Tech enrollment highest ever

Registration total for 12th day of classes tips scales at 25,003

By CORTCHIE WELCH

The University Daily

Inflation isn't the only thing on the rise today. Texas Tech's fall enrollment reached a new all-time high.

Totals for the 12th class day tipped the scales at 25,003 compared to 24,605 in the 1988 fall semester.

Tech administrators attribute the record enrollment to an increase in student retention. Totals indicate that the number of returning students increased by more than 900 students over the previous fall semester.

Because of new admission standards, 312 high school students were denied admission to Tech. Totals for entering freshmen plummetted about 800 compared to 1988, and the total number of students applying for readmission declined about 400 compared to the previous year.

Lubbock woman raped, beaten by assailant

By BETH GEORGE The University Daily

A Lubbock woman was raped early Thursday morning in the Tech Terrace area by a man who covered her face with a pillowcase and threatened repeatedly to kill her, the Lubbock Police Department reported.

The victim told police she heard no noises after she went to bed about 1:30 a.m. She said the first thing she remembered was waking up with her face pinned to the bed. According to police reports, the woman was attacked in her home about 4:33 a.m. Thursday by a black man who entered her the man, so he put her in a headlock and removed her pajama bottoms, reports indicated. The man then tightened the pillowcase around her head, police reports said.

The man raped the woman twice, police reports indicated.

The man rolled the victim onto her back and covered her head with pillows, reports said. The man went through the woman's closet and dresser, apparently looking for money, police reports indicated.

According to reports, the man returned to the bed and raped the victim again. The man told the woman he would kill her if she moved and warned her that he would be watching her, reports indicated.

Tech researchers study fire ant control methods

By SHAUN KELLEY The University Daily

Although most of us find fire ants annoying little pests, a Texas Tech professor said the pesky little insects have benefits as well as disadvantages.

Assistant agricultural economics professor Terry Ervin said an agricultural impact study of fire ants reveals that they help control the Lone Star Tick that is prevalent statewide and four primary pests of the cotton industry.

The ants help control the boll worm, the boll weevil, the tobacco bud worm and the cotton fleajumper, he said. Although fire ants control insects harmful to many crops, he said they also cause much destruction.

"The damages do, however, outweigh the costs," Ervin said.

The ants cause $53 million in damages. By killing the other insects, fire ants save farmers $39 million annually, he said.

James Cokendolpher, an agronomy, horticulture and entomology technician, said the pavement ant, which is prevalent in the northern United States, destroys small fire ant colonies.

"As the fire ant infestation moves northward and the pavement ant moves south, they will meet and the fire ant migration might be stopped," Cokendolpher said.

LOGIC, a chemical that has been developed to fight fire ants, works well because it is more selective and non-toxic to non-targeted organisms, he said.

Cokendolpher said testing has proven temperature adaptability of fire ants, which explains why the ant has been able to spread farther north than first expected.

"The USDA had predicted a zero degree iso-line that would limit the ant's northward progression, but the ants are past that now," he said.

Phillips said the ants have been able to survive colder climates long enough to adapt by dwelling near manmade contrivances that act as solar collectors and provide warmth for the colony.

SAN ANTONIO - A former U.S. senator's aide and two others were named in an indictment unsealed Thursday alleging an elaborate bribery scheme aimed at gaining control of 10 thrifts and some industries in Grenada.

Glen N. Mauldin, an aide to former U.S. Sen. Jacob "Chic" Hecht of Nevada, was to receive a 10 percent interest in the acquired savings and loans and several business ventures for his help in the scheme, according to the federal indictment.

Also named in the indictment returned Wednesday - resulting from an investigation dubbed "Operation Dundeal" - are Darrell A. Tomblin, a businessman now living in Houston, and Vincent P. Lachelli, a Washington, D.C. lobbyist.

The 22-count indictment charges each of the three with conspiring to deprive the U.S. government of the honest services of Mauldin and to corruptly affect the functions of the U.S. Senate and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, authorities said.

"The indictments announced today arise against a backdrop of the failing savings and loan institutions and industry in Texas," said Helen Eversberg, U.S. Attorney for the Western District of Texas. "The scheme emanated from San Antonio and ultimately wove its way to the halls of Congress in Washington, D.C."

The three defendants were arrested and appeared in bond hearings Thursday afternoon, Ms. Eversberg said.

