Soph-Junior Judges Will Vie Saturday

Any Agricultural Student Who Has Completed As Many As 70 Term Hours Is Eligible For Contest

To Give Plaque

Various Prizes Offered In The Different Departments To The Winners In The Different Divisions

The second annual sophomore-junior livestock judging contest will be held Saturday beginning at 7:45 a. m. in the aggie pavilion. Officials will be W. T. McKinnis, superintendent, and J. P. Dornay, and B. E. Snyder, secretary. Any student in agriculture who has completed 70 credit hours and who will not graduate by August will be eligible to participate.

Beef cattle, dairy cattle, hogs, horses and sheep will be judged.

Prizes offered:

Professor R. C. Mowery will present a plaque to the high man of the contest; W. J. Largent, Merkel, will present a "History of Hereford, and Hereford Bull Index" to the high man of beef cattle; McSpadden Brothers, Jersey Breeders, Canyon, will give "Dairy Cattle Feeding and Management," by Larson and Putney to the high man in dairy cattle; W. T. Gaston, business manager of Texas Technological college, will donate "Productive Horse Husbandry," by Gay to the high man on horse raising; G. Murray, Lubbock, will be donor of "Productive Sheep Husbandry," by Coffey, to the high man in sheep.

In case of a tie the contestant who has the highest placing grade will receive the trophy. In case there is still a tie, then the contestant that has the highest standing in the contest will receive the trophy. If placing and reasons should be the same for a tie high man of the contest, then the contestant that has the highest average rank in the five divisions of livestock will receive the trophy.

Students who have signed up for the contest are as follows: James Potts, William Gregory, O. Holly, J. W. Greene, E. R. Steen, Pruitt Siders, Buford Browning, Floyd Wilkes, Jesse Young, Herbert Davis, Dick Perrin, Tom Porter, Sam Henry, Lancy Hazel, T. L. Leach and E. G. Cauble.

Elder Is Fish Judging Winner

Other High Individuals Are Brumley, Murphy, Wilkes, Fuller, Labaj, Liles and Bratcher

Out of a possible 750 points, Henry Elder placed 660 Saturday to win the 1932 freshman livestock judging contest and win the gold medal presented by the Tech College Book store. The fictitious livestock judging team, the high six individuals, is composed of five boys and one girl. Henry Elder, Clayton Fuller, Walter Labaj, Guy Liles, Guy Bratcher, and Vivian Murray.

High individuals of each group are: Brumley (horses), Murphy (dairy cattle), Elder and Wilkes (hogs), Elder (sheep), and Fuller (beef cattle).

Order of ranking according to points is as follows: Elder, 660; Fuller, 654; Labaj, 645; Liles, 637; Bratcher, 621; Wester, 618; Brumley, 617; Brown, 615; Shipman, 604; M. C. Rummen, 604; Wilkes, 601; Murphy, 598; Mitchell, 598; Jackson, 596; Murray, 594; McGowan, 593; Donnell, 592; Leach, 587; Smith, 583; Fox, 578; Perrin, 574; Harris, 574; Sutton, 568; Cowan, 561; Roberts, 542; Nash, 541; Smyth 532; and Cardwell, 500.

Officials in the contest were: Professor R. C. Mowery, sponsor; Euel Limer, superintendent; Jason Gordon and Fred Nix, section leaders; and Robert Huser and E. G. Cauble, clerks.

Pupils Of Home Ec Grads Win Honors

Pupils of two Tech home economics graduates were awarded high places at the State Home Economic rally in Mineral Wells April, 28-30, according to information received here Tuesday.

A pupil of Miss Ruby Kennedy, a 1931 Tech graduate, received first places in party dresses among class B contestants. Miss Kennedy teaches in the Levealand schools.

Entrants of Miss Evelyn Jennings, also a 1931 graduate, placed third in class A schools. They won first in toys selection, and in the judging of family dietaries, and won third in the selection of household linen. Miss Jennings teaches in Colorado high school.

Band Concert Is Tomorrow Night

An open-air concert by the Tech Matador band will be given tomorrow night from 8 o'clock until 8:45 on the south side of the administration building.

This concert will be the last of a series of musical programs given through the city in observance of National Music week.

After the concert several members of the band will give special numbers on KFYO, local broadcasting station, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Co-ed Edition To Appear Thursday

The only special edition of The Torador for this year will appear next Thursday in the form of a co-ed edition.

