Stalingrad Defenders Exact Heavy Toll Nearby Villages Are Taken In Nazi Drive

By HENRY C. CASSIDY MOSCOW, Sept. 10 (AP)—Cold rains swept the Stalingrad battlefields today and Red army defenses stiffened again to exact a deadly toll after repeated German power drives had overrun two more villages west of the city.

A similar dramatic revival of Soviet resistance—even a counterattack which cost the Germans more than 1,000 killed and destruction of nine tanks—was reported from the Novorossisk front, where the invaders had wedged dangerously into defense positions.

Front line developments of the day were coupled with an official declaration that 73 axis divisions had been broken and routed by the Red army from May 1 through August. The rains ended a heat wave which had attended the battle of Stalingrad and presaged the approach of wintry conditions which might hamper Adolf Hitler's huge mechanized forces.

But Field Marshal Fedor von Bock obviously was maneuvering in an effort to obtain a quick knockout. New German forces were concentrated west of Stalingrad. Red Star, the Soviet military newspaper, said one of his wedges was threatened by a flanking blow.

Field dispatches said Russian withdrawals had been orderly and Iavestia reported that the soldiers, "fully conscious of the danger hanging over Stalingrad, are defending every inch of their domain."

Bayonet clashes were frequent. From sunup to sundown the Russians fought beneath waves of German bombers, attacking in formations of six to eight. Ability of the German command to replace worn veterans with reserves permitted unceasing pressure around.

Russian infantry, mortar men and machine-gun crews left more than 550 German and Romanian dead strewn upon the sector west of Stalingrad in repulsing a series of attacks, the mid-day communique reported. "Southwest of Stalingrad," it said, "our troops repulsed attacks by the enemy and inflicted heavy losses. In one sector alone eight German tanks were destroyed and about a company of enemy infantry was wiped out."

Russian troops were reported crowding lethally at the heels of Germans turned back in the Mosdok area of the central Caucasus, wiping out more than a regiment of infantry and 53 German tanks in three days of fighting.

Reds Take Up Air Attack On German Areas

Budapest Bombed; RAF Suspends Its Raids For A Night. LONDON, Sept. 10 (AP)—Russian air force kept the Allied aerial offensive in Europe rolling last night by bombing eastern Germany and the Hungarian capital of Budapest during a lull in RAF operations—presumably caused by unfavorable weather in the west.

The Soviet attacks were announced by the Berlin radio which—in characteristic fashion—described them as "nuisance raids" and minimized their effectiveness. Subsequently both the German and Italian radios broadcast dispatches from Budapest attributing the raids on Budapest to "English planes" and reported there were a number of civilian casualties.

Later still, the Berlin radio broadcast that Russian planes flew over the outskirts of Greater Berlin last night but did not drop any bombs in the center of the city. The high command said some damage was caused by incendiaries dropped by British planes over western Germany in attacks at mid-day yesterday and again last night.

The only overnight activity attributed to the RAF by the British air ministry was a bombing attack on a German convoy off the Dutch coast, which a communique said had resulted in one large ship being set afire. Indicative, however, of the tenacious inspired by the whipsaw offensive which the British and Russian air forces have been conducting was the fact that the Berlin radio, as well as transmitters in Budapest, Paris and old Czechoslovakia, went off the air abruptly during the night.

The attack upon Budapest was the second which the Hungarian capital has undergone since the start of the war. Russian planes bombed the city for the first time last Friday night and were reported to have set many fires.

Drivers' Licenses Expire On Nov. 1

AUSTIN, Sept. 10 (AP)—State police today warned Texans that all original drivers' licenses expire November 1 and that operators who have not renewed by that date must take examinations to obtain new permits.

The examination includes a stiff written test and a driving test which many car operators fail several times.

Drivers License Chief J. M. Draپر said that automatic renewals are granted holders of original licenses when they are made within the time specified for certain serial numbers.

Persons driving without valid licenses are liable to arrest and fine.

Japs Edge Nearer To Port Moresby

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA, Sept. 10 (AP)—By a series of outflanking movements, Japanese troops have fought their way across the summit of the rugged Owen Stanley mountains in New Guinea and are pushing down the southern slopes within 44 miles airmile of Port Moresby, General MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

Australian forces, the announcement said, are battling gallantly to halt the enemy advance along a narrow trail traversing a series of ridges which still lie between the invaders and their goal.

Flood Menace Increases

By The Associated Press A new warning that floodwaters rolling toward the Gulf may reach a record high tomorrow was issued today by the Brownsville weather bureau.

Residents in that vicinity were advised to exercise extreme precautionary measures. Water at Brownsville was a foot over the river banks but levees were holding. Crest of the tide is expected tomorrow morning.

Major I. Dorman, commander of the Brownsville Texas Defense Guard battalion, was ready for a general evacuation today or tomorrow.

Two hundred residents of Rio Rico, across the river from Mercedes, were living in improvised shelters in the hills half a mile back from the river as water covered the town three feet deep.

Furniture and personal belongings floated down the village streets. There were no deaths.

About a score of families on the American side of the Rio Grande were evacuated this morning, with their livestock, between Mercedes and Brownsville.

Crest of the flood was expected tonight at Mercedes. Other sections of Southwest Texas counted their flood losses in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Artillery Action On Egyptian Front

Brits Attack 3 Ports On Madagascar

Military Operations Broadened Against French Island

VICHY, Sept. 10 (AP)—The British opened a general offensive against the west coast of Madagascar at dawn today, attacking the ports of Majunga, Ambanja and Beandava with planes and 18 warships, it was announced tonight.

Concentrated shelling ushered in the offensive, a renewal of hostilities on the big French island in the western Indian ocean which lightened after the British captured the big naval base of Diego Suarez at the northern tip of the island May 8.

The 18 warships poured salvo after salvo of shells into Majunga harbor, 230 miles southwest of Diego Suarez, while planes bombed and strafed French troop concentrations as far inland as 100 miles.

The shelling continued tonight, apparently preparing for a general troop landing.

The attack came two days after an unsuccessful attempted landing by Fighting French forces, the government said.

Talmadge Is Defeated In Georgia Race

ATLANTA, Sept. 10 (AP)—Apparently beaten back in his unprecedented bid for a fourth term as governor of Georgia, Eugene Talmadge today trailed far behind youthful Attorney General Ellis Arnall in nearly complete reports from yesterday's democratic primary.

Mid-morning tabulations of unofficial returns showed the 55-year-old challenger the apparent final winner in 75 counties having 231 county unit votes, 15 over the majority needed for the nomination that is the equivalent of election in democratic Georgia.

At this time the 57-year-old, three-term chief executive counted as complete in his column only 35 counties with 79 units.

Stirred by lively campaigning which saw the square-jawed Talmadge rallying his forces under the banner of white supremacy, the voting was brisk but orderly and in dozens of counties fewer than 100 votes decided which man was to receive the county's units.

Talmadge, longtime stormy petrel of Georgia's rough and ready politics, refused to concede defeat and said he would await full and official returns before he would comment.

Rubber Committee Recommends It, FDR Will Act

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he would put into effect "as rapidly as arrangements can be made" a set of recommendations from his special rubber committee which included nationwide gasoline rationing and drastic restrictions on civilian motoring.

He praised the committee's far-reaching report as "excellent" and said the government owed a debt of gratitude to the committee members. He transmitted copies to congress for its information.

The committee submitted its report to the chief executive with a blunt declaration that there was no middle course in solving the nation's rubber problem, that it was "discomfort or defeat."

In addition to recommending an expansion of the present synthetic rubber production program from an annual total now of 705,000 tons to a contemplated figure of 1,100,000 the committee proposed these additional steps:

- 1. That no speed above 35 miles an hour be permitted for passenger cars and trucks, so as to prolong the life of tires by nearly 40 per cent.
2. That the average annual mileage per car be held to approximately 5,000 miles, and this to be permitted only for "necessary driving."
3. That more rubber be released to the public through recycling old tires, or the issuance of new ones, so as to maintain fully necessary civilian driving.
4. That a new gasoline rationing system be devised to save tires, based on 5,000 miles a year of driving per car.
5. That "the restrictions as to gasoline and mileage be national in their application."
6. That compulsory periodic tire inspections be instituted.
7. That a voluntary tire conservation program be put into effect pending establishment of gas rationing, which the committee said was "the only way of saving rubber."

The committee, appointed on August 6, consisted of Bernard M. Baruch, who was chairman of the war industries board in the last war, Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard University, and Dr. Karl F. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mr. Roosevelt had asked that the survey include facts on existing supplies, estimates of future needs, and the best method to be followed for obtaining an adequate supply of rubber for military and essential civilian requirements.

OPA Listings Due Tonight

Last minute warning to owners of businesses supplying services to either consumers, wholesalers or manufacturers was issued by the war price and rationing board today to mail to the board before midnight a complete list of ceiling prices.

According to OPA regulations this list must be on file with the local county board and effects such services as filling stations, laundries, shoe repair shops, dry cleaners, and any other business supplying consumer service.