Lachelli did not immediately return a telephone call Thursday from The Associated Press. Tomblin's Houston phone number was not listed and his Austin attorney did not immediately return a call to The AP. Mauldin did not answer his phone in Washington.

The San Antonio U.S. Attorney's Office began probing the case with the help of informant Leo Arnold Ladouceur, who had been indicted with his wife on bank fraud charges in 1988.

Ladouceur and two others pleaded guilty to charges on Wednesday stemming from the bilking of millions of dollars from Suburban Savings Association in San Antonio.

A plea-bargain agreement indicated Ladouceur would not be prosecuted for any dealings with Mauldin, Tomblin, Lachelli and others.

The indictment against Mauldin, Tomblin and Lachelli states that the three embarked on a scheme beginning in 1987 to acquire 10 savings and loans throughout the United States.

Among those proposed acquisitions was the application of San Antonio businessman Danny Gonzalez for control of Suburban Savings Association, the U.S. attorney said. Gonzalez was one of the three who entered a guilty plea Wednesday in connection with the Suburban Savings bilking case.

Mauldin, who also was Hecht's state campaign treasurer, used Senate stationery to write letters to U.S. government agencies in an attempt to assist with the thrift acquisition and business ventures, the indictment alleges.

Also part of the alleged scheme was that Mauldin would receive financial interest in the ventures for helping to obtain loans and the concessions for certain business enterprises, federal documents said.

Lake Meredith desalinization funds denied

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The Bush administration refused Thursday to help finance a system of wells that would remove naturally occurring salt from Lake Meredith, although it acknowledged that increasingly salty water could threaten the Panhandle's economic base.

Lubbock and Amarillo both receive water from Lake Meredith.

Joe D. Hall, acting commissioner of the Bureau of Reclamation, said the agency would be willing to provide design and construction expertise on the project as long as it is reimbursed for its costs within three years at current interest rates.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Houston, sponsor of the bill, said he was disappointed with the administration's position.

"They have proposed a three-year payback of the federal share of the project at 10.25 percent interest. That amounts to no federal cost-sharing at all," said Bentsen. "This water problem threatens the economic base of the entire Panhandle area."

Women's golf set for NMSU Invitational

The Texas Tech women's golf team begins the fall campaign today at Las Cruces, N.M., in the Diet Coke/Roadrunner Invitational.

The Raiders return four players who made the trip last year, when Tech finished eighth. Senior Amy McDougall and juniors Laura Kleinmann, Michelle Hapack and Neisy Rodriguez will lead the Raiders back to Las Cruces. Freshman Kimberly Jutt also will make the trip.

Tech cross country looking to improve

The Texas Tech men's cross country team will compete in the Texas-El Paso Invitational at 5 p.m. today at Santa Teresa Country Club in El Paso.

Rich Oropeza, who finished fifth in the South Plains Invitational last week, will lead Red Raider teammates Rod Reeves, Eric Dill, Martin Del Hierro and Mark Horton.

Blythe leads men's golf in Albuquerque

The Texas Tech men's golf team shot a 305, good for 14th place after Thursday's first round play at the William H. Tucker Intercollegiate in Albuquerque, N.M.

Freshman Chance Blythe fired an opening round 73 for Tech, which tied him for 13th among individual finishers.

NEW MEXICO VS. TEXAS TECH

Mainord said the key is for the Raiders to stay on top of their game

"We're going to have to be awfully sharp mentally because of offensive sets and motion," Mainord said. "You can't say to just play the pass because against New Mexico State, they ran the heck out of the football."

Leading the Lobo rushing attack is sophomore running back Dion Morrow. Starting for the first time after converting from the defensive backfield, Morrow ran for 124 yards on 21 carries against NMSU.

Tech I-back James Gray is coming off the best rushing game of his career against Arizona. The 200-pound senior exploded for 234 yards on 35 carries for two touchdowns. Gray - 10 pounds lighter and "a step quicker," according to Dykes — needs only four yards against the Lobos to surpass James Hadnot as the Raiders' all-time leading ground gainer.

Gray's two scores also gave him a school record for most career touchdowns with 34.

Injuries still are not a problem for the Raiders. Only defensive tackle Jon Wood, who injured his shoulder against the Wildcats, is questionable for Saturday's game. Dykes said running back Clifton Winston will return after suffering a jammed neck in an intrasquad scrimmage in August.

Dykes has been quick to point out how easy a team can make a 180-degree turn in the course of one week.

"We have to remember, that's only one notch in our gun," he said. "We fired."

