Robber leaves evidence

It wasn't hard for police to find the suspect in a West Memphis, Ark., cafe robbery: He left in a wheelchair after writing a threatening note on the back of his personal check.

The man made a gesture as though he were hiding a gun under his jacket, police said, and the waitress quickly gave him $120.

He quickly wheeled out of the restaurant. Police tracked down the suspect at a nearby motel, who jumped up and took off running.

Police were able to capture the suspect, but they already had a pretty good idea who he was.

The note he allegedly passed to the waitress was on the back of a personalized check bearing his name, address and telephone number. Edward Bohanon, 42, was charged with aggravated robbery.

Don't mess with the camel

Stinker finally lived up to her name. The usually calm camel who has lived in the corral at La Caille restaurant in Sandy, Utah, for about six years attacked owner Steven Runolfson, pinning him to the ground.

The 2,000-pound camel had bitten Runolfson's friend, Keith Keikel, when the restaurant owner jumped in to intervene. That's when Stinker really got mad.

A stick was used to pry the camel away and free Runolfson, who suffered eight broken ribs and a partially collapsed lung. Doctors expect him to make a full recovery. Caretakers say the incident was out of character for Stinker.

Net farm income expected to fall $7 billion this year

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL
COLLEGE STATION — Large supplies of grain, coupled with low commodity prices, will lead to projected United States net farm income of $40.4 billion in 2000 — down $7.6 billion from the amount estimated in 1999, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture report.

Low commodity prices in 1999 led to a $1.7 billion drop in total crop receipts, with the $93.3 billion gross income the lowest amount recorded since 1994. Receipts for 2000 are projected to be down $2.1 billion for major field crops, though fruit, vegetable and greenhouse/nursery products will rise $1.2 billion.

"We expect prices for our major commodities — corn, sorghum, soybean, rice and cotton, all of them — to be below the cost of production for the coming year," said Dr. Carl Anderson, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"That will be the cutting end into the net income of crop farmers especially," he added.

Net cash income is forecast at $49.7 billion — $9.4 billion less than the preliminary estimate for 1999.

Crop farmers are not only faced with low commodity prices to start off the new year, but also a shortage of subsoil moisture.

"The drought that has been in place since the midyear still exists and now is becoming a growing concern not only to livestock and forage production, but now it's going to become very important to crop farmers," Anderson said.

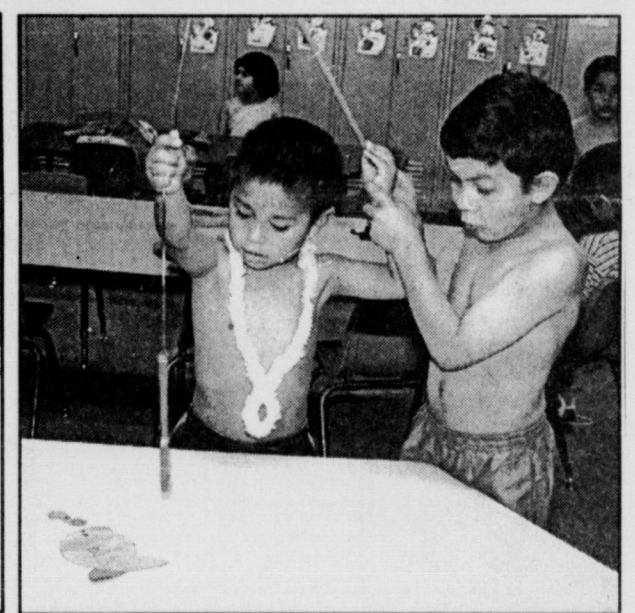

"In the Harlingen area, they are preparing to plant here shortly in a few weeks. That side of it leaves us with a twofold concern. One is

Prosecution concludes case in Reyes murder trial

By RONN SMITH

Editor

After only two days of testimony, the prosecution rested its case Thursday in the capital murder trial of Gilberto "Tito" Reyes of Muleshoe.

The defense will begin its case Monday.