While many of the lists of ceiling prices have been received by the board, a large percentage of business houses have not yet complied with the ruling with deadline time expiring at midnight Thursday night.

At the same time, bombardier pilots—fliers who pilot ships for the fledgling bombardiers—were checking in at the school. Thursday a fleet of 18 fuel tank and other trucks and auxiliary equipment arrived.

Tommy Atkins Gets More Pay

LONDON, Sept. 10 (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps announced increases today in the basic pay of British armed forces at an annual cost of $3,000,000 ($172,000,000) after the house of commons had heard the lament of an anonymous Tommy Atkins over his scale as compared with that in the United States army.

The pay increase will be about 70 cents a week for all men in the armed services below commissioned ranks and about forty-five cents for women, Cripps said.

The government also boosted about 20 cents a week the allowances for each of the soldiers' minor dependents. The first child now receives about $1.70 a week.

Allowances for officers' dependents were raised on a similar scale.

However, members of Britain's armed forces still will be among the world's lowest paid.

College Reserves Face Call To Active Service

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson served notice today that college students who are members of the army enlisted reserve face a call to active military duty as soon as they reach the minimum legal age for service—now 20 years—because of increasing war demands for manpower.

When the reserve was created, students were told the war department policy was to permit them to complete their college courses, if possible.

"The exigencies of the war have now become such," Stimson told his press conference, "that it is now expected that by the end of the college term, or semester beginning in September, those student members of the reserve who have now reached selective service age will all, or for the most part, be called to active duty and those reaching that age during subsequent terms will similarly be called."

Stimson said the use of reserve officer training corps units was under consideration to give the student reservists concentrated military training when they are called up.

The war secretary said he had advised educators in the meantime to carry on civilian education as far as possible, rather than dilute

Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WHALEY
First day at school, remember? It was like no other day in the year for fun, excitement, depression and stage fright depending on whether it was a new school for you.

If you were an old timer, then there were pals to be greeted wildly, even though you might have played with them the day before. There were new teachers to be sized up for their ultimate success or downfall. And then of course, there were the new pupils to be given a working over.

If you were a new enrollee then there was the feeling of wishing you had asked Mother to come along and if you did, maybe wishing she hadn't. There was that sunk feeling of seeing a horde of other students and not knowing a one of them.

The first day was a day of getting lost, into and out of the wrong classes, losing the transfer slip which was mighty important and forming instant likes and dislikes with the pupils around you.

This first day at school, in your second best suit or second best dress, curls stiffly combed and shoes even shined is something that didn't happen very often and you were conscious of the importance of the day.

If you were a new pupil you probably hated to walk down halls that seemed enormous to you and you just knew you'd never get your homework that some teacher assigned you. But blessed are the young for in a day or so you felt like you'd been going to school there forever.

Price Control Works To Prevent Inflation In Wartime America

(Editor's Note: This is the last of a series of two articles sent from the office of war information, pointing out how price control has curbed inflationary tendencies.)

The proof of the price control pudding is in the eating which America is doing! Figures on food costs, prepared by the bureau of labor statistics of the U. S. department of labor, spotlight sharply the part price control is playing in combating the inflationary forces at work in wartime America.

From mid-May, when price ceilings became effective on most of the favorite American foods, to mid-June, the cost of eating increased 1.8 percent. To produce this increase, prices on food costs, prepared by the bureau of labor statistics of the U. S. department of labor, spotlight sharply the part price control is playing in combating the inflationary forces at work in wartime America.

In the following month, mid-June to mid-July, overall food costs again rose, this time 1.1 percent. Once again the bulk of the advance was due to those foods on which no ceiling has been placed, for they rose 2.5 percent. During the same period, price-controlled foods rose only 3-10 of one percent.

Commenting on these rises, Price Administrator Leon Henderson pointed out that projected over a year, the increase on those June-July uncontrolled food items would force the food purchasers of the country to pay $1.30 for every dollar's worth of those foods which they might buy 13 months from now. A similar projection of increases on foods which are price-controlled shows an addition of only 3 cents to the dollar's worth. One important reason for these latter increases, however, was the fact that many price-controlled items had actually been selling well below their ceiling prices and during the June-July period were raised to meet their ceilings. Similar increases, therefore, will not be likely to recur.

Nor is it likely that the projected 30 percent increase on uncontrolled items will actually become a fact. Before these foods should rise to that level, it would be within the power of the price administrator to place a price ceiling upon them. They stand as an example, of what could conceivably happen without the operations of the price control act.

With clothing, furniture and home furnishings firmly ensconced under price ceilings, food represents the only sizeable household commodity left to the depredations of inflation. One hold in the ceiling was plugged recently by placing a temporary ceiling on lamb. But further help to the householder is in sight with the announcement by Price Administrator Leon Henderson that he and Secretary of Agriculture Wickard are working on a plan for ceilings on certain farm items.

That such a curb can be successfully worked out seems likely in view of the statements of Secretary Wickard who called for a repeal of the privation in the price control act which excludes raw or unprocessed farm products from the regulation until they have reached 100 percent of parity.

That inflation is struggling for a toe-hold on economy there is no doubt. It will still struggle even after all items have ceilings placed upon them. But purchasers of goods have a duty to perform in combating the forces favorable to inflation. Hoarding, patronizing merchants who are evading the regulations, offering prices above the ceilings when shortages exist. . . . All these acts go down as an assist on the side of inflation. Refusing to participate in them, on the other hand, means taking an active part in the battle to keep our economy on a safe and sane basis.

Congress Heading For Wrangles On Wage-Price Controls

Local Man Sees Aunt On Return From War Zone

Local people shared this past week in a festive occasion which marked the return home of a relative after months as a prisoner of the Japanese.

Resting at Bridgeport, Tex., after her ordeal is Miss Blanche Groves, a Baptist missionary to China, who was one of those reaching America on the Gripsholm in the exchange of prisoners. Relatives gathered at Bridgeport for a reunion, and among them were Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Borum and Billie Ted of Big Spring. Miss Groves is an aunt of Mr. Borum.

Miss Groves, who had spent 22 years in China with few visits home, was interned in her own quarters at Suchow at the outbreak of war, and was under strict Japanese patrol. Borum said she had suffered considerably from her hardships.

Georgia Bond accompanied the Borums on their trip and visited relatives at Alford.

Full Debates On Issues To Consume Time

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—Rising congressional sentiment for a concrete wage formula and a new basis for farm parity prices today complicated the problems of administration leaders trying to meet President Roosevelt's October 1 deadline on legislation to hold down the cost of living.

Despite Senate Majority Leader Barkley's word that he hoped to pass the bill in the next three weeks, it was clear that numerous senators were prepared to insist on a full discussion of all controversial points. That might signify lengthy debate, for a senator may talk as long as he wishes unless the cloture rule is invoked by a two-thirds vote.

There also were reports that some senators might welcome a showdown, to determine just how the president would proceed if the law he asked for was not on the books by the first of next month. In the house, Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) suggested a simple, joint congressional resolution which would empower the president to stabilize "everything" entering into the cost of living.

On one point, there appeared to be a general accord; across the house alone separating the democratic and republican members schooled cries for swift action. Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass.) expressed hope that a solution could be reached by late next week.

But kindling protests against turning the entire anti-inflation assignment over to the president was a broad grant of congressional authority developed soon after Rayburn laid his resolution proposal before a round table session of republican and democratic house leaders.

Most farm state lawmakers did not appear disposed to accept a measure holding down agricultural prices unless industrial wages received similar specific treatment. In his message to congress, Mr. Roosevelt said he would stabilize wages when congress had acted to hold down the price of farm products.

Although the president asked that the present method of figuring farm parity prices be continued, some legislators expressed belief that the current formula, as applied by the bureau of agricultural economics, does not take into consideration the rise in farm labor costs due to industry's manpower demands.

As a consequence, it appeared likely that a whole new parity formula might be proposed on the senate floor.

Good Garden Yields Much For Canning

KNOXT, Sept. 10. (sp.)—A Victory garden of distinction is that of Mrs. Edgar Johnson of the South community, who is a former Knott Home Demonstration club woman. She is enjoying black wax beans, carrots, okra, beets, mustard, turnips, peppers, etc., fresh every day. Nice big ripe tomatoes are now being served on the home table twice each day and there will be plenty later for canning. Mrs. Johnson has canned butter beans, shelled pinto beans, corn and peas, canned seven gallons of cucumbers from the garden and raised enough onions to do through the winter, to assure herself and family of a well balanced diet with the addition of milk, butter, eggs, and home cured meats. She also has canned peaches and pineapple which she has purchased and plans to can pears and apples later.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Langly honored three of their sons, who are on furlough from army duty, with a dinner at their home, Sunday, J. T. from Fort Benning, North Carolina, Vernon, who is being transferred to Mineral Wells, and Billy who is employed at Houston in defense work.

