

Under The Double "T"

BY LYLE HOLMES
Toreador Sports Editor
First it is our privilege to acknowledge a letter from an old-timer at Texas Tech.

Dear Sports Editor:
I have noticed that you have not yet picked an All-Time All-Star Matador team. I have watched nearly every player that has performed in a Tech uniform and feel capable of judging who were the best. At this time I am taking the liberty of sending you what I think is the best All-Time Matador team.

The team I select is:
Name Position
Al Jennings Right End
Hurley Carpenter Left Tackle
Vermillion Right Tackle
Ox Reed Left Guard
Chubby DeWitt Right Guard
Vaughn Corley Quarter
Percy Walker Quarter
Roy Stevens Half
Shorty France Half
Gene Allford Full
Substitutes: Tribble, Owens, Vinzani, Teal, White, Volney Hill, Westerkamp, Knowles, Durham and Ernest Wilson.

Sincerely yours,
An Old Timer.
Old Timer I think you have an excellent selection. I realize that I have not made my selection and will do so within a few weeks. I think that I would differ with you on the present on a few of the men you have chosen, but as a whole you have selected practically the same team I would pick.

A letter such as the above is always welcomed, and if there is space to permit it will be carried in this column.

The basket ball players have something to work for now that Coach Morgan has arranged for the most attractive cage schedule ever signed for Tech. Twelve of the games will be played in Lubbock and the remaining 15 will take our cage team through western Oklahoma and Texas. Coach Morgan divides his share to make up for the failure to schedule a trip north during the holidays.

Our basket ball athletes in reality will have an extended vacation for about a month. They go to Lubbock for two games, January 8th and 9th, then leave Amarillo immediately for Abilene to play A. C. C. From Abilene they go to Brownwood for a pair of games with Daniel Baker. The Matador cage team will barely have time to get back to Lubbock for two games, January 12th and 13th, then they will leave and will not return until February 4th. This trip, if for no other reason, should be a great inducement for men to try out for the basket ball team.

Our prediction for the coming cage season: The Matadors will not lose more than seven games out of the 27 they play. Keep this in mind, and after the Matadors have finished a successful cage season, as they are sure to do, we would be glad to hear from you.
In regard to the Border conference that Tech is likely to join: It is rated higher than the Texas conference and the T. I. A. A. Joining this conference is likely to help Tech in many ways. Students will be aroused by an enthusiasm to win the conference championship and even the spirit that is aroused by competition will be greater.

Professor Qualia Entertains Club

Professor and Mrs. G. B. Qualia entertained the Spanish club, "Caja Y Espada" with a Christmas party at their home 2420 9th street. Since Argentina is the theme of the club, the Argentina colors of blue and white were used in appointments and favors. The principal feature of the evening was a "Pintata" or Spanish Christmas tree. After a series of interesting Spanish games under the leadership of Faye Bumpass and Alice Muse Rogers, the following club members were served typical Mexican refreshments: Misses Geneva Adamson, Faye L. Bumpass, Christine Settle, Frances Whitley, Janie Lou Jackson, Lucile McCrummen, Margaret Lindsey, Lois Freeman, Jewel Bolton, Willie Mae Brown, Opal Montgomery, Nina Opal Davies, Alice Muse Rogers, Jewel Simpkins, Floyde Snodgrass, Arlene Corley, Mrs. Florence Ashmore, Mrs. W. B. Gates and Messrs. Warren Medford, E. Esten Day, Arthur Fisher, Matt Woodson Jones and G. V. Bostie.

New Members Are Initiated By Tech Rifleman Thursday

The Tech Rifle club met Thursday night December 11 in a regular meeting and to initiate new members into the organization. The following men were welcomed into the club: Lin Hargreaves, H. B. Robinson, Joe Clayton, Hank Roberts, Mardis Clayton, Lowell Dalton, Bill Wilder and O. Benn. W. R. Hudson was in charge of the initiation ceremony.

TO SING FRIDAY

The choral and glee clubs will present their Christmas song feast, Friday evening, at 7:30 o'clock at the First Methodist church. All organizations of the city have been asked to join in form of a choir, to sing one carol.