Reyes could be sentenced to death for the March 1998 slaying of Yvette Barraz, also of Muleshoe, who was 19 at the time of her death.

In opening arguments Wednesday, the jury was told by 287th District Attorney Johnny Actkinson that Barraz's slaying was brutal, and that evidence would show she died of blows to the head from a claw hammer.

He also said that Barraz's body was found near the Mexican border in Presidio, Texas, her slacks and underwear were pulled down below her knees. He said evidence would show that she had been sexually assaulted.

Defense attorney David Martínez of Lubbock said that while a murder was committed, "we believe the evidence is going to show you that there was no kidnapping or attempted kidnapping."

Reyes, now 26 years old, was stopped at the international bridge in Presidio at about 4 a.m. on the day after Barraz failed to come home from work. Authorities could find no reason to detain him, however, so he was allowed to go.

Hours later, they got word that Barraz was missing.

Muleshoe police acted quickly on initial report

By RONN SMITH

Editor

Muleshoe Police Chief Don Carter and Lt. Otis Carpenter related Wednesday how their department reacted on March 12, 1998, when Osbaldo Barraz came in and reported his daughter missing.

Barraz returned a few minutes later to report that he had checked the Leal's parking lot and found a small amount of blood.

Within hours, the police had secured an arrest warrant for Yvette Barraz's former boyfriend, Gilberto Reyes, and by early the next morning, police were en route to Presidio, Texas, where the young woman's body had been found thanks to a tip from local police.

Mother tells story of grief

By RONN SMITH

Editor

Last Wednesday, Mary Barraz had to relive the story of her daughter's March 1998 disappearance, and she made it most of the way through before the tears came.

Barraz related how she and her husband, Osbaldo, became concerned the night of March 11 when their daughter, Yvette, had not come home from her job at Leal's restaurant by 9:30 p.m. and had not called.

She related how they called around to see if anyone in their daughter's usual circles had seen or heard from her that night, but could learn nothing.

"In my mind, I just didn't want to think that anything bad had happened," she said.

By 7 o'clock the next morning, though, Barraz and her husband were sure "something bad" had indeed happened to their daughter.

Osbaldo Reyes went to the Muleshoe Police Department to report his daughter missing, and within hours an arrest warrant had been issued for the young woman's on-again, off-again boyfriend, Gilberto Reyes, who is now on trial for her murder.

Yvette Barraz's daughter, Selena, is now 4 years old and lives with her maternal grandparents along with two of her mother's siblings.

Law enforcement converged quickly on Presidio site

By RONN SMITH

Editor

Representatives of the Muleshoe Police Department, Texas Rangers, and the Texas Department of Public Safety testified last week about how they took off for the border town of Presidio after the discovery of the body of Yvette Barraz.

Lt. Otis Carpenter and Sgt. Joe Orozco of Muleshoe left before dawn March 13, 1998, taking evidence gathered here. In Plains, they met Texas Ranger Dusty McCord, coming from Lubbock.

In Presidio, they were joined by a crime-scene photographer, trace-evidence expert and fingerprint specialist from the Department of Public Safety — as well as Presidio County officers — to being piecing the case together.

Bula school burns Friday

JOURNAL STAFF REPORT

The Bula school, a landmark in southern Bailey County for decades, fell victim to a fire early Friday morning.

Susie Claunch, who lives north of the school, said the fire did not destroy the parts of the school used as a community storage and by her family to store farm equipment.

Claunch said her family was awakened in the pre-dawn hours to let them know about the fire, and that Sheriff Coy Plott and others spent long hours on the scene to make sure the fire didn't spread to neighboring CRP land.

The school site is toward the southeastern corner of Bailey County on Texas 54 very near the route of the early-day wagon road to Fort Sumner.

According to Tales and Trails of Bailey County, the Bula School District was created in 1925 and functioned for 50 years before declining enrollment forced its consolidation with Three Way Independent School District in 1975.

