Molotov Threatens To Pick Up His Marbles

LONDON, Oct. 2 (AP)—Informants high within the counsel of the foreign ministers' conference said today that Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov threatened to go home over the weekend after a heated argument with British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

The two have been reported at loggerheads frequently during the sessions which were drawing toward a close.

The representatives of the United States, Russia, Great Britain, France and China met more than two hours this morning and reconvened for another session later. It seemed that even the most superficial agreement could not be reached.

Truman Forcing Showdown Vote On Nomination

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—President Truman shoved in the chips today for a politically important senate showdown on his nomination of Raymond S. McKeough as a maritime commissioner.

Packed with controversy, the appointment involves two questions:

1. Can the bulk of senate republicans, who don't like the CIO, get enough democratic votes on their side to engineer the first rejection of a Truman nomination? McKeough is on the CIO's Political Action Committee payroll.

2. Is the AFL strong enough among senators to swing the balance by its opposition to McKeough?

Mr. Truman reputedly has told his legislative lieutenants he wants the nomination of the former new deal congressman voted up or down.

The senate commerce committee voted it down, 10 to 7, yesterday. The senate will get the issue immediately, but it may delay a vote.

Eight republicans and two democrats—Senators Overton of Louisiana and Daniel of Texas—formed a committee to study the adverse report. Seven democrats voted for approval.

The reasons committee members gave for their action varied. But all came back to this central point: McKeough's employment by the PAC as its Chicago district director in the Roosevelt fourth term campaign.

No one had anything to say against McKeough's character or his other qualifications.

Wife Learns Capt. Freeman Missing

Mrs. James Freeman, the former Kathleen Underwood, was notified Monday evening by the war department that her husband, Capt. James B. Freeman, pilot, has been missing since Sept. 10.

He was on a routine flight from Palawan to Manila, on that date and was last reported about 40 minutes out of Manila. Ten other men were aboard the plane. Thus far, a search of the area failed to reveal any trace of the plane or men. There were, however, some islands in the area which might have been used as a haven.

Mrs. Freeman learned of some of the details through Lt. Jack Lane, a Big Spring flier, who had, until the ill-fated flight, served as co-pilot with Capt. Freeman.

Capt. Freeman was stationed at the bombardier school here, being transferred to San Angelo in October of 1943. He and Mrs. Freeman were married in January of 1944 and he has been overseas since July of that year.

Electricity Restored; Oil Settlement Nears

CIO, Companies Study Government Proposals

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—CIO oil workers and 11 big oil companies—locked in controversy over wages—today studied a government peace proposal calling for:

- 1. A temporary 15 per cent pay increase, and
- 2. Agreement by both sides to accept an arbitrator's final settlement.

Acceptance would bring an immediate end to strikes which began September 16 and spread to 12 states. Latest hit area is the west coast.

Pacific military and naval supplies thereby were jeopardized. Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach presented the peace plan early today to weary negotiators who acknowledged a hopeless deadlock after seven days of conciliation under government supervision.

The government, with papers already drawn for seizure action should the oil dispute continue to leave refineries idle—prodded union and management representatives to compromise on the CIO demands for 30 per cent higher wages—but quickly.

Continuing that "if this strike continues on into the winter, the people will be hungry and cold," Schwelienbach suggested:

- 1. Immediate return to work by the 36,000 striking union members and full resumption of operations by management.
- 2. Return to a 40-hour working schedule "as soon as manpower availability permits," with an increase of 15 per cent or its equivalent in the basic pay rate.
- 3. Agreement to accept the findings of an impartial arbitrator on the differences between the union's demand for 30 per cent and the companies' counter offer of 15.

The arbitrator would make his decision by December 1. In the meantime, collective bargaining could be continued.

While the oil dispute was in perhaps its most crucial stage, John L. Lewis' soft coal miners gave government officials new jitters with indications of a widespread strike in the making.

Operators rejected the United Mine Workers' invitation to discuss a foremen's walkout. The producers said the men should go back to work first.

William Blizzard, president of District 17, said West Virginia's 108,000 miners might be idle "within the next few days."

The Solid Fuels Administration ordered coal shipments consigned to eastern steel mills diverted to gas utility plants.

"Gas is used for cooking and people must eat," the SFA said. Steel mills have no larger stockpiles than the gas utilities, but pressure must be kept up for safety reasons, the agency added.

About 60,000 miners already are idle in four states.

These are other gathering storms: Textiles—The CIO-Textile workers appealed to members of congress to call upon Schwelienbach to name a special commission to deal with "the strike crisis in the cotton textile industry."

Telephone—A collective bargaining election at the Point Breeze plant of Western Electric company, Baltimore, may determine whether the National Federation of Telephone Workers engages in a "demonstration" stoppage by its 200,000 workers.

Auto—Strike votes already are scheduled at General Motors plants October 24, and at Chrysler October 25. The CIO-Auto Workers may ask the NLRB to take a vote at Ford plants shortly.

BOMBAY QUIET 12 HOURS—MOMBAY, Oct. 2 (AP)—Police today reported the first 12-hour period without a major violent incident since Hindu-Muslim disturbances began last Wednesday.

Two additional fatalities from previously inflicted stab wounds were reported, however, bringing the total deaths to 33. The injured number 168.

FRANKFORT ON THE MAIN, Germany, Oct. 2 (AP)—It was officially announced today that Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., who differed with Gen. Eisenhower over denazification policies in Bavaria, had been relieved of command of the famed Third army he led through France. He will take over the Fifteenth army, which is reduced now to a "paper" organization.

