Stratosphere Balloon Lands In New Jersey

News Behind The News THE NATIONAL Whirligig

Written by a group of the best informed newspapermen of Washington and New York. Opinions expressed are those of the writers and should not be interpreted as reflecting the editorial policy of this newspaper.

WASHINGTON By George Durno

Woodin—The country has a rather well-known picture of William H. Woodin as a small, inoffensive, ever-smiling gentleman who composes waltzes and children's music on a guitar. This mental photograph has been built up bit by bit ever since he consented to enter President Roosevelt's Cabinet as Secretary of the Treasury. The reporters knew his musical background and when he consistently emerged from crucial administration conferences with a giggle and a jocular remark, they painted him into a sort of super-financial cherub. But in this composite word portrait of the man, they rather overlooked the fact that despite his diminutive stature and guileless countenance he had craved himself out a very respectable fortune in the realms of big business.

Woodin can get his back up when the occasion demands and it stays up.

If you had the ear of no less a person than President Roosevelt you undoubtedly would get confirmation of the little man's stubbornness.

For that it what lies back of the switch which put Woodin on indefinite leave, tossed Dean Acheson out of his job as Undersecretary of the Treasury and brought Henry Morgenthau, Jr., in to run our national cash register.

Morgenthau—Here is the inside of it all:

The President decided the Treasury Department should shoulder responsibility for the gold purchasing policy. He suggested as much to his old friend Woodin. A statement making the Treasury's responsibility clear would do the trick.

Woodin said No and refused to listen to what is understood to be prolonged argument on the part of Mr. Roosevelt. The little Secretary said it was the President's policy (with which he was NOT in accord) and therefore the White House should do all the talking.

Acheson, who was running the Department as Acting Secretary, felt, likewise. They were both 100 per cent for the President but they wouldn't swallow his gold policy.

So the President turned naturally to a man who would—the younger Morgenthau. As a matter of fact, Morgenthau (an old Cornell agricultural student of Prof. Geo. Warren who conceived the gold idea) had been setting the daily gold prices. His office was equipped with a stock ticker to gauge the effects. From now on our monetary policy will be a Treasury policy. Morgenthau, as an old and most loyal friend, is quite willing to take the rap when and if it falls.

AI—There was plenty of tall speculation when Al Smith and John Raskob called at the White House the other day. Conjecture ran riot in connection with possible changes

December Oil Allowables Issued By Ickes Give Texas 13,000 Barrels More Than Latest State Schedule

885 Thousand Barrels Set For Next Month Is 77,000 Barrels Under November Figure But 13,000 Above Latest Order

Daily allowable production of crude petroleum for the month of December, as announced Monday night by Harold L. Ickes, oil administrator, allows to Texas 88,000 barrels, a reduction of 77,000 barrels under the November allowable but 13,000 barrels higher than the allowable now in operation by order of the state railroad commission.

The commission's latest order set daily production at not more than 375,000 barrels. This figure was fixed to take care of overproduction previous to November.

Allocations among the petroleum producing states were as follows:

Arkansas 33,000; California 450,000; Kansas 112,000; Louisiana 69,300; Oklahoma 457,000; New Mexico 14,200; Rocky Mountain states 36,300; Appalachian and eastern states 94,000 and Michigan 29,000.

These states' production was increased: California by 5,000; New Mexico 500; Rocky Mountain states 500.

There are cut: Louisiana by 700; Texas 77,000; Oklahoma 38,000; Michigan 1,000; Kansas 4,000.

Arkansas and the Appalachian states were unchanged.

AUSTIN—A representative of the federal government will testify before the Texas railroad commission November 28 on the consumer demand for Texas crude petroleum. Ernest O. Thompson, commissioner, said on receipt of word that the

Lamesa Road Work Passed By US Bureau

Big Spring-Lamesa Project Among Twenty-Seven Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Public Roads approved grading and one bridge on the Big Spring-Lamesa road, $59,275; grading of 8-10 mile on the Big Spring-Lamesa road, $3,118.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Public Roads said Tuesday 27 highway projects in Texas, involving an estimated cost of one million dollars had been approved.

C. A. Cowan, Former Resident, Is Dead

Relatives have informed local friends of the death at Little Rock, Ark., on November 10 of C. A. Cowan, former local insurance man. Burial was made November 12 near San Marcos in Wimberly cemetery, near where Mr. Cowan's aged parents reside.

Mr. Cowan was agent here for the Southland Life Insurance company. He went from Big Spring to Wichita Falls in a more responsible position for the Southland company. Mr. Cowan became ill at Tahoka two months before his death. He was taken to a hospital in San Antonio and later to a Veterans Hospital in Little Rock. Mrs. Cowan taught in the Big Spring schools, as did Mrs. H. M. Showden, now of Lamesa. Mr. Cowan's sister.

Mr. Cowan is survived by his widow and a son, 12 years old. He was a member of the Baptist church and the Masonic lodge.

Grand Lodge Officials Visits Pythians Tonight

Local Pythians will be hosts this evening to several Grand Lodge officials as well as visitors from Midland and Lubbock.

Among the visitors will be Grandkeepers Records and Seal's Theo F. Richardson and District Deputies L. F. Richardson and Dr. Adder from Lubbock.

All local and visiting Pythians are reminded that this meeting will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m. in W. O. W. hall and a full representation is expected.

Stimson Represents Lilly Company Here

Lester Stimson, representing Lilly and Company, manufacturers of serums, and drugs, was here Monday. Mr. Stimson, who resides in Lubbock, recently began covering this territory. He succeeds Cecil Fitch of Abilene, whose territory was changed to place him further east.

Unlicensed Broadcasting Station Shuts Down Here As Aftermath Of Investigation By Federal Agent

Abbott Explains Liability Of Advertisers And Others Having Any Part In Operation Of Illegal Stations

For the second time within three months the government has forced shutdown of an unlicensed radio broadcasting station in Big Spring.

Following two days of investigation, in which several witnesses were used, W. I. Abbott, representing the federal radio commission, informed Lawrence Yates, owner of a station located here, of his findings. Yates quickly announced over his station that it was closing down permanently and promised Abbott he would broadcast no more from here or any other point and would not allow his equipment to be used by anyone in an illegal manner.

It was found, according to witnesses, that the local station greatly interfered with broadcasts by Station KMOX, St. Louis.

No immediate action in Yates' case was indicated, although it was understood Abbott would submit his findings to the federal district attorney. Yates' willingness to cease operations were cited by Abbott. Yates' station was moved here recently from Colorado.

Before leaving Big Spring Abbott informed several local firms who had been advertising over the Yates station of their liability under the law.

