A WORTHY GIFT

The bronze tablet, commemorating the work of Tech's first president, Dr. Paul Whitfield Horn, is probably the most appropriate gift the 1932 class could leave. And because it is being designed by Tech students, it will be of much more value.

Too much praise and credit can not be given the able educator whose death has struck the college a severe blow. The tablet will be placed in a conspicuous place in the Sally Port, showing visitors how high the student body held Dr. Horn.

CONGRATULATIONS, MISSES

To Misses Jo Cowser, Johnnie Gilkerson, Zella Riegel and other Misses of the campus go commendations for the successful "Play day" Saturday. Everything was carried on in orderly fashion.

The Toreador hopes that each women's "Play day" will be better than the one before, and that co-eds can each year look forward to their annual athletic day.

RECOGNITION DAY

Monday is the first recognition day for Tech co-eds, and should be taken seriously by every girl attending the college. It is a day when girls meet one another, and when tribute is paid to the seniors and to the other girls who have made campus life so attractive and interesting. The freshman girls, especially, should attend the recognition day services. Leaders on the campus worked hard to make the freshmen feel at home, and make those first weeks of school as easy as possible for the girl who was coming into contact with so many strange things during the first term of college. Recognition day is a time when freshman girls and their senior and upperclass sister may come together in one large gathering for the last time before the term is ended.

THE FIRST CO-ED EDITION

For the first time in the history of Tech, The Toreador has been edited by a complete woman's staff!

This week the women journalists have been given the responsibility of getting out the weekly publication, and in doing so, their aim has not been to exalt the girls and lower the men. There has been no intention of "showing up" the ones of the stronger sex who habitually hold sway; neither has there been the wish to take from them their birthright. Instead, the co-eds are using this opportunity to show what they can do when called upon.

It is the policy of this week's staff to place another representative paper before the student body. If too much space has been given to articles that are of primary interest to women alone, perhaps the other two-thirds of Tech's citizenship will overlook the partiality this time. After all, this Toreador is the first of its kind, and—every dog must have its day!

TIME AND TIDE

BY WILL BRISBARTON

EDITOR'S NOTE: At the invitation of Will Brisbarton, Miss Lois Jacques is guest writer of Time and Tide for this special co-ed edition of The Toreador. Miss Jacques is a junior liberal arts student from Mineral Wells, Texas, and college correspondent for the Lubbock Morning Avalanche.

PLAY DAY

BLISTERED arms, sunburned faces, and sore muscles were not all that last Saturday's play day for women students meant to the 148 who entered into the all-day program.

It was a day of play for play's sake, an aim which should be more prominent in college athletics than it is. It was fun for those who entered and fun for those who watched, and the winning of awards was not the highest aim. To the two students who divided high point honors, congratulations are due, to the other 146, who played for the sake of play, go congratulations for their spirit.

RECOGNITION DAY

NEXT Monday is Recognition Day, the first one Tech has had. It is to be a day when every student of the campus are to receive recognition for work they have done this year, and its success or failure will probably determine whether it will become a college tradition.

Invitations have been sent to parents of every girl in Tech. Members of the senior class are to be guests of honor, and many other girls have been selected by the committee on awards to be honored. The ceremony, patterned after those used in other schools, is to be a simple one. It is to be at 3 o'clock on the lawn south of the administration building, and every woman student is invited to attend.

This movement is just one of the efforts being made to establish worthwhile customs, which every college sooner or later must develop. Why should we wait longer to begin the tradition of holding an annual spring ceremony in honor of co-eds who deserve to be honored?

DO YOU INHALE?

Why are other cigarettes silent on this vital question?

Do you inhale? Seven out of ten people know they do. The other three inhale without realizing it. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question . . . because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Remember—more than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

Do you inhale? Of course you do! So be careful. Safeguard your delicate membranes!

Hash And Bain Are Winners In Annual Play Day Meet

WAA Holds Annual Play Day For Co-Eds Saturday As Prizes Are Offered In The 24 Events

Virginia Hash And Vada Bain Score 14 Points To Lead In Scoring; Each Girl Limited To Four Events

More than 300 girls, half of them coming from the local junior high and high schools, participated in the annual play day Saturday. Sponsored by the W. A. A. and the woman's physical education department, the 24 events were conducted at the gym and on the track field, from 8 o'clock in the morning until almost dark that night. Every girl was limited to four events so that none would be overworked. The expenses of a lunch served to all contestants were covered by a twenty-five cent registration fee.