Patton Reported Relieved—BERLIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—A reliable source said today Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., had been relieved of his command in the eastern half of the American zone in Germany by Gen. Eisenhower.

Recent remarks of the Third army commander about the denazification program in Germany were reported by this source to be the cause.

Lt. Gen. Lucien K. Truscott has replaced Patton, according to this information.

(At Washington, the war department said the report of Patton's relief was "news" to it, adding that the decision was entirely up to Eisenhower.)

Patton, who has often been in hot water for speaking out, got himself into difficulties Sept. 22 when he expounded his personal theories about the denazification of his Bavarian area at his headquarters in Bad Toletz.

He told a news conference then that it might be necessary to keep some Nazis in office "to insure ourselves that women, children and old men will not perish from hunger or cold this winter."

This statement brought editorial criticism in the United States, as did Patton's comparison of "this Nazi thing" to the "democratic and republican fight back home."

Commercial Airline Landings Decrease—Commercial air line landings at the municipal airport dropped sharply during September, but prospects were that the trend would be decidedly upward for October.

American Airlines and Continental Air Lines had a total of 480 landings for the month, down considerably from the 655 in August and from the peak of 667 in May.

However, American Airlines instituted two additional round trip flight stops on transcontinental runs here Monday which will mean four additional crew changes in Big Spring. This gives American six crew changes daily.

In addition, the line has four regular scheduled flights, making a minimum of 10 landings daily. Normally, a large number of unscheduled refueling stops are made.

Continental reported 56 landings for September, a decline from August when the line lost a plane in a ground mishap at Albuquerque. This disrupted operations on this leg and reduced the number of schedules to one round trip daily until replacement can be made.

Seven persons were said to have gonorrhea and three syphilis. Three cases of trench mouth were reported and two diarrheas.

LCRA Policy Fires Men Who Walked Off Jobs

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Lower Colorado River Authority announced today it has fully restored electric power to all its Central Texas customers except at Lampasas and vicinity.

Thirty hours after striking union workers suddenly walked off the job at its four big hydroelectric plants along the Colorado river, the LCRA had made connections with privately-owned utility companies, with the city of Austin's generating plant, and had completely put the Austin dam plant back into service.

Threats of serious water shortages and other breakdowns in public services at such large towns as Kerrville, Giddings, Brenham, Schulenburg, Fredericksburg, were averted as the state-owned utility agency emphasized that the strikers would not be re-employed.

Max Starcke, general manager of the LCRA, said that he would tell a federal conciliator scheduled to arrive here today that "there is nothing to conciliate."

"The men who walked off are out of their jobs and will not be re-employed," he said.

Still without power, but with prospects good for restoration early today were Ewant, Burnet, Lometa and San Saba. The LCRA said it hoped within a few days to start the turbines rolling again at Mansfield Dam, Roy Inks Dam and Buchanan Dam.

Starcke said that the LCRA had hired several war veterans as line-men, dispatchers and switchboard operators to fill the jobs left by the strikers, and would continue that policy insofar as possible.

He said a preliminary check-up of the company's roster showed that there were approximately 90 of its 150 operating employees who left their jobs. Union sources yesterday said 140 men had struck.

The LCRA last night flatly rejected an offer from Mayor Tom Miller of Austin to aid in mediating the strike. The LCRA manager, who charged that restoration of service yesterday had been delayed by "acts of sabotage and vandalism" said that one feeder line near Schulenberg had been grounded out of commission during the night, but that no other trouble had been reported.

The LCRA was maintaining a constant patrol of transmission lines and a watch was set up over such key points as transfer units. State rangers stayed on duty at generating plants.

Many of the employees who did not walk out remained at their posts for 30 hours to aid in restoring service, he said.

The first to get power yesterday were San Marcos Army Air Field, the city of San Marcos, Camp Swift, Bastrop, Bergstrom Army Air Field. Soldiers at Camp Swift patrolled the power line feeding that military installation last night on war department authority.

Howard county's tardy cotton harvest bogged down completely over the weekend in the face of cold, wet weather.

On the basis of reports from local gins, it was indicated that only about 1,500 bales have been turned out in the county thus far. Four gins in Big Spring have handled around 850 bales to date.

Prices on cotton ranged from 21.50 to 22.00, and seed continued to be quoted at $52 per ton.

Ginners agreed that the weather was the determining factor when the cotton harvest would hit full stride. Clear, windy weather would speed up matters but continued cloudy and cool weather would forestall any appreciable volume until next week.

The labor situation was spotted, but once clear weather comes it is doubtful if the supply will meet the demand.

The year's plans, including camping activities and Girl Scout week, were discussed at a meeting of troop leaders Monday night at the First Methodist church.

Mrs. Gretchen Kidd, field executive, discussed with the group a training camp for outdoor activities to be held at Camp Louis Farr, near San Angelo, beginning Friday, October 12.

At that meeting leaders from three areas, including Brownwood, San Angelo and West Texas, will attend.

Plans were made for Girl Scout week, extending from Oct. 28 through Nov. 3. A committee, appointed to make plans for the week, was composed of Mrs. Dan Conley, program chairman, Mrs. Larson Lloyd, Betty Jo Glenn and Mrs. Helen Wilson, publicity chairman.

Texas Today—

French Fries Built In As Cows Eat Potatoes

By JACK RUFLEDGE Associated Press Staff

You've heard the whimsical but impractical suggestion that cows be fed chocolate so they can give milk chocolate. Well, in Lubbock they're feeding cows, sheep and hogs top grade Irish potatoes.