Miss Emma Jean Douglas, regular woman's editor, will serve as special editor, with Miss Bonnie Thomas as associate editor, Kathleen Jennings, as sports editor and Miss Lorene Childers as news editor. Miss Jennings is also woman's editor on the regular staff of The Torador. Miss Childers is regular society editor and Miss Thomas is assistant news editor.

The regular sports column, "Under the Double T," will be edited by Miss Jennings, featuring events of the W. A. A. is preparing a special column, "play day" Saturday. Miss Childers is preparing a special column, "The Co-ed's Angle."

Campus happenings will be covered as usual, but most all material in the publication will be written by women. Co-eds in the various journalism classes will assist the special staff members.

Tech Teachers Are Present At Engineer Meet

W. E. Street Presents Paper; Dean Adams Presides Over Session; Tribute Is Paid To Dr. Paul W. Horn

Eleven engineering professors attended the annual meeting of the Association of Engineering Education society at the North Texas Agricultural college, Arlington, and at Southern Methodist university, Dallas, Friday and Saturday.

Professor W. E. Street of the drawing department presented his own paper entitled, "Objective and New Type Tests and Their Applications To Engineering," at Arlington Friday.

Dean D. V. Adams presided over the session at Southern Methodist university on Saturday. Professor C. L. Svensen, head of drawing department, responded to the welcome address given by Dean Davis of the North Texas Agricultural college by paying tribute to Dr. P. W. Horn.

Drawing Division Formed

In connection with the engineering education meeting, the engineering drawing teachers of Texas met at the Baker hotel Friday night and formed a drawing division of the Engineering Education society. The plans and objectives of engineering drawing were discussed and a drawing contest among engineering drawing students of Texas was decided upon for next year. Next year, the objectives and system of grading will be discussed.

The institutions represented at this meeting were: Kingsville, A. & J. Southern Methodist university, Rice Institute, Texas A. & M., and Texas Tech.

The professors and their wives making the trip were: Dean and Mrs. O. V. Adams, C. D. Brandt, C. V. Bullen, V. L. Doughtie, L. S. Grandy, H. Hardgrave, R. E. Lewis, J. H. Murdough, C. C. Perryman, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Street, and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Svensen.

Co-Ed Play Day Is Climax Of All Athletic Contests

Contestants Will Be Excused From Classes

More than 300 co-eds are expected to take part in the second annual "Play day" Saturday which will be the climax of a year's work in the various sports by girls of Texas Tech. This is to be sponsored by the women's physical education department and the Women's Athletic association, the purpose being to promote better sportsmanship among the women and give them an opportunity to play more.

Registration for the all-day event will be held in the east rotunda of the administration building and in the gym at the office of Miss Johnnye Gilkerson and Nella Riegel, Thursday and until 5 o'clock Friday. All girls who register and buy their tickets, the cost of which is 25 cents, will be dismissed from all classes Saturday. These tickets permit the girls to enter any of the activities scheduled as well as including the lunch to be served at noon.

Limitation Placed

According to Jo Cowsett, president of the W. A. A. there will probably be some limitation on the number of sports each girl enters, this is in order that no girl will be overworked herself.

Mary Louise Baskin is chairman of the program committee, and Leona Gehl has charge of the refreshments.

Any girl who is attending Tech is eligible to enter the contests. Many former students are planning to attend, among them are Margaret Baskin, who is teaching at Tulla; Lola Smith, Tahoka; Rowena Grant, Brownfield; Mary Frances Gage, Lubbock; Effie Lou Keaster, Channing, and Ruby Harbinson of Post.

PARKER TAULMAN

In announcing his candidacy for editor of The Torador for the coming school year, Parker Taulman, sophomore liberal arts student of Fort Worth said: I am majoring in journalism, have had two years experience on La Ventura, one year as a reporter for The Torador, was a "printer's devil" on the Hubbard City News for one year, and worked for the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram one year.

At the recent Southwestern Journalism Congress held in Belton, Texas, April 8 and 9, I was elected president of the Student Press Club that is representative of the following colleges and universities of the Southwest: Texas university, Oklahoma university, Southern Methodist university, college of Industrial Arts, Texas Christian university, Baylor college, Baylor university, Tulane university, Trinity university, Texas A. and M. and Louisiana State university.

Parker Taulman.

BONNIE THOMAS

To the readers of The Torador, and students of Texas Tech, I, Bonnie Thomas, submit myself for approval to the editorship of the official Tech weekly publication.

I believe in Tech athletics, and as editor of The Torador guarantee a good, peppy sports page.

My idea of a well-balanced paper is one that keeps in touch with every school on the campus, and lends unprejudiced publicity to enterprises, a page home economics and liberal art students alike. Every campus club must have a papers most congenial cooperation and all scholastic enterprises its most hearty support.

