Athletics To Be Confined To Intramural

Matadors To Meet No More Opponents In Intercollegiate Sports Until Next Fall Is Ruling Of Board

Organize League

Baseball Will Not Be Revived But May Be Available In Intramural Sports; Lack Of Funds Given As Reason

By action of the Athletic board of control sports athletics will be devoted entirely to intramural sports. Rather than carry on a half-hearted attempt in track and tennis the athletic department will sponsor an extensive intramural program. The Matadors will not meet an opponent in any branch of sport until next fall when Coach Cawthon sends his football team against some of the best teams of the Southwest.

In as much as the school is young and can undergo considerable experimentation without jeopardizing its athletic status the remainder of the year will witness one of the largest intramural programs ever supervised by a Southwestern institution.

Work On Film Is Completed

Work on the film, "The Romance of Lubbock," was completed yesterday with scenes on the college campus by the Photo Art Production Company of San Antonio. The cast is composed of Tech students with Miss Frances Gunn and Brooks Penny playing the leading roles supported by Miss Mildred Price and Raymond Pfleger.

The film will be shown in towns over the Panhandle.

Three Hour Finals Planned Next Year

Final examinations at Tech will cover a period of three hours next year, instead of the two hours that have formerly been allowed, Dean J. M. Gordon has announced.

There has been a rumor on the campus that the change is to be made this term, but this is incorrect. "A large number of other colleges use the longer exam period," Dean Gordon said. Exact schedules have not been planned; however, it is thought that one examination will be given in the morning and one in the afternoon.

CALL ISSUED

Coach Del Morgan announced this week that all men interested in intramural basketball meet at the gymnasium March 3 at 7:30 p. m.

A Faux Pas Prexy Tells Him All About It

Dilatation! When faith in your own alma mater is lost, all hopes are shattered. We hope that we are not carrying this Aggie publicity too far by giving it a front page spread every week, but when we hear a story like good, and on a senior at that, a feeling of duty to our public forces us to print it even if it were on Governor Sterling or Eddie Young.

A story has been going the usual rounds this week that Percy Powers, Aggie senior, paid five dollars for his part on the senior gift. The collector gave him a receipt saying "Received of Percy Powers, $5 for senior gift." The other day Powers decided he would come over to the Ad building and get his gift. He went to Dean Gordon's office, and from there he was directed to the office of our President.

It is a matter of surprise whether this pompous senior was expecting to receive a "Mama" doll, or an expensive box of El Doll. Who knows? Percy does.

Tech Quartet Will Attend Wayland Meet

One Hundred Tech Students Expected To Attend Baptist Meeting At Plainview; Dr. White To Preside

Plans are going forward rapidly for the South Plains B.S.U. conference to be held in Plainview Saturday, February 28, with Wayland College as the host institution. Other colleges sending delegates are Texas Tech, West Texas State Teachers College, at Canyon, and Amarillo Junior College. The quotas are one hundred from Tech and fifty from Amarillo. The Tech quota will be reached, as eighty-five students already have signed to go.

Dr. John Caylor, former president of Burleson College at Greenville, now state B.S.U. secretary, will preside over the conference.

Dr. W. R. White, state secretary, and former pastor of the Lubbock First Baptist church, will be the principal speaker.

The Tech B.S.U. originated the idea of this conference, it being the first regional B.S.U. conference held in Texas. Tech is also well represented on the program.

RUTH HOEN WINS PRIZE
Ruth Horn, daughter of Dr. Paul W. Horn, has been notified that she received fourth prize in the January Reader contest in Scribner's Magazine for her criticism of James B. Wharton's short novel, "Mortal Man."

College Poets Given Chance To Win Prize

All Students Who Are Interested Should Communicate With Henry Harrison, Publisher Of New Anthology

Because of the splendid proportions to which American college and university poetry has grown, Henry Harrison, the New York publisher, will issue an anthology called "American College Verse."

All students who write poetry are urged to communicate promptly with this publishing house, so that they may be sent full details. The anthology will be edited by Mr. Harrison himself, and illustrated by Charles Cullen.

Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded to the authors of the three best poems in this anthology, to be selected by a distinguished board of judges.

Henry Harrison is the author of "Myself Limited," a book of poems that has earned wide critical praise. His work has appeared in more than 100 publications in the United States, Canada, England and France. He has been a poetry critic for years.

