary two-thirds of those participating, and thus the George proposal was killed.

Although any one of five absentee senators, or any who voted against the George plan, could move to reconsider next week, the split among the five who didn't vote was such that the George substitute evidently would lose if all 96 Senate votes were recorded.

George had proposed language under which treaties and other international agreements would be void if they did not conform to the Constitution. Executive agreements other than treaties could become effective as internal law only by act of Congress.

The Eisenhower administration had opposed the latter provision as likely to curtail the President's war powers and hamper his conduct of diplomatic relations with other countries.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said in a statement that rejection of all proposed constitutional changes by the Senate was "a great bipartisan victory for the administration and for the President."

"The Senate votes on proposals to amend the Constitution showed very clearly that a majority of the Senate is strongly opposed to tampering with the treaty-making powers in the Constitution," Wiley said.

He added that the vote on final passage was concerned almost entirely with international agreements.

These pacts are not submitted to Congress for approval. Treaties, on the other hand require a two-thirds vote of the Senate.

"When finally voted upon," said Wiley, "the proposal, as embodied in the George amendment, was a very different thing from the Bricker amendment, which had been emasculated before the Senate ever reached a vote on final passage."

"Indeed, the only thing that remained of the Bricker amendment was the first section which merely restated what the Supreme Court has always held to be existing law—namely, that a treaty cannot override the Constitution."

He said that the Bricker amendment, as originally drafted, "was never able to muster even a simple majority vote in the Senate, much less two-thirds."

"Needless to say, I am extremely gratified by the action of the Senate in so decisively rejecting the Bricker amendment and in then defeating the less harmful George substitute," Wiley said.

"The basic objection to both of these proposals was that they would upset the constitutional balance of powers between the President, the Senate, the House, and the 48 states."

He added that the vote on final passage was concerned almost entirely with international agreements.

ONE WORLDISM Tennessee Town Decides That Buzzing Is Out

CAMP KILMER, N.J., Feb. 27 (AP)—In a fund drive for the Crusade for Freedom, the Army said today, Camp Kilmer soldiers contributed $1,701.64 plus six cents worth of German currency, a Danish dime, a Belgian penny, eight cents in Canadian coins, and one punctured disc marked "bridge transit company—good for one fare."

HUNTINGDON, Tenn., Feb. 28 (AP)—Shaken residents made it plain today they wanted no more buzzing of their courthouse by military planes carrying hometown airmen.

"We were just lucky it wasn't Saturday," said Mayor Robert M. Murray, referring to yesterday's spectacular crash of an Air Force "flying boxcar" that exploded while making a second treelap level swoop over the town square.

"If the square had been crowded as it always is on Saturdays some of our people would probably have been killed," Murray said.

The big plane's four man crew, including its pilot, Lt. Jack Jenkins Jr., 24, of Huntingdon, died when it blew up and plunged in flames into a muddy field on the edge of town.

During its death dive, the twin-engine C119 spewed flaming gasoline and wreckage over a four-block section. Two residents were burned, one seriously, by the burning fuel.

Townpeople said that since World War II days it had been traditional for Huntingdon pilots to buzz the courthouse if they ever flew within 100 miles of their hometown.

A Circuit Court trial was in progress when the plane, on a flight from Lawson Air Force Base, Ft. Benning, Ga., made its first roaring pass over the courthouse. About 75 persons were in the courtroom.

"I was looking out the east window when the plane came back," said Carroll County Sheriff Roy Butler.

The huge craft was trailing smoke after grazing the top of a house at the start of its second buzz.

"It looked like it was coming right in the courtroom window," Butler went on. "We saw a flash as it went over and at first we thought it had hit the roof of the courthouse."

Elber McKinney said he saw the blazing plane slam to earth in a cornfield.

Attorney Will Not Appeal Todd Verdict

DALLAS, Feb. 27 (AP)—Maury Hughes, court-appointed attorney for Dallas hoodlum Jack Todd, said today he will not appeal a two-year sentence given Todd yesterday in a murder case.

A jury in Cleburne found Todd guilty of murder without malice in the pistol slaying of Chester (Scotty) Crampton, Dallas gas salesman, in a tavern fight.

the sanitation problems of the growing city.

Another fairly recent expansion of the municipal services involved establishment of a police department. This occurred in 1951, and the city now has two full-time officers—Chief Ed McCain and Patrolman Walter Graves. The department has a new, radio-equipped patrol car.

One of the city's biggest headaches in the past few years of drought has been street maintenance. Wind and continued dry weather aggravated the chughole problem and lack of moisture made it difficult to "work" gravel streets.

The problem was at least partially solved, however, by purchase of a heavier maintainer, and Martin County maintenance crews pitched in to assist with their equipment. The county force aided by watering all streets and helped with grading and leveling work.

City councilmen — S. W. Wheeler, Bob Deavenport, Sam Wilkinson, Ernest Price, Phil Berry and Mayor Sale — have instituted a new parking system in the business district. A time zone for parking around the postoffice was established, and street parking was ordered on all streets except St. Anna, which now is carrying all Highway 80 traffic through Stanton. Parallel parking is in effect on this street, due to the heavy volume of traffic.

Front Street, the regular Highway 80 route, currently is being widened as part of the Highway Department's program of making a freeway program. Curb and gutter will be added to Front as a part of the project.

Stanton also is studying plans for additional facilities for its residents. Officials are considering the establishment of a Youth Center and Swimming Pool, with numerous local organizations cooperating in the movement. Mayor Sale has made numerous inquiries and has inspected swimming pools in other cities as the center is being planned.

City Park already has been improved. It has been completely seeded and new swings, picnic units and tennis courts have been installed and constructed.

Bracero Pact Is Set Temporarily

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The United States and Mexico were reported today to have agreed that Mexican farm workers already in this country may remain here pending further negotiations for settlement of differences on a migratory labor program.

Thousands of Mexican nationals whose work contracts have expired in the past 48 hours faced deportation unless some agreement was reached. They had been admitted under the old labor agreement which expired Jan. 15.

Diplomats here in close contact with conferences underway between the two nations said that because of the progress achieved in their talks, the two governments had agreed that those workers already here and who so desired could be rehired for an additional period of six weeks in accordance with pertinent provisions of the old agreement.

Formal announcement of the provisional agreement covering the workers already in this country was expected to be made shortly in Mexico City.

The development came as the U.S. House of Representatives scheduled action Monday on legislation authorizing the United States to hire Mexican nationals on a unilateral basis, until such time as the two nations could reach agreement on terms under which the workers were to be recruited.

The talks reportedly have been stalled over failure to agree on two principal points:

1. Mexico wants workers given a guaranteed, specific wage, while U.S. negotiators are holding out for the "prevailing" wage of a locality where the laborer is hired, as in the old contract.

2. Mexico wants recruiting centers established in the interior of that country; U.S. representatives want them established at border points.

Five minor automobile mishaps were reported to police in Big Spring Friday and Saturday. Apparently there were no injuries.

Teresa Perry Smith, 208 NE 3rd, and Dorris Edgar Patterson, 1103 West 6th, were drivers of vehicles involved in a collision at noon Saturday in the 600 block of West 3rd.

Shortly before, an accident had been reported at 2nd and Rannels involving cars driven by Lucille R. Long, 210 1/2 Mesquite, and Charles Edmond Bailey, 709 San Antonio.

The Friday collision started about 8:20 a.m., when cars collided which were operated by Edna Francis Stokes, Alta Vista Apartments, and Floyd Watson, route 1. The accident was at 8th and Johnson.

At noon Friday an accident was reported in the 600 block of 11th Place, in front of the senior high school. It involved a car driven by Anna Bell Lane, 703 Johnson, and a parked pickup.

Clem Sanchez, 603 North Douglas, and Billie Eugene Palmer, Webb Air Force Base, were operators of vehicles in a collision at the 200 block of Main about 9:30 p.m. Friday.

Panel Discussions Set At Dent Meet

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Plans for the Democratic party's Southern rally at Miami, Fla., March 6, were enlarged today to embrace panel discussions on economic problems and opportunities for the South.

It previously had been announced that next Saturday's "regional conference and dinner" would feature a Jefferson-Jackson fund-raising dinner with Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, the main speaker.

The Democratic National Committee announced today Stevenson's speech will be carried by the CBS television network and the CBS and NBC radio chains from 10:30 to 11 p.m., EST.

Batchelor Says He'd Like To Make Up For Red Activities

By G. K. HODENFIELD
TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Feb. 27 (AP)—Army Capt. Claude J. Batchelor arrived here today enroute to his Texas home and declared, "I would like to do something to make up for what I did for the Communies."

The lanky, 23-year-old soldier, who led the pro-Communist American prisoners of war, said he had been told he probably would not be court-martialed for his aid to the Reds.

"I knew before I came back that there would be a lot of resentment, but I had to come back anyway," he said in an interview after he collected $200 in back pay from about $5,000 he had coming.

"I don't know what to expect in my home town of Kermit, Texas. My mother wrote to me and says everything will be ok. But I don't know what to expect."

"All I can say about my future plans is that I would like to do something to make up for what I did for the Communies. I don't know yet what that could be."

"The important thing is that Americans fight Communism. I have given the matter a lot of thought, but I don't know yet how it can be done the most effective way."

most a book. It's far too long a story to try to tell anybody now.

"The Communies did very well in their indoctrination at the start, but as time went on they did even better convincing us how wrong they were."

Batchelor said he would telephone his parents today, and leave tonight for Brooke Army Hospital at San Antonio. He will be on American Airlines' Flight 910, leaving San Francisco at 8:45 p.m. PST, arriving at El Paso at 2:55 a.m. MST.

Then he will transfer to Continental and American Airlines Flight 952, leaving El Paso at 3:45 a.m. MST, and arriving at San Antonio at 6:45 a.m. CST.

After a checkup at Brooke, Batchelor probably will be given the usual 30-day leave. He said intelligence officers who interviewed him and told him they did not think he would be court-martialed.

"But that was just their unofficial opinion," Batchelor commented.

He appeared very weary and thoughtful, but occasionally flashed a quick and pleasant smile.

Batchelor was one of the first off a C54 plane from Hawaii, forced to land at McClellan Air Force Base near Sacramento because of high winds at Travis. He later was brought here by bus.

Asked to explain why he originally went over to the Communist side, Batchelor said:

"The whole story would be al-

CEDAR GROVE, N. J. (AP)—Puzzled police today were trying to figure out whether a young Navy ensign had kidded them or had indeed made a difficult 11th hour decision.

Patrolman Donald Schneider said he was on duty Friday when this happened:

Ens. Robert Ziegler walked into police headquarters and asked if he was in the right place for getting a marriage license.

He was directed to the town registrar's office nearby. He left.

Two minutes later he was back. He said he had changed his mind.

"I'll settle for a dog license," Ziegler said, producing $2.25.

Dog license in hand he went out to his car and drove off with a beautiful blonde at his side.

Use For Sheddings

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ever hear of a suit made of dog's hair?

Mrs. Frieda Schmidt of Suburban Lemay has a three-piece ensemble made from the combings of her two samoyed dogs which she saved for two years.

The combings—four and one-half pounds in weight—were sent to a woman in Rhode Island who spun and wove the hair into cloth. Then the material was cleaned and shrunk.

Mrs. Schmidt sewed the three-piece suit herself. Total cost of the more than 6 yards of material 31 inches wide, was $53.50.

The dogs, known as Siberian sled dogs, have soft, pure white hair.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—"Think of a story from the Bible and then draw a picture of it," the Sunday school teacher told her class of 6-year-olds.

She was pleased with the results until she noticed one boy drawing a long sports car with three faces peering out.

"And just what Bible story do you think that tells?" she asked.

"That's the Lord driving Adam and Eve out of the Garden of Eden," he replied.

He was taken to the hospital in a Nalley ambulance about 2:50 p.m. Attendants said he would be hospitalized for several days.

Mrs. J. D. Allison, 511 Benton, was also hospitalized Saturday. She suffered a fractured leg after falling from the bed while hanging draperies.

ulate a solution of the crisis at the invitation of Col. Shkeir.

The political leaders were reported to be supporting the revolting Army elements.

Planes from Aleppo, big northern commercial city where the revolt was born, rained pamphlets on Damascus — last stronghold of Shishkeily's backers. They called on the rest of the army to join their movement. Thousands of demonstrators surged through Damascus demanding that Parliament be cleared of pro-Shishkeily elements.

The pamphlets urged the army to ignore pressure from "a small number of officers" still supporting the little dictator.

We appeal to all officers, sub-officers and privates of the army to maintain unity," the pamphlet said, "and prove to the world that it never has and never will act against its own nation."

(Radio Aleppo, heard in Beirut, Lebanon, called on army forces in Damascus to "revolt against Capt. Hussien Hildeh and Capt. Abdul Hak Shehadeh." It described the two as officers controlling the Damascus garrison, and accused them of assaulting Col. Shawkat Shkeir, army chief of staff.

(Earlier reports heard in Beirut said Shkeir had been forced to resign by Damascus demonstrators after he had proclaimed his support for a constitutional solution of the crisis. These reports said the demonstrators had seized the House of Parliament.)

Some of the demonstrators invaded Parliament and beat up a Druze deputy, Mohamed Abou Asali, who supported Shishkeily's measures against a Druze tribal rebellion last month. Police intervention saved his life.

The demonstrators also called for the resignation of interim President Mahmoud el Kuzbari, who was speaker of the House under the Shishkeily regime. Kuzbari has said he would cooperate with members of the former Shishkeily government and other political leaders to try to find an amicable solution.

Kuzbari, who was made temporary president under provisions of the constitution Shishkeily put through last June, promised to hold presidential elections within two months. He also pledged to uphold Shishkeily's constitution.

The Aleppo rebels have declared their aim is not only the removal of Shishkeily, but the scrapping of his constitution.

There were reports that the Aleppo rebels had proclaimed an ex-President Hachem Bey el Attassi to succeed Shishkeily and demanded a return to the old constitution.

The Shishkeily constitution gave Moslem Syria's women voting rights, guaranteed free elementary education and called for redistribution of state-owned lands.

Shishkeily, who went by plane from Lebanon to exile in Saudi Arabia, tried to carry out many reforms, but political opponents objected to his dictatorial methods.

Among other things, they accused him of irregularities in the election last June which elected him president without opposition.

Savage also sounded a further stiffening of the Democratic position as the dominant political party in Texas.

We are not going to be dismembered by the left wingers on the one side and the Republicans on the other.

"We have not been doing as much yapping as either one of these little groups because we have a quiet confidence in the fundamental good judgment of Texas democracy."

"Both the left wingers and the Republicans would like to see this vast majority of Texas Democrats . . . move into the Republican Party. It is not going to happen," Savage said.

The convention elected a slate of eight officers by acclamation, naming Jim W. McCormick, 32-year-old Wichita Falls attorney, as state president without opposition.

Other officers named were A. E. Stanfield of Lufkin, executive vice president; Mrs. Jack Small, of Tyler, vice president; Calvin Bentzen of McAllen, a cousin of Congressman Lloyd Bentzen Jr., secretary; Del Rep. Mrs. Dorothy Gurley of Del Rio, national committee woman; Hall Timamus of Houston, chairman of the state executive committee; Glen Brown of Fort Worth, vice chairman; and Roy A. Butler of Austin, secretary of the committee.

SERVING BIG SPRING

Losses Were Heavy

Pictured above are the only regulars on the offensive and defensive platoons who will return to play football for Big Spring High School in 1954. The Steers are now in spring workouts. In the top photo are the offensive regulars back—Lefty Don Reynolds (left), Carlisle (Frosty) Robison (center) and Brick Johnson (right) halfbacks. The defensive starters back are shown in the lower photo. They are, left to right, Tommy McAdams, Robison, Buddy Cosby, Jerry Graves, and Johnson. The Steers should be well fixed for linebackers, though. All the quintet can and do play that position. McAdams Cosby and Graves are all due to play on offense, too, next fall.

Torrid SW Race To End Tuesday

The nerve-racking Southwest Conference basketball race, as hectic and upsetting as any ever played, rolls to a smashing close Tuesday night and best indications are that Rice and Texas will share the championship.

It is certain that no team other than those two can win the title or tie for it. That was fixed Friday night when Rice beat Texas Christian 72-65 and Texas leveled Arkansas 67-57. Until that time there was a possibility of five teams being able to tie for first place.

Monday night Baylor and Texas A&M play at Waco in a game meaning virtually nothing in the race. Tuesday night comes the grand climax. Rice entertains high-scoring Southern Methodist at Houston while Texas meets the shock of Texas Christian at Austin. Defeat for either Texas or Rice will mean the championship goes to the other. Victory by both means they will wind up in a tie for the title and a playoff will be necessary to decide which represents the conference in the NCAA tournament at Stillwater, Okla., opening March 12. If there is a tie for the conference title Texas and Rice will play at Houston next Friday night then move to Austin for the second game of the series March 8. If a third game is needed it will be on a neutral court.

Rice faces a tough one in its closing bid for the title. Southern Methodist has been running like the wind in the stretch. The Mustangs beat Texas 90-63 Tuesday night and Baylor 90-66 Saturday night, setting a new scoring record for one team in a season—874 points in 11 games, an average of almost 80 points per game in conference play.

Southern Methodist it was that beat both of the teams now tied for the championship. Baylor turned that trick also but SMU beat Baylor easily Friday. Right now Southern Methodist is in third place and can finish there by beating Rice. Defeat for SMU, however, would throw the third place spot wide open.

It will be the ninth championship fight for the solid-punching, 30-year old New York Negro who was called a "cheese champion" when he won the 135-pound title from Ike Williams nearly three years ago. There are few doubters of Carter's ability today.

The flat-nosed, poker-faced New Yorker whipped Art Aragon and Lauro Salas in title fights and then almost made his critics look right when he dropped the crown to Salas in a second fight in Los Angeles, May 14, 1952.

But Jimmy snatched back the diadem five months later by out-pointing Salas in Chicago. Since then he has been a terror in his championship contests.

DeMarco, who seemed to have hit his peak in a two-year span between 1950 and 1952, may have gotten his chance too late. He had a poor year in '53, winning three bouts and losing four. He jumped back into the contention, however, on Jan. 2 when he outpointed Ralph Dupas, the New Orleans schoolboy whiz, in the latter's home town.

BOBBY MAINES ... Arizona Bound

Maines, Miners On Trip West

EL PASO, Feb. 27 (SC) — Knocked out of their bid for an all-even basketball record, the Texas Western Miners will be pressing doubly hard for a pair of victories when they wind up the 1953-54 season on a quick two-game Arizona swing Monday and Tuesday.

A shattering 57-45 upset at the hands of New Mexico A&M here Wednesday night ruined the Miners' chances for a final season record of 11-11—but a pair of wins in Arizona will give the Orediggers a final Border Conference mark of 6-6, their best in many years.

George McCarty's youthful crew travels with the University of Arizona Monday night in Tucson, then winds things up against ASC Tempe Tuesday.

The Miners hold victories over both clubs this season. They beat Arizona's Wildcats, 75-57, on Jan. 11, and racked Tempe 83-69 on Jan. 29. But both games were played in El Paso—and McCarty figures his team will have to be "way up" to repeat the wins on the two Arizona teams' home courts.

McCarty plans to take an 11-man squad on the trip. Included will be forwards Jim Babers, Ned Moore, Dick McAlpine and Bobby Maines, of Big Spring; centers Billy Gregory, Harlan Caster and Ray Stevens; guards Gene Major, A. J. Mason, Chuck Gallagher and Alvis Giddwell.

Babers, Moore, Gregory, Majors and Mason, probably will draw the starting assignments.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

One of the reasons the Big Spring High School gridders fared so well last fall was the fact that all the lads showed proper respect for their captains and got along so well together. . . . The seniors didn't regard themselves unapproachable by under-classesmen. . . . If the same spirit of camaraderie exists this fall, the team is apt to 'go places' again. . . . The boys asked to be given ample time to name their 1954 captain or captains this spring, in order to have ample opportunity to study their teammates under all kinds of conditions. . . . The existence of cliques have ruined some Big Spring teams in the past. . . . The lads on the present team should take care that they do not again become fashionable. . . . "We'll have a good football team again, if we learn to block and tackle," Coach Carl Coleman remarked, during a Steer drill last week, then added reflectively, "but, that's all football is—blocking and tackling— isn't it?" . . . Jim McWhirter, the former Steer coaching aide and before that a standout griddler for both ACC and TCU, says the difference between good and bad blocking is the ability to remain on one's feet. . . . "You can't block, lying on the ground," says Jumbo Jim Coleman, incidentally, speaks well of Truett Newell, Stormy Edwards and James Washburn, all of whom have been showing to advantage in early drills. . . . Washburn will always be handicapped by a lack of left but he makes up for it in aggressiveness. . . . When Coleman played college football at ACC, incidentally, he never weighed more than 157. . . . Pepper Martin, the local baseball manager, scaled only 135 when he quarterbacked the high school team here in the early '40's. . . . When Martin took a look at the gridders out for drills here recently, he remarked: "No bigger than I was, coach, you wouldn't even have given me a suit."