Abbott declared the law plainly made all persons who help an unlicensed station or one violating the radio laws in any manner to operate liable to conviction. This includes, he declared, those who advertise, who take part on programs, house or otherwise join in

Scores Register For Payment Of Bollworm Losses

Farmers were registering Tuesday by scores at the Chamber of Commerce office here as the Bollworm Claims Board's work of distributing cash to cotton growers for losses due to bollworm regulations of 1929 to 1932 inclusive got started under provision of a law recently passed, by which $500,000 was appropriated.

More than 150 had registered their names and present mailing addresses at 9 a. m. Tuesday, the second day of registration.

All those entitled to any reimbursement for expenditures in 1929 to 1932 inclusive for fumigation of lint and sterilization of seed are urged to call at the Chamber of Commerce at once and register, so that the Claims Board may be furnished a list of those entitled to payments.

T. H. Johnson Comes In With Nine-Point Buck

T. H. Johnson came in Tuesday afternoon with proof of his ability as a rifleman in the form of a big 9-point buck, while he shot fifteen miles south of Mesard. He was accompanied by his son, who left all the hunting to his father. Mr. Johnson's success gave some of the younger boys who have been seeking deer an object lesson on how to do.

George V Ignores Incident

LONDON (AP)—A sensation was created in the House of Lords Tuesday as King George concluded his speech opening parliament. J. McGovern, laborite, jumped to his feet and shouted protests about unemployment pay cuts and growing protests against the magnificent scene of splendor and riches "about him while his peoples are starving."

Lindberghs In Horta, Azores

SALEM, N. J.—The Settle stratosphere balloon, after a 58,000-foot ascent, was sighted over southwestern New Jersey Monday night and was believed dropping slowly to a landing.

The big bag last was seen over Daretown, about 15 miles east of Salem at 8:45 p. m. It was over a sparsely settled country and naval authorities said they believed the balloon's skipper—Lieut. Comm. T. G. W. Settle—was maneuvering the unwieldy bulk as best he could, seeking a favorable spot to land.

A six mile ground wind was blowing over southern New Jersey. There was no apprehension for safety of Settle or his aids as weather conditions were good.

Settle, let his balloon soar skyward from Akron, O., at 8:27 a. m. Monday and it began drifting toward the Atlantic seaboard. He maintained communication with the ground by wireless and reported he reached 58,000 feet, almost 11 miles. Observations were made and then the balloon began a slow descent.

Quick Walkout Seen For S. P.

HOUSTON (AP)—If vote of 3,000 employes of the Southern Pacific railroad to be counted Wednesday calls for a strike, the men will be withdrawn from service immediately, railway brotherhood officials said Tuesday. The officials said they were willing to arbitrate with railroad heads before the count.

Downward Slide Of Dollar Resumed

LONDON (AP)—The American dollar resumed its downward slide Tuesday, closing at $5.31 3/4 per pound.

Men Sleep In Bag Through Monday Night

59,000 Feet Indicated As Maximum Altitude Reached By Bag

BRIDGEPORT, N. J. (AP)—The stratosphere balloon of Lt. Com. T. G. W. Settle and Major Charles L. Fordney landed on a farm southwest of Bridgeport late Monday.

Both men, safe, wrapped themselves in the balloon and slept all night.

They reported the landing by a long distance call to Chicago Tuesday.

Previously, navy airplanes had been scouring the country and the tea for the balloonists. They ascended 59,000 feet.

Major Fordney said the marshy lands prevented their wading out Monday night.

According to the altimeter within the gondola, the highest altitude reached was 59,000 feet. He said the actual height must be officially checked.

Couple Make Flight From Lisbon In Nine Hours, Weather Rough

LISBON (AP)—Radio reports stated Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh landed at Horta, Azores, 900 miles from Lisbon, nine hours after the take-off from here.

LISBON (AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh, with clear indications of favorable weather ahead, took off from the Portuguese air station Tuesday, apparently headed for the Azores.

Three hours later they encountered rough seas, rain squalls and overcast skies.

If Wednesday Count Calls For Strike Men To Quit Immediately

A complete check of the countryside was kept by state policemen. The latest word they received was that the bag was drifting slowly and low over sparsely settled southwestern New Jersey.

At Akron, Lieut. Sam Townsend of the naval radio station, expressed an opinion Settle was taking advantage of the ground winds over Jersey to pick out a favorable landing place.

Trying for Lakeland. Lieut. Townsend pointed out that Settle might have been heading for the naval base at Lakeland, but was not able to get there. He had had no communication with

Herald Free Cooking School Starts Off With Enthusiasm

Good Crowd Attends First Day's Session. Lecturer Demonstrates Oven Meal And Unit Surface Meal; Talks On Cake-Baking

The Herald Free Electric Cooking School began with a bang this afternoon at the Settles Hotel when women started coming as early as one o'clock to register for their favorite organization.

Mrs. Ethel J. Warren, culinary expert, was ready with a list of easily-prepared dishes, a lot of good advice and hints to drudgery-haters, and all kinds of kitchen short cuts.

A nursery was arranged for mothers with small children. All mothers are asked to leave their youngsters there in order to give the utmost quiet in the lecture room.

Many organizations are registering and the attendance contest promises to be as interesting as in previous years.

Mrs. Warren gave the following recipe, the first three of which constitute an oven meal:

English Mince Duck
On each slice of pork chops place a quart of a tart apple. Add salt and pepper; roll with strip bacon; and fasten with a toothpick. Bake one hour at 400 degrees.

Baked Potatoes
Wash, oil and place on pan. Bake with oven door one hour.

Deviled Tomatoes.
Three tomatoes cut in half. Over cut side spread this mixture. 2 tsp butter.

 Alvin G. U. Alvin, Governor now says "Colorado" Coyotes Case's Cutler." His first masterpiece was "Tame Taylor's Tailless Tommie." It worked wonders. Less potent but containing as much beautiful alliteration was his "Hobbe Hennig's Hobby Horses."

3 Thousand Evangelical Pastors Revolt Against Radical Nazi Churchmen
 BERLIN (UP).—Three thousand evangelical pastors were in revolt against radical Nazi churchmen. Church observances of the 450th anniversary of Martin Luther's birth were made the occasion for the reading from the 3,000 pastors' manifesto complaining that high church officials failed to protest when Rev. Reinhold Krause, of the German Christian church faction, made a speech in their presence urging further "Aryanization" of the church. Krause subsequently was dismissed from his church office.

Poisons His Family Then Shoots Self
 CLEVELAND (UP).—Two children died and a mother and son were in critical condition from the effects of poison administered by the father and husband, Jesse Kearney, 35, who then shot and killed himself after a family quarrel. The dead children are Robert, 13, and Ethel, 11. Their mother, Mrs. Ruth Kearney, 35, and her son John, 16, are being treated at a hospital.

