SITUATION LOOKING BETTER

More Tests to be Spudded-In Early—Steady Progress Being Made on Other Wells

Ready for Another Test

Work of skidding the derrick on McDowell well No. 2 to a location 2000 feet east of McDowell No. 1 was completed Wednesday. The work of getting things shaped for drilling goes forward.

Receivers of the General Oil Company are having this test made in order to prove up the McDowell No. 1. It has been continuous production on the pump continuous production the belief grows that it is an edge well. For the well that is to be drilled is important one as it will almost determine whether or not a big oil field is in that section.

Well to be Completed

The driller in charge of the Godwin well in Borden arrived in Gall Tuesday morning and is moving the rotary to the drilling site. Ray Wilcox Thursday with men and rig to the railroad for shipment to Louisiana.

The Magnolia Petroleum Co. has taken over the lease and complete this well. A standard is to be installed to complete the well is down to a depth of 1250 feet. It is about five and one-half feet of Gall.

Up For New Test Well

Derrick for the test well to be used by the Middlestates Oil Co. of Pennsylvania, composed of Pennsylvania men and business men, on the land much in the east part of the well was completed Tuesday.

Work of installing machinery is under way and drilling should be under way on this test in the near future. The geologist who made this location a thorough study of the Big Spring field and is thoroughly convinced this test is going to start big production in this section.

Enders-Cushing Test

Account of failure of a shipment to arrive drilling has been suspended at the Enders-Cushing test on Saturday this week. The coal at Sterling City Thursday so work is resumed today or tomorrow.

Water was successfully shut off by the six and five-eighths inch casing.

Drilling at Foster No. 2

Well No. 2 was spudded in last week and good progress is being made. The exact depth was not learned the exact depth was not learned they were drilling 200 feet several days ago.

Weldon's Martin County Test

Weldon No. 1 of the Cox Realty Co. in Martin County, due to necessary repairs have been delayed below 2,000 feet was resumed.

Pecos Oil News

The Troxel well will produce fifty to a one hundred barrels per day as seen by the California Petroleum Co. who have associated themselves with the Troxel well.

At the beginning of the last quarter Big Spring kicked off and Fort Stockton returned the ball to the 40-yard line. Big Spring forced a way thru the line and Porter made a touchdown thru center.

Big Spring kicked off and when Fort Stockton fumbled, Bailey, left end, recovered the ball. Pistolet made a touchdown from mass formation. Score Big Spring, 60; Fort Stockton, 0.

Sam of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rogers Dead

Weldon C. Rogers, aged seven years and two months, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rogers, in the E-Bar community, Wednesday morning. Death was due to membranous croup. The remains were laid to rest in Salem cemetery Thursday afternoon.

The many friends of the family deeply sympathize with the bereaved ones in their hour of sorrow.

JOHN W. PIKE CLAIMED BY DEATH

One of Our Best Beloved Citizens and Business Men Passes Away Wednesday, October 19th.

Deep sorrow was in evidence throughout this community when it was announced that John Pike was dead. The news came as a shock to most everyone for if ever there was a human who seemed to be enjoying fine health John seemed to be that one. Some were aware that he had undergone an operation for appendicitis at Mercy Hospital, Sunday, but even up to Wednesday noon he appeared to be getting along nicely. Death, which resulted at 9 o'clock Wednesday night, was due to locked bowels.

John W. Pike, who was forty years of age, was born and reared in this community and there exists no better or more beloved citizen. Of a jolly nature he always had a word or a smile for his friends and the world has been better for his having lived his all too short span of life.

He was a successful business man because he conducted his business on the Golden Rule plan and the customers of Pike's Furniture Store knew they could depend on what John said. He was prepared to meet his maker when the summons came for he was a faithful and consistent Christian, not only on Sundays, but during the seven days of each week. He was a steward of the Methodist Church of this city and one of the strongest workers for its welfare.

He was a good son, a true husband, a devoted father and a loyal brother; and to the wife and daughter, Dorothy, the mother, Mrs. N. L. Pike, the brothers and sisters, Seth Pike, James A. Winslow, A. B. Winslow all of this city, Mrs. J. J. Holmes of El Paso and Mrs. Ed Willis of Lockney, N. M., is extended the heartfelt sympathy of our entire citizenship.

As a slight token of the esteem in which John W. Pike was held as a business man, citizen and friend, every business house in Big Spring will remain closed for an hour, Saturday afternoon, from 3 to 4 o'clock, while the funeral is being conducted at the Methodist church in this city.

John W. Pike

It is hard for us to realize that John W. Pike is dead. Big of body and of heart, genial, sunny-souled, his death leaves a large vacancy in the hearts of his friends and they are many. As an official in the Methodist Church he will be greatly missed. What a good steward he was, only his pastor and the other stewards who worked with him knew. How devoted he was to his wife and little girl and his love for his aged mother was beautiful. I loved him and shall greatly miss him. His influence will abide. May the Good-Father comfort and keep the loved ones in His prayer.

His pastor,
Ben Hardy.

Big Improvement at Lyric Theatre

The Lyric Theatre has lately installed a Gardiner Velvet Gold Fibre Screen exactly like those used by the ten largest theatres in the United States. Movie fans of Big Spring will now be able to see a picture just as good for much less money than they would in New York or any other large city.

It is worthy of notice that every new theatre which opened in New York and Brooklyn last year installed one of these screens.

We congratulate J. Y. Robb for his effort to give Big Spring pictures that equal and in many instances excel those of the larger cities.

G. C. Smith of El Paso Dead

G. C. Smith of El Paso died at Mineral Wells, Texas, Thursday, October 13th, and was buried in El Paso Sunday. Mr. Smith was employed in the ticket office of the T. & P. railway company and previous to that held a position as train auditor. He was a resident of Big Spring for a time, when he and Mrs. Smith had a lease on the Cole Hotel of this city.

He is survived by a wife and two children. We join many friends in this city in extending sympathy to the bereaved ones.

400 Trainloads of Gravel Required

It is estimated that 270,000 cubic yards of gravel will be required to resurface the ninety-nine mile stretch of the Bankhead National Highway from the east line of Howard County to the west line of Ector County. It will require 13,500 cars to transport this gravel or about four hundred trainloads of thirty-three cars each. If the railway is used to transport the gravel it will be necessary to put in a railway siding every five miles in order to eliminate long hauls by teams and trucks.

Mrs. W. J. Wooster and Mrs. J. E. Muddell expect to leave Sunday evening for Fort Worth to attend the annual state meeting of the Order of Eastern Star. Others who are planning on attending this meeting which convenes Oct. 25th, are Mrs. B. F. Willis, Mrs. J. N. Bize and Mrs. J. N. Cowan.

Red Cross Meeting

A meeting of the executive committee of the Red Cross was held last Friday afternoon for the purpose of considering several matters of importance.

Communications were read from the division headquarters at St. Louis and national headquarters at Washington, D. C. relative to aiding charity cases, and the final word from division headquarters is that the Howard County Chapter is denied permission to do civilian relief work until a person trained in Red Cross Relief Work has been secured by the chapter and approved by division headquarters. The secretary was instructed to send for questionnaires to determine the qualifications of such a trained worker.

The proposition of naming some one to be in charge of Red Cross Roll Call campaign was discussed, but as no one present could name any one they thought would accept the task it was decided to wait a few days until an effort could be made to induce someone to accept this work.

A motion prevailed that Miss Nell Hatch be appointed as a delegate to attend the district Red Cross meeting at El Paso.

A motion prevailed that the meeting adjourn until the following Thursday afternoon.

Smith-Posey

At the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. W. McElhannon, at 6:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Oct. 16th, the ceremony was performed which united in marriage Morris I. Smith and Miss Arlon Posey. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ben Hardy, pastor of the Methodist Church, and was witnessed by only a few relatives and friends.

The bride is one of our popular young women, loved and honored by all who know her, and one who will make a true helpmeet to the one she has chosen as her life companion.

The groom is one of our substantial young men and a popular employe of the T. & P. railway company.

We join many friends in extending to this happy couple best wishes for a happy journey through life.

Simpson-Smith

At Lamesa, Texas, on Wednesday, October 12th was solemnized the marriage of Akin Simpson and Miss Ruby Smith two of Howard County's well-known and highly esteemed young people.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mimmie Smith, is a charming and accomplished young lady loved and esteemed by a wide circle of friends throughout our county. The groom has made his home here since childhood and is one of our dependable and respected citizens.

The happy couple spent their honeymoon at Roswell, N. M., returning to their home here Monday.

We join a host of friends in extending to this worthy couple best wishes for much happiness and prosperity.

A Fire Presentation Measure

Now that the time for putting up the heating stove has arrived it might be well to have the flues at your home examined to ascertain whether or not they were in first class condition. This safety first measure may save your home from being destroyed by fire so its worth your consideration.

When we occasionally read of this or that Texas city having a fire destroying property to the value of several hundred thousands of dollars we cannot help but feel thankful that our city has been fortunate in escaping. We have far too many fires as it is and should use every effort to eliminate fire hazards. It's cheaper to prevent fires than it is to suffer fire losses.