Aggie Club Meeting Date Is Changed To Thursday

The meeting date of the Aggie club has been changed from Wednesday night to Thursday night. The change was made at the request of members of the club, due to the fact that many of the members were unable to be present because of their heavy schedules. Some of the most important activities that the club has sponsored are: the Tech Aggie Rodeo, the Aggie-Home Economics party, and the Pig Roast, given in honor of the judging teams. The Aggie club is the center of the Aggie school and all of the activities are first discussed in meetings as well as action will be taken by the school as a whole.

Fish Numerals To Be Awarded

Thirty-four men named by Morgan; Competition To Be Keen Next Fall; Win Two Games; Lose Four

Thirty-four men from Texas and one from Alabama will receive letter sweaters for excellency in frosh football the past season, while playing under the colors of Texas Tech. The letter, although not standing for as much as the ones worn by varsity men, most certainly represent a real fighting spirit, hard work, a fine team, and are a coveted honor which every student who goes to college would like to have.

Coach Morgan had three full teams of frosh this year; one about as good as the other. Although starting the season with a loss, The Picadors came back strong in their lastest games and gave the finest display of offensive and defensive football ever exhibited by a freshman team. The tiny Canyon Burfs, and the Cowabees from Simmons, both, were swamped by overwhelming scores when Clark, Poole, McElroy and Rowe ran wild.

Coach Morgan and his staff of assistants are in for plenty of trouble next year when these thirty-five men return—it will be no easy job to select a regular varsity team from this lot of freshmen and the "regulars and shock troops" of the varsity this year, and be satisfied that you have the best available team.

Following is the list of freshmen, who will receive numeral sweaters, their positions, and home towns:

White Wins Contest Put On By YMCA

Melendez And Coker Are Next; National Committee To Pass On All Editorials; Winner Gets $40 Prize

In the editorial contest on "How Students Can Help Achieve World Disarmament," Gus F. White was judged the winner. White was followed by A. Melendez and G. R. Coker, according to the judges. This contest is sponsored by the Christian World Education Commission. Any student in the college who is an undergraduate is eligible for competition. The editorials will be sent to the sponsors and the winning editorial will be passed upon by the national committee which will judge the entries. The winner of the national contest will receive a $40 prize and the winning editorial will be published in the February number of the Intercollegian.

HOW COLLEGE STUDENTS CAN HELP TO ACHIEVE WORLD DISARMAMENT

By Gus F. White
In a campaign for world disarmament there is no group of people that can accomplish more positive results than college students, once they are awakened to action. They are a numerous body, already closely united in singleness of desires and aims, with a sympathetic understanding of each other and each other's problems. They are, furthermore, in a peculiarly favored position to exert a powerful influence; colleges have been for ages the fertile ground for new and revolutionary ideas, for great movements, and great causes. Let the idea of world disarmament once begin as a college movement, and it will enter the globe.

How can this awakening be accomplished? In the first place, a few student leaders can bring to a focus in their own college the sentiment that has been growing against war since the World War. They can discuss the importance of world disarmament and encourage each other to assist in the campaign, for it cannot be accomplished as long as war is glorified by the masses. Lectures on disarmament, exposing the evils of war, can be carried on in connection with the history and government classes so as to reach the majority of the students. The students thus aroused have only to demand through their Student Council the elimination of military training from the curriculum.

Dr. John Caylor Talks To Tech BSU Council Members

Dr. John Caylor, state executive of the Baptist Student union, spoke to the members of the B. S. U. council recently on the subject, "How to Reach First Magnitude." He discussed student enrollment, and described the work as it is being sponsored on other campuses.

IS PROMOTED

L. E. Brock, '28' graduate of Tech, who first taught science in Plainville, has now been promoted from technical assistant to horticulturist at the Iowa Park experiment station.