Croom Says Movement of Hot Oil Must Stop Or Others To Follow Suit
 AUSTIN (UP).—Unless East Texas refineries now running hot oil are immediately brought under control, market necessities will cause other refineries to join them in illegal practices, District Manager Marvin E. Croom feared in a report to the Texas Petroleum Council. The number of refineries in East Texas not reporting to either state or federal authorities has increased from eight to eleven, Croom's records showed. Total runs to stills of all refineries in the district averaged 51,798 barrels for the week ending November 4, and 40,921 barrels for the week ending November 12, Croom reported. The council's East Texas manager also feared that "salvage" plans springing up in the field would provide a new source for hot oil, probably nearly 20,000 barrels a day, if the commission's present rules covering their operations is voided by the courts.

Welles Makes Cuban Report To Roosevelt
 WASHINGTON (UP).—Ambassador Welles made a comprehensive report to President Roosevelt on the Cuban political situation, placed before him by Ambassador Sumner Welles. Welles, in a five-hour conference, gave him a mass of highly confidential information. The nature of this information was undisclosed, but led to speedy dispatch of Welles to Washington to confer with state department officials. Policy Change Unlikely To observers of the Cuban situation, it was felt the conversations of Welles and the president were first of all informative and would not lead to a change in the administration's present policy of giving the island republic every opportunity to settle its own political difficulties. At the same time, it was revealed Welles will return to Havana after his state department conference. Therefore, it had been generally believed his Warm Springs visit was for the purpose of requesting withdrawal from the Havana assignment. At the conclusion of the discussions here, the following statement was issued by Mr. Roosevelt: "Ambassador Welles has conferred with the president. At the president's request he will proceed to Washington to spend a few days before returning to Havana. While in Washington he will confer with Acting Secretary Phillips and staff of the state department." Welles flew to Atlanta where he boarded a train for Washington. While friends of the administration were tight-lipped concerning reports of Welles' eagerness to withdraw from his Cuban post, because of the protests of leaders in the government of President Grau San Martin, it was pointed out that there was no intention of replacing him while he is under fire, so to speak. To carry out such a policy, it was argued, would nullify at the start the chances of a successor to carry forward a definite program. At the conclusion of his study of Cuban affairs, Mr. Roosevelt planned to take life easy on the spacious grounds of the Warm Springs foundation and to seek a much rest and relaxation as possible in the next few weeks.

Homer Hailey Begins Series Of Discourses
 ABILENE (UP).—Homer Hailey, minister of the Highland Avenue church of Abilene, is doing the preaching. The opening service was well attended; two services daily will be conducted, at 10 a. m. and 7:15 p. m. The subject of tonight's sermon will be "The Sacrifice of Christ." The morning lessons will be given to a study of lessons from Hebrews. The church extends a cordial invitation to all to attend both of these services. "The Fullness of Christ" was discussed last night by Mr. Hailey. "In Col. 2:10, God has said 'For in Him (Christ) dwelleth the fullness of the Godhead bodily,'" began Mr. Hailey, "and 'For it was the good pleasure of the Father that in Him should all the fullness dwell.'" (Col. 2:9). In the beginning there was God, the Word of God, and the Spirit of God, (Gen. 1:1-3; John 1:1-3). God the originator and designer of the universe and creation; the Word of God the executor of the plan; and the spirit the energizer. These three constitute the Godhead. In the New Creation, the spiritual; the order was the same; God the author of the plan, the Word of God in flesh (John 1:14, 18) the executor of the plan; the Holy Spirit, sent from Heaven on the first Pentecost after the resurrection, to give life to, and put the plan into operation. He continued in part as follows: "These things are all summed up in Christ; for the Father was in Christ doing his will, (John 14); Christ was 'the Word become flesh,' (John 1:14) and the Spirit of God was upon Him without measure

Welles Makes Cuban Report To Roosevelt
 WASHINGTON (UP).—Ambassador Welles made a comprehensive report to President Roosevelt on the Cuban political situation, placed before him by Ambassador Sumner Welles. Welles, in a five-hour conference, gave him a mass of highly confidential information. The nature of this information was undisclosed, but led to speedy dispatch of Welles to Washington to confer with state department officials. Policy Change Unlikely To observers of the Cuban situation, it was felt the conversations of Welles and the president were first of all informative and would not lead to a change in the administration's present policy of giving the island republic every opportunity to settle its own political difficulties. At the same time, it was revealed Welles will return to Havana after his state department conference. Therefore, it had been generally believed his Warm Springs visit was for the purpose of requesting withdrawal from the Havana assignment. At the conclusion of the discussions here, the following statement was issued by Mr. Roosevelt: "Ambassador Welles has conferred with the president. At the president's request he will proceed to Washington to spend a few days before returning to Havana. While in Washington he will confer with Acting Secretary Phillips and staff of the state department." Welles flew to Atlanta where he boarded a train for Washington. While friends of the administration were tight-lipped concerning reports of Welles' eagerness to withdraw from his Cuban post, because of the protests of leaders in the government of President Grau San Martin, it was pointed out that there was no intention of replacing him while he is under fire, so to speak. To carry out such a policy, it was argued, would nullify at the start the chances of a successor to carry forward a definite program. At the conclusion of his study of Cuban affairs, Mr. Roosevelt planned to take life easy on the spacious grounds of the Warm Springs foundation and to seek a much rest and relaxation as possible in the next few weeks.

Advance! Not Retreat!

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED AT A RECENT MEETING OF THE LOCAL UNIT OF W.A.P.T.U.

Christian women of Big Spring are daily uniting in earnest prayer that you may read all of the following:

We, the members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Big Spring, Texas, praying for the controller's presence and power of God's spirit in our efforts, call upon the true followers of Jesus, our Lord, to take a stand for righteousness by endorsing with your signature and carrying out to the best of your ability the recommendations given below:

1. That human efforts without recognition of God and righteousness as essential factors in national recovery, are ultimately doomed to failure.

2. That upon the forces of righteousness represented by the membership of our church, rests the responsibility of giving courageous and persistent teaching and inspiration to parents, teachers and all leaders who are in position to educate and train others, that they may choose and uphold that which is pure and good.

3. That Christian men and women support for public office only men of unquestioned honesty and integrity who can be depended upon to oppose legislation in favor of any form of vice and evil, and who will enact and enforce the laws that will protect and promote the public welfare.

4. That we aggressively carry on in our churches and homes a most vigorous campaign of education, teaching both youth and adult that all kinds of beverages containing alcohol are both narcotic and irritant poisons, and that their use is habit forming, dangerous and deadly.