Cage Coaches Plan Trip To Kansas

Hal (Stretch) Jackson, who used to play first base for Sweetwater, has written the local baseball club, asking for a job. . . . Avelio Ortega, ace of the Odessa mound staff in 1951 and '52, is due to be back with the Oilers this year. . . . Roswell has signed a red-hot rookie first sacker named Angelo Cerroni of Toole, Utah, who performed in the GI World Series in Europe in 1951. . . . When Martin was asked what he thought about Al McCarty, the new Wichita Falls manager, he remarked: "He's a good sticker. He's as big as Joe Bauman, too." . . . Bauman is the king-size first sacker who has been terrorizing Longhorn League hurlers the last couple of years. . . . Floyd Brown, the Big Spring High School volleyball baller who now coaches the Seminole Indian Maidens hired out here as a teacher after leaving North Texas State College but resigned to go to Wink at $1,000 more per annum. . . . Harold Davis, HCJC mentor; Larry McCulloch of Odessa JC and John Malaise of the Odessa High School coaching staff are all planning to attend the NAIB Tournament in Kansas City next month. . . . Incidentally, Odessa JC—which won 13 games against 10 losses for its most successful basketball season in history this year—has never beaten HCJC here. . . . And HCJC is the only West Zone team ever to defeat Amarillo in Amarillo. . . . Jack Williams, the Jayhawk cager, may enroll at ENMU in Portales, N. M., next September. . . . Ed Price, the University of Texas grid mentor, will be one of the coaches in the All Star North-South high school football game in New Mexico Aug. 14. . . . The game takes place in Albuquerque.

Diaz, De la Torre Must Be Neighbors

The 17th annual Oil Bowl football game takes place in Wichita Falls Aug. 20. . . . A well-known New York sports writer is famous for his antagonism toward professional wrestling. That's a good reason: Long years ago, he fronted for the best-known grapple promoter there and cut in on the profits but the promoter double-crossed him and the writer's income from the business dwindled away to nothingness. . . . The feud was then on and it still rages. . . . There's a lot of pro and con argument going on now in Des Moines, Iowa, over whether a football stadium should be built for East High School. . . . That's where Bobbye Savage, the former Big Spring, is head coach. . . . Gloria Ezell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Strom of Big Spring, holds a unique distinction in Midland. . . . She scored the last hole-in-one on the Midland Country Club golf course before the layout was closed to make way for some new houses. . . . Drake University is going all out to put more growl in the Bulldog—that is, to raise money for the Drake athletic fund that would improve their football teams. . . . Mickey Diaz, the ex-Big Spring now being carried on the Midland baseball roster, must live within shouting distance of Julio De la Torre, the Bronco third sacker. . . . The holdout letter he recently sent to his Indian boss was almost identical to the one sent here by De la Torre. . . . Bevo Francis and the Rio Grande basketball team reportedly will play Sam Houston State in the Houston Coliseum next Dec. 20. . . . The Wichita Falls Longhorn League players will wear numbers on the front of their jerseys this season. . . . Chris Krebs will be the only offensive backfield regular lost to the Vernon High School gridders next fall. . . . Robert Pigg, Bill Lovelace and Jerry Pearson will all be back.

Blues Nudge Whites In Squad Skirmish

Led by a bull-dozing fullback named Buddy Cosby—the reader might have heard of him—the Blues toppled the Whites, 21-19, in a Big Spring High School intra-squad football game Saturday afternoon at Steer Stadium.

Costy speared a pass thrown by Charley Johnson in the last two minutes of play to alter the outcome of the furiously fought encounter. The play covered 60 yards.

A moment before, Big Spring's great All-State performer, Frosty Robison, had given the Whites apparent victory on a sensational 50-yard dash down the left side line.

The Blues trailed for much of the game but early in the fourth period C. T. Kilway of the Blues tied the score on the 'belly play,' going over from seven yards out. When Cosby barreled over for the extra point, the Blues went ahead for the first time.

Then came Robison's electrifying run. The Whites held a 13-0 lead at one stage. Robison galloped 45 yards for the first score in the initial period. Glenn Jenkins boot the point.

Tommy McAdams passed to Gene Odell for the second White score in the second round. The play covered 15 yards. Dickie Milam of the Blues blocked the try for extra point.

Despite a fierce wind blowing out of the north, the sand that the gale kicked up and the cold weather, the players showed fine spirit and gave promise of another great Steer football team.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dillard were at the spa to see the race. On Wednesday Doyle Vaughn's Cobra Hella finished fourth in a three-year-old race at six furlongs but was less than one length from the wire at photo taking time.

The Hot Springs meet opened last Saturday with more than 1,500 horses present for the 31-day meet. No racing is scheduled there on Sundays.

Both Big Spring horses were making their first starts there. Those entering to date are Jerry Barber, Al Bessellink, Julius Boros, Jack Burke, Walter Burkemo, Jimmy Demaret, Dave Douglas, Doug Ford, Marty Furgol, Fred Haas, Chandler Harper, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Tex Kroll, Dick Mayer, Shelley Mayfield, Byron Nelson, Johnny Palmer, Bob Toskie, Jim Turner, Amateurs Joe Conrad and Hogan, the defending champion.

"Never before have we had such a unanimous prompt response to our invitations," said S.M. Bingham, tournament chairman. Hogan sent his acceptance by telegram from his winter home at Palm Springs, Calif. It was the first entry.

The six who will receive their bids at the Houston Open are Jim Ferrier, Lloyd Mangrum, Cary Middlecoff, Ed Oliver, Art Wall and Law Washburn.

Invitations have been mailed to Gene Litter, Clayton Heafner and amateur Charles Coe.

The Steers were looking better in getting down on punts than they did at any time last fall. Coach Carl Coleman, 1,500 Bonner and Roy Baird lauded the boys' spirit and said Big Spring can't help but have another good club, if the boys continue to improve as they have the first week.

Carter Favored Over DeMarco

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—Lightweight champion Jimmy Carter, a rough competitor when his crown is on the line, is a 3-1 favorite to beat back the challenge of bustling Paddy DeMarco in their 15-round title bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

It will be the ninth championship fight for the solid-punching, 30-year old New York Negro who was called a "cheese champion" when he won the 135-pound title from Ike Williams nearly three years ago. There are few doubters of Carter's ability today.

Porkers Start Drills Mar. 3

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 27 (AP)—Sixty-four candidates will report for spring football practice at the University of Arkansas Wednesday.

More thoroughly indoctrinated in Bowden Wyatt's single-wing offense, the Razorbacks nevertheless represent the greenest team since 1946.

Three positions—end, center and tailback—are in line for a complete overhauling, lacking the presence of a single 1953 letterman.

Roughly 80 per cent native Arkansas, the second edition of Wyatt's building program will have some advantages over his initial squad.

Perhaps most important of all, the players will be in far better physical condition and should be ready for single-wing techniques as well as scrimmaging from the start. The entire 1953 spring work-outs were spent in familiarizing and conditioning—leaving only 22 days in September for play patterns.

Minus All-Southwest Conference stars Lamar McHan and Floyd Sagely, those two gaping holes appear to be the keynote of Bowden's work in 1954. The Lake Village workhorse personally handled over two-thirds of the 1953 offensive assignments, while Sagely caught one-third of all of the passes for 40 per cent of the aerial yardage.

HPC Places Two On All-Stars

ABILENE, Feb. 27 (AP)—Champion Howard Payne placed two men on the All-Texas Conference basketball team; one of them—Dan Owen—being a near unanimous choice.

Teammate, Damon Miller, won a place on the team although he missed two conference games because of an appendectomy.

Others making up the team were James Ed Brown and Jack McCall of Abilene Christian, Melvin White of Howard Payne, Fred Shelton of McMurry and Tom Miksch of Texas A&I.

LONGHORN BRIEFS

Aton, Stasey Are Bound For Cuba

Notes from around the Longhorn League:

Al Aton and Pat Stasey have departed for Cuba on a search for baseball talent.

Aton, now owner of the Wichita Falls club, and Roswell's Pat Stasey, are one-time operators of the Big Spring entry and Stasey still maintains his residence here.

The name of the Artesia entry in the Longhorn League has been changed again.

The club will now be identified as the Artesia Numex Refiners, in honor of an organization that invested $10,000 in the club to keep it in Artesia.

Hopes Revived For Spread Of Devonian

Hopes that the Southeast Luthier Field might develop into a sizeable area were renewed this week when Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company announced good oil shows in a core of the Siluro-Devonian at its No. 1 E. N. Phipps.

Observers are of the opinion that the core is the best pulled from the formation at any of the projects in the field. It is believed that the venture will make a good oil well.

The Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 Phipps is northwest edge to present production in the field. It is the first "edger" to have oil shows in the Siluro-Devonian which indicate commercial production.

Two other edgers, the same firm's Nos. 1-C Spencer and 1-Haney, were plugged after the field pay some proved barren. Both were on the eastern side of the field.

The three producers in the field, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil's Nos. 1-A and 1-B Spencer and 1-Little, are in a straight north and south line. This line is about a mile west of the Luthier Store.

The No. 1 Phipps is the first west edger tested. A drillstem test between 9,911 and 9,965 feet at this project showed 110 feet of free oil (gravity 42.6), 870 feet of oil and gas-cut mud, and 30 feet of drilling mud.

Operator is now setting 5 1/2 inch casing on bottom, 10,015 feet, and then the project will be tested for completion. Drillbite is C NE NE, 10-32-2n, T&P survey.

Some people are of the opinion that the field will extend northwest from the present proven area. And others are looking to the west and even southwest.

In the latter direction a project now being drilled should decide the answer. Lone Star Drilling Company's No. 1 J. O. Haney, C SE SE, 23-32-2n, T&P survey, is now at 9,310 feet in line and making hole. It will be drilled to the Siluro-Devonian for tests.

East Ector Deep Well Completes

Tide Water Associated Oil Company No. 3 Tom McKnight has been completed as a new producer in the Headlee (Ellenburger) field of East Ector County.

On completion test the well flow 1,045.26 barrels of 53.7 gravity oil in 24-hours through a one-quarter inch tubing choke. It made no water.

Flowing tubing pressure was 1,700 pounds. Gas-oil ratio was 771-1.

Total depth is 13,300 feet. The 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 13,299 feet. That pipe is perforated at 13,230-280 .set. The perforated section had been washed with 1,000 gallons of mud acid and treated with 1,000 gallons of regular acid.

The new producer is four miles northeast of Odessa and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 7, block 41, T-2-S, T&P survey.

Completions In Decline

AUSTIN, Feb. 27 (AP)—Oil well completions totaled 236 this week, 49 less than the week before but still at a high level, the Railroad Commission reported today.

Oil wells brought in this year now total 1,925 compared with 1,526 a year ago.

Operators brought in three gas wells, none of them wildcats, and the year's figure reached 198 compared with 97 a year ago.

There were 101 dry holes, 56 of them wildcats.

Eberley Appeal Set For May 14

The appeal of Charles Eberley, et ux, versus the First National Bank of Stanton has been set for submission to the 11th District Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland on May 14.

The court set this date last week after granting a motion to the appellant to file a printed brief in lieu of those on file.

The appeal of Mrs. Maggie Cooper, et al, versus Herbert P. Butow, et al, also up from Howard County, was set for submission on May 7.

Appeal of Texas Employers' Insurance Association versus Mrs. G. P. Chunn was set for submission to the appellate court on May 21.

The regular session of the Young Democrats Club, which was set next Tuesday night, has been called off. President Alfred Goodson announced that there will not be another meeting until the first Tuesday in April. The meeting was called off because of a special session recently held.

Mechem Nominated

REEF AREA IN SOUTHWESTERN MITCHELL GAINS AN OUTPOST

McAlester Fuel Company of Magnolia, Ark., spotted a 5-8ths of a mile stepout to production in Mitchell County's one-well Albaugh (Pennsylvanian) Field this weekend. It will be the firm's No. 1-A Roy Largent.

The project will be drilled to 8,700 feet, and tests will be made of both the Pennsylvanian and the Ellenburger. Operations are to start soon, and drillsite is C SE SE, 8-17-SPRR survey.

Actual location is just north of the recently completed discovery well, Ray Albaugh, No. 1 Whittington, Albaugh, of Big Spring, contributed the lease for the project, which is also being sponsored by Humble Oil.

Although the No. 1 Whittington was completed in the Pennsylvanian as a 119-barrel discovery, it also had shows of oil in the Ellenburger with water. The McAlester try will test the Ellenburger as well as the Pennsylvanian.

The Albaugh Field is in the Southwest part of Mitchell County.

South Borden Test Finals After Year

Stephens Petroleum Company No. 1 Bacon, wildcat in Southeast Borden which has been inactive for more than a year, was completed this weekend as a pumping discovery from the Pennsylvanian Reef line.

It had a pumping potential of 25 barrels of oil and 100 barrels of water per day. Gravity of oil is 45 degrees.

Production is from perforations in the Pennsylvanian Reef between 7,155 and 7,165 feet. Total depth of well is 7,206 feet, where the 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented. Top of reef is 7,148 feet, and elevation is 2,370 feet.

The Stephens project has been idle since November 1, 1952, when the report was that pumping unit was being installed for completion.

Location is C SE SE, 49-25-H&T survey, about 17 miles southeast of Gall. It is one mile northwest of the Hobo Field, two miles northeast of the East Vealmoor Field, and 2 1/2 miles west of Heinicke production.

Another wildcat in the area, Russell Maguire and Baker Ingram No. 1 W. T. Shockley, C SE SW, 86-25-H&T survey, is reported waiting on cement to dry for 8 1/2 inch casing at 2,440 feet. This producer is about 13 miles southeast of Gall, and it will test the Pennsylvanian.

Another wildcat slated for a test of the Pennsylvanian in Southeast Dawson County has reportedly spudded. It is Joe A. Humphrey's No. 1 J. L. Billingsley, C NW NW, 12-34-3n, T&P survey. It has set 13 1/4 inch casing at 265 feet. This project is about 1 1/4 miles east of Ackery.

Also in Dawson County, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 Otto Dunlap, C SE SE, 46-35-6n, T&P survey, is moving in rotary tools. This wildcat is about three miles north of Lamesa, slated for depth of 9,500 feet to test the Pennsylvanian.

Edger Plugs In Oceanic

A north edger to production in the Oceanic (Pennsylvanian) Field of Howard County was plugged and abandoned this weekend after a drillstem test uncovered no shows of oil or gas.

The project, Oceanic et al No. 1-A R. D. Anderson, 330 from south and 797.8 from west lines, southeast quarter, 24-33-3n, T&P survey, is right on the Howard-Borden County line. Location is about a quarter mile west of Vealmoor.

The Pennsylvanian test was from 7,965 to 7,995 feet, and the length was not reported. Recovery was 30 feet of drilling mud, 90 feet of salty water cut mud, and 180 feet of salt water.

Operator deepened to 8,206 feet before abandoning project.

Drilling Is Static, Up From Last Year

DALLAS, Feb. 27 — A total of 2,561 rigs were active in oilfields of the United States and Canada for the week of Feb. 22, 1954, according to a report to American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors by Hughes Tool Company.

This compares with 2,686 reported a week ago, 2,506 a month ago, and with 2,582 in the comparable week of 1953. A comparison by principal areas for the past two weeks includes West Texas-New Mexico 456 (up 3 from the previous week).

Ex-Oil Editor Dies

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 27 (AP)—James Stanley Maxwell, 78, retired oil editor of the Wichita Daily Times, died today a week after he broke his hip in a fall. Requiem high mass will be held here at 10 a.m. Monday.

Three Producers Completed In Various Zones Of Two Counties

Three area completions were noted this weekend. They were in the East Vealmoor, Moore and Welch fields.

Shelly Oil Company announced that its No. 22 F. Gunn had been completed in the East Vealmoor Field. Oil flow in three hours and 45 minutes was 141.82 barrels.

Test flow was through a 5/8 inch choke, and there was no water. Gravity of oil was 45.6 degrees, gas-oil ratio measured 750-1, tubing pressure was 215 pounds, and casing pressure was zero.

Total depth measured 7,561 feet and was plugged back to 7,555. The 5 1/2-inch casing was bottomed at 7,549 feet. Pay was topped at 7,538, where perforations started. Perforated zone went to 7,550.5, and it was acidized with 500 gallons.

The new producer is 467' from east and 3,156' from north lease lines, 1-31-3n, T&P survey, on the west side of the field.

Dawson County's Welch Field saw the completion of Kay Kimbell's No. 1 C. V. Boldin. It made 66 barrels of oil in 24 hours on the pump. Some 10 per cent of recovery was water. Gravity measured 30.5 degrees, and gas-oil ratio was 120-1.

Total depth of well is 4,930 feet, with 5 1/2 set at 4,910. Pay was topped at 4,822 feet, and perforations are between 4,822 and 4,894 feet. A total of 17,000 gallons of acid were used.

Location is C NE NE, 88-M-

EL&RR survey about five miles west of Welch.

Howard County's Moore Field project was brought in by Cosden Petroleum Corporation. It was the No. 2 Dunagan, 992 from east and 330 from south lease lines, 19-33-T&P survey.

The Cosden project pumped 78 barrels of oil in 24 hours, gravity of which was 30.6 degrees. Some 37 per cent of recovery was water. Pay top was 3,130 feet, and total depth was 3,205. Elevation measured 2,505 feet.

Location is about five miles southwest of Big Spring.

Southeast Gains Devonian Discovery Finds More Pay

Rowan Drilling Company and associates No. 1 Stanton-Brunson flowing Devonian discovery in Southeast Gaines County has found more prolific pay.

The project ran a three hour and 18 minute drillstem test at 12,655-705 feet. A 2,535 foot water blanket was used. The water blanket came to the surface in 46 minutes and oil flowed out the top in one hour and six minutes.

The fluid was run to pits for 10 minutes to clean and it then flowed to tanks for two hours. During that period the section flowed 214.42 barrels of 36.9 gravity oil, 65-100ths of one barrel of drilling mud and 21-100ths of one barrel of water blanket. No formation water was shown from the test.

Gas volume was at the rate of 21,750 cubic feet per day. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 3,010 pounds at the start and 4,892 pounds at the end of the test.

After the tool was closed operators reversed out an additional 178 barrels of oil. Then 282 feet of clean oil was recovered from below the circulating sub.

The discovery is to drill deeper. It is 14 miles southeast of the town of Seminole and 660 feet from south and 2,800 feet from east lines of league 308, Terrell County School Land survey.

The section at 12,622-640 feet had recovered clean oil in a test and the zone at 12,640-665 feet had produced a total of 214.24 barrels of oil during a five-hour and 13 minute drillstem test.

"HOTFOOT" FOR WELLS

Electric Stoves Help Hike Production From Sandstone

By KEITH K. KING
 TULSA, Okla., Feb. 27 (AP)—In northern Montana, the Carter Oil Co. is giving some of its wells a "hotfoot" to extract more oil from the Cutbank Field's sandstone.

Petroleum experts are not fully agreed just how heat does the trick. Carter's Cutbank District engineer Rex Davis explained in the company's magazine, "The Link."

Of two principal theories, he said, one is that the heat melts accumulations of paraffin which partially plug the producing sand-stone's face. The other is that it reduces the tension of "connate" water, or that found in the oil formation.

"By relaxing the tight grip of the water to the oil," Davis explained, "the heat allows the crude to flow to the well bore with greater ease."

Carter has used the electric stoves in 23 wells since 1951 and plans to install about 20 more this year. Daily production in the heated holes has been raised from 8 1/2 to 43 barrels.

The stoves have a calrod unit, or heating element, like those in an electric range, except that in the oil well it's straight instead of coiled. This is encased in a perforated pipe sheath and submerged in the well bottom fluid, perhaps 3,000 feet below the surface, from the string of tubing below the pump.

Carter wasn't the first to try the hole-heating units in the Cutbank field, but its engineers claim to have made many improvements in design through their experiments.

The heaters won't work in every well, according to Davis. Moreover, they eat a lot of electricity and it's not economical to use them where they can coax comparatively minor increases from the formation.

In two days the stoves use about 330 kilowatt hours of current, the equivalent of a month's supply for the average home which has an electric kitchen range.

Seeking to obtain maximum production gains with a minimum use of current, Carter runs the heaters from 10 days to two weeks. When a well's output starts leveling off at a higher rate as a result of the warming process, the engineers cut down the heating time.

Thomas Named Conoco Landman

Wade E. Thomas has been appointed land superintendent for Continental Oil Company's Midland division. It was announced Saturday by D. D. Christner, Fort Worth, manager of exploration in Conoco's southwestern region.

Thomas, who will make his headquarters in Midland, has been associated with Continental's land activities since 1946, most recent as assistant land superintendent for the company's central region, headquartered at Oklahoma City. He joined the land department of Conoco at Ponca City, Okla., and has been active in Conoco's land program in Oklahoma, Indiana and Kansas. A native of Oklahoma, Thomas attended Central State College, Edmond, Okla., and New York University.

Offshore Drilling To Be Parley Topic

HOUSTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Offshore drilling operations will be among the topics discussed here next week at the spring meeting of the Southwestern District of the American Petroleum Institute's Division of Production.

Nine Texas and Louisiana experts will present papers at a special tidesands session Friday afternoon.

The three-day session opens Wednesday with a series of committee meetings.

New Avgas Plant Is Now On Stream

HOUSTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—A new 3,000 barrel daily aviation gasoline unit is in production at the Eastern States Petroleum Co. refinery on the Houston ship channel.

R. N. Blaize, executive vice president, said the gasoline will be sold to the armed services on a long term contract. The unit also will release propane, butanes and other byproducts to normal marketing channels.

Exploration Is Due S'West Of Snyder

Two and one-half miles southwest of Snyder and in Central Scurry County, Taylor Oil & Gas Company of San Angelo spotted location for an 8,000-foot wildcat.