Tech Bible Classes Are Entertained With Party

Tech Bible students attended a party featuring the George Washington motif in the parlors of the Methodist church Friday evening.

George and Martha Washington costumes were worn by a number of the guests. The parlors were arranged in red, white and blue bunting.

Contests and charades using the George Washington theme were staged. This entertainment was directed by Mrs. Mary DeBardelle, professor of Bible.

Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Haymes, Rev. and Mrs. G. P. McColloim, Mesdames J. B. McCauley, R. T. Campbell, and C. A. Bieker were special guests.

Tech Represented In Association Of University Profs.

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 25.—Texas has the largest membership of any of the Southwestern states in the American Association of University Professors, while the University of Texas ranks fourth in membership, according to the bulletin of the Association which has just been issued.

Texas is represented in the Association by 235 members, distributed through thirteen different higher educational institutions. Statistics in the bulletin show: Of these 235 members, 104 come from the University, while the next largest representation, 36 members, comes from Texas Technological College.

ORATORICAL CONTEST TO BE HELD IN MAY
The Texas State Oratorical Inter-collegiate Peace Contest will be held in Austin in Friday, May 8, 1931. This contest carries a cash prize of $50, and 400 for first and second place winners respectively.

The preliminary contest to determine the Tech representatives will be held before April 16, depending on entries. The speeches will be on some phase of world peace and will not be more than 15 minutes long. The first and second place winners will be eligible to enter their orations in the Nation Contest.

The tryouts for the oratorical contest will take the place of the oratorical scholarship contest which have heretofore been held each Spring. The winner of this contest will represent Tech at the State contest in Austin. This contest is open to any benefice undergraduate student of the college who is carrying at least nine hours of work and is in good standing in all his courses.

All men who are interested must see Miss Pendleton in the speech office in room 305 of the Ad building.

HOME EC'S MAKE TOYS

Students in Miss Margaret W. Weeks' Child Development class are making toys for three-year-old children. These toys are to be exhibited this week in the home economics building.

"Going Away to School" will be discussed by Rev. J. O. Haymes in sermon during evening at the First Methodist church at 7:30.

Awarding Of Sweaters Is Feature Of "Fun Night"

College Fun Night for men continues to draw the largest audience seen in the Matador arena since its doors were thrown open several years in the past.

More than two thousand men from Lubbock and Tech were on hand last Thursday night when Head Coach Cawthon started the program with the awarding of varsity football sweaters to twenty men. One of these was a manager's sweater to Bo Williams for services rendered in that capacity during the past season. This is the first time in the history of the institution that a manager was deemed worthy of receiving one of the prized awards.

Fish Letters Awarded
Freshman numeral sweaters were handed out by Dutchey Smith, fish mentor. Thirty-two names were called out by the coach as he went down the line.

Iron Man Frizell put on a good show by bending iron spikes in his hands and blowing up an inner tube almost to the breaking point. But a few minutes later he didn't take with a "Minute-Man" exhibition. The "Minute-Man" met him in the center of the ring as soon as the bell changed and laid Frizell low with a hay-maker to the jaw. Despite a home-town

Matadors Win Many Sports Over Mexico Miners Easily

Snow Covered Basketball Squad Arrives Shortly Before Game Time To Give Fans Exhibition Of Loop Tossing

(Special to the Toreador)
SOCORRO, N. M.—A snow covered group of Texas Tech basketball players arrived here a few minutes before game time, stretched their cramp-limbs, tossed 59 points from the loop while the New Mexico Miners were scoring only 10.

The visiting Matadors, after driving through snow and mud all day, were not favored to defeat the Miners. The invaders, however, cut the Miners' lead to 10 points at the end of the first half. The Matadors piled on to it through an hour of irate play. Crews, lanky forward of the visitors, led his team in scoring with 14 points while Hodges, Matador scoring ace and captain, trailed the elongated freshman with an even dozen points. Leon Fisher, Tech's veteran center, and A. F. Darr, fellow New Mexico, piled up 10 points each to swell the invaders' total.

Texas-Exes To Have Banquet

The Texas-Exes banquet will be given Monday March 2, at 7 o'clock at the Elbow Club.

Faculty members who are Texas-Exes are requested to make reservations as early this week as possible, according to Mrs. Dingus, president of the organization, who will preside. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Dingus or with Mr. R. A. Mills. The price is 75 cents.