5. Launch a concerted movement among our young people for total abstinence from the use of any beverage containing alcohol.

6. That persistent teaching and warning be broadcast against gambling of every form, the bridge table in the home to the public gambling den and race tracks.

7. That our pastors, Sunday

Mrs. Jim Crenshaw's Recipe For Christmas Fruit Cake Presented

Folks who like real old-time Christmas fruit cakes, will be interested in the recipe used for years by Mrs. Jim F. Crenshaw. Several of her friends have asked that the recipe be published. Mrs. Crenshaw made her Christmas cake Monday and a number of neighbors came in to watch the process.

Here's Mrs. Crenshaw's recipe for a cake weighing 12 to 15 pounds:

One cup sugar, 5 cups flour, 1 cup fresh grated apples, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup currants, 1 cup butter, one-half cup buttermilk, half pound of pecans, half pound of almonds, half pound of walnuts mashed fine, nine ounces of crushed pineapple, eight ounces of ripe chopped cherries, four eggs, one teaspoon of soda, a half teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of cream of tartar, three tablespoonful of baking powder, two teaspoonful of cinnamon, one teaspoonful of cloves, one teaspoonful of ginger, one teaspoonful of allspice.

Murray Refuses To Hear Mother's Plea For Condemned Man

OKLAHOMA CITY, (UP)—Gov. W. H. Murray refused to hear a personal plea of Mrs. Mary Quinn of Kansas City for the life of her son, Earl, sentenced to die in state prison Friday for the murder of the Griffith sisters in 1930.

Meantime, James H. Mathers, attorney for Quinn in two trials since the brutal slayings near Tonkawa, planned to offer the governor petitions bearing Mathers' said, 3,000 signatures asking for a pardon. Circumstantial evidence and prejudiced jurors were claimed.

Claude Weaver, the governor's secretary said to Mrs. Quinn the governor would "arrive at his own decision and a personal plea on your part do nothing to change his decision."

School teachers and others cease not to sound out warning against vice of every kind, thereby to create a conscience upon the subject of sin, and its soul destroying results.

8. That we pledge ourselves to pray for our nation and those in authority who administer its affairs, and that we seek to live "pure in the sight of all men" and that we shall not cease to pray that God shall send upon this nation a revival of old time repentance and spiritual religion that will restore to America prosperity and peace that shall be permanent in our progress.

9. That we co-operate wholeheartedly with every legitimate agency and effort to restore national peace and prosperity, based upon righteous conduct, clean government, and a recognition of God and spiritual values as essential elements to national recovery. (Submitted by the W.C.T.U.)

Facts About Your Chamber Of Commerce

IT'S HARD TO HATE A MAN IF YOU KNOW HIM. In a city of our size everybody knows everybody else. Friendship and good will prevail in most cases, and are a great civic asset. One unkind remark may create a feeling which not only hurts individuals, but damages the town.

This is no mawkish appeal to another legitimate criticism. Sometimes it is necessary to speak out sharply in order to right a wrong. But no one should ever speak critically of another on hearsay or by reason of prejudice.

If you have an unfriendly feeling about someone, we suggest you pay him a visit. Get acquainted with him. If the matter troubling you is important, tell him about it frankly and iron it out between you.

Above all, if you hear an unkind or dangerous statement about a man or a firm, challenge the maker of it. Ask him where he got his facts, and whether he knows they are facts. Take occasion to check up his statements, and if they are not true, take the trouble to set him right.

Above all, get acquainted with your neighbor—you might like him. He might even like you.

Lawyer Had Rather Rob Bank Than To Receive Job Money

AUSTIN, (UP)—C. W. Howth, Beaumont attorney who had "rather rob a bank" than to take money for getting someone a job, declared there was no wrong-doing in the swapping of wrestling promotion licenses in Beaumont.

He testified here before the legislative committee investigating alleged job sales, which resumed its sessions Monday morning. "Money has been offered me for jobs, but I have always declined to accept a penny of it."

"Thousands have been clamoring for jobs—and thousands have been disappointed. I am quite sure nobody who contributed to Governor Ferguson's campaign ever got a job in my section of the country."

Howth, ex-officio district campaign chairman for the Fergusons, testified. "I'd rather rob a bank than take that kind of money," he declared. He said he regarded job selling as the height of "foolishness," both for the buyer and the seller.

Art Mondt, Beaumont wrestler, had previously testified before the committee that he had been required to "make his peace" with Howth in order to secure a permit to promote wrestling.

Howth testified there was no "peace making" to it. He had recommended the American Legion and L. C. Wilson as promoters of boxing and wrestling in Beaumont. He refused to recommend Mondt because he believed Beaumont could not support three promoters.

Hot Bond Ring Member Enters Guilty Plea

LOS ANGELES, (UP)—Elmer S. Wagoner, alleged member of a nationwide "hot bond" ring, pleaded guilty to a charge of receiving stolen property, and asked for probation.

Wagoner was arrested here Aug. 5 as he stepped from an airplane, with $8,000 worth of stolen bonds in his possession. The bulk of the securities were taken in a robbery of the Window State Bank, Window, Kansas, last May.

"Now, Joan, I CAN HELP YOU SAVE MONEY, I'M SURE"

Kate: "It's perfectly grand, Joan, that Hal turned over the car money to you. With good management, you can save some money. The method is simple enough. You like to trade at clean stores that have attentive, courteous sales people. Then, you know products must have real value or they are expensive at any price. Care for your car as you do your refrigerator or cook stove by keeping it in mechanical order and clean. Service station men will help you. Motor oil is to lubricate surfaces that rub together—an oil that penetrates the metal is best—only one motor oil does that, Conoco Germ Processed. More than half of all wear occurs when you start your motor in the morning—and, because of that, you call it 'Hidden Quarts.' Conoco is there to protect against wear. It is repair bills that you can save on a motor that cheap oil. Even oil at the same price isn't as good as it hasn't these penetrating qualities."

Joan: "I understand so far. Is there much difference in gasoline?" Kate: "You hear many claims, but if you like, I'll give you a demonstration some morning when it's really cold. Conoco Bronze Gasoline, some way, starts your motor right now and has more power, more miles per gallon and anti-knock—and your car picks up speed as if it knew you wanted to go some place fast." Joan: "Well, it seems really that all I have to do is to keep the car in shape with Conoco service and Conoco Oil and Gasoline."

Mrs. K. S. Beckett Teaches Mission Book

About twenty-five members of the First Baptist W.M.S. assembled at the First Baptist Church Monday afternoon to study the life of Dr. Eugene Salter. Mrs. K. S. Beckett was the teacher.

