After being here two weeks, Birdsall said he has nothing but nice things to say about Tech.

"I have been impressed with the quality of the library's staff and its collections and also the campus and the student body," he said.

Birdsall said the decision to leave North Dakota for Tech was a good choice.

"I have no doubts that this is a good place for me. It is a good opportunity to work here," he said. As associate director, Birdsall

He said automation will make information accessible by a simple phone call.

He said the process of converting the card catalog is being actively planned.

The move from North Dakota to Texas was easy, he said, because the states are relatively the same.

"I moved from the northern plains to the southern plains, and other than the winters being harsher in North Dakota, there is not much difference," he said.

Birdsall replaced Jennifer Cargill, who assumed a position as associate university librarian at Rice University.

Tech student assaulted inside UP apartment

By BETH GEORGE

The University Daily

A University Plaza resident told police she was assaulted by a man in her apartment during the weekend, the Lubbock Police Department reported.

Texas Tech student Martha Hathaway, 28, told police she heard a knock at her door in University Plaza at 1001 University Ave. about 5 a.m. Saturday. She said she heard a man talking outside her door, so she opened the door. The man pushed his foot inside and forced his way into her apartment, according to police Hathaway said the man grabbed her around the neck and choked her, when she began to scream, police reports indicated.

Hathaway said the man told her she was in luck because he was not going to rape her and he refused to take Hathaway's money after she offered it to him, reports indicated.

Hathaway told police she asked the man if he was a Christian, and when he said no, she said she began to read to him from her Bible. Hathaway told police she said a prayer for the man.

After several minutes, Hathaway told the man she was having a panic attack and needed to walk. According to police reports, Hathaway left her apartment and the man followed her down to the first floor.

Hathaway said the man walked out of the building and proceeded east on 10th Street, according to police.

Reports indicate Hathaway's mouth was swollen and bleeding but that she did not require medical attention.

Hathaway told police the man had messy hair and had "Jessie" tattooed on the back of his right hand. Police were unable to locate the man or any evidence at the scene, reports indicated.

In an unrelated incident, a Tech student was slightly injured early Sunday morning when the car he was riding in struck a tree, police reported.

A host of other developments, including "the divided Koreas," also would have been at the 38th parallel by the United "avoided."

except that Cummins' version of events may be shared by all too many Americans, in their innocence of history. So let's look at the record:

That white paper was published Aug. 5, 1949, just two months before Mao Zedong proclaimed the People's Republic of China on Oct. 1. The publication was an attempt by the Truman administration to explain its China policy to people who refused to believe the truth: that Chiang and the Nationalists had lost the Chinese civil war because their regime, as Robert Donovan observed in his biography of Truman, was "cruel, corrupt, reactionary, inept, undemocratic and unpopular."

Born in Odessa on April 16, 1942, Cliff "Hurricane" Carter shares a birthday with William Shakespeare and Charlie Chaplin.

Carter obtained his bachelor's degree in advertising art at Texas Tech in 1964 and his doctorate in art and film at the University of Cincinnati in 1969.

In 1966 he left Lubbock to work in New York City at Compton Advertising on Madison Avenue.

He taught art at the University of Texas at Arlington from 1969 to 1971 and quit with a letter of resignation stating, "I'm going to Austin to play the blues," Carter said.

He worked at Armadillo World Headquarters from 1973 to 1980 as the head recording engineer, where he received four Grammy nominations, one Grammy and a Texas Music Association award.

Carter said he was awarded the Grammy for best jazz album in 1979 for his production of the "More Live" album for the Philwood Quartet.

The Texas Music Association honored him with an award in 1979 for producing Bugs Henderson's album "At Last."

In 1987 he received his second Texas Music Association award for production of W.C. Clark's Blues Review album, "Something For Everybody."

by Bill Watterson Nelson to star New baby alters outlook in TV movie

AUSTIN - Willie Nelson and Kris Kristofferson are slated to team up in a made-for-television movie that is to begin filming in the Austin area next month.

Tentatively titled "Rip," the film was written and will be produced by another Texas team, Austinite Bud Shrake and his longtime friend, writer Gary Cartwright.

According to Shrake, "Rip" is about a modern Texas Ranger "who has a high moral code and is forced to solve a crime with a scoundrel. It's kind of like '48 Hours."

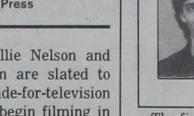

CBS has scheduled the film for broadcast during the all-important February sweeps period.

Nelson and Kristofferson also appeared together in Shrake's 1984 film "Songwriter" and were reunited a couple of years ago in CBS's television movie 'Stagecoach."