Also present were, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith and son, Jimmy, of Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reagan, and Mr. and Mrs. Cleatus Langly, and daughter, Colleen and Mr. and Mrs. Langly.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ricketts, and daughter, Ruth, and Mrs. Ricketts' mother, Mrs. Ella Paulk, left here recently to go to Hearn where Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts will assume duties as teachers there. They came to Knott during the last term to finish the school year.

Mrs. P. O. Hughes was moved to her home Friday, from a Big Spring hospital. Her condition is reported to be somewhat improved.

Mrs. Jewell Martin and daughter, Joyce, have returned here from San Angelo where they spent the summer with Mr. Martin, who is employed there. Joyce will enter school at Brown.

How To Make A Soldier Happy And Still Not Strain Your Sugar Bin

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE, Wide World Food Editor

If Johnny can't come home to the cookie box, then send the cookie box to Johnny.

Home-baked cheer for your soldier won't even strain the family sugar ration if you make good use of sugar substitutes such as honey, syrup and vitamin-packed fruits.

MAPLE NUT FINGERS are good travelers, provided they are packed firmly in a box and with plenty of waxed paper between the layers. Cream 1-2 cup fat with 1-2 cup sugar, add 3 eggs, beaten, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 1-3 teaspoon salt. Beat well and add 1-3 cup maple syrup, 1-2 cups cake flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder and 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon. Beat 2 minutes and pour to about the thickness of an inch in shallow pan lined with waxed paper. Sprinkle top of batter with 2-3 cup nuts (shaved Brazilia, pecans or walnuts). Bake 30 minutes in moderate oven—about 350 degrees F. Cool and cut in mar.

LOLLIPOPS will make a big hit with the boys and they will keep moist and not crumble easily!

Chocolate Chip Honey Cookies
1-3 cup butter
1-2 cup honey
1 egg, well beaten
1-2 cup sifted flour
1-2 teaspoon soda
1 package semi-sweet chocolate chips
1-2 cup chopped nut meats
1 teaspoon vanilla
Cream shortening, add honey gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and mix thoroughly. Sift flour once, measure, add salt and soda and sift again. Add flour in two parts and mix well. Add chocolate chips, nuts, and vanilla and mix thoroughly. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet 3 inches apart. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about four dozen cookies.

cloves, nutmeg and salt. Stir in 3 beaten eggs, 1 cup chopped raisins, 1 cup chopped prunes and 2-3 cup broken nuts. Add 1-4 cup orange juice, 4 cups flour and 1 teaspoon each of soda and baking powder. Shape dough into a roll, wrap in waxed paper and chill 24 hours or longer. Cut off thin slices and bake 10 minutes in moderate oven on greased cookie sheets.

Old fashioned and with plenty of appeal are these GRANDMA OATMEAL COOKIES: Cream 1 cup fat with 2-3 cup sugar until soft. Add 1-2 cup honey and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat thoroughly. Stir in 2 eggs, beaten, 1-3 cup sour cream, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and 1-2 teaspoon mace. Add 1-2 cups uncooked oatmeal, toasted a light brown by heating 5 minutes or so in shallow pan in moderate oven. Mix 1 cup chopped raisins, 1 cup chopped dried apricots, 1-2 cup each chopped candied cherries and pineapple, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1-4 cup chopped citron (optional). Add these fruits with 4 cups flour, 1-2 teaspoons soda and 1 teaspoon baking powder to the rest of the ingredients. Chill dough and then drop portions from a spoon onto greased baking sheets. Flatten each cookie with a fork dipped in flour, top the cookies with raisins, nut halves or squares of candied fruits and bake 12 minutes in moderate oven.

Churchill Says Situation In India More Reassuring

LONDON, Sept. 10 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill charged today that widespread Japanese fifth column activity may have been behind the all-India congress party's drive for immediate independence, but he told the house of commons that the course of events in India had been improving "and is, on the whole, reassuring."

The prime minister's review of the Indian situation laid special emphasis on the turbulent events of the past two months and their bearing on the United Nations' war effort.

He minimized the influence of the congress, which he accused of discarding Mohandas K. Gandhi's non-violence principles, and declared that 90,000,000 Moslems were "fundamentally opposed" to it—to which a member cried "non-sense."

As a measure of the congress' influence, Churchill mentioned that more than 1,000,000 Indians have volunteered for war service and that 40,000 volunteers in the past two months made an enlistment record.

When he finished, Emanuel Shinwell, a chronic Laborite critic of the government, told the house that Churchill's statement would profoundly disappoint and shock millions of people.

The prime minister said the principles of the government's declaration—basically, dominion status—which formed the basis of Sir Stafford Cripps' mission to India "must be taken as representing the settled policy" of Britain.

He told questioners later, however, that he had no information to indicate any Indian tendency to accept the once-rejected Cripps proposals and added that "in the present state of affairs in India, with invasion not far off, these constitutional solutions and agreements are very difficult to come to."

Winners Must File Price Statements

Cotton ginners in Texas, as well as others in the southwestern area, must file detailed price statements with the Office of Price Administration regional headquarters in Dallas by Sept. 10.

This was the word from the Dallas office Wednesday, along with an announcement that no ginner could offer his services after that date unless the price statements have been filed.

Virtually all the gins in this section of the state will avail themselves of the option (one of three by which the government hopes to establish ceilings on ginnings charges) which allows a maximum charge of 105 per cent of charges last year. Other options would make ginning cost the patron only about half to 60 per cent of what he has been accustomed to paying.

Picking Cost On Cotton Should Be About One-Fourth

By Dr. B. KENDRICK, FSA Supervisor

Each year farmers in all the cotton producing areas of the country are met with the problem of what price to pay for cotton picking. In the past, most attempts to set a price for cotton picking, whether by the pickers or by the farmers, has failed for one reason or another.

The price paid for cotton picking should not exceed one-fourth the price received for the bale of cotton, was the decision reached at a meeting of the Howard county War Board, and presented for approval by the Howard County Victory Council on September 5. This basis of determining the price to be paid for cotton picking needs some amplification.

First, we cannot assume that cotton will be of middling grade, nor can pickers be had for the last picking on the same basis as early pickings. Toward the end of the season cotton is always of a lower grade and does not sell for as much per pound or per bale, while the labor necessary to gather it is more than the earlier pickings.

Therefore, if the entire crop is to be harvested on the basis of not exceeding one-fourth for picking, the beginning price must be less than average to balance the cost of the last picking.

There is an age-old custom generally accepted and practiced, of dividing the returns of the crop as follows: 1. Use of the land, 2. Power, implements and seed, 3. The labor necessary to prepare the land, plant, cultivate and harvest the crop. In the case of a tenant, one-fourth of the returns of the crop is paid to the landlord, or in the case of an owner, one-fourth of the crop is needed to pay land notes, taxes and interest. One-fourth of the crop to pay maintenance and operation of teams or tractor and implements. This leaves one-half of the crop for labor. The labor connected with producing a cotton crop includes management, preparation of the seed bed, planting (and small items in West Texas), cultivation of the growing crop, protecting it from insects, picking or pulling, hauling to the gin, and disposal of crop.

From this one-half of the returns of the cotton crop farmers must pay for their living expenses and that of their families for the whole year. He must do his best to school his children and pay medical and hospital bills. If he is lucky, he may be able to carry a small life insurance policy or to save a little for old age, but there are very few who are able to do either. Now, if the farmer pays more than one-fourth from the returns of a bale of cotton for picking or pulling, it is evident, even to a cotton picker, that he cannot live on the less than one-fourth he has left from his own labor in making the crop. Now let us look at this idea of one-fourth of the price of a bale of cotton for picking or pulling from the pickers' standpoint.

Last year, pickers received about one-fifth of the price of cotton. Assuming that the average bale of cotton sells for $24.00, this would give the pickers $21.00 for picking a 500 pound bale of cotton. If the average bale is $30.00, picking would be $22.50, but there would have to be an advance in the price of cotton for it all to average $30.00 a bale. It requires some 1500 to 1600 pounds of seed cotton to make a bale. If the average is 1400, then $21.00 per bale for picking would mean an average price of $1.50 per hundred for picking, but every farmer knows that if he is to average $1.50 for the season, the beginning price must be less than $1.50. On the same basis with 2,000 pounds of seed to make a bale, and the price for pulling would be $1.00. If someone, instead of covering the seed, remember also that the farmer must haul the cotton to the gin, pay for ginning and wrapping and other expenses incident to the disposal of the crop. Seldom, if ever, does the receipts from the seed exceed the cost of hauling, ginning and other expenses.

In conclusion, it appears that any amount more than one-fourth the average price of cotton paid as an average price for picking or pulling will be contributed by the farmer out of his living, and no cotton picker should want to receive more out of the cotton crop than the people who have worked through the whole year to produce it. Furthermore, this would give cotton pickers an increase of about 40 percent above last year's wages, which should more than cover the increased cost of living, transportation, etc., and cotton pickers would be paid a wage in line with or above that paid laborers in public works.

Typhus Fever Due To Spread Unless Rats Exterminated

By O. P. GREFFIN, County Agent

Dr. E. Bennett talked over the radio last week and again to the Victory Council again last Saturday on this subject. From what I get out of his talks, we have our choice between killing out the rats or a continuation of the increase of typhus cases.