A good program has been planned. Mr. Edgar Shelton is to lead the singing and Bill Evans will be the yell leader. There is to be plenty of music and plans have been made whereby everyone can get acquainted, according to Mrs. Dingus.

Six Contestants In Tennis Race

All first round matches in the tennis tournament here completed last Sunday and drawing by the six remaining men in the race is due to take place this week to see which two will play the winners in their respective brackets. In the first bracket Mack, Pfleger, and Dunham are due to meet, and Lamm, Rushing, and Mast comprise the other bracket.

Rare Collections Are On Display In Tech's Museum

Tech's geology museum has the distinction of showing the most famous collection of Triassic reptile teeth that exist in the world, according to Dr. L. T. Patton, head of the geology department. These teeth, for the most part, have been gathered from the Swenson ranch in Dickens's country.

A visit to this museum, which is open to students as well as the public, at all times, provides the observer a great deal of material to ponder over.

A beautifully mounted little skeleton, which has all the appearance of being that of a red fox is labeled "Horse." One wonders what kind of joke that is. He finds then a detailed account of the little

Ten Students To Represent Tech At Meet

Conference Of Students Is To Be Held On S. M. U. Campus At Dallas This Week-End; Delegates Have Meeting

Ten students will represent Tech at the North Texas Students Conference which will be held in Dallas next Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. The meeting will be held on the campus of Southern Methodist University under the auspices of the National Council of the YMCA-YWCA Student Volunteer movement, and the Methodist Student Federation of Texas.

The theme of the conference is "The Place of Religion in Higher Education," and some of the speakers on the program are: Harry Bone, Fern Babcock, Dr. Edwin A. Elliot of T. C. U., Ernest T. Webb, of the University of Texas, Dean L. L. Letwith of T. C. U., C. W. Knapp of Indianapolis, Dr. T. B. Mason of the Baptist Seminary of Fort Worth, Lois Elder, field secretary of the Student Volunteer movement, and Dr. J. M. Culbreth, director of the Board of Education of the Southern Methodist church.

Those who are going from this college are: Ursel Armstrong, Riley Millard, H. M. Hickman, Charles O'Neal, Wiley Loughmiller, Cecil Kersey, Margaret Cooper, Miss Jo Wilder, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boyd.

Seniors Must Turn Names Into Dean Gordon's Office

Dean Gordon states that not all of the prospective seniors who are planning to graduate at the end of the spring term have informed the Dean's office of their expectations. No request for graduation will be considered unless it is turned in prior to the beginning of the spring term.

If there are any seniors who are tentative as to whether or not they are due to graduate at the end of the spring term or at the end of the summer session, it behooves them to discover that fact and act accordingly.

Engineering Drawing Stages Workout Special Drawings

Prof. W. E. Street of the Engineering drawing department announces that number of his students are working out special drawing problems. Willard Gray and A. G. Beakler working on perspective and isometric drawings respectively. Freshman pictorial drawings have been completed by number of students. These drawings are colored and washed to show the different materials used in constructing the object selected. Some of the objects thus drawn are, slide valve, step bearing, flanged bearing and fixture for a military arm.

Next Fun Night Is Announced

Now that the first two College Fun Nights for men have come and gone word is received from Coach F. W. Cawthon that the third of the series of Tech spirit builders will be staged March 31, only a short time after dead week. From all indications around the college the men will need something like this to help them recover from the winter doldrums. Coach Cawthon this night will eclipse the two previous ones in every way. He adds further that anyone who has suggestions to make on how the athletic department may improve these nights will be greatly appreciated.

Engineering Students Compete In Annual Lettering Contest

Engineering drawing students under the supervision of Prof. W. E. Street of the engineering drawing department are competing in a lettering contest. Each student is to turn in lettering cards on assigned subjects. On basis of grades they receive six students are to be given first prizes, which will be an award and scroll appropriately inscribed. There also will be a certificate awarded in each section provided no student in that section received a first prize.

SERIES ON "YOUNG MEN"

A Sunday evening series on "Young Men" is being given by Rev. J. O. Haymes at the First Methodist church. The themes are: March 1, "Going Away to School"; March 8, "The Athlete"; March 15, "Playing Your Own Hand"; March 22, "Going With The Gang"; March 29, "Turning The World Upside Down". The series began last Sunday evening with "The Standard Foul". Some one was heard to say, "It was as interesting as the first chapter of a good novel."

