Freshmen Vie For Positions

Freshmen will get their first taste of college politics Friday when their dormitory and off campus representatives will be elected for the Freshman Council.

The Council consists of 30 representatives — ten from dormitories, ten off campus, and ten at large. Representatives at large will be elected October 7.

Council members from Drane, Horn, Knapp, Bledsoe, Gordon, Sneed, No. 5, No. 6, No. 7, and No. 8 will be chosen tomorrow along with the off campus members.

Tramps Set Large Rally

The Saddle Tramps will sponsor a pep rally at 7:30 p.m. Friday night at Saddle Tramp Circle.

GUEST SPEAKER for the rally preceding the Tech-Oregon State game will be Dean of Men L. N. Jones. Coach DeWitt Weaver and co-captains Ken Talkington and Jerry Selfridge also will speak.

Pete Baker, Saddle Tramp president, will emcee the rally. Bob Fielding and Larry DeHay will present the skit they gave at Skit Row last spring.

ANOTHER SKIT will feature members of the Bappa Kappa Gamma pledge class.

On hand for the send off will be cheerleaders Sandra Hendrix, Bobby Hutto, Gail Petersen, Jerry Don Hudson, and Bobby McGough.

LINDA BUNGER, Student Council secretary, explained that off campus candidates are those living in town at the present time and excludes Lubbock students staying in dorms.

Ballot boxes will be placed in the Tech Union, Administration and West Engineering buildings and the ten dorms. Freshmen may vote any time during the day at the first three locations, but only between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. in the dorms.

RESULTS OF the election will be posted on the bulletin board in the Student Council Office. Run-offs will be Sept. 28.

Names of the 87 candidates are posted on the Student Council Bulletin Board. "If your name is incorrectly omitted from the list," said Miss Bunger, "please report to the Student Council Office this afternoon so that your name will be placed on the ballot."

Candidates' expense accounts are due in the Student Council Office by noon today.

ID CARDS

ID cards may be picked up on the main floor of the Library beginning at 1:30 p.m. today until 6 p.m. Saturday. Students must present their fee slips to get their ID's.

Over 300 Register Wednesday

Fall registration at Texas Tech shattered all existing records Wednesday as the final day of enrollment upped the total to over 8,800.

THE NEW MARK ended forecasts of a drop in registration figures.

In announcing the new record, Dr. Floyd Boze, dean of admissions and registrar, expressed satisfaction with the new figure, in that it more than exceeded all expectations.

The final total of 8,848 was 78 students over last year's high of 8,770, which was also a record high enrollment.

OVER 300 STUDENTS completed signing up Wednesday, the last day for late registration, as well as last day for enrolling for night and Saturday classes.

Registration for the fall term, Tech's 35th long session, began last Wednesday, when over 3,000 enrolled. Over 2,000 freshmen started signing up last Thursday.

NO FIGURES are yet available on the final enrollment count by schools.

Although no official estimate of a final figure had been released by the Registrar's Office, a possible drop in enrollment had been generally forecasted.

Dr. R. C. Goodwin, acting president, previously pointed to the possibility of such a drop in the first faculty meeting several weeks ago.

PAST SWC HEAD

O. B. Williams Dies

DALLAS—Dr. O. B. Williams, past president of the Southwest Conference, died in Baylor Hospital Wednesday.

President of the Conference in 1957-59, Dr. Williams was still active as the University of Texas representative to the conference.

ANNOUNCEMENT of Dr. Williams' death was made over Associated Press late Wednesday afternoon.

Coach DeWitt Weaver, contacted by the Toreador late Wednesday, stated Dr. Williams was "a very good friend of Texas Tech."

Continuing, Weaver described Dr. Williams as a great booster of athletics. He further commented that Dr. Williams had "really been on my side for everything we wanted" at the Southwest Conference meetings.

DR. J. WILLIAM DAVIS, faculty chairman of athletics at Tech, related that Dr. Williams "was a very good friend of mine" and a "valuable member" of the Southwest Conference.

Dr. Davis said Dr. Williams had "served with distinction" as the Conference president, and that he was "deeply grieved and shocked" to be informed of Dr. Williams' death.