Hash, Bain Tie
Virginia Hash and Vada Bain tied for first place in the whole meet with 14 points each. Mary Jane Johnson, high school entrant, came second with 13, and Lola Smith, Tahoka, a former student placed third with 12. Blue, red, and white ribbons were given for first, second, and third places on a basis of 5-3-1.

Contests and winners are as follows: tennis singles: Burns, Godwin, Patterson; advanced tennis doubles: Goodwin and Goodwin; basketball: A. Gilbert, Dyson, L. Goodwin, Durham, Warren, E. Goodwin; riding: Gilkerson, L. Johnson, N. Roberts; fancy rope jumping: McDonald, Spurlock, Conner; volley ball: Collins, Wilke, Payne, Kenmore, M. Gilbert, Koors, Baker, Keller, Johnston; quoits: Roberson, Baskin; archery: Baskin, Hash, Haynes, Jacks, Brown, Bain, McElroy; posture parade: Hamilton, Stafford, Burns; original costume clog: Herring sisters, McFarland and Campbell, Park; 60 yd. dash: White, McDonald, Robinson; tennis intermediate singles: Bain, Grass, Colley, Durham; 75 yd. dash: Pierce, Patterson, Hamilton; basketball throw for distance: Keller, Farrier, Perry; standing broad jump: Grover, Clements, Bain; basketball throw for accuracy: Odum, Koors, Dyson; bowling: McAnnally, Hash, Smith; marbles: Trammel, Raymond, Burns; indoor baseball: Spurlock, Smith, Johnson, McDonald, Wilmar, King, Cowser, Robinson, Owens, Dillard; hop scotch: Bain, Grover, Burns; top spinning: Smith, Hash, Monitors; fancy roller skating: Roberts, Horton, Tatom; horse shoe pitching: Hash, Dillard, Holland.

Is Forerunner
According to Miss Gilkerson, instructor in physical education, play day is a forerunner of an all-girls sports day, which her department hopes to make an annual event within the near future. The sports day will be carried on in a much larger scale than the one held Saturday. It will follow the general plan which other colleges have initiated for the same purpose.

Officials for Saturday were: Mary Louise Baskin, chairman of the program committee; Leona Gelin, chairman of refreshments; Johnny Gilkerson and Zella Riegel, general managers; Virginia Robertson, clerk; Matt Hitchcock, announcer; Truett Owens, custodian of ribbons; Bill Teal and Ada Mae Gilbert, custodians of equipment; Malcolm Martin and "Double Uge" Curfman, errand boys; P. W. Cawthon, starter on cinder track; Smith and Morgan, timers and track; George Langford, Milton Moffett, and Bill Teal, finish judges of cinder track; Ernest Nelson, referee of basketball; and Aileen Brown, scorekeeper and timer.

B. F. Condray, Col. Davis, and Mc. Wester, judges of riding; Leona Stewart and Virginia Burnett, judges of rope jumping; Wynona Burnett, referee of volley ball; Jo Cowser, scorekeeper; George Langford, judge of quoits; Otis Maud Lassiter, scorekeeper of archery; Ernest Nelson, referee of soccer; Catherine Jameson, judge of jacks; James Whiteside, O. C. Corry and W. E. Rushing, referees of tennis; Lacey Turner and Harvey Dunn, judges of baseball and basketball throws; Ernest Nelson, judge of basketball throw for accuracy; Helen Boyesen and Jack Durham, judges of broad jump; Mary Louise Baskin, umpire for basketball; Mary Jane McGee, scorekeeper for basketball; and Virginia Hash, judge of kite flyer.

Johnnye Gilkerson, referee of tennis; Leona Gelin, scorekeeper for tennis; Delene Reed and Mathilda Reimer, referees of hop scotch; Bessie League and Lucile Gill, judges of top spinning.