Mail Route Road Needs Attention

Postmaster B. Reagan accompanied H. S. Meskimen over the R. F. D. Route 1, Tuesday, and states that the road is in very bad repair. The road needs to be worked in a number of places, resurfacing at some points is very much needed and deep sand beds are encountered. The roads used as mail routes should be properly maintained and the trip of inspection over route 1 indicates that this road has been very much neglected.

Uncle Sam can order the mail route discontinued if the roads become neglected so it is to the interest of those living along R. F. D. No. 1 to see that the mail route road is kept in good shape.

Brunk's Comedians Here October 24

Brunk's Comedians will be the big attraction here all next week. They will open their big tent theatre Monday, October 24.

Harry Sadler, Repertoire's most popular comedian heads a company of thirty fun makers. New plays will be presented every night and up-to-the-minute vaudeville will be presented between every act.

Brunk's Comedians are known to the citizens of Big Spring and they have never failed to have a full house for every performance presented in this city.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE WATERWORKS

The Work of Improving Our Water Works System Is Now Going Forward

The work of deepening the six by twelve foot shaft at the City Waterworks plant to the big water strata, which is supposed to exist at a depth of two hundred and thirty feet, is now underway. More than five feet of rock was blasted away this week.

Due to the fact that a greater amount of water now comes into the shaft it is proving quite a problem to keep the water lowered so charges of dynamite can be placed in the bottom of the well. Mayor Purser and others are of the opinion that an inexhaustible supply of water will be encountered within the next ten or fifteen feet.

The contract for the completion of the City Waterworks reservoir whereby the capacity will be increased from 600,000 gallons to 1,500,000 gallons has been awarded to James Winslow and work is to be started at once.

The cement and sand are on the ground and quick time should be made in completing this job. The walls of the present reservoir will be made six feet higher. This increasing the capacity of the reservoir is an improvement that has long been needed and if the big supply of water is encountered in the big well the city is now having dug, quite a few of our troubles will be a thing of the past.

Must Have a Fund for Charity

Since there is a doubt as to whether or not the Howard County Chapter of the American Red Cross is going to be able to secure permission to afford civilian relief or charity work it may be necessary to turn to some other organization to handle this work in our county and the Salvation Army may be called upon to undertake the work.

Anyway it is going to be necessary to have funds to handle the many appeals for charity now being made for it is certain that the number of cases to be handled will constantly increase as the winter season approaches.

When the call for funds is made everyone in the county should give as generously as possible for the sick, hungry and destitute must be given assistance.

Just remember you are going to be asked to donate to a charity fund in the near future and begin to lay aside whatever you feel you are able to donate to this worthy cause—to aid our home people.

Money Stolen On Train

I. J. Leggett and Pearl Leggett, husband and wife, were arrested by deputy sheriff J. C. Stansel as they stepped from a Texas & Pacific train Saturday night. They were charged with theft over $20.

The theft followed complaint of Mrs. G. C. Smith, who was accompanying the body of her husband on the same train to El Paso to be buried, that a purse containing $194 and jewelry had disappeared.

Rubber bands such as had been around Mrs. Smith's money and several $20 bills were found in Leggett's possession, Mr. Stansel was told.

Trailmen wired to El Paso asking that the pair be arrested on arrival in El Paso, according to chief deputy Ed Bryant.—El Paso Herald.

Disposes of Interest in Hardware Co.

P. G. Stokes of the Stokes-Hughes Co. of this city has disposed of his interests in the hardware stores owned by that company and will devote his entire time and attention to managing the affairs of the Stokes Motor Company, the headquarters for Ford cars and Ford service in Big Spring.

C. H. McDaniel, of Abilene, a stockholder in the firm, is now in charge as manager of the big Stokes-Hughes Hardware Company's store in this city.

Mr. Ed S. Hughes of Abilene, president of the firm, is interested in hardware stores in Abilene, Stamford, San Angelo and other points.

200,000 to Move; Mexico to Canada

Seven representatives of Canadian Mennonites, accompanied by Daniel Lopez, their Mexican representative, arrived in El Paso Sunday from Winnipeg enroute to colonization sites in southern Chihuahua.

The 50,000 families of Mennonites, representing 200,000 people, are leaving a rich country, Mr. Lopez said, to colonize in Mexico.

The Mennonites have purchased land in the famous Bustillos ranch and also in the San Jose del Sitio grant, on the Mexico North Western railroad, south of El Paso and west of Chihuahua. C. M. Newman of El Paso, made the sale.

To Observe Armistice Day

Plans for a big celebration in Big Spring on Armistice Day are being prepared by members of the William Frank Martin Post of the American Legion.

Leland Stone, J. F. Hair and others are bending every effort to make the occasion a big success.

A program of the day's entertainment will appear in next week's issue of The Herald.

Reception for Teachers

The members of the Home and School club tendered a reception in honor of the teachers of our schools, at the Auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. last Friday evening and the occasion was one of complete pleasure for everyone attending.

A cordial welcome was accorded each one upon arrival by members of the Home and School club and throughout the evening the guests were treated to a royal good time. Hand painted score cards were distributed, and when partners were secured, fourteen tables of players took part in the series of interesting games of progressive Forty-two.

Refreshments of punch and cake were enjoyed at the close of play.

Among the members of the Home and School club who were in the receiving line and others who assisted in making the occasion one of thorough enjoyment were Supt. and Mrs. A. W. Planken, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rix, Mrs. Dan O'Keefe, Mrs. Ben Hardy, Mrs. S. A. Hathcock, Mrs. G. E. Fleeman, Mrs. W. W. Hatcher, Mrs. J. M. Morgan, Mrs. G. W. Lee, Mrs. L. E. Thomas, Mrs. W. C. Henley, Mrs. S. D. Ford, Misses Mary Johnson and Mary Morgan.

Teachers of Four Counties Here, Oct 24

The teachers of Borden, Glascock, Martin Counties will join with the teachers of Howard County in holding the Howard County Teachers' Institute in Big Spring, Oct. 24 to 28, inclusive. The meetings will be held in the district court room, and an interesting and instructive program has been arranged for the four days.

A Sewer System Needed

It is becoming clearer every day that Big Spring must install a sewer system. It was thought that the cess pools would answer the purpose, since a stream of salt water was found a short distance below the surface of the ground in the business section, but if your sense of smell is not affected you will soon become aware that some of the cesspools in the business section are a nuisance and the City should take steps to have them eliminated.

A sewer system is a great need in Big Spring and if our city is not able to handle the proposition, a private concern should be encouraged to handle the proposition. It is coming to the point where the healthfulness of our community demands this type improvement.

There are few cities or towns in Texas the size of ours that haven't a good sewer system, and we should have.

Members of Rainbow Division Elect

Members of the famous Rainbow Division residing in Texas held their annual reunion Saturday in Dallas at American Legion headquarters, the various chapters in the State being represented.

Election of officers resulted as follows: President, Colonel W. E. Talbot, Dallas; vice presidents, S. W. Becker, Houston; James T. Brooks, Big Spring; Frank Anglin, Austin; secretary and treasurer, P. P. Johnson, Dallas.

The visitors were entertained at a luncheon at the Adolphus given by the legion in Dallas, of which Royall A. Watkins is post commander. They attended the fair and football game during the afternoon.—Dallas News.

T. & P. Passenger Train Wrecked

A number of persons were injured, but none killed when eastbound "Sunshine Special" of the Texas & Pacific railroad was wrecked Monday night near Van Horn, Texas.

The wreck was caused by a broken rail. The observation car, two Pullmans and the dining car were derailed and turned over.

Passengers were transferred and started on their way being delayed about seven and one-half hours by the accident.

The cars were picked up by the wrecker of the S. P. and the line was made passable by 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.

A Correction

In our article last week with reference to the award of the contract for the construction of the Bankhead Highway thru Howard, Martin, Midland and Ector Counties we gave the figures with a ten per cent addition allowed for contingencies and therefore the actual figures at which this job was awarded to the Womack Construction Company were ten per cent less than the figures quoted.

In place of Howard County paying $275,000 for the thirty-four miles of road in this county the amount will be approximately $250,000 and one half of this sum will come from the U. S. Road fund.

Fire Department Called Out

The fire department was called out Wednesday forenoon by an alarm sent in from Dick Hatch's home on South Scurry street.

An oil stove was the cause of the alarm being sounded. The ceiling was scorched by the flames but otherwise there was no further damage as prompt work by those arriving first on the scene prevented the fire destroying the home.

J. J. Hubbard was here Monday from his ranch in Glascock County.

Klaxism Disavowed in Many Quarters
From many quarters and with increasing firmness there comes the chorus of disavowal of the practices which have been carried on in Texas in the name and under the disguise of the Ku Klux Klan. It is inevitable that that name and that disguise should acquire the odium which has attached irrevocably to those practices, subversive as they are of all that the Anglo-Saxon civilization has been striving for through the centuries. These statements of disavowal come from public officials, fraternal officers, business leaders and private citizens. For the most part they have been temperate, seasoned with good will and worded moderately. It is well that it has been so.

The statement from the office of the Attorney General of the State leaves no room for doubt as to the unlawful character of activities that have been taking place in Texas under the auspices of those who at least pretended to be members of the Klan and who were widely accepted to have been such. The statements from any member of reputable fraternal bodies indicate that there has been from some source the misapprehension engendered that the Klan was in some way a branch or son of old and well-known fraternal orders. Those statements effectively clear away all such misapprehension. The Klan stands today disowned alike by the law and by lawful brotherhoods. Its end appears to be not far off.