A bacteriologist at the University of Texas, Dr. Williams was survived by a son, O. B. Williams, Jr., of Dallas.

As athletic council chairman he devoted much of his time in the winter of 1956 to recruiting Darrel Royal as head football coach at the University of Texas.

Dr. Williams was a native of Kosse, Tex. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Texas in 1921 and master of arts in 1923.

School Trip Features Ball Game, State Fair

The Texas Tech — Southern Methodist football game Oct. 24, has been selected by the Student Council as this year's all-school trip.

AN AIR-CONDITIONED chartered train will take Techsians from Lubbock to Dallas. Upon arrival there is to be a pep rally at Ferris Plaza, across from the train station, and the Texas Tech Band and the Red Raiders will lead a parade down Commerce Avenue to the Statler - Hilton Hotel. The Raiders meet SMU at 2 p.m. that day in the Cotton Bowl. THE STATE FAIR of Texas will be in its last weekend during this trip, and tickets are available for the State Fair Musical presentation "Star Light! Star Bright!"

They may be purchased through the Student Council, but are separate from trip tickets and cannot be obtained after Oct. 10.

The cost of the trip ticket is $14.75 and includes train fare and game ticket. The train leaves Lubbock at 10 p.m. Friday and arrives in Dallas at 8 a.m. Saturday.

NOW... personalized "TECH-CHECKS" for Tech Students who Bank at the FIRST...

Recognizing the important role of Texas Tech in the community, the First National has printed special checks for all Tech students, freshmen and seniors alike. If you're a Tech student and opening a new account, renewing an old one, or you now have an active account, you will receive, without charge, special "Tech-Checks" printed with the school insignia, as well as your name, and Tech address.

Through the years, thousands of Tech students have accepted the invitation to make the First National their bank away from home... by using the First lobby as their downtown meeting place, and taking advantage of the many modern banking facilities and services of the First National.

Dances Head Slate Of Social Activities

Tech's social season begins to whirl this weekend with dances, a hayride, and a retreat on the schedule.

"Russian Rock" is the theme of the Tech Union's Friday night dance. The "Rock," showing Tech's interest in Krushchev's visit, begins at 8:30 p. m. in the Union Ballroom.

Double T Howdy Dance will start in the Ballroom immediately after the Oregon State game Saturday night and end at midnight. The Four Teens will play. Tickets are $1 stag or drag.

Another after-game dance is scheduled at the Phi Kappa Psi lodge for members, pledges, and guests. The Phi Psi Lodge will also be the scene of a mixer with the Gamma Phi's at 7:45 p. m. Sunday.

The Delts and their pledges will entertain dates and rushees at their annual hayride, 6:30 p. m. tomorrow in MacKenzie Park. Weiners and marshmallows will be roasted before the ride through Johnson's Ranch.

The Alpha Phi's leave tomorrow for a retreat at Quartz Mountain Lodge in Oklahoma. They will return Sunday.

Phi Delts Receive Awards

The Texas Epsilon Chapter of Phi Delta Theta at Texas Tech was recently awarded the Harvard Trophy signifying the outstanding chapter in Phi Delta Theta.

The award is made on the basis of general over-all excellence which includes scholarship, campus participation, extra-curricular activities of individual members, and athletics, both intercollegiate and intramural.

IN ADDITION to winning the Harvard Trophy, the Tech chapter captured several other awards. They won the Spiritual Life Trophy, finished second in Community Service and were named a Gold Star Chapter.

The Spiritual Life Award is given for interest and participation in spiritual activities.

THE HEADQUARTERS award is made on the basis of promptness and correctness in handling correspondence with the national office.

Community Service Day is designated every year by the national fraternity. Every chapter participates in some community project on this day. Texas Epsilon's project last spring was the construction of an outdoor altar for devotional purposes at the Boy Scout Camp in Post, Texas.

The Gold Star is given for having outstanding scholarship and a sound financial program. Texas Epsilon was one of the eight chapters granted this recognition.

Homecoming Theme Set At Tuesday Meeting

Confirmation of the Homecoming theme was made at a meeting of the Homecoming Committee Tuesday, reports Jim Dinsmore, committee chairman.