TO GO TO AUSTIN

Mr. W. T. Gaston will return to Austin the latter part of the week to attend a hearing on the school budget for the next biennium. Mr. Gaston states that so far there has been nothing done by the Legislature that has any bearing on Texas Tech in the way of financial matters and appropriations.

SIX TECH ENGINEERS TAKE EXAMINATIONS

Professor J. H. Murdough, head of the civil engineering department states that six senior students of his department took civil service examinations at the Federal Building. The students are applying for positions as junior engineers with the United States Civil service bureau. Those who successfully pass the examinations will no doubt receive their appointments this summer.

The Civil Service bureau accepts a number of applicants each year, those who are accepted may be expected to work in any part of the United States or dependencies.

Fame At Last Toreador Gets Recognition

At last The Toreador has gotten recognition from the four corners of the earth.

The Toreador has been heard of at Tulsa, it has been read at Brownwood and the people of McAdoo have read its columns and now comes a letter from the World's Press News at London, England desiring copies of the Texas Tech Toreador. The letter follows:

Dear Sir: We have received numerous inquiries about your paper and should therefore be very much obliged if you would be good enough to send us a specimen copy along with subscription and advertisement rates.

Famous Grid Mentors Sign With Cawthon

Wally Wade And Jim Phelan To Conduct Coaches' Class Here During First Weeks Of August

Two nationally famous football coaches have been obtained by Athletic Director F. W. Cawthon to conduct the coaching school for coaches of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma, and Colorado here during the first two weeks of August.

Wally Wade, Duke University quarterback, who last fall directed the University of Alabama's "Crimson Tide" that defeated Washington State in the Rose Bowl classic and Jimmy Phelan, University of Washington, whose Purdue teams of several years ago created a furor in the national football race, will conduct the Texas Tech coaching school.

These two men unquestionably among the best in the profession in the country, were signed up largely through the efforts of Coach Cawthon.

Second Medal Is Received At Tech

Prof. F. A. Kleinschmidt, head of the agricultural department is recipient of a bronze medal from the Society of Medalists. The medal is the second one received by Prof. Kleinschmidt this year from the society.

The Society of Medalists was formed some time ago to stimulate interest in medallic sculpture. Its membership is composed of prominent artists and patrons of art. Two medals are sent to the members each year.

The medal just received by Prof. Kleinschmidt is of interest because of the conditions under which it was created as well as its artistic merit. The design is that of a former artist and professor here and who was toastmaster at the second Tech banquet will be toastmaster at the feast at Atlanta.

Scientific Representative Inspects Diamond Saw Here

Last week a representative of an eastern scientific company visited the Tech campus and examined the diamond saw made recently by students of the college.

He was greatly interested in the saw and asked permission to take a copy of it to show his company in the East.

The machine is electrically run and has a copper disk which has diamond dust forced into the edges. The rock to be cut is held in position by clamps, according to the inventor, and then brought in contact with the disk. A rock can be cut to its minimum thickness without breaking with this machine.

Carroll Thompson And Garland Smith Meet Amarillo Junior College Team Tonight; Will Start At 8 O'Clock

Freshman debate with Amarillo Junior college to be held tonight. The place to be announced later. Tech that have the affirmative side of the question that "The Nations Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade."

The Tech freshmen who will debate are Carroll Thompson and Garland Smith, both of Lubbock. The Amarillo debaters are Kenneth Woodward and Ray Walling.

This is the first freshman debate ever to be held on the Tech campus and will begin promptly at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

Fifth Annual Feed Is Set For Saturday

Texas Tech Engineers Are To Lay Aside Slide Rules And Attend Annual Banquet At Hilton Hotel

Tickets On Sale

John W. Carpenter And W. T. Strange Will Be Principal Speakers; Class Speakers Already Announced

By Robert Huff
Engineering Reporter
Plans for the Fifth Annual Engineering Society Banquet to be held this week have been completed by the officers of the society. The banquet is to be held in the Matador Ball room at the Hilton hotel Saturday, February 28.

