Committee Chooses 3 To Head La Ventana

The Publications Committee has selected Kay Kagay, Joyce Woody and David Day to head the staff of the '62-'63 La Ventana as co-editors and advertising manager respectively.

Miss Kagay and Miss Woody have both been members of the La Ventana staff for three years. Day has served as advertising salesman and is presently advertising manager.

"I'm really happy about being a La Ventana editor," Miss Woody said, "and I feel it is certainly a big honor. I feel, too, that it is a big job, but I will try my best to fulfill the job." She went on to say that having worked with Miss Kagay for two years, she feels that she will enjoy working with her next year.

Concerning the new annual, Miss Woody said, "The format of the '62-'63 annual will be the same as in the past, but we intend to work more closely with the students and faculty to give a better view of the college."

Phil Orman, publications director, said, "I am highly pleased with the selections and feel that they will be a great asset to the '62-'63 La Ventana."

Applications for next year's staff members are now being taken by the new editors. Editor for next year's Toreador will be selected Wednesday.

Rally Opens Race

Tech's second annual election rally, with all the importance and formality of a national convention, will erupt with campaign action at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday at the Municipal Auditorium.

Cheerleader candidates will set up their booths that afternoon to boost their campaigns before the rally.

Nominating speeches by campaign managers, executive officer candidate speeches, introduction of representative candidates and cheerleader tryouts will all be a part of the rip-roaring rally. Gerald Hodges, business manager of the Student Assn., will be master of ceremonies.

Speeches by business manager and secretary candidates will have a four-minute limit. Candidates for president and vice president will be allowed five-minute speeches. Two-minute floor demonstrations will follow each speech.

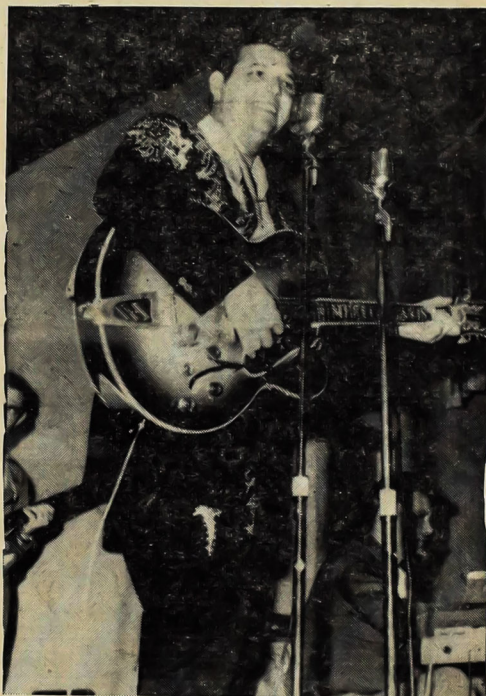

Advertising for the individual candidates, their qualifications and platforms will be included in a special edition of the Toreador on Election Day Wednesday. Any candidates who wish to advertise in this edition must have advertising copy in the advertising office by Friday afternoon. All candidates for executive offices and cheerleader must submit a list of qualifications and a copy of their platform by Friday afternoon if they want this information in the special edition. This information should be taken to the Toreador newsroom Friday.

Campaigning for the executive offices and for cheerleaders began Wednesday and campaigning for school representatives will begin Tuesday.

Editors Announce Friday Deadline

Friday is the deadline for all copy and pictures of outside activities to be turned in for publication in this year's La Ventana.

After Friday the La Ventana staff will not be responsible for the accuracy or content of copy or the layout of pages for organizations which do not submit material, according to La Ventana co-editors.

WESTERN GUITARIST—Hank Thompson and his band will provide the music for the Western stamp scheduled for Saturday night in the downstairs Ballroom of the Tech Union. Tech's Rodeo Queen will be crowned at the dance, which is sponsored by the Rodeo Club.

Penny-A-Vote Picks New Rodeo Queen

Students are now voting for the 1962 Rodeo Queen from six finalists who are pictured in the Tech Union.