To Enter Tech

The above is Gus Meyers of Comanche, now attending Terrill at Dallas, who will enter Tech this fall. He weighs 170 pounds, plays halfback and is an "A" student.

Brown Is High In Archery Contest

Mary Louise Baskin, Virginia Hash, and Aileen Brown participated in a telegraphic archery meet with Sam Houston State Teachers college May the 5 and 6. Brown placed high for Tech with a total of 82 and a grand total of 102. Hash ran second with scores of 74-80, and Baskin third with 82-59. Both teams shot two hours each day. On the first day, each girl shot 30 arrows at 30 yards, and on the second 30 at 40 yards. A standard three foot target was used. Including the meet, the Tech team had had 10 practices.

Extension Work Is Given This Summer

Students by planning ahead may iron out the wrinkles of their schedule of work for next year, by devoting a part of their spare time this summer to correspondence work. J. F. McDonald said this week.

Those who will have problems growing out of conflicting subjects or who have flunked a subject, or who will need to complete extra hours for graduation or for certificate purposes, or who wish to get ahead with their program of work, will find the Tech extension service available, while at home this summer.

The extension office, room 306, administration building, will be glad to give full information as to correspondence work, Mr. McDonald said.

Under The Double "T"

BY KATHLEEN JENNINGS
Co-ed Sports Writer
"Play For Play's Sake" was the motto of the day at the gym Saturday, and everyone really stood behind it. The sidewalks, courts, and fields were covered with girls who had not forgotten the times when they played jacks, skated, and spun tops with the best in the neighborhood. Leaving their dignities and cosmetics in the dormitories, they turned back (we won't say how many years) to the time when dirty knees and chapped knuckles meant nothing at all. Believe it or not, there are girls on the campus who can still put the sheep in the pen and the peas in the pot when kisses are missed, and it was nothing unusual to see a Las Chaps with a shiny nose. We also know of a D. F. D. who played tennis so long she was late to a party!

Judging from the tennis workout of both eds and co-eds, it seems possible that if the latter were to challenge the former to a three set match, the gentleman would be hard put to it to keep their colors flying. A guess is only a guess, but the Goodwin sisters showed their stripes Saturday to a good advantage.

The Lubbock high girls also had a part in making Tech's play day a success. Of the 200 girls that registered for the events, approximately half came from the local schools. That they entered to give Tech co-eds some real competition was proven by the number of places they won and the fact that Mary Jane Johnson ran a close second to Virginia Hash in the entire meet. Tech will find some good material for W. A. A. in them.

Despite the fact that Saturday was meant primarily for girls, it seems that our big gym-men had their fun, too. Hitch's job as official announcer left him plenty of time to show a group of pre-co-eds around and about. He was busier than anyone else playing the model host and seeing that everyone was properly welcomed, and Truett Owens had his hands full keeping all his blue and red ribbons from being stolen.

Championships To Be Decided At Fun Night

Admission To The Show To Cost Twenty-Five Cents; Medals Will Be Given To Winners Of Each Event

The campus championship in boxing and wrestling will be determined at a final All-College Fun night, to be held in the gym May 19, at 7:45 o'clock. Then twelve gold medals will be presented to the winners, six to each division.

According to Coach P. W. Cawthon, no prophecy can be made of the outcome of the matches. George Langford is the present heavyweight boxing champion, and Truett Owens is champion in wrestling.

55 cents, the proceeds going to the Olympic benefit fund. There will be no charge for Matador club members and boys under twelve.

Mysterious Mona Snakes Around

Being as MIKE ain't being allowed to work on the Toreador as this is a gals edition, his girl friend Mona is writing it for him.

Mona seen a couple o' kids together Sunday nite a-ridin' around. KITTY was shore a sittin' close to that air JOHNSON boy! Did you all hear that speech YONCILE made at the gim tother nite? She air that new sect-trees, to the student council. The "fortissimus" general SHELL-BY READ, president of the geological society and the fortunate AILEEN BROWN vie with the manager of Duck Inn Dining room for counting space. MONA wonders about all this goli' on.

Aggie boys are a plannin a whing-ding, senior animal husbandry majors are a gonna go on it, whist they'd invite MONA cause i hear there are a gonna be big dolins.