The class will conclude this study at its next lesson meeting. Next Monday the W.M.S. will hold its monthly all-day business meeting with a program in the afternoon.

Mrs. W. O. Carlton of Austin who has been visiting Mrs. W. W. Pendleton has returned to her home.

East 4th Baptists Hold All-Day Meet

The members of the East Fourth Street Baptist W.M.S. met Monday morning at the church for an all-day program in observance of the Week of Prayer.

The morning subject was "Christ in the World." The service opened with a song and a devotional read by Mrs. V. Phillips. Each member had a part. Mrs. Kavanaugh talked on "The World When Christ Comes"; Mrs. Low gave the scripture reading; Mrs. Fletcher spoke on "The Work Christ Began"; Mrs. Clifton on "Dawn of a New Day." Mrs. Birmingham closed with a prayer.

A covered dish luncheon was served at noon. In the afternoon Mrs. O. R. Phillips gave the devotional and talked on the Y.W.A. work. The following took part on the program: Mrs. Turpin, who spoke on "Christ in China"; Mrs. Sandridge, who gave the scripture reading; Mrs. Thompson, "Christ in the Orient"; Mrs. McCullough on "The Call to Advance"; Mrs. Thurman, "The Present Mission Situation in America"; Mrs. Kavanaugh read a poem, and Mrs. Hart Phillips concluded the program with a talk on the foreign mission work. The Rev. Woodie W. Smith gave

Junior Squad Matches Tilt With Pecos

Gardner's Team Challenges 'Champs', Devils Slate Contest

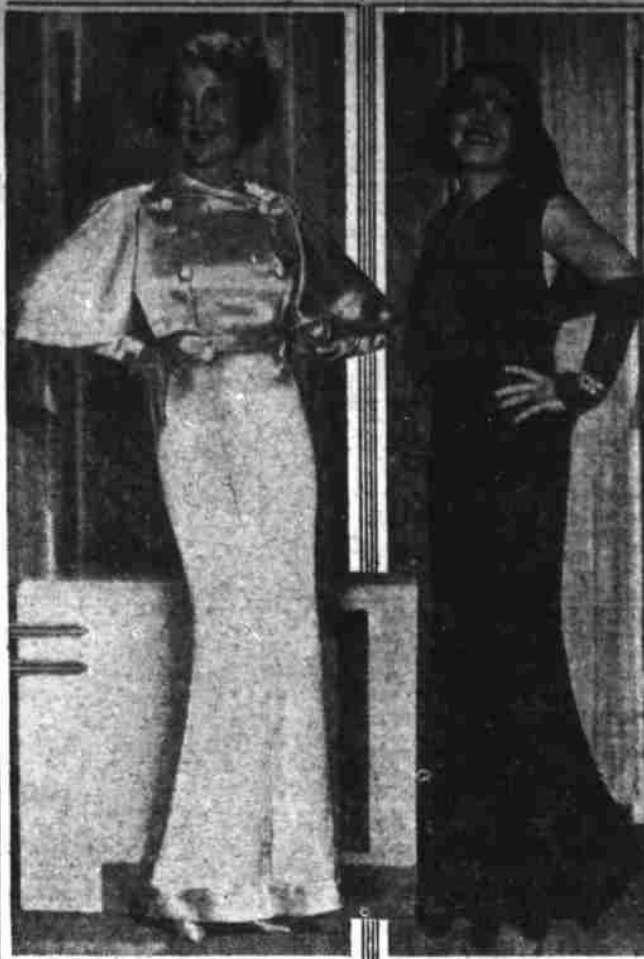

While the high school Steers are traversing state boundaries, this city will not be left footballless. The Bronchos of Junior High, yet to be defeated, will clash here with the self-styled champions of West Texas, the Pecos Eagles.

Coach Cubby Gardner is priming his husky junior high athletes for the struggle against an admittedly strong Pecos bunch. The game is to be played on Steer stadium field. A return engagement will be granted the Eagles in Pecos.

Next week Ben Daniels' Devils will take on the Stanton second string, aptly captioned the Buffaloes.

The Devils are perched in an enviable position so far as hope is concerned, but Coach Rufus Hyde of the Buffaloes is one of the shrewdest class B mentors in this region.

Twenty-two men enrolled for the scouters' training school as it opened Monday evening in the Methodist church basement.

Besides a hotly contested knot tying races, naming of the four patrols featured the meeting.

Jack Cummings' patrol welcomed the hands "Krow" because it was easy to sound the call. D. H. Reed recalled that his patrol assumed the name of "Jackass" because the Bible recounted Samson's feat of slaying thousands with the jawbone of an ass. His patrol, he said, had no desire to slay anyone. Joe Pickle's patrol was impressed with what a remarkable bird the bull would be if he could fly, hence the title "Flying Bulls." Walton Morrison's patrol found itself few in numbers and concluded it was the underdog, thus the "Hound" patrol came into being.

Though badly outnumbered, the Hounds made up in quality what they lacked in quantity during the course of contests.

Walton Morrison spoke on tenderfoot requirements and A. C. Williamson, area executive, rethe question whether the commission could ask the government for the money until after the proceeds of the bond issue were available.

The government had promised to match Texas' bond money dollar for dollar as it was expended. The legislature has authorized the issuance of $5,000,000 in securities. The voters in a special election had approved issuance of relief bonds not to exceed $20,000,000.

Governor Ferguson reminded the commission that "we are broke" and commented that should the federal government not be asked for the money the relief work would have to stop. She said it merely was a formality that the commission go on record asking that the regulation be made.

Westbrook pointed out that the commission was distributing about $100,000 a day and that it was urgent money be obtained.

with about the usual program. Efforts will be made to double the number in attendance this evening. Attending the first evening were: Flying Bulls—J. H. Garcia, Allen Hodges, Joe Pickle, Tom Deasley, William Wright; Hounds—Walton Morrison, Steve Ford, Jr.; Crew—Joe Galbraith, J. A. Cummings, Victor Mellinger, Lee O. Rogers, Nat Shick; Jackasses—D. F. Bigony, M. L. Black, D. H. Reed, A. A. Forter, George Brown, H. N. Robinson, O. R. Bollinger, and Scoutmaster George Gentry.

Relief Commissions Begins Ratifying Appointments Of Board By County Officials

Dispute In Hidalgo Not Settled; Carl Estes' Request That Courts Proceed To Name County Boards Is Voted Down

AUSTIN—The Texas relief commission Monday started the task of ratifying appointments by commissioners courts of county relief boards to administer funds to be obtained through sale of a state bond issue.

Several county judges were before the commission to urge approval of the members nominated by them for the work of distributing money to the needy.