It is my aim to make The Torador just such a paper.

I have had two years of experience on The Torador, last year as assistant news editor, during which time I have learned all of the politics and routines of that paper. Also I worked for three years on a high-school publication. Thus, I believe I am thoroughly acquainted with the organization of a news staff.

After all, can a person work at a job from eight to twelve hours a day without learning a great deal about it? And for that reason I believe I know The Torador, and would appreciate your support in the election next Monday and Tuesday.

Bonnie Thomas.

Tech Student Is Killed In Auto Accident

Crash Was Unavoidable; Death Resulted Within Two Hours; Burial Was Wednesday; Was Junior Liberal Arts Student

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock for Mrs. Jesse McIlhenny, 20, of 1906 Avenue N, who was fatally injured when struck by a passing automobile Sunday afternoon at 6:15 o'clock in front of the First Baptist church.

The young woman was active in Baptist circles, and was a junior student in the home economics school. She and McIlhenny had been married since September, 1930.

Mrs. McIlhenny and her husband had got out of the car, parked at the north curb on Main street across from the First Baptist church, and had started around the car to cross the street.

Carl Turner, driver of the automobile which struck Mrs. McIlhenny, was traveling west on Main street, and due to the sun blinding him at that hour of the day, he did not see Mrs. McIlhenny when she stepped out into the street. Police questioned Turner, who lives four miles southwest of Lubbock, and witnesses, and reported the accident unavoidable.

Pushed In Front of Car

Pushed in front of the heavy coupe for about 20 feet, Mrs. McIlhenny suffered a fractured skull, severely lacerated scalp, crushed left chest, broken left thigh, and severe body lacerations and bruises.

Mrs. McIlhenny was struck at 6:15 and was taken to the West Texas hospital by a Sanders ambulance. She died at 8:45 that night.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist church, and burial was in the Lubbock cemetery. Sanders funeral directors were in charge.

Surviving Mrs. McIlhenny besides the husband are: Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Davis, who live two miles south of Lubbock; and four sisters, Mrs. W. E. Ryan, Midland; Mrs. O. L. Clark, Tipton, Okla.; Mrs. R. B. Burnett, Amarillo; and Miss Geraldine Davis, Lubbock. All were here for the funeral. Mrs. Davis was in Midland at the time the accident occurred, but arrived in Lubbock at 3 o'clock Monday morning.

Hot Political Fight Is On As 11 Enter Race

Nine Men Students And Two Co-Eds Enter Race For Publication Posts In Election Monday And Tuesday

To Vote By Ballot

Election Will Be Under The Direction Of Student Council; Petitions Are Approved Tuesday Night

With 11 candidates seeking the four publication offices, one of the hottest political campaigns in the history of Texas Tech is under way.

Three students, Lois Jacques, Bonnie Thomas, and Parker Taulman are seeking the editorship of The Torador. Audrey (Jelly) Brown and Joe Harter are running for business manager of the campus. A trio from class of 1932, Everett Fairchild and Robert (Red) Huff are in the race for editor of La Ventura. J. W. Timmons, Charles O'Neal and W. R. Underwood, Jr., are candidates for La Ventura business manager.

Club elections will be held Monday and Tuesday with voting by secret ballot. Ballot boxes probably will be placed in the east rotunda of the administration building and in the engineering building. The election is under the direction of the student council, of which Don Maddox is president.

In this week's edition of The Torador will be found the platforms of the 11 candidates. It is probable that the largest vote in the history of the college will be cast next week.

Petitions of the 11 candidates, were approved at a meeting of the Student council Tuesday night. The official ballot will read as follows:

FOR TORADOR EDITOR
Lois Jacques
Bonnie Thomas
Parker Taulman

FOR TORADOR BUSINESS MANAGER
Audrey (Jelly) Brown
Joe Harter

FOR LA VENTANA EDITOR
Everett Fairchild
Robert (Red) Huff

FOR LA VENTANA BUSINESS MANAGER
J. W. Timmons
Charles O'Neal
W. R. Underwood, Jr.

Senior Class Picks Design

Kaderli Wins Contest As Designer Of Tablet To Be Placed In Sally Port; To Be Put Up By June

For the past two weeks the senior class has been sponsoring a contest among the architectural students in the designing of a bronze tablet as a tribute to Dr. Horn, which is to be the gift to the school from the class of 1932. Through a process of elimination the contest narrowed to two students, Clifford James of Lubbock and Hilton Kaderli of Stanton.