Job Shadow Day is Wednesday

Business representatives who volunteered to participate in Muleshoe High School's Groundhog Job Shadow Day are reminded that they need to attend a short gathering in the high school cafeteria at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday in order to be teamed with their student.

From there, they will take the student for a brief "visit" to a typical day on their job in order to give students a chance to experience what working life is like.

Students are to be returned to the cafeteria at 2 p.m.

The first Job Shadow Day was organized in Boston in 1996. The following year, it was observed through much of the Southeast, and in 1998 it became nationally organized due to efforts by Junior Achievement, America's Promise, the National School-to-Work Opportunities Office and the American Society of Association Executives.

More than 350 businesses on the South Plains will be participating this year.

A Victorious Christian Knight Goes Home

For my family and for me, and for many we love, it was like Camelot. We were gathered for the funeral of my father, gathered through the kindness and generosity of the president of Abilene Christian University, in the beautiful chapel of ACU's College of Biblical Studies. Picture a tall, vaulted and arched edifice at the top of a broad series of many steps reminiscent of those leading up to our nation's Capitol building. Scraping the sky above it all, a tall

"prayer tower" (whose top, I think, will never be finished until it boasts a cross but is still magnificent). Picture the interior of the high-ceilinged sanctuary with its raised platform and pulpit front and center and the sanctuary sides lined, floor to ceiling, with richly-colored and textured stained glass. And at the very front, at the culmination of the center aisle, on this day, and for the first time in this building's history, there rested a casket in the place of honor.

The scene felt right. It was right. It was just as it should have been.

In 1935, my father went out from this school having been graduated with highest honors. He went out to preach and to teach and to work for God's Kingdom, and though he didn't know it at the time, to spend a lifetime teaching others to preach and to labor in the service of the King. And now we were back, marking the end of his full life and ministry. Full circle. Back to Camelot.

Dad never thought of himself as a knight of high order. But from our little group of churches, our small segment of the larger Kingdom, many of our best, our brightest, our mightiest men (and women), several hundred in Abilene and 500-600 later in Houston, gathered to celebrate the coming home of this one who trained and loved and ministered to so many of them. Knights, so to speak, of the High King themselves, they gathered around this knight, the mentor and teacher of so many, and doffed their helmets in honor of one who fought only against evil and lived to proclaim the message of the High King.

Voices echoing through the air of the stained glass-hued Great Hall blended together and rose to give word to a Christian knight's prayer to his Lord before meeting the last battle, the battle with death:

*When the night grows darkest,
And the stars are pale,
When the foe-men gather
In death's misty vale,
Be Thou Sword and Buckler,
Be Thou Shield and Mail.*

"So no fears shall chill" the knight on "that unknown shore," the assurance of victory comes from the very Christ who "in death . . . conquered, / And can die no more."

And all assembled praised God,
*Blessed warfare over,
Endless rest alone [only];
Tears no more, nor sorrow,
Neither sigh nor moan,
But a song of triumph
Round about the throne.*

And the song ascended in the beautiful chapel and, I'm convinced, in the Great Hall of Heaven, and for us it was Camelot as we praised the High King for his grace and for welcoming this faithful knight home.

Curtis Shelburne is minister of the 16th & D Church of Christ in Muleshoe.

AROUND THE AREA

Singers asked to join performance

Rehearsals will be on Tuesdays from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. (Mountain time) beginning Feb. 8 in Clovis, and will alternate between Clovis and Portales sites.

Scores will be provided. The rehearsals in Clovis will be at First United Methodist Church, 1501 N. Sycamore St., and those in Portales will be at the ENMU School of Music.

Roosevelt County has been without a hospital since late 1998, when Albuquerque-based Presbyterian Health Care Services closed its Plains Regional Medical Center-Portales, saying the facility could not be operated at a profit.

The Roosevelt County Special Hospital District was formed as a result, and plans were made for a new publicly owned facility. It will be located on a donated 20-acre site at U.S. 70 and 18th Street.

St. Ann's Catholic Church of Bovina has scheduled its annual German sausage dinner for 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Feb. 6 in the parish hall on Third Street.