Annual Christmas Vesper Service Will Be Held At Tech Gym Sunday

The annual all-college Christmas vesper service will be held Sunday, December 20th, at 5 o'clock in the gymnasium. All students are urged to be present at this service which has become one of the traditional events of the college year. Citizens of Lubbock are also invited to attend. The program has been arranged by a faculty committee of which Miss Ruth Pirtle is chairman. One of the features of the vesper service will be a tableau depicting the Virgin and Child, Procession of Shepherds, and Procession of the Magi. A beautiful background for this tableau is being prepared under the direction of Prof. F. A. Kien Schmidt. It will be a replica of a stained glass window with figures appropriate to the season. The tableaux is to be presented by members of the speech department. Members of the YMCA cabinet will act as ushers at the meeting. The complete program will be as follows: "Adeste Fideles," choir and audience; "O, Little Town of Bethlehem," "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear," audience. Tableaux of Christmas scenes: "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen," College Choral Choir, reading the Christmas story, Edan J. M. Gordon; Prayer, Dr. J. C. Granbery; "Calm on the Listening Ear of Night," Girls Glee Club; Christmas Message, Dr. P. W. Horn; "The First Noel," "Joy to the World," Audience; Recessional, "Silent Night."

Kenyon Here Girls' Frosh In January Group Meets

Prices On Artist Course Tickets Reduced; Last Number To Be Presented On March 19 By Dancer
The first meeting of the freshman commission was held last Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the parlors at College Inn. At the beginning of the evening, Mrs. O. C. Corry, the YWCA secretary, explained the purpose and organization of this commission. She made the point plain that the freshman girls do not have to be a member of the YWCA in order to be a member of the Freshman commission. There were 25 girls present, but a greater number than this have signed for membership. The members of the freshman commission are divided into three groups: those interested in campus problems, those interested in personal problems, and those interested in Bible study. These groups will have their first meeting on January 8.

Year's Work Is Offered Freshman Geology To Be Given In Winter And Spring Terms; Six Labs Scheduled Per Term

For the benefit of students entering college at the beginning of the winter term and others who may wish to begin their science work at that time the department of geology will offer a year's work in General Geology 131-2-3 in the winter and spring terms. This course has heretofore been offered in the winter and spring terms, and the fall term of the succeeding year. The new arrangement will avoid the irregularity caused by finishing up the last term in the fall of the succeeding year and will enable a student to complete a year of science in the winter and spring terms. The lectures will be given M. W. P. at 10 o'clock and the laboratory Friday 2-5 with 6 laboratory periods a term to be arranged to make up the total number of laboratory periods for the years work. The course will be in charge of assistant professor Dr. Raymond Sidwell.

Home Ec Faculty Attends Christmas Buffet Luncheon

The home economics faculty was honored Tuesday with a buffet luncheon served by the class in foods 231, under Miss Johnnie McCrery, in the home economics formal dining room. The decorations carried out the Christmas motif. Roses and mistletoe formed the centerpiece, and long, red tapers lighted the dining room. A burning plum pudding wreathed in holly was the feature of the meal. Sixteen faculty members and members of the foods class attended.

Wrangler Club Entertains Guests With Buffet Dinner

Members of the Wranglers who reside at the club house entertained Tuesday with a buffet dinner Sunday at 12 o'clock after the dinner they attended a local theater. Guests for the occasion were Messrs. Ralph Penney, Marvin Collins, Don Leach, Vincent Foster and Misses Lanoyce Dyson, Evelyn Price, Elinor Aycock and Florence Moses.

Farm Question Is Debated At Aggie Meeting

Members Of The 1931 Livestock Judging Team Presented Medals; Euel Liner Gets Cup For 1931 Event