It will be drilled as No. 2 Winston Brothers, 330 feet from south and east lines of section 37, tract 67, Kirklind & Fields survey.

Operations are to start at once.

Rainwater To Lead Chamber Board Meet

The board of directors for the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will meet at noon Monday at the Chamber conference room in the Permian Building.

Champ Rainwater, newly elected president, will be in charge of the meeting. This will be the first official session of the board since new directors were selected.

THAT ISSUE IS HERE AGAIN Proposed Amendment Would Curtail Depletion Allowance

By CHARLES HASLEY
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—A new move to reduce the petroleum industry's depletion allowance for tax purposes was the big—though unwelcome—Washington news of the week for oil and gas men.

"It is a case of one industry having too much benefit," Sen. Williams (R-Del.), one of the authors of the proposed legislation, said today.

Williams offered the proposal in the Senate yesterday. It would amend the new tax bill—when that measure arrives from the House—to make the depletion allowance 15 per cent instead of the present 27 1/2 per cent. Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) is a co-author.

In an interview Williams said he and Aiken were "in earnest" and hoped to get the amendment through Congress this year.

The oil industry in the past has united in opposition to any cut in the depletion allowance and can be counted on to fight the latest proposal just as strongly.

The House Ways and Means Committee, source of all tax legislation, has not considered any reduction in the allowance in preparing this year's tax revision bill.

The Treasury Department will be asked its views of the new proposal, Williams said.

In the Truman administration the Treasury twice recommended to Congress a reduction in the allowance to 15 per cent but Congress did not go along.

"I think the allowance is too high," Williams said.

He estimated the 27 1/2 per cent rate amounts to between 250 and 300 million dollars a year.

"We need revenue now," he said. "And if we don't need the revenue, there are many more worthy places where the load could be distributed. It is a case of one industry having too much benefit and a loophole, the correction of which is long overdue."

The Williams-Aiken amendment also would make mandatory that mineral leases on public lands be awarded on a competitive bidding basis rather than on the present standard of a fee of 50 cents an-acre except in "proven" areas.

There have been reports, Williams said, that the Interior Department has had to award leases at 50 cents an acre on lands for which more has been offered.

Total imports of oil and oil products have climbed more than 24 per cent since the end of 1950, the Independent Petroleum Association of America reports.

It attributes much of the increase to Middle East oil, some of which was reported to have gone to Texas and California, both major oil producing states.

The association's report shows that the total imports of oil and oil products averaged about 844,000 barrels a day in 1951; climbed in 1952 to about 958,000 barrels, an increase of 13 1/2 per cent, and in 1953 to about 1,050,000, an increase of 9.6 per cent over 1952 and 24.4 per cent over 1951.

Independent oil operators have been advocating a voluntary reduction in oil imports and if voluntary action is not forthcoming a legislative curb.

Public School Week Observance Planned

Public school week in Texas is being observed in schools over the county by special programs and visitation.

Forsan is having a special day Monday, beamed more to seniors who are thinking about vocations. Seniors from Coahoma, Knott and Big Spring have been asked to participate. Among speakers are R. L. Tollett, Col. Fred M. Dean, Horace Garrett, Dr. P. W. Malone and Dr. W. A. Jarrett. Thursday evening, Forsan schools will have open house.

Coahoma has a special program for Wednesday afternoon and an awards program for Friday afternoon. Receptions will follow.

In Big Spring schools, emphasis is upon visitation.

"We hope that as many of our patrons as possible will make it a point to spend some time during the week in the classroom of their child," said Supt. W. C. Blankenship. "We want them to see the schools in action as they are every day."

There may be some special exhibit material which is being prepared for the West Texas Teachers Association meeting here March 12.

Mayor G. W. Dabney proclaimed this as "Texas Public School Week."

"Whereas, Public School Week in Texas has become an annual event," he said, "and whereas, this week gives citizens a special incentive for visiting their public schools to obtain more knowledge about organization and operation of the schools; and whereas this affords an opportunity to become better acquainted with the administrators and with teachers; and whereas, this is the Centennial Year of the founding of the Texas public school system,

"I, George W. Dabney, by virtue of authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of Big Spring, do hereby proclaim the period of March 1-6 as Texas Public School Week in Big Spring, and do earnestly urge all patrons to make a determined effort to actually visit in the classrooms and see their schools in action." In Big Spring, school week is being supported especially by the Masonic order in keeping with a long policy of that body. It was among the very earliest boosters of a public school system in the state.

Forsan Plans For Program

FORSAN — Several prominent Big Spring men will speak at the Senior Day program Monday at the Forsan School in observance of Public School Week March 1-6. On the program will be Raymond Tollett, president of Coahoma Realty, who will discuss "What We Look For in Employees."

Col. Fred M. Dean, commander of Webb Air Force Base, will talk on "Are You Going Into Military Service?"

Horace Garrett, vice president of the First National Bank of Big Spring, will have "Finance and Credit" as his topic.

Dr. P. W. Malone of Malone and Hogan Clinic and Hospital, will discuss "Your Health."

"Are You Going to College?" will be Dr. Anthony Hunt's topic. He is president of Howard County Junior College.

Registration of Senior Day guests begins at 9:30 a.m. by the invocation by the Rev. R. L. Bowman of the Methodist Church set for 10 a.m. The talks will begin at 10:10 a.m.

Luncheon will be served to guests at 12 noon.

C. W. Bednor, district safety officer of Lubbock will give a safety demonstration at 1 p.m.

Thursday at 7:30 p.m. an open house will be held at the school. Winning essays will be read and music will be presented by the high school and junior high choruses. Solos will be given by Ann Green and Lucy Jacobs.

New Uniforms

Julius Glickman, drum major, and Lynda Mason, secretary, pose in the new uniforms of the Junior High School Band. Lynda wears the regular uniform which is basically scarlet with white and gold trim. The trouser stripe is gold and white-edged, the cap scarlet with white bill and plume. Except for the scarlet and gold panel with the junior high inscription, the drum major's uniform is all white, even to the fur shako topped by the scarlet plume. Members wear white shoes, white shirts and gold ties. There are 75 of the uniforms and Clyde Rowe, director, expressed "deep appreciation to all who helped in securing them, especially the Band Boosters Club."

First Move Expected In Excise Tax Drive

By CHARLES F. BARRETT WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The first move in a potent drive to cut many excise taxes in half may get under way early next week.

House Republican leaders said yesterday they are confident the Eisenhower administration will put up little or no real opposition to early passage of the bill.

There were broad hints the House Ways and Means Committee would take up the excise cutting proposal at a meeting called Monday for an unannounced purpose.

The plan, publicly backed by House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) and other key Republicans and many Democrats, would bring down to 10 per cent all excise or sales taxes now above that level.

One GOP theory was that these cuts could help fight off a Democratic drive to boost individual income tax exemptions.

Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee said today they thought it was very significant that Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey—in a private parley with them and Martin Friday—raised no objections to the planned excise cuts.

Nor, they said, did Humphrey propose any new taxes to make up the planned loss of revenue.

Treasury officials reportedly wanted to study the effects of the proposal before clarifying their stand. At sales rates over past periods, the bill would trim federal revenues by about $42 million dollars a year. But if the tax reductions are passed on as price cuts, sales presumably would pick up; if the tax cuts are not passed on, business profits presumably would increase, bringing in more income taxes. In either case, therefore, the actual revenue loss could be substantially under $42 million.

The proposal would slash levies now ranging from 15 to 25 per cent—most of them at 20 per cent—on such items as movie and other admissions, jewelry, women's handbags, cosmetics, furs, luggage, local and long-distance telephone bills, telegrams, passenger fares and sporting goods.

But it would be part of a three-package proposition also including:

1. Cancellation of a billion dollars in annual cuts scheduled automatically on some other excises on April 1. This would continue present rates on liquor, tobacco, gasoline, automobiles, beer and wines.

2. Cancellation of a two billion dollar cut—also set automatically for April 1 under present laws—in corporate income taxes.

Republicans said they probably would push the three-package excise and corporate rate bill ahead of a general, 800-page technical tax revision measure on which the Ways and Means Committee has been working for months. It provides about $1,300,000,000 in tax reductions the first year—more later—through more liberal deductions.

Here's Speedy Look At Leading Points In Tax Program Urged By House Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Here is a quick look at major provisions in a sweeping tax revision program completed tentatively by the House Ways and Means Committee late Friday. The 800-page bill is the culmination of two years' effort at removing alleged inequities to business and individuals.

Dividends — Taxes on stock dividends would be reduced about 240 million dollars the first year, about $50 million annually when the plan takes full effect.

Depreciation — Tax deductions allowed for the billions of dollars business puts annually into new plants and equipment would be much bigger in the first years of use.

The depreciation allowance for the first year would be doubled, with a declining deduction in later years; two-thirds of the cost of the item could be deducted in half its expected life. Present law allows a deduction of the cost in equal installments over the full expected life of the item. Revenue would balance out after about 16 years, but the reduction the first year would be about $75 million, up to $60 million the second year and possibly over one billion the third year.

Loss carrybacks — Corporations would be allowed to spread a loss one year retroactively over profits of the past two years, to get a refund for the two back years. Estimated revenue reduction: 100 million dollars.

Medical benefits — Medical expenses can be deducted now only as they exceed five per cent of income; the proposal lowers this to three per cent. The maximum deduction allowable would be doubled, up to $10,000 for a married couple. Revenue reduction: 65 million.

Dependents — Taxpayers could count children as dependents even though children earn more than $600 a year (forbidden now), so long as they provide more than half the support. Anyone supported in taxpayer's home could be counted as dependent, such as foster children. Revenue reduction — $5 million.

Single heads of families — would be allowed full benefits of income-splitting provision now permitted married couples. Single heads of households get only half this benefit now. The saving would be $3 at $4,000 income, $36 at $6,000, $52 at $8,000. Total revenue reduction: $9 million.

Retirement income — Retired persons over 65 could deduct up to $1,200 of their retirement income, whether from retirement plans or dividends, rentals, interest. This would be on top of all other deductions, but the maximum saving would be limited to $240 a year per person. Revenue reduction: about 125 million.

Child care expenses — Widows, widowers, or separated persons who work would be allowed to deduct up to $600 a year for expenses of caring for their children under age 10. Revenue reduction: 40 million.

Foreign income — Income earned by United States corporations from their actual operations abroad — not including investments — would be taxed at 14 percentage points less than domestic income. Revenue reduction: 155 million dollars.

Soil conservation — Farmers would be permitted to deduct for soil and conservation expenses up to 25 per cent of their income. Revenue reduction: 10 million dollars.

Annuities — Taxation of annuities or benefits from purchased pension plans would be reduced by 10 million dollars.

COMANCHE, Okla., Feb. 27 (AP)—Byron E. Stone, 37, Plainview, Tex., died in the wreckage of his car early today. The highway patrol said Stone's car overturned on a curve and caught fire.

A conference on alcoholics found the typical Canadian alcoholic is middle class between 35 and 45, a skilled or semiskilled worker, married, owning his own home with two or three children.

Slate Mapped At Coahoma

COAHOMA — Public School Week will be observed here next week with a schedule as follows, according to an announcement of H. L. Miller, superintendent:

The pledge of allegiance to the flag will be given in unison at 8:40 a.m. each day. Work of the students will be displayed in each room throughout the week. Parents are invited to visit the school any time during the week and lunches will be prepared for them.

A special program will be held Wednesday at 1 p.m. with a speaker. The band will play a special program at this time.

All themes will be turned into the committees for judging on Wednesday. They will be read and awards given on Friday at 1 p.m. at a special program. The eighth grade will present a program.

Receptions will be held following the programs on Wednesday and Friday.

Ex-Judge Succumbs

BROWNWOOD, Feb. 27 (AP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Charles D. Spann, 62, former county judge of Eastland, Somerville and Presidio counties and a former member of the Texas Legislature. Spann died here at his home last night.

Farm Bureau's District Meet Set Here Tomorrow

Cecil Leatherwood, president of the Howard County Farm Bureau, called attention yesterday to the Texas Farm Bureau meeting which will be held at the Settles Hotel at 10 a.m. tomorrow. "This is the District Six meeting," Leatherwood explained. "Similar meetings are being held in all the other districts in the state. All these meetings are open to all Farm Bureau members, and the public, but it is especially hoped that we will have as many county Farm Bureau officers and publicity committee members as possible present with us on the occasion."

Subjects to be discussed at the meeting will include agricultural price supports, natural resources, labor-management and foreign trade. The speakers will include C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma, executive vice president of the Texas Farm Bureau, who will also preside; Loys D. Barbour of Iowa Park, a state director, who has spoken to the Howard County Farm Bureau on several occasions; R. G. Arnold of Auburn, Ala., assistant organization director for the Farm Bureau's Southern Region, and M. C. Jaynes of College Station, organization specialist for the Texas A&M College Extension Service. Leatherwood emphasized that

Criminal Cases Set For Trial

Nine criminal cases are set for trial here in 118th District Court this week and a 60-man jury panel has been summoned for 10 a.m. Monday.

In addition, a special venire of 75 jurors is being summoned for Monday, Mar. 8, for the trial of Randal Hendrix on a murder charge. Cases set for this week include three charges of possession of narcotics, three theft indictments, one charge of burglary, one charge of driving while intoxicated, second offense, and one charge of robbery.

Lorenza Barela, Wallace Ringo and Joe Gomez are named in the possession of narcotics indictments. To go on trial on theft charges are David Leach, Johnny Edward Springer, and Ernest Gipson. Daniel Marquez is to be tried on burglary charges. Leach also faces trial on a forgery charge. Jack Thompson is to be tried on charges of robbery.

Two Sentenced On Charges Of Theft

Perry Dawson and Loy C. Taylor each was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail Saturday after pleading guilty in County Court to charges of theft.

The two men were named in a single complaint. They were accused of securing $7.50 from Allen Grocery under false pretenses.

Sorrow At Death Of Grandson Brought Blood Research Center

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 27 (AP)—Twice the little boy rallied. Twice he became nearly well as drugs helped him fight against acute leukemia, the blood cancer.

But the end was inevitable. Keener Bob Mosley, once gay and still brave, died at the age of 7½.

His grieving grandfather, J. K. Wadley, wondered why it must happen, why victims of leukemia cannot be saved.

"Because we simply don't know enough yet," said the physician, Dr. Joseph M. Hill.

The grandfather who lost his only grandson took up the challenge. The Texarkana, Tex., lumber-and-oil millionaire dedicated part of his fortune to establish the J. K. and Susie L. Wadley Research Institute and Blood Center here.

It is unique in that it treats, studies and trains.

It treats patients with all varieties of blood diseases—leukemia, anemias, the bleeding disease hemophilia, diseases of too many red blood cells, diseases of slow or too rapid blood coagulation.

It puts teams of scientists into research to solve disease mysteries. Such as, what are antibodies and how do they behave? Antibodies can be the soldiers to fight disease germs. Or they can be agents of destruction, like the RH factor antibodies which can destroy a baby's blood.

The institute is a blood collection center, with 30,000 persons last year donating blood to the center's blood bank. It can supply any type of blood in any quantity, at any time. It supplied 90 per cent of the whole blood rushed to Texas City in 1947 for victims of the disastrous harbor explosion.

Samples of blood collected from volunteers at that time became materials of blood research, and led to discovery of one of the RH blood factors.

Lastly, the center is a training ground for doctors and medical science students, including some from abroad.

An independent foundation, the center works in close cooperation with Baylor University Hospital in research and care of patients. The Fourth Man To Run For Seat In Congress

CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 27 (AP)—State Sen. William H. Shireman of Corpus Christi announced today that he will be a candidate for U. S. representative from the 14th District in the July 24 primary.

He is the fourth candidate to announce for the office held since 1945 by John E. Lyle of Corpus Christi. Lyle will not seek reelection. State Rep. Gabe Garrett of Christi. Lyle will not seek re-election. Bell of Cuero and D. C. Dewitt, Yorktown Republican, have already entered the race.

very ill are treated at Baylor Hospital; the center treats persons well enough to come to the clinic.

Physically, the center is a two-story building with laboratories, treatment rooms, blood donor rooms, and reception rooms branching off from a lobby of marble and wood over which hangs a full-length picture of handsome Keener Bob.

Less than two years old, the center is an expansion of the William Buchanan Blood Center, which began blood collections and research in 1940.

On the human side, it is doctors, scientists, nurses, technicians (80 employees in all), and thousands of citizens who contribute blood to succor the sick and injured in nearby hospitals and at the center.

Persons receiving the blood replace it through friends or relatives. They need not replace it if they belong to some organized group making donations. There also are special pools of blood for victims of leukemia and for special needy cases, for whom no replacement is required.

Heading the center is Dr. Hill, who also is director of laboratories at Baylor Hospital and dean of graduate studies at the Dallas division of the Graduate Schools of Baylor University.

As yet, research has not turned up controls for leukemia, but all the newest treatments for leukemia are used here, and better ones are being sought.

The promise from research is in a philosophy embraced by Dr. Hill and the center's department heads — Dr. Sol Huberman, bacteriology and immunology; Dr. Robert Speer, radio-chemistry; and Dr. Charles Cotterman, genetics and biology.

Their approach is to tackle the puzzles of blood diseases and types by learning what happens within living cells, what the molecules or collections of atoms do, how they produce disease or maintain health.

This approach, molecular pathology, has contributed new knowledge to behavior of antibodies, to the complicated picture of blood coagulation or lack of clotting, to new tests to detect blood disorders.

As an outpost for new knowledge, the research offers a chance to answer the grandfather's question, "Why did Keener Bob have to die?"

UT Regents Accept Bids

AUSTIN, Feb. 27 (AP)—Construction contracts totaling more than four million dollars for new housing and cafeteria units on the Austin and Galveston campuses of the University of Texas were approved by the board of regents today.

Awards include three dormitories and a cafeteria at the main university at a cost of $3,504,103 and three dormitories and an apartment building at the Galveston Medical Branch at a cost of $954,619.

The regents also approved final plans for a $1,383,000 English classroom and office building here and for $267,000 in construction at Texas Western College at El Paso.

The Texas Western work includes a $235,000 engineering building wing, a $10,000 dining hall addition and a $22,000 duplex apartment. Bids on these projects will be tabulated for consideration at the regents' April 9-10 meeting in Galveston.

The Austin and Galveston housing and cafeteria will be financed by a 40-year, 3 per cent loan from the HHFA, to be repaid from housing and food service revenues.

A Scottish law passed in 1288 decreed that any man who rejected an offer of marriage from a girl during Leap Year could be fined as much as a pound.

Minstrel Days Are Here Again

Come Friday and Saturday, the Lions Club will be putting on its seventh annual minstrel show—again for a worthy cause. A few of those who will be performing for benefit of the crippled children's camp are those pictured here in various minstrel activities. Upper left, Louis Carothers, general chairman, puts the chorus through its paces in preparation for the second act. Center left, the HCJC modern dance group redies for "Tarantella," an Italian dance. In the back row are Vesta Harrison, Leon Sparkman and Cecil Niblett, and in the front Frances McClain and Peggy Jeffers. Lower left, Roy Worley and Byron Wolf help Dr. C. W. Deats on with his rigging. They are three of the six end men (there will be a mystery seventh) bantering with Mr. Interlocutor, Gil Jones. Upper right, Jo Carothers puts some of the candy prizes on display at the Men's Store, 293 E. 3rd, ranging from tires to oil, clocks to chairs, trays to trinkets. At lower right, Diana Dawson, Mary Jane Engstrom, Nancy Pitman and Sue Zollinger swing out into a snappy tap routine. (Keith McMillin Photos).

Lions Prepare For Their Seventh Annual Minstrel Friday, Saturday

"Here comes the show boat!"

That familiar cry will ring out Friday and Saturday evenings on the city auditorium stage. It will mark the presentation of the seventh annual Lions Minstrel Show.

This year the cast of approximately 100 will be singing, dancing and joking for the benefit of the crippled children's camp sponsored by Lions of Texas.

There will be a small orchestra for pre-show and intermission music; recognition for best dressed women; and of course the traditional candy sale with all its ballyhoo and prizes.

Thursday evening, in the dress rehearsal, General Director Louis Carothers will put the cast through before people from the Lakeview district. All the proceeds of this particular program will go to the Negro park and pool fund.

This year's production will follow the pattern of preparation for the show in the first act as the showboat pulls up to the wharf. Then in the second act, the "show" goes on. An element of mystery has been injected into each of the acts with two unannounced numbers.

"You simply gotta come to see it," said Jo Carothers, who is her husband's good right arm in pulling the show together.

All last week Lions were pushing for pre-show ticket sales, and the heat will be turned on in this department in earnest this week.

Clyde Rowe, high school band director, is organizing a small orchestra to give a pre-show concert before the curtain goes up on Sig Rogers and his singing banjo. Composed of Byron Wolf, Bob Spears, Bob Lougee and Bill Protty, The South Paws, a quartet does the honors for "Here Comes the Show Boat," preceding the introduction of a thematic mystery number. After this there will be a number by a dozen youngsters from the Farrar preschool group.

Then there will be a duet by Charlotte K. Sullivan and Ella Andres; a line dance by Bingham girls, Diana Dawson, Mary Jane Engstrom, Nancy Pitman and Sue Zollinger; an interpretative dance by Leon D. Sparkman while Arnold Marshall sings "Old Man River." The quartet and Rogers will ring down the curtain with spirited numbers.

During the intermission, which will require about 15 to 20 minutes, at least three of the best dressed women in the audience will be properly recognized. By this time Lions will be all geared for one of the big events—the candy sale.