Originally the senior class offered a prize of $5 to the student producing the best design and as there were parts of both of the designs presented by James and Kaderli that needed changes, judges decided to let the remaining contestants compete and make the necessary change. The designs were finished last Saturday and were judged by F. A. Kleinschmidt, E. G. Shelton, and Jack Durham whose decision gave Kaderli's design first place. However, as both designs passed expectations of the judges and were very close in competition, it was decided that the cash prize be split.

The design of the plate is in keeping with the architecture on the campus and is to be placed in the Sally Port of the administration building. It is to be three feet high by two feet wide, the upper half of which is to be reserved for a base relief of the president and the lower part to be reserved for the following inscription: "Paul Whitfield Horn, first president Texas Technological college, 1925-1932. Educator, Christian, Citizen, Friend, Writer. A tribute from class of 1932."

According to Jack Durham, the name of the designer will also appear on the plate. The cost of the gift is estimated to reach the amount of $300 and is to be installed as soon as negotiations covering the cost of the transaction are collected.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. King are the parents of a boy baby born last week. King is a Tech student.

Seniors Collect For Class Gift

With the design for the bronze tablet for the 1932 graduating gift selected, plans will be completed within the next few days, according to Jack Durham, senior president. The gift will cost approximately $300 and will be presented before school is out.

Several seniors are collecting $3 from each member of the class to pay for this gift. Durham is asking that all students planning to graduate in either June or August pay their $3 to any of the following: James Dornay, Tom Abraham, Olat Lodall, Lalah Gage Rodgers, Durham, M. C. Forny, Vivian Murray or J. P. Ruhman.

Eleanor Simmons Is New Latin Head

Miss Eleanor Simmons will head the Tech Latin club, S. P. Q. R., following the annual election Tuesday night. Miss Agnes Klein is the outgoing president.

Club members held their last meeting of this school year in the form of a party at the home of Mrs. William Dingus Tuesday night. Mrs. Dingus is head of the Tech Latin department and sponsor of the club.

Sarah Haynes was program chairman for Tuesday night's entertainment. Several old Latin games were placed and a Latin spelling match was held. About twenty were present.

A TEST FOR FRESHMEN

Just what is behind members of the 1935 class will be clearly brought to light Saturday week when Tech's "fish" reign supreme for one day. In the opinion of The Toreador, the freshman day event is one of the most worthy affairs sponsored each year in the college.

For one day, freshmen will get their shoes shined free, will have their bath drawn; that is, upperclassmen will be at the disposal of "fish" on May 14. A good freshman will not abuse his privileges that day, but rather will exercise his authority only in a sportsmanlike manner. On the other hand, good upperclassmen will not play "yellow" on that eventful day, but instead will be sports.

It is the wish of The Toreador that both freshmen and upperclassmen will act sensible when "Fish day" rolls around and that it can be remembered as one of the highlights of the college careers of the 1935 class members.

For "Fish day" is necessary and of special benefit. It gives both freshmen and upperclassmen a chance to see the "other side."

MAY IT BE A SUCCESSFUL DAY

All the athletes on the Texas Tech campus are not in the Matador camp; neither are they intramural stars.

For a great man athletes may be found among the co-ed ranks. Those who hold to the opinion that co-eds can do nothing but attend "tea sippings", go to dances, or perhaps pound a typewriter will have to change their ideas if they attend the annual "Play day" at the Tech athletic field Saturday. Practically every sporting contest from basketball to standing broadjump is to be sponsored by the Tech Women's Athletic association.

The contests Saturday will be exceedingly worth while. For co-eds in Texas Tech do not limit their activities to the tea room or dance floor.

GET THE SIGNS STRAIGHT

It is no wonder that students get the meeting nights of the various organizations mixed up if they attempt to go by the notices on the blackboards. All of them are meaningless.

Such signs as "notice", or "meeting tonight, or "the so and so club will meet tonight" mean nothing to students when they see the same sign on the board or walk for ten days. For who knows when tonight is?

If an organization wants to advertise a meeting on the boards or on the walks, well and good. But if you want them to mean something write them legibly, include in them the night the organization is to meet, and when the meeting is over, erase them.

If this practice were carried out students would pay more attention to them.

NO CLASS OR SCHOOL EDITIONS

Since The Toreador should be a representative newspaper, chronicling each week all campus happenings that news, it has been decided that there will be no special school or class editions this year.