The class in cooperative marketing, under the direction of Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, debated on the subject, "Resolved That the Agricultural Marketing Act Has Functioned to the Advantage of Agriculture," last Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in room 109 of the Aggie building. Fred Hardy, president of the Aggie club, called the meeting to order and Jason Gordon, chairman of the debate, introduced the speakers. W. A. King and Ben Jenkins were appointed timekeepers. The affirmative was supported by Edgar Kuebel, Milton Campbell, and James Potts, E. S. Caudle, Silas Williamson, and Fred De Lashaw upheld the negative. The affirmative upheld that the Federal Farm board was not trying to increase prices but put agriculture on an economical equality basis with other products. The negative supported that the board had not measured up to its requirements, but was just a governmental participation in business. No judges. The audience was requested to accept its own decision as there were no judges appointed. Following this, Mr. W. L. Stangor, head of the animal husbandry department, presented a loving cup to Euel Liner, the 1931 highest point man at the Chicago contest attended recently. Mr. Stangor described the steps taken by Tech in building the animal husbandry department to where it is now. Before closing, Mr. R. C. Mowery presented the 1930 team gold medals modeled by Dr. Fred Harbaugh, James Williams, J. E. Parks, T. J. Harris, H. D. Yoder, Colonel Sparkman, and Percy Powers, each received one of these medals.

Practice House Girls Give Christmas Party And Dance

A dance, their last entertainment of the term, was given by the practice house girls Saturday night from 8:30 to 11 o'clock. The house was decorated with holly, narcissus, and poinsettia. A lighted tree, from which the guests received Christmas candies, was placed in the living-room. Misses Mayme Teyford, Joyce Teague, Donna Vaughn, Hazel Lee, Eunice Walker and Irene Jackson were hostesses to 26 guests.

Library Closes December 22 For Christmas Holidays

The library will close December 22 at 5 o'clock for the Christmas holidays. All books, unless stamped for an earlier date, will be due December 21. The library will be open during the holidays from 11 until 12 o'clock on all days except Sundays, and will be opened January 4 at the regular hours.

Miss McCrery Entertains Friends With Luncheon

Miss Johnnie McCrery entertained a group of friends with a luncheon in the home economics tea room Saturday. The decorations suggested Christmas and individual nut baskets, small Christmas trees in pots, were given to the following guests: Mesdames P. W. Horn, C. A. Davis, W. H. Bledsoe, P. R. Friend, and Miss Margaret Weeks.

Smiths Lead Twenty-Four Carry That Name Here

Again the Smiths go for a score over the Browns and Jones. The Smith family, as usual, has overpowered every other family tree on the Tech campus. So if you don't know the fellow's name, just slap him on the back and call him Smith, for if he's a Tech student there's 24 chances out of 121 that he comes from that prominent line of descendants. Of the 24 Tech Smiths, there are four from out of the state. Two hail from Los Angeles, California, one from Fortales, N. M., the other from Tulsa, Oklahoma. Lubbock takes her toll with four Smiths, and others are products of various sections of Texas. Browns are runners up for second place, having 16 representatives and Jones are close on their heels with 13.

Plans Made By Society Committee Named To Draw New Constitution; New Members Eligible After Examinations

The Southern Scholarship society had its first meeting of the year Tuesday evening in room 214 of the administration building. Plans for the entire year were discussed and definite steps were taken for the making of a new constitution. The following committee is to work up a constitution and present it at the next meeting of the society: Preston Cozner, Canon Clements and Fred Sely. A list of the students eligible for membership is being compiled and will be presented soon. The following are the officers of the society: Carl McAdams, president; Preston Cozner, vice-president; Dr. W. A. Jackson, secretary; Allison Scott, Fred Sely, treasurer and Faye L. Bumpass, reporter.

Home Ec Club Has Style Show

Correct costuming for individual types was emphasized in the playlet, "A Morning in Madame Lewis' Shop," given in room 102 of the home economics building Monday. By Miss Harriet Tilden's class in the home economics building Monday. The short play, really a style show, was written by members of the class. In representing the scene in an apparel shop, they dramatized the work which they have completed this term. The characters were: Miss Wharton (saleslady for jewelry), Leone Wharton; Miss Price (head saleslady for sports clothes)—Hazel Price; Miss Thomas (assistant to Miss Price)—Mary Louise Thomas; Mrs. Wallingford (mother of Gloria)—Geraldine Clewell; Gloria (ingenue type)—Fredrig Adams; Madame Harris (stylist)—Neville Lewis; Kathleen Harmon; Elaine (natural type)—Elaine Henry; Rubby Rae (combination type)—Rubby Rae Williams; Miss Beard (head saleslady for afternoon)—Gertrude Pearl Beard; Miss Clark (head saleslady for evening)—Evaughn Clark.