In the second act, the chorus will open with "Alabama Bound." Gil Jones, who is Mr. Interlocutor, will introduce the End Men, Roy Worley, Jack Smith, C. W. Deats, Willis Underwood, Byron Wolf, and Cliff Fisher, plus the mystery man.

Other chorus numbers will include "Kentucky Babe," "Dark Town Struttin' Ball," and "Sewanee." Bob Townsend will do a soft shoe number and Arnold Marshall has a basso solo. Five students from HCJC—Vesta Harrison, Leon Sparkman, Cecil Niblett, Peggy McClain and Peggy Jeffers—will present a modern Italian dance "Tarantella." There will be a novelty, "Three Birds," and of course the end men will be carrying on all the while. Finale is the club song, "Don't You Hear Those Lions Roar."

Cuing the entire show as accompanist is Mrs. James Y. Butts.

Lots Of Talent

Bobby Leatherwood Tops In Talent Show

With a reading, "Bud Discusses Cleanliness," Bobby Leatherwood of the Cauble Community won first place in the Lomax Community Center talent show Thursday night. Bobby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Leatherwood.

Second prize went to Rosalinda Zubiate and Ray Marquez of Kate Morrison School, who did a Mexican Hat dance in complete costume. Rosalinda's parents are the Eladio Zubiates and Ray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Marquez.

Tap dancing and singing "Dark Town Strutters' Ball," Virginia Morris took third prize. She is a pupil at South Ward School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Morris.

In a special 4-H division I, Barbara Lewter of Big Spring took first place after giving a piano solo. The award entitles her to represent her club at the district meeting.

Second place in the 4-H division went to Kay Leatherwood, sister of Bobby. Her talent was singing and playing the accordion.

L. H. Batton was master of ceremonies for the show, proceeds from which will go to the Lomax Community Center.

REPORT TO PARENTS

Deaf Child Aided By Many State Welfare Agencies

By DR. MARTHA M. ELIOT
Chief, Children's Bureau
Teddy is four now, and each Thursday, he looks forward to his ride into the city.

When one of "Teddy's Escorts" picks him up, he is ready, in his best jumper suit. When Teddy and Escort reach the clinic which is his destination, he more than likely will rush ahead to be there first. He may pat another child, put his hand on the cheek of the "lady" who is there to help him.

For Teddy has a serious hearing impairment, and the speech therapist "lady" is trying to help him to learn to talk, to read lips. But he was born with even more of a handicap than an inability to hear. His mother was not married, and she surrendered him to the public welfare department in the Southern state in which she lived soon after his birth.

The baby was disfigured by a cleft palate and lip. The couples who were waiting to adopt wards of the welfare department turned away from him.

The welfare department finally found a foster mother who was willing to take Teddy into her home. She gave him the mothering he so badly needed. In time, the operations which were performed to support the cleft palate and close the lip gave Teddy a normal appearance.

But meantime, Teddy's foster mother had to take particular pains with him, because a cold, a throat infection, for him was more serious than for a normal child.

The County Health Department saw to it that Teddy got the care he needed for his ordinary illnesses. The State Crippled Children's Agency saw to it that he got the surgery he needed.

But as time went on, it became apparent that Teddy did have severe hearing loss. Tests which were performed showed he would never be able to hear, and that no operation could give him hearing.

To add to his worries, the foster family to whom he had grown attached had to move away. The child welfare worker turned to another foster family, in another part of the city. They agreed to take Teddy into their home.

At about this point, the State Crippled Children's Agency organized a new speech and hearing program. The child welfare worker wanted to know if Teddy could attend.

He could, but there was the problem of transportation. This was where Teddy's Escorts—members of the local Parent-Teacher group—moved in, and offered to see that Teddy got to the clinic each Thursday.

At first, Teddy was afraid, not only of his "Escort," but also of the clinic which awaited him. Now, his face lights up as he sees new things each week on his trip to the clinic, welcomes, more and more, the chance to be near other people, to "talk" to them in his own way.

Those who have worked to bring Teddy his chance feel sure that, with the help of doctors, therapists, the child welfare worker and the community, happiness will not now pass him completely by. Teddy has his chance because the citizens of his state saw the need for child welfare, child health and crippled children's services.

MRS. DOUGLAS SMITH

D. D. Smiths At Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Derrell Smith are at home at 601 E. 17th following their marriage Feb. 15 at Lamesa.

Mrs. Smith is the former Sue Lawdermilk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Lawdermilk, 311 Owens. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Smith of Coahoma.

The bride attended Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College.

The bridegroom attended Coahoma High School and is presently employed by Duncan Drilling Co.

Economy In Buying

While buying lumber in large quantities is sometimes more economical, don't do it unless you have adequate facilities for storing it, which means lumber racks with a free circulation of air. Most home workshops don't have enough room for a good lumber-storage area. In that case, the best bet is to buy the kind and amount of wood you need when you need it. The less scrap, the more room in which to work.

Cynthia Gonzales Elected By Troop

Cynthia Gonzales was elected patrol leader when Girl Scout Troop 6 had election of officers Friday in the home of Mrs. H. E. Bost. Also elected were Martha Bost, assistant patrol leader; Janice Rowden, treasurer, and Anna Marie Gonzalez, scribe. Games were played after the conclusion of the business meeting.

Tomato, Pea Soups Make Hearty Lunch

If there is canned soup on the pantry shelf, there's always a hearty meal on short notice. Combinations like this one, are interesting:
HEARTY LUNCHEON SOUP
3 strips bacon
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon grated onion
8 crispy crackers
1 can tomato soup
1 can pea soup
1 can water
1 can milk
Fry bacon until crisp, drain on paper toweling, and crumble into pieces. Soften butter or margarine, mix in onion, and spread on crackers.
Mix tomato and pea soup. Gradually stir in the water and milk. Heat, stirring constantly, until soup comes to a boil.
Place crackers under broiler and toast until lightly browned. Pour soup into 4 large bowls, place 2 crackers on top of each bowl, and sprinkle in crumbled bacon. Serve to papa, mamma, junior and sister.

Doughnut Glaze
Make a thin frosting of confectioner's sugar, water and vanilla. Brush this frosting on doughnuts while they are still hot.

MRS. MERLE J. STEWART

DRESS PARADE

Mrs. Merle J. Stewart is partial to pillboxes and she wears them well. With her dusky pink sheer worsted spring suit she chooses a black straw trimmed with white grosgrain band and three black velvet buttons.

Her suit is beautifully trimmed in bugle beads and pearls on collar and cuffs. Antique white and gold earrings and bracelet make up her jewelry.

Spring's own black patent shoes and bag complement Mrs. Stewart's costume.

At an Altrusa Club luncheon a number of well-dressed business women were seen. Among them were:

Dr. Ora Johnson in an off-white knit suit punctuated with red straw hat, red alligator shoes and black patent bag from which a red handkerchief showed. . . the suit was bound in black and Dr. Johnson wore a black blouse and large pearl earrings.

Mrs. Homer Petty in an olive green wool suit with matching silk blouse. . . her small earrings featured sets that reflected the color of her suit and a conversation piece was an heirloom pin.

Mrs. C. E. Miller in a toast and very tailored spring dress freshened with white trim, white pin and matching earrings. . . brown bag and shoes were her accessories.

The scarlet corduroy dress worn by Mrs. Tommy Horton at work was an excellent color with her black hair. The dress was casual and fashioned with high neck, three-quarter length sleeves and four gored skirt. She wore red earrings and black patent pumps.

Mrs. Bill Sheppard looked smart

Take It Easy

Don't be an eager-beaver in your first home workshop projects. Start with simple things. And, above all, take your time. The greatest enemy of the beginner is impatience. He cuts the parts and then he can't wait until he sees the finished product. A hasty assembling job follows. . . and the finished product looks far from finished.

Use For Paint Cans

Empty paint cans under the feet of a ladder will spread weight to keep the ends from sinking into soft earth. The American Home magazine says the cans act like snowshoes and cut the danger of ladder shifting while you're on it.

at a book review in a dark beige knit suit and tiny close-fitting shiny brown straw hat trimmed with small flowers across the front. Her jewelry was brown and white and shoes and bag were brown kid.

Mrs. W. W. Inkman's brown straw sailor was enlivened with yellow flowers and featured brown velvet facing. It was perfectly suited to her tan gabardine tailored suit worn with fur neckpiece.

Jenny Gandy's Troth Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Gandy of Lee's Store are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jenny Lynn, to W. L. Shumake, son of Mrs. T. M. Cunningham of Garden City.

The wedding is to be March 7 at 3 p.m. at Lee's Baptist Church.

Survey Made Of Pupils' Breakfasts

STANTON — Breakfast habits of the pupils in the Stanton schools were the subject of a survey recently by the Freshman Home-making Class. The survey, which included grades 1-12, showed that an adequate breakfast is eaten by 32.2 per cent of the pupils in grade school and by 27.3 per cent of the pupils in high school.

A skit, "FLOP TV Station," was presented by the Sophomore class for the assembly program recently. The time-keeper was Courtney Clements, and the announcer was coach Melvin Robertson.

A panel of judges consisted of Mary Frances Hedrick, Harriet Echols, Martha Baugh and Rufus Tom. They judged contestants from the audience who were asked questions. Winners were awarded prizes and losers were assessed penalties. Leon Dulin did magic tricks.

The Senior class is busy with plans for its play, "The Campbells Are Coming," to be presented in the high school gym on March 19. There are 10 characters in the cast.

Among the new students in Stanton schools are Michael Blakely from Temple; Billy Powell from Wickett; Kay and Charles Powell from Monahans.

MYF Plans Week-End Workshop

The purpose of a Methodist Youth Fellowship workshop to be held here Friday afternoon and Saturday is "to acquaint the youth with their duties in their area of work."

The workshop, to be held in First Methodist Church, will begin with supper at 6 p.m. Friday, to be followed by a period of recreation, a lecture and a movie on stewardship.

Saturday the schedule will include a worship period at 9 a.m., followed by the workshop until 12 noon. After lunch another workshop will be held with a period of worship at 2 p.m.

Groups will be directed by outstanding leaders in youth work.

Leaders of divisions will be: Dick Counts, of Midland, Executive Council; Carol Campbell, of Lamesa, Publicity and Candy Dickenson, of Big Spring, Christian Faith. Laura Beth Greenick, of Midland, will direct the group for Christian Witness; Nina Fryar and Mary Ella Bigony, of Big Spring, Christian Outreach; Yvonne Pratt of Lamesa, Christian Fellowship; Phillip Daniel and Richard Tucker of Andrews, Christian Fellowship.

Workers are expected from Andrews, Ankerly, Garden City, Lamesa, Midland, Odessa, Sparenberg and Stanton.

Jute From India

Jute, used in the backing of most carpets, is a vegetable fiber imported from India. It has stiffness, body and does not shrink. It is sometimes used in flat-woven summer rugs.

Sale Planned By City HD Group

A white elephant sale will be held by members of the City Home Demonstration Club at their next meeting. It was decided at a meeting Friday in the home of Mrs. O. W. Mitchell.

Speaking on "Personality and Poise," Mrs. Armer Long stressed forgetting oneself and being natural.

Mrs. Mitchell gave the devotion from Luke. Members answered roll call with "What Kitcher Job Makes My Back Ache Most."

Mrs. Marie Hodnett was selected Texas HD Association nominee with Mrs. Long as alternate.

Mrs. Harvey Wooten gave the council report.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

Between 7 And 9 Best Time To Call

Dear Miss Brandow:
When may a boy properly telephone a girl during the evening?
Joe

The best time is between seven o'clock and nine o'clock. The point, of course, is to avoid interrupting her dinner or arousing the household after they have settled down for the night.

Courtesy is always in vogue. Find out her usual dinner hour. If it is as early as five o'clock, you may be able to telephone by six o'clock or even before. If she has a little brother or sister who gets marched off to bed at eight-thirty, do try to place your call before then.

Nine o'clock doesn't seem very late and few people would be in bed by that time, but still good taste decrees it as the witching hour for phone calls. This goes for children, teen-agers, and grown-ups alike and should not be violated except in cases of particular importance or urgency.

Dear Miss Brandow:
How far ahead must a boy ask his girl for a date? For the average date I think an hour or two is plenty of time, but my girl insists on several days advance notice. Don't you think this is silly?

You forget I, too, am a girl so, of course, I don't think it is silly. Actually it's just one of those nice little customs that make for smoothness.

When you call about an hour beforehand to make a date, you are saying, in effect, "I don't suppose you're busy; I don't suppose any other boy would have asked you out and if it weren't for me you'd probably be sitting home this evening."

You may not say it in so many words, but your habitual phoning at zero hour makes it plain to a girl that you think she must be pretty unpopular. If you want her to think you're grand, this way won't do it.

Wednesday is the smooth boy's deadline for making a weekend date. The only exceptions are if you are going steady or if it is during summer vacation and you want to take a girl to a movie on a week night.

When the date is for a dance, a week and a half to two weeks advance notice is wise. Girls like to have a chance to make an appointment with the hair dresser and pick out a new dress or alter an old one. This takes time.

Johnnie Rhodes Is President Of Class

STANTON — Johnnie Rhodes was elected president when the seventh grade met for an election of officers. Other officers are: Marjorie Vinyard, vice president; Alice Sims, secretary; Carl Ray Reynolds, treasurer; Tommy Kelly, reporter; Bob Sorrells, sergeant-at-arms; Angela Dale, girls' sergeant-at-arms and Annette Lester, bulletin board keeper.

"Foundation for Health and Beauty" was the study when the Valley View Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Lewis Carlile.

Mrs. John Harvard was hostess to a Stanley party recently. Games were played and refreshments were served to nine guests.

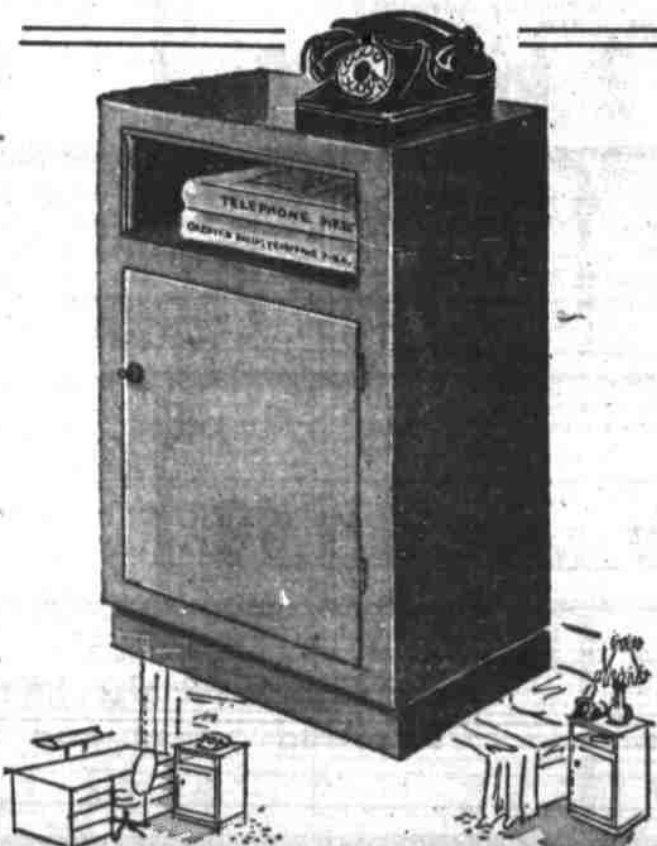

A. K. Moulton of San Antonio visited friends in Stanton recently.

Mrs. W. O. Winstead's first grade was recently entertained by the room mothers: Mrs. E. F. White, Mrs. Bill Counts, Mrs. A. E. Johnson, Mrs. J. W. Weidel, Mrs. Mary Brothers and Mrs. T. R. Louder.

Billie Sue Sewell, Bob Baker Say Vows In Forsan Church Ceremony

FORSAN — Billie Sue Sewell became the bride of Pvt. Bobby George Baker in a double ring ceremony at the Baptist Church Thursday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Sewell of 2003 Monticello, Big Spring, formerly of Forsan, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Howard of Lee's Store.

The Rev. A. L. Byrd of Texas City, former pastor of the church, read the ceremony at 8 p.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white slipper satin, styled with a full skirt. The fitted bodice was pointed in back and front and had tiny self-covered buttons down the front. Collar and sleeve insets were of Chantilly lace.

Her bouquet of garlands of frenched carnations and lace leaves was centered with gardenias and showered with white satin ribbon. Her fingertip veil of tulle edged with Valenciennes lace fell from a halo of frenched carnations and lace leaves. She wore a blue garter and a penny in her shoe and carried a white Bible belonging to Nokie Bedell.

Betty Ruth Sewell, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of light blue lace over taffeta. Shoes were a matching color. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of pink carnations with maline and satin ribbons.

Bill Baker, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were L. W. Graves of Big Spring and C. L. Fisher Jr. of San Angelo, both brothers-in-law of the bride.

PVT. AND MRS. BOBBY GEORGE BAKER

Mrs. B. J. Wiss played the nuptial music. Candelights were Judy Wright, niece of the bride, and Myron Lee Baker, nephew of the bridegroom, both of Big Spring.

Miss Wright wore a yellow taffeta dress and a wristlet of yellow rosebuds with yellow net and ribbon. Shirley Riddle of Big Spring sang "Always" and "The Wedding Prayer." The ceremony closed with Rev. Byrd singing "The Lord's Prayer."

Decorations at the church included a tall archway entwined with maiden hair fern and containers holding white stock placed on either side of the archway. Emerald fern trees were also used. Seven branched candelabra were entwined with fern and tied with large white bows. Pews were marked with white net bows and fern.

Both mothers of the wedding couple wore navy. Mrs. Sewell's corsage was of yellow iris and Mrs. Howard's of pink carnations.

A reception was held in the parsonage, the home of the Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Stagner. The bride's table was laid with a handmade crocheted cloth belonging to Mrs. Clay C. Bedell and placed over a blue cloth. Centerpiece was an arrangement of white stock.

Miss Bedell served the three-tiered cake adorned with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Jack Turner of Midland poured.

Fort a short wedding trip to Fort Worth and Dallas the bride wore a two-piece dress of brown wool print. Her accessories were brown. The bride has been employed by the First National Bank in Big Spring. The bridegroom, who is in the Army, will be on furlough until March 6, when he will report to Fort Eustis, Va., for 16 weeks of transportation training. He just completed basic training at Fort Bliss, El Paso.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Forsan High School and were class favorites in 1950. The bridegroom also was graduated from Howard County Junior College.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. H. G. Neely of Jerseyville, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Turner and sons of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Holcomb of Midland, Mrs. E. W. Holcomb of Stanton, Mrs. H. N. Holcomb and children of Monahan, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Mathews of Sterling City, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Andrews of Spraberry and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Fisher of San Angelo.

Mrs. Boothe Honored In Stagner Home

FORSAN — Mrs. J. M. Stagner was hostess for a surprise shower honoring Mrs. Lawrence Boothe Friday.

The gift table was laid with a lace cloth over blue and centered with a bouquet of white stock. The honoree was presented a white carnation corsage.

For the registry table a cloth of handmade crocheted and linen squares was placed over yellow.

A bouquet of white stock was used in floral decorations. Members of the WMS were co-hostesses and assisted in serving.

Attending were Mrs. Bob Wash, Mrs. C. V. Wash, Mrs. R. D. Garrett, Mrs. Frank Thelme, Mrs. Carl Tipple, Mrs. Jewell White, Mrs. S. C. Crumley, Mrs. G. W. Overton, Mrs. John Kubecka, Mrs. O. N. Green, Mrs. Jesse Overton, Mrs. C. C. Suttles, Mrs. J. H. Caldwell, Mrs. B. D. Caldwell, Mrs. J. B. Hicks, Mrs. J. D. Gilmore, Mrs. L. W. Moore, Mrs. E. E. Blankenship, Mrs. Wayne Monroey, Mrs. T. R. Camp, Mrs. Pearl Scuday, Mrs. A. O. Jones, Mrs. J. M. Snelmg, Mrs. Vera Harris, Mrs. C. D. Walker, Mrs. Lula Mitchell, Mrs. E. E. Everett and Mrs. W. B. Dunn.

Miss Griffith Weds In Carlsbad Rites

FORSAN — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wayne Sledge will be at home at 700 Bell, Big Spring, following their wedding trip to El Paso and Juarez, Mexico.

The couple was married Feb. 20 at the parsonage of the First Baptist Church at Carlsbad, N. M. The ceremony was read by the Rev. J. Melvin Ray, pastor of the church.

Mrs. Sledge is the former Johnita Griffith of Forsan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Griffith. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. and Mrs. L. E. Sledge of Merkel.

For the informal single ring rites the bride chose a beige suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations tied with red ribbon.

Attending her was Mrs. Bobby Duncan, who wore a navy dress with black accessories and a red carnation corsage.

The bridegroom's best man was Bobby Duncan of Webb Air Force Base.

The bride is a native of Forsan and a graduate of the Forsan High School where she was on the volleyball team, treasurer of F.H.A., a member of the high school sextet and a class treasurer. She is a 1952 graduate of Howard County Junior College. She has been employed since her graduation at Webb Air Force Base.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Merkel High School and attended Tarleton State College. He has served three years in the Air Force and recently received his discharge at Webb Air Force Base.