YORA LOWE that transfer gal from Simmons is shore making trip home often, Mona heard it was all because of that feller she calls Omie.

There is two gals a runnin fer editor of this here paper and one boy but MONA ain't tellin who she wishes would win. Mona didn't get to vote on accounta not havin paid her poll tax and besides that she ain't old enough.

MONA's feelin's are hurt because she did not make the beauty page Sunday, guess there was a mistake made somewher. It ain't too late yet cause MONA is only a junior and will have another chance next year.

MONA herd that MARSHALL FORMBYBERG attended the formal dance of the Las Vivarches club the other night, he evidently wore CHARLIE GUY'S tux as it was miles too big for him.

JAMES DOMINY took a special guest home with him to Padueah last week end. Now we wonders just who this guest was????

ON YOUR RECENT PLAY DAY—IT WAS A REAL SUCCESS

ON YOUR ACTIVE PART IN STUDENT LIFE AT TEXAS TECH.

A Co-ed's Part Of College Life!

Without co-eds, college life would be dull, listless and monotonous. The nation's greatest leaders have mostly come from co-educational colleges.

It is the coed who adds charm and distinction to the campus life of a school. Without her, social functions in colleges and universities would be on the standstill.

It is the co-ed who attains a high standard in scholarship, setting the pace for others on the campus.

Hail the co-ed! She makes college the right place to live!

These merchants of Lubbock, wish to express their thanks and appreciation to all the Co-Eds of Tech for their loyal patronage during the term 1931-1932.

The Co-ed's Angle

BY LORENE CHILDERS
Of The Toreador Staff
There is a different angle to every side of college life. Now the readers of The Toreador shall know something of the co-ed's angle.

The girls all cooperated in the making of Play day a success. Play day is good for all the co-eds. It is not often that the girls get to come together in one large meeting for the sole purpose of play. Such a sporting event gives the girls a chance to try their wings. It also gives them a chance to push all cases of books, classes, clothes, and dates into the background and come out to enjoy a wholesome good time with one another.

Do you know the significance of Recognition day? This day and Play day are two of the best things which the women's organizations have sponsored during the year. Recognition day has been set aside as a day for all co-eds to come together in one last serious social gathering before school is out.

The senior girls are to be guests of honor, and those girls of the various campus organizations will be favored with awards. Has the freshman girl ever thought of that big sister who smoothed out many of the rough places during the first two months when the first year girl was being introduced to real college life? It is the duty of every girl to attend the Recognition day services. The least she can do is to be present and enjoy what is offered her.

Have the boys ever thought that it might show a little more courtesy to the girls if they would remove their hats while in the halls? Girls are sensitive; they form their own conclusions rapidly while a would-be modern college man converses with them with his hat sitting at an angle of 45 degrees over his left eye. Boys, remember that you might go over a little better with the girl friend.

Now that spring is on its way, the social clubs have made splendid use of it. Spring flowers have added their individual touch to interior decorations at bridge parties and luncheons. Picnics have held their own also in the many activities of the past two weeks. It isn't deniable that most every one would like to go out somewhere in the open and eat a picnic lunch.

Those girls, members of the W. A. A. and also of the first year physical education classes, certainly know their athletics. When it comes to volley ball, basketball, baseball, and tennis. The Tech co-eds can tell you all about it. There are really some very good athletes over at the gymnasium among the girls.

This is supposed to be a cotton season, and what a break it is for the modern college girl. Nothing could be smarter than a cotton mesh sport dress, a white pique evening dress, a white cotton corduroy coat for spectacular sports, and of course white fabric sports oxfords.

Be sure and don't leave any lettuce on your salad plate. Lettuce contains many valuable vitamins, and it is only the girls of 1900 who think that it is correct to leave the lettuce

'Touchdown' Stars Together Again

Richard Arlen and Jack Oakie, stars of "Touchdown," are now playing in another picture, "Sky Bride" which is showing at the Lindsey Theaters on Friday and Saturday of this week. Everyone will remember this pair in "Touchdown" but "Sky Bride" promises to be an even greater picture.