Kristofferson will play the ranger, nicknamed Rip, while Nelson is to portray the scoundrel, a reformed safe burglar. One major cast member hasn't been signed yet, but Shrake said he hopes to be able to get Rip Torn to play a retired Texas Ranger.

The movie will be filmed entirely in the Austin area — at Nelson's country club on Lake Travis, in the Lost Pines area near Bastrop and around Buda.

Buffs' new QB romps Texas

By The Associated Press

BOULDER, Colo. - Sophomore quarterback Darian Hagan, making his first collegiate start, ran and passed 14th-ranked Colorado to a 27-6 romp over Texas Monday night.

Hagan accounted for 116 yards rushing, including a 4-yard scoring run early in the final period and a 75-yard dash that set up Colorado's first TD. He passed for 95 yards, hitting fullback George Hemingway on a 5-yard score in the first quarter.

The Colorado defense sacked Texas quarterbacks five times and forced the Longhorns into numerous other hurried throws.

Hagan, elevated to the starting job after senior Sal'Aunese developed inoperable stomach and lung cancer last spring, staked the Buffaloes to a 14-0 first-quarter lead.

On the game's second play from scrimmage, Hagan darted off the left side and ran 75 yards before being hauled down from behind at the Texas 2-yard line. Two plays later, Eric Bieniemy plunged one yard for a 7-0 lead.

The Buffs made it 14-0 on the final play of the quarter. Hagan completed all four of his passes on the 80-yard drive, capped by the 5-yarder to Hemingway.

The Longherns capitalized on Colorado mistakes to get two secondquarter field goals from Wayne Clements.

Colorado's Ken Culbertson converted a 36-yard field goal on the final play of the half for a 17-6 Colorado lead.

Tech to build on Classic finish

By CAMERON MAUN The University Daily

Holding to coach Mike Jones' promise that it will be fun to watch this year, the Texas Tech volleyball team provided ample excitement in its season-opening Red Raider Classic.

Tech defeated Wichita State in five games Saturday before bowing to national powers Louisiana State and Arizona State in Sunday action.

Tech defeated Wichita State in its opening match Saturday night, coming back from a two-game deficit to win 8-15, 15-17, 15-9, 15-2, 15-11.

After the match with the Shockers, Jones said he was pleased with his team's performance.

"I thought we were a little tentative for the first match of the season, but we served and passed very well," he said. "It was nice to win."

Jones said he was not too concerned after his team lost the first two games of the first match. He told his team that letdowns are common in volleyball after a team wins its first two games.

"I just reminded them that LSU had just lost their first two and they came back to win (against ASU)," he said. "We made some adjustments, the three freshmen came through (Kim Gosselin, Kristen Sparks and Rochelle Kaaiai) and Lisa Clark was a force in the middle."

The Raiders received solid play in the middle from Clark and All-Tournament selection Chris Martin. Clark had 15 kills and 26 digs, and Martin also contributed 15 kills with 23 digs. Setter Sheila Solomon added 50 assists for the Raiders.

In Sunday's match against LSU, Tech never got on track in losing 15-10, 16-14, 15-11. In the second game, Tech bolted to a 5-0 lead before the athleticism of the Tigers took over.

"We had every chance to beat LSU, but they have tremendous athletes," Jones said.

In the LSU match Solomon tallied 32 of Tech's 35 assists, but the Raiders were ineffective up front against LSU's quickness, scoring only 35 kills to the Tigers' 46.

In the tournament finale, Tech took a powerful Arizona State squad four games before losing 15-8, 15-11, 16-18, 15-9. Jones said the sophistication of the Sun Devils' offense combined with their quickness makes them a tough

"We had ASU on the run," Jones said. "They're one of the better teams in their conference, which is one of the top conferences in the country.

"We're not disappointed because of their effort. ASU is just a great team. If they (the Raiders) play like that, we'll be happy with them."

ASU's 6-3 Tina Berg clogged up the middle for the Sun Devils. Berg had nine assisted blocks, and her presence in the middle continually disrupted the Raider offense. Outside hitter Sabrina Zenon led Tech with 12 kills against Arizona State. Solomon again led in assists with 36, giving her a three-game total 118. Martin added eight kills and 17 digs for Tech.

Martin said that for a young team learning a new system, Tech responded well to tough competiton.

"I thought we played pretty well," she said. "Only two people played the same places every match, and with a new system, for the first time to work that well together was pretty good." Jones was equally pleased with the team's overall performance.

"We found out they're fighters," he said. "They didn't quit, and we're extremely proud of them.

"Our people came through when we needed it. They showed character. They showed they'll be fun to watch."