Under these circumstances it is not surprising to hear that the vaunted strength of the Klan nationally has been far over-estimated. The boasts of those who claimed to represent the Klan itself were responsible for the inflated figures commonly supposed to measure its membership. But there can be no doubt that withdrawals account for the present small enrollment as shown by the imperial wizard's testimony. Honest men and brave men joined the order in the first rush of its recruiting. There can be no doubt of that. But the comparatively small number which now recognize the sovereignty of The Colonel from Georgia represents not so much a sum as a remainder.—Dallas News.

Methodist Notes

A full Sunday school gave visible evidence of our gladness to have back with us Bro. Hardy and his family for another year. At the close of the session period Bro. Hardy gave a very condensed but very interesting account of the conference at Amarillo. It is with pleasure we receive these reports from year to year, keeping us in touch with our bishops, elders, former pastors, and many others of our great church, whom we love and in whose affairs we feel the greatest interest.

It is with regret we lose our former presiding elder, Bro. G. S. Hardy, of Sweetwater, who goes to Plainview Dist. His gain is our loss, but we are glad to know his work will be lessened and his honor increased. The former pastor at Sweetwater, Bro. Stewart is now presiding elder of the district.

Bro. A. L. Moore remains at Memphis. Bro. J. T. Hicks at Stamford, and Bro. D. B. Doak continues his work as Sec. of religious education at Abilene. These are all former preachers of our church here well known and well loved by us all.

Talking about Sunday school—we now have the finest corps of officers and teachers to be found in the west. Reliable, punctual, full of zeal, we expect great things from our school the coming year. Following is the Roll Call from the Sec.'s book:

Pastor, Rev. Ben Hardy; Supt., Miss Verbena Barnes; Sec. Miss Miriam McDonald; Asst. Sec. Miss Wanda True; Asst. Sec. Miss Gladys Gardner; Treas., Mr. Ira Thurman; Pianist, Miss Ruth Johnson.

Beginners Dept.—Mrs. J. R. Hughes, Supt.; Teachers, Mrs. R. B. Zinn, Mrs. J. D. Patterson; Mrs. T. M. Burrows; Organist, Louise Shive.

Primary Dept.—Miss Ida White, Mrs. C. W. Davis, Miss Esther Schull, Miss Martha Deats.

Junior Dept.—Mrs. W. A. Miller, Mrs. J. B. Neel, Mrs. J. V. Davis, Miss Annie Ward, Mrs. Leslie Thomas.

Intermediate Dept.—Miss Lillie Sue Settles, Miss Nell Hatch, (Miss Stricklin, substitute); Mrs. Bernice Crocker, et.

Senior Dept.—Mrs. V. H. Flewelling, Mrs. Ben Hardy.

Adult Bible School—Mrs. Chas. Morris, Mrs. C. E. Talbot, Mr. L. T. Deats. Of the 29 named above, only one was absent Sunday; and that with excellent excuse. It is because of the faithful, loving, efficient service of these that our great Sunday school is made possible.

At the morning service Bro. Hardy preached a splendid sermon on what Drummond calls "The greatest thing in the world." In choice, glowing phrases he followed his text from 1st Cor. 13-1, Paul's eulogy on Love. The night sermon was a continuation, using the latter part of the same chapter as text.

The W. M. A. Auxiliary met in a social service session Monday afternoon Mrs. Hardy, with her large committee of social service workers, is accomplishing a wonderful work in our community Monday at 3 the circle meets with Mrs. H. W. Leeper. Let every Methodist woman try to come.

City Federation Notes

The City Federation, that year after year lends its best efforts to make Big Spring a cleaner, more sanitary center in which to live, has again asked of the city to lend a helping hand in the matter of waste disposal and has been refused any aid in the matter, so we call on all good citizens to join heartily together, and let us make October our clean-up month.

Rake and burn all the dry weeds, papers and rubbish that have accumulated thru the summer. Have all the cans and unsightly junk raked and removed before the first of November. Many men are out of employment and would be glad to do yard work. On Saturday numbers of boys seek extra money. Let them help in this vital work.

We earnestly urge the teachers to keep before the children the coming week the matter of sanitation and home hygiene. Let each family clean and beautify the home and its environment.

We make this suggestion to all men who can do hauling: Go thru the alleys and ask to remove the collected refuse. Some people never know how to get hold of men who haul. It will be profitable to both parties.

We ask the business houses to join us in our clean-up campaign. Let all get busy at the same time, and our town will receive an incalculable benefit from our labors. Everybody "clean-up."

Washington, D. C., Oct. 18.—Automobiles sold on time, for which purchasers have given notes, become, in bankruptcy proceedings, assets of the purchaser and money derived from the sale of such machines may be used by the trustee of the bankrupt for the benefit of his creditors. This is the effect of the refusal of the supreme court yesterday to review a case in which the Grinnel Overland company sought to recover an automobile sold Thomas I. Mintie, an Iowa farmer. Mintie gave his note, but failed to complete payment.

According to U. S. census report received this week we note that there had been gained in Howard County prior to September 25, 1921 two thousand and one hundred and ten bales of cotton as compared with two hundred bales for the same period in 1921. The continued dry weather this season caused cotton to mature much earlier than usual.

Grandchildren of the Confederate veterans, throughout the South, have it put pleasantly up to them by the newspapers to pay the expense of one old veteran at the forthcoming Confederate reunion at Chattanooga by contributing $50 for the purpose. That will send a veteran to the gathering and keep him there. The veterans' grandchildren could not do a better thing. Strange as it may appear to the average northern mind, not all the Confederate soldiers were "brigadiers." As a matter of fact, the rank and file of the southern army was very far from the condition of the "pampered" plantation owner, living in patriarchal ease and sipping sherry-cobblers. The average southern soldier was poorer than the average northern soldier. He made a heavier sacrifice when he went into the army. Not only did he leave his poor home to possible ravage, but his pay was extremely precarious and often nothing at all. He tramped, he fought, and he starved, until he was as lean as a rail. If he were a cavalryman, he very likely rode his own horse to the field of battle. And when all was over, he had to begin a life of toll at the very bottom of the economic ladder. Confederate officers who were in good circumstances were in thousands of cases financially ruined by the war, and had to gain their living in poorly paid occupations. Some of them never emerged from circumstances of penury. There was no national government to pension them or appoint them to the office and their states could not take care of all of them. As often as their reunions occur, many proud men who would like to attend them are absent, because they cannot afford the expense of the trip. Therefore their grandchildren do well to provide them with the means of attendance upon such a reunion as that which is to take place at Chattanooga. And inasmuch as their reunions keep alive no animosities, and as at such a place as Chattanooga they are likely to meet and fraternize with many Union soldiers, to the oblivion of enmities and for the warming of hearts, there would be no unfitness at all if some of the grandchildren of Union veterans helped the Confederates out a little in their celebration.—Boston Transcript.

Benton Harbor, Mich., a city of 16,000 population, is to be governed by the Ten Commandments, which are to be applied by a one-time editor and publisher, a fellow by the name of Klock. This departure will be watched with no little interest. The mayor is undismayed by the criticisms received and says: "I can not see anything revolutionary in the statement that a city is to be governed by the commandments." Mayor Klock said. "Every one of the 'shall nots' of the Mosaic tablets are written as the foundation of the law of every civilized land. The law given on the mountain of Sinai applies with equal force to Moses and the humblest person who wandered in the wilderness. It is hard to convict a man with a 'pull' and what I mean by operating a city on the basis of Ten Commandments is to enforce the law impartially."—Terrell Transcript.

Statement of the Ownership, Management, Circulation, Etc., Required by the Act of Congress of August 24, 1912.

Of Big Spring Herald published weekly at Big Spring, Texas, for October 1, 1921.

State of Texas, County of Howard, ss Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared W. G. Hayden, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the editor of the Big Springs Herald, and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

Publisher: Jordan and Hayden, Big Spring, Texas.

Editor: W. G. Hayden, Big Spring, Texas.

Managing Editor, T. E. Jordan, Big Spring, Texas.

2. That the owners are: W. G. Hayden, Big Spring, Texas, and T. E. Jordan, Big Spring, Texas.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages or other securities are: Mergenthaler Linotype Co., New York, N. Y.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company, but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as a trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of such trustee is given; and also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and that this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest or direct interest in the said stock, bonds or other securities than as so stated by him.

Hot From The Can

The other day we met a man in a town not a million miles west of Fort Worth who said that he never advertised. He looked it.

We saw a notice the other day about a certain highway in Texas. The notice was to the effect that the highway was so situated that it would prove a good route for tourists if it was properly ADVERTISED, LOGGED AND MARKED. Well, what's the matter with advertising it? The marking is an easy matter. Paint doesn't cost so terribly much. As for logging it, that's an easy matter. Get a car with a good speedometer and travel it. Don't say that it would be good if so-and-so was done! Do it and quit saying it ought to be done.—The Can Opener.

The Tires With the Wider and Thicker Tread

Nobody Questions This

Every experienced motorist knows that it's the tread of his tire that tells the story.

When the rubber tread wears out there is not more than a few hundred miles left in the tire.

Perfectly obvious, isn't it, that a wider and thicker rubber tread will wear longer?