The finalists are Judy Pence, Nancy Friend, Diana Harbert, Jimmie Bibb, Wanda Boatler and Connie Mitchell. These girls were selected on the basis of riding ability and choice of western apparel.

Voting for the queen will continue through Friday on a penny-a-vote basis in the Tech Union. Each penny counts as one vote and there is no limit to the number of pennies that can be cast. All students are eligible to vote.

Preceding the rodeo, which will be held April 19-21, the queen will be crowned at a dance Saturday featuring Hank Thompson. She will be presented the first night of the rodeo and will reign over the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Assn. Rodeo.

Tech Bands Perform In Auditorium Sunday

The Texas Tech concert bands will present their annual spring concert at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium. There will be no admission charge to students.

The combined varsity band, composed of 150 students, will begin the concert playing "Coat of Arms March," "The Russian Sailors Dance," "Victory at Sea," selections from "South Pacific" and "Block M March."

Tech's concert band, with its 98 members, will then perform. Their selections will be "Semper Fidelis March," Overture to "Rienzi," "La Bamba De Vera Cruz," Overture to "Candide," "Jubilee March," "Psalm for Band," "Crown Imperial March," a selection from "My Fair Lady," "American Salute," "Valdres March" and "Rose Variations."

Keith McCarty, professor of woodwinds, and Richard Tolley, brass instructor, will be featured during the concert. McCarty will play "Adagio-Torantella" and Tolley will present "Rose Variations."

After the concert visiting band directors will be served at the home of Tech's band director Dean Killion, 3433-34th St.

This will be the bands' first appearance since their recent annual spring tour. The band performed in Dallas, Memphis, Bowie, Childress, Amarillo and other Texas cities.

Complimentary tickets have been sent to band students in the surrounding area.

Picket Line Halts Work On New Tech Library

Construction workers on the new library on the Tech campus took a one-day vacation Wednesday... but not because of the rain.

Picket lines began at 7:20 a.m. Wednesday as members of a local painters' union struck in protest of low wages being paid by a local tiling supply company.

Little more than eight hours later everything was back to normal, however, as an agreement was signed to lift the wages to the minimum union salary.

Less than ten members of Painters Local Union No. 342 were directly involved in the strike, but all the library workers in the business construction trade respected the picket lines and ceased working.

J. Frank Woodard representing Kelly's Tile & Supply 3208-B 34th St., and Ferman Pierce, president of the painters' union, resolved the differences shortly after 3:30 p.m.

The employees of the tile supply firm were the only non-union workers involved in the construction of the library and were receiving less per hour than their union co-workers. After the Wednesday agreement, all but two of the Kelly's Tile & Supply employees joined the painters' union. The other two were expected to follow suit today.

According to Pierce, Wednesday's strike was the first at Tech since bricklayers quit work on the Mechanical Engineering Bldg. in May, 1960.

9 Girls Pledge Sigma Kappa

The nine spring pledges of Sigma Kappa are Fran Thompson, president; Linda Shear, vice president; Delonn Holcomb, secretary; Peggy Marsalis, treasurer; Barbara Carpenter, Helen Elliott, Jean Harrison, Evelyn Judd and Barbara Stevenson. All are freshmen.

Twenty-nine pledges were initiated into Kappa Kappa Gamma. They include Sandra Gail Assister, Catherine Breen, Beverly Jo Brown, Karen Conner, Eddie Jo Davidson, Susie Davis, Beverly Earl, Mary Ann Gleason and Joan Grinnell.

Others were Janet Heatherington, Penelope Little, Louise Lehnhard, Jane Loughmiller, Edith Luckel, Ann Mallan, Kathryn Osthoff, Kay Rhew, Judy Richerson, Nancy Shoemaker, Cynthia Strawn, Nan Taylor, Kathy Tipps, Sharon Vinyard, Lana Walker, Nell Anne Walter, Sally Welch and Barbara White.

Weems' Orchestra Plays At Annual AFROTC Ball

The annual Air Force ROTC Ball will be at 8 p.m. April 14 in the downstairs Ballroom of the Tech Union.