Under these circumstances, the axis powers could not want a better ally than the rats we are harboring under our feet stacks and sheds. They have already destroyed large amounts of livestock feed that should have gone into the production of beef and pork. Now by carrying typhus they are striking directly at our manpower.

The Howard County Victory Council adopted a plan for the rat war last Saturday. Briefly, it consists of a period of preparation for a poisoning campaign and at the same time killing all of the rats possible by gassing them and trapping them.

The preparation most needed is to get all of the people aroused to the necessity of killing the rats and to get them to act together. Rats migrate from one farm to another. Those who are fighting them get others from their neighbors farms. However, those who do not want to live with them and their typhus infection must do this until a concerted program is in effect.

In the plan adopted by the Victory Council Saturday, the first step is a demonstration of gassing rats and methods of trapping them together with methods of preparation and prebaiting to avoid poisoning other animals. After the demonstration meeting the people are to order baiting material and poison from their neighborhood Victory Leader. It is thought that meat and fish baits can be had for 20 cents per pound and that one pound should be ordered for each 25 rats to have enough for prebaiting and poisoning.

Baiting material is then to be distributed from the county office to community leaders and these in turn will distribute them to neighborhood leaders and they to the farms of the neighborhood. In this way all of the farms in a community will prebait the same night and poison the rats on the same night three days later.

Now whether you have one of the demonstrations in your community will depend on your community leader. It is useless to announce and hold meetings with-

No More Draft Releases After Induction Notice

Only in extreme emergencies will releases be granted by the Howard county selective service board to men after they have received their notice of induction, George White, chairman for the Howard county board, has announced.

White had reference to approximately a score releases granted after notices had gone out for September induction.

The board had granted many of these, he said, to aid the air corps specialist recruiting drive, aimed at recruiting men in Big Spring for training at the Big Spring Army Air Force Advanced Flying School. The campaign opened up after notices had gone out and the board cooperated by releasing those who were enlisting for assignment here.

However, White and other board members took the position that all registrants now are familiar with the enlistment opportunities with the air corps with their own home town as a training station, and they must enlist before they receive induction notices if they are to get consideration at the hands of the board. Applications for release after the notice has been received will be disregarded on the grounds that the enlistment is being effected as a last-minute alternative, said White.

School Enrollment Off Slightly At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 10 — Enrollment of 1,119 pupils in Colorado City schools this week showed a slight decrease from the number in 1941 when 1,270 pupils were enrolled. The only school which showed an increased enrollment was the Mexican school with 40 pupils as compared to 29 last term.

The high school enrollment fell from 365 to 317; junior high from 306 to 272; Hutchinson school from 226 to 174; the primary school from 172 to 158, and the negro school from 172 to 156.

Regular classes began Wednesday with all last-minute vacancies on the teaching staff filled. New teachers for the 1942-43 term include Ed Williams, principal of the high school; Mrs. Charities Godwin, librarian; Merrick Peacht, social science and assistant coach; Joy Pace, homemaking in senior high; Iris Riden, commercial teacher; M. C. Hannaford, mathematics in senior high.

Dorothy Smith will teach penmanship in junior high; Nina Laura Smith, language arts; Robert Shaffer, homemaking; Mollie Lou Armstrong will teach in the Hutchinson school and Constance Drake in the primary building.

GATHERING IN CHILE

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 10 (AP) Delegates of the 21 American republics, Canada and the international labor office gathered here today for the seven-day meeting of the inter-American congress on social security.

out the cooperation of the people of the community. If your leaders are slow to act, it might help if you would offer to assist them. Even if we fail, when our neighbors go down with typhus we can have the consolation of having done all that we could to prevent it.

Scrap Collection Should Be First Order Of Business

Do you still have a little scrap metal left on your farm? If you have a lot of it, you are way behind; but it is never too late to mend your way.

Have you considered that even 100 pounds from each farm in Howard county would make a total of nearly two car loads?

Must our war furnaces close down because of your negligence and "put it off" attitude?

Why not make this your first order of business until all of the scrap metal has been gathered from all of the farms of Howard county?

There are people who do not read, or listen to the radio. Will you please help out the WAR EFFORT by telling them.

Youth Of 15 Held In Death Of Boy

GREENVILLE, S. C., Sept. 10 (AP)—Fifteen-year-old William Arthur Melton, Jr., was in jail today in connection with the death September 3 of five-year-old Henry W. (Mike) Harrison, Jr., whose trussed body was found in the street from his home. No charges have been filed.

Sheriff R. H. Bearden said Melton in a signed statement early today said he had been playing cowboys and Indians with Harrison and the child stumbled while his hands were tied behind his back and fell down a basement stairway and was knocked unconscious.

Bearden said Melton went on to relate this version of the death: He took Harrison to the attic and left, thinking the younger child soon would come to and leave. He tied Harrison's feet together before leaving him, but he did not explain to police his reason for doing so.

Harrison's body was found after a widespread search of 12 hours.

Serial Numbers Of Tires Required

R. F. Robbins, chairman of the Howard County War Price and Ration board, sent notice Thursday to all tire inspectors for the Howard county board that effective September 15th, serial numbers of all tires inspected must be recorded in the inspection report of original tire applications.

If the tires are seconds, Robbins explained, or serial numbers obliterated, the dealer must so certify in his inspection report.

Allied Ship Toll Goes Up To 462

The Axis submarine toll of Allied and neutral vessels in the western Atlantic battle area rose to 462 today in the Associated Press count of announced sinkings since Pearl Harbor with naval disclosure of the torpedoing of a medium sized British merchantman in the Caribbean. Two lost their lives while 43 others were saved.

The navy had announced yesterday the sinkings of an American merchantman and a Polish cargo carrier, both attacked off the South American coast. The British vessel went down in mid-August.

Local Officers To Attend TDG School

Two officers from company E, 34th battalion, Texas Defense Guard, will attend the guard officers school now under way at Camp Bullis, near San Antonio.

First Lieut. Hudson L. Bohannon and Second Lieut. Leslie D. Thompson will leave Sunday for a week of special instruction, which stresses commando tactics, and the combatting of infiltration as well as guerrilla warfare. Most of the officers of the 34th battalion will take in the school this week. Capt. Cliff D. Wiley probably will be unable to attend.

Navy Office Signs Up Two Negroes

U. S. Navy recruiters established another "record" in Wednesday activities, S. L. Cooke, recruiter in charge, admitted Wednesday.

They signed two negro youths for mess attendants. Although the sub-station here has handled several such enlistments, there never had been more than one on a single day. The accepted applicants were Fred Lee Page, Jr., Colorado City, and Joe McArthur Rogers, Colorado City. The latter insisted the war and its heroes had nothing to do with his middle name. "My mammy gave that to me when I was born," he told Cooke.

Larger Sales At Livestock Ring

Dollar volume increased substantially with the number of head going through about the same, reports from the regular Wednesday sale of the Big Spring Livestock Commission Co. showed Thursday.

Around 400 head went through the ring and buyers bid up well to a total of $20,000. This was up over last week by about $3,000.

Prices were generally steady with some showing strength, particularly in fat cows which were 50 points long on the top in going from 8.00-9.50. Bulls were steady, but the top was weak at 9.50. Canners and cutters going at 6.50 to 7.00 also lacked strength on the top were steady in the average ranges where bulk of buying occurred. Ordinary butchers ran from 8.00-9.00 and good butchers were 9.50 to 10.50.

Stockers were steady to stronger, what with prospects of excellent winter pasture. Considering condition of rural roads following repeated rains, the dollar and number volume of the sale was considered good.

Large Turnout For High School Band

The Big Spring high school band won't lack for pieces this year.

Seventy-six members are reporting for practice these days, said Dan Conley, high school band director in addition to his other duties as director of public school music.

Before time for the first public appearance of the band this autumn which probably will be at the football game on Sept. 13 when Tahoka invades the Steer corral—the band personnel likely will be reduced. Some of the players will have to be out back to the junior and even the beginners band, said Conley.

Recreation Parley Postponed Again

For the second time this week, the meeting of the Defense Recreational Council scheduled to be held in conjunction with appearance of Harry Emigh, regional representative of the Federal Security Agency, has been delayed.

Emigh advised from Pecos that he could not be here until Friday morning. Originally he was due here Tuesday, and then moved the date back to Thursday afternoon.

The council hopes to be able to answer the question of whether the recreational program will be undertaken through USO or WPA. The Friday session is for 9 a. m. in the chamber of commerce office.

Certificates For New Cars Issued

Certificates for purchase of two new cars was granted by the War Price and Ration board in regular session held this week as the board also granted 80 passenger retrofits and 28 truck retrofits.

Eight passenger tires and 28 passenger tubes were granted along with 29 truck tires and 24 truck tubes.

Three passenger new grade two tires were allowed and four tires and four tubes for farm implement tires as original equipment were granted during the session.