THIS YEAR'S Homecoming will carry the theme of the "Roaring Twenties." The theme was suggested last year from representatives from campus-wide organizations. This year's Homecoming will take place Nov. 14 when the Tech Raiders take on the Houston Cougars in Jone Stadium.

Other business included the giving of instructions and past reports to sub-committees.

L. C. Walker, executive secretary of the Ex Students Association was present.

Hi-Fidelity Review

by BILL MUELLER

Attention all Hi-Fi Fans and Music Lovers. This is the first in a series of articles written for you, as a service of Hi-Fidelity of Lubbock. Every Thursday in this column I will discuss various aspects of high-fidelity. These topics will be concerned with everything from the Theory of Stereo, to Hints on Building Kits; from the Latest in Hi-Fi Products, to Choosing Components for your Hi-Fi.

Briefly I wish to introduce the people responsible for this article. First, we have the owners of Hi-Fidelity of Lubbock, Misterns Allen and Hively. Wayne Allen hardly needs an introduction, since for years he has been supplying the Tech students with records from his three record stores located throughout the city. Roger Hively, a broadcast engineer for more than twenty years, now devotes much of his time in the interest of high-fidelity and provides the technical influence at the Store. Managing the Store is Hank Walters, Hank, thoroughly familiar with good music and hi-fi components, will be happy to demonstrate and explain the functions of the various hi-fi components found in the Store. Finally, I wish to introduce myself; Bill Mueller. I act as the Tech representative.

Now for the Store itself; it is a veritable mecca for all hi-fi-fans. Hi-Fidelity of Lubbock carries a wide assortment of components for stereo and monoaural sound systems. Among these components you will find the finest speakers, amplifiers, record changers, tuners, and cartridges available.

In the weeks to follow, I sincerely hope that the interest in high-fidelity is aroused on the campus. I would appreciate any comments you have on this article or the subject of hi-fi. Please direct your comments by mail to the Store; or better yet, come by to see us.

Clubs Make Fall Agendas

Tech organizations are setting up agencies for the fall semester with first meetings scheduled through next week.

SETH HENDERSON, state supervisor of staff development of the Texas Vocational Rehabilitation Agency, will address the Vocational Rehabilitation Club at noon Friday in the Tech Union workroom.

ALPHA DELTA SIGMA, national advertising fraternity, will have its first fall meeting at 7 p. m. tonight in the Journalism Bldg. reading room.

AN ORGANIZATION meeting of Alpha Phi Omega is scheduled for 7 p. m. tonight in Chemistry 101.

Robert J. Hilliard, new assistant dean of men, will be a faculty advisor for the service group this year. He is also a member of the Alpha Phi Omega national executive board.

Tryouts Scheduled For Angel Flight

Angel Flight try-outs are set for 5 p.m. Thursday and Friday north of the Music Building.

Women students with a 1.0 grade average at Tech or B average in high school who are interested in marching with the precision drill team should report wearing straight skirts.

The Spastic

by Arthur
Mayhew

"The Spastic" is dumbfounded. Two people in Lubbock are treating college students like they were mature.

Now, as any student who has been at Tech over four semesters can tell you, this is unbelievable. Students here are usually treated like four-year-olds with corresponding entertainment.

What are we talking about? The Cafe Gay 90's, the newest and most unique entertainment outlet in this part of the country.

Floor shows—all clean—are presented weekly. Persons may order a decent meal for a fair price; set-ups are served to those over 21. Everyone is treated as an adult.

The people responsible for this heaven-sent action are Frank Rose and Bob Murphy, a couple of enterprising gentlemen who own and operate the establishment on Broadway.

In a town almost devoid of entertainment, this outlet is welcomed with open arms. We had reached the point that if we had to go to a movie one more time we'd flip our beret.

The cover charge is ninety cents, which may sound steep at first glance. But, consider that that is the same price one must pay to go see a downtown movie.

Too long has the movie business run the whole shooting match in Lubbock. Through its locale, the Lubbock theatres most owned by the same group, have held the students in a tight grip. What else could a college boy and his date do but go to the show? They hiked the prices accordingly. Maybe things will change now.