This major AFROTC social event of the year will feature Ted Weems and his orchestra, renowned among music lovers and music makers alike.

Weems, called a favorite entertainer of the college set, has appeared at Texas Christian University, Southern Methodist University, Texas A&M College and the Universities of Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Featured with Weems will be Jean Carter, Louisiana belle who is expected to follow in the footsteps of other famous Weems' discoveries such as Perry Como and Marilyn Maxwell.

Some of Weems' more recent engagements include Houston's Allegro Ball, San Antonio's Miss Fiesta and Charity Balls, Austin's Symphony Ball and Miss Mississippi Pageant Ball at Vicksburg.

Lawrence Welk, orchestra leader and musician, has said of Weems, "He's been an inspiration to me and my musicians."

Dress for the Ball will be formal and all cadets and their dates are invited.

LESSON II - Where to watch girls

Although girl watching may be practiced in any place and at any time girls are encountered (see above), certain locations deserve special mention for their consistently high levels of both quality and quantity. The east side of Fifth Avenue between 51st and 59th Streets in New York City is perhaps the girl watching center of the world. Other such locations are: Via Veneto in Rome, Champs Elysees in Paris, Oude Zyds Achterburgwal in Amsterdam and Sugarbush, Vermont (January through March). Experienced girl watchers recommend these places with utter confidence (just as experienced smokers recommend Pall Mall for complete smoking pleasure).

Ralph's Ramblings

Various Opinions

Letters...

I had hoped that the name change issue was settled as far as the student body was concerned following the election. However, it seems that there are those who don't want to go along with the majority rule system.

The letter below is one that I have received since the last election. I imagine that I will receive many more—all on the same subject. Actually, it seems like a hopeless case for the dissenters. The Council has already taken their stand.

It seems rather useless to bicker anymore over the name choice. As far as the student body is concerned it's Texas State University. Any change will have to come in negotiations with the Ex-Students, Administration and Faculty.

Let's be realistic about this thing. The only people who can make ANY KIND of change in our name are the Board of Directors and the Texas Legislature. Without their action, the whole mess simply doesn't mean a thing. The student body's choice—Texas State—appears to be only one of many names offered as suggestions. Without the approval of the Board and the Legislature the name change issue doesn't mean a damn!

The letter.

Dear Mr. Carpenter,

You must be very pleased with yourself on the outcome of the voting on the name change for our school and the selection of the title Texas University No. 2.

If your arm is not too sore from patting yourself on the back I would like for you to answer a couple of questions.

First, why is it that you and your staff rated a full page in the Toreador a week prior to the voting to express your opinion? Would you have given equal space to any and each of the other ten thousand Techsans for the same reason? I guess that this would have made a very bulky and dull paper.

Second, why is it that a modified electoral ballot was used? I thought that in a poll the direct opinion of the voter was sought. Possibly you didn't want this.

If you feel that these questions are too unreasonable or embarrassing grant me one favor. Publish the popular vote so that the real wishes of students may be known. (Isn't this always done?)

Bobby Talbert

Bobby, I will be glad to answer one of your questions. You will have to take the other one up with Carlyle Smith at the Council office. You see, I didn't have anything whatsoever to do with planning the electoral ballot that was used in the election. In fact, I also found it rather hard to understand at first. But, I DON'T run the elections on this campus.

Now in regard to your question on the full page in the Toreador before the election. Bobby, that editorial advocating Texas State appeared on the editorial page. We have an editorial page in just about every paper we print. If you will check the papers closely, you will find that this is the only page that reflects the opinions of the Toreador itself.

Also, Bobby, you asked about the popular vote results. Here they are:

	First Choice	Second Choice
TEXAS STATE	1884	887
TEXAS TECH	1734	832
TEXAS TECHNOLOGICAL	353	1197
TSUAST	395	1458

—RWC—

The Toreador will publish a report of the special committee on campus traffic-security very soon. Richard Sharpe heads this committee composed of student representatives from areas concerned with traffic problems.

allotted freedom or more specifically, his quota of allowed cuts. David J. Towns

To Ralph W. Carpenter,

Upon reading the editorial entitled "The Toreador Supports TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY" printed in the March 20, 1962, issue of the Toreador, I feel moved to state my opinion upon your means, not your end.