Presbyterian Women Review Mission Book

COAHOMA — The Women of the Presbyterian Church met recently for a review of the foreign mission book, "Where're the Sun," by Samuel Moffett, led by Mrs. C. H. DeVaney, assisted by Mrs. Tom Barber, Mrs. H. T. Hale, Mrs. Lavelle Stamps, Mrs. Byron Wolf, Mrs. Frank Moore and Mrs. Junir Fowler. Eleven attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loveless are in Dallas at the bedside of his father, Jim Loveless, who is seriously ill.

Old Outlets Costly

Homes built 20 years ago were wired for lights chiefly, plus two or three small appliances. Today the average home has at least 11 appliances and twice the number of lamps and fixtures. In most cases the wiring is too small to supply sufficient current for the expanded electrical loads. Result: Sluggish, inefficient and costly operation of electrical equipment.

HI-TALK

By Libby Jones

Rehearsals started Wednesday night for the Spring All School play sponsored by the senior class. The play, "Arsenic and Old Lace" will be presented April 1 and 2. The cast includes Abby played by Libby Jones; Martha, Angela Fausel; Dr. Harper, Roger Brown; Teddy, Tiny Ellison; Mortimer, Robert Angel; Officers Brophy and Klein, Robert Morehead and Jimmy Smith; Elaine, Judy Douglass; Jonathan, Bill Earley; Dr. Einstein, Don Swinney; O'Hara, James Underwood; Mr. Gibbs, Jerry Foreman; LL Rooney, Jackie Milam; and Mr. Witherspoon, Kirk Faulkner. There are two characters to be cast at a later date, Janice Anderson is student director, with Jerry Brooks as her assistant. Mr. Dell McComb is director.

Everyone can breathe a sigh of relief now that six week's tests are over. Tests were held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Ginger Hatch has been announced as the editor of the 1955 El Rodeo. Other members of the staff include Nancy Smith and Janice Nalley as associate editors; Peggy Hogan, art editor; Barbara Carter, senior editor; Shirley Ward, club sections editor; Suzanne Reynolds, junior editor; Lefty Reynolds, sports editor; Gary Tidwell and John Westbrook, staff photographers; and Kendra McGibbon, Sally Cooper, Margaret Fryar, Lavelle Wasson and China Carroll, staff assistants. The 1954 annual staff will send its final shipment to the printers tomorrow, and the annuals are expected to be delivered around the first of May.

In recognition of National Beauty Week, beauty operators from various salons in town have been demonstrating hair styles to the girls' physical education classes Monday and Tuesday. The girls enjoyed the demonstrations and advice very much.

Rodney Sheppard has been chosen the F. H. A. girls dreamboy. Rodney, a nominee of Mrs. Annen's third-year girls, will be awarded an F. H. A. sweater for receiving the honor.

Friday morning the student body was entertained with a variety show presented by a few of the talented students from Texas Western College in El Paso. The show consisted of several musical selections plus a few other variety numbers.

Tots Have Vanity Items All Their Own

By VIVIAN BROWN

Is there a little girl who doesn't dress up in her Mommy's clothes at any opportunity? Left to her own devices in a household, any tiny girl will rummage through Mom's wardrobe. She'll traipse around in high heels and an available fur piece and anything else she can locate in that "big girl" category from earrings to negligees.

One of the delights of the hair-ribbon set is Mom's makeup. Lipstick, rouge, nailpolish and fragrances intrigue a small tot like nothing else, perhaps. This doesn't always please Mom, even though playing with cosmetics is likely to keep a small tot out of other mischief.

The question sometimes is can Mom afford it? More than one Mother has found to her horror that daughter's pinafore reeks with the scent of her one and only good bottle of French perfume.

Some mothers encourage daughter's flight into the world of glamor by supplying her with her very own vanity table charmers. These are grooming items created exclusively for the pleasure of small fry. There are clown soaps, bubble baths, light colognes, candy-scented tooth pastes and dusting powders to please young folk and woo them to good grooming habits.

A tiny tot may even be thrown into ecstasy by possessing something resembling a lipstick. One firm has a colorless perfume lip pomade that is prepared especially as a chap guard against winds and cold. There are solid colognes in lipstick form that will also fascinate little girls with a yen for feminine fixations.

Wise Moms take the easy way out. She could forbid a youngster to play with these things which are irresistible to her, but how much simpler it is to find a solution that will make a little girl happy.

Willing Models

Terry Ray Buford, Mrs. Buford and Arnold, shown left to right, make excellent subjects for Mr. Buford's amateur photography. Even Lucky, the dog, seems to enjoy it. It was only after about ten minutes of being posed one way and another—and standing on his hind legs—that he began to register a little impatience.

Mr. Buford Has Area To Suit A Texas Brag

"It's almost like being married to a traveling man," Mrs. L. F. Buford laughed as she talked about her husband's work as Area Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford, Arnold, 11, and Terry Ray 6, moved here from Brownfield in January, when he was transferred to Area 2. This is one of ten areas in the Vocational Agriculture Agency. It covers 78 departments and has 91 teachers.

The territory extends from Haskell County on the east to El Paso and the New Mexico line on the west. It goes south from Big Spring to Del Rio. Besides covering this space, Mr. Buford goes to various stock shows where he "sifts" calves and pigs, that is, selects the ones that are of good quality for shows. The whole family, including Lucky, the dog, likes to camp out, and they do quite a bit of it, when time permits. Each summer they tour a western state and from each one they have brought back something to add to their collection.

There are vases, plates, cups, Indian pottery, and, best of all, a number of colored slides and snapshots. His wife and sons make excellent models for his photography, Mr. Buford said.

Mrs. Buford is quite interested in gardening and she works in the P-TA. Although her husband is an ardent fisherman, she has never been fishing. He is very proud of all his hunting and fishing paraphernalia.

Arnold, who goes to Washington Place School, has two calves that he plans to exhibit in a Bi-County Show (Terry-Yoakum) April 16-17. He had entries there and at the State Fair in Dallas last year. He also has 10 or 12 show pigs.

The family goes to the Baptist Church, and, in Brownfield, Mr. Buford was the superintendent of the Adult Department in Sunday School. He was a member of the Brownfield Kiwanis Club, of which he was program chairman.

The Brownfield area, under Mr. Buford's leadership has had two state winning teams in farm skills, and he proudly displays a plaque, which he received for outstanding work among adults in the community around Brownfield.

Officers' Wives Set For 'Mad Hat' Contest

Members of the Officers' Wives Club will wear the "maddest" hats they can design at the regular business meeting and luncheon of the club Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at Ellis Hall.

A contest will be held to select the best "mad" hat.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Cecil Niblett

A film on the Lions Club Crippled Children Camp was shown Monday morning in the science lab. This camp is located in Kerrville and accepts crippled children only.

Peggy Jeffers, Frances McClain, Vesta Harrison, Cecil Niblett and Leon Spazman will represent the Junior college in the seventh Lions Club Minstrel Show. The group will do an Italian dance called Tarantella.

"Rhapsody in Blue", a musical film was shown in the science lab Tuesday night to a large number of students.

The Chanters, a choir from McMurry College of Abilene, presented a program to the student body Saturday morning during the activity period.

The Howard County Junior College Choir, under the direction of John Rice, sang for the Chamber of Commerce Banquet at the Setles Ballroom. The group sang "Lo-re-lei", "Whistle a Happy Tune," and "Skip to My Lou."

Plans are now under way for the organization of the Circle K Club for the college. Bill Holbert with cooperation of the Kiwanis Club will sponsor the organization.

The Agriculture Club honored the new club members with a square dance party Thursday night in the Sub. New members honored were: Patsy Holder, Junior Sulter, David Young, Donald Mac Richardson and Jack Williams.

Dean and Mrs. Keese were to have left for Waco Friday afternoon. He will attend an executive committee meeting of the Texas Junior College Athletic Association.

Orville Pirbe, president of Henderson County Junior College called this meeting for the purpose of discussion pertaining to the junior college athletic eligibility rules for next year's basketball players.

The spirit of the old wild west has returned in full glory. While walking down the hall I noticed that Richard Read, Sam Darehshari and Charley Howie were in need of a shave. This was called to their attention. They pointed out to me that one of the first rules of the coming Ranch Week was that boys cannot shave or get a haircut. Since there will be a prize given for the best beard, they thought that perhaps they should get a head start on the other cowpokes.

The other regulations for the event are: walk two miles, get thrown in the horse trough, or pay 25 cents for breaking these rules; Boys' shirt sleeves must be rolled down. Girls cannot use make-up unless they buy a permit. Permits are $1.50 for three days. Girls' pants legs must be rolled down. Shirt tails must be tucked in and no tailored cigarettes can be smoked; roll your own or do without.

Everyone please observe these Ranch Week regulations. Remember, the sheriff and his deputies will be watching you.

Newly appointed deputies are: Don Stevens, Bill Sheppard, Edwin Elmore, Don Richardson, Gerald Farmer and Tommy Randolph. Sophomores met Saturday morning in the small auditorium to discuss plans for ordering class rings and graduation plans. Carl Preston presided.

Do You Have A Piano To Give Away?

A plea for a piano for the West Side Recreation Center has gone out from the Council of Church Women. The center is sponsored by this group, which pays a small salary for the caretaker, and, in the words of one of the members, "wonders from month to month where the money will come from!"

About 150 underprivileged children are cared for, besides adults who come in for meetings, visiting or to read. Magazines and books are contributed by various church groups, clubs and by individuals. Women from each church represented in the Council alternate in giving some kind of entertainment in the center, such as movies, games or parties. It is at these gatherings that a piano is especially needed—an old-fashioned sing-song is lots of fun, you know!

The Council has no money to use in buying a piano, but anyone who has one to contribute is urged to contact Mrs. Cliff Wiley at 4-5152.

R. L. Tollett spent Tuesday in San Antonio on company business. R. B. Baker and Leland Ellis of Midland, Horace Blocker of Stanton and C. C. Bagley of Farwell visited in the office this past week.

J. T. Morgan returned to the office the first part of the week after being in Austin attending the Railroad Commission rate hearing.

Walter Famariss, president of Famariss Oil and Refining Company, Hobbs and James M. Adams, representative of American Cyanamid Company, Houston were visitors at the refinery Wednesday and Thursday.

June Cook has returned after visiting her sister and brother-in-law, the J. H. Shaffers in Bryan. This weekend Miss Cook and Bonnie Lindley will be in Lubbock visiting friends.

C. W. Smigh left Friday morning for Fort Worth on company business.

Jim McElhiney with E. I. du Pont of Dallas spent Friday in the refinery office.

Refinery employees on vacation are: James Miles Smith, Henry J. Covert, Palmer M. Smith, Billy C. Swindell, R. A. Patterson and W. O. Washington.

First Aid Work Is Service Club Topic

FORSAN — Jack Lamb led discussion about first aid work at a meeting of the Service Club Thursday. Lamb announced that a program will be presented Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the school on "Tornado Disaster." The public is invited. Following the program, at 7:30 p.m., a meeting is planned for parents of Cub Scout boys to organize a Cub group.

C. C. Brunton presided at the meeting.

ROUND-THE-CLOCK DRESS

Jacket For Sheath Got Its Start In Bavarian Fetes

The sheath and its jacket continues to be a fashion winner. In fact, this kind of ensemble has greater importance than ever for it is the answer to smart dressing right around the clock, from 9 a.m. through dinner.

Vera Maxwell designed this costume and while it still embodies the great simplicity for which she is famous, it has some sparkling items of detail—the direct result of a recent stay in Bavaria.

She showed it in black linen so perfect for the many occasions such an ensemble can be worn, but she lined the jacket with cotton in strong, acid yellow and added a second brilliant color note with bright red braid trim on the cuffs and collar.

The keyhole flap at the bottom of the abbreviated jacket is as Salubrious as the festival itself, for all the dandies there sport them.

As for fabric suggestions, linen is ideal but so is pique, shantung and even a lightweight worsted flannel, for the sheath is lined to the waist.

Size 10, bust 34, waist 24, hips 35; size 12, bust 35, waist 25, hips 36; size 14, bust 36½, waist 26½, hips 37½; size 16, bust 38, waist 28, hips 39; size 18, bust 40, waist 30, hips 41.

Size 12 requires 4½ yards of 36-inch material for dress and jacket, 1½ yards of 36-inch material for contrast, and 1½ yards of 36-inch material for lining and interfacing.

To order pattern 1176, address Spadea Syndicate, Inc., P. O. Box 535, Dept. B-5, G. P. O., New York 1, N. Y. State size. Send $1.00. Air-mail handling 25 cents extra. Pattern Booklet 10, 108 pages, available at 25 cents.

Personality, Poise Luther Club Topic

Mrs. Durwood Zant, Mrs. Louis Underwood and Mrs. Ed Simpson gave a demonstration on "Personality and Poise" at a meeting of the Luther Home Demonstration Club Thursday in the home of Mrs. H. L. Hanson.

The devotion from Luke 8 was given by Mrs. Underwood. Mrs. Zant gave the council report.

Nine members were present. The next meeting will be March 11 in the home of Mrs. Earnest Williamson.

After a short business session, bingo was played. The winners were Mrs. Sam Barbee, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. W. R. McGinnis, Mrs. Felix Jarratt, Mrs. C. B. Sullivan, Mrs. L. A. Griffith and Mrs. Ruth Burnam.

Ex-Football Star Fries Dressmaking

NEW YORK — There's no reason why men can't sew and like it, says Val Jurgell, a husky ex-football star, editor and father.

Jurgell, former football star at the University of Illinois and current editor of the trade publication "Notion and Novelty Review," has just completed his first dressmaking venture—a formal party dress for his teen-age daughter, Cynthia.

Flushed with success, he now is starting a one-man crusade to make dressmaking the national pastime of American fathers.

Jurgell started his sewing project on a dare. With fine courage he cut into a length of beautiful blue taffeta and yards of nylon net, used for a billowy overskirt. The trimming, pure Jurgell inspiration, is a shower of velvet violets and rhinestone studded buttons, all sewn by hand.

tern company (Simplicity), has been declared expertly made. It was such a success, in fact, that Cynthia modeled it at the recent fashion show given by the pattern company for sewing teachers.

After you wash your dishes, stack them in a dish drainer, then rinse them with hot water. They dry quickly this way and need little or no wiping. Silverware, however, should be dried right after it's washed.

Offers Good Advice

Joan Caulfield appreciates the value of a good figure but cautions not to be a martyr to diet. Discipline, she says, can be overdone. The popular actress appears regularly on the CBS-TV "My Favorite Husband" series.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Joan Caulfield Gives Her Charm Suggestions

HOLLYWOOD — Joan Caulfield is one of the prettiest and most talented girls in motion pictures and television today. Yesterday afternoon I went to visit her in her charming hilltop house, and as we had tea I told her how much I enjoyed her TV show, "My Favorite Husband."

"It's hard work but the letters from the fans are so wonderful

BEAUTY AT HOME

Here is something every reader will want—a copy of leaflet M-25, "Home Beauty Treatments and How to Make Them." that it's more than worth it," she told me.

Suddenly Joan noticed that I wasn't eating any of her beautiful coconut cake.

"Do you mind if I take this from under my nose? I have a sweet tooth," she explained as she crossed the room. "I don't want to tempt myself. I never have dishes of candy in the house on the principle that out of sight is out of mind."

We talked about dieting. "Some people pay too high a price for a youthful waistline," Joan exclaimed. "I think this determination to wear a size ten or twelve dress can be overdone. In order to keep this slim they deprive themselves of everything they want to eat. This constant denial shows in their eyes, their disposition and takes something away from their personalities. Will power can be overdone."

"I watch my figure but with controlled indulgence. I try never to over eat and I'm familiar enough with calories so that when I have a choice I avoid what is the most fattening."

"But I believe if you crave something, eat it and get it off your mind. Later balance your budget by giving up something else," Joan added.

As we were talking I was pleasantly aware of Joan's scent and told her so.

She was frankly delighted. "It's something I mixed up for myself. That is I mean I blended two French perfumes. I started doing this when I found I had several bottles with just a little perfume left in them. I decided to pour them together to see what would happen and it turned out so well. The fun of it is having a fragrance no one else wears."

"Have you ever made a mistake?" I asked.

"Sometimes," Joan confessed, "but there is not too much lost because I blend such small quantities."

"I like to mix nail polishes too," Joan said as she held out her hand to show a lovely rose shade. Her nails were all the same length and in beautiful condition.

"They used to have awful ridges and stains until a girl at the studio showed me a trick," Joan told me. "She broke a light bulb and scraped the top of my nail very gently with a piece of this glass. Then she buffed them lightly and they looked like new."

"Would you advise a non-professional trying this?" I asked.

"So long as you stroke very gently you'll clean the nail without harming it. And it's a big help if you want to go without polish," she said.

Frank Ross, Joan's attractive husband and producer of "The Robe," came in from a game of golf. He kissed his wife and as he went into the other room he said, "Are you two girls exchanging beauty hints?"

"I feel there should be more beauty hints for men," Joan declared. "They are always saying what they like and dislike about women. Well, I feel like telling them how they can be improved. Some men who are exquisitely tailored, fastidious about everything, neglect to use deodorant. When they take off their coats you want to run. Unfortunately a daily bath is no protection from perspiration."

Joan waited until the maid had removed the tea tray before she declared: "And there is no excuse for anyone not having a pleasant breath. I admit that onions and garlic are important to the flavor of food and no one enjoys them more than I but I stay away from them when there is any chance of my inflicting my breath on others."

"The sense of smell plays an important part in the charm picture," Joan continued. "But so many men don't realize how offensive their hair oil is when it turns rancid. If they would buy small bottles instead of large ones this could be avoided. Thank heavens Frank is always immaculate. One of the first things I noticed about him was his freshly scrubbed look."

"Grooming can be carried too far," Joan mused. "In this town where there is such a premium on appearance it makes you realize that beauty to be impressive must come from within."

"Exactly what do you mean?" I asked.

"There is something repellent about anyone who is self-conscious of their looks. If you should pin me down to what I consider the greatest of all beautifiers I would say learning to be unselfish."

"You can spend hours on your toilette but there won't be a glow—a radiation—like the impact of inner beauty to transform your face."

MR. AND MRS. BEN MILLER

Ben Millers Mark 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Miller, 501 Johnson, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary today at an open house from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the home of their daughter, Mrs. H. H. Rutherford, 506 Harding.

Married in Stamford Feb. 28, 1904, the couple has lived in Big Spring for 48 years.

Miller has been a member of IOOF here for 54 years and Mrs. Miller has been a Rebekah for 30 years.

He is president-emeritus of Bricklayers Local 35 and became a member of the organization at the age of 14. He helped construct the old courthouse building by setting the arches and columns.

The couple has three grandchildren and three daughters. The daughters are Mrs. Rutherford, Mrs. Herbert Stanley and Mrs. Hayes Alexander of Lockport, Ill. Friends of the couple are invited to call during the open house.

Eagles Auxiliary Initiates Four

Four new members were initiated into the auxiliary of the Fraternal Order of the Eagles on Friday.

They were Mrs. D. W. Dennis, Mrs. Bob Kennedy, Mrs. Joe Boadle and Cynthia Boadle. Mrs. W. T. Boadle was elected and installed as vice president in the meeting at the FOE Hall. Mrs. Lillian Bowen, president, was in charge of the meeting. Refreshments were served to 22. Plans were made to participate in the district meeting Sunday in Odessa.

Scout Troop 5 Adds To Treasury

STANTON — The addition to the treasury of $25 from a project was reported when the Girl Scout Troop 5 met recently in the Homemaking Cottage.

It was also reported that the troop had collected $25.00 for the Heart Fund. The Scouts have almost completed the programs necessary to receive their 2nd class badge.

Micky Pinkerton was hostess to 10 members and one new member.

Brownie Troop 2, with their leader, Mrs. Raymond Wheeler, made a tour through the Martin County Courthouse and the Library at their regular meeting recently. Jenny Newman was hostess to the group.

Girl Scout Troop 7 worked on the present project, hemming, when they met at the school for their regular meeting. Games were played and refreshments were served to 13.

Mrs. Hila Weathers surprised the fifth grade recently with a party. She directed the games, and refreshments were served.

The Junior-Senior banquet will be held April 2 at 7 p.m. at the Scharbauer Hotel in Midland.

NCO Wives Sponsor Course In Nursing

A home nursing course is being sponsored by the NCO Wives Club of Webb Air Force Base Tuesdays at 7 p.m. at the chapel annex.

Mrs. Frederick Brodt is instructor for the course. Anyone interested in taking the course should contact Mrs. Leroy Beudke at 4-4908. There are a few openings for new participants.

February Holidays Set Theme

Important days in February was the inspiration for the program the third and fourth grade pupils of Midway School gave at the P-TA meeting Thursday at the school.

Douglas Earnest was master of ceremonies and Sandra Kay Nichols led a discussion of the life of George Washington in which each participant gave an important fact concerning Washington's life.

Mrs. Ernest Richters gave the devotion and Mrs. Ross Roberts spoke on "Keeping Faith With America."

The job of parents and teachers is to make better homes, better schools and better communities for all children because that helps our own children, Mrs. Roberts said.

Committees for a talent program to be March 18 include: Mrs. Ray Shortes, Mrs. E. O. Smith and Mrs. T. O. Cunningham, contact committee, and Mrs. Frank Covert, organization committee chairman.

Mothers of Mrs. Bonnie Cramer's third and fourth grade classes will be in charge of concessions at the ball game set for Tuesday with Gay Hill School.