Winifred Wardell, President of the Engineering society states that a very interesting program has been outlined. There will be speeches by class representatives and visiting engineers as well as several special acts. The principal speakers for the occasion are John W. Carpenter of Dallas and W. T. Strange of Big Spring both of these men are well known in Lubbock and are very popular speakers. Mr. Carpenter, who is a member of the Tech Board of Directors, is one of the leading engineering executives of the south. He is president of the Texas Power and Light Co. and the Dallas Railway and Terminal Co. He is also a director of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce and the State Fair association. Mr. Carpenter has three engineering graduates from Tech working for him in Dallas.

Mr. Strange has spoken at the engineering banquet before and his selection this year has met with popular approval of the students. He is one of the outstanding and most competent architects in Texas. Professor Edgar Shelton of the Architecture Department is to be toastmaster.

Mr. Strange has spoken at the engineering banquet before and his selection this year has met with popular approval of the students. He is one of the outstanding and most competent architects in Texas. Professor Edgar Shelton of the Architecture Department is to be toastmaster.

More than three hundred engineering students are expected to lay aside their slide rules and make the "big feed." The occasion has been so popular in past years that several other banquets will be held in various parts of the country for ex-students at the same time. Tickets will be more than eight graduate students at banquets in Atlanta, Georgia, Youngstown, Ohio and Dallas, Texas. It is expected that telegrams will be exchanged and read during the evening as well as the last year.

All engineering students who expect to attend the banquet are requested to buy their tickets as early as possible so that the exact number in attendance can be estimated. It is Toastmaster At Atlanta.

Word has been received from "Pop" King, the Harry Gardner former textile professor here and who was toastmaster at the second Tech banquet will be toastmaster at the feast at Atlanta.

COLLEGE LOAFING

Columbia University held a recent election, in which the "average man of the street", voted that college students spend less than six hours a day in real college work, so goes an editorial in a late edition of "The Lass-o", publication of the Texas State College of Women.

Students may spend a part of their time loafing around the popular "hang out" but the average student gets in a good part of his time doing something worth while. Something that will aid him in future life. As has been stated in the past, college has many ways for students to devote their time where it will do the most good. Even in social life, there are many benefits to be obtained. They inspire dignity; insure neat appearance, and promote a more friendly attitude toward the fellow student. Friends made will surely be an asset instead of a liability.

Student activities offer many possibilities and a survey will show that in colleges they are supported by the majority of students. Many college professors encourage various activities such as those that may be found on the Tech campus. Math majors benefit by joining the math club. Students interested in government will find the international relations club a great help in their studies, etc.

Students should budget their time; allow so much for study, for recreation, and for activities. Then the student would be the best judge on just how much time he is wasting.

CAMPUS STREETS

When it rains it pours and at the same time the Tech campus streets get muddy and slippery. It has been noticed more so this year than in the past because we have had an unusual amount of moisture.

Some gravel placed on the surface and rolled down would help the situation immensely. Tech engineers, under the direction of the civil engineering department, could do the work. They would be doing Tech a favor and at the same time get a wonderful amount of experience.

But where the rub comes in is what can the college use for money. Surely the legislature will appropriate money for Tech to improve the looks of the campus. The paving of the streets would not only improve the looks but would ease the minds of those who drive their automobiles on the campus during rainy weather.

FISH QUEEN ELECTION

The Toreador has sponsored another fish queen election. It is hoped that this is to be one of the many traditions started in Texas Tech. Each year the fish president may join in with the editor of The Toreador and work out plans for the election. The winner will be kept secret until the coronation of the queen at the annual dance given by the freshman class.

It is hoped that the president and members of the freshman were entirely satisfied with the way the election was held. We tried to be as courteous as possible. We were anxious that the election be as fair and square as it could be and we are thankful to the president, Matt Seymour, for his splendid cooperation, his willingness to work, and the manner in which he helped to make the election a success.

Well folks I guess you are just now getting the smiles rubbed off your face from the "T" club minstrel. It would be very embarrassing to some of the professors if during a serious part of his lecture some student just remembered one of the wise cracks pulled last night and burst out into a fit of laughter.

Who can deny that Dr. Jackson is the world's best interlocutor. He is a real sport and always willing to do his part to help out in anything that students are backing. He is head of the government department, interested in athletics, and one of the sponsors of the senior class. The "T" club wishes to extend their sincere gratitude to Dr. Jackson for the help he offered them in making the minstrel a success.