It is my opinion that your editorial was not a good one. The fault lies, not in your intent but, in the methods which you used to gain your ends. The article was based upon emotional appeal and not sound reasoning. I do not condemn your intent, but I do condemn the use of emotion as a substitute for rational analysis. If you must resort to emotional appeal to sell your product, you had better re-evaluate the product.

Statements like "How many of us already have visions of our sons and daughters attending our alma mater, the university their parents attended?" and "We must not sacrifice the future of this university on the altar of Symbolism! We must not crucify this college on a Cross of T's!!" are loaded and intended to arouse the emotions while suppressing rational reasoning.

Personally I am disappointed in you and your staff. This is not the caliber of writing demanded by your position.

Sincerely,
David Hamm
201-A Sneed Hall

Dear Editor:

I have heard rumblings about the student body or some of the students there wanting to change the name of Texas Tech. I wouldn't be at all surprised if a change to a UNIVERSITY title might be in order, since the school has become so large.

One name we heard mentioned was Texas State University. If you want the opinion of one Tech Ex, it is that absolutely no name at all would be better than this.

Texas already has a North Texas State, an East Texas State and a West Texas State, with which to be confused. Surely our fine school can be a little more distinctive.

A friend told us that the "technological" part was offensive to some, as being limiting in sound. I do not find it so. When I was at Tech, a student had a wide variety of courses from which to select, and if we were supposed to think we could only study technical things, we did not know it, and many went ahead in other fields of study, totally unlimited by the name and its possible implications.

Changing the name for this one reason would be no smarter than expecting SMU to change its name because "Southern" might limit its enrollment by discouraging Northern students, or for TCU to change its name because the Christian part might offend possible students from other faiths than Christianity. We could find many more examples, but you get the picture, I am sure.

A change in name just for the fun of it is silly. A change for a positive improvement might be in order. But before you go putting all the degrees this college has conferred out of date, and doing away with all the Double T tradition, please give some serious thought to a name we can all identify with and be proud of — one distinctly individual and worthy of our alma mater.

Very truly yours,
Barbara Green Culver

Learning never stops for engineers at Western Electric

There's no place at Western Electric for engineers who feel that college diplomas signify the end of their education. However, if a man can meet our quality standards and feels that he is really just beginning to learn... and if he is ready to launch his career where learning is an important part of the job and where graduate-level training on and off the job is encouraged — we want and need him.

At Western Electric, in addition to the normal learning-while-doing, engineers are encouraged to move ahead in their fields by several types of educational programs. Western maintains its own full-time graduate engineering training program, seven formal management courses, and a tuition refund plan for out-of-hours college study.

This learning atmosphere is just one reason why a career at Western Electric is so stimulating. Of equal importance, however, is the nature of the work we do. Our new engineers are taking part in projects that implement the whole art of modern telephony, from high-speed sound transmission and solar cells to electronic telephone offices and computer-controlled production techniques.

Should you join us now, you will be coming to Western Electric at one of the best times in the company's history. In the management area alone, several thousand supervisory jobs are expected to open up to W.E. people within the next 10 years. And our work of building communications equipment and systems becomes increasingly challenging and important as the communications needs of our nation and the world continue to increase.

Challenging opportunities exist now at Western Electric for electrical, mechanical, industrial, and chemical engineers, as well as physical science, liberal arts, and business majors. All qualified applicants will receive careful consideration for employment without regard to race, creed, color or national origin. For more information about Western Electric, write College Relations, Western Electric Company, Room 6206, 222 Broadway, New York 39, New York. And be sure to arrange for a Western Electric interview when our college representatives visit your campus.