Tech People Write Letters To Old Santa Claus

Dear Santa,
As a matter of actual fact, you may quote me as saying this particular occasion as wanting a new pair of rims on my 'specs' if you will pardon the language of the streets. I have taken them off and put them on so often during speeches that they are worn out. You might also give me a new dean for the engineering school.
Your friend,
Paul Horn, Prexy.

Dear Santa,
I would like to have a new bicycle to ride to classes on. The one I have is getting pretty rickety. I have been a good little boy and have passed most of my kids.
Your little friend,
Hot-stuff Holston,
"The Bicycle Man"

Dear Santa,
I wish you would please send me a marriage license, because I can't cash my warrants and buy one. Your little pal,
Professor Rodeffer.

Dear Santa,
As prexy of the student body, I wish you would send me a pipe, some cigars, some lick, lots of peanuts (salted), a top, a jack knife, some marbles (I want an agate and some chimes), and above all, please send me a note telling me who wrote the scandal sheet. I have been

Dear Santa,
I wish you would please send Lou Edwards and the other boys lots of Bechnut, so that they would cut bumming it off me. I have to sweep three rooms just to pay for the tobacco they chik.
Your Buddy,
Mr. Martin.

Dear Santa,
I hope you will get the Annual boys to publish a better picture of me this year.
Expectantly,
Cecil Kirsey.

"Mama" and shuts its little eyes when she lays down. I want a little electric stove that will really cook. I have been a good little girl and given Jack a date when he wanted it.
Your friend,
Voncile Gilkerson.

F. S. I will have my stockings hanging by the radio. We don't have a fireplace.
Don Meddow.

Dear Old Santa,
I wish that you would influence Mr. Henninger so that he would pass me in German. All the students in my coc classes razz me about my not passing it.
Your friend,
Nis (I'm Smart)

Dear Santa,
Please send me someone who knows something about sports to write my column for me.
Yours,
Collier Parris.

Dear Santa,
Opportunity knocks only once so send me all you got to spare. Maybe I can hold a rummage sale.
Your friend,
Opportunity Charlie Corry.

Dear Santa,
I want a new riding habit for fall. I would prefer that the shirt is a pale blue and the pantaloons or a good boy and have abided by the laws and by-laws of our school constitution. I haven't hazed a fish all year and I don't hesitate. My feet are mates and I love good love stories. Santa, this is not a confession, just a good old fashioned breakdown. Give my regards to Merry Christmas, you should be proud of your wife. Lots of love,

Don Meddow.

TEN CENTS PER HOUR

Tech students working for their board in local boarding houses are earning on the average slightly more than ten cents per hour, an investigation by The TOREADOR has revealed.

There are about one hundred and forty students employed in the various boarding places in town, and most of these are working from four and one half to eight hours per day for their board. Only a few earn their room also.

The situation is that the students who are working the long hours are unable to say anything. Most of them must have work in order to continue their studies, and are afraid to kick about their position for fear of losing their jobs. And as one has said, there are several others standing ready to take the job, even if the hours are long.

It was impossible to ascertain the number of hours worked by all the 140 students, but it was found that students worked as follows: Duck Inn, four and one half to five hours for board; Gregorys, eight hours for board; College Inn five and one half to six hours for room and board; Dockrays, six hours for board. One individual stated that he had recently quit a job in a private house where he worked about eight hours a day for his board.

Students employed at the Yellowhouse Tea Room work from four and a half to six hours a day.

As indicated, there is little that students thus working to earn room and board may do to improve conditions. But, college officials can do much. Officials of the college have the authority to determine where students may board or room and they permit no one to stay in a place unless it is approved by them. With this authority, it seems a simple thing for them to do to indicate that all Tech students employed in approved boarding houses should work certain hours for their room and certain hours for their board. The TOREADOR suggests three hours a day for board and four hours for room and board.

The time is ripe for some action on the part of college officials. When a thing as vital as this affects 140 students, it is time that something should be done to correct the situation.