Kinders Honored With Housewarming

COAHOMA—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kinder were surprised with a housewarming Thursday evening. Hostesses were Mrs. Aubra Cranfill, Mrs. Romy Mays, Mrs. Travis Greenfield and Mrs. J. F. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinder have recently moved into their new home on the Snyder highway. Refreshments were served and gifts presented to the couple.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Odell Buchanan, J. F. Gibson, Carol and Johnny, Travis Greenfield, Roma Lee Mays, Sharon Kay Finley, Mrs. J. W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jordan, Mrs. Wallace Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Weaver, Mrs. Lavelle Stamps, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Batten, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Cochran and Phil, Rodney and Charlotte Batton.

Before compasses were placed on a pivot they were floated in a bowl of liquid.

Martin Hospital Administrator Has U.S. And Foreign Training

By CLIFTON LAWHORNE STANTON (SC) — The new administrator of the Martin County Memorial Hospital, though young in years, has experience in medical service which would do honor to a man many years his senior.

Though H. G. Mann is only 29 years old, he has held positions as surgical technician, X-ray technician, pharmacist's mate, business director, and administrator in hospitals over the world. He has also received medical and business training in college.

He came to the Stanton hospital direct from Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, where he was a hospital administrator with the Arabian-American Oil Company.

The youthful administrator and his wife, the former Miss Modelle Goodman, lived in the foreign country under international influences for almost two years. His son Joey, 2, speaks Arabic and French fluently.

Mann was associated mostly with hospitals in Al Khobar and Dammam, both coastal towns. Dammam is "the" port in the Persian Gulf, he explained, and people from all over the world gathered there.

The Manns were forced to live with the natives, as that was the only way Mrs. Mann could stay in the country. ARAMCO does not allow employees' wives to come to the country until the husband has two years' service.

Mann's wife went over only after he had been there a little over six months. She went on her own initiative, and they were forced to live the same way.

"We are one of eight families that ever lived with the natives while working for the company," Mann explained. "And my wife is thinking about writing a book about her experiences. She says her most unusual experience was using one of her silk stockings for a flour sifter."

Mann also said it was a custom to have chickens, goats and donkeys in the house — on the first floor. They lived on the third.

"We were lucky in that we had a water system in our apartment," he said. "They just don't have any provision for public health facilities in Saudi Arabia."

However, Mann said that ARAMCO is making great strides in bettering the health and sanitation problems there. The company furnishes the know-how, and the people are quick to catch on, he pointed out.

"Americans are well liked there. The government is an absolute monarchy, and the dictator is on good terms with our country. I have seen a little ill feeling in some villages, but not often."

H. G. MANN
... Language Problem Ends

Mann left for Dhahran in December, 1951. He went to a language school in Lebanon near Beirut for two months and then was sent to his destination. After going home on business six months later, his wife accompanied him back to his Near Eastern home.

The Manns came back to the United States Jan. 7, leaving Saudi Arabia by airplane due to the illness of their three-month-old daughter, Susan (Dede) Mann. The little girl was born in Arabia.

Mann says he likes it in Stanton much better than in Saudi Arabia, though he admits the climate is similar. However the wind here is stronger and dust is heavier, being nothing but powdered grey there. The temperature is about the same, he believes.

Administration here is much easier too, he explained. There is no language barrier with employees. "It's good to have people who know what you're talking about," he said. "And it is also nice to have a 'full' and 'well trained' staff."

There are only 26 beds in the Martin County Memorial Hospital and six bassinets. The combined hospital from where he came had 210 beds. (This is American and native combined). The monthly patient load there was about 20,000.

Mann also says that he has yet to see a friendlier group of people than those in West Texas. "I used to think those in East Texas were tops," he said. "But I've changed my mind."

He is originally from Waxahachie, where he graduated from high school in 1942. After three years in the Navy, where he was in hospital service on Okinawa, he went to Baylor University for three years. During the time he was going to school and afterwards for about three more years he worked with Doctors W. C.

and R. M. Tenery in Waxahachie. Then he went to Saudi Arabia. Mrs. Mann has not yet joined her husband in Stanton. She is with their baby Susan at the Bradford Memorial Hospital in Dallas. The child is being treated for a heart disease.

Area Records Support Theory On Change In Weather Pattern

Is the weather pattern growing warmer and drier?

Some meteorologists hold this view, in a reversal of form from the predictions in 1949 when the first half of the century was nearing an end. Then there was a popular projection of weather for the last half of the 20th century — and it was generally cooler and wetter.

What has been happening in this area would support a contrary view. And that's what a number of experts are now contending. They say that discoveries in the fringe of the Arctic Circle indicate that the age-old blizzards are mellowing, and the silent and relentless glaciers are receding. This is and will be, they say, reflected in warmer weather and in most instances drier weather.

Weather records in Big Spring show clearly that each of the last two decades has been successively drier and that the first four years of this one has fit into the same pattern.

The same is not true of the temperature, although the past four years definitely have been warmer.

This chart will reflect the picture:

Period	Avg. Mean Temp.	Avg. Annual Rainfall
1900-09	64.4	20.70
1910-19	64.7	16.87*
1920-29	63.0	19.31
1930-39	63.8	16.77
1940-49	63.8	15.37
1950-53	65.2	12.29

* Take out the 35.81 inches in 1919 and the decade's average would be only 14.75.

There is one heartening thing about a study of past precipitation records for the area. Only once before has there been as many as four successive years with below normal rainfall. That occurred in the period 1909-12 when the average rainfall was 11.36.

For the period 1950-53 the average rainfall was 12.29.

But the current drought is hurting much more, and for a very good reason apart from the fact that there is vastly more cultivated acreage now. For the four years immediately preceding the 1909-12 drought, the average rainfall was 25.21 inches. This probably qualifies as the wettest four successive years on record.

The current drought was preceded by four years which averaged only 14.46 inches. And that's one of the most discouraging features of the present dry "spell." It's making history all of its own because there is nothing comparable of length on the books.

Long range forecast by the Weather Bureau is for a dry March. Residents are hoping that it is no more accurate than the long range forecast for February when the prophets said that it would be a season of heavy precipitation.

Lamesa Group To Attend WTCC Meet

LAMESA (SC) — A delegation of members of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce will attend the meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the Scharbauer Hotel in Midland, Tuesday. It has been announced by DeWayne Davis, manager of the local chamber.

The purpose of the Midland meeting, Davis said, is to present a full report on the activities of the regional chamber in the past year and to adopt a program of work for the WTCC for 1954-55.

Among the Lamesans who will attend are G. R. Crawley, Dr. S. Frazier, Bob Van Wie, Jim Flemming, O. H. Morris, E. D. David, Matt McCall, J. D. Mc-

Chicken Pox Leads Disease List Here

Chicken pox, with 23 cases reported, led the communicable diseases which were reported to the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit during the past week by local doctors.

There were 130 communicable disease cases reported during the week.

Other diseases with a large number of cases included upper respiratory, 39; tonsillitis, 16; pneumonia, 16; influenza, 14; gastroenteritis, 13.

Other types of cases were bronchitis, 4; diarrhea, 3; measles, 2; mumps, 10; strep throat, 8; syphilis, 1; and trench mouth, 1.

Public Invited To Webb Circus

Open base will be declared for "C-Day" at Webb Air Force Base. The "C" stands for circus and the day is next Thursday.

The general public as well as all Air Force personnel are invited to attend both performances of the Buchanan All-Star Circus which this year features 33 acts.

With Building 76 (base gym) serving as the circus grounds, the first show will unfold at 8 o'clock in the afternoon. The second show will get under way at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

All proceeds of the circus will go to non-profit and charitable organizations.

Advance tickets are now selling at $1.20 for adults and 60 cents for children. In addition to ticket sales on base, the pasteboards are also available at six convenient downtown locations including Mellinger's, Zale's Jewelry, Hemphill-Wells, the Record Shop, Elliott's Self Service Drug, and Bell's 11th Place Drug.

Tickets may also be featured at the gate, but will be selling at $1.50 adults, and 75 cents kids. The show, 2 1/4 hours in length, will feature the "big top" works including spine-tingling aerial acts, clowns, animals, and of course, the ever present clowns.

Concession stands with a full line of refreshments will also be operated to satisfy a circus appetite and quench a circus thirst.

Rising Trend Maintained By Stock Market

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (U)—The stock market snapped back into its rising trend this week with a strong rally.

This week's advance followed a one-week decline, which was the first time the market had sold lower on the week this year.

The move upward was not an unalloyed show of strength. Many small points detracted from the performance. But there were enough reasons for the rise to arouse bullish hopes that the market now stands ready to make a try for a sustained advance into new high ground.

All week there was a quick rush to capitalize on dividend changes or earnings announcements. But stock splits got the big attention.

General Electric was the corporation that came through with the split proposal that had a major hand in sending the market off on its big rally.

Directors on Friday proposed that GE Common be split three-for-one. The stock hit a new high mark of 100 1/4 and closed up 3 1/2 at 100 1/4. The stock had been split four-for-one back in 1926 and again four-for-one early in 1930.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 30 cents on the week and closed at $114.40, only $1.90 under the 1933-54 peak reached early in January of last year. Last week the average was down $1.10.

The market was closed on Monday for George Washington's birthday. On Tuesday it declined quietly on light volume with most traders standing around waiting to see whether a reaction was developing.

The decline continued on Wednesday on even smaller volume, but a rally in mid-session cut losses considerably.

The turn ahead came on Thursday with volume expanding on the rise and a late rally developing under the leadership of buying in the radio-television section.

Friday's market got its big boost from the General Electric split and heavy buying in the aircrafts and many key issues. The Associated Press average was up 90 cents, one of the best advances of this year.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were New York Central up 1 at 24 1/2 with 106,300 shares traded, General Electric up 3 1/2 at 100 1/4, Loew's up 1/2 at 14 1/2, North American Aviation up 1 at 25 1/4, and Consolidated Vultee up 1 1/2 at 21 1/4.

MEN IN SERVICE

CHARLES CLEMENT SMITH

Pvt. Charles Clement Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elza Smith, 411 Donley, has begun his basic training at Ft. Bliss. After eight weeks at the anti-aircraft replacement center, he will undertake specialized training in some career field of anti-aircraft artillery. Before entering the service, Pvt. Smith was engaged in oil field work here.

Harold James Hodnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hodnett, Route 1, Knott, was due to land in the United States today following a year's service in Korea.

He should be in Big Spring about two weeks after landing, as he will be discharged before leaving California. Hodnett, 25, wrote his parents saying he is ready to go back to work in the oil fields.

Hodnett served with the 1st Marine Division in Korea, and he has been in the service for two years. He was stationed in California before being shipped overseas.

He lived with his parents in Vesalmo before going into the service, and he attended Ackerly High School.

Pvt. Herbert Wade Choate, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Choate, recently returned home from Ft. Bliss on a 14-day leave. Pvt. Choate has completed basic training and will return to Ft. Bliss as a clerk-typist at headquarters, anti-aircraft training center.

Library Patronage Shows Rapid Gain

By WAYLAND YATES

Patronage of the Howard County Free Library has nearly doubled in the past four weeks, according to Mrs. Hank McDaniel, librarian. Mrs. McDaniel estimates that an average of 150 books are being checked out of the library each day. Four weeks ago, the librarian conducted a survey and found that an average of 85 books were being issued daily.

The 85-per-day average represented a considerable gain in use of the library following its removal to quarters in the new courthouse, Mrs. McDaniel said.

The library is also growing. Numerous new books have been purchased, and several persons have contributed one or more volumes in the past few days. New bookcases have been installed to increase storage and display space.

Recent contributors include "Adventure in Two Worlds," by A. J. Cronin and given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edwards in memory of Dr. G. S. True; "The Robe," by Lloyd Douglas, and "My Heart Lies South," by Elizabeth Trevino, both given by Mrs. Cecil Wasson in memory of Mrs. L. S. McDowell; and "Peace With God," by Billy Graham, donated by Elsie Willis. Mr. and Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach have contributed 12 novels to the library.

Other additions to the library, by purchase, include "The Calce Mutiny," by Herman Wouk; "The Great Iron Ship," by James Dugan; "The Man Who Never Was," by Ewen Montagu; "One," by David Carr; "The Second Tree from the Corner," by E. B. White; and, in the junior deluxe edition, "Toby Tyler," by James Otis.

A "blue ribbon" Standard Reference Bible, and Hitchcock's Tropical Bible and Cruden's Concordance also are new on the Howard County Library shelves.

Mrs. McDaniel listed these other new volumes: Educational Books for the Very Young, Pre-Primer and Primers; Children's Games for the Whole Year; Culbertson's Card Games; Culbertson's Contract Bridge for Beginners; Living in Four Dimensions; The Art of Real Happiness (Peale); and

Time and Again (Hilton).

Titles in the "reprints of wanted books" field include The Whole Armor, Jacob's Ladder, The Morning Watch, Farm Wanted, Jumping Jupiter, Happily Ever After, The Innocent Eve, Give Us Our Years, Bright Procession, and Pigs have Wings.

There also are new books on crafts, outdoor sports, aviation and other subjects, said the librarian. Mrs. McDaniel pointed out that there is no charge for use of the library which is located on the main floor of the new courthouse. The library is open on weekdays from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. and on Saturdays from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

THE ALAMO

Texas' cherished Declaration of Independence, approved 118 years ago next Tuesday, March 2, began a 51-day march to victory, ending at San Jacinto—writing in blood a glorious heritage for those fortunate to be Texans.

HERITAGE DAYS

Texas Independence Day to San Jacinto Day

The Herald proudly presents, beginning next Tuesday, March 2, a daily feature, "Heritage Days," to recall, day by day, those events of 118 years ago that led to the Texan victory at San Jacinto.

Heritage Days affords an opportunity for Texans to review these 51 days of glorious inheritance; and, for those who recently have selected Texas as their home, it affords an opportunity to better understand the high reverence in which Texans hold their state.

Each day, from March 2 to April 21, Heritage Days will tell of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, Sam Houston's command of the Texan army, the Siege and Fall of the Alamo, the Goliad Massacre, the re-treachery of the provisional government, and, finally San Jacinto, one of the great decisive battles of the world.

Heritage Days records the birth of a nation—the Republic of Texas. It's a chronicle of a determined people who gave their lives that Texas might be a free nation.

The story of the birth of the Republic of Texas, as recorded day-by-day in Heritage Days, is the very foundation of Texas pride, patriotism, devotion, and loyalty.

Do you have a friend in another state—or a former Texan—to whom you would like to send The Herald for the 51 days "Heritage Days" appears?

Consumer Loan Federation of Texas, Inc.

The Reeder Loan Company has been chosen by the Board of Directors of the Consumer Loan Federation of Texas, Inc. to become a member of the Federation.

The Consumer Loan Federation is composed of outstanding Texas loan companies devoted to giving Texans the best possible loan service.

The Federation is managed by Jack Gage & Company which is also the management company for the ICT GROUP. The Insurance Company of Texas, parent company of the Group, is one of the Southwest's leading insurance companies. The ICT attributes its outstanding success to the strong support of its stockholders and policy holders who prefer to "do business with themselves." We are pleased to be able to offer Big Spring citizens who are ICT supporters the opportunity to "do business with themselves" by seeing the Reeder Loan Company when they need loan service.

You'll see the Consumer Loan Federation emblem on the window at Reeder Loan Company the next time you visit them. Remember, it is your guarantee that you will always receive prompt, courteous attention.

Leatherwood To Make Race For Commissioner

Cecil Leatherwood

Announcement that he is a candidate for the County Commissioners Court from Precinct 3 is being made by Cecil Leatherwood, long-time farm operator of Howard County.

Leatherwood said he is filing subject to action of the Democratic primaries.

"I am asking consideration for this important office solely upon my own merits as a long-time citizen of Howard County interested in promoting the county's best interests," he said. "I have operated farms in Howard County for about 40 years. I received my schooling here. I believe I am familiar with the problems involved in the administration of our county's affairs. I am sure the people that I will exert my very best efforts toward making a competent and conscientious public servant."

Leatherwood is 49, for many years operated the Wilcox "Company" farm southwest if here, and for the past 13 years has had his own place southwest of the airport.

For the past two years, Leatherwood has been president of the Howard County Farm Bureau and has been active in its leadership. In this role last year he directed the Mexican National labor program for the Bureau and farmers of Howard County, placing more than 1,100 laborers with employers, so that this will not conflict with his candidacy.

He also has been a school trustee for many years, serving first with the Caudle school, and then with the Elbow school following consolidation. He serves as a Cub Scout committee man.

He said he hopes to make personal contact with voters throughout his precinct. "But if I do not see them all personally, I hope they will regard this announcement as my solicitation for their kindly consideration," he said. "I invite full inquiries as to my character and abilities of any person who knows me."

John Clumies-Ross, a Scot, became king of the Cocos Islands in 1827, five generations of his line ruled there and another John Clumies-Ross is now British governor of the islands.

Lions On Program At ABC Club Meet

The Lions furnished the program for the American Business Club when it met Friday at the Settles Hotel. Members viewed a picture on the Texas Lions' camp for crippled children at Kerrville and heard Roy Minear of Midland, a board member of the camp, explain its purposes.

Schley Riley of the local Lions Club urged attendance at the Lions Club minirels March 5 and 6. He pointed out that proceeds would go to Lions' projects such as sight conservation.

Minear said that 236 crippled children from over the state were able to spend a two weeks' period at the Kerrville camp last summer, the first year of operation.

Construction Starts On Safeway Store

Construction has been started on the new Safeway Store here, Riley Foster, local manager, said Saturday.

The $265,000 plant, which will be the most modern in the Safeway system, is to be completed by autumn. It will be one of the largest stores in West Texas and will be located in the 1300 block on Gregg.

Board To Meet

The official board of the First Methodist Church will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

A training class for church membership began Saturday and will be held every Saturday from 1:15 to 2 p.m. until Easter.

Friends, Foes Keep Up Front In Hanoi

By OLEN CLEMENTS and MAX CLOS
HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Every night church bells beckon the faithful in misty old Hanoi. Heavy guns rumble on the city's outskirts. The devout go to worship. The others—French, German, Arab, Moroccan and Vietnamese soldiers and civilians—flock to the cafes, the tea houses, the taxi dancehalls.
The Indochina war is in its eighth year and the people in Hanoi are used to it. This city is a center of the French Union forces, including French colonial soldiers, the heavily armed German Foreign Legion and Vietnamese troops that can call this land their own. They are at war with forces which are led by a Communist but backed by many non-Communists. These forces are known as the Vietminh. Some civilians say there are so many Vietminh sympathizers in Hanoi that Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh would never attack the city—he would endanger too many of his friends.
Just now a sort of red haze blows down through the river delta and from Communist China, 90 miles to the north. Millions of mosquitoes buzz in and out of the separate night clubs of the Arabs, the German Legionnaires, the French and the Vietminh.
French Union troops patrol the countryside and fight along the wet roads.
A thousand miles to the south is hot Saigon, where shops display Paris gowns and good food abounds. It, too, is under control of the French Union forces. All through that southern area watch-towers manned by four to six men keep an eye on roads that may be mined.
The civilian population is more or less indifferent. Vietnamese and Chinese carpenters work all day building hundreds of new homes and apartments for people who apparently never give a thought to the war or to the prospect that artillery or planes might knock down some of these new buildings some day.
The indifference to the war has created a grotesque riddle for all of Southeast Asia—Indochina, Malaya, Burma, Thailand and Indonesia. The indifference and weariness of the war extend to many places in Viet Nam, and the associated kingdoms of Laos and Cambodia.
Many now believe a military victory by either side is an impossibility unless far more troops and supplies are poured into the fight. The hope the Big Five conference in Geneva in April and the conference of prime ministers of Southern Asia in Ceylon in May will help to solve the riddle.
Gen. Henri Navarre, commander in chief of French Union forces, says:
"We have here a politico-military war. It is only when the Vietnamese government will have won the approval of the population that a victory will be possible."

Youth Seeks Order From Court For A Drivers License
AUSTIN, Feb. 27 (AP)—A 17-year-old Austin boy went into district court yesterday seeking an order to make the Department of Public Safety give him a driver's license examination.
The suit was brought against Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr. and A. F. Temple, chief of the department's license division. Chester Williams filed the suit on behalf of his son Bobby D. Williams.
The petition claims the department has refused to give young Williams an examination or to permit him to fill out a license application form.
Williams recently was involved in another court action when his father-in-law, State Highway Patrol Sergeant W. J. White, sought to annul the youth's marriage to White's 16-year-old daughter. The State Supreme Court last week affirmed a Court of Civil Appeals decision that White could not call on the courts to dissolve the marriage against the wishes of both the boy and girl.
White told a reporter yesterday there was no connection between the driver's license dispute and the attempted marriage annulment.

It's Not Only Nice, But It's Good Business To Put Up A Good Front

Now that the old courthouse and auxiliary buildings on the courthouse square are coming down and the county soon will be shaping up the grounds, it is time to mention a suggestion of a business man. Big Spring business houses, he said, need urgently to undertake a remodeling campaign, particularly as pertains to their store fronts. Now we realize that you can't sell a store front like so many yards of piece goods, and we know full well that this is not the brightest moment on the calendar for a capital improvement that seemingly has no utility other than beauty. Notwithstanding, we believe with this business operator that there is an urgent need, and that now is a good time to do something about it.

While you cannot sell store fronts directly, they play a far more important role in the affairs of a business establishment than most people realize. It is not altogether true that clothes make the man, but it is true enough to the point that most successful men (and women) make it a point to be attractively attired in the conduct of their business.

