Whether it is calling up a gobbler or tying on a spinnerbait that tickles your fancy, this weekend's weather forecast should be reason enough to get out and enjoy yourself in any outdoor activity.

Personally, I do not see putting on a full suit of camouflage and sitting around in 80-degree weather as something I want to do this ings Lake recently has experienced

At White River Lake, reports indicate the bass are virtually jumpbass fishermen cannot spend ing into the fishermen's boats (with a little bit of persuasion).

Rodney Hairgrove, of Fisherman's Headquarters in Lubbock, said reports of 7 and 8-pound bass being caught at the lake have been a regular occurrence.

Hairgrove said White River should continue to produce good numbers of fish, especially black bass, throughout the spring season.

On the other hand, Buffalo Spr-

The water temperature at five feet is a cold 51-degrees, but should begin to climb after this weekend.

Tim Tippit, of the Buffalo Springs Marina Restaurant, said smaller striped bass and blue catfish have been caught in the 8-10-pound Tippit said the cold spell and high winds have left bass fishermen empty-handed.

At the bass fishing tournament held two weeks ago, a 3-pound, 12-ouncer took the money.

If you decide to try your luck at Buffalo Springs, try to stick near the marina and bridge. Most of the bass have been caught in that area.

Fishing around the Lubbock city lakes can be as frustrating as it has been on Buffalo Springs, but paa few problems in the number-of-tience is certainly a virtue any fisherman has to encounter.

The best bet for bass fishermen in the city lakes might be Lake Six, located just south of MacKenzie State Park off of 19th Street.

Red-hot Raiders hope to be fryin' bacon after Razorback series

By LEN HAYWARD The University Daily

Once again this weekend, the Law Field. Texas Tech baseball team will try

Arkansas

Razorbacks in a three-game Southwest Conference series at Dan

Tech will play at 7 p.m. and will to prove its critics wrong as the Red face Arkansas in a doubleheader

(33-9, 6-3)

Game 1: Friday, 7 p.m. Game 2&3: Saturday (DH), 2 p.m. Dan Law Field RADIO/TV

Radio: All games-KFYO-AM (790) TV: Game 1- KLBK-13

ot living up to pre-season expectations. ost series to Rice, Coogs and A&M. Two ore losses could mean no post season. Probable starting pitchers Matt Wagner, RHP (2-1, 2.54) Doug Bennett, RHP (3-2, 5.06) Brent Birch, LHP (4-2, 2.11)

Probable starting pitchers

Game 1 Mark Brandenburg, RHP (8-3, 3.69)

Game 2 Rodney Steph, RHP (7-1, 2.97)

Game 3 Kevin Kirk RHP (4-3, 4.70) Saturday starting at 2 p.m.

Earlier in the week, Tech grabbed its second national ranking of the year with a 19th ranking in Baseball America, while the Raiders were 20th in the Collegiate Baseball/ESPN poll. Tech was ranked 23rd two weeks ago in the Baseball America poll, but this is the first appearance for Tech in Collegiate Baseball/ESPN poll.

The Raiders enter the series with the Razorbacks with a record of 33-9 overall and 6-3 in SWC play.

Tech will look to improve its series record against Arkansas, as the Razorbacks hold a 41-11 series advantage over the Raiders.

On the year, Arkansas has compiled an overall record of 26-13 and 3-6 in SWC play.

Leading the Raiders in hitting through the first 42 games has been senior catcher Tony Tijerina, who has a .371 average and 34 RBIs.

Tijerina is also among the leaders on the club in fielding percentage.

Leading the Raiders in hitting during the SWC season has been senior third baseman Darrin Glenn, who has an average of .276 through the nine conference games. Glenn has eight hits on 29 at bats, six RBIs and one double.

Providing power in the middle of the line-up has been junior-transfer designated hitter Wes Shook.

On the year, Shook has a team-high 52 hits and 35 extra base hits. Shook also leads the team in home runs and RBIs, with 10 roundtrippers and 48 RBIs on the year. Getting the start for the Raiders on Friday will be junior Mark Brandenburg, who has an ERA of 3.69 in 14 appearances. Brandenburg has a strikeout to walk ratio of 4.77-1, and he only needs 12 more innings to tie a school for innings pitched in a season. Staring the first game Saturday will be senior Rodney Steph, who looks to improve on his 7-1 mark.

On the season, Steph has an ERA in 60.2 innings-pitched.

Kevin Kirk will be looking for his first SWC victory of the season on Saturday, as he will start the final game of the series. Kirk has a 4-3

If Tech takes one victory from the Razorbacks the Raiders will have 34 victories on the season, tying the school record. The record of 34 wins was set in 1986 and again in 1988.