IT'LL BE HARD TO FILL

Tech students returning after Christmas will find missing from the campus Dean William J. Miller. Dean Miller's place will be hard to fill.

Since the opening of Texas Technological college in 1925, Dean Miller has been in his present office. He has seen the engineering school start and grow until today its graduates are recognized along with those from the oldest institutions in the land. He has seen the graduates of the Tech school of engineering go out into the world, get positions, and with their excellent knowledge they got from Tech's engineering school, advance rapidly.

Dean Miller has been a friend to every student in the college who called upon him for assistance. His work was ever toward the betterment of the engineering school, for Texas Tech and for the student body.

The TOREADOR wishes him well in his new venture. We are proud to have had the opportunity of associating with him.

The TOREADOR furthermore wishes the new acting dean, Professor Otto V. Adams, success in his work. We feel assured that President P. W. Horn has appointed a capable man for the position, and that the engineering school will continue to advance.

But a tough assignment is ahead of Dean Miller's successor. For Dean Miller has left a hard place to fill.

WINNING PROSPECTS

Prospects for a record season for the 1932 Tech basketball team is bright.

With every member of the 1931 lettermen (eight to be exact) back for the year, with plenty of material from last year's freshman ranks, and with several other good candidates available, Coach Del Morgan should give the West Texas Buffaloes, the Simmons Cowboys, the T. C. U. Horned Frogs, and many other teams plenty to worry about.

Few teams are lucky to have three captains available for one season. With Leon Fisher, 1930 Captain; Clarence Hodges, 1931 leader; and Tad Tadlock, 1932 Captain, out for the team, and with all the other material on hand, it looks like Coach Morgan will have something to smile over before the season is over.

Tech students can do their part by giving the squad a little support. The following on the part of some of the students of the 1931 football team was splendid. For others it was rotten. The Lubbock business men, taken as a whole, are excellent boosters of the Matadors. But some Tech students, sad to say, are not worthy to be students of Texas Technological college.

As the year 1932 draws near, may there not be found on the Tech campus a single student who is not full of the Tech spirit. May there not be found one student who is not backing the Matadors—backing them win or lose.

Winning prospects are good so far as the material and coach are concerned. And if the students will do their part, a basketball season, unheard of in the Southwest, will be recorded for 1932 in Texas Tech.

THE CHRISTMAS SERVICE

Next Sunday the annual Christmas service will be held in Texas Technological college.

Tech students remaining in town during the week-end (and most of them will) should take time out to attend. There's always something worthwhile in a service celebrating the birth of the Saviour of the world.

The service Sunday will be worthwhile. Attend it.

OLD, BUT STILL A GOOD ONE

"A merry Christmas and a happy New Year to you!"

An old saying but still a good one and the TOREADOR sends the above ten words to all of you—to the 1900 students, to the 130 faculty members, to the board of directors, to the advertisers, to everyone of you.

We sincerely wish that this Christmas will bring to you cheer, that you will forget all the worries of the old year, forget the criticism, and all the unpleasant things and celebrate with joy this Christmas of 1931.

And may the year 1932 find you ready for another term of work, ready for another year in fact, with a determination to make 1932 the best ever.

MOVE BACK CHRISTMAS

If Tech students this year get the usual benefit from Christmas, they'll have to move it back a few days.

Everyone knows that the best part about Christmas is from December 19 until Christmas Day. After the presents are exchanged and the big dinner is eaten, it's all over. This year final exams will occupy the students' mind until the morning of the 23. If they'll catch the fastest trains and buses out of here, they might be home by Christmas eve. Otherwise Christmas will be over before they get there.

The fall term exam schedule is made out and posted. Nothing can be done about it. But the TOREADOR does suggest that next year the exams be so arranged that students will get home before Christmas is over.

As a further check to the prevalent idea that war is a glorious game. Then, they may utilize the college press to a good advantage in educating the students to disarmament. It can print stories and articles condemning war, and can sponsor lectures by noted pacifists on the subject of disarmament, and carry the campaign to the news press of the state.