SWC off and limping against non-conference teams

Wayne Barringer Sports Writer

This was supposed to be the year the Southwest Conference regained some national credibility, but so far, with teams losing left and right in intersectional matchups, the SWC is taking up where it left off LSU and Washington were able to last year.

Texas Tech was the only SWC team to win in five tries last week. TCU, Texas A&M, Rice and Baylor all lost, and the only team that came close was Rice, which lost in yards in their Missouri loss last the final few minutes to Tulane 20-19.

TEXAS A&M (1-1) at TCU (0-1) 7:30 p.m.

Texas A&M squares off against TCU this weekend to begin each are favored by 11<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> points, but who knows which squad will show up for coach R.C. Slocum.

It seems strange that A&M could dominate a team like LSU and come right back and lose to Washington. What's worse is that Darren Lewis has gained only 107 yards so far because the passing game is non-threatening.

Slocum says he will put more pressure on quarterback Lance Pavlas to do more with the ball. key on Lewis and render him ineffective. Remember, though - at this time last year Lewis had only 41 yards before finishing with 1,692. The Frogs piled up 283 rushing week without much help from Tony Darthard, who injured his knee after gaining 66 yards in the first half.

The last time TCU beat the boys from College Station was way back team's SWC schedule. The Aggies in 1972. The rivalry dates all the ## way back to 1897. TULSA (2-0) at ARKANSAS (0-0)

2 p.m. Arkansas finally kicks its season off this weekend hosting the Golden Hurricane of Tulsa. Saturday's clash will be the 65th time these teams have met, and the Razorbacks have won 48 times.

Coach Ken Hatfield said he's concerned about facing a 2-0 Tulsa squad. He's bluffing.

He has last year's SWC quarterback of the year back in Quinn Grovey, and rumor had it before the season that running back James Rouse would not be starting in favor of a "better" player, freshman E.D. Jackson.

Although Rouse didn't start much last year, he did manage to gain more than 1,000 yards in 1987. Barry Foster, JuJu Harshaw and Aaron Jackson will round out a devastating backfield.

Arkansas has won 12 straight over the Hurricane and has an even ference champion.

Although this rivalry has generated some close games in the past, the Hogs are favored by 13 points. They boast, however, a 74-17-4 mark in 95 season openers. How concerned can Hatfield really be?

BAYLOR (0-1) at GEORGIA (0-0) 11:30 a.m.

The rejuvenated Baylor Bears will face another Top 20 team as they travel to Georgia to face the Vince Dooley-less Bulldogs.

Baylor got scarfed by Oklahoma's running game in the first half last week as the Sooners rolled to a 28-0 halftime lead. Coach Grant Teaff proceeded to jump on some cases in the locker room, and his team outscored OU 7-5 in the following half.

The line from Las Vegas could cost people some money on this game as the untested Bulldogs are 11<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> point favorites. If the Bears better team than last year's con- can continue to play like they did in the second half last week, they could steal a victory from rookie coach Ray Goff.

In their last meeting, Georgia squeezed by with a 17-14 win in, also in 1985.

CONNECTICUT (1-0) at SMU (0-1) 7:30 p.m.

If SMU wants a victory this year, Saturday is the Mustangs' last chance. The Division I-AA Connecticut Huskies will take their 1-0 record to Ownhy Stadium in Dallas.

SMU offensive coordinator Tom Rossley said he is worried about his group's running performance against Rice. Sorry Tom, but it won't be getting any easier.

The Huskies' quarterback, Matt DeGennaro, has racked up some impressive numbers. DeGennaro is 431 of 706 for 4,839 passing yards and 35 touchdowns in two years. No line has been set on the game because of UConn's Division I-AA status.

Tech meets tough Vols

The Texas Tech women's volleyball team will attempt to extend its current four-game winning streak today in Hilton Head Island, S.C.

The Raiders will face Tennessee in the opening round of the first Hilton Head Island Super Smash tournament.

Also competing in the tournament, which runs through Saturday, are Duke and Northwestern.

Tech defeated New Mexico State Wednesday in three games to run its record to 5-3. Middle blocker Lisa Clark (9 kills .667 hitting percentage) and setter Sheila Solomon (32 assists) led the Raiders.

Tech is hitting at a .128 clip this season while limiting its opponents to a .115 average. On the defensive side of the ball, Tech has averaged 2.58 blocks a game compared to its opponents' average of 2.28.

The Raiders have a 2-0 record this vear in games played at neutral sites.