Tires, Tubes Taken From Warehouse

The sheriff's office is investigating a burglary of seven truck tires and five tubes from the Cities Service warehouse at 1st and Austin which was broken into Wednesday night. The intruders had apparently pried the lock off the front door, the sheriff's department said.

Here 'n There

That roping event set for Sunday at Midland is going to be quite a kinfolks affair so far as Big Spring is concerned. Toots Mansfield, Bandera, who contests Clyde Buck, Concha, Okla. for the "world's championship" in calf roping, is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Edwards. Sonny Edwards, their son, will contest Jim Espey, Ft. Davis, in a special added roping attraction.

One of the wettest spots in Howard county during August was the R-Bar area. The Soil Conservation Service gauge on the Hull farm showed a total of 12.54 inches for the month. Two light showers fell around the 20th, and the bottom dropped out on the 24th with 9.69 inches. Aug. 31 brought 2.30 inches more.

Two Big Spring youths have been selected for training as naval aviation cadets, the Dallas cadet selection board has announced. They are James Marlon Tidwell, son of C. H. Tidwell, a graduate of Big Spring in 1942 and a grid, basketball, track and baseball player; and James David Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith, also a 1942 high school graduate here and a member of the basketball team. They are awaiting call to active duty to report to the preflight school at the University of Georgia for three months of conditioning.

Another Coeden party is slated for 8:30 p. m. to 12 midnight Friday at the Country Club. Like those preceding it in recent weeks, it is for employes, wives, friends and out-of-town guests.

School opening dates were beginning to be abandoned these days. Among them are McMurray college at Abilene, opening Monday with registration, and John Tarleton Agricultural college at Stephenville, opening on Sept. 23. Both have students from Big Spring.

Men anticipating applications for volunteer officer candidate training were advised Thursday by the county selective service headquarters that training in this field is open only to those wanting to enter any of the following: Anti-aircraft, armored forces, cavalry, coast artillery, signal corps, tank destroyers, and chemical warfare.

Herbert Axe of Dallas, deputy collector of internal revenue, is at the courthouse for several days this week. Axe will replace Ed Priest, formerly stationed into the armed forces in October.

Synthetic Rubber Process Outlined For Kiwanians

One day's consumption of crude oil will yield sufficient raw material for the production of 800,000 tons of synthetic rubber—the anticipated military requirements for one year, R. R. Mull, Coeden Petroleum Corp. chemist, told the Kiwanis club Thursday.

This, said Mull in explaining preference for the petroleum route in producing synthetic rubber. Too, he said, the cost of setting up for production from farm products called for major construction from critical materials. Even one petroleum synthetic rubber plant costs 100 million dollars and requires a long time to install, he said.

Synthetic rubber is not a substitute for rubber and its cost in comparison with rubber has been almost prohibitive until the war, hence a lack of synthetic production.

Vocal artist for the day was Wanda McQuain with Helen Duley at the piano. The Rev. O. L. Savage had charge of the program.

The "black-eyed susan" is the blacksmith, a hunter and trapper.

"What's in it for ME?"

"When a manufacturer plans an advertising campaign the main thing I'm interested in is: What's in it for ME? And I have some definite ideas about the kind of advertising that does me the most good."

1. "Here's how I see it: I've been running this cash register long enough to understand pretty well how advertising works...and how newspaper advertising by the manufacturer brings in customers and rings up sales for me."

3. "Besides, when manufacturers advertise in the local papers, they can run my name and my address in their ads. That's the kind of support that really counts...because it tells the people in this town that they can buy the advertised goods at my store."

2. "From what my customers tell me, just about everybody reads the daily paper. More than that, they look for the ads in the paper and shop from them. The results I get from my own newspaper ads make me feel pretty sure of this, too."

4. "It all adds up to more business for manufacturers and for me when they reach all my prospects through advertising in the local newspapers. And what they do here they can do in every other town where they have or want distribution."

Small wonder this retailer is successful; he knows what's in it for him when newspaper advertising goes to work in his town. He knows that manufacturers produce more sales for their retailers...and themselves...when they advertise in local newspapers.

Texans In Limelight As Army Gridders Win Again

Conatser And Dawson Help In Scoring

DETROIT, Sept. 10 (AP)—The western army all stars have a couple of tough customers ahead in the Green Bay Packers and New York Giants, but Major Wallace Wade's soldier footballers will be hard to dislodge from their edge in the charity series against National Pro league clubs.

The army seized the upper hand in the series last night by employing every possible way football points can be scored to whip the Detroit Lions, 12 to 0, before 21,400 customers who paid an estimated $40,000, minus expenses, toward army emergency relief. Having beaten the Chicago Cardinals after losing the opener to the Washington Redskins, the army leads, two games to one.

Jarrin John Kimbrough, former Texas Aggie all-American, who had scored his team's previous three touchdowns, was held scoreless by the Lions, but two other Texans carried on exceptionally well in his place. Bill Conatser speared a second period touchdown pass in a 62-yard play with Kay Eakin of Arkansas and the New York Giants, and Bill Dawson booted the extra point and a fourth period field goal from behind the 15-yard line.

Like Kimbrough, both Conatser and Dawson are former Texas Aggies. To round out the scoring, the Lions kicked in with a safety four minutes from the game's finish when a snapback eluded Harry (Hippity) Hopp and rolled out of the end zone.

Yanks Due To Clinch Another Championship This Weekend

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
There's no need to be in a hurry, but the New York Yankees apparently are ready to clinch their sixth pennant in seven years this weekend.

Any combination of five victories by New York or five defeats for the Boston Red Sox will keep the Yanks on the throne. The Bombers blasted out an 8-3 triumph over the St. Louis Browns yesterday for their fifth straight success and 11th in 12 games. This put them ten full games in front of the Red Sox, who were idle. The champions didn't act like they would need the help of any Boston defeats as they went about the business of subduing the third place St. Louis club. In the first inning Joe Gordon hit a homer with the bases loaded, his 18th roundtripper and second grand slam of the season, and New York completed all of its scoring in four frames before big Ernie Bonham allowed the Browns either a hit or a run.

The only other major league game that escaped the weather was a 13-inning night marathon which the Philadelphia Athletics wangled from the Cleveland Indians 6-4. The idle day in the National league permitted the senior circuit to turn its full attention to the impending series between the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals.

Today the Cards have a date with the New York Giants and the Dodgers must take on the Chicago Cubs, but these ventures are merely warmups for the two games between the contenders at Brooklyn tomorrow and Saturday. The standings now show:

Club	W.	L.	Beh'd Play
Brooklyn	94	43	3
St. Louis	91	46	3

Thus it would be possible for the Redbirds, with some help from the Cubs, to draw abreast of the Dodgers in the next three days. But it also would be possible for Brooklyn to gain an almost prohibitive lead over the challengers from the west.

Zivic Picked To Win Over Cochrane

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—Simply off the past performance charts and the "dope" sheets, you have to pick Fritzie Zivic to fall the daylight out of Freddie the Red Cochrane in Madison Square Garden tonight.

But, while even his greatest admirers shudder to think of what might happen to the sailor boy from Jersey in the course of the ten round non-title brawl, Freddie rises to remark that it's about time the boys and girls lent an ear to his theme song.

This is a take-off on a tune of the day and is entitled, "I Did It Before—And I Can Do It Again." And, no matter how you look at their recent efforts—Zivic's work stands out over Red's like the circus fat lady overshadowing the midget—you have to admit that Freddie might have something there.

It was just about 14 months ago that Cochrane was supposed to roll over and play dead for Fritzie in a ring over in Newark. But Freddie wound up by taking the world welterweight championship away from Zivic. And, make no mistakes about it—he was the winner that night fairly and squarely.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Second thoughts: Wonder why Mike Jacobs hit on 77,000 as the likely attendance for the Louis-Corn scrap? . . . He once packed 88,150, the third largest crowd in boxing history, into the Yankee Stadium to see Louis wreck Max Baer . . . Looks like a good spot, too, to borrow an idea from the Chicago All-Star football game and save a few choice seats for people willing to contribute $100 to a good cause, but we hear the Army voted that one down . . . and why not make it an all-service affair with Lieut. Jack Dempsey of the Coast Guard as referee and Lieut. Commander Gene Tunney of the Navy as announcer? . . . If Conn really wants to win, why doesn't he hire father-in-law Jimmy Smith as sparring partner—for Louis?

On that occasion, Zivic was a 1 to 7 favorite, and there were no takers. Tonight Fritzie will be 1 to 2, largely because in his recent trips to the post he has done everything Freddie the Red has done—and done it better. Cochrane's three starts saw him outpoint the fading Lew Jenkins, take a decision from young Bobby Britton and drop a verdict to Garvey Young of the Marines. Fritzie took on all three of these gladiators—knocked them all out.