Perhaps in smaller schools where news is scarce each week school or class editions are justified. But not in Texas Tech. When the attempt is made to issue aggie, engineering, home economics, liberal arts, freshman and senior papers, the student body is without a representative campus paper for six weeks. The desire to issue each week a representative campus newspaper prompted Toreador officials to discard the old plan of having these six special Toreador which, in reality, were of interest only to special sections of the campus.

The only special this year will be a co-ed Toreador, out next Thursday. As usual, however, all the campus news will be covered, but will be written up by Tech women. Aside from this, a little more of the co-ed angle of the campus will be presented; the sports column, "Under The Double T" will be written by a co-ed.

It is hoped that The Toreador will each year be an even more representative campus paper, and that no editions will be published that appeal to only a special lot. Texas Technological college is too big an institution for such publications.

HOW swiftly the mind races on to success! How slowly the feet go dragging after. . . . "It isn't what you need but what you get that makes you fat." . . . Happiness is not something we attain. It is something we resign ourselves to. . . . Do not measure one individual against another. To get the measure of a man stand him up against the man he is capable of being. . . . It seems to be pretty well accepted by every one that the best possible way to select men for office is through an election, the winner being the one who receives the majority of the votes cast. How absurd! Why do we not let the candidates compete in a footrace? That would be simpler, quieter, more economical, wiser.

Some hints to help you win
Here are some facts about the world's two largest selling shaving creams - Colgate's and Palmolive. Here are some of the reasons why men prefer these famous shaving creams.
PALMOLIVE
1. Multiplies itself in lather 350 times.
2. Softens the beard in one minute.
3. Maintains its creamy lather for 10 minutes.
4. Fine after-effects due to olive oil content.
COLGATE'S
1. Breaks up oil film that covers each hair.
2. Small bubbles get down to the base of the beard, hold water against each hair as the lather and work it soft where the razor works.
3. Gives a clean, comfortable shave due to small bubble action.
4. Gives a lasting, 24-hour shave.

Matadors Show Up Well In Game With Buffaloes And Win 13-6; Tech Scores In First Quarter

OLYMPIC SIDELIGHTS

(Editor's Note—From time to time for the remainder of the year, The Toreador will publish this column written by Leonard Horwin, especially for college papers.)

BY LEONARD HORWIN
Fencing, to my mind, is an artistry almost more than a sport.

"Some of its masters, such as the 70-year old Hungarian, Hallo Santelli, grand old man of fencing who is said to possess even yet the world's fastest dueling hand, have spent lifetimes in perfecting it."

And H. G. Feraud—lanky, ruddy-faced fencing mentor of the L. A. A. C. and one of the Directors Technique managing the bouts of the Xth Olympiad—paused to wave his hand toward the picture of those who had made good, looking down from the walls of his office.

The elderly master of the cold steel art added laughingly—"Perhaps also because of the great technicality of the game, a high type of intelligence is required. At any rate, technicalities have made possible some very unorthodox acts and even unfair play, especially in the heated Olympic struggle."

There are times when the ultimate end of sportsmanship will be lost sight of in the ultimate goal of victory—a contestant denying the blow received when more than the human eye of a judge is needed to follow it as the lightning attack is met by the coup d'arret and the fighters go into a corps-courps.

Greeks Had A Word For It
Those ancient sports-lovers who through the Olympic Stadium in the tiny vale at the foot of the hill of Cronus and offered up physical perfection as a tribute to Zeus, knew well the value of strict rules and the temptation to unorthodox acts.

Before the huge altar to Zeus rising in the center of the Sacred Altis—the athlete, his father, brothers, and even gym teacher had to swear to commit no unethical acts. And with all that, a whole row of bronze images were set up along the Altis out of fines exacted for violation of rules.

New For Old
The ancient Altis at the foot of the hill of Cronus is exchanged in 1932 for a modern city with its never-ending line of habitations, parks, and pleasure resorts spreading at the feet of high-flung ranges and upon the mountains themselves—spreading from mountains to sea, from sea to desert, and from desert to orchard-covered plain.

The rude Stadium in the case of fencing, exchanged for the $300,000 Olympic Fencing Pavilion, capable of housing several thousand on-lookers, and flooded with light through a glass roof installed at a cost of $150,000. The Pavilion stands next door to the Olympic Stadium.

A heavy wooden floor is being constructed over a part of the drill room and four tamped earth strips, 170 feet 7 1/4 inches long and 10 feet wide, inserted in the floor as the dueling area.

The events themselves, taking place every day of the 16-day Olympiad, are divided into three classes—folds, dueling swords or epee, and sabres or the cut-and-thrust weapon. Each of the eighteen nations expected to participate in August will be represented by a 4-man team and three entries for the women's events, with no team events among the women—about 125 fencers in all.