That's why the Gates Super-Tread Tire is making friends so fast—it has a lot more miles in it.

Stop Running to Washington

Stop running to Washington. It has become too much of a habit and smacks of a desire for paternalism. The government has duties to perform for the people, but these do not include details that should be attended to at home. We must learn to stand squarely on our own feet with the confidence we once had and not turn to Washington as a leaning post every time we get tired, or for relief when a crop fails or a flood leaves the river channel.

Before the war it was not unusual to send delegations to Washington to seek passage of certain measures calculated to give local benefits or to maintain so-called lobbyists there to obtain enactment of laws that might hurt certain interests, just as is being done today, but the people had not learned to run to Washington every time they wanted to borrow a dollar or two, or when misfortune befell or when they wanted help to repair broken fences or build new ones.

The habit of running to Washington was formed largely during the war, about the time aspirants for public office stopped going to make their personal appeals. When the director of all the railroads had his headquarters in Washington, when army camps throughout the country were directed from Washington, when aviation and gunnery courses were merged with college courses, when liberty bond campaigns were started in Washington, when the Federal Bank system was established in Washington and when clerks and stenographers from every section of the land flocked to Washington to enter government employ the habit of carrying all troubles to Washington got under way. It got such a good start that the running to Washington has been kept up ever since. It is time to stop it.

It is remarkable, once the habit is formed how often it seems necessary to run to Washington. It is a bad habit to acquire, bad for the individual, bad for the community, bad for the federal government. It lessens the ability of the people to think and to act for themselves. It takes away their independence, makes them unwilling to assume responsibilities and strengthens the paternalistic feeling of government officials. Government paternalism is bad for the people. The government is theirs and not their master. It was organized by them for a definite purpose and that did not include making it a leaning post.

The people are strong for states' rights—in moderation. They do not run to Washington to ask for states' rights. The same principle must be applied in other matters. They are able to act for themselves; they must learn again to do so and get back their independence; they must be the support of the government and not a constant drain upon it.—Fort Worth Record.

An engineer who recently made an inspection of Moss Springs draw made the statement that if a dam was put in below the springs enough water to supply a city of 100,000 persons could be impounded. An immense lake could be secured by constructing a dam of less than 300 feet long and sixty feet high.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried everything I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since... I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. 25c

Union Heads Oppose Plan

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 17.—While heads of the big five brotherhoods and of the switchmen's union prepared to meet in Cleveland tomorrow to complete plans for the rail strike which they have called for October 30, union chiefs said today that leaders of some of the 11 other railroad labor organizations still were opposing a walkout and would attempt to keep their men from striking. The big five includes only 400,000 of the 2,000,000 railroad employees.

Whether the opposition of these leaders will result in a break between the two groups, which seldom have cooperated wholeheartedly on any question, will not be fully settled until the meeting of the general chairman of the 11 unions here sometime this week when issuance of a formal strike call will be voted on formally.

Several railroad labor chieftains today said, however, that they believed the majority would rule that it would be a case of "majority strike, all strike." They professed to see little chance of a break.

The San Diego and Arizona railroad was added to the first of the four groups into which the unions have divided roads for strike purposes and it was decided to order the three succeeding groups out at 48-hour intervals instead of 24.

Under this plan, with the men on the roads on group number one walking out October 30, the strike would be in full effect November 5.

The Louisville and Nashville railroad also was dropped from the first group, according to the plan given out ### by union leaders.

These changes were said by leaders to complete rearranging railroads to the first group of walkouts would take place and lowering was made known as the list of carriers in that group: Kansas City Southern, Missouri Pacific, St. Louis Southwestern (Belt), International and Great Northern, Texas and Pacific, Southern Railway (Atlantic system, including East and West); Texas Central, (Texas Central); Southern Railway (Pacific system); San Diego and Arizona, Chicago and North Western, Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul, Chicago, Terre Haute and Eastern, Northern Pacific, Chicago and North Western, Chicago, Rock Island and St. Louis, Southern Railway (East and West); Seaboard Airline Railway.

Do you feel old before your time? Is your back bent and stiff? Do you suffer urinary disorders? Don't despair—profit by Big Spring's Big Spring people recommend Kidney Pills. Here's a Big resident's statement.

Mrs. F. G. Sholte, 401 Pine St. "I had pains in the small of my back that were awful. It was as if a toothache and when I bent my back hurt so I could hardly stand up. I became so nervous the thing would irritate me and bothered with dizzy spots before my eyes blurred too. I couldn't get much rest. I would get up mornings feeling faint and without enough energy to do anything. I started using Dr. King's Kidney Pills and the trouble soon left me. Before long I was cured and I have had no kidney complaint since."

Quite often you hear the groans of paving Main street and other streets in the business section of discussion but The Herald is not to advocate paving until Big Spring stalls a sewer system and other far more essential than paving.

Auxiliary Notes
 Monday in October marked the beginning of the Mission Study class, with the subject, "The Promise of a Most Interesting Series of Studies."
 Monday was program day. Mrs. Barrick and Mrs. Strain were in charge. All the numbers were to the point, and the prayer and spiritual. The article on El Paso Presbytery was given by Mrs. Barnett. In the singing of Whittier's poem "The Prairie" to one of the hymns, led by Mrs. Ryan, was most appropriate to the day.
 Monday was Circle day. Good attendance is reported in the three circles. The ladies enjoyed with needles and thimbles, enjoying the social features together at one home.
 In approaching for the annex for the Home and orphanage at Files Valley, so many have plenty to do. This has been a feature of the many years, and this little home gives real pleasure to the members in the true spirit.
 Monday, the fourth Monday, the monthly business meeting of the circles are urged to be at the church at 4 o'clock so that the business may be completed.
 Monday in the church is planned to have a special Sabbath School Extension People's work. Mrs. Tamm of that department, in her announcement will be the first.

Book Club Notes
 The Thursday Book Club met with Mrs. Kelly Hogg last week and a delightful afternoon was in order. In the series of interesting games of Rook Mrs. R. S. Duvall had the honor of making visitor's high score and Mrs. C. A. Talbot made club high score.
 Delicious refreshments added much to the pleasures of the occasion.

A collision between a small boy on a bicycle and a jitney took place on Main street, Monday afternoon, but fortunately the little fellow escaped with a few scratches. Just such near accidents as this one should be a warning to every person who drives an automobile to use every precaution to avoid accidents. It is not only essential that you obey all the rules of the road, but you should consider it your duty to avoid injuring folks who may be using bad judgment. You don't want to kill or cripple anyone even though you may be "in the clear."

In conversation with J. T. Parrish this week he informed the Herald man that he was making every preparation to have a big swimming pool erected at Parrish Grove just east of the city limits of Big Spring. Work will be started in the spring and the swimming pool will be completed before the warm weather sets in.

Our good friend T. F. Nabors presented the Herald crew with a dandy watermelon Saturday. Folks in the north and east have a hard time believing that we are enjoying delicious watermelons this late in the fall, but we are.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Shealer and two children returned Tuesday from Dallas where they had been to have their daughter's Louise, eyes treated by a specialist.

J. B. Merrick this week purchased of Cliff Hudson a one hundred acre farm northeast of Big Spring.

Joe F. Flock arrived Wednesday morning from Baird where he has been the past ten days on the Baird-Sweetwater passenger run.

Jno. C. Wells of San Angelo was a business visitor here last Saturday.

C. D. Read left Wednesday evening for a business trip to Fort Worth.

Conserve Nation's Fuel
 The Editor:
 Thru your Conservator, let us conserve the nation's fuel supply, give the people comfort, improve their health and reduce their fuel bills.

In the first place, all buildings, public and private are kept too warm for real comfort, health and safety. Such places should be at least ten degrees lower for all benefits mentioned. It stands to reason that one accustomed to such heat has to breathe dead air and the sudden change from in-doors to out-doors is too sudden and severe, for health, comfort and safety.

Having taken out some patents on ventilation, I learned something of the air currents, pressure and movements. It is a common complaint among people having big fuel bills and then not sufficient comfort. We will take for our illustration, a private five-room house or terrace. The furnaces are not installed right to begin with. They are in the rear making the air travel a long distance and the pipes are too numerous and laid almost on a level. The tendency of hot air to go upwards and not on a level.

Furnaces should be near the middle of the house, and for five rooms there should be three pipes, with one running straight up; and the furnaces should be set lower so as to give the pipes an upward slope. Under existing conditions, the draft under doors and thru cracks around windows make for the mouth of the warm feeder pipes and drive the hot air back unless the furnace is almost up to white heat.

So I advise that, when installing furnaces to take these advantages. The great difficulty and an almost universal cry is, we can't get heat to the bath room, the front rooms and the upper ones.

We have the remedy, and it is so cheap and easy of operation, that people will be like Naaman when told to dip himself in the River Jordan to be healed; he hesitated. He was at least assured of a bath.

For old style furnaces, place at the mouth of your feeder pipe of cold air, a light fan and force plenty of air into the heating box of your furnace and out into all parts of the house. The cost for operating will not be over two cents a day, if anything. Sit down and be comfortable, watch your fuel bills go down and thank this paper for its Good Samaritan-ship for bringing you the good news. Will other papers please copy.

Yours for Hot Air,
 J. S.