Richard Arlen is not a superstitious person, however, in this picture he wears the same boots that carried him so well in "Wings."

EDNA FERBER'S PRIZE NOVEL REACHES THE SCREEN
"So Big," the new picture starring Barbara Stanwyck which Lubbock picture-goers will have an opportunity to see beginning Saturday night at the Lindsey Theater, has been adapted from the Pulitzer Prize novel by Edna Ferber which was not only a best-seller when it was published, but has gone on selling steadily and largely ever since. It has, in fact, attained a place on the shelf of American classic fiction.

It is not a simple matter to transfer a story like "So Big" to the screen; and the responsibility was felt by Miss Stanwyck, by William A. Wellman, who directed the picture, and by the actors and actresses who made up the cast. "We felt that we were handling something very delicate and beautiful," says Barbara Stanwyck. "We had all read the book—all, of course, except little Dickie Moore, who is only five years old—and we all loved it. 'So Big' is undoubtedly the most important picture I have ever made. I felt that while I was acting in it, and so did the others.

Home Address Of Seniors Is Asked

The home address of all of the graduating seniors is being sought by the registrar's office. Blanks asking for the proper information concerning this matter are being distributed to the seniors by the department heads and teachers of the various schools.

All liberal arts seniors who do not get a blank to fill out are requested to come to Dean J. M. Gordon's office and fill one out there.

Seniors in the schools of engineering, agriculture and of home economics are requested to check up with their respective deans and get this matter straightened out.

Harold Frazier, aggie graduate of 1931, has renewed his contract to teach at his school near McKinney, and will receive a raise in salary.

Students at Centenary college, Shreveport, Louisiana, announce their seventh consecutive May Fete. The theme to be used this year, "The Spirit of Old Louisiana"; suggests the Mardi Gras which has made New Orleans famous.

The Sul Ross Brand, yearbook of the Sul Ross State Teachers' college at Alpine and edited by Gib Mize, will be out May 15, according to announcement made last week.

McMurry college at Abilene has announced its complete schedule and faculty for the summer session, which will begin on June 7 with registration.

Miss Mildred Gifford and O. B. Chambers have been selected as the 1932 favorites by the students of the Daniel Baker college at Brownwood. Both are seniors.

The 1932 graduating class of John Tarleton Agricultural college at Stephenville intends to start a pipe organ fund as the class memorial. The plan calls for others to contribute in the years to come.

Spring clothes, topsy Ford's, progressing love affairs, moonlight picnics, and laziness in classes are signs that show that Spring is prevalent on the campus of Weatherford college.

Fleece Shrinkage To Be Determined

Data concerning the shrinkage of the fleece from sheep owned by Tech will now be determined, according to Professor W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department.

Although sheep shearing has been in progress for some time in various parts of the state, because of the cool weather this is postponed on the plains until the latter part of May. Professor Stangel said, College sheep are being sheared this week.

Because of the sand, West Texas wool has been thought to shrink more than wool from other parts of the state. Therefore, in order to definitely determine the average shrinkage of fleeces produced on the plains, the department is securing data on a number of fleeces from each of the three breeds owned by the college.

The fleeces will be sent to the wool scouring plant at A. and M. college where the shrinkage will be determined. This will also in a way decide whether or not the wool industry will be profitable in West Texas, Stangel concluded.

Tech Co-Eds To Vie With WTSTC

Tech girls will engage in a telegraphic track meet with the Canyon State Teachers' college May 13, according to Miss Zella Riegel. This one is the first of series which the physical education department hopes will lead to joint, alternate meets with the other school each year.

Eleven events will be included in the day. They are: 60 yd. dash, 75 yd. dash, shuttle relay (65 yds.), archery tournament (Columbia round), basketball throw for distance, baseball throw for distance, basketball throw for accuracy, standing broad jump, running broad jump, high jump, and soccer drop kick for distance.

GROUPS TO MEET THURSDAY
With the senior girls of the college as honor guests, the community Relations group of the YWCA will have an open meeting next Thursday night, May 19 at 8 o'clock in room 310.

The head of United Charities in Lubbock will be the main speaker. Her subject is "Welfare Work as a Vocation."