Of course, the Cafe Gay 90's probably won't last long. Some crusading group will have them closed down for selling cokes and ice while the bootleggers continue to flourish all over Lubbock and the South Plains.

To you freshmen, we say that you are seeing several entertainment spots that weren't here last year. Two coffee houses, a la beatnik, have opened since last June. They proved a welcome relief to the movie-Mackenzie Park duo.

We are wondering how long they will last. More than likely, the coffee houses are a fad, but they provide an outlet for those who must spend nine months in The Hub City.

May we conclude by saying that "The Spastic" is fully appreciative of this, the newest and best in college-level entertainment. We hope that the Cafe Gay 90's lasts a long time; however, don't bet on it. After all, this is Lubbock.

May we bid a hasty greeting to The Iconoclast whose first column appeared in our Tuesday rag. We say hasty because at the rate the column is going, it may be a one-shot affair.

Sprinklers Too Thick?

Residents of the new Men's Dorm experienced Tuesday one of the oldest and most exasperating nuisances ever devised by the ground keepers of Texas Tech.

But the nuisance is a very necessary one. It is keeping the lawns of the campus watered by use of the familiar rotating sprinklers.

IT JUST SO HAPPENED Tuesday that all of the sprinklers were going at once on the east side of the new dorms. The residents, just returning from afternoon classes, were faced with the proposition of running the gauntlet of the furiously blasting water dispensers or walking some distance to the other side of the dorms.

The students were as angry as wet hens - or roosters. Books, clothes, shoes and hair-dos were muggy, soggy messes. Profanity ran hot and rank.

WHAT CAN be done to remedy this situation? The grounds must be watered to grow the grass which in turn keeps the damnable dust from being so bad.

The watering could be done at night but this probably does not fit into the plan of things, or the budget.

The only feasible answer then would be to water only "HALF" of the east side of the new dorms at a time. This would be a very merciful gesture on the ground keepers part since many of the students cannot swim and others' ears are not tuned to such lewd LANGUAGE.

New Traffic Light Needed

The City of Lubbock can be proud of its system of traffic lights.

Except for a few intersections sporting "No Left Turn" signs and numerous lights that change from green to red too quickly, traffic usually flows very smoothly for a city this size.

But we feel that there is at least one intersection in Lubbock that would benefit from a signal light.

This is the intersection of 4th St. and Boston—the street running behind the Texas Tech football stadium and on across 4th to the Town and Country Shopping Center.

At least two times during the day—morning and noon—traffic is at a standstill.

Drivers wanting to turn off 4th and enter the Tech campus or the shopping center are unable to do so because of other traffic up and down 4th.

Cars turning onto 4th St. from either the shopping center or the residences beyond or the campus are also slowed by this congestion.

It appears that a complete traffic lighting system (somewhat similar to that at 4th and College) with arrows for turns would ease this situation.

Lubbock is a rapidly growing city. The problem won't solve itself. If anything, without proper attention, it will only grow worse.

Information, Please

Information, we are trying to call a girl who lives in Doak Hall, but we can't find her number in the Lubbock telephone directory.

What? It's listed under Men's Dormitories? Oh, I see. Isn't that sort of odd for a girl's dorm to be in the men's dorm list?

AFTER ALL, information, Doak Hall has been inhabited by females since last year. As I understand it, Doak will probably maintain a status quo for years to come.

There is plenty of room for males at Tech, what with the addition of four new men's dormitories a couple of years ago.

It seems there has been a mistake—one that could cause a great deal of confusion.

Take us, for instance; we thought maybe we had been given a wrong address. But we thought of asking you, information; others might not see the light.

MANY PARENTS each year drop in unexpectedly on their daughters. They think she lives in Doak but upon looking in the phone book, they're not so sure.

They might not think of asking you, information. And if they do, they are sure to wonder just why the Doak number isn't where it's supposed to be.

SERIOUSLY, information, do you think a correction could be made in next year's phone directory (that is, if the dorm still houses women, and we think it will).

We realize it's a long time until next year, but couldn't someone make a note of it. Convenience is a wonderful thing, information. Everybody likes it.