Shopmen Will Bear Brunt of Strike.
 Chicago, Ill., Oct. 17.—Railroad executives are prepared to play their "ace" against the railroad shop organization preparing to strike.

The campaign was outlined here Monday at a conference of Western executives attended by the heads of several great systems.

If the 476,000 employees belonging to the thirteen great unions in federated shop crafts—the American Federation of Labor Railway Department—go on strike the executives will close every railroad shop in the country except those absolutely essential for repair and not open them again until either a system of private management is evolved or a definite "open shop" policy is adopted.

The line of action was thoroughly discussed, it was learned from one executive who attended the meeting.

Among those at the conference were Samuel Felton, president of the Chicago & Great Western; W. B. Storey, president of the Santa Fe; James E. Gorman, president of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific; Hale Holden, president of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central, and representatives of many other Western and Eastern lines.

The plan outlined is as follows:
 1. If the general strike is called the campaign will be directed against the shop crafts and not the brotherhoods.

who now have the center of the stage.
 2. The brotherhoods can not win the strike without the support of the thirteen shop craft unions, while the shop crafts have yet to receive assurance of the brotherhoods that the strike would be continued in case they won their wage contention, while the shopmen might still be fighting.

3. If the shop crafts walk out with the brotherhoods all railroad shops would be closed except those absolutely essential for repairs and not opened until manned by unaffiliated boiler-makers, sheet metal workers, electricians, locomotive repairmen and helpers and all other shop trades.

4. The shopmen, if they strike, will be in violation of the orders of the Railroad Labor Board and the carrier would refuse to settle on the basis of old working rules and wages.

5. To prevent further domination of working conditions in shops a general system of running railroad shops similar to that of the Erie Railroad at Marion, Ohio, would be evolved.

It was reported late Monday that the executives had informed President B. M. Jewell of the federated shop crafts that such plans were under consideration.

Jewell was silent on the question.

He frankly admitted, however, that the shop crafts are more anxious to strike on the working rules question than on the wage question. Abrogation of working rules by the Railroad Board have cost the shopmen more millions than the 12 per cent wage cut of last July.—Dallas News.

1 Cor. 12:27-31. Now ask ye the body of Christ and members in particular.

Our Savior founded a church to carry on His work in this world and assured His apostles that the gates of Hell would not be able to prevail against it. The question then that naturally comes to each one of us is this: "What kind of member of the church am I?" Each member of a church has some work that must be done, some responsibility that must be met; no one else can do our work or meet our individual responsibility. How are we doing it? The church of God is stronger or weaker insofar as you or I are faithful to our personal obligations. If the Lord suffers the whole body suffers; if one member of the church fails the whole body of the church is weakened. Christ founded His church, ordained His sacraments, and has never issued any orders to the contrary. How far are we loyal to our Lord and His church.
 Rev. F. B. Etson, Rector.

Confirmation at Richland School.

Have you ever attended a Lutheran confirmation service? There will be such a service at the Richland School Sunday, October 23rd, 2:30 p. m. What is confirmation? Briefly stated, confirmation is the process whereby Christian children are, by means of Christian instruction, made firm in the faith, implanted in their hearts by baptism, till finally, on making a public profession of their faith, they are, by a solemn act of the church, pronounced qualified to receive Holy Communion. Four young people will make such a voluntary, public confession next Sunday. Come and be benefited by their profession.

Homemakers Meeting

On Thursday the 13th Homemakers class of the First Baptist Church held their monthly social and business meeting in the home of Mrs. P. C. Bowles, with Mesdames Bowles and Bly as hostesses.

The meeting was called to order by the president and opened with the class song by the class, after which Mrs. Bass led in prayer.

The reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report were next in order. Our Pres. Mrs. Saeve Ford, took this opportunity to resign, as she has accepted the position of Supt. of the Beginners Dept. in the S. S. It was with great regret that her resignation was accepted, as she has made us a very efficient president and leader in every move for the betterment of the class.

We then elected our new president, Mrs. J. T. Reid, and we feel sure that she is going to be a very able successor to Mrs. Ford.

Our first vice president, Mrs. Jno. Baggett requested Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Bowles to assist in looking up the absentees every Sunday.

Our teacher had previously requested the members to visit or telephone quite a number of prospective members and the reports were favorable for the enrollment of several.

A short oral examination on the life of Paul was held. We have been studying the life of Paul for sometime and this was the occasion for Mrs. Reagan to learn how much or little we had gotten from our lessons.

After the business, the hostesses served delicious refreshments, at which time we visited with each other for an enjoyable hour.

We closed the meeting by registering in the guest book, and each left after expressing her appreciation for a very enjoyable afternoon.

A charming daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Shive, Tuesday, Oct. 19th. Mother and babe are doing nicely and it is thought the proud father will soon be able to keep his feet on the ground.

W. S. Clough left Wednesday for a business trip to Dallas.

Y. M. C. A. Membership Campaign

A campaign to secure new members for the Young Men's Christian Association and to have all memberships become due on the same date each year will be conducted from Oct. 24 to 31. The International committee has named October 31st as annual membership day and hereafter all memberships will be dated to October 31st of each year.

In addition to seeking new members the directors of the local Y. M. C. A. request that all members whose membership is paid to April 30, 1922 to pay $2.50 to have their membership extended to Oct. 31, 1922. This is urged so that all memberships will be due on the annual membership day set by the International committee. The cooperation of the membership is very much desired in this move.

You need not be reminded of the worth of the Y. M. C. A. to our community so let us all join in and round up a big bunch of new members next week; and also extend our memberships to Oct. 31, 1922.

Insist on your friends taking out a membership for our "Y" is a credit to our community and it deserves our wholehearted support.

Brother of B. J. Lindner Dead

B. J. Lindner on Wednesday received the sad intelligence of the death of his brother, Fred Lindner, which occurred at Los Angeles, California. His death was due to cancer of the liver.

Fred Lindner was a resident of Big Spring for many years, holding a position as railway conductor for the Texas & Pacific Ry. He left here some eighteen years ago to take charge of a factory in Wisconsin and made his home there until his health failed. His death is deeply deplored by the many old friends here who greatly esteemed him.

We join friends here in extending to B. J. Lindner and other relatives our heartfelt sympathy in their time of deep sorrow.

Don't Miss This

The Good Cheer Club invites you to spend the evening with The Carey sisters, "Alice and Phoebe," at the Christian Church, Wednesday, October 26th, from 7:30 to 9:30.

A nice program will be rendered, and games that will interest both young and old will be played. A host of pretty girls will be present to see that you have a pleasant time.

Dainty refreshments will be served. We are expecting you.

Price of admission: Adults, A Great Big Smile; Children The Same.

Rook Club

Mrs. J. N. Blue delightfully entertained the members of the Rook Club Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. L. E. Thomas made visitors high score while Mrs. J. R. Copeland and Mrs. H. W. Leeper tied for club high score; Mrs. Copeland winning in the end.

Delicious refreshments were enjoyed.

Marketing Cotton Slowly

Owing to the slump in the price of cotton, the Howard County Farm Labor Union has been selling only small lots of cotton, the past week. About 238 bales of cotton have been disposed of in lots of 100 bales and less.

The Union has some one thousand or twelve hundred bales to market when the price advances.

Football Results at Empire

Call at the Empire Confectionery this evening and learn the outcome of the Big Spring-Lubbock football game, which is to be staged this afternoon.

The score will be secured immediately after the game and posted at the Empire. Bring your friends.

Miss Mary Redwood, of Chicago, a representative of the Gossard factory, and a trained corsetier, was here Wednesday to demonstrate the merits of the justly celebrated Gossard corsets. She conducted a demonstration at the store of J. & W. Fisher and many ladies of the Big Spring section were present.

Horace L. Boykin of El Paso, enroute on a business trip to Fort Worth, Dallas and San Antonio was greeting old friends between trains here Tuesday. Mr. Boykin was in one of the Pullmans of the T. & P. train No. 2 that turned over near Van Horn Monday night but escaped injury.

J. C. Newcomb of St. Louis will arrive tonight to attend the funeral of John W. Pike. Mr. Newcomb is the father of Mrs. Pike. Mr. and Mrs. John Hapgood of Ranger are also here. Mrs. Hapgood is a sister of Mrs. Pike.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Matthews returned Thursday from a visit with their son, Wilbur, who is a student in the State University, at Austin.

Mrs. Jane Crawford after a visit with friends and relatives here and at Toyah left Monday evening for her home at Fort Worth.

Rev. J. W. Harrison left Thursday evening for Fort W district meeting of the American Red Cross.

The Stokes Motor Company received a carload of the old reliable Ford cars, Thursday.

Mrs. W. C. Bird and Mrs. Joe Stokes left Thursday for a visit to the Dallas Fair.

Yuell Robb left Thursday evening for a business trip to Dallas.

J. E. Litter has been on the sick list this week.

Mrs. F. F. Gary Entertains

One of the loveliest courtesies of the week, given in honor of the teachers in the Junior Dept., of the First Baptist church, was an elegant six-course luncheon given Wednesday at 1 p. m. by Mrs. F. F. Gary, the efficient superintendent of this department, at her beautiful home on Runnels St. Mrs. Gary, who is always a gracious hostess, was never more hospitable than on this occasion.