American Collegiate Bid
Although the American team's chances are dimmed as somewhat dismal, yet collegemen are going to make a strong bid for places on it.

L. George Calnan, a graduate from the ranks of the boys at Annapolis and third place winner in the 1928 epee events, is a favorite. Joseph Levis, formerly of Massachusetts Tech, is rated high along with Cohn and Alessandrini of Columbia. Every, Huffman, Rieheimer, and John Potter of Old Eli. Ted Lorber, formerly of

Approximately 3,000 Spectators Witness Night Game In Canyon; Curfman, Butts And Moffett Star

(Special to The Toreador)

CANYON, April 30.—Texas Tech Matadors ran wild here against the Buffs to win 13 to 6. The game was the first night football game to be played in the Buff stadium this season and was witnessed by about 3,000 spectators. Tech gained consistently through the Buff's line but was hampered somewhat by a large number of penalties.

Tech's scoring started early in the first quarter after an exchange of punts when Leonard Curfman, burly fullback, took the ball over from the twelve-yard line. Goal kick was missed.

In the second quarter, Aubrey Butts and Milton Moffett carried the ball seventy-five yards down the field in a sustained march and Moffett scored, carrying the ball over in one play from the sixteen-yard line.

Canyon scored in the final quarter after a pass had been intercepted by Cow Williams on Tech's 35-yard line and returned to the 25-yard marker. A pass from Burke to Fowler put across the touchdown.

Freshmen Star
It was hard to tell just which Tech team performed the best although a number of 1931 freshmen players were outstanding in play above a number of regulars. Hitchcock at end, Malcolm Martin at end and Priddy at guard were line stars while Butts, Moffett and Dowell in the backs.

Cow Williams was the main star for the Buffaloes, being the only Canyon player who was able to gain at all through the Tech line.

Tech was penalized 153 yards during the game but in spite of that gained nearly four yards to the Buffs one, making 15 first downs to Canyon's four.

Dean and Mrs. O. V. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. William Dingus were dinner guests in the practice house recently.

Ohio State, together with Corbin, formerly with the U. C. L. A. Bruins, and Ralph Faulkner have qualified for the American Olympic Team by winning individual Pacific Coast championships in April, 1932.

European Fencers Lead
Both in the men's and women's events, France, Hungary, Italy and Germany, with a very possible strong bid from Argentina where fencing has been taken very seriously of late, loom large. Lucien Gaudin, France's 1928 poised lightning and defensive style marvel who broke the three-way fols tie after two weeks' grueling competition and fainted from exhaustion after the last thrilling match, will not be competing in the Xth Olympiad. His place in the French ranks will probably be taken by Rene Lemoin, 1932 all-European fols champ, Pignotti and Gaudini, Italian colossus 7 feet 4 inches in height, along with the blond German husky, Captain Caamir, will be expected first-rankers in the Xth Olympiad.

Germany will probably be literally "uber alles" when Fraulein Helene Mayer, attractive 24-year-old college girl and 1928 Olympic women's champion, trains her steel leg in masculine way on opposing femininity. Tillie Merz, like Helene a German university woman, is expected to share laurels with Helene.

BY LYLE HOLMES
Toreador Sports Editor

The Canyon Buffs were a scrappy bunch and put up the kind of fight that they were expected to before the game was played. The existing grudge that prevails between Tech and the Buffs was no doubt the chief cause for the Matadors falling to pile up a larger score. A large part of the game consisted of fighting and resulted in numerous penalties for Tech. Two hundred yards in penalties was assessed the Matadors.

Several Matadors made good showings but not many of the players got to play long enough to determine their real ability. Not once did Coach Cawthon have on the field what might be called a first team. The most outstanding players seemed to be divided among the teams, some being on one team and others on other teams.

But once did Coach Cawthon have on the field what might be called a first team. The most outstanding players seemed to be divided among the teams, some being on one team and others on other teams.

According to Coach O. C. Cory extensive plans have matured and new tennis courts are now under construction. The tennis team to date has been in dire need of courts they can call their own. Matador players have no way of practicing together which makes it almost impossible for them to team together and give their best in matches. The new tennis courts are sorely needed.

Matador golf players have been unable to set a definite date for their match with Simmons. At the present the Cowboys are having a tournament to determine their best players and until the tournament is finished no definite date will be set for the match.

The Matador dance will be held in the gym May 20. The finals will be held in all weights, both wrestling and boxing, for the championships of the college. The best men in every weight will be seen in action. This next all-college fun night should be the best of the year. Every contender has been through a year's training and should be able to exhibit most of the fine points known to fighters.