You can test your own reactions in the realm of trade. How often have you driven through a city and debated about whether or where to eat. If the best cafe in town is hid behind a dark and stogy front, the stranger gets the impression that it is a "greasy spoon." Extending the matter a little further, the casual or new customer gets a similar impression of other businesses. It so happens that we are constantly getting a good volume of these types of customers, and we want to get more and more.

Those who drive up and down the highways—and we will have more and more as U. S. 80 becomes a freeway across the county and U. S. 87 continues adding its volume—appraise a town to a great degree upon the appearance of business buildings and public buildings. By and large, they do not have or take time to cruise out into residential areas or some other spot that would put a best foot forward.

If they come into a town that has shacks along the main thoroughfare; if they pass through a downtown section with store fronts reminiscent of 30 or 40 years ago, they have every right to go away with the community catalogued as unkempt and slow.

Every year the nation's most astute manufacturers spend millions of dollars on nothing but new and more attractive packages for their products. The alert Big Spring business man, taking his cue from the brighter center of the city, will give some mighty serious thought to putting up a good front now.

Confident Living—Norman Vincent Peale
Changed Attitude Toward Life Will Help Overcome Depression

A man consulted me who complained about everything. Without question, he was one of the most depressed, discouraged, and pessimistic persons I have ever met.

He started out by telling me he came from Scarsdale, a beautiful suburb of New York. But to him it was "a terrible place," and he didn't like the people there. His house wasn't very nice, either, he went on; in fact, the builder should have been sent to jail. And, just that morning, the toaster hadn't worked at breakfast and, coming in on the train, he'd thought how sick and tired he was of riding it every day to and from business. He complained that he was just fed up with everything.

"You sound like you're sick of living," I said.

"Yes," he replied promptly, "I'd just as soon lie down and die."

That remark suggested the use of a little experiment. "Tell me what I want you to do," I said. "Tomorrow morning, when you get up, imagine and pretend that it is the last day you are going to live. As you lie there, trying to decide to get out of bed, tell yourself that it is the last time you are ever going to lie in that soft bed and that this is the last sleep you are ever going to wake from."

"Then, go down to breakfast and remember that it will be your last. Ask your wife to give you all the things you like best for that last breakfast. Don't read your newspaper as you usually do, but talk to your wife because you will never have the chance again."

"On your way to the station, walk slowly and take a good look at that house of yours and your town. Look at your neighbors too for that last time. On the train realize that it's your last ride to the city. Take a last glimpse of all these things you dislike, because soon you will be through with them for good and all."

He promised me that he would try this unique experiment and later he told of the results. He didn't even wait for the next day; he started at once, imagining that very day was his last. He walked to Grand Central Station from my office; it was a cold, crisp day with snow underfoot. The walk made the blood run faster. It put color in his cheeks. He stopped at the bakery shop in the terminal for some coffee cake and thought, "Why am I doing this? I won't ever eat this coffee cake."

Incidentally, it had been a long time since he had taken anything home. He was too busy thinking how badly he felt.

On the way to Scarsdale, he looked out the window instead of reading the evening paper and was fascinated by the twinkling lights of towns and villages. He really found that trip a very pleasant one. Then, under a star-lit sky, along moon-bathed streets he walked home, and from a block away he could see the lights in the windows of his house. Instead of using his key when he reached his door, he rang the bell. When the door opened, there, in that golden light, was the sweetheart he had married thirty-five years before.

He told me, "I just grabbed her and gave her the biggest kiss of our lives. Right then and there I determined I was going to stop all my foolishness and be alive tomorrow and the next day and as long as God would grant me. 'Honey,' I said to my wife, 'we're going to have a wonderful time the rest of our lives.'"

"I know what you meant," he told me, "when I looked up that Bible passage you gave me, 'Who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous light.'"

Changing your point of view, your attitude toward your life, is often a wonderful technique for overcoming depression. You can reconduct your mind by the realization of how wonderful everything is, even the commonplace things which God has given us. Then the shadows of depression pass away and the bright light of new understanding restores happiness.

Animals Have Own Defenses

A big subject is brought up in a letter from James Dell. He asks:

"How do animals and plants protect themselves?"

A few parts of the answer are known to everyone who has given a little study to animals. We know, for example, that such beasts as lions and tigers use both teeth and claws to guard themselves, as well as to attack victims. Bears also use claws and teeth, and in addition can give whacks with their forelegs. At times, bears are reported to hug those they attack, but never suppose that the hugging arises from any friendly feeling!

Some animals save their lives by running. Rabbits do this, and so do gazelles and deer. The teeth of a rabbit are of little help in defense, but a deer has antlers which are employed, in special cases, to slay an enemy.

Various other animals have horns which are terrible weapons. Among these are buffaloes, bison, and rhinos (or rhinoceroses). The African buffalo is classed among the world's most dangerous animals.

Various other beasts are able to kick their enemies. A zebra or giraffe may get away from a lion by running, but in case of need will kick with the hind feet, or hoofs. A giraffe, in particular, can deliver a hard kick.

A few kinds of wild animals sometimes trample those who are in the way. A man is fortunate if he can escape from a stampeding buffalo herd in Africa, and a charging elephant may trample a hunter. An elephant also has a hard-swinging trunk with a wallop which may bring death.

In a broad sense, the animal world includes birds, as well as several other forms of life. Birds, in general, use their wings to escape from enemies by flying away. An ostrich is without the power of flight, but it can give a heavy kick, and people should watch out for its beak.

'Consumer Picnic' Is Costly To Some, But Better Days Ahead Are Indicated

One of the minor curses of modern transportation is that people don't walk. They take subways, trolley cars, buses, and private automobiles. They get virtually door-to-door delivery. They don't wander through shopping areas. And so, the fine art of window shopping has deteriorated. Particularly among men.

The foregoing is just a way of saying, "Men, shake your legs. Do some window shopping. It will perk up your morale." The stores are going all out for business. And prices really seem, to an untutored man's eye like mine, to be down.

In a tour of New York's financial district the other day, I noted that John Wanamaker's swank men's shop had marked $5 and $5.95 oxford shirts to $3.95. Pajamas were cut too. And what was true of Wanamaker's was true of other stores in the area. One small shop on a side street advertised a broadcloth shirt: "$5 value with manufacturer's name. Our price without name $2.50." Presumably, these were seconds. None the less, it felt fine to have the price tags screaming, "Welcome."

This, then, is Washington's "consumers' picnic." And for consumers with jobs and good prospects, it's an ennobling experience. The dollar talks once again. Your laundry will try to send your shirts back unstarched, if that's the way you want them. Automobile dealers will be glad to give you a demonstration of the latest model. The painter is only too happy to make suggestions and provide estimates for wallpapering your living room.

Nineteen forty-nine was also a year in which the consumer had a fling. But, even as now, it was a fling at a price. Consumers get bargains only when somebody else is hurt, only when manufacturers are selling for dear life to keep their plants busy.

Already the decline in industrial production has been as deep as in 1949. And it has been faster (see chart). Then industrial production dropped 10 per cent in nine months. This time a 10 per cent drop has taken place in seven months, and we can't be sure the bottom has been reached.

In 1949, the drop was largely in soft goods and in household appliances. Automobile production resisted the downpull. The drop this time has spread over most of the economic map. Autos, as well as soft goods and appliances have been hit. Indeed, the auto industry is suffering a hangover from the production lag of last year.

However, the rise in unemployment has been less severe than in 1949. About 3 million persons are out of work and looking for jobs. At the peak of the '49-'50 recession, imply that the end of the recession is in sight. He notes that unemployment may rise some in February, but by mid-April, when the March figures are at hand, we ought to be able to see a turn.

But would a turn in March warrant such optimism? A rise in employment always takes place then. At least 300,000 persons should find work — in factories, stores, and construction. Spring and Easter produce jobs as well as crocuses. And if 300,000 jobs don't bloom, then we'll have cause for concern. It would indicate basic economic weakness. The rise would be less than seasonal.

Washington's optimism is all right — if it doesn't go too far. Department store sales, up two per cent in the week ended Feb. 20, are a bright spot. This is a decided improvement over 1949-50. Yet this optimism leaves most people unprepared if the expected upturn shouldn't come — or if a rise develops and then tapers out. It's still too soon to be positive.

Famous Words OF FAMOUS PEOPLE

"OUR COUNTRY IN HER INTERCOURSE WITH FOREIGN NATIONS, MAY SHE ALWAYS BE IN THE RIGHT; BUT OUR COUNTRY, RIGHT OR WRONG."

Bible Words to Live by

JOHN 15:5 "I am the vine, you are the branches. He who abides in me, and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing." (RSV)

This verse has given courage and information to me in my quest for effectiveness in serving Christ. The Christian should bear fruit as naturally and unconsciously as a healthy branch bears grapes. Christ the vine supplies the energy.

But there must be a vital union with Christ. "He who abides in me, and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit." The eighth chapter of Romans could well be Paul's exposition of this text. "There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus—All who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God—We know that in everything God works for good with those who love him—if God is for us, who is against us?—For I am sure that neither death nor life—nor anything else is all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord."

In grateful dependence we affirm the words of Christ, "Apart from me you can do nothing."

A Writer Becomes Generous To A Public Servant—For One Week

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Without consultation with anyone, I have decided to set aside this week as official Be-Kind-to-the-City-Manager Week. I think this is meritorious in principle, and besides, I sort of owe it to Herb Whitney anyway.

Now, you may be kind to the City Manager every week, but I doubt it.

They way I understand the customs, if your garbage can lid blows away, you call the city manager; if the neighbor's dog comes over and wallows in your flower bed, you call the city manager; if a passing car hits a chicken and it goes fluttering and cackling down the street, you call the city manager; if your water bill reads a mite too high, you call the city manager; if by some chance erosion creates a ditch by your garage, you call the city manager; if the paving cracks in front of your house, you call the city manager; if the sound system is bad at the auditorium, you call the city manager; if the trees aren't blossoming in the park, you call the city manager; we could go on and on, but this gives a general idea.

Of course, the city manager should bear some of these burdens, but he gets put upon many times above and beyond the ordinary call to duty.

I happen to be one of those who — personally and editorially — have been a thorn (or at least a little stickler) in the city manager's side a lot of times. The thing about it is, he always takes my ravings and rantings in great good grace. And, more often than not, he has already done what I thought he ought to do, or at least was ready to get it done.

Whitney, being a gentle type of soul, has his own method of turning the other cheek, if the paper takes a little dig at the administration. For instance, there was the time we ran some pictures of city street signs with the street names spelled incorrectly. This was all right with Herb, except that he very quietly remarked that the newspaper seemed to be a poor instrument to be exhorting over misspelled words.

There was my experience with the water meter, back in the days when there was little or no pressure. I wasn't bothered over the fact that maybe 3,000 other people had low pressure, too; it was my low pressure that bothered me. I jumped old Herb until he had the water meter changed three times. He kept telling me that the meter was all right, but it took three changes to convince me. Then I campaigned for a larger water line. This finally came about, but through no credit of my own; come to find out, the city officials had decided all along to put a new water line in that particular place.

Now, the matter of paving has come up more recently, and to hear me around the City Hall you would conclude that my block is the only one in town that amounts to anything. This was reiterated by me, with gestures, on numerous occasions. Well, they decided to pave my block, but I think probably in spite of my appeals rather than because of them.

But when the list of projects appears in the paper, my block was omitted. This was good occasion for me to spur the city manager again, which I did. Until, that is, he quietly reminds me that the omission is my own paper's fault, and that he can't be responsible for what I print. This has the effect of taking the wind out of even sails like mine.

Well, Herb's not responsible for this piece, either. But I can tell him and the public at large that numerous state and federal officials who deal with our city are quick to cite him as one of the ablest city managers anywhere; an opinion in which I concurred, but which I certainly wasn't going to reveal to Whitney.

I have usually made the most noise, but he usually has gotten the best of me. So I am going to be kind to the City Manager — for this week, that is.

Although No Revolution Looms, East Berlin Is Still Restless

BERLIN — A map based on the most thorough intelligence shows the extent of the great popular uprising of the East Germans throughout the Soviet zone last June. It is like a map in an advance command post, which is more or less what West Berlin is, indicating the towns and cities in which large numbers of people demonstrated against their Communist masters.

In 65 centers these demonstrations were so pronounced — walkouts from Communist-controlled plants, marches and angry mass meetings, in many instances the use of stones and crude weapons — as to call for repressive action by hastily summoned tank battalions and troops in the Soviet uniform. That is a measure of the resistance to the Red regime.

All this is, of course, much better known to Moscow than it is to Berlin and Washington. And if any explanation were needed for the unyielding position of Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov at the Berlin conference, this in itself was enough. Those who should know believe that in truly free elections in the East Zone of Germany the Communists would get at most 10 per cent of the vote, and it would probably be less than five per cent.

How much this means for the longer future is not, however, at all clear. For the West it may mean comparatively little.

The uprisings of last June were put down by force. An estimated 3,000 to 4,000 East Germans were arrested. While some were executed, the majority were jailed. Perhaps an equal number of those conspicuously involved in the uprising escaped to the West.

In relation to the total woe participated in one way or another this is not large. But these men and women were the leaders. Their disappearance has left a vacuum not easily filled. And the coercive force of the Soviet Army is at hand to back up the puppet police and officials of the puppet East German state.

It is a disservice, therefore, to suggest that the dynamite of a potential revolution is lying all about just across the border. Rumors of a new uprising, circulated while the conference was going on, appear to have had little foundation in fact. Men may use stones against tanks in the climax to long-accumulated grievances. But when they have seen the consequences, they are likely to hesitate to do so a second time.

Unquestionably, conditions are bad in East Germany. But they are believed to be not much worse than they were a year ago or two years ago. And the regime has been holding out promises of more food and clothing.

Since the result of the conference was to make clear that Germany will go on being divided between East and West for an indefinite period of years, West Berlin is once more seen to be, as Secretary of State John Foster Dulles called it, "the first frontier of our freedom" and therefore of the highest importance. It must be both a command post and a show window of Western resolution.

The situation in West Berlin, on the whole, is a favorable one. There has been nothing like the rebuilding that has made over bombed cities such as Frankfurt. But with the extraordinary German capacity for hard work Berlin is producing at a rate about 40 per cent above a year ago. The reconstruction, the brightly lit shop windows filled with all kinds of consumer goods are in striking contrast to the drabness of East Berlin.

Another effort by the Communists to blockade the West half of the city would fail, and the Communist know it. Because there are large stockpiles of food, fuel and

Mutton Is Tradition

BANBURY, England (AP)—One day in 1874, a stranger bought a leg of mutton in the South Bar St. butcher shop. "Hang it up for me," he said, "until I come back."

He never did come back. The leg of mutton is still hanging there, and that's how traditions are born in Britain.

"It would be like parting with my own leg to get rid of it," was the fond comment recently made by Edwin Walker, present owner of the business. He started in the shop as an apprentice many years ago.

The leg, which weighed 13 1/2 pounds in its young muttonhood, is shrunken and wizened now.

"It hangs well away from the salable meat of course," says the butcher's wife. "But it isn't at all objectionable and it has never been treated with a preservative."

A Moment Of Love

Cesar Romero and Kay Kendall snuggle up for a moment in this scene from "Shadow Man," scheduled to show Wednesday and Thursday at the State Theatre.

In 'Glenn Miller Story'

One of the most popular of current pictures is "The Glenn Miller Story," which deals with the life and music of the late great band leader. This picture opens at the Ritz Theatre Friday for an extended engagement. James Stewart plays the title role, and June Allyson has the part of Glenn's wife. The picture, in Technicolor, is marked by presentation of many of the hit tunes made popular by the Miller band.

'Glenn Miller Story' Set To Show At Ritz

The name of the musical that is to show Friday and Saturday at the Ritz Theatre will probably be enough to send many dance fans down to see the show. The show, of course, is "The Glenn Miller Story" and featured in it are such old favorites as "Moonlight Serenade," "String of Pearls," "St. Louis Blues March," "In the Mood," "Little Brown Jug," "Pennsylvania 6-600," "Tuxedo Junction," "American Patrol," "National Emblem March," "Bidin' My Time," "Chattanooga Choo-choo," "Basin St. Blues," "I Know Why (And So Do You)," "At Last," "Adios," "Everybody Loves My Baby," "Looking at the World Through Rose-Colored Glasses," and "Over the Rainbow."

Cutting A Rug

Alec Guinness is really cutting a rug with Yvonne de Carlo in this scene from "The Captain's Paradise," which shows Tuesday through Thursday at the Ritz Theatre. The captain has a unique system for enjoying life and this is just half of it.

Tense Moment

Rock Hudson and Barbara Rush are shown in a tense moment from "Taza, Son of Cochise," Universal-International Technicolor film which shows today through Tuesday at the State Theatre. Hudson has the role of Taza and Miss Rush plays his girl friend.

Only Woman

Lovely Virginia Mayo has the role of the only woman prisoner in the Arizona Territorial Prison in "Devil's Canyon," which shows tonight and Monday at the Jet Drive-In. Dale Robertson co-stars.

Santa Fe Has Mothballed Steam Power

ALBUQUERQUE, Feb. 27 (AP)—A fleet of 164 mothballed steam engines, parked at strategic points throughout the Southwest, marks the tentative end of the era of steam for one of the nation's largest railroads.

Replaced in service by diesels, the locomotives—the most modern oil-burning type bought during World War II by the Atchafalaya, Topoka and Santa Fe Railway—have been stored for possible use in a future transportation emergency.

"We won't take them out unless we run out of diesel power," said D. J. Everett, superintendent of shops for the rail line in Albuquerque. "We might need them all in the event of some emergency such as a major war."

The storing operation has been under way on a gradually increasing scale since late in 1950. It will be completed in the next few months.

Albuquerque is the last Santa Fe shop equipped to make major repairs to steam engines. And it is already half converted to repair of the diesels.

Everett said that only a few steam engines have not been processed and stored. Only the most modern locomotives are being mothballed for possible use. Older type equipment is being sold for scrap or other use.

At least a few of the serviceable engines are parked at every terminal on the railroad's western lines, which cover New Mexico, Arizona, Texas, Colorado, California and Oklahoma.

Rock Hudson Is Indian Leader In State Movie

Rock Hudson has the role of an Indian peacemaker in "Taza, Son of Cochise," film which shows today through Tuesday at the State Theatre. The movie is in Technicolor.

The great Apache chief Cochise hands over the leadership of the Indians to his eldest son Taza on his deathbed. Taza, played by Hudson, first has to promise to continue Cochise's work for peace with honor.

His second son Naiche, played by Bart Roberts, has no such peaceful intentions however and plots with Geronimo to take the Apache leadership away from Taza and go back on the warpath.

The brother also has eyes on the same girl that Taza is in love with, Oona (Barbara Rush). Taza finds his love for Oona clashes with his responsibility as chief, for her father asks for guns when Oona's hand is sought in marriage.

When General Crook (Robert Burton) leads his troop into a canyon ambush, the peaceful Indians led by Taza rush in to save him and his men from Geronimo.

With peace restored, Gen. Crook reinstates Taza's military force with full police power over Indians, thus ending a cause of Indian displeasure at having to come under white men's jurisdiction.

The film is a Universal-International production.

Hindi-Russian Word Book Readied By Reds
LONDON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The world's first Hindi-Russian dictionary, compiled by the Oriental Institute of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, is fresh off Moscow presses.

Hindi is the language spoken by 100 million or more persons in northern India. The new dictionary contains some 44,000 words and expressions.

Canadian Post Hike
OTTAWA, Feb. 27 (AP)—Canadian postoffice will put a new five-cent stamp portraying Queen Elizabeth II on sale April 1, coinciding with a jump in first class postal rates. Effective at that time, out-of-town letters will cost five cents instead of four and postcards four cents instead of three.

Red Promotions
LONDON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Communist-ruled Romania and Hungary have agreed to promote their respective legations to embassies and exchange ambassadors.

Denyer reunion of Miller and his college sweetheart when the young trombonist is on a road tour with Ben Pollack's Californians and goes on as he realizes his need for her when he goes to New York to study arranging. The wedding party is at Connie's Inn in Harlem, where they sit in on a jam session led by Armstrong and Krupa.

The film is in Technicolor and is a Universal-International production.

'Highway Dragnet' Features Conte, Bennett, Hendrix
Joan Bennett, Wanda Hendrix and Richard Conte star in a chase film, "Highway Dragnet," which shows Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre.

Conte has the role of an ex-Marine picked up by the two women while hitchhiking at Las Vegas, Nev. When Mary Beth Hughes, who plays an ex-model, is found murdered after Conte had been seen with her, suspicion turns to him.

The two women are sympathetic and aid him in his flight from the police.

In a surprise climax, heightened by a flood of the inland salt lake, the Saltion Sea, in Southern California, the true murderer is revealed and Conte becomes free of suspicion.

The film is an Allied Artists production.

Air Mail Schedule To Austin, Houston
A new air mail schedule linking Big Spring with Austin and Houston was announced Saturday by Postmaster Elmer Boatler.

The new schedule is effective Monday. The new air mail pouches leave here at 9:45 a.m., arrive in Austin at 1:11 p.m. and in Houston at 2:19 p.m. The pouches are made up here direct to the two cities.

There will be no change in the incoming air mail schedules and the new outgoing pouches will be in addition to the existing schedules, Boatler said.

Judge Hits Ceiling As Suit Drops Off
FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—When the woman's bathing suit hit the floor, Municipal Judge Thomas Pitts hit the ceiling.