College students, furthermore, can influence political opinion in the state and nation by circulating petitions and asking the people for letters to their legislators and to the president. They can ask their ministers to discuss world disarmament, and they can help and cooperate with students of other colleges in getting the campaign established.

Students cannot accomplish world-wide disarmament in a short time, it is true; they will have to work zealously against militarism in all the leading countries of the world. When the time is ripe, they can call a world-wide conference of college students in some suitable city to discuss further the disarmament problem. With the representatives of these colleges uniting in a singleness of purpose, they can bring to bear an infinite force on the governments of the world. Thus can the students of the world's college unify themselves to solve a great problem and prevent deliberate world suicide.

HOW STUDENTS CAN HELP ACHIEVE WORLD DISARMAMENT

By A. Melendez
The disarmament of the world powers is not a very easy task. Many peace advocates have been discouraged, and some have died because their ideals of world peace have been trodden upon; a good example of these is President Wilson.

The question now is how to achieve disarmament. The success of this great enterprise rests on co-operation. The following suggestion is made for the students who wish to cooperate in this great ideal; this is the formation of a National Students' Peace League. Every college and university in each state might form a local league; when these are well organized, they may call for a state convention from which will result a State Peace League, with representatives of all the college organizations. Furthermore, when all the states are well organized a convention may be called for the formation of the National Students' Peace League. This in turn can initiate the other students of the world to form organizations of the same ances. He can write to the pupils of his home town, and to the press, urging them to exert their most powerful influence in words and in writing to their respectful audiences the facts that armaments are the wrong way of maintaining security, to make the people see that the loaded gun is far more dangerous than a gun at all. These aforementioned agencies may be prevailed upon to act as disciples of the movement and in the same way influence their professional brothers to bring the message to their audiences. In this way there is no limit to the number of people who will be made to think of disarmament who have never considered it seriously before.

Second, under the auspices of the executive head of the college, at the instigation of the most influential students in favor of disarmament, they may bring some national or international pacifist speaker to the student body, who, by his personality and leadership will, by his words, be able to crystallize quicker than any other means the opinions of students and faculty alike. Through the initiative of students, they can make arrangements for the appearance of such a speaker under the sponsorship of men's and women's clubs at an extensively advertised mass meeting. In this way the entire citizenship can be influenced.

Bancroft Has Abandoned Makeup In New Picture

George Bancroft, star in the spectacular melodrama, "Rich Man's Folly" which will open at the Lindsey theatre on Friday next for two days, has abandoned make-up in his character roles. He has definite reasons for doing so.

Contrary to popular impression all actors do not use make-up. For many years it has been a tradition of the stage that make-up was essential. There was a time when all stage and screen actors, particularly those who played character roles, developed a high technique in making themselves look the part. Lon Chaney was a master of the art and could transform himself beyond all possibility of recognition.

Bancroft appears here in "Rich Man's Folly."

HAS EXTRA GOOD ROLE

Tallulah Bankhead has surpassed the stories given her in her two introductory roles in "The Cheat," she has a role that matches her real life self; it's the role Bankhead fans want to see her in, and one which she likes better than her inaugural efforts!

This picture shows at the Lindsey starting next Sunday.

Miss Opal Creighton was called to her home in Abilene last week to attend funeral services of her father.

What They Tell The Editor

Dear Editor:

I wonder if you ever stopped to realize that Texas Tech is striving to build intelligent leaders?

Leadership can not be taught—it must be experienced. Therefore I am making a rather "radical" suggestion. If the college follows this idea, Texas Tech will rise to heights in the field it is supposed to cultivate.

I propose that for one week—or longer—the complete administration and operation of the college be turned over to students. In other words, let Fritz Southworth or some other thinker pinch-hit for Dr. Horn. Let "Bo" Williams take over Mr. Gaston's duties. Let Jack Durham reign instead of Coach Cavethon. Let J. M. Jackson assume Cecil Horn's responsibilities. Let Jean Shelley Jennings act for Dean Doak. In other words, let's settle once and for all the question:

"Is Texas Tech fulfilling its purpose?"

And say, if this goes over, will you get me in as night-watchman?

Your other reader, W. E.