New Centaur Members Are Not Speaking This Week

Don't talk to any member of the Centaur club this week, because you will get no answer except a written one.

Beginning last Monday morning at 12 o'clock, and continuing until next Sunday morning at 12 o'clock, all new members of the Centaur club are forbidden to speak to anyone outside of classes. This is our phase of the club initiation. The final initiation ceremony will be tomorrow night.

Jimmy Henley is chairman of the initiation committee and Gordon Dickson is president of the club.

Educators Say Character Is Not Stressed

Dr. Burma States That Modern Trends Of Education Do Not Develop The Student; Tech Officials Attend Meet

One of the outstanding speeches at the meeting of the Association of Texas colleges in Dallas last week-end concerned "Modern Trends in Higher Education," by President J. H. Burma of Trinity University, according to Tech executives returning from there Sunday.

It is the belief of President Burma that tax-payers and the general public are taking a critical attitude toward modern colleges with the idea that higher education is not sufficiently stressing character development, and placing too much emphasis on the scholastic side of life.

Another feature of the meeting that included colleges of Texas, was the setting of standards for those institutions with rating according to first, second, and third classes. Dean J. M. Gordon, of Tech, was one of the members on the committee to set these qualifications.

President Bennet Bizell, Oklahoma university, suggested that a regional southwestern association of colleges, including Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Arkansas, be organized, since these four states are more closely connected with each other than with the Southern and Northern conferences to which they belong. A committee was authorized to make preliminary discussion on tentative plans for such an organization, and definite plans will be taken concerning those plans at the meeting next year.

Tech men attending the associations, which was made up of presidents, deans, registrars, and business managers, were Dean J. M. Gordon, Registrar E. Doherty, and W. T. Gaston, business manager.

Professor J. F. McDonald attended the correspondence and extension division of the meeting, and is on the committee to decide the nature of the extension class credits as equivalent to class credits. He is to work with the committee during the ensuing year, giving a report on the results at the next annual meeting.

Eleven Candidates For Publication Posts Present Platforms This Week

business men of Lubbock for the past six years, and have worked in town and know all the business men, which is very essential. I attended a journalism congress and have many good ideas, which I have in mind to carry out. I have served as advertising man for the local high school paper. My business experience, I think, qualifies me for this office.

ADREY JELLY BROWN.

JOE HARTER

In seeking the office of business manager of The Toreador, I base my candidacy upon my experience with business men in various lines of work.

In my three years in Tech I have met personally and have come into contact with many of Lubbock's leading business men.

My sole promise is that I will devote all my time to the business end of The Toreador and will cooperate with the editor and staff to the best of my ability.

JOE HARTER.

EVERETT FAIRCHILD

In announcing his candidacy for editor of La Ventana, Everett D. Fairchild, junior, liberal arts student from Plainview, gave the following statement to the press:

If elected, I will use Tech talent in preference to the stereotype work of foreign engraving plants, advocate a 9 by 12 yearbook in preference to the present six annual, publish a book that will be representative of the school, of the spirit, and of the general student body.

As to my experience in yearbook work, I edited the Plainview high school annual of 1929, have been a member of La Ventana staff for the past three years and at present, I am art editor of the annual which will come out in June.

EVERETT FAIRCHILD.

ROBERT (RED) HUFF

In announcing my candidacy for editor of La Ventana, I wish every one of Tech candidates to be fellow-up as "experience and efficiency." Stated in an unqualified and arbitrary manner these two words have no meaning. Because I am using these two popular words in my campaign, an explanation seems desirable.

First, every position I have ever had, has been on a commission basis with a pre-requisite of salesmanship. Logically then, I may use the word "experience."

Second, for a salesman to make money he must make every minute count. I have always made money in sales work, I may then call myself "efficient." Q. E. D.

In conclusion, the fact that I need the money that goes to the business manager of La Ventana is not an issue. It is important, however, to remember that to get the money it is first necessary to get plenty of advertisements. So it is that I introduce the campaign word of "energy," and claim it for myself.

plays no favorites to any particular organization, but on the other hand I will treat all organizations fair and equal and discriminate against none.

J. DOYLE SETTLE.

J. W. TIMMONS

You recently asked for my platform on which I am to run for business manager of La Ventana in the student elections to be held May 9 and 10, so here it is in a few words.