Scotch Song Cycle Set For Wednesday

The Scotch song cycle, which is being arranged by Professor W. R. Wagborne working with the choral and glee clubs, has been set for next Wednesday night, and will probably be held on the south lawn of the administration building.

The program, made up of a series of Scotch songs, consists of 10 numbers, with a chorus, trio, male quartet, double duet, and solos, and Professor N. D. Moulton will furnish piano accompaniment.

The Socia will open with the chorus singing "Blue Bonnets Over the Border," and the trio, "O Where, Tell Me Where," which follows, consists of Mrs. Carl Scoggin, Professor Edgar Shelton, and Professor H. F. Godeke. Professor Shelton is to sing in solo, "Annie Laurie," and the fourth number is the chorus with "A Heilan' Lad," and a male double quartet will sing "Wilt Thou Be My Dearie." Mrs. Scoggin and Prof. Shelton have the two solos respectively, "Within A Mile" and "Afton Waters," a double duet is to sing "O Where My Love," and Mrs. Scoggin will sing "Comin' Through the Rye."

The grand finale consists of a chorus singing, "Auld Lang Syne."

The entire arrangement has been planned and set to music by Professor Wagborne. There will be no admission charges.

Scholarships

Pan-Hellenic society of Lubbock to the freshman student in the school of home economics making the highest grades in all her work for the year.

A silver loving cup is awarded by the Double Key club, the honorary society in home economics, to that student of home economics in the sophomore class who has had the highest standing during the year in the qualities of scholarship and leadership.

Unabridged dictionary awarded by the Scholarship society of the Texas Technological college for that freshman student making the highest grades for the year in the entire college.

A medal awarded by the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers to the senior in the department of Textile engineering for the highest excellence of work during the regular four year course.

VISIT IN PLAINVIEW
Professor K. M. Renner and his class of senior boys who are studying dairy plant management were visitors in Plainview Saturday. Methods and a study of cooperative creamery were the main objectives of the trip.

JACKSON TO TUSCON
Dr. W. A. Jackson will leave this week for Tuscon, Ariz., where he will represent the Tech Athletic association at a meeting of the Border conference. During the meet, the 1932 basketball schedules will be worked out.

Several Enrolled In Nursery School

Many Lubbock parents have enrolled their children in the Tech nursery school to be conducted this summer by the school of home economics, according to an announcement made Tuesday by Dean Margaret Weeks. A number of students have also been heard from, asking for information regarding a child development work offered in connection with the school. The nursery school is something new in the educational world," stated Miss Weeks. "Its function is twofold.

First, the school is an added step in the advancement of parent education. It is a laboratory where theories of child development are demonstrated.

It is also a part of the preparation of college women, serving again as a laboratory course.

Third, it is a place for planning the environment of the home for the best mental, physical, and social development of the pre-school child.

The nursery school as an educational project is a joint enterprise of the parents and school staff," Miss Weeks continued. "It does not take the place of the home, simply extends the home, and we hope it modifies home practices to the betterment of both child and parents."

Ko-Shari Club Hold Initiation

Members of the Ko-Shari club left Friday morning for Santa Fe, New Mexico, where they completed initiation in the ceremonial kiva of the Teysa Indians.

Club members who made the trip were Faye Bumpass, Lorene Childers, Elizabeth Dryden, Murvel Rankin, Nelda Baker, Geneva Adamson, and Lois Karnes. Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Holden, and Ewell Hall, senior student completed the party. Mrs. Holden is club sponsor.

Some of the most interesting events of the trip were the observance of a basket dance executed by a band of Ko-Shari in an Indian pueblo. Visits to the archeological laboratory in Santa Fe, the art museum, the national museum, the artist's colony, and the different Catholic churches.

ALEXANDER TO ATTEND COMMENCEMENT

Riley Alexander, aggie horticulture graduate of '29, and now quarantining inspector on the international bridge at El Paso, expects to be at Tech with his wife for the commencement exercises. Ruth Alexander of Breckenridge, now attending Tech, is his sister.

The United States Bureau of Agriculture, southern great plain field station at Woodward, Oklahoma, has given 500 flowering willow seedlings to the Tech horticulture department.