Representatives of two actions in Hidalgo who have been at loggerheads over the personnel of the county board there, told the commission that they were unable to settle their difficulties.

After presentation of the controversy by W. R. Montgomery of Edinburg and County Judge E. C. Couch, the commission voted to send Robert L. Holliday of El Paso, one of its members to Hidalgo county to make a survey and recommend a county board. Montgomery and Senator Archie Parr of Benavides, who accompanied Montgomery before the commission, said they would abide by Holliday's decision.

Couch was asked if his faction would be satisfied with Holliday's selections and replied he believed it would, but did not commit himself definitely.

Estes Voted Down Montgomery and Couch said they had previously agreed, in an effort to settle their controversy, that the commissioners court designate two members and the faction represented by Montgomery nominate two, those four to pick the fifth member. The four men so named never could agree on the fifth man, however, they said.

The commission voted down a resolution offered by Carl Estes of Tyler, a member, that the commissioners court proceed to name the county relief boards and administrators and that they function pending confirmation of their appointment by the commission. At a previous meeting the commission had ruled that existing relief boards, which functioned under direction of the old rehabilitation and relief commission, be continued until new boards were approved. Some Protested There had arisen some complaint about the personnel of boards proposed by commissioners' courts.

Lawrence Westbrook, director of the relief commission, said it was desirable not to disrupt the existing organization by replacement of present boards too hastily.

"That's a slap in the face for every county commissioners' court," Estes said, when the resolution was rejected.

Boards nominated by the commissioners' courts in Garza and Randall counties were confirmed. Governor Miriam A. Ferguson presided over the commission meeting, as its ex-officio chairman, for a time, but finally turned the gavel over to B. F. Giesecke of Austin.

November Aid The commission approved Governor Ferguson's request to the federal government for $1,502,500, the money to be used for relief during November and to be replaced from proceeds of the sale of $2,750,000 in state bonds, advertised for December 1. It also sanctioned a requisition by her of $1,224,992 for October needs. Earl P. ...ams of Crockett raised

CONFUSION ENDED ON BRAN

New Ruling Corrects All Labels

To protect the buying public, the United States Food and Drug Administration has advised that every package of cereal labeled "Bran" state on the label exactly what it contains.

Before this ruling, even part-bran products were sometimes mistakenly referred to as "Bran." It was not easy for the purchaser to distinguish between a cereal that was entirely bran, or all bran with flavoring, and another that was mostly wheat.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is labeled "ALL-BRAN Deliciously Flavored with Malt, Sugar and Salt," a statement which describes the product fairly and honestly.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has won millions of friends because it corrects most types of common constipation safely and pleasantly. It furnishes generous "bulk"—needed to promote normal elimination.

However, ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all." Certain types of intestinal disorders should be treated only on a physician's advice.

When you buy a bran cereal, for the relief of constipation, read the wording on the package. The facts are there! Make sure by asking for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It furnishes "bulk" in concentrated form for satisfactory results.

Jean Calloway's Famous Orchestra Due Wednesday

Every year a new sensation rises out of the thousands of artists who appear before the millions of unseen audiences and this season Blase of New York with the cynical judgment has proclaimed another Calloway in the person of Jean.

During the year of 1931 and up to the present time "Cab" Calloway office record that was ever known in the East. His style and originality was copied by many, but only one, in the person of "Jean" Calloway, has been successful in creating in the feminine field the same sensation that the marvelous "Cab" created among the men.

Jean Calloway has surrounded herself with thirteen nationally known masculine artists, brought together from practically every part of the country and is today proving to be an absolute sensation.

The management of the Settles Hotel has been forced to guarantee the Famous Orchestra Corporation of New York City, who is sponsoring the tour of this marvelous artist, a large sum to make it possible for the patrons of this vicinity to be able to be entertained at the beautiful Settles Hotel ballroom on the night of Wednesday, Nov. 22, 1933.

not radically alter the situation that has existed virtually since March 4; namely, that the president is his own Secretary of the Treasury and also governor of the Federal Reserve board.

We have adopted an agrarian monetary policy and to that policy industry will apparently be compelled to adjust itself.

Now why is it that the depreciation of the American dollar causes great concern in the industrial regions of the United States while the equal depreciation of the Canadian and Australian currencies is accepted almost without comment?

The objective of the present monetary policy will, of course, not be attained simply by lowering the external value of the dollar.

This is all very complicated. But it is not too soon to realize how complicated it is.

The complication of the matter raises the question as to whether the administration is adequately manned and properly organized to handle it.

in the Cabinet, Senate and diplomatic corps.
The White House insisted that Al and John came only for tea and were entertained along with a small group of people whose presence made political talk impossible.

Despite all the "mystery" stories conjured up about the visit the White House was telling the truth. . . .

Smith and Raskob were ushered into the informal upstairs sitting room. President and Mrs. Roosevelt were already there with half a dozen guests and their daughter, Anna Dall, pouring tea.

Contrary to his usual practice of guiding the conversation Mr. Roosevelt sat back almost silent. (He probably was getting a little inward amusement out of the strained efforts of his guests to make small talk with Smith and Raskob.)

The conversation veered from football to the weather—and, as the White House said, to the respective grandchildren of the Roosevelts and the Smiths. . . .

Finally Norman Davis, our Ambassador-at-large who was present, expressed amazement over the speed with which prohibition repeal had been accomplished. He said he would not have believed when he last left the country the returns would be in so soon.

It was at this point President Roosevelt offered the only high light of the half hour's chat-cha. He told those present that repeal so soon would NOT have been possible except for the pioneering work of Al Smith in 1928 and the ensuing four years of labor by John Raskob as Democratic National Chairman.

Guarantees—
Administration leaders on Capitol Hill are predicting privately that the President will recommend federal guarantee of bank deposits

Federal Reserve notes in the market. The combination of these fresh reserves with existing and the possible lowering of the gold backing requirement behind Federal Reserve notes from 40 per cent to 35 per cent would make it possible to issue paper money to suit the inflationist's fondest dreams. And all done with familiar lawful money—not a greenback in a carload.

Scaled-down—
Note how the applied Warren theory of jockeying gold prices fits into the new picture. If 55-cent revaluation had been announced a month ago with the dollar around 65 cents in the world markets it would have been a shock. Now after weeks of fancy fluctuation it will be a relief to many.

Gold purchases will be continued a little longer until the world price jibes with the desired revaluation level. But insiders predict that the professor's prize fish is flopping its last flops. They say it has been as successful in lifting prices as trying to heat a room with a match under a thermometer.