Pitts yesterday fined Max Beck, a penny arcade operator, $100 for exhibiting a motion picture film showing a woman stripping out of a bathing suit.

The 30-minute movie was stopped after three minutes of a courtroom showing when the judge decided it was too spicy to be run in the courtroom.

A reporter objected to the discontinuance.

The judge stood firm on his order, saying that the film could "corrupt the morals of even a newspaperman."

WTCC Meetings Set
ARLINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce will hold a series of meetings in March to get members' ideas for its 1954 program. A session will be held for each of the 10 districts in the chamber's 132-county region. The first meeting will be at Amarillo.

MAN HAS TWO WIVES IN FILM DUE AT RITZ

"The Captain's Paradise" is a comedy about a man who leads a double life and gets away with it for some time. Alec Guinness, British comedian, is the captain of a ferry ship sailing between Gibraltar and Africa. At each end of his run he has a wife — both are different types, too.

In North Africa there's Yvonne de Carlo who fills all his romantic desires. In Gibraltar there's Celia Johnson, the picture of comfortable but stodgy domesticity.

Trouble comes, however, when the two women decide they're been missing something in life. Lo and behold, Guinness finds Miss de Carlo heading for the kitchen and Miss Johnson anxious to do some night-clubbing.

The film, a British production, is released in the United States by United Artists; it shows Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Ritz Theatre. Nationwide, it has been pleasing the funnybones of motion picture critics.

Virginia Mayo Stars In Terrace Musical

Virginia Mayo and Gene Nelson star in Warner Bros. Technicolor musical, "She's Back on Broadway," which shows tonight and Monday at the Terrace Drive-In. Miss Mayo has the role of a movie star whose glitter has faded and who is about down to her last mink coat. In an effort to regain success, she goes back to Broadway and tries to make a hit on the musical stage. An old boy friend puts up money for the show in order to give her her chance.

Most of the complications involve her trouble in getting back to the daily grind of the stage and a few troubles involving needed changes in the show script.

MURPH THORP

Thorp In Race For Precinct 3 Commissioner

Murph Thorp, owner of Thorp's Paint Store, Saturday announced that he is making the race for County Commissioner for Precinct 3, subject to Democratic primaries.

Thorp, 53, has been a resident of Howard County for the past 22 years, operating the successful business that bears his name.

He and Mrs. Thorp have a son, pharmacy graduate from the University of Texas, and a daughter who is a senior in Big Spring High School.

Thorp pointed out that he owns his home here, the building occupied by his business and other property in the county. He also owns a farm, and said he feels that he understands the farmer's problems.

Thorp's statement said: "There has been, and is now, a widespread desire to elect a Big Spring business man to the County Commission, since more than three-fourths of Howard County's population live within the city limits of Big Spring and suburban area; and at this time not a single one of our county commissioners representing the people of Big Spring live within the area."

Thorp said he believes there should be closer cooperation between the county commissioners court and the city government, and that he further believes that taxes should be equalized and held at a minimum consistent with meeting the county's needs in an economical manner.

He further announced that "Howard County needs to re-employ a county engineer capable of furnishing the technical advice to the commissioners court, which in turn will enable our commission to build for Howard County the best and most economical roads our county has ever had; but it so happens that our county does not employ an engineer and our roads are being built and maintained (the hard and expensive way) by people who do not have engineering ability."

"Under the 1947 Road Law our county voted overwhelmingly that Howard County should employ and keep an engineer at all times and work under a county unit plan. I am in accord with this provision of the law as voted by the people of Howard County at that time. I believe if an engineer were steadily employed it would not be necessary for any commissioner to ask the voters of Howard County to be re-elected just to complete a road program."

Thorp said he is not making "any sort of crusade in seeking this office" and that he does not represent any interest whatsoever, "but if I am elected as your commissioner for Precinct 3 I will do my humble best for what I think is right and will meet every problem as a civic duty and trust with deeper consideration than if the problem were my own."

Lone Star Literary Award Is Again Set

HOUSTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The $1,000 Sumnerfield Griffith Roberts award in literature will be sponsored again this year by the Sons of the Republic of Texas.

W. T. Kendall, state president, said it is the fourth consecutive year that Roberts, a Dallas resident long identified with the organization, has presented the award. Roberts' forebears, both maternal and paternal, were citizens of the Republic.

The award is given for the manuscript or book which is judged to best portray the spirit of the men and women of the Republic. It will be presented at the annual dinner of the Texas Institute of Arts and Letters in November.

The three former winners of the award will be this year's judges. They are Dr. Eugene C. Barker of the University of Texas, J. Everts Haley of the Institute of Americanism at Texas Tech, and Chris Emmett of San Antonio.

Colorado has 40 mountain peaks over 14,000 feet high, double the number to be found in the Alps, says the National Geographic Society.

Get Tags Now, And Be Certain Papers Okay

Viola Robinson, county tax assessor-collector, and her staff have two suggestions for auto owners who haven't registered their vehicles for 1954.

First, get license plates now. In order to avoid the last-minute rush which already is assured.

And, second, be sure you have the proper papers ready when you get in the car tag line. The proper papers are last year's registration receipt and a Texas title certificate. Without these documents, you can't register your car. Further, Mrs. Robinson warns, if you wait until the last few days to start getting the documents together, the April 1 deadline may pass before you get your car registered.

Relatively few auto owners have secured their 1954 registrations thus far, so tax office personnel are looking for a big rush at the license plate window during the last few days of March. So far, only about 1,200 cars have been registered.

Some 1,300 numbers remain to be disposed of in the CC plate series. When these are gone, deputies will start issuing numbers with the CD prefix. It is estimated 2,000 or more passenger cars will be registered this year.

To help handle the anticipated heavy demand for car licenses during March, Mrs. Robinson plans to establish three substations — at Forsan, Coahoma and at the 18th and Main fire station in Big Spring.

The Forsan substation will be operated March 15 through 17, the Coahoma station is to be in operation March 18 and 19, and the March 22 through 31.

PLANS MADE FOR DAY OF PRAYER

Members of the Board of the Council of Church Women completed plans for the World Day of Prayer when they met for luncheon in the home of Mrs. Friend Talbot recently.

The Day of Prayer, forming an endless chain of prayer around the world, will be held at the First Methodist Church at 10 a.m. Friday. The hope of the sponsors is that it will unite all Christians in a bond of peace.

Sarah Chakko, of India, wrote the program which will be followed this year. It has for its theme, "That They May Have Life." Money from a free-will offering will be used for missions, both home and foreign.

A World Day of Prayer program will be held for children Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Salvation Army Citadel.

Quartet Reunion Is Scheduled At Gainesville Church

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 27 (AP)—A mixed quartet which sang together in the church for more than 30 years, will be reunited for participation in the centennial celebration of the First Methodist Church here March 7.

Members of the quartet are Mrs. J. N. McArdle, Mrs. H. H. Hamilton and C. M. Buckingham of Gainesville, and William H. Rue of Paris.

They will sing at a special centennial service set for 3 p.m. when

The history of the church parallels that of the City of Gainesville. The townsite was laid out Aug. 15, 1850, and a courthouse which cost $29 was erected in the spring of 1851. Church members held services in the courthouse and its successor until 1885, when the commissioner's court decided two lots in the townsite to the trustees of the Methodist church headed by Daniel Montague, for whom Montague County was named.

Panel 7: WOLF? OH, YES... I BELIEVE THE AGENT SAID YOU'RE MY NEIGHBOR... WE WERE JUST STARTING HOME, BUT I GUESS I CAN SPARE A LITTLE TIME.

Panel 8: WHY DO YOU CALL THIS A "NO-ACCOUNT" FARM, MR. WOLF?... WITH A FEW REPAIRS, IT SHOULD BE A REALLY FINE FARM.

Panel 9: THAT'S WHY I CAME OVER TO SEE YOU... IF, LIKE YOU SAY, YOU WANT THIS PLACE FOR PASTURE, I'M AFRAID YOU'VE BEEN TAKEN.

Panel 10: Y'SEE, I GOT A LITTLE BUSINESS OVER YONDER... I PRODUCE A FINE POTTERY CLAY... SCULPTORS USE IT, TOO... I MIX THE CLAY FROM MY OWN PIT WITH A SPECIAL RED MEXICAN CLAY THAT I IMPORT... IT'S VERY FINE STUFF!

Panel 11: NO DOUBT... BUT WHAT HAS THAT TO DO WITH MY BEING "TAKEN" AS YOU SAY?

Panel 12: I WAS JUST GOING TO SAY THAT I'VE BEEN AROUND HERE QUITE A SPELL, AND I THOUGHT I OUGHT TO WARN YOU THAT THE BROOK ONLY RUNS AFTER WET WEATHER... IF IT DON'T RAIN, IT'LL BE JUST ABOUT DRY IN A FEW DAYS.

Panel 13: ...BUT, JUST SO IT WON'T BE A TOTAL LOSS TO YOU... I'LL TAKE IT OVER FOR WHAT YOU PAID... MAY HAVE A CLAY PIT... HOW 'BOUT IT?

Panel 14: I'LL THINK IT OVER AND LET YOU KNOW IN A DAY OR SO!

Panel 15: TEX, I'VE CHANGED MY MIND ABOUT GOING HOME... YOU AND RUSTY DRIVE OVER TO THAT CROSSROAD STORE AND GET SOME GROCERIES... ENOUGH FOR SEVERAL DAYS.

Panel 16: RIGHT, BOSS... I CAN SEE IN YOUR FACE THAT SOMETHING'S GOT YOU WORRIED!

TOOTS & CASPER

I THOUGHT I HEARD THE DOORBELL RING.

YES, A HANDSOME YOUNG MAN IS HERE TO SEE YOU!

HEAVENS, AND ME WITH MY HANDS IN DISHWATER --- HAVE HIM WAIT WHILE I SPRUCE UP A BIT.

TOOTS, DON'T KEEP THE YOUNG MAN WAITING ALL DAY!

CASPER, GIVE ME A CHANCE TO POWDER UP AND MAKE MYSELF PRESENTABLE.

LADY, YESTERDAY YOU SAID IF I CAME BACK TODAY YOU'D BUY TWO TICKETS FOR OUR SCHOOL PLAY!

HA-HA--- HAW!

YOU AND YOUR GAGS! THAT WASN'T FUNNY AT ALL!

WHERE'S YOUR SENSE OF HUMOR, HONEY? WELL, I'LL SLIP INTO MY OLD CLOTHES NOW AND WASH THE CAR.

CASPER, YOU'D BETTER TIDY UP A BIT! SOME PRETTY GIRLS ARE HERE TO SEE YOU.

IMAGINE TOOTS TRYING TO FOOL ME WITH THAT SAME GAG! SHE OUGHT TO THINK UP SUMP'N ORIGINAL!

MR. CASPER, YOU'RE GOOD AT PROMOTION WORK! WILL YOU HELP US GET SOME PUBLICITY FOR OUR SORORITY DANCE?

AWK!

THOSE GIRLS ALWAYS LOOKED UP TO ME! I DIDN'T WANT THEM TO SEE ME LIKE THIS!

WHERE'S YOUR SENSE OF HUMOR, DEAR? BESIDES, I DON'T WANT YOU TO BE TOO POPULAR WITH THOSE CUTE COEDS, ANYWAY!

WHY SPEND MONEY FOR A DICTIONARY? IF WILLIS HAS ANY SCHOOL QUESTIONS TO ASK, LET HIM COME TO ME--I'LL ANSWER THEM!

THAT'S FINE, AS LONG AS YOU DON'T MIND BEING BOTHERED!

JUST GO IN AND SIT DOWN AT THE TABLE BY YOUR FATHER.

YOU SAID IT'S THE MEANING OF WORDS THAT PUZZLE YOU-- HE'LL EXPLAIN EVERYTHING!

WHAT'S THE MEANING OF THE WORD CACHE, DAD?

CASH! WHY THAT'S A SIMPLE ONE--IT MEANS ANY KIND OF MONEY. I WISH I HAD MORE OF IT!

HECK, I KNOW THAT WORD--BUT CACHE DOESN'T MEAN MONEY IN THIS SENTENCE!

WELL, IF YOU'RE SO SMART, MAYBE YOU CAN TELL ME WHAT IT MEANS!

I DON'T KNOW WHAT IT MEANS! THAT'S WHY I ASKED YOU!

LET ME TAKE A LOOK AT THAT SCHOOL PAPER.

WHY IN THIS CASE IT MEANS A PLACE OF CONCEALMENT!

Cache
Pirouette
Sobriquet
Volatilis
Reconnaissance
Bucaramma
Pustillanma

WHERE'S THE NEAREST PLACE I CAN GET A DICTIONARY--AND WHAT DO THEY COST?

DOWN AT THAT MAGAZINE STORE AT THE CORNER--AND I THINK YOU CAN GET ONE FOR ABOUT TWO DOLLARS CASH!

NEW VEL*

MAKES DISHES SHINE

WITHOUT WASHING OR WIPING!

VEL SOAKS DISHES CLEAN
—saves you all the hard work!

DON'T WASH—JUST SOAK!
Dishes soak grease-free in seconds! No washing is needed. If food clings, a touch of the dishcloth gets it off. There's no greasy dishwater with Vel.

DON'T WIPE—JUST RINSE!
Yes! Just soak and rinse. Dishes dry streak-free without wiping! Even heavy grease in pots and pans is so completely dissolved no hard scouring is needed.

Package for package, Vel cuts grease better than the leading washday detergent, liquid detergents or soaps!

—and yet NO 'DETERGENT BURN' TO HANDS!

PROVE IT YOURSELF!
"HAND-HEAT TEST" shows why!

Dip hands in water. Then get a tablespoonful of any leading washday detergent in one hand — put a tablespoonful of VEL in the other.

Feel the heat from washday detergents, indicating irritating alkalis and harsh chemicals that cause "Detergent Burn"!

Feel NO heat with Vel because Vel contains no irritating alkalis or harsh washday chemicals to cause "Detergent Burn"!

VEL is a miracle of mildness! Vel helps you avoid rough, red hands — causes no "Detergent Burn"!

MarVELous for dishes and finest fabrics!

*VEL is the trade-mark of the Colgate-Palmolive Company.

I HOPE I'VE MADE MY POINT CLEAR — THAT NO MATTER HOW CLEVER A WOMAN THINKS SHE IS THERE'S ALWAYS A MAN WHO'LL OUTSMART HER!

THE FLASH IS A GREAT NEWSPAPER, AND I'M PROUD AND HAPPY — ALSO A LITTLE HUMBLE TO HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO PINCH-HIT FOR MY UNCLE WHILE HE TAKES A MUCH NEEDED REST

WHILE I'M AT THE HELM OF THIS SHIP I WANT NO 'TO-DO' OF PERSONALITIES, NO PETTY JEALOUSIES! MISS STARR, MISS LIPPS, GO BACK TO YOUR DESKS AND LET'S PITCH! THAT'S ALL!

GREAT STUFF, HITCH! I KNOW YOU REALLY IMPRESSED THE GALS!

IT'S A BIG ORDER, HANDLING WOMEN, UNCLE ATWELL, BUT I'LL DO MY BEST!

WELL — I MUST SAY, HITCH RIDER, YOU'RE QUITE A GUY — I LIKE YOU!

IT'S REALLY REFRESHING TO MEET A MAN LIKE HITCH RIDER! I LIKE HIM —!

I DON'T KNOW WHAT THEY'RE GOIN' TO NAME YOU, HONEY... BUT DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS, EVERYONE'S GONNA CALL YOU 'PINKY'!

I'M GITTIN' TIRED OF THIS BURGLAR BREAKIN' INTO MY KITCHEN EVERY NIGHT!

WELL... WE'LL FIND OUT WHO IT IS WITH THIS HIDDEN CAMERA!

I CAN'T WAIT TO FIND OUT WHO THAT GUY IS!

BOY!... HE WALKED RIGHT INTO THUH TRAP!

DARK ROOM

NOW WE SHALL SEE WHAT WE SHALL SEE!

I'VE SEEN THAT FACE BEFORE... SOMEWHERE AROUND THUH NEIGHBORHOOD!

I'LL JUST RUN THIS PRINT DOWN TO THUH POLICE AND LET THEM TAKE CARE OF...

I WOULDN'T ADMIT IT TO ANYONE BUT MUHSELF... BUT SOMETIMES I AIN'T SO BRIGHT!

A TROPICAL STORM RAGES OVER THE CARIBBEAN SEA... A DISTRESS FLARE IS SEEN... AND A RESCUE IS MADE...

TH' SURVIVOR WE PICKED UP IS A GIRL!

SHE PROBABLY WAS CAUGHT UNAWARES IN A SMALL BOAT BY TH' STORM!

AH... I CAN SEE THE HEADLINES NOW... FAMOUS BASEBALL STAR OZARK IKE, RESCUES — HEY... RESCUES WHO? WHO IS SHE?

LOOK! SHE DONE WOKE UP!

HOW DO YOU FEEL, MAM?

I AM NOT FEELING THE BEST I HAVE EVER FELT, SEÑOR, BUT...

HOW ABOUT ANSWERING A FEW QUESTIONS FOR TH' PRESS, LADY?

YOU'RE CUBAN, AREN'T YOU?

WHAT'S YOUR NAME, MISS?

EASY, FELLUHS! TH' DO' GAL AIN'T CAUGHT HER BREATH YET!

AAH... A GENTLEMAN IN THE CROWD!

— YOU ARE VER' CUTE, SEÑOR! WHAT NAME ARE YOU CALLED BY?

(CHOKES) OZARK IKE, MAM!

SOS!

IS IT TO YOU, SEÑOR OZARK, THAT I OWE MY LIFE?

ON MR. MCKEE... THAT MACHINE THOSE MAD SCIENTISTS USED TO RESTORE YOUR HAIR... NOT KINDA LUCK DIDJA HAVE BUYIN' IT FOR $2000?

NONE! THOSE PUTTERING FUZZY BRAINS AREN'T INTERESTED IN MONEY! BUT I'LL TRY ANOTHER APPROACH!

DR. PELTZ... ISN'T THERE ANYTHING YOU COULD DO FOR YOUR FELLOWS WANT REAL BADLY?

ONLY TO WORK IN PEACE... A CRUST OF BREAD NOW AND THEN.

AND SOME DAY, PERHAPS, BUILD A BIGGER, MORE MODERN XYLOTRON... ONE THAT MAKES FAR MORE SYNTHETIC HAIR FROM LESS WHALE BONES! THEN WE'LL GIVE YOU THIS ONE!

HMM... LET'S SEE... WE'LL USE SOME PARTS FROM AN OLD SECOND-HAND CYCLOTRON... AND... ON PROFESSOR... DO WE HAVE A HIGH VELOCITY THINGAMAJIGGER LEFT?

GOOD! THAT BRINGS THE COST DOWN TO ONLY $55,932.18!

WHAT! WHY... THAT'S AN OUT-RAGE!

BUT YOU'D STILL COME OUT AHEAD, MR. MCKEE.

YES... THAT'LL SAVE $72!

A BIGGER XYLOTRON... EH? MAYBE I'LL FURNISH THE MONEY NOW! HOW MUCH WILL IT COST?

YOU MAY ALL HAVE HAIR, TOO, BY MORNING... IF YOU'LL LEND YOUR PROMINENT NAMES TO AN ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN, PROMOTING THIS AMAZING DISCOVERY!

MCKEE... TO HAVE MY HAIR BACK, I'D EVEN ENDORSE YOUR BUSINESS ETHICS!

I MAY WANT TO USE "BEFORE AND AFTER" PICTURES OF YOU FELLOWS.

IF THIS WORKS, I'LL EVEN POSE WITH AN APPLE IN MY MOUTH, J.P.!

PLEASE, GENERAL... TRY TO STOP SHOWING!

NEXT!

YEH... IT TOOK A WHILE TO MAKE UP MY MIND, BUT... FOLKS CARRYIN' ON LIKE THEY DID, I DIDN'T HAVE ANY ALTERNATIVE.

THEY JUST WANTED TO SEE YOU DO TH' RIGHT THING.

HMPH! I NEVER FIGGERED ANY-THING LIKE THIS'D EVER HAPPEN TO ME...

...WELL, ANYWAY, I THOUGHT I BETTER TELL YOU, YOU BEIN' TH' HEAD MAN.

AW, NO NEED, OOPY, OL' BOY... I'VE BEEN KNOWIN' YOU'D DO IT FOR QUITE A WHILE!

YEH, I RECKON YOU DID, SEEIN' HOW YOU'RE TH' ONE RESPONSIBLE.

AW, SHUCKS, OOP, I MIGHTA HELPED A TEENSY BIT, BUT I DON'T WANT NO CREDIT FOR IT!

HEY, WAIT! YOU CAN'T GO NOWHERE NOW... NOT JUST BEFORE TH' BIG PARTY!

PARTY?

SURE! WE'RE GOING ALL OUT FOR THIS JOYOUS OCCASION!

OH, SO YOU FIGGER IT'S SLIMPIN TO CELEBRATE, EH?

WHY, OF COURSE! IT'S NOT EVERY DAY A FINE CHAP LIKE YOU FIXES TO TAKE HIMSELF A WIFE!

A WIFE? ME? HEY, YOU OFF YOUR ROCKER OR SLIMPIN'?

HAVEN'T YOU BEEN TRYIN' TO TELL ME YOU AN' OOLA'S GONNA GET HITCHED?

HECK, NO! I'M CHECKIN' OUTA THIS HOLE!