The cost will be $6 for adults and $3 for children under the age of 6. Take-out will be available at no extra charge, and sausage will be available by the pound.

The complete menu includes the sausage, creamed potatoes and gravy, green beans, sauerkraut, cranberry sauce, relish plate, homemade bread, desserts, tea and coffee.

College sets senior preview

Senior Sneak Preview, an opportunity for area high school seniors to find out about career possibilities and college life, is scheduled for Feb. 10 at South Plains College in Levelland.

The day's activities include the college's homecoming celebration and will include career advisement sessions, tours of the campus and several other informative activities.

Parking will be reserved in the lot south of the South Plains track stadium.

More information is available by calling (806) 894-9611, Ext. 2212.

Miracle on Wheels makes available electric wheelchairs to non-ambulatory senior citizens (age 68 and up) in the area, usually at no cost if the people qualify. No deposit is required.

The wheelchairs are provided to those who cannot walk and cannot self-propel a manual wheelchair in their home or independent-living quarters and who meet the additional qualifications of the program.

This service also may be available to the permanently disabled of any age.

More information is available by calling (800) 749-8778 or visiting www.durablemedical.com.

Depth-to-water survey under way

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District is in the process of making the annual depth-to-water measurements to determine the effect of pumpage on groundwater levels in the 15-county district area.

The measurements are made in a network of more than 1,200 privately owned wells, spaced at about nine square miles per well throughout the district.

District personnel make the measurements by lowering a steel tape to a pre-determined depth in the well. The lower several feet of the tape are coated with carpenters' chalk, which turns a darker blue when it comes in contact with water.

The same wells are used in the survey every year so the latest measurements can be accurately compared to those of the previous year.

More information is available by calling the district office at (806) 762-0181.

The deadline for items to appear in Around the Area is 5 p.m. Monday for Thursday's edition and 5 p.m. Thursday for Sunday's edition. Items may be brought to the office at 304 W. Second, mailed to P.O. Box 449 or faxed to 272-3567.

Texas wheat acreage down 6 percent from 1999 planting

Texas wheat farmers have seeded 5.8 million acres for the 2000 winter wheat crop, down 6 percent from last year and 5 percent less than was planted in 1998.

"Texas winter wheat acreage is the lowest since 1995," state statistician Robin Roark reported recently.

"Considerable acreage was dry-planted, and emergence and growth have been extremely slow because of the dry fall and winter months," Roark added.

Nationally, seeding of winter wheat for this year totaled 42.9 million acres, down only 1 percent from last year. This is the lowest total since 1972.

JUDGING ALL MEN

THE CIVIL MAGISTRATE, OR JUDGE, GOES BACK TO THE TIME OF MOSES. ON THE ADVICE OF HIS FATHER-IN-LAW, JETHRO MOSES ORGANIZED THE JUDICIARY OF ISRAEL -- AND ONLY IN MATTERS OF GREAT IMPORTANCE DID MOSES MAKE DECISIONS. TRIBAL HEADS WERE KNOWN AS PRINCES AND ELDERS WHO POSSESSED CIVIL AND RELIGIOUS AUTHORITY. IN THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM THAT HE ORGANIZED MOSES INCLUDED THESE OFFICIALS AND THEY RETAINED UNDER NEW REGULATIONS, THEIR HEREDITARY FUNCTION OF JUDGING (DEUT. 1:15-17) BEFORE HIS DEATH MOSES GAVE DIRECTIONS THAT THE ISRAELITES, ON SETTLING IN CANAAN, SHOULD APPOINT JUDGES AND OFFICERS IN ALL THEIR TOWNS WITH INSTRUCTIONS TO REFER MATTERS TOO DIFFICULT FOR THESE MAGISTRATES TO THE PRIESTS. THIS BECAME A TRADITIONAL CUSTOM AND WAS USED BY SAMUEL IN LATER YEARS WHEN HE BECAME TOO OLD TO JUDGE AND HE MADE HIS OWN SONS JUDGES OVER ISRAEL (I SAM. 8:1)

Lady Mules fall to Cooper for second straight loss

By KEVIN WILSON
Journal writer

Coming into Tuesday's match against Lubbock Cooper, the Lady Mules wanted to work on transition defense. The work paid off, as Cooper shot only 31 percent in the second half.