Also, for all students who took part in the show, the directors, and those who helped in any form, the "T" club wishes to thank them for their support. All during the practices much spirit was shown and the students were enthusiastic over the performance.

Another of the fun nights has come and gone. Those witnessing the last one went away from the gym with the satisfaction that enjoyment can be gotten in West Texas without charge. There was a larger attendance and the audience expressed their enjoyment with a louder applause at the show given last Thursday than at the first one given in January.

Probably the best of the performances was the battle royal put on by four colored boys. It was the last event and no one dared to leave the gym because they did not want to miss the main attraction. It is certain that those who stayed were not disappointed.

Faculty members of C. I. A. will stage a "Frolie" for the entertainment of the students. The men on the faculty are to stage a feminine style show. The costumes, or what you want to call them, will be beach ensembles, sport costumes, evening gowns, and "what-nots." It's a good idea for the next fun night. I could recommend several members that would just be perfect for such an occasion. For example, Mr. Pender would look swell in the latest evening gown; Mr. Corry in a beach ensemble; Mr. Condy in a sport dress; and Mr. Langston in lounging pajamas.

The story about Percy Powers paying five dollars on the senior gift and then going up to Dr. Horn's office and trying to get it, is one of the best stories of the year. Sure he's a senior.

Wonder when they are going to start electing kings from the different classes so the man can have a chance.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

GETTING OUR NAMES IN THE PAPER

Well, we just double-dog dare anybody to swipe our column this week!

Honor will come to him who serves—even if we do have to do the honors ourselves! How many of you saw the pictures of our annual staff in the February edition of the Ft. Worth Star Telegram? If you didn't, rake up a paper and look 'em over—that's publicity for you!

We have all been wondering why Hodges has been attending church so regularly and at last we have found out. It is the influence of a certain blonde young lady.

And speaking of going to church—we saw 13 Tech students come in at the Methodist church one Sunday, and last Sunday without even craning our necks, of course, we counted 50 of us. That's fine and we think we should be complimented on it. We all got our pictures taken after it was over. Incidentally we might keep up the good work.

Marlin Mentor is a product of Sulphur Springs. He is just like the last word in the name of his home town—wet. But still O. K. and can he tap dance? Watch him sometime.

A bit of gossip has leaked out that Lucille Hunt pays some unknown person to call her at Brown's when there are a lot of people there so that they will think she is popular. We don't know just how true this is but Lucille everything is fair in Love and war!

Mary Chesaveaux is almost as bad. We haven't been hearing gossip on her, but maybe she knows how to keep her under cover better. Those girls average about one phone call per five minutes. My, my, such popularity must be deserved!

Guess who was here over the week-end? Happy Dalton. It is told that a disruption of relations has occurred between Happy and a brunette in Lubbock. Hihoi! All things must come to an end!

Several other notables were here also, Dizzy Davenport, Marshall McFarland, Earl Colling, and some others. They were all here for the Wranglers dance.

Another Aggie we have discovered that answers the description of our others is B. E. Snider. We rarely see him because that Aggie school keeps him most of the time. But you look him up—it's worth while.

Eddie Young isn't on our staff head but he certainly should be. He is chief advisor. Experience is his middle name because he has worked on such papers as the St. Louis Post Dispatch. He certainly is proving a friend in need to this paper—and don't you think it's improving?

ZULU DANCE CAPTURES PARIS

Paris society has adopted for its favorite dance this season one which was originated by a Zulu tribe. It is called the Mochol, and was imported by a dancing pair who introduced the Charleston into France. They toured Africa last summer and were present at a Zulu war dance. After listening for hours to the beating of drums and managed to catch the trick rhythm watching the native dancers, they were also able to imitate it successfully. The ballroom version of the Mochol has been somewhat modified from the Zulu dance. The music is three-four time, and the dance has something of a fox trot "atmosphere."

A new "show window" grocery bag has been developed by the department of agriculture and North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering. One side is of an open mesh that reveals the contents.