The guests were ushered into the dining room, taking their places around the elegant appointed table, the lovely setting of which was enhanced by a perfect center piece of roses in shades of pink and white. Mrs. Gary presided in her usual charming way, assisted by her attractive daughter, Mrs. F. H. Etheridge. In every respect the perfection of details left nothing to be desired.

At the conclusion of the luncheon the guests assembled in the spacious living room, where important business matters pertaining to the work of the Junior department were brought before the teachers. The main object was the division of the children, from nine to twelve years of age whose names were obtained from the recent census report into the proper classes, in order that the teachers might get in touch with them immediately.

After an afternoon delightfully spent the guests reluctantly bid adieu to the hostesses.

Those who had the pleasure of attending were: Mesdames C. P. Bass, Nat Shick, C. S. Holmes, Wm. Menger, J. Andrews, W. C. Henley, and Misses Velma Wasson and Doris Menger.

A big one thousand dollar re-boring machine is being installed at the Tourist Garage by W. D. McDonald. This machine will re-bore all makes and sizes of automobile and gasoline engine cylinders. Drop in and see it—it is one of the kind that is being used in the big automobile factories.—Advertisement.

The Big Spring High School Football team certainly has made a good record this season, defeating four good teams and never having been scored against. They will be pitted against the Lubbock team at Lubbock today and we are expecting them to defeat the Lubbock team.

Quite a caravan of automobiles headed toward Lubbock this morning conveying the members of the Big Spring High School football team, and a few loyal "rooters" who wish to see them defeat the Lubbock crew. Some eight or ten automobiles were in line.

Mrs. Geo. G. Knight left Thursday evening for Marshall, Texas, to visit Mr. Knight who is under treatment at the T. & P. hospital.

Keep The Egg Basket Full!

The feed elements that make whites of eggs are entirely different from those that make yolks. When hens aren't fed both the white and yolk making elements, they can't keep the egg basket full. The usual method of feeding mostly grain makes yolks but not enough whites to complete the eggs.

Missouri Experiment Station tests prove that 100 lbs. of wheat, corn, oats, barley and kafir corn make (above bodily maintenance) an average of 224 yolks to 154 whites. Based on data from the same experiments, Purina formulas produce, (above bodily maintenance) as follows:

|                        | Yolks  | Whites |
|------------------------|--------|--------|
| Purina Hen Chow        | 247.49 | 142.11 |
| Purina Chicken Chowder | 182.05 | 282.55 |
| Combined Ration        | 429.54 | 424.66 |

These Purina chows not only make a practically equal number of whites and yolks but more of both than ordinary chows.

Note that Purina Chicken Chowder contains the necessary white-forming elements to balance up the yolk-making grain ration. That's why it makes hens lay so heavily. Instead of the yolks being absorbed by the hen's system, Purina Chicken Chowder makes the whites to complete the eggs and they are laid. Thus we can absolutely guarantee more eggs or money back on Purina Chicken Chowder if fed with Purina Hen Chow as directed. You take no risk.

An Age of Thrills

Consider that two newspapers are before you. The headings to the news articles on the first page of one paper are modest. A sensational "scare head" in big type stretches across the first page of the other page. Which one will you read first? Nine people out of ten will make a dive for the sensational sheet, because there is a chance for a thrill. They may question the accuracy of its statements, but they will read it. That is a condition which faces the newspaper field today—a condition which the country press is combating daily at a financial sacrifice. This is an age of thrills, and the public demands to be properly thrilled, especially in the large centers of population. If the editor does not come across with his thrills, the people do not come across with their money. Take the Fatty Arbuckle case. The legitimate news element in that unsavory mess could have been contained in a column article. Instead, the daily press devoted page after page to it, dwelling at length upon every little insignificant incident. Nothing was omitted. It was indecent, therefore it was thrilling and in demand. A rich man and his wife returned from Europe. They were estranged. Immediately the fact was spread over the first page of their home papers, and columns were devoted to a vulgar display of their unhappiness. Why? Not because the editor glories in that sort of thing especially. He knows it is the kind of stuff the people of his city want. It is the stuff that sells his papers. It is nauseating, debasing, therefore thrilling and in demand. The poor devil of a city editor is not entirely to blame for this. He depends upon his salary to feed his family, and his salary is forthcoming only as long as he makes good on his job. If he doesn't kick in with the stuff he is kicked out into the street. The local paper does not resort to such practices. It would not be tolerated in a small community such as ours, especially if it referred to our own people. Then, too, our local people, or many of them, may read the thrillers concerning other people in other communities, but they are not properly educated down to the point of dragging their own relatives and friends through the mire of sensational publicity. It is an age of thrills, but our own must be exempt.—Lamesa Journal.

The Plow in the South Plains Country

It was only yesterday that the many-million-acre empire which is Northwest Texas was considered the fit inhabitant of prairie dogs, cow punchers and grazing cattle. Today that section is recognized as a granary of the great Southwest, and gives promise of becoming in another decade or so the most important and most productive agricultural region of Texas. As proof of it, a late report on county agricultural statistics by the Bureau of the Census reveals a marked increase in farming acreage and farming operations in the Panhandle and Plains counties. While the report as yet is partial, covering only a few of the many counties in that section, it may be considered a fair indication of what has happened on the upper Plains in the last ten years. It shows that the number of farms in Lubbock County has increased by 385 per cent; in Crosby County by 234 per cent; in Floyd County by 41 per cent. King County alone showing a decrease. The partial record is significant in view of the fact reports on the older farming counties of Texas have revealed, on the whole, a falling off, rather than a gain in acreage and operations. Add to this story of progress another story of local origin. It is reported that the Plains region will far outnumber all other sections of Texas with county exhibits in the Agricultural Building at the State Fair this year. Sixteen of the Northwestern counties are already entered as exhibitors. And it is worthy of remark that these Northwestern counties have been making themselves notable, numerically and otherwise, with county exhibits at the fair within recent years. All of this means that the plow is revolutionizing, enriching and developing a vast section of Texas that is capable of affording ample room and ample sustenance for a population a thousand times greater than it can claim at present. It means that what may be termed the pioneer producers of the Plains are awake, and alert and are bent upon impressing the outer, and until recently incredulous world of the productive possibilities of their great country. The Journal joins the state fair in helping them along. The Plains country may not come fully into its own for a quarter of a century. But it is moving toward its high destiny now, moving steadily, persistently and surely. And the plow, the modern plow, will be its implement of fulfillment.—Dallas Journal.

A Great Highway

Midland, Martin, Ector and Howard Counties, to the west of Abilene along the Texas & Pacific railroad and the Bankhead National Highway, have let a joint contract for the construction of a hard-surfaced road across the four counties, completing their link of the Bankhead road. This stretch of road is about 100 miles long and it will require one year and six months and an expenditure of one million dollars to complete it. Taylor and Mitchell Counties have their links of the great highway about completed, and when Midland, Martin, Ector and Howard come in, a splendid stretch of first class road will be opened to traffic. This means much to Abilene and other towns along the route. The Bankhead road, from Washington to San Diego, is destined to be one of the greatest in the country, greater even than the Lincoln Highway. The Bankhead road will be an all-the-year route, free from snow practically all winter long and open to traffic at all seasons. It will be the most direct route from the effete East to the effulgent West. Towns and cities along the route will profit, materially and spiritually. Thousands of tourists will travel the great highway every year, winter and summer. There will be keen competition among the towns to see which will extend the most courtesies to the wayfarers. Some of them already have established free camp grounds, with all conveniences. Abilene will do this, too, in the sweet bye-and-bye. Our somnolent citizens will wake up and put in that free camp ground, however unlikely it may seem at this writing.—Abilene Reporter.

It's The Spirit Of The West

The spirit of West Texas is alive. Drouths, financial depression, poor markets and the like halt West Texas and the Panhandle, but these sections came back with the resistance of a rubber ball. It is the indomitable spirit of the West that at once commands the admiration of the rest of the country, and forges these sections ahead. The news of the day as it comes from these sections tells its own story of progress and prosperity. The South Plains Fair at Lubbock was so successful the management extended it another day. More than 500 persons from Plainview attended the fair in automobiles to return Lubbock's visit to the Plainview fair, recently held. Delegates from counties along the proposed Puget Sound to Gulf Highway met in Lubbock, to select the route of the highway and discuss the plans for the building of the road. Callahan County asks for State aid for thirty-five of its schools so that each may have a seven-months term. Hood County holds a successful two-day fair at Grandbury; Gaines County's fair at Seagraves is likewise successful. Jacksboro votes bonds for a sewerage system and waterworks, and Tulla is voting on the same propositions. And so it goes. Every day the news dispatches tell similar stories from different counties. Progress is abroad in the vast region to the west and Northwest of Fort Worth and the towns in that section are growing and developing under conditions that would seem less courageous and resourceful to hesitate.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

They Are Not Dead

(By William M. Conselman)

Slowly the solemn ranks moved down the street, and slowly rang the tread of marching feet. In hushed and reverent tones, a woman said: "They're coming! See Pomona's hero dead!" "Glenn Baird, Bob Valdez, and a sailor lad." "Named Tommy Whiteside. Everything they had." "They gave to serve their country. Now today." "We are to honor them as best we may." "But they are dead! Nothing that we could give." "Can bring them back again, and make them live!" Ah, no! They are not dead, nor can they die. While Freedom's torch is lifted to the sky. When men pay homage to their fallen brave. They honor, not the clay within the grave. But something greater, splendid as the sun; The spirits of these boys whose work is done. On History's page, written there in gold The story of their sacrifice is told. The hearts of those who love them will keep green Their memories, until that final scene When king and beggar, one and all, must meet. To face their Maker at the Judgment Seat.