COTTON INDUSTRY Tour for senior students in agronomy, agricultural economics and textile engineering has been announced by Dr. A. W. Young, agronomy department head.

This tour, sponsored by Tech's agronomy department and Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., is the first to be offered at Tech for the purpose of visiting and studying various phases of the cotton industry.

THREE senior students will be selected on the basis of essays submitted by eligible students from each major. The topic this year is "The Role of the Texas High Plains in the Cotton Industry." Judges will be representatives of the named departments and representatives of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Tentative dates for the tour are Jan. 24 to Jan. 28. The group will visit the Dallas Cotton Exchange, the Lankart Seed Farms at Waco, the Rogers Seed Processing Plant at Waco and the Textile Mills at New Braunfels.

Counselors to Present Special Marriage Series

"First Ten Years of Marriage," a special series designed for couples who have been married from one day to ten years, begins on October 1, at the YWCA.

THE FOUR-WEEK series is conducted on Thursday nights from 7:30 to 9 p. m. at 910 Texas Avenue.

"TALKING TOGETHER," a discussion by Joe Jenkins, Family Service, initiates the series on October 1. Dr. Elmer Knowles, Prof. of Home and Family Life, plans to speak on "The Father's Role in the Family" on October 8.

DR. WILLIAM C. SMITH, Gynecologist, will discuss "Sexual Harmony in Marriage" on October 15 and "Social Security, Disability and Life Insurance for the Young Family" will be featured by Mr. Charles Alexander, Great National Life Insurance Co.

Couples interested in this series may obtain further information by calling PO 3-4200. There will be a fee of $1 per couple.

Meeting Room Dedicated

Presentation ceremonies took place Tuesday in a new conference room in Tech's Journalism Bldg., dedicated to Mrs. Ione Hutchinson of Lubbock.

TO BE USED for conferences and other meetings, the room was formerly a library and reading

At the 4 p. m. ceremony, Wallace Garets, head of Tech Journalism dept., presided and gave a brief presentation speech.

AF Band Performs Concerts Friday

Operation Melody will be the theme of the United States Air Force Band, conducted by Colonel George S. Howard, during its two concerts Friday in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

TICKETS FOR the 3 p. m. matinee are priced at $1 for the lower floor and fifty cents for balcony seats. Prices for the night show are $2 and $1 respectively. All tickets are now on sale in the box office.

The Air Force Band has an unparalleled history. It has, since June 1942, achieved a position unique in musical circles. The band is so flexible that it can resolve itself into a 100 piece marching band, a 90 piece symphony orchestra, an 85 piece symphonic band, a 25 voice glee club, (the "Singing Sergeants") five dance bands, and various musical groups.

A FURTHER contribution to the Band's phenomenal success is the fact that it does not subscribe to the outmoded theory that a musical organization has to be either "long hair" or "jazz." The band performs any given type of music and presents programs that are designed to satisfy every appetite from "opera" to "be-bop," and from "symphony" to "swing."

It is currently featured in "Serenade in Blue" which is carried by 2,415 independent radio stations. The band's precision, interpretation, and genuinely human appeal has made it a sensation in the finest concert halls of four continents.

Picadors Meet NTS In Lid-Lifter Oct. 8

The first group of football players who will play three full seasons in the Southwest Conference as Red Raiders, began workouts Monday.

THIS YEAR'S Picadors, some 50 strong, count several all-stars among the group, with the remainder being made up of all-area and all-district boys.

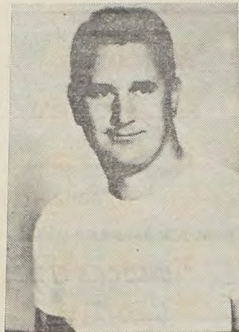

Freshman coach Tom Hamm is high on his freshmen. "They could be the best we've ever had," he said. "They aren't the biggest group ever, but we expect them to develop into top notch players."

Under Southwest Conference rules, freshmen start workouts the day classes begin. The freshman opener is Oct. 8 with North Texas State in Jones Stadium, giving the Picadors about two weeks for preparation.