Dear Editor:

Why not a little more speaking to each other on the Tech campus every day?

There are several Tech students who go about daily with their heads stuck high in the air and can't pull it down to look at a fellow student. As I see it, some of the students get into a rut of knowing only a certain group of the students on the campus and feel that they shouldn't speak to anybody else. For instance, I have noticed that the football boys, some of them, only speak to a certain group. On the other hand there is a group of social aspirants who won't speak to the football men at all. As I see it the fault can not be placed on any one group, but on all of them.

Why not everybody getting on more equal terms in Tech? Why all the "High-hat" anyway? I know for myself that the football boys have been very busy this fall and haven't had the chance of meeting every

YWCA Calendar For Winter Full

The YWCA activity calendar for the two weeks beginning January 4, and extending to January 15, is:

Monday, January 4 at 8 o'clock the weekly cabinet meeting will be held and on Monday night at 7 o'clock the Sophomore council will meet in room 220 of College Inn. Miss Margaret Williams will speak on "What It Will Mean to Follow, Jesus on a Modern Campus."

Tuesday, January 5 at 8 o'clock, the C. W. E. will meet to discuss disarmament.

Wednesday, January 6 at 5 o'clock the membership committee will meet to make its final plans.

Friday, January 8 at 5 o'clock the Freshman commission will hold its first regular meeting.

Monday, January 11 at 5 o'clock, the weekly cabinet meeting will be held. Worship as a part of religion will be discussed. At 7 o'clock on the same day the social service committee will meet in room 220 of College Inn and will discuss "The Economic Life of America and the World."

January 12 at 5 o'clock the hostess committee will meet, and on one like other students have had. But now that football season is over I suggest that they meet every student that can and at the same time every student who can, meet the football players.

This letter doesn't only apply to the football men—it merely using them as an example. Every group on the campus can improve.

Thanks, Editor and here's for more speaking on the Tech campus.

Dear W. B.—You've hit the nail on the head. The Toreador has advocated all year that students speak to each other more than they do. I'll agree with you that there are some students on the campus who would hardly speak to Lindbergh if they met him and happened to know who he was. After all, the association of his fellow students is mostly what a student gets out of his college career so why not meet and associate with all of them he can? Thanks. Come again.—The Editor.

WHAT IS IT?

I've been reading in the Toreador all along little notices about, "It's Coming." Now the question is, what is coming? It must be something big or something unusual.

You can ease one's mind at least if you'll tip me off as to just what is coming.—Will.

Dear Will: That's the question. What is coming? But you may be assured it's something which The Toreador is boosting, for the Editor believes it's a worthy cause. Watch for it. It's coming. The Editor.

January 15 at five o'clock the Inter-Racial group will meet. All these meetings will be held in the YWCA office, 310 administration building with two exceptions. The Sophomore Council meeting January 5 at 7 o'clock and the social service committee meeting January 11 at 7 o'clock in room 220 at College Inn.

Russian Problems Discussed At International Meeting

International Relations club members gathered for their last pre-holiday meeting last Friday night for a study of Russian problems. Christine Settle talked on "Government of Russia," Juanita Poole on "Economic Policy of Russia," and Glynne Coker on "Armament Policy of Russia."

An open forum discussion of the various topics followed and several informal talks were given.

Professor M. E. Ogden is the club sponsor.

Christmas

The light of a star, a new jewel in the skies, led the wise men across the sands to the humble inn at Bethlehem. Onward and forward through the night, with light from the skies as guidance, bearing a fortune in precious gifts.

CHRISTMAS! How many images the word calls up. Carol singers and holly-decked churches; frost and snow, and, in contrast, warm hearths and homes bright with light and color; friends and feasting, greetings and gifts exchanged.

Since antiquity, festive, decorative light has played a large part in all celebrations. The custom of lighting and decorating evergreen trees is regarded as a survival of the Roman Saturnalia. It was introduced into Germany, where it was first adapted to the Christmas festival. The great Yule candle was a forerunner of our own Christmas lighting.

Light still plays its part. In your home and out of doors lights will make your Christmas trees towers of jewels. Each twinkling light will say—