All that I have to offer the student body is a record of three years actively on the two student publications of this institution. Two years as business manager of The Toreador, one year as associate editor of the annual. I have never been a candidate for any position on these publications, but was assigned by the Publications committee, to the positions, I "scoria" believe that this is as much as a person could do in three years, and I believe it qualifies me to run.

Thanks to you Formby, for thinking I was intelligent enough to make up a platform, because that's a mighty high sounding word for a student I could make.

Your friend,

"Jay" Timmons.

Ruhmann To Lecture At Tech "Civils" Society Meet Tonight

An illustrated lecture of "Muscle Shoals," hydro-electric power plant, will be given at the special meeting of the Texas Tech "civils" society tonight in the engineering auditorium. J. P. Ruhmann will present the lecture.

Committees for membership and programs will be appointed, according to the new president, Travis Parker.

Committee Works On Fish Day Plans

No definite plans have yet been made concerning the picnic which will be the main feature of "Fishman day" Saturday, May 14.

The committee composed of Cecil Horne, Dean Mary Doak, Professor J. H. Murchough, and aided by Lonnie Langston, fish class sponsor, and Fish Russell Brown, class president, has planned for the class to go to Silver Falls, near Crosbyton, if as many as 300 class members will buy the tickets which are $2 each. If 300 tickets are not sold, it will be necessary for the class to go to Johnson's ranch, near Slaton.

All definite arrangements for the excursion will be made at the next class meeting which will be soon.

The $2 ticket will include special train fare to Crosbyton, lunches while at Silver Falls, and all amusements. The Crosbyton chamber of commerce will furnish transportation from the train to the picnic grounds if Silver Falls is the place selected by the class. The special train will leave here early the morning of May 14, and will return late that evening.

Practice House Girls Have Picnic In South Patio

A picnic was given in the south patio of the practice house Friday afternoon by the home economics students residing there, this term.

Special guests were Dean Margaret Weeks, Miss Jonnie McCrory, Christova Sawyer, Laura Song, and Geraldine Clewell.

The hostesses were Lizzie Belle Clements, Lise Wolf, Lillah Gaye Rodgers, Ruth Carter, Ruth Grimes, Lucille Egan, and Mayme Twyford, house supervisor.

Miss Faye Foote, former Tech student from Sudan, visited here over the week-end.

A packed Campus Playroom witnessed the fiesta, "A Night in Spain," presented by the Spanish club last Wednesday evening. The program consisted of a one-act comedy by Sierra, "Rosina es Frágil," Spanish popular songs, and a tango.

Rosina, the tender-hearted coquette who couldn't say "no" was well portrayed by Margaret Lindsey. Graydon Ausmus as Antonio, the studious cousin was constantly called upon to straighten the girl's entanglements, and Ellis Mills as Enrique, the lover faithless to his sweetheart and scorned by Rosina, could not have been better. Carl Patterson as Don Louis gave an interesting interpretation of the father who loses four-hundred dollars and comes home to his irate wife, Dona Maria, played by Ruth Guesse.

Something must be said of the evident preparation of all the parts and the easy flow of vocabulary shown by all the characters. Besides those already mentioned, Alice Muse Rogers played the part of Teresita, jilted fiancée of Enrique. Jay Gordon, another of Rosina's suitors, was known to the audience only by his balcony serenades.

"La Paloma" and "Carolina" were included in the ballads sung by Lois Freeman before and after the comedy. E. Esten Day accompanied her on the piano.

A tango by Ruth Mildred Rylander and Lois Karnes ended the fiesta.

Mrs. A. E. Strehl and Graydon Ausmus were the directors of "Rosina." The full program was sponsored by Mrs. W. B. Gates and Miss Frances Whately.

"The Miracle Man" Begins Here Sunday

Sylvia Sidney, the New York-born and raised actress who distinguished herself in films so auspiciously in "An American Tragedy" and "Ladies of the Big House," comes to the Lindsey Theatre in her newest part, that of the confidence crook's girl friend in "The Miracle Man," starting Sunday.

This is the part which brought immortal fame to Betty Compson in the original silent screen version of the same play in 1919. In that production, Thomas Meighan was the smooth crook, and Lon Chaney was "The Frog"—a fake paralytic.

In the new, modernized version with Miss Sidney, Chester Morris is the crook, and John Wray is the fair.

DO YOU INHALE?

Why is this vital question so much avoided by other cigarettes?

EVER since Lucky Strike created that special process for purifying fine tobacco and told the full facts about cigarette smoking—the industry has been in an uproar. For Lucky Strike has dared to mention things that were considered "taboo" in the cigarette trade.

You may have noticed a striking avoidance generally of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it gives you the protection you want... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!