Exchanges

The big "U" on the mountain side up at Salt Lake City is going to get a double coat of white-wash and the Utah frosh will have the job of retouching the letter—Howard-Payne boys have donned the shorts and are now galloping around the cinder path—illness of aunts and uncles mixed in with a dose of weddings are the chief alibis offered by T. C. POST OFFICE ROW IN ULSTER

Claims that practically all good post office appointments are going to Belfast men has caused heated feelings in Ulster. At a recent meeting of the Northern Ireland District Council of the Union of Post Office Workers, held in Derry, it was pointed out that since the establishment of the Northern Government only one Class 3 provincial overseer had received promotion to head postmaster. The head postmaster-ship of Armagh, Ballymena, Coleraine, Cookstown, Derry, Portrush, Omagh, Bangor, Holywood, Newcastle and Strabane are all held by men from Belfast. In addition other Belfast men were promoted to assistant postmasters. Delegates to meeting said that all

Buffaloes Win Over Tech In Two Contests

Matadors Make Moon Sweepers Put Out Everything They Have To Beat Tech's Fighting Quintet; Hodges High

The Canyon Buffaloes defeated the Matadors in both games of the series played at Canyon last Wednesday and Thursday nights 30-45, and 45-29 but they had to use everything they possessed to do it.

On Wednesday night the Matadors played their best game of the season and for a while it looked as if they might hand the highly touted Buffs a defeat on their home court but Joe Fortenberry with 16 counters and Comer with 13 managed to hold off the Bull Fighters until the final gun. Hodges was high point man for Tech with 10 points.

The Buffs were hard-pressed when the half ended 25-23. The last half saw the score gradually mount to 35-29 in favor of the Buffs. Then after another scoring spree it was 44 to 28. The Canyon scoring aces, Fortenberry and Comer, opened up again and at the final gun the scoreboard read 50 to 43. Tech looked their final goal in the last minute of play to cut the Buff's margin down to seven points.

The next night Tech had a fast breaking squad on the floor but they were no match for the moon sweepers of the wind swept prairie. Hodges, who seemed to hit the basket from any and all angles.

This was Comer's night to be high point man with a total of 18 points, 14 of them from the field. Fortenberry and Burk tallied 10 each for second place. Hodges, Crowe, and Darr, forwards, came off with six apiece.

Prize Offered By Store To Students

Minter-Gamel company is offering a unique plan to all Tech students tomorrow morning. From those Tech students who call at this store and register their names, free of charge, there will be held, in the near future, a drawing. The person whose name is drawn will receive five dollars worth of merchandise. The two names registered above and below the winner will receive three and two dollars worth of merchandise.

An advertisement with full particulars will appear in this paper next week. The name of the winners will also be printed in this paper after the drawing, which will take place about the fifteenth of March. In addition to this valuable offer,

Furnishes Music For All College Dances

Frank Stone and his Collegians pictured above have been furnishing the rhythm for All-College dances during the last two years. The orchestra furnished the music for the "T" club Minstrel given last night and are to be on the program Saturday night at the Engineer's annual banquet.

EL TORO

BY JAY TIMMONS

My hat comes off to the sports writer at the home of the School of Mines. He is about the first writer to really give the Matadors a break. "After a hard trip over snow covered roads, the Matadors won recognition in the hearts of those present at the game last night," he said. Much obliged mister and may your job last long and have more raises in the pay envelope.

Tech opened her relations with the University of New Mexico this week although the score was not exactly in her favor. It seems to me that the older Tech gets the better the schedules in an athletic way are. Maybe someday we will have many more Southwestern Conference Football teams on the grid sheet. Here's hoping.

El Toro takes this opportunity to thank those loyal members of the "T" club minstrel for the valuable support they gave during the past two weeks. It was hard work taking their names down in a little book, free of charge, they might win some clothing. No gamble or money involved just pay a visit.

Winter Term Has Full Social Bill

The winter term at Texas Technological college continues to have a full social calendar for the different clubs and societies. This month of the term has characterized the Colonial theme; colonial costumes have been featured on several occasions, the national colors of red, white, and blue, and other symbols of the month have been used.

Concluding this month's social calendar, the feature event of the week is the Las Vivarachas presentation dance Friday evening in the Uptown Dance Palace beginning at 9 o'clock. New members to be presented are Misses Gladys Penocost, Opal Farmer, Temple Boone, Louise Garrison, Louise Arrington, Bobby Woodson, Lella Batchelor, and Esther Morrison.

San Souci club members and alumni members and their escorts will be entertained by the club patronesses and sponsors at a tea dance Friday evening from 5 until 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Stevens, 1406 Avenue O.