Big Challenge Awaits Tech Hurdler Friday

Texas Tech's Bob Swafford had the best clocking in the 400-meter hurdles of any collegian in the state last year, but he'll be hard pressed to place in that event at the Texas Relays at Austin Friday night.

Swafford placed fourth in the grueling event last year with a time of 51.6. But among his competitors Friday night will be a pair of hurdlers participating unattached who placed ahead of him last year—Northwest Louisiana's Don Styron, second behind Eddie Southern in 51.2 and Rex Stucker, third in 51.3.

Further complicating Swafford's task are such men as Jerry Nason, formerly of Baylor, sixth in 52.2; Rex Wilson, Texas performer, unattached this spring, third in the National Collegiates two years ago in 52.2 and McMurry's Bud Morgan.

Swafford, off to a slow start this year after accidentally spiking himself last month, has moved to second place among Tech's pointmakers with 25½ points, just ahead of sprinter Franklin Wood of Stephenville, who has 23½, and a step behind hurdler Ronny Biffle of Anton, 28½. Swafford's surprise low hurdles win at San Angelo over the Southwest Conference champion, Ray Cunningham, who missed stride in the final yards, was coupled with a third in the highs (behind Cunningham and Texas Christian's Bobby Bernard) and points in the relays.

Swafford, Wood, and Biffle collaborated with Galena Park's Walter Cunningham to run the second fastest sprint relay in Tech's history last week, but the 41.8 was good enough for only third place at San Angelo and hardly figures in the Relays' form charts.

Coach Don Sparks is entering seven varsity runners and six freshmen.

Tech Gridders Prepare For First Scrimmage

Several lineup changes will be noted at Texas Tech's first full-scale scrimmage of the current spring training Saturday afternoon in Jones Stadium.

Most of the switches result from the graduation of a pair of three-year letterman tacklers, Larry Mullins of Snyder and Pat Holmes of Del Rio.

Nathan (Sonny) Armstrong, Sweetwater junior, who logged the most minutes at guard last fall, has gone to right tackle. And Ken Milliken, San Angelo junior, who developed into a sturdy guard by mid-season, is playing left tackle.

Freshman Bill Washerlesky of Bonham is another former guard adding depth to right tackle.

Most of the ball carriers played in the backfield last season. In 1961 the big move was sending freshman Jim Zanios of Albuquerque from guard to halfback. One of the fastest of the Picador squad, he continues to be one of the speediest competing for berths on the 1962 varsity.

Coach J. T. King's first big scrimmage was scheduled for the Saturday (March 24) preceding the spring vacation but weather interfered. The public will be admitted free to this week's scrimmage at 2 p.m. and to the scrimmage following the Region One track and field meet April 14. A charge will be made for the climaxing Red-White game April 21.

Weather played havoc with this week's plans also. King had originally planned to get in three good days of workout from Tuesday through today and then take Friday off. Wednesday rain changed his plans slightly, however. His gridders got the day off Wednesday, but they'll hit the practice field Friday to make up for it.

He's had only Tuesday to drill the boys since they returned from spring vacation, but he said Wednesday he was pleased with their showing.

"We've been getting real good spirit," King told the Toreador. "They didn't look as sharp Tuesday as they have in some workouts, but that first day back from a layoff is never quite as good as you'd like it to be."

Homespun

Honest cotton homespun designed along the simplest possible lines . . . collarless, coat-fronted, straight as a string . . . Try it waisted with the hempen belt, or not, or maybe as the lightest sort of toss-on coat.

Haberdashery

One of the cleanest, most gentlemanly shirts a lady could wear . . . our Oxford stripe. Its roll sleeves, pan collar, and general air of freshness and ease identify it promptly as a true classic. In a most gently-textured white Oxford cloth, striped with Grey, Blue, Olive, or Red.

Council Initiates Drive

Junior Council, junior women's honorary service organization, is receiving applications for membership for next year's council.

Sophomore girls with as many as 60 hours and not more than 89 hours at the beginning of the fall semester of 1962 and a 2.0 overall grade point average are eligible for consideration.