DOUBTLESS the fact that entering freshmen will play 3 full years in the SWC made Tech recruiters have a better chance to sign top boys this year. Coach Hamm believes when Tech has played a year or two in the conference, recruiting will be aided even more.

The freshmen will operate the same offense the varsity is using this year.

The Schedule:
 Oct. 8 North Texas State--Lubbock
 Oct. 15 Hardin Simmons--Ablene
 Oct. 31 Arkansas--Lubbock
 Nov. 5 West Texas State--Canyon
 Nov. 20 Air Force Academy
 --Colorado Springs, Colo.

Tech Captains Expect Rugged Oregon Clash

Oregon State will be a tougher test for the Raiders than last week's Aggie game according to Ken Talkington and Jerry Selfridge, Raider captains.

"THEY AVERAGE about 204 pounds; they're rough and they like to hit," Talkington said. "We'll have to play much better than we did against the Aggies to win this one. I think we can do it."

Selfridge, who converted from end to tackle this year, echoed Talkington's prediction. "I think they (Oregon) are one of the most underrated teams in the country. They lost their first game, but they lost to the best team on the coast." (University of Southern California).

"WE WILL HAVE to remedy some mistakes we made against the Aggies," Selfridge continued. He said he thought everyone was adapting to the new offense and mistakes made last week were very natural since it was the first game for the Raiders since they adopted the new formations.

Both captains expect a good season for the Raiders this year. "The boys are closer and are pulling for each other more than at any time since I've been here," Selfridge said.

TALKINGTON remarked that team spirit and morale is also high and Tech opponents will have a battle every second of every game.

The team leaders said they feel the A&M victory gained much support for the Raiders, which will greatly aid them against Oregon. "We will do our best to see we don't disappoint them," Selfridge promised.

TALKINGTON had high praise for Raider line play in the Cadet tilt. "Every time Glen (Amerson) or I went back to pass we had plenty of time while Milstead was swamped by rushers nearly every play," he said.

Ronnie Rice, last year's leading ground gainer, who missed the first game because of a shoulder injury, has been working out this week and will probably see action against the Beavers. Talkington feels that Rice is one of the best halfbacks in this part of the country and will be a boost to the Raider ground game.

Little Tech Guard Likes New Offense

Included in the Tech football line-up this fall are only a handful of seniors, but the air-minded Raiders hope to prove Saturday night that it doesn't take an all senior team to win football games.

HELPING to prove this point to the rugged Beavers from Oregon State will be one of Tech's junior guards Jere Mohon. The 190 pound product of Pannhandle, Texas, stands only 5'8", but it doesn't take him long to make his presence known on the field, both to opponent and spectator.

When quizzed on his reasons for selecting Tech, Jere answered, "I always had a desire to play Southwest Conference ball. To me, it's the best in the nation. I wanted a school that wasn't too far away from home."

JERE WAS an outstanding grinder in high school. He lettered four years, making the all regional team both his junior and senior years. Topping his list of honors was an honorable mention on an all-state team his final year.

"There is quite a difference between high school and college ball, Jere remarked. "In high school, it's just fun, but when you start playing college ball it develops into a job. Of course, you get a certain amount of fun out of college ball, too."

Jere prefers the new "wide open" offense.

BEFORE, we had to whip the player in front of us every play. Now, we have a chance to outsmart him. It makes our job a lot easier, especially since we are small."

Mohon continued, "We now have a chance to pull out and double team on a man. If we pull out, the man in front doesn't know where he is going to be hit from."

JERE WENT on to say that

Oregon State will be a rougher team than A&M due to their weight advantage of 15 pound per man.

The stocky guard's answer to a query on how the team will far this year was a smiling, "I'm always confident about this." "I ways optimistic about this." "I you don't think you can win, you can't."

AS A SOPHOMORE last year Mohon won his first varsity letter. He is majoring in education.

To a final question concerning next year's competition as a member of the new conference, Jere replied, "We'll cross that bridge when we get to it. We're taking them one at a time ... we've got to beat Oregon State first."

White Hose Will Relax

CHICAGO AP—While this baseball-delirious city began to calm down a bit Wednesday, the American League champion White Sox rested for an anti-climatic series with the Tigers in Detroit this weekend.