Unfortunately for Muleshoe, defense can't stop free throws. The Lady Pirates hit 11 free throws in overtime to knock off the Lady Mules 54-44 in Lubbock.

After falling behind by four in the extra session, the Lady Mules were forced to foul. Cooper took advantage and blew the game open. Jessica Carpenter's three was the only score in overtime for Muleshoe.

Lindsey Field led Muleshoe in scoring for the second straight game with 15 points on 5-of-10 shooting. Field and Carpenter scored all 20 bench points for Muleshoe. Bethany Jones chipped in 14 for the Lady Pirates.

The game was close throughout, and the teams went to the locker rooms tied at 23. The second half proved insufficient to settle things as well, with each team putting up 18 points.

Cooper made the most of its opportunities throughout the game.

Muleshoe grabbed more offensive rebounds than Cooper (14-11), but the Lady Pirates had nine second-chance points to Muleshoe's four.

The biggest difference in the game, however, came down to fouls: Muleshoe committed 20, which resulted in 22 trips to the line for Cooper. The Lady Pirates took advantage, hitting 17 of them. The Lady Mules, by contrast, hit six of nine attempts.

According to Lady Mule head coach Shana Simms, the team did a great job on defense, but they had a hard time scoring.

"We didn't move the ball very well," Simms said, adding that Cooper did a very good job denying the Lady Mules good inside positioning.

Neither team could hit from long range, with Muleshoe shooting 2-of-11 and Cooper 1-of-9 on threes.

Since posting a huge district win against Shallowater, the Lady Mules have dropped two straight and will need to finish on a roll for a good chance at the top spot in the district.

The Lady Mules' record has dropped from 3-0 in district play and 12-8 overall a week ago to 3-2 in district and 12-10 overall.

They were playing their final regular-season game Friday night at home against Littlefield, which started out slowly in district play but has come on strong in the final games.

Star in training

Muleshoe ninth-grader Jodi Hawkins goes for two against Lubbock Roosevelt during the teams' Jan. 24 game. The ninth-grade girls have only two more games this season — at home against Shallowater at 6:30 p.m. Monday and at Friona on Feb. 7. The ninth-grade boys play at Shallowater on Monday and at home against Friona at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 7.

everybody is faced with low commodity prices, and we are especially in the middle of a drought area."

Anderson noted that the outlook for beef producers is "up-beat" because of the low grain prices.

Dry weather has caused herd sizes to be decreased across Texas, and feedlots are hoping to buy as many cattle as they can, said Dr. Ernie Davis, an Extension beef economist.

A decline in 2000 farm income will be partially offset by an increase in off-farm income, the Agriculture Department reports. A average farm household income is forecast at $59,350, down from an estimated $61,363 in 1999.

However, that estimate is close to the 1998 level as farm operators' household income has averaged about the same as U.S. household income during the past three decades.

"I'm one that thinks crop farmers will be looking at alternative sources of income," Anderson noted.

"We are fortunate in the large, middle part of Texas, that we have available off farm jobs. They can be quite a boost in terms of supplemental income," he added.

Clerical, teaching and health-care professions give spouses options when earning off-farm income.

Walter Sain of Muleshoe and the former Rosa Lea Little of Decatur were married September 10, 1949 in the Fundamental Baptist Church in Decatur. The Reverend Clyde Spain, Jr. of Decatur officiated the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to Carlsbad Caverns and the Ruidoso area in New Mexico, they made their home in Muleshoe, where they operated the Muleshoe Laundry for the first six months of their marriage.

They have lived in Muleshoe all of their married lives. Walter is the owner and operator of Sain Irrigation and Machine, and Rose is employed at Dillman Elementary School.