White Deer High school in Texas has had six football coaches in six months—and we'll let that stand as a record until we hear of a better one . . . Gene McCollum, last season's coach, resigned to take a new job . . . Two of his successors, Gail Smith and Charles Churchill, went into the Army, and Thurston (Hubert) Jones, who had decided to quit pro football, took over . . . Lieut. John James Powers, cited in the president's radio talk the other night, is one of the numerous nephews of James Joy Johnston, whose specialty, you know, is fighters . . . It wasn't much of a novelty when Tech. Sgt. Phil Donohue of the Enid (Okla.) Army Flying School turned in a course record of 67 at Enid's South Side country club recently. 4th Place Santone Beats Beaumont In Opening Tilt

By The Associated Press

Although San Antonio held a one-game advantage over Beaumont in the first lap of the Texas league's Shaughnessy playoffs today, the Shreveport Sports and the Fort Worth Cats were prevented by the weather from starting their end of the series last night.

The Missions, who finished fourth in the regular season league standings, last night drubbed the first-place Exporters 4-1 before a crowd of 3,000 at Beaumont.

Manager Steve O'Neill of the Shippers probably will send Clarence Gann to the mound to oppose the Padres this afternoon. San Antonio expects Sidney Peterson to do the chunking against Beaumont.

Hank Oana, who had a sensational season after his conversion from an outfielder to a pitcher, and veteran Earl Caldwell is expected to be assigned to hurl for Fort Worth in tonight's game at Shreveport. The Sports will use either Doyle Lade or Floyd Spear on the hillcock.

San Antonio scored in the first inning when Gregory's two-bagger brought Baker home; and Beaumont following in the same frame with its lone tally. With the bases loaded, Wood scored on Evers' base hit to deep short before McClaren hit into a double play.

The Missions scored again in the fourth, Manager Wingenar singling to left field with the bases loaded to bring in Zarilla.

San Antonio scored its other two runs in the fifth. Hausmann opened by striking out Baker drove one to left for a base hit, and Boken popped out.

Gregory banged one through third, and Zarilla hit a bouncer to the box which Fuchs fielded. Instead of throwing to first he looked toward second and when nobody was there Fuchs held the ball while the batter was credited with a hit, loading the bases. Witte's single scored two runs and Mancuso popped out.

As Fuchs came in he hurried his glove into the water bucket and Manager O'Neill sent him to the clubhouse. Roy Clark relieved and pitched hitless ball for the rest of the game.

Mr. Novikoff Is Very Angry At Dem Bums

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—Lou Novikoff, the roaring Russian from Chicago's North Side, has such a mad on against the Brooklyn Dodgers it has even ruined his appetite for chicken. What's more, the Chicago Cubs' fence-buster is still so steamed up over the feud that started in the now-famous baseball competition two months ago that he went before Manager Jimmy Wilson today to plead his case and promise that if he starts in this afternoon's brawl with the Brooklyn, he will bring his batting slump to an end at the expense of the Bums' fancy pennant hopes.

"I know," he explained, "I love chicken. And nobody can cook it like my wife cooks it. Every day I come home from the ball game and she puts it in front of me for dinner. And I go to work on it."

"But that afternoon in Chicago (July 15) after that game with the Dodgers when they threw those dusters at us, I went home and when my wife put the plate down, I pushed it aside. I couldn't eat it. That's bad. I've got a wife and two children and pitchers $1 a r z throwing at my head. I ask you—is baseball worth that?"

That was the afternoon the Dodger and Cub elbowers spent a large portion of their time watching batters fall down trying to get away from pitches that were thrown not wisely, but very well. Novikoff stood up to one, caught it with the "mosh" of his hat as it whistled past his ear, and knocked it for a homer.

"The next time up," he related today, "I came to bat with a baseball in my hip pocket. Mickey Owen (Dodger catcher) asked me what I had. I said, 'Owen, if Higbe (pitcher Kirby Higbe) throws at me this time, I'm going to take this ball out of my pocket and hit you with it. And you better tell Higbe that when he sees me throw at you, he better start running." And now the roaring Russian is in his worst slump since early summer. In his last 15 times at bat he's connected for just two measly hits. As a result, Manager Wilson let him sit out the second game of the Labor Day doubleheader.

"I SUPPOSE WHEN I GO TO THE HEREAFTER THE FIRST PERSON I'LL SEE WILL BE AN AP MAN"

Mohandas K. Gandhi

The first man Mohandas Gandhi asked to see when he was first jailed for revolt several years ago was an AP correspondent.

"The Associated Press," said Gandhi, giving it his farewell message, "has reported the political situation in India as no other news organization."

Months later, when the Indian leader was released amidst greatest secrecy, after midnight and at a lonely railroad station, the first person to greet him was an Associated Press reporter.

"I suppose," said Gandhi, "when I go to the Hereafter, the first person I'll see will be an AP man!"

Now, as Gandhi launches a new revolt, AP men are on top of the news again with fast and accurate reporting for 1400 Associated Press members.

Preston Grover, whose recent interview with Gandhi forecast the present crisis, scored with dramatic first-hand accounts of the effects of Gandhi's civil disobedience. Grover's automobile was stoned as he toured rioting Bombay.

Also in India to cover this great story are such veterans of the AP foreign service as Daniel De Luce and William McGaffin, assisted by other correspondents throughout the vast country.

There's always an AP man on the job!

Editorial —

Scrap Desperately Needed

A lot of us, including editorial writers, have found it pretty easy to find fault with the way things are being run in Washington. We have been saying the men in charge of the war effort are way behind the people in the conception of our danger. We have been saying "we're ready to do anything; all we need is to be told."

Well, we're being told—and our response is so woefully weak that it must greatly please the high command in Berlin and Tokyo. We're being told that scrap metal MUST come in. This is no propaganda; it's more than serious; it's critical. Informed and reliable authorities reveal that not more than a few weeks' supply of scrap is on hand at the mills where the implements of warfare must be turned out. Some plants are facing shut-downs right now. Every war production leader, every military leader is voting desperate appeals for action.

It is such a simple thing for the people to do—all those people who would see this war brought to a victorious conclusion. The others, of course, don't matter.

Now there are some things to remember about this scrap salvage:

First, don't worry about the piles you see in the junk yards and the auto wreacking yards. Don't say, "Why don't they get that first?" The WPB has its finger on all that scrap. It knows where that metal is, and is shipping it in as rapidly as transportation facilities will permit. That scrap is all accounted for. It is included in the nation's inventory.

What this country wants is that vast accumulation of "unseen" scrap, the multitude of metal items that are scattered over the farms and the all fields and the ranches, and in the alleys and garages and attics and yards. It is this unutilized salvage that will spell the difference between adequate war production and stoppage of our output. It's YOUR scrap.

Second, don't be unconcerned because the scrap you have at your disposal happens to be a few pounds. There are 130,000,000 people in this country, and if every one of us pitched no more than a pound, we would be a long way toward meeting the demand. Get out every little bit you have; don't hesitate to tell your neighbor to get out what little bit he has; together you'll help make an anti-aircraft gun.

Third, don't be so demanding about having that scrap collected. City trucks are operating and army trucks are operating, in an effort to collect the salvage that has been put out. But it isn't practical for these trucks to be running hither and yon to collect a few pounds. Your scrap is worth giving, and it's worth bringing to the salvage pile. On your next trip to town, bring it with you. Don't wait, and don't complain because nobody has picked up your contribution. The war isn't being won by somebody waiting on us.

This is the call for our nation, and this is the time to answer. It is a desperate call, and the time is short. If you want to help win the war, you'll respond—NOW.

CHAPTER 28 NO HOPE

With racing pulse she snatched up the light and turned it into the exposed hole. She saw a crypt chiseled out of the limestone, and in it was a tube-like parcel bound with dry reeds. She recalled the codex as a "urn," but since he had never seen it she knew he could have been mistaken about its form.

As Tyra lifted the parcel from the crypt she heard, quite distinctly, the whisper of - of - taffeta sound that had attracted her notice when she first entered the cavern. The reed-bound parcel was surprisingly light in weight, but then a manuscript would be, she reflected.

She hugged the prize with one hand and, snatching up the flashlight, scrambled to her feet. Then, involuntarily, she let out a scream.

She did not know what it was she saw, at first, only that it was something horrible. Eyes, hundreds of eyes like gleaming points of light advancing toward her along the floor of the cavern. And wriggling bodies, scaly and slimy. With an instinct of self-preservation she backed against the altar and sent the torch in a wide sweep around the cavern.

The eyes and slithering bodies were on all sides of her. They were snakes!

"Yellow-jaws!" Tyra uttered, on a horror-stricken breath. One of the most poisonous snakes in Mexico, and the most aggressive!

They were showing their character now. They were moving as though prompted by one idea, one goal. To reach the altar. To reach her!

Tyra did not know that she screamed again until she heard the echo come back from the walls of the cavern. She collected her scattered wits and started toward the entrance, only to fall back before the oncoming horde. Some of the snakes had their jaws open now. She could see the forked tongues, flickering beneath the cold, glittering eyes. She retreated to the altar and climbed upon it. They could not reach her there, for a few minutes.

Relentlessly they came on. There must be hundreds, hundreds, she reflected. The guardians of the codex. The priests of the Serpent God. They had killed Gonzales' soldiers. And do what she might they would kill her!