We hasten to add they're not attempting to develop meat with built-in fried potatoes, popular as such a dish would be.

The Plainsman in the Lubbock Journal explains with obvious awe that it's just another of those government things.

The government gave potato growers a $2.30 floor price. The crop turned out to be a record. Now the government, says the Plainsman, "has potatoes running out of its ears."

So someone in Washington wrote W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture and professor of animal husbandry at Texas Tech, asking if he wouldn't experiment and see if raw potatoes weren't excellent as a fattening agent for stock. Mr. Stangel agreed.

Potatoes began to pour into Lubbock. Seven carloads, or 126 tons (or 252,000 pounds, if you insist) came in the first week. Later the shipments dropped to 54 tons a week, finally 36 tons. In all, the Plainsman figures they've shipped in 680,000 pounds to date. At the floor price, this amounts to about $16,000 worth of grade-A potatoes.

Is the experiment working? Do the cows like spuds? Yes.

First, the potatoes were cracked up and mixed with ensilage, but now they're fed whole. Cattle, hogs and sheep gobble them up. They're getting fat on them, all right.

They should, comments the columnist. For example, one group of Herefords gets two feedings per day—one bale of hay for all 33, but an average of 30 pounds of potatoes per animal per feeding. At $2.30—

Stock raisers have known for a long time that animals go for sweet potatoes. But the fact that cattle and sheep will eat Irish potatoes whole is something new. (They haven't tried horses and mules yet.)

In conclusion, the Plainsman questions whether ranchers can afford to feed their stock better potatoes than they themselves eat at home, but admit reluctantly that "despite the drought, they (the cattle) are putting on good flesh and for that the potatoes must be given credit."

Brushing Up On Regulations

(This is the second installment on the garbage ordinance.)

Heavy accumulations such as brick, concrete, lumber, ashes, clinkers, dirt, plaster, gravel, auto frames, and other bulky heavy material shall be disposed of at expense of owner or person in charge under direction of city.

Manure from stock lots, poultry yards, pigeon lofts, and waste oils from garages, filling stations, shall be disposed of at expense responsible for same and under direction of city.

All premises both vacant and occupied shall be kept in a clean, sanitary condition at all times.

Placing of kitchen garbage, trash or rubbish, sweepings from sidewalks or any other material from street or alley within city limits is prohibited.

Disposal of refuse is prohibited in any place within the city limits or for 5,000 feet adjacent there to, except at city dump grounds.

Meddling with refuse in any way is prohibited.

Garbage cans shall be kept in sanitary condition, and closed tight; lime must be used at places where receptacles are located to keep down flies and orders. Contents of all receptacles shall be protected against blowing or scattering by wind.

Collection of garbage shall be made two times each week within the residential area and once each 24 hours within the business area.

Owners or persons in charge of a premise violating any of the provision of the ordinance may be fined any sum not more than $100 and each day such violation continues shall constitute a separate offense.

BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

Recent medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children and grown-ups may be victims of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting what is wrong!

Watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself—especially the tormenting, embarrassing rectal itch. Because now you can and should do something about it. After centuries of distress caused by Pin-Worms, a highly effective way to deal with them has been made possible. It is based on the medically recognized drug called gentian violet.

This special drug is the vital ingredient in P.W. the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. T. Joyce & Son. P.W. tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

So if you suspect this icky infection, ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P-W and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back.

It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Coleman Courts Overflow Even With End Of War

Despite the end of the war and all sorts of rumors flooding Big Spring, Coleman Courts are still running at their fullest.

L. E. Coleman, owner, said last week that their cabins are still overflowing. Two new cabins have been completed and two others are under construction and will be ready for occupancy in a short time.

All during the war, Coleman kept 10 of his cottages reserved for travelers who might be passing through Big Spring. The four new cabins are being kept open for the transient guests, totaling 14 rooms for people just passing through.

The other cabins in Coleman

Courts were occupied by residential dwellers. Many persons have found during the past three or more years that Coleman Courts is an ideal place to live, regardless of time or circumstance. The cabins are comfortably and attractively furnished, and are of various types, including bedrooms, and apartments of various sizes.

An added feature of the Coleman Courts service is a garage for each cabin free of charge.

With the end of the war, plans began to be formulated for the opening of the filling station, grocery store and hardware store which were part of their court's service before the war. Coleman said there have been several plans for operation of the businesses, and added that no definite plans have been made, but that the filling station will be opened very shortly.

Coleman said that during the war he and all attendants at the camp did everything they could to make their patrons comfortable despite war-time shortages of labor. He continued that with the relaxation of such shortages, their service will become even better.

Coleman said that tourists and war workers returning to their homes are already finding that the Coleman Courts offer the best of service and accommodations.

Travelers always stop at Coleman Courts at 1206 East Third.

State Offers To Buy Tribune Tower For Office Space

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—State officials today awaited acceptance or rejection of an offer to purchase for $735,942 the Tribune tower in Austin for state office purposes.

The purchase proposal was made yesterday by the board of control, with approval of a special building council named by the legislature, to a representative of the J. M. West estate, owner of the building.

The state has available $1,932,281 with which it can purchase the Tribune building and construct an additional building, or, as an alternative, construct two buildings without purchase of an existing structure.

By whatever means acquired one building would be used for state departments and the other by appellate courts. The plan together with the appropriation was authorized at the last general session of the legislature.