MANAGER AL LOPEZ, scouting the San Francisco Giants in the game with the Chicago Cubs, turned over the Sox to Coach Tony Cuccinello.

Lopez said that although a few Sox players may be rested in the three-set finale at Detroit, his club would not just be going through the motions.

"DETROIT IS fighting for this place with the Yankees and Baltimore," said Lopez. "We have to play the best we think we can under the circumstances."

It is our belief that all phases of the game and the Raiders will be covered through rose-colored glasses. This observation may be a solid foundation. Lubbock is located in the heart of the state of Texas. It is a share of outstanding athletes that were in the SWC.

Charles Milstead, Aggie of Raider signal caller, played on the Tyler eleven. Milstead started state team. Naturally his uncle, Milstead, decided to play football at Cotton Bowl the 165 pound former even terms. This isn't an attempt. We merely wish to point out that our athletes had to be great.

Too many Raider supporters Stadium Saturday night and with little difficulty. Actually, they were not as good as they were. They were not as good as they were. They were not as good as they were. They were not as good as they were.

Vern's Views

by J. Vernon Stewart

Vern's Views have existed in private for a long time. This week for the first time they will begin appearing as a regular weekly feature of The Toreador.

We'll try as Associate Sports Editor to view sports topics that Mr. and Miss Texas Tech are unable to see. At times, we'll probably take unique views on broad topics that everyone is familiar with. In such instances comment from you, the reader, will be welcome.

It is our belief that all phases of Tech's sports program are on the upswing and the Raiders will become a Southwest Conference power shortly. This observation may create the idea that Vern's Views are filtered through rose-colored glasses, but be assured this statement has a solid foundation.

Lubbock is located in the heart of an area that produces more than its share of outstanding athletes and recruiting will be much easier now that we're in the SWC.

Charles Milstead, Aggie quarterback, and Ken Talkington, the Raider signal caller, played on the same high school team at Tyler. Talkington ran second team quarterback and defensive halfback on the Tyler eleven. Milstead starred and was named on everybody's all-state team. Naturally his understudy received little glory but Talkington decided to play football at Texas Tech. Saturday night in the Cotton Bowl the 165 pound former second stringer battled Milstead on even terms. This isn't an attempt to take anything away from Milstead. We merely wish to point out that it was unfortunate that two standout athletes had to be graded in high school.

Too many Raider supporters think they will go out to Jones Stadium Saturday night and watch Tech take its second win in a row with little difficulty. Actually the Beavers have a much stronger squad than did A&M. They employ a single-wing attack and have the power to grind down opponents. In their 27-6 loss to USC last week, rain made the ball slippery, and kept them from showing their passing attack. If they have a passer with anything near the Milstead caliber, watch out!

We pick the Raiders in a squeaker.

SCOUT REPORTS

Beavers Tough Foe

"Oregon State will probably be the toughest, if not the toughest team we will play this year."

WITH THESE words, Red Phillips of the Tech coaching staff summed up his feelings about the team the Red Raiders will face Saturday night in Jones Stadium.

Phillips, who scouted the Beavers last weekend during their 27 to 6 loss to Southern Cal continued, "They are a real tough ball club. Running from the old style single wing, they play hard and hit hard. While they can pass, the team likes straight running plays to garner most of its yardage."

THE STATE team will be one of the heaviest that Tech will meet, fielding a starting unit averaging 204.

As to their depth, Phillips expects a 40 to 44 man traveling squad to come to Lubbock which will make the team three or four deep in each position. As he said, "They won't be hurting for players anywhere."

AS A MATTER of record, Phillips pointed out the Oregon State team has the best won-lost record on the Pacific Coast over the past four years, winning 22 while losing 8 and tying 1.

SHIFTING TO the Red Raiders, Coach Phillips reminded that they came out of the A&M tilt without any serious injuries.

THE RAIDERS plan at least one change in their starting lineup. Junior Dick Starford, the third stringer from Temple, who returned an Aggie pass 54 yards, probably will start at fullback.

As for Tech's strategy, Phillips said, "We aren't trying to fool anyone. The way we are set up we will naturally pass as much as we can."