She started at the sea of bodies fascinated by the horror of her approaching doom.

heads. Sandy said, "She shouldn't go off alone like that."

Fleming fixed his gaze upon Sandy. "You were talking to her down by the stream. Sure she didn't say anything about what she intended to do?"

"Not a thing," Sandy stated, but a ripple of apprehension passed through his body. She had said: "I've bungled everything."

"She didn't say she was going to hunt that Rosetta-stone of yours, did she?" Fleming insisted, still fixing Sandy with a hard gaze.

It seemed to Sandy as though his blood congealed in his veins. He had accused her of putting her own interests first. It wasn't possible that she had set out to prove he was wrong!

"Good God," he burst out. "She wouldn't go to 'the Chamber of the Serpent God!'"

To The Rescue

"I don't know," Fleming said, snapping his words off. "But I do know this. Last night she confessed to me that she was in love with you, Morse. Blamed near bowled me over — and she also told me that she was afraid for you to return to that limestone cavern—it's just like her to go and find the codex herself!"

It was like her, Sandy saw that. If she did love him she wouldn't hesitate to prove it....

"Come on," he croaked out. "We've got to catch her before she reaches the altar room!"

No one waited to argue. It was enough that there was a possibility Tyra had exposed herself to the wrath of the mysterious Priests of the Serpent God. Matchets and flashlights were snatched, ammunition replenished. Fleming barked an order for one of the Yaquis to remain in camp, then led by Manuel, the five remaining men moved swiftly toward the pyramids.

Driven by the passion in his heart, Sandy, who was ahead, outstripped the others so that by the time he reached the entrance to the stalactite cavern they were still on the level above.

He stepped through the doorway and sent the wedge of his torch upon the altar.

"Tyra!"

His words were stopped, for he had seen the writhing floor—the yellow-jaws converging upon the altar where stood that slim, so-vulnerable figure.

Her voice came out to him, clear and urgent. "Don't come any further! Don't!"

Sandy's light went over the floor again. Great God! The place was alive with the brutes! His brain began turning over a thousand revolutions a second.

"Get as high as you can on the altar. . . . I'll think of a way to get you out of there!"

Tyra's voice came back, higher, more clear. "You mustn't, Sandy! Listen! I have your codex. I'll throw it across to you — then go away . . . you can't help me . . . don't try!"

Sandy did not answer. He had seen by the way she jerked her foot that one of the snakes, at least, had reached the altar. He thought she must have been bitten and something inside of the bounds of reason.

When Sandy and Mr. Fleming had decided upon the sites for the new huts they returned to the center of the camp to find Gil there. A brief conference was held.

"I think we'd all better drop everything else and build the huts," Fleming said. "I'll round up my Yaquis and put them to work getting out bamboo and palm fronds. We write men can clear the site and do the constructing."

Sandy nodded acquiescence and Fleming went off. Sandy turned to Gil. "Where is Helen? Didn't she want to come over here?"

"She wants 'up' when I left, chief. I talked to her through the tent. She said she didn't feel well for me not to wait. She'll come along later."

"Don't know that we should leave her alone, but I guess she can whistle if anything happens. And she has her revolver."

It was Sandy's private opinion that Helen's illness was a mental condition due to her feeling about the Flemings.

Gil was glancing around the camp. "Where is Tyra? I don't see her around."

Sandy felt clamps harden his jaw, but he tried to answer casually. "She was here when I first came over. Probably went in her hut."

Just then Fleming came charging back, one of the Yaquis in his wake.

"Say, you fellows, Manuel met Tyra up above camp going toward the Mayan city and carrying flashlight and axe. She told him she intended to dig yuca roots, but there's no yuca up that way, and besides she wouldn't need the camp axe and a flashlight. She's up to something. Any idea what it is?"

Sandy and Gil shook their heads. Sandy said, "She shouldn't go off alone like that."

Fleming fixed his gaze upon Sandy. "You were talking to her down by the stream. Sure she didn't say anything about what she intended to do?"

"Not a thing," Sandy stated, but a ripple of apprehension passed through his body. She had said: "I've bungled everything."

U. S. Bombers Inferior? It's A Cockeyed Myth

By JOHN GROVER
(For Jack Stinson, on vacation)

WASHINGTON — That British semi-expert who cast slurs on "inferior" U. S. four-motored bombers certainly got a quick and pointed answer to his charges that the American "big boys" lacked armament, fire power and speed. In seven forays unescorted over enemy territory, not a big bomber manufactured in the U. S. was lost.

His crack that the Flying Fortresses and Liberators "lacked speed" — actually U. S. big bombers are faster than any others — got the retort discourteous from an Air Force sergeant when he reports of the raids came in: "Yeah, they ain't as fast as theirs—coming down."

It's the inside report that the RAF is hopping mad over the battling of the American heavy bombardment planes. Actually, they're tickled silly with the performance of U. S. ships in the raids over Germany. The ability of the U. S. planes to take punishment and still reach base has been amazing.

Don't be at all surprised if there's an official slap in the kisser administered to the critic who wrote so wisely and was made to look like a monkey by the work of the big bombers.

Incidentally, it's about time that somebody stepped on these stories that American military airplane design is inferior to Allied and to enemy warcraft. It's a cockeyed myth.

The facts are, American airplanes in all theaters of operations have a plus batting average. They've always downed more enemy planes than they've lost. Operating with U. S. planes considered obsolete, the Flying Tigers knocked down a dozen Jap ships for every one lost.

It can be said authoritatively that U. S. planes are most sturdy built than any in the air today. No other ships will take the punching around and still get home. This is a vital factor in a war where trained flying personnel is even more precious than planes—it takes longer to make a pilot or bombardier.

It has been a keynote of U. S. airplane construction policy that there is no all-purpose plane. Different planes for different jobs has been the rule. The squawk about the inadequacy of P-40 and P-39 planes came from those who didn't know the facts.

These ships were designed as mid-level fighters. Their best work is done around 15,000 feet or less. We've been slow to get into production of fighters for the 40,000-foot level, but our British allies had plenty of high-level fighters, crack ships that ask no favors of any high-altitude fighters. Our own P-38's and P-47's are now coming into quantity production, and they'll equal anything at the top of the aeronautical stairs.

In certain critical sectors, it's been necessary to throw mid-level fighters into the air against high-level enemy ships. Even then, they gave a wonderful account of themselves against odds. The score of U. S. pilots in U. S. ships against enemy aircraft in all sectors where they've seen action far outweighs losses. That doesn't sound like inferior planes.

Marta Defends Her Hus-bond

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — The phone rings. An excited feminine voice with a bewitching accent, high in anguish....

"This is Marta, Eggerth. We met at the studio. You were so nice to me and I am all alone here. I have no one to turn to.... These things they say about my hus-bond, Jan Kiepara, they are not true. He is my hus-bond and I love him, and when they say these things I die.... Would you, could you see him when he comes home so he can say his truth? Please, so kindly...."

A lady in distress, by gum. So it was that one day I put on my battered knight's armor, seized my lance, took the tired old white nag from the stable and galloped to the Kiepara home—first assuring unhappy Marta that the sky will not fall in the interim. But what do I find? The lady is all smiles again. Those "things they say," of course, were the reports of that Chicago performance of "Carmen"—in which Kiepara, Don Jose tossed Gladys Swarthout's Carmen for a footlight loop. Marta, as Vienna, had read into the reports a questioning of her Jan's chivalry, but now she has stopped "dying." She is full of laughter ever.

Before Jan came in, Marta gave me an illustrative performance of Carmen's third-act curtain: Don Jose spurning Carmen. "Jan," said Marta, "always pulls back his skirt—I mean shirt!—so that Carmen can stab him if she will. This time Miss Swarthout asked Jan to throw her away. She asked him to, you see?"

At coffee on the terrace Jan himself—stocky, big-chested, expansive, his Polish accent heavy—gave another spirited performance. He hurled an imaginary Carmen to imaginary footlights, with gestures. But on the whole, he was inclined to be magnanimous about the affair. He would be willing to overlook that Swarthout on previous occasions had had stage accidents, and he, Kiepara, would be the last to suggest that Swarthout had an eye for headlines. All he, Kiepara, would say was that the publicity was worth at least $20,000—and I wish she would give half of it to Polish relief!" He told of the time in Vienna that Jeriza, in "Cavalleria Rusticana," had been furious with Plevier for not hurling her down the church steps, thus robbing her of her big scene.

"Swarthout," he said, "would not have liked it if I did not throw her but just bared my chest. But—we are still the best of friends." Then Jan left these trivialities behind to make a startling announcement. He was going into light opera, he said, because he could not persuade the schnoppes of grand opera to his view that opera in America should be in English.

"Schnoppes?" I puzzled.

"Schnoppes," he explained. "Stuck-up."

"Schnob!" Marta articulated carefully, adoring her hus-bond.

How To Torture Your Husband

Man About Manhattan—

Bringing Out Chiselers

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—Q: What has happened to NY's garbage scoops? Are they braving subs or is the city disposing of its garbage otherwise now?