Council members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, dependability, leadership and character in serving Texas Tech. The organization operates to further friendship, encourage scholarship, stimulate interest in campus activities and serve Tech.

Girls who did not receive applications by mail may do so in Dean of Women's Office. Applications are to be filled out and returned with picture to Judy Cowger, Box 36, Horn Hall, by April 10.

KTXT Positions Open For Students

Charles Buzzard, associate professor of speech, has announced that applications for positions on the KTXT-FM staff next fall are now available in his office. KTXT-FM is Tech's radio station.

Students who plan to take 317, radio activities course, or work at the station during the fall semester should fill out one of these forms.

Tech Hosts Meet For Area Students

Texas Interscholastic League, Region I, welcomes more than 2,500 West Texas high school students to the Tech campus April 13-14 for the annual meet.

Representing 30 districts, 160 schools in the Panhandle and South Plains will send their district winners to compete here. Classes AA, A and B will be represented. Regional winners will be sent to the state meet in Austin.

Championships will be awarded in the following events: debate, prose reading, poetry interpretation, persuasive speaking, extemporaneous speaking, one-act play, ready writing, science, number sense, slide rule, journalism, shorthand, typing, tennis, track and field, golf and volleyball.

Dr. Holmes A. Webb of Texas Tech's education department is director-general of this region.

Students competing in the contest will be guests of the 30th annual Engineering-Science Show and Home Economics Open House.

The engineering show will feature a Mercury space capsule similar to the one in which Lt. Col. John Glenn recently orbited the earth. Six fashion shows, followed by skits, will be the main attraction of the "Home Economics' Image," the theme of the Open House.

Tech's Red Raiders will play a non-admission intra-squad football game following the final track and field events Saturday afternoon which these high school visitors may attend.

The 23rd annual Texas Painting and Sculpture Exhibition, sponsored by Tech's architecture and allied arts department and the West Texas Museum, will be shown in the museum at the same time.

Professor Attends Engineer's Meeting

Charles E. Houston, professor of electrical engineering, and Tech representative of the Institute of Radio Engineers, attended an IRE international meeting recently in New York City.

The annual convention, conducted in the Waldorf-Astoria, was attended by IRE representatives from the United States and foreign countries.

Lubbockite Speaks At Sorority Dinner

Guest speaker for the Theta Sigma Phi Matrix Table Banquet is Jay Milner, writer and Lubbock resident.

The banquet, to be held in the upstairs Ballroom of the Tech Union Monday at 7 p.m., is the founder's day celebration for Theta Sigma Phi.

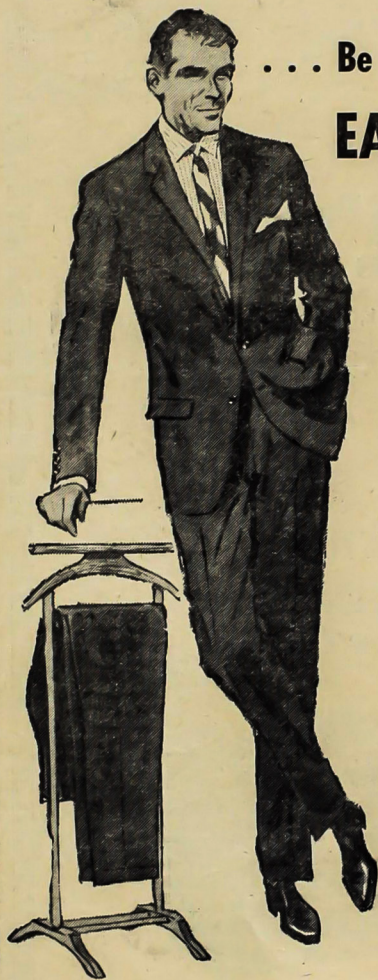

Milner, journalist and novelist, is a graduate of Lubbock High School and a former Texas Tech student. His first novel, "Incident in Ashton" was published last year.

Members of the professional fraternity and other people desiring to attend should make reservations with Margaret Schrader at the Tech Press by Friday. Tickets are $2.25 per person.