BIG SPRING HERALD

BY JORDAN & HAYDEN
$2.00 A YEAR IN HOWARD COUNTY
$2.50 A YEAR OUTSIDE OF COUNTY

Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice, Big Spring, Texas, under Act of Congress, March 8th, 1897.

Big Spring, Friday, October 21, 1921

Where do we get all this noise about times being so bad? Times are not bad—in fact they are pretty good when you think of it in a normal way. Business is bad only when measured by the abnormal standards which existed during the war-time boom, but not according to any standard which existed prior to 1915. Business has seemed worse than it actually has been because of the contrast, the comparison with war time reckless extravagance. The trouble with most of us is that we are not built for retrenchment. There are said to be five millions out of employment, and probably the number is correct, nevertheless we don't hear of bread lines, soup houses and poor farms doing any extra business. The National Cash Register company reports record sales of its output. How comes that more cash registers are being made than ever before if there is so little cash? The Ford, Studebaker, and Buick factories are turning out more cars than ever before in their history. They must see a good chance of selling their cars or they wouldn't be making them so fast. And if the people are buying automobiles by the thousands they must not be so very hard up. The fact is, times are fairly good.—Pampa Weekly News.

It is lucky for the Republican congress that the congressional elections will not take place until a year from November. Otherwise the Republican control of the lower house might not weather the storm of present dissatisfaction. The party in power will have a hard job a year hence retaining control of the house of representatives; its ability to do so will depend in large degree upon what the Republicans accomplish in the year ahead. The list of accomplishments will have to be large in order to redeem the Republican house in the eyes of the voters who put it into power at the last election. Unless the work of the Republican congress shows great improvement in every direction the Democrats can make a strong argument for getting control of the house next year by pointing to the fact that the President has not been able to obtain the co-operation of the Republican house and that a Democratic house should therefore be given a trial. If the Republican congressmen do not realize this fact they will be made to realize it at the polls a year hence, when many of them will be retired to private life. It will be an excellent thing for the Republican party and for the country if the Republican majority in the next house can be reduced to one-third of its present strength at the next election.—Boston Transcript.

When Mr. Taft was President he was asked while making a speech in New York, "what a man with a family who cannot get a job do?" We remember that the opposition political party made, or tried to make, great capital out of Mr. Taft's answer. It was, "God knows, I don't." But really was not the answer an honest one? Possibly just as honest as when President Harding is confronted with the non-employment problem today and makes a pretty speech about the nobility of labor and passes the buck to Mr. Hoover and the other conferees. Nothing can bring true prosperity to this country but economy and the only way the general government can help is by starting the thing with a general paring of expenses. We heard much during the campaign about extravagance and waste. And every word of it was true, but it is costing the country one hundred and three millions more this year to run the United States government than it did in 1919 when the campaign was on. Everything has declined in price except government expenses. They mount higher and higher every year.—Marshall News.

"Home Town Paper Week," Nov. 7-12

Take the Heart Out

A circular letter from some railroad headquarters came to the Avalanche office this week with the request to publish as "a matter of news," giving the railroad side of the freight raising controversy. It is a nice, tender appeal for sympathy and we really shed tears when we read it and almost wished some representative of the company would come in that we might donate a few dollars to help the poor suffering railroads in their distress. "Sawful the way the public persists in misunderstanding the freight departments of the railroads!" As we continued to read the pitiful appeal, and thought how in the past we had grumbled over the freight rates we paid on paper from San Antonio or El Paso, we felt that we had contributed to the sorrow of the poor, money-losing railroads and resolved—that is just about resolved—that never more would we complain. Just then—

The telephone bell tingled and at the other end was the freight agent. A small shipment of paper was at the depot from El Paso; would we send for it? "Twas only a thousand pounds; the freight was ONLY $14.13! Would the railroad take the consignment for the bill? It would not. It might take it as "PART PAYMENT." Then—

We shed more tears, but they were not tears of sympathy for the poor railroads and into the gaping maw of the waste basket went the "appeal," and for a time the smell of brimstone was noticeable in the front office and the doors had to be opened to get fresh air. Our sympathy had turned to sour milk.—Alpine Avalanche.

Rockefeller's Secret

Edith, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, richest man in the world, gets into the headlines by "agreeing to disagree" with her husband, Harold F. McCormick. They separate.

The most interesting angle of the case is the statement that Mrs. McCormick has been abroad for eight years, studying the new psychology. This again demonstrates that families "run true to form," generation after generation.

For investigating is the chief characteristic of the prominent members of the Rockefeller family.

John D. Rockefeller, when he was a young man, was a clerk and bookkeeper in Cleveland. Probably he still would be holding that same job, had it not been for his investigating turn of mind.

His investigations convinced him that the petroleum industry, then in its infancy, would be in need of many pipelines and refineries.

John D.'s investigations also convinced him that he could not build the pipe lines and refineries unaided. To get results fast, he gathered about him the ablest business talent of his generation—such as Flagler, Rogers, Archbold, Harkness and "Pipe Line" Dan O'Day. Those men built the Rockefeller fortune.

Now John D. has his Rockefeller foundation, investigating disease all over the world. These investigations are controlled by his son, John D., Junior, who some years ago exhibited his inquiring turn of mind by heading a grand jury investigation of the white slave traffic in New York. And now his sister investigates the mind.

In the Rockefeller case, wealth and investigation are twins. Maybe that's the secret of success. Maybe we do not investigate enough. Maybe, lacking the Rockefeller caution and ingenuity, most of us are inclined to leap before we look.

John Adams was second president of the United States. John Quincy Adams, his son, was sixth president. The votes of many now living put Benjamin Harrison in the White House. His grandfather also was president. How do you account for that? Not just "chance." Something that "ran in the family."

It will be interesting to trace, in young Theodore Roosevelt, the family traits that made his father famous.

Every family has a distinctive trait. What is yours?—San Angelo Standard.

DR. CAMPRELL HERE EVERY SATURDAY

Party or County?

"Since March 4," says a well-known Washington political writer, "the question that has constantly been asked is not, 'What is the right thing to do?' but, 'How can we hold everybody in line?' He is discussing the Harding Administration and his apt description of the situation illustrates the extent to which constructive legislation has been sacrificed to the fetish of party unity.

For more than a year, the chief object of the Republican leaders, and notably Mr. Harding when he was his party's candidate for the Presidency, has been to avoid a split in the ranks. During the campaign, the candidate was astonishingly successful in holding his followers in line, but he did it—anyone so could do it—by refusing to take a positive stand on important questions, and, to cite one notable instance, by leaving the situation so as to make it possible for the irreconcilables and the pro-league Republicans to hope that Candidate Harding was with them. This policy has been pursued by President Harding, and with some measure of success.

But it is beginning to be seen that, if anything whatever is to be accomplished, there will have to be a decision, one way or the other, on several important questions. It is beginning to be realized that there are limits to compromise. Indeed, it is becoming apparent that every compromise that has been made has had the effect only of stirring up stronger opposition upon the part of those who forced the compromise. It is pretty nearly time that more attention was given to the question: "What is the right thing to do?" and the answer thereto.

The attempt to please everybody, or to avoid antagonizing anybody, is bound to fail. Mighty few people are pleased with the Fordney tariff. The taxation bill is meeting with much opposition, as will any bill that deals with that subject. The development of factions or blocs, cutting straight across party lines, has all but broken down party solidarity and discipline nor is it easy to lead men who are unwilling to be led.

Action there must be, no matter which party is split or how badly it is split, and should any sudden miracle convince the Republican managers of this, the country will benefit vastly. Firm, determined, courageous action, based on principle, would be much more likely to promote party unity than the timid, shuffling action based wholly on compromise and expediency, that we have had thus far.

The compromise policy has worked out a tariff bill which even its sponsors realize is utterly impossible. The taxation bill, dealing though it does, with a subject of the most vital importance, will be nothing more than a makeshift—indeed, we have been told that it is designed to be only "temporary." We do not yet know whether the German treaty will work, and that is supposed to be the prize compromise measure.

In the seven months that have passed since President Harding's Administration began, little has been accomplished by their compromise tactics. They have even failed of their goal to keep the party together.

Why not begin to ask: "What is the right thing to do?" and then try to do it. It might be found that: even party unity can best be preserved in this way.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Paid to Pomona Heroes
 of Pomona did more than their three dead heroes, Robert Valdez and Thomas at the ceremonies held Sunday night. They honored for no better tribute to patriotism and sense of duty than the boys who fell that they continue to enjoy honor and be imagined. The citizens proved in heart and in the ideals for which they died, and that they were not recent was the Hun.