One of its objectives is to eliminate in so far as possible rental of private office buildings for state departments, a practice that now costs $66,000 annually in Austin alone.

K. & T. ELECTRIC LOOKING TO FUTURE OF GOOD SERVICE

K & T Electric is looking to the future to enlarge its service to the public by adding to the shop space and putting in a household appliance line.

A former employe, Miller Russell has returned from the navy to take up his former work and therefore K & T can guarantee a faster service on repair work. During the war when a shortage of experienced workers went on, the company had a three-week service, now work is to be turned out within a week.

Henry C. Thames, owner, purchased the shop in February, 1944, breaking up a partnership which began in September, 1943, at the present location, 400 East Third. His plans now include enlarging the shop by extending it back, making it twice its size. Work is to begin this week on rearrangement and modernizing.

Thames says he intends to put in a household sales department and expects to carry deep freeze units, irons, toasters and other service appliances.

K & T offers light service to the farmer and oil companies. He said, "Our company has never yet failed to obtain a light plant when we order it." The Kohler light plants now arrive within three days after an order is placed. Parts are becoming more and more available and seem to be coming in more rapidly since the end of the war.

For any electrical motor repair service, K & T Electric will consider your problem special. Information on further repair service may be obtained by calling 688.

Livestock Auctioneers Can Rival Tobacco Men In Singsong Chanting

Kentucky tobacco auctioneers aren't the only gentlemen of the ring who have chants distinctive to the trade.

Although it isn't in the same sing-song as the tobacco brethren use, auction chants at the Big Spring Livestock Commission company sale are like music to the ears of cattlemen and buyers.

The layman has difficulty in following bidding and frequently doesn't realize what has happened until suddenly the auctioneer snaps off his bidding with "All done?"

"All through? Take him out at 13.50 for D. & C." or some other buyer.

Each week several hundred head of cattle are ushered through the ring at the Big Spring Livestock Commission company ring, and it is a job to keep the sale moving fast enough to insure moving the offerings for the day. Recently there have been upwards of 800 head of cattle and a good sprinkling of hogs through the ring.

The market, comparing favorably and often matching tops on Fort Worth quotations, has been brisk with buyers coming here from a wide area for the Wednesday bidding.

Ranchers and farmers have been bringing in considerable volume of livestock, ranging from a single head to more than a truck load. But the amount has not slowed bidding and when the auctioneer grabs an opening offer, he starts feeding it to the buyers in takes as fast as they rise to it.

He cries out the bid, proposing another quarter of a cent, perhaps only 10 or five points, but asking who will give the next highest figure.

Around the ring are grouped buyers from several points in Texas and even from out-of-state. Eagle-eyed ring workers scan their faces. Perhaps its only a raised eyebrow, the lifting of a finger, the nodding of the head—but when they recognize the sign, they bark out an acknowledgment to the auctioneer, who pegs bidding up another notch. But when he senses the bidding has gone as far as it will, he knocks down the sale and gets on with the next.

It's fast business, but farmers and ranchers like that way of trading for they see and hear the bidding on their own stock.

The Nation Today— Elimination Of The Normal Tax -- How Will That Affect Your Income?

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)— Just what does this talk of reducing taxes in 1946 mean to you, personally?

But don't let the figures you see mentioned—about the size of the tax cut—confuse you. For example:

Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson yesterday recommended that the three per cent normal tax on individuals should be wiped out.

Does that mean that you, as an individual taxpayer, will have your 1946 tax cut by only three per cent?

No. It will mean a lot more than three per cent for most people and here's why:

There are two kinds of taxes on people with income over $500. One is called the surtax. The other is the normal tax.

The surtax gets higher and higher, the higher the income. The surtax is 20 per cent on incomes under $2,000. Then it rises to 91 per cent on the highest incomes.

Then there is another tax, the three per cent normal tax. This is a flat three per cent tax on all income over $500, no matter how small or large. It doesn't change according to the size of the income. It remains fixed.

But about 12,000,000 people—because of various deductions for dependents and expenses—don't have to pay any surtax.

But they do have to pay that three per cent normal tax. It's the only tax they pay.

So if congress wiped out the three per cent tax on those 12,000,000 people wouldn't they have to pay any tax at all.

In their case, then, the cut really would be a 100 per cent reduction. They'd be tax-free.

Each individual taxpayer would have to figure out the exact percentage of reduction for himself—if the three per cent normal tax is eliminated—but in all cases except those of millionaires it would be more than a three per cent cut in his total tax. For millionaires it is just about three per cent.

All this isn't settled yet. Congress will decide whether to knock out the normal tax or give you even a better break.

Series Teams Take Look At Diamond And Clouds

By SID FEDER
DETROIT, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Tigers and the Cubs took their one and only pre-series look today at the baseball patch on which they start slugging tomorrow, leaving the rosters by the thousands to finish the hottest 1945 world series argument—how come all the Detroit optimism over what left-hand pitching can do to the Cubs?

The weatherman promised to keep the rain faucets, which were running like broken beer taps all day yesterday, shut down today for the long pre-series workout for the two clubs. He promised, too, to cooperate tomorrow, when the first of three straight 55,000-sell-out crowds came into Briggs stadium to see Lefty Hal Newhouser and Hank Borowy start the shooting. However, the forecast is for more rain Friday.

Incidentally, a win for Hank as a Cub in this one, on top of his 1943 performance as a Yankee in triumphing over the Cards, would make the likeable "$100,000 Arm" the first two-league series winner since old Jack Coombs bowled over the Cubs three times in 1910 and the Giants once in '11, as a member of the Philadelphia Athletics, and belted the Boston Red Sox as a Brooklyn Dodger five years later.