Advisers—
The new step does not mean that conservative financial advisers are back in the saddle. Professor Sprague, Lewis Douglas and Eugene Black are distinctly on the outside although they will like this move better than what has been going on recently.

Morgenthau—
New York understands that appointment of Henry Morgenthau, Jr. was due to his personal loyalty to the President rather than special qualifications for the job. F. D. R. will be more than ever his own secretary of the Treasury. But Morgenthau has a mind which takes hold fully of any subject in which he becomes absorbed.

Morgenthau has actually had more to do with setting the RFC gold price than Jesse Jones. The hope here is that Morgenthau has been overshadowed in the public eye by his father. The younger man is distinctly distrustful of publicity—but a bog for work. He is understood here to have been instrumental in selling the Warren program as continuing the Warren program a little longer.

making operation of such a station possible.

"Perhaps if you should go into the residential districts of Big Spring today not more than two or three owners of receiving sets would say they wished the local, unlicensed station would close down," said Abolt.

"Three months from now, however, the opinion very likely would be greatly changed. The public has not realized, I believe, just what it would mean to radio if there were no regulation of the broadcasting stations. Scores of these small, unlicensed stations, which can be heard many hundreds of miles, have sprung up in this section of the country. We got indictments against proprietors of two in the town of Plainview. Any number of stations could be operated in every town if regulations were not enforced. That would ruin radio for any useful purpose to the public," he declared.

WACO (AP)—The drive of the federal government against unlicensed radio stations progressed a step farther Monday when a federal court jury here convicted Albert Cox and Fred Rittersman on charges of operating radio station "Ten-Ten" at Temple without a license and with interfering with the signals from station "KOMA" at Oklahoma City. Sentence was deferred until Wednesday by Judge R. J. McMillan.

you note that 2,000 feet you see the highway you rode over in reaching the station. Westward are mountains, northward are mountains—no, every direction brown, rocky, jagged covered with fanning peaks that offer eternal danger for the flying public—danger that the government has spent huge sums to control.

Not since the Department of Commerce station has been in operation has an accident occurred to a transport ship within its range.

Contrast
The visitor to this station is struck particularly by the contrast in his surroundings as he ends his motor journey up to the station and walks into the building.

Outside the winds howl and send chills through you as you peer into the jagged horizon formed by the peaks. Inside is comfort, modern conveniences of every kind, and visible, audible evidence of the awe-inspiring perfection to which radio communication has been brought in a few short years.

Always Keeper Roby Cathey or one of his assistant keepers, Kermit W. Feist or Alford H. Henderson, sit before a galaxy of dials and other gadgets that are quite confusing to the layman and help keep pilots between Dallas and El Paso informed of weather conditions from hour to hour.

These young men seem to realize the responsibility they have in guiding pilots over one of the most dangerous stretches of the Southern Transcontinental air line.

Next to the arrangement of the layout of the site and listens to the radio conversations between this isolated outpost, 65 miles from a railroad, and pilots and stations in distant places, is the thrill he gets from the sight of El Captain peak, directly north of the station—the highest point in Texas, the last outpost of the Rockies as they run out to the southeast of the big divide in New Mexico, Colorado and the states further north.

El Captain
El Captain's highest point is 8,700 feet above sea level. The mountain is in the form of a long series of peaks. The southernmost, Signal Peak, is the most imposing in appearance. Solid rock rising more than 3,000 feet form a huge spire hewn by the hand of nature herself. But the tallest peak by 600 feet is the one just "back" of Signal peak. As you climb the trail that is most generally used you find first and pine that rise to 100 feet. And when you reach the top ridge you find yourself in a forest of great trees.

The great mountain belongs to the Grahsm-Hunter Corporation, which guards it closely as a game preserve. Bear, mountain lion, mountain sheep, antelope, elk, deer and other wild animals are to be found in the upper canyons of El Captain.

Feet were shipped in several years ago. The Guadalupe country is truly one of America's last frontiers. Great ranches, known until today almost solely by their brands, really determine geographical nomenclature of the region. They don't speak of Culberson county of Hudspeth county up there. It's the Figure 2, the TC, or some other ranch that is referred to when you ask about various sections. The station is located on the D ranch.

The radio station is equipped with sleeping quarters, a kitchen with electric refrigerator and other conveniences for unmarried members of the staff.

All Married
It so happens that the three men now on duty are married. Always Keeper Cathey and Assistant Keeper Feist live at Pine Spring Inn, a picturesque camp on Highway 54 six miles by road from the station. Walter Glover, 51-year-old pioneer of the Guadalupe, owns and operates the camp, which really is the modern successor to one of the old relay stations on the Butterfield stage trail of the 1850's. Ruins of the building and coral built by operators of the Butterfield stages are visible there. Assistant Keeper Henderson lives at Frijoles, three miles further north of Pine Springs Inn. John T. Smith owns Frijoles, where a fine spring in the yard of his home has furnished water through the years, as has Pine Spring. From which water is hauled to the radio station. Smith is postmaster at Frijoles, where all the radio station men get their mail. Hunting parties to which owners of the Grahsm-Hunter preserve play host annually use Frijoles as one of the headquarters. There is also a modern lodge in McKittrick canyon which stretches north of El Captain.

The men who operate the station usually visit El Paso and Carlsbad on their days off. They spend off hours of several days every month or two cutting wood for use in their homes at Pine Spring Inn. Rarely do they go to Van Horn. It is 65 miles by highway to both Van Horn and Carlsbad, and 110 miles by highway to El Paso. Guadalupe Pass station broadcasts weather conditions at 50 minutes past each hour. This report is addressed to the El Paso station. The station also works all transport ships plying the Big Spring-El Paso sector of the airway. This formerly was done by an American airways station that was located in the town of Plainview. Any number of stations could be operated in every town if regulations were not enforced. That would ruin radio for any useful purpose to the public," he declared.

Weather Broadcasts
Big Spring's Department of Commerce station, KCAP, at which Officer in Charge Emery E. Neff, is chief, broadcasts weather between El Paso and Carlsbad at 15 minutes after the hour. The El Paso station broadcasts Dallas-El Paso weather at 15 minutes past each hour and the report on conditions west of El Paso at 10 minutes past each hour.

Roby L. Cathey, who is in charge of the Guadalupe station, was residing in Lubbock. The writer visiting the station a few days ago learned thousands of millions of years ago. Or, if it is found that the rays are photons, or bullets of light, as Dr. Robert A. Millikan of California Institute of Technology contends, these same scientists may conclude that the universe is "immortal" and self-renewing. The photons, according to the Einstein theory, represent left-off energy released in space in the process of forming new atoms of matter to replenish dying stars.

Whatever they found concerning the cosmic ray will not be known until a study of the recording of their instruments is completed.