The Legion, the army and joined in honoring the fallen comrades. They stood at rigid attention in front of the Legion home, where the state, surrounded by the love from their friends. There were large and costly products of the and there were humble and homely posies picked with from old fashioned gardens. Something impressive about a solemn sense of reverence of eternity. And the procession marched from home along Second street, way through silent aisles heads bared, that feeling was shared by the entourage. Dr. F. C. commander of the Charles of the American Legion, followed the band, the procession. With one beloved dead. When the call came four years ago, it is a matter of history that the army that answered was one that came from every walk of life. The army to which these buddies of ours belonged knew no distinction of race, color, or religion. It fought for one cause and with one purpose. There is now not even a distinction in rank. We are all buddies and death names us all with the same breath.

The service was then closed with a touching prayer by Rev. G. R. Lawrence chaplain of the 321st Infantry, who served with Glenn Baird, and who was wounded in the Argonne forest. The cortege reassembled, marching with the bodies to Garey avenue and Tenth street, where ranks were broken, and automobiles taken to the cemetery.

At the cemetery, the procession fell in again, and marched to the space about the Baird grave, where the Rev. Joel F. Hedgpeth, pastor of the Baird family paid an affectionate tribute to Glenn's memory. The ceremony committing the body to the earth was read by Chaplain Adams:

"Man that is born of woman is of few days and full of trouble. He cometh forth as a flower and is cut down; he fleeth also as a shadow and continueth not.

"In the midst of life we are in death. Sorrow knows no comfort but Eternal Love, Life, at most, is a burning candle that some time cometh to end. It beams, it glows, it flickers out. The rest is wonder and majestic silence.

"But if the straws of life tell aught, there is a land beyond the evening shadows where the Light of Ages burns undimmed, where the glistening tear drop is a jewel and the moistened eye a smile and where the brave and true bask in the sunshine of everlasting peace close by the river of Eternal Life.

"Inasmuch as God so loved humanity that he has taken from this world the dead, with the blooms of yesterday and the withered leaves we commit his body to the ground to sleep, and his soul to endless peace to rest. May the dust return unto earth as it was, and the spirit unto God who gave it.

"And now may the spirit of love, the spirit of Truth, the spirit of Peace and Patriotic memory and the Light that warms Eternity abide with him forever. God rest the dead. Amen."

As a bugler at the head of the grave sounded "Taps" the firing squad from the Arcadia balloon school stepped forward and fired three volleys over the grave, then coming to "present arms." From the other side of the cemetery, far distant, the sadly beautiful notes of "Taps" were repeated, floating away into silence as the body was lowered to its earthly rest.

Among those from out of the city who were here for the funeral of Glenn Baird were his nurse, who was serving in the hospital in France where he died and who is now living in Los Angeles and the following:

Mr. and Mrs. J. Cole Baird and family; Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Hanson and family; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Padrick and Mrs. Josephine Hinkley, all of Indio; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schaller, Mr. and Mrs. Harry St. Clair, Charley Dougherty, Mrs. Paul Clark and Mrs. Thomas Casey of Los Angeles.

TRADE MARK

635 F. O. B. DETROIT

The Fordson is built with over-strength in every part to withstand the strains of constant heavy work. It was tested under every possible condition of farm work before it was put on the market. It has been tried out by thousands of farmers in the past three years and has never fallen down on its claims.

The Fordson is simple in design, flexible in control and operation.

Let us demonstrate this tractor on your farm.

Red Cross Information (?) Service
 The national headquarters of the American Red Cross, in its study and research of health, educational and social service resources, is gathering data for publication in a directory, wherein a digest will be given of the work being done by the fraternal societies and so-called secret orders that flourish in the United States. They submitted to this office their "digest" on the Knights of Pythias, which, upon reading, was so strong as to elicit no end of comment. After considerable correspondence with clerks and assistant directors, et al., it developed that the Red Cross Information (?) concerning the Pythian order was based upon the "colored" society using this name as their fraternal title. Reference to this 'dope' brought forth a rejoinder from the social resources service bureau to the effect that their line and character of information was unquestionable authoritative. We have no desire to engage in a controversy with the American Red Cross, but in their work of "digesting" the social and fraternal and charitable services of the leading fraternities of this country, we offer the suggestion that they deal with these fraternities from the stand point of the "old and original" societies, and not with alleged counterparts.—Pythian Advocate.

Opportunity Is Here Now
 The door of opportunity has not been closed to the young men, middle aged men or any one else in America, as some think.

Any ambitious young man in good health has a fine opportunity to achieve success in America, if he is willing to pay the price. He must be willing to work and deny himself many pleasures.

Never before has a young American had a greater opportunity to get an education or establish himself as one of the leaders in any line of endeavor than right now. The recipe for success must be summed up as follows.

One must have ambition and be willing to work; he must resist temptations and make self sacrifices; he must be loyal to his employer and never overrate himself. If there is anything in him worth while others will find it out and he needn't mention the matter.—Exchange.

Those Strange Voices
 The foundations of civilization have been shaken. The world is being remade. The republic is on trial. Old faiths are challenged. Strange voices are heard in the land. Jarring elements in our national life demand consecration and courage—the courage that dares to be in the minority! How the times call for a new baptism of patriotism.—Cullen F. Thomas.

Messrs. Colquitt and Henry might say the same thing, and yet likely would likely agree with Mr. Thomas as to the remedies to be applied. What are these "strange voices"? Voices strange to Mr. Thomas are doubtless familiar to Messrs. Colquitt and Henry. Only as the campaign progresses can we know fully concerning these strange voices.—Waco Times-Herald.

A FINE OLD HOME PAPER

(Tune—A Fine Old English Gentleman.)
 These magazines with gravures and all these works of art,
 Are very well for city folks who live
 by dint of mart;
 But give me first and foremost, I hold
 It is the prime—
 That fine old home town paper—one
 of the good old time.

The printin' isn't perfect, the ink's not uniform,
 The type is set by hand perhaps,— considerably overworn,
 The dear old press—I know it well—
 It's covered o'er with grime—
 But it prints that old home paper—one of the gold old time.

I look for it each week as regularly
 It comes,
 And when the postman brings it in, I drop all other chums,
 I drink it in, from start to fin, ridiculous and sublime,
 That fine old home town paper, one
 of the good old time.

Smith's cat may have some kittens;
 Jones is putting in new pumps,
 My girl chum has got married and the kids have got the mumps, Jack Wiltsey's built a lean-to, Johnson's roses upward climb
 Oh! I love the old home paper, boys, one of the good old time.
 —GEO. E. WRAY.

Back to Town Crier

How many residents of any small community have ever considered what might happen if there were no newspapers? Just previous to "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week," which is to be observed the country over November 7-12, is a good time to recall the plight of Macon, Mo., not long ago, when fire put the Chronicle-Herald out of business for two weeks.

According to The Publishers' Auxiliary, the old town crier, relic of many years back, was yanked from his hiding place, dusted off, and put back on his job, with a jangling bell, a megaphone, and a fog-horn voice only a little worse for long disuse.

It may have been a novelty for two weeks. But think of a community without printers' ink, compelled to get its announcements of auctions, sales, court sessions, births, marriages, deaths, epidemics of sickness, dog ordiances, board meetings, commencements, tax notices, advertisements of help and situations wanted, accidents, and the rest, through a shouted word like that of the ordinary train announcer in a city depot. The town crier was a romantic figure in his day, but few towns would like to return to his ministrations now.

When one thinks of the temporary plight of Macon, and that it might become the permanent handicap of many towns, it is well to think of supporting the local paper.

He Knows His Folks.

Here are some random observations of a man who has visited and studied a good many small communities: If you read your local paper you will not miss much that is happening around home. There is no use saying that you wish your town had a paper like one in the other town, for the other fellow there is saying the same thing. The man who reads his local paper thoroughly is usually a pretty good citizen and has it all over the fellow who does not. Local papers, when all is said and done, do more to uphold the institutions of this state and country than any other known contributing force in the world's work.

Random Observations.

This isn't a country publisher talking, but the editor of a farm paper:
 The metropolitan daily will bring to one's doorstep the news of the world seen through the spectacles of the city editor, but it is the editor who lives in the heart of the community who is able to reflect the sentiment of the local group. He alone is the true interpreter of events as they affect the small town and the farming community that immediately surrounds the town.

The NEW EDISON

is the only instrumentality which can bring the full beauties of true music to your home

THIS fact has been established over two thousand times before over four million people, in direct comparison tests between the New Edison and the living artists.

The New Edison is the only phonograph that dares this acid test of direct comparison.

Now the New Edison takes another forward step! Mood Music!
 The power of music to sway our minds and moods has been recognized by the thinkers of all ages—but it has remained for Mr. Edison to evolve a plan by which you can benefit from good music beyond mere entertainment.

It Soothes, Refreshes, Cheers!

Mood Music helps you control your mental and physical well-being.
 It soothes you when you are nervous. Refreshes you when tired.
 Cheers you when sad. In a 92 page booklet, this wonderful new way of using music is fully described and over 100 selections are classified according to the effects they produce upon a listener. Fill out the coupon and get your copy of the booklet, "Mood Music."

Three Days of Mood Music Free!
 If you do not own a New Edison, we will gladly loan you one on three days' free trial—so you can learn what Mood Music and the New Edison will do for you.

About Mood Music

Mood Music is the result of a two-year research by Mr. Edison into the effects of Music. The psychological work was under the direction of Dr. W. V. Bingham, Director of Applied Psychology, Carnegie Institute of Technology, and other psychologists. The remarkable discoveries, which they made, through countless experiments, are now in booklet form for your practical use.