Since both teams have showed up, the rival managers weighed in with their predictions. Steve O'Neill tabbed the betting-favored Tigers in six games, and Jolly Cholly Grimm went for the Cubs, "but with none of this number of games stuff—we'll just play one game after the other until we're home."

The records show that the Cubs this season tangled with portside elbows 40 times, and knocked them off in 26 games, against 14 losses. Of course, a flinger like Harry Brecheen of the Cards found out they were his cousins, but they even whipped him in the big one that counted—the first game of last week's all-important National league series with St. Louis in Chicago. And even a Detroit fan will admit Overmire's no Brecheen.

It is pointed out, too, that while O'Neill is making speeches about how his lefties will find big holes in the bats of such left-handed hitters as Phil Cavarretta, Stan

Steers In Better Shape For Odessa

Thawed out from their experiences at Lubbock last Friday when they battled the bulky Westerners to only 27 points, the Big Spring Steers squared off Monday to prepare for their first conference game Friday and one of the toughest assignments of the entire season.

Friday they go to Odessa to open district 3-AA play against the vaunted Bronchos, odds-on favorites to cop the district diadem. Odessa gave Lubbock a country plastering in the opening round—but then Lubbock is a somewhat different club from that which bowed before the Ector county lads.

Monday Coach John Dibrell and Assistant Coach Isaacs put their charges through a stiff indoor workout, holding them out of the rain and cold because several had the sniffles from playing the Lubbock game in rain and 40-degree weather.

However, on the whole the squad appeared to be in the best physical condition since after the first week of the season. Most of the typhus siege which has plagued the team for the past two weeks appeared to be in the background, and the team came through the pounding of the big Westerners without any appreciable injury. Considering that they gave away 25 pounds per man and had to play against straight power ball, the Steers made a good showing Friday. Dibrell was encouraged by the scrap they put up. Far lighter, the Steers couldn't budge the big boys on the sloppy turf and had to stick to the ground because of a slippery ball.

Only one change is anticipated in the starting line-up Friday at Odessa with Bobby Hollis, who has come rapidly to the fore as a tackle prospect, due to get the opening nod for one of the spots. Gerald Harris will be at the other and Jimmy Shaffer will alternate with Hollis.

Roy Lee Reeves, promising candidate for the pivot post, is out for practice again, although he lacks a lot being in the pink of condition following his illness. Dibrell is hopeful he will be in shape to give Tommy Clinkscales considerable relief Friday.

For the second consecutive week Big Spring will be butting against a much heavier team. The Bronchos average around 163 pounds and are a rugged bunch. Big gun for the Odessa contingent is J. W. Thompson, a brutish back who powers his way when evasive action falls short. It was Thompson who broke the back of Lubbock in the opening quarter.

Another headache for the locals is apt to be Townsend, a rabbit back who reportedly has speed to burn. With help for blocking and Townsend to carry the mail, Odessa could cause lots of trouble around the Big Spring terminals.

Dibrell and Isaacs made the most of the indoor session Monday to put the Steers through a stiff skill practice session. They are concentrating on having their charges get their T formation plays down perfectly in hopes of toasting an offensive surprise at the Bronchos Friday. After all, the longer Big Spring keeps the ball, the less chance the rough-and-tough boys from Odessa will have to try to run up the score.

FIREWORKS EXPECTED AS BIG TIME POWERS PLAY FOOTBALL

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—Football fireworks will pop all over the nation on Saturday when the grid-iron powers bump into each other in wholesale numbers for the first time of the campaign.

The top contests will pit Navy against the high scoring Duke at Durham, and Notre Dame against Georgia Tech at Atlanta but the program is loaded with other outstanding games.

The Navy, in walloping Villanova 49-0, showed so many talented backs that visiting scouts went away shaking their heads. The Duke Blue Devils also displayed plenty of punch in rolling up 76-0 over Bogue Field's Marines.

Notre Dame's Hughie Devore and Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodds both got off on the right foot as the Irish defeated Illinois 7-0 and Georgia Tech came back to nose out North Carolina 20-14.

Army, Ohio State, Oklahoma A. & M., Yale, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Washington and Washington State among others of football's bluebook took the wraps off their Saturday's heroes and there was plenty to see.

The Army, with Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard hitting on all cylinders rolled over the airforce personnel distribution command Comets 32-0. This week the Cadets will face Wake Forest's Deacons who lost 7-6 to Tennessee.

Ohio State, with Paul Sarringhaus breaking loose for four touchdowns, subdued Missouri 47-6 and will open its Big Ten competition against Iowa. The Hawkeyes edged out Bergstrom Field 14-13.

Oklahoma A. & M. and Bob Fenimore, 19-14 winners over Arkansas, journey to Denver for a Friday night tilt. Denver took a 20-19 beating from Kansas. Yale, 27-7 winner over little

Joe Louis In Civvies Is Sure He Can Hit 'Em As Hard As Ever

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—Joe Louis is back in civvies, trim and fit at 219 pounds, and sure he can hit just as hard as he could before he entered the army in January, 1942.

Wearing a grey suit and a light grey hat, the world heavyweight champion celebrated his return to civilian life by attending last night's Freddie Schott-John Thomas bout at the St. Nicholas arena, just six hours after his honorable discharge at Camp Shanks, N. Y.