A: New York hasn't dumped its garbage into the sea in eight years. The garbage scoops were abandoned in 1934. Garbage is disposed of on Rikers Island, at Sound View, in the Bronx, and in incinerators in the five boroughs.

Q: What does a freeing order from the war production board mean?

A: It means that it brings out a lot of chiselers, as all moments of privation do. One of these orders has resulted in a firearms racket that have made guns available to citizens who are willing to pay bull prices.

Here's an example: There's a freeing order on Colt firearms, and on most other makes as well. This means new arms, such as pistols, rifles, can't be sold without a release from the WPB or an order from the FBI. A gun that has never been shot is a new gun. A gun that has been shot just once is not, technically, a new gun. Chiselers at once bought up a flock of guns, fired them a couple of times, and put them on sale at exorbitant prices. Since the freeing order. However, these "second-hand" guns cost plenty. A Colt Police Positive .32, with a list price of $27 was offered for $45. They are bootlegging arms and ammunition the same as gas and rubber tires.

Q: How's Clark Gable getting along in the army?

A: Okay, or else we'd have heard something about it. An order went through that there was to be no more publicity on Gable until he completed his officers' training course. Gable was grateful for this.

Now, however, there is an effort being made to bring Gable to New York for a dramatic appearance at the Garden in a gigantic relief show to be staged there this month. I hope the army refuses. There are enough soldiers and sailors acting in relief shows now. Gable wants to earn a commission and become an aerial gunner in a bomber. He can't do that playing scenes from "Gone With The Wind" at a Garden rally, however dramatic and exciting that would be.

Little Change In The City's Cash Balance

Cash balance of the city's general fund showed a slight decline for August, financial statement compiled by J. D. McWhirter, city secretary, showed Thursday.

The figure was $36,331.94, a net decrease of $46. This resulted from disbursements totaling $23,103.64 against receipts of $22,622. Included in the disbursements was $1,709 in transfer, leaving actual operational and capital outlay expenditures in the amount of $21,402 for the month.

Water billed to consumers amounted to $16,878, or $2,779 less than for July and $2,419 more than for August 1941. Water metered for the month stood at 55,217,580 gallons, nearly eleven and a half millions under the previous month but 12,883,000 gallons more than August a year ago.

Water revenues, from July billings, were up to $17,230. Airport revenues ran to $400, the gas franchise $992, fines and court costs jumped to $1,251. Current taxes amounted to $370 and delinquent payments to $1,006.

At the end of the month the city was able to transfer $1,020 to the swimming pool bond fund for disbursement to the R.F.C. Revenues for this non-tax fund aggregated $720 for the month and the fund transfer and other expenses made disbursements amount to $1,496, leaving the unit with $1,343. The cemetery fund had revenues of $100 and expenses of $51, leaving a balance of $3,056.

Smith Hoping To Speed Up Fund Bills

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (AP)—The 48th Legislature will finish its business in a hurry if predictions of members now in the capital are borne out.

To speed the work on appropriations bills, which usually clog the session in closing hours, Lieut-Gov-elect John Lee Smith plans to appoint members of the senate finance committee immediately after the November elections.

This innovation in the upper house can not be matched in the lower because the speaker, who names its committees, will not be selected until the session starts.

Members of the senate committee will have to work unofficially until the legislature convenes, but Smith was of the opinion that they could dispose of a great part of the detail work in connection with appropriations in advance.

"The head of one large state school has already indicated to me that he will not attempt to replace certain faculty members now in the armed services," said Smith, expressing hope that the legislature would be economy minded.

The state's lawmakers have already been instructed by the party platform to cut financial corners in the face of the certainty of increased federal war taxes.

Employment Office At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 10.—The United States Employment service this week established a local office in the Herrington building, recently purchased by the city-county officials, in Colorado City. E. C. Whipple will be in charge of the service here. Assigned to this territory primarily for the purpose of helping farmers to secure help for crop-gathering, Whipple announced Wednesday that 125 Mexican cotton pickers were available in this area.

Thirty of the Mexicans were promptly hired J. M. Thompson, cotton grower from the Looney community. According to the plan of the regional office of the employment service in Sweetwater, the pickers who are not placed within several days will be sent farther west.

Scrap Shipments From Oil Fields Are Continuing

Shipment of scrap material from Howard county oil fields still continues at an encouraging rate, Ben LeFever, who headed the petroleum industry salvage drive, said Wednesday.

LeFever, who is chamber of commerce president, said last available checks had shown 15 more cars of scrap metal, weighing approximately 600,000 pounds, had been shipped along with six cars of scrap rubber, weighing 156,000 pounds.

The scrap metal was added to 93 cars shipped previously for a total of approximately 3,720,000 pounds. The figures were about a month in arrears, said LeFever.

Japs Lose 25 War Vessels, 300 Planes

MELBOURNE, Sept. 10. (AP)—Allied forces have definitely sunk 25 Japanese warships and transports and destroyed 300 enemy planes and perhaps 500 in less than five months, a review of communiques from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters disclosed today.

The operations all were in the Australia war zone, the area embraced in MacArthur's southwest Pacific command.

Forty-one additional warships and transports were damaged, and a total of 177 enemy planes severely damaged or "probably damaged," making the aerial toll 477.

The real total on enemy airplanes, it was believed, probably exceeds 500 planes since on many occasions when bombs were dropped on parked aircraft there was no means of determining the exact results.

Allied plane losses for the same period cannot be given with any degree of accuracy because many of the early communiques issued by the Southwest Pacific command, beginning April 21, did not give them. The highest allied loss given in a single operation was four planes.

176 Arrests Made By Police In The Month Of August

The Big Spring police department report for the month of August brings to light some interesting facts.

A total of 176 arrests were made of which 31 were dismissed. The majority of dismissed cases represented those charged with gaming and vagrancy.

Only 25 people were charged with serious crimes and these cases were transferred to county authorities.

Drunkness led the list of offenses with 72 arrests and 5 dismissals; gaming and vagrancy followed with arrests of 27 and 21 respectively on these charges.

An average of 4 traffic tickets were handed out each day with a total of 122 for the month, 47 of them given to out-of-county cars.

The police rendered assistance in 366 instances during the month and made 225 investigations of doors of business houses being left open, etc.

Police cars covered an average of 102 miles each on their cruising beats and special calls.

Soldiers' Ration Books Must Be Turned In

Families of men who have gone to the armed services were reminded again Thursday by the sugar ration board that sugar ration cards issued to the men must be returned to the nearest war price and ration board. Use of sugar ration books issued to the men now in the armed forces is illegal and such books are required to be filed at the board until dismissal of men from the service.

File Labor Needs Early, USES Urges

The farm labor problem in Texas is acute, O. R. Rodden, manager of the local United States Employment Service Office, said Thursday.

He advised operators in this community who anticipate labor needs for harvesting their 1942 crops should communicate these needs to the local United States Employment Service immediately.

"Texas is faced with a shortage of experienced farm labor for the first time in its agricultural history," he added.

Rodden said that he had 350 cotton pickers on hand, but that he placed 100 in August, 200 thus far in September, and that it was likely the demands for farm workers could not be met in the succeeding weeks.

He suggested that communities band themselves together to aid in harvesting the crops that pressure might be relieved. And he urged everyone who is available for farm work either full or part time to contact the local United States Employment Service, 105 1-2 East 2nd street, Big Spring, without delay.

Allied Leaders To Watch Maneuvers

HEADQUARTERS THIRD ARMY, SOMEWHERE IN LOUISIANA, Sept. 10. (AP)—Top allied army chiefs, with their eyes cocked toward the opening second front and driving Rommel out of Libya, were here today to watch the third army combat maneuvers work out a problem of tank vs. tank destroyer.

In the next two third army problems powerful armored forces will be arrayed against strong anti-tank units in defense of a flood-swollen river line, supported by bombardment aviation, motorized infantry and combat engineers.

Chief among the high-ranking U. S. visitors are Lt. Gen. Lesley P. McNair, commander of the U. S. army ground forces, accompanied by 15 experts of his staff; Maj. Gen. Harry L. Twaddle, 9th division commander, Camp Swift, Tex., and Brig. Gen. John A. Warden of the western command and Col. Homer St. Gaudens, well known sculptor and ace army camouflage expert.

Farmers Urged To Pool Trucks To Haul Cotton

ABELLENE, Sept. 10. (AP)—The pooling of transportation as a means of getting cotton and other crops to market was urged upon farmers by the West Texas chamber of commerce yesterday.

A rubber shortage and the fact that current tire and tube quotas were below needs to keep farm vehicles operating were cited by the chamber in calling upon local chambers in its area to take immediate steps to meet the problem.

The matter of crop transportation was discussed Tuesday at a meeting in Lubbock called by Mark McGee, state OPA director, who declared affected counties should help themselves in the emergency.

A few farmers with adequate rubber might haul the crops for an entire community, McGee suggested. Washington authorities also will be asked to aid.

The West Texas chamber plan calls for ginners in each county to organize transportation and make it available to farmers needing it.