DECEMBER—
Texas allowance for December had been cut 77,000 barrels.

Thompson said he had been assured that a representative of Harold L. Ickes, federal oil administrator, would testify as to the method followed in determining what the consumer demand was and the reasons for the cut in Texas' production.

Thompson said he did not know where the commission was going to effect the cut.

"We had to scratch like everything when the last cut was made," he said.

GROCERS—

Administration.
The Compliance Board, it was again pointed out, is empowered only to consider compliance of violation of existing NRA codes, and to help those engaged in various types of business to understand their codes more thoroughly.

The grocers were asked to file specific complaints against any one they believed to be violating NRA regulations while displaying the NRA emblem.

Methodical and unhurried, they replied to questions asked them on a short wave voice wireless set to inform their listeners that they were comfortable, had drunk a cup of coffee apiece, and believed everything was going off according to schedule.

Particularly were they sure that the bubbling tanks of liquid oxygen on which their lives depended would sustain them in their sealed gondola until they once again set foot on solid earth.

The adventurers had the specific mission of studying the nature of the cosmic ray, that elusive beam bombarding the earth which has claimed the undivided attention of famous scientists for years. The rays, 100 times as powerful in the stratosphere as at sea level, were to be recorded on delicate instruments carried by the aeronauts.

Scientific Questions
If, in summing up the results of the experiment, it is found that Dr. Arthur H. Compton, of the University of Chicago, is correct in contending the rays are electrons, scientists possibly would see support for the theory that the universe originated in an explosion

What has become of the SERVANT PROBLEM?

HAVE YOU ever considered that the average wife of today gets along better with one servant than the average woman of the '90's could manage to do with several?

You may jokingly say, "She has to." But the real reason is, she can. The real answer is the electric refrigerator, the modern stove, the washing and ironing machine, the vacuum cleaner, the countless labor-saving devices that actually replace servant power.

It is the many improved staples, the convenient packaged goods, the glassed and canned foods, the prepared foods that save so much time and labor.

It is better marketing facilities—convenient stores with a wide variety of merchandise, including fresh, healthful foods, in season and out.

It is modern advertising—cramped with usable news for the woman in the home—making possible rapid progress by developing new markets for goods, and new goods for markets. Advertising, that tells you what to buy, and where to buy it.

Advertising makes it easier to live, more healthful to live, pleasant to live. Yes, and more economical!

Plot To Kill Texan Bared

Estranged Wife, 48, And Young University Student Charged

HEMPSTEAD—An alleged plot to kill G. Hudson, Hempstead merchant, was revealed Monday night by William F. Jackson, county attorney, as he disclosed the filing of an assault to murder charge against Hudson's estranged wife. A charge of assault to murder previously had been filed against R. B. Oakley, 21, of near Beaumont, senior in the University of Texas. Jackson said he obtained a long statement from Oakley. The county attorney said that Mrs. Hudson, who has been operating a rooming house at Austin in Hempstead but returned to Austin and would be arrested there Monday night or Tuesday. Oakley had been staying at Mrs. Hudson's rooming house. Hudson was attacked and severely beaten with a blunt instrument as he went home from his store Saturday night. He was not robbed. The assailant dropped a hat with a name inside the band. Oakley was arrested at Austin Sunday. The youth waived examining trial and was bound over under $1,000 bail to await the action of the Waller county grand jury. He had not made bond Monday night. In his statement, Oakley said he had formed an attachment for Mrs. Hudson, who is 48 years old. He said he "lost his nerve" when he approached Hudson and didn't try to kill him.

4 Cents Per Pound To Be Advanced On Cotton Owned Under Option By Growers

Immediate Distribution Of 48 Millions On Government-Held Cotton Announced By Farm Administration

WASHINGTON (UP)—Immediate distribution of $48,000,000 constituting a 4 cent a pound advance to cotton producers who are to receive options on 2,400,000 bales of government-held cotton, was announced by Oscar Johnson, director of finance for the farm administration. The advance will be made to approximately 600,000 producers as quickly as necessary forms can be signed. The Reconstruction Finance corporation notified Johnson a commitment on the cotton covered by option had been made to the Commodity Credit corporation which will make the funds available to a cotton pool to be established by Secretary Wallace. The producers who asked options on government cotton at 6 cents a pound as part of their consideration for acreage reduction will be required to participate in the 1934 program. After signing the agreement and transferring his option to the pool, the producer will receive $20 for each bale upon which he is entitled to an option. The pool will issue participation certificates to option holders who will retain their beneficial interest and upon sale of the cotton will receive their ratable share of any price above 10 cents a pound after deduction of expenses.

Has Couple Of Million And Wonderful Wife So Al Jolson Will Retire

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—At 47, Al Jolson has "a couple of million and a wonderful wife" so he's going to spend the rest of his life in comfort and ease. He announced his retirement from the screen, effective on date of completion of his current contract. "What's the use of worrying about picture work if you've got a couple of million and a wonderful wife?" sighed the mammy singer. As a success he has all of it he wants, Jolson admitted. Jolson's wife is Ruby Keeler.

Water Soaked Hat Kills Last Hope Hart Alive Despite Confessions

SAN JOSE, Cal. (UP)—A water-soaked hat shattered the "last hope" of the family of Brooke L. Hart, 22, that the missing youth might have been alive despite the slaying described by his self-confessed kidnapers.

Alex J. Hart, wealthy father of the abduction victim, identified the hat as one belonging to his son, Sheriff William Emig said. It was picked up on a mudflat near the bridge from which Thomas H. Thurmond, 28, and John M. Holmes, 29, admitted throwing young Hart. Search for the body has been futile. Emig said the father indicated he had been hopeful Brooke was alive until shown the hat.

Two concrete blocks and several coils of wire also were found in the search. The kidnapers said the blocks and wire were "extras" discarded when they were not used to bind the unconscious form of their victim and weight the body before throwing it over the bridge railing.

Negro Electrocutted For Death Of Young Woman

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (UP)—Marshall Williams, giant Waller county negro, was put to death in the state's electric chair Monday for the murder of Miss Elsie Jones, 19-year-old farm girl.

Williams was pronounced dead at 12:09 a. m. He declined to make a statement and showed no emotion as he marched to the chair. Miss Jones disappeared last August after setting out on a mule from her father's farm near Brookshire to round up cows. Her beaten body was found in a creek bed the next day. Williams was arrested in Louisiana and tried and convicted in Hempstead.

Rev. and Mrs. S. J. Shettleworth left Monday night for Temple where Mrs. Shettleworth will enter the Scott and White Hospital to go through the clinic. Mr. Shettleworth plans to return Friday.