"I don't feel no different than when I fought Abe Simon three years ago right after I got in the army," drawled burly Joe. "I might be a little bit slower but I know I can hit just the same. This army life was good for me, kept me in good shape and close to the game. They let me box all I wanted (about 500 or 600 exhibitions) but I guess just like every other soldier I'm glad to get out."

"First," he told a reporter, "I'm catching the first train to Detroit to see the Tigers clean up those Cubs in six games. Hal Newhouser is going to win two. After that I'm coming back here for a conference with Uncle Mike Jacobs (the promoter) and then I'm off to California for two or three months."

Ice Cream Production In Texas On Increase

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—Production of Texas ice cream in the first eight months of this year increased 23 per cent over the same period last year, the University of Texas bureau of business research reported today.

On the same basis of comparison cheese manufacture dropped 12 per cent and creamery butter production decreased 3.3 per cent.

Ordinary Shave—But In Famous Company

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2 (AP)—An ordinary shave turned out to be quite an event for a Kansas City visitor recently.

The stranger settled himself in a barber shop chair and was soon relaxing under the hot towels. Nothing disturbed him, not even the police sirens.

The barber completing the job a few minutes later whipped off the towels only to be interrupted by a startled query from his customer. "What's going on here?" the stranger cried.

A crowd of curious onlookers were peering in the windows and efficient-looking men, obviously guards, were posted at the doors. "Sh-sh! The President is here getting a haircut," the barber told the stranger. "He is in the chair next to you."

"This is sure he something to tell the home folks about," the stranger told President Truman as he shook his hand.

EXCLUSIVE BROADCAST

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—Again this year MBS is the only network to carry descriptive broadcasts of the world series, starting tomorrow at Detroit. This is because of an exclusive sponsor arrangement. Time on the air has been changed to 12:15 p. m. central standard time, 15 minutes earlier than that previously announced by the network.

Dear Editor: We admire your spunk for publishing the letter signed by "yours truly"; after all you could have thrown it in the wastebasket. What's wrong, doesn't "yours truly" have enough guts to sign his letter? x x x If the football boys would stick to regulations instead of (breaking training) etc., and running around half of the night, we might have a football team. We think the write-up of the game (Sept. 23) was pretty good considering the type of game played.

Action Time Is Nearing

Of course the labor and materials markets are still tight and may continue to be for a few months yet, but it seems to us that the time is here when plans for the peacetime era ahead should be crystallized.

Many business concerns are taking action now toward new quarters. Others are thinking about building a new office, which is confining itself largely to the remodeling of old houses and the construction of crackerbox structures.

The city has announced that it is preparing, as soon as weather will permit, to resurface practically all of its asphalt paving and that plans now are to launch the new paving program within about two months. Although it might be a more popular move to start on the new paving, it is more practical to protect the investment in existing paving which is sorely in need of a seal coat.

The county has talked about a lateral roads program but at this writing this is about as far as the matter has gone. What roads and what plans are developed for action we are unable to say. The so-called Snyder road, if and when built, will be a state job and it should not be confused with what we ought to do on our own accord.

There is now no good reason why Howard county cannot, out of its own funds, construct a minimum of five miles of additional paving in the rural sections each year. Out of respect for our best interests, it seems to us that the time is here when we must be doing something about that which we have planned or talked. Returning servicemen have seen a lot of country, and although they may be anxious to get back home, not all of them will be constrained to stay unless we do something about making this a more liveable and productive area.

Tricky Slogan

Use of slogans generally fogs the issue, and so it is in the case of current major strikes. This time labor has bitten off a war cry which may rebound to its harm for the "52 for 40" slogan leaves the implication that laboring forces are demanding something for nothing, regardless of the merits of their case. In other words, it creates in the public mind the idea that workers are asking pay for time not worked, when actually they are demanding an increase in the rate of pay for hours worked.

Mirrors Of Austin--

Inferior Grades Of DDT

Inferior solutions of the insecticide, DDT, are appearing on the markets in Texas and there seemingly is nothing that state health authorities can do about it.

State health inspectors, queried, say that Texas has no law requiring the labeling of insecticides. State Health Officer George W. Cox, has said that in the sprays, there should be at least 3-1-2 per cent and preferably 5 per cent of DDT. But with no law to require labeling, there's not much the consumer can do except trust the integrity of the merchant from whom it is purchased.

Washington--

Finger Points To The Community

By ROWLAND EVANS, JR. (Jack Stinnett Is III) WASHINGTON--In readjusting the veteran to civilian life the accent is being placed upon decentralization and defederalization, upon community effort as opposed to federal aid.

President Truman emphasized, in his recent report to Congress, that the real responsibility to veterans lies in community cooperation.

Mr. Truman said "the real work must be done in each community, through the cooperation of the industrial, labor and civic organizations interested in the welfare of the community and the veterans."

In the past the clearing house for veterans affairs has been the Veterans Administration in Washington. Now the authority of VA is being distributed to 13 branch offices to speed up the intricate machinery which does business for veterans.

But of greater significance than this relocation of VA authority is the trend for each community to take the burden of veterans' readjustment on its own shoulders.

The plan began in Bernard Baruch's and John M. Hancock's report to James F. Byrnes, then director of the Office of War Mobilization, in February, 1944.

The report said: "The returning soldier should not be forced to charity or community help.

With The News

By Dewitt Mackenzie AP Foreign News Analyst

You'd think that the big five council of foreign ministers in London would have been able to reach some sort of workable accord, what with the second world war still casting its monstrous shadow over us, and the entire eastern hemisphere, from Europe clear through Asia, facing a desperate period of hunger and politico-economic chaos.