Dr. Paul W. Horn's Sunday school class of the First Methodist church will attend a party in the church parlors at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

At The Theatres

FAIRBANKS AT BEST IN FINE LIVELY FILM

Tossing away millions of dollars in a gamble for a girl's love is nothing to a romantic young man who is confident that he can always make more money, but that there is only one girl worth winning.

That's the key to the dashing comedy-drama starring Douglas Fairbanks, with Bebe Daniels as the heroine, which opens Sunday at the Lindsey theatre.

Ultra-modern and sophisticated, brilliant in fashions, settings and comedy, the film was written and directed by Edmund Goulding for United Artists.

It anticipates the trend two years hence and has backgrounds of a modernistic nature created by William Cameron Menzies.

New York is the principal locale, with Fairbanks as a phenomenally successful stock broker, who throws all commercial activities aside to pursue a girl who charms him away from the stock market.

Bebe Daniels is the new type of society girl, immensely wealthy, made for luxury and actively going in for aviation.

Edward Everett Horton, one of the foremost drawing room comedians of the age, makes the picture sparkle with laughter, and excellent work is done by a tried and true cast including Jack Muhlall of stellar fame, Claud Allister, Emmet Corrigan, Walter Walker, June MacCloy, Helen Jerome Eddy, Luana Walters, Phil Teed and Adrienne d'Ambricourt.

A. W. S. MEETS TODAY There will be a meeting of the A. W. S. Council on Thursday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock in room 207. All members are urged to be present as the stock market picture will be discussed for the Mixer to be given next month.

"In the Garden", by the Young People's Choral club and double quartette, a saxophone sextette, and the prelude, offertory, and recessional by the orchestra, are included on the opening service Sunday evening at 7:30.

Bruce Reed, a former student of Tech, together with Misses Frances Elms and Helen Smith, are visiting friends in Lubbock this week, having come from Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Jackson and daughter, Thelma, of Big Spring are guests of Miss Evelyn White, enroute to Clarendon.

Miss Martha McFarland was a visitor to Levelland during the week-end interval.

Getting By The Editor

BY INSPIRED BILL

In spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to— but who it isn't spring time yet—never. The less these rainy days we have had recently has brought to the open air numerous essays created during the long winter months, as well as a few hold overs from last spring.

From his lofty perch ye writer looks down on them and muses as to the probable outcome. Some are no doubt genuine, or rather they think they are, others are merely holding together for the lack of someone better. They are not exactly satisfied with what they have, but at the same time they are afraid to break up being dubious of the future.

Again we have the perpetual Dennis Vinsant, president of the Tech Chapter of the National Intercollegiate Essay Society. Clydes has just right to be proud of our big handsome football player. Rip is being hard pushed for the presidency this year and his position is likely to be usurped by John R. This young man is all smiles these days as he is coming along fast, after eliminating a slight competitor of the winter, and has nothing to worry him, except sleep.

Other officers of the Tech Chapter have not been chosen as yet, probably due to unexpected competition. Gus and Vets are with us again this year, while one of the most startling revelations of the spring is Mose who finds Broadway very attractive, especially the 2300 block. Jelly Kelley is seen on and around Ave. X at Nineteenth quite often, while Dick Bond sorts likes black hair and blue eyes at College Inn. Ben and Gail are out to show the world; we don't know what though. Buck has not received much publicity but he and Martha are right there, so are Bill and Jean. It has been rumored that the hard-boiled Sergeant Coker softens his features when he sees Jo.

Lougridge and Houle have found that it isn't far from College Club to College Inn. Yes you guessed it the first time; Gertrude and Evelyn are the lucky (?) girls. We do not belong to this exclusive organization however some of our fish have been invited. Miss Dorothy Rylander, president, extended a formal welcome to new members who were presented to the club last month.

A huge bouquet of red tulips and white roses in a blue bowl centered the table. Miniature hatchets were used in the appointments, and sweet pea corsages were given as favors.

In attendance were Misses Alyne Odum, Nina Gordon, Imogene Gordon, Corene Ratcliff, Lois Thompson, Mildred Harris, Ruth Mildred Rylander, Elizabeth Adams, Lois Karnes, Lillie Fette, Sue Shaw, Marie Rutherford, Majorie Drake, Georgia Lee Drake of Memphis, Murrel Rankin, Mesdames Ethridge W. Eagan, Weldon Snodgrass, Hal Yoder, and Raymond Burford.