Time is precious in these perilous days. It would be absurd, of course, to suppose that peace treaties and other far-reaching agreements can be reached in a few hours but it's a terrible mistake to underestimate the dangers of slowness in getting the warring countries—enemy as well as Allied—back on their feet as fast as possible.

This isn't to say that the present foreign ministers' conference has been directly concerned with such problems as the feeding of Europe. The main item on its agenda has been the framing of peace treaties for Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Finland. Still, this task has a very direct relation to the rehabilitation question.

Back in the dark days of the war, when the Allies had great problems to solve, there was a meeting of the big three chiefs of state. Those three men, accompanied by their experts and advisers, ironed out the mutual problems and laid plans for conduct of the war. Probably they had their differences of opinion at times, but because they were only three and were clothed with vast authority, they always reached an accord.

So it's good to hear talk of another possible meeting of the big three heads of state to take up the situations which are plaguing rehabilitation now. If President Truman, Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee could get together in the immediate future, it might make all the difference to the Allied progress in reconstruction.

Unfortunately, power politics also have entered into the picture. These things have given rise to suspicions among the allies.

Probably the best way to tackle this highly dangerous matter of suspicions is to dump them onto a table before the big three chiefs. These such problems as the atomic bomb could be threshed out, and don't let anybody think that the bomb hasn't created a terrific international question. A meeting of these three statesmen would be calculated to get the peace wheels turning fast.

Life's Darkest Moment

With The AEF: Housekeeping Trying In Saigon For American

By HAL BOYLE

SAIGON, French Indo-China (AP)—An American woman found housekeeping during the native rebellion pretty trying. And the outbreak by Annamese natives came after the former Helen Spengler, of Memphis, Tenn., already had had enough trouble with two growing boys, prowling tigers and remonstrous Japanese.

The tigers are out of the way now and the Japanese are under control, but she still has difficulty keeping her sons, Etienne, 12 and Francois, 11, both born in America, from joining up with French patrols, organized to help put down Indo-China's monthlong native revolt.

"It's hard for me after all this upset life to remember the time when living was normal," she says.

She is tall and slim with hazel eyes, with the French mannerism of shrugging her shoulders, but her voice is still strictly Memphis. She was doing illustrating work for the Chicago Tribune in 1926 when she first met her husband, a French government official who died of meningitis in Bangkok, the Siam capital, in January, 1942. On the advice of friends she brought her boys to Dalat, about 70 miles north of here, to get them away from Allied bombings and to give them proper schooling.

Life was easy and pleasant there until last March, when the Japanese moved in. "They barricaded all the roads and searched us as we walked to the markets," she recalled with a smile. "There was great excitement for a moment when one of the Japanese guards who was searching my handbag, found my lipstick. He thought it was a cartridge."

"The Japanese let us stay in our homes but ordered us to leave the doors open at night. I lived in a villa by the edge of a forest in which there were tigers and leopards roaming about. So I didn't obey the orders. I risked being shot through the door rather than take the chance of having a tiger drop in some evening."

Various members spoke up, trying to explain their positions. Chairman Doughton had grave doubts whether the $25 would not make the labor situation worse by stimulating idleness. However, the president refused argument about strikes and states' rights even before they raised. "This need of that American people—who worked hard all through the war—for a small measure of help in tiding them over this winter's unemployment—has nothing to do with strikes. Today's strikes are no argument so far as this bill is concerned."

Commission Pledges Enough Crude Oil To Operating Refineries

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—A sufficient supply of crude oil to all operating refineries will be made available, the railroad commission has promised in a formal statement of policy.

"In case any refinery does not have sufficient crude oil to operate, they will be given prompt relief upon telegraphic request to the commission," said the statement, signed by all three members of the commission.

This policy was adopted following complaints from several refineries that they are not subject to strike conditions, and that the recent drastic cut in October production because of refinery shutdowns.

Every Dog Has His Dye These Days

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD--It's an undisputed fact that if you'll hang around Hollywood long enough you'll see everything. Where else would you find a girl who dyes her dog to match her clothes?

The girl with the colored dog is Jean Porter, the pretty little MGM actress. She says the dog, a Maltese named Cuddles, enjoys being colored.

"I use vegetable coloring which is perfectly harmless," Jean said, "and she really loves it. She knows it when she is colored and struts around showing off. Pink is her favorite."

Mind you, this is no Hollywood affectation. It started several years ago when Jean was a girl in Big Spring, Texas.

"I don't know what gave me the idea. Maybe it was because I had a lot of colored pottery animals and I wanted our poddy to look like them. One day while the folks were away I dipped the dog in a tub of vegetable coloring."

Despite the dog-dyeing idiosyncrasy, Jean is a very level-headed girl who has raised herself to near stardom through sheer determination.

That work has been going on since the age of three and Jean is now barely out of her teens. The years in between included many seasons of vaudeville, radio, movie westerns and haunting the casting offices.

Washington Merry-Go-Round--

Truman Scolds Demo Congressmen

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Democratic members of the house ways and means committee last week saw President Truman, for the first time since he became president, hopping mad at congress. They received a call Wednesday afternoon from Chairman "Muley Bob" Doughton asking all democrats to be at the White House at 10 the next morning.

Having just agreed to shelve the unemployment compensation bill, they had a pretty clear idea of what was coming. Little time was wasted in pleasantries. The president had only a curt nod or "hello" for the members as they came in, then plunged at once into his subject. The unemployment compensation features provided in his message must be enacted, he said, before he could feel that congress has done the job the people expect of it.

For minutes, the president sat and discussed the bill with the congressmen, and not a single smile cracked his face. Closest he came to a smile was when he said: "President Roosevelt always used to rely upon the house to help him out against the senate. I thought I could rely upon the senate. But," the former senator from Missouri added, "it looks like I'm having a little trouble there now."

He referred to the senate's pruning of the original unemployment compensation bill offered by Senator Harley Kilgore of West Virginia. Early in the conference, Representatives Dingell of Michigan, Eberharter of Pennsylvania and Forand of Rhode Island told the president that they agreed with his program and would like to see the house vote the $25 and 26-week provisions the senate had knocked out. Chairman Doughton, halfhearted author of a bill including these provisions but not the full Kilgore bill, glared fiercely, while Forand reminded the president that he had himself introduced a bill calling for everything in the Kilgore bill.

Various members spoke up, trying to explain their positions. Chairman Doughton had grave doubts whether the $25 would not make the labor situation worse by stimulating idleness. However, the president refused argument about strikes and states' rights even before they raised.

"This need of that American people—who worked hard all through the war—for a small measure of help in tiding them over this winter's unemployment—has nothing to do with strikes. Today's strikes are no argument so far as this bill is concerned."

Strike Action Coming Cautiously, he added, "and I may be doing something about the strikes before long." One argument Truman didn't answer in advance was that offered by Representative Sid Camp of Georgia. Camp agreed with several other members—mills of Arkansas, West of Texas and Gregory of Kentucky—that $25 per week was a high figure for compensation payments.

"In my state, my folks wouldn't feel any too good about that," Camp told his colleagues. "Hardly any of them would be able to collect $25 a week because they'd have had to be earning twice that much while they were working in order to be eligible for the $25. And $50 a week is an awful high figure for Georgia."

Truman made it clear among other things that he was absolutely opposed to Illinois Senator Scott Lucas' bill returning the U. S. employment service to the states. It must be operated by the federal government, he said.

The best story-teller in the capital (with the exception of Chip Robert), Allen was transplanted to Washington by Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi.

Current wise-crack in the nation's capital: The northern carpet-baggers once invaded Mississippi, but now Mississippi has reversed it and recaptured Washington. Not only does George Allen sit at Truman's elbow, but Senator Bilbo, chairman of the District of Columbia committee, is virtual "mayor" of Washington, while the son of the late Senator Vandaman of Mississippi is Truman's naval aide.

Note—Chief Mississippiian missed around Washington is ex-Congressman Ross Collins, the man who forced the war department into spending money on the first Flying Fortress and who did so much to streamline the army.

eral government. Truman maintained, at least for a year.

Although he didn't say a single word which, on paper, would look harsh, the president was really sore, the members agreed. If they had met with him the previous afternoon—at the time he had issued the invitations—they figured they would have received a real dressing-down.

Note—Only democrat on the committee who seemed irrevocably opposed to reporting out the $25-a-week Kilgore bill so the house could vote on it was West of Texas, a Jack Garner democrat. He said little, but made it obvious he was dead opposed.

Congresswoman in a Harem The fabulous Ibn Saud, absolute ruler over millions of Arabs, broke the precedent of centuries by greeting a lady outside a harem. She was white-haired Mrs. Frances Bolton, republican congresswoman from Cleveland.

Ibn Saud refused to sit down at dinner with Mrs. Bolton, however, and she had her dinner in Ibn Saud's harem, while six male congressmen ate camel meat and various other delicacies at the table of the king himself.

Mrs. Bolton had accompanied the congressmen to the palace, even though it was not expected that she would be permitted an audience with the king. She entered his presence with the men, despite the growls of outraged Arab courtiers. After greeting Mrs. Bolton, Ibn Saud discreetly suggested that she might like to visit the harem, which she did.

The congresswoman from Ohio stayed with the king's ladies through most of the visit, but returned to the men later, dressed in native costume. At that particular moment, the king was complaining to the congressmen about the high cost of living, and roughly grabbed hold of Mrs. Bolton's robe to illustrate in detail the cost of each part of her costume.

Seeing that the men in the party had been given full native costumes and various other gifts, Mrs. Bolton made no offer to return the garments given her.

The male members of congress were not permitted even a peek in the harem. They were Representatives Karl Mundt of South Dakota, Victor Wickersham of Oklahoma, Chester Merrow of New Hampshire, Walter Huber and Mike Geighan of Ohio and A. S. J. Carnahan of Missouri.

Mississippi Carpet-Baggers Truman's tough-talk with the ways and means committee went directly counter to the confidential letter the White House had sent to Senate Leader Barkley of Kentucky in which the $25-a-week payment was listed as "desirable" but not "indispensable."

Credit for writing Barkley this letter, now found to be directly contrary to Truman's real stand, is given to George Allen, who is turning out to be the most potent mystery figure around the White House.

The best story-teller in the capital (with the exception of Chip Robert), Allen was transplanted to Washington by Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi.

Current wise-crack in the nation's capital: The northern carpet-baggers once invaded Mississippi, but now Mississippi has reversed it and recaptured Washington. Not only does George Allen sit at Truman's elbow, but Senator Bilbo, chairman of the District of Columbia committee, is virtual "mayor" of Washington, while the son of the late Senator Vandaman of Mississippi is Truman's naval aide.

Note—Chief Mississippiian missed around Washington is ex-Congressman Ross Collins, the man who forced the war department into spending money on the first Flying Fortress and who did so much to streamline the army.
